Whisker Growing For Mackay Fete Starts Next Month

Old Boom Days' Atmosphere Will Prevail During Celebration

Typical '49ers' Costumes To Be Worn by Students On Campus

By DON KINKEL
Only thirty days more leeway remain for the men of the University of Nevada until they go into hiding behind various and sundry crops of black, blond and faded red foliage, it was announced yesterday by Duncan Dorsey, chairman of the Mackay Day committee.

According to Dorsey, on February 20 male students will be required to store their slashing utensils for a six weeks' period and let their whiskers grow without artificial restraint.

Enforcement Promised
The men's upperclass committee will enforce the whiskerino tradition, and only students having legitimate excuses will be exempted. Several hundred contestants are expected to compete for the various trophies offered for the most outstanding cases of natural disguise.

Further plans for the three-day celebration given yearly in honor of the university's greatest benefactor, Clarence H. Mackay, were almost completed by the committee at their meeting yesterday afternoon in the Student Union building.

"We plan not only to bring the celebration to the campus but we plan to have the general atmosphere of the old boom days prevail during the celebration," Dorsey said.

In order to gain this end, the Mackay Day group plans to have university students attend school the last Friday before Mackay Day attired in their personal conception of "49er" costumes.

Costumes Urged
During this period of costume wearing, which will carry over through Saturday, short girls will be urged to wear gingham dresses, wool stockings, low heeled shoes and a big bow ribbon in their hair. Girls taller in stature will be asked to adorn themselves in costumes typical of those worn by pioneer women, complete with sunbonnet, etc.

No definite style of dress will be asked of the men and they may come in the dress of any male character typical of the old west.

"Even professors will be asked to get into the spirit of the occasion by wearing appropriate apparel," Chairman Dorsey announced.

According to present plans made by the group, no cars will be allowed near the campus during the celebration. Students wishing transportation to and from school will be asked to ride horses or bicycles.

Although no central theme has been decided upon for the annual Mackay Day dance, it was decided that each sorority on the campus would be allowed to decorate a part of the gym in a style that reflects the period during which Mackay struggled for his fortune in Nevada.

A cup will be awarded for the best sorority decoration, and ten other cups will probably be awarded for outstanding performances during the celebration.

Pledges Undergo S.A.E. Work Week

Twenty-four neophytes of Sigma Alpha Epsilon this week are undergoing the rigors of the annual "work week" which started Wednesday.

Following the precedent started by other Greek houses on the campus and elsewhere in the United States, the S.A.E.s. abandoned for the first time their traditional "Hell Week."

The pledges who are undergoing the informal initiation are Bill Byington, Jim Shepley, Jack Pieri, James Worden, Earl Edmunds, Milton Parsons, Craig Tranter, Joe McDonald, Robert Madison, Tom Tucker, Perry Carlson, George Marsh, Ray Harris, Carl Bechtoldt, Geno Pisani, Tom Rice, Blake Speers, Heath Hovey, Erb Austin, Bill Peccoli, Bob Locke, Leslie Leggett, Lee Strauch, John Spann.

Several other fraternities are planning their annual spring initiations later in the semester. Among those will be the Lambda Chi Alpha initiation, the Alpha Tau Omega initiation on day, February 13.

Sigma Nu initiation is set for the day, January 26. Sigma Phi date will be Thursday, February 11, and Beta Kappa initiates its Saturday, February 29.

Changes in Student Meeting Dates Are Made

A change in the schedule for meetings of student organizations was approved by a recent meeting of the faculty.

In the future, meetings of the A.S.U.N., A.W.S. and other similar student organizations must be held on Thursdays and Fridays. The hours for these meetings will be from 8:30 a. m. through and including the 3:15 p. m. classes. Classes on other days than Thursday and Friday will not be dismissed for such meetings.

No class hour on Thursday and Friday shall be repeated for a meeting until all other class hours of Thursday and Friday have been used.

This new plan will permit 14 meetings to be held during a semester without any but five-hour courses being dismissed more than once.

Previous to last year, the hour beginning 11:25 a. m. on Fridays was reserved for all student organization meetings. Last year this plan was abandoned to permit the addition of three-hour courses at 11:25.

Principal objections to last year's plan came from faculty members and students who complained that certain classes were dismissed regularly for these meetings. Between 16 and 18 meetings and assemblies and lectures were scheduled last semester in the three hours 9:35, 10:30 and 11:25. Some students maintained that it was impossible to cover a full semester's work in certain courses because of these frequent dismissals of classes.

The next student organization meeting will probably be held 8:40 a. m. on Thursday, following meetings to come continuously in order through Thursday and Friday class hours.

Senior Book Prize Entries Being Received

Applications for the Armanko Office Supply company's annual prize of $100 worth of books are now being accepted by the judging committee in charge of making this award. The winning student may select the books to be awarded.

The award will be made to the member of the senior class judged to possess the best private library.

Professor A. E. Hill, chairman of the committee, said that aside from the number of books in the collection, the judgment and taste of the participant's selections would be of importance.

Stricter Standard
"Lists of books submitted by mature students who have had opportunities outside the regular four years' course to collect a library will be judged by a stricter standard than that applied to the ordinary undergraduate's list," he stated.

"The committee will accept as evidence concerning the library individually owned by the student, the affidavit of the superintendent, high school principal or deputy superintendent of public instruction for student libraries outside the Reno-Sparks district, where the committee would not have opportunity for personal inspection.

Lists of books may be submitted to any member of the committee, Professor A. E. Hill, chairman; Dean R. C. Thompson, or Professor Stanley Palmer, not later than April 8. Books should be classified under such headings as "Fiction," "Economics" and "Texts," and the individual titles should be stated as to the author, title and place and date of publication.

Rules for Condition Removals Made By Faculty

New rulings for the removal of conditions were made at the meeting of the university faculty last week.

Effective beginning with the fall semester of this year, a condition must be removed during the semester following the one in which it was incurred. A fee of $1.50 will be charged each student for permission to make up work necessary to remove a condition.

If a condition is not removed during the semester following its occurrence, it automatically becomes a failure, removable only by repeating of the class in which the condition was received.

Because of the laxity of the students in removing conditions, the faculty considered it necessary to enact and enforce these new rulings.

Other rules regarding conditions and failures remain unchanged.

INSTRUCTORS ILL
Mess has kept two instructors in the college of agriculture from attending their classes this week.

George E. Brooks, instructor in dairy, underwent an operation in San Francisco January 10.

It is expected that he will return to classes Monday.

Honorary Major Candidates Feted At Manzanita Tea

Selection Will Be Made by Officers of the Group
Next Thursday

Plans for Dance Progressing
Rapidly; Music May Be Broadcast

Honorary major candidates for the Military ball will be guests at the annual Scabbard and Blade tea this afternoon at Manzanita hall from 4 to 5:30.

The tea is held so that Scabbard and Blade members may become acquainted with the candidates and to choose the honorary major. Election of the honorary major will take place next Thursday night, and it will be announced in the Sagebrush next Friday.

Other Guests
Other guests at the tea will be Kathleen Meeks, last year's honorary major; Norma Anderson, Georgia Cooper, Alice Sauer, Jessie McClure and Emily Tholl, sorority presidents, and Edith Delmore, Manzanita Hall association president.

The governors of California and Nevada and the lieutenant governor of Nevada have been invited to be honored guests at the ball. It is not certain, however, that they will be able to attend, Basil Kehoe, captain of Scabbard and Blade, said today.

To Be Broadcast
One of the main features of the ball will be the broadcasting of a half-hour's musical entertainment over KOH some time during the evening, probably from 9:30 to 10 o'clock. Music at the ball was broadcast last year also.

Kehoe wishes to stress the point that there will be only ten dances and no extras. This was decided upon because of the entertainment, awarding of honor bars and the grand march which will take up a great deal of time which would otherwise be used in dancing.

Reuben Tuttle and Ray Sanct's orchestra will furnish the music. Arrangements have been made to have a number of singers for the evening. Programs for the affair have already been ordered and the plans for decorations are well under way.

Butler Addresses Miners at Meeting Experiences, Adventures of Career Are Related

Dr. G. M. Butler, dean of the school of mines at the University of Arizona and head of the sectional committee which accredits engineering schools, spoke to members of the Crucible club, mining students' group, Wednesday night in the Mackay School of Mines building.

In his talk, "Reminiscence," Dr. Butler told of many of his experiences and adventures during his career as a mining engineer and professor.

Encourages Miners
In commenting on the large number of men at the University of Nevada who are majoring in mining engineering, Dr. Butler said he felt that they would not be disappointed in the mining profession.

"I wish to congratulate you on selecting a hard job and a good profession," he said. "Hard things instill stamina and character into an individual. Your rewards will be clean and honest."

Interesting Profession
Dr. Butler spoke on the advantages of the mining profession and illustrated his points with some of his own experiences.

"Frequently mining possesses romance and adventure. In my own career, I have found many things which have provided me with a very interesting life. Mining is not only interesting but it also deals with interesting things."

Dr. Butler spoke under the sponsorship of Crucible club. On his present tour he is lecturing for the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, of which he is a prominent member. He was introduced by Richard Thormeyer, senior mining student and president of the campus group.

Aggies, Home Ecers Plan Joint Meet

Possibility of a joint meeting with the Home Economics club was discussed at a gathering of the Aggie club Wednesday evening.

Other future activities were taken up, including the decision as to who would be on the judging team for 1938, but no definite decision was reached.

Archie Albright presided at the meeting.

SHOOTING FOR WILDCAT PELTS

KOLBUS

The main burden of attempting to defeat the Wildcats in the Pack's first conference series this week will fall upon the capable shoulders of Radetich, guard, and Kolbus, forward. Radetich is playing his second year on the varsity and is adept at both defensive and offensive.

sive. Kolbus is also a veteran and has been the main cog in the high scoring attack of the Pack in pre-season games. Harris is a newcomer from Sacramento Junior college, but has been working steadily for a first string berth.

Wolf Pack Opens League Competition At Chico Tonight

Nevada Quintet Given Slight
Edge Over Defending
Titleholders

Wildcats Get One Valuable
Man Back But Lose
Star Guard

By ROSS ASHLEY
Aiming at the league crown that they narrowly missed last year, Nevada's Wolves open their 1938 conference basketball season tonight at Chico.

Performances of the two teams to date give the Nevada quintet an edge in the odds, but the Wildcats, opening defense of their conference title on their own court and with a veteran team figure to make a real battle of each ball game.

Star Returns

Chico's stock rose this week when it was stated that Len Stenberg, star Wildcat forward, would be in shape for the series after being laid up by a series of injuries. The rise in Wildcat preference was immediately followed by a nose-dive, however, when James Holland, 6 foot 4 inch veteran guard, was injured in an automobile accident and definitely put out of the Nevada series.

Nevada also lost a man this week when Walt Powers turned in his suit. Powers, a veteran who supplied a large part of the speed in the Nevada offense, shared the relief assignments at the forward spots with little John Etchemendy, and rounded out the fast-breaking Wolf second team.

Powers' place will be capably filled, however, by Bob Cameron, a sophomore forward who gained all-state ranking at Reno high school and starred on last year's frosh team. Cameron is a fast, smooth-working player, and will make his presence in the ball game felt, especially if the Wildcats understate him because of his inexperience in varsity play.

Regulars Start

The rest of the Wolf squad is intact, with the regular combination of Dick Kolbus and John Robb, forwards; John Radovich, center, and Joe Radetich and Elmer Bawden, guards, slated to start against Chico.

Nevada's very respectable showing on the recent barnstorming tour through the Rocky mountain states, and the clean-cut lacing the Wolves handed to the U.S.F. Dons last week, make "Doc" Martie and company look like a better club than Chico, which has an unimpressive record which includes a loss to Sacramento Junior college.

Defending Titlets
However, the Wildcats are still the defending league titlets, and with their star, Stenberg, their eight veterans and the advantage of playing on their own floor, will really test the championship caliber of the Pack.

The men making the trip last night were Dick Kolbus, John Robb, John Radovich, Joe Radetich, Elmer Bawden, John Etchemendy, Bob Cameron, Gordon Thompson, Ray Harris, Ray Waldren, Manager Leland Fallon and Coach Martie.

Brahms' 'Requiem' To Be Presented

Campus, Community Choral
Orchestras Cooperate

Preparations for the presentation of Brahms' famous "German Requiem," which will be produced by the Campus and Community Choral clubs and orchestras under the direction of Professor T. H. Post, are well under way.

About 70 persons reported for the first rehearsal of the musical score Wednesday evening. Indications are that there will be a total cast of approximately 140 people.

Post states that several secular choruses will be added to the score of the Requiem.

Brahms' "Requiem" was originally written "to be sung annually, in commemoration of the Faithful Departed, or on the anniversaries of the decease of particular persons, or on such other occasions as may be dictated by feelings of public respect or individual piety."

"This presentation will unquestionably be the gala musical event of the season," Post said.

A date has not been set, but it is expected that the musicale will be presented shortly after Easter.

NOTICE

There will be a Block N meeting Thursday night, January 27, at 8 p. m. in the Student Union building. All members must be present or forfeit their membership in the society.

John Robb, President.

Freshman Dance Opens Semester's Social Program

'Big Surprise' Is Promised
For Those Attending Function

Tuttle and His Orchestra
To Play at Yearling
Semi-Formal

Heralded as the outstanding feature of the current social season, the annual frosh glee will be presented tomorrow night in the State building amid a spirit of suspense aroused by the widely advertised "big surprise," which will be unveiled at that time.

Refusing to divulge the nature of the "surprise," Fred McIntyre, manager of the yearlings, today said that it would be worth while for all attending the dance.

Other Attractions
Another attraction will be the presentation of a large silver cup to the fraternity or sorority having the largest representation at the dance, Herb Winer, chairman of the committee in charge, stated today.

Decorations will be of an unusual nature, Winer said, and will feature "a symphony of silver and blue." Programs will follow the decoration color scheme, being made of silver and blue suede.

The dance will be semi-formal, with the men wearing dark suits and the coeds wearing formal gowns.

Tuttle to Play
Reuben Tuttle and his eight piece orchestra will furnish music for the dance. During the evening Merle Snider will play several vibraphone solos on his instrument which has caught the popular fancy of the students.

The dance will be chaperoned by Dean Mack, President Clark, Dean Adams and Professor Gottardi.

Wilson Attends Managers' Meet

Professor Frederick E. Wilson, head of the department of animal husbandry, left Wednesday to attend the annual meeting of the Western Fair Managers' association, which will be held in San Francisco during the next three days.

Professor Wilson will attend the meeting as a representative of the Reno Rodeo and Livestock association and of the Nevada State Livestock show, of which he is the chairman, and will probably return to his duties at the university in about four days.

NOTICE

General campus organizations desiring Saturday night dates must get them before Tuesday, January 25.

Coeds Outnumbered Two to One by Males

For the third time in as many years, men students outnumber women students almost two to one, registration figures released today indicated.

Of the 1047 registration cards taken out 622 were issued to men, while only 399 were signed by coeds.

Statistics of past enrollments show that men outnumbered women 158 in 1936, while last year's figures reveal 568 men to 354 women.

Frosh Decrease
Senior class enrollment since last semester has increased from 75 to 131, the large increase due in all probability to removal of deficiencies and fulfilled requirements, President Clark said.

The freshman class figures show a decrease from 527 to 460, indicating that some have withdrawn from school while others have been promoted to higher class standings by removing deficiencies and completing required courses.

Both the sophomore and junior classes have suffered loss of members. Of 232 sophomores registered last semester, only 213 have returned, while junior figures have dropped ten members from 121 to 111. Enrollment of special students decreased from 16 to 13, while unclassified increased eight from 45 to 53.

Registration will close Tuesday. So far, 1021 students have completed registration, and the final figure is expected to top the 1030 mark.

Moler Appointed To Lead Committee

Annual Celebration Planned
To Be Bigger, Better

Marvin Moler, senior electrical engineering student, was this week appointed by Llewellyn Young, Associated Engineers' president, to head the committee in charge of Engineers' Day.

Engineers' Day, formerly held in conjunction with the annual Mackay Day celebration, will this year be held on March 19. Other members named on the committee to assist Moler are Guy Patterson, Ed Pine, Gene Rollins and Richard Thormeyer.

Two years ago the engineers featured the smashup of a car which drew an audience of approximately 2000. Last year they had an auto show with different types of cars from various downtown car salesrooms.

Plan Big Fete
Although plans have not been made for this year yet, they will be better than those of preceding years, according to Llewellyn Young.

The dues payment contest which is being held among the engineering groups will end February 3. At the present the electrical engineers are leading in the race.

A meeting of the Associated Engineers will be held Wednesday, January 26, with some local man scheduled to speak to the group.

Students to Hear Three Speakers During Semester

Reverend Father John Smith
Slated to Speak on February 22

Dr. Blanks, Sir Herbert Ames
Scheduled to Talk Later
In Semester

University of Nevada students will have the opportunity of hearing talks given by three prominent speakers this semester, it was announced this week by Professor Harold N. Brown, chairman of the committee on assemblies and lectures.

The first of the series will be given on February 22 in connection with the Sesquicentennial celebration of the signing of the constitution, Brown said. The speaker at that time will be the Reverend Father John Smith of the St. Thomas Aquinas cathedral in Reno.

Pleased With Talk
"The university committee was pleased with the way Father Smith handled the religious lecture last semester, and we feel that he will give a talk which will be appropriate and interesting for the occasion," Brown said.

In March, Dr. Arthur F. Blanks, professor of public speaking at the University of California, will visit the Nevada campus. He will read the play, "The Star-Wagon," by Maxwell Anderson.

Entertaining Speaker
"Dr. Blanks is probably the most entertaining speaker that California has to offer, and he will come to us with very high recommendations," Professor Brown added. Professor Robert C. Griffin, head of the public speaking work at the University of Nevada, will introduce the speaker.

The last speaker of the semester will be Sir Herbert B. Ames, who is connected with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and who will deliver a series of lectures during the week of April 3-9. He will probably give ten lectures, but the titles of the talks are not obtainable at this time, Brown said.

"However, they will probably be of interest to those in the social science fields such as history, political science, sociology and economics," Brown added.

Skiers Complete Plans for Outing

Plans for an outing to be held Sunday at Galena Creek were completed at a meeting of the Ski club held Wednesday night.

Instructions in the fine points of skiing will be given to the novices by the more experienced members of the club. Earl Edmunds was appointed head of the outing committee. He will be assisted by Elizabeth Best, Anita Jaurugi and M. L. Wilder. The committee announced that sandwiches and coffee will be served at the outing.

According to President Don McMeekin badges have been ordered for all members of the club and will arrive some time next week.

Elusive Block N Stag Night Planned; March Set as Date

Boxing, Wrestling Matches, Acts, Music, Speeches To Be Features

Committee to Handle Affair Is Named This Week By John Robb

The elusive "Stag Night," planned by Block N society for two years, will become a reality in March, according to plans announced this week by John Robb, president of the society.

The tentative program for the show includes boxing and wrestling matches, an act by Leif McMannus, magician and football trainer; musical selections and short speeches by members of the coaching staff.

Boxing Matches

The boxing matches will be three-rounders, with each canto lasting two minutes. Sixteen-ounce "pillow" gloves will be used, and bouts will be stopped if the men prove to be unequally matched, in order to prevent injuries, Robb said.

The wrestling bouts will last for one fall, with a ten minute time limit.

Purpose of the show is to bring university students, faculty members and townspeople into closer relationship, according to Robb.

Committees which have been named by Robb to handle the show are:

Equipment—Kenneth Powell, chairman; Hank Clayton, Harold Foremaster, Henry Bryant, Fred Galloway, John Gustafson, Joe Radetich, Elmer Bawden, Pat Eaton, Dick Kolbus, Jim Twombly and Bill Grubbs.

Prizes and Cups—Don Leighton, chairman; Neal Campbell, Charles Whitham, Chet Howard, Earl Brooks and Bob Metten.

Finance—Sam Basta, chairman; Jim Hart, Kenneth Day, Ernie Rodriguez, Louis Nash and Whit De La Mare.

Publicity—Hollis McKinnon, chairman; Joe Kievit, Malcolm Jones, Ted Demosthenes, John Sala and Dick Taylor.

Entertainment—Paul Aznarez, chairman; Leonard Carpenter, Delbert Stewart, Dick Sauer, Steve Podesta and Walter Powers.

Home Ecers Hear Bureau Secretary

Mrs. Florence Bovett, secretary of the Nevada State Farm bureau, spoke to the Home Economics club on the extensive work of the United States Farm bureau, at a meeting of the group last week.

During the meeting plans were made for the annual card party and a dance to be held in February. Put in charge of the card party were the following committees:

Equipment—Gwen Meginness, chairman, Mary Arentz and Caroline Best; refreshments—Gertrude Freeman, chairman, Marie Borsini and Ann Gamble; decoration—Wilma Foote, and tickets, June Bradbury.

Frances Smith was appointed chairman of the dance committee of Jeanette Williams, Teletha Kirn, Ann Gamble and Lois Downs.

The band at the University of Illinois owns nine tons of tunes arranged by Sousa.

Punishable Offenses For Coeds Are Listed

Announcement of punishable offenses for this semester were made by Nina Boczkiewicz after a meeting of the women's upperclass committee Wednesday afternoon.

Freshmen will be checked closely upon attendance at A.W.S. meetings, Miss Boczkiewicz said, and all freshman girls will be required to paint the N and all must serve at the annual Mackay Day luncheon.

All women must follow tradition with regard to cutting campus, sitting on the senior bench and walking down the front steps of Morrill hall. The first tradition breakers will entertain the students of Nevada under the supervision of Margaret Heitman, an offender from last semester.

"A movement to better the averages of freshman women was discussed, and the committee hopes to make this so worthwhile that the group will be considered by the freshmen as a helpful one, besides one that takes it upon itself to punish new students," Miss Boczkiewicz stated.

Skiers Planning Stiff Workouts

With the possibility of the week's snowfall putting the Galena ski course into shape, members of the Nevada ski team are planning a stiff workout over the weekend in preparation for the Pacific Coast Interscholastic at Badger Pass, Yosemite, early next month.

There may also be enough snow to use the big 125 foot jump, Don McMeekin, head of the ski group, said, which will be a big help, as the Nevada jump artists, Worden, Bechdolt, Starrett and Edmunds, will welcome a chance to polish up on their jumping form.

The budget planned for the championship meet will be submitted to the university athletic department for approval sometime this week, McMeekin also said.

PAPER PRAISES STUDENT'S FLOOD ARTICLE

Featured in the Publishers' Auxiliary, a weekly newspaper devoted entirely to the publishing field, the story of Robert C. Miller's coverage of the recent Downsville flood was given high praise.

Accepted as a column-and-a-half length story by the Auxiliary, the coverage deals with the difficulties encountered in covering the flood and in getting the story to the press.

Miller, who did the work as a student of an advanced journalism course, covered the flood on special assignment and was given first-page prominence by the Nevada State Journal.

Formal Pledging Is Held by Coeds

Sorority Initiations Are On Schedule Soon

Pledging ceremonies held Monday night by Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta climaxed the period of formal rushing by the Greek coeds.

Pi Beta Phi held ceremonies Monday night for Nellie Little, Betty Grutt, Helen Westall and Laura Brown, after which a "cookie shine," traditional after-pledging social, was held. Initiation will be held near the end of the month for a group of 12 or 14 girls. After initiation a banquet handed by the alumni group will be given.

Kappa Alpha Theta held pledging Monday night for June Adams. Initiation ceremonies for 14 girls will be held Saturday afternoon, January 29. Immediately after the initiation ceremonies the annual Founders' Day banquet will be held.

To be initiated are Caroline Best, Annie Laurie Ballom, Thelma Crosby, Shirley Marshall, Margery Gusewelle, Lucille Hewes, Betty Hardy, Marian Ducker, Kathleen Starrett, Georgia Ereno, Allen Smith, Inabelle Jarvis, Katherine Devlin and Mary Arentz.

Because they haven't yet received all of the final grades, Pi Beta Phi could release no definite statement about their initiation. They will initiate 14 or 15 girls approximately 10 days after grades are received.

Ideal week will be held all next week for the initiates of Delta Delta Delta. Formal initiation will be held Thursday and Friday nights for about eight girls. The list of initiates is not yet definite.

Gamma Phi Beta, in accordance with tradition, is keeping the date of initiation secret. Six or seven girls will take the degrees, after which a banquet at the Riverside will be held.

Beta Sigma Omicron initiated five last week. Marie Garrett was elected pledge president, Mary McKenzie vice president and Jessie Hansen secretary for the pledge group, Monday night.

Defossett Named Barb President

Following the resignation of Max Jensen, president of the Independent organization for the last two semesters, Robert Defossett was elected to head the group for the rest of the term.

At the meeting, which was held Monday evening in the Aggie building, Ruby Nay, freshman arts and science student, was elected to the treasurer-ship of the group.

As soon as the balloting on the new officers was completed, a business meeting was held. Possibilities of obtaining an emblem for members of the organization to wear were discussed. It was decided that each member would be charged a slight additional fee along with the semestral dues in order to obtain the funds necessary to purchase such emblems.

The Barbs present at the meeting were encouraged by the new president of the organization to work to secure the support of other unaffiliated students of the university.

Frat Intramural Handball Started

Intramural handball play started in full swing this week with four games being played in the round-robin tournament.

In games played Monday, Bill Peccole, last year's titleholder for the S.A.E.s, lost by a default to Wilson Rebaletti of the A.T.O.s, and Lamba Chi Alpha defeated Lincoln Hall with Kenneth Dimock taking the set 21-7 and 21-12 from Eddie Kuhlman.

In games played Wednesday, Beta Kappa beat Sigma Phi Sigma, with Charles Turner and Melvin Dodson splitting honors to defeat Don Cole 21-8 and 21-14. In the other game, Lefty Mayer of the Phi Sigs trounced Bill Griswold, Sigma Nu, 21-2 and 21-7.

New Blue Key Men Presented Insignia

Nine new members of the Blue Key service fraternity were presented their keys at a meeting of the group held Wednesday night in the Student Union building.

The new members were elected to the group during the middle of last semester and were initiated into the group before the Christmas holidays.

At the meeting last night, the new members were instructed to obtain their white Blue Key caps and wear them at all functions. Plans were also made to meet all visiting basketball teams at the railroad depot.

According to Charles Doherty, chairman in charge of campus directory sales, there are numerous directories for sale both on the campus and at the graduate manager's office. Any student wishing to purchase a directory may obtain one from any Blue Key member for the nominal fee of 15 cents.

The next meeting of the service group will be a dinner meeting to be held at the S.A.E. house February 3.

Finance Control Slashes Budgets; Passes on Twelve

Band, W. A. A. and A. W. S. Budgets Take Severe Trimming

Play Productions and Debate Also Cut; Engineers Considered

Meeting for the second time this semester, finance control this week made several drastic cuts and passed upon twelve of the budgets previously submitted to them by various campus organizations.

University band budget of all other budgets, a request for $610 was made, but an allotment of $100 was all that the committee moved to pass upon.

Of the $610 asked for, it was estimated that approximately $500 would be used to finance a trip for the band members to Las Vegas when the State Band Concert is to be held.

Finance control decided that no such sum should be allotted unless definite plans were made for the trip, and that it would necessitate that amount. At the time of presentation it was not definitely known whether such a trip could be made.

W. A. A. Slashed

The Women's Athletic association also suffered a considerable slashing. Their budget was cut from the asked $266.90 to the allotted $200. Play productions and the debate organization were also on the cut price list. Play productions suffered a cut of $87.50 and debate a cut of $63.50.

Associated Women's budget, asking for $65.40, was slashed to $15. The cut automatically eliminates the annual convention trip taken by the newly elected A.W.S. president at the close of the spring semester.

The committee decided that such a trip was not of benefit to the women students as a whole, and therefore the money should be kept in the central treasury and spent in such a manner that it would be of interest and benefit to the women students as a whole.

Other Budgets Passed

Other budgets passed upon were Fine Arts, Mackay Day, A.S.U.N. general, athletic awards, Student Union and Block N. The total granted by the committee amounted to $2412.75.

The yell leader budget was passed upon last week in order that the yell leaders could make an initial appearance at the opening of the basketball season in new uniforms.

Another meeting will be held next week, at which time further consideration will be given to a budget submitted by the engineers. The committee failed to come to an agreement in regard to this budget since this was the first request made to them by this organization.

Michigan U. Is First On Coed Rifle Schedule

Intercollegiate rifle matches will start next week when the Nevada coeds exchange scores with women of the University of Michigan.

In order to be eligible to compete in intercollegiate matches, a woman must have been at two practices. Every woman eligible to compete will shoot each week, and the ten highest scores will be entered. This gives every woman an opportunity to show her ability.

Target scores are exchanged under government regulations, and supervision of Sergeant Kelly.

Dunice Beckley, manager, has requested all eligible women to attend the shootings.

To Pick Varsity

The ten women who shoot the most and have the highest scores will be chosen for the varsity team. Several freshman women have possibilities of making scholastic.

The schedule, compiled by Sergeant Kelly, still tentative, with several schools still to be heard from, is as follows:

January 22—University of Michigan, prone position; January 29—Ohio university, University of Washington; February 5—incomplete; February 12—Louisiana State university, University of Pennsylvania, Indiana university, University of Wichita, University of Oregon, prone position.

February 19—University of Maryland, prone position; February 26—incomplete; March 5—University of Illinois; March 12—North Dakota Aggie college, University of Georgia, Cornell university, University of Mississippi, Syracuse university, Carnegie Tech college; March 19—Harvard university, prone and sitting positions; Northwestern university, prone position; Beaver college, Connecticut State university.

Miss Beckley is anxious to have the following women at the next meeting: Angus, Baker, Berry, Bawden, Beckley, Brannin, Cantlon, Capitani, Cowgill, Doron Ferron, Graunke, Harrison, Heany, Inda, Mathews, Meaker, Miller, Moos, Pincolini, Pfeiffer, Polander, Snow, Venton, Wedertz, Wilson.

FASHION TIPS

By JANE FRISBIE

Just about this time every year we have for a new dress, a new coiffure, a new dose of "yumph" or a new boy friend. We found quantities of information on everything but the men.

Have the hems taken up on your dresses. Wear your skirts up to that part of your leg which curves in at the back. It has been said that we should leave something to the imagination.

A swifty, fascinating daytime frock made entirely of pleated crepe. They're perfect under a fur coat and can be worn to luncheons, teas and on informal nights.

A coed's wardrobe is not complete without a tailored suede blouse. They come in dozens of colors and are grand for active sports as well as campus wear.

For that necessary yumph: Fashion is not limited to clothes. It covers your coiffure, makeup, figure and even the way you walk (head up, chin in, chest high), and, above all, good manners and the appreciation of good man-

Official to Talk With Instructors

Glen O. Grant, western representative of the National Recreation association, will confer with university physical education instructors on his visit to Reno on January 24.

The purpose of Grant's visit is to discuss the problem of playground and recreational work with various heads in Reno and Sparks.

A full program has been arranged for Grant during the time he will be here.

At 9 o'clock Monday morning he will meet with Miss Elsa Sameth, Mrs. Mae Simas, Miss Katherine Schnell, Professor J. E. Martie and Jim Coleman at the university. He will hold a conference with Mayor John Cooper at 10:30, and will visit the PWA office at 1 o'clock.

A luncheon will be held at 12 o'clock in the Golden hotel at which Grant will be the guest.

Conferences will be held with Charles Nichols, probation officer, at 2:30, and at 3:15 Grant will meet with Superintendent Vaughn and Proctor Hug of Sparks.

At 3:45 a meeting will be held at the Reno high school for elementary school principals, junior high gym teachers, P. T. A. presidents of Reno and Sparks; Mrs. Purdy, president of Federation of Women's Clubs; Tom Buckman; Miss Mary Buol, chairman of club and health work of the extension department; Mrs. Sale, chairman of recreation of the WPA; A.P.E.A. members, P.E. minors of the University of Nevada men and women.

Tentative plans have been made for a dinner Monday evening at which Grant will confer with Mrs. Sale, Miss Sameth, Mrs. Simas, Miss Humphrey, Professor Martie and Jim Coleman.

All students interested in playground and recreational work are urged by Mrs. Mae Simas, W.A.A. faculty advisors.

People can't treat a gal with courtesy and respect when she doesn't know how to receive the little "niceties." Come on, gals, let's make 'em treat us like ladies. Remember, boys, 'tis really the little things that count. We don't spend hours getting dressed only to be treated like your kid sister.

Get ear muffs to match your mittens for skiing. They are priced ridiculously low and give your ski costume that St. Mortiz touch.

A new evening dress will give you all kinds of sparkle and might even be the solution to the "new man" problem. Get one in white net to wear on into the spring.

We found one with a soft white velvet plaque extending from the neckline to the floor. The net on each side of the skirt billows out in graceful crispness. You would be the envy of every gal at the Frosh Glee.

SHAPELY LEGS DETERMINE MALE PARTS

Tryouts for Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" resembled a Hollywood tryout for chorus parts last week, when the boys who are to wear tights and silk stockings were required to display the shapeliness or lack of shapeliness of their legs in order to get a part.

With a variety of calves, not exactly resembling those of Marlene Dietrich, Professor Miller was able to pick out a number of passable ankles and calves. Whether the boys will be required to use a hair removing preparation has not been decided yet.

Present rehearsals do not require the use of costumes so it was impossible to get a fair estimate of which one of the males will win the "All Twelfth Night" prize for having the most beautiful legs. At the last judging, Robert Miller and Leo Doyle were said to be running "leg and leg."

Pan-Hellenic Plans For Annual Dance

Plans to have each sorority decorate a corner of the hall for the Pan-Hellenic dance February 12 were made at the meeting of the Pan-Hellenic dance committee Wednesday night.

The corners will be decorated on the pin theme with each sorority pin and colors represented. Central decoration will consist of streamers of all the sorority colors coming from each corner. Pat Meaker and Lola Stoddard were put in charge of the advertising of the dance. Posters will be put up next week, according to Miss Meaker.

Members of the committee in charge of the dance are: Norma Anderson, chairman; Lola Stoddard, Mary Boczkiewicz and Jessie McClure.

viser, to attend the recreational meeting at the Reno high school January 24 at 3:45. The meeting will be conducted by Glen O. Grant, western representative of the National Recreation association.

Archery scores for the first week of the annual Winter Archery Meet totaled 734 for the 30 yard match and 880 for the 20 yard match.

Mrs. Mae Simas rated these scores as being fair, and said the teams will have to make some good shots during the next two weeks if they expect to place in the final rating.

Because of inadequate shooting conditions Nevada will not compete in the 30 yard matches during the next two weeks. All women formerly shooting on the 30 yard team will enter the 20 yard competition.

A number of women have signed up for the modern dance club to be organized this semester under the direction of Miss Katherine Schnell. There has not been any definite time set for meetings of the club as yet.

From the way things look during the first two weeks of women's basketball Shirley Fuetsch will be the outstanding basketball player this season.

A WISE MOVE

Although the action taken by finance control this week in eliminating the trip for the newly-elected A.W.S. president this spring may draw considerable protests from the women, the move is in reality a very wise one, and one that should have been taken before.

Looking at the expenditure from the point of view of benefit derived by the women students as a whole, the investment is practically a total loss.

The manner in which the system works, especially for the Nevada delegate, defeats the original purpose of the convention of A.W.S. heads—that of formulating and disseminating new ideas.

Last year's trip, which was undertaken in the usual manner, can serve as a case in point.

The election last year coincided almost with the election of the new officer. In order to have the delegate ready to attend, each of the coeds vying for the A.W.S. office was instructed to be ready to leave for the convention in the event of her election.

Because of this rush, the Nevada delegate is naturally enough left without time to prepare herself for the conclave, and to suitably acquaint herself with problems and questions on the local campus which should be brought up for discussion during the convention.

The set-up following the delegate's return to the campus is also one that defeats the purpose of the convention. Last year is again a case in point.

When the coed representative returns to the campus, the semester is practically over, and in the mad scramble that occurs during these last few weeks, no time is found to hold A.W.S. meetings so that the delegate can give a report, and even make an attempt to put new ideas into practice.

Thus, before a meeting is called, usually during the early part of the fall semester, nearly four months have elapsed—time enough for a large number of good ideas to have been forgotten, or, as often happens when ideas become too familiar to one person, thought of as insignificant.

The Sagebrush believes, with finance control, that the money spent on such a trip could more profitably be used by the coeds in some other manner that would be of benefit to the students as a whole, instead of being even of doubtful benefit to one person.

University Policies Bring Several Comments

Two completely opposed points of view concerning the University of Nevada's policy of disqualifying weak students appeared recently in Nevada newspapers.

Speaking editorially about the institution, the Fallon Standard suggested that if "the student 'playboys', the lightheaded coeds and the flunkers from both California and Nevada were let out, the other students would have a better chance for acquiring an education in an institution that wasn't so overcrowded and so under-equipped.

"...but it is not the obligation of these same taxpayers to pungle up for the cost of trying to educate sons and daughters who are there only for society or athletics or to kill time."

A few days after the Fallon editorial appeared, the Nevada State Journal carried an anonymous letter to the editor stating that "the student putting himself through the various colleges by working from six to eight hours daily deserves a pat on the back for his efforts, instead of being sent a registered letter informing him of the fact that he could not reenter the university the coming semester because he had flunked a couple of subjects.

"Anyway, he should be encouraged to some extent for trying to get an education by his own endeavors. The mere fact that he wants an education and is willing to work long and hard for it is evident of the fact that he is really serious. A little encouragement in this case would go a long way, whereas being 'booded' out of the university cer-

Gianella Completes Ore Body Probe

Professor Vincent P. Gianella has recently completed an investigation of an occurrence of ruberite in the mines in the Markleville district in California. Hubnerite, a manganese tungstate, usually is not found associated with gold and silver bonanza-type veins, which makes this discovery of particular scientific interest to students of ore deposits.

Gianella has completed a paper covering these studies, which will appear soon in a technical journal.

This paper is illustrated with photomicrographs, showing the relationship between hubnerite and the ore and vein minerals.

Snow Keeps C. Es. From Taking Trip

Snow has prevented the civil engineers from making inspection trips to the Metropolitan water district and to Boca dam, Ed Pine, president of the group, said today. As soon as the snow melts the trips will be planned for a definite day.

During the week of January 21, the group will show motion pictures which have been secured from the United Pipe and Foundry of New Jersey. Time and place of presentation will be announced later, Pine said.

tainly does not seem to be the kind or considerate thing to do, because he had flunked a couple of his subjects in the preceding semester, and because he had received this sort of treatment would make anyone think, 'What's the use?'

PICKLED PLATTITUDES

By MAX JENSEN

The ski club's drive for new members has been "eminently successful" so far, according to several livewire salesmen who have been capitalizing on the current craze for winter sports to secure additional financial backing for the university team.

The efforts of the club to make the sport as self supporting as possible are certainly laudable, in direct contrast to the trend in the field of major collegiate sports.

Skiing is peculiarly adaptable to support from enthusiasts, however, obviously much more so than are football, basketball and other major sports.

It is an individual rather than a team sport, and can be carried on actively throughout one's life. The person contributing to the support of a ski team gains much more personally on the average, than he spends on such support.

Here, for instance, each new recruit to the university club will enjoy full membership privileges, including the club outings and instruction in the chilly practice of sliding down a snowy slope under control. If he prefers to limit his active participation to kibitzing from a spot in the snow at about the sixth gate of the slalom course, or at about the third somersault of the down mountain entries, he will still get his money's worth.

People who stand about a day or two or three in the snow at a ski meet are usually there to see some excitement and to try out new clothes. There are usually plenty of chances for both.

Dr. G. M. Butler, when questioned on the matter this week, gave no immediate hope that the mechanical and civil engineering schools at Nevada would regain their rating without complying in a large degree to the specifications set down by the inspecting committee.

The two schools, which were not accredited as a result of the inspection last spring, to gain provisional rating with the council, will have to meet all of the committee's specifications, he intimated.

Dr. Butler is head of the regional committee of the council, and was questioned concerning the two schools' standings when he spoke before the Crucible club Wednesday.

Dr. Butler made it plain that his answers to the questions were not the final word in the matter, as any application for rating by Nevada or any other school could not be considered until the council meets next September. He added, however, that his regional committee will have to meet next spring to consider curriculae of various schools, and to review improvements made by schools, not accredited at the last inspection, in connection with reassigning them an accredited standing.

It would seem, from Dr. Butler's remarks, that the chance of getting Nevada's two schools returned to the accredited list art pretty slim unless some improvements as specified by the committee are made. Even consideration of Nevada's case, probably will not come up until the council meets regularly next fall, or at least until the regional committee is assembled in the spring.

Dear reader: Note the absence of references to persons living or dead; likewise, the absence of any reason for imputing such references, in the whole dry length of this column, if you got this far. I'm calling attention to the fact because threats, bribes, begs and beseeches have fallen from several sources upon the threshold of the Brush office during the past week.

What measures people will take to keep their names out of a "dirt" column. And how others will insist that such a column should be run regularly.

No triangles shall hereafter be taken note of under the title of this column. A young man, who shall remain unnamed but who has taken some inconsiderate razzing in connection with grades and other unimportant matters, has my signature to a petition which is circulating personally.

The petition reads in part: "We, the undersigned, do hereby pledge that under no circumstances, and upon no provocation * * * will we make derogatory remarks, orally or in print, in company or crowds, seriously or humorously, so-called, tending to make the bearer of this petition the recipient or, familiarly, the butt, of collegiate wisecracks."

The bearer is getting better results, he tells us, than he had expected, and within a few weeks hopes to change completely the manner in which his associates were prone to greet him.

Publicity Bureau Sends Out News

With the beginning of another semester, the University of Nevada News Bureau is again engaged in collecting news for Nevada and California publications.

University of Nevada news for outside publications is written entirely by members of the staff, which sends stories to approximately 15 Nevada newspapers, and to publications at Susanville and Auburn, Calif.

News submitted to these publications is sent out every Tuesday night, and consists chiefly of items of individual students from the particular town to whose publication the news is sent. However, it is the general practice to send one or two stories of general news along with each story of individual news.

LETTERS To The Editor

To the Editor:

Why, with all the material and opportunities which Nevada has, is no notice taken of ice hockey, one of the fastest and most interesting of sports?

Nevada took to skis and promptly made a name for herself. She could probably do the same on a pair of ice skates.

With Manzanita lake giving ample opportunities for skating, if it were scraped and flooded regularly, an ice hockey team would have space to practice. There are plenty of good skaters on the campus who probably would enter into the sport with vigor.

Many of the universities and colleges in California would afford plenty of competition. Why not join in the fun and give the students a real sport, one which is always fast and furious?

If it were possible, a rink might be made on the tennis courts at little expense. The equipment would include uniforms, sticks, pucks and goals.

SHORTS ON SPORTS FROM FAR & NEAR

By CLARENCE HECKETHORN
Ten members of the Nevada basketball squad boarded the 8:35 train last night for their first Far Western conference game of the season.

And there was an odd expression on the faces of those men as they stood there at the depot in anticipation of the train that would take them on their foray into California. And perhaps there was a reason for such an expression. Only a small group of close friends and relatives was there to bid them goodby and to cheer them on. Not a soul who had known them during the two nights of their wins over San Francisco State last week was there to give them a hand. There was no band, no pep organizations, etc.

Maybe nobody knew the team was leaving last night. Perhaps there were studies and other functions that were far more important. Or it might have been that there were no means of transportation, and a walk downtown would be anything but pleasant. These are only a few of many excuses that are likely to be given when students are asked why they weren't there.

On the other hand, the 1937 football campaign started off with a bang. Pre-game rallies and sendoffs were attended by hundreds of enthusiastic gridiron followers. And there was no reason why they shouldn't.

However, let's follow the football season further. Take the last home game—the contest with Willamette. Here the same situation as that of Thursday night prevailed. No one cared, or should we say had time to participate in a rally. The reason given at this time was that Nevada didn't have a "winning team and why should they give them their support?"

But now the latter reason can not be accepted. Nevada has got a "winning basketball team," and those boys plus the determination of J. E. "Doc" Martie aren't going to stop at anything less than a Far Western conference championship.

Thus we come to the logical conclusion that in order to have support it is necessary to have a winning team, and Nevada has a winning team, so, therefore, should have support from the student body. Speak, you chronic crabbers, or forever hold your peace!

Keeping up with the basketball opponents of the Wolf Pack over the weekend, we find the odds have a slight trend in favoring the Nevadan.

The Cal Aggies, a member of the conference and the team the Wolves are scheduled to meet February 25 and 26, have dropped contests to both Modesto junior college and the University of California.

San Jose State, Nevada's opponent for next weekend, defeated College of Pacific, another member of the conference. Reports from Stockton are to the effect that C. of P. has an exceptionally strong team this year. If any team sets the Nevadans back it will be San Jose State.

Chico, the Pack's opponents tonight and tomorrow night and winners of the conference crown last year, lost to San Francisco State, the team Nevada gave two drubbings.

Little "Toby" Heeb, Fresno half-back and the lad that ripped through the Nevada line like a butcher's knife last fall, has been elected football captain of the Fresno Bulldogs for 1938.

Heeb was also named the most outstanding football player in the conference at the end of the season.

Del Stewart, Nevada griddier, was lauded as the most outstanding player on the M men's basketball team this week. Delt team members say Stewart can hit like a kicking mule.

'Lighter' Contest On Tap as Frosh Play Lassen J. C.

Coleman Expects Yearlings To Defeat California Hoopmen Tonight

By CLIFF MALONE

After a rather disastrous time last weekend, the frosh basketball team is going in for "lighter" exercise this week when they meet the Lassen Junior college cagers at Susanville tonight.

Advance reports on the Susanville outfit show it to be a smooth working team, but Coach Jim Coleman says he anticipates no difficulty in overcoming the Lassen boys.

Show Improvement

The frosh have been showing improvement in practice this week, and by the time they are ready to meet the Lassen team they should be in top form. "They have shown rapid improvement," Coach Coleman said, "and I am satisfied with their showing to date. They are a hard fighting outfit, and that makes up for what they might lack in ability."

Coleman will probably start the same team that was given the starting call against Sacramento J. C. last week. Cobega and Lemich will be the forwards, Conway will start at center and Gibbs, Donovan or Edwards will be the guards.

Edwards, former Reno high star, has shown rapid improvement and Gibbs and Donovan will have to "show their stuff" to keep Edwards on the "sub" list.

Cobega and Lemich were slated last week to start at guards, but in practice before the game Coleman decided they would make better forwards, so they were shifted. Both turned in a good game for the cubs.

Conway is a long, lanky individual who handles the ball like a veteran. Under basket shots are his specialty. Gibbs and Donovan showed up well against the Sacramento outfit last week, thereby making themselves starters this week.

Blues Lose Game As Whites Win

The junior varsity basketball teams broke even in their games played Tuesday night at Billingshurst. The Whites won in a walk-away, defeating Baker's Grocery 35-17, while the Blues came out on the short end of their game with the First National Bank by a score of 27-17.

Each team has played two league games. The Whites remain undefeated, having shown good form in defeating both of their opponents handily, with outstanding performances being turned in by Briscoe Root, Jim Shepley, Dick Summerbell, Wilson Rebaleati and Frank Roylance.

The Blues, defending city champions, after a brilliant start, seemed to go cold and came out the loser. They are favored with some very good players, such as Jack Pothoff, Ollinto Barsanti, Sam McMullen, Bill Marks and Ed Olsen.

Frosh Defeated In Two Contests

Lacking the polish and experience of their big brothers, the Nevada freshman basketball squad dropped two games last week in preliminary contests to the Varsity-U. S. F. skirmishes.

Friday night the cubs played the Sacramento Junior college five and demonstrated the need for more practice when they lost the game by a 38 to 17 score. Both teams began the game at a terrific pace. For the first part of the game, the frosh managed to play the Sacramentans on a par, but in the second half the Californians drew away and lengthened the score as their superior stamina and experience began to make itself evident. The Conway brothers, Cobega and Donovan were the highlights on the frosh squad.

Showing a marked improvement over the Friday appearance, the cubs came back Saturday night to play the Reno Print squad. Although the Printers won the game by a score of 26 to 18, the first year men put up a close and thrilling contest. Endurance and experience again spelled the margin of victory as the Reno outfit outlasted the frosh to draw away in the second half. Lee Conway was the outstanding offensive star of the frosh, with Gibbs and Lemich starring on defense.

Wolf Cagers Score Decisive Wins Over U. S. F.

Hitting a stride that should take them a long way through the remainder of the season at the top of the loop, the University of Nevada cagers scored a couple of decisive victories over the University of San Francisco Dons last weekend.

Though the scores of 50-45 and 47-41 indicate a much closer game on both of the nights, there was only one period in the games that the Wolf Pack did not have the upper hand throughout the contests. Frequent substituting by Coach Martie so as to give all the boys on the squad a chance to prove their worth and to find several working combinations, cut down a possibly greater score.

Using no set formations in the Friday night game, the varsity quintet used their own ideas exclusively, showing considerable strength in teamwork when they were taking the ball down the court, while working for a scoring opportunity. The ability of Radovich, Nevada center, to retrieve the ball for his teammates was one of the outstanding features of the games, while shooting ability of Kolbus and Radetich was also one of the highlights.

The Saturday night game proved the ability of the varsity to work together on some of their set plays and many times during the course of the game they executed several very clever plays, running up a 10 point lead on the visitors from the bay area at the close of the first half.

Late in the second half, the Dons started a rally that saw them come within 5 points of tying up the game, but with the regulars back in the game they slowed down the attack and the game ended with the Dons scoring last to bring their total up to 41.

HE SELLS TOBACCO TO THEM ALL

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies...

"AT AUCTIONS in my warehouse in Farmville, North Carolina," says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "the higher the tobacco sells for, the better my profits. So I'm always glad to see Lucky Strike buyers in there bidding. They know what they want and they'll keep bidding right up until they get it."

"Well—in a cigarette—it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for 5 or 6 years."

Mr. Bobbitt represents the "aristocracy" of tobacco experts. He judges the tobacco that the growers grow. He's impartial, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer.

Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Shakespeare Play Enters Rehearsals; Cast Is Revamped

Reading of Lines Occupies Time of Characters in Initial Practices

Although no costumes adorned the personages of the characters in the rehearsals of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," held this week, the work of production is fast reaching a semblance of real Shakespearean comedy. In the course of rehearsals Professor William C. Miller, in charge of production, made two changes in the cast. Ralph Stone, formerly to take the role of Orsino, Duke of Illyria, will now take the parts of Valentine, gentleman attending the Duke, and Antonio, a sea captain, and Marshall Creel, who formerly played the roles of Valentine and Antonio, will play Orsino.

The actual reading of lines engaged most of the time spent on rehearsing this week. The actual portrayal of the characters will not be worked on extensively until the actors have learned more of their lines. That the play will be full of rollicking humor is shown in the scene acted by Robert Van Wagoner as Sir Toby Belch, Robert Miller as Sir Andrew Aguecheek and Kathleen Meeks as Maria. Aguecheek and Belch are both filled with the exuberance of ale and the trio present a full round of stamping, shouting and humorous dialogue. At the present time Director Miller is well pleased with the efforts of the cast.

Semester Plans Made by Fine Arts

Numerous plans for the coming semester were made by the Fine Arts group last night, Peggy Gill, president, has announced.

The group is planning to have its annual formal tea on February 19. They hope to have as honored guest Marcus Maurillo from Stewart, who has several oil paintings from California. The tea will probably be held at the Pi Beta Phi house. Pat Meaker and Elizabeth Kolhaus are in charge of the arrangements.

The first exhibit of the season will be held on January 31, and will be taken from the works of living American artists. Students in charge of the exhibit are Janet Green, Lois Miller and Beverly Jones.

The group also plans to have Dr. Church speak to them in the near future, Miss Gill said.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Romie Pine, freshman student, underwent an appendicitis operation last week at the university hospital. She is reported to be getting along very well.

Candy, Eskimo Pies Will Be Sold at Hoop Games

With Jeanette Hutchins appointed chairman, the Sagens will begin selling candy bars and eskimo pies at the basketball games, beginning with the San Jose games here January 28 and 29.

A list of freshman women to work with Sagens will be posted on the bulletin board Monday, so that those wishing to try out for the group may see Eunice Beckley before that time to make arrangements for the sales.

To Elect Members Election of new members into Sagens will take place immediately after the basketball season, and the tryees will be judged on the number of sales in the Buy-a-Brick campaign, as well as the basketball game sales.

Eunice Beckley, president of the organization, has requested that the student body respond at the basketball games by buying candy bars and eskimo pies. The money will be used for group projects and for the annual senior banquet for graduating members.

Sagens Reverse The Sagens' dance will probably be held March 5, according to Juanita Elcano, chairman of the dance committee.

Although the plans are not definite, the affair may be held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Sierra street. It is a "cord and sweater" dance, with the theme and decorations carrying out the informal idea.

Members of the committee assisting Juanita Elcano are Reveau Hansen, Mary Alice Plath and Marie Belz.

Camera Contest Ends Tomorrow

Photos Will Be Judged by Artemisia Heads

Tomorrow is the closing date of the Camera club contest, and the pictures will be judged at that time by Ted Olds and Sam Wilson, Artemisia editors.

Announcement of the winner will be made Monday. The winner will be presented with the cup at the Mackay Day celebration, Ned Westover, Camera club president, said today.

Leads Lecture Last night J. A. Brockman, local photographer, led a discussion with the club members while he flashed 50 kodachrome slides before their eyes.

Kodachrome slides are the very latest product of color photography. There is no "old fashioned" hand coloring; all natural colors are brought out by this new film. All these pictures taken by Brockman were shots of local landscapes and flower scenes.

"Photography with the Miniature Camera" is the title of an illustrated lecture to be given by Bill Richter '41 at the next meeting of the camera fans, January 27. Comparison of the miniature and the larger camera and the correct ways to develop the miniature films will be discussed.

Richter is the second student to lecture before the club. These speakers use as their text material sent by a national camera manufacturing company that also furnishes the accompanying slides.

Doyle Appointed Pre-Med Officer

Leo Doyle, prominent junior student, was appointed president of Omega Mu Iota, pre-medical fraternity, at a meeting of the executive committee this week.

Doyle replaces Charles Turner, who resigned as president of the group after a semester of service.

Contrary to usual custom, the president of this organization is not selected by popular vote of the members, but by the executive committee, which is composed of Dr. Peter Frandsen, faculty adviser; the president, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the group.

A scroll, upon which members of the group will sign their names, and a scrap book for the club will be presented at the next meeting of the organization, outgoing President Charles Turner announced yesterday.

Blair Elected Prexy Of Astronomy Group

Professor G. B. Blair, assistant professor in the department of physics and astronomy, was elected president of the Astronomy club at its meeting Tuesday night.

Mrs. L. W. Hartman was elected vice president, John Carlson secretary-treasurer and Professor Bixby was named chairman of the program committee.

This meeting will bring to Reno approximately 100 engineering professors from all sections of the southwestern states.

The University of Nevada was given the nomination for the 1938 meeting at the three-day meeting of the society held at the Los Angeles Junior college during the Christmas holidays.

Professors Jay A. Carpenter and Irving J. Sandorf attended the meeting. Carpenter was elected vice chairman of the society for the ensuing year.

At the Los Angeles meeting Sandorf spoke on "Laboratory Courses in Electrical Engineering" and Carpenter spoke on "The Accrediting of Engineering Schools."

Santa Clara university was elected for the 1938 meeting.

Aggie Economist Returns to U. N.

L. E. Cline, economist of the agricultural extension service at the University of Nevada, returned home last week from a meeting of American poultry raisers at the University of Illinois.

Cline addressed turkey growers on phases of turkey marketing, and participated in judging the dressed turkey show which was held in conjunction with the annual Home and Farm Week of Illinois farmers.

Prior to attending the meet, Cline represented Nevada as delegate to the annual American Poultry congress held in Cleveland, Ohio. According to Cline, the congress shaped the policies concerning a World's Poultry congress to be held in Cleveland the summer of 1938.

Cline, whose book on turkey marketing is widely used abroad as well as in the United States, said that a third edition of the volume is being contemplated and will possibly go to press the latter part of this year. The book on turkey marketing is used as a text for agricultural students at the University of Nevada and many other institutions.
