Underclassmen Plan Revival Of Ancient Field Tourney

Revival of the ancient freshmen-sophomore field day will take place next Saturday, March 19, to determine who holds the supremacy between the two lower classes.

The winners of the events in this field day, taken on a point basis, will be feted by the losing class at a dinner.

The field day custom was abolished in 1933 by the university officials, when, in the spirit of fun, the "events" got out of control. This year's struggle, however, will be conducted in a more orderly fashion, and if it agrees with the restrictions that have been placed upon it by the faculty and university heads, the practice will be continued in the future, it was indicated.

Issue Challenge
The freshman class, through its president, Fred McIntyre, issued the challenge to the sophomores, and it was promptly accepted by the sophomore manager, Louis Peraldo.

Class heads met yesterday and committees for the various events were chosen. Committeemen for the sack race were Bill Pecolce, sophomores, and Frank McColloch, frosh; baseball, John Lemich, frosh, and Len Carpenter, sophomore; tug o' war, Hank Clayton, sophomore, and Dale Miller, frosh; handball, James DuPratt, sophomore, and Wilson Rebeleatti, frosh; bowling, Gene Pisani, sophomore, and Fred Peterson, frosh; tennis, Ralph Stone, sophomore, and Fred Peterson, frosh; track, Cameron and Rhodes, sophomores, and Trigo and Polish, frosh; basketball, Cameron and Thompson, sophomores, and Vic Donovan of the frosh.

Held on Field
Most of the athletic events will be held on Mackay Field and in the gymnasium. The site of the tug o' war has not yet been determined, but it is hoped that the university officials will let the classmen use the lower part of Manzanita Lake, as has been the custom in former years.

Students, Profs Suffer Illness

Cold Epidemic Keeps Many Confined to Homes

An epidemic of colds, infections and operations has taken hold of the campus during the past two weeks.

Miss Katherine Riegelhuth, associate professor of English, was confined to her home the first part of this week with a serious cold.

Fred Collins, instructor in economics, was unable to meet his classes the first several days of this week because of a bad cold.

Lawson Sullivan, member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is confined to his bed with the flu.

A slight case of strepto-coccic throat kept A. L. Higginbotham, professor of journalism, from attending his classes the latter part of last week.

Jim Strosnider, Alpha Tau Omega pledge, is in the university hospital with a severe case of pneumonia. He is rapidly recovering and will probably be removed to the A. T. O. house in another week, hospital attendants said.

Robert Worts, freshman student, was re-admitted to the university hospital this week with an abscessed tooth.

Carrie Pimentel, Independent normal student, was operated on for appendicitis last Thursday night. She is getting along very well, according to Mrs. Ethel Shurtleff, matron of the university hospital.

Gertrude Freeman, Independent student, is convalescing at her home in Sparks from an appendicitis operation last week. Henry Bryant, freshman, underwent an operation last week at the Washoe General Hospital.

Hustis Resumes Duties After Long Illness

Sergeant Grant Hustis, after being confined to the government hospital in San Francisco for the last three months, has again assumed his duties with the campus R. O. T. C. unit.

Sergeant John T. Kelly, who took Hustis' place, will be transferred to the Presidio in San Francisco Tuesday.

Hustis has charge of the men's and women's rifle teams. While in active army service, he won several distinctions as a marksman.

Gene Wines Named Y.W.C.A. Prexy; Officers Elected

Retiring and Incoming Heads To Visit Coast For Conference

Genevieve Wines was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. this week, succeeding Jean Smith to that position. Other officers chosen were: Lila Stoddard, vice-president; Helen Collins, secretary; and Elizabeth Kolhoss, treasurer.

Miss Wines is a junior arts and science student from Winnemucca, and is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Besides being an active member of the Y. W. C. A. for the past three years, she has been prominent in other campus activities. She is a member of the W. A. A. and has participated in the Wolves' Frolic for the past two years.

A cabinet to assist the new president in her duties will be chosen in the near future, Miss Wines said.

Miss Smith and the incoming head of the group will go to the coast some time later this month to participate in a conference of all Y. W. C. A. groups for California and Nevada. They will be accompanied by the Reverend Father Henry Thomas of the St. Stephens Chapel and several men from the Nevada campus, who will be chosen later.

The organization will continue a program of religious lectures by Father Thomas, which are given every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Wines stated.

Tryouts Held Today For Final Play Of Year

Tryouts for George M. Cohen's comedy, "The Tavern," will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Education auditorium, Bill Miller, chairman of the committee on assemblies and lectures, stated.

The play, to be presented April 19, 20 and 21, will be the last play of the dramatic group this semester.

There are fifteen roles to be filled in this comedy, with an ample variety of characters to give a large number of people a chance to try out for the cast. Of the fifteen parts, eleven are men's roles and four are women's roles.

REHEARSE SOON
Director Miller explained that rehearsals will begin as soon as possible after the cast is selected, because of the short length of time in which the production must be completed. The technical and production staffs will begin work on the scenery and other arrangements almost immediately.

From interest shown in the production of this comedy, which was presented three years ago, Director Miller is sure a good representative cast can be acquired. The play, which was a real success three years ago, should be well received again, in the opinion of Director Miller.

Snowmen Attend Sun Valley Meet

Carl Beckdolt, Jr., and Earl Edmonds, members of the University of Nevada ski team, left Wednesday in company with Wayne Poulson and Martin Arrouge, coaches of the Nevada ski team, to participate in the International Ski Meet at Sun Valley, Idaho, this week-end.

Also making the trip with plans of competing is Miss Kathleen Starrett, student at the university.

The Nevadans left with a group of six skiers, made up of performers who have taken part in nearby meets during the winter.

Carlisle Company Donates Trophies For 'Brush Staff

Awards Will Be Presented To Members Showing Best Progress

Four silver trophies, which will be given annually by A. Carlisle & Co. of Reno, will be presented on Mackay Day to reporters and ad chasers of The Sagebrush staff, Willis Dalzell, business manager, said today.

The awards, which originally were to have been presented by The Sagebrush, will be donated by the Carlisle Company instead, and will be given to the freshman and sophomore reporters showing the most progress and interest throughout the school year, and to the freshmen and sophomore ad chasers showing the most progress and interest throughout the year, heads of the publication announced.

Trophies for the sophomore winners will be slightly larger than those of the freshmen, and all four awards will be engraved with the name and class of the winner.

Winners of the editorial trophies will be selected by a committee of upperclass staff members, and they will be judged on the basis of interest, dependability and writing improvement throughout the school year, John Brackett, editor, stated.

Business staff awards will be judged on the same basis as the editorial staff, Dalzell announced.

Italic N's, symbolic of six semesters or more of service to the publication, will also be awarded at the Mackay Day luncheon, it was announced.

California Prof To Read Play Here

Dr. Anthony Blanks Appears Here Next Tuesday

Dr. Anthony F. Blanks, associate professor of public speaking at the University of California, will read the play, "The Star-Wagon," by Maxwell Anderson, at a convocation held Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the Education auditorium.

"Dr. Blanks is recognized as one of the best artists in the country in the field of interpretative reading," Professor Harold N. Brown, chairman of the committee on assemblies and lectures, stated.

Vanderbilt Graduate
He is a graduate of Vanderbilt University, and in 1928 he received his degree of doctor of philosophy from Stanford University.

After receiving his advanced degree, Dr. Blanks taught public speaking in several universities, among them the University of Southern California, Colgate University and the Aoyama in Tokyo, Japan. He took up his work in Berkeley in 1925.

He was director for the Pacific Southwest National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution from 1923 until 1925. He has also published several magazine articles on public speaking.

"He has brought to a new height of perfection the lecture-recital in which he reads selections from great dramas, as well as the best offerings of Broadway, and discusses the play in the light of his interpretation," Brown said in commenting on the speaker.

Faculty Pinch Hits For Dean Adams

Because of the serious illness of Dean Maxwell Adams of the college of arts and science, it has been necessary to shift some of the faculty in that department around in order to meet the classes in which the dean had been instructing.

The organic chemistry lectures have been taken care of by Dr. S. Allan Lough and the laboratory work has been under the supervision of Kerby Stoddard. The history of chemistry class is being handled by Doctor Meryl Deming.

Dr. George W. Sears has been temporarily installed as the acting dean of this department of the university.

RECOVERING

DEAN ADAMS

Adams Recovering; Leaving Hospital For Home Today

Condition Vastly Improved, But Will Not Assume Duties Yet

Dean Maxwell Adams, his condition vastly improved after a sudden heart attack, left St. Mary's Hospital this afternoon to convalesce at home.

Dean Adams was stricken early last Saturday morning by a strong heart attack and was immediately removed to the St. Mary's Hospital for observation and treatment.

Although he is returning home today, he will probably not assume his duties as acting president of the university for several weeks.

Dean of Men
During the absence of the dean, due to his illness, the dean of men, R. C. Thompson, has taken his place at the head of the university administration.

Until such time as Dean Adams returns to his duties, people wishing to discuss university affairs with the president may see Dean Thompson in the president's office any afternoon except Wednesday from 1:30 until 3:30. On Wednesday the dean will not be in the office until 2 o'clock.

Professor George Sears, head of the department of chemistry, is acting dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. He has been relieved of his teaching duties to take over this office.

Mackay Day Queen Photos Sent to Selznick

Pictures of contestants in the annual contest for Mackay Day queen were sent this week to David O. Selznick, motion picture producer, to be judged, it was announced last night by Duncan Dorsey, chairman of the committee in charge.

The queen will be chosen entirely on the basis of personality and beauty which is shown in the picture, Dorsey said. The winner of the contest will be announced the day before the annual celebration.

Selznick is one of the most prominent producers in Hollywood at the present time. Some of his most successful productions in recent years were: "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Nothing Sacred," and "Tom Sawyer," which is now ready for release.

The girls who are entered in the contest are: Emily Tholl, Kappa Alpha Theta; Virginia Posvar, Pi Beta Phi; Margaret Turano, Gamma Phi Beta; Jeannette Green, Delta Delta Delta; Kathleen Meeks, Independents; and Gaynell Giblin, Manzanita Association.

Genevieve Hansen was selected as the queen by Cecil B. DeMille last year to preside over the festivities.

Saddle and Spurs Classes to Begin

Saddle and Spurs will begin Tuesday, March 15, under the direction of Beatrice Lansdon, riding manager, and Mae Casinelli, proprietor of Carnation Stables.

Class will be held at the Carnation Stables on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 4 o'clock. If there is a large enough class there is a possibility of holding classes on Wednesday and Friday afternoons also. It has not been definitely decided upon whether jumping lessons will be given or not.

Special instructions will be given for any beginners taking the sport, according to Miss Lansdon.

Max Jensen Appointed New Graduate Manager

Souvenir Coins Will Be Feature Engineers' Day

Novel Exhibits Prepared by Each Department For Celebration

Mechanical engineers will make souvenir coins for Engineers' Day, according to Marvin Moler, head of the committee for the day.

They will bear the inscription, "U. of N. 1938," and will be made out of a copper and aluminum alloy.

Outstanding exhibits of the various departments will be: Electrical Engineers, a talking light beam; Mining Engineers, timber exhibit; Mechanical Engineers, souvenirs; Civil Engineers, material testing laboratory; Chemistry Department, aniline dyes, and Physics Department, winking electric eye.

Outstanding among the exhibits will be a Rochelle salt crystal that squeaks. The crystal generates electricity when pressure is exerted on it, and an amplifier will record the sound. This device is used in radio microphones for auditory purposes.

Another exhibit of the physics department will be a relaxation oscillator to imitate any form of mechanical sound. It is one of the main exhibits of the physics department. The banner for Engineers' Day, permission for which was granted by the city council, was stretched across Virginia street this week.

The money for the sign was donated by Betty Bowman and Charles Allen, graduates in 1937.

Committees Named For Mackay Lunch

Eight Divisions Will Work Under President Swett

Mackay Day luncheon committees, composed of "home ecers," were appointed this week by Sarah Swett, president of the Home Economics Club.

Lunches will be served in boxes again this year in order to insure efficient service and to discourage plate throwing.

Gwen Meginnis is chairman of the box filling committee, assisted by Mary Arentz, Gertrude Polander, Caroline Best, June Drake and Nina M. Holliday.

The potato chip committee has as chairman Hildegarde Spieker, and Aldene Branch and Doris Layson as members.

Telettha Kim is chairman of the table setting committee. Doris Larson and Marie Borsini will work with her.

The cleanup committee is composed of Chairman Marian Marshall, Betty Johnson and Edna Pflum. Mildred Woodward is in charge of the kitchen, and Alice Wade, Ruth Pray and Helen Cameron will assist.

Georgia Cooper is in charge of the salad preparation. Working also on this committee are Margaret Pearson, Loretta Collins and Margaret Cline.

The equipment committee is composed of Chairman Mary Scott, Marie Garrett and June Bradbury.

Lois Downs, Anne Laking, Virginia Crofut and Reveau Hansen will serve.

Group Pins Worn By Independents

For the first time in the history of the organization, the Independents are wearing pins representing their group.

The pins were passed out Monday evening at a business meeting. The insignia consists of crossed silver battle axes behind a red shield with the word "Barbs" inscribed in the center.

At the meeting, certain phases of the A. S. U. N. constitution were explained by Max Jensen, senator. Funds were voted for Gene Peterson, athletic manager, for use in the purchase of baseball equipment.

Manager Peterson states that he is confident of the success of the Independent team in the coming baseball season.

Walter States Quits To Take New Post

Max Jensen, prominent senior student, yesterday was appointed A. S. U. N. graduate manager to succeed Walter States, who resigned the early part of this week.

The appointment of Jensen marks the second time the position has been filled this year, as States has served in the office since the first of the semester, when he took the position left vacant by the resignation of Robert Creps.

B. Hardy Receives Scholarship Fund

Byron Hardy, sophomore mining student, this week was awarded the Rose Sigler Mathews scholarship of $50 for outstanding scholastic achievement.

The scholarship was established in 1920 by Mr. Isaac R. Mathews of Reno in memory of his wife. The recipients of this scholarship are recommended by Mr. Mathews and the scholarships are granted by the Board of Regents.

Hardy is an Independent student and is a member of the university varsity football team.

Miners Make Trip To Copper Pits

Eight sophomore students of the Mackay School of Mines trekked to Ely today to visit the Nevada Consolidated copper pit, concentrator and smelter. Professor William Smyth is in charge of the tour of inspection.

This trip was made possible by S. Frank Hunt through his geological foundation. The 1937 model station wagon in which they are traveling also was given to the school of mines by Hunt.

Professor Smyth states that he intends to make arrangements for the Ely meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers while he is there. This meeting is to be held April 9, and will be attended by junior and senior student members from the school of mines.

Students taking the trip are those with the highest scholastic standing in the sophomore class of the school of mines.

A. T. O. to Celebrate Founders' Day

Myron Adams, Reno attorney, will be the main speaker at the Founders' Day program of Nevada chapter of Alpha Tau Omega to be presented by the initiates of the fraternity next Tuesday.

Home Ec Students Honor Kansas Visitor

Miss LeVelle Wood, assistant professor of institutional management at Kansas State College, was the guest of honor at a Home Ec tea held yesterday afternoon.

All Home Ec students, faculty women, former students and graduates of Kansas State were invited. The freshmen were in charge of the tea, it being a class project.

Assumes Duties

Jensen will assume his new duties Monday, Professor Frederick Wilson, chairman of finance control, which make the appointment, announced. Only two applications for the office were received, Wilson stated. Melville Wilder, senior student, Ty Cobb and Louis Weiner, who both graduated last year, also applied for the job.

Scheduled to graduate in May, Jensen is prominent in campus activities, and is the first undergraduate to hold the position of graduate manager, which is technically known as executive secretary. The A. S. U. N. constitution does not specify that the holder of the position must be a graduate.

Active in Student Affairs
Jensen has served as president of the Independents, which office he recently resigned; president of the Press Club, which he also recently resigned; president of Coffin and Keys, men's secret honorary; Independent representative to the Senate, a member of Blue Key, national honorary service society, and has been active in student government. He has served on the editorial staff of the Sagebrush for four years, and is now an associate editor.

States, who is a Christmas graduate, announced, following his resignation, that he will leave Tuesday for New York City, where he has accepted a position with the Don Spencer football program advertising company.

While on the campus, States was active in student affairs and was business manager of the Sagebrush last year. He served as president of Coffin and Keys, men's secret honorary society; president of the Press Club, is a member of Blue Key and served a term in the Senate as representative of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

During his junior year he served as class manager, and also on the senior ball and junior cut day committees. He was a nominee for the A. S. U. N. presidency last year.

Candid campus and color photographs featured the March meeting of the Associated Students of the University of Nevada held in the Education auditorium at 9:35 today.

Snaps were shown of the several games of the Wolf Pack in which the antics of the excited spectators were featured. Maneuvers of the University Band on parade at the games were shown, as well as parts of the Homecoming Day parade.

Color shots of scenic vistas around San Francisco, of the Truckee River and of the Nevada campus were exhibited. Action photos of the recent intercollegiate ski meet held at Grass Lake were also shown.

At conclusion of the moving pictures, Georgia Cooper, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council, presented a scholarship trophy to the Tri-Delta sorority for outstanding scholastic achievement last semester. The cup was last held by the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Suggestions Made For Senior Gift

Four suggestions for a senior gift were made at a committee meeting held yesterday, according to Russell McDonald, head of the gift committee.

Proposed as gifts were: A scandal, a public address system, a drop curtain for the auditorium, or a roster board for the gymnasium.

Another meeting will be held next Tuesday to decide on the gift and the amount of money which can be spent, McDonald said.

Martie Makes Statement On Spectator Restriction Capacity Of Gymnasium

By BURWELL HOLMES

"If the present restriction on the number of spectators allowed in the gymnasium had been in force all this year, we would have about broken even in gate receipts," Coach J. E. ("Doc") Martie, head of the department of physical education, said today.

This statement comes in regard to the restrictions on the number of spectators allowed in the ancient building after an inspection by Fire Chief Twaddle last week. During the inspection several fire and building ordinances were found to be violated, and the attendance number was limited to 800 persons instead of the customary 1200 or 1300 the gym has formerly held during tournament times.

Student Spectators

Martie estimated that most of the basketball games played during the past season were attended principally by students. If the number of persons had been limited at that time, most of the first spectators would have been students, and the number of townspeople who pay an admission fee would have been considerably smaller.

During the district tournament games played in the gym last week, the restrictions were rigidly upheld by the city police and fire departments. No persons were admitted after all the seats had been filled, and in some cases the doors were closed by 7 o'clock.

Further Inspection

Further inspection of the athletic structure was held this week, but the full report to the Board of Regents has not yet been submitted. The inspection was again made by City Building Inspector L. A. Ferris and Fire Chief Twaddle.

No action of any kind has been taken in the matter by the administration of the University of Nevada, according to Dean R. C. Thompson.

Faculty Club Sets Last Meeting Date

The University of Nevada Faculty Club will hold its last meeting of the year Tuesday, April 5, Dr. Frederick Wood, head of the mathematics department, announced last night.

Dr. Philip A. Lehenbauer, professor of biology, will be the speaker. His subject is "Orchids," and many slides and pictures will be used to illustrate his talk.

The host and hostess committee will be Dr. J. E. Weir and staff of the history department.

Principal business of the meeting will be the election of new officers for the ensuing school year, Dr. Wood stated.

Wines Chosen Life Saving Corps Prexy

A panel of officers for 1938-39 for the Campus Red Cross Life Saving Corps was presented to the group at a meeting held at the Gamma Phi Beta house this week.

Those automatically receiving offices were Gene Wines, president; Ben Cardinal, vice-president; Porter McKernon, captain; and Ann Gamble, reporter and publicity manager.

Election will be held next week for the office of secretary-treasurer and affirmation of the other officers. Those nominated for it are Betty Johnson and Mary Arentz.

Portrait of Brown To Complete Group

Painting May Be Presented At Commencement

A portrait of Leroy D. Brown to complete the collection of University of Nevada presidents' portraits may be ready by Commencement day, Silas E. Ross, chairman of the Board of Regents, announced today.

Dr. Brown was first president of the university, and under his administration the school of mines was organized, the Agricultural Experiment Station established, and the first graduates from the State Normal School were given diplomas.

The portraits of Presidents Joseph Edward Stubbs, Stephen A. Jones, Archer B. Hendrick and Walter E. Clark have already been presented to the university. The oil portraits of Dr. Jones and Archer Hendrick were presented February 25 at gift day exercises, at which H. C. Jones, son of Dr. Jones, was guest speaker. The portrait of Dr. Clark was hung last fall in the Education building auditorium, while that of Dr. Stubbs was presented to the university several years ago.

Ross, who has been aiding in establishing the collection of portraits, said that the work may be given to Hans Meyer-Kassel, a nationally known artist, who painted portraits of Hendrick, Jones and Clark. At the present time, due to the inability to find suitable photographs of Dr. Brown to use as a model, the work has been held up, he added.

It has been largely through Ross' efforts that the paintings have been secured. He said that it had been difficult to secure photographs or pictures of Presidents Hendrick and Jones from which the portraits could be made. Despite the handicap, Meyer-Kassel did an excellent job on portraits of Jones and Hendrick, Ross said.

Kassel's paintings are famous not only in the United States, but abroad, and he has received recognition of his work from many sources. Kassel's skill brought him fame at an early age.

Expenses for the paintings have been largely met by the friends and associates of the presidents, as well as local organizations, Ross said.

Winer Scholarship Contributions Reach $115

Campus contributions to the Rita Hope Winer scholarship fund this week passed the original $100 mark set by the committee when Mrs. Florine Frank Maher, who is managing the campus project, reported that $115 had been donated.

Mrs. Maher said that more contributions were expected by various campus groups.

Organizations which have contributed are: Sigma Nu, $20; Manzanita hall, $15; Chi Delta Phi, $10; Gamma Phi Beta, $10; Delta Delta Delta, $10; Kappa Alpha Theta, $10; Y. W. C. A., $5; Pan-Hellenic Council, $5; Betty Jane McCullough, $5, anonymous, $5.

Sagans have indicated they expect to give a substantial amount if there is any surplus from the proceeds of the dance held last Saturday night.

There has been a number of town contributions to the scholarship fund. Mrs. Richard Solt is in charge of the town funds, while Mrs. William Maher is managing the campus project.

The first award will be made in the spring semester of 1939 at the commencement exercises.

1938-39 Catalog Sent to Printers

The University of Nevada catalog for 1938-39 was sent to the state printing office at Carson City this week and will be off the press shortly before commencement day, Dean Maxwell Adams, acting president, announced yesterday.

The catalog for the summer session was submitted to the printers several weeks ago and will be ready for distribution within ten days, Adams said.

Wines Appointed Basketball Manager

Vernon Wines will be the varsity basketball manager for next year, it was announced today by the A. S. U. N. manager's selection committee.

Wines, who is a sophomore student, replaces Leland Fallon, who served as manager for the past season.

Appointed to assist Wines were Emery Conaway, Donald Downs, John Bazine and Jim Griswold, who will act as sophomore managers.

Competing for the manager's job against Wines were Fred Steen and Harry Ackerman, who acted as sophomore managers during the past season.

Members of the selection committee include Richard Taw, A. S. U. N. president; Walter States, executive secretary, who is a non-voting member; Coach J. E. Martie, John Robb, Block N representative, and Joe Radetich, basketball team representative.

Belgium has the greatest density of population of any European country.

Forensic Squad Will Open Season Monday Afternoon

Breen and Herz Will Meet William Jewell Team In First Contest

The University of Nevada debaters will open the 1938 intercollegiate forensic season Monday afternoon at 3:45 in the Education auditorium, when they will meet a team from William Jewell College of Liberty, Missouri.

Nevada will be represented by Francis Breen and Homer Herz, veteran debaters, who were members of the varsity squad last year.

The visiting team will be composed of Joseph Trotter and Maurice Winger, who last year were national champions. When they won the titles in 1937, it was the second time in the past few years that William Jewell College debaters have won that honor.

The topic to be used is: "Resolved, That the National Labor Relations Board Should Be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration in All Industrial Disputes." The match will be non-decision, as William Jewell does not engage in decision contests except during tournaments.

The Reno match will be held as one of many in which the Liberty squad will participate during a nationwide tour. After visiting in Reno, the team will go on to Berkeley to compete with the University of California, and then to Seattle to debate the University of Washington team.

This afternoon, Breen and Herz will compete in a debate against Leo McCuddin and David Goldwater at the Carson City high school at 3 o'clock.

This will be one of a series in a program which the varsity squad will carry on throughout the state. On March 18 in Winnemucca, two other Nevada teams will meet in a match. Two debates will also be held at Lovelock and Gardnerville, but the dates have not been set.

The same question that will be used for the William Jewell match will be used on these exhibitions.

With The Wolfettes

By LOUISE LEONARD
Badminton practice started last Tuesday with fifty-seven women turning out.

The Independents hold the cup for both singles and doubles, but they have had several threats of being defeated this year.

Round Robin tournaments will begin March 25, and intramural games March 31, according to Gene Wines, manager.

All women's P. E. classes were dismissed yesterday afternoon because of the state tournament being played in the gym.

Saddle and Spurs will begin next week if the weather continues warm. Classes will be held at the Carnation riding stables on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 4. There is a possibility of dividing the group into two sections because of the large number that has signed up.

Anyone who has not signed for riding, but wishes to take it, may do so by contacting Beatrice Lansdon, manager.

Harold Terwilliger, Red Cross life saving examiner, will be in Reno March 14 to 26 to give instructions to any student having previous life saving experience.

Classes will probably be held Wednesday, Friday and Saturday at 5:30 at Moana Hot Springs.

Students interested in life saving or water front work may register with Mrs. Mae Simas or at Red Cross headquarters.

Presentation of the basketball cup to Delta Delta Delta, champions of the 1938 intramural basketball tournament, has been postponed until Mackay Day. Women making the varsity team have already been given their awards.

Parker and Rosaschi Win in Debate Tourney

Robert Parker and Frank Rosaschi Beta Kappa, won the Ginsburg debate trophy Tuesday night by defeating Kathryn Devlin and William Casey, who composed a combined Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Nu team.

The winning debaters won all their matches during the entire tournament, which has been going on for the past six weeks. Miss Devlin and Casey had won three and lost one before losing to the Beta Kappa team in the finals.

The question used was: "Resolved, That the National Labor Relations Board Should Be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration in All Industrial Disputes."

The contests were judged by Robert S. Griffin, university debate coach, and Francis Breen, Homer Herz, Robert Joy and Leo McCuddin, who are all members of the varsity forensic squad.

Seven teams participated in the tourney, and each debated four rounds. At the end of these matches, the contestants with the most wins were selected to compete in the finals.

Other teams which competed were: Roger Foley and Norrison Beatty, James Driscoll and Robert Van Wagoner, Art Ham and David Goldwater, James Mapes and Allen Rives, and Fred McIntyre and Darrell Birch.

Pre-meds to Hear Local Specialists

National Society Possibilities To Be Discussed

Dr. Olin Moulton, local eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, will be the featured speaker at a meeting of Omega Nu Iota next Wednesday, Leo Doyle, president of the group, announced today.

Stressing some of the things that are required of the student in medical school, and on some aspects of the eye, ear, nose and throat specialty, Dr. Moulton's talk will be given at 8 p. m. in the Agriculture auditorium.

Dr. Moulton is a graduate of the University of Maryland in Baltimore, and has been practicing in Reno for a year.

During the meeting, the possibility of founding a local chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-med national honorary, will be discussed, Doyle said. Plans for the dedication of a plaque being made for Dr. Peter Frandsen, head of the university biology department, will also be discussed and a definite date set for the presentation.

All interested students and townspersons are invited to attend the lecture, Doyle stated.

HOLD SOCIAL HOUR
Members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity were hosts to Manzanita Association at their weekly social hour at the chapter house. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

nis, the sport will not be given for credit this semester. Tournament games will be played, however.

Seafaring Theme Features Play Day

Thirty-seven High Schools Invited to Attend

A nautical atmosphere will prevail at this year's W. A. A. Play Day, March 19, with seafaring terms being applied to games and other events. Complete plans will be released the first part of next week, according to Beatrice Lansdon, chairman of the affair.

Approximately thirty-seven letters have been sent to high schools in the state of Nevada and the eastern section of California, inviting them to send delegates to Nevada's Play Day.

Instructors as well as students have been asked to attend. A meeting of the Nevada A. P. E. A., women's division, is being planned for all teachers present, and will be conducted by Mrs. Mae Simas, W. A. A. faculty advisor. The topics will be related to high school problems.

Necessity of holding the get-together in the gymnasium instead of on Mackay Field will limit the number of women who can attend. Social and recreational games are being planned as well as relays and mass games. In general the games will consist of shuffleboard, ping pong, volleyball, horseshoes and deck tennis.

The posture parade previously held at this time will not take place until the Dance Play Day, April 9. Students attending this play day will not be eligible to attend the Dance Play Day.

Chairmen appointed last week are Jean Chism, luncheon and afternoon program; Florence Koocher, games; Katherine Starrett, programs.

Carpenter Attends Colorado River Meeting

In connection with his duties as consulting engineer under Alfred Merritt Smith, secretary of the Colorado River Commission and Nevada state engineer, Professor J. A. Carpenter attended a meeting of the Colorado River Commission in Las Vegas last week-end.

The meeting was attended by three groups—the commission engineers and representatives from Las Vegas and Arizona.

The meeting was held to discuss future national legislation, and the primary idea in the discussion was to lower charges on the dam and thereby lower rates.

SKELLY SCRAMS SILENTLY; BOYS BAFFLED

Long silent faces, melancholy figures and other evidences of a tragedy stalks the premises of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity: "Skelly," a mascot skelton, and twenty-two trophies mysteriously disappeared from the chapter house last week.

But more puzzling than the disappearance itself, a strange perplexity of uncertain origin was the drama of its background. All Lambda Chi slumbered on while the prizes vacated. "Skelly," who resides in the room occupied by John Sala and Ray Garamendi, with all the rattlings, left his domicile unnoticed, unheard and unseen.

Despite the fact that no evidence has as yet been found by which to trace the lost property, house members are still hopeful for the safe return of the missing goods because the same thing happened to Alpha Tau Omega last year. Tau members later found their cups wrapped in burlap on their front lawn following a frantic search of several weeks.

Sager Election To Be Held Soon

Election of new members into Sagers will be held immediately following the Blue Key election, Kenneth Dimock, president of the organization, announced this week.

The names of several Sager tryees were brought up at the meeting this week and referred to the election committee. Other names will be decided upon by the committee and voted on at the regular meeting before final judgment.

Election of new members is based on the number of members and pledges in the respective fraternal organizations.

So little was the California Trail used that early historians have failed to mark out its route.

Faculty Considers 'Incomplete' Grades

The use of an "incomplete" may be reintroduced into the grading system of the University of Nevada. A proposal was made to the faculty which recommends that:

1. The "incomplete" is to be given only in cases where there is lack of quantity and not in cases where there is lack of quality.

2. The "incomplete" is to be accomplished by a grade which must be at least passing, e. g., 2.5 (i).

3. A student receiving an "incomplete" must complete the unfinished work during the next semester in residence in order to receive a higher grade in the course. If the unfinished work is not completed within the next semester in residence the Registrar shall erase the (i) and the grade as given shall become the final grade in the course.

This proposal will be discussed further at the next faculty meeting.

LOOK AROUND—
to the right of you and to the left of you and judge your pal. Is he the Judas Iscariot who slaps you on the back in the morning and then steals you blind in the afternoon?

The students of the university are faced with a problem of ferreting a pariah dog out of their midst. Men attending P. E. classes have through necessity been forced to leave even their small change safely at home. Even the combination locks on the metal lockers furnished by the administration do not stop some light-fingered "someone" from lifting valuables from the students.

In the military department, within the space of a few weeks, two valuable rifles, property of the United States government, have disappeared without trace. No one had access to the guns except students. Yet they disappeared—and with at least half hundred military students present.

All previous methods of stopping the mysterious thefts have been to no avail. Since it is war against an enemy of society, this corner urges that all students combat this "someone" by any possible means, and when and if he is found to accord him the same treatment a rabid dog would receive.

life will be in the light hereafter when he takes her home via the tram, for this week the campus grounds crew started installation of lights on the old familiar boardwalk.

Reason for the installation of lights was not given, but the move is a wise one, even if it will probably cut in on the privacy of lovestick swains and lassies.

To a person traveling alone, the walk across the tram is a long, dark one, and the minds of Manzanita coeds who are fearful of rumored "stalkers in the night" can rest a lot easier while making the journey homeward.

THE COMING ELECTION
is beginning to assume the proportions of a regular city or national poll.

Not only will there be separate ballots for all of the classes, but there will be on the ballots the changes which will go into the newly revised constitution. This system has a lot of advantages, because each student can vote as he pleases on the changes without fear of offending friends or betraying the fraternity publicly by not voting the desired way, as he would in a standing vote.

Also, there will be a little practice in thinking for a lot of the students. They will have a true chance to do their own thinking without "following the sheep."

Fine Arts Buys Autumn Landscape

The "Village Church," a painting by Emil Canso, was purchased last week by Fine Arts, according to Peggy Gill, president of the Fine Arts Club.

Emil Canso, of mixed German, French and Spanish ancestry, was born in 1895 in Halberstadt in the Harz Mountains, Germany. He came to America in his youth and spent all the time he could spare from earning his daily bread in drawing and painting. He attended night school at the National Academy of Design for a few weeks, but beyond that he was largely self-taught. He is represented at the Whitney Museum of American Art, the Denver Art Museum and the Los Angeles Art Museum.

He applied himself with such singleness of purpose and indefatigable industry that eventually he was able to give all his time to it, and is now reckoned one of the best of the younger group of artists. His work is to be found in many museums and public collections. Several years ago he was awarded the Guggenheim Fellowship.

The late Ezra Meeker was the outstanding person to designate the real route of the Oregon Trail.

Three Students Get Recognition in Publication

Gerald Roberts, '37; John Brackett, editor of The Sagebrush, and Murray Moler, senior, received national recognition in a story and an accompanying photo appearing in the last issue of the Publishers' Auxiliary newspaper publication for their work in salvaging and remodeling an old Washington hand press.

The press was found among ruins of an old building at Masonic, California, and through the co-operation of Roberts, Brackett and Moler, the University Press Club is repairing the old press in order to have a working model of the historic machine.

The weekly social hour of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, featuring dancing, was given this week in honor of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority Wednesday evening.

By MAX JENSEN

Tomorrow night, a slight social affair will commemorate another step in the perpetual comings and goings of Nevada G-men.

Walt States was busy all today and yesterday sandpapering his initials out of the desk, chair and door of the graduate manager's office, and tells me that tomorrow he'll apply a new coat of varnish to the furniture and leave a sharp pocket knife in the upper left hand drawer with which his successor may amuse himself in the idle months ahead.

Walt's attempt to remove all traces of himself from the graduate manager's office will be successful to a large degree. The only indication we'll have in the future that he once occupied the place will be the never ending stream of magazines on advertising, and letters about tires, cigars, cabbages, golf clubs, skiing equipment and other correspondence from contacts he couldn't help making.

Walt has left a few marks on and about the campus he won't be able to get rid of so easily. In the 'Brush office, at the Lambda Chi house, in the entire realm of student activities, and in the Valley of the Moon certain traces of his varied activities will linger. I don't even believe the assembly rooms in the state capitol at Carson will ever be the same because of a series of visits there last year, the final one marked by a very striking appearance on the legislative floor.

Perhaps my reminiscences are becoming too personal, but I can't forbear a parting friendly admonition from the unending source of good, sound, homely advice a la Morris: "Walter, watch out for them city slickers."

Back to the political situation, now that the biggest problem of the year has been taken care of (see above).

I nominate, among others, Fran Breen, Ross Morris, Dave Goldwater and anybody else who can qualify for the office of A. S. U. N. president. I'm performing an immediate about-face with regards to at least two of the above nominees. I have proceeded heretofore in my speculations on the theory that Breen and Morris, particularly, would avoid "foreign entanglements" in the form of the prexy contest because of aspirations in direction of publications jobs. I have said that they probably would not consider accepting nominations. For all I know, they still feel the same way.

But I can't find any logical argument against a man holding two responsible positions on the campus if he is the man best qualified for both posts. It isn't my place to commit myself, and I may be criticised for expressing any ideas on the affair. But if I were considering candidates for the editorship of The Sagebrush, for instance, the fact that one of the candidates had just been elected student body president should not influence my decision, other than to make me consider whether it was possible for a man to devote adequate time to two offices.

Certain of the jobs on the two publications do not demand as much attention as others, and it seems to me entirely possible that one man with ability for both could honorably fulfill both. I realize that I may be accused from the above of forming premature decisions as a member of the publications board. But I'm merely stating how I believe anyone should and would act if faced with the problem outlined.

The Senate Wednesday night appointed a committee to arrange for the annual picnic of the solons. Buds are coming out on a tree somewhere, so the grapevine reveals. There is a revival of interest on the part of mixed couples in the various attractive campus views. The senior outing committee bought a loaf of rye bread the other day, and everybody on the campus knows the exact date of the next full moon, all of which indicates that spring is about to be ushered in.

"SWAN SONG" RENDERED BY LATE KING

The "Swan Song" was rendered Monday afternoon with all formality by the University's majestic swan when he was returned to the waters of Manzanita.

Liberated by the university grounds caretakers after the winter's confinement at the university experiment farm, the king of Manzanita Lake quickly shed his darkened winter coat in his first plunges in the waters of Manzanita, and became again the king in royal white to grace the lake.

WINIFRED HILTONEN

My, oh my! Who ever said life could be dull? A glance at the activity list of our lady of the week is ample evidence that her college career has had few, if any, dull moments. They tell us that there is gold in them thar hills. Well, we believe it, for Winnie came from the gold country—Goldfield, Nevada, and has been as valuable a member of our Alma Mammy as that precious metal.

She began her active life during her frosh year first, by deciding to major in journalism; thus she worked on the 'Brush staff. Next, we find her awarded an Italic N as a recognition for outstanding work in this field.

Her junior year was the busiest. It was then that she became a member of the student Senate, a position which she still holds, a member of Chi Delta Phi, News Bureau, Press Club, Women's Upperclass Committee, Big Sister Committee, High School Presidents' Convention Committee, and A. S. U. N. secretary.

This her senior year, she has been holding down two presidencies—Cap and Scroll and Chi Delta Phi—not to mention the fact that she is also acting as women's co-editor of the 'Brush.

She has been the organizer and leader of the movement now in progress to abolish the office of A. W. S. president.

Science Students Must File Degree Requests

Prospective graduates of the college of arts and science who have not made arrangements for their bachelor of science degree will call at the office of the secretary of the dean to file a request for such. Maizie Ryan, secretary, said today. Many students have not attended to this matter, she said, and they are again being warned by the university officials that tardiness in this will not be tolerated.

McDonald Receives Acceptance Notice

Russell McDonald received formal notice recently that he had been accepted by St. John's college of Oxford University, where he will study next year as one of the Rhodes scholars from the United States.

Because St. John's is generally considered as one of the better colleges of Oxford and is rated especially high in modern history, in which field McDonald proposes to major, his acceptance is regarded as an honor to him as well as to the university and the state.

"The buildings of St. John's college are among the most beautiful of the university, and its gardens have become a tradition in beauty," Professor Paul A. Harwood, former Nevada Rhodes scholar, stated.

Nevada's Rhodes scholar in 1926, the late Fred Siebert, also studied at St. John's.

IN THE SPORTLIGHT

By CLARENCE HECKETHORN

We cast our eyes on Mackay Field to observe Square-jawed Former Texan Doug Dashiell, Nevada football mentor, and his two assistant coaches, Chet Scranton and Russ Byington, drill and instruct a mere group of thirty-five Wolves.

Doug is directing his attention to a group of new rough-looking men — men without Block N membership—but who possess fighting hearts and enthusiasm for the game of the gridiron. Doug comes forward, centers his attention on the "rookies" and comments: "These new men are good. The lettermen have no particular claim on this ball club, and these neophytes may prove embarrassing to the veterans."

The mentor scales his eyes to the doors of the training quarters, but only a few student onlookers are standing around — something's wrong—there's a gap in the line and in the backfield. The eight graduating seniors cannot be seen, nor can several other lettermen whom Doug was depending on.

Jim Coleman has found a "gold mine" while rounding out his prospective track men.

According to Coleman, Milt Parsons is one of the best track men that has ever hit this campus. The sturdy athlete can vault, jump and heave the shot. Coleman says Parsons should be able to garner from ten to fifteen points in any meet this season.

Walt Powers, co-holder of the Far Western conference 100-yard dash record, is training steadily. Powers should be a sure bet to break the conference record this year.

All the thrills and agitation of a major sporting event can be found in the annual high school basketball tournament that is now in full swing.

But even more dramatic than the games themselves is the melodrama of their background. University of Nevada students turn out in vast numbers to witness the performances of the teams of their alma maters. They are as emotional during the contests as the coaches and players themselves. Should you venture into one of the fraternity or sorority houses at the present time you would become involved in heated debates concerning the potentialities of the respective high school teams. Bets are plentiful, and all are confident that their respective teams will win. At the games, the same confidence and psychological moments prevail; one needs only to glance about the crowd, and the former high school of the respective students is obvious.

Sparks beat Las Vegas and Carson defeated the White Pine Bobcats from Ely, which only goes to show that as far as basketball is concerned the northern part of the state is far superior.

It will be argued that Las Vegas had the better plays, the most consistent playing and other factors that give teams victories; it can be said that Ely was the faster team and that Carson merely had luck, but the payoff is in points, and when the two scores were counted Las Vegas and Ely were at the short ends.

BEARDED BOOGIES SCARE KIDS AND TOWNSPEOPLE

Fearsome indeed are the bushes behind which University of Nevada gentry have been hiding this last week.

Townspiece upon seeing some of the more astounding specimens have been observed to take the nearest detour in the quickest time. Little children shun the haunts of the bearded boogies.

Among the most awe-inspiring of the bearded cultists are William ("Wild Bill") Hatton, Max ("Underbrush") Jensen, John ("Beaver") Brackett, Louis Peraldo, Lester Kitch and Herb Jacobs. Hatton was not noticed especially last year because it was only in the closing days of the contest that anyone discovered the man behind the Manzanita.

But the trouble is not all for the townspeople.

Beards, it has been discovered, are very irritating the first week, when they are short and stubby. Later, upon determining that they do not like the outer air the beards turn around and start back in. Then they become really irritating.

To relieve the tension of exams, Elmira College serves tea and presents a special musical program each afternoon.

Frat Moundsmen Prepare For Baseball Tournament

By CLIFF MALONE

Old King Baseball again will hold sway over the campus when the interfrat baseball tourney starts in about two weeks. Many of the various house teams have started practicing, and most of them are expected to put good outfits on the field.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will start as favorites this year, as a result of its championship last year. The SAE's will have practically the same team that won the cup last year. Billy Peccole, "pee wee" pitcher for the SAE's, will be back in the box this year. So far, a complete battery for this team has not been selected.

Lambda Chi Alpha, runners-up for the crown last season, should make a bid again this year. Cain and Azarez, veterans in the game, will form the LCA battery.

Triple Threat Team Alpha Tau Omega will probably put a triple threat team on the field this season. Ed Pine, the team's "chucker" last year, has shown improvement, and should give the opposition plenty of trouble. Earl Smith will catch for Pine.

George McElroy, Beta Kappa pitcher, formerly pitched for the Quincy, California, town team, and he is expected to be able to produce results against the campus groups. Jed Oxborough will be on the receiving end of McElroy's throws.

"Scotty" McLeod, Phi Sigma Kappa's veteran pitcher, has been practicing regularly, and should be in shape by tournament time. "Slim" Root will catch for the Phi Sigs.

Several Prospects Duncan Dorsey and Ed Olson will alternate at the pitching post for the Sigma Phi Sigmans. Don Brandon and Bill Parsons will alternate as catchers for the Sig Phi's. For Sigma Nu, Don Leighton and Frank McCullough will alternate as pitchers. Leighton will also relieve Griswold at the catching post. The Buckingham Palace boys have a lot of new material this year, and according to Jim Trail, house athletic manager, they will be ready to "do battle."

The Independents will have a strong pitcher in their veteran, John Kinneberg. Last year, Kinneberg was one of the leading campus "chuckers," and he should turn in a good season this year. The Lincoln Hall Association team has not been announced yet, but practice is scheduled for next week.

PROFESSORS GET QUIZZED AT THIS PARTY!

It was the professors, not the students, who got the quizzing this week at the Lincoln hall stag smoker Wednesday night, when the male faculty members were the guests of the Lincoln hall men.

Professor Dizz (Eddie Barrett) was in charge of quizzing the faculty members, who set bad examples by taking advantage of illicit prompting.

The questions asked were described by some of the men as "tough ones, like the profs give us," such as: "What are Mother Carrie's chickens?" (Seagulls is the answer.)

"From what famous work is the term, 'Something is rotten in the state of Denmark?'" (Shakespeare's "Hamlet.") When one prof was asked what ex-president's initials are M. F., someone answered out of turn: "Mah Friend."

The profs who "flunked" were given chances to redeem themselves with re-exams. Professor Lough answered most questions, his own and others.

Professor Wheeler won the revolving cup for champion smoke ring blower contest, an honor held last year by Professor Chappelle.

Mr. Heiman won the cup for ping-pong supremacy; Professor Wheeler was last year's "champ."

One of the special attractions was a fencing exhibition given by Ike Caraco and Ellis Gates. Caraco explained the principles of fencing, the grading systems and the fouls.

Other games played during the evening were checkers, shuffle board, quoits, cards and darts.

Spring Football Sessions Started

First session of spring football practice began this week under Head Coach Doug Dashiell, with about thirty men answering the call.

Uniforms were issued Monday by Manager Dick Ronzone, and after a few days of conditioning the men had started on their fundamentals of blocking and tackling.

"These two items," said Dashiell, "will be stressed greatly this spring. The men need it and they will have no time for it when they hit the turf in the regular season because of the nine-game schedule."

Signal Drills Signal drills will be worked on a little later in the practice sessions, and the different combinations for the spring games will be worked out according to the players, who will be divided into two squads. The men that have just come up from the frosh squad will be pushing the regulars for their jobs, and according to Dashiell, there are more than one of them that can easily step into the places of many of the letter men that are now on the squad. Some of these men that looked particularly well during the week were Vincent, Hoff, Cobega and Parker in the backfield. The line did not work out as a unit and individual attention was given to some of them.

Two men who were expected out this spring but will not be available are John Polish, recovering from a recent attack of pneumonia, and Hank Bryant, who has just been released from the hospital after undergoing an operation for an injury that he received during one of the games last fall.

Beta Kappa Leading In Handball Tourney

Beta Kappa's handball doubles team of Charley Turner and Bob Cleary forged into the lead of the intramural tournament Wednesday by virtue of a 21-4, 11-21, 21-8 victory over John Echemendy and Wilson Rebealeti of Alpha Tau Omega.

Tied for second place honors are Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, each with one loss.

In Wednesday's other games, Sigma Nu dropped a close doubleheader, one to S. A. E.'s Bill Peccole and Jerry Salter by a score of 21-14, 16-21 and 21-17, and the other to Eddy Kuhlman and Chester Jacobsen of Lincoln Hall, 8-21, 22-20 and 21-16.

Monday's contests saw Beta Kappa's duo stop Lincoln Hall, while the Independents forfeited the other match to S. A. E. by default.

In games played Saturday, Beta Kappa dropped the S. A. E. duo from the ranks of the undefeated, while the A. T. O. team beat Kenneth Dimock and Leonard Carpenter, Lambda Chi. The other matches scheduled were not played, the Independents defaulting to Phi Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Phi Sigma failing to meet Sigma Nu.

Eleven Hoop Men Earn Block N Award

Robb and Radetich Receive Sweaters Last Time

Eleven Block N sweaters for members of the 1938 basketball team and managerial staff were officially approved this week by the A. S. U. N. executive committee.

Approved for players' letters were John Robb, Joe Radetich, John Radovich, Ray Harris, Elmer Bawden, Dick Kolbus, John Etchemendy, Gordon Thompson, Bob Cameron and Ray Waldren, all of whom played in 60 per cent of all regularly scheduled games. Leland Fallon, manager of the team, was approved for a manager's sweater.

Receiving sweaters for the last time were Robb and Radetich, who wound up their careers this season. Robb has earned three letters in basketball, while Radetich, who is a junior college transfer, has earned two.

Other team members who earned their second letter were Elmer Bawden and Dick Kolbus. All the other players earned awards for the first time.

Tennis Squad Holds First Meeting In Gym

The varsity tennis squad held their first meeting of the season Tuesday in the gymnasium and discussed plans for the coming season.

Coach Chet Scranton said that the nucleus of this year's squad will be last year's veterans—Elmer Bawden, Frank Goodner and Bob Leaver—who were star performers on the club last year.

Scranton hasn't had the chance to get a line on the new prospects as yet, he said, and will depend largely on the men who were with him last year and transfers from junior colleges.

When the squad has been definitely formed, the selection of men to represent the university in collegiate competition will start. A tennis "ladder" will be formed, and through a series of elimination matches the newcomers will vie for the positions on the squad.

Scranton requests that anyone who is interested in the team or in the game itself report at the gym as soon as possible so that workouts may be arranged.

Block N Announces 'Stag Night' Program

By JIM DUPRATT

Twenty-four rounds of boxing, thirty fast minutes of wrestling, speeches, magic, strip-tease—are all included in the finished plans for the second annual "Stag Night," Block N's big three-hour show to be given March 24, beginning at 8 o'clock in the university gym, "Ham" Robb, Block N president, announced this week.

The program for the evening will begin with two boxing bouts, and a wrestling bout will be presented, while two more boxing bouts are being prepared for the arena. This will continue until eight bouts of boxing and five of wrestling have been staged.

Between these events will be short talks by Chet Scranton, Doug Dashiell, "Doc" Martie and Jim Coleman, special "strip-tease" act by Clyde Keegel and a magician act by Leaf McManus.

Referees Chosen

Referee for the wrestling matches will be Jimmy Asbough, while Tony Poloni, former United States amateur light-heavyweight champion, will referee the boxing bouts. Del Stewart and Dick Sauer will act as seconds for the fighters.

The pugilists have already started training, and from the way they are working there should be plenty of clever boxing, mixed with a lot of old-fashioned slugging. The boxing bouts will each go for three two-minute rounds and the wrestling matches will last six minutes, one fall. Keen competition is certain in the events, as medals will be awarded the winners, with a special ten-inch trophy which Harry Frost of the Reno Printing Company will give to the most popular fighter of the evening.

Putting the finishing touches to the show will be the attendance of Rube Tuttle's "Jam" band.

Bouts Arranged

Tentative bouts arranged are: John Corbett vs. Ed Olsen at 150 pounds; Byron Hardie vs. Tom Beko at 160; Frank McCulloch vs. Clarence Heckethorn at 145; Albert Collier vs. Joe McDonald at 170; Charlie Harris vs. Louis Carpenter at 140; Leonard Carpenter vs. Henry Mayer at 160; Ted Olsen vs. Olinto Barsanti at 160, and Paul Azneraz vs. Geno Questa at 145.

Wrestling matches are: Harvey Johnson vs. Frank Rosaschi, 125; Bill Mitchell vs. Eddie Kuhlman, 135; Bill Magee vs. Dave Thompson, 145; Hugh Huebner vs. Joe Moore, 155; Roy Shipp vs. Frank Eastman, 165.

LATEST STUDENT GROUPS LISTED BY SUZIE

By SUZIE

Clubs to the right of you! Clubs to the left of you! Clubs before you and behind you!

If you do not belong to one of the dozen or more of these unofficial campus organizations, you are behind the times—definitely, precisely and consistently.

Probably the best known group is the "Jock" Club, consisting of Ross Ashley, Clarence Heckethorn and Tony Yriberry. Ashley, president, stated: "This is a secret, progressive, campus organization, devoted to the formation and development of the theory of dispensing 'BILGE.' We are trying to secure inclusion in the curriculum of this institution by the faculty of 'Bilge' 64 and 65."

The term "Jock," according to the dictionary, is a familiar term for a Scotchman, or a country hick.

Opposing this group is the "Anti-Jock" Club, consisting of Ross Morris, president, who is No. 1 man on the "Jock" blacklist; John Brackett, Walter States, Ray Garamendi, Max Jensen, Dick Roche and Willis Dalzell complete the membership. Everything the "Jock" Club does is opposed by the Anti-Jock Club.

One of the most commendable groups is the Heel Club. It is very Christianlike in character, and its founders, Clifford Malone and Don Kinkel, are to be praised for their work.

The motto of the group is: "Every heel has a sole." Their purpose is to promote bigger and better heels on the campus.

Probably the most spectacular and flashy club is the Secret Six of the Lambda Chi house. With brilliant "goo-goo" shirts and canary yellow ties, the Secret Six flaunt their attire at all social functions.

The purpose of the club is to promote ample funds to enjoy senior week on the proper spirits. Members are Paul Azneraz, Walter Cain, Harold Lang, Harold Foremaster, Lester Kitch and Chester Howard.

Expressing the feeling of all of us is the "Thank God, It's Friday Night" Club. Behind is an awful week and before is a glorious week-end. Let's do as we feel, or something to that effect. The group is composed of about twenty-six people.

Singers to Present Brahms's Requiem This Spring

Over one hundred singers, men and women, will participate in presenting Brahms's famous "Requiem" this spring, Professor T. H. Post, music department head, announced today.

The chorus, which will be assisted by the University-Community Little Symphony Orchestra, will sing selected choral numbers from the "Requiem," which is planned for a late April presentation. An abridgement was necessary, Post said, in order that full quality of the selected numbers could be attained in the short time left for rehearsals.

"The co-operation of Reno and Sparks townspeople as well as many university students has made possible the presentation of the 'Requiem,'" Post said.

While soloists have not yet been announced, it was expected that they would be selected shortly. Townspeople and students are being urged to turn out for the rehearsals, which are held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the barracks.

In addition to the choral numbers, the orchestra will present several selections and the university singers, a group of sixteen university students, will sing a number of special program pieces. The "Requiem" may be held in the State building, where Handel's "Messiah" was given last December, it was stated.

Mrs. Harriet Ihrig is concert violinist of the orchestra, and Mrs. Betty Gould-Ashton is accompanist for the choral society. Professor Post is conductor of the combined groups.

Unusual in its way is the "Pin of the Week" Club, formed in the Sigma Nu house. Every week since February 20 some Sigma Nu has hung his pin. Felix Turrilas is the latest pin-hanger. A word to some of the other fraternities—the Sigma Nus as sick of cigars.

Diligent to the last are the Red Padlocks. This is a secret Artemisia staff club to promote Thursday, Friday and Saturday night parties. At 10 o'clock, hamburgers and milk shakes are ordered for the members to be refreshed themselves after long hours of working. On Sunday night the group studies in the Artemisia offices.

Press Club Plans Three Hour Social For Annual Day

No-Date Dance With Short Ruckus Staged During Intermission

A three-hour social, sponsored by the University Press Club, will be given on Engineers' Day instead of the masquerade Mardi Gras, as was originally planned, it was announced today by Don Kinkel, chairman in charge of the affair.

Plans for a campus masquerade were abandoned this week when permission to hold the affair was denied the journalists by the Student Affairs Committee.

According to tentative plans made this week by the committee, the social will be held in the university gymnasium between the hours of 8:30 and 11:30.

The affair will be primarily a no-date dance, with admission of twenty-five cents for stags and fifty cents a couple. Reuben Tuttle and his Campus Musicians will furnish the music.

During an intermission, it is planned to stage a short Press Ruckus. The Ruckus, formally an annual affair of the Press Club, has not been in vogue on the campus for over a year.

Committee assisting Kinkel for the affair include Beverly Joyce, Hudson Lee, Thelma Armstrong, Kathleen Meeks, Fran Breen, Eleanor Gardella, Margaret Turano, Jim Sullivan and Helen Shovlin.

And lastly is the Dilly Club. You can't guess what it is? I couldn't, either.

It seems that the SAE sleeping porch hasn't been used for a long time, so six SAE's have moved out to the porch to sleep. Well, the daffodils blossom in the spring, and so the SAE's blossomed out to the SAE sleeping porch; therefore, they call themselves the Dilly Club for short.

You don't get it? Neither does anyone else, but you can ask Radovich, Stevenson, Parsons, Ferrick, McCuddin or Harris about it if all is not clear.

GOVERNMENT SEARCHES FOR 'QUAKES

Hunting for "Moby Dick" in the San Francisco Bay was a minor undertaking for the government compared to the search it has recently begun.

It is now launching a project of earthquake hunting in the Rocky Mountain area, according to word received by Dr. Vincent P. Gianella, collaborator in seismology for the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

The seismograph located on the University of Nevada campus, and under the custody of Gianella, is one of the three in the entire state. Until two years ago it was the only one, and because of its great distance from other instruments, its recordings have been valuable aid in the geodetic survey of the Rocky Mountain region.

The purpose of the search for earthquakes is to determine the centers of earth movements and the nature of the geological formations of the earth's crust and interior. With this information, provisions may be made against vibrations from earthquakes in future building and construction.

That the mountains in our region are still growing and causing earth tremors has been definitely ascertained by the few seismographs within this area.

"However," Gianella adds, "there must be many more seismographs in this area before sufficient knowledge of the occurrence and the nature of earthquakes can be obtained."

Students Get Leave To Cover Stories

Two university journalism students secured leaves of absence from school this week to cover stories for the United Press, national news agency.

The two students are Bob Miller and Murray Moler. The assignments took both of them to the neighboring state of California.

Miller is at Bridgeport, where he is skiing over rough mountainous country to investigate rumors that the missing Transcontinental Western Airliner went down in that vicinity. Cause of this rumor was a jagged scar on the side of a mountain in that area which might have been made by the plane after it was lost in a snowstorm and was trying to land.

Moler is covering the special session of the California state legislature in Sacramento, where he will be during the next week or ten days.

Save your stories for the 'Brush.
