

N. Smith Elected Engineer President For 1938-39 Term

Hoffman Chosen Secretary;
E. Isaac Vice-Prexy;
Elections Close

Norman Smith, electrical engineer student, was elected president of the Associated Engineers yesterday after a close race in the final election with Clayton Carpenter.

Gotfred Hoffman was elected secretary-treasurer yesterday, also.

Smith is prominent in campus activities, being a member of the electrical engineers. He is an Independent student from Winnemucca.

Running for president Wednesday were James Atkinson, Clayton Carpenter, Norman Smith and Martin Smythe, with Carpenter and Smith entering the finals yesterday.

Elmer Isaac, electrical engineering student from Austin, Nevada, was elected vice-president Wednesday. He was competing for the position against Martin Hannifan, mining student from Fallon. Isaac is a member of Lincoln Hall Association.

Final counting of the votes for the preliminary election Wednesday night resulted in a tie among the three men running for secretary-treasurer. All three men ran in the finals, with Hoffman, student from Reno, winning the position. Jay Waite and Ernest Rodriguez were competing against him.

Installation of the new officers will be held next week at a meeting of the Associated Engineers, Lew Young, present head of the organization, stated last night. They will assume their duties for the coming year at that time.

Plaque Is Presented

Omega Mu Iota Presents Plaque To Dr. Frandsen Honoring Service Record

Characterized as "a builder of the university," Dr. Peter Frandsen was presented with a plaque emblematic of his thirty-eight years of service at a banquet at the Riverside Hotel Wednesday night.

Dean R. C. Thompson presented the plaque on behalf of Omega Mu Iota, honorary pre-medical fraternity, following an after-dinner speech.

Large Attendance
Nearly fifty persons, including pre-medical society members, Reno physicians and guests, S. Allan Lough, Professor Lewis Michaelson, San Francisco specialist and Stanford University faculty member, and Professor R. C. Thompson, University of Nevada dean of men, attended the dinner which honored Dr. Frandsen.

Professor Thompson touched on the highlights of Dr. Frandsen's work in the department of biology and zoology, and of the guidance he has given hundreds of students who received their preliminary medical training under him. Frandsen's research work has gained national recognition in the scientific field.

Dr. S. Allan Lough, associate professor of chemistry and Omega Mu Iota member, wrote the dedication for the plaque which was started early last fall under the direction of Charles Turner, past president of Omega Mu Iota.

The inscription reads:
"In honor of Peter Frandsen, his students, past and present, find deep pleasure in presenting to the students yet to come to the University of Nevada this tablet, which they hope will convey to all who look upon it the appreciation they feel toward him who has been such a rich source of knowledge, of patient understanding and of inspiration and encouragement. He has led them to a deeper and more enthusiastic appreciation of their intellectual and social opportunities and responsibilities, and his influence will exert itself through them in many communities of the world."
Student List
Following the inscription is a list of about 125 past and present students who joined in making the gift possible. Turner and Leo Doyle, president of Omega Mu Iota, said that response to the plan to present the plaque was almost 100 per cent from the hundreds of alumni approached. Dr. Frandsen maintains close contact with even the first students who received early training under him years ago.

Among alumni present was Dr. John J. Sullivan, first University of Nevada graduate to complete training at a recognized medical college, and James Herz, Omega Mu Iota president in '37.

Ed Pine Named Upperclass Head

Ed Pine, senior civil engineer, was last night appointed head of the men's upperclass committee for the remainder of the school term to succeed Don Leighton, who has taken a leave of absence.

As chairman of the committee, Pine will direct the meetings of that group and will take an active part in the solution of campus parking problem.

Permanent Rating Given University By N.A.U. Group

Accrediting Letter Received
By Acting President
Adams Today

Official notice that the University of Nevada was accredited this semester by the Northwestern Association of Universities and Secondary Schools was received this week, Dean Maxwell Adams, acting president of the university, said today.

According to Dean Adams, no official word was received by the university officials until this week, when the certificate of accreditation was received along with a letter of congratulation from Frederick E. Bolton, chairman of the accrediting committee.

Congratulated
In his letter of congratulation to the university, Bolton said: "We feel that the accrediting action taken by the commission is not provisional for a single year, but is to be considered as permanent."

He also stated that the examining commission did feel that the class load of several of the instructors was a little heavy and recommended that action be taken upon this situation.

According to Dean Adams, the action taken by the Northwest Association automatically admits the University of Nevada to membership in all other educational associations.

Student Officers Installed Friday

Athletic Awards Presented;
Seniors Attend in Group

With the initiation of newly-elected student officers as the main business, the final student body meeting of the year will be held next Friday at 11:25, Richard Taw, A. S. U. N. president, announced today.

Presentation of athletic awards earned throughout the semester will also be featured at the meeting, he said.

Although caps and gowns will probably not arrive in time for the meeting, graduating seniors will meet at the A. S. U. N. building and attend their final assembly in a group, Ben Morehouse, class manager, said today. The class will assemble at the student headquarters at 11:20.

Dave Goldwater, president-elect, will be sworn in by Retiring President Taw, who will also administer the oath of office to Fran Breen, incoming senior manager; Clifford Quilici, incoming junior manager, and Jim DuPratt, incoming sophomore manager.

Elizabeth Naismith, outgoing A. W. S. president, will administer the oath of office to Helen Shovlin, who will be the first chairman of the new coeds' executive council. Miss Naismith is the last coed to serve under the old regime.

Campus Players Bid 11 Students

Eleven students will receive bids to Campus Players tomorrow as a result of their work in campus dramatics, according to Kenneth Tedford, president. New members were elected at a meeting last night.

Wilma A. Jones, Bob Van Wagoner, Betty Marie Shidler, Kelly Eccles and Roger Foley will receive their bids as the result of outstanding work in two productions.

Bob Grenig, Jim Perkins and Bill Mitchell qualified for the membership by working 150 hours on the stage crew.

Gene Wines and Rose Boggio will receive their bids after dancing for three years in the Wolves' Frolic chorus.

Helen Brown, property mistress, was the other person to receive a bid.

Bids will be sent to the new members tomorrow and they will be pledged and initiated next semester, according to Kenneth Tedford, president.

Civil Engineers Will Make Inspection Trip
The Civil Engineers will make an inspection trip to Mono Tunnels, California, on April 30.

While there, they will observe construction work which is being carried on under great difficulties. The tunnels are being dug under the Mono craters, and moisture falls like rain on the workmen. The contract date for finishing is past, so work is going on under high pressure.

Kinkel, Morris, Polander, Breen Selected To Head Publications Next Year

The New Executives

Editors and business managers of the Sagebrush and Artemisia, who will serve during the 1938-39 school year, were announced today by Max Jensen, publication board chairman.

The new executives who will take office this summer are Donald Kinkel, Sagebrush editor; Ross Morris, Sagebrush business manager; Gertrude Polander, Artemisia editor, and Francis Breen, Artemisia business manager.

The new publication heads-elect were selected this week by the Publications Board in compliance with constitutional regulations. All candidates for the positions were carefully considered before final selection was made, Jensen announced.

During the publications meeting this week, plans for the annual banquet in honor of the new executives were made, with April 29 set as the date.

'Brush Editor-elect

Prominent in student affairs, Donald Kinkel, editor-elect of the Sagebrush, is a junior arts and science student from Sparks. He has served on the Sagebrush staff for three years, and occupied the post of assistant editor this year. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, Press Club, Sagers, men's pep group, and Coffin and Keys, men's secret honorary.

Taking an active part in student government, Kinkel was S. A. E. representative to the student senate this year, and is men student representative to finance control. He will succeed John Brackett as Sagebrush editor.

Morris Prominent

Runner-up in the recent A. S. U. N. president's election, Morris, manager-elect of the Sagebrush, is well known in student affairs. An arts and science student from Tonopah, Nevada, Morris is a member of Lincoln Hall Association and has served on the business staff of the Sagebrush for three years.

He has served a term in the student senate as Lincoln Hall representative and served on the senate nominating committee this year. Besides having acted as chairman of last year's homecoming committee, Morris has been a member of the Mackay Day committee for the past three years. Chosen as class manager during his sophomore year, he was also a member of the Soph Hop and Frosh Glee committees of his class. During his freshman and sophomore years he worked on the university play productions' managerial staff.

Morris is also a member of Press Club and Coffin and Keys. He succeeds Willis Dalzell as manager of the publication.

Coed Selected
The second coed selected to edit the Artemisia within the last two years, Miss Polander, a junior arts and science student from Reno, has had an active career in student life. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, of the Home Economics Club and the Press Club.

This year, Miss Polander won the distinction of having a near perfect marksmanship average on the women's rifle team, of which she has been a member for three years. This week she was elected president of Cap and Scroll, honorary scholastic society, to which she received a bid earlier in the semester.

Miss Polander's selection marks the second time in two years that a coed has edited the Artemisia, Genevieve Hansen having edited the yearbook during the 1936-37 school year. Miss Polander will succeed Sam Wilson.

Artemisia Manager

A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Fran Breen is climaxed a year that has been crammed full of activities for him. As a member of the varsity debate team, Breen is finishing this semester's intercollegiate competition next week when Nevada meets College of Pacific on this campus.

In the recent student body election, Breen was chosen to head the senior class next year as manager. Active in Press Club, he served as president this semester and this week was unanimously re-elected to that post.

A member of Blue Key for the past two years, Breen was recently selected by that group to lead a committee which will open a drive for general campus improvements. Interested in athletics, he has competed for Nevada in track events. He is also a member of Coffin and Keys, men's secret honorary. He will succeed Ted Olds as manager.

Members of Publications Board, which made the selections, are Sam Wilson, John Brackett, Ted Olds and Willis Dalzell, present publications heads; Winifred Hillton, Bob Miller and Max Jensen (chairman), representatives from the student body at large.

Nevada to Meet College of Pacific Speakers Monday

McCuddin and Goldwater to Represent Pack in Last Debate

The last intercollegiate debate of the year will be held next Monday night at 8:15 in the Education auditorium, when Nevada meets a team from the College of Pacific in Stockton.

Leo McCuddin and David Goldwater, veterans of two years of varsity competition, will represent Nevada, and they will uphold the affirmative of the question: "Resolved, That the National Labor Relations Board Should Be Empowered to Enforce Arbitration in All Industrial Disputes."

Word has not been received as to who will uphold the negative for the visitors, Robert S. Griffin, Nevada forensic coach, said.

The match next week will conclude all forensic activities for this season, he stated.

The squad has been very active this year, having competed in the Western Forensic League conference and tourney in Reno, and in an intercollegiate debate with William Jewell College of Liberty, Missouri.

Blue Key Initiates 14 Neophytes

Formal rites and the initiation banquet were held last night at the Lincoln Hotel in Sparks for the fourteen upperclassmen who recently received Blue Key bids.

New members are Ross Ashley, Ted Ashworth, Paul Aznarez, Albert Caton, Henry Clayton, Kenneth Dimock, William Goodin, Clarence Heckethorn, Donald Kinkel, Leo McCuddin, Louis Peraldo, Gordon Thompson, Tony Yrberry and Leonard Carpenter.

Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, is composed of upperclassmen active in campus organizations. The group sponsors the Wolves' Frolic and the semi-annual get-together dance at the beginning of each semester.

Dr. Victor LaMer To Address Students

Dr. Victor K. LaMer, Professor of chemistry at Columbia University, will speak to students and townspeople next Tuesday evening in the Education auditorium.

His subject will be "Studies in Heavy Water." Since the discovery of heavy hydrogen in 1932, a great deal of interest has been shown in the study of heavy water, not only because of its possible influence on health, but because of its value in other scientific investigations.

There will be no admission charge for the lecture.

HOSPITAL CASES

Richard Solt and Archie Albright were in the university hospital this week. Solt has had a sore throat and Albright tonsillitis.

Jack McKenzie is convalescing in the Washoe General Hospital from an appendicitomy.

Jean Pfeiffer has been confined to her home with the mumps.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

No student may be graduated from the University of Nevada who owes the institution money.

BOARD OF REGENTS.

NOTICE

All seniors will meet at the bulletin board Friday, April 29, at 11:25, so as to go to the student body meeting.

BEN MOREHOUSE,
President Senior Class.

Campus Players Propose Way Of Improving Wolves Frolic

In an effort to improve next semester's Wolves' Frolic, the Campus Players have suggested that a central board of directors be appointed now to gather ideas for a central theme for the 1938 show.

The plan is to have one member of each social group and two members of Masque and Dagger and Campus Players appointed to the committee. Officers of the players' group said they hoped the board of directors would be selected this semester. In this way, they explained, its members could take advantage of the skits, musicals, short acts and other dramatic productions they might see during the summer vacation.

Committeemen

In selecting their committeemen, the houses will be asked to appoint an experienced person, preferably someone who has had a chance to see acts suitable for the Frolic.

Campus Players hope the different groups will express an opinion on this plan before this semester is over. If they favor the proposal, the committee would be formed immediately, the plan's proponents said.

Under the plan, the Frolic board would meet at the beginning of next semester and decide on the central theme to be used in the next variety show.

Besides the two members from each of the dramatic societies, each fraternity, sorority, Lincoln Hall, Manzanita Hall, and the Independents would be represented on the committee. Final approval of this plan will be left to the finance control board.

Nu Eta Epsilon Elects Hannifan

Junior Engineering Student To Head Honorary Group

Martin Hannifan, junior mining engineering student, was elected president of Nu Eta Epsilon Wednesday night at a meeting of the group in the electrical engineering building. He succeeds Lou Carpenter as head of the honorary organization.

Other officers of the group elected were John Marean, vice-president; Professor F. L. Bixby, secretary-treasurer, and Clayton Carpenter, marshal.

Business during the meeting included the initiation of new members elected last week and the new members which were elected to membership last semester.

After the meeting, old and new members adjourned to the Silver Grill Cafe for a banquet.

New members honored by initiation into the fraternity were Ed Pine, Marvin Moler, Guy Patterson, Eugene Grutt, Denzil Carr, Conrad Martin, Martin Hannifan, John Marean and Martin Smythe.

Louis Carpenter, president of the society, presided at the banquet, which was attended by twenty members of the group.

Fourteen Pieces To Play At Ball

A fourteen-piece band will be featured at the annual senior ball May 6. The ball will be held in the State building, and as the usual custom, will be strictly formal.

The committee has not decided upon a theme as yet, but will meet next week to complete plans.

Sub-committees were appointed this week by Donald McMeekin, chairman of the ball. Hudson Lee has charge of making arrangements for the hall, Leo Foster is in charge of the music and Jean Rice will order corsages for all the senior girls and will invite the honored guests.

Wade Elected Head Lincoln Hall Association

George Wade, junior civil engineering student, was elected mayor of Lincoln Hall Association Monday night to replace Howard Evans, outgoing officer who will graduate next month.

Walter Lobenstein, junior civil engineer, was elected secretary; Albert Atkinson, junior mechanical engineering student, was chosen treasurer; Ross Morris, junior arts and science man, was elected senator; Louis Peraldo, sophomore, was elected interfraternity council member.

Senior Announcements To Be Ready April 25

Senior announcements will be here and ready for mailing April 25, according to Kenneth Tedford, chairman of the senior week committee.

The committee met last week, but final decisions concerning plans will not be ready until next week.

Lake Tahoe will be the scene of the senior picnic Wednesday, May 4. It will probably be at Camp Richardson.

Plates for the sun dial, gift of the '38 graduating seniors to the university, will be put in front of the Haseman and Jones Memorial branch within the next few days, according to Tedford.

Rubber is something which if your feet are dry, you haven't walked in the rain without.—Owl.

Roche Elected New Barb President

Meeks, Kirn, Goldsworthy, Nay Named to Offices

Dick Roche, prominent junior student, was elected president and men's senator of the Independent organization at the group's last meeting of the semester held Monday night.

Roche is active in many organizations on the campus. He was one of the three students who reorganized the Independents two years ago. A member of the Sagers, he has been prominent in many of the pep activities of the university. He has also served several semesters on the staff of the Artemisia.

Woman Senator

Kathleen Meeks was unanimously chosen to retain her position as women's senator for the group. She has been senator for the "Barbs" for the past two years, and has held many other honorary and elective positions.

Other officers named are Teletha Kirn, vice-president; Ruby Nay, secretary, and Eleanor Goldsworthy, treasurer.

Members of the new administration predict the "Barbs" will have the most successful year in the history of the student group. Roche expressed his determination to make the Independents one of the strongest organizations on the hill. Members who attended the meeting pledged their support to the new president in carrying out his program.

Former Instructor Now at Armstrong's

Professor W. R. Blackler, former teacher in business administration and accounting at the University of Nevada, is now an instructor at Armstrong's Business College, Berkeley, California, and doing research work on the side for the Gianinni Foundation.

Professor Blackler left his position at the University of Nevada several years ago to teach at the College of the City of New York.

Mrs. Blackler was a student of the University of Nevada, Helen Dunseath.

Laurada Jarvis, Lois Downs, Elizabeth Best and Elizabeth Kohlhoos spent their Easter vacation at their respective homes in Fallon.

Dean Sibley, Four Students Home From U. S. C. Session

The University of Nevada was chosen as the site for the 1939 meeting of the western branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at its meeting this week held at the University of Southern California, Edward Zareh, M. E. student, announced last night.

Dean Frederick H. Sibley, Zareh, Eugene Rollins, Kirk Fairhurst, Howard Smith represented the university at the convention held last Monday and Tuesday.

Rollins and Fairhurst gave reports at technical sessions held each day. Zareh acted as chairman at the second of these meetings.

Kenneth Ward and Orin Broberg, former graduates of the mechanical engineering school, attended the convention.

Among the mechanical exhibits seen by the group were the Vernon Diesel plant, largest in the world; Douglas Aircraft factory, and the 200-inch mirror on the Mt. Palomar observatory.

Breen Re-elected Press Club Prexy

Francis Breen, junior arts and science student, was re-elected president of the Press Club at a meeting held Tuesday night. Breen has served as head of the group for the past semester, is a member of the Artemisia staff and was recently elected manager of next year's senior class.

Helen Shovelin, present secretary, was named vice-president. Gertrude Polander was elected secretary and Clarence Heckethorne treasurer.

New initiatives were instructed to wear paper hats made from issues of the Sagebrush April 29, and attend the student body meeting that day as a part of their informal initiation.

A banquet to end the activities of the club for the semester as well as to honor the outgoing seniors and new members, will be held May 3. John Brackett is head of the committee in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

Cap and Scroll Elects Polander As Next President

Kornmeyer Chosen Secretary C. Caton Will Serve As Group Marshal

Gertrude Polander, junior home economics student, was elected president of Cap and Scroll Wednesday night. She succeeds Winifred Hilton.

Elected to the position of secretary-treasurer to succeed Norma Anderson was Betty Kornmeyer, also a home economics student, whose home is in Reno.

Charlotte Caton, junior arts and science student, was elected marshal to take the place of Alice Sauer.

Initiation

Initiation was held in the classrooms in Morrill Hall and was followed by a banquet at the El Cortez Hotel.

Members at the banquet included Jessie McClure, Alice Sauer, Elizabeth Best, Winifred Hilton, Norma Anderson, Emily Tholl, Eunice Beckley, Gertrude Polander, Charlotte Caton and Betty Kornmeyer. Guests included Dean Margaret Mack, Miss Eva Adams, Dr. J. E. Church, Miss Helene Stark and Miss Winifred Walsh.

With The Wolfettes

By LOUISE LEONARD

Varsity members of Saddle and Spurs were picked this week and announced yesterday by Beatrice Lansdon, riding manager. Margaret Harrison, Mary Mahoney, Ethel Graunke, Nancy Hall and Beatrice Lansdon received varsity rating, and proficiencies given to Doris Chestnut, Eileen Mahoney and Eleanor Goldsworthy.

A banquet for all women taking riding this semester will be given at the Silver Grill next Wednesday, April 27. A two-hour ride, the last ride this semester, will be held Wednesday afternoon before the banquet.

The senior Red Cross life saving corps meeting has been postponed until next Wednesday evening.

Dan Ranier, downtown business man, will show pictures illustrating points in swimming. A picnic will be discussed at this time.

Graduating senior women will be honored at a party next Tuesday afternoon in the gymnasium, given by W. A. A.

Dance demonstrations will be given by different groups in the women's P. E. department at this time, under the direction of Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's P. E. department.

Gene Wines has charge of making arrangements for entertainment for the seniors.

Verna Bullis, member Pi Beta Phi, has been chosen as the Nevada delegate to the Women's Athletic Association sectional conference to be held in Pullman, Washington, next week.

Miss Bullis will leave next Tuesday afternoon and will return May 3. During the time she will be in Washington, Miss Bullis will make an excursion to Grand Coulee Dam, as well as attend several W. A. A. meetings.

Women's interfraternity badminton will be completed next Thursday, and it looks as though the Independents and Gamma Phi Beta will come out on top.

Gamma Phi Beta is leading in doubles, followed closely by the Independents. Earlmond Baker and Frances Smith, Gamma Phi double team, may be strong enough to leave Pat Turner and Kennedy Walker, Independent double, completely behind.

Sagen Banquet Held At Colombo For Neophytes

Six newly elected members of Sagens, women's pep organization, received "hazing" yesterday prior to the formal initiation and banquet held for them last night at the Colombo Hotel.

During the day, the six women students were made to wear humorous costumes and to perform outlandish schemes concocted by Sagen members, who wore their uniforms for the occasion.

In the evening, a banquet was held at the Colombo Hotel, with the new initiates furnishing entertainment throughout the meal.

Those who were formally initiated are Margaret Records of Reno, Independent; Margaret Nash of Reno, Independent; Mary Kornmeyer of Reno, Delta Delta Delta; Florence Butler of Tonopah, Gamma Phi Beta; Eileen Smith of Reno, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Jeanne Brannin, Pi Beta Phi.

As yet no definite plans have been made for the coming year, but Sagens will have charge of the annual "Buy a Brick" campaign held in the fall semester. Money from the bricks is put in a fund for a new ASUN building.

New officers will take over their duties in the fall.

Students Feted At St. Joseph's Tea

An Easter tea will be given today by St. Stephen's Associates from 4 until 6 o'clock at St. Stephen's Hall at University and Eighth streets. A Chinese motif will be carried out in detail in decoration, program and refreshments. Chinese students from the university will assist in the arrangements.

All students are invited to attend and special invitations were sent to Pi Beta Phi sorority, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Tau Omega fraternities, as well as to the Episcopal students of the campus.

Mrs. Benjamin Parker is chairman of the affair, with other members of the committee as follows: Messdames Arthur Kluffton, Edward Green, Charles Scates, Rex Hudgins, Ray Whitty and Mrs. Arthur Thomas.

Exhibit to Feature Work of Nevada Artists

An exhibit of the works of Nevada artists will be given in the library by the Fine Arts group, beginning Monday morning and lasting until Friday evening, it was announced this week by Peggy Gill, president of the organization.

The paintings and drawings are being shown in connection with the contest for Nevada artists, and Mrs. George Robinson will be in charge. Several judges will be selected to judge the finest will be sent to a national exhibit in New York, Miss Gill said.

This exhibit will be the last one to be sponsored by the Fine Arts group this year.

Chi Delta Phi to Initiate Members

President to Be Installed; Other Officers Elected

Chi Delta Phi, national English honor society, will initiate eight members April 27 at Artemisia Hall.

Those who will be initiated are Charlotte Caton, Pi Beta Phi; Marie Varnon, Independent; Sybil Furchner, Gamma Phi Beta; Josephine Seddon, Kappa Alpha Theta; Cleone Stewart, Pi Beta Phi; Marjorie Davin, Independent; Pauline Tobener, Independent, and Betty Burleigh, Beta Sigma Omicron.

A new corresponding secretary and the vice-president will be elected at that time from the ranks of the initiates.

President Installed

Elizabeth D'Alessandro will be installed as president, Helen Brown as treasurer and other new officers will be inducted during the evening.

Following the initiation ceremonies, which will be conducted by both old and new officers, a banquet will be held in honor of the new members at the El Cortez Hotel.

Professor and Mrs. A. E. Hill, Miss Eva Adams and Professor Katherine Riegelhuth will be guests.

Elizabeth Osborne and Elizabeth Best are in charge. The initiation in Artemisia Hall will start at 5 p. m.

1938 Artemisia Out Senior Week

The 1938 Artemisia, campus annual, will be distributed Wednesday or Friday of senior week, Editor Sam Wilson announced today.

"There will be some surprise features and new specialties in this yearbook—something new and different," Wilson hinted.

A local firm has almost completed the printing, after which the books will be sent to San Francisco to be bound.

"More pictures than usual will be printed. The Camera Club helped by furnishing us with a variety of good 'shots,'" Wilson said.

Brahm's "Requiem" Will Be Given May 1st

One hundred and forty singers and musicians, including many university students, will participate in presenting Brahms' "Requiem" at the Civic Auditorium May 1, Professor T. H. Post, head of the music department and director of the "Requiem," announced this afternoon.

Included in the six choruses in which the entire group of musicians and singers will be featured Sunday night are "Blessed Are They That Mourn," "Behold All Flesh Is As The Grass," and the triumphant fugue, "Worthy Art Thou to Be Praised." Baritone solo parts of the numbers will be sung by Vernon Armstrong.

In addition to accompanying the Brahms' choruses, the University-Community Little Symphony Orchestra will present Tchaikovsky's "Marche Slav," "Evening Prayer" and "Dream Pantomime," from the opera "Hansel and Gretel," by the German composer, Humperdinck. Mrs. Harriet Barnum-Ihrig will be concert-master violinist.

Groups taking part in the combined chorus are the Community Choral Society, the Campus Choral Club, the University Singers, a selected group of sixteen student singers and the University Orchestra. The concert will start at 8:30 and will last about two hours, Professor Post stated. A small admission is being charged.

Moler Obtains U. P. Position in Salt Lake

Murray Moler, 1938 journalism graduate, will join the staff of the United Press upon the completion of his university work this spring.

Moler's first assignment will be in Salt Lake City, where he will have charge of the United Press' radio news processing bureau. The William S. Lunsford scholarship in journalism is held by Moler this year.

Increased Summer Enrollment Forecast

One of the largest enrollments in its history is forecast for the summer session of the University of Nevada for 1938, Dean Fred W. Traner of the education department stated recently.

With applications and inquiries coming from all parts of the United States, indications are that the enrollment will be well over 150 persons, as compared to 133 for last summer.

Representation from the different states is also expected to be greater this year, Traner said. Last summer, seventeen states were represented.

The reason given for the expected increase in enrollment is the fact that for the first time in the history of the summer session at Nevada, credit toward graduate degrees will be given. This ruling is expected to increase greatly the number of Nevada teachers who will attend the summer school.

23 New Volumes Added to Library

Twenty-three new books have been added to the university library this week.

Subjects range from fiction to biographical to liberal arts.

"Birds of America," by J. J. Audubon, is one of the best books in the selection. It is the first popular edition of this century-old classic. It contains all and more than all the incomparable pictures of the original, which sells for thousands of dollars whenever offered.

"Pedlar's Progress; the Life of Bronson Alcott," by Odell Shepard, is a story and appreciation of the philosophic but sadly impractical father of "Louisa M."

"Something of Myself," by Rudyard Kipling, a story in which, together with some dross and not a few mean slaps at the United States, there are nuggets of fine gold here for old timers who know and love their Kipling.

Other books are: "Ends and Means," by Aldous

Huxley; "Shadow on the Land; Syphilis," by Thomas Parrran; "Mathematics For the Million," by Lancelot Hogben; "The Arts," by H. W. Van Loon; "Conversation at Midnight," by Edna St. Vincent Millay; "Island of Bali," by Miguel Covarrubias; "Sod-House Frontier," by Everett Dick; "Northwest Passage," by Kenneth Roberts; "Three American Plays," by Anderson; "Star-Wagon," by Anderson; "90 in the Shade," by Cason; "The Citadel," by Cronin; "Book of Marvels: the Occident," by Halliburton; "Prodigal Parents," by Lewis; "Short Stories," by Mansfield; "Reporter at the Papal Court," by Morgan; "Washington Correspondents," by Rosten; "R. S. V. P.," by Taylor; "And So Victoria," by Wilkins.

CHARGES WHICH HAVE BEEN made more than once during the past two years, to the effect that the University of Nevada administration, for some unknown reason, has a tendency to keep under cover the actual conditions of the university, were in part substantiated this week when Charles Gorman, comptroller, talked on the campus situation before a group in Fallon.

Judging from the essence of the speech, Gorman is acting as a marionette for the administration in a campaign, the purpose of which appears to be the spreading of salve on open wounds, or pouring oil on troubled waters, etc.

Judging also from the speech, it appears that the administration is playing a first class political game, meanwhile sacrificing the university to play it.

This conclusion is supported by Gorman's declaration that the administration was cognizant of the fact that the university needed new buildings a few years ago. The administration, he declared, had considered the construction of a new gymnasium with PWA funds, which would have been obtainable a few years ago. A new gymnasium, however, was not regarded as the first need, a new arts and science building and a new engineering building having been placed higher on the list.

If, as Gorman declares, the administration was cognizant of these needs, then may we, the students, ask why these PWA funds were not obtained when there was the opportunity?

The answer to that lies with the administration. Certainly from the facts brought out, it would seem that the administration was caught napping, or deliberately ignored the funds for political reasons.

Taken from a political standpoint, the blame can not only be laid at the administration's door, but also at the door of Nevada's chief executive, the governor. A PWA loan would have meant a slight increase in the tax rate to pay off the retirement of the loan, and a slight tax increase is something the governor, being a first class conservative, and a banker as well, is decidedly against.

It couldn't be that the administration is bowing to a political condition, letting the university get along with the meager funds it does have and hoping some philanthropist will take care of the building program?

This is just one thought—you can use your judgment.

In speaking of the ill-fated gymnasium drive conducted at the last session of the legislature, Gorman declared that the administration knew nothing of the drive until students appeared to press it.

Recalling a bit of history, it will be remembered that there was no drive until the students started it. Also, the students did not appear in the legislature until they had had numerous conferences with administration officials regarding the bill. According to a prominent member of that memorable drive committee, the first bill, which was killed on a technical error, was first approved by Gorman himself.

The fate of the second gym bill, which was killed in committee, was put in committee at the specific request of university officials, it was learned from an unimpeachable source.

Also in regards to the gymnasium, Gorman declared that the present structure was large enough to take care of the university proper, and that the need of a new building was felt only when contests drew from other parts of the state.

Again, we, the students, beg to differ. Attendance at basketball games this season, which concerned only university teams, proved beyond a question of doubt that the building is too small to handle the crowds. With the capacity reduced to 800—a system now in effect because of the fire department ruling—not even two-thirds of the student enrollment could attend athletic contests in the building, let alone any townspeople.

The Sagebrush feels that the citizens of the state of Nevada should know what is reported to be the "inside stuff." Consequently the above has been printed, without malice. The Sagebrush can appreciate any move for the betterment of the university, but it can not, and will not, condone "salve spreading."

(Note: A story of Gorman's speech delivered at Fallon, reprinted exactly as it appeared in the Reno Evening Gazette, can be found on column three of this page.)

The ... BAND BOX

By BOB PARKER

Band uniforms were re-issued Thursday following the announcement that Governor Kirman would inspect the military and band units the afternoon of May 6.

Captain Henry W. Isbell will be in charge of the inspection, with student officers assisting. Bandsmen will be led by Major Doho Hal Lang.

A note on the "Requiem," which will be the feature of the eleventh annual spring concert at the Civic Auditorium May 1:

Professor Post, music department head, tells me that the "Requiem" is not a mass, as it does not mourn the dead, but terms it rather a sacred cantata, and is often used in religious services.

And while on the subject of the concert, "Tschaiakowsky's 'Marche Slav,'" the theme of which is the Imperial Russian national anthem, embodies the "Triumph Hymn," the words of which were composed by Jane O. Sullivan.

"Bring your song books," Professor Post warns. "Let's make the annual campus sing a real sing this time!"

The sing, which has been set for the evening of May 3, will have the band en masse to accompany students in singing U. of N. songs. The time is 6:45, on the tram—and bring those song books!

Yes, the band turned out this morning for the annual R. O. T. C. group inspection, including girls. How'd they do it? Suggest you ask them.

Anyway, the band had one consolation—they were (1) warned beforehand, (2) had no Thursday afternoon rehearsal. All this, of course, brings up the dirty work that went on behind the scenes a few weeks back, when a depleted band attended a military inspection. The governor, his aides and all the high and mighty bigwigs of the state were present. The presence of the band was commanded a day before the inspection date. This will in some measure account for the showing made by the band at the review, which included nearly all the military units of the state.

Forewarned is forearmed, they tell me.

SEASON'S WIND-UP

The University Singers will probably become an established institution. The idea originated with Professor Post, who selects eight men and eight women for the group each semester.

Campus Choral Club election of officers probably will not be held until next fall, Ted Ashworth, head of the group, announced. Lateness of the season was attributed for the postponement.

Bandsmen are looking forward to May 6, when they can turn in their uniforms for once and for all.

Rube Tuttle, trombonist and assistant director of the band, says this took place last summer on his Reno Rodeo tour while in Ely:

Six-year-old Elyite: "Do you really swallow the slide, just like magic?"

Plans for the band to go to Las Vegas next fall, when the university football team meets Arizona U. in a season opener, are already under way. Looks like this will probably go through.

Because Easter fell so late this spring and school closing earlier than last year, the Campus Choral Club will be unable to accept any future engagements for the season, Professor Post stated. The spring concert will take the place of the usual out of town singing engagements, he said.

Mark Sheldon, star French horn player of the band, was recently made a member of Tau Beta Rho, honorary music appreciation club.

James Galvin, president of Tau Beta Rho, and Bill Hatton, secretary, were guests at the San Francisco Symphony performance. Featured on the program was Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. Pierre Monteaux conducted and was assisted by the San Francisco Choral Society.

Camera Club Plans Slides, Lecture Next Week

"Photographic Pictorialism" is the title of the lecture that Robert Greng will present before the Camera Club next Thursday night.

Landscapes, candid shots and odd angle pictures will be discussed and illustrated by slides furnished by a national camera company will be shown.

Greng will explain methods of bringing out good points in pictures, ways to correct mistakes and how to arrange different parts with reference to the main subject.

Election of officers also will take place at this meeting.

An exhibit of the best pictures taken by club members will be shown either in downtown windows or in the library during senior week, it was decided recently.

C. Gorman Talks At Fallon

FALLON, Nev., April 20 (Special)

Improvements now underway at the university will be sufficiently advanced within the next few months, Charles H. Gorman, university comptroller, told the members of the Fallon Rotary Club here yesterday, to meet the conditions required for full accrediting by the committee for the engineering association which recently withheld their approval of the engineering schools.

Construction of a new engineering building with a hydraulic laboratory will place the University of Nevada's engineering school on a par with any school in the country, Gorman said. "In fact," he said, "there are certain advantages to the students in attending Nevada's smaller classes where they have more opportunity for individual attention from instructors."

Gorman read a letter received this week from the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools stating that the University of Nevada has been fully accredited by that organization, not only temporarily, but permanently. The letter, signed by Frederick E. Bolton, president of the association, suggested that the class load of certain instructors was a bit heavy in some cases, but on the whole, the letter complimented the institution for its high standards of work.

Gorman declared that the head of the university and the regents knew nothing of the proposals made to the state legislature a year ago for a new gymnasium until the students appeared to press the program. A gymnasium had been considered, he said, a few years ago as a PWA project, but a new arts and science building, a new engineering building with hydraulics laboratory, were then cited as of greater need. The proposal to remodel the old gymnasium at a cost of $25,000 had the approval of the university officers and the board of visitors.

Gorman declared the present university gymnasium is adequate for all needs of the university proper, and that a larger structure is required only during basketball tournaments and other affairs which bring in visitors from over the state.

If the two cent tax levy for permanent construction is restored, it should take care of needs at the university for new structures, he said.

Salaries of instructors in the lower brackets, the comptroller said, were advanced following the last session of the state legislature, when more than six thousand dollars per year was allowed for that purpose.

NORMA ANDERSON

Here's to Norma—she's a true blue, she's a—oh, excuse, please—I forgot where I was.

Anyhow, it's to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's little girl that the honor of being sketched is given this week.

Norma is a Renoite, having learned all her reading, writing and arithmetic in the local schools, and then trekking up to our campus to receive the finishing touches.

Since her frosh days she has been a member of the Sagebrush editorial staff and is acting as women's co-editor this year.

She can sing, too—or so we are led to believe—because among her activities she has listed Choral Club for the last three years.

Her sophomore year she was listed on the honor roll, became a member of Chi Delta Phi, Y.W.C.A., and participated in the Wolves' Frolic.

Executive abilities are also in her favor, for she acted as secretary-treasurer of Chi Delta Phi in her junior year, was a member of the women's upperclass committee at the same time, and had her say on several of the various revision committees, and in this her final year she has acted as secretary of Cap and Scroll, and has headed her Gamma Phi sisters in all their socials and what have you?

Press Club, Pan-Hellenic Council and Italic N have been a part of this "babe's" social career.

Journalism has been her major course, and when she goes out into the big business world, whether she attacks it from the newspaper office angle or ends up by selling the news on the corner, we wish her the very best of luck.

Nevada needs a new gym.

Delta Delta Epsilon To Hold Formal Initiation

Formal initiation ceremonies and the election of officers for Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary band fraternity, will be held next Tuesday evening at Sparks, Hal Lang, head of the organization, announced.

Initiates will wear the traditional Epsilon stripe to classes all day Tuesday, Lang said. Following the band meeting in the afternoon, the members will go to the Lincoln Hotel in Sparks, where the annual spring banquet and initiation ceremonies will take place.

New fraternity brothers to be initiated are Mathew Laking, Leroy Schmidt, John Naughton, William Orr, William Richter, Donald Downs, Richard Williams, William Potter, Leslie Leggett and Harry Johnson. Delta Delta Epsilon, organized six years ago, selects members on the basis of merit, interest and scholarship, Lang stated.

Junior cut day was held today instead of Wednesday, as originally planned, because the students did not get their money which was to finance the annual affair in on time.

At 10:30 this morning, more than 100 juniors gathered at the bulletin board, from whence they proceeded to Bower's Mansion and a day of frolic.

Swimming, baseball and a lunch were enjoyed.

ANSWERS TO THE ELECTRICAL QUIZ

- The horsepower of one type of electric clock motor is eleven millionths H.P. A dynamometer made in the Westinghouse Research Dept. has accurately measured and plotted this fact.
- The first officially scheduled radio broadcast was that of the Harding-Cox presidential election returns, sent out over Westinghouse Station KDKA, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Nov. 2, 1920.
- Modern high-efficiency Westinghouse-equipped generating stations produce a KWH of electricity on 1 lb. of coal, base load. The national average for 1937 was 1.43 lbs. In 1922 the figure was 2.5; in 1927, 1.75; in 1932, 1.5.
- Some of the Westinghouse elevators in Radio City, believed to be the fastest in the world, travel at the speed of 1400 ft. per second.
- The largest all-electric-welded building (tonnage and floor space) is the 12-story Central Engineering Laboratory building of the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. at East Pittsburgh, Pa.
- The greatest advantage of alternating current, as recognized by Geo. Westinghouse more than 50 years ago, is the facility with which its voltages can be stepped up or down for various needs of transmission or use.
- Oliver E. Shallenberger, a young engineer with the Westinghouse Electric Co., discovered the principle in 1888 and developed the first A.C. watt-hour meter. It has been basically unchanged to this day.
- Micarta is a laminated synthetic resin material, developed by Westinghouse and having many desirable electrical and mechanical characteristics. It is used for insulation, bearings, bushings and many industrial purposes, as well as for decorative work of all kinds.
- Electricity costs about 1/3 less today per KWH, on the national average, than it did in 1913. It is one of the few commodities that has steadily decreased in cost during these 25 years.
- Hydrogen has been found to be a better cooling medium than air, and 10 out of the last 14 large 2-pole 3600 r.p.m. generators used by Westinghouse pioneering led to this improvement.

The name that means everything in electricity

By CLARENCE HECKETHORN

The right arm of a lanky, precocious freshman changed the ranking of intramural baseball teams Tuesday afternoon and threw a threat at the potentialities of the leading nines. Frank McCullough, Sigma Nu, chucked through seven hectic innings at Idlewild Park, allowing the Independents only four hits. But even more impressive was McCullough's strikeout list—ten men fell victims to the freshman's fast and curving balls, while five others were fanned out, while five were not recorded as strikeouts, because the Sigma Nu catcher dropped the ball on the third strike.

Last Tuesday's game was McCullough's first in intramural competition. Prior to this contest he had been suffering from strained and bruised muscles.

McCullough's real acid test will come tomorrow and Monday, when he pitches against Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Lambda Chi Alpha, two of the top teams in whose ranks are the leading hitters of the league. The youth's arm is still stiff and not in first class condition, and the possibility that these two consecutive games will be too much for that right arm is the problem that is confronting the Snakes at the present time.

Betting odds show Sigma Nu to be the underdog for both contests. Sigma Alpha Epsilon has one of the most impressive records of the intramural teams, despite their 10 to 15 defeat by Lambda Chi Alpha. Peccole is developing into another outstanding pitcher of the league, while the entire infield of the S. A. E.'s is hard to beat.

Lambda Chi, the favorite to cop the tournament championship, merely points to the results of its contests as evidence of its potentialities. The only unbeaten team on the hill at the present time, Lambda Chi has defeated Beta Kappa 16 to 0, Alpha Tau Omega 11 to 5, Phi Sigma Kappa, 19 to 11 and Sigma Alpha Epsilon 15 to 10.

Nevio Rosa: "You can't run on the last strike when I catch a ball."
Ham Robb: "Why can't he run, he's got two legs, hasn't he?"

Confident after their field day victory over the sophomore class last month, the freshmen announced a challenge to the second-year students in a game of baseball yesterday.

"Any time, any place, and make your own bet," was the keynote of Fred McIntyre's defy.

Walt Powers, Nevada sprinter and co-holder of the Far Western 100-yard dash record, settled down to an intensive training campaign following the meet at Chico two weeks ago.

The most disheartening blow of the meet to Powers was to be beaten in his favorite event, the century run. It was a youth named Reams who did the trick. Statistics show that Reams ran the race in 9.6 when a member of Sacramento Junior College. His best practice record this year was 9.7, and when pressed by Powers in the Chico meet Reams finished in 9.8.

Sam McMullen showed prospects of developing into a good miler in last week's practice when he finished second to the veteran Barrett. Jack Rhoades' main trouble in both the hundred and the broad jump is excess weight.

Lambda Chi Leads Inter-Frat Baseball League; Three Teams Tied For Second

Barbs Are Defeated By Sigma Nu Nine

Lambda Chi Alpha remained in top spot of the Intramural Baseball League today, as the third week of playing is concluded tomorrow. Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Phi Sigma are knotted in second place, with one loss each.

The Independents were dropped from the undefeated ranks by Sigma Nu by 14 to 6, leaving Lambda Chi the only team unbeaten. The "Barbs" were dropped another step in the tournament Thursday, when Sigma Alpha Epsilon's powerful nine defeated them, 8 to 2.

S. A. E.'s Hit Easily
The S. A. E.'s had little difficulty hitting the Independent pitcher, Kinneberg, Thursday and chalked up a total of fifteen hits. The "Barbs," on the other hand, suffered losses by consistent errors by both the infielders and outfielders. "Southpaw" Calhoun chucked through the entire contest, limiting the opposition to eight hits.

Alpha Tau Omega made a comeback Thursday by trouncing Lincoln Hall, 16 to 1. Pine started at the Tau pitching box and worked up a heavy lead and then turned the activities over to Rebealeti. Kulan, Walker and McNair scored the only hits for the Hall men.

Beta Kappa's nine suffered another defeat Wednesday at the hands of Sigma Phi Sigma by 26 to 9 in six innings.

Beta Kappa made rallies in the beginning and end of the contest, but one inning gave the Sigma Phis 18 runs, which ruined the Beta Kappa hope for their initial victory. Linton, Robb and Gustafson changed at the Sigma Phi pitching post, while the Cleary brothers alternated for Beta Kappa.

The Sigma Nu-Phi Sigma Kappa contest scheduled for Wednesday was postponed until Sunday.

Sigma Nu Upset
Frank McCullough, Sigma Nu chucker, pulled an upset Tuesday by pitching through a seven-inning contest against the Independents with only four hits, which gave the Sigma Nus a 14 to 6 victory over the previously undefeated "Barbs." Kinneberg, Independent pitcher, displayed exceptional playing in the pitching box for three innings, only to tire during the latter rounds and allow several hits and walks.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon came back from the Lambda Chi defeat last week to defeat Alpha Tau Omega, 17 to 5, on the university field Tuesday. Both Pine and Basta were used in the Tau pitching box, with Basta showing good by limiting the S. A. E.'s to two hits during two of the five innings. Peccole started as chucker for the Sigma Alphas, but was suffering from a stiff arm and turned over the duties to Calhoun.

Lincoln Hall Battered
Lambda Chi battered Lincoln Hall 17 to 1 and Phi Sigma Kappa defeated Beta Kappa 14 to 6 Monday.

Metten was used as a Lambda Chi pitcher for the first time of the season, with Cain taking it over at the third inning. For Lincoln Hall, Owens and Chrysler were used to pitch. Mayer's and Koocher's batting average took a decided rise in the Beta Kappa contest when Mayer copped four hits for four and Koocher three

First Year Students Plan Barbecue at Baker's

Definite plans were made for the first "Freshman Barbecue" at a meeting held by the freshman class this week, Fred McIntyre, class manager, announced.

The barbecue, which will be held at Baker's Ranch south of Reno, will take place on Saturday, April 30. From 1:00 to 2:30 barbecued beef, as well as other refreshments, will be served by the frosh coeds. Dancing in Baker's barn will feature the remainder of the afternoon.

Tickets to the affair will be sold by various members of the class for 60 cents apiece. Although the event is primarily for first year students, others may attend.

Committees appointed by Fred McIntyre, class manager, are: Jack Pieri, chairman; Gus Heben, assisted by Walter Wilcox, refreshments, and Walter Wilcox, publicity. Eight chaperones will be on deck to offset any possible disturbances, Pieri said.

Peraldo Elected Band President

Louis Peraldo, sophomore arts and science student and freshman class manager, was elected band president for the year 1938-39 at a meeting of the band this week. Peraldo succeeds Ted Ashworth to the post and will take over his duties next fall.

Other officers elected for the coming year include Alfred Woodgate, vice-president; June Drake, secretary, and Bill Richter to the post of librarian.

Outgoing officers include: Vice-president, Marvin Moler; secretary, Margaret Cline; librarian, Bill Miller.

The Sigma Nu-Sigma Alpha Epsilon contest scheduled for Saturday was postponed until a later date, it was reported last night.

Wolf Pack Skiers Take Southern Zone Title

The University of Nevada ski team wound up its snow season in a blaze of glory Sunday, when the Wolf skiers captured the southern zone championship of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Ski Association and the coveted Vanderbilt Memorial Trophy.

The Nevada victory was the result of a well-rounded squad, with the Wolves placing at least three men among the first ten in each of the four events. Nevada ran up a total of 400 points, an average of 100 for each event. U. C. was second and U. C. L. A. third.

Individual scoring honors for Nevada went to James Worden, who took first in the slalom and a second in the cross-country.

Other men who placed in events were Ed Rose, Earl Edmunds, Jack Starratt, Don Fanning and Frazier West.

Now he has been selected to select the beauties for the Louisiana Tech annual. But it has been rumored that Charlie intends to consult Edgar Bergen in the final choices.

Frosh Track Team Meets High School Teams Tomorrow

Sparks, Reno, Yerington and Hawthorne to Lead Invasion

The University of Nevada freshman track team will play host to Sparks, Reno, Yerington, Hawthorne and other prep schools in its second meet of the season Saturday afternoon on Mackay Field.

Two weeks ago, the yearling tracksters won their first meet, but are expected to find the going tougher against the additional teams of Sparks and Yerington, which did not compete two weeks ago.

Polish to Place
The frosh are still strong enough to win, with Polish expected to place in every event in which he enters. Other men who have made previous good appearances are Conaway, Morehouse, Griswold, Collier and Triger.

The frosh will find stiff competition in the dashes against Forson and Hardy, Reno boys, who took the edge over the frosh in the last meet. The frosh are favored to repeat a sweep in the weights, with Polish, Perkins, Kemp and Lemich bearing the brunt of the weight heaving.

High Jump
John Fulton, Nevada frosh, and Armstrong of Hawthorne, who tied for first in the high jump in the pre-

Tennis Squad Opens Season Against Fresno

Four Nevada tennis players tomorrow open the 1938 net schedule at Fresno, where they meet the 1937 champion Bulldogs. Eugene Peterson, Frank Goodner, Robert Leaver and Ross Ashley comprise the quartet which will accompany Coach Chet Scranton to the Raisin City.

Peterson and Ashley are both sophomores and lack experience, but are expected to develop into point winners for the Wolves. Goodner is the only letterman of the four, while Leaver competed for the team last year. The four men won their positions and ranking as a result of the elimination ladder tournament recently held among competitors for the team. Little hope for a win is held by the Wolves. Fresno has a strong team and is expected to sweep to another conference championship this year. Unfavorable weather has hindered the Wolves all year and sends them against the powerful Bulldogs with their games not yet fully rounded out.

Wolves Expect Win In Aggie Contest Tomorrow At Davis

Confident of registering their first win of the season, the University of Nevada track team will leave tomorrow morning for a dual meet with the Cal Aggies at Davis, California.

Entering the meet on even terms as far as previous results show, the Wolves, nevertheless, are counting on a well-balanced outfit to trounce the Farmers.

Walt Powers, veteran sprinter, can easily be counted on to chalk up firsts in both the hundred and two-hundred yard races.

Twenty, but he may run into tough opposition in the high hurdles, with Frick, Aggie ace, reported to have accomplished a 15.2 hurdle race already this season.

Bob Cameron skimmed the highs in 15.5 Wednesday in practice, installing himself as a threat to both Powers and Frick.

Two Mile Win Predicted
In the other track events, Pio Mastriani, because of his improved condition, is expected to win the two-mile, while Barrett and his rookie running mate, Sam McCullen, who also does a nice hurdle race, will handle the duties in the mile run.

Little Ernie Rodriguez, letterman half-miler, will look after his favorite event and seems headed for a certain first place. Because of the fifty-three second quarter he turned in running against time in practice Tuesday night, Ernie will probably run the 440 Saturday.

Del Stewart and Ray Garamendi are improving rapidly in the weight events and should reach top form by Saturday. Ferron Bunker and Harry Galloway are both doing around 165 tossing the javelin. Bunker will also high jump.

Cameron to Repeat
Bob Cameron will probably repeat his performance at Chico and win the pole vault, besides garnering points for Nevada in the high jump, low hurdles and 220-yard dash.

The broad jump appears to be a duel between Jack Rhoades and Kenny Day. Each has made leaps of 22 feet 6 inches already this season.

Rhoades, however, will be handicapped by a sprained ankle that is slow in responding to treatment.

The varsity relay team, made up of Rhoades, Day, Hillygus and Rodriguez, ran a 1:34.4 half-mile relay against a fresh team to show great improvement over previous times.

In the absence of Coach Jim Coleman, who is in Atlanta, Georgia, the track team will be under the supervision of Football Coach Doug Dashiell.

WHY DO COEDS COME TO COLLEGE?

"Why do coeds come to college?" Most popular answer from the male sex on the University of Nevada campus was:

"To get a husband."

The question was asked about twenty men attending the university this week. Most of them were of the opinion that the girls came to get a mate for the rest of their lives, but there were others who thought differently about the situation.

The minority group expressed the opinion that the girls came to school to further their education. Others said the women came to fit themselves for a suitable position between the time they leave school or are graduated and the time they begin to think seriously about the marriage problem.

One cynical young gentleman remarked:

"I think that they just come to school to escape the housework and the other tasks that enter into home-life—especially dishwashing. This comes into a girl's life just after the family meal."

Other men remarked that they thought the coeds had nothing else to do, and that they came to school "to fool away their time until they were taken off their fathers' hands."

Some men said that there were a lot of girls in university now because the women could not find jobs for themselves after they left high school.

Kappa Tau Alpha Bids Two Seniors

Bob Miller, Murray Moler Elected to Nat'l Society

Election of Robert C. Miller and Murray M. Moler, 1938 journalism graduates to Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship in journalism, was announced this week by Professor A. L. Higginbotham.

Chosen on the basis of high scholarship and character, the two men were named by the members of the Nevada chapter in Reno at election time.

Taking part in the balloting were Frank Sullivan, '36, of the Nevada State Journal and Gerald Roberts, '37, of the Tonopah Times-Bonanza, in addition to Higginbotham.

To be eligible for election, a candidate must be in the upper tenth of the junior-senior journalism group in scholarship.

Kappa Tau Alpha has chapters only in institutions maintaining class A instruction in professional courses in journalism.

Illustrated Lecture To Be Presented To Club

"Photographic Pictorialism" is the title of the lecture which will be given by Robert Grenig before the Camera Club next Thursday night.

Landscapes, candid shots and odd angle pictures will be discussed and illustrated with slides.

Grenig will explain methods of bringing out good points in pictures, ways to correct mistakes and how to arrange different parts of the picture with reference to the main subject.

Election of officers will take place at this meeting.

The club is now planning an exhibit of the pictures taken by club members to be shown either in downtown windows or in the library building during senior week.

A few male undergraduates were of the opinion that the coeds were here because they really wanted to find out if they wanted to continue their education or to "find" a husband. The question was finally answered in each girl's mind that she would wait until her sweetheart had graduated, and then they would settle down to build a home and raise a family, the men declared.

This questionnaire was started at the University of Nebraska by Barbara Rosewater, a member of the staff of the Daily Nebraskan, student newspaper. As on the campus of the University of Nevada, the general consensus of opinion of the males in the midwestern university was the same as at Nevada: "To catch themselves a husband."

Phonograph Given To German Club

German Consulate Donated Money For Gift

Presentation of a new radio-phonograph, bought with funds furnished by the German consulate, was made at a joint meeting of the Deutscher Verein and Cercle Francais, university language clubs, Thursday night.

The gift was made possible by a 100 mark donation from the German consul general in San Francisco to be used in the purchase of equipment which would aid in the teaching of modern languages. The choice of the phonograph was made at a meeting of the club last month.

Latest Model
"The machine retails for $80, and is the latest available model of its type," Dr. B. F. Chappelle of the modern language department said.

"The set consists of both an electrical transcribing set and a seven-tube radio. We experienced considerable delay in obtaining it because of the huge demand for machines of this type."

The price difference between the appropriation made by the German consul and the price of the machine was made up by the Cercle Francais, university French club.

Several records were played at the joint meeting and Dr. Chappelle explained the mechanism of the set.

"The machine will be available to the university as a whole," he said, "although it will be the personal property of the Deutscher Verein."

Library Plans
"We plan next semester to assess members of the organization to obtain a library of recordings to be used by the clubs."

The machine is portable and features the new crystal filterization for the playing of recordings which gives unusual volume without the need for size, and enables the lowest bass and the highest alto voices to be received in clear tones.

The purchase was made at cost through the Whiting's Musical Emporium.

Invitation Is Issued To High Schools For Meet

Invitations were extended to every high school in Nevada this week to participate in the state high school track meet to be held on Mackay Field May 14, according to Fred Galloway, president of the Block N letterman's society, which is sponsoring the meet.

No answers have been received as yet, but a full turnout is expected, Galloway said.

Block N will contribute medals to men placing first, second and third. The society also will sell programs at the meet as well as souvenir programs. It has not been decided as yet whether admission will be charged.

Stage Crew Will Hold Banquet Wednesday

Members of the Play Production staff will hold their annual banquet Wednesday night, according to Kenneth Tedford, who presided at the meeting of the group last night.

Guest of the stage crew will be William C. Miller, professor of English.

Members of the crew who are planning to attend are: Basil Kehoe, Bob Grenig, James Perkins, John Marean, Bill Mitchell, Harold Johnson and Dick Roche.

Betty Burleigh, Jessie Hansen, Russell Bailey, Keith Gardner and Lewis Sanborn visited Los Angeles over Easter.

Hunt Field Trip Site Near Eureka

The major portion of the twelve weeks' Hunt trip will be spent in the Eureka, Nevada, district, members of the mining faculty decided this week.

S. F. Hunt, university benefactor, finances the field trip for mining and geological observation.

Trips of inspection will be made to Ely, Mountain City, Pioche, Winnemucca and other points of interest.

The graduating mining students of high scholastic standing who will make the trip will be chosen early this month, Professor J. A. Carpenter said.

The Hunt trip members will attend the Nevada section meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in Winnemucca during the first week of the trip.

Professors J. A. Carpenter, W. S. Palmer and W. I. Smythe will accompany the engineers to the meet-
