

Tsk, Tsk

Seen around town and state—Burwell Holmes, ATO, trots off to Ely to escort Mary Sala to a formal dance at Ely's smartest night club. Heckethorn started training for midseason form by spiring Louise Leonard off the minute she got off work, for cokes in the Waldorf. . . . Willy Dalzell was a little short of heaven when his heart throb from Oregon (Betty West) returned to Reno to spend the summer—does she stay or has she gone back to her studies, Willy? . . . Leon Etchemendy is seen with a gal who lives at 134 Vassar—what's the name, Leon? Gordon Macdonald comes into town in the middle of the month so Wilson, Rice, Tholl and Gordie can start the year off right. . . . Mary K. Reed visits in the middle of the summer and helps remove the monotony of the summer for the stay-at-homes. . . . for the frosh—Ex-Editor Johnny Brackett hasn't relinquished claim on petite Wilma Jones as evidenced, by nocturnal Waldorf visits and arm-in-arming thru downtown Reno all summer. . . . By the way, the ex-editor would make an affectionate daddy as his loving care of a baby carriage on Virginia street, not so many moons ago, excited plenty of comment from innocent bystanders. . . . Dick Summerbell, last year's junior class manager, rates three stars by chasing two blondes and a brunette—they they started chasing him. But for the intervention of Archie Albright, ATO prexy, Summerbell might still be running. . . . Pi Phi entertaining during summer in booth one in the Waldorf for nights upon. . . . Benny Cardinal ruined a good pair of slacks falling down stairs in a Monterey hotel the first night of summer military camp—nooww Benny! . . . Prexy Goldwater had most of the summer pipers hanging on the ropes with that flashy mid-summer blond. . . . Bill Andrews bell-hopped at a Minden hotel for his secret sorrow and her hubby on their wedding night—oh well, Bill, such is life. Ted Demosthenes is getting ready for a hard winter by laying in a supply of jeweled frat pins. . . . Leo Doyle, Sigma Nu, after a romance of three years, presented Barbara Ferron with a sparkler and is heading north to Northwestern Medical School while she leaves for U. C. L. A. . . . Kenny Day slipped from the wagon for the first time in Monterey. . . . We understand that Collins and Dimock are buying their text books together—50-50—for another year. Too bad SAE Malone couldn't have returned to school to slap the third side to that eternal triangle.

Embarking upon the program of cooperation for which this paper hopes to become noted, the following excerpt is printed upon the special request of Pet Eaton, well-known campus figure.

GIRLS, GIRLS, GIRLS

Because of his loving personality, his beautiful black, curly hair, his charming smile, his perfect physique, his desired companionship (desired by his many lady friends) we think that it is only fair that all the girls on the campus should get an even break at knowing him. He will be parading about the campus all during the coming school year. In the late afternoon he will be on the football field trying to educate the yearlings into the type of ball player that he was—and that is tops. He is as good a ball player as he is good looking.

Co-recreational Sport Is Planned

A mixed doubles tournament in tennis will be held this fall prior to both the men and women's tourneys. Sign-ups have been posted in the gymnasium for those wishing to participate, Miss Sameth, head of women's P. E., said today.

The meet, the first of its kind to be held on the Nevada campus, will be elimination, and a consolation tournament will be held for those put out in the first rounds.

Drawings, to determine the memberships of the teams, will be made after the close of the sign-up next Wednesday night, and a schedule of contests will then be posted.

It is felt by those in charge of the tourney that if the drawings are made it will eliminate many of the possibilities of having two very strong players pair off.

The meet is being held in an effort to promote a co-recreational activity program on the Nevada campus.

CAMERON RESUMES STUDIES AT U. OF N.

Bob Cameron, junior student and Nevada athlete who received an appointment to Annapolis Naval Academy last spring semester, has returned to resume studies at the University of Nevada after failure to enter the U. S. school due to color blindness at a distance.

Cameron lettered in varsity basketball and track at Nevada last year.

James Olsen of Elko, Nevada, was selected to take the tests in an attempt to fill the vacancy at the school in Cameron's place.

you off to the only eligible bachelor on the campus—it is now up to you. Good Luck.

Red Sala, the East Ely express, looks heavier and stronger than ever, which is not surprising. Sala was seen constantly during the summer with a petite Ely nurse, and he wasn't convalescing in the White Pine hospital either.

Bulge you Big Jock! And after all these years!

After spending a quiet six weeks in the bay region, Bilge Ross Ashley vacations to Ely, where, after losing heavily on the horse races, the "Big Jock" attempts to console his feelings with a close companionship with Ida Frantz of Ely. After being initiated to the White Pine night life, Bilge was escorted to the car by Bud Doherty and given a dousing sendoff.

STUDENT HEADS

David Goldwater, ASUN prexy, has been working frenziedly during the past week distributing handbooks, songbooks, student body cards, and frosh dinks. He will begin the serious work of the year next week when he calls sessions of the senate and student body together for the first time.

Helen Shovlin, first AWS cabinet head, will begin her duties next week, working in conjunction with the ASUN president. Shovlin is the first to hold the office of chairman which was established last year after the office of AWS' president had been abolished.

Nominating Committee To Select Yell-Leader

The new yell leader for the year will be chosen at the first meeting of the nominating committee, which will be held in the early part of this week, David Goldwater announced today.

The new yell leader must at least be a sophomore and will probably be one of last year's assistant leaders. He will have two assistants of at least sophomore standing chosen from those who try out for the position during the first seven weeks of the university year.

The choice for the assistants will be made by the senate upon recommendation of the nominating committee at the end of the trial period.

'Brush Has New Masthead Today

A new masthead adorns the front page of this edition of the Sagebrush, but according to Editor Don Kinkel the new Old English title plate, which was ordered, will be here next week. The new masthead will be the same as that used during the past years, with the inscription U. of N. Sagebrush separated with the symbolic wolf.

Many of us long for the good old days of several years ago when people went nuts about things that didn't particularly matter—like yo-yo tops and jigsaw puzzles.

WOMAN'S MANAGER POSITION UNFILLED

There will be no women's business manager of the Sagebrush for the ensuing year was the verdict of Business Manager Ross Morris today.

According to Morris there is no woman on the business staff who meets the qualifications necessary for the office. This leaves the office of women's business manager for the spring Mackay edition vacant for the first time in several years.

Students who will comprise the business staff include Tony Yrberry in charge of distribution, Clarence Heckethorn in charge of circulation and Romietta Ward, Cleora Campbell, Dyer Jensen, Ray Garamendi and Joe McDonald as general staff members.

BLUSHES IN THE BUSHES

BY OPHELIA

With my eyes wide open I'm dreaming and all that stuff—but at least my eyes are open and that's more than some of you boys and gals can say, and I do mean those of you that couldn't make it up on the campus the morning after.

In case you haven't had time to notice the finer things in life may I point out the artistic landscaping of the campus. The gardening staff here really had to get down to earth this summer to patch up some of the worn spots on the lawns and to arrange these alternate flowering beds (of flowers, of course)—how's about we show our appreciation and do our part to keep it that way?

And now, over in this corner you see the Wolf Den, yep, it's just looming up under its new manager and I really think that he's got something there—he wants to please us each and every one.

Ethics or sompthin' might say no unpaid plugs for advertisers—ah! but this is just a part of campus life and advertising reminds me of Ross and Ross reminds me of—ah—oh yes "this is Nevada's year" (guess I fooled you there.) Well, anyhow, the way he has rounded up the ads for this year's paper makes it look very much like Kinkel and Morris's year.

Fraternity men will soon be able to relax, what with most of the choice frosh male populace being already pinned up—or down—anyhow headed toward a jeweled pin.

Soon all you little frosh lassies will be going the rounds on sorority row—may I remind you that if you choose to be a social success you had better leave your tape worm at home when you make your appearance at teas and dinners.

The Pan-Hellenic Council met for the first time this year Thursday afternoon, and among other things decided that normal school women could and should be rushed—and why not says I, the more the merrier.

Although, due to conference ruling, Doug and his assistants can not take the field until Sept. 10—the spirit among the footballers-to-be is great, here's hoping you fifty men that turned out on the field yesterday afternoon in a season that will make every person in and around the state stand up and cheer for you and Nevada.

It's no use only allowing the frosh to get all the inside dope about some of these people around here—at last the true facts about Jensen's receding hair line—being one of the boys he work his dink for four years. Take

Summer Fellowship Served by Coleman

James W. Coleman, head track coach at the university served a fellowship this summer in one of four research laboratories sponsored by the progressive education association of the Rockefeller Foundation.

These workshop laboratories were the outgrowth of the interest in physical education held by the Rockefeller Foundation officials.

The shop in which Coleman served was conducted at Mills College in Oakland from June 27 to August 6.

Coleman was one of eighteen physical education teachers, men and women throughout the country, selected to conduct the workshop.

Debaters Await Arrival of Coach

Plans for the coming debate season were not forthcoming, Debate Team Manager Francis Breen, said today, due to the fact that Professor Robert Griffin, debate coach, arrived in Reno only this morning.

Griffin, who had been attending the summer session at the University of California, will line the season debate meets up upon his resuming duties at the university, it was stated. A meeting of debaters is expected to be called shortly when teams will be arranged.

Professor Griffin arrived with Professor Wm. C. Miller, dramatics coach, who also was attending the summer session at California.

The Tri Delta Jinx, more commonly known as the "She Jinx," is a general get-together for University women.

heed you frosh with the now plentiful toppers, don't turn out to be just one of the boys.

Among things we could very definitely do without, I place the Jock organization at the top of the list. Hecky and Bilge tell me that they are planning a secret running, by golly I hope they just keep on running.

Some people think; others doodle; some do little and I, well, the sight of a typewriter just does things to me but as you have observed I can't seem to do much with it—maybe I'll try again later when things get underway and I can add a word or two with the rest of the power of the press.

Will you read it if I write it—or won't cha? That's what I thought.

DEAN MOVES

Revised Handbook Put on Sale Last Week

The 1938-39 revised edition of the annual freshman handbook was distributed to all first year students this week.

The "Bible" is published as a guide for freshman students and serves to acquaint the new arrivals with the rules and traditions of the campus. It also contains the A. S. U. N. Constitution as well as the school songs which the frosh are required to learn.

The most noticeable change in the revised edition is the cover, which has been changed from white cardboard with blue lettering to blue imitation leather with a white title. The book is larger than that of last year.

All the changes throughout the year were acknowledged in the handbook, the most important being the change in the constitution.

The "Bible" was edited by Clarence Heckethorn with Ross Ashley assisting him. Tony Yriberry was business manager, being assisted by Ray Garamendi.

W. A. A. Scheduled To Get Underway

Activities of the women's athletic association will get under way next week with several different sports scheduled to begin.

The first on the program will be the meeting of the hockey club which will be held on September 7, at the women's field. The sport will be offered on Monday and Wednesday afternoons for the first time and will be under the supervision of Katherine Schnell, advisor, and Ruby Nay, manager.

On the following day the archery club will meet under the direction of Mrs. Mae Simas, advisor, and Lola Fraser and Felicia Moos, managers. The first meeting for the golf class will also be held that morning, with Charles Foley, professional at the Washoe county course, acting as instructor.

Riding will be offered on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons with Beatrice Lansdon and Marian Nichols acting manager and instructor respectively.

Fall Tennis Tennis will occupy a place on the first part of the fall calendar and will probably begin in about ten days. Earlmond Baker, sophomore student and state tennis champion, will manage the sport.

Volleyball, always one of the most popular of the group athletics, will start early in November and last until

LAS VEGAS TRIP IS OFFERED BY PAPER

Do you want a free trip to Las Vegas to see the University of Nevada football team play Arizona?

If so, the Nevada State Journal is sponsoring a subscription campaign by which any student who sells twelve three-month subscriptions to that paper may take the trip. These must be in by September 28, two days before leaving on the tour.

Included in the trip will be bus fare to and from Las Vegas, meals in Tonopah, hotel room in Las Vegas and three meals, and a tour of Boulder Dam and Lake Mead.

Students who plan to try out should start obtaining subscriptions immediately and report to Jack Calvin at the Nevada State Journal.

the end of the semester. The season will be climaxed by the annual intramural banquet at which time all the awards will be presented.

For the first time an attempt will be made by Gothic N, women's athletic honorary group, to sponsor mixed social activities. If present plans are successful, the society will hold a mixed doubles tournament in tennis and will award small trophies to the winners.

The annual junior college play day will be held some time in October under the direction of Eunice Beckley. Placer, Sacramento and Lassen junior colleges have again been asked to send representatives.

THE FIRST ISSUE

of the 1938-39 Sagebrush comes to press under new management as has been the case ever since the paper was established way back when . . . No doubt there will be students or faculty members upon the campus who will not agree with the policies of the Sagebrush or who will not admire the fashion in which portions of the paper have been handled.

THEN, LET IT BE KNOWN NOW THAT THE EDITOR WILL ALWAYS BE OPEN TO JUST, CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM.

The students of the university do not have merely to shout their criticisms, comments, or problems to the four winds and hope that by some fickle fortune their comments will reach the ear of the editor—for, as Paul Harwood said when editor of the Sagebrush, "the columns of this paper are open to all students at all times." The Sagebrush hopes that the students will exercise this privilege during the coming year.

As for policies, the Sagebrush does not at the present have them. Instead, it has only ideals which may later develop into policies.

A FRESHMAN

entered the University of Nevada three years ago. Since that time he has been the student that delights the professor's heart. He has passed his courses, gotten ahead by topping the honor roll every semester, gone to the school dances, and has seen the school team play. He has shown remarkable school spirit, but for all of that he is little more than a supporter.

That, of course, is all right for someone who, while being a supporter, does not long to be right in the middle of the fight, and waging his own fight. But the frosh above, during his school career, also wanted to be an activity man. He longed to join the staff of one of the university publications, he wanted to work with the Campus Players, and no doubt wanted to dabble in campus politics. He didn't get around to doing anything, however, and kept putting off getting into the spirit of things until tomorrow.

He was, in effect, on the outside looking in.

There are many, many freshmen whose courses in college parallel the one above. Heed this warning: Don't stand around the campus listening to the talk of the campus big shots. They will be gone within a few months. Seize your opportunities and, in a little while, the freshmen will be standing upon the sward reverently listening to words of wisdom flowing from your lips.

If you are big enough and important enough to be a Nevadan, you're big enough and important enough to be a member of any organization with the University of Nevada.

For Freshmen ONLY

HANG THY HEAD IN SHAME AND READ THY COMMANDMENTS

1. Thou shalt not remember your high school achievements; you're in college now.
2. Thou shalt not wear cords or moleskins while at classes or attending activities on the campus.
3. Thou shalt not misplace the official dink, but will wear it with reverence on the campus from sun-up to sun-down during the entire fall semester.
4. Thou shalt not profane the frosh bible, but will carry it from sun-up till sun-down during the entire fall semester.
5. Thou shalt not fail to regard the Block N on Peavine mountain with reverence, and shall paint same edifice twice a year.
6. Thou shalt not let praise and flattery get the best of you. Remember, wood swells easily.
7. Thou shalt not fail to carry out your social obligations by failing to give the "frosh glee" during the first part of the second semester.
8. Thou shalt not profane the beauty of Nevada's campus by cutting across the lawn to save time or by scattering other trash upon the grass.
9. Thou shalt not flaunt the Nevada hospitality by failing to say "Hello."
10. Thou shalt not fail to revere and worship upperclass committees.

PLANS

With plans for the largest and best band in Nevada's history, Professor Post is working this week getting the organization of the music department into shape for their first big appearance of the year. According to Post, the completely assembled Wolf Band will be slightly longer than forty yards.

GOOD LUCK AND GOD HELP YOU

Don't Say We Didn't Tell You!

Again cupid has taken his usual toll of University graduates and students during the summer vacation with approximately forty couples taking the marriage vows and many others planning to take "the final step" soon. . . . Of interest to students, although neither graduates of the university, was the marriage of Mrs. Katherine Mackay O'Brien, daughter of Clarence Mackay, financial donor to the university, and Mr. Prince A. Hawkins, Reno attorney on July 22. The couple are making their home in Reno.

During the bridal month of June, Miss Virginia La Rue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. La Rue, became the bride of Mr. Wallace Beebe of San Leandro, California. Mrs. La Rue attended the University of Nevada, later enrolling in the University of California, then acting as instructor in the history department at Nevada for one semester. Mr. and Mrs. Beebe are residing in Berkeley.

Culminating a college romance, Ethel Kent of Fallon and Jim McNeely of Battle Mountain, Nevada, were married on July 17. She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, and he is affiliated with the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. They are now residing in Battle Mountain.

Of social prominence in San Bernardino, California, was the marriage of Lavine Shields Hunt of Tonopah and Mr. John Albert Horn. Both were graduates of the University of Nevada, she being a member of Gamma Phi Beta, and he being affiliated with the Kappa Lambda fraternity.

On July 3 Faymarie Caple was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Guldugar, a rancher in Ruby Valley. Mrs. Guldugar is a graduate of the Normal department of the university and taught in Ruby Valley for one year after her graduation.

Grace Armbruster, prominent university graduate, became the bride of Forrest Bibb, '35, at one of the summer's most beautiful weddings at the St. Stephen's Episcopal chapel on July 22. They will reside in Carson City where Mr. Bibb is the public relations director for the unemployment compensation bureau.

At the Methodist church on June 8, Miss Ruth Palmer, '37, was married to Ellis Ceander, '36. Both prominent in university activities, Mrs. Ceander is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and Mr. Ceander is affiliated with the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. The couple are residing in Columbus, Miss.

The marriage of Miss Mary Pinjuv and Mr. Richard Carville, son of Judge and Mrs. E. P. Carville, took place on July 31. Mr. and Mrs. Carville will reside in Lovelock where he is connected with the Nevada state highway department. Mr. Carville formerly attended the university. He is affiliated with the ATO fraternity.

Another university romance was culminated on June 19 when Virginia Kearns, '37, became the bride of Mr. Carl Hill, university mining student. Mrs. Hill is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

At a home wedding, Miss Rose Sala was married to Mr. Girwin Bullis on June 16. Mrs. Bullis is a graduate of the university and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi honorary society. She also taught in the B. D. Billingshust junior high school and has been active in the Reno Little Theater.

Miss Blanche Keegan, university graduate, became the bride of Mr. Maurice B. Lewis, Jr., Reno postoffice employe, on July 2. Mrs. Lewis was affiliated with the Pi Beta Phi sorority while attending college.

Culminating a university romance Miss Gladys Morris and Mr. Joseph T. McDonnell became bride and groom on June 26. Mrs. McDonnell is affiliated with the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Mr. McDonnell is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Married in the same church as his parents were twenty-nine years ago, Mr. Harvey Vonsild of Reno took Miss Dorothy Pedersen of Oakland as his bride. Mr. Vonsild is a senior student at the university.

No Change Slated For News Bureau

For the first time in several years there will be no drastic change in the organization of the News Bureau which is designed for the purpose of sending news of the University of Nevada to out-of-town papers.

Under the directorship of Sybil Furchner, junior arts and science student, the bureau will continue in much the same manner as last year, with the exception that one or more persons will be assigned to write articles about students from a certain town for the entire semester.

Tryouts for the staff will be held some time next week and anyone interested in working on the staff is requested to watch the bulletin board for further notice of the time of tryouts. Besides reporters, anyone wishing to act in the capacity of secretary or typist will appear at the same time.

As a result of a vote by the student body, the 1931 track season saw the appearance of the last Nevada captain of a major sport on an athletic field.

Cashill Is Awarded Harvard Scholarship

William Cashill, former president of the associated students at Nevada, has been named recipient of a faculty scholarship at Harvard school of law, it was learned early this summer.

Cashill entered Harvard last fall after graduating from the University of Nevada. While attending university he served as student body president, was a member of the varsity debate team which won numerous championships, and was a star football player, being named all-conference center at the conclusion of the 1936 season.

He is spending the summer in Reno. Canoe burials were once practiced among some Indian tribes.

Start On Even Terms with Any Other Student

by getting the Pen that Has What It Takes to help you rate marks that you can write home about

Dear Mother and Dad,
We got our first-quarter quiz grades today and I think you'll be pleasantly surprised at mine:
92 Economics 89 math
90 English Lit. 86 Biology
94 Political Science
Incidentally, some of the credit ought to go to the New Parker Vacumatic Pen I bought. It sure makes writing easier.

You can SEE the level of ink at all times—see when to refill—so it won't run dry in classes or tests

Naturally, your Parents want you to start the new term on a par with anyone else in your class. That's why they'll want you to back your brains with a Pen like the revolutionary new Parker Vacumatic.

Its Scratch-proof Point of Platinum and 14-K Gold writes like a breeze because it's tipped with jewel-smooth Osmiridium, twice as costly as ordinary iridium.

And the Parker Vacumatic won't let you down by running dry unexpectedly in classes or quizzes. Held to the light it shows the ENTIRE ink supply—shows when to refill. And it holds such a copious reserve of ink to begin with that you need fill it only 3 or 4 times from one term to the next.

Go to any good pen counter today and try this pedigreed Beauty of laminated Pearl and Jet—a wholly exclusive and original Style. And look for the smart ARROW clip. This identifies the genuine and distinguishes the owner.

DRAPING the Frame . . .

What's new? A byword on the campus every year. With the masculine population of our fair U. of N. it might mean any number of things, but with the feminine half of this college world it has become a synonym for the latest in what to wear and what goes to make that wearing right.

As always, the best taste is the simplest. In clothes this year's thought is "upward swing," while in make up is "back-to-natural." We take our powder down to a mere dusting. . . mascara down to a suggestion and not a cosmetic advertisement. . . rouge only when absolutely necessary. . . lipstick to match a moderation of your coloring, preferably in the light and orange tints. These have a tendency to "lift," and lastly, penciled eyebrows (easily noticed) are taboo.

This upward swing in clothes applies for the most part to those silks and crepes worn to teas and dances. The shoulders and draped effects of these are all maneuvered with the upswing as an objective. Colors for these date dresses are usually carried as an accent alone, with the dress itself of a dull shade or black. Clips of a myriad of colors . . . suggestions of fur suede in all shapes and forms. . . buttons of quilting, pigskin, and mother of pearl.

For new wrinkles in campus clothes we find sweaters and skirts whose weaves and colors match exactly. . . skirts pleated all the way around, plaids of definite clans cut to swirl just a little (these, by the way, should be worn only by those slim-hipped girls who can stand the effect of an added pound or two) and those perfections of appropriateness, cardigan suits. These are collarless and button up to the neck. In a light mixed tweed these seem to go with anything and everything. If you crave to wear these and they seem to give you a gaunt look, try a soft contrasting scarf, rolled inside the neck, ascot inside with the top button undone or sailor outside the neck. Colors in the suits and skirts are good in teal blue, dulled mixture of blue and green; Wineberry, a glorified wine shade; spice brown, a continued shade of the popular British tan.

Variety in sweaters to go with these are the new "baby" sweaters of soft angora. Some of these are short waisted and the greater number of them are in the pastel shades so seldom seen in fall months of the year. A few new wrinkles in trimmings are initials for buttons, belt buckles and clips. Belts to make these sweaters more effective are of cork and leather, rafia, wide leather ones laced up the front and a finer edition of the studded cowboy belts our little brothers wear.

For days when the mists begin to fall, scarves are still a necessity but for those who like hats, roller felts turned down across the front are nice to match with your skirt or sweater or jacket. These rollers come in a variety of styles and among them anyone can find at least one type becoming.

Suggestions in shoes for this year include pigskin oxfords cut in the saddle style or in the newer ski-boot toes with the heavy crepe soles. These "dog-houses," as they are sometimes called, can be had also in a blue, a dark brown and a pale gray in reverse calf. The saddle oxford is as good as it ever was and just as much in de-

University Chapel To Open Sunday

Opening the fall semester at St. Stephen's House, the student religious center at University and Eighth streets, there will be special services in the chapel this Sunday at eleven o'clock.

With the new season, the chapel schedule has been changed to better accommodate members of the University, and hereafter the services will be every Sunday at 8 a. m., 11 a. m. and the vesper service at 6 p. m.

The first service of the academic year will be sung by the chapel choir to demonstrate the Tudor period of music, and all the music of the service and the hymns will be of the time of Queen Elizabeth. The following week the service will be sung in the music of the seventeenth century, with melodies and hymns of Orlando Gibbons and Henry Purcell, court musicians of Charles I.

The chaplain, the Rev. Henry B. Thomas, is preaching a course of sermons through September on "The Heart of Religion." St. Stephen's House is open at all times for the use of students and student groups, and visitors connected with the University are always welcomed. The chaplain is available at any time for student counsel.

A Plea—In the last few years, when every other college in the states has adapted the very practical and yet attractive vogue of bobby socks for campus, Nevada has seemed to have had an undefinable grudge against the idea. To every girl on the "Hill" this has been an expensive as well as a silly feeling. As a representative of that diminutive throng who think the shorties a good thought, but who seem to lack the initiative to make them a practice for fear of breaking a mythical tradition, I hereby ask you to, instead of snagging a pair of hose a day on desks and chairs of classrooms, wear short socks with all low heels to class.

—A la "Babs."

Nevada Grad Files For District Judge

Miles N. "Jack" Pike, Nevada graduate with the class of '24, has filed for the candidacy of district judge in the second judicial district in Washoe county.

If elected, Pike will be the first University of Nevada graduate to sit upon a judicial district bench.

While on the campus he took an

Ninety Piece Band Predicted by Post

A band of over ninety pieces was predicted today by Professor T. H. Post, music department head, as new enrollees swelled membership to over eighty. Included in the enrollment were seven girl stick "twirlers" and two boys who will "front" the band on parade days.

Plans were underway to promote the band's trip to Las Vegas for the Nevada-Arizona game scheduled for September 24 with new special maneuvers slated to please the crowd. Ruben Tuttle will assist Professor Post in directing the band again this year, it was said.

Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary band fraternity, announced that it would back the band in preparation for the trip. A meeting of the fraternity to discuss the matter has been set for next Tuesday, Pio Mastroianni, fraternity head, stated.

A meeting of the band, held Thursday afternoon in the barracks, saw over eighty members assembled. Plans were made to distribute musical instruments and uniforms today.

As far as can be determined, nobody ever learned anything listening to himself talk.

active part in various organizations, and after graduating was elected president of the U. N. alumna association.

Vice-president and dean of the college of arts and sciences, who is returning to his duties after serving several months of the year as acting president of the university in the absence of President Walter E. Clark, who was vacationing in southern California.

You can't expect to get anything on the cuff if you already have lost your shirt.

Band to Include Accordion Section

Addition of an accordion section to the university band will be made this year, according to Professor Theodore Post, head of the music department.

All students playing an accordion are requested to get in touch with Professor Post immediately so that work on this section may begin in preparation for the possible trip to Las Vegas for the Nevada-Arizona football game.

Tryouts for drum major positions in the band will be held September 6 at 4 o'clock, with the drum major position being absolutely competitive. Besides the head drum major, a number of women drum majors are wanted and all who are interested should report on the sixth for tryouts.

Plans for the year are to have close to one hundred band members, making it the largest in the history of the university.

Vernon Wines, Sigma Nu and head of the interfraternity council, will spend the Labor Day vacation in Boulder City.

U. N. GRADUATE LAUDED IN "LIFE"

Helen Lewis, former University of Nevada student, is described in an advertisement in a current issue of Life magazine as one of the foremost television actresses in the United States. She is now a member of the popular "March of Time" radio company.

Active in dramatics while on the Nevada campus, she was selected by the famous director, Max Reinhardt, to understudy Olivia de Havilland in the stage version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." She was given the leading role of "Hermia" in the Reinhardt production when Miss de Havilland left the cast.

While on the Nevada campus, Miss Lewis was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority.

On the list of those taking advantage of the approaching Labor Day vacation are Gene Wines, who is to spend the week-end in Boulder City; and Ver-na Bullis, Eileen Mahoney, Mary Mahoney and Gertrude Polander who are planning to visit Winnemucca over the vacation.

250 Frosh Attend Orientation Class

Leaders and Profs Greet Newcomers

An average of more than 250 freshman students attended the five-day orientation program which began on Monday, August 31, at 3:15 in the auditorium of the Education Building. These two-hour classes have replaced the former orientation course which was given for the entire term.

In charge was a committee composed of Chairman S. Allen Lough, associate professor of chemistry; Claude C. Smith, associate professor of history and political science, and Ralph A. Irwin, associate professor of psychology. The first day, objectives of the program were stated by Dr. Lough. Mr. Smith described the contributions of the social sciences; Dr. Lough, the contributions of the physical sciences, and Charles R. Hicks, professor of history and political science, stated which courses were open to freshmen and spoke on student and faculty relations.

Leaders Presented
On Tuesday, student leaders were presented and a greeting given to the new students by David Goldwater, president of the A. S. U. N. Miss Mack, dean of women and associate professor of biology, was presented. Reuben C. Thompson, dean of men and professor and head of the department of philosophy, spoke on "The Spirit of Democracy"; and President Walter Clark described the ideals of the University of Nevada.

Song books were sold before class so that another feature of the afternoon was the singing of University songs by the chorus and assembled students under the leadership of Theodore Post, professor and head of the department of music.

Student Aids
On Wednesday, half-hour speeches were given as follows: James P. Young, professor and head of the department of psychology, "Personality and Vocation"; Ralph A. Irwin, associate professor of psychology, "How to Study"; John R. Gottardi, associate professor of modern languages, "The Student's Pocketbook." Dr. Lough introduced the speakers and made announcements. Books entitled "How to Study" were on sale before and after class for thirty-five cents.

This concluded the regular orientation program. Class periods on Thursday and Friday afternoons were devoted to mental tests under the supervision of Ralph A. Irwin.

Frosh to Elect Class Manager Next Week

Election of the freshman manager for the ensuing school year will be held during the middle of next week, Dave Goldwater, ASUN proxy, said today.

All freshmen students are urged to attend the meeting when it is called, not only to get their first insight on the workings of university elections but to also foster class spirit.

Any freshman is eligible to be nominated by members of the freshman class. Rules of conduct for the election are governed by the general election clauses in the ASUN Constitution.

U. of N. Places Three R.O.T.C. Men in Army Drill

Out of ten men selected by competitive drill at the Monterey summer training camp to represent the ninth corps area at Camp Perry, Ohio, three, Ed Barrett, Harry Galloway and Clinton McKinley, were from the University of Nevada R. O. T. C.

Camp Perry is the scene of the nation shooting matches which will be in session for approximately a month, lasting from the sixteenth of August to September seventeenth, at which time the three Nevada students will return to resume their courses of study.

Besides having three men on the corps area rifle team, the Nevada delegation at the summer camp won additional honors by having three men qualify as sharpshooters and five qualifying as expert riflemen.

Those qualifying as sharpshooters were Fred McIntyre, Clinton McKinley and Ben Morehouse. Those men qualifying for expert riflemen awards were Dick Sauer, Ben Cardinal, Ed Barrett, Harry Galloway and Clinton McKinley.

Nevada was represented by a fourteen man unit at the Monterey training camp.

Kathleen Meeks Offered Movie Position

Kathleen Meeks, prominent senior arts and science student, was offered a motion picture position this summer as a result of screen tests made during the Reno Rodeo.

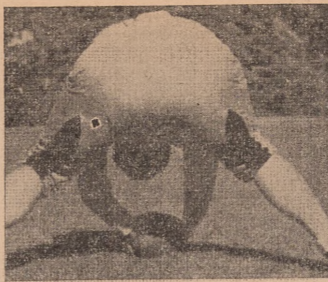

Miss Meeks was contacted first by mail and later personally interviewed by a representative of a Hollywood film corporation. Another interview will be held the twenty-first of this month.

As yet no definite arrangements have been made. Miss Meeks stated that she hoped to complete her college work at Nevada before considering any offers. It is possible, however, that she may do picture work this winter in connection with the Nevada Unlimited office.

Miss Meeks officiated as Queen of the Reno Rodeo over the Fourth of July celebration this summer. As a part of her queenship she made a trip to San Francisco via United Air Lines where she was met and entertained by the San Francisco Theme Girl, Mayor Rossi and other officials. A trip by boat around the bay and to Treasure Island was one of the features of this trip.

Miss Meeks has held several honorary positions on the campus, such as women's upperclass chairman, finance control member, Honorary Majors of '37 and Mackay Day Queen of '38.

Mining Students Attend Field Work

Eight students of the Mackay School of Mines attended the annual twelve week tour of mines and the practical fieldwork classes last summer.

Students attending were: Robert Cleary, Eugene Grutt, Evelio Hernandez, Harvey Kolhoss, William Osborne, Martin Smythe, Milton Steinhilber and Sam Wilson.

The party was under the supervision of J. A. Carpenter, acting director of the Mackay School of Mines, Professor Vincent P. Gianelli, head of the geological department, H. E. Wheeler, assistant professor of geology and Dr. Lemmon of Stanford university, who was full-time assistant.

Of the time allotted for the tours and camps of the party, six weeks were spent at the S. Frank Hunt geological camp at Eureka; four weeks at a prospecting camp located in White Pine county in the vicinity of the Grand Deposit zinc mine and two weeks of extensive tours which covered districts in this state, the Grass Valley district in California and the Mercur mining center in Utah.

The opportunity for various staff members of the Mackay School of Mines to take students in mining on these field trips was provided by the S. Frank Hunt Foundation.

Blue Key Program For Semester Is Announced

A tentative program of projects and activities to be launched by Blue Key, national service organization, was announced by President Maurice Sheppard yesterday.

The 1938-39 campus directory will be the first business of the organization. Work on the book will commence upon the close of registration. According to Sheppard, the directory will be similar to that of last year with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of every university student and department head.

Further plans and a committee to handle the publication of the book will be made at the next Blue Key meeting.

Co-Athletic Plans
Blue Key is also arranging for a co-athletic program in connection with the campus Women's Athletic Association. A definite list of sports and calendar will not be arranged until after the sorority rushing season.

Sheppard also hopes to revive the Blue Key weekly social hours upon the approval of Miss Margaret Mack, dean of women.

Other Blue Key activities will include work at the Wolves Frolic, campus novelty show, work at the football games and general campus projects.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

A CHALLENGE . . . For many years past, there has been in the Sagebrush for the convenience of the students, this semi-column entitled "Letters to the Editor."

For the most part, the column has seldom been read by the majority of the students and even more scarcely contributed to with usable materials. Even when questions arise on the campus which vitally concern every student and probably even the administration of the university, still only non-sensical quips have been tendered to the editor.

This "Letter to the Editor" column may well be used as the safety valve of the campus if the students so will. Instead of the "behind the back" whisperings which leave no one a clear idea of the situation, the Editor of the Sagebrush invites the associated students of the University of Nevada to use this column to air any questions or problems which the students may wish to have made known.

The editor assures the students that any letters that are within reason will not be edited except to be governed by newspaper standards.

Editor Sagebrush: I am writing you this note out of a desire to add to the efficiency and prestige of our university. During the past college year and the 1938 summer session of the University had as an assistant professor in history, Dr. Charles L. Stewart whose work here was a valuable contribution to the department of history and of the greatest educational value to those who were afforded the opportunity to receive instruction from him.

Besides his ability, he has a fine personality and an unusually keen power of estimating the understanding and capacity of his students. He contributed materially to the most successful summer session in the history of the university and his addition to the staff was an asset that returned great reward.

AN ALUMNUS, SUMMER STUDENT AND TEACHER.

STATE OF NEVADA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER
CARSON CITY

August 26, 1938.

Honorable Harley A. Harmon
Reno, Nevada.

My dear Harley:

I wish to compliment and congratulate you for your forceful and clean campaign for the Governorship of this State.

For four years we have been closely associated for the welfare of our people, and I had every opportunity to observe your integrity and efficiency in office. You have indeed given me fine assistance and a splendid administration of your office as Chairman of the Public Service Commission of Nevada.

A myriad of your friends resent the insidious whispering campaign that has been made against you, to the effect that you are in some manner affiliated with gambling interests.

Because of my intimate knowledge of your ideals, I know there can be no truth whatever in such whisperings.

Sincerely yours,

RICHARD KIRMAN,

Governor.

WIN EVERYTHING WITH WORDEN

The New Deal Physician

DR. WORDEN will for six years give non-secret, non-skid, home control of one U. S. Senator's vote from Nevada to the State Farm and Labor Organizations. Wisconsin was first with the primary, Nevada should be first with home control. Home control means that the farmers and wage earners have the initiative to vote one U. S. Senator. To obtain home control at once you must nominate and elect JOHN E. WORDEN, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator. He will give the President every possible support unless the farmers and workers order a "No" vote. Dr. Worden's life-long record of always having been for the people is offered as proof of his sincerity in making this offer of home control of his vote if he is elected by your vote to be your senator.

To be obliged to obey the people will be very pleasant for Dr. Worden, who has always thought the workers of this educated age should take their rightful place in government.

It is impossible for any president during the next six years to want to give the people more than Dr. Worden would want them to have.

If you, Mr. and Mrs. Worker, would like to have others help you to secure home control of one U. S. Senator's vote from Nevada, it will be appreciated if you will discuss it with your neighbors or write ten letters to voters with a view to nominating John E. Worden on Primary Election Day, September 6, 1938.

On that day you can vote a big surprise and make possible the Win Everything With Worden in November. It will start workers' home control in every state in 1940.

Do not pass up this, your first chance for home control, and then wait a long, long time for another candidate like Dr. Worden with the courage to offer you everything after election for the full six years of a Senator's term of office.

Do not be content to drift along from election to election with little to vote for. Do it now, talk to your neighbors, write to your friends, because in Dr. Worden you have a life-long friend who has the courage to give the people six years of non-secret, home control by the State Farm and Labor Organizations vote of one U. S. Senator from Nevada.

Thanks for mailing this advertisement to a voter living in Southern or Northern Nevada.

Summer Session Said 3rd Largest

Enrollment Surpasses 1937 Figures; Most Successful

The Summer Session of the University of Nevada, third largest in the history of the school, was said today by Fred W. Traner, dean of the education department and head of the Summer Session to have been one of the most popular and most successful ever held.

Enrollment totaled 147 students, an increase of 14 students over the 1937 figure, and was third largest enrollment, the two sessions having a greater number of students being 1925 with 165, and 1930 with 149.

Much of the popularity of this summer's school was attributed to the fact that for the first time in the session's history advanced and graduate courses were made applicable to B. A. and M. A. degrees, Traner said, Eighteen courses applying toward degrees were offered this summer.

Varied Representation

The enrollment showed a representation from thirteen states, 116 being from Nevada and 31 from the other twelve states. Of the total, 102 were professional teachers, 36 were University students, and nine were unclassified.

The highlights of the session, Traner stated, were the public assemblies given during the course, and the picnics and outings taken by the entire student body. Among the assemblies was one held at the beginning of the school in honor of Miss Mildred Bray, state superintendent of public instruction.

Moving Pictures

Educational moving pictures were shown throughout an entire day to all the students. The pictures were an exemplification of most of the courses given this summer, Traner explained.

The presentation of the University's hour program over the NBC network on July 20 was one of the most interesting events of the school, Traner said. An assembly of all students and the public was held immediately before the broadcast and during the program.

Outings and picnics were taken at many of the nearby beauty spots. Incline, Bower's Mansion, Lake Tahoe and Lawton's Springs were among the places visited.

In addition to the regular scholastic subjects, a janitorial course was offered for the first time. It consisted of all the modern phases of janitorial work and was attended by approximately 70 persons.

POST LOSES SLEEP OVER LOST BASS-VOICE SINGER

Who has the lowest bass voice in school?

That is what Professor Post would like to know, for this riddle is keeping him awake nights—and for a very good reason too!

This summer Prof. arranged "Cradle of the Deep" as a very low bass solo with a choral accompanying. Paul Senter, who last year proved to have the lowest voice in the history of the university, was to star in production of Post's arrangement of this well-known song.

But here's the catch. Senter did not return to school this semester.

"I was all ready to show him off, and now he's gone," Post moaned.

Besides finding the singer to fit his song, Post also has Handel's "Messiah" troubles again. For the second time in the history of the glee club he will lead the songsters in this production at a public concert in December.

Lincoln Hall Filled For First Semester

With only 1010 students enrolled to date, Lincoln Hall is having an unprecedented rush, according to Prof. Harwood, Hall master.

"The hall has been full since August 15, and twenty-six applicants have already been turned away," Harwood said.

Coleman to Begin Freshman Football Season Wednesday

Schedule Will Include Two Home Games and Four Trips

Fresh footballers will report for their physical tests Tuesday afternoon, and Wednesday is set for the first practice session. Jim Coleman, who again assumes mentorship of the yearlings, announced yesterday.

Six games round out the complete schedule facing the freshmen with trips to Menlo Park and Cedar City, Utah, outstanding features of the season. Compton Junior College, which fell victim to last year's frosh team, also is on the schedule for one of the frosh's two home games.

State Hi Stars

Depending almost entirely upon former Nevada High School stars to make up the team, Coleman is anxiously awaiting the turnout of these men. Heading the list and signifying his intention of playing freshman ball is Wesley Schager, three year letter man and all state player from Las Vegas. Other men expected to report are Jack Ward and Bill Harrington of Reno, Pete Rosaschi from Yerington, Tommy and Clark Guild from the San Diego Military Academy and George Frey from Fallon.

The loss of Reno's two outstanding all-stars, Bob McDonald and Frank Peterson who have enrolled at Santa Clara, may be keenly felt by the yearling squad, Coleman stated.

Northwestern School Of Coaching Is Praised

Returning from the Northwestern school of coaching early this week, Head Coach Doug Dashiell expressed belief that the school was perhaps the most successful of its type ever held.

Tutored by a staff including Bo McMillan of Indiana, Lyn Waldorf of Northwestern, Harry Kipke late of Michigan, Ducky Pond of Yale, A. J. Robertson of Bradley Tech, and Fred C. Thomsen of Arkansas—all coaches of the College All-Stars, who Wednesday night decisively whipped the Washington Redskins—Dashiell and dozens of other coaches had every phase and type of football thorough discussed for them.

While at the school, Dashiell had opportunity to watch the All-Stars work out, as the squad was used for demonstration purposes at the coaching school. The Redskins, with Vic Carroll, former Nevada fullback, now playing at center for the pros, and Chuck Bond, another Reno boy doing likewise at tackle, according to Dashiell, arrived at the camp too late to participate in coaching school demonstrations.

The schedule for the season is:

- October 1—Lassen J. C., Reno.
- October 8—Placer J. C., Auburn.
- October 15—Branch Agricultural College, Cedar City, Utah.
- October 21—Compton J. C., Reno.
- November 5—Lassen J. C., Susanville.
- November 12—Menlo J. C., Menlo Park.

You can't believe everything that you hear—but you can repeat it.

LINE COACH

Working with the newly appointed coach, S. H. Betsinger, Chet Scranton, former coach and Nevada gridder, hopes to develop a Wolf forward wall that will be second to none in the Far Western Conference.

HARNESS BULLS HAUNT OLD GROUNDS

They can't stay away!

Staff members of the Sagebrush were fully convinced of this point this week when they saw Willis Dalzell and John Brackett, business manager and editor of the Sagebrush last year, wandering around the Student Union building with lonesome, yearning gleams in their eyes.

Dalzell, who is enrolled in school again this semester, was a frequent visitor in the office during the week, but vigorously denied accusations that he would like to be back "in the harness" again. He declared he just came around to renew acquaintances, and

Fencing Courses to Be Offered for Students

Fencing for both men and women will be offered this semester under the direction of Ike Caraco, university student, it was announced last night by heads of the women's physical education department.

The first meeting of the club will be held tonight at seven o'clock in the gymnasium, and all those who are interested in the project are urged to attend.

Caraco will speak to the group and explain the cost and manner of obtaining equipment for the sport. He will give an exhibition later in the evening with several other students who participated in his class for men last year.

Highly Recommended

The instructor is highly recommended by fencing authorities on the Pacific coast according to Katherine Schnell, physical education instructor. He engaged in the Olympic games tryouts in 1936 and served as a director of the sport at Los Angeles Junior College.

Caraco also conducted a class in fencing for the men living in Lincoln Hall last year, and if his plans are successful, he will combine that group with the newcomers who wish to participate in the sport.

"maybe give Ross a little advice."

The sudden appearance of Brackett on Thursday night brought a laugh from the staff members, who suspected the lure of Thursday night sessions was responsible for his appearance. Brackett, however, stated he had come "to sner and gloat" at being able to go home before the wee hours of the morning.

Observe Nevada traditions.

Ski Champ to Enroll at Nevada

A welcome was formally extended to Dick Mitchell, Pacific coast ski champion, who arrived in Reno yesterday by Don McMeekin, president of the University Ski Club, to join the varsity ski club and participate in the meets planned for the season.

Mitchell, who held honors at the Yosemite ski meet last year where he ranked first and second in down-hill and slalom events, will enroll at the university today and tomorrow. Mitchell was also credited with making an excellent showing at Sun Valley Lodge, Idaho, where he participated in the international ski meet held there last year.

THREE TO RECEIVE TENNIS SWEATERS

Frank Goodner, Ross Ashley and Gene Petersen were named this week by Chester Scranton, varsity tennis coach, as being eligible for circle "N" sweaters.

The three men, high-ranking tennis players, will receive their award when the Finance Control committee meets early this semester. Approval for the awards must come through the committee, it was stated.

Superior play, according to Coach Scranton, in the Far-Western meet and other competition, including winning of dual meets, last year made the men eligible. All three are enrolled at the university this semester.

The record time of 4 minutes 25 seconds for the mile at Nevada was set in 1915 by G. Ogilvie, '15.

Nevada Athlete Plays in Pro Competition

Vic Carroll, outstanding Nevada athlete, of several years ago, made a determined bid for professional honors Wednesday night in the College All-Stars Redskins football game, played in Chicago before an estimated crowd of ninety thousand persons.

Carroll played one of the best defensive games of the evening and time after time stopped determined all-star plunges through the center of the professional Redskins line.

He started the game for the Redskins and received a tremendous hand from the assembled thousands when he left the game in the final minutes of play.

Carroll graduated from the University of Nevada in 1935 after completing a very active career, both in athletics and in student affairs. He was a three-letter athlete while at the university and was a member of the Wolf Pack varsity football team that defeated the St. Mary's varsity, 9-7, in 1934. He is affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

1938 Football Schedule

- College of Idaho—Sept. 24, Reno.
- Arizona State—Oct. 1, Las Vegas.
- Chico State—Oct. 8, Reno.
- Colorado State—Oct. 14, Greeley.
- Fresno State—Oct. 22, Reno (Homecoming).

Football Dinner Planned by J. C. C.

The official opening of the '38 football season will take place September 9 when the Reno Junior Chamber of Commerce will honor the gridgers and coaches at a rally dinner in the Odd Fellows Hall.

The dinner will be attended by prominent Reno business men who have given the Nevada teams their whole-hearted support, and also the sports writers of the local papers.

The football team will be represented by the letter men of their group. Members of the coaching staff also will be present.

EIGHT TRACK MEN TO RECEIVE LETTERS

Eight members of the 1938 track team have fulfilled requirements for letters and have been recommended to the finance control for awards and membership in the Block N society, Track Coach Jim Coleman announced this week.

Among those recommended for awards are Walt Powers, sprints; Bob Cameron, pole vault; Ferron Bunker, javelin and high jump; Pio Mastriani, John Barrett and Marvin Moler for the two-mile; Ken Da in the broad jump, and Track Manager John Etchemendy.

Kenny Day and Walt Powers were lettermen from last year's squad while the others will be receiving their first track award.

Stanford Student Teaches Nevadans New Mining Tricks

Does Night Prospecting Aided by Violet Ray Lamp

University of Nevada mining students learned a new wrinkle in prospecting this week—from a Stanford mining graduate.

John Heizer, of Lovelock, does his prospecting at night—with the aid of an ultra-violet ray lantern—and sleeps in the daytime.

Heizer prospected for tungsten ore, from which tungstic acid is derived with the aid of the lamp, whose rays cause the tungsten to fluoresce, or give off a greenish light.

Heizer's father, O. M. Heizer, general manager of the Nevada-Massachusetts mine near Mill City, which produces 60 per cent of all the tungsten ore mined in the United States, explained the method in an interview with the United Press.

"All transparent and translucent minerals have a certain refractive index," the elder Heizer pointed out, "that measures their ability to reflect light. In ordinary sunlight or electric light, scheelite, or tungstate of lime, one of the tungsten ores, looks like ordinary.

"In the last two years we have perfected an ultra-violet ray that will penetrate scheelite to a pre-determined depth of three one-thousandths of an inch and cause it to fluoresce. This luminescence or glow is caused by the interference of the reflected ray with the incoming ray.

"This ray causes only the tungsten ore to glow, since when it shines on quartz or other minerals, there is no fluorescence. We have two mines producing tungsten ore. The scheelite in one mine gives a white fluorescence; that in the other gives a bluish color."

By using rays of different anstrom units, Heizer said, it is possible to get other transparent and translucent mineral ores to glow. He pointed out that zinc ore from New Jersey will glow red and green under the lamp, but zinc ores from southern Nevada or any other region in the country will not reflect the ray.

"We have attributed this unusual fact to some impurity in the New Jersey ore or some structural strain in the crystals of the ore. We have tried zinc ore from at least 1000 other localities and none of it glows like the New Jersey ore."

Tungsten ore fluoresces in at least four different colors—white, cream, pale blue and dark blue—depending upon the amount of molybdenum or other impurities in the ore, Heizer said. The ores look exactly the same in daylight.

"A few months ago we had several hundred dollars worth of concentrates stolen from our mill," the Nevada-Massachusetts mine manager related. "A suspect named Dan Harris was picked up in Los Angeles with some tungsten concentrates.

"We prepared a cardboard with 40 samples of tungsten ores from every known deposit in the United States. Under our violet ray lamp and before the eyes of the Los Angeles district attorney, we compared all of the samples with pieces of the concentrates that Harris had with him. Harris' ore, under our lamp, compared exactly only with the samples from our mines, although they looked the same in daylight.

"The district attorney was convinced of Harris' guilt. He was returned to Lovelock and is now serving a term in the Nevada penitentiary."

Heizer asserted the federal bureau of identification is using similar lamps for the exact identification of hair, bands, checks, and other materials.

FUNNY BLUNDERS

To give Freshmen an idea of how to give clear-cut, accurate definitions, we reprint a selection from H. Cecil Hunt's "Howlers" collected from examination papers in English schools:

A myth is a female moth.

A blizzard is the inside of a fowl.

An oasis is a futile spot in a desert.

Dust is mud with the juice squeezed out.

In the United States people are put to death by elocution.

Ambiguous means having two wives and not being able to get rid of them.

An optimist is a man who looks at your eyes, a pessimist looks after your feet.

Shakespeare was a very polite man. He often said "Go to" but he never finished the sentence.

Use of the ray for mining was developed by Richard Segrstrom, president of the Nevada-Massachusetts company.

Heizer said that Dr. Paul F. Kerr, professor of mineralogy at Columbia University, uses the ray for gem work for Tiffany's, New York, making it possible to identify gems instantly.

"As a matter of fact," Heizer said, "a lady placed her diamond ring with three stones under our lamp and found that one of them was bogus—much to her surprise."

When the lamp was first developed it was cumbersome and required a connection with an electric light plug. Recently developed are the portable lamps weighing about five pounds with the electrical energy furnished by two batteries.

"It is this portable lamp that my son John has used in his night prospecting for the past two years," Heizer said. "Of course, he selects geologically possible areas and searches only for tungsten ores."

The will-o'-the-wisp prospector has covered lime-granite contact formations all over southern Nevada and the Humboldt region of northern Nevada for possible outcroppings. He hasn't discovered anything of commercial value yet, but the possibility is still strong.

"Of course, we use the lamps in blocking out ore in our underground mines at Mill City," Ott Heizer explained. "They have proved of inestimable benefit in locating the tungsten ore quickly."

CLASS DISTINCTIONS

From the Los Angeles Junior Collegian we derived this choice bit of interpretation: A freshman is like a pie before baking; a sophomore is like a pie that is half baked; a junior is a pie with too much crust, but a senior is like a pie that has soaked too long. . . . Aren't we lucky that there are no seniors of that type here!

U. C. Journalism Major Is Closed

SEPT. 1.—University of California—The departmental major in journalistic studies is closed for the term. Charles H. Raymond, head of the department, said yesterday.

Confronted by three Ice Box letters demanding to know why students with two years' preparation for the major could not get into the department, Professor Raymond said "nothing could be done about the situation."

The three students who protested, as well as the "friends" mentioned in the letter, were considered as carefully as those who were allowed to take the major, Professor Raymond said. Selection was made "on the basis of academic standing and interest in journalism, which took into consideration actual participation on a publication."

No more students can be enrolled, he explained, because the room allotted to the department has already been filled to capacity. There are 27 students now assigned to journalistic studies 101, which is required for the major, whereas the usual allotment in an upper division course is 12 to 15.

Professor Raymond pointed out that no less than 12 units, or only three less than the required number for a major, may be taken by a non-major. The courses making up the 12-unit quota are those numbered 100A, 100B, 110, and 111.

He protested the charges of "dictatorship" leveled at him by "Griped '39," "Very Irked '40," and "Jilted Journalist." The pressure on the whole University is already heavy enough, he said, and the administration is in charge of expenditures on each department.

The appointment of Edwin Emery '35, former editor of The Californian, as his assistant, was "about all he could do."

"The future of the department of journalistic studies," Raymond concluded, "is a matter of guesswork."

AN EDITOR

A sophomore from De Paul University, Wisconsin, defines an editor: "The editor should have an insatiable curiosity about everything. You have doubtless heard of the difference between a scientist and an editor. The scientist is a man who knows a great deal about a very little. He keeps on learning more and more about less and less until he knows practically everything about nothing. An editor on the other hand, is a man who knows very little about a great deal. He keeps on learning less and less about more and more till he knows practically nothing about everything.—St. Mary's Collegian.

Meandering . . . without obvious destination or purpose . . . an editorial pastime akin to Frosh threading the labyrinthine spread of our "campus" . . . brings us to the fact that knowledge absorbed by Frosh varies inversely as the square of the distance from the blackboard . . . and reminds us "a bolt is a thing like a stick of hard metal such as iron with a square bunch on the one end and a lot of scratching wound around the other end. A nut is similar to a bolt only just the opposite being a hole in a little chunk of iron sawed off short with wrinkles around the inside of the hole."

HEAD MAN

Snapped in a characteristic attitude, Head Coach Doug Dashiell is at present watching his aspiring crew of spiders perform on Mackay field prior to the regular season. The Pack is undergoing a series of unlimbering exercises which, it is hoped, will put the pigskin tossers in shape to begin serious training on September 10 when Dashiell will take charge. He is unable to do so at the present, due to a Far Western conference ruling which officially opens the football season on September 10.

Males Satisfied With U. N. Coeds

Male students are well pleased with this year's coed enrollment, according to a survey of opinions taken today. When asked the perpetual question, "What do you think of this year's freshman women class?" we got the following replies:

"At the get-together dance, I knew immediately that I could find a partner to 'Big Apple' with me to fame and glory in Hollywood," said Clifford Quilici, junior class manager. Tom Beko, the persistent deer hunter, replied: "From the appearances of the sweet young things arriving on the campus, it looks to me like this is Nevada's year."

"This is the best crop since the hard winter of 1929," state Jim Griswold. "Prettier than evr," said Olinto Barantini as his eyes followed a freshman blonde across the university tram.

But Bob Parker has a different angle: "For two years I have watched the frosh women come and go, and, as an experienced Piper, was fully prepared to see the same thing this year. However, this year is different—the crop is different—and when autumn comes around and the harvest is taken in a new record will have been made—a bumper crop of frosh women." "Wow," says Frank McCulloch.

The 220-yard hurdles record at Nevada was made by F. O'Bryan, '34, with the time of 24 seconds.

The biggest issue facing Doug Dashiell this coming season is grounded in a handicap almost impossible to overcome—inexperience. Gone is last year's backfield combination of Eaton, Twombly, Grubbs, Robb and Bennett, leaving Dick Taylor the remaining backfield man with experience. And it was learned this week that Taylor may be ineligible to play this year. Pat Eaton returning for his best year at blocking half-back was decreed ineligible by the new conference ruling that two-year junior college players could play only two years of college football instead of three.

Brightest spot on the line is the return of big Harry Bradley, former three-year letterman at Nevada, still eligible for another season, as he started school before the three-year ruling went into effect.

Still another bit of news is the rumor that Russell Byeington, who still has another season of football left to play, will report for practice next week. If it happens to be so, there will be one guard spot Doug can almost forget for the rest of the season, as Russ is a lot of football player. His previous record can attest to that.

Johnny Polish, star of last year's frosh team, will be in town this weekend, ready for his first year as a varsity griddier after a summer spent in the mines at Ely, Nevada. He and Mitch Cobega will be fighting Walt Powers for the first string berth as running back.

According to Doug Dashiell the toughest opposition the Wolves will meet, Fresno State excepted, will be the second game of the season when they move south to play Arizona State at Las Vegas, October 1. Arizona has a unique team that boasts a full two hundred pound Indian line and a ten second backfield.

Incidentally, Arizona State has been giving southern California teams plenty of opposition, beating both Santa Barbara State and San Diego last year, to go through an undefeated season.

However, Doug has a hold on Butcher Memorial Field at Las Vegas. During his reign as high school coach at Las Vegas he never lost a game to another high school team on the field—and he hopes to keep his record intact by winning his first college game there.

The inter-fraternity sports program will be outlined this afternoon when a representative of each frat on the hill will meet with Chet Scranton in the gym. Heading the list will be volley ball, followed by handball, horse shoes and the homecoming day cross country race.

vada that it hasn't a large enough coaching staff will have to revert to another attack with the signing of H. S. Betsinger as assistant line coach for the varsity and Pat Eaton as assistant to Jim Coleman with the freshmen. Betsinger has not arrived as yet because of an automobile accident in which his wife was badly hurt and himself slightly injured. The accident occurred when they were returning from a visit to the university preparatory to moving here.

The outlook for this year's freshman team isn't so bright according to Freshman Coach Jim Coleman. Only a few of last year's high school stars have enrolled and plan to carry on their football activities at Nevada. Biggest loss was Reno high's all-tars, Frankie Peterson and Bob McDonald who have headed to southern California to play for Buck Shaw's Santa Clara Broncos. New suits for the varsity have been ordered by the athletic department and according to Dashiell they will be as snappy and colorful as the ones the Wolves sported last season. These will be different, however, he said, and will be very clever in design.

Calesthenics and dummy scrimmage will be the full routine for the footballers until the coaches are allowed by conference ruling to take over the team on September 10, by which time the players should be in good shape.

Kenny Richards, '38, holds the broad jump record of 24 feet 7 3-4 inches for Nevada.

The javelin record at Nevada is 193 feet 2 inches and is held by A. LeFebvre, '34.

Over 50 Gridders Report for First Practice Session

Many Lettermen Gone; New Rookies May Strengthen Team

Over fifty varsity football men assembled on Mackay field yesterday afternoon to inaugurate the beginning of the 1938 football practice session.

Suits were issued this week and practice will consist of exercising drills and calisthenics for the first few days. Due to the Far-Western conference ruling, Doug Dashiell, head football coach, and his two assistants, Chet Scranton and S. H. Betsinger, will not take the field until September 10.

Fourteen lettermen from last year's Pack are missing from the roster this year, but the enlistment of several California transfers and members from the 1937 frosh team is expected to give Dashiell added strength in both the line and backfield.

End Replacements

On the line, both McKinnon and Basta, two of the best ends in the conference last year, are gone. This gap will have to be filled by Fred Galloway, Neal Campbell, John Wilard, Lee Barrett, John Sala, Hank Clayton, Elwin Trigerro, Al Collier or Ira Ferris.

McIntyre, last year's star center, is out, which leaves the center position open and Gustafson, right tackle, has graduated. For centers, Dashiell has Ted Demosthenes, Bob Tapia from Santa Monica Junior College; Jack Beach, Clyde Eaton, brother of Pat Eaton, and Jim Griswold.

The right guard post, formerly held by Joe Lommori, will probably be filled by Jim Sullivan, Eli Nickovich, Joe McDonald, Ned Dickson, Hugh Chesher, Olinto Barsanti or Riley Lee.

Pat Eaton, noted place-kicker, will be enlisted on the coaching staff instead of the players roster, because of a recent conference ruling which limits junior college transfers to only two years of university competition.

Backfield Hopes

Grubbs, Powell, Metten and Twombly are gone from the backfield but here Dashiell will have an abundance of new material. Candidates for the backfield positions include John Polish, Len Carpenter, Del Stewart, Bob Paile, Clyde Vinson, Bill Kirken-dill, Mitch Cobeaga, Henry Mayer, Jim Baraw, Chuck Whitham, Bill Peccole, Walt Powers, Jack Rhoades, Kirk Herrick, Pete Linson and Frank Beloso.

For tackles there will be Harry Bradley, Louis Spitz, Hank Bryant, Joe Kievit, Lawson Sullivan, Dale Miller, Ray Garamendi, Hal Collier, Bob Cash, Milton Fulton, John Giomi and Wallace Ausman.

After taking over the squad, the coaching staff will have two weeks with the players before the Nevada Wolves meet the College of Idaho on Mackay field.

The rest of the schedule will be Arizona State at Las Vegas, Oct. 1; Chico State at Reno, Oct. 8; Colorado State at Greeley, Oct. 14; Fresno State at Reno, Oct. 22 (Homecoming); College of Pacific at Stockton, Oct. 28; Cal Aggies at Davis, Nov. 5; San Francisco State at Reno, Nov. 11, and San Diego State at Reno, Nov. 24 (Thanksgiving).

According to Dashiell a complete outfit of varsity equipment has been ordered, including some unique uniforms which will be kept secret until the opening game.

FINALIST

One of the outstanding women athletes in the University of Nevada, Earlmound Baker this week reached the finals of the state women's tennis tournament. Although she was upset by Shirley Marshall, Theta star, in the inter-mural tournament last year, she has served notice by her performance in the state tennis that she will be top contestant for the title this year.

Betsinger Resigns From Nevada Job After Auto Wreck

S. H. Betsinger, who was to be line coach at Nevada for the coming season, was forced to change his plans when his wife was seriously injured in an automobile accident last month.

Returning to Los Angeles after a short trip to Reno, Betsinger and his wife were involved in a bad crash in southern California.

Betsinger himself was not hurt badly, but Mrs. Betsinger will be confined to the hospital for at least three months. Until she is able to walk, Betsinger cannot leave her alone, so will be unable to fulfill his position at Nevada.

The vacancy will be filled by Duane Keller, former Las Vegas line coach, who helped Dashiell win four championships at Las Vegas high school.

Take an active interest in your student government—it won't run by itself.

The height of tough luck is to get rid of halitosis and find that you are still unpopular.

When the combination of Keller and Dashiell tutored the Las Vegas Wildcats they were regarded as an unbeatable combination. During the five years Keller and Dashiell coached the Wildcats, Las Vegas lost only two contests, to Ely in 1936 and to the invincible University of Nevada freshmen in 1933.

In addition to his record at Las Vegas, Keller comes highly recommended from the University of Utah. During his undergraduate days at Utah, Keller starred on the gridiron, as a wrestler and in several minor sports.

Keller will take over the coaching duties with Dashiell September 1, due to the Far-Western conference ruling which forbids the coaching staff to tutor the squad before that time.

Arrangements for Keller's appointment were made by the department of men's physical education at the uni-

Former Las Vegas Coach To Arrive in Reno Monday Night

Duane Keller, former Las Vegas line coach who assisted Doug Dashiell in giving Las Vegas high school four state championship teams in five years, will be line coach of the University of Nevada Wolves this year.

Keller was granted a three month leave from the Las Vegas school board to take over the coaching position and will arrive at the university campus Monday.

The appointment of Keller for this season came as a result of an notice from S. H. Betsinger of Compton, who was appointed line coach this summer, stating he would be unable to leave Los Angeles because of serious injuries his wife received in an automobile accident recently.

Keller's addition to the coaching staff is expected to be greatly approved by Wolf Pack followers. It will also give Dashiell a man with which he worked for five consecutive seasons and a man who produced some of the greatest high school linesmen in the state.

The appointment of Keller to the Nevada coaching staff has been expected and greatly approved by Southern Nevada football critics since Dashiell was appointed Wolf Pack mentor in 1936.

Freshman P. E. Classes Will Undergo Revision

For the first time in the history of the women's physical education department, freshmen women will be allowed to participate in all classes instead of just dancing and organized games as in the past, it was announced this week by Mrs. Mae Simas, assistant professor.

The newcomers to the campus will be permitted to enter groups in swimming, golf, tennis and riding and will be given physical education credit for the participation, Mrs. Simas stated.

However, the women will be required to take a class in folk dancing at 7:45 on Friday mornings under the direction of Elsa Sameth, head of the department.

Under the new plan, which will go into full effect next semester, the freshmen women will enroll in gym classes which will embrace all phases of physical education formerly required in separate courses.

The groups will be taught for one semester only and will include six weeks of highly organized games instructed by Mrs. Simas; six weeks of individual sports supervised by Katherine Schnell, assistant in the department and six weeks of dancing taught by Miss Sameth.

Twenty years ago today, with the world plunged into the bloodshed of the Great War for four years, Nevada's campus had a warlike aspect.

Lincoln Hall had been turned over to the "Fighting Mechanics", a division of the United States army, while front-page news was the new student army training corps for the first time inaugurated at the university.

A list of university men killed in France, which included Edward Faber and Darrel Dunkle, was published on page four alongside the story of a class picnic. On page two, Editor George Hopkins ran the story of Tom Walters and Charlie Williams who were decorated for bravery in France.

Twenty years ago today the agricultural building was new and formally opened for use. War chemical experiments were to be performed in the basement laboratory.
