

Finance Control Okays 10 Budgets; Others Pending

Committee Approves Total Sum of $3237.45 At Meeting

A total of $3237.45 was approved for ten organization budgets presented to the finance control committee at a meeting of the group Monday night.

The largest approved sum, which was for $845, was granted to the band, which will be used to buy new equipment and sponsor a trip to Las Vegas for the Arizona State-Nevada football game.

A sum of $808 was approved for the annual Wolves Frolic, which will be used to rent a theater, build settings for the stage, rent costumes and to buy props and makeup.

A. S. U. N. Building
Estimated expenses for the upkeep of the A. S. U. N. building this fall was $265, which will go for the janitor work, payment of telephones, water and light bills. An additional $230 was given over to general repairs of the A. S. U. N. building which will include the placement of glass panels around the Sagebrush and Artemesia offices.

The approved budget for University Play Productions was $201.25, which will be used to pay royalties, and to buy costumes and makeup.

Homecoming Budget
The Homecoming committee was given $125 to defray advertising and rented expenses, while the fine arts group was given $27.50 for supplies and general equipment.

Other budgets include $100 for the Aggie club stock-judging team trip, and $350 for buying sweaters and cups for athletics at the University of Nevada.

The W. A. A. and debate budgets as yet have not been approved by the finance control board.

Members of the finance control board include Professor F. W. Wildson, A. S. U. N. President David Goldwater, Professor F. L. Bixby, Kathleen Meeks and George Hardman.

HUGE BAND ENTRANCE IS PLANNED FOR FIRST TILT

Professor Post is planning a magnificent band entrance for the first football game with his 140 marching band members, of which over fifty are Blue Peppers.

"New uniforms are expected very soon," stated Post, who is now working at the tremendous task of getting everyone suitably garbed for the game.

Blue Peppers will be "smartly" dressed in blue jackets and white skirts. These young ladies will have their part in the band maneuvers and in singing college songs.

Unusual features of the band will be a Scotch drummer, a bell-lyra player and an accordion player.

The band president has not yet been elected because of the numerous plans which have been in the making. An election will, however, be held in the very near future.

REGISTRATION FIGURES GIVEN FOR FINAL WEEK

With registration closed to all excepting Reno and Sparks teachers, Mrs. Jeannette Rhodes, registrar, so far has reported a total enrollment of 1074. There still are 43 cards out at present, which indicates that there still is a possibility that this year's registration figures may eventually surpass last year's mark.

The senior class this year has 139 members so far, which is far greater than last year's senior class of 79 members. This is partly due to the liberalization of the requirements of the first two years of college.

Complete figures, so far, for each class are as follows: 175 juniors, 257 sophomores, 391 freshmen, 45 graduates, 46 unclassified and 20 specials.

Registration officials said that teachers in the local schools will be allowed to take-out coupons until noon Saturday, and final registration figures will be available Monday.

NOTICE

Members of the women's executive board, and all women senators, will meet at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the A. W. S. room at the student union building. Very important—please attend.

HELEN SHOVLIN,
A.W.S. Chairman.

Guild, Hawley Nominated For Frosh Managership

Clark Guild, Alpha Tau Omega pledge, and Robert Hawley, Sigma Nu pledge, were nominated yesterday to run for freshman manager in a spirited contest held yesterday.

The two nominees for the frosh office will run against each other in the general election, which will be held next Wednesday, September 28. The same election board that presided over the primaries will be in charge and the election will be conducted in the same manner as the primary.

Light Vote
Total votes cast in the election were 170 or about one-half of the freshman class. Guild received a total of 48 votes to lead Hawley, who polled 46 tallies.

Guild, registered from Carson City, is very prominent in athletic circles and while in high school held several student offices. For the past few years Guild has been enrolled in the Brown

Military Academy in San Diego, Cal. He was outstanding on the academy squad and was chosen all-conference back in the coast conference.

Hawley, registered from Sparks, is affiliated with the Sigma Nu fraternity. He was outstanding in athletics in Sparks, being a two-sport man. During his last year in school he was elected student body president of the Sparks high school.

Coed Candidate
Jane Knickerbocker, the first woman ever to be nominated for a class managership, was close behind the leaders. Other candidates for the office were Ralph Sullivan and Jim Gitten.

The election board which will preside at the general election will be composed of Joe McDonald, chairman, and Georgia Cooper, Bob Grenig, Verna Bullis, Henr Wells, Leo Foster, Burwell Holmes, Al Caton and Marian Marshall.

Phi Kappa Phi Elects Next Week

New members to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society, will be elected at a meeting next week, it was announced today by Emily Ross, secretary of the organization.

The meeting will be held Thursday, September 29, at 4 o'clock in the agriculture building. This will be the first of the three meetings to be held this year. In addition to new members, various committees will be appointed.

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society composed of graduate and undergraduate members of all departments in American universities and colleges.

The main object of this society is to impress students with the importance of scholarship. Election of new members is based upon outstanding scholarship. New members are selected from the graduating class.

Tuttle Will Lead Frolic Musicians

Ruben Tuttle, assistant band director, and his swing band was named by Professor William Miller, director of the Wolves Frolic, last week to accompany Frolic acts being planned.

Tuttle will enlarge his band to nearly twelve pieces and, in collaboration with a local composer, will make novel musical arrangements for the annual student show.

Song leader at the university, Tuttle has had considerable experience in orchestra work. He was selected by the Reno Rodeo Association to make a musical tour of the west last summer and has had extensive professional training. Tuttle's band will be mainly composed of student musicians, it was stated.

"Double or Nothing"

Block "N" formations, songs, yells and peppy new marches will all be a part of the act to be put on by the band at its initial appearance on Mackay Field during half-time tomorrow afternoon.

One of the outstanding features of their performance will be a double baton-swinging act done by Mardell Brown, who is shown in full regalia in the next column.

Mardell, a sophomore arts and science student and member of Pi Beta Phi, has been a member of the "twirling" section of the Nevada band for the past two years. So far she is the only Nevada woman to master the art of performing with two batons.

When questioned about her ability Mardell's modest reply was merely, "It just takes a lot of practice."

An octette of feminine "twirlers," which Mardell has been training and working with for the past week, will support her in the band formations and her featured act.

Major H. W. Isbell Leaves October 1

After four years of service at this university, Major Henry W. Isbell is to be transferred to Fort Snelling, Minn.

He will leave Reno October 1, or shortly after.

He has been granted a two-months leave of absence before taking up his new duties. During that time he is going to visit relatives and friends in Tennessee, Alabama and West Virginia.

His trip will take him through Las Vegas, at which time he will see Boulder dam and, later, the Grand Canyon, New Meico, Teas and Arkansas.

Major Isbell stated yesterday that he regretted having to leave Nevada and wishes that he might remain here another year.

Before coming here, he was adjutant of the American Electoral Mission in Nicaragua and secretary of the Bolivia-Paraguay conciliation commission.

James W. Johnson, '41, will conduct the vesper service at St. Stephen's chapel Sunday evening, Chaplain Henry Thomas said today. The chaplain will give the address during the services.

A Bach prelude and postlude will be played by the organist, Mrs. Francis Armbruster, during the morning services at the chapel. The message of the service will be "Poetry of the Blessed Sacrament," sung to old melodies and folk songs by the chapel choir.

A series of sermons on the "Heart of Religion" with the subject, "The Meaning of the Church," will be continued by the chaplain, Reverend Henry B. Thomas.

A general assembly of the students this morning was given over entirely to the rendering of songs and yells. Cheer Leader Leon Etchemendy will be aided this year by assistant leaders, Don Downs, Leslie Oppio, Dyer Jensen and Wayne Lashway. The Blue Peppers, a new organization, will also add to the volume of the songs by their organized leadership.

It is expected by the sponsors of the trip, Blake Speers and Milton Parsons, that, due to the natural rivalry between Nevada and the College of Pacific, a large crowd of rooters "backing the Pack" will be eager to make the C. of P. trip.

Efforts are being made to have the university band accompany the rooters on the trip.

Frolic Date Set; Tryouts in Costume Held This Week

Twelve Coeds Chosen for Chorus Places; Theme Undecided

With the date for the 1939 Wolves Frolic set definitely for Friday, October 21, tryouts were partly completed today and plans were made for rehearsals to start the first of next week.

On Tuesday, tryouts for places in the girls' chorus were held in practice costumes.

Twelve Chosen
Of the twenty girls who tried-out, twelve were given places and two were named as alternates. The Tri-Delts took honors for representation with Betty Parish, Ethel Hardy, Verona Doran, Ellen Lou Connolly, Janet Swain and Virginia Spencer. The Pi Phis, with only one less, tallied with Gene Wines, Wilma Jones, Marie Hursh, Helen Westall and Mary Jane Taylor, while the Thetas sent Doris Rice and June Adams.

Organization Tryouts
First trials for campus organizations, and fraternity and sorority groups were held today with the expectation by Professor William C. Miller that all the scripts for these skits will be in at the latest by Tuesday, September 27.

To date, the only individual acts to try out include dance numbers by Audrey Pederson, Professor Post's chorus group and the piano duet number of George Beattie and Mark Nesbitt that was so well received in the 1938 Wolves Frolic.

The theme of the Frolic will remain undecided until enough skits are available to form a definite idea of its possibilities.

Trend of Industry Told by Speaker

"Dictatorial leadership is out, and subjective leadership—that which places equal interest in the promotion of the welfare of the employe as well as in industry—is the trend in industry today," Mr. L. N. Roberts asserted in his lecture, "The Changing Requirements of Leadership in Modern Industry," Wednesday evening before a group of engineering students and faculty members in the E. E. building.

Roberts, a former student of the University of Nevada, is the educational supervisor of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

He pointed out that, by developing the best in an individual, selection in training, and placement according to ability, industry is successfully meeting its needs.

FOOTBALL RALLIES SCHEDULED TODAY

A pre-game pep rally this morning and another one tonight will be Nevada students' greeting to the invading College of Idaho football team.

At 7 p. m. today a parade of yell-leaders, Blue Peppers, university band, and students—in that order—will leave the Wolf Den. The parade will march down Virginia street to First street and thence to the front of the Majestic theatre where they will give a series of yells and songs.

A general assembly of the students this morning was given over entirely to the rendering of songs and yells. Cheer Leader Leon Etchemendy will be aided this year by assistant leaders, Don Downs, Leslie Oppio, Dyer Jensen and Wayne Lashway. The Blue Peppers, a new organization, will also add to the volume of the songs by their organized leadership.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO RUN TO STOCKTON

With the theme "Follow the Pack to Stockton" on October 28, negotiations already have been started this week to engage a special train to convey enthusiastic students to the Bengal stronghold at Stockton, Cal.

It is expected by the sponsors of the trip, Blake Speers and Milton Parsons, that, due to the natural rivalry between Nevada and the College of Pacific, a large crowd of rooters "backing the Pack" will be eager to make the C. of P. trip.

Efforts are being made to have the university band accompany the rooters on the trip.

Wolf Pack Opens Season Tomorrow Against C. of I.

Dashiell Names Bradley to Head Silver and Blue

Siege guns of the gradiron wars will swing into action and fire the first blasts of the '38 season tomorrow afternoon on Mackay field when the Silver and Blue of the Nevada Wolf Pack lines up to face the invading Coyotes from College of Idaho. Kick-off is scheduled for 2 p. m.

Game captain for tomorrow's opener will be big Harry Bradley, right tackle and veteran of two seasons of play for Nevada.

Starting Lineup

Opposing the Wolves will be Coach Clem Parberry's veteran Idaho team with Harold Shubert and Cecil Dosssett, ends; Angus McDonald, center; Arthur Hasburger and Buck Selders, tackles; Arthur Wittenberg and Frantz Hertzath, guards; Bill Thompson, quarter; Forrest Russell and Dutch Prince halves, and Ralph Bennett fullback.

Important Game

Tomorrow's game will probably be the most important of the season. "A win tomorrow will make the team; a loss will break it"—so commented Dashiell today as he pessimistically considered the game.

"The team is green and inexperienced and a win will give them the confidence to make them the threat they should be."

Setback

Biggest setback that spread a cloud of gloom over the coaching staff was the loss of first-stringers Walt Powers and John Polish through injuries. It is doubtful whether either will see any action against Idaho.

The loss of Polish caused a bad shortage of tailback men, leaving "Mitch" Cobega, who is much more effective after several plays have been pulled, as the starting man in that spot. Lefty Meyer, through shortage of funds, was forced to drop school and now Dashiell has only one reserve tailback—Dick Sauer, who has been out for only a week and hasn't quite got the "feel" of the game yet. It has been two years since he has touched a football.

With the Pack far from the peak because of injuries, odds on the game are about even. Though College of Idaho is a small school, their football prospects boomed as a result of a nearby college "folding up" and all its football players enrolling at the Idaho school.

Officials for the game will be announced tomorrow, Dashiell said.

FREE DANCE AND EATS SPONSORED BY L.H.A. AFTER GAME

Flat-foot Floggie says: "Free eats, free dancing, free games. What more could you ask for? Come to Lincoln Hall open-house right after Nevada defeats Idaho tomorrow afternoon."

"We are planning on a larger crowd than last year and are making arrangements for it," Bill Mitchell, chairman of the committee, said today.

"We have rigged up a public address system in the basement, so that dancing, as well as games such as ping-pong, can be enjoyed there. This will split the crowd so that everybody will not be packed into the reception room of the main floor," Mitchell said.

Rube Tuttle and his orchestra will furnish the music, and refreshments will be served.

Committee members working with Mitchell are Ralph Isaac, Robert Smith, Warren Estes and Pete Handford.

STAR GAZING

Doug Dashiell, head coach, is gazing out over Mackay Field in an attempt to analyze the coming season. Doug is plenty worried over the Idaho game and admits that it may make or break his '38 charges.

DRAPING the Frame . . .

Dame Fashion decrees that this season's sportswear will be of the most exotic and colorful type. For football, the Paris openings featured gold jockey satin combined with a rich royal blue. The most unusual and distinctive collections are showing huge white numerals embroidered on the backs of fitted blue jerseys.

A medieval touch is added by a three-inch white stripe extending down the arm—both top and bottom—and running down each side of the jersey.

Coppery shades in stockings are definitely OUT this season. Blue silk knee-length hose is what you simply MUST wear. Your last year's black shoes with cleats are still good, however.

This year Schiaparelli favors heavy old-fashioned jewelry with gold satin—but Dashiell (more conservative), does not. The recently introduced up-swept coiffures are very good with the new off-the-face helmets . . . get one in blue to match your jersey.

This Saturday the fashion-wise footballers will be seen in outfits of this type . . . for THIS is the year for gold satin pantaloons and blue jersey . . . But DEFINITELY!

HEY! GUESS WHAT? MAJOR TURNS INVENTOR!

The University of Nevada has had an inventor in its midst for the past four years, and little or no knowledge of it has leaked out.

Major H. W. Isbell, formerly of the military department, has developed many commercial products out of the sagebrush plant.

By distilling the sagebrush he gets the oil out of it, possessing the strong aroma of sage.

By adding this oil to his various products he has produced soaps, liniments, medicines, shampoo and incense, all having a "sagey" odor.

Perhaps his most successful product is the sagebrush candle. While burning, the candle gives off a most pleasant odor of burning sage. The candles are decorated with gilted leaves of Nevada sage and their wax is of the natural sage green.

Another feature of the unique products are the wrappers, especially on the soap. They are decorated with familiar Nevada scenes, accompanied by a short poem, all composed by Major Isbell.

Demand for the various articles has been growing by leaps and bounds in the eastern states as well as in Nevada. At present, the major is busily at work developing a facial cream which will be of special benefit to those who are distressed with skin diseases.

Fran Breen and Byron Hardy Are Named for Grant

High School Scholars Are Eligible to Receive Awards

Establishment of five scholarships annually for men students, each at the rate of $500 per year, from income of securities presented to the University of Nevada by Major Max C. Fleischmann, eminent manufacturing and business man, was announced last night by President Walter E. Clark.

This gift was made to the university last July, but the arrangements of the details in reference to the scholarships were completed only recently, Clark said.

It is the desire of Major Fleischmann, who is now a resident of Nevada, that the scholars be chosen by the president along with Fleischmann.

Two Named

At present, President Clark has appointed two scholars as recipients of these awards. Francis Breen, a senior student having as his ultimate goal government service, and Byron Hardy, junior in the college of engineering, are President Clark's appointees to this scholarship. Beginning with a payment in October, these two men will receive $500 during the course of the university year.

High School Grants

It is planned that, beginning with next spring, when this new scholarship foundation will be in full operation, at least two of the scholars will be chosen from high schools of the state, with plans that such scholarships once granted will be continued two years to the holder, providing that holder establishes high record in his university work, Clark said.

Benefactor's Life

Major Max C. Fleischmann, most recent benefactor of the university, was born in Ohio and received his education there. He served in the Ohio national guard and was later commissioned first lieutenant in the Ohio Volunteer cavalry in the Spanish-American war. As a major, he commanded the important balloon corps of the A. E. F. in the World war.

Major Fleischmann has had a broad business experience, starting his career with the Fleischmann company in Cincinnati. He became a director of Standard Brands, Inc., and is president of the Fleischmann Transportation company. His great interest in public affairs is shown by his service as trustee of the Santa Barbara museum of natural history, and as director of the Santa Barbara Cottage hospital. He also is a sports enthusiast, being well known in fishing and yachting circles. His present residence is Glenbrook, Nevada.

"This generous scholarship foundation by Major Fleischmann is an outstanding addition to the scholarship list at the university," President Clark said.

"Both the university," he added, "and the growing line of scholars adequately aided to continue university work will be everlastingly grateful to Mr. Fleischmann for completing his interest in the university in this generous form."

DEN PLANS DANCE; SPECIAL BROADCAST

Climaxing a pre-game rally tonight, the Wolf Den will hold a street dance and rally, Frank Ross, owner of the "Den," announced today.

The street in front of the student gathering place will be blocked off and dancing will begin at 7 p. m.

At 8 o'clock the festivities will be interrupted long enough to present a special radio broadcast from in front of the "Den." Members of the team and the coaching staff will be asked to give their opinions regarding the outcome of Saturday's game with the College of Idaho. University yells and songs will be given by the students attending the dance.

NOTICE, REPORTERS

There will be a meeting in the senate of all Sagebrush editorial staff members and tryees—news lab members included—Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Drive for Buildings Is Emphasized by Nevada Tax Review

Advocates Bond Issue For Erection of Buildings

Advocating more money and a bond issue for possible new buildings for the University of Nevada, the Nevada Tax Review made its appearance this week under the directorship of F. N. Fletcher.

The University of Nevada "unquestionably needs greater state support if it is to preserve its prestige and properly perform its educational duties," the Ta Review said.

The magazine calls attention to the fact that, although during the past twenty years attendance at the university has practically doubled, its income from the state in the same period of time has actually decreased.

Only State Support

The Review points out that, although the whole public school system is confined to a twenty-cent tax on the hundred dollars by a clause in the Nevada constitution, the public schools may look to their communities for support, while the university can look only to the state.

The purpose of the Review is to make the taxpayers conscious of the expenditures of the state and to inform them as to how the public fund is expended. Its editor hopes in this way to secure economy and promote efficiency in the governmental units of the state.

Favors Bond Issue

The magazine is in favor of a bond issue to finance permanent improvements upon the campus as against the two-cent tax levy for permanent construction formerly in effect. The bond issue would require only a small annual tax levy sufficient to retire the bonds issued.

The officers and executive committee of the tax association are Jerry Sheehan, president; Walter J. Harris, vice-president; George A. Campbell, secretary-treasurer; F. E. Murphy, J. E. Preston, J. C. Kinneer, H. C. McTerney, F. Simpson and George Russell.

NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR WEARY PUBLICATION WORKERS

Installation by the W. P. A. of an entire new lighting system in the A. S. U. N. building will start immediately, according to Graduate Manager Max Jensen.

This work is to be done with surplus labor from a former W. P. A. project. The balance of the proposed improvements, which include installation of eighty feet of glass over the present balustrade and solid panelling of the balustrade, are awaiting final approval by Washington W. P. A. officials. Comptroller of the University, Charles A. Gorman, and President Walter E. Clark already have approved the project.

The total cost of the projects will be $726, of which the university's share will be $430 and this will be divided into $230 from the student union building repair fund and $200 from the publication board fund.

The installation of the glass will allow more privacy and more safety from intrusion by outsiders in the publications offices, the present screening being an insufficient barrier.

The lighting system will eliminate the proximity of the lights and the resultant breakage. These new lights will be of the indirect type which has proven to be exceedingly popular.

Economics Professor Spends Summer in Great Britain

Milan J. Webster, associate professor of economics, business and sociology, spent the summer on the British Isles, where he was an advisor in domestic relations, working on the bureau of the Whitfield Institute in London.

The Whitfield Institute is a private organization functioning publicly and is concerned with what corresponds to the domestic relations court of the United States.

Starting the trip, Mr. Webster left here on May 7 and spent the better part of his trip across the continent giving lectures on sociological topics. Among the universities at which he spoke were Creighton College at Omaha, Duke University at Des Moines and University of McGill at Montreal. He sailed from Montreal for England on May 20 and landed in New York on the return trip on August 5.

During the course of his stay on the British Isles, he visited the University of Edinburgh the week of final examinations and, in conversing with a student studying for a final in a course in "monopolies," he learned that the reference book the student was using was "Trust Problems," of which President Walter E. Clark of the University of Nevada is co-author.

INSTRUCTOR VISITS

Vernon F. Loughran, instructor in journalism at the University of Colorado, visited Professor A. L. Higginbotham on the campus Saturday.

Mr. Loughran said he wanted to look into the teaching of journalism on the Nevada campus on account of the splendid record of the university's journalism graduates.

Dr. Quill Named To Frat Council

Nevadan Is President of Adviser's Group at Ohio State

Dr. Lawrence L. Quill, Nevada '24, has recently been elected president of the Fraternity Advisers' council of Ohio State University.

Dr. Quill, who is assistant professor of chemistry, received his Ph. D. degree from Illinois in '28. He then studied at the University of Göttingen, Germany, as a national research fellow.

Ohio State is among the leaders of institutions which cooperate with fraternity chapters and the effort to insure the maximum benefits to university, to students, and to chapters.

The Fraternity Advisers' council has been an important factor in this movement. It keeps a close check on the financial condition of all chapters, its officers inspect chapter housing conditions, and offer plans and suggestions for improvements. One of Dr. Quill's aims now is to have a fraternity row.

While attending this university, Dr. Quill was a member of the Kappa Lambda fraternity. Since then, however, Kappa Lambda has become affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha, and Dr. Quill has also become a member of that organization.

DATE FOR BRAWL SET AS NOVEMBER 12

The first meeting of the Associated Engineers was held yesterday afternoon. Committees were appointed to make arrangements for Engineers' day, which is to be held some time next spring, and for the Engineers' Brawl to be held November 12.

According to Norman Smith, president of the organization, a special committee has been appointed to investigate the possibility of having a local engineers' publication. Just what form it will take is not yet known.

The next west coast convention of the Mechanical Engineers is to be held in Reno. The local engineers are striving to make arrangements which will enable the convention and Engineers' day to take place at the same time, in order that a large affair might be made of both occasions.

The bitterest enemy is one you make of a friend.

NEVADA STUDENTS ATTEND NATIONAL CAMP PERRY SHOOT

John Barrett, Harry Gallaway and Clinton McKinley, seniors and advanced military students, returned recently from Camp Perry, near Cleveland, Ohio, where they represented the Ninth Corps Area of the Reserve Officers Training Corps in the annual nation-wide rifle matches held this summer.

The trio composed a part of the ten marksmen sent to the national matches at Camp Perry, representing the ninth corps area. Other members of the rifle team represented various other university R. O. T. C. units throughout the western area. About one and one-half weeks were spent at the camp in active participation.

This year the student representation from Nevada composed one of the largest ever sent to the national matches from this state.

Throughout the match the Nevada marksmen did exceptionally well, with John Barrett regarded as one of the best, receiving two state medals for his ability in marksmanship. He was closely followed by both Gallaway and McKinley.

The final report of the matches has not yet been received, but it is believed that the ninth corps area obtained a ranking of either second or third place.

The R. O. T. C. officers attended the reserve officers' training camp at Monterey.

At present the ranks of the students in the Nevada R. O. T. C. are as follows: John Barrett, acting captain of "A" company; Harry Gallaway, acting captain of "B" company, and Clinton McKinley, acting first lieutenant of "A" company.

Irwin Enrolled Ph.D. Degree by Ohio State

Ralph A. Irwin, associate professor of psychology, was awarded his Ph.D. degree by the Ohio State University September 2.

Irwin enrolled in this summer's session at Ohio State and completed his work for the degree. The thesis for his degree, Irwin stated, was a series of attitude tests, prepared by himself, and given to various university groups over the past several years.

B. Fodrin Recovers From Eye Operation

Recovering from a recent operation at the Stanford Lane Hospital in San Francisco is Bette Fodrin, former freshman student and member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Conditions surrounding a detached retina of the right eye made the operation necessary. The cause of this is, as yet, undetermined, but it is believed a sharp blow received two years ago was instrumental in causing the trouble.

Miss Fodrin has a good chance to retain the sight of her eye, but, although this week, no word has been received in regard to her condition.

Hansen Is Named Sagen President

Treasurer's Position Is Filled by Betty Kornmeyer

Reveau Hansen, junior independent student, was named president of Sagens, women's pep organization, at a meeting of the group held last night. She will succeed Jeanette Hutchins, who failed to return to school this semester.

Miss Hansen has been active in the Barb organization for the past three years and is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, Home Economics club, and participated in the Wolves' Frolic last year.

Mary Kornmeyer, sophomore representative from Delta Delta Delta, was elected treasurer to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Hansen.

New Members

The group announced the nomination of three new members to complete the roster of the Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta and the Tri Deltas. Those named are Kathleen Starret, Maude Patterson and Eleanor DuPratt. Wilma Foote, Beta Sigma Omicron, was elected to membership to give that house a quota of two in the organization.

Sponsorship of the new Blue Peppers group was discussed by Sagens and it was decided that women participating in it would be eligible for the Sagens later.

Sixteen women were named by the organization to march in the Sagens line during the rally tonight and at the games tomorrow. These same persons will also act as advisors to members of the Blue Peppers.

Vigilantes Will Aid Upperclass Coeds

Tradition Enforcement Will Begin Monday

With a sophomore vigilance committee to help it, the women's upper-class committee plans to enforce certain rules more strictly this year than in the past.

A sophomore vigilance committee, composed entirely of second-year women, will be appointed by Sophomore Manager Jim DuPratt. This is the first time such a plan has been followed, according to Chairman Betty Kornmeyer.

Different Penalties

Various penalties will be meted out, in accordance with the nature of the offense. The first offense will be punished by the upperclass committee; the second violation will call for an appearance before the student assembly; for the third offense, the penalty will be a visit to Dean Margaret Mack.

Among the rules for frosh are those forbidding smoking in the halls, cutting campus, using the front steps of Morrill hall. What they will be asked to do is to always carry their frosh bibles.

Other Offenses

Freshmen women are not the only ones who have rules to observe, since several also apply to sophomores. Sophomores are under the obligation to refrain from sitting on the senior bench and the Haseman-Jones Memorial bench, which is reserved for juniors.

Enforcement of these rules will begin Monday and any freshman woman offending will be punished immediately, Miss Kornmeyer said yesterday.

UNIVERSITY CHAPEL PLANS PRODUCTION

A number of university students and faculty met at St. Stephen's university chapel this week to discuss and make plans for the production of a poetic drama, "Murder in the Cathedral," written by T. S. Eliot. The play will be presented early in December under the auspices of St. Stephen's chapel.

"Murder in the Cathedral" was first presented at Canterbury in 1935. The play is a deeply moving mystical drama, embodying in the story the struggle between spiritual freedom and subservience to the state. The action takes place in the Archbishop's Hall at Canterbury, Christmas time, 1170.

The chorus rehearsals will begin Sunday evening at 6:30.

Casting of characters still is pending, and Father Henry B. Thomas announced that anyone interested in choral readings will be welcome to try out for the play.

PI PHI INITIATION

Formal initiation ceremonies for five Pi Beta Phi pledges will be held Saturday morning, according to Charlotte Caton, president of the group.

Receiving the degrees are Marie Belz, Nellie Little, Nellie Roseberry, Laura Jim Brown and Ann Gamble.

Pi Beta Phi Captures First Honors in Pledging

Official rushing came to a close last Saturday, after a ten-day period, with seventy girls' accepting bids. Pi Beta Phi led in the derby by pledging twenty-three girls.

Delta Delta Delta took second honors by hanging pins on eighteen freshman women, Kappa Alpha Theta pledged thirteen, Gamma Phi Beta eight, and Beta Sigma Omicron nine.

Preferential dinners were held Saturday night by all the sorority chapters.

Pi Beta Phi honored their pledges at the Hotel Golden. The following girls were present: Chetty Milbery, Doris Iverson, Mary Jane Taylor, Mary Margaret Cantlon, Mary Ann Lockridge, Audrey Sellman, Marjorie Lyons, Mildred Brendel, Jane Knickerbocker, Frances Larragueta, Alice Martha Traner, Ruth Hansen, Esther Hansen, Mary Jane McSorley, Charla Fletcher, Marie Hursh, Rita Laing, Jeanette Rives, Janelle Swanson, Betty Petersen, Marie Dooner, Betty Ross and June O'Neil.

Delta Delta Delta held their dinner at the Riverside hotel. Present were: Leora Orrock, Elinor Wyatt, Lois Rabe, Jerry Hobson, Dorothy Snider, Janette Winn, Shirley Huber, Elizabeth Travis, Eileen Sayre, Betty Taw, Ridgeley Pierson, Virginia Spencer, Margaret Murphy, Verona Doran, Janet Swain, Verlaee Felts, Wyoma Shane and Ellen Connolly.

Kappa Alpha Theta formally introduced their pledges at the El Cortez hotel. Prospective members are: Andrea Anderson, Mary Connelly, Jeanette Taylor, Marie Williams, Merle Young, Romietta Ward, Alyce Savage, Phyllis McCulloch, Mary Comish, Jane Devine, Alice Kohloss, Marjorie Hewes and Doris Rice.

Gamma Phi Beta dinner was held at the Riverside hotel. Present were: Mickey Kelley, Eleanor Potts, Margaret Digrazin, Norma McDowell, Ann Allen, Eleanor Kearne, Ruth Brockway and Mary Hill.

Club Fortune was the scene of the Beta Sigma Omicron dinner. Their pledges are: Maureen Bony, Alta Mae Barnes, Betty McCormack, Marie Borsoni, Theda Burrus, Ann Laking, Bessie Gregory, Betty Woods and Luana Whipple.

Y. W. C. A. Presents Annual Fashion Show

The annual Y. W. C. A. fashion show, which is a part of the usual membership campaign, was held Tuesday, September 20, in front of Artemisia hall.

What the thin, tall, and fat girls should and should not wear was the theme of the show. Acting as models were Evelyn Bulmer, Delta Delta Delta; Edith Salisberry, Beta Sigma Omicron; Rose Boggio, Gamma Phi Beta, and Elna Jepson, Pi Beta Phi.

Feature of the afternoon was a skit entitled "A ticket, a tasket," presented by Juanita Elcano, Margaret Johnson and June Adams.

FIRST NEWS BUREAU ASSIGNMENTS GIVEN

First assignments of the university News Bureau were given out this week by Sybil Furchner, head of the organization.

At present, the bureau staff is composed of twelve members who will send university news out to the ten papers in the state. Any student wishing to try out for the bureau must see Sybil Furchner.

Twenty-five Enroll In Saddle and Spurs

Supervised by Miss Katherine Schnell, women's physical education instructor, nearly twenty-five girls have enrolled in Saddle and Spurs this year. The group has no instructor, but is managed by Beatrice Lansdon, senior, and her assistant, Mary Mahoney.

Plans for outings such as the organization has had in previous years, have not yet been made. However, one overnight pack-trip to Hunter Lake is being considered. For the trip, there will be a charge of $3. So far the group has been riding at the Carnation Stables, former Baker Stables.

The Famous Collegian Hangout and the Only One of Its Kind in the World

No memnu could be complete inasmuch as there are so many excellent and unusual dishes cherished by those who would dine well that it is impossible to list them all.

However, should you desire a special dish at any time you have only to make your request. Our chefs are fully versed in the science of cookery and you will not be disappointed.

Since raw materials are a prime requisite in the restaurant, all foods are selected with care—quality being the only consideration. Especially is this true of meats, which are always personally selected by our chef.

May we call you attention to our broiled steaks and southern fried chicken? We take particular pride in these and it is only necessary to say that here indeed your appetite will come to you while eating.

First AWS Meeting To Be Held Sept. 29

The first meeting of the Associated Women Students of the University of Nevada will be held in the Education auditorium on Thursday, September 29, at 8:40, Helen Shovlin, A. W. S. chairman, announced today. She stated that the attendance of freshman women will be checked by the "bibles" in their possession.

Dean Mack will make her traditional speech of welcome to old and new women, and will explain the functions and present condition of the Associated Women Students' Loan Fund. Other features to be presented are the introductions of the women's upper-class committee, and women's activity heads. The election of a women's song leader will also be presented for discussion and approval by the group.

The A. W. S. executive board will meet earlier in the week to set forth plans for the year.

All women students are urged to attend in order to make this meeting a successful one.

GOLFER TO TEACH COED CLASSES ON CAMPUS

Charles Foley, golf professional from the Reno Golf Course, has been selected by the women's physical education department to give the instructions to the students in golf, according to Miss Simas, who will herself give lectures on golf terms.

There will be no exhibition matches, as all the women taking golf are beginners, but there will probably be driving contests and placement matches later in the season.

During morning periods the golf classes will take place on Mackay Field, but on Monday afternoons there will be practices at the old baseball diamond.

The university supplies all the clubs, tees and balls for the golf classes. The girls are not required to play any games on the regular gold course but it is advisable, according to Miss Simas.

The editorials in the University of Nevada Sagebrush express the thoughts of the editor of the publication and make no pretense of being the barometer of the sentiment of the University of Nevada student body or administration. All editorials are written by the editor unless signed otherwise.

THE SEPTEMBER EDITION of the Nevada Tax Review appeared this week and expressed its opinions on questions which vitally affect the university in regard to the present building situation.

The Review stated, "The Nevada constitution contains a clause which provides that the state shall levy a special tax for educational purposes not to exceed two mills on one dollar of assessed valuation. At present the tax produces approximately $180,000 per year. This revenue is divided between the public schools and the state university, 55 per cent going to the schools and 45 per cent to the university . . . efforts to repeal the two-mill limit clause have been made . . . the question now goes to the people, who will vote on the question at the coming election in November."

As the publication says, the public schools in the districts of the state are now generously supported by their own communities, and do not have a pressing need for the repeal of the two-mill limit, or, as the Sagebrush sees it, for the complete 55 per cent of the two-mill tax.

It seems that a happy medium could be reached whereby the amount of money apportioned to the university and the public schools could fluctuate according to their respective needs. Thus the university could purchase the necessary equipment they need to meet a changing condition and enrollment.

As for the new buildings necessary for a modern campus, a bond issue could be floated and all the buildings could be very easily secured, and the bonds retired in a short period of time with a hardly noticeable rise in tax rates. By changing the law so that the percentage received by the university would be larger, the buildings could be thoroughly equipped in a short period of time.

ANOTHER WEEK

has passed and still a microscope is needed to spot the members of the various upperclass committees. Since the committees were appointed two weeks ago, even notices announcing their respective meetings have been more than hard to find. The Sagebrush seriously doubts that many of the freshmen know what a dink is for. As a person walks through the campus between classes, it looks like an American Legion convention on the campus lawns. Every week it is rumored that the upperclass committees are going to start enforcing traditions beginning next week. Do the traditions begin next week? Definitely not! They have been in force ever since the opening moment of school. How about it! Do we get some action from the upperclass committees?

AN ENERGETIC GROUP

of class managers met this week for the purpose of solving one of the many problems that has been retarding the success of the annual class dances. The proposed plan of the group, as presented to the dean of the social calendar committee, was to postpone or, as a last recourse, cancel the dates of the social events scheduled on the week-ends of class dance dates.

Past years are ample evidence that the various class dances have been financial losses, which has been attributed to the many sorority and fraternity social activities that have occurred at the same week-ends as the class dances. The managers' argument, in essence, is that most university students have means for one weekend affair; and when there is a fraternity or sorority dance on the Friday before the class dance, which usually occurs Saturday, there is a tendency for the students to attend the organization dance and not the class dance. As a result the respective classes lose money in what should be a paying proposition. True, the classes are allotted a specific share of the student body fee to spend on an annual dance and other activities, but, again, this sum could as well be saved for something worth while if the dances could be made profitable.

The plea of the managers fell on deaf ears when presented to the head of the social calendar committee. However, a compromise was agreed upon to have houses postpone their socials in order to make the class dances a financial success.

The Sagebrush sincerely hopes that the houses will cooperate in this matter, which will go far to further school spirit upon the campus. —C. H.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

(1) If you had the best staff that ever drank beer out of hours in the 'Brush office, you'd still tear your hair over errors that would jump at you from the printed page every Friday afternoon. Nevertheless, you are correct in the assumption that an errorless paper is my desire—as, of course, it is yours.

(2) Typographical errors sometimes can't be helped; the tired, or hasty, or inexperienced eye simply refuses to see them: "Cicago" in the mast-head of last week's issue is an example. Another is my pseudonym, Loquitur. That's the way to spell it (-tur, not -tor), but something happened between copy and type to perpetuate it on your innocent readers with a -tor.

(3) Errors of fact, however, can be avoided if the reporter, even the greenest cub, is worth his salt. If he can't be depended upon for the facts of his stories; if he doesn't know how to go after them, or is too lazy to be bothered, then he has no claim to a place on the staff.

(4) Errors in grammar—well, there's not much excuse for them, either. When the editorial hope is expressed that the upperclass committee "will start setting down on tradition violators with an iron hand" and ". . . we would be glad to have your assisting us on Thursday nights . . ." the reader can't be blamed for grinding his teeth.

(5) Expect me Thursday nights at the 'Brush office. I'll be wearing a white carnation and carrying the latest edition of Webster's Dictionary (unabridged). LOQUITUR.

Editor's note: It is the height of bad taste to correct anyone's grammar unless you are in a position to command the respect of that person. When and if you can prove to the Sagebrush that you are qualified to correct grammar, then and only then will your corrections be considered. Until such a time, the Sagebrush will continue to write editorials, etc., in its own inimitable way—trite or otherwise.

Tsk, Tsk

We're back again—in fact we have "been around" all week. How is the war in China? What? A new one? Why don't people tell us these things? How are we supposed to know? So help us, you guys and gals keep us so-o-busy—we don't even have a chance. Hold everything . . . that pose . . . that line . . . THE PRESS . . .

Short, short story: A girl, Virginia Heany, blonde and Pi Phi; a boy, George Ardans (S.A.E.)—a pin (by the way, where has that dang thing been hiding?)—a box of candy—a serenade . . . ain't love grand? Milt Parsons and Lois Downs seen as late, library-ing together. Now, girls, be patient—there is still a whole semester, and does he get around! And then GENE ARMSTRONG, who told us he would not make the column this week, so-o-o—here he is . . . Who is that Pat person we saw you with in Leon's, Gene—the one drooping silver fox all over the place while you gazed into her eyes? There isn't going to be anything left for spring if all this out-of-season pin-hanging keeps up. Now it's Hudson Lee, A. T. O., with the chain around his neck and Jean McMeekin leading the way—Aw, Huds, isn't the campus talent enough for you?

We ask you, Jack Rhoades, Sigma Nu, what's the matter? Are you still not sure of your girl friend, Cleora Campbell? Or is that second pin just to make sure? Wow, oh wow, oh wow! Bashful Bilge Ashly escorted Helen Lily, demure frosh, home from the social the other night. She may have been a Lily to you, but we guess she was a rose to the big jock—O.K., O.K., beg your pardon.

Mamma and Poppa should leave town more often so that Joe McDonald could continue to sling bigger and better parties. We hear the one last Saturday was to celebrate Blake Speer's birthday. It was a lulu—we can vouch for that. By the by, Joe started to take Sally Robinson, Theta, to the jig at Tony's but someone (name unknown) beat Joe to the cash in the toe of the brown sock in the bottom left-hand drawer of the chiffonier . . . tsk! tsk! . . . so disappointed!

Margaret Heitman and Covy Will are still wondering why they received such a cool reception when they wandered into the Elks' home the other night. They swear they started for the community concert and THERE WAS a "welcome" sign on the doormat, wasn't there?

Van Wagner isn't so dumb, playing shoe salesman in his spare time . . . improving your taste along "certain lines," we guess—huh? Just had attention focused on Bill Newman's new "foolosophy" when it comes to dates—variety is the spice of life. We think Mardell Brown is still the queen of the campus, even though she didn't take that brawny, bronzed S. A. E.'s pin the other evening—remember? Those frosh women really won the popularity contest at the social the other night—don't they always? Gene Wines, don't pout—Harris will get you on the phone sometime if it would only stop ringing the busy signal in his ears. Theta Wilma Jones is rumored journeying to Elko for a week-end trip

FACULTY TO CHECK FROSH SCHEDULES

With the aid of faculty members, Prof. S. Allan Lough, chairman of the orientation committee, is going to study the schedules of all frosh students to see that their time is properly budgeted. After the schedules have been carefully studied, students may be required to revise them until they become satisfactory.

Freshmen are now making out copies of their programs. So far, only a comparatively small percentage have complied with this request, and Professor Lough said that all frosh must have schedules handed in at room 200, Mackay Science Hall, by the end of next week.

About forty members of the faculty are needed to carry out this plan, and to date only twenty have offered to cooperate.

U. N. PROFESSORS ATTEND MEETING

Three University of Nevada professors and two state high school principals attended the meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, national educational fraternity for men, at Sacramento Saturday night.

Nevada's representatives were Fred W. Traner, dean of the school of education; John P. Puffinbarger, associate professor of education; Harold N. Brown, associate professor of education; Earl Wooster, principal of Reno High school, and Harold Wylie, superintendent of the Stewart school.

Some 150 of the most prominent educators of northern California and Nevada were at the meeting, and many new educational theories and practices were advanced, Traner said.

—tsk, tsk!—thought that Warren-Jones affair was over when he graduated . . . and then there are those enterprising four who wandered around slumming the other night and went down and visited our colored friends at the Dixieland Club . . . When the cat's away the mouse will play—look at Stan Wines sporting Cleone Stewart around and that Theta prey—we wish we knew if she and Wilder are still keeping company. . . . Peggy Kearns is in circulation again and is returning her diamond . . . The sorority sisters would like to know who is Rose Boggio's mysterious blonde, gas attendant, husky boy friend. . . . Every time we see Graduate Manager Jensen we see double; at least he's with three or four of the opposite sex. . . . Syb Furchner had a mysterious date the other night and has been going around with a wise smirk ever since—we hear he was a prince, Syb—is that so, or is that his name?

The only kind of love that's blind is mother love.

Four down and thirty-one to go—no, no, no, no—I'm not quoting scores, signals or what have you, but am merely referring to the number of Sagebrush issues to come. So what, says you. Well, you got me there, but sometimes some things make some of us wonder about some things sometimes.

The distinguished cut-ups of the campus—and I do mean you members of the Finance Control Board—got together or at least were in the same room together (if you see what I mean) this week and considered, submitted, rejected and accepted the various budgets. Although as yet not all matters have been definitely taken care of, this group stamped out the $300 debate trip idea and let the band budget go through.

These two budgets were the high-lights and, incidentally, the highest, brought before the group this semester. Although there have been many different opinions and such about the debate budget, it was not rejected because of non-interest in the debating abilities of Nevada students, but merely because of lack of funds. How come then, some of you may say, did the band manage to get $800? This sum was allotted to the band to make the Vegas trip—and through this trip a general spirit of good-will is hoped to be built up between the southern part of the state and our campus.

In case you haven't heard, there have been rumors and ideas and even action in the direction of a possible junior college and, since we want Nevadans to come to Nevada, we will do all we can to keep things clear for just such things—so it's off to Vegas you musicians and singer pretty boys and gals!

Better late than never, the Sagens finally got together last night. Well, gals, let's see some of that spirit you have long been famous for. It's my humble opinion that you had better get your ball rolling soon and fast, or you are going to find yourselves

Buck Benny may ride again, but I know of quite a few of the boys that have taken up—or rather have been taken up—one the one-way ride proposition. Great sport these Jocks provide for their friends and otherwise.

How news does get around . . . a letter wended its weary way to my house the other morning all the way from Oklahoma. Among other things mentioned about campus activities was the expression of disappointment in the choice of one of the upperclass committee chairmen. I hope this disappointment isn't going to be justified but I still see the frosh enjoying senior privileges as well as taking advantage of a few new ideas of their own—and goodness only knows just what all goes on that I don't see on account of I'm a pretty sleepy person and don't always see all that goes on here and there.

Tomorrow is the big day—the twirlers will twirl, the Peppers will pepper-up; Etchemendy and his boys will yell (and remember you're supposed to make noise, too), and the Blue Bombers will bomb—and boy, oh boy, how we hope they really bomb the Idaho boys about the field!

'Nuff's enough . . . Pleasant week-end to you, one and all.

While Wolf Pack followers are considering tomorrow's game as just the first on the schedule, Doug Dashiell, Wolf mentor, is deeply concerned over its outcome. It is THE game, and its results can almost forecast the rest of the season. He bases this conviction on the psychology that a defeat right at the start will shake a green team, dispel its confidence, leaving it to the mercy of the rest of the teams. So Idaho better beware!

The Nevada players will flash tomorrow in the new suits adopted for this year. The vivid colors of the suits not only make the team more colorful in play but is great help in distinguishing fellow players from the opposition.

From the sidelines:
Nevada's famed "injury" jinx seems to be still on the heels of the Pack. This week fourteen men were reporting to Trainer Lief McManus for treatment of slight injuries that ranged from pulled muscles and sprained knees and ankles to shoulder injuries. Pat Eaton showing the boys "how" in kick-off practice Wednesday booted one sixty yards and placed it squarely between the goal posts. A groan issued from Dashiell's mouth as he patiently worked out several men for the job tomorrow.

With the loss of Polish, Dashiell may be forced to use Ray Garamendi to kick off, which brings up greater complications. Garamendi plays the same position as Harry Bradley, captain for the day, which would leave Bradley on the bench for the first part of the game as Garamendi plays a lot of tackle on his own account, and wouldn't be substituted just to kick off.

Clyde Eaton, brother of Pat, put on a fine show of blocking during scrimmage Wednesday. In kick-off practice he accounted for the only two men that were knocked down on one play. It looks as though Jim Coleman and his assistant, Ham Robb will have a big, hard-hitting frosh outfit this year. The line averages over 195 and gave the varsity plenty of trouble during scrimmage this week. Bob Anderson looks like a "natural" the way he heaved passes over and around the varsity. Still the frosh lacked the scoring punch to match their defensive power, and the varsity stopped them cold. Guild, hulking frosh fullback, would easily fit into the varsity backfield. He not only has a lot of drive but has speed to match.

Barsanti, "watch-charm guard" of the '36 frosh team, showed some of his old speed and fight in the frosh scrimmage. Deb Stewart, moved back to his old tackle spot, showed he still knows how to handle the position. The frosh didn't make a yard over him.

News releases from Greeley State Bears at Greeley, Colo., whom the Wolves play on October 14 report they are looking forward to a big season. Star linesman for the Bears is an end by the name of Snarich.

The Taus seem to be still in the lead in intramural sports so far. John Etchemendy is out in the lead in the tennis tournament, as is Peter Kelly and Tillie Botti in the horseshoe doubles. The Tau volleyball team is undefeated but the Sigma Nus almost spoiled that Tuesday.

Taus Defeat S. A. E. Duo To Lead Doubles Shoe Tourney

The horseshoe doubles teams swung into action this week with A. T. O.'s Pete Kelley and Tillie Botti subduing George Ardens and Gerald Hartman of the S. A. E.'s in a hard-fought contest, 5-21, 21-19, 21-20. The Hilltoppers also have a win over the Independents by a default.

Ted Olson and John Gustafson of the Sigma Phi Sigma house defeated the Beta Kappa team 21-4, 19-21, 21-7. The Sigma Phis also outlasted the Phi Sigma Kappas, 21-7, 13-21, 21-3.

Beta Kappa broke into the win column with a win over the Sigma Nus' Frank McCullough and Bob Cameron by a score of 21-8, 21-10.

The S. A. E.'s also chalked one up for their side by annexing a win over the Lambda Chis.

Cub Grid Team Will Have Heaviest Line Since 1933 Squad

With possibly a heavier line than the famous squad of 1933, the freshman football team showed up well this week when they stopped the varsity in a light scrimmage.

Coach "Jim" Coleman is pessimistic about his charges, however, claiming that the cubs are slow in learning their assignments.

Although no outstanding single player has appeared, some of the yearlings show indications of becoming first-rate ball players.

Among those standing out in practice is Roy Anderson, who will probably call signals from a halfback position. Guild, Novikoff and Naismith will probably constitute the remainder of the backfield.

Nevada Golfers Issues Challenges

Fresno, College of Pacific Asked for Matches

Nevada's golf team took another step forward this week toward arranging a definite schedule of matches, when Bob Cameron, the team's manager, challenged the College of Pacific and the University of Fresno.

Cameron asked Fresno for a match on October 22, Nevada's Homecoming day, when the Bulldogs also will furnish the opposition in football. The match, if Fresno accepts the challenge, will be played on the Washoe county course some time during that Saturday.

Pacific was asked for a match on October 28, when Nevada's varsity football team will oppose the Bengals at Stockton.

A meeting was held at 11:25 today in the Student Union building to arrange practice schedules and discuss plans for future matches.

A notice, which all those interested in trying out for the team were supposed to sign, was taken from the bulletin board last week, Cameron said, but up until that time those who had signified their intentions of coming out included Bob Taylor, Bob Cameron, Jack Rhoades and John Hoffman, all of whom have had tournament experience, and Carl Becholdt, Ray Davis and Roy Anderson.

GREEK BASKETBALL PRACTICE SCHEDULED

The intramural gym basketball practice schedules for the various fraternity teams was released yesterday by J. E. Martie, head of the athletic department at the University of Nevada.

Martie stated that any organization may invite any other team to share its practice period for the purpose of practice games, and that any team is entitled to have secret practice periods.

The complete practice schedule is as follows:
Oct. 3, 4 to 5—Sig. Phi Sig.; 5 to 6, S. A. E.; 7 to 8, A. T. O.; 8 to 9, Lambda Chi.

Oct. 5—4-5, Sigma Nu; 5-6, Sig. Phi Sig.; 8-9, S. A. E.
Oct. 6—4-5, A. T. O.; 5-6, Lambda Chi; 7-8, Independents; 8-9, Phi Sig.

Oct. 7—4-5, Beta Kappa; 5-6, Lincoln Hall; 7-8, Sigma Nu; 8-9, Sig. Phi Sig.
Oct. 10—4-5, S. A. E.; 5-6, A. T. O.; 7-8, Lambda Chi; 8-9, Independents.

Oct. 11—4-5, Phi Sig.; 5-6, Beta Kappa; 7-8, Lincoln Hall; 8-9, Sigma Nu.
Oct. 12—4-5, Sig. Phi Sig.; 5-6, S. A. E.; 8-9, A. T. O.

Oct. 13—4-5, Lambda Chi; 5-6, Independents; 7-8, Phi Sig.; 8-9, Beta Kappa.
Oct. 14—4-5, Lincoln Hall; 5-6, Sigma Nu; 7-8, Sig. Phi Sig.; 8-9, S. A. E.

Oct. 17—4-5, A. T. O.; 5-6, Lambda Chi; 7-8, Independents; 8-9, Phi Sig.
Oct. 18—4-5, Beta Kappa; 5-6, Lincoln Hall; 7-8, Sigma Nu.

On the bench with Doug during tomorrow's fray will be Line Coach Duane Keller. Keller is new to the squad this year but will be alert to spot weaknesses or unexpected advantages in the Wolf squad.

A. T. O. Volleyball Team Still Undefeated in Tourney

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity volleyball team still remained on the undefeated list when they successfully overcame the powerful Sigma Nus in a heated game Tuesday night by the score of 21-8, 16-21 and 21-10. The other game scheduled for yesterday was won by the A. T. O.'s on a default over the Independents.

Monday night, Beta Kappa defeated Lincoln Hall, 21-1, 16-21 and 2-18, while the S. A. E.'s bested the Independents 21-8 and 21-18.

Wednesday the strong S. A. E. team defeated the Beta Kappas 21-18, 19-21 and 21-18. In the other game Lambda Chi easily overcame Lincoln Hall, 21-11 and 21-19.

In what is considered an upset the Beta Kappa team last night slowly beat the Sigma Nus by the scores of 21-3, 19-21 and 21-20.

The cemeteries are full of people who thought the world couldn't get along without them.

Fencing Courses Offered Students

Chaplain and Student Offer Services as Tutors

The students of the University of Nevada have a golden opportunity this semester to imbibe a little of the age-old art of fencing.

Ike Coraco, former fencing star at Los Angeles junior college and present University of Nevada student, and Father Henry B. Thomas of the St. Stephen's chapel have both offered their services to help promote the plan.

Classes Last Year
Both Father Thomas and Coraco held classes last year. Neither, however, was widely publicized, and the turnouts were relatively small. This year the plan is to combine the two classes into a single group in an attempt to stir up more interest.

Friday Sessions
Coraco, who is holding regular Friday night classes at the gymnasium for women, says that he will conduct the men's classes at Lincoln hall if the turnout is not too large. However, if more room is needed, arrangements probably can be made to use the gym. If the gymnasium is not available, however, Father Thomas has offered the assembly room of the church.

There absolutely will be no tuition fee. If the students wish to buy foils, arrangements have been made with a large manufacturing concern to supply them at school rates.

Any and all persons interested in fencing may sign up at the gymnasium. An entry list will be placed on the gym bulletin board for this purpose.

There are too many in authority these days who wear chips for epaulets.

FIFTY-SEVEN COEDS TURN OUT FOR BLUE PEPPERS

Fifty-seven coeds beleaguered Song-leader Ruben Tuttle last Tuesday in the barracks when he called for try-outs for positions in the Blue Pepper coed song organization.

According to Tuttle, "Although the turnout is slightly larger than has been expected, none of the girls will be dropped from the organization unless it is a voluntary action."

Six of the girls were chosen to represent the different houses. Those who were selected are Caroline Best, Theta; Georgia Cooper, Beta Sig; Marjorie Cliff, Manzanita; Virginia Snow, Tri Delt; Kathleen Meeks, Independent, and Jane Knickerbocker, Pi Phi.

After the meeting, the band and the newly assembled Peppers, under the direction of Ruben Tuttle and Professor Post, band director, practiced marching formations on the "quad." The Blue Peppers will march behind the band during public appearances and will assist in carrying out special band stunts. A special section in the grandstand will be reserved for the Peppers at the games.

Traffic deaths so far this year are off twenty-five per cent, compared with the corresponding period last year. Pedestrians are learning to keep their eyes peeled, their ears cocked and to walk in a crouching position, ready for an instant jump. It's getting harder every day to hit one.

TILLIE BOTTI ANNEXES HORSESHOE CROWN

Having swept all opposition before him, Tillie Botti, A. T. O. representative, annexed the intramural horseshoe singles tourney this year.

George Ardans, S. A. E., and John Gustafson, Sigma Phi Sigma, wound up in tie for the second spot with a record of six wins and two losses.

In games played this week A. T. O. defeated the Lambda Chi pitchers; S. A. E. topped the Sigma Phi Sigma representatives; Sigma Nu defaulted to the Beta Kappa men, and Phi Sigma Kappa outlasted the Lincoln Hall competitors.

Independents defaulted to Beta Kappa; Sigma Phi Sigma defeated Phi Sigma Kappa; S. A. E. dumped Lambda Chi, and the Sigma Nu and Independent teams were both charged with a loss for failure to appear for their scheduled games.

New Coed Vigilant Committee Chosen

Seven Named to Assist Women Tradition Enforcers

Working in cooperation with the present sophomore vigilantes and the women's upperclass committee, a group of seven sophomores was named this week to assist in preserving the traditions of Nevada.

In accordance with the provisions set up last semester for the men vigilantes, the new women's group will be under the supervision of Jim DuPratt, sophomore class manager. Re-established last year after being disbanded for two years the men's committee merely assisted the upperclass committee in apprehending violators of traditions.

New Groups

The new women's group is the first of its kind on the Nevada campus. Established to help the upperclass committee in keeping the old Nevada traditions inviolate, the new committee will merely report offenders and the upperclass committee will mete out the punishment.

Temporary

The temporary list as made up this week included one sophomore from each women's organization with the possibility of more women being added if the upperclass committee sees fit. The list has yet to be approved by the senate.

Those appointed to the committee are Eleanor DuPratt, Delta Delta Delta; Mary Sala, Pi Beta Phi; Florence Butler, Gamma Phi Beta; Marjorie Gusewelle, Kappa Alpha Theta; Bett Johnson, Manzanita Hall; Eleanor Barr, Beta Sigma Omicron, and Ruth Wiley, Independent.

Roche and Beattie Chosen Drum Majors

Dick Roche and George Beattie have been chosen the two chief drum majors of the band, alternating with one another at the games, stated Professor Post, head of the band, this week.

Nine silver batons will be flashed in the sunlight by the band's nine stick-twirlers at the Idaho game. The stick-wielders are Harry Anderson and Wayne Lashway; Mardell Brown, Marie Hursh, Sue Hicks, Mary Murphy, Glenda Wilson, Helen Collins and Marie Dooner.

OFFICER VISITS

Juelda C. Burnaugh, national officer of the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority and treasurer of the national Pan-Hellenic council, will arrive in Reno Monday afternoon.

While in Reno, she will inspect the local chapter of the Beta Sigma Omicron. She will be presented to the chapter members at a presentation tea for the new pledges on Tuesday afternoon.

SPARROW DISRUPTS LIBRARY QUIET WEDNESDAY

Bang!

—and two hundred students looked up, as Assistant Librarian Johnson vigorously shook the Venetian blinds in the study hall Wednesday night.

Cause of all the neck-cranning, an in-offensive sparrow, twittered from atop a swinging chandelier then launched into flight as a shower of paper planes, launched by student hands, threatened its precarious position.

A second method tried, turning out the lights for a brief time and opening windows, failed, when the bird refused to flee to freedom.

No further attempts to free the bird were made, but when expectant students arrived at the library the next morning, the bird had disappeared.

PROFESSOR MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

A meeting of the American Association of University Professors was held Thursday evening at 7:30 at the home of former Dean of Education John W. Hall, at 424 University Terrace.

Dr. John A. Randall, a colonel in the organized reserves, was the main speaker of the evening. He spoke on the subject "A Look at Personnel Systems."

Dr. Randall has had considerable experience in the field of his subject. He is a former president of the Rochester Athenaeum Mechanical Institute, has had responsible duties as investigator for the U. S. senate crime commission; was editorial consultant for the war department in 1918-22, and attended the war college in 1924.

According to Professor Ralph A. Irwin, secretary of the organization, meetings of the A. A. U. P. will be held once a month. All members are urged to come regularly and to bring a guest, Irwin stated.

INDEPENDENT PICNIC PLANNED FOR MONDAY

The Independents' social activities for the year will begin with their annual picnic at Galena creek Monday afternoon and evening.

Plans are being made to accommodate fifty people, and cars will leave the University gate at 4 p. m.

Dick Roche, Barb president, has appointed a committee for transportation headed by Walter Wilcox, and a committee on foods under the direction of Lola Frazier. These committees will have everything in readiness for what is expected to be the biggest and best Independent outing to date.

Foreign Engineer Arrives Here Oct. 1

Leonard T. Guy, assistant chief civil engineer of the state electrical commission at Melbourne, Australia, will arrive in Reno on October 6 to confer with Dr. J. E. Church about snow surveying.

Mr. Guy, who has been traveling through Canada and the United States for the past several months, will speak to the civil engineering group on the campus. He will talk on snow survey work in connection with the creation of water power. He also will exhibit slides of Australian power projects.

The public is invited to attend the assembly, which will be held in the engineering building, it was announced by Walter Lobenstein, president of the group.

The first meeting of the Camera Club was held last night in the Education building. The feature of the evening was an illustrated lecture, "Snap That Picture," given by Herman Konnerth, a student member.

Konnerth, formerly of Los Angeles Junior College, has been very active in photography for several years and gave many valuable tips to novices in the field.

Walt Lobenstein, president of the group, announced that the next meeting would be held October 13 and that anyone interested in photography would be welcome to join the group. The lecture at the next meeting will concern night photography.

The meetings are held in room 208 Education building.

CONCERT TICKETS SALE CLOSSES SAT.

Student tickets for the Nevada Community Concert Association will not be available after Saturday. No tickets will be sold for single admissions and only members of the association may attend. The tickets will be on sale at all fraternity and sorority houses and may also be secured from Sybil Furchner. The tickets are offered to students for $2.50, half of the regular price.

To give more students the privilege of attending the concerts, 200 tickets are on sale this year.

The concerts will be held in the Granada theatre, and the students who have season tickets may reserve seats before each concert. Students purchasing membership cards will receive their tickets through the mail with the dates and the name of the artists appearing at each concert.

Student Directory To Appear Oct. 1

The Blue Key student directory will be printed and distributed to the students before October 1, according to Maurice Sheppard, Blue Key head. The directory will contain the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all the students, faculty and heads of the various departments.

The book, which was first published last year, was sold to the students at fifteen cents per copy, but plans are being made to secure a downtown business man as sponsor of this year's issue, so the directory may be distributed free.
