

FOUR SORORITIES DENIED BID LIST BY PAN-HELL

Six Pacific Teams Accept Invitations To Winter Carnival

Washington and Dartmouth Unable to Enter Competition

Six major ski teams on the Pacific coast have definitely accepted invitations to participate in the intercollegiate ski competitions sponsored by the University of Nevada in conjunction with the University of Nevada Winter Carnival, January 27, 28 and 29.

The six teams, comprising the majority of champion college skiers of the Pacific coast, are Stanford, University of California, University of Oregon, University of Utah, Sacramento Junior College and Placer Junior College.

These six teams will compete with the University of Nevada to decide the championship of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Ski Union, southern division.

Washington Out

The ski team representing the University of Washington was unable to accept the invitation offered by the University of Nevada because of the great distance it would have to travel. Dartmouth College also sent its refusal of the invitation for the same reason.

Letters from the schools accepting the invitations were very encouraging. All said they would help make the winter carnival one of the big things of the west coast winter season.

The Stanford ski team, which took second place in the intercollegiate meet held on Mount Rose last year, has greatly improved and hopes to give the Nevada team, crippled by eligibility rules, a good fight for the championship of the southern division. The University of California has an unusually strong team this year, and its members are practicing continually to insure themselves that they will not be left out when the final tabulation of points is made.

Dark Horses

The University of Utah and the University of Oregon teams are the dark horses of the tournament. Very little is known concerning either team excepting the fact that they have some very strong individual performers.

Also asked to attend the meet were photographers from Life magazine, so that the event may be recorded in "Life Goes to a Party." An answer was received to the effect that, if things permitted, a photographer would be present.

The two junior college teams that have entered the meet are continual threats as individual performers and with a little luck may place high when the final tabulations are made.

The winner of the meet will receive a beautiful team trophy presented by the Reno Printing company, while the individual winners will receive trophy medals or merchandise orders given by Reno business men.

U. N. Organizations

Ask for $2,6179.15

Presentation of the campus organization budgets asking for a total of $2679.15 was the chief business of the first meeting of the Finance Control board Tuesday.

Ten budgets were submitted, the principal ones being the Play-Productions request, Mackay Day fund, and the budget to carry on the maintenance of the A. S. U. N. building and the campus publications.

Action by the board on the requests was delayed until today, at which time Professor F. W. Wilson, the committee chairman, has scheduled the next meeting.

GET YOUR GUN

Ski bunnies galore will be an outstanding feature of the University of Nevada Winter Carnival to be held January 27, 28, 29.

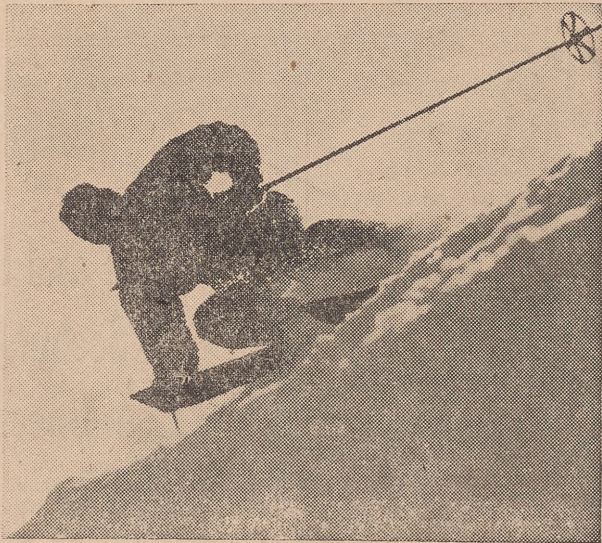

Bunnies from all visiting universities and colleges will be on hand to entertain the competing skiers and spectators.

The champ ski bunny will be on hand at the biggest event of the three-day celebration, the carnival ball, and every one attending will get a chance for a good look at the outstanding bunny of the Pacific coast.

The term "ski bunnies," one of the most original in skiing terminology, was originated several years ago by the University of Nevada ski team when competing at Yosemite for the Pacific coast championship. Immediately adopted by other skiers, the term has come to have an almost universal use.

According to "Webster," a "ski bunny" is a girl skier of superb beauty.

ACE WOLF PACK SNOWMAN

Shown in two different action photos is Dick Mitchell, ace Pack skier. Dick is a transfer from Fresno State, where last year he was an outstanding one-man ski team. This year he is expected to be a leading factor in Nevada's bid for top Pacific coast honors.

History of Nevada to Be Told Over KOH in Re-Broadcast Next Tuesday

The colorful history of Nevada, together with its climate, industries and other features as it was told to a nationwide radio audience last July, when the University of Nevada went on the air for one hour over a National Broadcasting Company hookup, will be re-broadcast by recordings from radio station KOH, Reno, from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesday.

While it deals primarily with the University of Nevada, and was one of a series of monthly broadcasts about the fifty-one land-grant colleges and universities, the program tells much about the state, since it shows the service of the institution to Nevada's people.

Opening with a description of the campus, the program provides a description of the state's outstanding characteristics by Silas E. Ross, chairman of the board of regents.

Included in Nevada's hour on the air is a dramatic interpretation of the development of the state and the university along with it as a land-grant institution.

A special section shows the various accomplishments of the agricultural experiment station, the agricultural extension service and the College of Agriculture in aiding the ranchers of the state.

The work of the Mackay School of Mines, the State Analytical Laboratory and the State Bureau of Mines are related in connection with the mining industry of the state, while the work of the other engineering schools is included in the program.

An interview with a professor of the Mackay School of Mines and two mining students from the Hunt prospecting crew tells of the work that division of the engineering college has done for the state.

Music of Nevada cowboys, mining folk songs, and songs of the university were presented by a chorus of students, alumni and faculty. The program opens and closes with a trumpet fanfare by University of Nevada students.

Organ interludes by Ernest Corristis feature the dramatic episodes.

Chief speaker on the program is Cecil W. Creel, Nevada university faculty member who held the presidency of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities.

The program was broadcast last July from the university campus, a special studio being set up on the campus by the National Broadcasting Company's corps of engineers and announcers, sent to Nevada specially for the program.

The production was presented by University of Nevada staff members, students, alumni and former students.

In charge of the program was Professor A. L. Higginbotham, while Professor Theodore Post directed the music and Professor William C. Miller the dramatic work.

Preparations Made For Military Ball

Elaborate preparations are being made by members of Scabbard and Blade for the forthcoming Military Ball to take place on February 17.

Committees were appointed by Captain Harry Galloway to handle the annual affair.

John Barrett will head the decoration group with Clint McKinley, Delbert Stewart, Max Johnson and Ben Cardinal assisting him.

Chairman of the publicity committee is Don Kinkel, aided by Clarence Heckethorn, Olineto Barsanti, Vernon Wines and Allan Rives.

Heading the hall committee will be Robert Grenig, assisted by Ned Dickson, Roy Shipp and Ernest Jorgenson.

Virgil Hart will select the music with the help of Fred McIntyre.

Kenny Day is chairman of the refreshment group, assisted by Guy Brown and Harry Mornston.

Speaker Discusses Subject of Youth

John P. Puffinbarger, assistant professor of education, was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Century Club last Friday.

His subject was "Youth—Its Three Lives."

In life's first period, Puffinbarger said, the youth must become increasingly able to direct its own behavior if later development is to be normal.

During the "adolescent period," it is necessary that satisfactory adjustment with the opposite sex through natural and wholesome relationships be arrived at, while the third period covers that time during which the youth must achieve a well integrated personality in order to choose his correct vocation and meet the problems of life which he shall find, Puffinbarger continued.

A. E. Committees Named in Meeting Tuesday Evening

Engineers Prepare Events For Engineers Day March 18

At a meeting held last Tuesday the Associated Engineers of the University of Nevada appointed committees to handle the numerous programs to be featured at the annual Engineers' Day which will be held March 18, on the university campus.

The engineers are planning an extensive program for the annual event and a great many features for the day are at the present time being considered by the committees.

Chairman Named

General chairman of the Engineers' Day committees is James Atkinson, while the numerous committees named at the Tuesday meeting are as follows: Contest committee, Joe Littlefield (chairman), Dave Hartman and Richard Smith. The contest sub-committees are composed of Elmer Isaac, in charge of handicraft, and Ike Caraco, chairman, Dallas Downs and John Knemeyer in charge of the state-wide mechanical drawing contest committee.

The exhibits committee will include Martin Hannifan, chairman, Walter Elkins, representing the mechanical engineers; Al Caton of the electrical engineering department; Fred Maynard of the civil engineers, and Clayton Carpenter, representing the physics department. As yet the mining engineers' department has not appointed a member to the exhibits committee but is expected to do so at an early date.

Banquet and Speakers

Though their plans are only tentative, the engineers named banquet and speakers committees for the day. Neither banquet nor speaker arrangements have been made as yet but it is expected that these features will be included during the event. Members of the banquet committee are as follows: George Wade, chairman, and William Mitchell. Members composing the speakers committee are Martin Smythe, chairman, Professor Carpenter of the mining department, Professor Palmer, representing the electrical engineers, and Gottfried Hoffman.

There will be a meeting of the Engineers' Day committee February 1 at 4 in the electrical engineering building where further plans for the annual event will be discussed. All members of the committees are requested to be present.

Honorary Major Selection Planned

Company C, 7th regiment of Scabbard and Blade, cleared the field of fire this week in preparation for an extended campaign. Objective, a new honorary major.

Supplementing the tradition of electing one coed to head the unit, the organization intends to select an honorary captain for each company of the R. O. T. C. battalion, as well as one for the band.

Requests have been mailed to campus sororities, the Independents and Manzanita Hall, asking them to select one of their number to enter the honorary major competition. A junior student is preferable, as she will be on the campus for next fall's ceremonies, Harry Gallaway, fraternity head, stated.

To Elect Major

Cadet officers will be introduced to the candidates for major at a tea to be held January 31, and the election will take place February 1. The result will be published in the Sagebrush February 3.

After these maneuvers, the unit will swing into action again, naming the four captains. Each company of the cadet battalion will nominate three coeds as candidates for the honorary captain's sash. The final vote will be taken February 13.

Coed Duties

The duties of the military coeds will consist of taking part in the Military Ball as the major's aides. They will also march with the cadet battalion during reviews and parades.

BARBS GIVE BOOKS TO HONOR MACKAY

Two books will be donated to the university library as a memorial to Clarence Mackay by the organized Independents, it was decided at a meeting this week.

The books will be of fiction, and a committee composed of Gracia Ferguson, Gertrude Freeman and Walter Wilcox will make the selection.

Pack Defends Hoop Title Against Chico Quintet

Two Teams Clash in Gym Tonight, Tomorrow At 8 p. m.

The University of Nevada's Far Western Conference basketball champions open the defense of their title when they meet Coach Art Acker's powerful Chico Wildcats in the university gym at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Wildcats, reputedly the strongest team in the conference this year and boasting an all-veteran team, probably will enter tonight's game as slight favorites. Only one regular, Len Stenberg, has been lost from last year's squad, and he has been ably replaced by Harold Taylor, a smooth forward with a year of varsity experience behind him.

Won Eight of Nine

The Chico quintet has won eight of its nine practice tilts this season, averaging 48 points to their opponents' 31, against such teases as Whittier College, Southern Oregon Normal, and Modesto Junior College. The one game was dropped when the Wildcats split with Southern Oregon Normal.

At the California state college tournament held at San Jose late in December, the Wildcats won the cup for the best defensive team in the meet, as well as being the only team to defeat San Diego State in the three nights of competition. Their center, Al Schlueter, was the third highest scorer of the tournament, with 36 points chalked up to his credit.

Chico Lineup

Backing up Schlueter at center, Acker will start Irving Shoenfield, a short, fast ball-hawk who fires up every game he enters, at one forward; Harold Taylor, an expert feeder, at the other forward; Art Whitmer, a rangy defensive man at one guard, and Bud Swensen, a smooth, cool long-shot artist at the other guard.

As an added incentive for victory, Chico will be out to revenge the double setback handed them on their home floor last year by a championship-bound Wolf Pack. Nevada won the first game, 42-38, and the second, 52-44.

Against this imposing array of basketball talent, J. E. "Doc" Martie will start a Wolf Pack fresh from an even break with San Francisco State's powerful Gaters.

Nevada Starters

Etchemendy and Cobega, who both played five games against San Francisco State last week, have continued to look good during practice this week and will start at the forward posts. Cobega sparked the Pack to its win over the Staters.

Ray Harris, who turned in his usual smooth, cool game in both of the Gater games, probably will give the Wildcats plenty to worry about with his clever dribbling and long shots from one of the guard spots.

Radovich at center and Olsen at the other guard both turned in good games last week and will receive the starting call tonight. Olsen did an especially fine job of guarding in the second game of the series.

Gordon Thompson, who has been in a shooting slump, probably will see plenty of action at a forward post, as will Max Forbes. Ray Waldren, Blake Speers and John Lemich will spell-off Olsen and Harris at guards, and John Mayse and Lee Conway will relieve Radovich at center if need be.

Impressed by Pack

After watching Nevada beat San Francisco State last Friday night, Coach Art Acker admitted that the speed and fight of the Wolf Pack impressed him greatly, but observed that he "has a pretty sweet bunch of boys" himself. A master of understatement, Acker later added that the Wildcats "might press the Wolves for a victory or two" if "they could get a little luck."

The Wildcats, always a power in Far Western Conference basketball, won their last title two years ago. They finished third in the conference race last year.

Coeds Must Take Two Swimming Tests

Before the 20 women eligible can take senior life-saving exams, two swimming tests must be taken. These will be held Monday and Friday evenings, January 23 and 27.

For the swimming tests, the women are required to swim one-fourth of a mile free-style, and the same distance using breast or side stroke.

Sagers Initiation Tuesday

Leon Etchemendy has announced that the Sagers will meet next Tuesday in the A. S. U. N. building, at which time initiation of new members will take place. Also to be discussed is the part which the organization will have in the coming ski carnival.

Beta Sig Is Only Group Privileged To Pledge Coeds

Houses Reported Today For Off-Campus Rushing

The punishment axe for violations of Pan-Hellenic rushing rules swung heavily this afternoon when four Greek organizations were denied the privilege of bidding any girls this semester.

Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta and Gamma Phi Beta were reported to Mrs. Mary Sanger, president of the ruling group, for having been seen with rushees off campus during the rushing season.

Refused for Term

At the two meetings held this afternoon, it was decided by members of the Pan-Hellenic council that each of the houses would be refused the chance of issuing any bids on Saturday, which was to be the end of the rushing season. They will also be prohibited from doing any further pledging during the remainder of the spring term.

Beta Sigma Omicron will be the only Greek letter sorority which will be allowed to pledge any freshmen women. Presidents of the four offending houses feel that the punishment imposed today will do much to clean up rushing activities on the Nevada campus.

Sanger Approves

Mrs. Sanger, after the second meeting, declared that it was the only thing to do under the circumstances, but said that she felt that the punishments were justly deserved.

Dean Margaret E. Mack stated this afternoon that she did not wish to make any statement concerning the matter.

Surprise Ruling

The ruling, which came as a complete surprise, has caused much talk around campus circles late this evening, and there is some speculation as to what will result from the matter in future years.

Alumni Committee Report Released Late This Week

Group Says Incompetent Charge of Players Is 'Unwarranted'

The charge of incompetency on the part of the athletic director and the coaching staff of the University of Nevada was found "unwarranted" by the Alumni Association committee in its report to the Board of Regents concerning the athletic situation of the university.

Presented to the board December 24, and released for publication January 18, at the request of the assembly, the alumni report presented the complete results of a two-months investigation.

Change Athletics

Besides judging the charge of incompetency of the athletic director and the coaching staff as "unwarranted," the report suggested that all athletics be withdrawn from the control of administrative officers of the university and be placed, free and clear of all debt, under supervision and direction of a board of athletic control, composed of the following five members: Comptroller of the university, chairman of faculty athletic committee, one alumni representative, the A. S. U. N. president, and a student elected from the Bock N society.

Board of Regents

This report is being studied by the state legislature at Carson City, and probably will be taken up by the Board of Regents at its first meeting of the year. This meeting will be held January 28, Acting President Leon W. Hartman said.

Committee members working on and submitting this report were: Francis R. Smith, chairman; Harry J. Frost, Bill A. Ligon, Earl T. Ross, Sidney W. Robinson, Edward E. Reed, Hugo M. Quilici, W. R. Beemer and Alan Bible.

Mexico University Meets Nevada Five At 8 p. m. Monday

The University of Mexico's barnstorming basketball team will meet Nevada in the university gym at 8 o'clock Monday night to top off a busy weekend for the Wolf Pack.

The Mexican team, on a good-will tour of the western United States, has been displaying a nice brand of basketball on the coast and are becoming more experienced and harder to beat with every game.

Played Strong Games

Against teams of Nevada's calibre, such as Fresno and San Diego State, they have turned in some strong games, twice losing heartbreakers in the last minutes of the game.

They were nosed out by two points in the closing seconds of play at Fresno and dropped a close decision at San Diego as well.

In addition to the smaller colleges, they have met such schools as the University of California and the University of Arizona. While losing to both these teams they impressed the crowds with their fast, clean basketball and were "in the game" at all times.

Small But Fast

Though very small, they reputedly have one of the fastest teams seen on the Pacific coast this year. They use a fast break after the basket to a great advantage, observers say.

Monday's game will mark their first appearance at Nevada.

As a preliminary to the varsity game, the United Motors City league team will play the Junior Varsity squad.

THIS IS NO BULL

Ferdinand, flower-smelling bull of story book and movie fame, has kindly condescended to come to the University of Nevada Winter Carnival to enjoy one of his favorite outdoor pastimes, skiing.

Ferdinand, once rejected from the bull-fighting arena because he liked to smell the flowers which the ladies wore in their hair, took up skiing so he could smell the fragrance of the fresh pine trees as he hastened past them on his skis.

Through the special permission of Walt Disney, famous cartoon creator, Ferdinand has agreed to open the carnival and show his prowess on the boards by gliding down the hill for all the spectators to see.

Hence you see the much-publicized question, "Have you seen Ferdinand ski?" was not a Russian gag but the real thing.

Blue Key Backs President's Dance

Blue Key last night announced that it would stimulate campus interest for the annual President's Birthday Ball in Reno January 30.

Blue Key's reason for taking part in the dance was because local sponsors postponed the dance from January 28 to January 30, due to the University of Nevada's Winter Carnival dance on that night.

Miss Eva Adams, instructor in English, is a member of the dance committee, and said there was a possibility that the dance could be authorized as a campus event.

Competition Keen In Greek Handball

Tucker, Peccole, Mayer and Dimock Victorious In Contests

Intramural sports activities took up where they left off last semester this week with four different handball singles teams taking the court in exciting games in the gymnasium.

In the first scheduled game of the current season, Leland Tucker, Beta Kappa representative, virtually blasted Ches Jacobsen, Lincoln Hall, off the court with scores of 21-4 and 21-0.

Bill Peccole, S. A. E., was nearly as convincing as Tucker in subduing Olinto Barsanti, Sigma Nu, by counts of 21-4 and 21-4.

Mayer Victor

Phi Sigma Kappa's Virgil Mayer and Virgil Hart, Independent, staged the only three-game match of the season to date, with Mayer finally winning out to the tune of 10-21, 21-6, 21-10.

Ken Dimock, Lambda Chi Alpha, outlasted two Alpha Tau Omega representatives when he beat Bill Andrews, 21-15, in the first game, and conquered Elwyn Trigerio, 21-12, in the second.

All games in this year's tourney will be played on either Monday, Wednesday or Saturday with no games scheduled on any of the remaining days of the week.

Schedule Given

Complete schedule for the tourney is: Saturday, Jan. 21—1 p. m., Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Lincoln Hall; 2 p. m., Beta Kappa vs. Sigma Nu; 3 p. m., Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; 4 p. m., Independents vs. Alpha Tau Omega.

Monday, Jan. 23—4 p. m., Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Beta Kappa; 5 p. m., Sigma Phi Sigma vs. Sigma Nu.

Wednesday, Jan. 25—4 p. m., Alpha Tau Omega vs. Lincoln Hall; 5 p. m., Independents vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Saturday, Jan. 28—1 p. m., Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; 2 p. m., Beta Kappa vs. Alpha Tau Omega; 3 p. m., Sigma Nu vs. Independents; 4 p. m., Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Phi Sigma.

Monday, Jan. 30—4 p. m., Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Lincoln Hall; 5 p. m., Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Nu.

Wednesday, Feb. 1—4 p. m., Independents vs. Beta Kappa; 5 p. m., Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Sigma Phi Sigma.

Saturday, Feb. 4—1 p. m., Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; 2 p. m., Lincoln Hall vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; 3 p. m., Beta Kappa vs. Sigma Phi Sigma; 4 p. m., Lincoln Hall vs. Independents (to be played on Friday, Feb. 3).

Monday, Feb. 6—4 p. m., Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Alpha Tau Omega; 5 p. m., Sigma Nu vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

Wednesday, Feb. 8—4 p. m., Beta Kappa vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; 5 p. m., Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Phi Sigma.

Saturday, Feb. 11—1 p. m., Lincoln Hall vs. Sigma Nu; 2 p. m., Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Alpha Tau Omega; 3 p. m., Independents vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; 4 p. m., Beta Kappa vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Monday, Feb. 13—4 p. m., Independents vs. Sigma Phi Sigma; 5 p. m., Lincoln Hall vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Wednesday, Feb. 15—4 p. m., Sigma Nu vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; 5 p. m., Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Sigma Phi Sigma.

Winter Carnival Dance to Be Sponsored Jan. 28

Plans for the Carnival ball, outstanding social event of the Winter Carnival weekend, are practically completed. The dance, a come-as-you-are affair, will be held in the auditorium of the Washoe County Library building, January 28.

The dance will feature the coronation of the Carnival Queen, who will be chosen from the many girls that will be on hand for the carnival.

Music for the dance will be furnished by the Swiss Swingsters. A German band will be an added attraction.

The plans call for entertainment from students of the University of Nevada and entertainers from Reno night spots.

The decorations will carry out completely the carnival theme and promise to be very good. The setting is to be rustic and natural in that many local shrubs and plants will comprise much of it.

The Carnival ball will be open to the public and many townspeople are expected to attend and take part in the festivities.

Scabbard, Blade Initiates Fourteen

Formal induction ceremonies were performed this week by Scabbard and blade, ushering 14 new members into the organization.

The military fraternity is a national group formed to further military efficiency and comradeship among members of advanced course, R. O. T. C.

Harry Galloway, captain of the chapter, officiated at the initiation.

The new members received their informal initiation in the form of interior guard duty on the campus. They receive their insignia at the military ball when it will be presented them by the newly-elected honorary major.

FLYING COURSE FAILS TO MATERIALIZE FOR AVIATION ENTHUSIASTS

No word has been received by University of Nevada authorities concerning the possibility of a course in aviation, although a notice appeared on the bulletin board last week requesting the signatures of those interested.

Courses in aviation are being established in colleges throughout the country in conjunction with the government's drive for 20,000 trained men. The course of study includes ground school, combat flying, commercial flying, aeronautical engineering and other phases of commercial and military flying.

The 20,000 trained men probably will be absorbed by the air corps in the event of a national emergency, as the drive is affiliated with the increased armaments program.

Dave Goldwater, A. S. U. N. president, received a communication from a Reno aviator to the effect that if 20 students were interested the course would be inaugurated at Nevada for the 1939 spring semester. Within a week, nearly a hundred students had pledged to enroll in the study.

To date, however, none of the university authorities has been consulted, and it is possible that it will be taught apart from the regular curriculum.

Winter Carnival Greatly Publicized

Stories and Pictures Used In Pacific Coast Groups

Handling the publicity for the University of Nevada Winter Carnival has been one of the hardest jobs of producing a successful carnival.

Many stories and pictures have been sent out to all the college papers of the Pacific coast and intermountain regions besides special stories to magazines featuring skiing.

Posters and illustrated folders have been sent to all colleges, stores and ski clubs in the California region, besides personal letters to the presidents of all fraternity and sorority chapters on the coast.

Letters to the presidents of all ski clubs and universities have been written by Dave Goldwater and much response has been received.

One of the most helpful of all people handling publicity has been Jerry Carpenter of the California State Chamber of Commerce, who has given out information concerning the carnival to all the daily newspapers in California.

Especially helpful has been the Reno Chamber of Commerce, which has sent out many letters and much information to all interested parties.

Realizing that publicity is the life blood of such a venture, the carnival committee has left no stone unturned in making the winter carnival the outstanding event of the winter season.

DEBATERS INTERPRET RADIO BROADCASTS

Every Monday night at 7 p. m. and on Wednesdays at 6:30 p. m. over radio station KOH, members of the university varsity debate teams will interpret recent world and national news as it is given by the Christian Science Monitor, an international daily newspaper.

For the past month Robert Joy, varsity debate manager, has been presenting the broadcasts, which are written by the Monitor staff, and it wasn't until last Monday that he was relieved of his duties by Leo McCuddin.

These broadcasts not only bring the listeners a brief summary of the news but afford an excellent chance for speech improvement and experience in radio work for those speakers taking an active part in it.

Some girls live on the interest men have in them.

Intramural Debate Opens January 30; Teams Announced

Best Groups to Represent U. N. at West Coast Tournament

The annual intramural debate season of the University of Nevada will open January 30, it was decided at a debaters meeting held last Monday night in the Hall of English.

The question to be debated is: "Resolved, That the United States should cease to use public funds for the stimulation of business." Contests will be held each Monday and Wednesday evenings until the tournament is finished. The debates will be held in the Education building auditorium, and the public has been invited to attend.

Competition will proceed at a rapid rate, so that two or three of the best teams entered in the tournament will be able to represent the university in the first west coast debate tournament to be held at Stockton, Calif., the latter part of February.

This is the first time in the history of the university that any intramural debaters have been allowed to take part in such an intercollegiate coast meet. The competition is made possible by passage, last year, of two new student amendments that allow for additional funds.

During the intramural debate session, the varsity team members will compete among themselves in preparation for the coming Pacific Forensic League tournament, which is to take place at Southern California the early part of March.

The topic of discussion this year is: "What can be done in the United States to assure peace?"

Robert Joy, varsity debate manager, last night announced that the following teams have signed up for the competition:

Team No. 1—Charles Mapes and Edwin Mulcahy.

Team No. 2—Jim Barret and Russell Strom.

Team No. 3—Byron Armstrong and Harry Anderson.

Team No. 4—Ross Ashley and Artemus Ham.

Team No. 5—William Casey and James Driscoll.

Team No. 6—William Lattin and Tom Cooke.

Team No. 7—Fred McIntyre and Darrell Birch.

Team No. 8—Oslin Souders and James Breen.

Team No. 9—Helen Lwy and Elizabeth Mason.

Team No. 10—Donald Downs and Bill Curtis.

Varsity Debate Teams—Eunice Beckley and Kathryn Develin; Andrew Rosaschi and Robert Joy; Fran Breen and Leo McCuddin.

Bid Day Is Changed P.-H. Council States

With the rushing season on, Mary Sanger, president of the Pan-Hellenic council, announced that the bid day will be changed from Friday to Saturday in order to give more time for decisions.

Plans are being made for the Pan-Hellenic dance, Mrs. Sanger announced. Edith Salvi, representative from Beta Sigma Omicron, drew February 11 as the date for the event. Meetings will be held next week, to make definite plans, which will be announced later.

Burleigh's Poem Published in Magazine

From a collection of poems written by college students of all nations, "Dust," by Betty Burleigh, senior, was printed in the latest edition of the national Chi Delta Phi magazine.

Written in free verse, the poem told the story of someone going to the mail box, expecting a letter, only to find a box full of dust.

ATHLETIC BANQUET SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Featuring the announcement of varsity teams and the awarding of the archery, hockey, volleyball and riding cups, the intermural banquet will be held January 25 at Carlin's Lakeside Inn.

Those planning to attend the banquet must make reservations either through their sorority, with Mae Simas or Betty Parish before Monday, January 25.

Sorority houses in cooperation with the intermural board will not serve dinner on January 25, thus guaranteeing a large attendance.

Transportation for those desiring it will be provided. Those planning to attend are urged to be on time, since the dinner service will begin promptly at 6:30.

Press Convention Report Submitted

Written Report on Recent Meeting Is Mailed To Schools

With queries as to the possibilities of the formation of a Nevada scholastic press association, to be sponsored by the University of Nevada Press Club, as a prominent feature, the University Press Club supplemented its recent scholastic press convention with a written report this year which will be sent to all the high schools of the state.

The report also contains a review of the discussions carried on by various high school advisors, prominent local newspaper men, and the remarks of a representative of a Los Angeles engraving company.

Presentation of these reviews is expected to refresh representatives' minds as to what was discussed at the various round-table meetings, and the representatives will be able to pass the information along to their fellow-workers on the high school publications.

The report also lists the program for the benefit of those schools that did not send representatives this year. Only some of the larger schools of the state were represented and efforts are being made to make this annual affair statewide.

The two styles of high-school newspapers were listed and the make-up of these two types was outlined in the report. These make-ups were taken from a nationally-approved text on journalistic make-up.

In conclusion, the report listed the various faults found by the judges' committee in studying the publications for the awarding of the trophies offered for the best paper and annual. As the faults were listed, so were the methods of improvement in each case.

The report suggested that the high school organizations submit ideas of topics that they would like to have discussed at the next convention which will be held next fall.

SKIING IS EXCITING! — "But don't let nerve tension spoil your fun ..."

LET UP — LIGHT UP A CAMEL

advises HANS THORNER Skiing expert and director of the Mount Washington (N. H.) Swiss Ski School

BETWEEN ORGANIZING CLASSES, checking up on equipment, giving exhibitions, and a host of other activities, there's plenty of nerve strain in Hans Thorne's day too! At left you see him taking his own advice about the way to avoid getting tense, jittery. He's letting up to light up a Camel. "It's a grand way to break nerve tension," says Thorne. "I find Camels quite soothing to the nerves."

HUNDREDS OF SKIERS have made their debut to this winter sport under Hans Thorne's expert guidance. One skiing principle he stresses is: "Don't let your nerves get tense, keyed-up." His advice to pupils: "Pause regularly—let up—light up a Camel."

WHEN BUSY, STRENUOUS days put your nerves on the spot, take a tip from the wire fox terrier pictured here. Despite his complex nerve system, he quickly halts after activity, to relax—to ease his nerves. Often, we humans ignore this instinctive urge to break nerve tension. We may even drive on relentlessly, forgetting that tiring nerves may soon be jittery nerves! Yet the welfare of your nerves is really vital to your success, to your happiness. Make it your pleasant rule to pause regularly—to LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL. Start today—add an extra measure of comfort to your smoking with Camel's finer, costlier tobaccos.

The editorials in the University of Nevada Sagebrush express the thoughts of the editor of the publication and make no pretense of being the barometer of the sentiment of the University of Nevada student body or administration. All editorials are written by the editor unless signed otherwise.

of the athletic plot at the University of Nevada was finally given to the people of the state this week when the alumni made their report to the legislature of the state of Nevada.

The report practically concluded a tense situation at the university which reached a head several weeks ago and has kept people throughout the state intensely interested in the university waiting for the report to be made public.

The Sagebrush feels that the alumni have made an exceptionally fine report. Being business men, they worked under conditions that were hard to conquer. The Sagebrush feels that the suggestions made by the alumni if carried out will do a great deal in the future to aid in the building of a fine university.

In the first place, the establishment of an athletic board of control will insure a smooth-running department of athletics with little chance for aspersion to be cast.

With the appointments of both faculty and student members to the board it should clear all doubt as to the administration of monetary affairs. The policy of major athletics would never be in doubt and, with the camptroller of the university sitting on the board, there would never be a recurrence of the several thousand dollars deficit that now occurs in the athletics budget.

In the past, a great deal of friction has risen over the problem of employment for such students as have needed aid to continue their studies at the university. In the past, the job of gaining positions for such students has been shifted from person to person, finally coming to rest upon someone already heavily burdened with other duties and could not effectively pursue the job.

If the plan which the alumni submitted is carried through, a full time job will be created to take care of such problems and other minor details which are necessary for a smooth-running athletic department.

When commenting upon the method of handling athletic scholarships the committee said, "In the awarding of said scholarships, your committee recommends that preference be given to Nevada students over students having an origin outside the state of Nevada."

This publication feels that if such a plan is carried out that the university will have taken a great step forward in impressing upon the people of the state that it is THEIR university. And not only that, but it also will bring to the state institution those many native athletes who in the past have found it necessary to gain their higher education in the portals of a California, Utah or other state institution other than Nevada university.

Several other problems also are discussed by the report. In one section of the report, the committee makes the statement that "the members of the student body of the University of Nevada voluntarily assess themselves such additional sum each semester as the board of athletic control may deem necessary for the purpose of adequately financing athletics at the University of Nevada."

The Sagebrush regards this suggestion as inevitable. At different times during the past few years different attempts have been made by several sources to raise the student body fees for various reasons. Although the alumni report does not specify the amount which the fees should be raised and rather makes the fees variable, nevertheless a raise in the student fees is entailed. However, we feel that whatever the amount the board feels fit to raise the fees that it will be so slight as to not inconvenience hardly a student.

The big difficulty with the alumni report, as the Sagebrush sees it, is still a question of finances. There is no doubt that if carried out the report would solve many questions. However, to carry out such a plan would bring into consideration quite a large sum of money which the Sagebrush cannot see forthcoming.

Therefore, the university is quite a bit right back where it started before the investigation.

The legislature this week ordered another investigation. That is quite all right. The great scandal which some people expected to unfold when the alumni made their report did not materialize. We are sure that the legislators will find the same problems when they make their investigations.

We are sure that the report will be, "There is nothing wrong with the University of Nevada except—there is a shortage of money with which the university can efficiently operate."

WE HATE TO SAY

"We told you so!" However, the social calendar bears our contention of last year that it is crowded insufferably.

Within rapid succession of each other the Snow Carnival Ball, Pan-Hel Reverse, Band Dance, Military Ball and Frosh Glee. To fill the rest of the calendar there is the Press Club dance, the Engineers' Day Dance, Mackay Day dance, Senior Ball, to say nothing of nine assorted fraternity formals and at least four sorority formals, because there also is the informal dances that each house throws during the semester, of which there usually are three or four.

How about the houses and the student administration getting together and paring down on the social calendar because, after all, a lot is enough and too much is too much.

SCREAMS...

From the Dark

By OPHELIA, '00

Got the jitters—got the jitters—gotta fill up some more space . . . adcfeki, testing, woof, woof.

Exactly one year ago today it was January 20, 1938. Can you imagine that? How time does fly—and here we are, well into the second week of this semester. To those of you that are still wondering about certain courses that you have enrolled in, or worse yet—to those of you who are contemplating adding a few more hours to your schedule—may I give you some pointers?

- 1—Sit in the first row with a wretched expression on your face.
- 2—Hand in none of your work.
- 3—If the prof is a "him" bring some cigarettes; if said person is a "her," bring some flowers—if you have no flowers, just bring the vase.
- 4—Be the one to help make out the final examination, then you won't have to take the test.
- 5—When she or he recites his or her favorite poem, stand up and applaud.
- 6—When something needs to be mimeographed, jump to do it. Don't be alarmed—the incident is usually forgotten—and, anyhow, there is a place where all mimeographing for the campus is done free.
- 7—Go have your head examined.

Although I read recently that certain people in this big country of ours are working on the theory that orchids could easily be raised as house plants with very little trouble—I still feel that they will be a rarity for some time yet and, since we still like to have those things that we can't have—without some difficulty—I will continue offering them to deserving souls when I chance to run across them.

And so at this time it gives me great pleasure to award the Ophelia Orchid (mythical, of course) to none other than Mazie Ryan, the little girl behind the men, behind the desk, behind it all. Indeed, I'm sure to the bewildering frosh, sophs, juniors and seniors alike, during the scurry of registration and on through the semester, Mazie is the one substantial guiding light and advice-giver to be turned to when in doubt. Mazie is one of those rare persons who always, no matter how many problems of her own she may have or how many letters and other things she must attend to, always has the time to smilingly listen to the troubles of others and offer useful advice and assistance.

So the thirty-ninth session of the Nevada legislature is in session. Now, maybe, things will happen and, then again, maybe they won't. At least some mention was made by His Honor Gov. E. P. Carville, concerning the matter of additional buildings for the university. It was his request that the building program be thoroughly discussed with the proper authorities representing the university, with the view of determining whether future buildings are necessary and, if found necessary, a proper means of financing and constructing them, or such number as may be economically handled.

Investigation . . . does that word seem familiar to you? To investigate or Ovidio M. Abreu, a graduate of the University of Venezuela, has been sent to the Mackay School of Mines by the Venezuelan government to take his master's degree in geology.

Clyde Keegel, University of Nevada graduate in 1938, will leave the Consolidated Copper Mines at Kimberly to take a job with the Cero de Pasco Mining Corporation in Peru some time this month.

Keegel, a member of the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, graduated from the Mackay School of Mines and was very prominent in campus politics.

Bert Cummings, graduate of the Mackay School of Mines, passed through Reno Monday en route to San Francisco where he plans to spend a couple of months before returning to his job with the United States Machinery company in Salt Lake.

Sam Arentz, Jr., visited the school of mines on his way from mining properties in Colorado to Idaho. Arentz is now an assistant to a prominent consulting engineer in Salt Lake City.

not to investigate has been a pertinent question hereabouts for some time. Perhaps we have "investigativitis" or something. Regardless, however, a new committee is being brought into our midst. This committee is composed of three senators and two assemblymen, and if everything goes as planned, they will be hovering in this vicinity tomorrow. Here's hoping they have eyes to see with and know what to do about that which they may see.

My, my, this is getting me. Let's turn to a lighter vein . . . yes, yes, vein in doubt attempt to tell a funny story.

The humor in me just fails to come forth. Perhaps it is because I still am suffering the after-effect of a tooth extraction. Yep, I had a date with the dentist at 2:30 this afternoon. "Why?" you ask. Well, I had the date at 2:30 'cause my tooth-hurtie . . . why else do you suppose?

I suppose by this time it really makes snow difference whether I mention the ever-increasing nearness of the Snow Carnival, 'cause probably any readers I did have have quit—but, just in case, more help from more of you would be greatly appreciated by all concerned.

LETTERS

to the EDITOR

To the Honorable The President of the Senate, and The Speaker of the House, State Legislature, Carson City, Nev., Gentlemen:

Concerning the Resolution presented to the assembly by Mr. R. Cahill, and passed by that group, asking for an immediate presentation by the board of regents of the report covering the investigation of the University of Nevada athletic situation, made by an alumni committee, may I present the following statements to correct certain erroneous impressions:

- 1—The date set by the board of regents for presentation of the alumni report to them was originally November 26, 1938. The committee asked for an extension of time to December 15, 1938, which request was granted, and the meeting of the board was postponed until December 17, 1938. Finding that final recommendations could not be agreed upon by this date, the committee was again forced to ask for further time. This request was likewise granted, but the board of regents necessarily convened on that date to take up other business. At this time it was agreed upon that the board would take up the matter of the report at their next regular meeting on January 28, 1939. The report was subsequently filed with the acting president of the university for the board of regents on December 24, 1938, therefore the date of presentation of the report set forth in Mr. Cahill's resolution as December 10, 1938, is in error.
- 2—I believe it is generally understood that, since the alumni investigating committee conducted its work upon the authorization of the board of regents, it was the duty of the committee to make its report to the board without publication of its contents. As the result of talks with several members of the board of regents, I gather that it is their contention that, since the report covers matters under their immediate jurisdiction, it is entirely proper that it be considered by them before publication is made. I further understand that a special meeting to consider the report was not called due to the fact that it would require the expenditure of several hundred dollars, which amount the university is in no position to spend at the present time.

In view of the above facts, I fully believe that the board of regents had no ulterior motives in mind in having withheld publication of the alumni committee report.

Very truly yours,
F. R. SMITH,
Chairman Alumni Investigation Committee.

Wolf Pack Gives S. F. State First Defeat of Season

Nevada Hoop Team Splits Series With Strong Californians

A fighting Nevada basketball team broke a nine-game winning streak by beating a strong San Francisco State team last Friday evening. Nevada won the 40-44, a two-game series by a score of first-half, and dropped the second by a score of 55-43.

At the end of the first half of the first game the Wolf Pack trailed by 13 points. About the middle of the second half Cobega, sophomore forward, came into the game. He intercepted two of the Golden Gaters' passes and dribbled in for baskets. This seemed to pull the game out of the fire for, from then on, Etchemendy and Cobega hit the hoop with deadly accuracy until Nevada had crept up and only trailed 38-34. Ray Harris, star guard, shook the Gaters who had had him bottled up all evening, and he threw two one-handed baskets that tied the score.

Collingwood, stellar State center, undoubtedly was the most outstanding man on the floor. He banged in one-handed shots from all angles, and was State's main threat throughout the entire game.

The following evening the Wolves did not fare so well as the night before and, when all was said and done, they were holding up the short end of a 55-43 score.

The strong State team held the lead all the way and only once, in the second half, did Nevada rally to come within three points of the State score.

Collingwood repeated his stellar performance and again was one of the most outstanding men on the floor. Joe Sanz, State forward, and Kerwan, guard, were deadly to Nevada's defense. Time and again they slipped through the Nevada defense and ringed the hoop.

Outstanding for Nevada was Harris, stalwart guard, who penetrated the State defense much more often than he did in the preceding game. He shot from difficult angles and was passing very well.

Olson and Cobega worked effectively against the State team and were able to sink a number of difficult shots.

The second game did not have the speed or thrills of the previous evening but the roughness of the second game was outstanding, a total of 29 personal fouls being called.

Ski Class Offered To P. E. Students

One of the most popular of the new classes given by the university within recent years is the ski class of the men's Physical Education department.

Taught by James Worden, ace ski team member, the ski class will meet every week for instruction and will have monthly examinations which will consist of a regular ski meet for inexperienced skiers to test the ability and knowledge of the students.

Inaugurated last year, the ski class met with immediate success and much good was considered done by getting the students out in the open and teaching them the fundamentals of skiing.

Worden, last year's instructor, said that all students make rapid strides forward as soon as they learn that the fundamental principle of skiing is rhythm and not strength.

Other west coast universities and colleges that offer skiing in the curriculum include Stanford, California, Mills, and Sacramento Junior College.

U. Chapel Services Resumed This Week

Services at St. Stephen's Chapel have been resumed with the opening of the new semester.

This Sunday the services will be held at 8 a. m., 11 a. m. and University Vespers at 6 p. m. All students are being urged to attend.

The student group at St. Stephen's that meets for supper on Sunday evenings is preparing to do work in "choral reading," and will present a program early in February. It is hoped that the choruses will present "The Hound of Heaven" at that time.

During a meeting the first of January Bob Parker, '40, was appointed student representative of the chapel committee.

PRE-LEGAL CLUB TO FEATURE SPEAKERS

Several members of the Washoe County Bar Association will be guest speakers at a meeting of the University of Nevada Pre-Legal Club in the near future.

Members of the pre-legal committee announced that the speakers and meeting date will be determined at the first of next week by Joseph Haller, prominent Reno attorney and president of the Washoe Bar Association.

Programs Printed For Ski Carnival

Plans for the printed ski program have been completed and the program is now on its way to the press in order that it will be ready for the competitive events to be held Saturday and Sunday in conjunction with the University of Nevada Winter Carnival.

Resembling the well-known football programs, the ski program will contain information of all the competitors and will give their numbers.

Besiding listing the members of the competing teams the program also will give information concerning the events and explain them so that the inexperienced onlooker may understand them better.

There also will be information given on the new point-system which is to be tried for the first time in an inter-collegiate meet. The new point-system is being used to enable the judges to tabulate the final results of the meet as soon as it is over instead of working an hour or two as they had to when using the old system.

The program also will contain names of the underwriters of the carnival.

J. V. Basketball Practice Is Held

Coach Ray Harris Takes Over Squad With 33 Hoopsters

Practice for the University of Nevada Junior Varsity basketball team began Monday night with 33 men turning out.

Ray Harris, varsity guard, is coaching the team.

For the first time in several years, the Jayvees did not enter competition in the City league, but are playing an independent schedule, including games with City league teams and adjacent town teams.

The entire squad is now working out as a unit, but probably will be split into two parts in the near future, Harris said. Jack Pieri, who is acting as manager for the squad, will probably handle the second team.

No starting string has been chosen as yet, but in a scrimmage with the Frosh Wednesday night, the combination of Jim McNabney at center, Gus Edwards and Bob Taylor at forwards, and Hank Clayton and John Polish at guards looked good.

Other men out for the team include Bill Andrews, Charles Barnes, George Basta, Darrell Birch, Emery Conway, John DuPratt, Nick Evasovic, Ralston Hawkins, Jack Good, James Gibbs, William Marks, Harry King, Frank McCulloch, Gerald McCormick, Geno Pisan, Mark Stewart, James Shepley, Elwin Trigerro, Leon Etchemendy, William Parsons, Robert Paille, Bill Peccole, Ross Ashley, Tillie Boti, Henry Clayton, Jim Griswold, Robert Handley and Jim McDonald.

The team will play the strong United Motors squad, a City league entrant, as a preliminary to the University of Nevada-University of Mexico game Monday night. All players should be at the gymnasium by 6:30, Harris said.

Returns to U. S.

Gertrude Reilly, graduate with the class of 1930, returned to the United States this week from a teaching position in Alaska.

She will teach at Ruth, Nevada, this year.

Ice and Snow Decorations Planned By Fraternities for Winter Carnival

House decorations for the University of Nevada Winter Carnival promise to be probably the most colorful and novel of any attempt heretofore made on the campus, members state.

To be judged at night under colored lights, the decorations will carry out a winter theme in all respects and will be made of ice or snow.

The decorations will be modeled in part after the famous snow carvings that comprise the decorations for the famous Dartmouth snow carnival but may be made to represent anything that has to do with winter and may or may not be a carving.

Cubs Beat Lassen Hoopsters, 40-37

A last-minute rally by the Lassen J. C. team proved ineffective against the Nevada Frosh on the Susanville court last Saturday night, the whistle closing the game at a 40-37 victory for the Wolf Cubs.

Although the Nevada Frosh had taken the lead from the opening whistle and had led the Lassen team by 12 points for the most part of the contest, the Lassen cagers proved too much for untired Nevada reserves who were sent in for the final minutes of the game.

Babcock led the Frosh team, personally accounting for 25 points. Lattin, frosh from Fallon, also turned in a fine game.

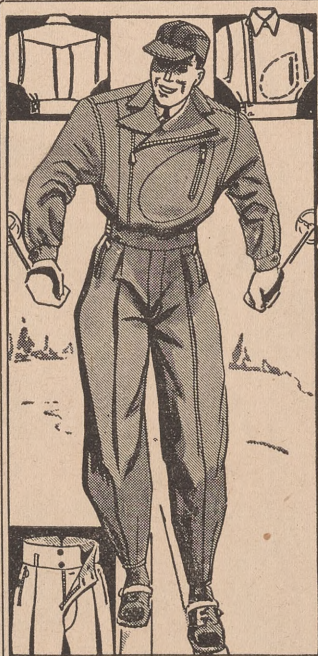

The opening lineup included Seaborn, Babcock, Vial, Harrigan and Anderson, Francovich, Lattin, Guild, Rosaschi and Callahan were reserves.

Nevada Grid Star Weds Here Sunday

John Ohrt, formerly one of Nevada's foremost footballers, was married to Miss Irma Mattson of Sacramento this week. The ceremony took place in Reno, and Dr. R. C. Thompson, dean of men at the university, officiated.

Ohrt sparked the Wolf football team in 1935 and 1936, capturing all-conference honors both seasons. He specialized in escaping from his quarterback position to thrill the crowd in long touchdown sprints. He held the 1936 record for stripes crossed in touchdown runs, galloping 102 yards for a tally.

After leaving Nevada, Ohrt played football on a Newark, N. J., eleven, and returned to Sacramento after completing the season.

Freshman Quintet Is Defeated, 33-31

Displaying a ragged type of ball due to lack of practice, the 1939 edition of the Freshman basketball team came out on the short end of a 33-31 count in an engagement with the Washoe Market quintet on the university court Friday night.

Led by Babcock, former all-state from New Jersey, the Frosh kept the ball in continual motion and, although behind by a few points most of the time, they kept the market team on the run.

Babcock topped the scorers with fourteen counters and played a smooth floor-game.

Paul Seaborn and Bob Hawley also covered the floor in convincing style, serving notice of future power with added practice.

Bourie, Market forward, followed Babcock in the score column with thirteen points. Franke and Sorenson of the town team played well on offense and Beloso and Arden bottled-up the Frosh attack with their defensive work.

Starting line-up for the Frosh included Seaborn and Babcock, forwards; Hawley, center; Rosaschi and Guild, guards. Waldman substituted at center, and Anderson and Harrigan got in the game in the guard berths.

Washoe Market started Bourie and Franke, forwards; Sorenson, center; Doyle and Beloso, guards. Arden substituted at guard.

Officials were: Lefty Meyer, referee, and Jim Griswold, timekeeper.

Majors to Teach

Roy Majors, who attended this university for several semesters, has been appointed to a teaching position at Dyke, Nevada, it was learned here this week.

He is taking the place of Mrs. Dorothy Stevens, who was killed in an automobile accident near Donner summit this month.

SKI CLUB MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TO START MONDAY

The final membership drive for the University of Nevada Ski Club will start next Monday and close Wednesday of the same week. Memberships will be put on sale Monday at the booth in front of the Library building in an attempt to get all the people who wish to join but have so far neglected to do so a chance to sign up before the membership is closed for this year.

The final plans for the membership drive were discussed Wednesday night at the regular Ski Club meeting.

It was decided that all members of the Ski Club could enter the tournament grounds for the coming intercollegiate events free of charge.

Final plans for the coming Winter Carnival were discussed and everything points to a big weekend.

Other plans were made, including plans for an unorganized outing to be held this Sunday to the Sierra Club hill on Donner summit.

Cubs Meet Chico Frosh in Openers For Varsity Games

Californians Have Good Record in Games This Season

Nevada's freshman basketball team tonight and tomorrow night will face for the first time in the history of the University of Nevada the powerful Chico State Frosh in the preliminary games to the Nevada-Chico varsity tilts.

The speedy Chico kittens already have won overwhelming victories from Yuba Junior College, have twice defeated the strong Sacramento Junior College quintet, and are coming to Nevada with the password "Win!"

Troublesome

Stan Timone, flashy forward, and Bill Hammerstrom, of the Chico Frosh, are going to provide the Nevada yearlings with plenty of trouble, for they have consistently been dead ringers in hitting the hoop, and Varsity Coach Art Acker of Chico has stated that this year's freshman cage squad is one of the best that has ever hit Chico's hardwood floor.

Freshman Coach Jim Coleman for the past week has concentrated on the system of attack, which was rather ragged in the games played last week, along with defensive work, combined with coordination among his team members.

Cubs Take J. V.'s

Last Wednesday night the Wolf Cubs first-string five out-scrimmaged the fast Junior Varsity basketweavers but, in spite of all this, Coach Coleman is still pessimistic of winning one or both games this weekend.

From the crop of yearlings, the Nevada freshman coach will probably pick a starting lineup consisting of Winfield Babcock, Robert Hawley, Paul Seaborn or Bill Lattin at forwards, and Bill Harrigan, Pete Rosaschi or Bud Anderson at guards.

Alternate players, almost sure to see action, include: Byron Waldman, Marvin Luhrs, Sam Francovich, William Roseberry, Pete Marluch, Herbert Smithwick and Kenneth Mann.

MAREAN ELECTED CHORUS CLUB PREXY

John Marean, senior student, was elected president of the University Chorus Club at a meeting held Wednesday night.

The new executive has been prominent in music circles on the campus for the past three years, being a member of the chorus group and the Nevada band. He is a mechanical engineering student.

Professor Theodore H. Post urgently suggested that anyone interested in singing join the group, and added that it is not yet too late to enroll for credit. Men singers are particularly urged to attend.

The club decided that a group picture should be taken for the Artemisia, university year-book.

Transportation Is Arranged For Visitors to Ski Grounds

Plans for transportation to and from the ski grounds for the visitors to the University of Nevada Winter Carnival were completed by the committee today.

Arrangements have been made with the Greyhound Bus company to charter three buses to be run on regular schedules from Reno to Galena Creek or Grass Lake, according to the snow conditions.

The cost will be nominal and fares will be based on a round-trip basis. The tickets will be priced at 80 cents a round trip and will be on sale at the Greyhound stage depot and the Golden hotel, downtown headquarters for the carnival.

Senate Minutes

First meeting of the U. N. Senate of the spring semester was called to order by President Dave Goldwater. Roll call was taken and minutes were read.

George Hardman and Jean Rice, senior students, were appointed heads of the two most important committees of the spring semester by the Senate Thursday night.

Hardman will act as chairman of the Mackay Day committee and Jean Rice will serve as head of the President's convention which will be held February 23 and 24. Mackay Day will be March 25.

Assisting Hardman will be Ray Garamendi, Al Caton, Dick Roche, Ross Ashley, Henry Clayton, Gordon Thompson, Robert Smith, Ruby Nay and Gwen McGinnis.

Serving with Jean Rice will be Loyal Willis, acting as secretary; Evelyn Bulmer, Donald Bowen, Lawson Sullivan and Henry Wells.

The Senate approved the appointment of only six members on the president's convention committee, instead of eight which were appointed last year. This was done in view of the recommendations submitted by Hudson Lee, chairman of the committee last year. Other recommendations were that the convention last for only two days, and a registration fee of from $1 to $2.

Senators also are asked to cooperate with Blue Key next Monday night to have students write letters home to their parents requesting them to write to their senator or assemblymen to support the Blue Key building program.

Senate will meet the first Wednesday in every month after this, and others will be called when deemed necessary.

SKIERS' RESERVATIONS ARE ARRANGED AT LOCAL HOTEL

The housing of the members of the different teams competing in the intercollegiate ski competitions held in conjunction with the University of Nevada Winter Carnival, will be taken care of by the Golden Hotel.

Reservations already have been made for the 42 men representing six of the major intercollegiate ski teams on the Pacific coast.

Besides housing, the carnival committee also has to handle the feeding problem. Arrangements have been made with local restaurants to give the competitors breakfast and dinner while box lunches will be furnished them during the ski events that are to take place at Galena Creek or further up the Mount Rose highway.

A registration desk for competitors will be provided for at the Golden besides a bulletin board for any special announcements that may have to be made.

Committees Named At A. S. U. N. Meet

Rice, Hardman Chairmen Of Important Groups

President Dave Goldwater announced George Hardman as chairman of the Mackay Day committee and Jean Rice as chairman of the High School President's convention today at the first A. S. U. N. meeting of the year.

Picked by Senate
The senate picked committee members last night. The Mackay Day committee consists of Hardman, Ray Garamendi, Al Caton, Gordon Thompson, Dick Roche, Henry Clayton, Ross Ashley, Ruby Nay, Gwen McGinnis and Robert Smith.

Committee members for the high school president's convention which will be held the last weekend in February are Jean Rice, Loyal Willis, Don Bowen, Evelyn Bulmer, Henry Wells and Lawson Sullivan.

Building Program
"Write home and ask your parents to contact assemblymen and senators to support the university building plan," is the plea of Blue Key. Members of the Blue Key building committee will furnish stamped postcards to call members of organizations.

Appropriations for new buildings which Nevada campus hopes to see approved by the present session of the legislature will be asked for in the following order: Engineering building, arts and science building and a gym.

Awards Presented
Dean Mack presented the scholarship cup to Kappa Alpha Theta. The cup is given by the Pan-Hellenic group to the sorority making the highest average for the semester. The scholarship cup for greatest improvement over last year's grades went to Pi Beta Phi.

Dean Thompson presented the men's scholarship cup to Lincoln Hall Association.

Skit Given
A skit of "Ferdinand the Bull" was presented by freshman tradition breakers. Chetty Milbery read the script while an amusing pantomime of the life of flower-loving Ferdinand was given by Ann Allen, Gerry Hobson, Dorothy Bowers, Audrey Sellman and Marjorie Lyon.

The head of the flying corps will visit the campus soon, Dave Goldwater announced for the benefit of those men taking advantage of this new course.

A. W. S. Show Postponed Helen Showlin Stated

Postponement of the A. W. S. fashion show was announced this week by Helen Showlin, president of A. W. S.

It was decided that there was too much activity and work for the students during the next two weeks with sorority rushing and the Ski Carnival. At first, the fashion show was to be held in conjunction with the Ski Carnival, but women students were too busy to participate, members state.

SORORITIES WILL HOLD 'OPEN HOUSE' FOR VISITORS

The sororities will provide the "open house" program for out-of-town visitors on the first day of the University of Nevada Winter Carnival program.

Through extensive planning it was decided for the fraternities and sororities to work on an every-other-year basis to provide open houses for the visitors. A coin was flipped and the sororities won the first year.

The open-house entertainment will consist of dancing and refreshments. Music will be furnished by local musicians, who are promised a real workout for the weekend. The parties will be held from 4 to 6 p. m. on Friday, January 27.

Sororities taking part in the open-house parties will be Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta and Gamma Phi Beta.

Blue Key to Push Building Program

A plan to urge the legislature to act on the proposed University of Nevada building program was set forth by Blue Key at a meeting of the group last night.

The plan, directed by Fran Breen, is for Blue Key to distribute postcards to the respective campus organizations which are to be given students to mail to their parents. On the postcards the student will urge his parents to correspond with their respective county senators and assemblymen and urge them to support the Blue Key drive for new buildings. The cards will be distributed to the groups Monday.

Breen appointed Blue Key representatives to contact the social groups. Those named were Louis Peraldo, Pi Beta Phi; Leland Fallon, Kappa Alpha Theta; Harry Galloway, Delta Delta Delta; Ross Ashley, Gamma Phi Beta; Tony Yrberry, Lambda Chi Alpha; Frank Schumacher, Phi Sigma Kappa; Hank Clayton, Sigma Phi Sigma; Maurice Sheppard, Sigma Nu; Bob Hanley, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; George Hardman, Beta Kappa; Louis Peraldo, Lincoln Hall; Robert Joy, Manzanita and Artemisia; Ed Beaupert, Alpha Tau Omega, and Al Caton, Beta Sigma Omicron.

150 Students Take Tubercular Tests

Association Holds Exams Will Improve Health Of Students

Approximately 150 University of Nevada students have thus far taken the tubercular tests given by the American Student Health Association.

The cooperation shown by the students taking the test has been very good, Dr. Peter Frandsen, Nevada representative of the association, said this week.

The American Student Health Association is an association to which nearly all of the colleges and universities in the United States belong. Of the several branches of this organization, Nevada belongs to the Pacific coast branch. It is the aim of the association to find the percentage of infection among college students in the United States. In doing this they hope to improve the health of the college students by curing the infection while it still is in its early stages of development.

The Mantoux skin test for tuberculosis consists of the injection of a chemically pure extract of the fleshy part of the tubercular germ.

When this injection is made into the skin it is able to sense within 48 hours whether there is any living tubercular germ present in the body. Everyone, according to Dr. Frandsen, has at one time or another the living tubercular foci present in his body. However, he usually is able to overcome it. If the germ is very strong, steps may be taken for an immediate cure of the infection.

All students are asked to take this test. It is not compulsory, but it is considered to be for the best interest of the student, Dr. Frandsen said.

With a professional ski-jumper business is always going down hill.

Ed Pine Addresses A. E. Members at Meeting Thursday

At a meeting held last evening the Nevada Associated Engineers presented a sound moving picture, "Thirteen Golden Cities," which featured the construction of the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct in southern California.

Guest speaker at the engineers' meeting was Edward Pine, University of Nevada civil engineering graduate, and construction engineer of Reno's Wingfield Park bridges recently completed.

Pine spoke upon the subject of bridge construction.

FACULTY CLUBS HOLD JOINT MEETING

A joint meeting of the Faculty Club and the Women's Faculty Club is to be held in the university dining room tomorrow night. According to Dr. B. F. Chappelle, president of the faculty group, the affair will commence promptly at 7 o'clock, in order that those present who desire to attend the governor's inaugural ball may do so.

Entertainment is to be provided by Professor William C. Miller, who will read Eugene O'Neill's comedy, "Ah Wilderness." Host and hostesses will be Mrs. B. F. Headley, president of the women's organization; Prof. and Mrs. Theodore H. Post and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Miller.

According to Dr. Chappelle, a large number is expected to attend the affair this Saturday.
