

National Conclave Of Women Athletes Planned for April

Nevada Delegates to Attend Meet at University of California

Coeds from the University of Nevada will attend the National Conference of College Women which will be held in Berkeley, California, April 12, 13 and 14 it was made known today.

The Nevada women's athletics is one of the 249 associations actively affiliated with the confederation. Nevada has had her charter ever since 1922 and the Board of Finance Control has made it possible since that date to send delegates to the national conferences which are held every three years.

Large Attendance Expected
Nevada has been represented in the conferences held at Cornell, University of Texas, University of Michigan and University of Wisconsin. This year, since the conference is close to Nevada, the Women's Athletic Association plans to have a large number of its members attend the conference.

This year is the first time that the national conference has been held on the west coast since 1922. Another national conference will not be held on the west coast for another nine or twelve years. The University of California is preparing to entertain at least one thousand delegates to the convention.

Coed Athletic Problems
Problems of the women's athletics will be discussed in small groups at the meet. Colleges will be arranged according to their sizes so as to give each group an equal opportunity with the opportunities afforded by large and smaller schools.

Outstanding recreational leaders from various parts of the United States will be the leaders of discussions. Programs for the coming year will be drawn and questions which any group may offer will be discussed and answered.

Programs Discussed
Inter-mural programs for competitive sports will be suggested and telegraphic meets in swimming, archery, rifle and others will be discussed. Co-recreational sports for men and women will be suggested and plans as to how to promote interest in these type of activities will be drawn.

Election of officers for the WAA will be held some time in March. The president elected at that time will be the official delegate to the convention but numerous members of the organization are expected to attend the meet.

In 1922, the Nevada branch of Women's Athletic Association was hostess to the western delegation of the national conference.

Coeds Outstanding In U. N. Carnival

Of the many outstanding women skiers at the University of Nevada Winter Carnival, the two most outstanding were Kathleen Starret and Eleanor Watson.

Miss Starret not only directed the carnival but won the one event for women held at the carnival, that of the slalom. This proved that Kay was more than a girl with big ideas, but an outstanding college women skier as well. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Miss Eleanor Watson, winner of the coveted honor of carnival queen is a Stanford coed and a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. The honor went to Miss Watson because of her outstanding beauty and personality, plus her skiing ability.

Other outstanding women at the carnival were Clarita Heath and Yvonne Blossom, who acted in official capacities.

THREE COED VICTIMS OF TRADITIONS ARE PUNISHED BY GROUP

Three victims of the Women's Upperclass committee paraded around campus this morning carrying various toys and playing childish games in front of the library.

Mickey Kelly and Eleanor Potts were caught by a member of the committee walking down the front steps of Morrill Hall, which is breaking a campus tradition.

For punishment, each girl was required to come to school today wearing no make-up and a large hair-ribbon. A sign worn in front read, "Come to the Scrub in Front of the Libe at 11:25," while the one in back was used to advertise the Pan Hellenic dance which will be held Saturday night, February 11.

At 11:25, both women scrubbed the front steps of the library. They had carried their scrub-brushes and large water buckets to classes with them the entire morning.

Mary Margaret Murphy, another victim, wearing a ribbon, no make-up, and a sign signifying that she was called for cutting campus, advertised the scrub session by walking backwards across the tram to the library.

Six women who did not attend the final committee meeting last semester when they were supposed to appear, will carry large cowbells back and forth between the agriculture and education buildings before the next A. W. S. meeting, to advertise the meeting. They are Eleanor Kirns, Helen Jones, Alice Lowery, Elizabeth McDonald, Gwen Nenzel and Verna Reynolds.

FOUR COED FENCERS FOREGO SUNDAY RELAXATION

Rising early every Sunday morning, four women students report to the gymnasium at 10 o'clock for the university fencing class under the direction of Ike Caraco, university student.

"It is quite early to get up," Helen Cameron, member of the class stated, "but we have one consolation, it really keeps that girlish figure, leaping around while someone pokes a foil at you every so often."

The group has been reviewing fundamentals of position, stance and form for the benefit of the new students, Betty Woods and Edith Salvi. Others enrolled are Helen Cameron and Miss Kathryn Schnell, women's athletic director.

Regular dueling technique is being taught in connection with the review.

Coed Cage Tourney Starts Next Week

Class games for the coed basketball players will start next Tuesday at 3:15, basketball directors Simas and Schnell announced this week.

For the past few days, individual attention has been given to the women playing the newly revised system of women's basketball. Plays to be used in the coming games have also been developed.

As soon as the class games have been terminated, several more practices will be held and the inter-mural basketball tournament will commence.

AWS Executives To Meet Monday

A meeting of the executive board of A. W. S. will be held next Monday at 3:30 in the A. S. U. N. building, Helen Shovlin, president, stated.

Plans for the future A. W. S. fashion show will be laid next week, with a definite date being set and the type of clothes to be worn decided upon.

It is possible that a woman speaker will be secured some time this spring to address the women students, but no plans are definite as yet.

Plans for the A. W. S. card party will be discussed. This party is held every year to raise money for the $25 scholarship presented every year by this organization.

COED ROBIN HOODS TRY FOR IMPROVED SHOOTING

The archers have graduated. After shooting all this while at large and small targets, they have decided to change their tactics of fire. Balloons have now been substituted for the targets.

On the two rugs that hang at one end of the gym, a number of balloons have been attached. The object of the game is to try to break as many as you can. Unless your arrow hits the balloon directly in the center, the arrow will not break, but will just glance off and fall to the floor.

Six balloons were broken in approximately forty minutes with six archers shooting. This may give an idea of the difficulty of hitting the targets.

The purpose of the new kind of target is not altogether for fun; being able to hit the balloons directly in the center frequently will greatly improve the accuracy of each archer.

It also gives the girls practice at shooting moving objects inasmuch as the balloons are not stationary, but move at the slightest current in the air.

Another difficult shoot will be held as soon as the weather permits outside shooting. This shoot will be an archery hunt; similar to the shoots held along the western coast on the sandy beaches.

One girl is allowed to shoot a very brightly colored arrow at an angle of approximately 75 degrees into the air. The rest of the group watches where the arrow falls and then by a similar process tries to come as closely as possible to the original arrow. The purpose of an arrow hunt is to improve the accuracy of the archers as well as to give them practice in long distance shooting.

COEDS MUST CARRY FROSH BIBLES AGAIN

Frosh bibles must be carried by all freshmen women again this semester, it was decided at a meeting of the Women's Upperclass committee Wednesday afternoon. Failure to do so will bring about punishment by the committee.

Betty Kormmayer, head of the group, also announced that freshmen should be warned of cutting campus, putting cigarette ashes on the floor in the smoking rooms, and sitting down in A. S. U. N. meetings before upperclassmen have taken their places.

F. Moos Elected Cercle Francais Prexy

Felicia Moos, senior arts and science student, was elected president of Cercle Francais at a combined meeting of the French and German clubs this week.

Miss Moos replaces Adrienne Tuttle who plans to leave Nevada and join her husband, Reuben Tuttle, former assistant band director, in San Francisco.

CARNIVAL SPECTATORS

Among the hundreds of spectators that thronged Galena last week to attend the Winter Carnival were Marilyn Rhoades and Ed Rose, ski enthusiasts. Rose is a former Wolf skier and competed last year for the silver-and-blue team.

Asilomar Delegates Will Describe Meet

At a general supper meeting to be held next Tuesday at 5:30 the Y. W. C. A. members will hear reports given by members who attended the Asilomar conference during the Christmas vacation.

During the meeting a discussion of the Far Eastern and Jewish Refugee funds will be conducted. Plans will be formulated concerning the method to be employed in enlisting the aid of the entire student body in collecting money for the two funds. According to Gene Wines, president, committees will be appointed to handle the drive on the Nevada campus.

Miss Wines also stated that women wishing to join the Y. W. C. A. may do so by attending the meeting next Tuesday. Dues will be 50 cents for the remainder of this school year.

The best way to make money out of chickens is to start a hat shop.

COED QUARTET FORMED BY POST

Under the auspices of Professor Theodore H. Post, a women's quartet has been formed at the university.

The group will sing over KOH tomorrow and next Saturday night in connection with talks on Nevada resources by university professors.

Those in the quartet are Delphine Truelove and Emogene Byars, sopranos, and Norma McDowell and Barbara Grimmer, altos.

Pan-Hel Reverse Planned Next Week

Coeds to Pay Evening's Cost Next Saturday Night, February 11

Nevada coeds will be on the other end of the entertainment program next Saturday—once more the season for the annual Pan-Hellenic reverse dance has arrived.

Not only will the girls furnish tickets and decorations, but they will also be responsible for any miscellaneous bills that may arise after the dance.

Tickets will go on sale Monday according to Georgia Cooper, dance chairman. Each sorority and Manzanita representative to Pan Hellenic council will meet at the A. S. U. N. building Monday afternoon with the committee, at which time tickets will be released to be sold to sorority members and independents by their respective representatives.

Each sorority and Manzanita Hall will have charge of decorating a designated spot in the I. O. O. F. hall in accordance with Valentine's Day, which will be the theme of the dance.

Prizes, the nature of which has not yet been decided upon, will be given for the best sorority decorations, best sorority attendance and the best fraternity attendance.

Music will be furnished by Duane Collins, Buddy Williams and Jerry Salter.

Art Exhibits to Be Presented at U. N.

Paintings and sculptures submitted for the fourth annual national exhibition of American art will be presented to the public at the University of Nevada from Sunday, February 19, through Saturday, February 25. Nevada artists who wish to enter pieces of work for the national exhibit which is scheduled for an earlier date this year, are asked by the state committee in charge to submit their work not later than February 15.

Work will be received by Willis H. Church, 358 Washington street, Reno, and by Mrs. George W. Robinson, 519 Ralston street, Reno. Five paintings and one piece of sculpture will be selected to be sent to the exhibit at New York City later in the season.

The following committee appointed by former Governor Kirman several months ago, is in charge of the exhibit this year: Mrs. George W. Robinson of Reno, chairman; Mrs. C. C. Taylor of Reno, Mrs. C. J. Borghi of Sparks, Charles F. Cutts of Reno and Willis H. Church of Reno.

Artists desiring further information may communicate with any of the above committee.

Improved Freshmen Hoopsters to Meet Susanville, Fallon

Nip-and-Tuck Battles Are Expected by Visiting Quintets

Coach Jim Coleman's improved frosh basketball hoopsters will meet Lassen Junior College tonight and will tangle with the Fallon high school's quintet tomorrow night in preliminary games to the Nevada-Fresno cage series.

It has been the first time this season that the Nevada Cubs play a return game with an opponent, having previously defeated Lassen's quintet by the close count of 40-37.

As a result the Lassenites are coming to Nevada with fire in their eyes, and advance indications point to a nip and tuck battle.

Record of Wins

Considered by many critics to be the outstanding high school cagers of the state, the Fallon Melon Pickers have an amazing record of wins over Reno, Dayton, Stewart, Hawthorne, Lovelock, Virginia City, Winnemucca and have dropped a close one to Yerington's speedy quintet.

The Fallon team this year is coached by Jim Bailey, former Nevada basketball, football, and track star, who is noted for his good teams and may pull one out of the bag and score a surprise win over the highly touted Nevada yearlings.

Passing, Shooting Practice

Practice for the Nevada Babes this week has mostly been confined to passing and shooting the ball, along with a 60-minute scrimmage with the Nevada junior varsity five, in which the Frosh completely outshined them in every department of play.

Heading the list of injured players for the Nevada freshmen is Byron Waldman, who recently sprained his ankle in practice, while Bill Lattin, high-scoring forward, is out of the running with a severe cold.

Coleman Pleased

Coach Coleman indicated last night that he is pleased with the play shown by his team so far, and said "our outfit has a few weaknesses but none that experience and practice can't smooth out. The one principal drawback of the team is lack of experience."

Probable starters for this week's contests are Pete Marluch, Paul Seaborn, and Robert Hawley at forwards, and Bill Harrington and Peter Rosaschi at guards.

Other players almost certain of seeing some action include Marvin Luhrs, Herbert Smithwick, Robert Johnson, Kenneth Mann, and William Roseberry and Mario Vial.

Cub Five Defeats Two Prep Teams

Showing an improved style of basketball, the Nevada Frosh quintet downed two fighting prep teams last weekend. In Friday's tilt, the Cubs annexed a 30-18 win from Dayton High, and on Saturday trounced Hawthorne, 34-13.

Coach Jim Coleman feels that his charges are improving, especially in the ball-handling and passing departments.

"Although there is still plenty of bad passing, they have shown marked improvement during the past week," the mentor stated.

He indicated also that the yearlings are showing more drive and better teamwork.

Babcock, smooth sharpshooting frosh, was outstanding for the Cubs.

MAYER, TUCKER TIED FOR FIRST RANKING IN HANDBALL MEET

"Lefty" Mayer and Leland Tucker, representatives of Phi Sigma Kappa and Beta Kappa fraternities, remained in the lead in the current intramural handball singles tourney this week, both with perfect records to date.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, represented by Bill Peccole, occupies second place, having been defeated only by Mayer.

The Phi Sigma Kappa-Lambda Chi Alpha contest was postponed last Saturday because of the illness of the L. C. A. representative, B. K. hurdled A. T. O. by scores of 21-7, 21-6. Virgil Hart, Independents, conquered Ointo Barsanti, Sigma Nu, 21-8, 21-9. S. A. E. defeated Sigma Phi Sigma by counts of 21-3 and 21-4.

Monday found both games scheduled ending in no contest. L. C. A. and Lincoln Hall were staking a three-match contest when Chester Jacobsen of Lincoln Hall sprained his ankle, forcing postponement of the match. Sigma Nu defaulted to Alpha Tau Omega.

The Independent-Beta Kappa match, scheduled for Wednesday, was postponed till today. Phi Sigma Kappa added another to its list of victories with a win over the luckless Sigma Phi Sigma contestant.

UNIVERSITY OF MEXICO BASKETBALL SQUAD INTERVIEWED BY SAGEBRUSH REPORTER

"So, outside of Mexico, you like San Diego, Phoenix and Reno. Well, why Reno?"

"Because it's so famous, and so much like a European city, and because women who get divorces always throw their rings into the river."

Thus began our conversation with Hector Cardenas Barrios, the student basketball manager of the barnstorming Aztecs of the National University of Mexico.

Barrios, a very soft-spoken and polite manager, was spokesman for the entire team, seeming to grasp the knowledge of the English language better than the rest.

The team is on a good-will tour of the western states, playing the outstanding universities and junior college teams of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. So far they have broken about even by winning twelve and losing twelve, one, of course, to the University of Nevada.

All the players liked the University of Nevada campus, especially the ice on Manzanita lake, because it was the first time that some of them had seen a lake frozen over. Part of Monday afternoon, the basketball players spent some time throwing rocks out on the frozen surface.

The buildings on the campus were liked, too, because they were so new, and even the gymnasium was thought to be "very nice." The University of Mexico is somewhat like this university, due to the fact that they also are trying to raise money to build a new gymnasium.

The University of Mexico has an enrollment of about 13,000 students in twelve different colleges. There are colleges of medicine, law, music, commerce, chemistry, philosophy, plastic arts, economics, engineering, dental and veterinary medicine, as well as a junior and senior high school. Besides it has institutes of social investigation, aesthetics and linguistics which spreads culture to the masses through radio broadcasts and night educational centers for the workmen.

The University of Mexico publishes a monthly and an annual magazine called the Revista, or Review. This magazine takes in all the news, of the different colleges and activity centers of the university as a whole.

Basketball was introduced at the National University of Mexico twenty-two years ago when a series of contests was held between the Mexicans and teams from the United States.

The reason that the barnstormers are on a tour at this particular time of the year is due to the fact that there is a two-months winter vacation at the university. They still have teams to play in Oregon and other northern states. They expect to return to Mexico in the latter part of February.

Hector Cardenas Barrios and his team-mates were very anxious to visit Reno because they had heard so much about it, but now are somewhat more anxious to get home to relate their experiences. The team as a whole was very polite and courteous, willing to tell about their native University of Mexico, and willing to give their viewpoints of American schools.

Wolf Pack Splits San Jose Series

Harris, Etchemendy Lead Pack in Contests Against State

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack pulled a couple of surprises out of the bag last weekend and split a series with the powerful San Jose Spartans, losing the first night, 61-56, and winning the second, 50-44.

Picked to lose both games by wide margins, the Wolf Pack played circles all around the surprised San Jose quintet both nights but with its usual large share of the tough breaks, lost the first game in an overtime, after leading all the way.

Led by Ray Harris, Nevada jumped into an early lead but wilted just before the end of the game to allow the Spartans to tie the score up at 45-all at the end of the regular playing period.

In the overtime, the tired Pack went to pieces completely and San Jose rolled up sixteen points while Nevada was getting a single free throw.

The second game was an entirely different story, however. San Jose led at half time, 21-20, and the score read 30-30 with ten minutes to go. The Pack then put on a sudden burst of speed and won going away.

John Etchemendy took scoring honors in the second fracas with fifteen counters and Max Forbes made twelve.

Ted Olsen turned in two outstanding defensive games for Nevada and Etchemendy, Harris and Forbes played good floor games as well as leading the scoring.

The world will never be a safe place in which to live as long as it is infested by mankind.

SPORTSLITE

The old battered Sagebrush term—"a rejuvenated Wolf Pack"—is back in style this week as a result of the showing made by the Nevada cage men against the San Jose Spartans in their first game away from the familiar home gym.

Except for the memorable overtime period in the first game of the series when the Spartans poured sixteen points through the looming Nevada basket, the Wolves actually outplayed San Jose, a team that lists among its victims Harlan Dyke's St. Mary's team.

Nevada should have won the first game. Going into the last two minutes of play with a five-point lead, they stubbornly refused to stall and kept up their steady barrage on the San Jose basket. The Spartans seized their opportunity and quickly tied the score and led the Wolves into that overtime period for the slaughter.

It should have proved disheartening, but they came back even stronger the next night to really hand San Jose a whipping.

It goes without saying that San Jose is as good a team as the Wolves will meet all season and, if they keep up the pace they set that weekend, Nevada is liable to stir up a pack of surprises in the Far Western Conference hoop race.

Fresno State, playing here tonight and tomorrow night, offers Nevada a severe test to their consistency of good play. The Bulldogs have had a mediocre season so far, having been beaten last weekend by the conference-lead-

J. V. Quintet Wins From Flying A, 31-9

Completely outsmarting less experienced rivals, Coach Ray Harris' Junior Varsity turned on the steam against the Flying A quintet of Sparks last Monday night to walk off with an easy 31-to-9 decision.

The victory, first one of the season for the Junior Varsity, found every member of the squad in action.

Running their early score to a 7-0 lead, Coach Harris began to substitute freely and even then the score at half-time read 12 to 2.

The second half found the Jayvees complete masters of the situation, and the Sparks Flyers were only able to add seven points to their score.

Gus Edwards and Robert Taylor, college players, were tied for individual scoring honors of the evening with seven points apiece, while Kinkel of the Sparks quintet closely followed with five tallies.

Clifford Malone and Jim Gibbs of the Flying A showed superior ability in the defensive play, while Lefty Mayer, Jock Ashley, Ralston Hawkins and James McNabney of the Junior Varsity five handled the ball with outstanding ability.

Swimming Class Started for Beginners

Darrell Kane, graduate student at the university, and Ben Cardinal, president of the University Life-Saving Corps, have started a class for non-swimmers, to be held every Monday and Wednesday night at 8:30 at Moana.

With eighteen student already signed up, it is hoped by those in charge that more people who cannot swim at present will become interested in the course.

If enough interest is shown in the lessons, a senior life-saving campaign may be carried out later, it was stated.

Regents Postpone Athletic Action

Action of the Board of Regents on the athletic report of the alumni committee was postponed until culmination of the legislative investigation, Silas E. Ross, chairman of the board, announced Saturday.

Budgetary and other matters were studied by the regents, but in view of the request of full cooperation from the legislative committee, the report was laid aside until a more thorough report of the status of the university in general is available.

Nevada Students Invited to Outing

Members of the University of Nevada student body have been invited by Lake Tahoe's ski club to attend an outing this weekend at Tahoe City's new hill, which has an up-ski lift.

Carl Bechdoit, Nevada skier and president of the lake group, said yesterday that a day of enjoyment will be had for both the novice and the experienced skier, since there will be several events which include downhill racing slalom and tobogganing races for both men and women.

Society Observes Social Hygiene Day

Frandsen, Parsons, Caples Discuss Venereal Diseases

Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-medical fraternity, observed National Social Hygiene Day last Wednesday by holding a meeting of the local chapter in the Agricultural building.

Highlights of the meeting were talks by Dr. B. H. Caples, Dr. L. Parsons and Dr. Peter Frandsen, head of the department of biology. A radio program, which consisted of speeches by Dr. Thomas Pareen, Surgeon General of the United States, and Ray Lyman Wilbur, President of Stanford University and President of the American Social Hygiene Association.

Nevada Statistics
Dr. Caples, State Director of the Division of Venereal Diseases, opened the program by enumerating a few of the statistics on syphilis and gonorrhea for the state of Nevada.

An appropriation of $7000 per year is allotted to the division of venereal disease for drugs to treat indigent cases throughout the state. Reports from medics for 1938 indicated 323 cases of syphilis and 139 cases of gonorrhea which is estimated to be about fifty per cent of the cases treated.

The state hygienic laboratory made 7918 tests for syphilis and 4295 for gonorrhea. Quarantine of 23 acute venereal cases, that resisted treatment, in the Washoe clinic probably saved Reno four to five hundred cases of venereal disease, according to Dr. Caples.

The Washoe county venereal disease clinic under the direction of Dr. Cann treats on the average of eighty venereal cases per week, and it is estimated there are eight thousand cases of syphilis in the state of Nevada, very few of which are under treatment. This includes 1500 in Reno alone.

Dr. Caples stressed the necessity of a clean mind and a clean body as the keynote to success and that all students should take the Wasserman test for syphilis which is being given free of charge at the state hygienic laboratory.

Control of Diseases
Following Dr. Caples, Dr. Lawrence Parsons, chief pathologist of the St. Mary's hospital, gave a direct and educational talk concerning the control and treatment of the two main venereal diseases, syphilis and gonorrhea. All these venereal diseases are intimately associated with sex, according to Dr. Parsons. Less than five per cent of all cases are acquired through means other than sexual intercourse.

Active repression of prostitution through government control has solved the problem to a certain extent in some European countries. To every case of syphilis reported in Sweden there are eight hundred in the United States, forty for Denmark and fifty for each case in England.

The treatment of syphilis is only one part of the program in the control of this disease which is one of the greatest killers today, he said. The roots of syphilis lie deeper in the race, in the form of prejudices, fear and ignorance.

Dr. Parsons further state that late marriages tend to increase the prevalence of venereal disease, as, biologically, young persons are ready for marriage much earlier than they are economically. Clean living is necessary to escape these serious and dreaded diseases.

Urges Wasserman
Dr. Frandsen closed the meeting by urging all students to take the Wasserman test at the state hygiene laboratory. Last year 120 students took the test without a single positive reaction. The test is 95 to 100 per cent reliable, and he added that syphilis is 100 per cent curable in the early stages and 80 per cent before the late stages. It is further desirable to take advantage of this opportunity as over half the cases are unknown to the afflicted.

STUDENTS WILL ASSIST PLANS FOR FIRST MARDI GRAS

The Students' Center at St. Stephen's House is making arrangements to take part in the first annual Mardi Gras ball to be held in the Civic auditorium, Tuesday, February 21.

Sponsored by leading art groups of Reno and vicinity, it probably will be one of the most colorful celebrations ever to be held here.

Although much still remains to be done in the comparatively short time left, the principal arrangements are nearing completion.

The arrangements are in the hands of the central committee, assisted by various subcommittees, each of which is functioning under the chairmanship of a member of the central committee.

The contemplated program will begin with the entry of the grand pageant into the hall. This will be followed by the "Skit Parade," which consists of a brief tableau by each of the art groups represented. Pierrot and Pierrette will open the ball and will invite all masked members to join in the revelry.

Formal dress may be worn instead of costume, but masks are compulsory. Since this is the first attempt, at this type of entertainment, it is intended to maintain, as far as possible, the French atmosphere of Mardi Gras.

It is the intention of the committee that the proceeds each year shall be donated to a different charity. This year proceeds will be given to the students' center at St. Stephen's House.

Revised Social Calendar

'SWING' CHAMPION OF CAMPUS WILL BE CHOSEN

The question of who can "swing" the best recently started a "feud" between members of the band and the choral club, and will not be answered until the night of the Lyres' dance, March 11. At the dance, which is sponsored by Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary music organization, contestants selected from each group, will compete for the prize. The choral club, which is rehearsing with the Reno community chorus in the barracks, practices between rehearsals in order to outdo the band "swingsters."

Block N Society Plans Stag Night

March 29th Is Selected as Date for Second Affair

March 29 was decided upon by members of the Block N society as the best date on which to hold their annual "Stag Night." Fred Galloway, president of the group, said today. Although the approval of the social calendar committee must be obtained to present the affair March 29, the organization decided to go ahead with plans for the show on that date.

Committees Appointed
Galloway appointed every member of the society to act on committees for the promotion of the stag night. Serving as chairmen for the affair are: Equipment, Hank Clayton; card committee, Leonard Carpenter; publicity, Ted Demosthenes; cups and awards, Russell Byington, and finances, Harry Bradley.

If present arrangements are completed for Stag Night, the University of Nevada wrestling club will attempt to secure matches for that evening with the University of California grappling squad.

The ticket sale for the affair will start two weeks before the date of presentation, Galloway said.

Other business at the meeting of the letter society last night included the revision of the constitution in bringing the document up to date.

Earl Brooks was appointed to head a committee to make a Block N membership list. The committee also will identify and name as far as possible the pictures of past athletic squads now on display in the Block N room in the training quarters. The also will arrange for a 1939 group picture to be taken.

Block N Painting
Gordon Thompson and Ray Harris were delegated to arrange for a right-of-way to the "N" and to contact the men's upperclass committee and arrange for the freshmen to perform their semi-annual duty.

The group also decided to stick with their decision of last semester and drop their sponsorship of the all-state track meet generally held on Mackay field during spring.

One of the history instructors was amazed the other day when a student having been asked to name two ancient sports, replied, "Anthony and Cleopatra."

ENGINEERING MEET MOVED FROM NEVADA TO S. F. BAY FAIR

According to Edward Zareh, chairman of the University of Nevada mechanical engineers, the annual convention of the southwestern student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be held at the site of the San Francisco world's fair at a date tentatively set at April 3-4.

"Until recently the convention was to be held at the University of Nevada, but it was decided by the senior branch of the national mechanical engineering society that the world's fair site at San Francisco would be the proper place for it to be held this year.

"Even though the location has been changed, the local society will have the honor of being hosts at the convention," Zareh stated.

Students from numerous universities will feature talks and reports at the convention upon various mechanical engineering subjects, and prizes will be given for the best reports by the senior branch of the national society.

Many trips are being scheduled on the entertainment program which will include visits to the fair and many industrial plants.

Zareh was technical chairman at the convention last year which was held at the University of Southern California.

S. A. E. Neophytes Undergo 'Work Week'

Nineteen neophytes of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity have been going through the rigors and trials of the annual "Work Week," which started last Tuesday night at the local chapter house.

Following a traditional chapter custom, a sport dance at which each neophyte is required to demonstrate individual talent, will be held at the house tonight.

Letter Received From Benefactor

In a recent letter to John A. Fulton, director of Mackay School of Mines, S. Frank Hunt, university benefactor and discoverer of Rio Tinto copper mine, remarked that he is "quite intrigued with the hula girls of the Islands."

Hunt is vacationing in the Hawaiian Islands. He flew to the islands several weeks ago aboard the China Clipper ship. In his letter he reports that his health is rapidly improving, and that the islands are extremely interesting.

Still interested in prospecting, mining an geology, Mr. Hunt has traveled to nearly all the islands studying their geological formations, Fulton said.

COED CAPTAINS TO BE CHOSEN
Election of four Nevada coeds by the R. O. T. C. battalion honorary captains will get under way next week, with preliminary balloting on Tuesday and the final election on February 14. Ballots are being printed, and each cadet will be eligible to nominate a candidate, the highest three being voted upon in the final balloting.

Both officers and basic course men may vote, and the cadet officers from the various units will check the votes, assisted by the battalion staff.

In the event the same candidate is selected by more than one company, she will run in the unit from which she polled the highest vote.

Cadet Major Harry Galloway urged cadets to get together before election and decide upon the nominees.

CAMERA ENTHUSIASTS SUBMIT PRINTS IN EXHIBIT

Walter Lobenstein and New Westover, members of the university photograph club, recently entered seven prints in the National Intercollegiate Photographic Exhibition sponsored by the Yale University Photographic Club. The pictures represented University of Nevada student life which is also to be the theme of the 1939 Artemesia. The contest was open to all college students in the United States.

The nation-wide contestant entrants are being judged this week and it is expected that the Nevada print judgments will be received next week.
