

R.O.T.C. to Climax Active Year With Governor's Review

Roy Shipp, Lee Barrett, Ralston Hawkins Will Receive Cadet Awards

The University of Nevada R. O. T. C. unit will climax its most active year in the past decade at 10:30 tomorrow morning when the entire cadet battalion will participate in the annual Governor's Day review and inspection at Mackay Field.

The official party, consisting of Major General Albert J. Bowley, commanding general of the Fourth U. S. Army and Ninth Corps area; Governor E. P. Carville; Silas E. Ross, chairman of the Board of Regents; John A. Cooper, mayor of Reno; acting-President Leon W. Hartman, and Colonel Oral E. Clark, professor of military science and tactics, will be escorted from the south university gate to Mackay Field by the university band and last year's color company, Company A.

Immediately after the honored guests have taken their places in the reviewing stand, the battalion will be formed on the north side of the field and Governor Carville will present the awards, decorations and promotions to the cadets who have been designated for them.

Included among the recipients of the awards are Cadet First Sergeant Lee E. Barrett, governor's gold medal for military proficiency; and Cadet Mitchell A. Cobeaga, alternate for the governor's medal.

Barrett also won first place in the competition for the Nevada Reserve Officer's Association gold medal for drill, attendance, discipline and theory. Cadet Sergeant Leon A. Etchemendy won second place in this competition and Cobeaga placed third.

A silver and blue fourragere, awarded for perfect attendance in two years of basic-course instruction, will be given to Cadet Sergeant Ralston O. Hawkins. A similar fourragere will be presented to Cadet Private Edwin S. Dodson for perfect attendance in the first-year basic-course instruction.

Cadet First Lieutenant Roy L. Shipp will receive a fourragere for having maintained the highest standing and discipline in the first year of advanced instruction.

Company C was adjudged the winner in the company competition for the battalion colors, having displayed the best proficiency in drill at last Thursday's review and broke the previous tie between it and Company A. Company C will be awarded the colors by Governor Carville Saturday.

Company B will receive the General George H. Simonds trophy for the company having the best record in attendance and discipline.

On completion of the presentation of the awards, the battalion will pass in review, and if the governor or the reviewing general does not wish to make an inspection, it will proceed to the barracks. If an inspection is desired, the battalion will form on the north side of the field after passing in review.

REVIEWING STAND The reviewing stand will include a staff list consisting of Brigadier General Jay H. White, adjutant general of Nevada; Cadet Captain Fred L. McIntyre, aide to the governor; Colonel Clark; First Lieutenant Edgar Wright, aide to General Bowley; Cadet Captain Charles W. Johnstone, aide to General Bowley; Cadet First Lieutenant Ernest W. Jorgenson, aide to General White; David Goldwater, aide to President Hartman; Major R. O. Bassett, aide to Chairman Ross; First Lieutenant Newton H. Crumley, aide to Mayor Cooper; Major Rodney C. Jones, Major R. M. Hay and Major Eugene Howell, guest aides.

A reservation of seventy-five seats will be reserved in Mackay stadium for the reserve officers' guests; the balance of the estate will be available to the general public.

CHAIRMAN ABSCONDS WITH DANCE FUNDS

By GRAPEVINE GEORGE Big Jock Ashley last night was found on an eastbound freight, absconding with funds of the annual Senior Ball set for May 13. Other members of the dance committee said, upon hearing the news, that there was a possibility that the class would be unable to admit all students free of charge as was originally planned. They agreed, however, that all graduating seniors would be admitted without charge, but others attending would be assessed a fee of $1 to replace the funds spent by Jock Ashley.

When asked to comment on his actions, Jock merely stated: "Oh slush! Dra! Bilge! It's enough to make a man dam' bitter, to say the least."

Announcements may be obtained at Crilise's beginning Monday, May 1.

Faculty Votes to Adopt New Advisory System in All Three Colleges of the University of Nevada Next Year

A faculty adviser system will go into effect at the University of Nevada with the opening of the fall semester in accordance with a resolution recently adopted by the members of the faculty.

The following provisions were approved by the members of the faculty: 1-That the University of Nevada would adopt an advisory system.

2-That the faculties of the three colleges, arts and science, agriculture and engineering, be free to work out any system that they feel is best suited to the needs of their colleges.

While the college of engineering and the college of agriculture have for many years been using a faculty adviser system, this system will be entirely new to the college of arts and science.

Dr. Stewart, dean of the college of agriculture, stated that "the college of agriculture has had an adviser system for twenty years, and it is functioning so well that I believe it will be unnecessary to make any changes."

It is probable that the adviser system to be introduced in the college of arts and science will be much like that now used in the agricultural college.

Dean Sibley of the college of engineering said yesterday that he expected that very few changes would be made in the existing adviser system in the college of engineering.

The biggest job will fall on the shoulders of Dr. Frederick Wood, dean of the college of arts and science, who will be responsible for the establishing of the adviser system in that college.

While the working program has not yet been passed on by the faculty of the college, essential elements will probably be; that each student in the college of arts and science will be assigned an adviser from the department in which he is majoring or is most interested in; that this adviser will have to check the students' program before it is submitted to the dean of the college for his signature.

Students now attending the university should see Dean Wood immediately in order that they be assigned suitable faculty advisers. Dean Wood requested that all students who do not see him personally obtain major and minor cards from his office. These cards are to be filled out and returned immediately.

Students entering the university for the first time next fall will probably be assigned advisers when they are issued enrollment slips.

Dr. Wood stated that he had made a survey of the arts and science faculty members and that he found them to be strongly in favor of the proposed system.

"We want the student to feel," concluded Dean Wood, "that his faculty adviser is his friend and confidant and that he is there to advise and aid the student, no matter what the nature of the trouble may be."

Doug Dashiell Signs as Head Football Coach at Stockton Junior College

Doug Dashiell, grid mentor at the University of Nevada for the past three years, today confirmed the report that he will be head coach of football at Stockton Junior College next season.

Dashiell also will be a member of the faculty at that school, serving in the physical education department.

The junior college is located in Stockton near the College of Pacific campus. It has been formed recently, having formerly been a part of College of Pacific.

The Stockton J. C. Cubs have been strong contenders in the past few years in northern California athletic circles. Dashiell came to Nevada from Las Vegas high school in the spring of 1936. As a football coach at Las Vegas he tutored the Wildcats to four consecutive state champions in five years.

Before coming to Las Vegas he coached at Temple Junior College and La Feria high school after graduating from Southwestern College.

In addition to his coaching duties at the university, he has served as assistant professor of physical education and athletics for men.

Crippled Cinder Team to Compete At Chico Tomorrow

Squad to Be Minus the Services of Four of Its Strongest Members

Minus the services of four of its strongest members, the University of Nevada track squad left early this afternoon for Chico to compete in a three-cornered meet with the Cal Aggies and the Chico Wildcats to be held there tomorrow starting at 1:30.

Of the four men who would have been certain to account for at least eight or ten points, Kenny Day and John Barrett are to be left behind to participate in the R. O. T. C. review that is scheduled for the same day.

Both men are senior officers and are eligible for regular army commissions. Coach Jim Coleman stated, and the track meet didn't mean enough to impair their military records.

Ernie Rodriguez, another senior, is scheduled to take a geology civil service exam and would also be unable to make the trip. Mitch Cobeaga, because of a slight attack of appendicitis, will not be able to make the trip, either.

LETTERMAN Kenny Day is the only one of the four to make his letter, but the men still have the conference meet in which to earn letters, Coleman said.

Hopes of taking any honors at the meet were completely shattered by the tough luck encountered this week, Coleman announced. Only ten men, all that remain of some sixty men reporting at the opening of the season, will make the trip.

Nevada has only one first place clinched tomorrow, Coleman pointed out. Big John Sala, who broke the school record last week, has beaten every man competing Saturday and should have a sure first. Little Pio Mastroianni, though he has beaten both the Chico and the Aggie (Continued on Page 6)

HECKETHORN NAMED HEAD OF PRESS CLUB

Clarence Heckethorn, prominent junior student, was elected president of the University of Nevada Press Club at a meeting of the group Tuesday night.

Other officers elected include Juanita Elicano, vice-president; Nellie Roseberry, secretary, and Ross Ashley, treasurer.

The club will hold its annual banquet at Carlan's Lakeside Inn at 6:30 p. m., May 4. Newly-elected members will entertain with skits and stories.

Byron Hardie Is Sworn In at Last Student Meeting

Class Manager Take Oath; Cups and Awards Given By Organization Heads

Thanking the student body for its support, and warning the students to clear up unfinished matters that were started this year, Student Body President David Goldwater yesterday turned over his office to Byron Hardie at the last A. S. U. N. meeting of the semester.

Other officers sworn in by retiring President Goldwater were Ross Ashley, senior class manager; William Casey, junior manager, and Paul Seaborn, sophomore manager. Main business of the meeting, however, was the presentation of various awards by heads of organizations.

A. W. S. SCROLL Helen Shovelin, A. W. S. chairman, announced that sixteen women signatures were added to the Associated Women Students' honor roll for meritorious service to the women students. The names were Dean Margaret E. Mack, Gertrude Polander, Elizabeth d'Alessandro, Margaret Hussman, Reveau Hansen, Genevieve Wines, Mary Sanger, Shirley Fuetsch, Kathleen Meeks, Sybil Furchner, Evelyn Bulmer, Billie Cann, George Cooper, Betty Parrish and Patricia Meaker.

These students were chosen because of outstanding work in all phases of women's activities.

The Jack Hill memorial plaque was presented to the student body for the second time by Clarence Heckethorn, president of Sigma Nu fraternity, with the name of Robert Cameron as the outstanding University of Nevada athlete for the year.

Debate Coach Robert Griffin gave an outline of the debate activities for the year, and lauded members of the team for their meritorious work this season.

The Ginsburg revolving trophy, awarded to the winning intramural debate team, was presented to the team of William Casey and James Driscoll.

Griffin also presented the after-dinner speaking cup of the Pacific coast to the school. The cup was won by Leo McCuddin. McCuddin also received an individual trophy for the speaking championship.

Gold debate keys for three years of work were awarded to Leo McCuddin, Francis Breen, Robert Joy and Eunice Beckley. Silver keys were presented to James Driscoll, Andrew Rosaschi and William Casey for two years of service on the debate squad.

SKI TROPHIES Earl Edmunds, member of the University of Nevada Ski Club, presented to the student body the ski trophies won this year and gave a short summary of the accomplishments of that group this season.

Trophies included the U. N. winter carnival cups, the best representation and showing cup won by the Nevada team at the Treasure Island meet, the Vanderbilt memorial trophy and the Pacific coast intercollegiate ski union cup.

Vernon Wines, president of the interfraternity council, awarded to Sigma Nu the cup for first place in the intramural ski meet, and Lambda Chi the runner-up award. Esther Laiola was given the cup for the women's slalom event.

Highlight of the meeting occurred when Don Kinkel, editor of the Sagebrush and member of the Green Pea Club, on behalf of the organization, presented a bouquet of sweet-peas to Dave Goldwater for his outstanding work in that organization.

Clayton Elected Block N Delegate By Student Body

At a special student body meeting Wednesday afternoon, Hank Clayton was unanimously elected by Nevada students as the Block N delegate to the new athletic board of control.

Clayton, member of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, was previously rejected by the board of regents for a seat on the athletic board but was given an overwhelming vote of confidence at a standing vote in the afternoon meeting.

The veteran football player was first chosen by the Block N as its delegate to the board. Clayton's approval was sanctioned by Dave Goldwater, student body president, and his name submitted to the regents, who rejected it on the grounds that he was not selected from the student body as a whole.

At the special meeting on Wednesday, his election was declared official, due to the students' unanimous support.

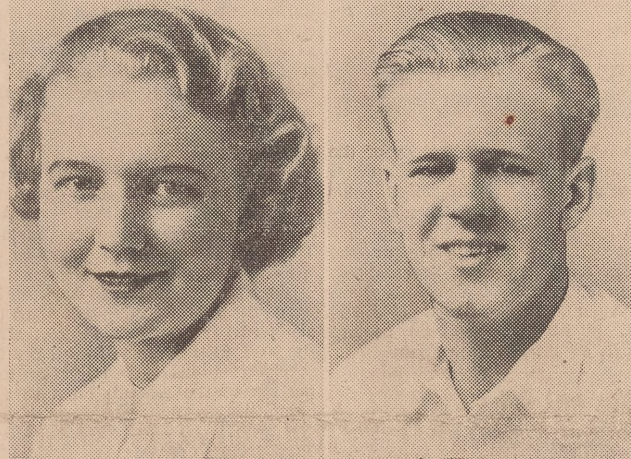

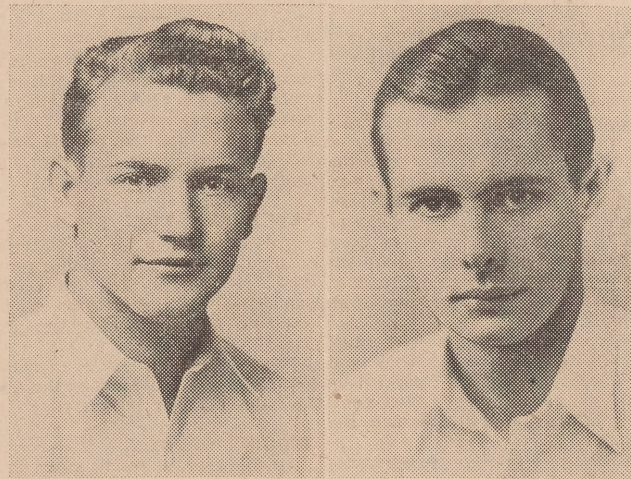

With the election of Clayton, the five-man athletic board will get immediately under way, its main task being to choose a head football coach and a graduate manager.

The board now consists of Harry Frost, alumni; Professor Paul Harwood and Dr. Fred Wood, faculty; Dave Goldwater, A. S. U. N. president, and Henry Clayton, Block N society member.

Civil Engineers Honor Prof. Boardman At Banquet and Ceremonies Last Night

Professor Horace P. Boardman, retiring head of the University of Nevada department of Civil Engineering, was honored guest at a banquet given by the university civil engineering society last evening at the El Cortez hotel.

Professor Boardman, who for thirty-two years has been the head of the civil department of the university, was presented an engraved watch by F. H. Bixby, professor of civil engineering.

The watch was presented in behalf of numerous civil engineering alumni, students and friends of the retiring professor.

Boardman also received a large packet of letters from several student chapters and from many engineers unable to attend the banquet, who are located in different sections of the country.

Many guests attended the banquet representing the university, engineering chapters and departments from Nevada and California.

Brief talks were given by several alumni who at one time studied under Professor Boardman. Others speaking were J. W. Panhorst, California state bridge engineer and president of the Sacramento chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers; Robert A. Allen, Nevada state highway engineer, and William Holcomb, highway office engineer at Carson City.

Talks were also given by the architect and designers of the new buildings to be erected on the university campus. Russell Mills discussed the design and construction of the proposed engineering building and J. F. DeLongchamps spoke briefly on the construction of the new gymnasium.

Edward King was presented an award for high scholarship and activity by Mr. Dolliver of the Sacramento Society of Civil Engineers.

The banquet was the last official meeting of the university engineers this year.

Chemist to Speak Here on May 1st

Speaking on the subject "Shrinking and Swelling of Wood and Its Control," Dr. A. J. Stamm, senior chemist U. S. Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wisconsin, will address students and faculty members Monday evening, May 1, at 8 o'clock in the Education auditorium.

In addition to his talk, Dr. Stamm will have a number of exhibits illustrating reduction in swelling and shrinking and its application in making a superior plywood. Interesting from the theoretical and the applied standpoints the subject should be of interest not only to students in these fields but to the general public.

Dr. Stamm received his education at the California Institute of Technology and the University of Wisconsin, receiving his Ph. D. degree in physical and colloid chemistry in 1925. Since then he has been with the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory. In 1928, while on leave of absence, he studied with Professor The Svedberg at the University of Upsala, Sweden.

This lecture is one of a series he is giving at western universities under the auspices of the American Chemical Society.

Hartman Elected Engineering Prexy

David Hartman, son of Leon Hartman, acting university president, and junior electrical engineering student, was elected president of the university associated engineers at an election held last Wednesday.

Other officials named for the coming year were Bill Potter, electrical student, and Bill Mitchell, mining student, secretary-treasurer.

Retiring officers of the organization are Norman Smith, president; Elmer Isaac, vice-president, and Gottfried Hoffman, secretary-treasurer.

The engineers plan tentatively to hold a meeting for the installation of officers at an early date.

S. A. E. INITIATES THREE NEOPHYTES

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity last week held formal initiation ceremonies for Earl Edmonds, Frank Clause and Douglas Smith at the Ross-Burke Chapel.

Immediately following the formal initiation services a banquet in honor of the newly initiated members was held at the chapter house.

Athletic Control To Meet Tonight

Work to Be Primarily That of Organization of Plans for New Set-up

The newly organized University of Nevada board of athletic control will hold its first meeting tonight, Paul Harwood, one of the faculty members of the board, disclosed yesterday.

The meeting will be primarily one of organization at which the board will elect a permanent chairman and begin a study of the athletic situation at the university, according to Harwood.

MAY DEFER ACTION "Any action on the appointment of either a coach or graduate manager is highly improbable," Harwood said.

"There have been a great many applications for the positions and many more are coming in, but we will have to defer action on them until many other difficulties have been ironed out."

Harwood indicated that appointment of the coach and graduate manager would be made at the earliest possible convenience of the board.

BOARD MEMBERS

Faculty members on the board are Harwood and Dean Frederick Wood; alumni member, Harry Frost; Block N member, Henry Clayton. Student Body President David Goldwater will be present at the meeting and will take an active part in the proceedings. New Student Body President Byron Hardie will be present, but as a non-voting member, Harwood said.

Y. W. C. A. Discusses Group Supervisor

The final meeting of the campus Y. W. C. A. was held last week at Artemisia Hall with Kathryn Devlin, newly elected president, presiding.

Discussion concerning a new supervisor for the group was the main business. Mrs. Mae Simas, former advisor, will not return to the university next year.

New and old cabinet members of the campus Y. W. C. A. have been invited to attend a dinner by the downtown Y. W. C. A. group next Tuesday evening.

Completion of plans for next year's program have not as yet been completed, but will be released early next semester, Miss Devlin said.

COEDS FIND HOBOES THIS MORNING ON SORORITY LAWNS

This morning after sleeping out all night in front of the sororities that they represented, Sundowner neophytes picked up their "bindles" and headed for the campus to set up their jungle between Stewart hall and the English building.

Under strict supervision of Ray Garamendi, president of the hobo organization, the younger bums contented themselves with talk of the day, rousing songs and "general joviality."

Wearing the colors of the sorority that each bum represented, the hoboies ran the annual chicken chase at 11:25. The chickens caught by each shiftless ne'er-do-well went to his respective sorority. The greased-pig run was a slippery affair.

The Sundowners of the Sagebrush is a local good fellowship organization and was promulgated with the intent of producing greater cooperation among campus groups.

LOYAL WILLIS WILL HEAD AGGIE CLUB DURING NEXT YEAR

Loyal Willis, junior agriculture student from Yerington, was elected president of the University of Nevada Agriculture Club at the last meeting held by the group.

Other officers elected for the coming year were Lowell Hillygus, vice-president, and John Bazzini, secretary-treasurer.

The Aggie Club has planned to put on a rodeo, probably to be held on the Reno racetrack, as their first activity of the fall semester.

Fraser West was appointed chairman of the rodeo committee and he plans to work this summer getting broncos, wild steers and riders lined up.

The club also are going to extend bids to the professors in the college of agriculture for membership in the club. This has never been done before and the group hopes that it will create more interest in the club.

LINCOLN HALL GIVES ANNUAL SMOKER FOR FACULTY MEMBERS

Entertainment in the form of various hobby displays was the feature of the annual smoker held at Lincoln Hall for university faculty men last week.

The exhibits, which represented varied outside work and interests of the Lincoln Hall men, were diverse in character, and ranged from woodwork to stone cutting.

"An interesting collection of photographic art was displayed by Walt Lobenstein and Herman Konnerth, and an unusual collection of cut and polished stones was displayed by Louis Sanborn, according to Larry Carter, chairman of the affair.

Many of the hobbyists were musicians, and entertainment in this form, along with refreshments, concluded the evening.

Journalism Awards To Be Presented At Commencement

The two annual journalism scholarships, one established by Ethel Lunsford Frost and Harry J. Frost in 1935, and the other established by the Nevada State Press Association in 1938, will be presented at Commencement to students chosen by the university committee on scholarships and prizes.

The Lunsford scholarship of $75 was established for the purpose of furthering the profession of journalism by giving students an incentive to do better work.

The second scholarship, awarded by the Nevada State Press Association, is for $50. The main objective of this scholarship is to assist and encourage Nevada students who prove themselves worthy of it, and who are preparing for the profession of journalism.

Basil Benedict now holds the William S. Lunsford scholarship, while Clarence Heckethorn is the present recipient of the award of the Nevada State Press Association.

Woman's Honorary Society Elects Six to Membership

Six new members of Cap and Scroll, women's honorary service group considered the highest attainable honor for women on the campus, were announced by Eunice Beckley at a student body meeting yesterday.

The new members are Evelyn Bulmer, Shirley Fuetsch, Sybil Furchner, Patricia Meaker, Betty Parish and Nellie Roseberry.

Cap and Scroll is an organization which elects annually to membership those upperclass women who have proven themselves leaders on the campus in activities, scholarship, service and citizenship. It is a purely honorary society and approximately seven women are elected at the close of the college year from the incoming and outgoing senior women.

Plans are being made to petition the national honorary women's fraternity, Mortarboard, for membership. These plans will not, however, be completed until next year.

Nevada Graduate Writes Noted Book

Accomplishments of Dr. Leroy Fothergil Are Related by Scribe

Dr. Leroy D. Fothergil, a graduate of the University of Nevada with the class of 1924, now with the department of bacteriology and immunology at Harvard University, is a co-author of the fifth edition of "Immunity Principles and Application in Medicine and Public Health."

This book is recognized by men of the medical profession as one of the finest of its kind now in print.

Dr. Fothergil entered the University of Nevada as an engineer. Later he transferred to the department of biology to study under Dr. Peter Frandsen. Upon his graduation in the spring of 1924, he went to work in the laboratory of the veterinary science department.

In the fall of 1925 he entered medical school at Harvard University. Due to some experience that he had had with Brucella infections while with the Nevada veterinary department, he was given a position as laboratory assistant to Dr. Hans Zinzer, head of the department of bacteriology and immunology, early in his freshman year.

Upon the completion of his internship, Dr. Fothergil was given a staff appointment to this same department, where he has since done notable research on diseases of infants.

Dr. Fothergil was the first to recognize and recover the virus of equine encephalomyelitis (brain fever) from infants affected with an obscure encephalitis in the children's hospital in Boston.

A serious outbreak of brain fever among horses in the Boston region occurred in August, 1938. A subsequent outbreak of this infection among infants in that region attracted the attention of Dr. Fothergil and other noted scientists.

For the first time the virus of this horse disease was recovered from an extensive outbreak among children. A third link was found when Dr. Fothergil recovered the encephalomyelitis virus from pigeons found dying on the farms where the brain fever occurred.

It is now believed that migratory birds, such as pigeons, may be the reservoir of infection. Experimental evidence points toward the mosquito as being the connecting link between the reservoir of infection in birds and horses and man.

THREE INITIATED INTO MEMBERSHIP BY B. K. FRATERNITY

Dave Hartman, Charles Yetter and Robert Moore were initiated into Beta Kappa fraternity this week, it was announced by President Gene Rowland.

The fraternity will hold its annual picnic at Lake Tahoe. Don Townsend and Frank Mills, engineering students, are in charge of the affair, which will be held April 30.

Gamma Phi Team Takes Badminton Tourney This Week

By defeating Eleanor Goldsworthy and Lola Frazier, independents, in a close game Tuesday night, Earlmond Baker and Ann Allen, Gamma Phi Beta, walked off with the doubles championship in the intramural badminton tournament.

Audrey Sellman, Pi Beta Phi, was winner of the singles championship.

The winning doubles team also defeated Eleanor DuPratt and Mary Konrmayer, Delta Delta Delta. The independents, however, won over the Tri-Deltas to take second place in the contest.

Audrey Sellman played and won only one game, that with Betty Parrish, Delta Delta Delta, and was defaulted by the independents, Beta Sigma Omicron and Kappa Alpha Theta. Shirley Fuetsch, Theta, who was chartered as the most likely to win the singles tournament, had to withdraw when confined to her home with the mumps.

Cups will be awarded the winners at the first A. W. S. meeting next semester.

Home Ec Entertains N.F.W. Last Week

Members of the university Home Economics Club entertained the National Federation of Women's Clubs and other invited guests at a tea and fashion show in the home economics rooms Friday.

Elva Robinson was chairman of the tea with freshmen and senior students acting as hostesses.

Helen Cameron, chairman of the fashion show, acted as narrator. Members of the sewing classes modeled garments they made in class. Fashions shown included cotton prints, silk afternoon dresses, rayon and cotton sports dresses, suits and coats and cotton formals.

Entertainment consisted of a whistling solo by Eileen Sayre, a piano solo by Luana Whipple and a marimba solo by Margaret Cline.

District President Visits Delta Delta Delta

Mrs. Mark Astrup, district president of Delta Delta Delta, arrived from San Mateo on an official visit to the University of Nevada chapter.

Dean Nelson has been accepted by Northwestern University and will attend medical school there.

Ed Conlon will enter the University of Southern California school of dentistry.

Bill Goodin will study at the University of Alabama medical school.

Kenneth Dimmock plans to teach zoology, but will not decide where until this summer.

Sam Stark was notified that his application has been accepted at George Washington University medical school.

Five Nevada women plan to enroll at the Stanford School of Nursing in San Francisco next year. They are Edith Collins, Ruth Wilcox, Glenda Wilson, Ruby Nay and Betty Parish.

W. A. DELEGATES ATTEND CONVENTION

Lola Frazier and Eleanor Goldsworthy, delegates from the W. A. A. organization on the Nevada campus, returned from the national convention of the Athletic Federation of College Women held at the University of California at Berkeley last week.

Held April 12, 13 and 14, the convention's primary purpose was to exchange ideas and to discuss women's athletics and standards. The convention was a national one in which sixty-five schools from all over the United States were represented.

New Parking Rules Enforced on Campus

Parking rules on the campus will be more rigidly enforced in the future, it was announced this week by Joseph Lynch, superintendent of the university grounds and buildings.

Although parking rules have not been observed in the past, recent demands from the insurance companies have made it necessary to enforce them because of the added fire hazard.

It would be impossible for a fire engine to get to the scene of a fire if the campus streets are cluttered up with cars, and the fire department would be powerless to act if it could not get near the fire hydrants.

It is hoped that students will cooperate with the grounds department, but if they don't, steps may be taken to enforce parking rules with the aid of the Reno police department, it is reported.

The editorials in the University of Nevada Sagebrush express the thoughts of the editor of the publication and make no pretense of being the barometer of the sentiment of the University of Nevada student body or administration. All editorials are written by the editor unless signed otherwise.

THE NEW A. S. U. N. PRESIDENT

took his oath of office yesterday morning in a meeting which will stand out among all of the student body meetings of the year as one of good fellowship and good cheer.

We were glad to have had the honor of attending that meeting. During the year, which can be called anything but a cheerful year, the student body was torn with dissension due to the many squabbles which came up during the two semesters. Writers and observers throughout the state regarded the university as a house divided against itself. And in many ways it was.

Through the medium of these many squabbles, much of the gayety and friendship which usually pervades the atmosphere of the Nevada campus was totally lost. Students who in former days had been the best of friends falked guardedly between themselves or talked not at all.

The last student body of the year, however, was in an entirely different mood. Horseplay galore was exhibited throughout the meeting and the Nevada students displayed that they had not lost their sense of humor.

It was a fine and clear atmosphere in which the new president took his oath and the students were in a mood to cooperate in almost any undertaking which might be proposed. The Sagebrush hopes that the same atmosphere will carry over into next year. Many problems will face the student body and its officers which will take the united front of the associated students to solve. We hope that the prevailing co-operation will not fade during the test.

AMONG THE MANY PROBLEMS

which the student officers, senate and member will have to face next year will be the numerous constitution changes which are sure to be presented to the student body.

Foremost among these changes will be the most important changes or inserts dealing with the board of athletic control. Provision in the A. S. U. N. constitution for the establishment and government of such a board must be drawn up. The organization of the board must also be considered and the means of electing members to the board must be dealt with.

There is no way in which the board this year can be given authority by the students. Incidents such as last week will be forever cropping up unless there is definite provision made to take care of such possibilities. Too, there will be the greatest question of all—the amount of money which the student body will assess itself in order to carry out a successful athletic campaign.

We have been informed that the board will meet tonight in its initial gathering. That at least is some kind of accomplishment in itself. For a little while the Sagebrush began to think that so many monkey-wrenches would be tossed into the machinery as to make it almost impossible for the board to competently get into action until 1942 or so. Board members would probably appreciate any action the administration would take in dealing with the organization of the new physical education department.

Another constitutional change which has been advocated before but seems to have been overlooked this year is any provision dealing with the qualifications of class officers.

This year and last year, which are the first two years that the elections have been run in conjunction with the primary and general student body elections, everything was conducted rather smoothly.

However, there is no provision in the constitution which definitely states that the class manager must have certain qualifications. There is not even a provision in the constitution that the manager must be a member of the class in which he is running for office. It has generally been accepted that the same general qualifications of the A. S. U. N. president be used as qualifications of the class manager. However, if as during this year anyone wished to adhere to technicalities there could arise quite a subject for debate.

Another amendment which should be added to the constitution to prevent a recurrence of this year's election squabble is a provision for re-elections. Assuredly the same situation might never again arise in the future, but it is a possibility which should be considered.

THE SAGEBRUSH CANNOT UNDERSTAND

why the administration continues to take such puny methods of trying to discourage parking on the campus.

It is rather ineffective to keep a man on the curbstone throughout the day to brush away parkers as one would a pesterous fly. At the best such a watcher could not keep all of the drivers from parking on the campus as has been evidenced in the past.

The ground crew did the first intelligent thing in regards to parking that they have all year when they threw a barricade across the main entrance of the university campus, thereby stopping drivers before they began. There is no reason why chains couldn't be placed across the main entrance and by such method do away with the campus plague.

TSK! TSK!

Here we are again, jest bubblin' over with good spiricks and sech. Don't it be fun to anticipate the end of dreadful notebooks and exes and stuff, and look to a beau-u-ti-ful and lazy summer (Well, anyway, beautiful)? La! Happy daze. . . . Probably this lovely anticipation is the cause of the observed hilarity and riotousness of the recent social functions—namely the spring formal presented by the social organizations of this fair campus.

S'funny, but it appears to us that at these specific gatherings, true and sometimes secret loves are seen waltzing away that evening of all evenings together. P'instance, let's go to the Lambdy formal and there we find Dick Rozzone and Wilma (Theta) Jones popping up at us again—tsk, and we thought that dead and buried. Ah, well, it all shows to go ya. . . . At the same dance we find another sure 'nough romance: Mitch Cobega and Reveau Hanson. . . . AND what seems to be on the up 'n up—Harley Harmon and Eleanor DuPratt.

Still with our penetrating gaze we see guests Freddie McIntyre and—guess who? Romietta. . . . Johnny Etchemendy from the A. T. O. house had Margaret Hermansen on his arm—which isn't so unusual (or is it)? . . . Hecky looked his usual sophisticated self with demure Lily Venton. And somebody (maybe it was a bird) tells us that this may develop into something.

Charlie Matson and Verna Bullis looked as chipper as they always do at such things. . . . The beautiful lady in blue, Mary Sala, honored Larry Callahan with her fiery presence. . . . Gene Francovich went out of town and found Bill Bennet's sister somewhere (That's what we want to know—where?) . . . Kicky-poo Prucia was going around (that's awful) with Aileen Smith. . . . Did you see Bill Foster and the baby of the Crosby family? Well, what'd we tell you?

On the same historical night, the men of the violets and lions gave their annual "nice" (?) dance. As is to be expected, some of those high and mighty had to import their dates. We've come to two conclusions concerning this problem—either they think (?) they're too good for our locals, OR, our locals are too good for them. This is of course, excluding our "true love" theory. . . . Ask Blake Speers and Max Forbes what category they come under.

Virginia Raitt, always obliging, helped the local S. A. E.'s out by allowing herself to be escorted by a visiting Ore-

SCREAMS from the Dark

After an absence of a week or so or two or three, our delightful burbling again this week appears in print through the courtesy of a ghost writer, commonly known and admired throughout the length and breadth of the Nevada campus.

However, before we begin the serious reading matter, to further acquaint you with the esteemed journalist, we print a letter which we received from a close friend of the aforesaid several weeks ago. We believe it brings him closer to your hearts, as it did to ours when we first read the missive.

It is as follows:
 Student Union Building,
 April 28, 1939.

Dear Editor:
 Since the time of his election as student body president last year, fan mail has been rolling in steadily but never quite so strong as now when the time for him to leave you approaches.

It is common knowledge that personality, charm, good looks, wavy hair, capacity (?), a good understanding (size 12), clothes, and a V-8 runabout tend to make the individual appear god-like to the common herd and it is to these qualities that he attributes his success.

Modesty is a great virtue, but with scores of beautiful women forever surrounding him with flattery and attention, he blushing admits when asked that such a virtue has little space in his make-up. As proof of the above statement he queries, "Why else have I been continually cast in leading roles always opposite the campus' leading glamor girls such as Kathleen Meeks, Charlotte Caton and Cleone Stewart?"

But, getting back to the original purpose of this missive, I would like to use this means of telling you that I think the work he has done on the campus during this year is extraordinarily fine. I think Dave Goldwater deserves a big hand for the work he has done.

Goldwater has done lots of work on this campus and has received very little thanks for it. Goldwater is a wonderful fellow and very few people besides myself seem to realize this fact.

Goldwater is the sort of fellow who is always ready to help out with any campus function or give a hand to anyone who needs it.

Goldwater is unique. Goldwater is friendly. Goldwater is witty. Goldwater has a sense of humor. Goldwater is stupendous. Goldwater is the ultimate of campus good fellowship. In fact, Goldwater is quite a guy—a fine fellow and an all-around good Joe.

In parting, I would like to say that the campus could use more fellows like Goldwater.

Respectfully yours,
 DAVE GOLDWATER.

And so, as in a travelogue, it is with this thought that we leave our ghost writer and move on to other, newer, gon member. How was he, Virginia? . . . Lee Barrett pulled out a surprise package with Dippy Dooner in it. . . . AND, in the midst of everything, what did we see but a brand-new piece of brass on Marilyn Rhodes. We must admit Earl didn't waste much time. This sorta gave us a proud feeling, 'cause 'way last fall (remember?) we predicted just this. Somebody pat us on the back.

The famous Carlson and Hardy affair held some attention on some night. Oh, you kids—we've had a meeting of the board and elected to send you two a pair of boxing gloves and a helmet for you, Betty. . . . Joe McDonald had his hands full with a new friend of his (red hair, too)—Phillis McCulloch. What is this—more romance? Margaret Hietman is still holding her own, though. . . . Did you hear? Chick Wheeler came ALL the way to Reno just for the lovely formal—or was it mostly to keep any of his brothers from cutting his throat (as if they could) with Betty Brannin.

We were most amazed to find Jeannette Rives with guest Jimmy Griswold. What can it mean? . . . Somebody tell us who Smithwick came with, who he ate with, who he danced with, who he went home with. You have us a mite puzzled, friend Hubert—give us the lowdown—or can you?

Emery Graunke also caused a riot when he stepped in with Gene Wines—ee-ee-k! Why don't people warn us of these things? Our nerves have become a frazzled mass. . . . Carl Becholdt and his wife showed up in the course of the evening. We were slightly confused with the arrangements they made for their evening's enjoyment—guess we weren't the only ones. How about it, Jimmy Worden? AND you, too, Clary Hanson? . . . Our esteemed editor finally came where we could see him (Where 'uv you been, Kink?) with a brother's sister—get it? Peccole is her last name.

There've been rumors of a few private picnics of late, but we haven't got much info' on them. . . . probably not supposed to! We do know, though, that a few of the Sigma Phi's had one of those picnics. Clara Hanson and Bill Grubbs know something about it.

Always leave your audience with a laugh, somebody instructed us. Here goes: Corky Starratt made his formal announcement of a—well, he made it, anyhow, in the (of all places!) libe. Congratulations, Corky! . . . With this choice tidbit we take our departure done up tight in 16th century armor—Corky's after us. Ta-ta!

LETTERS to the EDITOR . . .

To the Editor:
 May I say that I am not interested in nor am I an applicant for ANY position in the newly established department of athletics at the University of Nevada.
 I say this fully aware of the possibility involved in the favorable recommendation made by the Board of Regents in its meeting of April 4.
 I greatly appreciate the confidence expressed by the members of that board and by the administration of the university.
 DOUG DASHIELL.

basketball trips that it seemed as if the whole Nevada team was playing considerably lousy, and our star guard in particular persisted in gumming up the works. As this man was the key in the offense, Doc Martie decided to send a telegram, signed by the athlete's girl, in order to encourage the thick-headed one.
 At half-time, Doc handed the player the telegram.
 "Listening to your game over the air," it said. "I'll marry you if you win." Her name followed. The erring cager studied the wire for a moment, then pushed it away from him.
 "Hell," he said disgustedly, "that ain't from my girl. She can't run a typewriter."
 (Ed. Note—Give Harris his diploma now.)

Last year a rumor went about the campus that Fran Breen, business manager of the Artemisia, was the most beautiful lad on the hill. We want our readers to know that we have given this plenty of thought and investigation. We traced this rumor to its beginning and found out that Fran's mother started it. You had us fooled for some time, but don't feel bad—most mothers are like that!

Neil Campbell has at last grown up. It will probably be heart-breaking news to the two juvenile screen stars, Shirley Temple and Jane Withers, when they find out that all Neil's attention is taken up by the lovely and very charming Wyoma Shain.

We now take leave until next Friday this same time, cautioning you with these few words of wisdom which we hope you will take to heart and carefully consider them with great caution:
 Once a big mollicpean
 Saw a little um
 Sitting on a sturbcone
 Chewing dob of dum.
 Said the big mollicpean,
 "Dimme dob od dum."
 Said the little um,
 "Tinny on your nintype."

Man o' the Week

This week the spotlight of recognition wings through the last phase of its arch of fame and brings to light the final Man of the Week—Maurice F. Sheppard.

"Shep," as he is affectionately known by the fellas, is a staunch supporter of "this side" of the campus, taking with him when he graduates in June, one philosophy major, one botany major and one economics major, wrapped in a darn good scholastic average that is topped by two semesters on the honor roll.

But don't get us wrong; he hasn't spent his college life accumulating his three majors. Heck no!

Blue Key, in the capacity of president, claimed his most devoted attention and he has done a noble job with his darling, and Blue Key once again finds itself an esteemed organization, thanks to Shep.

He has served on various committees, being chairman of executive committee of the first annual winter carnival this year, and completing two years as a member of the Homecoming group.

His executive ability and flair for eloquence served him as an A. S. U. N. senator for a year and the senate representative to the rally committee.

Shortly after entering Nevada, he accepted a Sigma Nu pin, and since then has risen to the top in that organization, serving as their eminent commander for an entire year.

His hard work and sincere efforts in school earned him the regents' scholarship as a sophomore, and this year he walked off with one of the highest awards offered, the Max Fleischmann scholarship.

Not athletically-minded, Shep, however, tried out as freshman basketball manager, and in the recent Stag Night won the game-fighter trophy.

All in all, likeable, easy-going Shep is headed for a rosy future and we wish him all the luck in the world—on his trip to the top.

MAN O' LAST WEEK

FRANK "FORLORN" HICKEY
 A brief description of this outstanding character on the campus will serve as an introduction. Frank is about six feet six inches tall or long. He has large feet but smaller than Dave Goldwater's. He has large, mournful and soulful eyes which pierce to the very root of things and his character is topped off by a dark, wavy thatch of hair.
 During the drive for a new student union building, Frank busied himself with efforts to get a new combined girls' and boys' dormitory. It was to be located on the very top of Mount Peavine. Each lad was to have an acre of ground and a cow. Each girl was to have one of the lads. Room rent was to be paid by the regents. A wonderful IDEA! But was he thanked for his contribution to posterity? No!

Blue Key passed him up like a dirty shirt but even this did not stop his efforts for a bigger and better University of Nevada.

His next drive called for a project to dam up the south end of the baseball field and flood the tennis courts, girls' field and Mackay field. The next step was to plant fish and then offer courses in how to fish. He claimed that after a year or two the university could get money from the government and then start a course in coast-guard pre-predness. F. D. R. approved the plan but the Carson City investigating committee said that Frank was an F. D. R. man and therefore was not to be trusted. Even though he was still unrecognized as the foremost project former on the campus, Frank still works on.

He now has plans to present to the university faculty which will change the classes to five-minute periods with forty-five minutes between each class. If such a plan is carried through, he plans to have lawn swings placed at advantageous points throughout the campus in an effort to revive the ancient order of Royal Pipers.

So it is that Frank is about to embark into the future after such an eventful campus career, the Sagebrush duly recognizes his worth, integrity and good fellowship and names him this week's Man o' Last Week.

College girls get their education by degrees, and chorus girls by stages.

By FRANK McCULLOCH
Now that the athletic control board has got organized, at least as far as membership goes, this corner feels confident that a lot of bad air at Nevada will be cleaned up in short order. The board, one of the most practical innovations this university has seen in years, will eliminate most of the rubs and frictions so evident in the old athletic set-up and should provide Nevada with the strongest, most efficient athletic administration it has ever had.

For awhile last Saturday it looked as though the University of Nevada track team were going to reach away down into the dope bag and pull out a big surprise in dumping the Chico Wildcats. Unfortunately, however, the Californians were just a little too strong in the concluding events of the meet and managed to scrape out a very close win.

Individual performances, with Bobby Cameron's 18 points and "Red" Sala's new school discus record topping the list, were promising enough to give Jim Coleman hope that the Pack will make a very creditable showing in the conference meet later this month, provided that famed Nevada "luck" does not crop up again!

Give the university golf team a big hand. They deserve it! Unable to get either student or administrative backing to any great degree, they asked the help of local merchants, dug into their own pockets, and finally got enough money together to make the trip to Stockton.

After showing all that initiative, they went right on with the good work and thoroughly laced the College of Pacific team by a score of 9½ to 2½. Whether that showing leads on to "bigger and better" things or not, it shows pretty decisively that the University of Nevada has the material for one of the best collegiate golf teams on the Pacific Coast.

The brand of baseball displayed by the Beta Kappa team in thrashing the pre-season favorites, the Sigma Phi Sigmas, last Monday night was nothing short of phenomenal for the local interfraternity league. The Beekays just couldn't do anything wrong; they got their hits when they counted the most, and they never let down for a minute once they had established a good lead. That kind of baseball deserves the standing that the Beta Kappas have now—at the top of the heap.

As the Sagebrush will be unable to give a cup for the best hitter and pitcher in the league this year—the official records being lost—the players who might have had a chance for those awards should be given some kind of recognition.

Topping the pitchers are John Ethemendy of A. T. O. and Dud Davis of Beta Kappa, with Bill Peccole crowding them closely. Davis has four wins without a loss to his credit. "Little E" has a no-hitter and a shutout behind him, and Peccole has shown the steadiest, headiest style of pitching in the league this year.

Among the batters, Davis, McKenzie, and Shewan of Beta Kappa, Herrick of A. T. O., Dorsey and Grubbs of Sigma Phi Sigma, Carlson and Peccole of S. A. E., Mayer of the Phi Sigs, and Beloso and Campbell of Sigma Nu are all hitting the ball hard and often.

Though the Nevada tennis team was whipped 6-1 by Sacramento J. C. last weekend, the score is anything but indicative of the showing turned in by the Wolves. Every match, regardless of the score, was hard-fought and exciting and the action was consistently fast. With a few more years' experience under their belts, some of Chet Scranton's younger netsters will give the rest of the conference plenty to worry about.

Notice that Smith Valley's "Lefty Al" Olsen is still burning up the Pacific Coast League?

I see by the paper that nine professors of one student were killed in a wreck. . . . Poor chap!

Undeclared Beta Kappa Leads Baseball League

Tau, S. A. E. Second; Phi Sigs Third as Tourney Is Nearly Finished

Beta Kappa continued in its undeclared march toward the interfraternity baseball league crown this week by lacing Sigma Phi Sigma, 13-3, and Lincoln Hall, 9 to 1.

Showing their best form of the year in the Sigma Phi Sigma game, the Beekays jumped to a five-run lead in the first inning and were never threatened thereafter.

Grubbs, who started on the mound for the Sigma Phis, had trouble with his control and gave way to Dorsey in the fourth inning. The two gave up eight hits and six walks while striking out nine.

Davis, in top form in defeating the pre-season favorites. He allowed seven widely scattered hits, struck out seven, and allowed only one base on balls. His mates gave him excellent support, making only one error and turning in two double plays.

Davis, Shewan and Moyer hit hardest for the winners, with Grubbs and Young leading the losers in batting.

Dorsey and Young caught for Sigma Phi Sigma, and McIntyre turned in an outstanding game from behind the plate for the Beekays.

S. A. E. STILL IN RACE
S. A. E. remained in the race for the championship with only one defeat chalked up against it by eking out a narrow 6-4 victory over Sigma Nu.

Led by Bill Peccole, who twirled cool, headed ball, the Evans avenue team trailed until the fifth inning, when a series of Sigma Nu errors allowed the tying and winning runs to cross the plate.

Peccole allowed eight hits and three walks while whiffing ten. His mates gave him good support, making only two miscues. Shepley caught his slants.

McCulloch, Sigma Nu pitcher, also allowed eight hits while fanning nine and walking three. Sigma Nu committed seven errors. Beloso played behind the bat.

Heaviest hitters of the game were Campbell and Rosa of Sigma Nu and Forbes of S. A. E.

SHUT-OUT
"Little John" Ethemendy of A. T. O. held up the fast pace he has been setting for the other pitchers of the league to follow when he shut out Lincoln Hall on Tuesday night by a score of 12-0.

Allowing but three hits and an equal number of bases on balls, "E" sent 13 of the Lincoln Hall men down via the strikeout route. Guild caught him.

Knemeyer, Hall pitcher, was nipped for 15 safeties and allowed three passes. Lemich, Herrick, Mornston and Hawkins led the hit-parade of the Taus.

Phi Sigma Kappa and Lambda Chi finish off the week's play tonight.

League standings so far are:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Beta Kappa	6	0	1.000
A. T. O.	4	1	.800
S. A. E.	4	1	.800
Sigma Phi Sigma	2	1	.666
Phi Sigma Kappa	3	2	.600
Sigma Nu	2	4	.333
Lambda Chi	0	3	.000
Independents	0	4	.000
Lincoln Hall	0	6	.000

COLUMBIA TO HAVE SUMMER COURSES
A course in writing and dramatic arts will be given this summer by Columbia University for students interested in this field, it was announced recently.

The courses will begin on July 5 and end August 11, with registration open June 30 and July 1-3.

No formal credits are required for admission, although credits will be given if the student has high enough educational standing.

Prospective students must make written application, stating previous experience and qualifications.

NETMEN TO MEET AGGIES TOMORROW IN FIVE MATCHES

Five University of Nevada racket-wielders and Coach "Chet" Scranton will leave for Davis early tomorrow morning to play the California College of Agriculture tennis team in scheduled matches that afternoon.

Losing all but one match to a strong Sacramento Junior College team on the Nevada courts last week, the Nevada netmen have a good chance to even the score at the Aggies' expense, Scranton said.

The team will play four singles matches with Nevada represented by Peterson, Goodner, Dickson and McKinley in their respective games. Peterson and Goodner will play on the doubles team.

The team will return to Reno late that night, leaving soon after the matches are over.

Brooks to Head Block N Next Year

Earl Brooks, junior arts and science student from Nebraska, was named president of the Block N society at the organization's final meeting of the year last night.

Brooks is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and a two-letterman in football.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Gordon Thompson, vice president; Delbert Stewart, secretary; Chuck Whitham, treasurer, and Bob Cameron as representative to the Block N executive council.

The Block N executive council is a council within the organization composed of the officers of the group and one other member at large from the society. Its principal duty consists of awarding the annual Block N scholarship.

Nevada Golf Team Wallops C. of P.

The University of Nevada golf team got off to an auspicious start in intercollegiate competition by whaling the College of Pacific 9½ to 2½ at Stockton last Saturday.

The Nevada team, made up of Jack Rhoades, Bob Taylor, John Hoffman and Bobby Games, completely dominated the match, dropping only one point when John Hoffman lost nine holes, and the other point and a half when Bobby Games, playing in his first competitive match, tied in his match.

Bob Cameron, the other regular member of the team, was unable to compete, staying in Reno to take part in the Chico-Nevada track meet.

The golfers will meet the Reno Golf Club in a match this week.

Chico Track Team Wins Over Nevada With 72-59 Score

Cameron Takes 18 Points; Sala Breaks School Discus Record

The University of Nevada track team, with hopes of winning its first cinder meet since 1931, was nosed out in the final events by Chico last Saturday afternoon on Mackay Field.

Chico State came from behind to score heavily in the 220-yard dash, 220 low hurdles, and relay to defeat the Wolves, 72 to 59.

INDIVIDUAL STAR
Bob Cameron, Nevada star, made a sensational showing by chalking up 18 points, taking three first places and a second to be the high individual scorer of the day. In the pole vault, he leaped 12 feet 4½ inches, a half-inch short of the university record. After this achievement, he outsprung the Chico champion in the 100 yard dash to place first and, after a brief resting period, he came in second in the hard 220-yard run.

One of the most exciting events of the meet was the two-mile run, in which Pio Mastroianni of Nevada put on a furious spurt in the last 220 yards to take the race from the two leading Chico runners. He trailed much of the way, but inched up gradually on the two leaders and then passed them in a spectacular finish.

SCHOOL RECORD BROKEN
John Sala, burly Nevada football player, broke the school record in the discus throw by heaving the platter 134 feet 11 inches. The record has not been broken since 1933 when M. Huntington of the class of '33 threw it 127 feet.

Jarrell Perkins of Nevada was nosed out by a half-inch in the shotput, but despite the showings of these fellows, the Wolves faded near the finish, lacking sufficient strength to compete against the more equally balanced Wildcat team.

Results of the meet are:
100-yard Dash—Won by Cameron (N); time, 10.1; second, Reads (C); third, Davis (C).
120-yard High Hurdles—Won by Cameron (N); time, 16.3; second, Eking (C); third, Moore (C).
440-yard Dash—Won by Whited (C); time, 52.2; second, Conoway (N); third, West (C).
1 Mile—Won by Kostiz (C); time, 5:02.5; second, Mezder (C); third, Barrett (N).
Pole Vault—Won by Cameron (N); height, 12 feet 4½ inches; second, Palmiter (C); third, Hoffman (C).
Shot Put—Won by Vonasek (C); distance 42 feet 11½ inches; second, ePrkins (N); third, Stewart (N).
High Jump—The for first, Friedhoff (N) and King (N); height 5 feet 8 inches; third, Morrison (C).
Javelin—Won by O. Hoffman (C).

Name of Robert Cameron Is Inscribed On Jack Hill Memorial Plaque for 1939

Bob Cameron, junior student and star varsity track, basketball and golf man, was chosen as the outstanding athlete of the year at the university and, as such, will have his name inscribed upon the Jack Hill memorial plaque.

Cameron is the second Nevada athlete to have been given the honor since Sigma Nu fraternity started the plaque in honor of Jack Hill, university athlete who died last year. John Robb was chosen last year.

The selection was made by varsity coaches J. E. Martie, Doug Dashiell and Jim Coleman, and Joe Jackson and Ty Cobb, sports editors for the Reno Evening Gazette and the Nevada State Journal respectively.

Cameron, who is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, Blue Key and Coffin and Keys, has made his letter in both basketball and track. He scored 18 points in the track meet against Chico last weekend. He lettered with the Nevada varsity basketball team season before last.

Following are the provisions by which the judges abide in choosing the winner:
1—The plaque was made for the purpose of selecting a man who has been outstanding in the various sports.
2—The candidate must portray clear

Peraldo Elected Band President

Louis Peraldo, junior arts and science student registered from Winnemucca, was elected president of the band for the year 1939-40, at a meeting of the group last Tuesday night.

Other members chosen to serve as officers are Bill Orr, vice-president; Venitia Dahlstrom, secretary, and Budgy Williams, librarian.

Peraldo succeeds Melvin Woodgate in the band post, and will officially assume his duties next fall.

Professor T. H. Post, faculty advisor of the group, announced that the last public appearance of the band will be tomorrow morning when it takes part in the military review.

One Week Remains For 144 Seniors; Program Announced

Teas, Pilgrimage, Baseball Game, Baccalaureate Planned for Final Week

Next Monday marks the last school week for those 144 graduating seniors of the class of '39. After examination week, the seniors will be saying their last farewell to this campus during the ceremonies and presentations of Senior Week.

In charge of the program for Senior Week this year and appointed by Francis Breen, class president, are Leo McCuddin, general chairman; Tom Beko, announcement chairman; Duncan Dorsey, program chairman, and Bud Fallon, chairman of the annual senior picnic.

This year, Senior Week as planned by Francis Breen and his committee heads is full of colorful events and entertainment for the graduating class. PARADE ABOLISHED

The program was to start off this year with a senior parade to the A. S. U. N. meeting in caps and gowns but, due to the fact that the cap and gowns were delayed in coming this year, and that the student body meeting was changed, the parade has been abolished.

On Sunday, May 7, the tea for the senior women is scheduled to be run off at the S. A. E. house, while on Monday, May 8, the faculty softball game with the seniors will be held on the university baseball diamond in back of the tennis courts. This game is usually fun for all who watch it. It is perhaps the only chance the students have during the year to see their professors in action outside of the classroom.

THETA TEA

Immediately following the baseball game will be a tea held for the senior class at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Each year the different sororities take turns in holding this tea, and last year Pi Beta Phi was the sorority to entertain, this year being the Thetas' turn.

Scheduled for Tuesday, May 9, is the Bleu Key and Cap and Scroll tea, held from 3 to 5 p. m. at the A. T. O. house.

On Wednesday, May 10, the big senior picnic will be held at Lake Tahoe. Last year the graduating class held its picnic at Lawton's hot springs, due to the bad weather at that time, but with the promise of the fine weather so far, the seniors this year believe their picnic at the lake will be one of the most successful so far.

CAMPUS PILGRIMAGE

Recovering from the picnic, the seniors will attend the campus pilgrimage at 10:30 a. m. On this pilgrimage the different senior students will be sent to various historical places around the campus and will give short speeches on the significance of these places and what their four years at college has meant to them. Following this pilgrimage, the students will all assemble to dedicate their gift to the school.

Thursday night at 6:30 begins the senior banquet at the Club Fortune, where the seniors talk of old times and don't come home until the "wee hours" of the morning.

Friday is a rest day for the seniors on the social calendar, and on Saturday night the annual senior ball put on by the junior class for the seniors will take place at the Century Club. This dance is open to all students and is the last and perhaps the biggest formal dance of the year.

BACCALAUREATE

The baccalaureate services are scheduled to be held on Sunday, May 14, at 10:30 a. m. at the university gymnasium. The public is invited to attend and all graduating seniors will be given reserve seats for their parents or friends.

Monday, May 15, finds the seniors, seniors no longer, but graduates of this institution, at the commencement services held in the gymnasium at 10:30 a. m.

Swimming Classes To Give Demonstration

Members of the university swimming classes will give a demonstration at Moana hot springs next Friday at 4 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

Beginning strokes and swimming technique will be demonstrated by the first-year class, while the advanced group will show different water formations. Ruth Wiley, sophomore star of the intramural swimming meet, is in charge of teaching the formation.

He—Did you scream?
Coed—No, my lips were hermetically sealed.

Reno Choral Union Presents Annual Spring Concert

With a number of university organizations assisting, the Reno Choral Union held its annual spring concert last Wednesday evening at the Civic auditorium.

With approximately 90 voices in all, made up of university student and musical-minded townspeople, the chorus sang a number of classical pieces. They sang Faust by Gounod; three selections from A Capella; hymn to the Trinity, Adoramus, and Turn Ye to Me.

The University Little Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Professor Theodore H. Post, head of the department of music at the university, played Sarabande by Bohm; Pierrette (Air di Ballet) by Hadely, and Marche Slav by Tschalkowsky.

Given in honor of National Music Week, the concert featured Dorothy B. Post and Marjorie Stout, former U. of N. student, as soloists. Leota Maestretti, University of Nevada graduate, and Helen Parsons, pianist, were also featured in solo numbers.

The Reno Choral Union consists of the Campus Choral Club, the University Singers, the University-Community Little Symphony Orchestra and the Reno Community Chorus.

The objective of the organization is to "stand dedicated to the love of music as an art and to its expression as a phase of civic culture."

Officers and advisory board of the organization who made Wednesday evenings' concert possible, include: President, Mrs. Arthur Daniels; vice-president, John Marean; manager, R. G. Baker; secretary, George Loshe.

Members of the advisory board are Mrs. Lester D. Summerfield, Dr. G. C. Steinmiller, Mr. Samuel Platt, Mr. J. E. Horgan, Father Henry B. Thomas, Mr. E. Otis Vaughn, Mrs. Charles W. Mapes, Mrs. John W. Hall, Mrs. John A. Fulton, Mrs. Frank Humphrey, Mrs. E. R. Simms, Mrs. Leigh Sanford, Mrs. Parker Liddell and Mayor John A. Cooper.

Picnic Planned by U.N. Commerce Club For Next Friday

Final plans for the first Commerce Club picnic were made this week at a meeting held by the committee in charge of the affair, Richard Edwards, president of the group, announced.

The novel picnic, which is to be held at Galena creek, will take place next Friday, and is scheduled to get under way early in the afternoon.

The event is open only to those members of the club who have paid their semester dues, and Dr. Ernest Inwood, faculty adviser of the group, probably will be on hand to see that the affair is conducted in an orderly manner.

The committee in charge of handling all arrangements for the party consists of Eli Nickovich, chairman; Margaret Hermansen, Jack Pieri, Bill Andrews, Clara Hanson, Mary Sala and Dyer Jensen.

STUDENTS MUST REMOVE CONDITIONS

Students wishing to remove conditions incurred last semester must do so before the end of this semester or have the grade changed to a permanent "S" in the university records, Mrs. Jeanette Rhodes, registrar, announced this week.

Each condition removed will cost the student $1.50.

Those making up a grade of "4" should be sure to check with the registrar to see if the make-up grade has been recorded, Mrs. Rhodes said.

SENIORS INVITED TO ALUMNI PICNIC

All members of the 1939 graduating class, as well as members of the faculty, are invited to be the honored guests of the Alumni Association at its get-together to be held at Lawton Springs on Saturday, April 29, starting at 2:30 p. m.

A large variety of entertainment will be provided and picnic lunch will be served free.

Members Initiated To Campus Players

Campus Players, local dramatics organization, initiated eight new members last Monday night, at a special meeting held at the Delta Delta Delta house.

New members are Lee Strauch, Jack Hanson, Cleone Stewart, Jack Beach, Gene Wines, Bill Moran, Nancy Hall and Allen Rives.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED

Following the initiation, a regular business meeting was held and new officers were elected.

New officers are Jack Beach, president; Cleone Stewart, vice-president; Gene Wines, secretary; Dick Roache, treasurer.

That the nearly defunct organization will receive a much-needed "shot in the arm," was assured by the newly-elected president, Jack Beach, who stated that "the members of Campus Players will start an extensive program to pull the organization out of the rut."

RENOVATION PROGRAM

Main points in the renovation program are an offer to entertain at all student body meetings, plans for a float in the Homecoming Day parade, a skit for the Wolves' Frolic, and a newly-formed publicity department, headed by Bill Moran, which will work in conjunction with the graduate manager to advertise campus play productions.

E. E.'s Name Prexy At Wednesday Meet

inating committee during his term. Yrberry succeeds Ross Morris as business manager of the publication.

COED NAMED

For the third time within almost as many years, a coed was named by members of the publications board to act as editor of the Artemisia for the coming year. Nellie Roseberry, a junior arts and science student from Battle Mountain, was elected to succeed Gertrude Polander, outgoing coed editor. The other woman to hold the editor's post was Genevieve Hansen, who edited the yearbook in 1936-37 and who was succeeded by Sam Wilson who acted in that capacity last year.

Miss Roseberry has served on the Artemisia staff for the last two years and is a member of Pi Beta Phi social sorority. She is a member of the Press Club to which she recently received a bid, and to Cap and Scroll, women's honorary organization, to which she was bid to membership in yesterday morning.

ARTEMISIA MANAGER

Final publications head-elect is Frank Schumacher, junior arts and science student from Burlingame, California. Schumacher is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and has performed outstanding service on the business staff of the Artemisia for the last three years.

Schumacher is a member of Press Club and Blue Key men's national honorary service organization. He will succeed Francis Breen into office.

Members of the publications board which made the selection for the coming year are Don Kinkel, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Ross Morris, independent; Kathleen Meeks, independent; Gertrude Polander, Pi Beta Phi; Charlotte Caton, Pi Beta Phi; Fran Breen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Kenneth Dimock, Lambda Chi Alpha. A new board will be chosen by the senate at the beginning of the next fall semester.

PUBLICATIONS BANQUET

Other business of the board at its meeting this week was to decide upon the board's annual publication's banquet at which the outgoing heads of the board are honored guests.

men in the two-mile, has a fifty-fifty chance of winning his favorite event. CAMERON HAS CHANCE

Bob Cameron, high point man in last week's meet with Chico, is the only other man with a chance to take a first place. In the Cal Aggie meet, he went out a low height, giving Nilta, agile Japanese, first place, but on succeeding jumps finally beat out the Aggie pole-vaulter.

Taking into consideration the results of previous meets, the Aggies will undoubtedly walk away with the honors tomorrow, having beaten both Nevada and Chico by similar overwhelming scores in dual meets. Nevada, faced with the loss of some of its men, apparently has forfeited its chance to beat Chico out of second place.

The banquet is scheduled to be held Tuesday of Senior Week in the mezzanine dining room of Club Fortune. Max Jensen, graduate manager; Dave Goldwater, outgoing A. S. U. N. president, and Byron Hardy, A. S. U. N. president-elect, also will be honored guests at the banquet.

CONFERENCE MEET

Next week the Nevada track men will wind up the season at Stockton in the Far Western Conference meet to be held there.

The ten men making the trip to Chico are Bob Cameron, Emery Conoway, Jarrell Perkins, Del Stewart, John Sala, George Friedhoff, Harry King, Elwyn Triger, Ferron Bunker and Pio Mastroianni.
