Officers Elected For Coming Year

Banquet for New Initiates To Be Held Tomorrow At Riverside Hotel

Herbert Jacobs, senior pre-med student, and Francis Breen, prominent arts and science student, were elected to Phi Kappa Phi, honorary society, it was announced today by Dr. Harold N. Brown, head of the group.

The election of Breen and Jacobs to the university's highest honorary society brings into the group a total of thirteen for the scholastic year.

A banquet for the new initiates will be held tomorrow night at the Riverside hotel with Dr. Oswald McCall, well-known lecturer, delivering an after dinner talk.

FRANCIS BREEN

Breen, a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, was nominated by the senior class as one of its outstanding men. He is majoring in economics, is past president of the Press Club and Cofferin and Keys, and is recipient of both the James W. German scholarship and the Fleischmann scholarship given last year.

He was also debate manager and business manager of the yearbook Artemesia and has been an honor-roll student for two years. This year he served as senior class president and was a member of the student senate.

HERBERT JACOBS

Jacobs has been a consistent honor-roll student and during the past year has been attending the University of California where he is preparing for the field of medicine. He was a member of Omega Mu Iota, honorary medical fraternity, and was prominent in student affairs while at the University of Nevada.

At a meeting preceding the election of the new men new officers were selected for the coming year. Professor William Smyth was elected president; Dr. Harold N. Brown, vice-president; Miss Emily Ross, secretary; Dr. Cruz Venstrom, treasurer; Professor I. J. Sandorf, marshal; Miss Eva Adams, corresponding secretary, and Professor M. J. Webster, faculty member.

Honor guests at the banquet will include Donald Townsend, Miss Helen Byrd, Miss Gratia Ferguson and Gene McDaniel, sophomore and junior students who were selected because of scholastic standing.

Members elected their entire school year into the group were: Elizabeth d'Allesandro, Martin Smyth, Conrad Martin, George Sears, Nancy Hall, Wayne Ames, Joseph Littlefield, Clayton Carpenter, Edward King, William Hatton and Martin Hannifan.

Johnstone Passes First Army Exam

William Johnstone, prominent graduating senior, successfully completed the first examination for entrance into the regular army as a second lieutenant. The appointment came under a new army regulation which provides that an honor graduate from each senior R. O. T. C. unit be accepted into the army without a period of trial.

Johnstone was a member of the advanced course R. O. T. C. and will receive his commission in the infantry reserve at commencement. He held the rank of cadet captain during his senior year.

A major in English, Johnstone graduates with the degree of bachelor of arts. He attended the United States Military Academy at West Point during the year 1937-38, returning to the University of Nevada in the fall of 1938.

He underwent a preliminary physical examination before a board of army doctors Monday, and will be accepted following a final check-up this summer.

Johnstone is the first graduate of Nevada to be appointed under the new provision. He will enter the army as soon as funds are appropriated for the new officers.

FOUR ARE AWARDED TENNIS SWEATERS

Only four men have been awarded sweaters in tennis this year, according to Varsity Coach Chester Scranton. The men include Eugene Peterson, Ned Dickson, Clinton McKinley and Frank Goodner.

Of the four receiving awards, Frank Goodner and Eugene Peterson are the only ones that were also awarded sweaters last year.

144 to Receive Diplomas Monday

Monday at 10:30 a. m. 144 seniors will receive graduation diplomas from the University of Nevada.

This year's graduating class will be smaller by ten than that of last year. There were 154 in the class of '38.

In addition to 144 student who will receive bachelor degrees, there will be ten two-year normal course certificates awarded and nine advanced degrees.

As in past year's graduates from the college of arts and science greatly outnumbered those from the other colleges. Sixty-nine received bachelor of arts degrees, 47 bachelor of science, 17 bachelor of science in agriculture, and 11 bachelor of science in home economics.

Program Arranged By Faculty Club

Dr. Sears Is Elected President of Group For Coming Year

A Faculty Club program has been worked out for the coming year with one or two innovations which will add to the interest and value of the meetings, according to Dr. Sears, acting Faculty Club program chairman.

"The first meeting of the year," Sears said, "will be a reception meeting to be held in the home economics rooms in the agricultural building next September."

Dr. Sears said that, "In working out the program in which some forty or fifty individuals have been asked to participate, the committee found everybody very cooperative and a willingness on everyone's part to help make the program a success."

The Faculty Club meets once a month. After the first reception meeting, the following meetings consist of round-table discussions and talks by faculty members. At the last meeting of the year new officers are elected.

Officers for the coming year are Dr. Sears, president; Professor Jay A. Carpenter, vice-president and chairman of the program committee; and Miss Margaret E. Mack, secretary. F. B. Headley and Miss Ross were chosen to assist Professor Carpenter as program committee members.

The programs, which are to be printed this summer, will be sent to each faculty member at the beginning of the fall semester.

Graduates May See Grades at Office

Graduating seniors who do not plan on being home after commencement are asked to come to the registrar's office if they wish to see their grades. Jeanette Rhoades, registrar, announced this week. All final grades will be sent to the student's parents or guardians. The date when all grades are to be in the office from the faculty is noon, May 17.

"It takes at least two days to record and mail all grades, and it is expected that they will be in the mail either May 19 or 20," Mrs. Rhoades said.

The ensuing semester will open August 21 instead of August 28, as is stated in the catalogue, Mrs. Rhoades announced. There has been a change in the calendar, and registration for everyone will begin one week earlier.

Aggie Students Receive Employment

Nearly every student in the college of agriculture has received employment for the summer, according to Frederick Wilson, professor of agriculture.

Of the seventeen graduates from the college, he said, most have obtained permanent employment and so great has been the demand for undergraduates for temporary employment that many have been placed from the college of arts and science.

Leland Fallon has received a position as ranger under the forest service in Mono national forest.

John Gustafson and Charles York will be placed in the department of interior.

George Hardman and Hudson Lee will be employed under the soil conservation provision.

Most of the undergraduates, Wilson said, have been offered employment in Elko county under biological survey.

Fresno Relays Start Tomorrow

Nevada Cinder Team Will Be Unrepresented In Meet at Fresno State

Nevada will not be represented at the West Coast relays held in the Fresno State College stadium tomorrow, Jim Coleman, cinder coach, stated today.

It has been the practice to send to the relays any man who took a first place in the conference meet, Coleman said. This year, although many of the squad members placed high in the meet, no man took a first place.

POWERS LAST YEAR

Last year Walt Powers was sent to the relays and took a fourth place in the 100-yard dash in competition with the best sprinters on the Pacific coast.

An invitational 220-yard low hurdle race was announced today as a special event at the relays.

Earl Vickery, stellar toppler of the low sticks from the University of Southern California, will head a field of stars invited from the Olympic Club of San Francisco, University of California, Stanford University and other universities and colleges.

The event was scheduled as a special attraction for the more than 12,000 spectators expected to attend the thirteenth annual carnival, when Coach Dean Crowell of U. S. C. telegraphed his acceptance to the invitation of Coach J. Flint Hamner to run Vickery in the special.

The Trojan star will not be running alone as he will have plenty of competition from several of the other expert low hurdlers on the coast, among whom are included the best in the nation.

OTHERS COMPETING

Others invited to compete in the event, which will not count for points, and their best times are: Tom Moore, formerly of the University of California, 23.4 seconds; Benny Reams, formerly of Chico State College, 23.5; Stan Hirsman of Stanford University, 23.5; and Pooley of California, and Houston and Hawkins, of Stanford, and Beverly Gubser, formerly of Fresno State College, 23.5. Moore, Reams and Gubser will appear under the colors of the Olympic Club.

The added invitational event brings the number of running events for the intercollegiate and junior college class, run off at night, to a total of fifteen. In addition there are twelve field events and the high school will compete in twelve track and field events in the afternoon.

The special low hurdle race will be the third event on the evening program, following the intercollegiate medley relay.

NINE CINDERMEN NAMED AS ELIGIBLE FOR SWEATER AWARDS

Nine men were approved this week by Coach Jim Coleman as eligible, on the basis of points won, for varsity track sweaters.

The men who were submitted are: Ferron Bunker, Robert Cameron, James King, Pio Mastriano, Jarrell Perkins, Delbert Stewart, Elwyn Trigero, George Friedhoff and Kenneth Day.

To be eligible for a varsity track award, the men have to score at least five points in any conference meet, or any fraction of a point in the Far Western Conference meet, and have passing grades in at least eleven hours of scholastic work.

Scholastic check-up cannot be made until after the end of the semester and until that time the sweaters cannot be ordered, Graduate Manager Max Jensen stated.

Following the approval of the men's grades, the sweaters will be mailed to their summer addresses.

Kenny Day was the only senior to make a letter this year, and Bob Cameron, Ferron Bunker and Pio Mastrianni are the only ones making their letter for the second year in track.

Senior Picnic Is Held At Camp Richardson

The Senior Picnic was held last Wednesday at Camp Richardson at Lake Tahoe. Always one of the highlights of the Senior Week program the picnic this year was held indoors because of rain.

Class members responsible for the success of the picnic this year were Bud Fallon, chairman; Bob Van Wagoner, George Hardman, Helen Shovlin, William Goodin, Martin Hannifan, Jack Hansen, Georgia Cooper, Eunice Beckley, Evelyn Kolthous, Jean Rice and Claretha Masterson.

Familiar Campus Spots Visited in Senior Pilgrimage

Yesterday was the first time this year that the students had a chance to view those graduating seniors in their cap and gowns.

The occasion was the annual senior pilgrimage, traditional tour of the campus by the graduates in their graduation finery.

During this pilgrimage the graduates visited familiar and prominent campus spots and delivered short speeches on the past memories these places bring to mind.

During the program the senior gift, a new trophy case for the library, was dedicated to the university by Class Manager Francis Breen.

Other speakers on the tour and the substance of their talks were: Dave Goldwater, Student Union building; George Hardman, tram; Kathleen Meeks, bulletin board; Leo McCuddin, the Haseman-Jones Memorial bench; Gertrude Polander, library; Lola Yvonne Stoddard, Morrill Hall; Kenneth Dimock, senior bench; Norman Smith, engineers' bench; Margaret Hussman, Mackay statue; Duncan Dorsey, gymnasium; Neal Campbell, Mackay stadium.

The highlight of the pilgrimage was the yell led by Dave Goldwater in the library.

Fresno to Remain In F. W. C. League; Members Optimistic

Officials Plan to Enlarge Conference Membership At Stockton Meeting

Fresno State, who recently made a request for withdrawal from the Far Western Conference, last week formally asked league members to disregard its retraction from the conference.

Officials eagerly welcomed Fresno's movement to remain in the league at the meeting Friday and Saturday at Stockton, and made plans to increase F. W. C. membership.

STRENGTHEN LEAGUE

Fresno's notice to remain in the conference, composed of small colleges and universities, will greatly strengthen the league, many sports critics believe. When Fresno made its request for withdrawal at the Christmas meeting, many predicted that because only four schools were left in the conference, it would soon be abandoned.

The group was enthusiastic about the conference's future, according to Professor Paul A. Harwood, Nevada's faculty representative, and members hinted that several other institutions in northern California would be invited to join the F. W. C. athletic competition.

MAIN REASON

Fresno's main motive of withdrawal was to have a more complete program of athletic competition such as boxing, wrestling, swimming and other minor sports which the Far Western Conference league could not provide.

Indications were at Christmas time that Fresno would join a proposed loop of central and southern California colleges, including San Diego, Santa Barbara and San Jose, but efforts to form that conference have since collapsed.

NEED CONFERENCE GAMES

Whether the Fresno Bulldogs can get enough conference games this season to be eligible for the Far Western football title is not known. According to the conference ruling, a member must play at least three league contests to be qualified as a championship contender.

At one time the F. W. C. included such schools as San Jose, St. Mary's, St. Ignatius (now University of San Francisco). Today its members are Nevada, Fresno, College of Pacific, California Aggies and Chico State.

Notice

Only graduating seniors may receive their grades from the registrar. Other students will receive their grades through the mail at their home addresses. JEANETTE RHODES,

DANCE GIVEN FOR GRADS

Honoring graduating members of the senior class and as a final event of the social year, the annual Senior Ball will be presented tomorrow night at the Century Club by members of the junior class.

Carrying out the "sailing" theme, the hall will be decorated in colors of blue and white. Old-style sailing ships will be constructed on backgrounds of blue waters that will be built down from the ceiling and along the corridors of the hall.

Mark Nesbitt and his nine-piece orchestra will be placed in a large sailing ship, which will be on an elevated ocean and arranged on the stage.

Tickets, according to committee members, will be sold at the gate for $1 and all graduating seniors will be admitted free.

Commencement Day Awards and Prizes Total Over $3000

Scholarships Are Made Possible by University Friends Over Years

Recognized as one of the highlights of the Commencement Day program will be the announcement of the recipients of over thirty scholarships and awards which will exceed over $3000 in value.

"Scholarships are awarded each spring on Commencement Day and the presentation has become an annual feature. Many of them date several decades back, and have been made possible by the many friends of the university and by various campus organizations and others," S. Allan Lough, acting chairman of the awarding committee, said last night.

SCHOLARSHIPS OPEN

Lough also stated that the number and character of scholarships open to students at the University of Nevada are such as to offer appeal and interest to every student on the campus. Several new scholarships and awards will be made this year. The nature and requirements of the new awards will not be known until they are formally announced on Commencement Day.

Heading the list of awards to be presented is the Gold Medal, awarded to the member of the graduating class who has attained the highest average of scholarship throughout his college course.

OTHER AWARDS

Other awards are the French Medal, the Philo Sherman Bennett prize, the Senior Public Service prize, the Major Max C. Fleischmann scholarships, the Armarko Senior Library prize, the Regents' scholarships, the Ella S. Stubbs Memorial scholarship, the Rose Sigler Mathews scholarship fund, the Marye Williams Butler scholarship fund.

The Azro E. Cheney scholarship fund, the Mrs. Carl Otto Herz, scholarship, the Charles Elmer Clough scholarships in engineering, the Carrie Brooks Layman scholarship, the Pre-medical-pre-nursing scholarships, and the William S. Lunsford scholarship in journalism.

The Vern F. Henry Memorial Masonic scholarship, the Raymond Spender scholarship, the Reno Lodge of Elks "Chet" Scranton Athletic scholarship, and the Nevada State Press Association scholarship in journalism.

Coleman's Methods Are Basis of Book

Utilizing University of Nevada's track coach Jim Coleman's method of measuring speed in track men as one of the main topics, Dr. Charles McCloy, research professor of physical education at the University of Iowa, has recently published a book entitled "Tests and Measurements in Health and Physical Education" which is designed as a text for graduate students in physical education work.

Dr. McCloy quotes the methods described by Coleman as being valid in testing the speed of track men. Coleman's article appeared originally in the October, 1938, issue of the "Research Quarterly," a magazine dealing with new innovations in the physical education field, under the title "The Differential Measurements of the Speed Factors in Large Muscle Activity."

Honor Societies Hold Annual Tea

The annual Blue Key and Cap and Scroll tea for the seniors was held from two to five o'clock at the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity house. Members of these two organizations acted as hosts and hostesses to the grads.

Refreshments were served and Leslie Leggett and Mark Nesbitt furnished the music and entertainment.

Arrangements for the tea were made by Don Kinkel and Eunice Beckley.

Barrett Receives Army Appointment

John Barrett, 1939 graduate of Nevada, received an appointment to enter the army under the Thomson Act this week, following a physical examination by a board of army officers Monday.

The Thomson Act provides that each year an outstanding R. O. T. C. graduate be assigned to a regular army unit for a year's trial. If the candidate is successful he is accepted into the army as a second lieutenant.

Barrett was a member of the advanced course R. O. T. C. and will receive a reserve officer's commission at commencement exercises.

Last year's Thomson Act men from the University of Nevada were Thomas Shone and Paul Ramirez, both of whom are now stationed with the 30th Infantry at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Winning College Photographers Are Named This Week

Winning collegiate photographers competing in a contest sponsored by the Collegiate Weekly publication were announced this week in a special edition of the photographic paper.

The contest was divided into several divisions which were candid and action photos, purely pictorial photos, still life photos, college life photos and posed portrait photos.

John Faber of the University of Alabama took first prize in the candid and action division, while Joseph T. Marchel of the University of Minnesota and John H. Vondell of Massachusetts State College took second and third prizes respectively.

"Twilight," a pictorial portrait by Jeck Mendelsohn of College of the City of New York took first prize and pictorial by Kenneth Sigford of the University of Minnesota and Robert Buckles of Purdue took places.

Kenneth Sigford's "Checkmate" was the outstanding photo in still life, but was closely followed by Rene Williams, Jr.'s "Sleeping Beauty" of Los Angeles City College, and Sarah Elizabeth Freeman's "Salute to the Sun," submitted from John Hopkins University.

"The Experiment," by E. M. Stokes of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, took first place in college life photos, while outstanding photos in the divisions were submitted by Bruce Cook of California Aggies, Robert W. Monk of the University of Wisconsin, and G. B. Barnard, Jr., of the George School of Technology.

Jack Mendelsohn also took first place in the portrait division, while Bill Cartwright of West Tennessee Teachers and G. D. Aydtett of Virginia Polytechnic finished second and third.

Gertrude Freeman Is Named New A. W. S. Board Prexy

New Chairman to Take Over as Independent Senator Next Year

Gertrude Freeman, junior independent student from Reno, was named chairman of the executive board, Helen Shovlin outgoing chairman, announced.

Miss Freeman was named to take the place of Kathleen Meeks who was originally named to take the position according to the rules of the board. Miss Meeks, however, resigned her position in the senate and as chairman of the executive board.

Rules for Election

Under the rules of the present constitution, the president is the senator of one of the sororities, Independents, or Manzanita Hall. She is chosen in the matter of time that the group was established on the campus, Manzanita Hill being first, Independents, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, etc. This method was invoked last year to do away with politics in the women's elections.

New senators for the fall semester came to the meeting and were explained the functions of the executive board, the newly created women's finance control and other problems that they are apt to meet in the coming year.

Service Roll

Members to sign the service roll were chosen. They are Dean Margaret E. Mack, Margaret Hussman, Elizabeth D'Allesandro, Gertrude Oplander, Betty Kormmayer, Shirley Fuetsch, Cooper Hansen, Gene Wines, Georgia Reeve, Helen Shovlin, Mary Sanger, Kathleen Meeks, Billie Cann, Betty Parish, Patricia Meaker and Sybil Furchner.

The "Big Sister" committee of former years has been abolished this year because no other women than freshmen will be allowed on the grounds the first two days of registration, so the purpose which the "Big Sister" committee serves will be eliminated.

U. of N. Sagebrush Subscriptions Sold

Plans for the 1939-40 Sagebrush were furthered this week when it was announced by Anthony Yribery, business manager, that nearly 100 subscriptions had been sold to members of the graduating class. This is the first year that such an attempt has been made, he said.

According to Clarence Heckethorn, new editor of the publication, arrangements are now being made to run an alumni column each week. The cooperation of the graduate groups throughout the state has been obtained and information of the activities of the alumni will be published.

The $1.50 payments for the newspaper will be taken from the blanket deposits which are refunded at the end of each year to the students. It is the belief of the editor and business manager that the project will be a profitable one for the university.

"It will give the institution valuable publicity and also help to keep the alumni acquainted with the activities of the university," Heckethorn stated.

If any further subscriptions are desired by the members of the senior class, they may be secured from Yribery, Heckethorn and members of the business and editorial staffs of the publication.

Baseball Players Select All-Greek Team This Week

Etchemendy, McCulloch Tie as Best Loop Hurlers; Davis Named Alternate

Marked by the closest balloting in years, the all-fraternity baseball team was chosen this week by the players of the competing teams.

As in former years, this season's honor roll was selected by compiling the results of the all-opponent teams selected by the various houses. Each player receiving a vote for a certain position was awarded ten points, while votes for alternate pitcher and catcher were worth five points.

The only freshman on the team, Bill Shewan, won the first-base position with very little trouble. His only serious opposition came from Winfield Babcock, versatile S. A. E., also a freshman.

Shewan, a left-handed batter, was consistently a dangerous man at the plate throughout the season, and in the field he performed faultlessly. He also throws from the port side.

CARLSON NAMED AGAIN

Perry Carlson received the most votes for the second base position for the second consecutive year. Another left-handed hitter, he was S. A. E. clean-up man and could always be counted on for a hit when it counted the most.

Third base went to Ralston Hawkins, the most consistent man in the all-star infield this year. "Judge" handled 11 straight chances on the university "rock pile" without an error this year, and in addition was one of the heaviest hitters of the championship Tau team. He bats right-handed.

Shortstop was by far the most closely contested position in the infield. In addition to Jack McKenzie, who won the honor, Bill Peccole, S. A. E. pitcher, whose regular position is in the infield, and Ted Olsen, Sigma Phi Sigma star, received a heavy vote.

McKenzie was one of the most consistent right-handed clouters in the league early in the season but hit a slump in his last few games.

HEAVY HITTER

Kirk Herrick, another hold-over from last year's honor group, easily walked off with the honors for the center pastures. Probably the heaviest slugger in the league this year, Herrick was not accredited with a single error all season. He bats from the southpaw side of the plate.

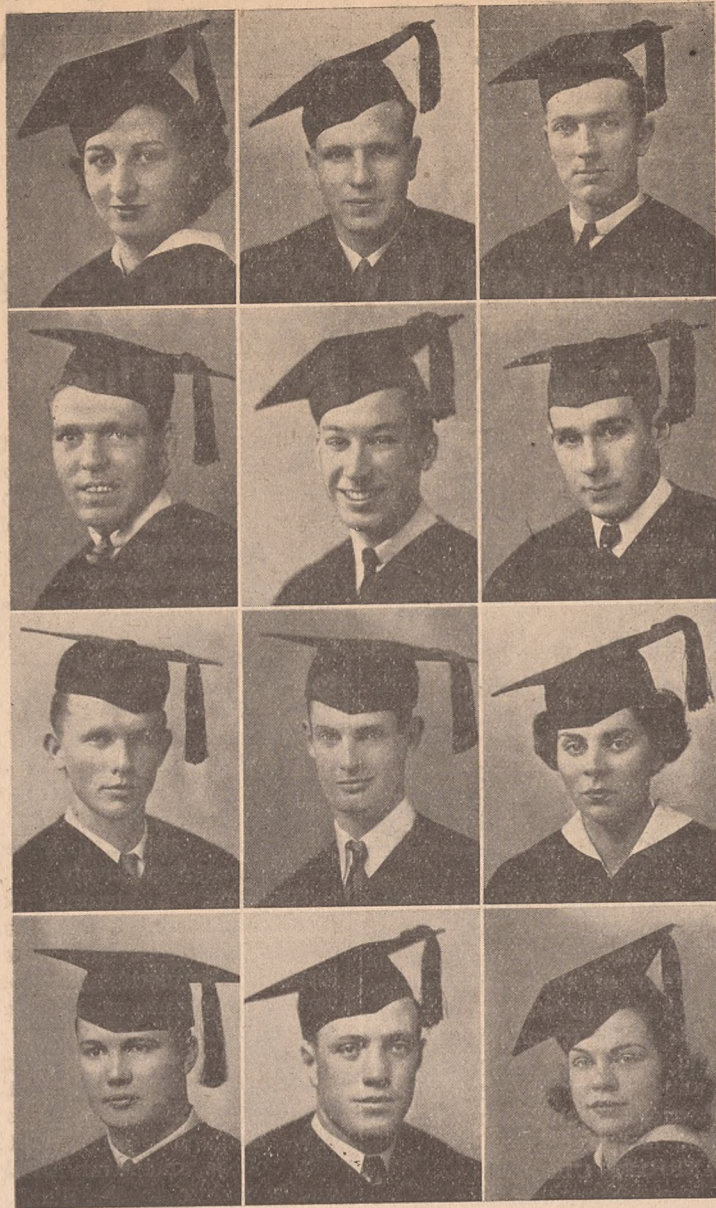

"Lefty" Mayer, who pitched for the Phi Sig nine in most of its games, was nevertheless one of the league's best outfielders. He hit consistently, fielded perfectly, and displayed a whip-like arm in his throws. He bats and throws left-handed.

Frank Beloso, who was forced to catch for Sigma Nu this year, displayed outstanding talent in the outfield in the few chances he got to play there. He was a terrific slugger, belting two of the longest home runs of the season from his right-handed slants.

PITCHER'S PLACE CONTESTED

The starting pitcher was the most closely contested position on the entire team. Etchemendy and McCulloch ran a neck-and-neck race, both ending up with the same number of points with Davis following closely.

GRADUATES

Mary Evasovic, Fred C. Galloway, William Crookin, William K. Grubbs, Leland Fallon, John T. Gardiner, Frank Goodner, John O. Gustafson, Harry E. Galloway, David Goldwater, Ethel C. Graunke, Nancy J. Hall

Etchemendy, working from the mound for his first year, turned in the year's outstanding performance in pitching a no-hitter against Lambda Chi, and otherwise twirled excellent ball. He was a fairly strong right-handed hitter.

McCulloch also pitched good ball during the season but got very poor support. In addition to his pitching duties, he was a strong southpaw hitter. He also made the team last year.

ALTERNATE TOSSEUR

Davis, alternate chucker, won six straight for Beta Kappa but took a terrific pounding in his last two games. He was consistent hitter, punching out single after single into right field, though he bats from the right side of the plate. All three pitchers are right-handed.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

Head and shoulders above the rest of the catchers in the league was Dunc Dorsey, the only man to receive a unanimous vote for his position. A powerful hitter, Dunc also had the best "baseball brain" in the league and displayed a bullet-like peg which kept runners hugging the bags while he was catching. He frequently caught men napping off second with his quick throws. He bats right-handed.

Fred McIntyre, alternate catcher, received the position because of the scrap, steadiness and brains he showed behind the plate. Though not a strong hitter, he had an excellent arm and handled his pitchers well.

Artemisia Issued To U. of N. Students

The 1939 Artemisia made its appearance on the campus yesterday morning, bringing with it an accurate description of the past school year.

Contained in the senior panel of the book were eight outstanding seniors, David Goldwater, Eunice Beckley, Gertrude Polander, Fran Breen, Bill Goodin, Katie Meeks, John Robb and Norman Smith.

The eight outstanding seniors were this year chosen by a combined student and faculty vote. Nominations for this honor were made by two prominent students from each of the classes: Freshman, sophomore, junior and senior. A faculty committee of six was named and each was permitted to make nominations and vote for an outstanding senior. From these lists the eight receiving the greatest number of votes were chosen with the final sanction of the faculty committee.

Necessary qualifications were outstanding leadership in student and university affairs, and a scholastic ability equaling the general student body average or above. The candidate must also have been a graduating senior, thus making those who will not graduate until December, 1939, or after, ineligible.

SPORTSLITE

By FRANK McCULLOCH

"Hecky" came through with a brainstorm in this column in the last paper of last year and made up a questionnaire to test your knowledge of outstanding sports events at the University of Nevada during the year 1937-38. The idea went over pretty well—so well, in fact, that this corner feels that another one for this year will not be out of place. Anyway, here it is:

1—What Nevada football player received national recognition for his two long touchdown runs in the Arizona State game?

2—What Nevada football players received all-conference recognition this year?

3—Against what team did the varsity basketball team run up its highest score in ten years in winning 63-49?

4—Who pitched the only no-hit game of the interfraternity league this year?

5—What is the latest "minor" sport in which Nevada has proved its superiority over the rest of the conference and what university did the Nevada team beat in establishing that superiority?

6—What new school records were set in track this year and who set them?

7—Who got the cup for the outstanding boxer on the Stag Night card this year?

8—What is the present national rating of the Nevada ski team?

9—Who are the members of the newly-created board of athletic control?

10—What college team did the Nevada tennis squad whip by a score of 6-0 this year?

(Answers will be found at the end of the SportsLite.)

With another year of track gone on the books, it's high time some of the outstanding performers of the season were given their proper due. First, the new school record-holders, John Sala in the discus and Bob Cameron in the pole vault. Each of them broke records of long standing and set new ones that will probably last even longer. Then there was Pio Mastrolanni, Nevada's most consistent two-miler since the heyday of Paul Leonard. Pio didn't get an awful lot of time to train this year, but still managed to take more than his share of the races in which he competed. Kenny Day, last year's conference broad-jump champion, lived up to his title during this season in no uncertain terms, winning his event in all but the conference meet, in which

Frat Holds Annual Senior Women's Tea

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity tea for the graduating senior women of the class of '39" was held at the home of Mrs. J. F. Shaughnessy on Liberty street. The tea put on by the Minerva Mothers' Club was well attended by the senior students.

Entertainment for the tea was provided by Miss Leota Maestretti on the piano and Jerry Salter on the clarinet; several S. A. E. members sang their fraternity songs.

Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, university registrar and S. A. E. house mother, acted as hostess, with members of the Minerva Club assisting her.

he placed second. Smooth striding Ernie Rodriguez, in the half; John Barrett, competing for the last time as a Nevada miler; Emery Conoway, a quarter-miler who will give the rest of the conference plenty to worry about next year; Elwyn Triger, one of the most versatile performers on the squad; George Friedhoff and Harry King in the high jump, Ray Garamendi and Jarrel Perkins in the weights—all these men and Coach Jim Coleman deserve a lot of credit for the showing they made this year.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

1—Walt Powers, with runs of 81 and 79 yards.

2—Harry Bradley, tackle, and Walt Powers, back.

3—The barnstorming University of Mexico.

4—John Etchemendy against Lambda Chi.

5—Golf. The College of Pacific by a score of 9½ to 2½.

6—Bob Cameron in the pole vault at 12 feet 6 inches and John Sala in the discus at 134 feet 11 inches.

7—John Mayse in defeating John Lemich on points.

8—Second. Some experts rank them even above Dartmouth, generally recognized national intercollegiate cham-

PICTURE EXHIBIT PLACED IN LIBRARY

An exhibit of numerous pictures taken for the Artemisia this year were placed in the library seminar Monday. The pictures, which were taken by the Artemisia photographers, Walter Lobenstein, Ned Westover and Herman Konnerth, previewed pictures of campus life and scenes.

DEFENSE
Garfield Park, Chicago, was recently the scene of much activity. The result of some very hurried construction showed that a fence had been built around the goldfish pond. No doubt it was merely done in self-defense to keep the neighboring college boys away.

TSK! TSK!

What is that ringing we hear? That rattling, that buzzing, that scraping, rusty sound? Could it be our over-taxed brains coming to a groaning stop? Ach! What a trial! What's that old saying about leaving everything to the last week? Seems to us we've heard about it vaguely. . . . Well, fellas, it's all over and you can go home to rest up for the next round.

Oh, tsk, we remembered that there will be some of our best material that will not return to keep our pecking correspondents busy: There's Virginia "Sonja" Heany that's kept us worried for four long years. . . . by the looks of that glimmer on her left hand, George Ardans will have to worry about her for the rest of his life. All the happiness in the world, kids!

Leo McCuddin and Lola Stoddard are two other mischief-makers we'll miss. But—what does our little bird whisper in our ear? Leo, WHY didn't you tell us sooner? Imagine, being congratulated on "another milestone of wedded happiness" by wire. . . . and WE didn't know a thing about it!

Marilyn Rhodes has kept us busy up 'til the time she blossomed with Earl Edmonds' "little fraternity pini". . . . and now we're curious, Marilyn, what's gonna come of this?

And HOW we will regret the departing of Character "Corky" Starratt!! What will we do without his witty (?)

little ditties, his swaggering stager down the cobblestones of our institution. . . . Amen!

Clarethel Masterson and Norrison Beatty have been sticking it out a long time. . . . do we hear wedding bells in the future? Or do we? Helen Brown is also jumping over the great divide and it 'pears Mell Wilder is just on the other side a'waitin'. We thought we had Eunice Beckley fixed up for the future, but she snuckered us. . . . What cha gonna do for yourself, Eunie?

Betty Kornmayer has played faithful to Kenny for long enough for us to believe it's the real thing. How long will it be, Betty? Right in the same boat with Betty comes Loretta Collins. Hey! Maybe it will be a double ceremony!

Toddy Caton refuses to be accused of an engagement, but maybe Bill Johnston can tell us the significance of that A. T. O. pin in the form of a ring on Toddy's left hand. . . . There's nothing in it. . . . no-o-o-o!

Eppie Poulsen is in town and Virginia is in a perpetual blush. It's about time now, Miss Raitt, you've worn that pin long enough.

Georgene Roberts, we hear, is all ready to take the final plunge into matrimony after she gets that old sheepskin. . . . Gertrude Polander, the Who's Who of the campus, is off to teach the little kiddies all she knows. . . . but what about that man in Los Angeles? Where's he come in?

Let's get back to the "stick-arounds." Did you hear the latest? The Pi Phi house was informed that Johnny Sala had pinned his brass on none other than Chetty Milbery—while, at the same time, the Thetas were told that their Margaret Johnson was in possession of Anthony Y's pin. . . . Some fun, eh, kids? But, as we always say, where there's smoke there's fire.

We always have the formals to fall back on. The Theta formal held not so long ago found Meriam Ducker with "first of the semester" Gus Edwards. This romance of "Pudgy" Jarvis and Little Etch is REALLY beginning to look like something—too bad summer's coming on. . . . absence makes the heart grow fonder, though (for somebody else).

We noticed Jim Johnson has taken to tobacco—Reynolds tobacco. He took it to the formal, anyhow—nice work! Can't say Norman Smith can't pick 'em. Eva Adams is a nice dish for any formal, specially the Theta. . . . What's this between Rink Rives and Doris Evans? Just curious, that's all.

Ann Gamble seemed to be doing all right with Harry "Evening Herold" Mornston. How was the ex, Ann; did he put you through it?

In case you've lost us, we're still at the A. T. O. formal—or did we tell you we had gone. . . . Our new prexy is coming right along. He went right along to the hoe-down with Marge Gusewell. Nick Pappas has a red-head complex, too (meaning Bur), so Mary Margaret Murphy filled the bill (Who paid it?)

More romance: Marie Belz is flashing a Sigma Phi pin this week — Ed Olsen is his name. . . . where's the candy and cigars? You're not so dumb, Ed. . . . Have you noticed Ann Johnson and that John Fulton guy. It ap-

Sh-h-h-h! We'll let you in on a secret—this is really keyhole stuff: We have unearthed an organization on this campus that has been going on for months without our suspecting them. They call themselves the Planks—but we believe that's just a cover-up title. They're very, very secretive and it looks like they're up to no good. We believe the purpose is to undermine the sophomores. President of this secret organization is Chief Knot-hole Mary Sala; mother adviser is "Up to No Good" Elna Jepson, and the shock of all shocks—the papa of the group is Eddie Beaufort. Theme song: The Beer Barrel Polka (with different meaningful words). Should we let this go on under our very noses?

Flash: At their annual meeting last week the Sierra Street Fraternity elected Felix Castogvoia (pronounced Casanova) their chief liquid-dater. Chief Castogvoiz said, "We plan to give all sororities an even break. We play no favorites!" (Paid ad.)

Taus Defeat Beta Kappa to Take Inter-frat Baseball Title For '39

S.A.E. Dumps Undefeated B.K. in Final Game Of Ball Tournament

A hard-fighting never-say-die A. T. O. team which lost its first tilt of the season and then went on to win nine straight emerged as champion of the interfraternity baseball league this week by dumping Beta Kappa two straight games in a play-off series 16-2 and 5-4.

The play-off was necessitated when S. A. E. dumped the hitherto-unbeaten Beekays on Saturday by a score of 18-9. The loss threw former league leaders into a tie with the hard-pressing Taus, who had finished the regular playing season half a game out of first place.

STELLAR PITCHER

On Monday night John Etchemendy pitched stellar ball in holding the Beta Kappas to one hit and two runs. Pitching behind an increasingly big lead that his mates were piling up for him, he had the game under control at all times and was never in danger. He struck out nine.

All the Taus hit hard, with Lemich, Herrick and Thompson doing the heaviest stick work.

Beta Kappa used Davis, Tucker and Shewan in the box in a vain attempt to quiet the big guns of the Hilltoppers. But Herrick & Co. were definitely "on" and couldn't be stopped.

Tuesday night's game, however, was a different story. Beekays got over the first of the jitters that had so clearly possessed them the day before and settled down to make a real game out of it. They jumped into an early lead when they pushed across a run in the first inning, and it looked for a while as though the series would be all evened up at the end of the game.

THOMPSON GOOD

Thompson, on the mound for A. T. O., settled down after that, though, and with the exception of occasional streaks of wildness, pitched fine ball. He allowed but five hits and struck out seven.

Tucker, Beta Kappa change-of-pace artist, also pitched good baseball. He doled out seven hits and also struck out seven, but several costly errors on the part of his mates cost him the game.

Herrick and Summerbell led the A. T. O. hit parade in gathering two safeties apiece, each time with men ahead of them on the bags.

S. A. E. WINS

In the last game of the regular playing season, S. A. E. ruined Beta Kappa's hopes for an undefeated season and undisputed claim of the title by whaling the league leaders, 18-9.

RAINBOW ON THE RIVER

THERE'S a rainbow on the River Rouge by the Ford plant—oil in a thin coating, washed from metals and parts by the water used to cool or clean them.

To most folks that colorful coating spelled just oil; no more. To Ford men it spelled "waste." They dipped their fingers in it . . .

rubbed them together . . . reflected. A few days later a strange device was installed where the stream flows through a narrow channel into the mooring slip. It was an oil skimmer.

Each month that skimmer reclaims thousands of gallons of oil. Reclaimed, it is used as fuel in the open-hearth building.

Poor Richard said straws show how the wind blows. That's how the wind blows at the Rouge. Pennies saved where pennies can be saved safely are multiplied into millions by large-scale Ford operations.

At the end of that rainbow on the waters of the Rouge, Ford owners find extra value, lower price.

A HINT
Borrowed from the University of San Francisco "Foghorn" is this little hint for the benefit of those who dread the job-hunting day: One way to avoid having to hunt a job when you graduate is to go to law school or start working for a M. A. That postpones the hunt a few years.

VISITING ENCOURAGED
When students at Brown University want to visit classes that they are not enrolled in, they are encouraged to do so by the university authorities. They may drop in and visit any class that interests them and, the university officials have reported, the scheme is very successful.

STUDENT HOBBY

From Harvard comes another bit of news this week. Odd hobby of one freshman is doll collecting. The collection, it is said, was started because of an interest in doll manufacture in connection with the freshman student's studies in economics.

A roommate of the hobbyist declares there is no privacy in their college rooms because the dolls stare at them from positions on both mantle and desk.

A SIMILE

The Kansas State college paper recently likened women to newspapers and gave the following reasons:

They both have forms . . . they are bold-faced type . . . they always have the last word . . . back numbers are not in demand . . . they have a great deal of influence . . . they are well worth looking over . . . you can not believe everything they say . . . they carry the news wherever they go . . . if they know anything they usually tell it . . . they're never afraid to speak their own minds . . . they are much thinner than they used to be.

FELIE ON PAYROLL

The official "guard" of the University of Vermont greenhouses, a big black cat, is reported to be on the monthly university payroll. "It" draws a salary of $16 a year.

STORY OF THE WEEK

A certain young tennis enthusiast recently appeared at the University of Chicago tennis courts but discovered that he had left his identification card at home. The attendant in charge of the courts told him that he could play if he paid a fifteen-cent fee. But when the fellow searched his pockets he found that he was broke.

The attendant then advised the player to fill out an identification slip. Upon doing so the attendant stepped back amazed, for the boy was none other than David Rockefeller, a graduate student and grandson of the late John D. Rockefeller Sr., multi-millionaire and founder of the university.

TRUE FIDELITY

Hedy Lamarr, cinema star, received 107 votes in a recent Rensselaer Polytechnic presidential election. Though the Hollywood topnotcher was quite oblivious of the whole affair, her fans held their own at the ballot box.

TIDBITS

Oberlin College, home of the telephone, possesses more phones per capita than any other city.

Former President Herbert Hoover will give the commencement address at Earlham College.

Twenty-five colleges and universities in the United States operate their own broadcasting stations.

President Roosevelt campaigned for fire escapes and board walks when he was managing editor of the Harvard Crimson during his undergraduate days.

Notre Dame suffered no defeats in football on its home field from the year 1905 to 1928 . . . just 23 years. Clemson College, South Carolina, recently celebrated its fiftieth anniversary.

PRACTICE

In order to give students of landscape architecture practical training, Columbia University is transforming the old estate of the Alexander Hamilton family at Irvington, New York, into a multiple garden arboretum.

ROMANCE AND GRADES

According to a University of Chicago professor of sociology reading, writing and romance are one of the best combinations for good grades. He emphatically stated that college marriages pay off in good grades.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

From the Gardnerville Record-Courier column "Observations" comes this comment on the college gulping contests: In the headlines for the past several weeks are the names of those university men who are endeavoring to make a place for themselves by gulping goldfish, frogs and small snakes. "Just why do young men and women attend universities?" A few, at least, hold to the belief that aside from a college degree they should be endeavoring to get some good horse-sense knocked into their heads. Young college apes that swallow goldfish and the like, give evidence that they are down close to

Retiring Faculty Members Are Honored by Nevada Staff

Dr. J. E. Church, head of the department of classics, Dr. Maxwell Adams, vice-president of the university and former dean of the College of Arts and Science, and Professor H. P. Boardman, head of the school of civil engineering, all of whom will retire at the end of this semester, were honored at a banquet held at Carlan's Lakeside Inn on Wednesday evening.

Members of the university staff and their families attended the affair. More than 100 were present.

Dr. George W. Sears, head of the department of chemistry, acted as toastmaster, and Professor N. E. Wilson, Reno druggist and former member of the university faculty, was the principal speaker.

In paying tribute to the earnestness of the early students and their instructors, Professor Wilson recalled the activities of those days and the difficulties which beset the officials and teachers in attempting to set the university on a solid foundation.

Dr. L. W. Hartman, acting president of the university, paid tribute to the three as educators and as friends and extended to them the sincere thanks of the university itself, while S. E. Ross, chairman of the board of regents, extended the greeting of the board and congratulated the three on their splendid work.

In response, the retiring men thanked those present for the words of appreciation and briefly reviewed their early work at Nevada.

Dr. Church has been with the uni-year's Sagebrush. It is through the combined efforts of the business staff of the Sagebrush and the cooperation of the local merchants that this paper is made possible.

As a sort of dying request, I would like to ask the students of the university to watch the ads in the paper and then give your business to these people. The merchants advertise in this paper because they are interested in getting business from the students. It is only fair that they should get the students' business.

I would like to add that it would be wise for the students to turn their trade to Sagebrush advertisers and thus give the business manager and the editor a chance to give you a real paper. Those merchants who have been faithful advertisers have spoken of the fact that they did receive return on the money invested and I hope that other business houses will see their way clear to do business with the Sagebrush in the years to come.

If the students and other readers will notice, the advertisers of the Sagebrush are loyal and sincere backers of the school. Let us also be their loyal and sincere backers.

In closing I would like to quote Prescott Wilson and Charlie Chan—"Be a backer and back a backer." Thanks!

Sagebrush Bus. Mgr.

Advisory System Adopted by Faculty

The faculty of the College of Arts and Science this week voted to adopt the following principles concerning an advisory system for next year:

- 1—Each student will be assigned to an adviser by the dean at registration time.
- 2—Each student will be required to obtain approval of his schedule by his adviser before submitting it to the dean.
- 3—All recommendations of the adviser are subject to the approval of the dean who will check all requirements at registration time.
- 4—The head of the major department or someone designated by him will be the adviser of each junior and senior.
- 5—Whenever possible, each freshman and sophomore will be assigned to an adviser in the field of the major interest of the student.
- 6—The adviser will be ready to give counsel and advice to the student when ever necessary.

Fifteen Nevada Students Are Named In College and University 'Who-s Who'

Fifteen students at the University of Nevada have been named as outstanding students and received recognition in "Who's Who" among students in American Colleges and Universities.

The students from Nevada who were chosen for this honor are Francis Breen, Genevieve Wines, Norman Smith, Helen Shovlin, Don Kinkel, Gertrude Polander, Mary Kathleen Meeks, Martin Han-nifan, Leland Fallon, Kenneth Dim-ock, Charlotte Caton, Eunice Beckley, George Hardman, William Goodin and Fred Galloway.

An edition of the book is printed each year carrying the names of outstanding students from almost all of the colleges and universities in the United States and part of Canada. There are 521

FOOTBALL EXAMINATIONS

A football quiz idea, originated by Coach Howard Jones, recently was conducted at University of Southern California.

Mental as well as physical scrimmage examinations are conducted at the beginning of varsity spring training at the California university. The tests include questions on football rules, plays and strategy.

Judge—So they caught you with this bundle of silverware? Whom did you plunder?

Yegg—Two fraternity houses, your honor.

Judge—Call up the downtown hotels, sergeant, and distribute this stuff.

colleges and universities represented in the 1938-39 edition. The students who appear in this, the fifth issue of the publication, represent a cross-section of the most outstanding personalities in America's undergraduate college life of today.

Selections of the students included in the issue have been made in most cases with the collaboration of deans and presidents of the various institutions represented. Students who have been selected for this honor include people from Alaska, China, Chile, Cuba, England, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

The book includes a survey of major honors held by the students of vocations planned, of hobbies and of social fraternities and sororities included in the publication.

In the survey of major honors, the positions as officers of fraternities or important clubs led the field with 3,344 students while 2,099 included working on staff publications as one of their major honors. Students interested in working on student government numbered 1928, and 1903 were class officers during their collegiate careers.

Nine hundred forty-eight undergraduates signified their intention to teach as a life vocation while 183 collegians planned to practice law. Other vocations which students planned to follow were business, 175; journalism, 163, and the ministry, 125.

Most popular hobby was music, which was followed by 726 students. Other popular hobbies were photography, 384; journalism, 376; reading, 512; dramatics, 174; hunting, 160, and art, 154.

Of the social fraternities and sororities represented in the 1938-39 edition Kappa Sigma led the field with 48 members and was closely followed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon with 46 members. Other fraternities and sororities with numerous members mentioned in the publication were Alpha Tau Omega with 36, Chi Omega with 35, Pi Beta Phi with 30, Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Kappa Alpha with 29 each.

Engle Pays Tribute To Prof. Boardman

A tribute to Professor H. P. Boardman, who last week was feted with a dinner by engineering students and alumni, was a visit by Harold Engle, a Nevada graduate and former student of Professor Boardman's, considered a foremost authority on earthquake-proof structures.

Engle, who is now a consulting engineer in San Francisco, left his work for several days especially for the visit. At the dinner he gave advice concerning the building of the new engineering building and the gymnasium.

Engle at the time of his graduation was a gold-medalist and Phi Kappa Phi student. Shortly after graduation, he was awarded the American-Scandinavian fellowship at the University of Stockholm in Sweden.

DEBATERS, NOTE!

According to the result that might be drawn from a survey conducted by a University of Wisconsin speech instructor, if you want to succeed be a debater. The instructor revealed that the number of ex-debaters listed in "Who's Who" has increased nearly fifty per cent in the last several years. It was also noted that a majority of debaters enter the education field while government work closely follows.

A HINT
Borrowed from the University of San Francisco "Foghorn" is this little hint for the benefit of those who dread the job-hunting day: One way to avoid having to hunt a job when you graduate is to go to law school or start working for a M. A. That postpones the hunt a few years.

VISITING ENCOURAGED
When students at Brown University want to visit classes that they are not enrolled in, they are encouraged to do so by the university authorities. They may drop in and visit any class that interests them and, the university officials have reported, the scheme is very successful.
