New Scholarship Announced This Week by D. A. R.

Award To Be Presented Students For Further College Education

A new yearly $50 scholarship was announced this week by the Reno chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution...

According to Mrs. C. F. Stevens, chairman of the committee in charge, the scholarship will be given to either a man or woman who has done at least one year of good work...

Professor Jay A. Carpenter, chairman of the scholarship committee, will administer the fund which may be increased in future years...

Yesterday the Associated Women Students awarded Dorothy May Snyder, Delta Delta Delta, a scholarship of $25 which had been overlooked in the spring semester of last year.

Offered to Nevada students each year are twenty-two scholarships and eleven honor prizes and awards. Winners of scholarships and prizes are generally announced at the commencement exercises in the spring at close of school.

Junior Class Plans For Annual Prom

Featuring semi-formal attire, the annual junior prom will be presented in the state building Dec. 9.

Preparations for the event were reported yesterday by Jack Pieri, publicity chairman, to be in full swing. Pieri announced that ticket sales would be enhanced by the use of a punchboard with tickets being sold in prices ranging from one cent to one dollar.

The decision to make this dance semi-formal was made by the entire junior class in response to requests that the dance be presented in true Nevada style with as much informality as possible," Pieri said.

Frank McCulloch, committee chairman, announced that contacts were still to be made to secure the services of a big-time orchestra.

Tickets will be sold by junior coeds and will make their initial appearance next Friday, when the huge thermometer to record results of the interfraternity ticket sales will be erected.

Unusual in makeup and secret until the date will be an engineering mystery feature known as the "Kissometer."

In my estimation our "Kissable Kelly" will be one of the deciding factors in the determination of future dates," David Hartman, engineer president, said.

As an added gate feature a form of gate "taxation" will be introduced and it is reported that other engineering devices will determine the amount necessary for entrance.

In addition to the decoration and lighting plans the engineers will establish a public drink concession will also be available.

Invited to chaperone the Brawl are Dean and Mrs. F. H. Sibley, Professor and Mrs. S. G. Palmer, Director and Mrs. J. A. Carpenter and Professor and Mrs. W. O. Wagner.

IT'S UP TO US

(An Editorial)

Next Friday the student body will determine whether the University of Nevada is to have a major intercollegiate athletic program, or whether the sport program is to be run on a curtailed basis.

The proposed change provides for raising the A. S. U. N. fee from $10 to $12.50 per semester. The additional $2.50 would go to the Board of Athletic Control to carry on the entire major and minor intercollegiate athletic program...

One point to be emphasized, because of the numerous erroneous rumors, is that the money which will accrue to the athletic situation by virtue of the $2.50 raise will be distributed. Every sport that comes under the jurisdiction of the Board of Athletic Control will receive support from this proposed fund.

Another misconception of the $2.50 raise is that the money will be used to subsidize athletics. Under no circumstances will this fund be used for athletic scholarships or the like.

To this question the answer is simple. For the past three years athletics were under the control of the university administration, which meant that members of the coaching staff were also members of the faculty, and their salaries were paid by the administration.

Should athletics have a large deficit this year there would be no means of obtaining payment, for the present student body fee of $10 is already "earmarked," save for $1.90, which is usually budgeted out early in the semester.

For the past four years the student body has clamored for a more diversified sports program; students want winning athletic teams that can compete with leading coast institutions.

Last year an energetic group of debaters organized and persuaded the student body to provide them a definite budget which necessitated the deduction of 25 cents from the underclass allotments.

This was followed by the women students who demanded that they be given a definite allotment to carry on a bigger and better program. Then the football team revolted against the conditions and practices in the handling of athletics, which might have been wrong, and perhaps not.

And it's up to us to see that everyone votes, for unless a majority of votes are cast, President Hartman will not accept the amendment whether it passes or not.

LESSON IN ROMANCE PROMISED AS BRAWL FEATURE TOMORROW

"Romance, The Engineering Way," will be the order for tomorrow evening when the university Associated Engineers feature this year's version of their annual Brawl.

A terpsichorean's treat is promised at the engineering dance, which will be held in an unusually decorated and lighted university gymnasium, beginning at 9 p. m. George Beattie's popular campus orchestra will furnish the music for the affair.

Many surprises and entertaining features have been designed for the Brawl this year. Intermission entertainment to be featured will be several tap dances by Fritz Jane Neddendriep, popular university student.

The governor will be the principal speaker at the ceremony, which is being held under the auspices of the Associated Churches of Reno.

Members of the color guard escorting the governor are Cadet Staff Sergeants Allan McGill and Hugh Smithwick, acting as color bearers; Cadet Corporal Art Ham and Cadet First Class Al Elpern, acting as color guides; Cadet Staff Sergeant McGill will be in command of the color squad.

The names of all students who failed to appear before the men's upperclass committee for not performing their assigned duties are being compiled into an accurate list, it was announced today by John Sala, committee head.

White Brock, frosh football player who was paddled and laked last week, still refuses to comply with the demands of the upperclass committee, Sala said.

As soon as the list is completed, the vigilantes will become very active in dealing out the usual punishment incurred by the neglectful students, Sala said.

Included on the Brawl committee are Pete Hanford, Louis Sanborn, George Wade, Sam Morehouse, Cyril Ham, Fred Clayton, Burton Barrett, Bill Potter and Don Townsend.

Hartman Honored At Eastern Dinner

Taking advantage of Dr. Leon W. Hartman's trip to the meeting of the Land Grant Colleges in Washington, D. C., the New York alumni gave a dinner in his honor Saturday.

Many former students and graduates of the University of Nevada attended the formal dinner-dance and met the university's new president.

The New York alumni group is formed of a considerable number of Nevada graduates who live in New York and vicinity. The organization meets regularly.

R.O.T.C. CADETS TO ESCORT GOVERNOR

Four R. O. T. C. cadets from the University of Nevada will escort Governor E. P. Carville at a Thanksgiving day ceremony to be held in the state building in Reno at 10:30 a. m. Nov. 30.

The governor will be the principal speaker at the ceremony, which is being held under the auspices of the Associated Churches of Reno.

TRADITION VIOLATORS TO BE REPRIMANDED

The names of all students who failed to appear before the men's upperclass committee for not performing their assigned duties are being compiled into an accurate list, it was announced today by John Sala, committee head.

White Brock, frosh football player who was paddled and laked last week, still refuses to comply with the demands of the upperclass committee, Sala said.

Included on the Brawl committee are Pete Hanford, Louis Sanborn, George Wade, Sam Morehouse, Cyril Ham, Fred Clayton, Burton Barrett, Bill Potter and Don Townsend.

NEVADA WOLVES BEGIN PRACTICE FOR COP GAME

Morale Rises After Greeley Victory, Four-Day Lay-off

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack got back into harness last night after a four-day layoff and ran through light drills in preparation for its big game of the year with the College of the Pacific in Stockton on Dec. 2.

The Wolves, who earned a rest after winning three straight games, were still a little stiff and sore from the Greeley contest but clearly showed the result of the lay-off in their increased snap and drive. Injuries, both minor and otherwise, have been given some chance to heal; and the complete change from the usual rigorous Alken training schedule, combined with the decisive win over the Bears last Saturday, pushed the level of the general team morale up higher than it has been at any time before this season.

Injury List Though the entire squad was battered and bruised up to some extent, Mitch Cobega's torn shoulder, Bob Robinson's sprained ankle and John Polish's trick knee were the most serious injuries, though each is expected to be in top shape for Amos Alonzo Stagg's Golden Bengals.

Common Opponent After the performance of the Wolves against Greeley and the fact that the Cal Aggies held C. O. P. to a very narrow 21-12 victory last weekend, most Pack supporters were confident that the Bengals will be far from the overwhelming favorites they were considered to be at the first of the season.

Aerial Attack Coach Jim Aiken will probably spend a good part of next week's drills on polishing up the new aerial offense his team displayed against Greeley, heralded as the "passingest" squad the Pack was to meet all year.

Pacific, with two hard games, the University of Arizona this week and the tough little defensive Chico Wildcat the following, is worrying about staleness by the time they reach Nevada, reports from the coast say.

The first circulating library established in Virginia City, known as the Miners' Union Library, is now in the possession of the University of Nevada and is housed in the library building.

This rare collection of books comprising 262 volumes was obtained by the University of Nevada through the efforts of Dr. Frank Bohn of the University of California at Los Angeles, who arranged for its purchase from Paul Smith, owner of the Museum of Memories located at Virginia City.

Dr. Bohn, who was the organizer of the Miners' Union a generation ago, had personal reasons for wishing to preserve the colorful memories of the great mining leaders of historic Virginia City, and it was through his efforts that the University of Nevada acquired the library.

During the month of June, 1937, President W. E. Clark authorized the expenditure of $100 for the purchase of the library from Smith, and it was brought to the university by Dr. Bohn.

Many of the books contained in the library were donated by the citizens of Virginia City, and they contain personal notes written by the original owners.

The collection contains many valuable titles in history, political science, literature and religion and is indicative of the great and important part Virginia City played in the history of the west.

HARDY WITHDRAWS FROM UNIVERSITY

Byron Hardie, A. S. U. N. president, took a temporary leave of absence from the duties of his office this week and has withdrawn from school for the remainder of the semester.

He left last night for his mother's home at Knight's Landing, Calif., and will stay there until next January, when he will return to Nevada to resume his studies.

Gertrude Freeman, chairman of the Associated Women Students and vice chairman of the student body, will serve as acting president during Hardie's absence.

The student leader was injured in an automobile accident last month and since then has been unable to return to school. He was on the campus last week, but was forced to withdraw on the advice of his physician.

Play Rehearsals Progress Rapidly

U. N. Thespians Learn Lines Two Weeks Before Presentation

One of the wonders of the stage, a production in which all members of the cast have their lines learned two weeks in advance of the night of presentation of a play, hit the cast of "What A Life", the University Play Productions' opus for the fall semester.

With two weeks to polish the rough edges of this play we should present one of the really successful dramas in the history of the campus dramatic society," Director Edwin Semenza said this week.

Grant Sawyer in the role of Henry Aldrich, the problem child high school boy, has mastered the juvenile character's part to a fine degree and with two weeks additional practice should give some irreproachable performances December 5, 6 and 7, the nights the play will go on in the education building auditorium.

Although many members of the cast are in their first college play, they are handling their roles in nearly as capable a manner as the more experienced players, Director Semenza added.

A complete new set is under construction by the stage crew, and the absence of any need for radical or expensive costumes has eliminated much of the work of the mechanical side of the play productions department in this fall's campus play.

One of the nation's foremost authorities on the subject of the planet Mars, Dr. Robert J. Trumpler will speak tomorrow evening in the Mackay science hall on the topic "Our Neighbor Planet Mars."

Delivering his address before students and the public, Dr. Trumpler will discuss the various phases of the planet, long a mystery to the layman, under the sponsorship of the Nevada Astronomical Society, of which Professor G. B. Blair, physics department, is president.

Dr. Trumpler conducted his research on the planet at the Lick observatory of the University of California and his map of Mars is held by scientists to be one of the best published, Professor Blair said.

The theory that the "canals" on Mars are great cracks in its surface was first advanced by the doctor several years ago, who maintains that these ruptures shelter dense vegetation which gives the canals their predominantly greenish hue.

Professor Blair will introduce the speaker at the meeting, which will begin at 8:00 p. m. in the auditorium. Students, faculty and the public interested in astronomy are being invited to attend.

Members of the University Crucible Club will make a tour of inspection of the Princeton mill in Mill City, Nevada, Sunday. The group will leave the MacKay school of mines at 5 a. m.

The trip has been made possible through the S. Frank Hunt foundation. Professor William Smythe is in charge of arrangements for the trip.

Complete Program Announced Today

General Reception Scheduled At President's House; Many To Attend

The students of the University of Nevada will have a very special part in the inauguration ceremonies for Dr. Leon W. Hartman who will officially become president of the university Dec. 15.

In three ways the student body will participate on that day. The student body president and president of the Associated Women Students will take part in the academic parade during the ceremonies in the morning.

They will sit on the speakers' platform along with the members of the board of regents and the faculty, thereby representing the students and performing their first official acts of the day.

All Students Welcome The students have been issued a special invitation to attend by the committee in charge. Everyone will be welcome.

From 3:30 until 5:30 p. m. President and Mrs. Hartman will be honored at a reception for the entire student body in the president's house on the campus.

At that time the students will be given the opportunity to meet the new president and his wife. The reception will be given by the regents and faculty.

Schools to be Represented Many American universities and colleges will be represented at the ceremonies which will inaugurate the sixth president of the University of Nevada.

Already 14 institutions from various parts of the country have informed the committee in charge of arrangements that they will be represented, Dean Frederick Wood said today, and more acceptances of the university's invitation to participate are being received daily.

Members of the faculty and administrative staffs or prominent graduates of the universities and colleges are being delegated to hear greetings and good wishes to the University of Nevada and its new head, Wood said.

Brother Albert, president of St. Mary's College of Moraga, Calif., personally will represent his institution, he informed Dean Wood.

Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, provost of the University of California, will deliver the chief address at the inauguration.

High School Papers Form Association

Results of the recent high school press convention sponsored by the University of Nevada Press Club last week, a statewide scholastic press affiliation will be organized next spring among the high schools of Nevada, with the University Press Club providing a general headquarters and clearing house for the activities and business of the newly-formed organization.

The affiliation is to be known as the Nevada Scholastic Press Association. Main activities of the group will be based on the judging of high school publications sent to headquarters at the university, criticism proceeding from these preliminary inspections, then being sent back to the respective editors and business managers of the various member publications.

Climax of the judging activities will be the yearly awarding of a University of Nevada Press Club revolving plaque which is to be given to the high school whose publication is judged to be of the highest standard in the state. This plaque will be awarded for the first time at the end of the spring, 1940, semester.

Winners of the cups for the best high school newspapers and best yearbooks were presented Saturday night at the banquet at El Cortez hotel, which concluded the seventh annual University Press Club convention for student editors and business managers.

The cup for the best mimeographed annual went to "The Castileja," published by Austin high school. The best mimeographed paper prize was given to "The Clarion" of Smith Valley.

Frank Sullivan presented the cup for the best printed newspaper to the Reno high school for the "Red and Blue," and for the printed yearbook to the Sparks high school's "Terminus."

Textile Authority Speaks On Campus Next Wednesday

A series of two lectures by Dr. Harold K. Van Buren, noted expert on the subject of linen textiles, will be given Wednesday at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. in the home economics rooms of the agriculture building at the University of Nevada.

Dr. Van Buren will discuss the usefulness and style of American linens, handblock and other methods of designing cloth patterns. He will particularly emphasize the combination of table setting and pottery used with certain linens and the use of modern American table linens in the home.

The influence on the style trends in linen design, reasons for the American textile design's usefulness in the home, and the "washability" of handblock linens are other points to be given prominence by Dr. Van Buren.

Included with the lecture series will be an exhibition of linens styled by noted American textile designers, including work by Ruth Reeves, a student of Maya Indian textile lore, and Andy, Tony Sarg, illustrator and famed puppeteer, as well as a designer.

FRENCH TO CARRY WAR TO END, SAYS U. S. STUDENT FROM FRANCE

The attitude of the French people is one of calm and determination to carry forward the ensuing war so that totalitarian ideologies shall not triumph over democratic principles.

This is the opinion voiced by Miss Evelyn Osgood, a native of France, who recently came to the United States and now attends the University of Nevada as an arts and science student.

Miss Osgood, who was born in Bordeaux, France, is the daughter of Mme. Henrietta Osgood of the University of Nevada language department, and the sister of Samuel Osgood, also an arts and science student at the U. of N.

"The people of France are in no way envious or angry at the German people, but they feel that the Nazi rulers, especially Hitler, have ambitious ideals which, if not checked, will eventually lead to the destruction of France," she said.

Quoting from a letter recently received from her aunt in France which states: "It is too bad we have to wage a senseless war against the German people when the only person we wish to destroy is Hitler."

Miss Osgood said that this is the general opinion of most of the people of France.

She said that the French people were willing to fight to the end in order to remove that constant uneasiness created by German domination, and that the determination behind this objective was exemplified in the manner in which all political factions united to form a popular front.

Night life is very much restricted in France, and all theaters and night clubs are usually closed at 10 p. m., she continued.

"It is much more important to have a maid than to own a car in France, and the tempo of living is much slower there than in America," she said.

Miss Osgood also stated that the uneducated people in France thought of America as a country with a gangster on every street corner, but the higher class regarded this country in a very favorable light.

"One of the most dominant characteristics of the French people is their ability to be so precise in their habits and mode of living," she continued.

Miss Osgood, who is to receive a scholarship in French language at a school in Miami, Florida, has visited the United States many times and came to this country to live with her mother and brother.

Cadet Officers Win ROTC Promotions

In accordance with orders issued Nov. 1 by the military department of the University of Nevada, five cadet officers and five non-commissioned officers have been promoted.

Those promoted to cadet second lieutenants are Cadet Master Sergeants Gilbert Morehouse, Leland Strauch; Cadet first sergeants Jess Tranter, Nicholas Pappas and Darrell Birch. Each commissioned officer will be assigned to his respective company.

Those promoted from cadet sergeants to cadet first sergeants are Phillip Carroll, Henry Morehead and Eugene Williams. Non-commissioned officers will be assigned to Companies A, B and C, in the order named.

Cadet Sergeants William Casey and Robert McDonough were assigned to headquarters as cadet staff sergeants. Each cadet company commander will make suitable recommendation to fill the vacancies created by the appointment of the commissioned and non-commissioned officers in the cadet ranks.

LINCOLN HALL TO INITIATE PLEDGES

Initiation services for 17 Lincoln Hall association pledges will be held Monday at the dormitory.

Following the ceremonies the new members will be feted at a banquet given in their honor, according to President Louis Peraldo.

Pledges to receive membership are Burton Barrett, Arthur Palmer, Jim Wolf, Douglas Erskine, Harry Morgan, Charlie Crow, Tom Corie, George Clark, Joe Gross, Robert Hoyer, Harvey Johnson, Ted Knoff, Robert Woodward, Herbert Reynolds, William Smith, Lee Streshley and Fred Stiverson.

STEADY GUARD

Probably the steadiest man in the Nevada line this year is Earl Brooks, playing his third year at guard for the Wolves. Slowed down at the first of the season by a badly sprained ankle, Earl has been fast recovering the form that made him a sixty-minute man last season.

Ski Champion May Enroll In January

Nevada University's ski stock took a sharp rise this week when Bob Roecker, American amateur distance champion, gave notice of his intention to enroll at the university next semester.

Roecker holds the record at 257 feet and if he enrolls here he will be eligible to compete in the Annual Winter Carnival on the Nevada team.

Invitations to the Carnival meet will be sent next week to the University of California, Stanford, College of the Pacific, University of Southern California, Utah, Dartmouth, Oregon, University of San Francisco, UCLA, Mills College and other leading coast schools.

Wolf skiers are already in training for Nevada's largest snow show. Frasier West, the only returning letterman, predicts the Wolf team can garner points in several events against the toughest kind of competition.

Toby Larsen and Warren Hart show possibilities in several events. Larsen competed for the Reno high school team in the downhill and slalom and is constantly improving. Hart has competed in the downhill and slalom in recent years, including the meet against Las Vegas in Charleston Park last year.

The exact date of the Carnival has not been set as yet. Next week the Carnival committee heads appoint their committees.

Taus Lead Field For Eighth Time In Kinnear Race

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity now holds the fall semester lead in total points toward the Kinnear triply, it was announced this week by Professor "Chet" Scranton of the Men's Physical Education department.

With the intra-mural sports program finished for this semester, the Taus are in the lead with a total of 225 points. Closely following is Lambda Chi Alpha with 172 points. In third place is Sigma Alpha Epsilon with 133 to its credit.

Seven sports—horseshoe singles and doubles, volleyball, cross country race, basketball and tennis singles and doubles—have been included in the semester's program with the A. T. O.s never notified below second place in any competition. They have annexed two first spots tied twice for first place, taken two second places and split another second rating three ways.

Garnering most of their points from victories in the cross-country run and a first place tie in volleyball, the Lambda Chis present a serious threat to take the coveted trophy from the A. T. O. house, where for the last six years it has resided.

Pressing the A. T. O.s and Lambda Chis are the S. A. Es in third place with 133 points.

Five sports are scheduled for next semester to complete the intra-mural program. With skiing, track, baseball and handball doubles and singles on tap, the lead in the race for points may change hands several times.

Winners of the various competitions during the semester follow:

Volleyball: A. T. O.-Lambda Chi, tie; horseshoe singles: Sigma Nu-ATO tie; horseshoe doubles: Bet Kappa; tennis singles and doubles: A. T. O.; cross-country: Lambda Chi; basketball, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Aggregate scores for the entire semester are compiled below:

Alpha Tau Omega	225
Lambda Chi Alpha	172.25
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	133.75
Sigma Nu	70
Beta Kappa	70
Independents	30
Lincoln Hall	13.75
Phi Sigma Kappa	1.25

U. N. GLIDER CLUB IS BEING PLANNED

Plans for forming a glider club are being considered by Walter Elkins, Gerald McCormack and Professor W. H. Davidson of the mechanical engineering department.

At a meeting held Wednesday night students interested in this movement discussed problems and possibilities of the forming of an active glider club on the Nevada campus.

It was decided that initiation fees would be $15 and monthly dues would be about $1. If enough students show interest in this club a glider will be purchased and activity started early in next semester. The possibility of buying a construction kit and building the glider themselves was considered.

Leaders of this movement have been notified by the National Soaring Society, foremost authority on gliding conditions in the United States that the terrain in the neighborhood of the dry lake north of Reno is ideal for gliding instruction and soaring.

Nu Eta Epsilon To Initiate Two

Formal initiation ceremonies for students recently pledged to Nu Eta Epsilon, local honorary engineering society, will be held at the home of President Leon Hartman Nov. 21, at 6 p. m.

Following the formal initiation a banquet will be given by the society in honor of the new members at Carlan's.

Nevada engineering students to be initiated are Ernest Jorgensen, senior mining student from Las Vegas, and Edward Kuhlan, senior civil engineering student from Los Angeles.

In charge of the initiation ceremonies will be F. H. Bixby and Harry Wheeler of the engineering faculty and David Hartman, president of Nu Eta Epsilon. The committee in charge of banquet arrangements is composed of Professor Clark Amens, Fred Maynard, Al Eaton and David Hartman.

Senate To Present New Amendment

Preparations for presentation of the new amendment to the A. S. U. N. constitution were made when the senate met Wednesday night. Anthony Yribery was nominated to read the changes at the student body meeting this morning. It was decided that the election for voting on the proposals will be held on Nov. 27.

A leave of absence was granted to Byron Hardie, president, who was forced to withdraw from school for the remainder of the semester because of illness.

Mary Sala was appointed to take the place of Donald Kinkel on the constitutional revision committee. The latter resigned his senatorship last week.

The governing body also appointed Miss Sala to write to Fred Waring, prominent band leader, about suggestions for a university song.

Game To Be Broadcast

A public address system will be furnished by a local motor-car firm, Jack Rhoades, game announcer, said today, for the Nevada freshman-Santa Rosa J. C. contest tomorrow. The game, as in the past, will be announced play by play and will begin on Mackay stadium at 2:15 p. m. The Scott Motors is furnishing the address system.

Butch's Comments

Ed's Note: We caught Butch Novikoffskikavich, as usual of late, before his new portable Royal typewriter, where he now apparently spends about three-quarters of his time. "De t'ing's so easy to use," was Butch's explanation when we asked him why he wasn't at football practice. When the above picture was taken, Butch was just in the middle of a letter telling his folks that he'd be home for Thanksgiving. However, let's let Butch himself take over from here.

Dere Maw Novikoffskikavich:—!?: here i'm sittin in frunt of my new typewriter whut I got at Carlisle's here in Reno. I'm thinkin' of de brekfust you usta cook me on Thanksgivin' befor I cumed here to play football. Chee, maw, dose brekfusts make me t'ink a lot a dese guys Carlisle's, as which I men-shuned befor—everything abowt em is just about perfect. Why, maw, de way dis little butey works it reminds me a de way you used to flip me aigs and hot-kakes in de fryin pan—smooth an oily like. If I'm a good boy between now and den an score six touchdowns agens't Podunk, will you kook me dat kind of brekfust, huh, maw?

By de way, maw, de you member de time I built me a toy hors an it looked like dis fotograf dat I found a it? Well, you know whut I just found out? Dis Carlisle's not only is by far de best place in de world to buy stay-shunary etc. but dey also has de best games I ever seen. Quality stuff, you undertan, maw, but at de kind a prices even us could pay. Why de gentleman down dere showed me de games dey have an honest, maw, dey got everything from rolette to tiddly-de-winx. Too bad we didn't no dat when I built de horse, huh?

But to get back to Thankgivin' agin. I kin just see dat big, brown turkey de way you always kook it, maw. I spose Coach Bacon will kinda make me take it easy on de food because our big game a de year wit de Colleej of Pasifik is only three days after dat, but I kin still enjoy whut I do git ta eat, huh? Dat's just de same as at Carlisle's—no matter whut you get dere, big or little, ya always enjoy gettin it because dey're always so nice to ya when ya gets it.

Dis is da way I'd like ta look an feel after de turkey an trimmins, maw, but as I sed, I guess I won't be able to. I'll make up fer it at Crismus by eatin twice as much I ges. Say, dat reminds me, maw—dis Carlisle's bunch has got de niftiest assortment a Crismus cards, New Year greetins, crayolas, stensile and so forth, along wit there general high grade styshunary, dat you ever knew uv. When me pretty soon, you'll know dat's Wen you get dat high class card from where it cum from—Carlisle's.

Well, maw, dat's abowt all.
Your faithful & obedient sun,

W. A. A. Sponsors Jaycee Play Day

With "Westward Ho" for the theme of the day, many coeds from two neighboring institutions will gather here for a junior college playday Saturday.

As guests of the Women's Athletic Association of the University of Nevada, sponsors of the play-day, girls from Sacramento and Lassen junior colleges have been invited to participate.

Registration will begin in the gymnasium at 9:30 a. m., after which a get-together, including games and folk dancing, will be held to acquaint the guests and hostesses.

Team members for the various games will carry out the theme of the day to the letter by composing teams of trappers, miners, pioneers, gamblers, cowboys and Indians, all designated by scarfs of a different color with block-printed figures of the old western character represented by the team printed on them.

A tour of the campus will immediately precede lunch, which will be served in the gym.

During the afternoon, an archery meet and a dry-land skiing exhibition will be held.

Sarah Bawden, chairman of the play-day committee, has appointed as her assistants and officials Marcella Bawden, Eleanor Goldsworthy, Gertrude Freeman, Earlmond Baker, Verma Bullis, Mary Higgins and all members of W. A. A. and Gothic "N."

Les Howd, well-known archer from California, will give an archery exhibition shoot at two o'clock. He will place his equipment on display on the quad at that time.

Beatrice Lansdon, head of Saddle and Supps, will take charge of a horseback ride with women from Sacramento. The ride is scheduled to begin at two.

CLASS SCHEDULE TO BE OUT EARLY

Schedules of next semester classes are being issued at an early date to all faculty advisers, enabling students to plan programs for the spring semester in advance of the opening day of school, Miss Emily Ross, chairman of the committee on program, announced today.

The complete listing of classes for the spring will be placed with the advisers the latter part of next week and all students may consult them. Programs will not be available for students until the opening day of the spring semester, January 9.

Printing of the schedules will be done by the Reno Printing Company.

Home Economics Club Plans Annual Bazaar

Cakes, cookies, articles of clothing, handcraft and piecwork samples will be offered for student inspection and sale Dec. 9, when members of the Home Economics Club hold their annual bazaar.

The sale will be held in the rooms of the home economics department, members of the organization said, and will represent the work being undertaken by the group in their courses at the university.

According to Gertrude Freeman, president of the club, the money derived from the bazaar will be used to send a delegate from Nevada to the national convention of home economics clubs held in Cleveland.

DOESN'T ALWAYS PAY DIVIDENDS

Janet Holcomb, agriculturally-inclined senior student, is rapidly discovering that publicity doesn't always pay.

Featured in the Sagebrush a few weeks ago as the University of Nevada's only woman agronomy student and aspiring young farmerette, Miss Holcomb had been tending strictly to business and land-values per acre.

Suddenly the mail started pouring in. Clipping bureaus all over the country began to clip Miss Holcomb, promising payments of "an interesting story recently printed about you in a New Jersey paper," etc.

"Please send 25 cents for mailing charges," they added.

A letter from a Michigan bureau even offered to assist her in pursuing her chosen career, in case she ever happened through that particular vicinity.

"I did send for one clipping, Miss Holcomb admitted honestly. "It was three lines long."

Dorothy Snider Is Scholarship Winner

Dorothy Snider was presented with the A. W. S. scholarship of $25 by Dean Maek at the A. W. S. meeting held yesterday at 2 p. m. in the education building auditorium. During the first semester of her freshman year, Miss Snider maintained an average of 1.23, and during the second semester, 1.29.

Athletic cups were presented by Mary Kornmayer to Pi Beta Phi for badminton singles, Gamma Phi Beta for badminton doubles, and Delta Delta Delta for basketball. Delta Delta Delta won volleyball this fall, but the cup has not arrived.

Harry Frost, chairman of the board of athletic control, Joe McDonnell, graduate manager, and Professor Harwood, member of the board of athletic control, explained to the meeting about the proposed $2.50 increase in the student body fee. Joe McDonnell stated that this increase is needed in order to carry on the present sports program.

Musical entertainment at the meeting was provided by Margaret Sears and Mildred Missimer, who played "Deep Purple," a piano duet. An announcement, inviting all girls to the junior play-day, was then made by Eleanor Goldsworthy.

Dr. Vance Lectures To Math Students

Speaking on "The Foundation of Mathematics," Dr. E. P. Vance delivered an address to the math club Tuesday night.

Dr. Vance was the second speaker who has appeared before the group this semester. William Palm was the guest at the October meeting. He gave a lecture and demonstration on "Ballistics."

Refreshments of coffee and cupcakes were served after the business meeting.

A Christmas party will take the form of a gathering next month and will be given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Wood.

SOCIAL DOINGS AT THE U. OF N.

S. A. E. INDIANS DANCE Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity will hold its annual Indian dance tonight at the chapter house. In charge of the affair is Jack Pieri. Chaperones will be Professor John Gottardi and Dr. and Mrs. John J. Sullivan.

A. T. O. COCOANUT DANCE Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held a costume party—its annual Cocoonut dance—at the chapter house last Friday night. Music was in charge of Mark Nesbitt and his orchestra. Chaperones for the evening were Professor John Gottardi, Bernard Hooper and John Yapurich. Members of other fraternities attending the affair were Jim Perkins, Lambda Chi Alpha; John DuPratt, Sigma Nu; Jack Pieri, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Bill Mitchell, Lincoln Hall; Allen McGill, Sigma Phi Sigma; Glen Kaiser, Phi Sigma Kappa; Warren Ferguson, Beta Kappa.

BLUE KEY SOCIAL The biggest and best Blue Key social this year was given Friday night after the football rally. Some of the success may be attributed to the spirited pep talks given by Coaches Aiken and Shuhart, and Harry Frost. The rest was due to the energetic work of the rally committee, headed by Dyer Jensen, and Blue Key members. Guests for the evening were members of the high school press convention who, with the university students, danced to the music of George Beattie and his orchestra.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA Saturday afternoon the pledges of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will be honored at the annual presentation tea. Many invitations have been issued for this affair, which will be held at the chapter house. The active members will take part, assisted by several alumnae. The pledges to be presented are Misses Julia Barkley, Janice Bawden, Betty Cochran, Jeanne Caple, Marigold Christensen, Gloria Day, Mary Louise Griswold, Harriet Hills, Ann Kirkwood, Mary Etta McKenna, Molly Morse, Fritzi Jane Neddenriep, Jo Ann Record, Yvonne Rosasco, Annette Sargent, Jeanne Stewart, Billy Jean Stinson, Emilie Turano, Rita Turano.

DELTA DELTA DELTA The Delta Delta Delta chapter house will be the setting tonight for a dance at which guests of both active members and pledges will be honored. Miss Evelyn Bulmer, president of the sorority, is in charge, assisted by Mary Margaret Murphy and Rigley Pearson.

GAMMA PHI BETA Interest in the Gamma Phi Beta sorority this week was centered on the impressive ceremony Saturday night, held at the chapter house, celebrating the founding of the group at Syracuse University in 1874. On this occasion, commemorating its sixty-fifth anniversary, chapters in every part of the country held services honoring their founders. Miss Florence Butler, president of the active chapter, conducted the ceremonies, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Doherty, alumnae president. Those attending were Mesdames F. Armbruster, Douglas Busey, Charles Barnes, Jack Cunningham, Alice Con-ton, Robert Farrar, Thomas Fisher, Jr., Daniel Harvey, Howard Diebel, C. L. Hawley, John Hally, F. J. Hermann, A. J. Hood, Walter Hansen, Frank Horton, Jr., Bill A. Ligon, S. K. Morrison, Thomas Doherty, Edward Pine, Rodney Reynolds, W. D. Johnson, Harry Wheeler, J. T. Ryan, Greta Variel, Harlan Johnson.

Identical Dresses Bring Confusion At Recent Soph-Frosh Class Dance

Spot for spot and stripe for stripe they were dressed just alike.

Murder and mayhem has been committed for far less than when two young ladies attired in an identical fashion meet face to face.

The air was tense with suppressed emotions—every girl likes to see herself as an individualist, not a replica.

Even the orchestra playing both loudly and well at the Century Club, scene of the Frosh-Sophomore class dance, could not entirely drown out the shrill feminine voices nor change the scene to one of harmony.

The masculine half of the attendance was baffled by the subtle exchanges among the girls—the veiled glances and set smiles. Boys wore, along with their suits, a faint air of bewilderment.

DENNISON'S CAFE 444 South Virginia OUR THIRD YEAR IN RENO

CONGRATULATIONS

The student body should be commended on the fine spirit displayed at the meeting this morning. Without a doubt, the largest turnout ever was at that meeting.

Perhaps a great deal of credit should go to the various campus and social organizations for their assistance in urging everyone to attend.

The meeting this morning showed one thing in particular: the students at Nevada are interested in administrative and campus doings, and most certainly approve of having meetings.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:
Last Friday, Nov. 10, I felt ashamed that I was a student at the University of Nevada. I never realized before that this institution of learning has not reached maturity, but that we are still in the adolescence stage.

Classes were dismissed Friday at 10 in order that those who wanted to might go to an Armistice day delivery by one of the local lawyers. I felt humiliated and ashamed for, when the speaker got up to deliver his message, there were but a handful of people, most of them were faculty and townpeople. There was row upon row of empty seats. Well, we are free to attend these lectures if we choose. It is up to us. But when a busy person is kind enough to take his time, effort and energy to come to speak and give us his ideas and views of a current and vital situation, and we have not the courtesy or decency to extend him an audience, we are surely sinking to the depths of declining thoughts in our so-called institutions of "learning."

Those that did not attend, however, had that privilege . . . but did they have the privilege of showing and displaying such barbarian manners as were displayed by a group of "vigilantes" at that time. I never would believe that a young man in our world today, supposedly in college to develop a logical and intelligent mind, would actually stoop to such brutality. O. K., if the frosh did not hold to traditions, throw him in the lake—but DON'T BEAT HIM! Those actions used by those that helped were the very actions and methods that are used by the Ku Klux Klan . . . people any other intolerant and hate-brutal group. Naturally you begin to fight when someone is going to toss you into an icy body of water, whether you know you deserve it or not . . . people all about you . . . clothes et al . . . sort of lose your head . . . struggle . . . squirm . . . kick . . . yell. You might even hit someone you hadn't intended to hit or harm. Anyone and everyone knows how his reaction would be in such a case . . . but this logical behavior on the part of anyone when confronted with a distasteful situation does not call for a beating! . . . the spilling of blood . . . the sheer brutality of humans! . . . What right has anyone to do such things? Are we Americans or barbarians? Or is an American a barbarian? Is this an institution or higher learning, or is it an institution on how to inflict unjust, unwarranted, uncalled for and, yes, even serious punishment upon another person? Is this a college where we all have a common goal? Or is this where we seek to find out how to tear down all the intellect that others have tried to give us?

Such action is disgraceful to this university. My heart is full of shame to think that I'm a member of such a group. To stand idly by and crotle with joy and delight and watch a twice-sized individual break wood over a tired and defeated fellow, is, to my knowledge, the essence of utter degeneration and distastefulness. Is it a source of happiness to watch your fellow man wallow in the mud? Is it a source of pleasure to hear him cry out with pain and humiliation? If this is, then I have lost all hope that this is America! For it is not the ideals, nor the hopes, nor the intelligence of Americans . . . It is the hopes, ideals and intelligence not of people, but of a brutal, hateful and vengeful mob whose thoughts are only those of regimentation . . . dictatorial intolerance—and injustice!

CLASS OF '41

To whom it may concern:
In regard to this sudden gust of undesirable publicity which I am receiving through personal and other columns in certain newspapers, I would like to say that it is becoming extremely embarrassing not only to me but to other parties involved.

I was the victim of a rare old joke and you had your fun. All right, but don't you think things are being carried just a little bit too far? After all, one still likes to maintain his pride and some people are just a little bit sensitive about being the "laughing stock" of the campus.

I enjoy nothing more than a good joke and a good laugh about it. I don't mind having a good joke pulled on me at all but then maybe you and I have a difference of opinion on just what a good joke it. At any rate boys "lay off," don't you think that this thing has gone far enough?
DONALD PARKINSON

Student Body President,
University of Nevada,
Reno, Nevada.
Dear Mr. President:
The University of Arizona at Tucson is again going to hold its intercollegiate rodeo which will be our third annual rodeo. Each year we hold an intercollegiate show which is a lot of fun besides being very profitable.

I would like to know if you and your students are interested, and if you plan a rodeo of your own for this year. I would appreciate an answer from you saying what your attitude is because we would like to have one or two representatives from your school in our show if possible. The exact date is to be set later.

It's A Girl

Announcements were received on the campus this week of the birth of a baby girl to Dr. and Mrs. Harlan Martin Adams on October 18, 1939. Mrs. Adams is the former Lois Chapman, who was graduated from the University of Nevada in 1931. She was a member of Phi Kappa Phi.

WE BACK THE PACK

Do You Know That . . .

By JEAN HARRIS

The committee on education that served in the constitutional convention of 1864 and laid the foundation for establishment of the U. of N. was made up of a colonel, two mine-owners, two editors, a lawyer and a lumberman?

On the same day that the act locating the state university in Elko was passed, a conciliatory prize was awarded disappointed Renotes in the form of a bill establishing a new state prison just east of Reno? Some of the old foundations are still standing—across the road from the asylum.

When the university was transferred to Reno and first opened its doors to students on March 31, 1886, its faculty consisted of two men—J. W. McCammon, principal of the preparatory department, and A. H. Willis, head of assaying and mining engineering?

The first dramatic endeavor attempted by the U. of N. was an enthusiastically-received performance of "East Lynne" given Dec. 10, 1886? It was enthusiastic to the tune of $100 profit?

The first physical education offered to the U. of N. coeds was introduced in 1888? The instructor in military tactics, who also served as a professor of languages and drawing, trained the girls in calisthenics, marching them about the campus and drilling them in setting-up exercises.

In the early days of the university there was a touch of real military spirit. In fact, the students were expected to salute the president and male members of the faculty when they met on the campus.

The grandpa of the "Brush," the first newspaper published by the U. of N., was "The Student Record," a semi-monthly publication that sold for 10 cents a copy. The following news item appeared in the first issue on Oct. 19, 1893:

"One morning last week the members of the boys' dormitory had quite a novel experience. Upon arising, they found that some mischievous person had played a practical joke by hiding the pantaloons of each. They thought of beginning a search, but this was impossible for evidently the clothing had been taken away from the building. This difficulty was, however, soon overcome by one suggesting that they get the overalls from the carpenter shop. One can imagine what a ludicrous spectacle they presented, parading over the campus, blustering and threatening some with overalls too long, some with overalls too short, and some with no overalls at all. This state of affairs continued until after the breakfast hour, when the lost trousers were found in the weather observatory. The observer's face wore an innocent expression, and judging from the talk of the boys, he may expect a midnight bath in the Orr ditch."

Professor Griffin, head of the committees of assemblies and lecturers, announced today that no speakers have been asked to address the university student body for the rest of this semester.

THE CATTY CORNER

At the game:
Sad commentary on U. N. Enthusiasm:

The stands were packed, The game was good, The team was pretty swell, The Jensen crew, like Trojans Strove to make the people yell. The band was rife with rhythm And our Elsie did her stuff With the kind of kick a Collins has Concoceted in the rough. The Peppers waved their pompoms And the "rooters rocked with spirit (yeah!)

The TROUBLE was (the awful truth) You couldn't seem to hear it. Matter of fact, the sole customer with any pep at all, that happy character teeming with unbounded enthusiasm, instilled so much spirit into the hitherto lackadaisical student body that he was promptly escorted out by the law!

At the Frosh-Soph Hop: Somebody idles up to Dippy Dooner, casts a critical eye at that ultra-fashionable bustle and asks "Have you got a license for a trailer% . . . and din't the Turano twins, all hoop-skirted and be-ruffled that way, look exactly like an old-fashioned tintype? . . . "Rosie Thompson is Richer for far than he used to be—got love now, looks like—and a hand for Patsy Prescott's swell vocalizing.

Weew-end Notes: The Taus went slightly cocoonuts Friday nite, it seems—anyway, Al McGill looked so comfortable in his pajamas and bathrobe that susceptible souls out at Farley's actually began to yawn, and hie themselves home to their little warm beds—that beautiful little blonde friend of Skippy's couldn't be the crooner from Jack Winston's Calneva orchestra, maybe? . . .

Brain Storm: And if you think for a minute that Robinett is just a big athletic type, you just don't know the man. He has a soul! It seems that the radio rendered "Alexander's Ragtime Band" the other eve and our hero dreamed up this touching ditty in nothing flat. We quote:

"Come on and see, come on and see, Elsie Crabtree's lovely knees.
"Come on and see, come on and see the bestest knees that be
"Have you ever seen her strut to the bugle call?
"She's got EVERYTHING on the ball!
"Just what the Wolf Pack needs for in-spi-ra-tion,
"Down the field, down the field, she is dressing up the band
"Down the field, down the field, she is pepping up the fans.
"Have you ever seen our Elsie swing an dsway t oswing-time?
"Then come and see. Come and see, Elsie Crabtree's lovely knees!"

Joe McLeod, '35, is employed by the Nevada department of weights and measures. While on the campus he was very active, being a member of Blue Key, Coffin and Keys, A. S. U. N. senate and president of the Intrafraternity Council. He was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa.

New Organization Formed on Campus Will Oppose Policies of Nevada Jocks

The Royal Order of Hibernians, an organization for loyal "Wearers O' the Green," has been formed on the campus mainly to compete with the Jocks.

O'Leary, O'Reilly and O'Rourke are the charter members of the organization. At their first meeting this week they passed on O'Toole as the faculty financial adviser of the group.

O'Leary will be remembered as the former Dyer Jensen, University of Nevada yell leader. Since Dyer was considered to be a "good guy" by the other charter members, but was ineligible because of the decided non-Irish quality of his name, a compromise was made and Jensen emerged as O'Leary. Bill Casey and Frank McCulloch, although bearing Irish monickers, decided to keep in the spirit of the thing and emerged as O'Reilly and O'Rourke.

When a vote was taken on the 44 applicants who desired membership in the group, 132 black balls were counted, showing how earnestly the members are trying to choose members for their character and integrity.

The trick step each member performs upon meeting another member on the street is expected to be the talk of the campus.

Nevada Students Not To Participate

For the first time in several years Nevada students will not participate in the northern conference of international relations clubs being held next week at Fresno State College, Dr. Anstole Mazour, advisor for the club, said today.

Dr. Mazour explained that the Nevada students did not feel able to make the trip this year at their own expense while in some instances a time conflict eliminated the opportunity for Nevada delegates to attend.

The conference is sponsored by the Carnegie endowment for international peace, which has established several hundred organizations in the United States and abroad.

WHAT WE THINK

All Fraternity Team
This team is based on the usual characteristics such as ability, teamwork, sportsmanship, etc.

First team:

Player & Organization	Position
Babcock, SAE	Forward
Powers, S. N.	Forward
Hawley, S. N.	Center
Penney, SAE	Guard
Vaughn, L. C. A.	Guard

Second team:

Player & Organization	Position
Walker, SAE	Forward
Ross, P.S.K.	Forward
Pialle, I.N.D.	Center
Hawkins, A.T.O.	Guard
DuPratt, S. N.	Guard

The above team is merely a personal choice and does not reflect the opinion of the Sagebrush or the various organizations.

What Will Happen
When the Wolf Pack and the C. O. P. Bengals tangle on Dec. 2, it will be a big question as to the outcome. The Nevada stock took a big jump last weekend when the Calags held the Bengals to a 21-12 win. Nevada is coming along in good shape finally and it may turn out to be a dog fight when the two teams meet.

Chick-o State College
An article appeared in the above mentioned paper in the last issue, concerning the Nevada football team. It seems that this state college is having squawks from the alumni for a winning football team and a writer on the paper took a crack at Nevada to cover up. Maybe a bit of jealousy was in the fellow's skin and he picked an easy way to get it off his chest. As far as I can remember Nevada has been beating Chico and it is getting so around Reno that we consider this game a breather. It may even come to the point where Nevada can schedule two games on the same date as the Chico game; use them as the preliminary.

Odds and Ends:
The blanks will be sent out this week to all the organizations to choose their official all-fraternity basketball team. People are still talking about the fellow who was helping the band during the half of the Greeley game. There is some talk that Santa Clara, St. Mary's and San Jose are going to form a new conference next year. Don't be surprised to see Nevada in it. Some students are talking about a special to Stockton. This would be a good idea if the band could go but they can't, because they have had their trip this year. All the boys will tell you that a special is a losing deal if the band doesn't make the trip. The frosh will have a tough game on their hands this weekend when they meet Santa Rosa J. C. This outfit won from Dashiell's Stockton eleven 13-6 and beat Marin J. C. 33-0 last week. Special notice: if anyone has lost money by going by my predictions please call to the Sagebrush office for refund (ask for Heckethorn).

Best Bets of the Week:
Frosh over Santa Rosa.
Iowa over Minnesota.
U. C. L. A. over Santa Clara.
Michigan over Penn U.
Notre Dame over Northwestern.
Pittsburgh over Nebraska.
Texas over Texas Christian.
Fordham over St. Mary's.
Georgia Tech over Alabama.
Stanford over Washington State.
Results last week:
Won 5, lost 5.
Total to date:
Won 38, lost 19, tied 3.

Undefeated Frosh, Santa Rosa J. C., Battle Tomorrow

Lack of Reserves May Be Obstacle To Cubs In Big Contest

Coach Jim Bailey's undefeated Wolf Cubs wound up two weeks' intensive practice today in preparation for their big game with Santa Rosa's junior college team tomorrow afternoon.

Working with them for the week has been the entire coaching staff. Coaches Aiken and Schuchardt, taking the week helping Coach Bailey perfect the freshman offense and defense.

Santa Rosa Strong
Santa Rosa, with a record of six wins, one defeat and one tie, comes to the yearlings' hunting grounds with a team of 32 men, nine of whom are playing their last game for Santa Rosa. Santa Rosa's attack is built around the speed of several fast backs. Acorne and Wilson, sprinters on the track team, have accounted for a major portion of Santa Rosa's 121 points scored this season.

Defensively, the Santa Rosans have the best team in years. The tackling of Benedetti at center and Whittaker at quarter, and Pine and Altenreuther at the running guard position, had held the running attack of the best teams in the northern California junior college conference.

Two members of the invading team were named all-conference men in 1938. Gene Benedetti, acting captain for tomorrow's game, and Bob Acorne, at right half-back, received the nod last year over the members of ten other teams in the conference.

So far this season the Santa Rosans have defeated such teams as the Cal Aggie frosh, Stockton J. C., San Jose frosh, Yuba J. C., Menlo J. C. and Marin J. C. The only blots on an otherwise perfect record are a 6-0 defeat at the hands of the Placer J. C.'s and a 0-0 tie with Salinas J. C. Santa Rosa has scored a total of 121 points to the opposition's 35.

Cubs Undecided
Jim Bailey's Cubs are not over-optimistic about the game. "The boys and I realize that meeting a team with 20 reserves, and coming from a school with an enrollment of several thousand is a great handicap," Coach Bailey said.

"With only 17 men in playing condition for tomorrow's game, all we can do is hope that the superior condition of the Cubs will make up for our lack of reserve strength."

So far this year the freshmen have an enviable record. Undefeated so far, and with only two touchdowns scored against them, they have scored a total of 118 points to the 12 scored against them by the Reno high school, an average of over thirty points a game, and a point every two minutes.

Varsity work-outs for the past week were light, and several of the least-experienced second-string varsity men were shifted over to provide the frosh with scrimmage material. This was expected to give the frosh the incentive needed to meet a larger and havier team, and should consolidate their defensive and offensive drive.

Interest on the campus is high about the game. Both teams will be striving to protect their records, and the game is a natural as far as crowd appeal goes.

Salmon Out.
Only set-back to the Cubs this week was the announcement that Warren Salmon, the stocky little guard who turned in such a fine game of ball against Reno on Homecoming day, will be out of tomorrow's game with a knee injury. Although the knee healed somewhat, Salmon injured it again in practice last week, and consequently will not play tomorrow.

Aiken Pleased With Frosh.
Varsity Coach Jim Aiken expressed himself as highly pleased with the manner in which the frosh use the varsity blocks and tackle. Barring unforeseen accidents, the coaches plan to use the 1938 frosh team as a second team on the varsity next year, keeping the Cubs intact. There may be a few of the members who will obtain varsity berths, but on the whole the Cubs will be kept together.

The entire Santa Rosa team, together with two coaches and three managers, will arrive Friday at 5 p. m. The members will stop at a downtown hotel.

Although it is not definitely decided as yet, the Santa Rosa band will probably make the trip with the team. The sixty members of the band will entertain the spectators at the game with maneuvers at half-time.

There will be no admission charge for the game. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:15.

Basketball Squad Continues Practice

New Men Out As Team Begins Conditioning Exercises

With three new men reporting for practice, the 1939 edition of the Nevada basketball squad completed its second week of conditioning exercise in preparation for one of the toughest schedules ever faced by a Wolf squad. The new men are James McNabney, up from last year's junior varsity and a mainstay of the Lambda Chi Alpha team in the recent intra-mural tournament, Bob Taylor, a veteran of the interfraternity matches, having played ball on the powerful A. T. O. teams for the last three years, and Myneer Walker, J. C. transfer who showed up well on the championship SAE team in the recent interfraternity clashes.

Rigid setting-up exercises are being used by Coach Schuchardt in an attempt to round the boys into shape. Football Coach Jim Aiken's method of conditioning is being applied, complete with the "camel-walk," with the result that this year's basket squad will rival the grid men in excellence of condition.

Nothing has been learned of the Schuchardt system of play as yet, "Shuey" being still busy assisting Coach Aiken with the football team. Regular practice is scheduled to start when the football season is completed.

The full squad includes John Radovich, Gordon Thompson, Mitch Cobega, John Etchemendy, John Mayse, John Lemich, Ted Olsen and Lee Conway, all veterans from last year's varsity; Win Babcock, Bob Hawley and Paul Seaborn, who were on last year's frosh team; Roy Penny, Bob Burns and Myneer Walker, transfers from junior colleges, and John DuPratt, Bob Taylor and James McNabney, junior varsity veterans.

'Brush, Artemesia Tangle Tomorrow

By KERNEL COB

Hailed as the gridiron classic of the season, the deceptive Sagebrush tangle seven will tangle tomorrow on Mackay stadium with the much-maligned bookslinging Artemesia squads-men at 11 a. m.

The scribes will field a tricky, clever outfit sparked by Heckethorn, center, with Rhoades and McCullough as backs. Out for vengeance will be the yearbook club, which features a heavy, powerhouse back, as well as defense line noted for their tonnage if not their pigskin ability.

Starting line-up for the Artemesians will be Montgomery and Schumacher, ends, Rives and Gibbs, blocking backs; Ashley and Edwards, full-backs, and Wilcox, center.

Brunt of the play for the 'Brushers will be Yrberry and Armstrong, ends, Parker and Jensen, blocking backs, with Rhoades and McCullough in for fast field work.

According to 'Brush coach Shirely Feutsch, the boys "look in the pink now that the blue has gone from their girls," while Coach Nellie Roseberry of the Artemesia claims that "to make a team, a man's gotta train, he's gotta be tough."

Referee for the game will be a man imported from Ely for the occasion, Al McGill, who favors the 'Brush-men although strictly impartial and unbiased.

V. Carroll Returns Inside Match Box

U. S. Congressman James G. Scrugham, guest of Prof. J. A. Carpenter at the Nevada-Greeley State football game, lit up a cigar during a time-out period.

Professor Carpenter noticed that the picture on the inside cover of the book of matches used by Scrugham looked familiar. Upon closer examination he found that printed on the inside of the matches advertising Ross Company, jewelers, of Washington, D. C., was the autographed picture of "Vic" Carroll, former Nevada grid star.

Underneath the picture was the

Two Injured

Two first-string varsity football players of the University of Nevada are in the hospital this week.

Bob Robinson has been confined to the University of Nevada hospital since Wednesday with an injured ankle, sustained in the Nevada-Greeley State game last Saturday.

Joe McDonald, first string tackle, is resting at St. Mary's hospital while recovering from an operation on an infected ear.

Nevada Debaters To Leave Sunday

Leaving Sunday afternoon, five Nevada debate teams will compete in the Western Association of Teachers of Speech tournament at Stockton, California, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Making the trip this weekend are the veteran varsity debate teams of Robert Joy and James Tranter, Charles Mapes and Russell Strom, Andrew Rosachi and Donald Downs, Bill Casey and James Driscoll, and a trio of women debaters, Kay Devlin, Betty Mason and Helen Lilly.

For weeks the teams have debated among themselves on the question: "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt a Strict (Military and Economic) Isolation Policy Against All Nations Outside the Western Hemisphere Engaged in Armed International or Civil Conflict," which will be the question discussed at Stockton.

Also included in the tournament are extemporaneous speaking, oratory, impromptu speaking and problem solving contests.

Entering these events for Nevada are the following students: extemporaneous speaking, Joy, Tranter, Mapes, Strom; impromptu speaking, Downs, Casey, Driscoll, Rosachi, Devlin, Mapes; oratory, Lilly, Mason, Joy, Strom, Rosachi, Downs. Nevada will not enter a team in the problem solving contest.

All students making the trip this year have had intercollegiate debate experience except Miss Lilly and Miss Mason.

Entered in the senior division of the debate contests for all upperclass teams of major colleges and universities on the west coast will be Joy and Tranter, Downs and Rosachi, Casey and Driscoll, Devlin, Lilly and Mason. In the women's senior division, Devlin and Mason will defend the affirmative side, with Devlin and Lilly upholding the negative.

The team of Mapes and Strom, only Nevada underclass team to go to the tournament, will be entered in the junior division for underclassmen and junior college students.

Professor Robert S. Griffin, Nevada debate coach, expressed a favorable opinion to the debate squad this week when he said "Nevada has a good chance of making a fine showing in the tournament."

Nevada Graduate On S. F. Examiner

James Hammond, University of Nevada Journalism graduate with the class of 1930, is now in charge of the afternoon cable desk of the San Francisco Examiner.

Until recently, Hammond was managing editor of the China Press, Shanghai, China, daily, and special correspondent for the New York Times. He had previously served in various editorial capacities on the Shanghai English language daily.

Upon his return from the Orient, Hammond was offered a post on the cable desk of the New York Times.

When on the campus Hammond was editor of the U. of N. Sagebrush and active in campus affairs.

Inspection Tour Is Made By Civil Engineers

Members of the university student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers made a tour of inspection of the Nevada state highway department testing laboratory last week at Carson City.

Several guides, provided by the state highway department, accompanied the students during the tour.

The next meeting of the university civil engineers will be Nov. 23. Illustrated slides, presented through the courtesy of the American Society of Civil Engineers, showing the construction of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge, will be shown before the group.

Underclass Dance Called Big Success

The first and second year classes of the University of Nevada teamed up last Saturday to give the first underclass dance in several years on the campus.

The dance was featured by the A. T. O. octette, which sang several fraternity songs, and Patsy Prescott, who sang with the orchestra.

The affair was held in the Twentieth Century Club. Decorations consisted of large clusters of multi-colored balloons, plentifully scattered around the room.

NAMES POUR IN FOR NEW "SLISHER" DRINK

With a record number of new and unusual names submitted, the contest to name "Oly" Glusovich's new orange drink is reported to be in full swing by Inspector Pieri, key man of the U. of N. Jocks' Society, the organization which is sponsoring the contest.

The names which the executive committee has passed in this week's elimination include: "The Ptomaine Flip," "Orange Oly," "Elsie's Knees," "Dipsy Downer," "Come and Get It," "Jack-eroo," "Orange-Wolf Special," "O Rye Lee Ro," (submitted by O'Reilly, O'Leary and O'Rourke of the order of Hibernians), and "The Orange Oomph."

All these names are conceded a good chance to cop the honors. The vote is being conducted by means of the ballot box in the Wolf Den, and all students are requested to enter in the competition for the prize of a carton of cigarettes which is being offered for the best name for the drink now known as the "Slisher."

The winner will be announced in next week's Sagebrush.

Fraternities Finish Basketball Season

Postponed intra-mural basketball basketball games were played off this week without affecting the standings of the top teams. Sigma Alpha Epsilon completed its schedule with but one loss to take the championship.

Beta Kappa defeated Lincoln Hall 27-25 Friday night to shove the hall squad into the cellar for the season.

Despite Allen McGill's 13 points for Sigma Phi Sigma, the Phi Sigs took a close game 25-23 Monday night from the Virginia street school team.

Lambda Chi finished the season tied for second place with Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega by virtue of its lop-sided victory over the Independents Monday.

Electrical Engineers Hear Student Talks

Student speeches and general discussion comprised the program of the university electrical engineers meeting held Wednesday.

Short talks were given by E. J. Barrett, '38, local power agent, on "Electrical Service Work;" John Marean, president of the organization, on "Power Construction and Operation" and Roy Shipp discussing Boulder Dam cranes and winding devices.

Following the featured program, a short business meeting was held and refreshments were served.

Demonstration Held

The demonstration and inspection of a motorized trailer unit supplied by the A. J. Morrison Automotive Engineering Company of Sacramento, Calif., was featured at a mechanical engineering meeting.

The demonstration equipment was accompanied by A. J. Morrison, president of the company, and Jennings, an assistant. Morrison spoke to the group on the construction of the motorized units and their application to modern motorized trucking.

Following the speakers' program, the engineers inspected the trailer unit.

Others to be Here

Other institutions which have accepted the invitation to be represented at the ceremonies are the University of Oregon, Stanford University, San Francisco State College, the University of Southern California, Kansas State College, Washburn College, Rutgers University, Iowa State College, University of Kentucky, University of Arkansas, University of Nebraska and Brown University.

Invitations to the event were sent by the inaugural committee to all universities or college members of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, the National Association of State Universities, institutions from which members of the Nevada faculty were graduated, colleges with which Nevada has athletic relations, and many other institutions of higher learning in America.

Many Send Greetings

Several foundations and universities special members of whose staffs have been asked to be present, but who are unable to be in Reno at the time of the inauguration, have sent greetings and congratulations to the university and President Hartman.

Dr. Jossup Can't Attend

Dr. Walter A. Jossup, president of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, has been trying to arrange the affairs of his corporation to be present, but is unable to come on account of a board meeting, Dean Robert Stewart, chairman of the committee of arrangements, said.

"May I extend my best wishes to the university and Dr. Hartman on this occasion so important to the cause of national educational development in Nevada," Dr. Jossup wired Dean Stewart.

Dr. Jossup is the former president of the University of Iowa and of the National Association of State Universities and is a leader in higher education in the United States.

Dr. Frederick B. Hunter, chancellor of Oregon's system of six universities and colleges, also hopes to attend the ceremonies but cannot leave the state at the time of the inauguration.

"Please extend to Dr. Hartman sincere congratulations and best wishes in behalf of himself and the University of Nevada," Dr. Hunter said in a recent wire to Dean Stewart.

President W. O. Mendenhall of Whittier college in Southern California has sent greetings to Nevada's university and its new president.

"May I congratulate the regents on the naming of President Hartman and let me wish for the institution and for him a most satisfying and successful administration through the many years," President Mendenhall said.

Preparations for the inauguration are in the hands of a committee appointed

GOTHIC N POSTPONES ANNUAL FROSH PARTY

At a meeting held this week Gothic N upperclass women's honorary athletic society, decided to postpone its annual freshman party until sometime in January.

The time of the party was changed because there are too many activities already scheduled which will conflict with their original date, Shirley Fuetsch stated.

Every year the Gothic N members act as hostesses to the freshman women who are trying out for W. A. A.

Members attending the meeting were Eileen Angus, Eleanor Goldsworthy and Shirley Fuetsch.

by the board of regents. In addition to Dean Stewart of the college of agriculture, the committee rosters Dean Frederick Wood of the college of arts and science, Dean F. H. Sibley of the college of engineering and Dean F. W. Traner of the school of education.

An entire day will be occupied by the inaugural ceremonies and events in connection with it.

The ceremonies themselves will take place in the University of Nevada gymnasium during the morning, and Dean Stewart today extended an invitation on behalf of the board of regents to the people of Nevada to attend.

Beginning with an academic procession headed by the invited guests from other institutions, state officials and others, the ceremonies will be presided over by S. E. Ross, chairman of the board of regents.

Following the address by Dr. Deutsch Dr. Hartman will be sworn in as the university's president by E. J. L. Taber, chief justice of the supreme court of Nevada, and then will outline his policies as the new head of the University of Nevada. Governor E. P. Carville will represent the state at the inauguration.

A luncheon for the invited guests, sponsored by the board of regents, will follow the ceremonies.

In the evening the regents and faculty will present Dr. and Mrs. Hartman to the people of the state at a reception at the Twentieth Century Club.

in all, our athletic program is costing about $27,000. If this amendment is not accepted a sharp curtailment of about $5000 must be taken," McDonnell said.

This amount would result in a decided cut for all sports and would necessitate our continuing to play such as we have in the past with no possibility of games with Santa Clara or any other coast school, he said.

"Students of Nevada are already enjoying a much more liberal system than is the rule in many of the coast schools," McDonnell continued, "as the students at California and Fresno State must also be responsible for stadium upkeep and field care. They are allowed entrance only to athletic games on their student body cards. This means that they do not receive a yearbook, a newspaper or admission to plays and other university productions. They must pay also for all games outside the regular schedule."

McDonnell also pointed out that the increase would not be used to pay off debts incurred while the university administration handled the athletics as this account was handed over to the students with a clean slate.

There's No Great Mystery about Cigarette Tobaccos

THERE ARE FOUR TYPES of tobaccos found in the more popular cigarettes, namely... Bright, Maryland, Burley and Turkish.

ALL THESE TOBACCOS except Turkish (which is bought direct from the planters in Turkey and Greece) and Maryland (which is bought through sealed bids under government supervision) are bought at public auction, just like any other auction where you might have bought in a table or a chair.

AT THE AUCTION SALE the tobacco is piled in baskets weighing from about 100 to 500 pounds and each purchaser buys all of his tobaccos by competitive bidding for the particular piles he wants.

THE CHESTERFIELD BUYERS buy the best of these mild ripe tobaccos for the Chesterfield blend. And it is Chesterfield's Combination... the right amounts of Burley and Bright... just enough Maryland... and just enough Turkish—that makes the big difference between Chesterfield and other cigarettes.

IT IS BECAUSE of this combination that Chesterfields are COOLER, have a BETTER TASTE and are DEFINITELY Milder. They are made of the world's best cigarette tobaccos. You can't buy a better cigarette.
