

Annual Winter Carnival Goes Into Final Stages This Week

Entire Program Released Today by Chairman McDonald

With only one week to go, final preparations for Nevadas' second winter carnival swung into action with the official program released today by Joe McDonald, carnival chairman, and his committee of 150 students.

It will be a red-hot celebration these three thrill-packed days, with plenty of action from contestants representing the major colleges of the Pacific coast and the intermountain region for 12 teams, with accompanying student delegations are slated to give their best at the winter tournament.

Gala Entertainment
Motion pictures will be taken of the events, gala open house entertainment furnished by all sororities and elaborate cups given by generous merchant donors to winning teams and contestants. Selection of a carnival queen to reign over the festivities will be held at the "snow ball" Saturday evening, while presentation of awards will be made by the judges Sunday afternoon.

As released by the committee, the official program is as follows:

Friday, February 2—
3:30 p. m.: Sorority open house and entertainment.

7:30 p. m.: Skiers' meeting.

8:30 p. m.: Skiers' parade and motion pictures in education auditorium.

10:00 p. m.: Tour of Reno.

Saturday, February 3—
10:00 a. m.: Downhill race.

1:00 p. m.: Lunch at Galena Creek.

1:30 p. m.: Ski chase for inexperienced skiers.

3:00 p. m.: Cross country race at Galena Creek.

Sunday, February 4—
10:00 a. m.: Slalom at Grass Lake.

1:00 p. m.: Lunch at Galena Creek.

1:30 p. m.: Women's slalom at Galena Creek.

2:30 p. m.: Jumping at Galena Creek.

Presentation of awards by judges.

Fris Awards

Cooperating in holding the "open house" entertainment by sororities this year will be the university fraternities.

For the house deemed the most generous in display of hospitality, a cup presented by the Armanco stationery company will be given. Sorority leaders have indicated plenty of competition will be shown at the several houses.

At 7:30 the skiers' parade, comprising all contestants and students interested in tournament, will leave the campus for a trek through the streets of Reno. Professor T. H. Post, music department head, and his 75-piece band with the Swiss yodelers, will lead the way. Pep talks and yells will be staged by Dyer Jensen and an energetic group of varsity pep leaders.

After the parade motion pictures featuring the past triumphs of collegiate ski teams will be shown in the education building auditorium. Skiing in all its multitude of phases will be depicted

Reno High Teacher To Show Art Here

Sketches of water colors by Muriel Goodwin will be presented by the fine arts club at their next exhibit, Miss Thelma Crosby, president of the organization, announced today.

They will be shown at the library beginning Monday and lasting through Friday from 2 p. m. until 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. until 9 p. m.

The pictures were sketched directly with the brush by Miss Goodwin on her trip through Alaska during June and July. Most of them were done at Fairbanks, Juneau and Ketchikan, of land scenes, portraits, flower studies, totem poles and Indian masks.

Miss Goodwin is a graduate of the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland and has attended summer sessions at Columbia University, Mills College, Schaeffer's School of Design, and Shinard's. She teaches arts and crafts and home decoration at Reno high school.

H. Dukes, Hardman, Speak To Engineers

Harry Dukes, city water master, was guest speaker at a meeting held by the university civil engineers last evening.

Dukes spoke upon the subject of the uses of Truckee River water sources. Included in the lecture were practical demonstrations of the use of current meters. Dukes explained their principles and their relation to the measurement of river and stream discharge.

Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons George Hardman, state agricultural coordinator, spoke to the civil engineering hydrology classes on the subjects of tree rings, the forecasting of stream flow and precipitation and the determination of long-time trends in rainfall.

Hardman gave practical demonstrations during his lectures and displayed numerous types of equipment and samples before the group.

MATSON NAMED INTERFRAT SKI PRESIDENT

Charles Matson, junior, member of the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, was named director of the second annual interfraternity ski tournament to be held at Grass Lake Saturday and Sunday. Matson's appointment was made by the executive ski committee.

Matson announced last night that every social group, save one, had entered a team to vie for the ski trophy which will be given the winner of the meet this weekend.

Representatives from the several fraternities who have announced their intention to participate in the tournament are:

Sigma Nu, Bernard Smith, Bob Cameron, Hugh Chesher, Chesley Fremont and Bob Fulton; Beta Kappa, Charles Henrikson, Oliver Henrikson, Sam Osgood, Hank Wells and Bob Atkins; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Warren Hart, Bill Moran, Toby Larson, Bob Roeker and Jack Kearney.

Lambda Chi Alpha, Clifton Prusia, Duane Ramsey, Ray Garamendi, Dick Jameson and Pete Echeveria.

Alpha Tau Omega, Leslie Oppio, William Etchemendy, Don Downs, Jay Gibson and Sam Francovich.

Sigma Phi Sigma, Charles Matson, Bud Young and Jim McDonald.

Lincoln Hall Assn., Bud Owens, Jim Wolf, Harry Dawson, Bill Latimer, John Knemeyer and Louis Perrado.

This year the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will not participate in the interfraternity ski meet.

Contests will be held in the following sequence: downhill, slalom and the cross country. The jumping event was eliminated last year by a vote of the fraternities.

The opening event to be held Saturday will be the cross-country. It will be run off at 12:30 p. m. The downhill will be featured Sunday morning at 10:30, followed by the slalom at 1:00 p. m.

The meet will be supervised by a committee headed by Varsity Coach Wayne Poulsen.

Cadet To Be Given Heroism Award

Cadet Second Lieutenant Raymond Garamendi of Company B, R. O. T. C. battalion will be awarded an honorary badge for the bravery shown in attempting to save former Cadet Sergeant Ralph Isaac.

Lieutenant Garamendi, who, with Thomas Cooke, sophomore student, dove into the icy waters of Virginia Lake on January 16, in an attempt to save the life of Isaac, will be presented the fourragere of the colors of the University of Nevada at the first formal assembly of the cadet battalion, according to an order issued by Major Richard O. Bassett, commandant of cadets, this week.

The order told in detail how "a part of university students were engaged in ice skating at Virginia Lake near Reno, Nevada, about 10 o'clock on the evening of January 16. Former cadet Isaac and a companion, in the darkness unwittingly skated into an unknown spot of deep water at some distance from the remainder of the group. Upon learning what had happened, Cadet Lieutenant Garamendi and Tom Cooke, despite the freezing temperature, drove into the water in their attempt to rescue the skater. Without hesitation and in complete disregard of the most unfavorable weather conditions, to say nothing of the risk they themselves were taking, the two young men engaged upon a most dangerous task, wholly in keeping with the best traditions of humanity."

Rifle Instruction To Begin Monday

Two weeks of preliminary instruction will be given to the women's rifle team beginning Monday, Jan. 29 at 8:15 p. m. Other practices will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7:00.

Regular practices will be held in the armory, following the two week period. Hours for the practices will be set at a later date.

Frances Larraguetta, captain of the team, has announced that girls interested in target work may still enroll in the class. At present about 40 girls have signed up.

Hospitality Cup Given "Open House"

To the sorority judged the most hospitable during the open house period held during the annual winter carnival will go a trophy donated by Ginsburg Jewelry Company, according to Joe McDonald, carnival director.

Each house may provide what entertainment and decoration they wish in order to compete for the prize.

NEVADA MEETS SAN JOSE'S BIG TEAM TONIGHT

Frosh To Play Lassen J. C. As Preliminary To Varsity

Nevada's unpredictable Wolves open their second home stand of the current basketball season tonight when they tackle San Jose's big, tough Spartans in a game beginning at 8 p. m. in the local gym. The frosh play Lassen J. C. in a return game tonight and Lovelock high school tomorrow night as preliminaries.

Pack Hot and Cold

Just what the Pack will do in the series is as unpredictable as a whirlwind. So far this season they've blown hot and cold with amazing regularity, losing two to S. F. State, reversing the procedure over St. Mary's, and then dropping two more to Chico.

If they follow form according to that schedule, the Spartans should be in for a very tough weekend of ball because the Pack that beat St. Mary's here almost two weeks ago can give any team on this year's schedule all the game that will fit into 40 minutes of playing time.

Schuchardt Discouraged

However, during practice throughout the week the Wolves looked like anything but that kind of a squad. Coach Charles Schuchardt expressed himself as "pretty discouraged" over the showing and could see little hope for another series sweep again tonight and tomorrow.

The entire squad, second string and all was away off in its shooting, passing and timing, and play in general tended to be just a little listless.

Second String Good

One encouraging spot of light breaking through the gloom was the showing the second string made in Chico.

Put into the game only a few minutes after it had begun, they began to hack the Chico lead down little by little and it was only after giving the Wildcats their score of the season that they went under by a seven-point margin.

Hawley Outstanding

Particularly encouraging was the showing of Bob Hawley, tall sophomore center, who poured in 11 points for high-point honors. Since Radovich has been high-point man in every other game played this year, that gives Schuchardt two dangerous men to employ alternately at the all-important pivot spot.

In the Spartans, the Pack will be facing a team something like itself—one in the process of building up for better years to come. However, despite the fact that the first ten men of the San Jose roster is studied heavily with sophomores, they are reputedly smooth and as cool a bunch of boys as any senior outfit on the coast.

In the past two weeks they have dumped Fresno, split with College of the Pacific and lost a series to Santa Barbara, but reports from California have it that the team was apparently far off form against Santa Barbara and should be back in top shape again tonight.

Other Wolves

In addition to that, Bob Cameron in the downhill, slalom, and cross country; Warren Hart in the jumps, slalom and downhill; Toby Larsen in the same events as Cameron, Frank Titus in all four and Charley Mattson and others are all expected to crowd the best any of the other ten teams entered can offer.

Teams Entered

Leading the college competition, according to all advance dope, will be the University of Utah with U. C. L. A. right on the heels of the Utes.

Other college teams entered include Cal Tech, University of Oregon, Stanford, the University of California and the Cal Aggies, while San Jose will come if it can possibly be arranged.

Junior colleges entered are Modesto, Placer and Sacramento.

Raymond Swingle Given Scholarship

Raymond Swingle, sophomore mining student, today was named a recipient of a $300 newly-formed scholarship presented by the women's auxiliary of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

The scholarship fund, according to Mrs. Roy A. Hardy, president of the women's auxiliary of the Nevada section of the A. I. M. E., had been granted the University of Nevada by the national New York headquarters.

Stipulations for the scholarship provide for a continuance of the award, providing the candidate maintains a scholastic standing as set by the board.

Mrs. Hardy said there were some 23 other such scholarships throughout the United States and they, too, were supported by the wives of mining engineers.

Upperclass Group Punishes Women

Freshman women not wearing blue and white bows or carrying freshman Bibles will be called before the Women's Upperclass Committee, it was decided at the first committee meeting of the year held Wednesday.

The committee said the offenders would be ordered to wash and thoroughly clean the stage in the education building.

COACH POULSEN PESSIMISTIC AS CARNIVAL NEARS

Lack of Condition, Change In Rulings, Will Hurt Nevada Team

With only a week of practice left to round his squad into shape before its intercollegiate competition of the year, Varsity Ski Coach Wayne Poulsen described the condition of his team as "frankly lousy."

"Not a man on the team, with the possible exception of the Hendrickson brothers, is performing anything close to par," he said. "I can't see a chance for any kind of showing at the Winter Carnival next week unless we improve more than I think is possible in the few days left."

New Ruling

Poulsen listed lack of condition and practice and a new ruling requiring that every entrant in any college meet must enter at least three events or not enter competition at all as main causes for his pessimism.

"With the amount of practice we've had, it's almost impossible to expect these kids to be able to enter three events and do anything in them," the coach said. "Most of them have been concentrating their efforts on one, or, at the most, two events, so the third will probably be almost a total loss for most of them."

Not Too Black

Despite Poulsen's lack of enthusiasm, most local fans conceded the Wolves at least an even break in the meet. In the first place, they'll be skiing on their home grounds, before a home crowd on familiar courses, and that is as much of a psychological aid to the snowmen as it is to any other athletic team.

Sun Valley Results

In the second place, three members of the squad, Fraser West, Toby Larsen and Bob Roeker, all got much-needed and very valuable competition in the recent nine-state meet at Sun Valley. Roeker managed to place well up in the jumps, while West and Larsen, both did nearly as well in their specialties. Roeker, who is at his best with a long run before the jump, was handicapped by a very short run at the Idaho ski center and a very thin covering of snow. With nearly three feet of snow at Grass Lake and a much longer takeoff approach, he should come through for a far better performance.

In addition to that, it's only logical to assume that the final week of practice before the meet will get more and better results than any other equal period of time since the workouts began. If such is the case, then the squad should be as close to tops in shape as possibly could be expected.

Hendrickson Good

Then, fourth, there's the showing the Hendrickson brothers, Tahoe Ski Club stars last winter, have made of late. Both are crowding Roeker closely in the jumps and have shown almost as much stuff in the downhill and slalom. Poulsen is counting on both for a good share of points during the coming season.

Other Wolves

In addition to that, Bob Cameron in the downhill, slalom, and cross country; Warren Hart in the jumps, slalom and downhill; Toby Larsen in the same events as Cameron, Frank Titus in all four and Charley Mattson and others are all expected to crowd the best any of the other ten teams entered can offer.

Teams Entered

Leading the college competition, according to all advance dope, will be the University of Utah with U. C. L. A. right on the heels of the Utes.

Other college teams entered include Cal Tech, University of Oregon, Stanford, the University of California and the Cal Aggies, while San Jose will come if it can possibly be arranged.

Junior colleges entered are Modesto, Placer and Sacramento.

R. O. T. C. Nominates Company Sponsors

Nine coeds were nominated for honorary company captains at the regular R. O. T. C. battalion formation this afternoon. Each company and the band named three candidates; the final election will be next Friday.

Company A's nominees were Mary Kathryn Carroll, Rita Turano and Emily Turano.

Company B named Margaret Hermansen, Betty Lee Perry and Jeanette Rives.

Candidates for Company C are Fritz Jane Neddenreip, Bette Cochran and Aileen Smith.

The band nominated Ruth Harris, Billie Jean Stinson and Gloria Day.

The company captains will have an important part in the annual military ball scheduled Feb. 17, and will represent their respective companies in all parades and special drills and formations, according to Robert Grenis, captain of Scabbard and Blade.

DAVID HARTMAN, ROSS ASHLEY WINNERS IN PRIMARY ELECTION

CAST SELECTED AS U. N. PLAY IS REHEARSED

Having rounded out the cast, play director Edwin Semenza this week started preliminary rehearsals for "Ah, Wilderness," the first of two plays to be given by the University play production department this semester.

The play chosen is one of Eugene O'Neill's smash hits of six years ago, it having been awarded the Pulitzer prize, top ranking for American produced plays, in 1933. It involves the experiences of an adolescent high school boy who, after being valedictorian of his class, falls in love and writes torrid poems professing his love for a junior in high school; this all leads to entanglements with his girl's father and many minor difficulties with his own family.

The cast for the play includes only four players with former university stage experience, but it gives Semenza an opportunity to develop actors for the next play this spring and for the next two or three years as most of the parts are filled by sophomores.

The part of Richard Miller, the errand son, is filled by Lee Strauch, who appeared in a university play last spring in a minor role.

Grant Sawyer, the star of last fall's opus, plays the part of Richard's father, while the role of Richard's mother is filled by Jean Brannin, a newcomer to Nevada's theater world.

Sid Davis, the Miller children's drunken uncle, is portrayed by Joe McDonald, who is also making his debut in dramatics. The part of Lillie Miller, Mr. Miller's sister and the secret sorrow of Sid, is in the hands of Dorothy Snider.

Gloria Day appears as Dick's girl, Muriel McComber. She is the chief contributor to all of Dick's worries through her naive acceptance of the contents of his poems as being the essence of truth.

Other roles: Arthur Miller, Bill Curtis; David Miller, Ridgely Pierson; Muriel McComber, Forrest McQueen; Belle, Ethel Hardy; Nora, Bonnie Goldwater; Bartender, Charles Matson; salesman, Bill Andrews; Tommy Miller, Al Weihe (Reno high school student); Wint Selby, unfilled.

The play is scheduled for presentation in the education building auditorium the nights of Feb. 20, 21, 22.

Evelyn Bulmer, senior student, who has appeared in a number of campus productions in the past, is serving as assistant director on this play.

Dancing Class Set For This Semester

Co-recreational dancing classes for students on the campus who do not dance will be given by the women's athletic association this semester.

According to Audrey Stewart, fellow in the department, the course will be given every Thursday evening from 5 until 6 o'clock and will be held for those who cannot dance but are eager to learn.

"It will start with the very rudiments of ballroom dance and etiquette and will advance according to the ability of the group," she added.

The first meeting of the group was held at five o'clock in the afternoon of January 18 in the gymnasium.

Women Start Archery Practice

Preliminary shooting in preparation for the annual intercollegiate archery tournament began yesterday.

Hereafter practices will be held at least twice a week until the regular tournament begins on Feb. 12.

Following a few weeks' "warm-up", the archers will go into inter-mural competition in an attempt to secure the archery trophy now held by Beta Sigma Omicron sorority.

Archers eligible to participate in the inter-mural tournament are Lola Frazer, Marcel Bawden, Sarah Bawden, Viola Sorensen, Mildred Riggle, Grace Ammonette and Earlmound Baker.

UNIVERSITY SINGERS HAVE PROGRAM PART

The university singers will take part in a program to be presented at the state building Feb. 1 in connection with the nationwide Finnish relief fund drive.

The university group, under the direction of Professor Theodore Post, will present three songs written by Jean Sibelius, famous Finnish composer. These will include his famous "Finlandia" and two other well known works.

On the same program a technicolor motion picture of scenes in Finland will be shown.

The program will start at 8 p. m. and admission will be one dollar.

OFFICIALS EXPEL UNDERCLASSMAN

One student, an underclassman, was expelled from the university this week by the committee on student affairs, according to an official announcement last night.

The grounds upon which the man was disqualified were given as "conduct which is unbecoming to a gentleman."

His name was withheld from publication by the governing group.

Engineers' Day Program Arranged By Committee

The program of the University Associated Engineers for the annual Engineers' Day celebration, to be held on March 9, will be centered about three featured highlights, according to reports from the Engineers' Day committee members this week.

Friday evening, March 8, the university engineering students and faculty will be banqueted at the university dining hall. Saturday from noon to 9 p. m. the engineering exhibits will be displayed in the engineering buildings and several contests among engineering students will be held. To crown the evening a combination Associated-Blue Key dance will be given in the gymnasium, which is scheduled to begin at 9:30.

Additional appointments were recently made to the Engineers' Day committee. Those named were Eugene Jahn, Down Townsend, Fred Heinen, Chet Evans, Bill Mitchell, Abbott Charles, Hale Tognoni, Gene Mastroianni, Mathew Laking and Bill Orr.

Named by their respective organizations to head exhibit committees for the annual affair were Cyril Ham, representing the electrical engineering department, and Harry Morgan, who will represent the civil engineering group.

The Associated Engineers will meet Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock in the electrical building, where other plans for the annual affair will be discussed.

Recreation Period Begins Tomorrow

Inaugurating a series of play periods to be continued throughout the semester, a student recreation hour will be held in the gymnasium Saturday afternoon.

Recreational hours will be held every Saturday afternoon between 3 and 4 p. m., starting tomorrow afternoon. Badminton, volleyball, ping pong and shuffleboard will be offered. All college students are welcome.

Saturday's session will be free of charge, but thereafter a small charge of five or ten cents will be made to cover use of equipment.

The play periods, instituted by the women's physical education department, will be held so students on the campus may have an opportunity to indulge in various sports.

Electrical Engineers Outline Activities

Members of the university Electrical Engineering Society met at the home of Professor S. G. Palmer Thursday, Jan. 18, where an outline of semester activities and Engineers' Day plans were discussed.

Cyril Ham was named chairman of the electrical engineering exhibit committee for Engineers' Day.

Those present at the meeting were Professor I. J. Sandorf, Roy Shipp, David Hartman, Kermit Gardner, Ross Mortensen, Harry Dawson, Eugene Jahn, Cyril Ham, Bill Potter, Curtis Thomas and the host, Professor S. G. Palmer.

Wylie and Cantlon Named Bible Heads

Wilfred Wylie and Mary Margaret Cantlon, sophomore students, were appointed heads of the 1940-41 student handbook, by Acting Study Body President Gertrude Freeman this week.

Wylie will serve as editor and Miss Cantlon as business manager of the publication.

The handbook, often referred to as a "frosh bible", is an official publication of the associated students of the university. It is published every school year and contains administrative laws and records of the A. S. U. N. Every freshman student is required to have the handbook.

Heads of last year's book were Frank McCulloch, editor, and Dyer Jensen, business manager.

Ted Olsen Elected Senior Manager

Heavy Vote Is Cast In Today's Special Balloting

David Hartman and Ross Ashley were nominated for student body president at a special primary election today.

Hartman with 260 votes, led the field in the balloting which had a total of 629 votes cast. Ashley, the other candidate who will run in the final election next Friday, had 150 votes.

Gordon Thompson was third with 143 votes and Loyal Willis placed fourth with 66.

Ten ballots cast were declared void.

In the election for senior class manager, Ted Olsen took 59 votes to defeat Robert Cameron, the only other candidate, who received 48.

Olsen is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity; Sundowners and the Block N Society. A letterman in basketball, he is one of the outstanding guards ever to play at Nevada.

Aggies To Sponsor Essay Contest

Announcement of a new award to be available to students in the college of agriculture was made this week by Dr. Wittwer, head of the department of agricultural economics.

Prizes for the best and second best papers on farm and livestock production will be offered by the Nevada Livestock Production Credit Association of Reno.

Seventy-five dollars will be given for first prize and $25 for the second. Papers are limited to 2,000 words.

To be eligible for the award, students must be registered as students in the college of agriculture, University of Nevada, from the beginning of the fall term, 1940, to the end of the spring term, 1941. They must be registered from Nevada or from Mono or Alpine counties or the Sierra valley, California.

Papers are to be presented by the authors at the annual meeting of stockholders of the donor association in January or February of 1941. Winning essays will be selected at that time.

Dr. Vance To Speak Before Campus Club

Dr. E. P. Vance will be the principal speaker at the first meeting of the semester of the Campus Club of the Federated church. His topic will be "Shall Education be Limited to the Head and Feet?"

Dr. Vance is a member of the university mathematics department. He received his bachelor's degree at Wooster College and his Ph. D. from Michigan.

According to Beulah Leonard, president of the group, arrangements have been made for the girls who live in the dormitories to hold the dinner at 6:15 and the meeting at 7:45. All students are welcome.

Year Book Staff To Be Announced

The permanent staff of the 1940 Artemesia will be announced in next week's Sagebrush. Nellie Roseberry, editor, announced Thursday.

The Artemesia is progressing well at the present time, Miss Roseberry said. For the next two weeks all staff members will work on completing the panels. The book is well ahead of schedule this week and is also in advance of the work completed by last year's staff at a corresponding time.

The staff is being cut to the minimum number of members required to complete the annual. If the present plan is followed, the book will be issued sometime during senior week, giving all students ample opportunity to obtain their annuals before leaving for their homes.

Drive For Funds Conducted by B. K.

The Blue Key service organization is conducting a drive to sell tickets for the president's birthday ball on Jan. 30 in the fight against infantile paralysis.

Each organization on the campus has been given tickets to sell to the dance, and the group which turns in the largest amount of money will receive cash prizes. The first prize will be $25 and the second $15, members said.

All profits from the ball are to be added to the fund of the nationwide drive against infantile paralysis this week.

Do You Know That . . .

By JEAN HARRIS

Morrill hall has had several narrow escapes from annihilation, the most dangerous one occurring in the autumn of 1895. In the eastern half of the basement a study hall for the men was fitted up where they could sit in comfort around a huge table in a well-lighted room with a great old-fashioned stove to make things warm and cheerful.

One day, finding the chairs growing decrepit, all the lads perched in a row along the edge of the great study table. Swinging in unison from side to side, they set up an extraordinary rhythmic motion not contemplated by any maker of tables. The motion grew more vigorous, the table resisted stoutly creaked and groaned and then suddenly and utterly collapsed, sending the students sprawling in all directions. Then, because the room seemed suddenly quite chilly, the happy lads broke up the chairs and stuffed them in the stove. The wind was blowing vigorously so that the stove soon was red hot. The boys worked industriously and fed the fire with chairs until the whole stove and pipe went red to the ceiling—in fact, until the building itself was blazing above the stove. There was a mad rush for buckets and the fire was soon controlled.

"The next roster of students published in the university register failed to show the names of these enthusiastic gentlemen, and a great peace descended upon the campus."

More about our U. of N. presidents . . . After the death of President Stubbs in 1914, Robert Lewers, the wise and conservative vice-president, headed the U. of N. until the fall semester of the same year, when the regents appointed Archer W. Hendrick, a graduate of the University of Toronto. He's the pleasant-looking gentleman in the second picture to your left on the way into the reading room of the libe.

President Hendrick was chosen by the board because increases in federal funds for special purposes had led the regents to place greater emphasis upon the business aspects of the institution; therefore, they had appointed a man who was adept in the promotion of business organizations.

President Hendrick had a most attractive personality. He was bluff, hearty and jolly; but in the course of his administration he had the misfortune to antagonize many of the students, the more conservative elements of the faculty and several prominent and loyal supporters of the U. of N. Serious criticism was aroused because he refused to engage actively in the fight against the gambling, the saloons and the red light evils of Reno. It later became known that he had quietly enlisted the cooperation of the city officials in an effort to keep the students away from the evil resorts.

A spirit of uncertainty and unrest, coupled with a high nervous tension over the upset financial system of the U. of N., rendered Hendrick's term rather unpopular. He resigned in January of 1917 and went into banking in California.

Among the many other services he has rendered the U. of N., Samuel B. Doten, class of '98 and director of Nevada agricultural experiment station since 1913, has written the finest history of this institution yet published. He has not only carried his research into the old files and documents to gather authentic factual material, but he has gone to the very men and women who contributed to the history he has written.

Doten's book, "An Illustrated History of the University of Nevada," published at this institution in 1924, contains many interesting and amusing stories and pictures depicting the growth and development of the school. It would be interesting to you—just to glance through it—if not to read it—it's in the libe, 318.73, N 41d.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC HITS U. N. CAMPUS

The current influenza epidemic, held by Reno doctors, to be the worst in recent years, has touched the campus lightly.

The infirmary reported very few treatments of colds. Dean Quilici, Dayton freshman, and George Tweedy, junior, were admitted Monday with a severe cold. Ruth Stock, freshman, was treated for a slight fracture of the ankle sustained while she was skating on Manzanita lake.

Slight colds produced by the current inclement weather have been the main cause of the many absences noted in various classes throughout the week.

Summer Session To Open June 17

The 1940 session of the University of Nevada summer school will be held June 17 to July 26. Catalogues will be available March 1 and may be obtained from the secretary of the school board of education, the registrar said this week.

Courses will be offered in subjects required for bachelor's and masters' degrees, as well as courses aiding in the attainment of elementary, primary and secondary school teaching certificates. Courses in regular arts and science subjects will be included.

Students now enrolled in college will be given the opportunity to bring up the subjects in which they are delinquent up to the required standard and they may also lighten future class schedules by matriculating in courses that otherwise would be required during regular scholastic periods, Dr. Harold Brown, director of the summer school, said.

In addition to the members of the faculty regularly engaged on the campus, six new instructors have been secured to aid in conducting the classes scheduled for the session. Courses available will include history, English, psychology, school law, constitutional history of the United States and the constitution of Nevada. All classes are scheduled for the morning hours only.

Last year's enrollment numbered approximately 150, but a larger number is expected this year because of the many out-of-state queries.

Ten Names Added To Ski Committee

Ten additional University of Nevada students were added this week to the Winter Carnival committees by Joe McDonald, director of the affair.

Secretarial staff: Marie Williams, Molly Morse and Fritz Jane Neddenrip.

Tickets: Yvonne Rosasco, Nonie Goldwater, Rita and Emily Turano. Dance committee: Anne Kirkwood. Reception: Mildred Brendel, Alice Savage, Sally Robinson and Gloria Day.

Publicity: Betty Hull.

CARE IS GIVEN UNIVERSITY TREES

A crew of four caretakers have been busy during the last three weeks sawing off branches, clearing shrubbery and pulling up stumps in a program designed to clean up the campus during the winter months.

John Rosasco, caretaker of the university campus, is being assisted by three WPA workmen whose job it is to cut off excess limbs from trees and clean out the "suckers," small shoots of bushes. They are also pulling up stumps of old poplar trees which were cut down many years ago to make room for the present elms on the campus.

It is necessary to do this work in the winter when the sap is not so near the surface, workmen explained.

The men will probably be employed for three weeks more finishing the entire campus.

Pres. L. W. Hartman Receives Goodwill Acknowledgement

Dr. Leon W. Hartman received a goodwill acknowledgement from Winnemucca and Lovelock upon his visit there last Thursday and Friday as guest of honor of the two towns.

Dr. Hartman arrived in Winnemucca Friday morning and spoke briefly to the students of the Winnemucca grammar school. That afternoon he addressed the students at an assembly at Humboldt county high school and was given the official greetings of the city of Winnemucca by Mayor C. Hoskins.

The university administrator was guest speaker at a banquet held for him that evening by the Lions Club and the Humboldt Chamber of Commerce. The affair was attended by all civic bodies of the county, the Parent-Teachers' Association and many interested persons.

While in Lovelock the day before, he spoke before the student body of Pershing county high school in the afternoon and to the Parent-Teachers' Association that night.

"I was well pleased with my trip to Winnemucca and Lovelock and am very grateful for the reception accorded me," Dr. Hartman said.

Doctor Speaks At Pre-Med. Meeting

ELSIE AND HER KNEES ARE KEPT BUSY

Elsie Crabtree's strutting, dimpled knees and swinging baton proved to be very busy this Christmas vacation. On Dec. 20, Elsie returned to Los Angeles from Bartlett, Tex., where she led Santa Claus and his seven reindeer in a Christmas parade for the Texas township.

"My biggest thrill while there," Elsie said, "was when Jack Cain, sensational sophomore halfback of the University of Texas, escorted me to see the football game between Southern Methodist and Texas Christian University. Gee, it was swell!"

From the time of Elsie's arrival in Los Angeles, her pompous steps began to lead numerous parades in that city and vicinity.

At Gilmore stadium on Dec. 24, Elsie resumed her role of drum maquette and led a parade of Pacific coast all-stars during a football game between the college all-stars and the Los Angeles Bulldogs. She also led a New Year's parade during the Santa Ana frolic.

Elsie will not attend the university this semester, but hopes to return to this school next fall.

At present she is in Los Angeles, only waiting to be again in Reno on the first of February to lead the ski carnival parade, she says.

Joe Jackson, '32, is now state editor of the Reno Evening Gazette.

When he was in the university he was affiliated with the Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity, Mask and Dagger, Desert Wolf, publicity manager of Campus Players, interfraternity council and was editor of the Sagebrush during his fourth year.

Coeds Problems Told By Fuetsch At A. W. S. Meet

"University standards of social and intellectual behavior should be set by college women and the men will follow," Mrs. Helene Turner Fuetsch told the Associated Women's Student Body at a meeting yesterday.

A University of Nevada student who had, since her graduation in 1932, held the position of associated dean of women in several universities, Mrs. Fuetsch talked to the group of coeds on "Women's Responsibilities on the Campus."

"The social and intellectual problems vary with the location of the college, and college women must learn to think for themselves in preparation for these problems and the problems of life," she said. "Because Nevada is composed of students from cities, small towns and rural communities, the campus problems are of many types and must be dealt with accordingly. It is the business of the coeds to endeavor to bring about the solution of these problems."

An announcement that intramural basketball had already begun, and an explanation of eligibility for membership on the teams were presented during the meeting.

Dean Margaret E. Mack reminded members of the group that the Associated Women's loan fund was still available and suggested that girls still holding notes on the fund should repay their loans before or during the next week.

University Professor Speaks At Dinner

Dr. Vance of the university mathematics department was the guest speaker at the Campus Club dinner last Sunday evening. Miss Ella Corbett played two violin solos and a serenade was given by G. Pierre and Kujawiak by Wienlawskel.

Those present were Vida Jacobsen, Kermit Gardner, Elona Van Sickle, Grace Amonette, Ella Corbett, Virginia Boitano, Lanier Feemster, Harlan Laufman, I. L. Dresser, Bernard Hooper, Mary Boylan, Russel Rivers, Viva Leonard, Beulah Leonard, Dr. and Mrs. Vance, Silas Feemster, Mary Higgins, Rev. and Mrs. Case.

Next Sunday there will be a musical program at five o'clock upstairs in the Federated church. This will be followed by a joint meeting of the Campus Club and the Hi X Club at 6:30 for the purpose of dedicating a new cross which is to be used by these groups.

Paul Aznarez, 38, is now employed by the Peterson Elder Freight Lines of Reno. While attending school he was a member of Scabbard and Blade, Sagers, Upperclass Committee and the Block N Society. He was house manager of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Past Rush Season Said Successful

Evelyn Bulmer, president of Panhellenic council, stated that rush season was very successful, with eleven women pledged by four University of Nevada sororities Saturday. Pi Beta Phi and Delta Delta Delta each pledged four girls, Kappa Alpha Theta, two and Gamma Phi Beta, one.

Those pledged by Pi Beta Phi are Betty Hull, Pat Goodman, Hazel Eather and Sue Brannon.

Delta Delta Delta pledged Jean Cave, Lisle Beamon, Peggy Connolly and Mary Margaret Mason.

Mary Elizabeth Wood and Betty Ricker pledged Kappa Alpha Theta, and Betty Nash, Gamma Phi Beta.

"Last year the Panhellenic council decided to give money to the sorority houses to help pay bills of each house. Another meeting will be held before planning for a Panhellenic dance," Miss Bulmer said.

New Policies of Women's Finance Control Board

1. Favor maintaining extreme care to see that no abuse is made of funds available, i. e., not using them just because they are there.

2. Organizations in which money is made shall not petition Women's Finance Control for additional funds.

3. Unrecognized organizations shall not petition for funds. (It is suggested that some administrative or student governing group be authorized to designate those organizations which are to be "recognized" on this campus, and supervise the intent and purpose of newly-organized groups.)

4. It is suggested that, through a blanket amendment to the constitution, or a revision of the women's finance control board, section 3a, it become established that funds remaining in the treasury at the end of the school year will automatically revert to the central treasury.

5. This will establish a fairly stable amount each year for use in women's activities, at the same time eliminating the possibility of money accruing in an unused fund which might be spent in one year by a less conservative board.

6. It is suggested that the graduate manager be given supervision of women's finance control budgets, thus maintaining a central disbursing agency and uniform bookkeeping.

7. Constructive activities for women are to be encouraged.

8. Policies, regulations, etc., of women's finance control board shall be made public to avoid misunderstanding.

9. Provisions as set forth in the constitution shall be closely adhered to.

Campus Choral Club To Give Presentation

The Campus Choral Club and volunteers are planning a public presentation of the musical scores in Mendelssohn's "Elijah" sometime in the near future. The vocal scores are now available and arrangements have been made for procuring the orchestration through the advisory board of patrons of the Reno Choral Union, of which the Choral Club is a part.

According to Professor Theodore Post, the music will be comparable to that of Handel's "Messiah," which was presented here this Christmas for the third season by the 125 singers of the Choral Union.

Selections from "Elijah" will be given by the same group in the municipal auditorium at the spring concert later in the semester.

Officers of the singing organization also are planning on presenting the work in dramatic form next year.

A meeting of Cap and Scroll, honorary women's organization, will probably be held next week, according to Pat Meaker, president of the group.

A REAL FIGHTER

There usually comes in the lifetime of everyone a period or incident when life seems unbearable—when one wonders if it is worth while after all.

Many, when this time arrives, rise up in rebellion and refuse to continue. Others, with the support of sympathy and outside assistance, manage to push on; and there are a few who keep on fighting—never flinching—never quitting.

The last of these applies to a member of our student body, one James Hart, who for the past fourteen months has been suffering from a badly broken leg.

There most certainly must have been times during those fourteen months when Hart wondered if "tough luck" wasn't laying it on a bit too strong, and if eight months in the hospital wasn't a bit too much for one small fellow.

Whether he did or not no one ever knew—for Hart never flinched—never stopped battling—even when the odds were against him. Even in the midst of his misfortune Hart always had a smile and good word for everyone—something that has and probably always will be one of his attributes.

Hart's back to school now, limping around on his crutches. You won't find him complaining or offering excuses, for he doesn't know such things exist.

THE MEANEST MAN IN TOWN

There are good and bad everywhere, it seems. And the odd thing about it is that where you find the first the latter is usually skulking near-by.

Such was the case two weeks ago when two university students attempted to rescue a friend from death in the icy waters of Virginia Lake.

Last week we dealt with the good deed of Tom Cooke and Ray Garamendi; today we will tell you about unscrupulous thievery of the party or parties who took Garamendi's watch and pen and Cooke's sweater. Cooke, however, has gained his lost property.

It's hard to believe that anyone could be so mean and thoughtless as to steal from two students who would risk their lives for another. And yet the fact remains that someone did take the articles which were very dear to those who lost them.

It must be that someone wasn't thinking right on that tragic night.

HELP US

We want to remind you that it's an old American tradition to help those who help you.

In this case the ones we urge you to help are the Sagebrush advertisers. Advertising is the lifeblood of any newspaper; advertising determines the number of pages of news each week's 'Brush will have; and advertising determines whether or not there will be an issue of our student publication.

Sagebrush advertisers are supporters of the University of Nevada, and quite naturally are interested in its progress, for Nevada's progress will reflect in proportion to their own advancement.

Quite naturally, the advertisers expect some return for their investment. Their investment helps carry along the expenses of the paper, and without their help the paper would not be able to carry on.

It is the obligation of every student of the university to support these backers who place their trust and business in you. We know that you will not fail to support these advertisers, because by your support of them you will actually be supporting us.

The newspapers of America are an official agency of a democratic government—Professor A. L. Higginbotham.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep appreciation and heartfelt thanks to Austin lodge No. 9, I. O. O. F., Austin Rebekah lodge No. 13, Ross-Burke and Company, the many organizations and to our relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness, words of comfort and floral offerings during our recent bereavement.

In particular we wish to thank the Reno fire department, Washoe county and Reno police officers, Ray Garamendi, Tom Cooke, John Ginnocchio and the men of Lincoln hall for their valiant work and kindly acts.

Mr. and Mrs. ELMER J. ISAAC
ELMER L. ISAAC
JOSEPH E. ISAAC.

Engineers Meet

Members of the student society of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers met at the home of Professor S. G. Palmer last evening, where a general business meeting was held by the organization.

Electrical engineering exhibits and plans for Engineers' day were discussed at the meeting and plans for the spring meetings and schedule of programs and special speakers were also outlined.

Roy Shipp, former vice chairman of the group, was named chairman of the electrical society, succeeding John Marcan, former chairman, who graduated from the university at Christmas time.

Salty's Sage lish

Well, perhaps they were threatened by the bombs or something, but anyway the Tri-Delts certainly went in a big way to the tactics of those great big army officers from the flying fortresses. It's really too bad that the college studes around here don't have airplanes, too.

Skiing is a fine sport and the opportunities it offers to the elite of the class affected by the arrows of cupid are a wonder to behold. Witness the attempt of Bob Singleton to teach Margaret Sears to ski. They say that the little man with the bow helps on the falls.

Latest report from the women's P. E. department announced that ice skating is to be included in the regular curriculum. Here's hoping the party doesn't fall through.

Do you know what the boys say about a certain young lady from Sparks? No? Well, then, I'll tell you: "She's only an engineer's daughter. But woo! woo!"

The prospect that he may some day don a uniform has considerably enhanced the romantic side of Walter Wilcox's personal ledger. "They had a big night of it," is the way an interested eyewitness characterizes his recent trip to Carson City with Virginia Pozzi.

This epidemic of fountain concoctions in honor of one thing or another has brought to mind the good old days of prohibition when everyone in the country was willing to tell you about his own invention at the slightest provocation. We are waxing poetic about this situation. Started by the Jocks with their famous "Slusher" contest, the torch has been grabbed by a local firm who have named a fresher in honor of Nevada's ski meet.

The "good old days" of their grand old ways,

Of contests, gags and puzzles.
Have flown afar to the enduring scorn

Of the college boy who guzzles.
Tho then the drinks were a little rough

With contents alcoholic
Departed quite a rosy glow
But not a case of colic
Nevada's "Slusher", quite quite a bang

Makes some quite ill as a pup.
It's caused our Oly to say in glee
"The business is coming up."
And now the "Snow Ball"; frosty, cool,

To linger o'er a while
And get one in a mellow mood
For lusty shouts, "Ski Hell!"
Oh, bygone days, with cocktails strong

We now get sick, celebrating
The things we swill for publicity
Are not inebriating.

Our hat's off to Del Stewart and John Naughton this week. These two gentlemen, and they alone, did the impossible recently when they made King Karmacher come through. The story, as related, is that the King, after thoroughly soaking himself, tried his usual tactics, but Stewart and Naughton didn't let him get by . . .

Max Jensen, '38, is now sports editor of the Reno Evening Gazette. When Jensen was in university he was president of the Independents, in the senate, senate executive committee, senate nominating committee, men's superclass committee, president of Coffin and Keys, chairman of the publication board, Press Club president, Blue Key, Sagers and he was graduate manager during fall of '38 and spring of '39.

Tribute in Memory of Mr. S. Frank Hunt

A westerner by adoption, Mr. S. Frank Hunt's primary interest was in the mining world, where he served for well over fifty years. Although very much a self-made man, he became a master in the field of geology, mineralogy and mining.

Mr. Hunt was a practical Christian, who believed in translating divine precepts into kindly deeds and who advocated the daily reading of the Bible by the students studying under his foundation during summer field trips. There is no doubt that he himself, through long, weary years, first as an unsuccessful prospector and later in his search for health, found solace in the reading of the Word.

Samuel Franklin Hunt was a rugged individual possessed of the sterling qualities of devotion, duty, loyalty to ideals and friends, gratitude to the state from whose wastelands he drew his fortune, kindness and generosity to those around him and an abiding faith in youth. He was at his happy best whenever he could assist some one over a bit of hard going or could do something which in after years would prove of benefit to a younger person. In his simple, unostentatious way, he lifted the burden of debt from the back of many a former friend and associate. Life finally dealt generously with him only because of his untiring industry, patient perseverance and enduring faith in the greatness of God and man.

In the passing of S. Frank Hunt on the thirteenth of this month the University of Nevada lost an honest friend and faithful helper. We, the regents, share in the loss of a numerous group who, through years of association, had come to know him and to learn his worth. Of him we can truly say:

"Kind hearts are more than coronets
And simple faith than Norman blood"

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Clarence A. Heckethorn, (First lieutenant, R. O. T. C.) Editor of the Sagebrush.

Dear Mr. Heckethorn:—I wish to thank you for your cooperation in refraining from publishing in the Sagebrush any notice or comments upon the cadet corps' visit to and inspection of the 8th bombardment group at the local airport last Thursday.

I realized when Captain Williams, the group commander, requested no publicity that it meant to you the suppression of a possible good newspaper story; one that would be news to the majority of your readers, who may not understand the reason for the omission.

During maneuvers (as in actual warfare) it is a primary necessity to prevent information of our troop locations or movements from reaching enemy hands. During our own much to be regretted civil war, information of troop movements and actions filtered through the lines in newspaper items, greatly to the detriment of projected operations. In those days there was no cooperative censorship, such as exists today.

At the time of the corps' visit to the airport the squadron was on the "alert" and ready to fly upon an important mission. Had you published any notice of our visit with details of time and place, this fact as well as that the unit was momentarily not operating and its exact location might easily have become known to the theoretical enemy within a few few hours.

Sincerely yours,
ORAL E. CLARK,
Colonel, Infantry, P. M. S. & T.

Clarence Jones, '29, is now with the business department of the Reno Evening Gazette. While at the university he was affiliated with the associated engineers, varsity track and the chairman of one of the get-together dances during his fourth year.

Evidence is conclusive, and thus far the Wolf Pack basketball team has certainly given us plenty of that, signifying another Championship team this year. We wish the Wolf Pack lots of success in their game with San Jose—and, above all, a win.

The President Says . . .

By DR. LEON W. HARTMAN

If one may judge from frequent erroneous oral and printed statements, it would seem that students and faculty members might well give more serious attention to our published rules and regulations for the guidance of undergraduates. Perhaps an extracurricular course covering these rules and regulations should be given by some member of the University staff! Such a course should be open to ALL students and required of some faculty members! Since, of necessity, such a course should carry no university credit, it is fair to assume that it would not be exceedingly popular with either students or faculty, and, if such a course were to be given as an elective, it is quite certain that the registration would be vanishingly small; and the need for it would still exist and its pursuit would be very profitable—from the standpoint of the university officers.

To illustrate: The rules provide that (a) A student must be passing in at least two-thirds of his work or he may be placed on probation; (b) a student may be placed on probation at any time his conduct warrants such action; (c) all but special students MUST remove entrance deficiencies before their second year of residence or they shall be on probation; (d) a student who has been suspended for one semester will be on probation for one entire semester when he returns. Further, it is provided that (a) A student who is on probation at the end of two consecutive semesters may be suspended from the university; (b) while on probation, a student may not take part in any university exhibition or public contest, or serve on the staff of any student publication or become a candidate for any student office; (c) a student on probation will not be allowed to register for more than eighty per cent of the regular number of hours of his prescribed course.

As regards suspension, the rules provide that (a) A student must be passing in at least one-half of his work or he may be suspended from the university; (b) a student may be suspended at any time his conduct warrants such action; (c) A student who is on probation at the end of each of two consecutive semesters may be suspended from the university; (d) A student who has been twice suspended from the university shall not be permitted to register again; (e) Students may be suspended only by action of the appropriate committee and with the approval of the president of the university.

The rules further provide that probation or suspension shall be based upon the work in which a student is registered at the end of the second week of the semester.

The above provisions are important and an early realization of their import by the students may save many an unnecessary heartache on the part of students and parents alike. It is better to be forewarned and forearmed than to be obliged to meet unpleasant situations at mid-term or the end of the semester. It should also be realized that the president has delegated authority to act on all cases of delinquents to certain committees and he does not interfere with the functioning of these committees unless satisfied that a grievous injustice has been committed. Students and faculty alike should realize the nature of these provisions and the seriousness of a condition or failure.

This past week it was the privilege of your president to visit two of the important school systems of the state—Loveland and Winnemucca. It was his good fortune to speak before the grade and high school pupils of the schools in these towns. More attentive audiences of brighter, wide-awake groups, it would be hard to find. These young people, who preserved perfect decorum, were an inspiration to me. The fine consideration shown me by the school authorities and the attention and courtesy shown by the citizens of these communities are beyond praise. The work these young people are carrying makes one believe he was born 30—perhaps 40 or fifty years—too soon. One is almost inclined to wish that he could in this year of 1940 again start on his high school education. It does seem that today "larnin'" is very different from what it was half a century ago.

Youth is venturesome and optimistic, seldom apprehending the danger which may lie at its feet. The tragic event of last week brought to an untimely end the life of a youth of promise, saddens everyone in the university community. Our hearts go out to the relatives of Ralph Isaac and to his close friends. For the bravery and courage of those who sought to recover his body from the cold waters of Virginia Lake there is grateful admiration. For those who took from the shore the personal effects of these men, words are inadequate to express our feelings.

Mel Dodson, '38, who is now employed in Carson, was a recent visitor in Reno. While in school he was a member of the Beta Kappa fraternity.

WHAT WE THINK

By JACK RHOADES

That Casaba Game
The Pack has had a tough time so far this season in their basketball games. First a couple of losses to S. P. State, then they managed to get two victories from St. Mary's, but last week they took it on the nose at Chico. It wouldn't have been so bad if it could have been some other team besides the Wildcats, considering the cabbage they threw at Nevada during the football season. This weekend the Silver and Blue meets the strong San Jose State team. The Spartans have already won from C. O. P., Fresno and a few other coast teams, so it will be a good series. It is unfortunate that we can't offer them better quarters to stay and play in.

I Wonder What's Become of Elsie?

After her very outstanding debut at Bartlett, Texas, in December, Miss Crabtree suddenly disappeared from the spotlight. Maybe she wanted to get away from it all, or maybe she wanted to practice twirling two batons, but any information concerning the young lady would be greatly appreciated by the Sagebrush.

To Whom It May Concern:

With victory in their grasp and the all-important championship as a reward, the Jocks completely folded in the last seconds of the fourth quarter of their unusual basketball game with the Hibernalians and were nosed out 44-4. Ashley, stellar Jock forward, was high point man with 3 points. He played alone most of the game as Heckethorn and Yrribery were too busy wagging their fingers.

Odds And Ends:

Jack Starret and Leo McCuddin, former varsity skiers, are now in the retail ski business at Flagstaff, Ariz. Besides selling the equipment, they also teach the purchasers how to use it. . . . The S. A. E. and Sigma Nu fraternities should fight it out for the ski cup this year. . . . With the addition of New Mexico State and Idaho southern branch to the '40 schedule, the football schedule is nearly all lined up. It stacks up as follows: S. F. State, B. Y. U., S. F. U., Fresno State, Arkansas A & M, New Mexico State, Idaho southern branch, Idaho, C. O. P. and San Jose State. Add this up and we have four home games and six away from home. Jim Aiken stated that he is looking for one more game to round out a good (and long) schedule. . . . Ham Robb, Kirk Herrick, Malc Jones and Jim Twombly are all teaching and coaching basketball their first year out of school. Robb is at Gardnerville, Herrick at Virginia City, Jones, Alamo and Twombly is at Goldfield. . . . Lou Weiner, former varsity yell leader, Lincoln hall man, honor student, referee, etc., is now attending law school at Cal. . . . Dick Ronzone, remember him, is manager of the boys' department in his mother's department store. . . . Lee Ward, who graduated a few years back, is in Detroit making good as a traveling salesman for a big manufacturing company. . . . Warren Hart, S. A. E. first-year skier, may not be able to compete in the inter-fraternity ski meet this week because of injuries suffered at Sun Valley.

The Frosh

Plenty of material will be on hand next year when these yearlings report to "Shuey" for practice. You want to watch these men tonight when they play Lassen J. C. They average something like six feet two inches in height. Motley is six foot three, McDonald, six feet two, Vaughn six feet two, Friel is six feet two, Quilici is six feet one, Sorenson is five feet eleven and, boy, that's a big team! They trimmed the highly-touted Chico frosh twice last week and looked to be headed for a good season.

A list of Albright's activities while on the campus include president of the Aggie Club, member of the Blue Key honor society. Albright was president of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

BRUSH SPORTS

Frosh Open Home Season Tonight

Lassen, Lovelock High, To Provide Cubs Tough Opposition

Back from a decisive victory over the formidable Chico Kittens and with a determined glint of victory in their eyes the Nevada Cubs entered a week of intensive practice in preparation for their two-game series here tonight and tomorrow with Lassen J. C. and Lovelock High.

Although beaten 51-34 in their initial game of the season by Lassen J. C., Coach Jim Bailey conceded the fighting frosh have an excellent chance to even the count when the Lassen Camels visit Nevada to play against the Cubs in the preliminary game tonight.

"The team has shown quite a lot of improvement," Coach Bailey said, "and we have been working out a different method of defense. The quintet that clicked in the Chico game has smoothed out the rough spots and should turn in a good brand of ball."

Saturday night the frosh will take the floor against Lovelock high school, a high-scoring prep aggregation, in a preliminary to the second of the varsity tilts.

Sparking the Nevada quintet in the Chico game, Alf Sorenson and Gino Quilici turned in eight and 16 points, respectively. Big John McDonald, the tall frosh guard, plugged a hole in the Nevada frosh's defense to turn in a stellar performance.

John McDonald and Marion Motley, guards, Gino Quilici, center, Tom Ross and Alf Sorenson, forwards, will probably be the starting lineup that will take the floor in the preliminary game with Lassen J. C. Friday night. Otis Vaughn and Bill Friel, alternating with the members of the first squad, will also see considerable action.

Al Wisniewski, Tony Sutich, guards, Drew Smith, center, Ira DuPratt and Gene Mastroianni, forwards, will comprise the starting lineup which will go into action against the Lovelock high school quintet.

Coach Bailey is confident that the reserves will see plenty of action in both games. The reserves are: Bob Stewart, Jack Pierce, William Etchemendy, Jack Streeter, Bill Bingham, Bill King and Lester Ferguson.

Conference Cup Home Once More

Not a new and shining cup, but a seasoned veteran, rich in prestige, is the Far Western conference revolving trophy, now installed for the third time in the University of Nevada trophy case on the main floor of the library.

A huge silver football, this resplendent cup will grace the shelves of the University of Nevada trophy case for the first time since 1933.

Twenty-five trophies and cups in all repose on these shelves, representing achievements not only in football, basketball, track and skiing, but in drilling contests on Homecoming, chinning championships on Mackay day, archery and class honors.

Notable among the cups representing any one sport are those testifying to Nevada's prowess on the skis. At least eight tall, streamlined trophies bear out this fact, unique among them being that awarded by the Godlen Gate international exposition of 1939 for inter-collegiate ski jumping honors.

Earl Edmonds, '39, is now the manager of a service station in Truckee. While in school he was one of the foremost members of Nevada's skiing team. He was affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Nevada Engineers Begin Registration

Eldon C. Grafton, member of the University Civil Engineering faculty, and Fred Maynard, student civil engineer, recently received certificates of membership on the Nevada state board of professional engineers.

The state of Nevada, in registering its professional engineers, is in line with 42 other states and two territories which have already enacted registration laws. The professional engineers in Nevada are organized for the purpose of protecting the public and to raise the ethical and technical standards of the engineering profession.

Frederick H. Sibley, dean of the engineering college, is the secretary-treasurer of the state board. Other members of the board are State Engineer A. M. Smith, chairman; A. J. Shaver of the Western Utilities Company in Winnemucca, W. H. Settlemyer, Elko consulting engineer, and A. R. Thompson of Reno.

Of the 14 members of the advisory committee of the state board, four are members of the university faculty. They are Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines; Professor Walter S. Palmer, head of the department of metallurgy; Professor Stanley G. Palmer, head of the school of electrical engineering and Assistant Professor Harold C. Amens, of the mechanical engineering department.

The Nevada state legislature in 1919 passed a law creating the original state board of registered professional engineers. Because of a technicality the act lay dormant until the 1935 legislature passed a necessary amendment which paved the way for putting the law into effect.

Over 170 certificates have been issued to professional engineers in the state to date. Reports from the 1930 census show that there were 395 technical engineers residing in the state of Nevada and by the end of 1939 almost half had been registered.

Freshmen take Two From Chico Babes

The freshman basketball team of the University of Nevada defeated the Chico State freshmen last Friday and Saturday nights, 40-33 and 37-28.

The highlight of the games was the playing ability of Geno Quilici, who made 14 points in the first quarter of Friday night's game, a feat responsible for Chico's defeat, Coach Jim Bailey said yesterday.

Featured throughout the two games were the pivot shots of Quilici, the followups by McDonald, the smooth ball handling of Motley and Ross and the "spark plug" play of Alf Sorenson.

"In another two or three weeks they will develop into a smooth working unit, but at present we are handicapped by the short time the boys have played together," Coach Bailey said.

Gordon Walker, former student of the university, has been visiting in Reno for the past week. He is a member of the Beta Kappa fraternity.

"Lefty" Mayer Wins Handball Singles Cup

Phi Sigma Kappa finished the handball singles season on top with a perfect record.

Henry "Lefty" Mayer, Phi Sig court artist, played consistently fast ball for eight straight games for a clean sweep. The only player to threaten Mayer was Bill Peccole, S. A. E. Mayer won the game decisively by a three-point margin.

A. T. O. dropped from a tie for second to fourth place in the last few games by reason of losses to S. A. E. and Beta Kappa, while the latter two both moved a notch ahead of the Hill-toppers, S. A. E. finishing second and the Bee Kays third.

Games this week (winners in bold-faced type):

Jan. 18: Independents, Lincoln Hall; ATO, Phi Sigs; Lambda Chi, Beta Kappa; Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Sigma.

Jan. 19: SAE, ATO; Beta Kappa, Lincoln Hall; Sigma Nu, Phi Sigs; Lambda Chi, Independents.

Junior Varsity Wins City League Game

The junior varsity assumed a tie for leadership in the city league basketball series Tuesday night by defeating the highly-touted Washoe Market team, 47-43.

Setting a blistering pace from the outset the Jayvees went into the lead and were never headed.

The collegians, using the same spectacular style as displayed by the varsity, never allowed the offense of the hitherto undefeated Market team to click.

Walker and Seaborn were outstanding on offense gathering 15 and 12 points, respectively, while Shea, Miller and Melarkey played good defensive ball to break up most of the scoring threats of the Market team.

The junior varsity in league play so far this season has won two and lost one. In their first game, still unorganized, they were beaten by Reno Print in a close game. In their next appearance, the Jayvees smothered the Y. M. C. A. quintet with a barrage of baskets, showing that they are a team to watch in city league play.

The team is coached by Dick Miller and the players on the squad are Walker, Melarkey, Linson, Shea, Miller, Seaborn, Hawkins, Nelson, Ashley and Neary.

On the Hill It's Hello!

Complete Football Schedule Released

Idaho southern branch, New Mexico College and Fresno State College were added to the 1940 schedule of the Nevada varsity football squad, Coach Jim Aiken announced Thursday.

A full schedule of 10 games has been arranged, the only open date being Nov. 9.

Nevada is playing in only two contests in which members of the Far Western conference are their opponents, with Fresno and College of Pacific providing the opposition.

As it now stands, the schedule calls for four home games, but the possibility of the open date of Nov. 9 being filled with a home engagement is being considered. Home contests will be with San Francisco State, Idaho southern branch, Arkansas A and M, and New Mexico College.

Only one of the scheduled contests will be played under lights, the game with the University of San Francisco to be played in the bay city on Oct. 4.

The complete schedule is as follows: Sept. 21—San Francisco State at Reno.

Sept. 21—Brigham Young at Provo, Oct. 4—San Francisco U at San Francisco (night).

Oct. 12—Idaho Southern Branch at Reno.

Oct. 19—Arkansas A. & M. at Reno. Oct. 26—New Mexico College at Reno.

Nov. 2—Fresno at Fresno. Nov. 9—Open.

Nov. 16—University of Idaho at Moscow. College of the Pacific at Stockton. Nov. 30—San Jose at San Jose.

Trophy Offered Best Decorated Fraternity

A trophy donated by Armarko Supply Co. will be awarded to the fraternity with the best decorations during Nevada's annual Winter Carnival. Winter or Winter Carnival must be the theme carried out by the fraternities in their decorations and each house will be judged both in the afternoon and evening by a committee of three Reno business men.

Art Leigh, '39, is now in McGill, where he is connected with the assaying department. In the university he was affiliated with the Beta Kappa fraternity, chemistry club, mathematics club and band.

AMATEURS SCOOP SCOOPSTERS

If anyone notices an unusual number of gum-chewing, hats-on-the-back-of-the-head reporters seated in the basketball press box, do not jump to the conclusion that a celebrity is in the house. Oh, no! It is simply the members of the journalism news-gathering and writing class attempting to cover sports.

They will come prepared with pencils, well-chewed; five or six score sheets, none of which they understand; a vague idea of the rules of the game which Bob Robinett tried to explain to them during a class period, and the burning desire to scoop their fellow reporters.

It is just as well the stories will not be published, for most of the women think a hoop is something you wear under a formal dress.

NEW PLEDGES CHALLENGE MEMBERS

The Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, after a house stag party Saturday night, announced the pledging of 12 students since the second semester started.

The new pledges, according to Jim Gibbs, president, include: Veri Barnum, Leland Whipple, of Logandale, Nev.; Cleo Frehner, of Mesquite, Nev.; George Westergard and Ralph Westergard, of Lovelock; Jack Wittwer, of Las Vegas; Lester Adams of Bunkerville, Nev.; Don Struck, of Orange, Calif.; and Ralph Preece, Jack McNutt, Chet Evans and Glen Ransom, all of Reno.

At a meeting Monday night the new pledges challenged the members in three different contests. A contest will be held in baseball, in basketball and in swimming. The group that wins two contests out of the three will be judged the winner. For the pledges, if they win, is honor of running the house for a day, according to Jack Wittwer, newly-elected president of the pledges.

STUDENTS TO STUDY BOOK MANUSCRIPTS

An opportunity to examine actual book manuscripts will be given students in Professor P. A. Harwood's advanced composition classes and Professor A. L. Higginbotham's news editing class Friday, March 8 at 10 a. m. in the hall of English.

The manuscripts will show the corrections, changes and revisions made by editors before publishing. An original copy of Harper's Magazine published in 1850 and containing an article by Charles Dickens, also will be displayed. The program consists of a lecture by B. O. O'Donnell of Harper & Brothers staff. He will discuss problems connected with the publishing of books and magazines.

Points to be covered include how editors select material, how authors get their ideas; the amount of work authors have to do before satisfying themselves and editors, examples of revision by editors, and merchandising of books.

Some 15 or 20 minutes will be spent by O'Donnell in answering questions by students and professors.

Life In Air Corps Told By Meyer

Life in the air cadet training corps is anything but leisurely, if the experience of a former Nevada student, now enrolled in the corps, is representative.

Jack Meyer, formerly a Nevada mining student, enlisted at the beginning of this year as a cadet in the current expansion program of the air corps reserve. He was sent to Glendale, where he is at present undergoing intensive preliminary training.

Flying A Hard Life
"This flying really is a hard life," Meyer confesses in a letter to Professor J. A. Carpenter and in which he gives some account of cadet life and work.

"From the first minute one signs up he is put under pressure and always worrying about staying in, as they wash out about six or eight out of every class of 31 or 37. We have already lost one from our group.

"Today was a big moment, as I was allowed to solo for a few minutes.

"We don't have much actual work in the air, as we only get about two hours in the air every day.

Little Sleep
"The upperclassmen have us up so darned early that it seems as if I have never been able to get a full night's sleep here. Up at 4:45 a. m. and lights out at 9 p. m."

Stationed at Glendale, Air Cadet Meyer will take a twelve-weeks' course in aviation fundamentals. Completing this, he will become eligible for transfer to the army air training station at Randolph Field, Texas. At Glendale, he will be given 65 hours in the air, 10 hours and 55 minutes of which he has already completed.

Doings of Our Alumni and Former Students

N. in 1930, on the Sagebrush and Artemesia staffs, and was on the constitution revision committee.

Edward Pine, '38, is employed as city engineer of Reno at present.

Pine, while attending the university, was president of the Civil Engineer's Club, president of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and was associated with Nu Eta Epsilon, an honor organization.

Edward Reed, '22, is the agricultural adjustment administration chief for Nevada.

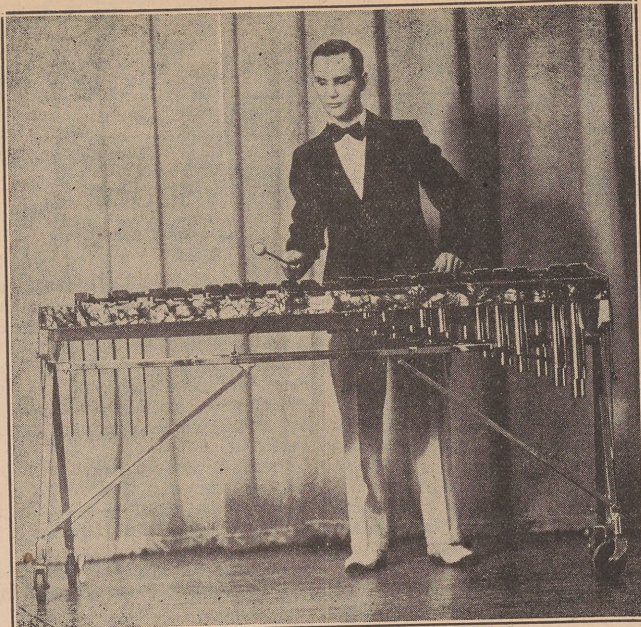

Reed, when attending the university was freshman and junior class president, besides playing football and basketball. He was a member of the Block N society.

BLIND XYLOPHONIST SCHEDULED FOR A.S.U.N. ASSEMBLY THURSDAY

A program put on entirely by blind people will be given at an assembly Thursday at 10 a. m. in the education auditorium.

Feature of the three-part program will be Pierce Knox, called by most musical experts the greatest blind xylophonist of all time. But 19 years of age, Knox was last year adjudged the national high school champion, easily defeating all other competition despite his handicap.

During the summer Knox was employed at Treasure Island in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" concession.

Hilda Isles, student at Fresno State College, will demonstrate and explain the work of "seeing eye" dogs. She will use her own dog in the demonstration.

Joe Hargreaves, former Reno high school student, who is at present engaged in transcribing a number of books into Braille for the blind, will also be on the program, explaining the Braille alphabet with electrical devices.

Everyone attending the assembly will be given a copy of the alphabet.

The program will also be put on for the Reno high school, the local Rotary Club and the Lions' Club.

U. S. COAST GUARD TO BE EXPLAINED

The opportunities in the United States coast guard service will be explained by Lieutenant D. T. Adams to University of Nevada Feb. 13 in the educational building.

According to a communication received by President Leon W. Hartman, the lecture will be followed by a sound motion picture, descriptive of the coast guard and its academy at New London, Connecticut.

Lieutenant Adams has been designated by the coast guard to visit certain accredited colleges and secondary schools in the vicinity of Reno. He will acquaint qualified students with the opportunities for an education at the coast guard academy, leading toward a commission and a career in the coast guard.

Famed Poet's Life Reviewed By Prof.

A lesser known poem the "Vita Nova" although none the less remarkable than Dante's other works, was the subject of a discussion by Professor John Gottardi before members of St. Stephen's chapel Sunday evening.

Keying in his topic with Dante's actual life, Gottardi, associate professor of modern languages, declared the Vita Nova to be an auto-psychological biography of the great poet and writer. Gottardi illustrated his talk with two pieces of sculpture and prints of Dante. The meeting was concluded with a supper in the rectory.

According to the Reverend H. B. Thomas, chaplain, evening vesper services for students are held at 6 p. m. each Sunday. A featured speaker for each meeting has been planned.

Winter Carnival

Tour Reno

Following a short, general session during which ski numbers and the program will be outlined to contestants, a tour of Reno will be conducted for the visitors.

Completion of the scheduled events for Saturday will be followed by a skiers' congregation at Carlan's for the annual carnival banquet. Featured entertainment will be the yodelers' contest and short talks by prominent officials and skiers.

Highlights of the social event will be the "snow ball", where the outstanding coed most exemplifying the winter season will be crowned queen. The ball committee is headed this year by Margery Peffley, veteran coed skier, who has promised unusual novelty entertainment at the affair. Trophies for the best decorated houses as well as the open house award will be presented by Carnival Chairman McDonald. The cup for the best decorated house will be given this year by the Ginsburg Jewelry Company.

Many Awards

Awards for Sunday's events will be given by the Reno Printing Company for the best team; the J. C. Penny Co. for the individual winner of the slalom race, and the winner of the downhill race, a trophy from Paterson's clothing store. The best jumper will be presented with a cup from Herd and Short Company.

Cross-country winners will be given a trophy from Fowler and Cusick, while the prettiest girl skier will become the proud owner of the Herz Jewelry Co. trophy.

John Corvina, '28, is now a physician practicing in Reno. He belonged to the Lincoln Hall Association and the Pre-Medical Club while at the university.

Students Advised To Study Frats

By J. MILTON MAPES

To what fraternity or sorority do you belong?

There is a lot more to belonging to such an organization than merely wearing a pin; it is living up to that pin, for all that it stands for, on the campus, within the walls of your organization and to any point in the world that you may go. It is fairness and cooperation, but much more could be said, as you know.

Ah, yes, rushing season is here again. Teas, silence, entertainment; girls, pretty things, all bedecked in flowing garments. Did I say pretty things? Well, aren't they? Or wouldn't you know?

At the beginning of the school year or the new semester with rushing events in sororities and fraternities, the eternal question arises: to join or not to join, and if so, which one?

It is all for the person who is joining to decide. I'd say, however, time is ripe for some reflections here. From experience I know it is true these institutions (and they are such, you know) form a vital part in making or breaking the student, but it is up to that person who is joining to decide how much it will benefit him or her and how much he or she can do for the organization. Join to receive and yet to give; it is an act that should be, that is with most people, lifelong; surely a great part of college days and the glory of after years.

But, remember, there are expenses to be considered; money that will be needed for school finances. There is the question of time; this should be given serious consideration by every student, for it is the solid foundation for the year after and the year after that.

and when one is a senior he will realize the value of its WISE expenditure. If you can say truthfully that you will maintain a high scholastic average and that you will spend your time right equally sharing it with your fraternity or sorority, your friends and mostly your studies, you are surely a worthwhile candidate for membership—you must be a benefit to your organization, your school, yourself; you must not be a weak link in the growth of your organization; in that lies the power and benefit thereof — it strengthens from all points.

The scholastic standards of fraternities and sororities on the campus of the University of Nevada has always been of a high standard. (with, of course, occasional drops that are only natural on any fluctuating scale) This bears out the argument indicating the worthiness of these organizations and that benefits that are derived in belonging to them are ever recognizable. It is also a proven fact that constant association brings out the best in students; a broadening of the intellect and the principles of behavior. The strong points in an individual are thus made stronger; the weaker strengthened and stimulated and the non-evident developed; pure sportsmanship is ever in the fore.

The individual should then decide for himself the values to be secured; this is the semi-annual time to estimate that value.
