

NEW PRESS CHIEFS

Fiftieth Anniversary Of Graduating Class Feted

Former Students, Alumni To Return For Celebration

Complete Program Planned For Big Three-Day Observance

BY MOLLY MORSE

Fifty years ago—June 11, 1891—a class of three received the first bachelors degrees from the University of Nevada.

It is to commemorate this historic event that a three-day celebration will open on the Nevada campus Saturday and continue through commencement exercises Monday.

Of the three members of that first four-year class, only Judge Frank H. Norcross is living today. Frederick Amos Bristol and Henry Coleman Cutting were the other 1891 graduates. Judge Norcross will address the 171 seniors of 1941 as commencement speaker.

The three-day celebration honoring these men includes the governor's review of the ROTC battalion, dedication of the new engineering building, a barbecue for alumni, an alumni reception, and other events.

Representatives of the 49 graduated classes, in addition to a large number of the 2,800 former students of the university, will attend the celebration. The class representatives will set in a body on the stage at commencement exercises in place of the faculty as honored guests of the university and will also march in all processions.

Dr. Stephen A. Jones, president of the university in 1891, will be remembered by the presence of his two sons, the Rev. Augustine Jones and Herbert Jones, a San Jose attorney. The Rev. Jones will preach the sermon at baccalaureate services to be held in the gymnasium Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

The program of events will be headed by the governor's review of the ROTC battalion Saturday morning at 10:30 on Mackay field.

Dr. Stanley G. Palmer will give a history of engineering at Nevada at the dedication ceremonies for the new engineering building, which will be held of the dedicatory address to be delivered "The Engineer: His Accomplishments and Responsibilities" will be the subject of the dedicatory address to be delivered by Dr. Raymond E. Davis, professor of civil engineering at the University of California.

The university faculty will then lead a recessional from the gymnasium and will march to the new structure, where Governor E. P. Carville, representing the people of the state, will make the official presentation of the building. Silas E. Ross will accept it on behalf of the university.

Alumni Barbecue

Dedication ceremonies will be concluded with the alumni barbecue which is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m. on the university baseball field.

Saturday's festivities will be concluded with the Phi Kappa Phi banquet at Bits of Sweden at 7 p. m. The Rev. Jones will be the principal speaker.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Renewing the celebration Sunday, baccalaureate services will be held in the university gymnasium at 2:30 p. m.

A reception for alumni, former students, the graduating class, and friends of the university will be held by Dr. and Mrs. Hartman at their home from 4 to 6 p. m. after baccalaureate.

Climaxing the entire celebration, commencement exercises will take place in the gymnasium Monday morning at 10:30, with President Hartman presiding.

Garamendi, Mapes Back From PSPA Catalina Convention

Ray Garamendi and Charles Mapes, student body president, returned to the campus yesterday afternoon after attending the Pacific States Presidents' convention held at Santa Catalina Island last weekend.

The pair left Reno Tuesday, arriving in Los Angeles Wednesday. Registration of the presidents took place on the Occidental campus Thursday. After registration the delegates were given a tour of the CBS studios in Hollywood.

Meetings were held at Catalina Friday, continuing through Saturday evening. Sunday morning the delegates attended a beach party and left the island Sunday afternoon.

"Jim Deyere, president of the P. S. P. A. and the U. C. L. A. student body, which was host at the convention, deserves a big hand for his splendid work on the committee," Garamendi said last night.

$5,000 In Prizes To Be Announced Commencement Day

Nearly $5,000 will be presented to students this year in scholarship awards, Dr. Harold N. Brown, chairman of the awards committee stated this week.

On commencement day, May 12, a total of 23 awards will be announced. Several additional scholarships have yet to be decided upon before they can be presented, Dr. Brown said.

Of the 23 awards, three will go to the senior graduate only. These are the senior Gold Medal, presented for the highest scholarship average of the senior class; the Albert senior public service prize, for good scholarship and worthy service to the university or community; and the Armarko senior library prize, presented the senior having the largest and most valuable group of books gathered during the four years the student attends the university.

Following is a list of the awards to be announced Saturday: The Ginsburg Jewelry company award; the Rose Sigler Mathews scholarship; Marye Williams Butler scholarship; Azro E. Cheney scholarship; Mrs. Carl Otto Herz, Charles Elmer Clough, Carrie Brooks Layman, pre-medical and pre-nursing, Grand Army of the Republic, William S. Lunford, Vern F. Henry Memorial Masonic, Raymond Spencer, Reno Lodge of Elks, Ghet Scranton Athletic, Nevada State Press Association, Major Max C. Fleschmann, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Rita Hope Winer Memorial, Nevada Rebekah Assembly, Rotary Club of Reno, and Daughters of the American Revolution scholarships.

Three Chemistry Students To Enter Graduate Schools

Three Nevada chemistry students will enter graduate schools of outstanding universities next fall where they will work for advanced degrees, it was announced by the chemistry department this week.

Charles Jennings, who entered Nevada as a chemistry fellow last fall, has received a graduate assistantship from the University of California where he will continue his work toward a Ph. D. in chemistry. Jennings is a graduate of the University of Toledo where he received the "magna cum laude" for his outstanding work.

John Yapunich will receive a master's degree from the University of Illinois, where he received a "cum laude" in chemistry. He has been a teaching fellow at Nevada for two years. While at Nevada Yapunich participated in many campus activities, having been elected president of the Newman club, vice-president of the Chemistry Club and secretary of the Central Pacific Province of the Newman Club Federation. He is a member of the American Chemical Society and was elected recently to Sigma Sigma Kappa, honorary chemistry fraternity.

He has received a graduate assistantship from the University of Buffalo, where he will continue his work toward a Ph. D. in chemistry.

Kenneth Edson, who is receiving a B. S. degree in chemistry this week has been selected for a graduate assistantship at the Texas A. and M. College where he will work for his masters degree.

WESLEY FOUNDATION TO ELECT OFFICERS

Election of Wesley Foundation officers for the fall semester will be held Sunday evening, May 4. Francis Richards will preside.

Following the business meeting, supper will be served with Ella Corbett as hostess. All those who wish to attend should make reservations with Miss Corbett at Artemisia hall.

Carpenter Makes Visit To Golconda District

A trip through mills and mines in the Golconda mining district was made last weekend by Prof. Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, and two mining project students, Robert Fulton and Charles Yetter. Special purpose of the trip was the investigation of the roasting and wet-processing treatments of tungsten ores in the district.

Armstrong, Cantlon, Pease, Isola Are Publication Heads

Nevada's four new publication heads, elected by the publications board last Thursday, will officially take office on May 15, Dr. Ernest L. Inwood, head of the press board, announced yesterday.

Though none will have actual duties to perform until school opens next August, all have indicated that they expect to lay extensive groundwork over the summer vacation to insure successful publication next year.

Dominated by women, the new board consists of Bryn Armstrong, Sagebrush editor; Mary Margaret Cantlon, Sagebrush business manager; Teddiana Pease, Artemisia editor, and Nellie Isola, Artemisia business manager.

Armstrong is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, Blue Key, and Coffin and Keys. He served as president of the inter-fraternity council during the past year.

Miss Cantlon, junior Pi Beta Phi, is a member of Chi Delta Phi, Cap and Scroll, and the Press Club.

Miss Pease, in addition to serving on the Artemisia staff for three years, is a member of Chi Delta Phi, and the Press Club. In her senior year at Sparks high school she was the editor of the yearbook "Terminus."

Miss Isola, also affiliated with Pi Beta Phi, has been active on the staffs of both publications for the past three years.

Outstanding Sophomores
The outgoing heads of the two publications also recommended several sophomores for consideration as heads in 1942-43. Frank McCulloch, Sagebrush editor, recommended Glenn Ranson, Molly Morse, Lloyd Rogers and William Friel. Dyer Jensen, Sagebrush business manager, selected three men and one woman: Dean Quillici, Jack Streeter, Gene Mastrolanni, and Jean Caples.

The Artemisia heads, Walter Wilcox, editor, and Jack Pieri, business manager, divided their selections into groups of sexes. Wilcox recommended Harriet Morrison, Betty Nash, and Yvonne Rossaso. Pieri named Clifton Young and Jack Fleming.

Kling Elected Prexy

Harold Kling, junior student from Carlin, was elected president of the Chemistry Club at an election held last week.

Other officers elected were Beryl Vaughan, vice-president; Dorothy James, secretary, and Helen Gung, treasurer.

The President's Tale of An Amendment

BY BILL WYLIE

The president was worried. He was mumbering incoherent phrases to himself. He was rapidly working himself up into a good mood for a drinking bout. At this point, a Sagebrush reporter wandered in and collapsed with mingled sighs and groans into the nearest chair.

"Hey, you," barked the president. "Huh?" replied the reporter. "You do a lot of writing and stuff, don't you?"

"Yeah—and stuff. You said it." "Well look. I've got a problem for you. It's the wording in one of these new amendments."

"Yeah?"

"Yeah." The president exhaled several sheets of paper from the wastebasket. "It's about the class managers," he continued. "What we're trying to say—that we spent a total of six hours in two senate meetings trying to say—is . . ."

The president stopped. He grappled in a frenzied mental wrestling match for the right words. But they wouldn't come. He paled. "Here," he finally gasped weakly, showing a dog-eared sheet of paper across the desk toward the reporter.

The reporter picked it up, and started to read aloud in a weary tone: "Class managers, at the time they shall assume office, shall have the minimum number of hours required (here followed a series of typewritten X's, two ink blots, and three mark-outs in red pencil) by the college in which they are registered for regular standing in the class to whose managers they are elected."

Surrender . . . He looked at the president; the president gazed back, in complete surrender. The reporter cleared his throat, rearranged his anatomy in the chair, and said, "Well, just keep cool, now. Let's start all over."

"I've started all over so many times I'm talking about it myself. I can hear it now—the class hours, at the time they are registered, shall have the minimum number of colleges according to the managers . . . See what I mean?"

"Yeth," said the reporter, alarmed. He leaned forward with a confident tone. "But don't worry. It hasn't got us licked yet. We'll diagram it!" he announced triumphantly.

He drew four circles and one small square on a piece of paper. Just as he started to label one of these, "Class managership," the president interrupted.

Aha, the Answer! "Don't kid yourself; it can't be done mechanically. I tried writing one phrase a piece on the backs of six old student body cards, shuffling them, and writing them down in the order they came in, and it's just no good."

Well, how about trying a new vernacular? queried the newshawk. Before the president could ask him

171 Are Candidates For Graduation From University

Arts And Science College Leads List With 111, Aggies Number 31

The University of Nevada's largest graduating class, 171 strong, was announced this week by Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar, as senior activities approached their climax.

The number includes 14 December graduates, who will receive their diplomas at commencement.

As in past years, the college of arts and science, with all 111 possible graduates, leads the list, followed by the college of agriculture with 31, the college of engineering with 29, and the two-year normal school with 16.

Following are the candidates.

Agriculture and Home Economics
Mary Arentz, Betty Baird, John Bazini, Caroline Best, Marie Borzini, June Bradbury, Helen Cameron, Emery Conway, Virginia Crofut, Andres Darang, Galen DeLongchamps, Burley Dooley, June Drake.

Nick Evasovic, John Giomi, Delphine Goicochea, Robert Hudspeth, Harold Jacobsen, Elsa Jensen, Roy Jensen, Elliot Lima, Mary Jane Moyer, Edna Pluum, Ruth Pray, Frank Quillici, Walter Schmidt, Dorothy Schooley, Mark Stewart.

Vincent Vercoe, Alice Wade, Raymond Waits.

ENGINEERING

Mining

Civil
Emma Crabtree, Arthur Kaufman, Raymond Sandkuhle, Dallas Downs.

Electricals
Guy Brown, Cyril Ham, Lee Lawhead, Ross Mortensen, William Potter, Ralph Shearer, Roy Shipp.

Mechanicals

Arts and Science (Majors)
Guy Allen—Mathematics.
Grace Amnette—Zoology.
Willbourne Andrews—Economics.
Eileen Angus—English.
Phyllis Anker—Economics.

SHEARER NAMED CONTEST WINNER

Ralph Shearer, senior electrical engineer, has been named the recipient of an United Airlines scholarship valued at $4,685. He received a telegram announcing the award late last night from Baldwin M. Wood, head of the mechanical engineering department of the University of California and chairman of the award committee.

The award consists of a complete course in airline piloting and engineering at the Boeing Aeronautical school in Oakland, California.

Shearer submitted a technical report on weather sounding in the competition in which representatives of many of the major colleges of the United States and Canada were entered.

"The course is designed to lead to the obtaining of a commercial pilot's license," Shearer said. "However, I do not intend to take up commercial flying, and my ultimate goal will be flight dispatching," he added.

Shearer intends to enroll in the school at the California city on June 28.

While attending college, he has displayed an active interest in engineering activities. He is a member of the student branch of the American Association of Radio Engineers, treasurer of the electrical engineers, and a member of Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary band fraternity. He is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

In addition to Wood, the committee making the awards consisted of William B. Stout, former president of the American Society of Automotive Engineers, and two other prominent men in the engineering field whose names were not announced.

Basic Course Men Given Commissions

Nine members of the senior military class received orders today to report to Camp Roberts, San Miguel, Calif., on May 13, 24 hours after graduation.

They are Wilbourne Andrews, William Casey, Nick Evasivich, Ray Garamendi, Henry Morehead, Nick Pappas, John Severne, Mark Stewart, Phillip Carroll.

For the first time in University of Nevada military history, two basic ROTC cadets have been promoted to commissioned officer grades. The two men, Harold Baird and Galen DeLongchamps, were appointed brevet cadet second lieutenants.

Officers of the military department said the promotions were made because the two cadets were outstanding in their work and being seniors, were not eligible for advanced courses.

On probably the last personnel order of the year, Cadet First Lieutenants William Casey and Mark Stewart were promoted to the rank of brevet captains.

On the same order Orin Bennett was promoted to staff sergeant, John Brennan, sergeant, and John Stufferberger was appointed cadet corporal.

Casey and Stewart will act as executive officers for their respective companies while the other cadets will be attached to the battalion staff.

Geology Students Study Formations

Eighteen students of the Geology 8 class made a field trip Sunday morning. The group traveled east along the Lincoln highway, stopping every few miles to view geological formations in the vicinity.

Highlight of the tour was a visit to Pyramid lake.

Those who made the trip were Prof. V. P. Gianella, Lorena Hammock, Jo Ann Record, Jean Caple, Janice Bawden, Charlotte Mason, Patricia Henry, Virginia Crofut, Viola Sorensen, Preston Funkhouser, Arthur Weller, Kenneth Edson, Chester Salisbury, Maurice Sullivan, James Marcum, Ralph Angus, Rosmino Barenco, Leroy Talcott and Leo Puccinelli.

Graduate Manager Joe T. McDonnell, confined to the Washoe county hospital for a week and his own home for the last ten days, will probably return to his duties Monday, it was learned here today.

McDonnell Back Soon

William M. McMenamin, University of Nevada journalism graduate, visited on the campus last week.

Former editor of the Sagebrush, McMenamin has been with the United Press associations since his graduation.

He has just been promoted to the headship of the Phoenix, Arizona, bureau of the U. P. and stopped in Reno en route from Portland, Oregon, where he has had charge of the radio processing of the press association's regional news for the northwest.

Picnic, Pilgrimage, Banquet Highlight Annual Observance

Senior Ball Scheduled For Saturday Night In State Building

Senior week activities, in their third day of observance, will shift into high tomorrow when graduates will gather at Lawton's for their annual picnic.

Thursday night the graduates will return to Lawton's for the senior banquet, originally planned for the Tavern, destroyed by fire Sunday morning. Tickets at $1.25 a plate are being sold on the campus for the event by a committee headed by Guy Allen. Seniors wishing to bring dates to the affair may do so, Allen said.

Pilgrimage Friday
The annual senior pilgrimage, a highlight of the entire celebration, will start from the student union building at 10:30 a. m. Friday, with speakers from the class scheduled to talk at various points about the campus. Caps and gowns will be worn by those taking part. A tea at the Gamma Phi Beta house honoring the graduates will be given from 2 to 4 that afternoon.

Saturday will be a full day with the governor's review of the ROTC battalion in the morning, numerous addresses and dedication of the new engineering building, and an alumni barbecue occupying the day. The annual Phi Kappa Phi and publications board banquets will be climaxed by the gala senior ball in the evening.

Graduation Rites
Baccalaureate services will occupy Sunday afternoon, and the week will be climaxed Monday by an extensive commencement day program, including announcement of awards, scholarships, and senior honors.

The faculty performed a rude jolt to senior ego yesterday when the softball team took the graduates, 11-9, on wind-swept Mackay field.

Other events of the celebration so far have included the A.W.S. tea for senior women in Manzanita hall last Friday afternoon and the Blue Key senior tea dance at the Alpha Tau Omega house Sunday.

Twenty Education Graduates Placed In Nevada Schools

Twenty education graduates have already been placed on the staffs of Nevada schools for next year, Dean F. W. Traner, announced this week.

This is almost twice as many placements as in any of the past three years. Nine of the 20 were placed in high schools, and the rest in grade schools.

Those placed are Kathryn Devlin, Annie Johnson, Henry Wells, Mary Arentz, and Betty Hardy, who will teach at McGill; Inabelle Jarvis and Alice Wade, Fallon; Vera Delmore, Pioche; Helen Cameron and Frank Beloso, Boulder City high school; Aileen Smith, Ruth; Phyllis Anker, Nellie Little and Ruth Pray, Ely; Caroline Best, Margaret Hermansen, and Ruth Harris, Yerington high school; Virginia Crofut, Panaca high school; Delphine Goicochea, Wells high school; and Mary Boylan, Smith Valley high school.

Miss Delmore is a normal school graduate. Henry Wells graduated last year, and has taken courses this semester to qualify for his new position in McGill.

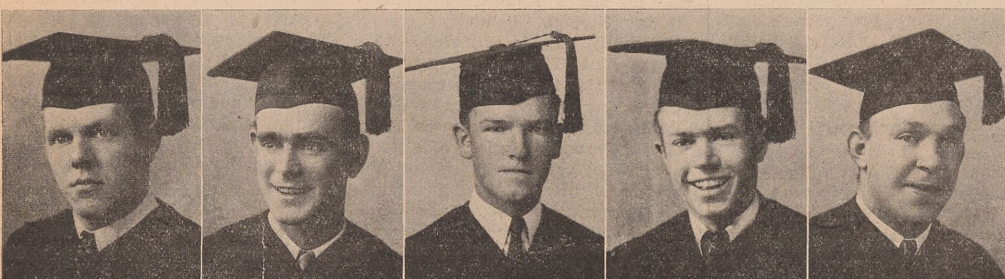

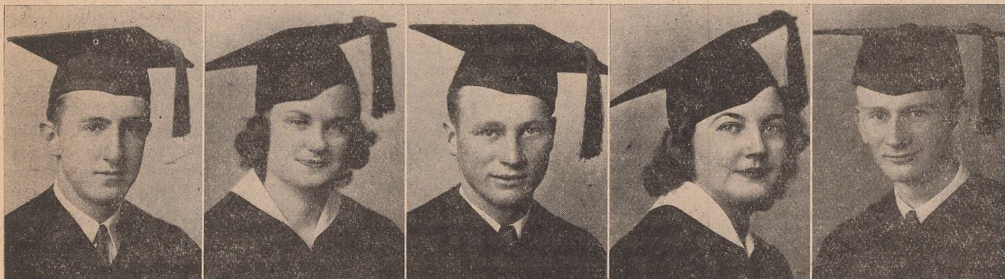

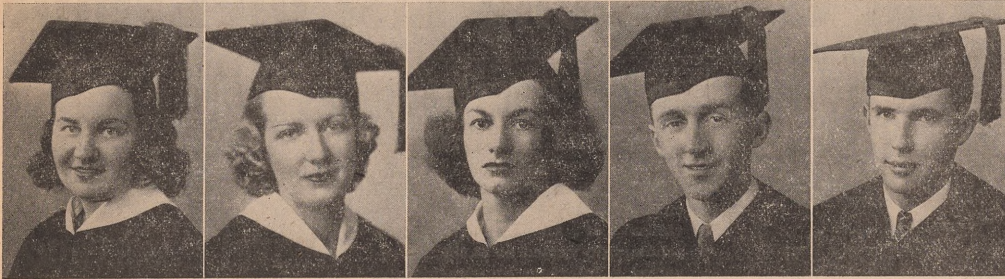

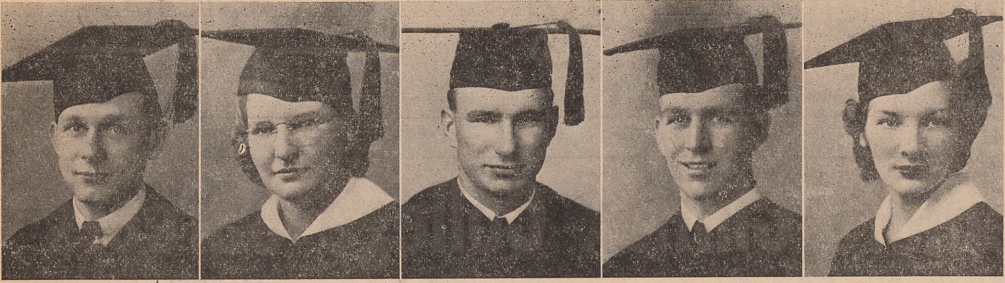

Seven former graduates have been promoted or changed positions. Dean Traner also announced, they are Helen Spina, '36, from Yerington to Boulder City; Melva Lauritzen, '38, from Eureka to McGill; Bob Comer, '40, from Stewart to Yerington high school; John Robb, '39, from Douglas to Yerington high school; Juanita Elcano, '40, Ely to Reno; Georgina Cole, '38, Ruth to Reno, and Albert Morhaw, '37, was promoted to principal of the Gerlach schools.

Journalism Graduate Visits University

Former editor of the Sagebrush, McMenamin has been with the United Press associations since his graduation.

He has just been promoted to the headship of the Phoenix, Arizona, bureau of the U. P. and stopped in Reno en route from Portland, Oregon, where he has had charge of the radio processing of the press association's regional news for the northwest.

Nevada Graduates of 1941 Wind Up Collegiate Careers On Monday

Seniors To Make Trek On Friday

Starting Friday at 10:30 in front of the student union building with a speech by Ray Garamendi, this year's Senior Trek will move from place to place about the campus, with 15 of the more active seniors slated to speak at the designated stopping points. The annual Trek follows the pattern laid down years ago by the senior class that originated the custom.

Other speakers and the site of their speeches are: Kay Devlin at the Hazeman Memorial (the sun dial near the bulletin board), Gergia Ereno in front of Morrill Hall, Frank McCulloch at the Mackay Hall of Science, Cyril Ham at the engineers' bench (in front of the electrical engineering building), Bill Mitchell at the new engineering building, Harvey Johnson, at the Mackay statue, Margaret Hermansen at the senior bench, Bill Casey at the library, Helen Cameron at the Aggie building, Jim Tranter at the education building, John Sala at the gym, and Hank Clayton on Mackay field.

Marjory Gusewelle will present the senior gift. The site for the presentation has not yet been chosen. Byron Hardie is chairman of the committee in charge.

Graduates Pay Dues To Alum Association

The donation of a public address system to the student body and a one-year subscription to the Alumni Association for each graduate will comprise the annual senior gifts for this year. Cyril Ham, chairman of the senior gift committee, announced this week.

The public address system is something that the student body has needed for their football and basketball games for a number of years, Ham stated.

In the past, the students have had to rent equipment from business firms in Reno, and have used commercial advertising to pay the cost of it.

The new equipment can also be used in the gym and in the auditorium for ASUN meetings and rallies, he added.

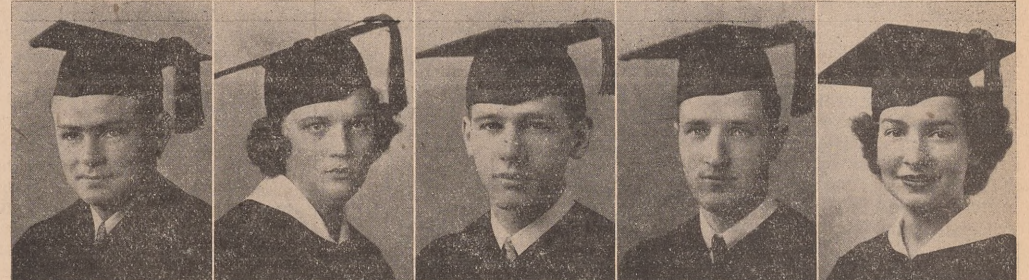

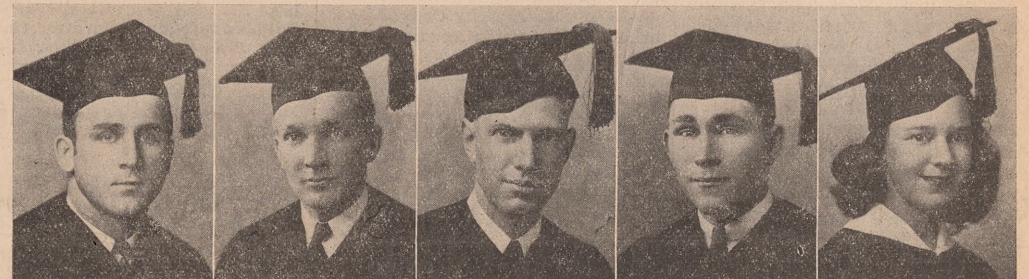

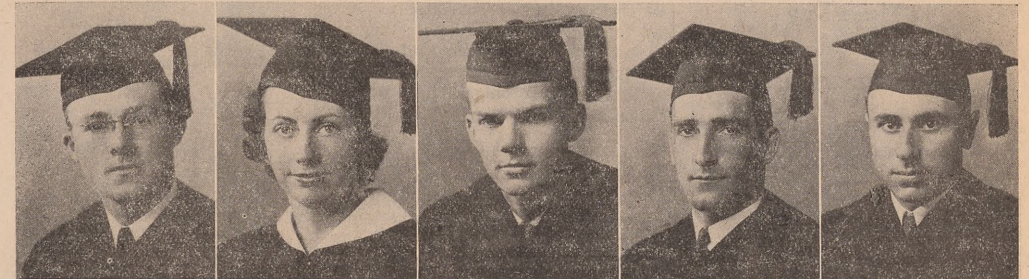

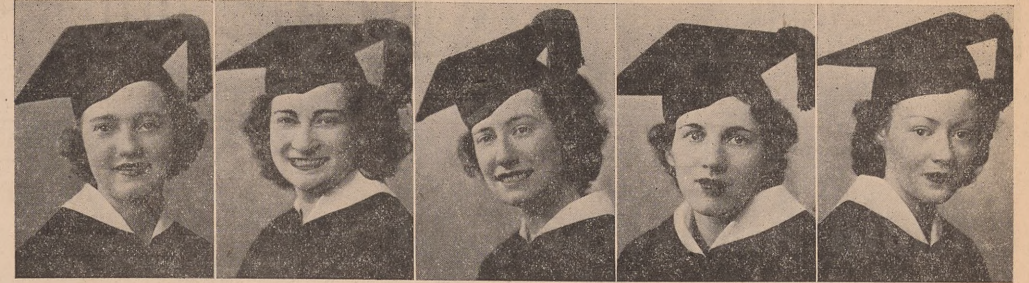

In order to stimulate interest among graduating seniors in alumni work, the class is paying the dues of every member of this year's class, for one year in the association.

Marge Gusewelle will make the presentation to the student body on the annual senior trek, which is scheduled for May 9.

Date Of Annual Dinner Of Phi Kappa Phi Set

New members of the Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national society honoring scholarships are to be honored at the 29th annual banquet May 10. Rev. Dr. Augustine Jones, son of the second president of the university, will speak on the subject "Assaults on the Liberal Mind."

Honored guest will be Judge Frank H. Norcross, member of the first four-year graduating class of 50 years ago, and new members elected by the society this week.

Moore To Serve As Band Leader

George Moore, Beta Kappa, was elected president of the university band at a meeting of the group recently.

Assisting him in the office of vice-presidency is Fritz Jane Neddenriep, while Doris Post will serve as secretary. Prof. T. H. Post is the treasurer from year to year.

Moore's election to the presidency automatically makes him an influential member of the university rally committee. He has been active in student affairs.

Forensic Awards Made At Banquet

The awarding of Forensic Keys to members of the university debate squad highlighted the annual debaters banquet held at Carson City Thursday.

Silver Keys were won by Ed Mulcahy, George Escobar, Russell Taylor, Pete Echeverria and Cliff Young, while Gold Keys, awarded for three years of service, were given by Betty Mason, Tom Cooks, James Tranter, and Charles Mapes.

During the semester the team has participated in three major tournaments with honors going to Kay Devlin, Bill Casey, and Pete Echeverria, who participated in the Pi Kappa Delta meet, Pacific Forensic League Tournament, and the fifth annual Junior College Tournament, respectively.

The team and their coach represented Nevada at Stockton, February 13, 14, 15, at a meeting that barred experienced speakers having upperclass status. Echeverria placed fourth in the meet, and George Escobar and Robert Crowell reached the semi-finals.

Escobar and Russell Taylor, Cliff Young and Echeverria comprised the teams entered in debate. Other members who made the trip were Bruce Bowen, Marianne Smith and Barbara Mann. Betty Mason and James Tranter assisted in judging debates at this meet.

Nevada Social Whirl Comes To Conclusion This Week

The Nevada social whirl neared its end this week as final plans were made for the last fraternity formal of the season and the annual Senior Ball.

Sigma Nu's Wind It Up

The Sigma Nu formal to be held Friday night at 8 at the Riverside hotel will mark the end of the fraternity formal season. Mark Nesbitt's orchestra will play for the dance.

Guests include Kenny Skidmore, Sigma Phi Sigma; Charles Mapes, SAE; Lynn Montgomery, Phi Sig; Leland Tucker, Beta Kappa; John Sala, Lambda Chi Alpha; Ralston Hawkins, ATO; Louis Peraldo, Lincoln hall.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William Smythe, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Martie, Mr. and Mrs. John Muller will be chaperones.

Marshall Robb is in charge. His committee members are Frank Beloso, Bill Marks, and John DuPratt.

SAE Senior Tea

Members of the senior class and the presidents of fraternities and sororities will be guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Minerva club at a tea-dance which will be given at the Twentieth Century club Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5.

Les Leggett's orchestra will provide music for the guests.

Jack Pieri is chairman of the committee. His assistants are Howard Campbell, John Woodburn and John Spann.

Violet Theme

Violet corsages were presented guests at the SAE formal Saturday night, carrying out the violet theme. The annual dance was held at Lawton's.

Leota Maestretti's orchestra furnished music for the occasion. Chaperones were Dean Margaret E. Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. R. B.

Dancers Entertain At Silver Dessert

To raise funds to aid in financing their annual good-will tour of the state, members of the University Dancers entertained at a silver dessert hour, Monday evening.

Following the program an informal reception was held, and refreshments were served. Mesdames Leon W. Hartman, Henrietta Osgood, Alfred M. Smith and Miss Elsa Sameth were presented with corsages to thank them for pouring at the affair.

Miss Kathryn Carroll, charter president of the group, served as general chairman for the evening. She was assisted by the following committee chairmen: Florence Alexander, Patricia Chism, Evelyn Osgood, Mary Higgins and Viola Sorensen.

During the evening the dancers presented a program which included Danube Waves, Salambo, vocal solos by Virginia Spencer, Gnomes, Dal Dans, Arab, Alice Blue, Military Tap, Scotch Sword, Jarabe, Waltz Ballet, Anitra Dance and Nautch.

Smith Named Head Of Newman Club

Bernard Smith, sophomore member of Sigma Nu, was elected president of the University Newman club at the final meeting of the group last week.

His duties will start when school begins next fall. Smith succeeds Richard Carroll, senior Independent student.

Assisting Smith as officers of the organization are Dolores Saval, vice-president; Mary Kathryn Carroll, secretary, and John Gabrieli, treasurer.

Preceding last week's meeting, the Newman club entertained senior students of the Junior Newman club at a picnic at Bowers' Mansion.

Old and new officers of the group will hold an executive meeting Sunday evening, May 4, in the Catholic social hall. At that time plans will be made for next semester's meetings.

Summer Session Arouses Interest

Letters requesting information concerning the University of Nevada session have been received from a larger number of states and from a greater number of individuals than ever before, Dr. H. N. Brown, director of the session, announced this week.

Every teacher in Nevada and many in the neighboring counties of California have been mailed catalogues announcing the opening of the session June 16.

Students attending the session a year ago numbered two women to every man, and fourteen states were represented.

Dancers To Make Good Will Tour

Members of the University Dancers will leave Tuesday morning, May 13, on their second good-will tour of Nevada.

The group will dance before service clubs, school and social groups throughout the state. The first stop will be at Lovelock, and the 10-day tour will end with a program at Tonopah, after which the dancers will return to Reno. The complete itinerary for the trip will not be available until next week.

Myrtle Elges is general chairman for the tour. Those planning to make the trip are Myrtle Elges, Mary Kathryn Carroll, Mary Higgins, June Conser, Evelyn Osgood, Florence Alexander, Jo Ann Record, Patricia Chism, Iris Kinneberg, and Viola Sorensen.

Pi Phis Entertain National Officer

Members of Nevada Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi were hostesses last week to Mrs. Warren Smith of Lake Stevens, Wash., grand vice-president of the fraternity.

Mrs. Smith arrived in Reno Tuesday and was the honored guest at the Pi

Beta Phi founders' day banquet that evening.

The national officer held conferences with the Nevada coeds Wednesday and Thursday and left Reno Thursday.

The Kinnear Trophy, all but in the bag for the Lambda Chi as a result of their tie for fourth place in the baseball race, was kicked about again last night when the Beta Kappas and Sigma Phis decided not to play off their third place tie. Fractionally speaking, such a decision would split third and fourth place digits between the two, forcing the Lambda Chis out of fourth and into fifth place, and put the coveted copper pot back on the Tau shelf.

The cry of "dirty politics" heaped on the heads of the two non-contestants reached the ears of Director Soranton, who decreed that the two must play or suffer a double forfeit, saving the necks of the Lambda Chis.

... Wolf Prints ...
Harry Bell, who incidentally deserves a cup for his excellent statistical resume of each game this season, has figured out a mathematical all-fraternity team. Despite the fact that figures don't lie, the averages warn the lineup enough for us to put our koeps on the official nine.

... Wolf Prints ...
Sigma Nu's catcher, Bob Broberg, gets a leg on the hic-cup for the zaniest play of the year, when he stole from second back to first against the Phi Sigs last week, with the Lake street infield gaping. Broberg still insists he was safe on the play.

On the score sheets are three men with batting averages of 1.000. All three men were at bat once and got one hit—a homer. Barsanti tagged one for the route against Lincoln Hall's Owens, while Fred Forson lammed one into the garden against Phi Sig last week, quickly followed by Phi Sig's Bill Zerweck, who hit McCulloch's balloon ball into deep center field.

A.T.O. Dominates All-Fraternity Baseball Team With Four Men

Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Sigma Place Two Boys Each

Greek Managers Ballot To Select League Honor Roll

Chosen by the votes of the players of the eight competing teams, 12 men were named to the local all-fraternity baseball squad yesterday.

The champion ATO's dominated the honor list with four men, followed by Sigma Phi Sigma and Sigma Nu with two apiece. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Beta Kappa placed one man each.

In selecting the honor roll athletes, Greek managers cast their ballots for an all-opponent squad, not being allowed to name any player from their own team on the roster. Five points were awarded each vote cast for a player, three to each cast for the position of alternate pitcher or catcher.

Brad Johns, flashy little second baseman for the Sigma Phi Sigma squad, and Tommy Kot, Sigma Phi outfielder, were the only players to receive all seven votes for the position at which he played this year. However, Lyle Roush, a good Lambda Chi Alpha team all rolled into one man, and Bob O'Shaughnessy, ATO's curve ball artist and slugger, both received seven first-string votes, though both were placed at different positions around the lineup. Roush, for instance, got 20 points for a third-base spot and 15 for left field, though he pitched for Lambda Chi throughout the season. O'Shaughnessy got 25 for his pitching and another 10 for center field.

Lemich Tops Catchers
John Lemich, veteran ATO receiver, also got a vote from every opposing team in the league, being named alternate catcher on but one ballot. A very strong left-handed hitter, Lemich handled his pitchers well and threw with deadly accuracy to the bases. His

Alternate catcher	Broberg	20	Sigma Nu
Pitcher	O'Shaughnessy	25	ATO

Honorable mention: Catcher, Linson 8, Sala 3; pitcher, McCulloch, 9, Kinneberg, 8, Tucker 5, Benedetti, 3, Sorenson, 3; first base, Davis, 10; second base, Monroe, 5; third base, Keen, 5; shortstop, Hattala, 5, Seewald, 5, Walker 5; left field, Sutich, 15, Sala, 5; right field, Nagle, 5; Mayer, 5, Mayse, 5.

Point system: In choosing pitchers and catchers, 5 points was awarded for each first string vote, 3 for each alternate vote. Votes for all other positions received 5 points apiece.

alternate, scrappy Bob Broberg of the Sigma Nu nine, had but one error chalked up against him all year, hit over 400, and called his pitches with uncanny judgment.

O'Shaughnessy, perhaps the best curve baller to hit the local league in ten years, was also a powerful hitter. A regular outfielder for the Reno Larks, he handles either a pasture or the mound with equal ease. His alternate, Perry Jensen, has also played plenty of high class ball, pitching a number of winning games for the Reno Garage last year and getting a try-out with San Francisco of the Coast League last year.

Quilici, Brock Tie
Little Charley Brock, the defensive bulwark of a weak Phi Sig team this year, showed enough fielding form to earn a tie with "Bear-man" Quilici, powerhouse of the ATO murderers row, for first base chores. Both narrowly nosed Ray Davis, Beekay first sacker, who got 10 points.

Brad Johns turned in consistently fine games at the second base job he held down for Sigma Phi Sigma. A sparkling fielder, he had a fine arm and was the key man of many double plays in the Sigma Phi infield. He was also good hitter, batting lead-off for his team.

Ralston Hawkins was given the third base post, though he received only 15 points compared to Roush's 20, since Roush received enough to guarantee a spot in the outfield. Hawkins has received the honor for the last three years because of his consistent performances.

Barkley Takes Short
Shortstop went to "Bounding Lou" Barkley of Beta Kappa by a wide margin. A good fielding average, a very powerful arm, and the ability to hit in the clutches gave Barkley his big edge over the league's other shortstops.

Tommy Kot, the Tiltonville Terror, covered a tremendous lot of ground in center field for Sigma Phi Sigma this year. The possessor of the best arm in the league, so far as outfielders go, he was also a consistent and heavy hitter. He received at least one vote for every spot in the outfield and was named to the honor list by every team in the league.

Bill Helphinstine, Sigma Nu's cleanup man and a fine fielder, was far ahead of the competition for center field honors. He hit well during the year and went through the season without having a single miscue being chalked up against him.

Roush Said Outstanding
Lyle Roush, considered by many to be the outstanding ball player in the league, completes the team. Good enough to warrant a try-out with the San Francisco Seals next week, he was forced to pitch for the Lambda Chi's this season but did not let that deter him in topping the league in practically every hitting department. He proved surprisingly effective as a chucker also, winning four games.

Grades On May 17

Semester grades will probably not be mailed to students before Saturday, May 17, Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar, announced this week. Grades are not due from professors and instructors until Wednesday, May 14, and it will take three or four days to get them compiled, she explained.

Nevada Netmen Tie; Lose Matches

Nevada's four-man tennis squad was blanked by the Cal Aggies and tied by the College of Pacific in a weekend jaunt to the California schools, April 25 and 26.

Every match was taken by the Cal Aggie netmen as the Nevada squad sweated in the sultry coast weather. The Aggies were the first to shut out the Wolves this season. Saturday morning at Stockton, the Pack netters took and dropped three matches from the COP tennis team.

Results: Cal Aggie—Haggood (A) df. Mills, 6-0, 6-4; Brown (A) df. Roush, 6-1, 6-1; Johnson (A) df. McCabe, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4; O'Donnell (A) df. Joplin, 6-1, 6-2; Haggood and O'Donnell df. Mills and Roush, 9-11, 6-3, 6-2; Brown and Johnson df. McCabe and Joplin, 6-4, 6-2.

College of the Pacific—Mills (N) df. Traphagen, 6-2, 6-3; Hutcheson (P) df. Roush, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0; McCabe (N) df. Spindt, 7-5, 6-3; Trezise (P) df. Joplin, 6-1, 6-1; McCabe and Joplin df. Trezise and Traphagen, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

League Statistician Compiles All-Greek Team According To Mathematical System

BY HARRY BELL

All-fraternity and all-everything teams long have been picked on the basis of performance in the field, with no eye to the record books. This year's statistics play a part in giving honors to a player for each piece of good work he does, and deducting points for each misplay, in a hypothetical, mathematical's all-fraternity nine.

With this in mind, the sports staff of the Sagebrush has attempted to pick a statistical all-fraternity team with points earned as follows: For each run, 25 points; single, 10 points; double, 20 points; triple, 60 points; home run, 100 points; runs batted in, 25 points; base on balls, 10 points; stolen base, 10 points. And for the defensive performance, a player is credited with 15 points for each putout and 10 point for an assist. But for each error, the player is deducted 50 points, and for each time he strikes out he is deducted 25 points.

In comparing the statistical all-fraternity team with the team picked by the managers it will be noted that four players made both teams, and of the first and second team, a total of nine players out of twelve possibilities were picked by both.

Pack Finishes Last In Three-Way Meet

Jim Bailey's hapless varsity track team wound up at the bottom of a three-way meet with Chico State and the Cal Aggies Saturday before last at Chico, scoring 36% points. The Aggies walked away with the meet, running up 82½ points, while Chico scored 45% to cop second place.

Only first place winners for Nevada were Jarrell Perkins, who won the shot-put at 42 feet in spite of an injured finger; Paul Seaborn, who tied for first in the high hurdles in 15:6; and Bill Friel, who tied for first in the high jump at 5 feet 10 inches.

first baseman. The statistical team gave Quilici the nod over Brock by 135 points, and both players were nominated to the manager's team, deadlocked at 15 votes apiece.

Lemich Has Big Lead

John Lemich, ATO, with a total of 2300 points, gained the position of catcher over Sigma Nu's Broberg, mainly because of his tremendous power with the bat. Lambda Chi's Johnson made the second string team on his hitting and due to the fact that he received credit for the put-outs of all strike-outs pitched by Roush.

Roush On Mound

The managers had to find a spot for Roush, so they relegated him in the outfield, but playing on statistics, according to positions, Lyle, largely because he leads in almost every hitting department, had a clear margin of 600 points over O'Shaughnessy, the managers' selection for pitcher.

Tau Victory Cinches Cup; S. N. Second

Hilltoppers Trounce SAE's While Lambda Chi's Take Fourth For Kinnear Cup

Alpha Tau Omega last week cinched the championship cup in interfrat baseball play as they finished the season with only one defeat chalked up against them. The Sigma Nu nine is so far in second place, with either the Beta Kappa's or the Sigma Phi Sigma's having a chance to tie for the runner-up position.

Although the Tau's took home the Greek baseball cup, the Lambda Chi Alphas fought their way into fourth place and so won the coveted Kinnear trophy.

The off-postponed Beta Kappa-Sigma Phi Sigma tilt is scheduled to be played this afternoon.

Sigma Phi's Beat LHA

Friday the Sigma Phi nine defeated Lincoln hall 13-0 in a rematch which was caused by a protested contest earlier in the season. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning.

The ATO's won their final game of the season by knocking over the Sigma Alpha Epsilon nine 9-4 Thursday. The Tau's had to win this game to win due to three home runs, good for 300 points; and the same holds true for shortstop, as DuPratt of SN had a 130 margin over Barkley. This is accounted for by his play at first in a couple of games, where he received numerous put-outs and consequently more points than Barkley was able to muster.

Gallagher Noses Johns

Hugh Gallagher, Sigma Nu second baseman took the first string berth over Brad Johns of the Sigma Phi's. Gallagher has played in one more game than has Brad, and his steady work throughout the year enabled him to garner more points. Johns on the other hand has the best defensive record of the two and is only slightly weaker at bat.

The outfield is made up of two Sigma Nus, Helphinstine and Meffley, and Nagle of the Taus. All three played steady ball all year and played almost every game in the same spot.

Helphinstine of Sigma Nu got a short nod over Tommy Kot, leading batter and outfielder of the Virginia street boys because he has played in one more game.

The left field spot was wide open with several good players patrolling that area. The leading Tau's had two good left fielders, O'Shaughnessy and Sorenson, who alternated their play with the mound chore. Because of this fact, neither made the berth, and Meffley of Sigma Nu stepped in to get the honor.

Best team in the league, according to the system, is Sigma Nu, with 7,775 points; Alpha Tau Omega follows with 7,528; Lambda Chi Alpha with 6,273.

Roush To Try Out With S. F. Seals

Lyle Roush, junior Lambda Chi Alpha and leading hitter of the Nevada interfraternity league, will leave for Sacramento this weekend, where he will join the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league for a tryout, it was learned here today.

Roush received word from Frank "Lefty" O'Doull, manager of the Seals, that he would be given his chance to break into professional ball during the week of May 13-17, when the San Francisco team hooks up in a seven-game series with the Solons of Sacramento.

their undisputed right to the title. Bob O'Shaughnessy, ace Tau chucker, held the SAE batters to two bingles while the Tau sluggers ganged up on Perry Jensen for eleven hits.

Sigma Nu Runs Wild

The second place Sigma Nu's ended their season by handing the Phi Sigma Kappa outfit a 26-2 lacing Wednesday. Bob Broberg, star Snake catcher, slapped out four hits to lead the University avenue gang.

The fast finishing Lambda Chi nine won their way into fourth position and the Kinnear trophy by winning a decisive 19-9 victory over the SAE horse-hiders Tuesday. Jerry Johnson, Lambda Chi catcher, led the batting with three hits, while big John Sala drove in four runs with two home runs.

Unlucky "13"

Thirteen is an unlucky number for the Lincoln Hall association as two times in a week they lost games by that many runs. Monday the Beta Kappa's pushed over 13 tallies while holding the Lincoln Haller's scoreless.

It was a fight for the cellar position a week ago Friday when the Phi Sigma Kappa's and the Lincoln hall nine met, with the Hall club finally winning a one-sided victory 15-4. This places these two clubs in a tie for the cellar spot, each with six losses and two wins.

DuPratt To Head Military Society

James DuPratt, junior member of Alpha Tau Omega and ASUN president candidate, was elected captain of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society, last week. He will replace Ralston Hawkins, who is graduating to a commission with the U. S. army.

Other officers elected were: John Uhalde, first lieutenant; Leon Etechemendy, second lieutenant; and George Clark, first sergeant.

The society held a formal dinner dance at Lawton's last week at which time Gov. E. P. Carville was initiated on honorary member.

Formal initiation ceremonies are being planned for this week. Four members of the junior class who took their informal degree several weeks ago will be inducted into the fraternity. They are James Rookus, George Basta, Wilber Herdquist, and Bernard Connolly. Governor Carville will be present for the exercises.

Among the other activities planned by Scabbard and Blade are a breakfast for the senior officers and a picnic to be held as a farewell party for the cadets who will be called into active army service this summer.

If you love me as I love you We'll both be friendly and untrue.

It's been a long time since we started printing your school paper. In 1923, to be exact, that makes 18 years of Student Service of which we are both proud and happy. In these past years we have almost become a part of your school. But we are glad to have been able to serve the Student Body in this capacity, and hope to be able to continue this service. To all the newly elected Publication heads we wish a very successful and prosperous year.

Kappa Tau Alpha Elects Sanford, Duncan, Wilcox

Graham Sanford, retired Nevada newspaperman, Charles Duncan, instructor of journalism, and Walter Wilcox, 1941 journalism graduate, have been elected to the University of Nevada chapter of Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship in journalism.

First honorary member of the Nevada chapter, Sanford was elected because of his qualities of scholarship during more than a quarter of a century as the editor of the Reno Evening Gazette, Frank Sullivan of the Nevada State Journal, president of the group, said in announcing the names.

Duncan, who joined the university journalism faculty this year, came to Nevada from Minnesota, where he was on the staffs of weekly newspapers nationally recognized for their excellence. Wilcox, editor of the 1941 Artemisia, university year book, ranked highest of senior journalism student in scholarship in his junior-senior subjects, chief basis for election to the society.

Election, Sullivan said, is made by alumni and faculty members of the Nevada chapter.

Frank McCulloch, 1941 journalism graduate and editor of the U. of N. Sagebrush, is the only other undergraduate member of the organization.

Every student elected to the society since its organization six years ago, Sullivan said, is now either a student in journalism or is on the staff of a newspaper, press association, or publishing house.

Wilcox, Pieri To Distribute '41 Edition Of Artemisia On UN Campus Tomorrow

The results of one full year of work will be submitted for campus approval when Walt Wilcox and Jack Pieri issue their 1941 Artemisia in the student union building tomorrow.

A book of new features, the '41 edition will portray campus life during the past year by photograph, word, and the line drawings of Lew Hymers, local artist. Hymers' work illustrated the main text of the book and each of its chapter divisions.

That the edition will be colorful is insured by the fact that all art pages for main divisions are done in green, black and brown, while the chapter heads are in black and green.

The 251 pages of editorial matter are set in a new script type, already very popular in year books throughout the nation, according to Wilcox. Other features include the pictures and records of 155 seniors, the pictures of 185 juniors, of all the faculty, two pages of snap shots, and the most highly-illustrated ad section in the history of the publication.

Students may secure the yearbook at the ASUN building Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. After Friday, anyone wishing to get the volume must make arrangements with a staff member.
