NEW CAA COURSE BEGINS NEXT MONTH ON CAMPUS

Tentative plans for a course to be given by the university under the supervision of the Civil Aeronautics Authority will be made at a meeting this afternoon at 4:30 in the office of Dr. Leon W. Hartman, according to Dean S. J. Palmer of the college of engineering. Planned for a probable eight weeks duration from May 1 to June 30, the course is designed for high school instructors. It will include such subjects as meteorology, air navigation and handling of aircraft equipment. The class will meet in the evening with extra work on Friday and Saturday for the convenience of out-of-town instructors who will take the course.

Enlisted Reserve Traced to Camps

Forty-seven former University of Nevada Enlisted Reserve Corps men are now "hanging their hats" in Uncle Sam's barracks located at points far distant from their favorite campus haunts. Camp Walters, Texas, is putting a room over the heads of Stanley Cohen, Howard Heckethorn, Norman Towner, Bill Beko, Bob Bruce, Ray Davis, Bill Eccles, James Forsyth, John Gabrielli, Howard Haman, John Hawkins, Bill Henley, Harry Paik, Bernard Smith, Hale Tognoni, Dick Vietti, John Warren, Loyd Clement, Ray Gardella, George Gibson and Leroy Wadsworth. Steve Zoradi, Paul Hoeffling and William O'Brien are at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Nevada Debaters Win 3 Places in Pacific Tournament

University of Nevada speakers won two fourth places and a seventh place in the Pacific Forensic League tournament held April 13, 14 and 15 on the University of Southern California campus at Los Angeles, Dr. Robert Griffin, speech instructor, announced this week. Two Nevada men, Pete Echeverria and Bruce Bowen, entered the tournament. Echeverria received two fourth places, one in after dinner speaking and the other in oratory. He is half of the team of Echeverria and Cliff Young who recently captured the title of Pacific coast debate champions.

Pi Beta Phi Entertains Grand Council Officer

Pi Beta Phi entertained Mrs. Adele Alfred, national officer and editor of their monthly magazine, "The Arrow," last Friday and Saturday when she visited the campus chapter.

Seventeen Coeds Model Costumes For Fashion Show

Seventeen campus women will model wartime clothing at the annual AWS fashion show to be given Thursday afternoon, April 29, in the Education auditorium, Fritz Jane Neddenrip, chairman, stated today.

AWS Annual Affair Will Reflect Wartime Clothing

Models for the occasion were selected by the women's executive board and sorority chairmen. Models and the organizations they will represent are Mary Katherine Carroll and Molly Young, Independents; Doll Corbett, Jean Werner and Marie Hicks, Artemisia-Manzanita Association; Jacqueline Reid, Mary Louise Griswold and Lela Iler, Kappa Alpha Theta, Valerie Snell, Shirley Bowen and Dorothy Casey, Delta Delta Delta, Shirley Heary, Sydney Hamilton and Rose Marie Mayhew, Pi Beta Phi, Mary Alice Homes, Brownie Wylie and Jacqueline Thompson, Gamma Phi Beta.

Kehoe Named Head Of Senior Week By Class Manager

Jim Kehoe, senior Sigma Rho Delta, was named senior week chairman, according to Jack Pierce, class manager. The rest of the committee will be named next week, according to Pierce and will meet to formulate further plans for senior events. Senior week will be held from May 17 to May 22 inclusive, and the festivities will be greatly curtailed due to the war, Pierce added.

Reifschneider Is Named President

Nita Reifschneider, junior Kappa Alpha Theta, was elected president of Chi Delta Phi, honorary English sorority, at a special meeting of the group held Wednesday noon at the ASUN building.

BOND SALES JUMP ON NEVADA CAMPUS

The registrar's office announced today that $543.75 worth of defense bonds were sold this week on the campus. One student bought two $25 bonds and five army air students purchased one apiece.

HITLER'S EASTER

This week the world celebrates two entirely different occasions—one symbolic of love and freedom, the other of hate and slavery. Tuesday was Hitler's 54th birthday and Sunday is Easter. There is really no comparison, except that both are symbolic of human desires. As a symbol, they walk together on different paths of construction. Hitler in his effeminate way is constructing a world of chains—chains that tie people to love of a Nazi God. Easter is constructing, and has been since the Resurrection of Christ from the dead, a world of love tearing down the barriers of human hates. Easter is simply the day when democratic people all over the world ponder over the higher ideals of human companionship—bonded together to make things better for each other.

War Curtailment Puts Artemisia Behind Schedule

Delta Delta Delta's annual Theta Theta breakfast will be held at the Riverside Hotel on baccalaureate Sunday, May 23, according to Pat Johnson, chairman. The breakfast is given every year in honor of graduating seniors and to commemorate the founding of the Tri-Delta chapter at Nevada. Seniors always wear cap and gown for the occasion.

Year Book Went to Press This Week, but Won't Be Ready in Time

Due to discrepancies caused by the war, 750 students will receive their Artemisia after the university closes in May, according to Bette Poe, editor. The book went to the printers last week, but labor and material shortages have delayed its going to press. The Artemisia will be out shortly after the summer holidays are under way.

WARREN PARK CONFINED

Warren Park, freshman Sigma Nu pledge, was confined to the infirmary this week with a sore throat, Mrs. E. E. Griffith, nurse in charge, reported.

Easter Holidays Call Many Students From Campus to Old Home Towns

The surrounding countryside will bloom with the Easter bonnets of Nevada coeds this weekend when they desert the campus for their homes or visits to friends and relatives over the holidays. Fallon will see Frances Burke, Fran and Phyllis Baumann, Margaret Crehore, Jean Bailey, Carole Smith and Wilda Plifum coming home, with Wilda bringing Roberta as guest. Many others are expected to return to Churchill's county seat.

Thirty-Two Schools Send 50 Delegates

Extensive program for the PSPA convention, as announced by Eugene Mastroianni, student body president, is listed in order of impending events by the Sagebrush. Wednesday, April 28 Delegates arrive and are met by committee from Nevada. Thursday, April 29 8-10 am—Breakfast at El Cortez Coffee Shop.

Mastroianni Sets Program for PSPA Meeting Delegates

Delegates arrive and are met by committee from Nevada. Wednesday, April 28 Delegates arrive and are met by committee from Nevada. Thursday, April 29 8-10 am—Breakfast at El Cortez Coffee Shop. Registration of delegates in lobby by Barbara Frances and Katy Little. 10am-12 noon—First meeting (clinic for new presidents) in the Green Room.

Greek War Effort Still Going Strong

Bond, stamp and scrap drives are continuing vigorously on the campus, according to house presidents of the fraternities and sororities on the hill. Gamma Phi Beta now leads the sororities with three $25 bonds and a contribution of $50 to the army-navy relief fund. Each member donates to the fund at meetings, and the national organization converts it toward that purpose.

Sigma Nu and SAE Plan Spring Formal

Sigma Nu and Sigma Alpha Epsilon decided at their meetings to hold a joint formal on May 8, according to their respective house presidents. Reason for cooperating in the spring dance was that both houses are depleted of members and economy forced the combination.

NOTICE SENIORS

Seniors who have not been measured for their cap and gown must do so before the middle of next week, according to Miss Thea Thompson, librarian, as the order will be sent out at that time.

Student Body Presidents Meet On U. N. Campus Next Week

Nevada plays host for the first time this year to approximately 50 delegates, attending the 20th annual convention of the Pacific Student Presidents' Association during its three-day meet on April 29, 30, May 1, with Gene Mastroianni, ASUN president, acting as presiding officer in the absence of its elected head.

Mastroianni Will Preside; President Called to Service

Bob McKay, president of the association, and also student president at the University of Southern California, received orders last week to report for duty with the navy on April 26. Its vice-president, George Allen of California Aggies, left school to get married when the campus at Davis was turned over to the army recently. Mastroianni is secretary-treasurer of the association. Dorothy Savage AWS president of Nevada, will represent the university as its president-elect at the convention. Many colleges are sending two delegates, their past presidents and newly elected ones.

Three Teams Now In Basketball Race For Championship

The race for the championship of the pre-cadet and class basketball tournament now being carried on in the gym has narrowed down to three teams, namely the seniors, Juniors and Flight D of the trainees. In games this week the juniors eliminated Flight F from the race in a thrilling overtime game, with Melarkey, junior forward, taking the winning goal.

Library Changes Study Hours for Easter Vacation

Changed library hours will be effective during the Easter vacation, according to Miss Thea Thompson, librarian. The library will be open Thursday 8 am to 4 pm, Friday 8 am to 12 noon, Saturday 8 am to 12 noon. It will be closed all day Sunday.

University Catalogue Takes Trip to Printer

The 1943-44 edition of the University of Nevada Bulletin-Catalogue went to press this week, Mrs. Mary Benton Smith, chairman in charge, announced. Any additional corrections or more copy should be submitted to Mrs. Smith as soon as possible so that the correction may be made in the proof.

Streshley Elected Association Head

Gerry Streshley, junior Zeta Phi Zeta from Austin, was elected chairman of Artemisia-Manzanita Association for the coming year at a meeting of the group Tuesday night. Other officers elected at that time were Anna Belle McVicar, secretary-treasurer; Helen Batjer, senator, and Muriel Westergard, alternate senator.

PORTRAIT OF TRAINEES

BY WILBUR C. WETZEL AND STANLEY S. WIRT

We dance with coeds at the old gym and can see the question in their eyes, "Just who are you?" We entertain students between classes with lusty choruses of "Hey, Hey" and "Jolly Sixpence." They wonder where we come from. Even the spirits of the hallowed campus buildings spring up in amazement under the measured tread of our marching. "Why are they here? Where are they going?"

At the end of February, army air force reservists throughout the country were called to supply the increasing demand for air crew members. That is when we started active service and changed from civilian to khaki clothing. Our present group, now living in the gymnasium, represents two areas, the northwest, including universities of Montana, Idaho, Utah and Utah Agricultural and the midwest, including universities of Chicago, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Northwestern and smaller schools in both areas. About 95 per cent of us have had some college training, ranging from engineering and law to accountants and journalism.

Under provisions of the new air cadet program, we were sent to a basic training center at Fresno for one month. The purpose of this training was to orient us to army life, to give us the fundamentals essential to every soldier and to acquaint us with the life of a private so that we could better understand our men if we should become officers.

Drilling was a major part of our curriculum, so much so, that we sang a parlez-vous chorus with "We're in the army air corps, so what the— are we marching for?" Gas masks became our closest friends; we had to carry them at all times. Tests in actual gas chambers and target practice with a Thompson sub-machine gun, as well as weekly trips over the obstacle course, made routine more practical.

The famous KP duty unfortunately was considered important for us to experience. Instead of being awakened at 5:30 in the morning, we got up at 3:30 am. We washed pans, cut vegetables, served food, tended fires after supper. Those who escaped KP were assigned cleanup details in other parts of the camp.

Finally, after hundreds of false rumors, we were told definitely that we were shipping out. Our destination was kept secret, however, to guard against dangers of sabotage. Guesses of the men ranged from Washington to Kansas, and we only gave up the idea of California when we passed the state line. A few hours before reaching Reno, we were told our destination.

We must have looked a weary lot of soldiers when we ate our first meal in the dining hall. A mishap on the track ahead of us had forced us to sleep as best we could in the coaches. Some were disappointed that they were not nearer home, but conditions soon lifted our morale.

Coeds working in the dining hall were a welcome change from KP men we were accustomed to seeing. It is hard for a civilian to imagine how pleasant ordinary dishes can be after a month of eating from mess kits. And the bearded waiters reminded us of similar campus customs of our former alma maters.

Our present program may include much more time than that at Fresno, but we realize that it is preparation for the future. During the last month of our training here we will receive 10 hours of flying. The present setup calls for two to five months at the university, but future contingents will remain the full five months.

The renowned cadet discipline of West Point and various cadet schools is used as a preliminary to what we will later experience. Every infraction of regulations gives violators an amount of demerits (we say gigs) corresponding to the gravity of the error. If at the end of a week, the student has more than a certain number, he must walk guard duty on Saturday night or Sunday morning.

If you walk down a campus path and find a soldier standing rigidly at attention, chin tucked in to the exaggerated degree, hands stretching to the

Frats Pay Tribute To Men in Service

List Names on Parchment And Plaques

Fraternities on the hill have found various means of expressing tribute to their members in the armed forces.

Alpha Tau Omega recently purchased a parchment scroll on which the names of 125 of its members have been inscribed. Names are entered when a member joins the services, and a gold star is added when one is killed in action.

Sigma Nu utilizes the service flag, contains stars for each of its service members. When the flag arrives soon it will bear over 100 stars.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon maintains a plaque having the names of its members engraved.

Lambda Chi Alpha also has a plaque commemorating its men in the service. They also have a directory of these men with their addresses so that members may write to them.

Sigma Rho Delta has a service flag containing 75 blue stars and one gold star.

Theta Chi has no identification of its service members but plans to have a bronze plaque made as soon as there is material available for one.

Barton Lectures Class in Warfare

Lieut. William C. Barton, ROTC graduate with the class of '42, and now in the armored force of the U. S. army, lectured to the advanced ROTC students on Wednesday morning.

His talk had to do with his work in the various phases of armored warfare.

Lieutenant Barton has just left a camp in California and is destined for a new post.

ground, and another soldier counting the wrinkles in his coat, don't call the hospital to report a paralysis case. This is merely the "brace" or exaggerated attention for posture correction.

This class system is being built up on the campus now. A law of Congress prohibits hazing, but the above is merely a form of instruction. Good natured rivalry exists, as is evidenced by a basketball challenge given to lower classmen and competition in singing.

Our next step will be Santa Ana pre-flight school and classification center. Here we will be graded as pilots, bombardiers, navigators and actually begin cadet training.

But we will never forget the beauty of Lake Manzanita, cokes at the Wolf est of the faculty in us, and the state-Den, friendship of the students, interment that Nevada is the finest as well as one of the first college training detachments in the west coast training center.

Three Teams Enter Tennis Tournament

Three teams have entered the WAA spring tennis doubles tournament which will start next week, according to Miss Ruth Russell, physical education instructor.

The teams who have entered are Fritz Jane Neddenrip and Frances Hawkins, Eley Williams and Nancy Herz and Roberta Butler and Mary Gusewelle.

Each team will play the other teams twice before the championship will be announced.

High scorers in the WAA bowling are Frances Frandsen who has an average of 148 and Frances Hawkins who has an average of 140.

Cooking Class Study Work in Dining Hall

The quantity cookery class, instructed by Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, has recently spent six hours studying various phases of the work at the university dining hall.

Last week 33 turkeys were the victims of the class experiment in carving. Next week they will learn to carve other kinds of meat.

We heard an awful row in front of a movie the other night. Two half-sisters were trying to get in on a single ticket.

Greeks Prepare Spring Formals

Two fraternities and one sorority plan spring formal dances for the weekend of April 30-May 1.

Alpha Tau Omega will hold its formal dance at the Trocadero on April 30 with Forrest Nickles in charge of arrangements. Spring flowers will be the major decoration.

Delta Delta Delta will have its spring formal at the Nevada Game Farm on May 1. Ruthe Cash is chairman of the committee, with all seniors in the house assisting her. The theme is to be kept secret to surprise those attending, Miss Cash said.

Theta Chi plans a formal dinner party on May 1 at the Trocadero. Al Mills is chairman of the affair. A dinner party was decided upon by the members, since there are too few men in the house for a formal dance.

Ruth Osborne is the candidate for a normal school diploma.

BUGLE CALLS

Robert Rice, former student, who received his commission in February, has been assigned to the Black Panther division and is a member of the tank destroyer battalion in Camp Bowie, Texas.

Harold Sweatt, '45, received his commission as an ensign in the U. S. naval reserve on April 14. He was an SAE and was one of the yell leaders on the campus when he was here.

Lieut. J. Raymond Butterworth, instructor on leave from the English department at the university, is now on an island in the South Pacific, according to word received here by his wife, Mrs. Betty Mason Butterworth. Lieutenant Butterworth is in the communications division of the army.

Red Cross Examinations Set for Canteen Courses

The Red Cross canteen course, instructed by Miss Mildred Swift and Mrs. Alice B. Marsh of the home economics department, will terminate with a final examination Friday at 1:30 pm in room 108 of the Agriculture building.

The group has studied food and food preparation during the six weeks' course.

The class has visited the Reno Air Base mess hall at Lemmon Valley, Levi Zentner Produce Company and the kitchen of the university dining hall to study methods and practices of buying and preparing food on a large scale.

Upperclass Women May Obtain Awards

Scholarships available for junior and senior women may be applied for at the office of the dean of women, Mrs. Lucile B. Benson, announced today.

Some of the scholarship offers are for future work on the University of Nevada campus and others are for graduate study at other campil.

Women interested may obtain information from Mrs. Benson.

Hartley-Connor Married Today

Mabel Connor, 29, and Gerald Hartley, 43, were married today at a quiet wedding in the home of the bride.

Hartley, who is a member of Theta Chi, entered school in 1929 and withdrew in the middle of his sophomore year. He returned in 1940 and will graduate this year.

Miss Connor is now an associate in farm development.

Leighton Produces Thoughts of Easter; Everything From Spring Suits to Lilies

BY ANNETTE LEIGHTON

Easter brings to mind some thoughts of things far, wide and varied.

Thoughts of Christ nailed to the cross a peaceful tomb where he arose, the scent of spices and ointments, a woman clothed in a flowing gown of white and calling herself Mary Magdalene, strains of Christ the Lord Is Risen Today and Allelujah.

Thoughts of pastel gowns and hats with flowers, new spring suits and lilies on the pulpit, sunshine and perhaps a little rain, people strolling on the streets and strains of In Your Easter Bonnet.

Thoughts of little children hunting brightly colored eggs on green expanses of lawn, children in new dresses at Sunday school dropping pennies in the plate, white bunnies and colored chicks in store windows, and a little pickaninny in a cartoon who once sang "Easter time is de time for eggs and de time for eggs is de Easter time."

Thoughts of loved ones far away in deserts, jungles, cold; wondering if they, too, are observing Easter, wondering how many more Easters will be the same as this, wondering, just wondering.

Presidents Meet on Nevada Campus

Those attending usually bring with them local souvenirs for exchange with other representatives.

In the past, conventions have been held at the University of Montana in 1928, California 1929, Washington, 1930, Arizona, 1931, Washington, 1938, California, 1939, Brigham Young University 1940, UCLA at Catalina Island 1941 and the University of Idaho at Sun Valley 1942. This is the first year Nevada has had the honor of entertaining the association.

Convention Purpose

Main purposes of the annual convention are to discuss student problems and compile lists of resolutions which schools may observe in effecting better handling of their problems during the ensuing year. A convention report of all discussions, their leaders and speakers is made up and sent to all participating schools after the meeting.

Delegates will arrive on Wednesday and Thursday, April 28 and 29. They will be registered at the El Cortez Hotel by Barbara Francis and Katy Little.

A complete program of entertainment and discussion meetings has been planned by the Nevada committee for the three days of the convention.

New officers for the association will be elected at a business meeting held at 6:30 pm Saturday. A convention site for next year's meeting will also be chosen. Dinner and dancing will follow.

Most of the presidents attending will leave Reno on Sunday, and a committee will be present at their departure.

Reno Chamber of Commerce

The Reno Chamber of Commerce has been instrumental, Mastroianni stated, in helping to make the convention a success. They have donated informational material regarding Reno and its vicinity for publicity, as well as stationery and supplies for the Nevada committee working on the convention. They also helped in arranging for entertainment. Bob Miller, manager of the El Cortez Hotel, Harry Frost of the Reno Printing Company, and Ty Cobb of the Nevada State Journal deserve thanks for their cooperation, Mastroianni said.

Those working on the committee for the convention are Bruce Bowen, chairman; Jack Pierce, Jim Kehoe, Addison Millard, Art Palmer, Katy Little, Barbara Francis, Yvonne Rosasco and Dorothy Casey.

A prof wrote "please wash" on the blackboard and the janitor took his bath before Saturday.
