

TWELVE ROTC STUDENTS RETURN TO UNIVERSITY

Twelve first year advanced ROTC students are scheduled to arrive at the University of Nevada sometime within the next few days, according to word received by the university military department this week.

These 12 men were sent to Camp Roberts for advanced training after completing their first year advanced course last spring and are now being returned to the campus for further training. They will be stationed at Artemisia hall with the army engineers.

Ohio State Plans Post-War Aviation

Officials Add Course In Air Transportation

Columbus, Ohio (IP)—Another step in Ohio State University's plans for a place of leadership in post-war aviation training was revealed here with the announcement of a new curriculum in air transportation management, effective immediately.

This action follows the announcement of a curriculum in aeronautical engineering, the creation of a new department of aeronautical engineering, and the erection of the first hangar on the new 400-acre airport.

"Air transportation for passengers, express, and freight is certain to increase greatly, almost immediately after the war, and it is therefore the responsibility of Ohio State's Commerce College to train students for this great development in American business," Dr. Harold H. Maynard, chairman of the department of business organization, said in giving details of the new management curriculum.

Emphasizing that air transportation management will offer good opportunities for women as well as for men, Doctor Maynard said that the course is based on two years of undergraduate work in the commerce college, with specialization in the field of air transportation during the last two years. A summer of field work in the industry is required between junior and senior years.

The curriculum makes use of numerous existing courses, as well as four new ones in the department of business organization, one in economics, and one in the department of mechanical engineering. New business organization courses are those in air transport management, air traffic sales management, field work in air transportation, and air law. The economics offering is air transportation, and the mechanical engineering department course is in general aeronautics.

Nevada Greeks Aid War Effort

Each of the four sororities on the campus has its individual means of contributing to the war effort, according to house presidents.

Members of Delta Delta Delta sorority are observing "smokeless Tuesdays," at which time each girl who indulges in the smoking habit gives up smoking for one day and puts a package of cigarettes in the "kitty." The cigarettes will then be sent to service men overseas.

Tin cans are Kappa Alpha Theta's contribution to the war effort. They have a large number of said objects waiting to be collected.

At each meeting of the Pi Phi active chapter members attending must donate ten cents to the physiotherapy project sponsored by the Pi Beta Phi national chapter in New York City.

Gamma Phi Beta sorority women each give ten cents to be sent to the Gamma Phi central office for distribution to army and navy relief. The house has also completed the purchase of a $25 war bond, and is about ready to buy another.

Gezlin Chosen District Deputy

Emile J. Gezlin, graduate of the University of Nevada in 1937, has been appointed deputy superintendent of the fourth Nevada school district to succeed Guild Gray, who resigned recently, according to an announcement made by Mildred Bray, of the state education department.

Gezlin was an outstanding student active in debate and varsity, member of Blue Key and Sagers, and affiliated with Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity. Upon graduation he taught high school in Eureka, Nevada, and was later made principal.

TRAINING FOR WAF

Virginia Waltenspeil and Barbara Smith, senior Tri-Delts, are taking flying instruction preparatory to joining the WAF. The women hope to go to Sweetwater, Texas, for further training soon after graduation.

Women's Council Outlines Program

Coeds Prepare for Active Semester

Brownlie Wylie, president of the women's war council on the university campus, today announced that the various committee heads of the organization had met with their corresponding head in the regular downtown section of the Red Cross, and had definitely outlined plans for the coming year.

Darden Tibbs, chairman of the disaster corps, will work in correlative with Dr. J. E. Martie, head of boys PE. It will be her duty to collect statistics that will be of aid in case of disaster. For example, the number of homes in a certain vicinity, and the number of persons they could accommodate in case of necessity, would be vital information to her committee.

It will be Shirley Dimock's duty, as head of campaigns, to seek girls willing to take a nutrition course, soon to be offered, and to recruit girls for the regular canteen station at the depot, which provides cigarettes, candy, gum, sandwiches and coffee for soldiers traveling through on troop trains.

Beulah Haddow, production chairman, is in charge of starting the girls on the campus to roll bandages. Each sorority house will be held responsible for its girls and the hours they spend each week rolling bandages.

Other girls responsible for their various committee activities are Myra Rowley, nurses' aid; Lois Bradshaw, publicity, and Lillian Sloan, in charge of staff.

The regular campus Red Cross room is located in room 105 of the agriculture building.

Thirty-Four Frosh Pledge Four Frats During Semester

Thirty-four freshmen men have pledged fraternities on the campus so far this semester, according to Dean Reuben C. Thompson.

Pi Sigma Kappa now leads fraternity pledging with 11 pledges. Sigma Nu runs second with ten, Alpha Tau Omega has eight, and Lambda Chi Alpha, five.

New pledges for this week are Phi Sigma Kappa, Gerald Carter of Beowae; Alpha Tau Omega, Laurel Tuttle of Reno, and Lambda Chi Alpha, John Baker and George Beaman of Yerington, and Marshall Johnson and Bill Atkinson of Reno.

The pledge lists to date are as follows:

Phi Sigma Kappa—Albert Dockery, Bob McClure, Ralph Thomas, Benedict Coren, Bill MacKrides, Bruce Larson, Robert Spazian, Ted LaTona, Redger Parker, Dominic Ferraro and Gerald Carter.

Alpha Tau Omega—Jimmy Aiken, Mickey Munley, Ronald DuPratt, Bev Waller, Jimmy Andrews, Bruce Hill, Charles Sheehan and Laurel Tuttle.

Lambda Chi Alpha—Gene Grotogut, John Baker, George Beaman, Marshall Johnson and Bill Atkinson.

Hill and Schlager Meet on War Island In S. Pacific Area

Two former students of the university recently met on an island somewhere in the South Pacific area, according to a letter received here from one of the men.

Lieut. Wes Schlager, former student and member of the 1942 graduating class, met Lieut. Stanley Hill, somewhere in the Pacific theater of war.

Schlager is now a marine lieutenant and stationed on the same island with Hill, lieutenant of infantry.

While on the campus, Schlager was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and outstanding on the Wolf Pack. Hill was unaffiliated and active with the university ROTC unit. He attended school from 1939 to 1941.

SPEAKER SCHEDULED

"Selecting and cooking meat under the point system" will be the subject of a professional demonstration to be given by Miss Edalene Stohr, representative of the national livestock and meat board of Chicago, Tuesday, November 2 and Thursday, November 4.

Miss Stohr will lecture to home economics groups Tuesday, and her Thursday lecture is open to anyone interested.

Who's Who of American Colleges Selects Nine Nevada Coeds for BWOC Honors

COMMISSIONED

George Tweedy, jr., '42, has completed advanced training in the marine corps at Quantico, Va., and has been commissioned a second lieutenant, according to word received here. In the above picture, Lieutenant Tweedy is shown manning a machine gun, which was part of his advanced training.

While on the campus, Lieutenant Tweedy was affiliated with Sigma Nu social fraternity, Crucible Club and was a mining engineer. He has been assigned to either a combat unit or sent to a specialist training school. Lieutenant Tweedy originally came from Los Angeles.

Manpower Shortage Stops Pack Season; Nevada Drops Football for Duration

Coach Cancels Alameda Coast Guard Game; Successful Nevada Season With Four Wins

Nevada's Flying Wolves, stopped by a manpower shortage, played their last game Homecoming, probably for the duration, it was announced this week.

At the request of Coach Jim Aiken, the board of athletic control formally ended football when it became evident that even the combined Wolf Pack-Reno army air base squads were too small to finish the season. Only 13 men turned out for scrimmage Monday afternoon, and three of them were slightly injured from a previous game; two others will be inducted into the service this week.

Men's Committee Threaten Frosh

All Nevada traditions will be enforced in the future and men consistently failing to appear before the men's upperclass committee will risk being expelled from the student body and forfeiting student privileges, Bill Richter, newly appointed head of the committee, said today.

Beginning Wednesday, cars parked on the campus will be checked and if the car is not properly registered, a ticket to appear before the upperclass committee will be issued, he added.

Fines will be deducted from the student's general deposit.

Any car not registered may be listed Tuesday from 11 am till noon at the ASUN building.

Excuses for anyone not painting the "N" must be given to Richter or turned in at the president's office in the ASUN building before noon Wednesday. A list of those absent will be posted Monday on the bulletin board.

Former Students Home on Leave

Three former students were home on leave this week waiting for the beginning of their second semester under the navy V-12 program at the College of Pacific in Stockton.

They include Tom Buckman and George Dickerson, both Lambda Chi Alpha, and Dave Sinai, Sigma Nu. They all are trained for the specialized training early last summer.

Similar to the army program at the University of Nevada, the three men are clad in seamen's uniforms and marched to and from class. However, they are allowed to take extra courses that will be credited to their particular college curriculum, which was commenced on this campus.

HOSPITAL WORKERS

Wilma Smith and Lavina Ramelli, Tri-Delts, are kept busy washing test tubes and slides in connection with their duties at St. Mary's hospital. Miss Smith is completing her studies at the university and will soon be an accredited laboratory technician.

Women Recognized for Outstanding Work By Collegiate Book for ASUN Activity

Nine University of Nevada women have been selected as campus leader representatives by the annual collegiate publication, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, it was announced today by an unofficial source.

For attaining this honor each coed will receive a book and a key. Basis upon which the choice is made depends upon activities in student body affairs and scholarship during their first three years of college. Nevada coeds honored include Ruth Mary Noble, Shirley Dimock, Katherine Little, Adey May Dunnell, Jane Dugan, Nita Relfschneider, Dorothy Savage, Lois Bradshaw and Helene Batjer.

Last year 20 students were honored with the same recognition, but the drop of student enrollment naturally curtailed the number of outstanding seniors, it was stated.

Campus Life

Ruth Mary Noble is president of the Pan-Hellenic council, vice-president of Delta Delta Delta, active on many campus committees, member of Sagens and Cap and Scroll. She drilled the Blue Peppers one year. She is a home economic major. Miss Noble was also a candidate for student body president during the recent elections.

Shirley Dimock, Tri-Delt president, is affiliated with Sagens and is majoring in home economics. She has also been active in student affairs.

Katherine Little, Pi Beta Phi president, is ASUN secretary, member of Sagens, student body president candidate during recent elections and a member of the rally committee. Miss Little is also a yell leader.

Adey May Dunnell, Pi Beta Phi, is business manager of the Sagebrush and was chairman of the election board during part of this semester.

Jane Dugan, Kappa Alpha Theta, is ASUN historian, chairman of the election board, a member of Sagens and on the Artemisia staff. She was Blue Peppers' captain last year and helped organize them this year.

Nita Relfschneider, Kappa Alpha Theta president, is a member of the Press Club, president of Chi Delta Phi and is a member of the Sagens. She has been very active in campus affairs, formerly working on the Sagebrush.

Dorothy Savage, Kappa Alpha Theta, is president of the associated women students, member of Sagens and head yell leader. She was acting student body president until the elections held two weeks ago. At present she is a member of the ASUN senate.

Lois Bradshaw, Kappa Alpha Theta, is news editor of the Sagebrush, president of the Press Club and fine arts. Miss Bradshaw is also a member of the publication board.

Helene Batjer, Manzanita-Artemisia Association and Zea Phi Zeta social group, is student body president and a member of several committees on the campus. Miss Batjer has served on several committees for the past three years.

Eighteen Withdraw From University

Eighteen students have withdrawn from the University of Nevada, according to a report from the registrar's office. The majority of those withdrawing are reporting either to the army or navy.

Those withdrawn are Marshall Johnson, Raymond McGuire, William Canessa, Jim Melarkey, Winfred Johnson, John Glynn, Tim Weatherford, Lyle Minor, Arden Means, Robert Spanjan, John Byrne, Lloyd Hermandson, Bernard Shapiro and Raymond Mardon.

Four coeds have also withdrawn. They are Jacqueline Reid, Lois Brown, Hope Fleming and Carmen Grundle.

Four Men Students Leave for Service

Clinton McCubbin, William Canessa, Marshall Johnson and Raymond McGuire, all enrolled in the navy's V-12 program, will leave the university tomorrow for Flagstaff, Ariz., where they will receive college training before being sent to a midshipman's school.

All four men are freshmen and McCubbin and Johnson are affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha; McGuire is a pledge of Sigma Nu, while Canessa is unaffiliated.

LUND BECOMES CADET

Charles N. Lund, former Beta Kappa at the University of Nevada, was recently appointed a naval aviation cadet and transferred to the naval air training center, Pensacola, Fla., for intermediate flight training.

Student Senate Retains Regular Xmas Vacation

Homecoming Dance Declared Success Despite $64 Loss

Because of general student disfavor of the Christmas vacation extension plan, the ASUN senate voted Wednesday night to retain the regular holiday period as scheduled by university officials.

It was believed by students instigating the plan that the vacation could be extended two or three extra days if final examinations could be taken before the vacation instead of afterwards. By doing this the students from out of town would not be able to spend Christmas at their homes.

Main objections to the plan were that students near Reno would cut classes and go to their homes for Christmas anyway, university faculty members might not approve the measure and out-of-town students want to spend Christmas day at home.

$64 in the Hole

During the senate meeting, Jack Good, who was chairman of the Homecoming committee, announced that the dance went approximately $64 in the hole. However, he stressed that as a whole the Homecoming celebration was comparatively successful considering the present circumstances.

Several necessary changes were made on the ASUN student panel, because several men have left school for the armed forces.

Vern Keller, Lambda Chi Alpha, was appointed Block N representative to the board of athletic control to replace Jim Melarkey, who was called to the navy air corps.

Uhlig Appointed

Robert Uhlig, Phi Sigma Kappa, was chosen to serve on the executive committee in place of Ed Sawyer, who left for the marines. Bill Richter, Lambda Chi Alpha, was selected to serve in Sawyer's place as chairman of the men's upperclass committee, Jack Good, ATO, was also chosen to serve on that committee.

Because it was felt that more students should serve on the rally committee, three were chosen. They were Beth Winchester, Gamma Phi Beta; Frances Bauman, Manzanita hall, and Dorothy Savage, Kappa Alpha Theta. Miss Savage was also appointed to head yell leader.

Captain McCormick

Sergeant Michael J. McCormick of the university military department was officially chosen as captain of the Blue Peppers, coed drill team.

The annual paper brick sales will commence soon under the auspices of the women's upperclass committee. Doll Corbett, chairman of the committee, will be in charge of the sales.

Jane Dugan, ASUN historian, has been assigned the task of keeping a permanent record of campus traditions that are about to die out or have already been eliminated so that when the campus returns to a normal basis, students will be able to commence activities without devising a method.

Jack Fleming, Theta Chi, will replace Sawyer as senator and Murial Westergard, Manzanita hall, will replace Helene Batjer. They will be sworn into office at the next meeting.

Rives Engagement Announced Friday

Engagement of Jeanette Rives and Lieut. Oscar Neundorfer, both graduates of the university, was announced at an informal party held last Friday evening.

Miss Rives, class of '42, is a member of Pi Beta Phi and active in campus affairs.

Lieutenant Neundorfer, graduate of 1943, is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and received his commission in the marine corps reserve this month at Quantico, Va.

The couple will be married in Washington, D. C., some time in November.

Frosh Coed Writes Serviceman Story

BY FLORENCE MILLER

The old Snake House felt more at home for a couple of days this week with a visit from Dave Sinai of the navy. Dave was a sophomore on campus last year and was active in all affairs. His fraternity is Sigma Nu.

Two other sailors seen here and there on the campus Monday were George Diekerson and Tom Buckman who dropped up to say hello. Both were sophomores and affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha.

The navy really had its representation on Nevada this past week, completed by Donald Bell's appearance. Don completed his freshman year and was a member of the basketball team. His fraternity was also Lambda Chi Alpha.

Another Lambda Chi seen around recently was Evo Granata in that O.D. (olive drab to you). Evo was lucky enough to be stationed out at the air base for a few weeks not so long ago and it seemed good to see a familiar face again.

Jim Forsythe was also seen around and about recently. Jim was a graduate last year and took an active part in campus affairs.

A couple of Sigma Nu marine representatives got here for Homecoming and it was well seeing Ev Curless and Zeke Fairchild in those leathernecks. Both were sophomore students at the university last year.

Along with seeing quite a number of familiar faces, several have disappeared from the campus recently. Jim Melarkey, SAE, and Lyle Minor, Sigma Nu, left for naval air corps training at San Luis Obispo last weekend. Freshman Marshall Johnson and Ray McGuire have been called and will leave within the week.

Japanese Forces Dubbed Inferior To American and British Troops

BY MARY ANCHO

"The Japanese, man for man, machine for machine, are inferior to the Americans and the British," Prof. Charles Roger Hicks, head of the department of history and political science at the university, stated today.

Doctor Hicks, who lived in Japan from 1916 to 1918 as instructor in the first commercial school at Kyata, stated that the basis for this statement lay in the lack of adaptative powers in the Japanese. Each soldier is trained to the last detail in what he is to do under certain circumstances, but when the circumstances become reversed, he cannot adapt himself. This lack enables the Americans and English to outwit and out think the Japanese in many instances, he added.

Although many stories of Japanese atrocities have been labeled mere propaganda, Doctor Hicks believes that the Japanese have been taught to hate so thoroughly that much mutilation, such as cutting off of ears and noses, is actually done.

"The Japanese people in 1916 were very courteous and artistic, but since they have adopted foreign customs and foreign ways much of this courtesy and politeness has been replaced by arrogance and cruelty," Hicks added.

The Japanese have stuck to their imperialistic idea since 1690 and believe that it is their duty to control the world. Doctor Hicks pointed out, however, that the Japanese in actual battle is exceptionally tenacious when he is cornered and has thus gained his reputation for fighting to the death.

Germany History Told in Course

A brief history of Germany will be the next attraction of philosophy 5, required freshman eight o'clock class, Dean R. C. Thompson said this week. Psychological warfare and the conflict of ideologies and philosophies will finish this semester.

The course, begun by Prof. A. E. Hutcherson, associate professor of history and political science, talked on the situation in India, and the British Empire in general. He pointed out that India represents a major problem in securing post-war peace.

Dr. P. G. Auchampaugh of the history department gave two of the lectures—Anglo-American relations and Chinese history. The subject of Anglo-American relations is one of great controversy in the news today.

Dr. C. R. Hicks, who spoke on Japan and the Japanese, lived and taught in Japan, and gave first hand information on the Japanese people and their philosophies.

The last lectures so far this semester by Dr. Anatole Mazour of the history department have been on economic strongpoints leading to the war in the last two centuries. Doctor Mazour is a native of Russia, and received his education there. He has traveled over most of Europe. His lecture on "How the War Began," "The Age of Invention, Imperialism, and Crisis of Our Era," have covered most of the underlying and immediate causes of World War I and the present war. Thursday he spoke on the 20-year period separating the two wars.

College Professor Praises Inclusion Of History Course

State College, Pa. (IP)—American fighting men need the inspiration and encouragement that only a study of their own country's history can give them, Dr. Asa E. Martin of the Pennsylvania State College observed here, in praising military authorities for the inclusion of history in the army's college training program.

Doctor Martin, head of the history department at Penn State, said a poll of 500 student soldiers now on the campus for intensive schooling under the army's specialized training program, showed that while 91 per cent completed an American history course in high school, a decidedly smaller percentage took a college course in United States history.

Doctor Martin learned that approximately 200 of the 500 basic engineers had finished college or were students at the time of their induction. Only 17 per cent of these 200 had completed American history courses.

Pointing out that nine per cent had finished high school without taking a single American history course, and 83 per cent had been to college without taking such a course, Doctor Martin said, "An appreciation of our heritage is just as important in the army as it is in civilian life."

Back the Pack.

John Lemich, '41, Missing in Action Over Burma Area

Lieut. John Lemich, '41, of the United States army air force has been reported missing in action in the Burma area, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lemich, sr., of Ely.

Lieutenant Lemich went on a routine raid over the Burma area on September 10, according to a letter received by his parents from one of his fellow pilots, and did not return. Lieutenant Lemich, who flies a bomber, evidently pulled away from the regular formation because his motor had died out. He climbed for altitude, and when the rest of the formation rose above the clouds Lemich was missing.

Lieutenant Lemich is a member of Alpha Tau Omega and was on the first Wolf Pack basketball squad. Since joining the air forces in 1942, Lieutenant Lemich has had nine months overseas service and attained both the flying cross and the purple heart award.

Army Engineers Entertain Local Group of K. C.

Several cadets from the army engineer detachment on the campus entertained members of the Knights of Columbus at a meeting Saturday night. The cadets were invited to the party by Glenn Lawlor, physical education instructor.

The program included weight lifting, story telling and several accordion selections. Sgt. Michael J. McCormick of the university military department showed a film entitled, "Kill or Get Killed." A second film was shown concerning the 313th army air force college training detachment.

Christmas Mail Goes in November

Because of various wartime handicaps on the United States postal service, Christmas gifts for people at home should be mailed in November, Robert Prescott, university station postmaster, announced today.

In carrying out this program of mailing Christmas gifts in November, Prescott received the following communique in the Postal Bulletin, postal service employee paper: "The war has dislocated the Christmas mailing season. This year, November is the time for mailing Christmas gifts and cards. Gifts should be marked, 'Do not open until Christmas'."

Edmund O. Sawyer Called by Marines

Edmund Sawyer, Theta Chi, received orders from the marine corps to report for active duty Monday at the University of California, Berkeley. He left yesterday for Sacramento to visit his parents Col. and Mrs. E. O. Sawyer, Jr.

Sawyer was enlisted with the marine corps reserves and is assigned to the university to take specialized courses in engineering. He was called to duty last spring and began training at the University of Colorado at Boulder, however, he was released and returned to the University of Nevada to wait for further orders.

While on the campus, Sawyer was active in Coffin and Key, the ASUN senate and the executive and nominating committees of the senate. He was chairman of the men's upperclass committee and president of the Crucible Club. Sawyer was studying mining engineering.

Jack Fleming will replace Sawyer as Theta Chi senator, while Bill Richter has been appointed by the senate to replace Sawyer as chairman of the men's upperclass group.

Holdover Homecoming Story Describes Advertising Changes in Fifty Years

BY FRANCES CRANE

Filled with what proves to be humorous material to the present day reader, the advertisements in the early issues of the Sagebrush and its predecessor, the Student Record, describe in elaborate detail what the beau brummel and the lovely lady of the day shall wear.

The clothes described were definitely chic at that time and the more popular shops ran sketches of what the dashing hero of the day should wear—checkered suit, top hat, gloves and cane.

A bit of an unusual ad was one appearing in the 1893 Student Record. It stated that the winter term of the Nevada State University would open January 3, 1894, and that the college offered a faculty of 17 instructors, three university courses, five substantial buildings, a library of 4000 well selected books and athletic facilities for football and baseball.

A typical ad of the year 1897 was: "Still pegging away at the old stand. Store formerly occupied by Boalt and Bird. Ladies shoes a speciality. J. A. Hamp, artistic shoemaker."

An ad of 35 years ago looked somewhat like this:

"The Comfort Tonsorial Parlors No. 9 Virginia Street, Reno, Nevada. A. C. Helmhold, proprietor. Hot and cold baths at all hours. Agent for Victor Bicycles and Sporting Goods."

Jumping up to a war ago, a typical ad was:

"The Colytic Barber Shop. Everything sterilized before being used on customers."

Another ad of interest was the following:

"Great inventions of the day—portable typewriter. Paul L. Ross, Sparks, Nevada.

Just how would Miss Modern respond to this ad of a war ago?

"Have you seen the new snug fitting high lace shoes, $8.00? These are late spring models and we invite you to see them before deciding so important an item of dress as your new shoes. Ellegd and Tait.

Now, in the year 1943, we look back at these ads and laugh! Wonder how humorous our ads will appear to the readers of the 'Brush 20 years from now?

Air Cadets Prefer Books on Aviation

Books on aviation are reading matter demanded by the aviation students on the campus, according to the librarian at the campus library.

Other books are not read so much because of lack of leisure time to participate in reading. Most of the leisure reading consists of current magazines.

Popular aviation books include "Manual for Instruction in Military Maps and Aerial Photography," "Aircraft Year Book for 1943," "Through the Overcoat" and map interpretation books.

Popular magazines are the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, Life and photographic and nature magazines.

Sergeant McCormick Praises Blue Peppers

"Fine work, girls. We know now that girls can do military drill and do it well," Sgt. Michael J. McCormick, instructor in military science and tactics, said today of the Blue Peppers who with only six hours previous training exhibited group marching and drill at the Homecoming game Sunday.

"The girls gave an outstanding demonstration of individual application," Sergeant McCormick said. The Blue Peppers, in addition to the normal steps and marching, had variations which were executed with precision.

AST Contract Signed By Representatives

Authorizing the ASTP unit at the University of Nevada, a contract was signed Monday night by representatives of the university and the army, according to Major J. C. Howard, head of the military department.

Major Cornelius B. Savage and Dr. Arthur L. Beely signed for the army and Acting President Charles H. Gorman for the university.

Major Savage is contract officer for the ninth service command and Doctor Beely is consultant on academic problems of the command.

Upperclass Groups Plan Punishment Of Campus Frosh

Freshmen who failed to paint the "N" last Saturday will be punished by the men's and women's upperclass committees at meetings next week, according to committee chairmen.

Women will report to ASUN building Monday at 4 pm and men will report Tuesday at the same hour.

About 100 freshmen participated in painting the "N," according to roll taken by the upperclass committees.

A few sophomores also turned out for the painting. The group furnished its own transportation, although a truck from the experimental farm was also used.

Cookies and coke were served to the workers, the refreshments being secured by Bev Waller, frosh class manager, Madeline Maestretti and June Rose.

Alumni Banquet Planned Tomorrow

Homecoming celebration continues this weekend with the alumni banquet, which will be held Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at Moana Springs, according to Earl Wooster, president of the organization.

At the football game last Sunday there were 1875 spectators. Of this number 600 were soldiers; 345, high school and younger students; 750, adults, and 200 were University of Nevada students.

"Homecoming was a social success, but a financial fizzle," Jack Good, Homecoming committee chairman, stated this week.

Army Engineers Join Crop Corps

Thirty-five members of the engineer's training unit station on the campus joined the victory crop corps last Sunday by gathering potatoes on ranches near Sparks, Major J. C. Howard, commandant of the unit, announced this week.

Each received $4.50 for eight hours work and had dinner furnished by the ranchers.

Engineer trainees volunteered through the Washoe County Farm Extension Bureau and according to Major Howard, received such praise from the farmers that they are scheduled to do similar work next Sunday.

Jacqueline Reid Marries Lieutenant on October 14

Jacqueline Reid, senior member of Kappa Alpha Theta, was married October 14 in Chicago to Lieut. Christopher Fox of the U. S. navy.

Miss Reid, while on the campus, was honorary captain of the ROTC unit for three years. Her bridegroom is from Oakland, Calif.

The couple will reside in Chicago until Lieutenant Fox is transferred to his new station at Astoria, Oregon.

Peterson Commissioned Lieutenant in Marines

Roy Phillip Peterson, Nevada '43 grad in engineering, has been commissioned a second lieutenant, according to an announcement by the marine corps.

Lieutenant Peterson was called to active duty with the marines last June, and is now attending reserve officers' class at Quantico, Va., before assignment to a specialists' school or combat unit.

Classes Commence Early Next Month

Two classes in metallurgy of magnesium will start early in November for foremen of Basic Magnesium Incorporated. Dr. S. W. Lelisen, head of the department of physics, will supervise the classes.

The classes are a part of the engineering science management and war training program under the U. S. department of education. Doctor Lelisen was appointed university representative to the state program and directs the course of studies.

Having completed preliminary work, two classes will begin advanced work in electricity, and two will begin a study of chemistry.

The classes are conducted at the BMTI townsite school, Henderson, Nevada.

Newman Club Features Breakfast on Sunday

The Newman Club attended 9:30 mass in a group last Sunday, which was followed with a communion breakfast at the Grand Cafe, Eileen Sweeney, president, announced.

A program for the ensuing year was discussed and a committee was appointed to meet on Tuesday afternoon to determine the club's war policy.
