

Awarding Of Prizes Ends Mackay Day Celebration

Detailed Review of Mackay Day Offered As Final Bow to Successful Celebration

BY MADLEN MAESTRETTI

Presided over by Bane Dugan, Mackay Day queen, last Saturday's dance brought the 31st annual Mackay Day celebration to an end.

At the costume dance held in the State building the final trophies and awards of the two-day fete were presented.

The plaque for the best song team went to the Pi Beta Phi nine for their presentation of a medley of songs including the Army Air Corps Song, Mary, My Buddy, Sweet Georgia Brown, Diane, Margie and Pi Phi Kisses. Members of the group were Rose Mary Mayhew, soloist; Geraldine McFarlane, Laurel Davis, Florene Miller, Nadine Gibson, Gloria Rosaschi, Betty Flyge and Patricia Tranter with Barbara Heany as accompanist.

The revolving trophy for the largest representation among sororities at the campus cleanup Saturday morning was won by Gamma Phi Beta. The trophy was held last year by Theta Chi fraternity.

Winning the prize for the thickest beard, after a six weeks' whiskering contest, was Gilbert Sutton, ATO. Prize for the best trimmed beard went to Charles Fleming of Lambda Chi Alpha. Marilou Ferguson, Tri-Delt, won the award given for the best women's costume, and Bill King received the award for the outstanding man's costume.

General Review
Open house was observed by the sororities Friday night from seven to nine. Students attended classes in costume during the day. At 4 pm the annual softball game was played with the student team winning from the faculty, 18-16.

At the Mackay Day luncheon, which followed the "work day" morning, the queen of the celebration, made her first official appearance. At the speakers table where she sat were Dr. N. E. Wilson, Dr. Effie Mona Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Z. Hawkins, Acting President Charles H. Gorman, Helene Batjer, the Rev. T. Holt, Frances Baumann and Bob Uhlig.

Addresses Delivered
Dr. Mack, professor of history and political science at Reno high school, spoke about the friendship of Dan DeQuille, author of the Big Bonanza, and John Mackay, bonanza king and University of Nevada benefactor.

Dr. N. E. Wilson, who is a graduate of the University of Nevada and who has been an interested observer of the university's welfare for many years, related the history of the university from its establishment at Elko through its re-establishment in Reno up to the time of John W. Mackay.

After the invocation given by Rev. Holt, Acting President Gorman spoke briefly and a moment of silence was observed in honor of the students who were represented by the stars on the service flag which hung on the wall above the speakers' stand.

Dean Marsh Back From State Trip

Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women, returned April 15 from a visit to the high schools in the southern part of the state.

The purpose of Mrs. Marsh's trip was to interest prospective students in the University of Nevada. She visited Las Vegas, Henderson, Boulder City, Overton, Ely, Bunkerville and Panaca high schools. She said that she found them very responsive and eager to learn about campus life at the University of Nevada.

Several of the girls who desire to attend, she discovered, need financial aid in the form of work or scholarships. It is Mrs. Marsh's suggestion that our campus women visit the high schools in their home towns and promote interest in the university.

While in Las Vegas, Mrs. Marsh was entertained at a dinner given by the Nevada Home Economics Association.

Monday Mrs. Marsh plans to visit the high schools in Wells, Elko, Winnemucca, Battle Mountain and Lovelock.

Pi Beta Phi to Stage Annual Spring Dance

The Pi Beta Phi annual spring formal will be held this Saturday night from midnight until eleven o'clock, according to Geraldine McFarlane and Katherine Little, co-chairmen of the event. Usually held in a hotel, the formal dance is to be held in the chapter house this year because of difficulty in obtaining dinner reservations, they added.

Florence Gonzales is in charge of decorations, which will carry out the spring theme. She is assisted by Eleanor Corle and Marilyn Barton.

Barbara Heany is to secure music for the affair.

New Census Shows 150 Military Men Remain on Campus

Contingents Move Both East and West During Last Week

Aviation students stationed on the campus have dwindled to a company of about 150 men since the departure this week of many of the ground forces men, it was announced Monday night about 20 of the men left by train, under the charge of a non-commissioned officer from the college training detachment, for a station in Colorado where they are expected to receive further orders. A second contingent left for a west coast base Tuesday afternoon and other individual members of the college unit left Wednesday and Thursday for stations throughout the United States.

Orders were received recently that all men who had formerly served with the ground and service forces of the army were to be returned to their old branch of the service. These men were the ones leaving the campus this week for stations with the infantry, signal corps, engineers corps and other branches of army ground and service forces.

Men who were formerly in the air forces or who volunteered at the time of induction for air corps training still remain on campus awaiting definite orders of assignment. They will continue air crew training until such time as definite orders are received, Capt. John M. Preston, commanding officer, stated.

The last graduating class was not sent to Santa Ana as previous classes had, the captain added, but the men were separated into the three distinct groups, those who had received previous air forces training being sent to the California base, the others leaving with the remaining men for either ground force or service force assignment.

Status of the remaining men of the college training detachment is not yet decided, the captain emphasized, but they will remain at Nevada to continue air crew training.

During the course of the operation of an air forces program at the University of Nevada, more than 1800 men have been trained by the school under the pre-cadet plan. They have received preliminary instruction in physics, mathematics, geography and other subjects which will be needed when they continue training as pilots, navigators or bombardiers at western flying training command basic, primary and advanced flight schools. They also received academic subjects such as English and history which were added to the curriculum as being of benefit to future officers of the air forces.

Those men who remain on Nevada's campus continuing training are housed in the new gym and in Lincoln Hall, with Manzanita Hall being vacated and Artemisia Hall still being used by a few remaining AST students. It is hoped all space in the new gym can be vacated soon to allow use of the building at commencement on May 22. It is expected the offices of the college training detachment will remain in the building, but the men will be moved.

UPPERCLASSES PLAN PICNIC

Plans for a junior-senior class picnic were completed at a meeting of the junior class Wednesday. Class Manager Bette Poe presided and appointed Rose Marie Mayhew chairman of the committee to make arrangements.

Since there will be no senior ball this year, the suggestion was made that a picnic be substituted. The affair will be held at Lawton's Hot Springs during the first week of May, and each class will pay half of the expenses.

Upperclassmen attending will have a choice of swimming, horseback riding, baseball or just being there.

Committee members are as follows: Rose Marie Mayhew, chairman; Mary Beth Winchester, Italo Gavazzi, Beulah Haddow, Betty Molignoni, Jayne Creel and Phyllis Baumann.

Former Prof. Goes To New Navy Post In Washington, D. C.

Lieut. J. P. Puffinbarger, representative of the navy, has been ordered to report to Washington, D. C., on April 24 for "temporary active duty and reassignment."

He has been stationed at the state selective service headquarters in Carson City as liaison officer to the selective service, according to Brig. Gen. Jay A. White, adjutant general. Puffinbarger was also in charge of the manpower section of the state selective service.

Lieutenant Puffinbarger was formerly assistant professor of education at the University of Nevada. He came to the university in 1937.

In May, 1942, he was commissioned a lieutenant in the navy and transferred to Carson. Since October, 1943, he has held the position of state occupational adviser.

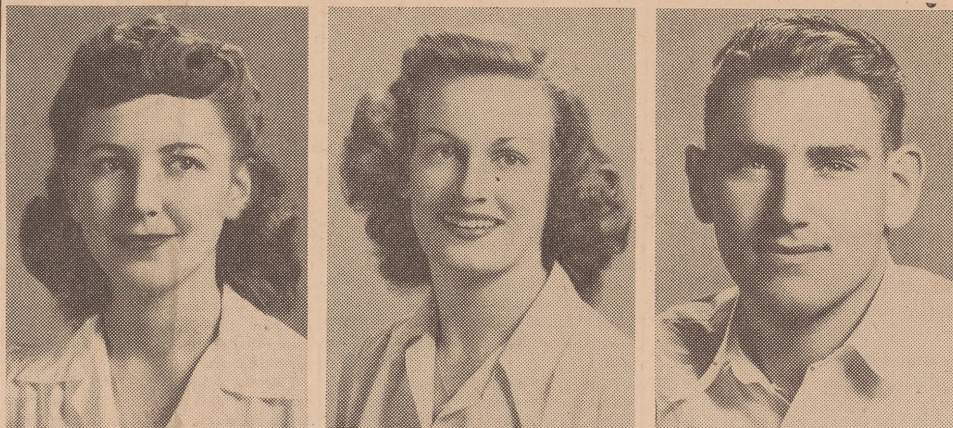

State Educators Visit Campus Home Ec Group

Mrs. Mildred Bray, state supervisor of public instruction, visited the campus recently, bringing with her the new state home economics supervisor of vocational education in Nevada, Mrs. Justine O'Reilly, according to Miss Mildred Swift, head of the home economics department.

Mrs. O'Reilly, who is from Oregon, is assuming the duties of the position left vacant when Miss Aiken resigned to accept a similar position in California.

Senate Accepts Three To Campaign In Campus A. S. U. N. Presidential Election

YOUR PREXY CAMPAIGNERS

These are the three candidates accepted by the senate nominating committee at a meeting this week to run for the ASUN presidency. Left to right are Leonore Hill, Gamma Phi Beta; Bette Poe, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Gilbert Sutton, Alpha Tau Omega. They will speak, outlining their campaign platforms at a rally to be held Tuesday night in the Education auditorium. Primary elections are scheduled for April 27, Thursday, and the final election will follow on May 4.

Plan Rally Tuesday; Primaries April 27

Nominations for student body president and class managers were approved at the ASUN senate meeting this week, according to Helene Batjer, student body president. Those running for student body president are Leonore Hill, Gamma Phi Beta; Bette Poe, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Gilbert Sutton, Alpha Tau Omega.

Candidates for senior class manager are as follows: Marie Aldrich, Delta Delta Delta; Jayne Creel, Kappa Alpha Theta; Nadine Gibson, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Beth Winchester, Gamma Phi Beta.

Running for junior class manager are Mary Ancho, Zeta Phi Zeta; Frank Apa, Independent; Frances Cook, Kappa Alpha Theta; Genevieve Sirl, Delta Delta Delta.

Candidates for sophomore class manager are Marilyn Dugan, Kappa Alpha Theta; Gloria Mapes, Delta Delta Delta; Florene Miller, Pi Beta Phi. Single candidate for Block N representative is Jack Good, Alpha Tau Omega.

The candidates' assembly will be held Tuesday, April 25, at 8:00 pm in the education auditorium. At this time candidates will deliver campaign speeches.

A general election for all candidates will be held all day Thursday, April 27, and the following week, May 4, a final election will be held for sophomore and junior class managers. Installation of officers will take place Friday, May 12.

Also approved by the senate at this time was the limit candidates may spend on their campaigns. A limit of $15 is set for student body president candidates and $5 for candidates for class manager.

Attending the senate meeting Tuesday night were Helene Batjer, student body president; Nadine Gibson, Muriel Westgard, Leonore Hill, Marie Aldrich, Bonnie Yater, Dorothy Reynolds, Nora Saunders, Jack Good, Bob Uhlig, Jack Fleming and Isabel Blythe, Sagebrush representative.

Nevada Gymnasium Sees Initial Use At Commencement

Nevada's new gymnasium, never before used by the students of the university, will receive its first student audience when the graduating class of 1944 is honored at commencement on May 22, 1944, at ceremonies scheduled to be held in the building, Charles H. Gorman, acting president of the university, announced this week.

Since the disbanding of the army special training program and the college training detachment of aviation students, the facilities of the gym will be available in time for commencement, he stated.

Officers for the permanent party of the air forces personnel will not be moved, he said, but men now utilizing the gym as a barracks will be moved in time to make the building ready.

Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds, is making plans for construction of a platform in the building and his department is considering other renovations which will make the gym useable for the occasion.

For years, Nevada has been sorely in need of a new gymnasium and finally, in 1941 construction was begun. Priority troubles began to hamper construction after the war began, but obtaining equipment and materials bit by bit, the gym was almost ready for student use when the air force program was accepted by the Nevada board of regents.

Facilities afforded by the gym made it a suitable barracks for the army men to be stationed on the campus and conversion of flooring and air conditioning and other conveniences was made with that in mind.

Now that the army programs on campus are being discontinued, Nevada students will be able to use the structure, for the first time at this year's graduation ceremonies. The only hitch to such a plan is the advent of a new army program to Nevada's campus.

Diessner Appointed to U. of Oregon Hospital

Miss Bertha Diessner, senior dietetics major received an appointment as student dietitian in the University of Oregon medical school hospital at Portland this week, according to Miss Mildred Swift, head of the home economics department.

ELEVEN ROTC MEN RECEIVE CREDIT

Five New Courses Offered in ESMWT

Five new courses to be offered under the Engineering, Science and Management War Training program were outlined and sent to the head office in Washington, D. C., for approval this weekend, Dr. Sigmund W. Leifson, University of Nevada representative of the ESMWT, said today.

Doctor Leifson, in conference with supervisors and instructors of the courses now offered, decided the necessary courses and the material that each should include. These are to be offered to employees of BMI at Gabbs Valley and Las Vegas, and to employees of Manganese Ore Co., the latter was recently added to the program.

Two of the courses, to be offered for BMI at Las Vegas, are repetition of courses in electricity and chemistry recently completed by a number of employees. Instructors of these studies and supervisors of the plant suggested that these courses were of great value and that it would be beneficial to offer them a second time, Leifson said.

Two new classes to be introduced at BMI in Las Vegas are industrial instruments and electrical engineering.

The courses on instruments, planned in collaboration with the supervisor of the instrument department, is to include the study of such things as pressure gauges, thermometers, and more technical electrical and chemical mechanisms. Training in the use of these instruments is extremely necessary, according to the supervisor of the instrument department, Leifson noted.

Electrical engineering will consist of an advanced course in this subject teaching principles applicable to the plant and processes used. This will be open to those who have had the more elementary course in engineering, and supervisors and foremen employed by the company.

A course in analytical chemistry was also discussed, because the department at BMI in connection with this thinks instruction in analytical chemistry necessary. However, details of instruction in this subject were not settled, and plans for the course will be completed later, Doctor Leifson pointed out.

The Manganese Ore Co., located between Las Vegas and Boulder City, with the aid of Doctor Leifson, outlined a course in the production of manganese dioxide. Since their process of producing this strategic war material, particularly needed in the production of steel, is very intricate and an innovation in modern production methods, instruction in the phases and details is essential.

In conference with the technical foreman of the company a course bearing the title "Industrial Chemistry" was outlined, Doctor Leifson said. This study, which will include metallurgy, covers the new progress of the plant.

If these courses are approved by the head office of ESMWT, instruction will begin early in May, Doctor Leifson stated.

Instructors of these courses are especially selected and include men who are university graduates and have had either teaching experience or practical experience in the field that they are presenting. These men are qualified to teach on university faculties, the doctor said.

A recreation chest was furnished to the Red Cross room this week by the Red Cross camp and hospital service council for western Nevada, it was announced by Brownlie Wylie, chairman of the women's war board.

The wooden chest, which is 25x18x18 will be filled by members of the campus Red Cross and students who care to contribute. Suggested list of articles which will be taken at the Red Cross room to fill the chest follows:

Games: Combinations of checkers and chess, King of Turf, 2 packs of playing cards, 1 box of poker chips, 1 cribbage board, Jackstraws, 1 jigsaw puzzle, 1 wooden peg puzzle.

Books: Webster's dictionary; 3 pileable covered books, A Puzzle for Pools, Mr. Pinkerton Finds a Body, Pocket Book of Mystery Stories, the Readers Digest, Cross Word Puzzle Omnibus (Series 53), Mathematics for the Million, Rand McNally Atlas (paper cover), Bible, Magazines.

Miscellaneous: First aid kit, 1 sewing kit, 2 tablets of writing paper, 2 packages envelopes, 6 post cards, 1 indelible pencil, calendar, razor blades, Kleenex, cigarettes, soap, matches, mirror, 2 pairs of shoe laces, 4 blotters, harmonica, shoe shining equipment.

Press Club Plans Election Tuesday

New members will be initiated and group officers elected at a Press Club meeting at 7 pm Tuesday in the ASUN building, according to Lois Bradshaw, president.

Those receiving bids for membership into Press Club were Thelma Charlton, Madlen Maestretti and Mary Watts. A student must be active on a campus publication for two years and must receive the unanimous vote of the members to qualify for membership.

Press Club dues must be paid to Annette Leighton, treasurer, before the meeting Tuesday before members can vote or hold office, Miss Bradshaw stated.

Officers this year are Lois Bradshaw, president; Nita Reifschneider, vice-president; Annette Leighton, treasurer; Isabel Blythe, secretary.

Mills Is Elected To Chem Honorary

Gordon Mills, sophomore student, will be initiated into Sigma Sigma Kappa, University of Nevada chemistry club, at a meeting to be held on May 2 at 7:30 pm at the home of Dr. Meryl W. Deming, according to Helen Gung, president of the group.

Dr. George W. Sears, head of the chemistry department, will tell of his trip to the semi-annual meeting of the American National Chemical Society in Cleveland. He will relate important facts from the most outstanding speeches delivered there.

Pan-Hel Handbook Ready for Printer

Editing of the Pan-Hellenic section of the rushee's handbook for freshman coeds is now complete, according to Pat Traner, Pan-Hel president, and as soon as the AWS section is complete and an AWS president selected, the book will be sent to the printer.

Pan-Hellenic changes in the book included adding a history of each house on the campus, revising some of the rules and revising the financial statements of each sorority, she added.

THINK TWICE—THEN VOTE

Most important of the officers to be selected in the forthcoming elections is the ASUN president, for which office there are three candidates. It is thought on the campus that the contest will be a close one because all three candidates are well qualified for the position.

Uppermost in the minds of the students is the thought that it will take a super-efficient person to keep student unity during this war-time period of dis-unity.

Remember the popular attitude that prevailed last fall toward a woman ASUN president, we can honestly comment that the students were wrong in thinking that a woman couldn't do the job effectively. Miss Helene Batjer, first woman ASUN president in the history of the university, not only did an excellent job of executing the duties of the office, but also promoted and preserved the unity of student groups—a quality that has long been outstanding at the University of Nevada.

Just what happens when sorority feeling enters the race should be clarified. Students who vote AGAINST a social group rather than FOR the most capable candidate are likely to deprive themselves of the best student government.

Solely in the interests of good student government, voters should disregard the affiliation of students seeking campus offices. The foremost issue to be considered should be qualifications by way of experience and general ability.

This is not the time for any radical leadership on the campus. One should, in voting, select a conservative ASUN president—one who can quietly and efficiently lead the student body through the confusion that is likely to reign during the chaotic times ahead.

No matter what your choice is go to the polls and vote for the candidate you think best fitted for the office. Hours that the polls will be open and place of polls will be announced at the election rally and will also be posted on the bulletin board.

Just don't forget to vote.—B. Molignoni.

WE WILL OBSERVE "D DAY"

Acting President Gorman's office this week announced a "D Day" to be observed when the invasion of the Axis-European continent is acclaimed throughout the United States.

Though definitions of the unknown "D" are confused, this day will be observed by the student body's prayers and spiritual support at the request of the affiliated churches of Reno. Dean Reuben C. Thompson is in charge of the assembly on the University of Nevada campus.

This observance is not a local one. Throughout the country churches have asked student bodies to cooperate in this prayer service. Emphasis upon spiritual fortification has been stressed repeatedly by not only religious groups but also by President Roosevelt and other leading men in the country.

When the bell atop Morrill Hall and class bells ring intermittently, students and faculty are asked to assemble in the auditorium of the Education building. There we will offer our bit toward support of the invasion, which we hope will be the final step in the long-fought battle with the Axis powers.

We are confident that a true loyal spirit will bring every student and faculty member to the assembly.—B. Molignoni.

Letters to the Editor

Editor of Sagebrush:

Not wishing to throw any discredit on the editorial staff or the policies of the Sagebrush, but more in the light that we feel that the sponge was throng into the ring before a fair chance was given, we civilian men of the campus would like to say this with regard to the urgent plea to keep Mackay Day from being a "pitiful reminiscence." We feel for one thing that at least the celebration was carried out with the usual amount of good fun and in addition through the weekend. Having had full confidence from the start that we were going to have a h. of a good time, it somewhat shocked us to read in our school paper that it was indeed going to be a task of great magnitude for anyone to possibly have much of a time.

As we fumbled through the writings of the editorial "somewhat in a stupor" the thing that seemed to point to a downfall of Mackay Day was quoted as a lack of sufficient manpower. It is our sound opinion and proven by past experience that as long as there are two good party men left on the campus they can manage to have a swell time if they do not lose sight of the fact that there is something to celebrate. Undoubtedly we would have enjoyed the day to a fuller extent had more of us been here, and in addition the fair city of Reno would have resounded more violently to our gale, but only those who participate in the day themselves can truly enjoy the celebration. Granted that we obtain a great deal of enjoyment from watching the entertainment of others, but a true value comes from those who take part, however few.

Respectfully submitted by the civilian men of the campus.

Editor's Note: Contrary to the expressed policy of the Sagebrush, we wish to submit to the student body a letter left under the door of our office.

We sincerely hope that this is the true expression of the attitudes as a whole of the civilian men on the campus. However, a complete list of names is ordinarily asked by the editorial staff.

We, the editors, thought that our editorial opinion was merely an honest, unbiased expression of the outlook on Mackay Day as expressed by a great number of students. If we were wrong, we apologize quite humbly, but we would welcome a lot more student opinions before we concede that we were wrong in our expression of the majority student feeling.—B. Molignoni.

Society Schedules Business Meeting

Chi Delta Phi, honor literary society, will have a business meeting April 27, to consider selection of new members and to elect new officers, according to Nita Reifschneider, president. President, vice-president and secretary-treasurer will be chosen at that time, she said. New members will be chosen from the sophomore, junior and senior classes on the basis of their outstanding ability in English, Miss Reifschneider added.

Buy war stamps and bonds.

Candidates Have Record of Activity

Checking over the list of students running for student body president and class managers, it has been found that the candidates are some of the most active on the campus.

Leonore Hill, member of Gamma Phi Beta, is the first name to appear on the ballot for student body president. Lee is the newly elected Sagen head and also was just chosen Pan-Hellenic secretary. During her last three years on the campus, she has been active on the rally committee, finance control board, nominating committee, senate, AWS executive committee and election board. She was a candidate for honorary major and has taken part in many Wolves' Frolics. She could be found many times on the football field as a drum majorette. She was chairman of the junior prom, a member of the Ski Club and Fine Arts social chairman.

Second candidate for student body president is Bette Poe, Kappa Alpha Theta member. She is the first woman ever to edit the Artemisia and is a member of WAA, Sagens, Press Club, Saddles and Spurs, publication board and is student yell leader. She was a candidate for junior class manager this year. Now holding the post and was formerly soph class manager. She is a Fine Arts Club member and has participated in the Wolves' Frolic. She was a candidate for honorary major this year.

Gilbert Sutton, sole male contender for campus president, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Gil has served on the rally committee, Sagebrush editorial staff and the Homecoming committee. He is a member of Coffin and Keys and has served as an alternate on the ASUN senate.

Senior Class Manager Marie Aldrich, president of Delta Delta Delta, is the first candidate for senior class manager. Last term she was the chairman of the Red Cross membership drive and is a newly elected member of Sagens. She has served on the senate, Artemisia business staff and the student executive committee. Marie has participated in WAA, Blue Peppers and is a member of Gothic N. She also was the AWS executive board secretary.

Jayne Creel, second candidate for senior class manager, is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. She is a member of Fine Arts, Home Economics Club and Saddle and Spurs.

Nadine Gibson, Pi Beta Phi, is the new secretary-treasurer of Sagens. She is the chairman of the Red Cross camp and hospital committee and has worked on the Artemisia staff and junior prom committees. Nadine is a member of Chi Delta Phi and is on the nominating and executive committees of the ASUN senate.

Mary Beth Winchester, Gamma Phi Beta, is the final contestant for the senior class office. She has served on the upperclass committee, junior-senior assembly committee, junior prom and Wolves' Frolic committees and is a member of Fine Arts. At the present time she is secretary to the graduate manager.

Junior Candidates

Heading the list of candidates for junior class manager is Mary Ancho. Mary is a member of Zeta Phi Zeta and has been on the honor roll every semester since enrolling in the university. She is a member of Press Club and has served on the editorial staff of the Sagebrush.

Frank Apa, secretary-treasurer of the Independents, is also the vice-chairman of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He served on the Mackay Day committee this year and is the manager of the public address system, using extensively on the campus at numerous affairs.

Frances Cook, Kappa Alpha Theta, is a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, pre-medical society. She is active in Blue Peppers, and has been on the honor roll for the past three semesters.

G-nevieve Siri, Delta Delta Delta, is the final candidate for junior class manager. This year Gen was sophomore class manager. She is a member of Sagens, Blue Peppers and election board.

Soph Also Run

Running for sophomore class manager is Marilyn Dugan, Kappa Alpha Theta. Marilyn is active on the Sagebrush business staff and is a member of Blue Peppers and the Artemisia staff. She was head of the freshman-sophomore assembly and served on the refreshment committee of the N painting.

Gloria Mapes, Delta Delta Delta, is a member of the business and editorial staffs of the Sagebrush. She is active in Blue Peppers, YWCA, Fine Arts, Robe Choir, and is a member of the Artemisia staff.

Florene Miller, Pi Beta Phi, has worked on both the Artemisia and Sagebrush staffs. She is active in WAA and Fine Arts.

A Man for Block N

Jack Good, only candidate running for Block N representative, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. This year he served as the head of the men's upperclass committee and as a member of the Mackay Day committee. He is a member of Sagens, Coffin and Keys, Delta Delta Epsilon, honorary music fraternity, Associated Engineers, Crucible Club and senate. He was manager for the freshman-sophomore basketball team and played on the frosh football team.

Group Holds Forum On Wednesday Night

A group discussion of what the United States should do with defeated Germany was held Wednesday night in the Education auditorium, according to Prof. William C. Miller, who has been instructing speech students who conduct the discussions.

This is one of a series of discussions held each Wednesday to which the public is invited. Timely subjects of prominent political and social interest are first discussed among the class members, then the question is debated before the audience which engages in an open forum when introductions to the subject are completed.

Stag Night Slated For U. of N. Coeds

A stag night card party for all campus women will be held next Friday night at the Pi Phi house, according to Barbara Heany, chairman of the affair.

Admission charge will be 25 cents per person, and refreshments will be served.

Various games to be offered are bridge, poker, pangani and twenty-one. Others serving on the committee are Rosemarie Mayhew, Betty Flyge, Florene Miller and Marilyn Barton. Posters advertising the affair have been set up about the campus, Miss Heany concluded.

Cap and Scroll Holds Dinner Meet

Possible new members were discussed at a dinner meeting of Cap and Scroll, honor society, at the Colombo Tuesday, according to Dorothy Reynolds, president.

Final decision will be made at a meeting to be held within the next two weeks, she said.

Five new members may be taken into Cap and Scroll this year if that many qualify, Miss Reynolds said; the number is based upon 12 1/2 per cent of the class. Members of Cap and Scroll are chosen from senior women who have high scholarship and are active in campus affairs.

Lt. Col. Robert Palmer Receives Army Honors

Lt. Col. Robert S. Palmer, son of Dean Stanley G. Palmer and former student of the university, recently received his wings for proficiency as a parachute trooper, his father said today.

Lt. Col. Palmer is now in command of a unit of army engineers which is at present in England awaiting the invasion of German held territory. The unit, an airborne group, has seen service in the Mediterranean area, participating in battles in Africa and the invasion of Sicily, as well as fighting in Italy. Several other Nevada men are under the colonel's command.

No Applications Made For GAR Scholarship

No applications have yet been received for the GAR scholarship to be awarded at commencement time, according to Dr. Harold Brown, professor of education, and chairman of the scholarship committee.

To be eligible for consideration the student must be a descendant of a soldier of the union army of the Civil War. The award may be made to either a man or woman. Applicants for this scholarship should write immediately to the adjutant general's office, War Department, Washington, D. C., for verification of relationship, Doctor Brown said.

Maie Nygren Elected State 4-H Secretary

Maie Nygren, Zeta Phi Zeta sophomore, was elected state secretary of the Nevada 4-H Clubs at a meeting held Sunday in the Extension building on the campus. She replaces Eileen Kerr, freshman Gamma Phi Beta, who held the office during 1942-43.

EDITOR'S DESK

Finding a few spare moments this week, we wandered down to the Reno Little Theater play, "Kiss and Tell," and were pleasantly surprised to find that our two campuses, Jo Ann Miller and Tosca Masini, turned out beautifully realistic performances in the production.

Don't get us wrong; we're not press agents for the Little Theater. But the evening's fun and relaxation was well worth the time we spent seeing the play.

It seems as though both of the coeds had previous experience in high school productions and were just waiting for a chance to put their talent to good use.

This, of course, brings up the subject of having any and all of the talents on the campus united with those of the townspeople for good purpose. College students are often accused of having only selfish interests. This shadow was unquestionably dispelled by the unselfish interest shown by these two women who—along with the rest of the cast—agreed to play an extra week.

They were willing to sacrifice their time and energies to what they considered a good cause—providing good entertainment for the people of Reno.

If you have any of the assorted talents, don't hesitate to offer them to the townspeople. This makes for a more cooperative spirit between the people of Reno and the students of the University of Nevada—B. Mollignoni.

FROSH SERVE DINNER

The freshman foods class prepared and served a dinner for six in the home economics department April 11, using the family service and tea wagon for the affair, according to Miss Mildred Swift, department head.

The dinner was a regular class project, but was served at 5:30 pm in order to give more time to food preparation, Miss Swift said.

GERALDINE HARDMAN

Geraldine Hardman, formerly secretary to the president of the university, is now stationed with the WASPS at Wilmington, Del. She is engaged in ferrying planes from factories in the area to airfields all over the country and recently ferried a plane to Canada. She graduated last fall from the women's ferry command school at Sweetwater, Texas.

Girls' Groups Plan Campus Dance Festival

Campfire Girls and Girl Scouts are planning a dance festival to be held on the university campus during the first week of May, it was announced today by Miss Elsa Sameth, head of women's physical education.

About 400 girls are expected to participate in the festival, she said. The first proposed day for the outdoor festival has been scheduled as May 1, but if weather proves inclement, it will be postponed, she added. If weather still persists in preventing the outdoor affair, the gymnasium will be used.

Students will be chosen to direct the dancing groups, Miss Sameth pointed out, probably from the university dance classes.

Carpenter Returns From Inspection Tour

Prof. Jay A. Carpenter returned last Wednesday from a trip of inspection in connection with the bureau of mines.

Plants visited were the Kaiser Steel plant at Fontana, Calif., Basic Magnesium Incorporated at Las Vegas, Nevada, and the Magnesium Ore plant located between Las Vegas and Boulder City.

He also visited Los Angeles where he delivered an address on the subject of "Western Cooperation in Current Problems of the Mining Industry." The same address was given later at Las Vegas before the Mining Association of the Southwest, a sub-section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

News Letter Prints Prof. Laird's Work

An article entitled "Recent Contributions to Comparative Literature in the Medieval Period," written by Prof. Charlton G. Laird, professor of English at the university, was recently published in the News Letter, edited by the committee on comparative literature of the national council of teachers of English.

The article discusses later periodicals, books and other literature which deal with the medieval times. These are published by both foreign and American authors.

Professor Laird is spending his first year at Nevada now; prior to that time he taught at Purdue University. He has taught in several universities and supplemented his work with travel.

SPORT SNORTS

BY MADLEN MAESTRETTI

With the cry "play ball" in major cities throughout the United States, the major league baseball season of 1944 got under way two days ago. After weeks of practices with key players being drafted daily and greenhorns taking their places, the top teams put ball-players out on the field making no promises as to the outcome of their particular outfits.

To date the St. Louis Cardinals seem to be the most promising as they have retained the greatest number of their 1943 league players. However, with new and only slightly known players coming into the limelight, there can be no guaranteed as to what to expect this season.

In many ways the continuance of the most popular sport in the United States is a fact to be lauded. In the months to come baseball will be the only big topic to which Americans will turn to offset increasing proportions of new and more tragic war news. Boys in the service who followed their favorite team in days of peace will find some solace in knowing that this American institution carries on with the same spirit they once knew so well.

Here are some of the highlights in the softball game held last Friday, which, incidentally, ended 18-16 favoring the campus "boneheads"—through no fault of their own.

The teams were quite evenly matched—faculty members who were burdened by excess poundage were matched man for man by students whose handicaps were not physical—exactly.

Musical Hour Held For YWCA Members At Dean Marsh Home

A musical hour at which luncheon was served was held at the home of Acting Dean Alice B. Marsh for YWCA members and their guests last Wednesday at noon, according to Patricia Herz, YWCA president.

The music was furnished by records of Mrs. Leonard E. Chadwick, advisor to the group, and the selection played was Tschakowsky's Nut Cracker Suite. Mrs. Marsh furnished the luncheon.

Members of YWCA in attendance were Patricia Herz, Hazel Ohmert, Betty Flyge, Georgiana Hicks, Darden Tibbs, Nancy Herz, Rose Nannini, Lorraine Serpentine, Gloria Mapes, Clara Beth Haley, Pat Thomas, Pat Traner, and Mrs. Chadwick, advisor.

Invited guests were Kathleen Norris, Eleanor Corle, Jean Adrian Sutton, Teddy Hicks, Florene Miller, Tosca Masini, Norma Ferguson, Mary Lou Hovenden and Mrs. Marsh.

The next musical luncheon will be held at the home of Mrs. Chadwick in about three weeks, Miss Herz said, and Tschakowsky's Concerto in B Flat Minor will be played.

Didn't you like the performance of the wiry little student on third base? Incidentally, that third baseman playing city league ball in San Francisco last year.

And how'd ju' like the way Lawlor cracked the soft leather? However, I must add that a few weeks at track would improve his game.

A masqueraded gent almost signed his death warrant when he took a turn at pitching and walked the first four men he faced—goes to prove that fans can only take so-o-o-o much.

Gotta admit that the fellow who's always playing "Red Skelton" wasn't bad at hurling the over-sized pellet. All that keeps Dieringer from being good is lack of practice.

And here's a word for the umpire and the scorekeepers—the ump wasn't so bad even if he couldn't see straight. And those scorekeepers—they weren't prejudiced—or were they?

For spirit in a game always add the names—Beesley, Deming and Reed.

Review Details Of Mackay Day

Following the luncheon, awards and memberships to campus honorary societies were presented.

Bette Poe, editor of the Artemisia, presented an award to Mary Watts, as the outstanding staff member on the Artemisia in the past two years. Miss Watts, business manager of the Artemisia, in turn presented an award to Valerie Scheeline, outstanding member of the business staff.

Jo Ann Miller, freshman student, and Maurya Wogan, sophomore student, received awards for being the outstanding members on the editorial staff of the Sagebrush. The awards were presented by Betty Mollignoni, co-editor of the Sagebrush.

Melba Whittaker and Betty Mollignoni, co-editor of the Brush, were presented Italic N awards for three years of active service on the campus publication.

Lela Iler, business manager of the Brush, presented awards to Thelma Charlton, Jean Bicknell and Marilyn Dugan for being outstanding workers on the business staff.

Bids Offered

Lois Bradshaw, president of the Press Club and Fine Arts Club, announced the names of new members chosen for each club. Madlen Maestretti, Mary Watts, and Thelma Charlton are the new Press Club members, and Arlene Meriello, Velma Heaton, Florene Miller, Virginia Olsen, Elsie Trail and Mary Ann Wells were bid into Fine Arts Club.

Frances Yee, president of Gothic N, women's athletic society, announced that Marie Aldrich, Nancy Herz, Betty Jo Hanna and Clara Beth Haley had been chosen as regular members; Maie Nygren, Myrl Nygren, Barbara Byington, Frances Frandsen and Terry Nagle were named provisional members.

Ethel Dixon, Norma Ferguson, Eleanor Corle, Barbara Whipple, Jean Bicknell, Genevieve Johns, Judy Bogard, Gloria Rosaschi, Constance Bratto and Gloria Springer were commended for excellent work done in WAA dance and were presented bids to University Dancers by President Marian Hennen.

Fourteen Sagens Elected

Geraldine McFarland, president of Sagens, announced that Genevieve Siri, Betty Mollignoni, Mary Watts, Lavina Ramelli, Marie Aldrich, Mary Beth Winchester, Lillian Sloan, Kathleen

Ruth Russell Visits Campus This Week

Ensign Ruth Russell, formerly women's physical education instructor at the University of Nevada, now stationed with the WAVES at Seattle, Washington, is spending a three-day leave in Reno, according to Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the physical education department.

She will be entertained at a luncheon in the home economics rooms today by WAA members and former students, Miss Sameth said.

Ensign Russell has been assigned to ship service. In addition to this she teaches 300 WAVES physical education, Miss Sameth added.

Norris, Patricia Traner, Rose Marie Mayhew, Thelma Charlton, Bonnie Yater, Katherine O'Leary and Jayne Creel had been made members of Sagens.
