

Sagers Revived After Inactivity

Temporary Permit Granted by Senate

Revival of the first men's organization on the University of Nevada campus, the Sagers, is underway this week with provisional authorization of the executive committee of the ASUN senate, according to Leonore Hill, ASUN president.

The actual re-establishment of the group is pending the acceptance of their constitution by the executive committee and the ASUN senate. It will be considered by those groups at a meeting September 28.

The Sagers reorganization meeting held Wednesday night, Robert Craig, independent and former member of the pep society, was chosen temporary president. He returned to school this fall.

Designed as a stepping stone of upperclass men's groups, the Sagers was organized a number of years ago by interested men students. Because of the war, the Sagers was declared inactive by the U of N senate in the spring of 1943.

This year eight men students are interested in reviving the group. Handicapped by the lack of active fraternities, the leaders of the association propose to enroll all men students who are active in any way in campus affairs.

Although plans are indefinite, the group hopes to hold tryouts to enlarge its membership before the first football game of the season, so that it may aid in this activity.

The Sagers was established on the U of N campus many years ago and had served the students and promoted student activities until last year. The organization was originally designed to provide college men with incentive to work in college activities and to develop new campus leaders among students.

Sagers of former years who are behind the revival movement are Art Palmer, Paul Yparraguirre, Gordon Mills, Gilbert Sutton, Italo Gavazzi, Jack Good, Bob Uhlig and Bob Craig.

Large Enrollment For PE Recorded

John E. (Doc) Martie, head of the men's physical education department, announced that 92 men signed for PE this year.

Of the total, 29 are taking football, 12 are taking tennis and the remaining 41 are in the regular PE classes.

The beginning tennis classes are being taught the main fundamental strokes, consisting of the backhand, forehand and service strokes.

Routine Classes
The routine PE classes consist of calisthenics, track work and games. All the classes will be held out of doors as long as the weather permits, Martie said.

Men taking military are excused from PE classes on Thursday at 4 pm, and band members are excused from physical education on Tuesday at 4 pm. The band men, however, are not excused for military classes on Thursday.

Before school started this fall the outlook for a complete physical education program looked more or less hopeless but as enrollment increased there are now enough men in college to have a good PE enrollment this year, Martie said.

Martie also stated that the classes would be in two divisions. One to prepare the 17-year-olds for the army, and the other to recondition the men not physically fit and those who have been discharged from the army for physical reasons.

SENATE TO MEET

In order to appoint another representative to the women's upperclass committee, the senate will hold a meeting September 21 at 4:00 pm, according to Leonore Hill, ASUN president.

Due to technicalities, Madlen Maestretti, previously appointed representative, was ineligible to fulfill the position.

Artemisia Lists Picture Schedule

Pictures for the Artemisia are now being taken at the Conant Studio, according to Bette Poe, editor. In order to avoid confusion appointments are being made, and those already scheduled are Kappa Alpha Theta from September 12 through September 16, with Pi Beta Phi following from September 19 through September 23. Other sorority and fraternity houses will be notified of the calendar dates for their appointments, Miss Poe said.

Regulation dress for the sorority pictures will be white shirts with pointed collars under slipover sweaters with round necks, Miss Poe said, adding that Mrs. Conant suggests blue or green sweaters as preferable colors in photographing.

In addition, seniors will have their pictures taken in cap and gown at the studio, according to Miss Poe.

Teacher Shortage Faced by Nevada

1944 Grads Placed Throughout Nevada

In spite of the placement of 15 University of Nevada 1944 graduates in teaching positions throughout the state this year, Dean F. W. Traner of the school of education states that Nevada faces an acute teacher shortage. Many requests for teachers have also been received by Dean Traner from other states, showing that the shortage is nationwide.

Graduates of last year's class who are now teaching in Nevada schools include Ada May Bachman, Overton high school; Helen Batjer, Virginia City high school; Frances Bauman, Battle Mountain; Margaret Cashbaugh, McGill schools; Betty Jo Hanna, sixth grade, Tonopah; Ruth Johnson, elementary schools in Fallon; Ruth Mary Noble, Tonopah high school; Dorothy Reynolds, Gardnerville high school; Geraldine Streshley, Panaca high school; Darden Tibbs, Montello high school; Muriel Westergard, Wells high school; Lois Welden, McGill schools; Mary Jensen, Smith Valley high school; Dorothy Savage, Carson City elementary schools, and Marian Hensen, Yerington schools. Miss Hensen is a normal school graduate.

Inquiries from other states for Nevada teachers have shown that the pay rate here is generally higher than elsewhere. Dean Traner has received requests from states as far as Illinois and Georgia.

Because of the shortage, three inexperienced instructors will commence with a salary of $2100 a year each, which is the highest yearly rate yet offered a beginning high school teacher.

Nevada Regents Are Changed During Year

In two years the top administration of the University has undergone widespread changes.

Three regents have died in office and their places have been filled through appointments by the governor. Dr. A. C. Olmstead, who died in June, 1942, was replaced by Chris Sheerin, '24, editor of the Elko Free Press. Judge George S. Brown, whose death occurred in August, 1943, was replaced by Leo A. McNamee, a graduate of Southern California in 1910, Las Vegas attorney. Mrs. Anna H. Wardin, who died in May, 1944, was replaced by Mrs. Clarence W. Henningsen, the former Mary Raitt, '16, mother of Katharine Henningsen, '44 senior class manager.

VISITS CAMPUS

Miss Shirley Dimock, '44, former Tri-Delt president, visited the Tri-Delt house from Saturday to Monday last week. She has returned to Las Vegas where she is deputy clerk in the city office.

Get-together Set Wednesday Night

Sagens Sponsor Dance Organized by Blue Key

The semi-weekly get-together will be held Wednesday, September 20, from 7 pm to 9 pm in the old gymnasium, Leonore Hill, Sagen president, announced today.

Formerly sponsored by the Blue Key society, it has been taken over by the Sagens for the past two years, due to the inactivity of Blue Key.

Bonnie Yater, Kappa Alpha Theta junior student, was appointed chairman of the affair and will be assisted by Betty Molignoni, publicity; Barbara Heany and Marie Aldrich, orchestra; Kathleen Norris and Brownlie Wylie, tickets.

Tickets are 25 cents a person and all freshmen are especially invited to attend, Miss Hill added.

Swimming Offered For Class Credit

Classes in swimming will be offered this semester under the direction of Dorothy Phillips, Red Cross instructor, the woman's physical education department announced today.

The university has obtained the use of the YWCA swimming pool, which after undergoing repairs, is now ready for use.

A fee of one dollar a month will be charged for the class, which will be offered twice a week. The time has not been definitely set, but Miss Ethel Dixon, PE instructor, stated it would probably be held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 pm.

Swimming may also be taken as a WAA activity.

PLANT BOUGHT BY UNIVERSITY FOR PRINTING

A complete job printing plant, to be used as a demonstration laboratory for the department of journalism, was purchased by the University of Nevada this summer. The plant, which was purchased from the Anderson Printing Company of Reno, is housed in the basement of the new gymnasium. It is not ready for immediate use.

According to Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the department of journalism, the plant offers an unusually complete printing laboratory for students in news editing, advertising and community paper management. It contains a job press, stitcher, paper cutter, perforator, makeup stone and a number of cases of type.

The shop will be used solely as a typographical and mechanics of publishing laboratory for students and will not do printing for the university.

RUSHING BEGINS NOW FOR ZETA PHI ZETA

Rushing will begin immediately for independent women, according to Lucille Shea, president of Zeta Phi Zeta.

Any freshman woman who is not affiliated with any sorority on the campus and who has attended the University of Nevada for at least one quarter with a 2.4 scholastic average is eligible to join. Miss Pat Lowry and Miss Ethel Dixon are sponsors of the group.

Miss Shea entertained at her home August 31 for the first meeting of the year, at which Marjorie Whipple was elected secretary and plans were made for a picnic for new members in the future.

JEANNE ADRIAN SUTTON IS NEW WORTHY ADVISOR

Jeanne Adrian Sutton, sophomore student, was elected worthy advisor of Reno assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, at a meeting conducted last Thursday night at the Masonic temple. Installation ceremonies are planned for September 23.

MALE VIOLATORS FACE COMMITTEE

Four men, Chuck Johnson, Frank Dimero, Ben Coren and Larry Heinz, were brought before the upperclassmen's committee and the sophomore vigilantes on Thursday morning for violations of campus regulations. The defendants were tried and found guilty of the charges of failure to wear dinks and cutting campus. Dean Dukes, chairman of the upperclassmen's committee, who presided over the meeting, reports that the offenders were punished in the truest Nevada tradition.

All upperclassmen and members of the sophomore vigilantes issue tickets for infractions of regulations, and at the time of the meeting seven had been written.

Three men failed to answer summons and will be dealt with at a special meeting next week, the day and time of which will be posted on the student bulletin board.

TB Tests Reveal No Active Cases

Tabulation of the tuberculositis patch tests given all new students on the campus indicated that there are no active cases at the present time, according to Mrs. Georgia Gressot, nurse in charge at the infirmary.

Positive No Worry
Dr. E. W. Lowrance, chairman of the university health committee, wishes to impress upon students that a positive reaction to the TB test is not necessarily any indication of active tuberculosis.

A positive reaction merely suggests that the patient has come in contact with the disease at some time in the past, Lowrance said.

X-Rays Given
In all cases where a positive reaction was recorded, X-Ray tests were given. These tests actually determine whether the student has an active cause for worry.

Tests are given each year under the supervision of the university health service with cooperation of the infirmary and the physical education departments for both men and women.

Gwen Miller Named Fireplace Manager

Gwen Miller, junior student, was this week appointed manager of the WAA fireplace equipment by an executive committee headed by Dorothy Abel, AWS president.

The WAA fireplace and equipment were donated to the campus last semester by WAA and AWS. The fireplace, located in the northeast corner of the women's athletic field, is available to any campus group wishing to use it.

Equipment necessary for use with the fireplace may be had by seeing Miss Miller at Manzanita Hall. Equipment must be signed out and in; articles lost will be charged to the person signing for them.

Other members of the executive committee are Nancy Herz, WAA president; Leonore Hill, ASUN president; Miss Ethel Dixon, WAA sponsor.

BLOCK N MEETS

Block N society held its first meeting of the semester September 13, according to Jack Good, president of the organization. Plans were made to keep an accurate check of the time each football player spends on the field. Good stated that regular meetings will not be held until after the football season since at the present time the group has only four members. Membership includes Ronald DuPratt, Bill Mackrides, Alf Sorenson, and Jack Good.

FROSH NOTE

So far this semester 68 dinks and 49 frosh bibles have been sold to freshmen men. Since there are 84 first-year men enrolled, quite a number of them have neither dinks nor handbooks, according to Dean Dukes, chairman of one upperclass committee. It is the intention of the upperclassmen to alter this situation, with little delay, he added.

PLANS MADE ON POSTWAR STRUCTURES

Postwar buildings for construction of four new buildings on the University of Nevada campus were discussed September 9 by the members of the board of regents and representatives of the state planning board.

The regents will report their decision on these plans to the state planning board at a special meeting scheduled for September 22.

New buildings considered for construction will house the arts and science, administration, student union and public service departments. Actual construction will probably be included in the five-year postwar building program and will be financed with funds tentatively allocated for the master building plan.

First business of the regents' meeting Saturday morning was the induction of Mrs. Clarence Henningsen of Gardnerville as a member of the board of regents, succeeding the late Mrs. Anna Wardin. Her daughter, Miss Katherine Henningsen, was graduated from the university last spring.

Regents authorized the appointment of Dr. Robert S. Griffin as alumni secretary working in conjunction with the university and as an assistant in the administration.

Leave of absence for Dr. Eldon Wittwer, head of the department of agriculture economics, to serve in the office of price administration, was also authorized by the board of regents. Dr. Wittwer replaced Dr. Ernest L. Inwood, who has been assigned to Washington, D. C., and who is also on leave of absence from the university.

Appointments also approved Saturday morning were Miss Patricia Lowry as dining hall dietitian, Mrs. V. E. Spencer as an instructor in the English department, and Mrs. Katherine Norrid Mergen as an instructor in the department of journalism.

The infirmary staff for the ensuing school year consisting of Dr. John Bibb, physician; Mrs. Eunice Griffith, resident nurse and matron, and Mrs. J. B. Lynch, assistant.

Acceptance of Major Max C. Fleishmann's 250-acre Ladino dairy farm on South Virginia road was also sanctioned during the meeting. Regents will later consider an agriculture program which will include extensive use of the farm.

Regents awarded degrees to five students who completed work in the summer session. The graduates are Margaret Echevarria, arts and sciences; Pat Chism Wilson, B.S. in arts and science; David Everett Campbell, B.S. in electrical engineering; Ruth Johnson, teacher's certificate and B.S. degree; and Flo Z. Reed, B.S.

GAMMA PHI BETA HOLDS INITIATION FOR THREE

Initiation ceremonies will be held at the Gamma Phi Beta house Friday at 7 pm for pledges Grace Kincaid, Esther Golick and Jane Willcox.

Following the ceremonies, a midnight buffet dinner will be served in the dining room. Jeanne Charrier is in charge of arrangements.

Lieut. Bob Bennyhoff Explains Difference Between English and American Newspapers

Lt. Bob Bennyhoff is now stationed with a bombing squadron, "somewhere in England," according to word received from him by Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the Journalism department.

While on the campus in 1941, Lt. Bennyhoff, who is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity, was assistant editor of the Sagebrush. He was also on the staff of the Nevada State Journal and worked for the United Press prior to entering the service.

In his letter to Professor Higginbotham, Lt. Bennyhoff mentioned the newspapers on Fleet street, London's famous newspaper street, and emphasized the difference between British and American newspapers.

Said Lt. Bennyhoff, "In the Times I felt as if I'd entered King Henry's grave at Westminster. Lords of the press over here means specifically what it says—lords of the press."

CONSTITUTIONS ASKED FOR SENATE APPROVAL

Constitutions of all organizations on the campus must be submitted for senate approval by September 26, according to an announcement of the ASUN senate executive committee.

Constitutions may be left at the office of the ASUN president, Leonore Hill. They will be considered at a meeting of the senate scheduled for September 28.

Enrollment Figure Reaches High Mark For Wartime Year

The present enrollment has reached 492 students, according to figures released by the registrar's office. The women have the majority, with 339 women to 153 men.

Registration closed Saturday, September 9, but three students were allowed to register Monday. At the end of enrollment last year there were 411 students, with 287 women and 125 men.

Students enrolled in the college of engineering have jumped from 41 last year to 54 this year. Normal enrollment is about 230, according to Dean Stanley G. Palmer of the college of engineering.

The department of agriculture has six students enrolled, while the home economics department boasts 33.

Normal enrollment figures are over twice this number, with more than 1100 registered in the top year, 1939. The four-to-one ratio of women last year has dropped this year to not quite three women to every man. This is due to a large extent to returned servicemen who will be increasing in numbers as the war continues. This lessens the number of men dropping out during the semester to enter the service and makes the registration figure more definite.

Candidates Named For Hall Offices

Lincoln Hall men met in the basement recreation room of the hall Monday night to draw room numbers, nominate candidates and to appoint a Lincoln Hall men's upperclass committee.

Art Palmer, Bob Uhlig and Warren Parks were nominated for mayor. The election will be Monday, September 18, the hour to be announced by Dr. Robert S. Griffin, acting master of Lincoln Hall.

Fourteen men were appointed to the Lincoln Hall upperclass committee. They were Bob Uhlig, Willie Cristani, Bob Jones, Gordon Mills, Francis Escobar, Bruce Larson, Rober Lamb, Art Palmer, Warren Parks, Charles Blenio, Art Alles, Bill Mackrides, Bill Fryer and Ben Coren.

CONFINED TO INFIRMARY

Larry Heinz, '48, of Chicago has been ill for several days and is now confined in the infirmary.

Five Contestants To State Policies

By Gloria Mapes

Five candidates for freshman class manager and their campaign managers will address the freshman class Tuesday at 3 pm in the education auditorium. This meeting is compulsory for all freshmen and names will be checked by the upperclass committees during the meeting.

Those running for manager are Mary Agnes Duffy, Neva Gardner, Billy Heath, Charles Johnson and John McBride.

Mary Agnes Duffy, a native of Reno, was graduated from Reno high school with class of '44. While in high school she was active on the staff of the school paper, the Red and Blue, and was also active in school dramatics. She is a Pi Beta Phi pledge and is taking a pre-nursing course.

Neva Gardner, from Reno, was graduated from Reno high school in the spring of 1944. Taking an active part in student affairs she was secretary of the student body and a member of the TN1, GAA and the honor society. Her major in the university is economics. She is a Delta Delta Delta pledge.

Charles (Chuck) Johnson graduated from Overbrook high school in his home town, Philadelphia. Being active in student activities, he was president of the student body, chief advisory council, junior class president and active in football and baseball. He is majoring in pre-med at the university and is a pledge of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

Billy Heath of Reno was graduated from Reno high school with the class of '44. Being active on the school paper, the Red and Blue, she was sports editor for the girls and was responsible for many of the editorials. Billy was secretary of her home room. She is majoring in journalism and is a pledge of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

John (Buster) McBride, from Elko, was graduated from the Elko high school having been active in sports. McBride is the principle appointee to Annapolis. He is an arts and science student and is a pledge of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Coach Splits Pack For Pre-Game Tilt

Blues and Grays Face Each Other Saturday

By Miz Maestretti, Sports Editor

A game will be played between the Blues and the Grays, two divisions of the Wolf Pack, tomorrow at 2:30 pm on Mackay field.

This will be the first official showing of the Pack to the campus and downtown fans, and there will be no admission charge.

The remainder of the Pack will be distributed as subs for both squads in order to use the full squad.

NO STAMP SALES

No war saving stamps have been purchased through the university post office since fall registration, according to Robert Prescott, postmaster.

Stamp and bond sales during the 1943-1944 school year, however, were high, he stated.

THE RUSHING PROBLEM

In reply to a letter to the editor printed in last week's Sagebrush, it is only proper that a little explanation and justification be offered for the stand taken on the question by the four national sororities on the University of Nevada campus.

First of all, not all of the outstanding women on the campus are sorority women; and the sororities recognize this fact. Some of the women who are not pledged a sorority remain independent because they are not interested in sororities. Others cannot afford the expense attached to sororities.

In either case, the not-belongers are far better off than are the mis-belongers, who likewise are not interested in a sorority—beyond the wearing of a pin and the social activities included in sorority life.

Sororities also recognize that fact. It is seldom that any sorority attempts to "rush" any woman student into pledging a Greek house. Sororities, too, would like each woman to know each house before she pledges. They would also like to know each woman better before they pledge her.

However, as the letter pointed out, this cannot be accomplished by two weeks of silence interspersed with four two-hour rush parties, and a fifteen-minute tea. The rush week, no one will deny, is highly unsatisfactory.

The point is: how could rushing be better arranged for a more practical means of selecting new members of Greek houses?

Delayed Rushing

If rushing and pledging were delayed, as proposed in the letter to the editor, it is likely that a semester of perpetual rushing would result. Nothing but rushing would be accomplished. Studying and extra-curricular activities would probably be abandoned.

About twenty years ago, when this question once before arose, the system of delayed pledging was tried. The result was similar to the one suggested above—a semester of concentrated rushing and little else.

A Suggestion

On the other hand, one suggestion might help alleviate the situation. That is to eliminate the first week of silence, which precedes rushing in the fall semester.

If women on the campus were free to talk to each other without the social niceties accompanying rush parties, rushees would have the opportunity to determine to a greater extent which group of women they would best fit with and which group included women with interests corresponding with theirs. Likewise, sororities would be better satisfied that certain women would be happier in certain houses.

Pan Hel's Problem

However, the solution of the problem belongs to Pan-Hellenic. This body, which includes representatives of all four sororities, is the governing element in rushing. It makes the rules and keeps a watchful eye on so-called "dirty rushing."

The consensus of opinion, as voiced by a number of freshman women, is that the entire rush week is "dirty," and that the week is just what it is labeled—a week of rushing—from one house to another.

Perhaps, if the individual disillusioned, plaintive voices were raised in a united, rebellious roar, the situation would be remedied before another class of bewildered freshmen is thrown into the holocaust of rush week.

Tri-Delts Win Annual Pledge Derby As Greeks Pledge Eighty-Six Women

Delta Delta Delta won the annual sorority pledge derby with 31 new members. Gamma Phi Beta was second with 21, while Pi Beta Phi welcomed 20 pledges, and Kappa Alpha Theta 14. Pledge dinners and banquets at the sorority houses and downtown restaurants Saturday marked the end of rushing season for this semester.

Delta Delta Delta

Marie Aldrich, Tri-Delt president, announced the following pledges: Catherine Aldrich, Bonnie Beard, Jean Barker, Katherine Boyle, Mary Alice Bradley, Lois Cobia, Odette Darrigrande, Alice Ruth Doyle, Suzanne Evans, Jeanne Forson, Neve Gardner, Virginia Gardner, Anabelle Gillespie, Elma Hand, Merrie Jo Harp, Maridee Johnson, Frances Kennedy.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta president, Katherine O'Leary, announced 14 pledges who are: Patricia Crummer, Jaklyn Ross, Lois Post, Marilyn Reynolds, Patricia Frazee, Josephine Eather, Alice Etchart, Phyllis Green, Jerry Brown, Roberta Whitney, Georgeanne Lane, Barbara Mills, Gloria Haley Platt.

Gamma Phi Beta

Pi Beta Phi

BAND ELECTION SLATED

Election of band officers will be held Tuesday, September 19, at 4:00 pm in the band room of the new gymnasium, according to Professor Theodore H. Post, head of the U of N music department.

All students that have signed or are interested in becoming a member of the band are requested to attend, Post said.

Italian Musicians Draw Large Crowd

Over 600 university students and townspeople attended the musical program given Tuesday night by 11 members of the 68th Italian quarter-master service company stationed at the Sierra Ordnance Depot, Herlong, California.

The program included various Italian melodies by the six-piece orchestra, including drums, saxophone, mandolin, guitar, accordion and bass, and four soloists offered songs of Italy. Most of their instruments were given to them, many of whom were professional artists in Italy, by the American Red Cross.

First Lieutenant Umberto Bonacchi is the musical director of the group. The program was sponsored by Dr. John O. Moseley, president of the university; Mrs. Adriana Marlin, field director of the American Red Cross; Prof. Theodore H. Post, director of the music department, and Capt. Harold W. Kreger, commanding officer, 68th I. QMS Co.

Sorority Cutting

Anonymous, but Female

"The freshmen are here!" is resounding throughout the houses on sorority row. The Greeks have restocked their field glasses, ropes and booby traps and are about to hunt up a new pledge class.

"Parties. Oh boy! Parties. We'll fling a brawl that no freshman gal could withstand. We'll feed 'em and pet 'em and pledge 'em—then they can wash the windows and clean the silverware.

"Entertainment . . . there old days when Tilly danced the can-can and Marge imitated Donald Duck? Tough those kids had to graduate after only six years here.

"Guess we'll get by playing the phonograph. Buy two or three new records, and we'll keep playing them over and over again. Have to economize somewhere, and this is it. Another thing: we'll have to serve punch. Water it well and add a couple of extra spoonfuls of sugar. No-body will ever notice.

"Let's clean the house. I found two text books and a package of pretzels under the divan last fall. Who knows—maybe there's a cadet left under there from last spring. "What'll we wear? I haven't a thing. Not a stitch. And I have noticed that these freshmen look pretty smooth. By the way, maybe rushing won't be such a pushover this year . . . they look like a pretty crafty bunch.

"Answer the phone, and if it's somebody asking for a job as cook, grab her. For me? Male? Oh! Tell her I'm not in. She probably wants that $1.50 I borrowed from her last January.

"Here come the rushees! Get the broom out of sight and make Janice stop thinking the punch.

"Hellooo! We're so glad to see you; won't you come in and make yourselves right at home?"

Civilians Replace ASTP in UN Dorms

For the first time since February of 1943, the university dormitories are housing civilian students. Prior to this time, the halls were used by the Army Specialized Training Program to house students of the program from February 26, 1943, to May 27, 1944.

Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women, has announced that there are 76 girls, 65 of whom are freshmen, residing in Artemisia Hall, with Mrs. Catharine Rawles as matron. Miss Ethel Dixon is residing over Manzanita Hall.

Hall Renovated
In preparation for occupancy, the halls have been renovated, Mrs. Marsh said. The living room of Artemisia has been redecorated, new draperies have been purchased and the furniture has been refinished. The work in Manzanita is still in progress.

Dr. Robert S. Griffin, master of Lincoln Hall, stated that the redecoration of the hall was completed in time for the opening of the fall semester. The hall is occupied by 54 men resident students.

The university dining hall is now serving 160 university students. The kitchen is under the supervision of James Grayson and Miss Patricia Lowry, a graduate of the University of Tennessee and a trained dietitian, is director of the dining hall.

Plans to renovate the dining hall are being completed slowly, Mrs. Marsh said, because of difficulties involving orders for new supplies. Service screens and new chinaware have been ordered for the dining hall, she added.

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burnstan

From one of the most destructive weapons of the war, the German robot bomb, may result a propulsion unit for a peacetime sport craft; namely, the jet-assisted sail plane.

At the present time a number of methods are employed to get a sail plane into the air. The original method which included a shock cord launching from a slope, has been practically abandoned in favor of other means of power launching, such as auto tow launching. These methods, of course, necessitate the assistance of at least one person on the ground in order to launch a sail plane.

It is the belief of a group of aeronautical engineers that jet engines can be installed in the tail of sail planes. This improvement would enable the sportsman pilot to get the plane off the ground without assistance. After the plane is aloft the rising air currents keep it soaring, but the sportsman pilot could turn on the jet engine at any time to obtain power to reach more desirable air currents or to evade bad weather. When the sportsman pilot wished to descend he could glide to a landing without the assistance of an engine.

HOLDS FOUR JOBS

Lt. J. R. Collins, graduate of 1943, who graduated from the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., August 7, 1944, holds four positions in his unit, Major John Howard of the military department disclosed this week. Lt. Collins has been appointed platoon leader, supply officer, voting officer and athletic officer with the 42nd division at Camp Gruber, Okla.

Reno Citizens Buy Italian's Paintings

Residents of Reno this week purchased several paintings that were on exhibit in the art department in the electrical engineering building. The exhibit was in coordination with the Fine Arts group, who sponsored the exhibit.

Sold from $15 to $25 apiece, the paintings were part of the work of 2nd Lieut. Flavio Vittone, Italian officer, stationed at the Sierra Ordnance Depot at Herlong, California. Lt. Vittone was formerly a student of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Venice.

CAMPUS LANDSCAPE IN THIRD SEASON

Landscaping of the university campus is now in its third year, and this year's pattern has not differed greatly from that of last, Carl M. Horn, superintendent of grounds, said this week.

Herbert Preuss, also in charge of the greenhouse, is in charge of campus beautification, Horn noted.

Flowers used in the various beds about the grounds are marigolds, periwinkles, zinnias, geraniums, cannas, dahlias and phlox, all in a variety of colors.

PACK PRINTS

"All right, you're men, now, you are in college, so get in there and fight like college men." This call booms out over Clark field every evening as the Wolf Pack buckles down to another practice period.

There are other calls, too (not so easily printable) coming from Coach Jim Aiken who is putting the boys through rough practice in preparation for their first game September 24. On that date the Wolf Pack will travel to Tonopah to play the Tonopah air base. While this game is not a proving point as to the quality of the team, it will bring out some of the better qualities in the men and enlighten us as to their possibilities.

Our boys will be in for a surprise when they reach Tonopah. The playing field there differs from ours in that it is a dirt field. This may leave them at some disadvantage, since they have been used to the verdant green of Clark field.

Taking into consideration that the boys are under disadvantages due to change of altitude, condition of playing surface and newness of some of the players, it is safe to say that the Wolves will give a good showing and will uphold the traditions of the Pack as in past years. So support the team, do your utmost to give them the feeling that you are behind them. Although you cannot be at Tonopah, how about giving the boys the backing they deserve as your fellow students? This goes for all of us Nevadans. Let's back the Pack.

Switching the scene I will turn to ponder over the football situation as presented by the team from St. Mary's. As you probably know St. Mary's is still tentative on our schedule. According to their listing published in the St. Mary's Collegian, the Gails journey to Los Angeles to play UCLA on October 14, then again to play USC on October 28. St. Mary's officials feel that if they were to play Nevada at Reno on the 21st that the traveling time involved would keep their boys from studies for too long a period.

In all probability (and in consideration of St. Mary's board of officials) it's my guess that the Nevada-St. Mary's tussle will not come off this season, but will be replaced with another game. Coach Aiken is now negotiating with several schools—to mention a few—the Washington Huskies, Alonzo Stagg's boys from the College of Pacific and UCLA. Most of these teams have open dates and are good fast ball teams, the type that fans want to see Nevada play.

The first line-up was altered slightly this week as it will continue to be up to five minutes before the first game. This week, however, about five of the boys on the first string are considered fairly permanent. This is the current line-up:

PHIL "HALF-WAY" CORRIGAN, 21, 230 pounds, Newark, N. J., attended Holy Cross, plays offensive guard, defensive tackle.

AL NOCCILO, 17, 163, attended Newark Central High, right halfback.

BILL MACKRIDES, 19, 175, U of N, quarterback.

BUSTER McCLURE, 20, 210, captain of Wolf Pack, from Dardanelle, Ark., attended Drake University, tackle.

JACK DORR, 22, 197, Sacramento J. C., end.

ALF SORENSON, 28, 155, U of N, quarterback.

ROBERT CLIFTON DURHAM, JR., 17, 165, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., guard.

Testing Mica Sheets

Mica's special insulating qualities are mighty important in communications equipment. No equivalent exists, so war's huge demands caused a critical shortage.

Bell Telephone Laboratories' scientists were assigned the task of somehow finding more mica. They found it—in the very considerable amounts of raw mica which visual inspection had rejected. By developing electrical apparatus to test the two most important electrical properties, they increased the usable amount of mica by half and so stretched current supplies of mica to fill all military needs.

In many such ways the Bell System is serving the nation, constantly meeting the needs of our fighting forces for dependable communications.

HAROLD'S CLUB

Home Econ Group Plans New Course

Plans for a six weeks' good grooming course for members of the Home Ec Club were made at the executive committee meeting Tuesday evening in the Agriculture building, Dorothy Thomas, publicity chairman, announced this week.

The course will include outside speakers, and reports on material gathered by the chairmen, as well as practical demonstrations. All women who signed for the course must attend every meeting, Miss Thomas stated.

Pat Crummer is chairman in charge of material on make-up; Pat Thomas in charge of hair in connection with good grooming; Jayne Creel in charge of nutrition, and Nancy Herz in charge of skin care. Clothing will also be discussed.

A schedule committee appointed by the executive committee will make more definite plans for activities during the club year.

Betty Sullivan, freshman home ec major, is in charge of furnishing the powder room for the home ec women.

President Honors Board of Regents At Home Luncheon

Members of the board of regents were honored at a luncheon given by Dr. and Mrs. John O. Moseley at their home last Saturday.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Silas E. Ross, Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sirkegian of Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sheerin of Elko, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henningsen of Gardnerville, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McNamee of Las Vegas, Miss Alice Terry, and Dr. and Mrs. Moseley.

Giving members of the Nevada faculty an opportunity to meet the regents and their wives, Dr. and Mrs. Moseley also entertained at a reception at their home Saturday evening. Presiding during the evening were Mrs. Stanley G. Palmer, Mrs. R. C. Thompson, Mrs. Frederick W. Wilson and Mrs. Fredrick Wood.

Assisting in serving were Misses Virginia Auchampaugh, Margaret Moseley, Patricia Lowry and Mrs. Alice B. Marsh.

Past Brush Editor Spends Reno Leave

Lieutenant (j.g.) Frank Sullivan, '36, visited the campus this week, spending sometime in his old haunt, the journalism lab.

Lieut. Sullivan, a former editor of the Sagebrush, is spending seven days leave in Reno after seven months of duty aboard a tanker in the southwest and central Pacific. He is serving on armed guard duty with a navy gun crew.

During four years at Nevada, he actively participated in student affairs, and in his senior year was rated by the Artemisia as one of eight outstanding graduates.

His fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Before entering the service he was city editor of the Nevada State Journal for several years.

LT. BILL MOREHOUSE

William L. Morehouse, a former student here, and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. marine corps, and is now undergoing advanced officer training at Quantico, Va.

Pfc. Fred Wood, Jr. Home on Furlough

Pfc. Fredrick Wood, Jr., former University of Nevada student and son of Dean Fredrick Wood, dean of the college of arts and science, is spending a 15-day furlough here with his parents.

Pfc. Wood, who has been in the army nine months, took two and one-half years of pre-medical schooling here and is now attending the University of Chicago School of Medicine under the army AST program. Upon the satisfactory completion of the prescribed course there, Pfc. Wood will be commissioned an officer in the army medical corps.

Two Former Prexys Visit U of N Campus

Two former ASUN presidents visited the campus last week. They were Helene Batjer, prexy for 1943-44, and Eugene Mastroianni, 1942-43 prexy.

Miss Batjer was in Reno en route to Virginia City, where she will teach this year, and had just returned from San Francisco where she was employed during the summer.

Second Lt. Mastroianni was on furlough from his station at Camp Crowder, Mo., where he is with the signal service battalion. He left to return to the same camp last Friday.

Enrollment Is High In Portugese Class

Nevada's percentage of enrollment in Portugese classes is far above that of most universities, according to Dr. Benjamin F. Chappelle, head of the foreign language department. This course stresses the development of a comprehensive reading knowledge of the language as spoken in Brazil, and requires a prerequisite of two years of a romance language.

Dr. Chappelle points out that many students do not realize that more than one-half of the South American peoples speak Portugese rather than Spanish. Texts are changed frequently to keep abreast of the newest trends as the efforts of the government-fostered Pan-American union knit the commercial interests of the two continents more closely.

FORMER COED VISITS

Miss Jean Bailey, Kappa Alpha Theta now taking a course in pharmacy at Boulder, Colorado, visited at the Theta house last week from Tuesday through Friday.

Miss Baily attended the University of Nevada during the year 1941 and 1942, and was active in campus groups. She is now vacationing at her home in Fallon.

PIANISTS ANNOY HALL RESIDENTS

By Roger Lamb

A vigilante committee is being sought by residents of Lincoln Hall to stop the several one-finger piano artists that insist on practicing all night.

Annoyed male students, both upperclassmen and underclassmen, who are either trying to study or sleep, have never been able to apprehend the noisemakers, but have managed to devise several "booby traps."

Tunes played on the Lincoln Hall piano vary from "chopsticks" to the latest in amateur boogy woogy. The only appealing aspect of the music is the variation which comes with the different tunes.

Regulations governing the residents of Lincoln Hall will probably go into effect when the election is held in a few weeks to choose officers to enforce silence rules. Until then, the piano artists will continue practice, unmolested; unless a Lincoln Hall vigilante committee is organized to abate the nuisance. If so, the duly elected enforcement officers will have to annihilate the piano players.
