Events Scheduled for Inauguration of Seventh University of Nevada Prexy

Academic Notables to Participate With Campus Faculty and Students

By U of N News Bureau
Four events will be sponsored by the University of Nevada in connection with the inauguration of Dr. John O. Moseley as the seventh president of the University of Nevada.
First of the affairs will be the official reception for the students of the university, at which they will be afforded the opportunity of meeting the institution's new chief and his family.
Dr. and Mrs. Moseley will open the president's house on the campus for this event on the evening of Monday, October 9.

Scribe Bemoans Gow House Food

By Pat Ireland
"Hey, fellas, there's the bell for lunch. Fret hurry; I could eat a horse."
"Don't think you won't," someone puts in.
"Well, yes, that could be what we had yesterday, but maybe today they'll give us a break."
"A mad dash is made to the 'gow house' from all three halls. After a scramble for a place at one of the tables and a quibble with someone who is saving all the seats, we finally sit down to eat.
"Wonder what we're gonna have today?"
"That is a good question."
"Well, here it comes. Boy, tomato soup. How I love it!"
Then the assembly line begins to function, and the bowls of soup are passed from person to person until everyone is served.
"Is everybody ready? Dig in." With this we begin the meal.
"Oh—oh, my gosh—my asbestos throat. What kind of soup did you say this was? Never mind; pass the meat. No, no, the meat—this isn't meat. Why it couldn't be; it's transparent. They must have cut it with a razor blade. I've got to eat something though, so I'll take two sheets. Potatoes please, and the salad."
With one look at the salad I know where all the watermelon rinds go around here.
"Those potatoes were good. Pass me the spuds. The bread is good, too, so how about some more bread?"
"Guess I'm ready for dessert now. It wouldn't make much difference whether I was or not. All the food has been taken off the table anyway."
"Believe it or not, it looks like ice cream and cookies for dessert. It couldn't be, not both at the same time. I take it all back now. This makes up for everything. I feel almost as though I were home."
Guess that's why I gripe so much about the food. Mother was too good a cook; she spoiled me. We really do have some good meals here at times and besides, things are tough all over this year. Why can't I remember that when I go in to eat instead of trying to think of smart slams to make at the food?

Upperclass Meeting Postponed This Week

Regular meeting of the women's upperclass committee was postponed because of the freshmen election, Betty Molignoni, chairman of the group, announced.
However, this week's offenders will be called before the committee at its next regular meeting at 4 o'clock next Thursday. Betty stated that about 12 freshman women had been given tickets. Second and third offenders will serve on the clean-up committee following the Homecoming dance in October, she said.

CHI DELTA PHI

Chi Delta Phi, English honorary society will meet Tuesday, September 26, at 8 pm at the home of Miss Florence Billinghurst, sponsor, 729 Evans street, Toni Suverkrup, president, announced.
Orson Welles' program, "The Men From Mars," will be read and discussed under the leadership of Lucille Shea.

Christmas Packages For Overseas Men Must Go by Oct. 15

To assure timely delivery of gifts to service men overseas, they must be mailed between next Friday and October 15.
The following are provisions for overseas mailing:
Packages length and girth should not be more than 36 inches, nor weigh more than five pounds when wrapped.
Wrap parcels securely in strong container and plainly mark "Christmas gift parcel."
Address properly to avoid delay in delivery.
Christmas cards may be mailed any time prior to or after the October 15 deadline, provided they are in sealed envelopes.

Speaker Is Named For Inauguration

A former president of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, Dr. Alfred Atkinson, will deliver the address at the inauguration of Dr. John Ohleyer Moseley as the seventh president of the University of Nevada.
Dr. Atkinson served as chief of the association, of which the University of Nevada is a member, in 1936-37, when he was president of Montana State College.
He is now president of the University of Arizona, a post he has held since 1937.
During World War I, Dr. Atkinson served as war food administrator for Montana.
A graduate of Iowa State College, Atkinson also holds a doctor of science degree from that institution. In addition, he has done graduate work at Cornell University in New York state.

Zo Lab Relishes Cokes and Sharks

By Eileen Kerr
Seven students, seven sharks, and a professor meet every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon in the zoology lab for purposes of general education and edification.
Armed with dissectibles and digestibles (the seven under sea mammals and quantities of coke, doughnuts and fruit), Dr. Frank Richardson's advanced zoology students approach learning in an unusual manner. Each exhibits his individual shark with an almost parental pride and gladly shows off "Esmeralda's" enticing liver, which is drooping over Esmeralda's side in a most peculiar way, or her auricles, intestines, and infinitum.
Their hospitality is not limited to professional tours. The students graciously offer you whatever you wish from their food supply, which is constantly replenished by various members of the class.
However, it is rather difficult to conceive drinking coke while pans of formaldehyde waft up their delicate odors.

TRENCH MOUTH ABSENT FROM U OF N CAMPUS

Contrary to rumors circulating on the campus, the university infirmary has not treated a single case of trench mouth, according to Mrs. Beatrice Warren, new nurse now in charge at the hospital.
"I have been on duty since Tuesday," said Mrs. Warren, and "Mrs. Catherine Lynch, regular hospital attendant, met all students coming in for consultation with the doctor in the several days before my arrival. She kept a routine record of their visits, of course, and we have the doctor's assurance that none of the students treated was suffering from trench mouth."

INAUGURAL LUNCH TICKETS ARE SET ASIDE FOR STUDENTS

A block of tickets for the inaugural luncheon of John O. Moseley has been set aside for student use, according to Dean Frederick W. Wilson, member of the committee in charge of arrangements.
The luncheon is scheduled for October 12 in the new gymnasium immediately following inauguration exercises.
Students who wish to attend should call at Dean Wilson's office at once for their tickets, because there are only a limited number of places.

Greek Men Pledge 29 New Members

Dean of Men Cites Pledge Regulations

Twenty-nine students have pledged to Nevada's four active fraternities, Dean of Men Reuben C. Thompson said this week.
Alpha Tau Omega is in the lead with 15 pledges, Sigma Nu has nine, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, four, and Sigma Rho Delta, one.
ATO pledges are: Robert Durham, James R. Dulgar, Jack Muselman, Rex Ricketts, Harry Paragini, Neal Burns, Robert Garrett, Howard Doyle, Earl Charlton, Kenneth York, Harold Hayes, Robert Wardle, Eli Livierato, Kennq Cusick and John McBride.
Sigma Nu pledges are: Harold Okholm, John Friedberg, George Vucunovich, Bob Johnson, John Hierstowski, Joe Friel, Edward Diercks, Williams H. Ward and Richard Bossert.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledges are: Howard Williams, Clayton Hurst, Royden Beardoll, Jr., and Gerald Lokke.
Sigma Rho Delta, local fraternity, has pledged Francis Escobar.
Must Sign Cards
Dean Thompson stated that under the interfraternity constitution all pledges are required to sign pledge cards. These should then be signed by the head of the organization and turned into the dean of men's office within 24 hours after the student has pledged. This procedure must be followed before the pledging can be valid.

Nevada Pep Group Has Record Number

By Jo Miller
Blue Peppers, the women's drilling group of the campus, have the largest number of members in its history, Sergeant Michael J. McCormick announced yesterday.
Ninety in number, the women have been divided into two platoons with Tosca Masini and Gloria Mapes as platoon sergeants. Three squads compose a platoon and a squadron leader heads each squad.
Blue Peppers will serve as ushers and guides at the inauguration of President John O. Moseley, and will take part in the intermission ceremonies at all football games and the Armistice Day and Homecoming parades.
The women will wear their traditional uniforms of blue skirts, white blouses and light blue Sam Brown belts.
The group drills every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 5 to 6 pm on the quad, and Sgt. McCormick said that he is very pleased with their progress.
The women receive WAA credit for the activity.
Sgt. McCormick stated that the group could accommodate several more women if any late beginners would like to go out for the activity.

Women's War Board To Hold Luncheon

Members of the women's war board will hold a luncheon meeting September 27 at the home of Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, 942 Sierra street. Plans for the year's program will be completed at that time.
Guests invited are Kathleen Norris, president, and the following bureau chairmen: Jayne Creel, finance; Mary Ancho, salvage; Mary Watts, courtesy clinic; Madlen Maestretti, speaker's bureau, and Katy O'Leary, entertainment.
Ex-officio members to meet with the board are Dorothy Able, president of AWS; Jane Perkins, president of the campus Red Cross unit, and Mrs. Marsh, women's war board advisor and acting dean of women.

ON COMMITTEE

Marge Kelly, unaffiliated, was appointed to the women's upperclass committee at a meeting of the ASUN senate, according to Leonard Hill, student body president.

HAZING PROBLEM BECOMES ACUTE

To discuss the problem of "hazing" freshman men who violate campus traditions, a meeting was held Thursday with President John O. Moseley, Dean Reuben Thompson and men's upperclass committee.
Previously, corporal punishment has been administered to freshmen men who violate campus regulations. President Moseley and Dean Thompson do not hold with this custom, they informed committee members.
According to Dean Dukes, chairman of the men's upperclass committee, no satisfactory alternate form of punishment was presented, but a sub-committee will be appointed by Dukes to find a new and less strenuous means of regulating freshmen behavior. When a new plan has been formulated by the sub-committee, it will be presented to the ASUN senate for confirmation.
Until the senate does approve a new system of hazing, says Dean Dukes, violators will be dealt with in "true Nevada tradition."

Sagers Meet to Begin Activity

Members Selected; Constitution Drawn
By Roger Lamb
Sagers, campus men's service group, held a meeting Tuesday evening to revive the organization, which had been inactive due to wartime conditions. The meeting was held in the ASUN building with Bob Craig, acting president, presiding.
18 Men Elected
On the basis of recent voluntary cooperation in making campus activities a success during the absence of men's service organizations, 18 men were selected as new members of the Sagers.
Guests Present
Also present by invitation were several men interested in the Sagers. Craig expressed hope that these men will show further interest in becoming full fledged members by attending tryout work days, which are among activities required to become a member of the Sagers.
Active members of the Sagers present were Gilbert Sutton, Gordon Mills, Jack Good, Bob Uhlig, Italo Gavazzi, Paul Yparraguirre and Bob Craig.
Wartime Restrictions
Sagers are the oldest men's organization on the campus and last year became inactive because of wartime conditions.
Sagers this year are organized under wartime limitations, therefore a war clause was adopted by the group. The clause reads as follows: "With the advent of Sagers on the U of N campus, this clause is to act in place of former constitutional rulings to keep the organization alive until the return of fraternities on full working scale, or until such time the members of this group choose to discontinue this clause and rulings it brings to bear."

Former Instructor Studies Japanese

Word was received this week that Major James W. Coleman, formerly of the physical education department of the U of N, has been transferred to Harvard University to enroll in a six months' intensive course in Japanese.
Major Coleman has just completed study at the military government school at the University of Virginia. Major Coleman was a reserve officer when he left the university to go into the army in 1942 and since then he has served with the military police and was provost marshal at the Tooele Ordnance Depot in Utah.

Neva Gardner, Chuck Johnson Finalists In General Election for Frosh Manager

Two-Thirds of Freshman Class Votes After Hearing Candidates at Assembly

Neva Gardner and Charles Johnson moved into the finals for freshman class manager in yesterday's primary election and will compete in the general election Thursday, September 29.
Charles Johnson, Sigma Nu pledge, received a total of 45 votes in the primary, and Neva Gardner, Delta Delta Delta pledge, received 38. A total of 156 votes were cast out of a possible 233, leaving 77 freshmen who did not vote. Leonard Hill, student body president, urges all freshmen to vote in the finals Thursday. The election will take place from 8 to 4 pm in the ASUN building.
The freshman class manager will be installed at a pep rally Friday, at which time the student body secretary, Nadine Gibson, Pi Beta Phi, will also be installed in office.
Speak at Frosh Meet
Candidates for the freshman class managership gave campaign speeches last Tuesday at a special freshman assembly. Candidates who spoke were: Mary Agnes Duffy, Neva Gardner, Billy Heath, Charles (Chuck) Johnson and John (Buster) McBride.
About 40 men and 71 women were present. The women's upperclass committee checked roll, and it is rumored that those girls who did not attend without a good reason might have to sweep the stadium.

Nazi Defeat Not Final, Says Riess

Curt Riess, author of several well known books on the Nazi party and its movements, spoke to University of Nevada students and faculty at an assembly Tuesday in the Education building auditorium.
In his speech, entitled "Will the Nazis Stay Defeated?", Mr. Riess stressed the point that although defeat for the Nazi army is inevitable in this war, the party leaders will not accept the victory of the allies as final.
As in his book, "The Nazis Go Underground," Mr. Riess used facts and names in his lecture to illustrate how the Nazis will "go underground" to plan for the next war. He told of the plans, prepared by Heinrich Himmler, to go into other countries and keep them in ignorance of the Nazi party activities through the use of propaganda.
He outlined the plans of the universities in Germany to train their young people for the next war, and also showed that the plans of the Nazis were dependent on the hope that the allies will disagree among themselves after this war.
To demonstrate the danger of these plans, Mr. Riess explained that there is no strong party to oppose the Nazis; only weak dissenters who will place the blame for this conflict upon Hitler.
These dissenters, Mr. Riess stated, will be unable to cope with the activities of the Nazis which will continue long after the end of the war.
Among his recent books are "Total Espionage," a 1941 best-seller, and "The Self-Betrayed," a story dealing with the leading German generals.

SIX INITIATED INTO ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-med fraternity, held their first degree initiation for six in the Agriculture building Tuesday evening.
All active members witnessed the initiation and refreshments were served later at the home of Dr. Edward Lowrance on Tenth street. Dr. Lowrance is associate professor of biology on the campus.
Initiates were Jean Bicknell, Margaret Crehore, Marge Kelley, Lorraine Serpentina, Gloria Rosaschi and Delmar Taylor. These six students were chosen because of their pre-medical activity and scholastic pre-med standing for a year's work.

PROFS LEGALIZE CAMPUS CUTTING

By Anna Garamendi
Students dodge about campus, walking out of their way to avoid cutting across lawns, and then Ka-boom! the fairy godfather (not mother this time) invites whole classes of students to walk about the campus lawns.
Groups of intent, absorbed botanists under the direction of Dr. Dwight Billings were seen last week observing, feeling and discussing the different kinds of trees "On the Hill."
Freshmen smirked at upperclassmen as they passed by, knowing that they are well protected and within their rights.

Artemisia Pictures Of Delta Delta Delta Scheduled Next Week

Bette Poe, editor of the Artemisia, announces that the Conant Studios will photograph members of Delta Delta Delta sorority from Thursday, September 28, through Saturday, October 7. Individual women will make their studio appointments at the regular Tri-Delt house meeting.
Miss Poe emphasized the fact that some of the women continue to go to the studio wearing dark sweaters which do not photograph to the best advantage, and called attention to the photographer's suggestion that all wear light blue or light green sweaters over white shirts with pointed collars.
GRIDDERS INJURED
John Helstowski, '48, Irvington, New Jersey, and James Wilson, '48, of Philadelphia are confined to the infirmary as a result of injuries sustained in football practice.

FROSH SPANKED

Primary election balloting for frosh class manager was held yesterday in the ASUN building.

To the surprise and disappointment of the upperclassmen, 77 freshmen did not vote. Evidently, 77 freshmen did not particularly care who was elected freshman class manager—or even if one was elected.

Perhaps this lethargy is merely a hangover from high school days, when student body officers were largely figure-heads or mouthpieces for faculty members.

Things are different at Nevada. Here student government is the most important phase of college activity. Our student body officers have always been the outstanding and most capable members of their respective classes. They have done their jobs quietly and efficiently and have been of inestimable value to their classes.

Seventy-seven individuals represent a third of the freshman class. When one-third of a group neglect their duty—voting being not only a privilege but also a duty—that is rather a good indication that the particular group does not deserve student government.

The 156 who did vote are probably interested in the future of their class. They deserve a good leader who will make the most of the class' opportunities. They will work their hardest to support the leader who is elected.

However, the irresponsible one-third who did not vote will be the first to complain when things don't run smoothly—and the last to do anything about it.

This is a good time for freshmen to realize that they are college students now. People expect them to show maturity of thought and an occasional bit of intelligence.

Final election balloting will be held next Thursday in the ASUN building.

It would be to the greatest advantage of the freshman class to encourage a 100 per cent vote to elect the individual they want to represent them during their first year at the University of Nevada.

Lt. Basil Benedict Writes of Training In Letter to Prof.

Lieut. Basil Benedict, graduate with the class of December, 1940, is receiving indoctrination training in the navy at Princeton University, New Jersey, according to a letter received by Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department.

"Indoctrination," Benedict writes, "makes college seem like a Sunday picnic in comparison. We're taking a three-year Annapolis course boiled down to eight weeks."

While in the navy he has been stationed at San Diego, Calif., Bremerton, Wash., Vancouver, Wash., and Astoria, Ore. He was assigned to the USS Bougainville, a "baby flat top," and was later transferred to Princeton.

On the hill it's hello!

Progress Is Made With Powder Room

The powder room on the second floor of the Agriculture building is progressing rapidly since the decoration contest last spring. Maie Nygren won the prize with her design and color scheme in the competition.

Cream colored paint and built-in seats and bookcases have been furnished by the university. New indirect lighting has been installed, and the Home Arts Club plans to buy new lamps for reading.

Seat cushions, and skirts for the shelf and stools are being made by the Home Arts members, who also plan to furnish a mirror to go above the dressing table shelf.

A small part of the pantry across the hall from the room has been partitioned off for a coat room.

University Adds Four New Faculty Members to Staff

By Virginia Auchampaugh
Four new names were added to the University of Nevada faculty this year, according to information on file at the office of Dr. John O. Moseley, president of the university.

These include Dr. Robert A. Hume, instructor, and acting head of the department of English; Dr. Muriel J. Hughes, professor of English; Mrs. Katharine Mergen, instructor of journalism; Miss Patricia Lowry, dietitian.

Dr. Robert A. Hume
Dr. Hume received his B. A. degree from Stanford in 1929. In 1932 he received an LL.B. and in 1935 an M.A., also from Stanford. He received his Ph.D. from Cornell in 1940.

Aside from teaching English at the University of Idaho, Stanford, Cornell and Purdue Universities, Dr. Hume practiced law briefly in California, and has written several articles on American literature. At present Dr. Hume is working on a critical biography of Henry Adams.

Dr. Hume is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English, Phi Beta Kappa, American Association of University Professors and the California Bar Association. Mrs. Hume and two children are also making their home in Reno. She received her M.A. degree in English at Stanford.

Dr. Muriel J. Hughes
Dr. Hughes received her B.A. degree from Morningside College in 1925, her M.S. from Columbia in 1926, and her Ph.D. in 1942 also from Columbia. Dr. Hughes was assistant dean of women at Morningside College, as well as instructor of English at Morningside College, Iowa; Northern State Teachers College, Brooklyn College, Hunters College, during summer session, and the University of Vermont.

For her Ph.D. dissertation, Dr. Hughes wrote on Women Healers in Medieval Life, which was published in an article last year.

Dr. Hughes edited text books for New York City schools while working for a New York publishing company.

She is a member of the English Graduate Union of Columbia University, Modern Language Association and Phi Delta Gamma.

Mrs. Katharine Mergen
Also new in the English department is Mrs. Katharine Mergen, who will be an instructor in journalism as well as freshman English. She will have charge of the University News Bureau, the purpose of which is to send campus news to state newspapers.

Mrs. Mergen graduated from the University of Nevada in 1936 after which she worked as a staff member of the Nevada State Journal. She taught English in Wadsworth, Nevada, and for the past year has been working on a community newspaper in Texas.

Miss Patricia Lowry
Miss Patricia Lowry, campus dietitian, graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1944, after which she studied for three months at Merrill-Palmer in Detroit. She was assistant dietitian at Aloha-Hive Girls Camp in Vermont. Miss Lowry is a member of National Home Economics Association, Omicron Nu and Phi Kappa Phi.

FIFTY-TWO VOLUMES ADDED TO U OF N LIBE

Fifty-two books have been added to the university library since May, 1944, among which are reference books, biographies and novels, according to Miss Thea Thompson, librarian.

Outstanding biographies are "Life and Times of Warren G. Harding," by Chappel; "William Samuel Johnson," by Grace; "Life of Henry Clay," by Van Deusen, and "Oliver Cromwell," by Duchon, Miss Thompson said.

Scientific research books available for use include "The Microscope," "Science Experiences with Little Children," "Principles of Criminology" and "Radio in Wartime."

Published in an article last year. Dr. Hughes edited text books for New York City schools while working for a New York publishing company.

She is a member of the English Graduate Union of Columbia University, Modern Language Association and Phi Delta Gamma.

Capt. Bob McDonough Downs Japanese Zero In Large Dog Fight

Marine Captain Robert E. McDonough, former student here, has returned from the South Pacific after seeing action with the "Bulldogs" fighter squadron over the northern Solomons, New Britain and New Ireland.

Capt. McDonough, who holds the air medal, is now stationed at the marine corps air depot, Miramar, Calif.

He recalled how he downed a Zero over Rabaul last December during a strafing sweep, when his fighter leader, the missing marine, Major Gregory Boyington, was challenged by nearly 100 Jap fighters.

"With our altitude advantage," he said, "we hit them wide open. Planes were milling around with individual dog-fights all over the sky."

"I caught a Zero in my third pass. A couple of short bursts and the ship exploded. I saw it go down."

The former University of Nevada student, who completed 65 combat missions and spent 225 combat flying hours in the air operations from Bougainville, the Russells, and

Nevada to Play Initial Grid Game

By Mitz Maestretti, Sports Editor
The Wolf Pack will leave tomorrow for their game with the Tonopah Bombers at the Tonopah Army Air Base.

The team includes the first and second strings and will be accompanied by Coach Jim Aiken and several other sports officials.

Coaching the Tonopah eleven are two Nevadans, Lt. George Solari, former Reno gridders, and Major Ted Brown of Ely. The line for the Bombers is a little over 200 pounds, while that of the Pack is 200 pounds. From the little known here about the army group, it appears that the Bombers have several strong points, one is Lt. Dave Parker, right halfback, who was a member of the National League and who played for Brooklyn.

This is the first game of the 1944 season and although the Tonopah team is reputedly a strong one, U of N sportsmen have expressed the opinion that the untried Wolf Pack will toe the mark and make the first game a first win.

DEMONSTRATION SLATED

To allow military students to obtain first-hand knowledge of demolitions and explosives, a practical demonstration will be given on these subjects September 28. Under the supervision of Major John Howard, commandant of the ROTC, live charge demonstrations will be given on hand grenades, booby traps, mines and artillery.

Pigskin Portraits

By Charles Blenio

BUSTER McCLURE
Captain Robert (Buster) McClure should make a fine leader and tackle this year. Big Buster weighing 210 pounds and standing over six feet in his socks, won't have to back away from any tackle he faces.

McClure came to Nevada from Dardanelle, Arkansas, where he won all-state honors as center on the Flora, Illinois, high school team, a team which dropped only two games in three seasons of play.

After graduating from high school Buter attended Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa, for a semester, and then transferred to the University of Nevada.

Last season, while Buster was still a freshman, Coach Aiken shifted him from center to tackle, a change which proved wise for McClure has taken to his new position like a tramp to a park bench.

If the Wolf Pack has a good season Buster should be in line for some sort of recognition from the sports scribes who choose the all-coast teams.

McClure is a physical education major, and hopes some day to coach a team of his own; he is also a member of the vigilante committee, so you freshmen had better take heed.

ASUN NEEDS BRAUN FOR DRAPE HANGING

By Eileen Kerr

The ASUN building presents a nude face to the world, because no one has had the time and energy to hang up its drapes this year.

The drapes lie, clean and patient, in the graduate manager's office. The graduate manager, tolerant, but less patient than the drapes, would appreciate some strong, tall Nevada willing workers appearing on the scene to deck the ASUN windows before they begin chanting the age-old female song: "I haven't a thing to wear."

BEGINS DRILL

ROTC will start rifle drill this week, Major John Howard of the military department, announced. Regular drill sessions will be held, and the group is expected to participate as a complete unit in President John O. Moseley's inaugural procession October 12.

A line is fine but liquor is much quicker.

Zaehringer Wins Punting Contest

By Chuck Blenio

The annual trophy punting contest was held Sept. 18 on Clark field for members of the Wolf Pack.

After each member of the team was given his chance, Paul Zaehringer emerged winner, kicking the pigskin 51 yards from the line of scrimmage. Ken Senofsky, guard from New Jersey, placed second with a nice kick of 47 yards.

Frank Erickson of the University Bookstore is the originator of the idea and sponsor of the trophy and prize awarded. Purpose of the contest is to discover latent kicking talent among members of the team regardless of their position.

The contest was first held in 1942 when Jordon (Turk) Eliades of Ely was the victor. Last season the contest was done away with only to be renewed this year to the satisfaction of squad members.

The winner's name and the yardage of the punt will be inscribed on the trophy each year, and the trophy will be kept in the student union trophy room.

Each member of the squad is allowed three kicks, the best of the three to count in the contest. The measurement of each kick will be from the line of scrimmage to the spot where the ball hits the ground.

Frank Erickson plans a similar program next basketball season, with the prize going to the best all-around player of the entire year. The winner of the basketball award will be chosen by officials and coaches viewing the team.

CAPTAIN VIRGIL HART HOME ON FURLOUGH

Captain Virgil Hart is home this week on recuperation leave from his station in Virginia. He attended the university in 1939 and 1940, after which he received his reserve commission and entered active service.

He has been instructing air cadets in various camps in the east and expects to be sent overseas soon as a member of a bomber crew. He is accompanied by his wife, the former Beth Cowgill, who also attended the university.

THETAS HOLD SOCIAL

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained a group of navy officers from Fallon at a social Saturday night. Dancing and bridge were featured, and refreshments concluded the affair. Co-chairmen were Jo Miller and Kathryn Spear.

RETURNS TO CAMPUS

Myra Rowley, junior Gamma Phi Beta, returned to school Monday after undergoing an appendectomy at St. Mary's hospital.

SADDLE AND SPURS SET REQUIREMENTS

Saddle and Spurs held its initial meeting of the semester at Artemisia Hall Thursday. Phyllis Bauman, acting president appointed a committee to draw up a skill test. After satisfactory completion of this test and a required number of rides girls will be eligible for membership.

PACK PRINTS

By Madlen Maestretti, Sports Ed.

THE FOOTBALL OUTLOOK this week is still slightly blurred with St. Mary's continuing to give the athletic board the run around as to naming a date for the Gaels-Wolves game. It now stands tentatively that St. Mary's will play here November 18, but the arguing about the guarantee that the visiting team will receive continues.

Added to the schedule for the season is the Utah Aggies game on October 21 at Logan. This sets the Pack up for games on eight weekends. The only free weekend of the season from September 24 to November 18 falls November 4-5.

ABOUT 75 PEOPLE VIEWED the game between the Blues and the Grays last Saturday; most of the spectators were high school boys and downtown people. The student body was represented mostly by members of the team. This is not the Nevada spirit which the Wolf Pack deserves.

In all other phases of the home front women have taken over the positions held formerly by men, here on the campus we must do the same. Coeds, since you are in the majority at Nevada it is your place more than any others to back the Pack. Show the spirit that has been a Nevada tradition since the organization of the university.

HIGHLIGHTING SATURDAY'S GAME was Zarry Zaehringer, halfback, who left the infirmary against doctor's orders and turned in the most outstanding performance of the game. His 20-yard run to score, plus his many smaller yardage gains, were largely responsible for the Blues' final score.

I WISH AT THIS TIME TO ACKNOWLEDGE the assistance of Rocky Schroeder in getting this sports column out. Rocky was formerly a member of the Pack and was dropped from the lineup several weeks ago with a shoulder injury.

As Schroeder speaks the gridders' language and can hang around the locker room to pick up the complete sports scene, he is the logical candidate to supplement my efforts. Some opinions and certain passages of Pack Prints have been and will be written by Schroeder. However, until he picks up the newspaper writing technique and accepts the Sagebrush standards, this column will continue to be edited by this writer.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD FOR JACK WHIPPLE

Lt. Eldred (Jack) Whipple of the United States army air forces has been posthumously awarded the purple heart, it was learned here recently.

The award was sent to the lieutenant's wife, Mrs. Betty Perry Whipple of Ely, former student at the University of Nevada.

The young officer was killed in action in Europe early in July. A letter which accompanied the award was written to Mrs. Whipple by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

EMERGENCY LOAN FUND

An emergency loan fund, sponsored by the Associated Women Students, was made available this week and may be applied for at the office of the dean of women. Any girl who needs a loan within $10 or $15 may apply for and receive it at that office. The loan may be returned within two or three months and no interest is charged.

National Contest Open to UN Poets

College students are eligible to enter the annual poetry contest which is sponsored by the National Thanksgiving Association at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Poems entered must reflect the patriotic and religious significance of Thanksgiving and the historical reasons why the flag should be displayed.

Poems should be submitted to Mrs. Irene Bruce, state chairman, at 3068 Plumas street, Reno.

National prizes of $25 as the top award; $15 for second honors; $10 for third honors; five $5 awards, as well as numerous state prizes will be given.

The following rules must be observed: Contest closes October 15, 1944; poems are limited to 20 lines; keep a duplicate copy, as no poems will be returned; poems should be unsigned; name and address of poet and title of poem placed in an envelope with title written on outside must accompany poem; each poet may submit three poems; any poetic form may be used including blank verse; all entries must be sent to state chairman; any poem receiving award or honorable mention will become the property of the National Thanksgiving Association.

Four Reporters Try Golf Game For Human Side

By Pat Riley

Four potential reporters dashed madly from the campus. It took only a few minutes to cross town and arrive at their destination in the "screaming six." (The camouflaged medium tank usually parked on sorority row.)

Pencil and paper in hand, into the clubhouse went the foursome, Jo, Jim, Perk and Pat, to cover the golf tournament, which started Sunday, according to rumor.

We Tee Off

After reaching the conclusion that a reporter must understand his subject and get the feeling of golf, one set of clubs was rented, three balls purchased, and the game was on. Teeing off plus eight shots put all three on the green. (This might be an underestimate.)

And Home Again

The hours wore on, up hill and down, in sand traps and out, the holes grew smaller and farther between. With the loss of one ball, the game was speeded up until Jim Coleman, University of Nevada pro, had to go fishing in the ditch for a lost ball.

The final hole made at last, wearily home chugged the "screaming six" and the only feeling our journalists got were a few stiff joints.

AAUP Discusses Military Service

Dr. Brown Speaks At Initial Meeting

A questionnaire regarding compulsory military service was discussed at a meeting of the American Association of University Professors held September 21 at the home of Dean Stanley G. Palmer.

The questionnaire was sent from national headquarters of AAUP, Prof. Eldon Whitner, president of the group, said.

A special meeting will be called early in October to further consider the subject, he added; this will be held at the home of Dr. Philip A. Lehenbauer.

Speaker at the meeting was Doctor Harold N. Brown. He reported on a personal conference held at UCLA in August with representatives of western colleges present.

The next regular meeting of AAUP will be held at the home of Dr. Brown on October 19 at 7 pm. Prof. A. L. Higginbotham will report on answers received from university presidents in regard to a questionnaire on postwar education.

DANCERS GROUP PLANS PROGRAM

Appearing for the first time this year, the University Dancers will present a program for the Shriners at their initiation ceremonies October 16 at the Civic Auditorium.

Barbara Byington, group president, stated that several Oriental numbers would be presented.

Those composing the group are Genevieve Johns, Beulah Haddow, Barbara Byington, Norma Ferguson, Jeanne Chartier, Pat Flavin, Jean Bicknell, Gloria Rosaschi and Judy Bogard.

L. M. LAMPERT TO SPEAK TO CHEMICAL SOCIETY

"Evaporated Milk, Its Chemistry, Processing and Engineering" will be the subject of a talk by L. M. Lampert at the September meeting of the Sacramento section of the American Chemical Society.

The meeting will be held in the Mackay science hall, September 23, at 8 pm. All students interested are invited to attend, according to Dr. Andrew C. Rice, chairman of the society. The lecture will be supplemented by lantern slides.

Mr. Lampert is senior chemist in charge of the dairy service laboratory in the California State Department of Agriculture.

CONSTITUTIONS TO BE FILED BY TUESDAY

All campus organizations must have their constitutions in by Tuesday, September 26, according to Leonore Hill, ASUN president.

Campus organizations are required at this time to note any changes in their constitution, as well as list new officers.

An executive committee will meet to determine whether or not these organizations are active or inactive. ASUN senate will then approve their decision.

The constitutions are kept on file at the ASUN building.

PROFESSOR MARRIES

Professor Anatole G. Mazour of the university history department and Mrs. Josephine Luri of New York City and Croton-on-the-Hudson, were married at a quiet ceremony performed last Friday afternoon at the Elm Court home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hilliard.

Business Meeting For Independents

Independents will hold election of several officers at their second meeting of the semester Monday, September 25, at 7 pm in room 109 of the Agriculture building, according to Italo Gavazzi, president.

Two proposed amendments to the organization's constitution will also be voted on at that time.

All students unaffiliated or not connected with a Greek letter organization are eligible for membership.

BAND ELECTS OFFICERS

Rex Ricketts, '48, Alpha Tau Omega pledge, was elected president of the university band Tuesday afternoon.

Ricketts stated that if possible he would like the band to be in condition to play at the first home football game September 30, and also for Homecoming ceremonies next month.

Nora Saunders, '47, Independent senator, was elected secretary-librarian for the band at the same meeting.

CONFINED TO INFIRMARY

Joan Tillinghast, '48, of Sacramento, was hospitalized for a few days because of a throat infection.
