Senate Slates Meet January 17

First meeting of the senate, student governing body of the University of Nevada, will be held Wednesday, January 17, at 7:30 pm in the ASUN building, according to Leonore Hill, senate president.

Football players to receive sweaters will be voted upon at the meeting and plans for the spring semester will also be discussed.

Library Changes Planned by Hill

New Reading Room Includes Microfilm

By Anna Garamendi

Plans for changes in the building, equipment and use of the University of Nevada library facilities have been outlined by James J. Hill, university librarian, so that work may begin as soon as the proper funds are available.

A new type of reading room is anticipated in which two microfilm readers would be required, one large machine with a high magnification, while the other would be a small portable apparatus. The new film is non-explosive. However, it requires a relative humidity of approximately 55 per cent. Necessary humidifying cabinets would have to be purchased in order to keep the film pliable, Hill stated, as it dries out very rapidly in an arid climate such as this.

Open Reserve Shelf

An open reserve shelf system is being planned which will probably be placed in the present newspaper reading room where students will be free to use the books.

The possibility of a new lighting system has also been suggested. Suspended fluorescent lights over the reading tables would improve reading conditions, Hill pointed out. At least a 25-foot candle lighting should be maintained for the present sizeable reading room.

Other improvements include a shift in the location of the present catalogue equipment. Hill added, the Nevada collection room would be an ideal place for the catalogue. Therefore, the collection could be shifted into the librarian's office without any inconvenience.

Higher Enrollment Seen This Spring

By the third days of registration, 389 students were registered for second semester in the university, compared to 269 at the same time for the second semester in 1944, according to Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar.

Enrollment figures for the first week of registration spring semester of 1945 show that approximately 100 more students have registered for this semester than the first week of 1944.

Of this figure, 87 are men and 302 are women. Men numbered 51 and women 218 on the third days of registration last spring.

Several of the men are veterans of World War II, and are entering school under the GI Bill of Rights. This bill allows veterans to go to school for one year plus the length of time they were in service, with expenses paid by the government.

Chi Delta Phi Begins Semester Activities Jan. 16

Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary English society, will begin spring activities with a Shakespearean program to be presented at the Gamma Phi Beta house January 16, Harriet McNeil, president, said today.

A discussion on Shakespeare will be led by Dr. Muriel J. Hughes, and Dr. N. B. Joseph will give some Shakespearean readings.

Initiation ceremonies to be held at Gamma Phi Beta house and a breakfast honoring the new members will take place January 21. Short stories written by club members will be presented at the Kappa Alpha Theta house February 20.

Miss McNeil added that modern American drama will be featured by Mr. Rankin Mansfield at the March 20 meeting at Delta Delta Delta. Miss Kathleen Norris will speak on the Pasadena Playhouse April 17 at Pi Beta Phi. The final meeting will take place at the home of Miss Florence Billingshurst where the magazine of Chi Delta Phi will be discussed.

YWCA Asks Coeds To Tea January 18

Membership Drive Slated for Group

A membership drive tea on January 18 will begin YWCA activities for the second semester, Pat Herz Cooke, president, announced this week following a meeting of the YWCA campus executive committee and YWCA officers, at the home of Dr. John O. Moseley on Tuesday.

Executive Committee

Meeting to discuss the tea were the following executive committee members: Mrs. J. D. Bibb, president; Mrs. Leonard Chadwick, treasurer; Miss Patricia Lowry, secretary; Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women; Mrs. L. A. Ferris, Mrs. V. E. Spencer, Mrs. Rudolph Herz, and Mrs. John O. Moseley.

Campus Officers

Campus officers present were Pat Cooke, president; Pat Thomas, vice-president; Lucille Leonard, treasurer; Georgianna Hicks, secretary; and Joyce Nielsen, campus representative to the regional council meeting.

Tea January 18

All campus women are invited to attend the tea which will take place at the Moseley home from four to six on January 18. Greeting the guests will be Mrs. Moseley, Mrs. Bibb, president of the campus executive council, and Mrs. Thomas Cooke, president of the campus YWCA chapter. Gloria Mapes and Betty Tracy will furnish background music, and Florence Shakarian and Leslie Harvey will sing several numbers.

SEMESTER HONOR ROLL ANNOUNCED

Slips Not Needed For Reserve Books

Reserve books can now be obtained at the librarian's desk upon request, according to Dr. James J. Hill, librarian. In the past, it was customary to fill out a slip stating the title of the book and the author.

Cards for books not on reserve but on "stack" must be filled out with the call number, author, and title of the book along with the name, address and phone number of the person requesting the book.

M. B. Rodriguez Added to Staff

Professor Mario B. Rodriguez of Puerto Rico has been added to the staff of the foreign language department as a replacement for Dr. Francis Murgotten for this semester, according to Dr. Benjamin F. Chappelle, head of the department.

Last year Prof. Rodriguez held the position of American vice-consul to the republic of Colombia. He has traveled extensively in North, Central and South America, and taught in Puerto Rico for eight years.

Holds M.A. Degree

Prof. Rodriguez received his secondary education in the state of Indiana and holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Oklahoma. His M.A. is from Columbia University.

For two years he was an instructor in romance languages at Cornell University, and has taught during summer sessions at Colorado College.

News Film Shown At Assembly Tues.

Two March of Time films featured the movie assembly held last Tuesday evening in the Education building auditorium. Outstanding features, products and points of interests of Texas and New England were shown.

The weekly combat film of the war department was also presented. It contained scenes from the battlefield and showed army experiments in picking up men on the ground with a plane in motion.

College Presentation

Time, Inc. has re-edited old March of Time films and released them for college presentation. The assemblies committees has arranged for the showing of these pictures on the University of Nevada campus. Sgt. Michael J. McCormick operated the projector.

Films on Portugal, South Africa and World Airways are scheduled for February 26, and Brazil, India, and Canada on March 19. The movies will deal with the scenery, industries, people and government of these countries.

University Building Plans To Be Taken Before Legislature for Consideration

Preference Order List of Improvements Comprises Main Body of Detailed Report

The legislature of the state of Nevada, at its session which opens on Monday, will consider a detailed report setting forth the immediate needs of the University of Nevada for 1944-1946.

Dr. John O. Moseley, president of the university, acting with the expressed approval of Governor E. P. Carville, outlined a program of maintenance, operation and building for the next

Scholarship Average Lower This Year, And Women Better Students Than Men

By Jo Miller

Women students maintained a higher average scholastic record than did men students for last semester's work, Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar, said today in announcing the honor roll for the semester ending December 21, 1944.

Men students averaged 2.14, she said, as compared to the women's average of 2.45, and the student body average was 2.36 for the semester, as compared to 2.46 one year ago.

Delta Delta Delta ranked highest in sorority competition with an average of 2.75 for active members and 2.49 for pledges.

Kappa Alpha Theta was second with a 2.60 average for members and 2.47 for pledges.

Third was Gamma Phi Beta with members averaging 2.50 and the pledges 2.42.

All students on the honor roll were enrolled in the college of arts and science, Mrs. Rhodes pointed out.

Students who stand scholastically in the upper five per cent of the student body are listed on the honor roll, and only students registered in 15 or more credit hours are eligible, she added.

Two New Courses Given This Term

Engineering, Algebra Offered to Students

Two new courses are being offered this semester, including mathematics "A" and general engineering.

The former subject is a beginning or refresher course in algebra for students who did not finish high school work. It is being held at 10 am on all days but Friday in room 113 of the new Engineering building. Prof. Frederick L. Bixby, head of the school of civil engineering, is teaching this new course.

General engineering consists of elementary mechanical drawing and is offered from 1 to 4 pm on Monday and Wednesday in room 200 in the new Engineering building. Professor Bixby is also teaching this course.

This is intended particularly to help make up schedules for returning veterans.

Physical education 55A, which is the same as PE 55 for men, which was offered last semester, is now open to women and the general public. This course is planned especially to train prospective directors of playground activities. It is given for one hour at 3 pm on Tuesday and for two hours on Saturday at 9 am. Two credits are offered for this course. Professor John Edward Martie, head of the department of physical education for men, is teaching the course.

BOOK SOLDIERS

University of Nevada's honor roll has been announced for last semester—which ended December 21, 1944. Some people were elated; others were discouraged and just a little disappointed.

Comparing the scholarship figures for the same period last year, we find that to Nevadaans have slipped—scholastically, at least—from a 2.46 to a 2.36. Why? Each campusite who received grades below "C" level knows.

About the middle of the semester it was suggested that fewer hours be spent in the Waldorf and more time be devoted to textbooks. The library remained empty—except for about 25 students who are listed on the semester honor roll.

Cinches and D notes reached a dangerous peak. That, too, was a pretty good indication that something was not as should be. But the parade to town every afternoon continued. The result? A slip-up somewhere—at a time when no one can actually afford to slip-up.

When a soldier at the battle-front fails to make the grade, he inevitably becomes a casualty. Students who do not make the grade are, by comparison, scholastic casualties—and indicate rather plainly that they are likely to become casualties instead of citizens in this democratic country where initiative and ability count so much toward success.

Beyond any doubt, University of Nevada students accomplished many worthwhile things last semester, as was shown by the overwhelming success of the war bond drive.

We are, however, here primarily as students—students sent here to learn something that will be of value to us and to our fellow citizens when we enter our respective fields in competition with similar students from other colleges. If we fail often to make the grade, we will be burdens on society rather than capable, constructive citizens.

When the sniper at the war front fails, it may be because his gun did not go off. Books automatically go off when opened.

University Summer Session Scheduled To Begin June 4 and July 16 This Year

By Pat Ussery

Planned with certain specific goals in mind, the 1945 University of Nevada summer session will offer new courses and special features designed to interest graduate students and supplement programs of regular students, according to Dr. Harold N. Brown, director of summer sessions.

Registration of students in the intersession will begin June 4, while those planning to attend the regular summer session only will register July 16. August 24 is the closing date for the summer session.

21 on Faculty

The faculty will be made up of 21 members, Dr. Brown stated. All except one, Prof. Thad Stevens of the Oakland public schools, have formerly taught at the University of Nevada.

Among the new courses being offered is one in aviation education, sponsored by the United Air Lines. In addition to a few weeks of regular lectures, the course will consist of a workshop in which demonstrations and experiments with air will be performed.

Course work in the handling of libraries is also being scheduled in the summer school offerings. It will embody the principles of choosing and purchasing books, and explain methods of classifying and organizing them. Special remedial reading and arithmetic clinics are also being set up to give students help in reading and arithmetic methods.

Assemblies

A series of general assemblies will be scheduled and classes dismissed so that all may attend. Again, as in past summers, a series of weekly meetings known as the seven-thirty hour are being arranged.

An added feature of the summer session will be the two-week home economic conference, generally held at Lake Tahoe. Teachers of Nevada and other states will attend the conference to study curriculum changes in home economics in Nevada high schools.

Nutrition Education

Also being offered is a workshop in nutrition education, having as its primary purpose the integration of nutrition with other elementary subjects. Actual experimentations with rats to show the effects of vitamins, along with suggestions and materials for teaching nutrition comprise the major aspects of the course.

Admission to the summer session is granted to graduates of high

Elko Free Press Is Purchased Recently By Former Students

Two former students of the University of Nevada recently purchased the Elko Free Press. E. B. Steninger and Chris H. Sheerin, the new owners, have both held prominent positions on the paper. Steninger has been mechanical superintendent and Sheerin has been editor of the paper for several years.

Sheerin, a member of the university board of regents, was a member of the first class in journalism to be graduated in 1924. Steninger was a student of the university several years ago.

The paper was purchased from E. M. Steninger, who has owned and operated the daily publication since 1910. The Elko Free Press was founded in 1883.

school or high school seniors with 14 or more units and the high school principal's recommendation. Also, anyone with ability to do scholastic work on the university level may attend; however, credit toward any degree or diploma will not be granted until the student has met the regular requirements for admission, Dr. Brown said.

Credit Hours

The maximum number of credits to be gained in either session is six. However, students registering on June 4 for both sessions may take a maximum of 14 hours. Enrollment for an excess of 12 credits must have the approval of the director of summer sessions.

Specific Goals

"Summer school at the University of Nevada was planned with certain specific goals in mind," said Dr. Brown. "It should provide ample opportunity to teachers wishing to take refresher courses or to renew certificates."

"The summer school is also organized to accommodate freshmen and regular university students desirous of continuing study throughout the summer months to hasten preparation for some particular profession, vocation or war industry," Dr. Brown added.

University Building

Immediate needs are considered in order of preference as follows: classroom building, laboratory building, addition to engineering building, student union building, and administration building. Plans for the building program were drawn up at the request of the state planning board before whom the representatives of the university appeared on September 22, 1944.

Expected financial needs are listed in the report with a total of $1,090,513.12 estimated as necessary to meet maintenance and proposed improvements over the two-year period. Of this sum, $295,996.62 is a request for additional funds from the legislature. This new figure will cover salary increases, additions to staff in various departments and proposed remodeling.

The proposed new classroom building will be used to house the following departments: economics, business administration and sociology, now housed in the education building; English, now housed in the hall of English; foreign languages, now housed in Stewart Hall and Morrill Hall; history and political science, now housed in Stewart Hall and Morrill Hall; mathematics, now housed in Mackay Science Hall; philosophy, now housed in Morrill Hall, and office of dean of college of arts and science, now housed in the Mackay Science Hall.

Laboratory

Plans for the life sciences laboratory building call for placing within it the department of biology, now scattered on three floors of the agricultural building; food and drugs, now housed in the building at Sierra and Fifth Streets; agricultural research chemistry, now housed in the veterinary science building, and soils laboratory, now in the basement of the agricultural building. This would complete the occupancy of the new laboratory.

An additional wing to the new engineering building was proposed at the time of its construction, but due to rising cost of construction and a limited appropriation, funds were not available. The present request covers this original plan so that all departments of the college of engineering might be housed under one roof.

In proposing a new Student Union building, Dr. Moseley says, "This building is undoubtedly needed more urgently than any other from the standpoint of student activity. The immediate construction of a student union building would do more to solve post-war student problems than any other one thing that could happen on our campus... a building of beauty, comfort and size sufficient to house a cafeteria, grill, bookstore, lounge room, soda fountain, recreational hall and offices for student government, student newspaper, student yearbook, dean of women, dean of men, YWCA, YMCA and intra-mural and intercollegiate athletics."

A new administration building would provide adequate offices for the registrar and comptroller, and other administrative units of the university, in a modern fireproof building of sufficient size and efficiency to represent and serve the state university.

In presenting the need for proposed new construction, Dr. Moseley points out in detail the space which would be thus released becoming available to other departments to facilitate their work with greater efficiency.

Men's PE Classes Enrollment Drops

Class Meeting Time Changed to Morning

Approximately 32 men have signed for physical education this semester, according to Prof. John "Doc" Martie, head of the men's PE department.

Reason for the considerable decrease from 92 men last semester to 32 this semester is that men's physical education has again been put on the pre-war basis which means it is required of freshman and sophomores rather than for all men students.

Time Change

Classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10 am and 3 pm instead of at 4 pm five days a week as was the practice for the last three semesters.

This semester, classes will consist of games, track work, mat, apparatus and bar work and calisthenics.

Nevada Defeated By Tonopah, 33-26

By Chuck Blenio

In a very slow game, the Tonopah Air Base defeated the University of Nevada 33-26 last December 15 in the old gymnasium.

Harold Fischer, former San Francisco Junior College star, led the Indian attack with 14 points. Fischer made his goals around the basket, using a one-hand pivot shot.

Ronnie DuPratt and Alf Sorensen led the Wolf Pack, scoring 15 points between them. Using the fast break, the Nevadans lost many scoring opportunities because of poor ball handling down court.

During the first half, Buster McClure and Hal Fischer enlivened the game by roughing each other under the basket. The boys settled down later in the game and discarded the rough house tactics.

The score at the end of the first half was 18-15 in favor of Tonopah.

Prescott Corrects Erroneous Idea of Postage Prices

Air mail to United States armed forces overseas is six cents per half ounce, contrary to the general belief that it is six cents per ounce, Mr. Robert Prescott, university station, postmaster, said today.

Several air mail letters overseas have been returned to their senders because of insufficient postage as a result of this erroneous idea, according to Prescott.

All United States domestic mail is charged by the ounce. Air mail letters sent to points within the United States are eight cents per ounce, and regular first class mail is three cents per ounce.

First class mail sent to civilians overseas is subject to additional postage, but six cents will send one-half ounce air mail letters to armed forces anywhere in the world. Letters to men in the merchant marine require the same postage as mail to civilians, Mr. Prescott said.

Post-War Demand For Tutors Told

Education Professor Writes for Magazine

The importance of teachers in the post-war world was brought out in an article "Home Economists Serve Who Teach" by Joanna Chapman, associate professor in education at the University of Nevada.

Published in "The Vocational Reflector," the article, emphasized the demand for further education which will be made after the war by people who either have been unable to obtain an education or who have not had an incentive for schooling.

Nevada Provided

In this fact, Prof. Chapman demonstrated how the state of Nevada and the university have provided, and will continue to provide in larger numbers, instructors in the various fields.

Prof. Chapman showed the valuable services being offered by home economic teachers throughout the state in their instruction in foods, clothing, family relationships areas to wartime needs, and home management.

These teachers, Prof. Chapman stated, are providing instructions in and out of school for those who need a particular kind of instruction.

Pictures Included

Sagens will sell poms poms at basketball games this semester.

Paper Dearth Hits Student Textbooks

By Helen Corica

Paper shortage is neither a myth nor a rumor this year and, according to Frank Erickson of the Wolf Den, is a very real factor in the school supply business this semester.

Estimates of texts needed for next fall are being submitted now in order to plan for their availability at that time. Publishers point out in each letter that textbook supply will reach a new low by that time.

Stationery, fountain pens and incidental college jewelry are other casualties of the war at the Wolf Den, says Erickson. Deliveries are slow, but shortages are not confined to any specific types of books at the present time since the over-all paper shortage is the primary reason for curtailed publishing.

Senior Artemisia Pictures Slated

Graduating seniors will be photographed by Conant Studio during the week beginning January 16 through January 20, Bette Poe, editor of the Artemisia, U of N yearbook, stated this week. The pictures scheduled are the cap and gown pictures for the 1945 Artemisia.

New sorority pledges are also scheduled to be photographed Tuesday, January 16, through Saturday, January 20, Miss Poe stated. The sorority pledges will wear round neck sweaters over a pointed collar blouse.

Also planned for some time in January is a tea to acquaint campus women with the functions of the various committees of the Red Cross and give them an opportunity to volunteer for Red Cross work.

Sweaters Awarded to Four Cheer Leaders

Sweaters which were awarded last semester to the U of N cheer leaders were received by a downtown department store last week, according to Bette Poe, head cheer leader. Due to war time shortages they were unobtainable previously.

The cheer leaders to receive the sweaters are Bette Poe, Tosca Masini, Lorne Black and Harold Clark.

The sweaters are white cable knit with V necks. Women cheer leaders had in the past received emblems to be placed on their sweaters. The emblems are blue nylon in the shape of a megaphone with an N in the middle of the megaphone.

Honors Accorded McClure for Game

Bob "All-American" McClure came back to the campus of the University of Nevada sporting three trophies from the East-West game in San Francisco New Year's day. All members of the two teams received a gold wrist watch and brown leather jackets with yellow footballs on them with the "West 1945" embroidered on the football. The third item that Buster brought back was a left hand that was twice the size it should be. His hand was stepped on during the game by an East player who hit the scales at 295. Otherwise McClure was unhurt.
