

Dean G. L. Hammond To Be Speaker For Phi Kappa Phi Day, February 9

Latin America Topic For Two Addresses

Dean George L. Hammond of the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque will deliver two addresses on Latin America for Phi Kappa Phi Day, Friday, February 9, it was announced today by Dr. Meryl W. Deming, chairman of the society's committee on speakers.

The Rockefeller Committee on Inter-American Affairs (c.q.) has given the University of Nevada a grant of funds sufficient to bring two outside speakers on Latin America to the campus during the spring semester, and Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society, will join in sponsoring the first of these speakers.

Letter Received

President John O. Moseley recently received a letter announcing the grant-in-aid, which was signed personally by Nelson Rockefeller shortly before he took office as new assistant secretary of state.

The public will be invited to both addresses to be held in the Education auditorium at a 10 am morning assembly and at 8 pm in the evening.

The morning address, on Mexico, will follow announcement by Prof. F. L. Bixby, Phi Kappa Phi president, of seniors and faculty members newly elected to membership. The evening address will be on Argentina, and will follow initiation of the new members at 7:30 pm. The initiation will this year probably be held in the Education building in a classroom near the auditorium, Deming said.

Dean Hammond

Dean Hammond is an authority on Latin America, author of several books on Mexico and the Spanish-Mexican civilization of our southwest. He has taught in Mexico at summer sessions of the University of Mexico City, and is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, among other honors.

At present he is one of the executive committee of deans performing interim duties of the university presidency at New Mexico, since the death of President Zimmerman, who was scheduled to deliver one of the addresses at the inauguration of Dr. Moseley, but whose death occurred just before that date, Dr. Deming concluded.

Nine Women Bid To Chi Delta Phi

Nine campus women have been selected for membership in Chi Delta Phi, national English honorary for women, Harriet McNeil, president, announced this week following a meeting Tuesday night.

Miss McNeil added that initiation ceremonies will be held January 28 at the Gamma Phi Beta house at 9:15 am, and will be followed by an initiation breakfast downtown.

Dr. Muriel J. Hughes spoke to the group on the language of Shakespeare and played recordings of Shakespearean plays, on which she commented. Also present at the meeting was Miss Florence Billinghurst, group sponsor.

Rush Week To Be Revised at Meet Of Pan-Hellenic

A revised rush week, long a bone of contention among sorority women at Nevada, will be one of the important items for consideration at a Pan-Hellenic meeting scheduled for 7:30 pm, January 22 at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, Patricia Traner, president, said today. In addition to discussing the present rushing system, the Pan-Hellenic rushee's handbook will be revised.

Further business will consist of the presentation of names of potential initiates by sorority presidents and the discussion of plans for the visit of a national Pan-Hellenic officer.

Miss Traner added that placing a point system on activities for women will be considered, each activity to be assigned a certain number of points, and all women to be limited in the number of points they may have.

She also pointed out that this will prevent one group or individual from ostracizing others from activities by virtue of better or stronger organization, or obtaining more offices than is fair for one person to occupy.

Three Sororities Pledge 14 Women

Concluding the week's pledging activities, Gamma Phi Beta will hold ceremonies tonight for four freshman women. Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Alpha Theta pledged a total of ten women during the week.

Pledging ceremonies were held Monday afternoon by Kappa Alpha Theta for Ardis Fitch, Anna Lou Hansen and Norma Anderson, all of Reno, and Beverly Minor, Winnemucca. Afterwards the pledges were entertained at a buffet supper. Carolyn Smythe, junior student from Stockton, was pledged Thursday afternoon.

Newly pledged Tri-Delts are Margie Maestretti, Austin; Beryl Dickerson, Reno; Eileen Abbott, Casper, Wyoming; Lois Brown, Smith Valley, and Nancy Connelly, Reno. Ceremonies were held Tuesday afternoon.

At formal ceremonies conducted tonight at the chapter house, Gamma Phi Beta will pledge Roma Garner, Winnemucca; Pat Harris, Reno; Velma Hendricks, Yerington, and Margie Potts, Reno, who will afterwards be honored guests at a party attended by alumni and chapter members.

Pi Beta Phi reported no pledging activities for the week.

Swimming Taught By Four Students

Frances Fransden, Pat Ireland, Barbara Byington and Nora Saunders, Red Cross instructors, will instruct swimming classes this semester, Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's PE department, announced this week.

Several more women may sign up for this class, Miss Sameth stated, in order to maintain the fee at the present level. If more women are not enrolled in the class, which is held at 1:30 Tuesday and Thursday, it will be necessary to raise the fee. Beginners are especially welcome.

To avoid overly large classes, two sections have been made of the conditioning class. These sections will come at 3 pm Tuesday and Thursday and 9 am Tuesday and Thursday.

In addition to the two formerly scheduled bowling classes at 1 pm Monday and Wednesday, and Tuesday and Thursday, a third class at 2 pm Monday and Wednesday has been inaugurated.

Car Registration

Registration of all cars that are to be parked regularly on campus will take place next week in front of the library, John Jensen, chairman of the men's upperclass committee, announced today.

All car owners who fail to register their cars will be fined up the upperclass committees, Jensen added.

Former Econ Head Back After U. S. Government Work

Caribbean Area Subject Surveyed For Post-War Trade

Returning to the campus after two years with the Office of Price Administration in Reno and in Washington, D. C., Dr. Ernest L. Inwood again heads the economics department which he left in July, 1942.

With the commercial policy division of the state department in Washington, Dr. Inwood's work dealt mainly with a program for advancing the standard of living of people in the Caribbean area, with its one-crop economy, sugar.

U-Boat Destruction

Destruction of shipping in the U-boat war several years ago left that area destitute, without export income and without imports of food and other essentials.

The Anglo-American, Caribbean commission, set up last spring to analyze the situation, made recommendations for diversified local production, expansion of fisheries, reabsorption into civil life of persons engaged in war employment, planning of public works for improvement of agriculture, education, housing and public health and for industrial development.

Dr. Inwood studied these recommendations, which raised questions of subsidies and higher tariffs, to reconcile conflicts with our policy of free world trade. This was a test case, he said, being the first attempt to do anything with a low revenue economy.

Caribbean research council, another committee with which he worked, is studying the effects of numerous post-war international economic programs for fuller employment here and elsewhere.

Understanding Needed

Because of greater interdependence of nations on each other in a world of shrinking dimensions, America must understand their economies and possible effects on this country, Dr. Inwood explained. Establishing such committees to study possibilities for expansion is a necessary first step preceding any plans to expand our foreign trade and increase employment, he stated.

A graduate of the university in 1927, Dr. Inwood is a professor in economics, business and sociology. He received his Ph.D. from the University of California in 1935, and has instructed economics classes in the College of the City of New York.

Library Classed All Depository

The Clark Memorial library at the University of Nevada was listed as an "all depository" for federal government publications at the beginning of this year, James Hill, librarian, said today.

Prior to this time, he said, the library had been a selected depository in which all government publications were chosen by the library staff.

Now all federal periodicals that are available—between 25,000 and 30,000 a year—will be received by the library, he explained. Indices for the use of the issues are available to aid students who wish to do research, he added.

The privilege of being an all depository is given only to state and land grant libraries, Hill said.

REGENTS MEET TO CONSIDER U OF N PLANS

A special regents' meeting, with Governor E. P. Carville in attendance, to discuss the presentation of the university building program to the Nevada state legislature now in session.

Governor Carville proved very interested in the legislative program, but stated that action on the program would depend on the legislators.

To Study Farms

Regents Paul J. Sirkegian, (Mrs.) Clarence Henningsen, and Chris H. Sheerin were appointed by Silas Ross, chairman of the board, to study the feasibility of combining the university's two farms into a laboratory unit for agricultural students.

Sick leaves, appointments and resignations constituted the remainder of the business. Dr. Reuben C. Thompson, dean of men and head of philosophy department, and Dr. Francis Murgotten, professor of foreign languages, were granted sick leaves.

Grafton Given Leave

Taking their places will be Dr. Robert S. Griffin, master of Lincoln Hall, who will serve as acting dean of men, and Mario Rodriguez, acting assistant professor of foreign languages. A leave of absence to Dr. Eldon C. Grafton, associate professor of structural engineering, was granted.

Resignations

Effective January 1 were the resignations of Thea C. Thompson (Mrs. Oren Hill) as library assistant and Katherine C. Rawles, director of Artemisia Hall. Mrs. Florence L. Peacock will replace Mrs. Rawles, while further appointments were as follows: Mr. Frank Hungeate, acting instructor in the biology department, to replace Dr. Edward Lowrance now on leave; Miss Margaret Griffin, assistant director for home economics in the Agricultural Extension division; Mrs. Loring R. Williams, acting assistant in mathematics; Mrs. E. V. Spencer, acting assistant in the English department.

With the exception of Leo A. McNamee of Las Vegas, all members of the board attended the meeting.

Group Heads to Submit List of Social Events

Heads of all campus organizations and sorority and fraternity presidents will meet Thursday at 4 pm in the ASUN building to submit a list of social events and meetings that are not already listed on the social calendar, it was decided this week by the calendar committee appointed by the ASUN senate Wednesday.

Serving on the committee are Gordon Mills, Nora Saunders and Lavina Ramelli. The purpose of this plan is to enable organization heads, who must call special meetings, to fix a date on which there is no conflict.

Senate voted to hold a high school student body president's convention sometime in the spring, although no definite date was set.

The senate investigating committee was asked to study the student loan fund program, purpose of which is to provide a fixed sum of money for students in need of funds.

Senators were asked to urge members of their respective organizations to spend less of their leisure time in the Waldorf, at the request of Art Nelson, manager. If cooperation is not received by students, senate may be forced to take action.

ACCOUNTS AUDITED

University of Nevada accounts are now being audited by the state auditor, Grant Robinson, according to Charles H. Gorman, vice-president, comptroller and treasurer of the University of Nevada.

CAMPAIGN SLATED TO HELP STUDENT-FACULTY MARTYRS

Senate Approves Building Scheme Proposed for UN

Members of the senate, student governing body of the University of Nevada, went on record Wednesday night as being unanimously in favor of the University of Nevada legislative program as outlined by President John O. Moseley in a letter of December 1 to the governor of the state of Nevada.

The senate recommends that the student body as groups and as individuals lend all possible assistance to the legislative program as presented.

Of special interest to the students is the proposed Student Union building, which would provide for recreation hall, cafeteria, grill room, book store, lounge room, soda fountain and offices for the various campus activities. It is believed that such a building would promote good fellowship and democracy in the student body.

University of Nevada students as a whole feel that the new ASUN building should be one of the first new structures to be placed on the campus, because of the inadequacy of the present student union building, it was noted.

Named President Of Outing Club

Phyllis Snyder, sophomore Tri-Delt, was chosen this week to succeed Mary Watts as president of the Outing Club, it was announced by Miss Watts. Other new officers are Betty Waugh, Pi Beta Phi, vice-president, and Pauline Sirkegian, Pi Beta Phi, secretary-treasurer.

Activities for the spring semester will commence with a ski trip to Grass Lake this Saturday. Only those members who have paid their dues are eligible to take the trip.

Miss Watts added that the Outing Club is exactly one year old this week. The group was formed early in 1944 for the purpose of promoting interest in outdoor activities among Nevada coeds. Swimming, hiking and skiing are included in the club's program. Membership is open to all who attend the meetings and pay their dues.

Overland in 1852; The McGuirk Diary Is Subject of Article by Dr. Hutcheson

By Jane Perkins
An article titled "Overland in 1852: The McGuirk Diary," by A. E. Hutcheson, associate professor of history and political science, has been published in the latest issue of the Pacific Historical Review.

It deals with the authenticity and value of an old diary found between the partition walls of the carriage house which stands behind the Matt McGuirk residence in Virginia City. The house, which is on C Street, was formerly known as Grave's Castle, after its one time owner.

Research Done

Research for the article, which was aided by the University of Nevada research committee, found the diary, when compared with other '49-er diaries, to be authentic, containing items of much value and interest about the Overland Trail through Nevada and neighboring states.

Well Preserved

The manuscript, which is written in pencil on parchment-like paper, is in a very good state of preservation except for the damaged cover. It is in the form of a day-to-day

UN War Board Drive for Funds Feb. 9 to Support National Student War Fund

Student War Fund will launch its campus drive to raise funds for college students and faculty members who are victims of war in all parts of the world from February 9-16, inclusive, according to Jane Creel, chairman of the financial bureau of the war board and chairman of this drive.

Program plans now being drawn up include a speaker for the evening of February 9, and full participation throughout the week by various campus organizations. Announcement will be made as soon as plans are final. Opening the bond booth for that week, the various organizations will operate it on succeeding days, decorate it in the national colors of different war-torn countries each day. Each student will be asked to contribute the equivalent of one day's tuition to the fund.

Believing that students have a special responsibility for their fellow collegians around the world, World Student Service Fund strives to help them understand and accept this responsibility.

Independent Agency
WSSF is an independent educational and fund-raising organization, operating primarily in colleges, universities and other educational institutions throughout this country, to raise funds for world student relief.

International and inter-racial, now helping students of at least 37 different nationalities, it is non-political and non-sectarian as well.

Reaches Prison Camps
Beginning its work in 1937, when it raised funds for students in war-torn China, it followed the spread of the war to Europe and in 1940 became known as WSSF.

From the $663,000 which it has collected since 1937, it buys books, clothing and medical supplies and furnishes financial aid to students, faculty and student evacuees, reaching them via Geneva, Switzerland, and prison camps in the Far East.

Plan Drive
Working with suggestions made by Miss Mary Robe, travelling secretary of WSSF, during her visit to the campus last November, Miss Creel and the members of her committee have now completed plans for the campus drive.

Among colleges which contributed to the fund last year were Stanford University, University of California, College of the Pacific, Sacramento Junior College, San Francisco State College, San Jose State College, Chico State College, Mills College, Pacific School of Religion, California College in China, and San Francisco Theological seminary.

Another factor to be taken into consideration by the faculty in voting on the report is student opinion. Going on record as favoring the present existing system, the student senate has submitted to Dr. Sears a letter stating this preference.

Appointed last semester to study the relative merits of the semester systems the sub-committee consists of Dr. Sears, Dean Fred W. Traner, Dr. Philip A. Lehenbauer and Prof. Jay A. Carpenter.

Mills Elected to Head Theta Chis

Gordon Mills, junior student, was elected president of Theta Chi fraternity at a meeting held Monday night at Lincoln Hall. Mills, a chemistry major and president of Sagers, is also a member of Coffin and Keys, Chemistry Club and Math Club.

Willie Cristani, senior student, was elected vice-president.

Other officers elected were Roger Lamb, secretary; Donald Johnson, treasurer; Donald Metzker, marshal, and Haskell Tarlow, historian.

Plans were made to have a dinner this week at the Toscano Club in honor of the prospective pledges, actives and alumni.

Six actives returned this semester including Gordon Mills, Willie Cristani, Roger Lamb, Don Johnson, Don Metzker and Haskell Tarlow.

WARNING: Women who are ordered to report to the women's upperclass committee next week will have their student body privileges suspended if they do not appear, it was announced today.

The regular meeting will be held at 4 pm Thursday in the ASUN building.

INNUENDO IN BAD TASTE

This week the Reno Evening Gazette carried a story in a prominent spot on the back page—to the effect that, although there is a three to one majority of women to men on the University of Nevada campus, men students control the voting power in the ASUN senate. Statistically, the statement is true. Eight senators are men, and six are women.

Student senate is, however, not a battle of the sexes. It is a united effort to further the best interests of our school and to see to it that each student is fairly represented.

With rare exception, each individual senator votes for what he believes to be a step forward in that direction. He does not vote pro or con just because he is male or female. The newspaper credits U of N students with little or no plain horse sense—much less any college spirit. It accredits to them high school attitudes that have no place in college activities.

When ASUN senators, who represent every major group on this campus, go into session on Wednesday nights, all campus affairs involving student interests are determined. Worthwhile ideas, whether expressed by men or women, are given thorough, fair and impartial consideration.

Decisions are based upon what is best for the majority of the student body—and not upon whether the fellows can out-vote the women. This is the whole principle of student government.

Obviously, the downtown paper's innuendo was ill-considered and in exceedingly bad taste. It denies that ASUN men senators stand on their own two feet and make decisions. It would imply that any proposal made by a man, no matter how questionable it might be, will be unquestioningly supported by all men senators—because they are men.

This is not so. Students included in the governing body realize their responsibilities. They meet them readily and fairly—justifying in every sense the trust the student body has vested in them.

We of the University of Nevada have complete faith in our student senate—and, since we are the ones most directly concerned, we must logically be the better judges.

THE LITTLE MAN WHO ISN'T THERE FOUND IN MACKAY SCHOOL OF MINES

By Barbara Mills
 "Homunculus en absentia," or "the little man who isn't there," is the nickname given by the mining school staff to the shrunken head of an Indian woman in the museum of the Mackay School of Mines. The head, according to Prof. Walter S. Palmer, was given to the museum by James F. Skene, '25, when he returned from Ecuador about 1928.

During the period when he skened was in Ecuador where he obtained the head, he said that like heads sold to tourists for $50. Natives would kill their own relatives, cure them and sell them to the tourists; since they were more valuable dead than alive.

Preserving Process
 Prof. Palmer stated that the skin was cut down the back and stripped off the skull. The mouth, and sometimes the eyes were stitched up to keep their shape, and the skin on the back of the head was sewn together.

Then the head was filled with sand to keep its shape, and the whole thing put in water almost to boiling temperature to shrink it. The next step was drying, then a charcoal rubdown to blacken the features.

Specimen Described
 The specimen in the museum is that of a woman, Prof. Palmer said. In the museum are also pictures of a man whose face is nearly covered with his beard, but about the same size. The woman's head is covered with long black hair about seven or eight inches long, and filled with shells of nuts, a form of lice.

Fluorescent
 The shrunken head is slightly fluorescent under ultra-violet light. Engineering students rubbed vasoline over the face for exhibit on engineering days in former years, according to Prof. Palmer, which makes it shine considerably brighter under the ultra-violet lamp.

Other methods of shrinking the heads have been investigated; one of them is that of crushing the skull and removing it from the skin in pieces. This procedure, however does not account for the seam down the back of the head and would probably damage the skin in the removal of the skull or cut it during the smashing process.

Bowen, Fleming Engagement Told

At a tea given at the Twentieth Century Club last week, Mrs. Lloyd N. Bowen announced the engagement of her daughter, Shirley, to Charles E. Fleming, Jr., former university student now stationed at Camp Roberts, California.

Miss Bowen is a junior student and is affiliated with Delta Delta Delta, while Mr. Fleming, Lambda Chi Alpha, completed his junior year in the spring of 1944.

Moseley Praises War Board Work

Coming Semester Activities Planned

Dr. John O. Moseley praised the work of members of the war board at a luncheon meeting held at the home of Mrs. Alice M. Marsh, acting dean of women, on Wednesday.

Detailed plans for activities of the various departments of the war board were discussed, with Kathleen Norris, president, presiding.

The entertainment bureau, headed by Katie O'Leary, will continue working in connection with downtown chapters of AWWS and USO on trips to Fallon and Tonopah. Plans were outlined by Mary Ancho, chairman of the salvage committee, for the collection of magazines and books for soldiers. Containers for depositing these articles, including old issues suitable for use in making scrap books, will be placed in sorority houses and dormitories, she said.

In summarizing work of the courtesy clinic, Mary Watts, chairman, gave a final report on last semester's fashion show and outlined a proposed plan for talks on social graces, which will constitute the clinic's contribution to war board activities for this semester.

Jane Creel, chairman of the finance bureau, reported that the university's total of just under $200,000 permitted the purchase of two Hellcats instead of one, as a result of last semester's bond drive.

Those attending the luncheon were Dr. John O. Moseley, Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, Kathleen Norris, Jane Creel, Mary Watts, Katie O'Leary, Mary Ancho and Dorothy Abel, representative of the Associated Women Students, and Betty Waugh and Patricia Ussery, publicity agents.

Staff Praised By Historians

Several outstanding historians complimented the history and political science staff of the University of Nevada at the 59th annual meeting of the American Historical Association, Dr. Charles R. Hicks, Nevada representative, said today.

Dr. Hicks, head of the department of history and political science, attended the conference at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago December 28 and 29.

One of the highlights of the two-day meeting, Hicks said, was a meeting to discuss Christian missions in China. Rev. Joseph P. Ryan discussed the Catholic viewpoint of American Christian missionary effort in China in the 20th century.

Dr. Kenneth Latourette of Yale University, presented the Protestant outlook on the same subject, and the Rev. George Dunne of St. Louis University, and Harley F. McNair of the University of Chicago also discussed the question.

Dr. Carlton J. Hayes, formerly of Columbia University and recently ambassador to Spain, was elected president for the ensuing year at the annual dinner December 28, Dr. Hicks said.

Samuel F. Bemis of Yale presided, and Dr. William S. Robertson of the University of Illinois discussed "The Memorabilia of Augustin de Iturbide" at the Latin American history luncheon.

Enrollment Figures Show 100 Increase

Enrollment figures at the University of Nevada today showed a total of 449 students, 335 women and 114 men. According to the registrar and the office of the president this number shows an increase of about 100 above that of last year at the same time.

Registration officially will close at noon tomorrow, January 20, and no additional courses can be added to existing programs after that time.

The withdrawal of students from classes has been average so far this semester, Mrs. Jeanette Rhodes, registrar, stated.

They laughed when I stood up to sing—how was I to know I was under the table?

Barb Dance to Begin Tomorrow Night at 9

Organized Independents will hold a 1945 juke box dance tomorrow night in the university dining hall from 9 pm until midnight for all university students, Italo Gavazzi, Barb president, announced today.

Admission for the affair, which is date or no-date, will be 25 cents a person and 45 cents a couple. This price includes refreshments of coffee and doughnuts.

Chaperones invited to attend are Prof. Apa, Irvin Mallin, Bob Craig, Joan Tillinghast, Ruth Gent and Maurzy, while Julia Bogard and Gaurya Wogan are responsible for refreshments.

MATH CLUB MEETING

The university Math Club met Thursday evening to honor freshman students interested in mathematics and to vote on ratification of the constitution.

After a short business meeting called to order by President Mary Watts, members present worked puzzles and trick problems. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Spring Assembly Features Awards

First assembly for the spring semester will take place Thursday, January 25, in the Education auditorium at 11 am, according to Leonore Hill, ASUN president.

Purpose of the assembly is to present scholarship and football awards.

Coach Jim Aiken, university football coach, will make the Nevada letter awards for the fall semester of 1944 to Jack Dieringer, Robert Durham, Edward Diercks, Ben Coen, Augustine "Gus" Cammerano, Harold Hayes, Alf Sorensen, Jack Musselman, Bill Mackrides, Elmer Green, Len Marmor, Bob McClure, John Helstowski, James Clarke, Ken Sinofsky, Fred Kluge and Art Palmer, manager.

Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women, will present scholarship awards to the organizations maintaining the highest scholarship record for the fall semester.

President John O. Moseley is scheduled to give a short talk to the student body on the University of Nevada state legislative bill.

Coed Riding Group To Hold Initiation

An initiation banquet for newly elected members of Saddle and Spurs will be held at the Cedars January 24, Phyllis Baumann, president, announced today. Those who will be initiated are Frances Kennedy, Merrie Jo Harp, Catherine Aldrich, Gloria Springer and Donna Anderson.

Dorothy Abel is in charge of advertising; Jane Creel, invitations; Nancy Herz, Mary Watts and Valerie Scheeline, entertainment; Pauline Sirkegian, banquet.

FOUND

Two pairs of gloves found in Dean Thompson's classroom last semester have not yet been claimed by their owners. Inquiries should be addressed to the registrar's office.

Fine Arts Work Finished by Ten

Ten university women have completed the necessary requirements for membership in the Fine Arts group, Barbara Heany, president, announced this week.

Ten hours of work, which must be completed before membership can be attained, have been completed by Lavina Ramelli, Pat Simpson, Genevieve Siri, Betty Waugh, Anita Hincelot, Laurel Davis, Mary Lou Hovendon, Gloria Haley, Kay Kinneberg and Gloria Mapes.

A special meeting will be held January 22 at the Gamma Phi Beta house at 8:30 pm to discuss initiation plans for the new members, as well as to complete details for the January exhibit.

Parson to Speak to Alpha Epsilon Delta

Dr. Lawrence Parson, county autopsy surgeon and pathologist of the St. Mary's Hospital staff, will speak before an open meeting of Alpha Epsilon Delta to be held in the Agriculture building January 23, according to Dean Duker, president.

Duker pointed out that the meeting will be of special interest to students in pre-technician and pre-medical courses since Dr. Parson will stress medical technician training and applied hospital pathology.

New members will be elected at a closed business meeting to follow Dr. Parson's speech, which is open to all interested, Duker said.

SPANISH CLUB TO HEAR M. B. RODRIGUEZ THURS.

The university Spanish Club will meet January 25 at the Gamma Phi Beta house, Mary Ancho, president, announced this week. A speech by Prof. Mario B. Rodriguez of the modern language department, formerly of Puerto Rico, on his experiences in Puerto Rico and Colombia will highlight the evening.

Miss Ancho added that all students interested in the club should be present at the meeting, since membership will definitely be offered to those who attend.

Machines Set Up In EE Laboratory

Three new units of electrical equipment recently received are being set up in the electrical engineering laboratories.

Dean Stanley G. Palmer demonstrated the Crow rotating electrical machine, already installed. With a few simple changes of coils and types of wiring, furnished with the machine, it will operate either as an alternating or direct current generator or motor.

A firm believer in graphic demonstration, the dean expects students to grasp the principles governing the different types of motors and generators more quickly through this comprehensive device.

A General Electric laboratory model of power plant switchboard, containing full protective equipment, also arrived last week. Students will now be able to set up in the laboratory circuits like those in actual practice, the dean explained.

High-frequency Westinghouse generators recently delivered have already been installed. Creating high diathermal temperatures, they can be used for such purposes as molding plastics, among other uses, he said.

Lecture Scheduled By Courtesy Clinic

"How do you hold your forks?" will be the subject of a talk by members of Zeta Phi Zeta January 26 at 4 pm, as the first in a series of events sponsored by the courtesy clinic of the war board, Maie Nygren will serve as chairman.

TO MAKE TRIP

A group from the university will travel to Fallon this weekend to collect rare magnesium alum and to visit the volcanic craters at Soda Lakes.

Those making the trip are Dean Stanley Palmer, head of the department of electrical engineering; Dr. Vincent Gianella, head of the department of geology; Professor William Smyth, associate professor of metallurgy and mining, and Carl Hill, senior student in the department of metallurgy and mining.

"The boss fired me because I took his car out last night."
"How did he know you took it out?"
"I ran over him."

She laughed when I sat down at the piano, but when I came over to the divan, she got scared as hell.

Eight Women Join U of N Home Ec Club

Eight freshman women were initiated into the Home Ec Club Wednesday evening, according to Jane Creel, president. The women were Margery Owen Brown, Dorothy Hendel, Beth Lind, Marion Orr, Dorothy Thomas, Mary Kuntz, Elma Hand and Jean Scott.

Formal initiation ceremonies under the direction of Ann Iriarte, chairman for the evening, were followed by impromptu stunts performed by the new members. Refreshments concluded the meeting.

Lt. Duncan Sends Booklet to U of N

"Southwest of 0-180 Degrees" is the title of a booklet sent this week to Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, head of the department of journalism, by Lt. Charles T. Duncan, formerly of the University of Nevada journalism staff, now serving in the navy.

The booklet is made up of a collection of photographs taken by officers and men serving with Lt. Duncan in the navy and now stationed in the southwest Pacific. These include pictures from Australia, New Caledonia, Guadalcanal, Fiji Islands and Samoa. Character studies, scenic views and street scenes are represented.

Lt. Duncan wrote, "This book, despite its imperfections, is our pride and joy. It is an officially sanctioned official job. The paper was excess stock and the work done in slack time. Picture titles are hand lettered, and it was reproduced in toto in our plant. Cover design, title, picture titles and some of the photos are by yours truly. The best pictures and the real work done by many highly capable men. I can't say too much for our lads—in skill, in spirit, in willingness they are tops."

"Naturally, there's a story behind many of the pictures but that will have to wait."

One copy of this booklet will be on the desk in the library for those who are interested.

Livestock and Meat To Be Lecture Topic

Demonstrations will be offered to three separate groups on the campus in March by a representative of the livestock and meat board in Chicago, according to Miss Mildred Swift, head of the home economics department.

One group will be open to all campus people, another will be open to the public and a third will be for the home economics class.

The representative is expected to give her first demonstration March 15 in the demonstration room of the Agriculture building.

She will give several demonstrations on the cooking of meat, Miss Swift said.

SENIOR WELCOME DANCE

Senior students at the university extended a welcome to freshmen at a get-together dance Saturday, January 13, in the old gym from 9 pm to midnight.

Bob Pover and his four-piece orchestra furnished music for the dance in place of the Reno Army Air Base orchestra which had been scheduled to play.

Paul Yparraguirre, chairman of the dance committee, was assisted by Madge Elder and Lucile Brown with the arrangements.

A WELCOME HAND TO BELL SYSTEM WAR VETERANS

Some day we shall have the pleasure of welcoming back to the Bell System the men and women who are now in the armed forces.

We shall be glad to see them personally, glad of their skill and energy for the big tasks which face the Bell System in the future.

Trained men and women of vision and energy will always be required to build and maintain this country's nation-wide telephone system—and to provide the best telephone service in the world.

Biology Department Compiles Library Featuring Research of Profs, Students

Addition of a departmental library compiled under the direction of Dr. Philip A. Lehenbauer, biology department head, has strengthened and supplemented the University of Nevada biology department, it was announced.

Dr. Lehenbauer was assisted by his associate professors, Dr. W. Dwight Billings, division of botany, and Dr. Frank Richardson, division of zoology.

Located in room seven in the basement of the Agriculture building, the library contains material concerning all phases of bacteriology, botany, horticulture, biology, hygiene, entomology, zoology and physiology.

Specially emphasized in the collection are books and pamphlets pertinent to the research of the professors and students in this university—particularly those students who are biology majors, Dr. Lehenbauer pointed out.

"The library is far from complete," he said. "Faculty members in this department are already deriving great benefit from it, and we expect to have it ready for student use next year." Miss Jeanne Chartier, junior biology major, is working on a card index system. People from all parts of Nevada send plants, insects, snakes and even small animals to the department to be identified or checked for disease, Dr. Lehenbauer said, and the library will help the department to continue their work in this field.

A few books and a great many periodicals are being moved to the departmental library from Clark library, he said, and many other books and pamphlets are being taken from museums, botanical gardens and experiment stations all over the United States. Various federal agencies have contributed material, he added.

The San Diego Museum and the San Francisco Golden Gate Museum are the only sources of material in this section of the nation, Dr. Lehenbauer said.

INITIATION MEETING

Jane Creel, Home Economics Club president, has named Ann Iriarte chairman of the initiation meeting to be held January 17 in the home economics rooms.

Miss Iriarte will take charge of the meeting at which the following girls will be initiated: Dorothy Hendel, Beth Lind, Mary Kuntz, Marge Owen Brown, Jean Scott, Dorothy Thomas, Marion Orr and Pat Crummer.

Puns on Holiday Plans At German Front

Lt. Jack Streeter, Nevada '43, described his plans for the Christmas holidays at the German front in rather a humorous fashion in a letter to Sgt. Michael McCormick, instructor in the military department.

Streeter said, "I have made plans for the coming holidays. I am going to wine and dine on the Siegfried line. Hope to get to the Club Cologne—Situating along the scenic Rhine river. They have an '88' piece orchestra with the ever popular singers, 'Screaming Mimi' and 'Ann Sherman.'

"Intermission music is by our own bazooka team, or you can go into the 'shrapnel room' and dance the gestapo hop to the rhythm of the 'burp gunners.' On the menu they feature the bayonet banquet with that delicious potato masher salad, poison cocktails, concussion highballs and booby trap punch—all on the house.

"Whatta blowout! Come one—come all. The mortar merrier. Then ride down sniper lane with Sally of the Axis in transportation furnished by the Tiger taxi to end a hot time."

Streeter was affiliated with Sigma Nu fraternity, a member of Sagers and chairman of the men's upperclass committee while on the campus. He also fought in the Golden Gloves tournament in Reno as a member of the university team.

CONVALESCENT

Mrs. Michael McCormick, wife of Sgt. McCormick of the ROTC unit of the University of Nevada, has returned home from the Reno Army Air Base hospital where she underwent a major operation January 7. Mrs. McCormick, who became ill January 3, was in the hospital 10 days and is now convalescing at home.

Dieringer Named Sigma Nu Leader

Heinz Replaced By Helstowski

Jack Dieringer, sophomore student at the university, was elected commander of the Sigma Nu fraternity at a meeting held last Monday night in the Block N room, succeeding Warren Parks who recently resigned because of increased scholastic hours.

Jack Helstowski, freshman student from Irvington, New Jersey, was elected treasurer replacing Larry Heinz who did not return this semester.

Pledges this semester are John Jensen, Vincent Scalera and Ernie Urrutia.

Tentative plans for a dinner dance in honor of the new pledges are being discussed.

Eleven actives returned this semester including Jack Dieringer, Warren Parks, Jim Coleman, John Helstowski, Harold Okholm, Bill Ward, Ed Diercks, George Vucanovich, Chuck Blenio, Dick Bossert and Fred Davis.

Sigma Nu basketball team has carried over from inter-fraternity matches and is to play the Reno high school A squad Wednesday at the high school gymnasium. The Sigma Nu hoopsters have signed up in the local town league if it is formed, Jim Coleman, manager of the team, said.

WIFE AND DAUGHTER OF COLONEL ARRIVE

Lt. Col. E. Lewis Field of the campus military department has announced the arrival in Reno of his wife, Alpha R. Field, and 10-year-old daughter, Marilyn Jean, who have been residing in Sarasota, Fla.

Edward, his 13-year-old son, remains in Tennessee where he attends Castle Heights Military Academy, Lebanon. Marilyn Jean will enter the fifth grade at Orvis Ring school here.

The Fields reside at 1009 North Virginia street.

FIRST AID COURSE

Fifteen girls are enrolled in the health and first aid course under the direction of Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's PE department. This course may be taken for one, two or three credit hours. Plans are being made to have an expert in each field lecture on that subject when it is taken up in the course.

Final Pictures for Artemisia Are Taken

The final pictures for the 1945 Artemisia are being taken this week, Bette Poe, editor of Artemisia, stated.

The graduating seniors and sorority pledges are scheduled to report to the Conant Studio Tuesday, January 16, through Saturday, January 20.

At the completion of these pictures the Artemisia will be well on its way to production, Miss Poe stated.
