

AID FOR FOREIGN SCHOLARARS

NATIONAL HONORARY ELECTS EIGHT MEMBERS

Three students and five faculty members of the University of Nevada have been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, it was announced by Prof. Frederick L. Bixby, president of the campus chapter of the national honor society, at an assembly held this morning.

Those students elected were Patricia Thomas, Mrs. Carmelina Berger Grundel and Italo Gavazzi. Faculty members elected included Dr. P. G. Auchampaugh, Dr. Frank Richardson, Dr. Christian Melz, Dr. Albert G. Wiederhold, Dr. J. O. Moseley. Public initiation of those newly elected will be held at 7:30 this evening in the education auditorium.

Assembly Address

"Mexico" was the topic for the principal address delivered to the assembly by Dean George P. Hammond of the University of New Mexico.

Dean Hammond, who is visiting the university under the auspices of the Rockefeller office for inter-American affairs, is the author of several books dealing with Mexico and its expansion, Spanish-American civilization and good neighbor policies between Mexico and the southwestern United States.

Research Travel

On one of Dr. Hammond's trips through Mexico, he retraced Coronado's route through that section.

Under a research fellowship, he studied in Spain during 1922-1923, and during 1933 worked on research and writing in Mexico City. He also taught during last summer session at the University of Mexico.

Speaks Tonight

Following the initiation of new Phi Kappa Phi members this evening in the education auditorium, Dean Hammond will speak on Argentina.

Another speaker on inter-American affairs is scheduled for later in the semester, but Dr. Austin E. Hutcheson, chairman of the faculty committee on assemblies, reports that a definite date has not yet been arranged.

Artemisia Plans All-Out Campaign For Advertising

An all-out campaign for advertising is being carried on by the Artemisia advertising staff, according to Mary Watts, business manager.

As the Artemisia is being enlarged by 20 pages this year more advertising is needed than last year.

Thursday afternoon, assistants were signed up to help with general office work. Others interested in working on the book may come to the office any Wednesday afternoon, Miss Watts stated.

The official staff of advertising solicitors consists of Rose Nannini, Gloria Mapes, Phyllis Snyder, Valerie Scheeline, Odette Darringrand, Nan Epler, Toy Farrar, Dorris Patterson and Ida Mae Kellough. Helping Miss Watts in the office are Jean Bicknell and Marie Aldrich.

Miss Watts stated that so far the campaign has met with success and advertising subscriptions have been stepped up.

Week-Long Drive for World Student Service Fund Begins Today With Pi Phis Initiating Campaign on Nevada Campus

SENATE MEETING

Senate, student governing body of the University of Nevada, will meet Wednesday, February 14, at 7:30 pm in the ASUN building, Leonore Hill, president, announced this week.

Aiming at Goal of $800, Organizations To Use Themes of Six Foreign Countries

By Pat Usery

Launching the week-long World Student Service Fund drive, Pi Beta Phi today adopted a Russian theme, and collected student and faculty contributions from 9 am until 4 pm.

Under the sponsorship of the finance bureau of the university war board, the drive will continue until February 16 with eight campus organizations tending the booth on respective days.

Kathleen Norris, president of the war board, officially opened the drive when she spoke at the student assembly this morning concerning the need for student relief in war ravaged countries.

"The invaders always seek to put universities out of commission first, because they realize that there is the center of the nation's future leaders," Miss Norris said. "Isn't it fair for we who sit in our snug little world to give help to those who cry so desperately for it?" she added.

Campus organizations who will participate in the drive and their plans for the coming week are as follows: Monday, Zeta Phi Zeta and Artemisia - Manzanita Association will portray France. Phyllis Baumann and Lucille Shea will be in charge of decorations.

China will be the theme of Delta Delta on Tuesday, and plans are being made by Alice Ruth Doyle to transform the contribution booth into a Chinese pagoda learnedly decorated with "Confucius say" signs.

Sponsored Wednesday by the Independents and the Interfraternity, the contribution booth will be decorated to portray Poland.

Clad in ski clothes, the Kappa Alpha Thetas will carry out the theme of Norway on Thursday. Plans also include an open house to be held that night from 7:30 until 9:30 at the sorority home, 863 Sierra street. All campus students are invited, according to Jerry Brown, chairman.

Closing the drive on Friday, Gamma Phi Beta members will convert the construction booth into a miniature Dutch windmill, and will further carry out the theme of Holland by wearing tiny windmill facsimiles as lapel pins.

Daily reports of the drive will be posted on the contribution booth, according to Jane Creel, chairman of the finance committee. Nevada's goal has been set at $800, and students have been asked to donate the cost of one day's schooling, estimated to be approximately $2.

With a national goal of $500,000 to raise for educational relief, the WSSF gets its funds primarily from students. Six hundred forty-three college and schools from 11 countries contributed funds to the WSSF last year, either directly or through community war funds. This is Nevada's first student relief drive, however, it contributed $2000 to the WSSF through community war funds in 1944.

Student relief aids war victims in 17 foreign countries as well as refugee students and student prisoners of war in the United States. It consists primarily of food, medical care, clothing and books and study materials.

Members of the finance bureau sponsoring the drive are Jane Creel, chairman, Mary Ancho, Valerie Scheeline, Betty Walker, Betty Waugh, Dean Dukes, Paul Yparaguierre, Jean Marie Proctor and Jerry Brown.

John Baker Named Convention Head

High School Prexy to Meet March 16 and 17

John Baker, Lambda Chi Alpha, will head the Nevada high school president's convention, to be held March 16 and 17, in Reno.

Definite plans will be formulated as soon as replies from the questionnaires sent to high school presidents are received. Thirty-six presidents in all parts of the state will receive questionnaires.

Convention Program

The schedule for the two-day convention will probably include a luncheon honoring the presidents, lectures and an assembly at Reno High School to introduce the presidents. The group will also be invited to attend the Independents dance Friday, March 16, and the junior-senior dance Saturday, March 17.

The purpose of the convention is to bring high school presidents together for a conference to discuss problems and exchange ideas.

First Since 1943

This will be the first convention since 1943. Although the high school presidents' convention is an annual affair, a meeting was not held last year due to transportation difficulties.

Assisting Baker on the committee are Vincent Scatera, Phyllis Riley, Dorman Patton, Jack Good, James Coleman, Lucille Brown, John Heltowski, Bill Fryer and Jini Auchampaugh.

The committee will meet next week, according to John Baker, chairman.

Raymond Bares, hair stylist from Gray Reid Wright's, will speak on "Styling Your Top-Knot" at the second meeting of a series presented by the courtesy clinic.

Sponsored by Kappa Alpha Theta, the meeting will be held in the chapter house Friday, February 16, at 4 pm, with Barbara Mills in charge.

A large attendance marked the beginning talk of the series last week when Miss Pat Lowry, campus dietitian, spoke on table manners under the auspices of Zeta Phi Zeta.

Wolf Pack Meets Marines Tonight

Sacramento Contest Slated for Saturday

By Jim Coleman

The much improved Nevada Wolf Pack will meet the strong Marine quintet from Hawthorne here tonight in the old gymnasium and will take on the Sacramento college five Saturday night. Coach Aiken's Wolves will be up against one of the strongest teams in California when they meet the Sacramento team which is augmented by many players from big colleges all over the country that are in the Navy V-12 unit stationed at the California school.

Next week the Nevada team will leave for its only scheduled game trip. They will leave early Thursday morning and will play a return game with Sacramento college that night.

Friday will find the silver and blue playing at Camp Parks, and Saturday they will tangle with the Fleet City Bluejackets once more. Aiken expects to take along about ten players.

Nevada casaba tossers will play the powerful Camp Beale five Saturday, February 24, in the new gymnasium, if everything goes according to plan, Aiken said this morning.

The backboards are all ready to be put up as soon as the hardwoods are finished off with the basketball court painted on it. Monday morning the painters start to put the finishing touches on the floor and it should be ready for the Wolf Pack to start working on it when they return from their trip.

Law Makers Visit State University

Tour of Inspection Regards Legislation

Lt. Gov. Vail Pittman and members of the senate and assembly of the Nevada legislature saw the university in operation last Tuesday. Accepting President John O. Moseley's invitation, they adjourned for the day to inspect the campus and survey the university's present needs and its plans for post-war expansion.

Arriving in the morning, they met with administrators and department heads to hear the needs for more space and equipment and started on an inspection tour of the educational plant to observe for themselves what was required.

Under consideration by the present legislature is the university's request for construction of a classroom building and life science laboratory building, and for an additional wing to the engineering building, a student union building and a new administration building.

Interrupting their inspection at noon, the legislators were luncheon guests at the university dining hall, with President John O. Moseley presiding as host.

During the afternoon they visited the various laboratories on the campus, saw demonstrations of seed tests, electrical machinery and the processes of mining, and examined present equipment.

Afternoon tea at the president's campus home was served by the legislators, with Mrs. Moseley their hostess, completing their day on the campus.

President Moseley's invitation to members of the senate and assembly was extended through Lt. Gov. Vail Pittman, who presides over the senate, and Peter A. Burke, speaker of the assembly.

March 21 Set for Musical Program

Elijah Oratorio To Be Presented

March 21 has been set as the date for the "Elijah," by Mendelssohn, which will be presented by the combined University of Nevada singers and the Reno Civic Chorus and Orchestra in the new University of Nevada gym, Prof. Theodore Post, director of the oratorio, affirmed this week.

The popular oratorio will be presented in straight concert form without drops or setting. The large stage and the extensive acoustic facilities should make for a perfect concert setting, Post pointed out.

In the new gym next Wednesday evening, the orchestra will hold its first rehearsal. It will be composed of townspeople and student talent with approximately 28 pieces in all.

Part section practices are being conducted at present. Sickness has held back progress somewhat, especially on the solo parts, but group work will begin in the near future, Post added.

Ballet Company To Appear Here

"The Adventures of Johnny Applesseed" will be presented March 14 at the new gymnasium by Edwin Strawbridge and his ballet company, it was announced by Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's department of physical education.

Mr. Strawbridge has appeared in most of the world's capitals with his company and has danced with leading orchestras in this country. Recently he performed with a company of 40 dancers, a choir of 60 voices and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra at the Lewisohn Stadium in New York. In Philadelphia he danced to the music of the famed Philadelphia Orchestra with Leopold Stokowski conducting.

Dealing with the life of one of the country's most lovable and generous heroes, "The Adventures of Johnny Applesseed," tells of his devotion to making beautiful with blooming apple orchards the countryside he loved. The spirit of the whole ballet expresses the movement and freedom of this period in early American life, Miss Sameth pointed out.

Former Instructor In Charge of Plant

Lieut. Charles T. Duncan, former journalism instructor at the University of Nevada, has recently been placed in charge of the navy printing plant for the South Pacific in Noumea, New Caledonia, according to Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, director of the school of journalism.

Prior to this new assignment, Lieut. Duncan was an official naval photographer. He writes that he hopes to get a leave soon and will stop at the university on his way to Springfield, Minn., where his wife and small son are living at present.

Enlisting in August, 1942, as an ensign, Lieut. Duncan recently received his promotion to full lieutenant in the USNR.

"His experience in the navy has further fitted him for his position in the University of Nevada to which he plans to return at the close of the war," said Prof. Higginbotham.

Military Dept. Collects Patches

The addition of seven insignia patches to the military department bulletin board brings the total of the collection to 43, according to Sgt. Michael J. McCormick, instructor in military science and tactics.

Patches are sent in by graduates and former students of the university, both enlisted men and officers, and include all branches of the service.

Two gold star men are represented on the board, Lt. Richard D. Sawyer, '43, of the 10th division (ski troops), and Lt. Deane Quilici, '43, of the 84th infantry division, Sgt. McCormick said.

Latest additions to the collection were sent in by 1st Lt. Robert E. Leaver, American division; 2nd Lt. John Stufberger, 106th infantry division; 1st Lt. Eugene J. Peterson, eighth infantry division; 1st Lt. Alfred L. Talcott, 11th armored division; 2nd Lt. Addison Millard, 65th infantry division; Pfc. Dick Cameron, fifth amphibious corps; Capt. Elliot Lima, sixth marine division.

Preparations Made For ASUN Canteen

Despite labor shortages and weather conditions, work is going forward on the campus hut to be located on the ground floor of Stewart Hall, Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings, stated this week.

Horn added that, although the concrete floor for the dean of women's quarters, also in Stewart Hall, was poured this week, labor shortages would probably hold up the opening of the hut several weeks, since more concrete pouring, rewiring and painting remain to be done.

Mrs. John O. Moseley will be in charge of decorating the hut.

Hut Plan

At the present plans include space for a large room to be occupied by the coke bar, a second room for a juke box and dancing, and a small kitchen off the dancing room. Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, dean of women, will occupy the quarters of the university military department.

Canteen Staff

The canteen will be staffed by campus YWCA members, Patricia Herz Cooke, president, has announced. All concessions, the coke machine and juke box will be under YWCA supervision, she added, with the proceeds going to the campus YWCA.

Mrs. Cooke also noted that a committee has been named to discuss details of managing the canteen. Members are Pat Usery, Harriet Anderson, Mary Kathryn Sodja, Charlotte Ferris, Gloria Rosachi, Leslie Harvey, Pauline Sirkegian, Esther Golick, Mary Kuntz, Myrl Nygren and Virginia Olesen.

Frosh-Soph Hop Slated Feb. 24

Semi-Formal Affair First of Semester

The first semi-formal dance of the semester, the frosh-soph hop, will be held Saturday evening, February 24, at the Twentieth Century Club from 9 to 12 midnight, co-chairmen Gloria Mapes and Neva Gardner stated recently.

Dance committee members are Rachel McNeil of Sparks; Patricia Babb, Fallon; John Baker, Yerington, and Howard Williams, Reno.

Tickets for the dance will be available soon and can be purchased from dance committee members.

To aid the dance publicity, an assembly will be held in the Education auditorium Feb. 23 at 10 am, the co-chairmen also explained. The program will include 15 minutes of instrumental music, songs and variety acts, all from members of the two classes.

Members of the assembly committee are Rose Nannini, Reno; Phyllis Green, Manitoba, Canada; Jack Dieringer, Reno, and Bob Durham, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

The decorations for the event will remain undisclosed, and refreshments will be served.

A date dance and non-program, Miss Mapes and Miss Gardner concluded, admission is $1.20, tax included, and students from all classes are invited to attend.

Enrollment Total Is 476 Students

Total enrollment this semester is 476 students as compared with 492 last semester. The approximate ratio of three women to one man still exists, Mrs. Jeanette Rhodes, registrar, said today.

There are 347 women and 129 men with the class numbers as follows: seniors, 54; juniors, 61; sophomores, 107; freshmen, 200; special, 26; and graduate, 28.

So far this semester there have been 12 withdrawals, seven men and five women.

The enrollment for this spring semester is 104 more than the spring semester last year. At that time there were 372 students with 281 women, 75 men and 16 ASTP students.

Nevada History Club Installed Tonight Into Phi Alpha Theta National Group

Members of the University of Nevada History Club this evening will be formally installed into Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary society, Pat Traner, president of the local group, announced today.

Miss Traner added that Dean G. L. Hammond of the University of New Mexico, who will preside at the initiation, will be honored by the new initiates at dinner following the ceremonies.

Since the founding of Phi Alpha Theta in 1921, it has grown to include 33 collegiate chapters, among which are the University of California and the University of Southern California. Nevada Alpha Iota is the thirty-third collegiate chapter.

The University of Nevada History Club was formed last fall with the purpose of petitioning Phi Alpha Theta for a charter. Normally a campus history club must wait three years for a charter. However, faculty interest in joining the club caused the three-year interim to be waived.

Prerequisites for election into the club are a B average in 12 hours of history and a B in two-thirds of other hours carried.

The charter members are Mary Ancho, Mary Kathryn Carroll, Beatrice Thompson Brooks, Marie Aldrich, Pauline Leveillé, Patricia Traner, Alice Martha Traner, Charla Fletcher, Anna Swope, Jo Ann Sorenson, Dr. Anatole Mazour, Dr. Philip Auchampaugh, Dr. Austin Hutcheson, Dr. C. R. Hicks, and Professor C. C. Smith.

Club officers are Patricia Traner, president; Mary Kathryn Carroll, vice-president; Mary Ancho, secretary; Charla Fletcher, treasurer, and Dr. Austin Hutcheson, faculty sponsor.

ATTENTION, JUNIORS

Another meeting of the junior class will be held at 4 pm Wednesday, February 14, in the auditorium of the Education building, according to Genevieve Siri, junior class manager.

BEYOND BRICKS AND MORTAR

Last week the Associated Students of the University of Nevada, through these editorial columns and by their own voiced protests, made the first move in an effort to have their interests represented and their voices heard by the administrators of this university while they make rulings which affect the welfare of every student.

There was a time not so very long ago when the university policy directors listened to the student voice, considered it, and—as a good start to that aim—invited student opinion.

Last week we were not invited to express an opinion. We were not considered. We were not represented.

A special faculty committee doped out the schedule. Faculty members passed on it, and then the board of regents took official action.

Nowhere along the line was there a consultation with student opinion—with the people the measure would affect, some of them adversely.

It seems that in a short time, something has happened on this campus to alter our situation in university affairs.

Last week the most flagrant outcropping of what was happening burst upon us like a shell, and we retorted, "WE DON'T LIKE IT!"

This week, we continue to fume over the issue, which we students realize is only one small part of the issue at hand.

The exact confines of that issue, we, nor others who have been kept in the dark shadows of misinformation or no information, do not yet know.

But we sense something bigger than a change of semesters threatening our rights as students to be considered in matters which affect our welfare.

This thing we sense concerns not only our own personal feelings but also the welfare of the university as a whole and of every Nevada citizen. We represent a cross-section of this state from a geographic and economic standpoint. Disregarding the best interests of students at this university constitutes ignoring the people of this state as well.

In December, 1943, the ASUN senate voted to accept a suggestion to start the fall semester in August and conclude it before Christmas.

At that time, the Sagebrush editorialized, "This change, if it occurs by act of the board of regents, will be more beneficial than the present method, in fact, more so than it appears."

The argument then was avoiding that last-minute rush getting home and then back to term papers, the usual case being that a student naturally neglected study during holidays.

There is a sounder argument now, one which involves the student's being able to stay in school, his convenience—since this is HIS COLLEGE—and the matter of rush on travel facilities.

Still the main issue is that we weren't considered in the matter this year as we were in 1943. At that time the matter was handed to the student senate, which approved, then the matter went to the regents for final approval.

This year, we would have had no chance to speak at all on the issue had we not heard the matter rumored and, on our own initiative, voiced our disapproval to the faculty committee. The matter was taken up just the same, acted upon—and it was said that student opinion was not worthy of consideration.

There are others than students who do not like the unfair treatment we were given. Several faculty members agree that although the change would be beneficial to them, we got a rough deal, and they don't approve of keeping us as the silent partners in this institution.

And there are others, in higher and more influential places than any on this campus, who do not approve of such disregard of student welfare and opinions.

Some are parents of students here. Some are only friends of the university. Some are the men who represent the people of Nevada in her state legislature.

The tension on campus was certainly evident to Nevada legislators as they toured the grounds Tuesday. They were not particularly soothed by their talks with department heads.

They saw needs at this university—and they saw needs beyond bricks and mortar.

They, and we, see a spiritual need, if you please, for rest and release of the tension between students and faculty. The 41st legislature was rather generous to the university. Perhaps the 42nd legislature will not be so kindly disposed after sensing student feeling on this campus.

This is a plea for unity. It is a plea for all of us to stand firm and demand again the rights of a democracy—to be able to be heard, even if we are then defeated, we will at least know our chips were in the game.

As we said last week, WE DON'T LIKE IT! We didn't react favorably to the treatment. It is not to be presumed by and that we are going to be silenced now, though we well realize we are getting the well-known "silent treatment."

We are going to fight this issue of semester changes down the middle, to the end of that still indefinable major issue we have seen. We will yet be heard and considered—and again, someday, we will be invited to cast our voice in matters that are of our own immediate concern.

HOME EC POWDER ROOM DECORATION NEARS END

The Home Economics Club powder room should be completely furnished and decorated by the end of the semester, according to Jane Creel, president of the Home Economics Club.

Myrtle Nygren and Mary Koontz have recently painted the cupboard a bright red, completing the job done by the regular school painters.

BETTE SULLIVAN IS INTERN IN WASHINGTON

Bette Sullivan, graduate Tri-Delt, is now with the King County Hospital system, Seattle, Washington.

Miss Sullivan graduated last May and continued post-graduate work in home economics last semester. She began her dietetic internship with the King County Hospital January 29.

Tri-Delts Present Homecoming Skit At Century Club

Under the direction of Tosca Masini, Tri-Delts will present their Homecoming skit, "Hot Chocolate," for the Twentieth Century Club on February 10. The act was to have been given in December, but was postponed due to injuries sustained by two members of the cast.

The skit will be given as it was originally written with the exception of one dance routine performed by two girls not registered this semester. A tap number by three local youngsters, Bobbie and Margaret Eddleman and Daisy Harris, will be substituted.

Donning the grease paint and black face Saturday evening will be Tosca Masini and Pat Rovetti, end men; Jean Forson, Marilou Ferguson, Gloria Mapes, Maribeth Elkins and Betty Molignoni, orchestra; Alice Ruth Doyle and Shirley Bowen, vocal soloists; Wilburta Shidler, dance soloist; Marie Aldrich, Joyce Nielson, Teddy Hicks, Margery Menu, and Shirley Shannon, kick chorus; Rose Nannini, Pela Oyarbide, Beth Lind, Dot Thomas, Kathryn Boyle, Odette Darrigrand and Billie Kennedy, pickanninies.

SAGENS!

Sagens, women's pep organization, will meet Thursday, February 15, at 7 pm in the ASUN building.

The Sagen swimming party has been cancelled, but plans will be made to hold it at a later date.

FACULTY CLUB HOLDS INFORMAL DINNER MEET

Dr. and Mrs. John O. Moseley and former professors were guests at an informal dinner of the Faculty and Women's Faculty Clubs Saturday, according to Dr. James Young, president.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the faculty quartet of Dr. Meryl Deming, Prof. Leonard Chadwick, Dr. Loring Williams and Prof. Theodore Post, and motion pictures were shown by Fred and Walter Herz.

Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. V. P. G'annella and Mr. and Mrs. G. Hardman.

Higginbotham Writes For ASJSA Journal

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the department of journalism, will write an article to be included in a publication to be issued by the American Society of Journalism School Administrators.

The publication, a magazine called the ASJSA Clinic, will consist of 16 articles on education for the profession of journalism, according to Professor Higginbotham.

Professor Higginbotham, the national secretary, will also act as coordinating officer.

Of course there's a lot to be said in her favor, but it's not nearly so interesting.

Catalogue Changes Completed; 1945-46 Issue Planned Soon

Changes for 1945-46 University of Nevada catalogue have been turned in by the deans, department heads and other personnel responsible for various sections, and the new catalogue, now being edited, will be printed as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Karen G. Waxman, secretary of the catalogue committee.

Work on this year's issue includes revising the student and faculty directories, committee appointments, class changes, and editing, alphabetizing and reorganizing various sections to make them more readable and more practical for reference use. Changes in course number, credit hours, and fees must be passed by faculty action to be acceptable.

A separate office has been set up for work on the catalogue this year, Dean Frederick Wood, chairman of the catalogue committee, stated. Informal discussions and suggestions by various members of the faculty have resulted in several changes to improve the new issue, he said.

Shoemaker Upsets Nevada by 32-23

Football Resembled As Both Teams Foul

By Jim Coleman

Through the great guarding of Bob "Buster" McClure and Smolinski, the two top scorers of the Northern California Association, Spike Moran and Stan Kramer were held to but one field goal apiece Saturday night, although the Wolf Pack went down to the tune of 32 to 23.

The game turned out to be more of a football game than a basketball tilt, with 21 fouls called on the university men and 18 called on the sailors from Camp Shoemaker, California. McClure went out of the game early in the second half with five fouls called against him.

At the start of the game it looked as if the collegians were going to upset the fast second highly rated Bluejackets whom the fans had doped to upset the Pack by at least 20 points, but Len Yandle, fast navy guard, saw the weakness of the Wolf Pack and dribbled through the entire team for several field goals. The score see-sawed back and forth throughout the entire first half with Sorensen and Frances dominating the play. Sorensen sank several long one-handed shots while France took advantage of his height to take the ball off the backboard for tip-ins that kept Nevada in the game.

France handled the ball with the skill that is seldom seen on the hardwood of the university, sports fans agreed.

Yandle managed to get by the Nevada guards for three successive buckets just before the end of the first half, giving Fleet City the half time margin of 16-11.

Women Marksmen Recalled by Sarge

In commenting on contests now being held for formation of ROTC rifle squad to represent the University of Nevada in this season's competition, Sgt. Michael McCormick, instructor in military, reminisced on "the good old days" when he coached a women's team. "And they were good!" he added.

The last year in which women participated in the marksmanship contest was 1940. Students received WAA credit for the activity at that time.

With slacks, sweaters and beanies adding a note of color to the women's team, Sgt. McCormick challenged off campus competition, including the Reno Rifle Club. The contest, in which the students chalked up an almost perfect score, remains a classic in the history of the university's rifle teams.

When ammunition becomes an available commodity again, Sgt. McCormick hopes that women will again take their places before the targets at the rifle range.

MILLER PROMOTED

Lt. Edwin H. Miller, '43, was recently promoted to the rank of captain, according to word received here today. Stationed in England, Capt. Miller pilots a P-51 in the European combat area. Residing in Carson City formerly, he is a member of Sigma Nu.

Red Cross Canteen Course Completed

Kathryn Spear and Jini Auchampaugh, sophomore Kappa Alpha Thetas, and Jean Bicknell, Delta Delta Delta, have completed the 10-hour Red Cross canteen aide course training with a class organized by the Reno downtown chapter.

Formal graduation for the 33 members of the class was held February 4 at the Red Cross volunteer headquarters. Mrs. George Wells was the instructor.

Having learned how to prepare and serve food to fire fighting crews and soldiers at the Red Cross hut located at the depot, the graduates are now entitled to wear the blue and white uniforms and badges of the canteen aide. Both women have volunteered for regular hours at the station hut and will be on call for any emergencies.

Commending the work of the Reno station canteen in a letter recently received by the Washoe county Red Cross canteen chairman, Helen M. Cox, head train worker of the office of the hospital train unit at Crissy Field, California, said, "Your generosity has more than aided in making the trips for the patients easier, and definitely helped in keeping up their morale. Needless to say, they are delighted with the treats. Congratulations on the fine job you are doing."

FRESHMAN INTERVIEWS STARTED BY A. B. MARSH

Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women for the University of Nevada, has started the freshman interviews for the personnel records. Most of the women who have been interviewed so far have been interested in symphony music, good literature and sports, according to Mrs. Marsh.

YWCA WORKER FROM UC VISITS NEVADA CAMPUS

Miss Kate Harris, active in YWCA work on the University of California campus, is visiting the University of Nevada.

Dean Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women, will have the advisory board of the YWCA for tea at her home Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Harris, according to Pat Cook, YWCA president.

ELEANOR CORLE WEDS

Eleanor Jean Corle, Pi Beta Phi, '47, became the bride of Lt. Edward E. Lee, Jr., of Marshall, Texas, at a ceremony performed Tuesday evening at the Reno Baptist Church by Rev. Brewster Adams.

Lt. and Mrs. Lee will visit his parents in Marshall and Fort Worth, Texas. Mrs. Lee will return to school when Lt. Lee receives his overseas duties.

THREE WITHDRAW

Three students have recently withdrawn from the university to enter the service. Velma Hendricks of Yerington and Rae Eagan of Carson left this week to join the marine corps.

Edward Acree of Reno withdrew to enter the air corps.

Tonopah Air Base To Hold Dance

Seventy-five University of Nevada women are expected to attend a formal dance at the Tonopah Air Base Officers Club Saturday, February 17, Katherine O'Leary, entertainment chairman of the campus war board, announced today.

The busses for the weekend trip will leave the State building at 9:30 am Saturday and will return late Sunday afternoon, Miss O'Leary said. All university women who wish to attend are asked to get in touch with Miss O'Leary at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, 863 Sierra street.

Sponsored by the AWVS in connection with the University of Nevada war board, the dance is the second in a series scheduled this semester.

ZETA PHI PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS SORORITY

Lucille Shea, president of Zeta Phi Zeta, entertained at a party last Friday at her home at 145 Ridge street.

Refreshments were enjoyed by Laura Lou Johnson, Marjorie Swenson, Dace Ricketts, Lois Reeves, Wilda Pflum, Myrl and Mae Nygren, Barbara and Marjorie Whipple, Blanche Parker, Dorothy Abel, Lucille Shea, Ethel Dixon and Patricia Lowry.

INFIRMARY REPORT

Georgianna Hicks, Bob Uhlig, Calvin Simons and Paul Yparraquiere were confined to the infirmary this week, according to the office report. Mary Libby, nurses' aid, assisted in work there over the weekend, a job to be handled by Mrs. Webster Barth, RN, beginning this week.

Silver Tea Slated At YWCA Meeting

Plans for a silver tea to be held March 13 at the Reno YWCA were discussed at a meeting February 7, Miss Pat Herz Cook, president, announced. The purpose of the tea will be to raise money to furnish the YWCA room at Artemisia Hall on the university campus.

A recognition service will be held February 20 for new members, at which time the nominating committee will present the names of new officers to be voted on.

The furnishings of the Y hut were discussed, also at the meeting; the opening date has not been decided, but the YWCA hopes it will be ready in two weeks. Curtains for the YWCA room in Artemisia Hall will be made by members of the group.

F. K. RIVERS VISITS CAMPUS THIS WEEK

Capt. F. Kistler Rivers, graduate of 1935, visited the campus this week. Rivers has been serving in Africa and Italy with a fifth army artillery unit.

While a student, Capt. Rivers served as president of Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity. He was one of the charter members of Delta Delta Epsilon and belonged to Phi Kappa Phi and Scabbard and Blade.

Emeritus Dean of Women is Dead After Long Service to University and State

By Adele Marsh

For 29 years Dean Margaret E. Mack was a part of the University of Nevada, both as a faculty member, and since 1918, as a dean of women very close to the students' hearts. On Thursday her campus friends bid her a last farewell as she was laid to rest in a little cemetery in Dayton, Nevada.

To her many friends at Nevada she will live on as an outstanding personality. Retiring in 1942, she chose to live in Reno "where I belong, among all my friends," rather than with her brothers in California. Student friendships established on the campus continued after graduation in visits to her home and in a wide correspondence.

Pioneer Family

A member of a pioneer family, Dean Mack was born at Johtown, near Silver City, the daughter of Thomas P. and Annie M. Mack, and spent her early life in that vicinity.

Graduating from the Silver City schools in 1889, she taught in Lyon county and Reno schools for 18 years. She had been principal of the Dayton schools before coming to Reno to teach at Orvis Ring and Reno High schools.

Graduating from the University with a B.S. degree in 1910, Dean Mack taught in the university preparatory school in 1911. Post-graduate work at Columbia University, New York City, resulted in a master of arts degree in biology in 1913.

Coming to the University of Nevada in 1913 as an instructor in the biology department, she started her 29 years' service on the campus. In 1917 she became assistant professor of biology, and from 1922 to 1942 served as associate professor of biology.

Dean of Women

In 1918 she was appointed dean of women and served in that capacity until her retirement in 1942, when she was given the title of emeritus associate professor of biology.

Dean Mack was active in all campus affairs, being a charter member of Nevada chapter of Pi Beta Phi sorority, active in the Pi Phi alumnae group and secretary to most campus organizations.

Pan-Hel Lawyer

For many years she served as Pan-Hellenic lawyer during sorority rushing on the campus, and in 1918-1919 she was chairman of the faculty women's war service committee.

As dean she was a member of the National and Western Association of Deans of Women. And as a widely-known Nevada educator, she was a member of the American Association of University Women, the American Association for Advancement of Science, Phi Kappa Phi, national scholarship honorary society, and of Ada chapter No. 4, O. E. S.

Following her retirement, she made her home in Reno, but visited her brothers in California each winter. Thomas Mack lives in Auburn, and Joseph Mack in Los Angeles, and it was at his home that she died last Sunday.

"Do you suffer from insanity?"
"No—I enjoy it every minute."

Newest Effort of Nevada Graduate Widely Acclaimed

By Charles Blenio

Walter Van Tilberg Clark, one of the University of Nevada's most famous literary graduates, has written what the reviewers call, "one of the great novels of this or any other year."

Newest Effort

"The City of Trembling Leaves" is Mr. Clark's newest effort. It is the story of a young man who rises above the torments and conflicts of early youth to become a fine composer and man. It is the sensitive story of a period which will remain in the mind of the reader for a long time.

Mr. Clark received his B.A. in 1931 and his M.A. in 1932 at the University of Nevada. He was a member of Phi Kappa Phi while on the campus. After receiving his master's degree he taught for a time at the University of Vermont, Burlington, Vermont.

Maine Native

He was born in Maine, but grew up in the vicinity of Reno, where his father was president of the University of Nevada from 1919-1938.

Until "The City of Trembling Leaves," Walter Clark was best noted for his "Ox-Bow Incident," which was successfully made into a movie.

Wesleyan Foundation Plans Party Feb. 11

A Valentine's party is set for February 11 at 8 pm by Wesleyan Foundation at the Methodist church, according to Jeanne Forson, chairman of the committee.

A discussion will be held at the regular hour, 6:30 pm, on "Our English Allies," led by Betty Tracy and Jeanne Forson. The first part of the evening will be conducted by Juanita Boyles, Paul Steward and Harold Minor, with the theme "So Is the Kingdom of God."

On the committee for the party are Betty Tracy, Elma Hand, Jeanne Forson and Mrs. Charles Burns.

The discussion topic for Sunday evening, February 18, will be "A Just and Durable Peace, a la U.S.A." led by Lt. Lloyd Carraway.

Gamma Phi Pledges To Be Presented

Presentation of seven Gamma Phi Beta pledges will take place at a tea February 11 at the chapter house, 710 Sierra Street, from 3 until 5 pm, according to Kathleen Norris, president.

Mrs. Carl Swanhelm and Mrs. G. A. Rodgers, patronesses of the group, will pour. Alumnae, faculty wives, and mothers and friends of the pledges are invited. Betty Walker, social chairman, is in charge of the arrangements.

Pledges to be presented are Roma Garner, Margie Potts, Pat Harris, Alberta Brunner, Betty Midgley, Beth Grant Lemaire and Ida Mae Kellough.

THE LOST ARE FOUND

Lost gloves are being held for owners in the registrar's office, Mrs. Rhodes stated yesterday.

In addition to two pairs lost in Dean Thompson's room last semester and never claimed, several more have been turned in. Inquire at the registrar's office for them.

Twelve Students Entertain RAAB

Under the supervision of the camp and hospital committee of the University of Nevada unit of the American Red Cross, 12 university students presented a variety musical program for convalescents at the Reno Army Air Base ferrying division hospital Tuesday afternoon.

In charge of the group was Miss Barbara Grimmer of the Washoe county chapter.

With Tosca Masini as mistress of ceremonies, each sorority on the campus was represented. The opening number was the Sweetheart song of each house and the following acts were presented: Jane Perkins, Jo Miller, Erma Shaw, Mary Libbey, Kappa Alpha Theta quartet; Alice Ruth Doyle, vocal soloist; Shirley Campbell, comedian; Helen Brania, character singer; Beth LeMaire, Russian dancer; LeNore Wittwer, accompanist; Barbara Heany, pianist, and John Bradley, trumpet soloist.

The program was given in a day room for about 30 convalescent service men and women and sent by public address system to the other wards and offices in the hospital.

Following the program, candy prepared by the Home Economics Club was distributed to the audience by the entertainers and Gray Ladies.

Sagers Plan Swim March 9 at Moana

Tuesday night Sagers, men's service organization, decided to hold a swimming party March 9 at Moana Hot Springs, according to Gordon Mills, president of the group.

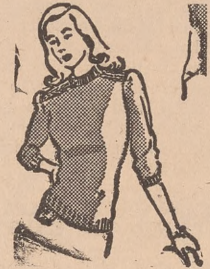

The committee in charge of the arrangements for the affair includes Jack Dieringer, Jim Coleman, Bob Uhlig and Royden Beardall. Members and their dates will meet in front of the ASUN building and will be furnished transportation to the pool, according to the committee.

During the meeting Tuesday it was decided that the Sagers should sit in a unit at the basketball games so as to add to student pep at the games.

"What do you think of the Museum of Art?"
"Oh, the pictures are okay, but there ain't no good jokes under 'em."
