

German Majors To Be Considered for Graduate German Studies Fellowship

By Jo Miller
A graduate fellowship for German studies at an American university during 1945-46 has been offered by the Germanistic Society of America, Inc., according to word received by Dr. Benjamin F. Chappelle, head of the department of foreign languages.

Administered by the Institute of International Education, the fellowship carries a cash stipend of $750, payable in two equal installments, the first on September 15, and the second on January 15.

Qualifications Stated
Qualifications are stated in the application letter as follows: a candidate must present proof of American citizenship, good health, good moral character and adaptability, good academic record at a college or university of recognized showing status at time of application as senior, with major in German, or as graduate student in the field of Germanics, and ability to do independent study and research.

Candidates, either men or women under 30 years of age, must be unmarried at the time of application during tenure of the fellowship.

Those who already hold a Ph.D. degree or who have completed course work for the degree are not eligible. Seniors who are completing a major in German will be considered.

Applications and all required credentials must reach the Germanistic Society Fellowship Committee, Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York, 19, N. Y., not later than March 15. Blanks will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents to cover the cost of mailing, and the awards will be announced by April 15. The award is invalidated by the acceptance of any other fellowship.

For 12 years before World War II the Germanistic Society of America, Inc., offered a graduate fellowship to an American student for study in a German-speaking country. Because of the war, the society voted to grant the award to a student wishing to pursue graduate studies at an American university.

In conclusion, Dr. Chappelle explained that the institution is to be selected by the successful candidate, and is subject to the approval of the fellowship committee.

Senate Discusses Canteen Program

YWCA to Sponsor Concessions at Center

Asking what students want in the new college canteen, Dr. Robert Griffin, acting dean of men and alumni secretary, appeared before the ASUN senate this week representing President John O. Moseley.

Quoting Moseley as saying that the canteen is "admittedly a poor substitute for a student union building, but that building seems years off," Griffin said that the place for the students only is for the present.

Purpose of Canteen
Rising out of the need for a satisfactory meeting place on campus because of criticism of students loitering in downtown clubs, this canteen has been established. The Wolf Den was not designed as a student center and the ASUN building does not fulfill the need for the student recreation.

At the Wednesday meeting Paul Yparraquaire advanced the possibility of the furnishings to include a juke box. If one is available, the students may have it. However the question of hours it may be played may have to be limited not to interfere with classes.

Mary Beth Winchester Borne suggested a candy machine to be turned over to the YWCA.

Coke Concession
In connection with a possible coke concession, it was suggested that various student organizations in need of funds be allowed to handle the business for a period of two or three weeks each.

Plans will be discussed at the meetings of the various organizations represented by the senators, and reports will be given at the next senate meeting.

Gothic N Sponsors Play Day April 14

Gothic N, with the assistance of WAA members, will sponsor a play day for high school girls in western Nevada, according to Miss Ethel Dixon, WAA board member. The play day, which will be held April 14 on the University of Nevada campus, is to interest high school seniors in the work which is being done in the physical education department of the university.

Miss Dixon also announced that three University of Nevada women will act as referees in the girls' basketball tournament to be held next week in the Reno high school gymnasium. Girls who will referee are Josephine Marisquirena, Naomi Batcher, and Pat Riley. Plans are being made for university basketball teams to play Reno high school teams later in the month.

Spring Semester Enrollment Shows Increase of 120

The 1945 spring semester enrollment of 478 students stands above that of a year ago by 120. Again Nevada as a state has the largest number enrolled, 402. California's representation is 46, while 30 are from other scattered states.

Canada is represented by one registrant while the following states are represented by one or more students: California, Colorado, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Washington.

Of the 96 new students, 47 are from Nevada. Washoe county, with 30, leads the registration figures as a county while Humboldt is next with four.

Gianella Comments On State Geology

University Is Site Of Rich Materials

"The finest area in the country for the study of geology is within easy reach of the campus," Professor Vincent P. Gianella, head of the geology department, said this week.

Nowhere else, he explained, can be found such a wide variety of metamorphosed rocks, lava flows and mineral deposits formed in various ages and under every condition, as are concentrated in these nearby areas.

Prof. Gianella accompanied a group of students recently to Steamboat hills and the Virginia range for geological study. At Steamboat hills they examined particularly a little volcano, extinct for several thousand years, which extrudes in a dome-like mass, and a balsam flow where Steamboat springs now are. They entered an old lead mine long since abandoned, partly to get out of the 50-mile gale which was blowing last Saturday, Gianella concluded.

On the previous Sunday he and several students studied geologic conditions in the Virginia range, specifically the huge "altered zone" showing hot spring action and water decomposition of rock formations. They examined lava flows and gypsum deposits, important in their study of petrology, and brought back with them some augite and zeolite crystals.

Augite crystals, a complex silicate, are found in lava flows. Zeolites are water bearing silicates of great interest to mineral collectors. Some are very beautiful white stellate crystals, Gianella explained.

Other trips will be made whenever feasible during the semester, he added.

A. G. Wiederhold To Present Talk

"Germany and the Peace" will be the subject of the second talk in the faculty forum series on war and peace issues. Dr. Albert G. Wiederhold, professor of philosophy and psychology, will be the chief speaker at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, February 28, in the Education building auditorium.

A member of the language department will also take part and share in the discussion during the question period. One lecture in the series is being planned for each week from now until the United Nations' conference which will be held in San Francisco in April.

Germany, Japan, Latin America, the British Empire and the United States, their future, and their place in the new league of nations will be discussed. In the first talk of the series, Dr. Anatole G. Mazour spoke on Russia. Both students and public are invited to attend.

WINS PROMOTION

William N. Helphinstine, 1942 graduate and a member of Sigma Nu, has been promoted to captain from first lieutenant in the United States marine corps.

Professor Holmes Succumbs Feb. 21

Professor William O. Holmes, assistant instructor in the department of English, died of heart attack shortly after midnight on Wednesday at his home on Sierra street.

The late professor served with the 28th division in World War I and was wounded in action twice. He came to Nevada in 1927 and was engaged in business here for five years before he entered the University of Nevada. Graduating in 1936, he received a fellowship in English. A short time later he became an instructor. While on the campus Professor Holmes was elected to Phi Kappa Phi.

He was 50 years old at the time of his death and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edith Jefferson Holmes, Nevada '38.

Minute Man Flag Purchase Plans Made by UN Board

Plans for the purchasing of a minute man flag for the University of Nevada are to be completed at a war board luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, 942 Sierra Street, according to Kathleen Norris, president.

The right to fly a minute man symbol may be earned by a university if 90 per cent of the students purchase a defense stamp each week. Weekly reports are made to the state war finance office.

War board members to attend the luncheon are Kathleen Norris, Jane Creel, Mary Watts, Mary Ancho, Madlen Maestretti, Dorothy Abel, Katy O'Leary, Betty Waugh, Patricia Ussery and Mrs. Marsh, group advisor.

Information Fund Of Students Good

Scores of Time Test Shows UN Ratings High

That University of Nevada students have a better fund of general information than many persons of their age is indicated in a five-minute test given by Prof. A. L. Higginbotham in his section of journalism two and in journalism 22.

The Nevada students showed up well in comparison with groups of U. S. high school graduates and college seniors given similar tests.

Time Challenge
The quiz was given spontaneously in connection with the study of Time, class text, which reported the "education is rife in the U. S., but its victims often recover."

While three out of five colleges seniors are reported by Time not to know what the "patience of Job" meant, nearly four out of five of the Nevada journalism students, one ranking higher than sophomore, had the correct answer.

Identify Moses
Moses was correctly identified by four out of five of the Nevada students taking the test, while nearly that percentage could identify Martin Luther.

Four-fifths in the Nevada test group knew that the Monroe doctrine was enunciated before the emancipation proclamation, but one-seventh could not ascertain one percent of $75.

A good fund of general information is important in the practice of journalism, Prof. Higginbotham said.

HANDWRITING ANALYST TO VISIT FOUNDATION

R. J. Callman, presiding minister at the Fellowship Center and handwriting analyst, will analyze types of handwriting at the February 25 meeting of the Wesleyan Foundation, Jean Forson, president of the group, announced this week.

A worship service will follow Mr. Callman's speech.

Sgt. Harold Minor from the Reno Army Air Base will serve as discussion chairman for a round table discussion to center around "Peace Terms, If Any."

Student-Faculty Meeting Proposal Passes Senate

Passed unanimously in ASUN senate was a proposal that the senate and the faculty administrative council meet together at the second senate meeting of each semester to discuss student-faculty problems.

Stipulated in the proposal: either the senate or the council could call a special meeting at any time during the semester that a policy change of the university was under discussion that might affect the student body.

This proposal was one of several brought up at the senate-administrative council meeting of two weeks ago. No action was taken at that time.

Twenty-One Coeds Initiated to YWCA

Twenty-one campus women were recognized in YWCA Tuesday evening at the home of Pat Cooke, president of the organization.

Four women were selected to attend a convention sponsored by the YWCA of College of Pacific Saturday and Sunday, February 24 and 25, Mrs. Cooke stated. Phyllis Snyder, Georgianna Hicks, Margaret Crehore and Grace Kincaid will make the trip.

Mrs. J. O. Moseley presented several ideas on the decoration of the YWCA room in the basement of Artemisia hall. The room is to be painted by the university, and curtains, furniture and rugs will be added by the YWCA. Harriet Anderson was named head of the committee, in place of Dorothy Thomas who was forced to withdraw because of a broken leg.

New Members Named

Senate to Study Loan Fund Rules

As little or no information has been made available to students about the student loan fund, the ASUN senate at a meeting on Wednesday voted to investigate the stipulations of the fund.

Bob Jones, Theta Chi senator, was appointed to find how large the fund is, how much can be obtained by individual students and for what period of time a loan can be made.

Jones' findings will be brought before the senate at the next meeting to determine what steps are necessary to bring the fund into use again.

Lt. Col. Field Promotes NCOs

Lt. Col. E. Lewis Field announced this week the promotion of seven men to the ranks of non-commissioned officers in ROTC. The appointments became effective February 20.

Benjamin Lewis was promoted to cadet first sergeant and assuming the rank of sergeant are Royden Beardall, Jr., James Clarkson and Benedict Coren. Raised to cadet corporal were Robert Durham, Leonard Marmor and Donald Metzker.

Lt. Col. Field also announced that selection of a cadet lieutenant would be made during the next two weeks. Appointment to the rank of a commissioned officer is made on the qualifications of military efficiency, attendance, military bearing and leadership ability.

Presentation of warrants to the newly appointed non-commissioned officers will be made in the near future, according to Lt. Col. Field.

Campus Men Begin Beard Growing Contest Monday for Mackay Day Prizes

Sororities, Fraternities to Sponsor Skits and Song Team Presentations

DELINQUENT NOTICES GO TO SEVENTY-SEVEN

Delinquent notices, totalling 93 in number, were given out to 77 students this week for failing or incomplete E and F work, according to Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar. Of the 77 students, 47 women received 54 notices and 30 men received the remaining 39.

This is above the first six weeks' report of last semester in which 84 students received 127 notices. The number of D notices was not available.

March of Time Film To Be Shown on Hill

"Portugal, South Africa and World Airways" is the title of the second in a series of March of Time films being presented on the campus by the assembly committee.

It will be shown Tuesday, February 27, in the education auditorium, according to Dr. A. E. Hutcheson, chairman of the committee.

Pictures, shown by Sgt. Michael McCormick of the military department, are edited and revised by Time, Inc., expressly for showing in connection with college work. They deal with scenery, industries, people and government of the countries filmed.

Chemistry Dept. Does Experiments

Magnesium Subject to Many Treatments

By Helen Corica
Dr. George W. Sears, head of the chemistry department, reports that experiments dealing with protective coverings for magnesium are now being conducted by the department.

Samples of several protective coatings to be used have been obtained from different commercial companies, and an attempt will be made to establish the relative values of these coverings as protection against corrosion, he said.

Treatment Told
Rectangles of magnesium are being covered with the various commercial products and will be exposed to ordinary atmospheric conditions on the roof of the Mackay Science building. In addition to this treatment, the magnesium will be sprayed every day to get the effect of frequent rain, Sears explained.

Other Experiments
As soon as the first experiment is well under way, another treatment will be tried, also on magnesium. It will consist of complete artificial exposure of the samples to salt spray, simulating ocean conditions. Results of this treatment will be ascertainable within a period of days. Dr. Sears plans to report to the manufacturers concerned on both experiments by the end of the semester.

Advancement
"This study should result in some evidence on the relative value of these various types of protective covering. It is a necessary step in the advancement of magnesium for commercial use and will lead to further studies in metal coatings and oxidation treatments," said Dr. Sears.

STUDENT ADDRESSES CHI DELTA PHI MEET

Kathleen Norris, senior Gamma Phi Beta, spoke on the Pasadena Playhouse at the Chi Delta Phi meeting Tuesday night, according to Harriet McNeil, president.

Miss Norris attended the 1943 summer session at the Pasadena Playhouse, specializing in radio work. She described student life at the playhouse and told of courses offered in the regular and summer sessions.

Campus men will start growing beards February 26 and will continue until April 7, Mackay Day, Paul Yparraquaire, chairman, announced this week. Those who do not conform to this Mackay Day tradition, will be reprimanded by the men's upperclass committee, Yparraquaire added.

The only excuse that will be accepted for failure to grow a beard will be objection on the part of a student's employer. All excuses must be turned in before Mackay Day to the upperclass committee.

Prizes for Beards
Prizes will be given at the Mackay Day dance to the men with the blackest and heaviest beard, and the best trimmed beard.

Jack Dieringer, chairman of the assembly committee, announced that each sorority will be responsible for a 10 minute skit. He also stated that the fraternities will probably combine and give a skit collectively. These skits may be on any theme that the individual groups wish.

Song Teams Planned
Sororities and fraternities are also organizing song teams to compete for the trophy to be given at the dance for the best song combination.

Presidents of the six fraternities will be asked to give a list of its members to Bob Craig, chairman of the work day committee, who will apportion the men to the various tasks to be done on the campus. The committee plans to clean Mackay field, the bleachers and the track.

Trophies will also be given for the best men's and women's costumes and points will be given toward the interfraternity cup on the attendance at the dance, according to Yparraquaire.

Posture Talk Slated For Courtesy Clinic

The courtesy clinic talk to be given today at four o'clock at the Pi Beta Phi house has been postponed until next Friday because the speaker, Pfc. Ann Scott Hoye of the Reno Army Air Base, was not able to be present. Her topic next Friday will be "Good Posture." The meeting will be under the direction of Pauline Sirkegian.

Raymond Bares, hair stylist from Gray Reid Wright's, gave the second courtesy clinic talk last Friday at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. His subject was "Styling Your Topknot."

Mr. Bares gave pointers on care of the hair, stating that it is detrimental to the scalp to brush the hair and scalp too vigorously and also that lemon juice and vinegar were not desirable rinses for shampooing as they tend to make the hair too dry and soft. The hair stylist also gave advice on cosmetics for different types of skin.

Cards Available For County Books

Arrangements have been made with Fred M. Stephen, county librarian, allowing university students to have Washoe county library cards without the usual guarantor's signature, James Hill, university library head, said this week.

Formerly, in order to borrow books from the downtown library, those attending college, had to secure the signature of a resident taxpayer. Under the new ruling, on presenting proof that they are enrolled at the university, a library card will be issued.

If, at the end of each semester, a student has not returned books, periodicals or other material, or is in arrears in payment of overdue fines, the university registrar will withhold that person's grades until the account has been paid, Hill said.

PROBLEMS SOLVED

Wednesday night the ASUN senate voted to offer the following proposal to the faculty administrative council: the senate will meet with the administrative council at the second senate meeting of each semester; if, at any time during the semester, there is a change in University of Nevada policy that might affect the student body, either the senate or the administrative council may call a joint meeting to discuss the change.

Senate, glad of the opportunity to offer a solution to any possible future misunderstandings between faculty, administration and student body, voted unanimously to submit the proposal.

In doing this, the student representatives established a means of offering student opinion in a fashion not only more acceptable to the faculty and administrative groups, but also saving a student voice in university affairs which affect the student body.

This proposal was suggested at a senate-administrative council meeting by Dean Frederick Wood last week. Dean Wood suggested that no action be taken on it at that time, but that it be discussed at the next senate meeting.

It seemed more than fair to these representatives of the student body to find an official means of discussing and arbitrating when controversial matters must be decided by university officials.

If the terms of this proposal are carried out, there should be no reason for future misunderstandings between faculty and student groups.

Since the ASUN senate has made the proposal as the legal student body representatives, students may feel they still have a voice in university affairs and may trust in the fair-mindedness of the faculty.

Likewise, under the terms of this proposal, the faculty can feel that they can trust the fair-mindedness of the student body when decisions are made jointly by representative groups of students and faculty.

First in a Series of Faculty Addresses Presented last Wednesday by Mazour

Russia's general aim is post-war "security" for herself and for the west, declared Dr. Anatole Mazour, professor of history and political science, in an address Wednesday evening in the auditorium of the Education building. The lecture was the first of a series to be given by faculty members at the University of Nevada this semester.

Russia will specifically concentrate upon the Baltic states, Finland, Poland and the Balkans, namely Rumania, in post-war planning for security, Dr. Mazour said. A chain of strong, independent, cooperative and friendly states, as well as ports and outlets are important to Russia's security. She favors a post-war council, but still will take no chances. If it fails, she must have something substantial to work on. She means to maintain force of arms, diplomacy and political and economical weapons. Her action concerning these strategic sections depends on "what confidence she has in her Allies," Dr. Mazour explained.

Europe Greatest Power
 In connecting the position of this, "the greatest power in Europe," to that of the other four, the United States, Great Britain, China and France, the speaker pointed out the tremendous price Russia has paid in human lives and noted that "Russia has thus far, lived up to her pledges." He recalled that Russia didn't interfere with the situation in Greece nor did she influence, in any way, the treatment of liberated France and Italy, and concluded that the mutual recognition of interests and respect of aims and claims should be an important factor, in the post-war planning.

Collaboration
 Considering the question of collaboration after the war, Dr. Ma-

zour stated that "collaboration does not mean conversion." Since collaboration doesn't mean the converting of one nation to the ideologies of another, Dr. Mazour contended that communistic Russia and democratic America should be able to work together peaceably. The assumption which many Americans seem to make that the United States will have to fight Russia next is basically wrong. Expressing confidence in ourselves and our democracy, through honest diplomacy, should guarantee true and just collaboration. However, he pointed out, the United States must accept the responsibility of influence or expect and accept chaos.

Native of Russia
 A native of Kiev, Ukraine capital, Dr. Mazour spent his first 20 years in Russia, during which he served in the czarist army in the World War and received shrapnel wounds. Before coming to America, he studied a year at Berlin University during the inflation period. He has written two books, one on the first Russian revolution of 1925 and one on Russian historical writing. He is author of numerous articles in French and American periodicals. With degrees from Nebraska, Yale and California universities, he is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi honorary societies. Dr. Mazour has been a member of the University of Nevada faculty four years.

Dr. Austin E. Hutcheson, chairman of the university committee on lectures and assemblies, introduced Dr. Mazour. The next open forum will be held Wednesday, February 28, when Dr. A. G. Wiederhold, professor of philosophy and psychology, will discuss another timely and vital problem of the war and the peace that follows:

EXTRA '45 ARTEMISIAS TO GO TO SERVICE MEN

Extra copies of the 1945 Artemisia have been ordered for men in the armed services, according to Mary Watts, business manager. All names and addresses of those in the armed forces who desire copies should be furnished now, Miss Watts added. For direct mailing, the Artemisia will cost $3 for those who left the campus more than a year ago, and $1.50 if on the campus last semester, plus mailing costs in each case.

BARBARA LEE VISITS

Barbara Lee, Kappa Alpha Theta freshman last year, is visiting the campus this weekend.

Miss Lee has been working in Sacramento since August and has been at her home in Quincy over her vacation. While attending the university, she was active in WAA and campus affairs.

UN to Play First Game on New Floor

With the backboards up, the basketball court painted in and the seats in place, the University of Nevada Wolf Pack will play their first game on the hardwood of the new gymnasium this Tuesday night, according to Coach Jim Aiken. The game is still in the forming stage and it is not known what team the Pack will meet, but Aiken hopes that they can play Jim Bailey's Fallon Navy team again. Bailey was a coach on this campus before the war.

Jim Aiken moved his athletic office Thursday afternoon to quarters in the new gym. The coach can now be found in the first office on the north side of the building. Aiken had the help of several of the basketball team as well as some men on the campus in moving.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Inaugurating a full time stack service, four student assistants have been added to the University of Nevada library staff, Mr. James J. Hill, librarian, announced this week.

Naomi Batjer, freshman, began her duties as assistant before Christmas vacation. Three others were added this semester, Rosemary Harrington, junior; Mrs. Carol R. Pittman, graduate student, and Josephine Eather, freshman.

Lt. Francis A. Nagle Stationed in England

Lt. Francis A. Nagle, Jr., is now stationed somewhere in England, according to word received here today. Graduated from the U of N in 1942, Lt. Nagle received a commission in the army and served with the infantry.

He later transferred to the army air corps and received his wings at Williams Field, Arizona, in September, 1944. Lt. Nagle is now in the troop carrier command, and while on duty has visited Paris and other cities on the European continent.

Lt. Nagle, whose home is in Roseville, Calif., was a member of Alpha Tau Omega while on the campus.

NEW LIBE BOOKS

New and interesting books added to the university library collection last week include: Collier, "New Century Dictionary," 3 volumes; Terhune, "Decorating for You"; Columbia University Press, "Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work," according to James J. Hill, librarian.

Nevada Breaks Losing Streak

After Three Downs, Nevada Wins 47-38

After suffering three defeats in as many days last week, the Nevada Wolf Pack took the floor last night with the will to win and turned in one more defeat for the Fallon Navy 47-38. Nevada defeated the Navy Gobs once before this season and will meet them in another return match Tuesday night for the first game in the new gymnasium. The game will start at 8 o'clock sharp with Nevada trying to make it three straight against Fallon and to keep their record clean in the new gym.

Nevada started strong and ran up a 10 to three score in the first few minutes of play. Then Cole and Hapruuff, better known as the "Mad Russian," sank a basket apiece and cut the Pack's lead to three points. By this time Pete Simon got his eye and started to role in several points for Nevada and Smoky Smolinski tipped in six points before the end of the half, placing the Blue and White ahead by the score of 30-22 at half time.

The Airdales from Fallon came back on the floor at the start of the second half full of fight and ready to turn the tide on the varsity but were unable to hit the hoop. Cliff France went out of the game early in the second half with five fouls called on him. Spencer and Sorensen held down his post and kept their men from getting too close to the basket. Bob Durham also got carried away with the game and was called out on fouls. Smolinski was high point man with 13 tallies with Simon close behind him with 11.

Back the war bond drive.

Campus Turns Out To Ski on Mount Rose Slope

By Pat Riley

Last weekend I waxed up my hickories for another tangle with the frosty "turf" of Mount Rose. With a few "fleezy" notions about trying the big tow on Mt. Constan I left the nice warm fireplace where Terry, Bonnie, Sandy and Katy O. were fighting off frost bite with a few hot buttered rums. The wind, blowing the light powder snow into a near blizzard was drifting so fast that Jane Creel without knowing it skied over the top of Senorita Watts, who was in her favorite and usual position.

Discouraged by the cold and excessive amount of "ups and downs" Maggie and I left the rigors of the north, putting back to the lodge where the rest of the afternoon was spent in "fighting off frost bite."

Young Hopefuls

Sunday found the lodge once more filled with "snow bunnies" and young hopefuls from the Outing and Newman Clubs plus the usual veterans. The foot and a half of new snow which fell the night before padded the hard icy slopes and both tows were operating by 11 am.

Jerry Brown kept the snow warm on the big hill flashing smooth "cristies." If you saw Pat Frazee on crutches this week, it's because she bumped into a cloud following in Jerry's tracks. There might be some truth in it, though. The big cloud that settled on Mt. Rose "oozed" snow all day and visibility was nil.

Rope Tow in Use

Riding the rope tow up the hill and riding their skis down were Gen Siri and "Emmer." Lois and Lucille Brown scattered a considerable number of "sitzmarks" over the mountain sides, while the Olesen sisters, Barbara and Ginnie, tried their best to fill them in by rolling over them, at least that's what it looked like they were doing.

Life Preserver

Creel in her "life preserver" jacket has shown a remarkable improvement since she took that lesson from Dodie. Also Phyllis Snyder, Harriet Anderson and Pat Cooke were seen burrowing their way in and out of snowbanks.

Dottie Thomas got a ride on the sled back to the lodge, but I didn't envy her. Ray Ceccarelli stopped playing snow man long enough to take Dottie to the hospital where it was discovered her ankle was broken. Cross your fingers and wish for the "luck of the Irish." It might be you next time.

Frats Schedule Sports Calendar

Interfraternity sports are being brought back on the campus this semester with the finishing of the basketball play-off and the starting of the pink pong singles which began Monday on the Lincoln Hall court. A committee has been formed to investigate the possibilities of obtaining a war time cup for the fraternities to play for.

The semester schedule is as follows:

SAE-Phi Sig, Friday, February 23.

Theta Chi-SAE, Friday, February 23.

Lambda Chi-Sigma Rho, Monday, February 26.

ATO-Sigma Nu, Monday, February 26.

Sigma Rho-ATO, Tuesday, February 27.

SAE-Lambda Chi, Tuesday, February 27.

Phi Sig-Theta Chi, Wednesday, February 28.

Lambda Chi-Phi Sig, Wednesday, February 28.

ATO-SAE, Thursday, March 1.

Sigma Nu-Sigma Rho, Thursday, March 1.

SAE-Sigma Nu, Friday, March 2.

Phi Sig-ATO, Friday, March 2.

Theta Chi-Lambda Chi, Monday, March 5.

HULING USSERY, JR.

Huling E. Ussery, Jr., quartermaster third class, former student of the university, was in Reno this week on a five day leave after serving overseas on the USS General R. E. Callan. Ussery is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha and while on campus was active in debate work.

Vermont was never like this. It was so foggy that Pat Lowry apologized to the same pine tree three times.

Determined to stay above snow, Lavina played "snow bunny" in the lodge with Father Roteglia until he left with Dottie to play doctor.

Wolf to the Rescue

"Peaches," Josie M. and Marge Kelley took a crack at the hickories but Kelley was afraid a wolf might be sent out after her instead of a St. Bernard dog.

Battered and beaten, the few who could still walk went to see "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"—but our bodies weren't.

California Teams Trample Nevadans

By Jim Coleman

The Wolf Pack returned to the campus after a weekend trip to California with three defeats chalked up against them.

Nevada met the Sacramento Panthers Thursday night on the California's home floor in a re-match and dropped the contest 55-46. Cliff France and "Smoky" Smolinski lead Nevada in scores with 17 and 15 points, while the two sharp shooting forwards of the Panthers, John Stanich and Don Beichmeyer, hit the Nevada basket for 17 points apiece.

Camp Parks

Moving on to Camp Parks Friday night, the Nevada five were turned back once again by the fast and experienced Seabees to the tune of 69-36. The Seabees started fast and left the floor at half time with a lead of 40-18. Lt. Murphy of Camp Parks took high score honors with Nevada's two tall forwards, France and Smolinski, handing in 16 and 12 points apiece.

Fleet City

Saturday night the Wolf Pack ran up against the Fleet City Bluejackets in another re-match game and were handed their third defeat in as many nights, 64-37.

The Bluejackets played host to the Pack while the new gymnasium at the California base was being dedicated. The Navy roughed up the Nevada boys and drew 23 fouls while Nevada pulled down only eight. Pete Simon paced the Wolf Pack with 14 points, while Smoky Smolinski tanked nine points.

WAA BADMINTON BEGINS

The badminton season will get under way Monday, February 26, at four o'clock, according to Miss Ethel Dixon, advisor. This activity may be taken for WAA credit. Janet Rowley has been selected manager.

Campusites to Study Swimming Lessons

Trained life-saving instructors are badly needed to teach aquatic skills to military and civilian personnel. Mrs. Celesta Coulson, secretary of American Red Cross, Washoe county chapter, announced to students.

During the summer months accredited guards are much in demand to supervise water activities at municipal swimming pools and to direct water front programs at summer resorts.

D. Rowe, Red Cross water safety instructor, will conduct a week's course at Moana Springs from April 19 to 24. The only charge will be for the use of the pool. Information may be obtained from the office of Red Cross on Center street.

Only One-Eighth of Campus $800 goal Collected at Completion of WSSF Drive

$120 Contributed in Extended Drive Under War Board Finance Bureau Plan

By Pat Ussey

With collections totaling $102.36, the campus WSSF drive ended Monday night after attaining only one-eighth of its $800 goal.

Sponsored by the finance bureau of the university war board, the student relief drive was originally scheduled from February 9 to 16, but was extended three days because of the small number of contributions.

Two Dollars Asked

Students were asked to give two dollars, approximately the cost of one day's schooling. It is estimated that 20 per cent of the university students contributed to the drive.

Total amounts collected by the groups participating in the drive are as follows: Pi Beta Phi, $6.99; Zeta Phi Zeta and Artemisia-Manzanita Association, $4; Delta Delta Delta, $31; Interfraternity and Independents, nothing; Kappa Alpha Theta, $31; Gamma Phi Beta, $19.37.

YWCA Contributes

YWCA contributed $10 as a group, and proceeds from the Delta Delta Delta skit, "Hot Chocolate," which was given at the Century Club February 10, are to be turned in at a later date, according to Marie Aldrich, president.

Money collected will be sent to the World Student Service Fund office in New York City. Approximately 30 per cent of the funds collected nationally will be cabled to Chungking for distribution among Chinese evacuees. Thirty-four per cent will be sent to Geneva to aid European students including prisoners of war, internees, refugees and students in occupied and liberated countries.

Student refugees and prisoners of war in North America will receive 23 per cent of the funds in the form of scholarships and cash loans. The remaining 13 per cent is used for the WSSF educational and operating budget.

1945 Goal $500,000
Contributions received by the WSSF during the school year of 1945-1944 totaled $238,000, including money from 643 colleges and schools and contributions from individuals and miscellaneous groups. The national goal for the year 1944-1945 is $500,000.

Jane Creel, chairman of the finance bureau, stated that the war board was disappointed not mainly in the total collected during the drive, but in the number of students who took the opportunity to contribute even a small amount.

Advanced Credits Granted Approval

Fourteen student transcripts with advanced credits were discussed and approved at a meeting of the committee on admission and advanced standing held Monday in the office of the registrar, according to Dean Stanley G. Palmer, chairman.

Members of the committee include Dean Palmer, dean of the college of engineering; Dr. M. W. Deming, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. C. R. Hicks, head of the department of history and political science, and Dr. Fredrick Wood, dean of the college of arts and science.

The function of this standing committee is to pass upon the records of students seeking admission and the records of transfers from other universities who wish advanced standing.

University Publishes Veteran Information

A bulletin of concise information on education for veterans offered by the University of Nevada is being sent out to veteran discharge centers all over the country.

Compiled by Dr. Robert S. Griffin, executive secretary of the alumni association, it answers questions about admission requirements, entrance credits to be given for college level work done under military supervision, vocational and other courses and college expenses and organizations.

Copies may be obtained from the office of the president on request.

Graduation Plans Begun by Seniors

"Graduation announcements are here and all orders must be in before the end of March," stated Mary Beth Borner, class president, at a meeting of the senior class Wednesday afternoon. Only four out of a group of 46 prospective seniors have ordered announcements at this date.

Plans were discussed for senior week and it was decided that the senior programs for that week would be the same as usual. The program serves as a directory for all graduation week affairs.

An assembly, tentatively planned to be a junior-senior assembly, will be given March 15. Gil Sutton will be in charge of arrangements.

Suggestions for the customary senior gift to the university were submitted, but no decision was reached. Committees for senior week will be announced at a later date.

DEAN MARSH'S OFFICE REMAINS IN LIBRARY

Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women, has announced that her office will remain at its present location in the library building. The library staff previously planned to use the office as a browsing room and Mrs. Marsh was to have occupied quarters in the new college canteen in the basement of Stewart Hall. However, plans are now being made for the browsing room to be housed upstairs in the library.

FINE ARTS SPONSORS EXHIBIT OF PAINTING

An exhibit of flower pastels by Mrs. Ray Root of Reno will be sponsored by the Fine Arts group this week, according to Barbara Heany, president.

The exhibit will be held from February 26 through March 2 in the electrical engineering building.

Mazour to Take Leave for Year

Doctor to Continue Siberian Research

Dr. Anatole Mazour, history and political science professor at the University of Nevada, will take a year's leave of absence starting next September to teach Russian history at Stanford University. He will also continue his research work on the economic development of Siberia and the possible future relations between the United States and Russia.

Russian Authority

Dr. Mazour is considered an authority on the affairs of Russia. He is an author of two books, one on the first Russian revolution of 1825 and one on Russian historical writing, as well as numerous articles in French and American periodicals.

This summer he plans to teach at Laramie, Wyoming, from June 15 to July 25 and then come back to the University of Nevada and teach in the summer session.

Conduct Classes

Stanford is establishing an institute of eastern history in which Dr. Mazour will conduct two classes. He also hopes to complete his latest history of Russia while there.

AIEE TO SEE MOVIES AT FEBRUARY 28 MEET

"Railroading," a history of the development of electricity as applied to mainline railroads, will be one of two movies to be shown at the February 28 meeting of the campus group of American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Frank Apa, chairman, announced this week. The meeting will be held in the Electrical Engineering building, room 101.

The second film will be an engineering or scientific picture, but has not been definitely decided upon.

NOTICE

Deadline for proposed amendments to the ASUN constitution was set this week at March 5 and must be in possession of the executive committee at that time, according to Leonore Hill, president.

He spoke to the members of the club on mining and the living conditions of the miners and described the subversive activities of Nazis in the mines.
