

Snack Bar Will Open Early in New Semester

Quick snacks between classes will soon be possible for UN's students with the opening of the YWCA snack bar set for early in the new semester, according to Dorothy Thomas, general chairman of the project. The snack bar will be located in the basement of Stewart Hall and will operate every week day from 8:30 am to 1 pm.

YWCA members will each work at the snack bar one hour a week, and will serve cakes, pies, doughnuts, candy bars, coffee, chocolate, milk, and pineapple, tomato, grapefruit and orange juices.

Sandwiches and soup will also be served if there is sufficient demand for them, and there will be a special day every week on which hotdogs, ice cream or strawberry shortcake will be featured. An employee will work in the snack bar from 11 am to 1 pm every day, and YWCA members will serve during the morning hours.

Small round tables and chairs will provide places where student customers may eat after ordering from the counter, and the juke box will provide music for dancing.

Frosh Violators Sentenced Wed.

Ten offenders were sentenced by the women's upperclass committee at a meeting Wednesday, according to Virginia Olesen, chairman, establishing a record for offenses.

Three women, Jo Ann Rose, Marjorie Brodie and Jean Kerns, who failed to attend the meeting will receive double punishment at the next sentencing.

Second offense will be punished by going without lipstick and make-up on campus for one week. Three women failing to wear freshman ribbons after a first punishment by the committee are Kay Sterling, Pat Carmichael and Doris Maloney.

Phyllis Green, Beverly Burhans and Marilyn James were sentenced to wear a large bow for a first ribbon offense, and Jean Sweatt was punished for not having a ribbon or freshman bible.

Group Begins Work on Books

Committee members were appointed to plan the new WAA handbook for freshman women at a meeting of the executive board in the old gym Tuesday, according to Mary Watts Moore, president.

The handbook will contain all information about WAA activities and will be available at the beginning of next semester. Members of the handbook committee are Mary Ann Wells, chairman, Beverly Brown and Merrie Jo Harp.

Each board member reported on her activity and plans were completed for the WAA initiation at the meeting also, Mrs. Moore said.

Donation to Libe Made This Week

Fifteen volumes and eight periodicals were donated to the university library this week by the father of the late Donald A. Purdy, member of the class of 1943, according to James Hill, head of the library.

The books on economics and sociology were from the private library of the former student. Purdy was in the army air corps and was reported lost during a mission of the B-29 on which he was a radio gunner.

WOMEN DORMITORIES COMPLETELY FILLED

Artemisia and Manzanita halls are expected to be filled completely next semester, according to Mrs. Alice B. Marsh, acting dean of women. Faculty members who have been living in Manzanita hall have moved to apartments and homes in order to make room for the 25 new girls expected to move into the halls, Mrs. Marsh said.

Of the new women students who have made application, many are from California, she added.

Fewer D Notices Issued for Past Six Weeks' Period

While the women on campus show a marked improvement scholastically in the number receiving delinquent notices this six weeks over last six weeks period, the men's record shows little variation, reports from the office of the registrar indicate.

Forty-seven women received 68 delinquent notices this last six weeks, as compared with 56 women receiving 73 delinquent notices for the last six weeks period. In the men's department, 82 received 134 delinquent slips in comparison with 87 men receiving 135 delinquent slips last six weeks.

Although there is only one less delinquent report for the men, there were five less men receiving them, indicating that there were more delinquent slips per man. The campus women's record was lower in both delinquent slips and in the number of women receiving them.

No record is kept in the registrar's office of the D notices that are sent out each six weeks, because the D notices are sent directly to the advisors.

British Lecturer To Speak Phi Kappa Phi Day

British lecturer Donald Grant will be the principal speaker for Phi Kappa Phi Day, Friday, February 15, according to Dr. P. A. Lehenbauer, chairman of the special speakers committee. Other committee members are Dr. R. L. Griffin and Dr. A. W. Wiederhold.

Mr. Grant, lecturer from England, is traveling under the sponsorship of the Institute of International Education, established by the Carnegie Peace Foundation.

His morning lecture will be on "Russia in Asia and in Europe"; his evening lecture on "Britain's New Labor Government and its policies."

FILM PRESENTED

Films on Brazil, Canada and the United States farming were featured today at 11:15 am in the educational building auditorium. This was the second in the series of March of Time assemblies presented under the supervision of Dr. Austin E. Hutcheson, chairman of the committee on assemblies and lectures.

Modified Hazing Methods Are Favored By Students, Sagebrush Poll Reveals

By Bets Seddon

With the current emphasis on finals and grades, the topic of fraternities and initiations is foremost now in many student minds. With this idea in mind, a poll of the men students on campus, when asked the question, "Do you believe in hazing, and why or why not?", proved almost unanimously that they favor it. In the following statements this unanimity is proven.

Orsie Graves, veteran, junior, fraternity member, said, "Yes, in certain cases. Jim Mackey, veteran, freshman, fraternity member, said, "Yes, it does a lot towards straightening a pledge's mental attitude." Bud Mason, freshman, pledge, said, "No, because I'm a pledge, the only one left."

Should Be Constructive
Bill Fryer, veteran, senior, fraternity member, said, "Yes, as far as constructive hazing is concerned—beating is useless." Maurice Hagle, veteran, freshman, pledge, said, "Yes, not too much, but enough to keep them in line." Dick Gorman, freshman, pledge, said, "Yes, it is part of an education."

Paul Parraguirre, senior, fraternity member, said, "Fraternity hazing is okay as long as it is kept off campus, and to keep traditions it is all right, but otherwise no." Max Dodge, veteran, senior, fraternity member, said, "Yes, but it can be overdone; people on the outside get the wrong idea."

For Amusement
Noel Willis, veteran, junior, fraternity member, said, "Yes, for the pledges' and actives' amusement, but no physical punishment. Bob McClure, junior, fraternity member, said, "No, mental torture can be used to some extent."

Al Westall, freshman, non-member, said, "Yes, as long as it is mental." Bob Craig, senior, non-member, said, "Yes, if a person wants to join a frat it is part of his life." Al Di-Chiara, freshman, fraternity member, said, "Yes, if they can take 'hell week' they can take anything."

Should Use Humor
Darwin Farnsworth, freshman, pledge, said, "Yes, when it is done with a sense of humor." Grant Davis, veteran, sophomore, fraternity member, said, "Yes, so I can get even with the 'guys' that hazed me."

Bonny Uturbide, freshman, pledge, said, "Yes, to a certain degree. Bud Slight, freshman, pledge, said, "Yes, anything that doesn't interfere with studies or embarrass the pledge."

SETTING FOR U OF N'S WINTER CARNIVAL

Pictured above is part of the Mt. Rose Bowl where the university winter carnival will take place starting February 15. Planned to be one of the largest winter sports affairs in this territory, the ski carnival is under the direction of Stan Brown backed by a Ski Club committee and an ASUN committee.

Students May Obtain Railroad Tickets From Registrar Mon.

Since many requests for railroad tickets have already been received, Mrs. Jeanette Rhodes, registrar, today announced that none would be available to students until January 28.

Registration will be held throughout the following week. This is the first time students have been able to register during the final week and those taking advantage of this opportunity may arrange a four to six day vacation between semesters. They will not be required to return until second semester instruction begins February 5, if registration has been completed.

Thief Steals YWCA Juke Box Records

A musical-minded thief stole 11 phonograph records from the juke box in the basement rooms of Stewart Hall sometime this week, according to Rose Nannini, president of YWCA.

On the day after Christmas vacation, someone seriously damaged the back of the juke box by forcing it open and removing one record. Later the same day the other ten were taken. One record, a cracked one, was left.

The juke box and records do not belong to the YWCA yet, according to Teddy Hicks, YWCA member who had charge of securing the box. It was loaned to the students for a trial before it was purchased, she said.

Account of Trip Given by ME Men

Arthur Alles, Stanley Wines and William Lane, students in steel metallurgy, gave an account of their trip to the Columbia Steel Company at Pittsburg, California, at a meeting of the Crucible Club on January 2.

These students, with all expenses paid, made the trip under the supervision of Prof. William Smythe, associate professor of Metallurgy and mining, on January 4 and 5, as an S. Frank Hunt Foundation trip.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

A meeting of the executive committee will be held Tuesday, January 15, at 4 pm in the ASUN building, according to President Paul Parraguirre.

Chapter Houses Open for All Nevada Frats

With an increased enrollment of men expected next semester, two more fraternity houses are opening. All national Greek fraternities on the campus have now reopened their houses and kitchen facilities are being opened in some houses.

Active and pledge members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are moving into their house on Evans avenue this week. Initiation of the pledges will be held soon, Royden Beardall, president, said.

Official Opening
President Clayton Trigero has announced that the ATOs will have official house opening on January 15. The kitchen will be used, he said.

Nineteen Lambda Chi Alpha pledges will be initiated this weekend. A banquet honoring the new members will be held on the Sunday following final initiation degrees, according to Glenn White, president. The Lambda Chi kitchen has been open for some time.

Rooms Painted
The inside of the Phi Sigma Kappa house was painted by the eight pledges who will be initiated Sunday afternoon. A banquet will follow the ceremonies, according to Noel Willis, president. The kitchen of the Phi Sig house was opened Thursday, according to Willis.

Student Works Off Upperclass Tickets

Roger Olmstead, whose student privileges were revoked by senate for failure to paint the "N," will work off his punishment this week, Noel Willis, chairman of the men's upperclass committee, declared this week.

New students may register their cars at the same time they receive their student body cards. Willis announced. Registration tags and student body cards may be obtained at the ASUN president's office.

ARTEMISIA PICTURE SCHEDULE TOLD

Charles Bennett, photographer for the Artemisia, will start taking pictures of the presidents of organizations next week, following the completion of the pictures of faculty members, according to Alice Etchart, editor of the Artemisia.

Miss Etchart also wishes to remind all students who signed up for work on the Artemisia that their help is needed and there is still plenty of work to be done.

Date for Ski Carnival Set by ASUN Committee

Stanford, U of C Accept University of Nevada's Invitation to Participate in Winter Sports Events

At a joint meeting of the Ski Club and the carnival committee, dates for the University of Nevada winter carnival were set as February 15, 16 and 17, Stan Brown, carnival chairman disclosed.

Brown continued that telegrams inviting University of Utah, University of California, UCLA, Stanford and University of Washington have been set to those schools. Stanford and California have indicated

Alpha Tau Omega To Reopen House January 15

Alpha Tau Omega will officially reopen its University Terrace house on Tuesday, January 15, Clayton Trigero, president, announced today. The formal opening will consist of a procession led by the "merry men of ATO" beginning at the Gow house and proceeding down Virginia street, turning right on Ninth, and then up University Terrace. Here the "Hillcrest Guest House" sign will be removed, revealing the Greek letters symbolizing Alpha Tau Omega, and the house will be formally reopened.

Approximately 20 men will move in immediately with several others to follow soon. A house warming will be held on Friday, January 18.

Used by Coeds
The house was closed in the spring of 1943 when the army created a man shortage on the campus. The next fall it was filled with women students as the army took over Artemisia and Manzanita halls for the air cadets. In the first semester of 1944 the residence was leased by Mrs. R. D. Allen and became known as the "Hillcrest Guest House."

In a downtown locker the ATOs have a 2500 pound stock of steaks and roasts and have purchased one ton of potatoes. With an excellent cook already on the payroll the ATOs are well prepared for anything the future holds, Trigero said.

School of Mines Plans Open House

Open house at the Mackay School of Mines will be held on January 14, all afternoon and evening, for students to meet members of the Nevada section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Those attending the meetings of the Nevada Mine Operators Association on January 14 in Reno and the governor's advisory mining board on January 15 in Carson City will be guests.

A technical meeting will be held in the Mackay School of Mines on January 14 at 8 pm. These meetings will be open to all students, Director Jay A. Carpenter of the Mackay School of Mines, announced.

Rev. Charles Dohn To Address Group

Members of the Wesley Foundation will discuss "You in the Atomic Age" following a preliminary talk by Rev. Charles J. Dohn of the First Christian church on January 13 at a regular meeting.

The meeting will be at 6:30 pm in the Methodist church and the devotion services will be led by the Epworth League group.

Following the meeting will be a short social hour under the direction of Miss Betty Tracy. Refreshments will be served.

COMPLETES TRAINING

Phyllis A. Coker, a student at the University of Nevada from 1943 to 1945, has completed a training course in Los Angeles and is now a "counselaire" at the Las Vegas office of Western Air Lines.

While a student at the university, Miss Coker majored in foreign languages.

definite acceptance, but due to the current telegraph strike, the other schools have not been heard from.

It is also expected that ski clubs and teams from other western schools will attend and participate in the meet, although they will not be sponsored by their universities.

Beginning the three-day event will be sorority open houses, at which time house decorations, both inside and out will be judged. On Saturday the meet will take place at the Mount Rose Bowl, where men's slalom, downhill and cross country will be held as well as a women's slalom. A snow chase will be open to all novices.

Saturday night will see the snow queen, a coed from an outside college, crowned at the snow ball. The queen will be picked by Carnival Chairman Stan Brown, Ski Club President Loie Post and one other judge. Qualifications will include skiing ability as well as good looks.

The carnival will end on Sunday with the jumping contest, tentatively scheduled to take place at Galena Creek.

Dr. H. Wheeler Back on Campus

After a 32 months leave of absence, Dr. Harry E. Wheeler, associate professor of geology, returned to the university this week and will resume classes next semester. Dr. Wheeler was released from active duty with the navy on December 21.

Commissioned a lieutenant in May, 1943, Dr. Wheeler served as executive officer of basic medical and dental V-12 units in the state of Nebraska and later was assigned as cartographic engineer officer in the navy's hydrographic office in Washington, D. C. Prior to returning to civilian life, Wheeler served in the capacity of the prospective cartographic officer aboard the USS Taconic, originally designated as an amphibious forces flagship.

Currently Dr. Wheeler is employed by the State Bureau of Mines and will continue to divide his time between the university and the state bureau. Dr. Wheeler first came to the university in 1935.

Army Map Service Made Available

The university library has been made a depository for the Army Map Service, according to James J. Hill, librarian.

Under this system the university will possess a complete set of army maps, totalling 50,000 for student use. The maps will come to the library in shipments, each shipment containing 1000 of these maps, completing the set in about three years.

In return for this service, the university has placed at the disposal of the Army Map Service all of the maps belonging to the school, Mr. Hill stated.

TWO WITHDRAWALS

Two men students, Jack Forrester and Virgil Patton, dropped school over Christmas vacation. This brings the total number of dropped students for this semester to 28, according to Mrs. Jeanette Rhodes, registrar.

FINE ARTS MEETING

Plans for future exhibits and speakers for the Fine Arts Club will be the topic for discussion at a regular meeting Monday, according to Frances Cook, president. The meeting will be at 8:15 pm at the Pi Beta Phi house.

CAMPUS PARKING PROBLEM

Nevada students have been taking parking regulations set by the senate much too lightly. As a result all student cars might be banned from the campus.

In ignoring the parking directives the students leave themselves open to $1 fines to be paid to the registrar. However, if the number of violators continues to grow, the gates of the university may be chained off and all students owning cars would be forced to park on streets surrounding the university grounds.

Considerable criticism has been heaped on the men's upper-class committee for neglecting to pass out tickets to those who do not heed the rules. Chairman Noel Willis has outlined the parking sections carefully and has done more than his share to put the program into successful operation. Some of the members on his committee, however, have done little or nothing to aid the work along. These do-nothing members are open to as much criticism as the violators themselves.

Many students can see no reason for the parking rules, but in the event of fire or traffic accident it would logically be necessary to have the streets of the campus clear for emergency measures.

What you as an individual do with your car on the campus might well determine the future policy of the senate and men's upperclass committee in the matter. So before you park out of the designated section again—consider the consequences.

THE MYTHICAL FIFTH

A host of rumors flooded the campus this week concerning the possibility of the entrance of a new sorority at Nevada. Talk of the new group filled the houses along sorority row until it was hard to distinguish fact from gossip.

We found that the president of the university knew nothing about the matter, other than the fact that the sorority talked about was the one to which his daughter belongs. The acting dean of women was unable to attach anything concrete to the rumor.

She said that three national sororities had written her asking information about the university and the prospects for establishing a new house here. Making queries were Delta Gamma, Theta Phi and Chi Omega. Nothing definite has yet been advanced by two of the groups. Delta Gamma returned a negative decision.

The fact that one of these groups may still be considering Nevada as a good place to install a new chapter cannot be written off as improbable. So although it seems at this time that nothing is yet underway, it is very possible that UN's four sororities might soon have to make room for a fifth.

Former Students Army Dischargees

Warren Ferguson, graduate of the university with the class of '42, was recently discharged from the army after three and a half years of service. Active in campus affairs, he served as the chairman of the Mackay Day committee in his senior year. He was a member of Beta Kappa fraternity, now chartered as Theta Chi. Formerly assigned to headquarters company, university training command, Florence, Italy, he served in Italy and North Africa. Mr. Ferguson resides in Eureka, Nevada.

Lt. James D. Borge of Yerington, and former senior student at the University of Nevada, has just returned home from a year with the 14th air force at Kuming, China. After serving two years in the air force, he was discharged three weeks ago.

Lt. Borge intends to continue his education at the University of Nevada. His wife is the former Emilie Turano of Reno and a graduate of the University of Nevada in 1943. Lt. Borge is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Former Instructor Visits Department

Captain Mae Simas, former instructor in the women's physical education department, visited the campus this week while on terminal leave, according to Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the PE department.

Captain Simas recently returned from Italy where she was one of 23 women chosen from over 10,000 to be awarded the Legion of Merit.

While on campus she was faculty advisor for the YWCA. She is an alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta.

New Furniture Set

This week the "Snakes" of Sigma Nu are bursting with pride. Their house has a complete new set of furniture, according to Bill Ward, house manager.

Included in the furniture are four love seats, two divans, modernistic chairs, tables and lamps, and two ping pong tables.

A house warming will be held the night of January 18, following the basketball game, Ward also stated.

Mining Engineer Makes Visit Here

Harry Dawson, mechanical engineering graduate, was a visitor on the campus recently after being released from active service in the Canadian army. He has secured an engineering position with the Douglas Aircraft Company in Santa Monica, California, Dean Stanley G. Palmer said.

Dawson, a lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Air Force, was stationed in England for three years where he had charge of ground crew maintenance during the heavy night bombing in the spring of 1943.

Dawson and his brother, George, a mining engineer graduate, came to this campus in September, 1937, from Victoria, British Columbia, and were graduated in 1941. George Dawson is now employed as a mining engineer in Canada.

HOWARD MASON SPEAKS AT FACULTY CLUB MEET

"An Outline of Nevada Agriculture" was the subject of a talk given by Howard G. Mason of the Nevada agricultural experiment station at the Faculty Club meeting held last Tuesday evening, January 8, in the home economics rooms of the agriculture building.

Dr. Cecil W. Creel, president, was in charge of the meeting and introduced the speaker. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon C. Grafton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Headley, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Scranton. Refreshments were served.

PLAN INITIATION

Plans will be made for Gothic N initiation to be held soon, according to Mrs. Ethel Whitlatch, faculty advisor for the group. Maie Nygren is president of Gothic N.

Two men got off a bus. One had come to town for good. The other was a sailor on leave.

Four Nevadans Attend SAE Meet

Six members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity from the University of Nevada were present at the 89th anniversary "victory national convention" of that fraternity held in Chicago December 26 through the 29th.

Traveling as the delegate from the Nevada Alpha chapter was Royden Beardall. George Himes attended as his alternate.

Also attending from the campus was Dr. John O. Moseley, director of the fraternity's leadership training school, and his son, John N. Moseley, who represented the Reno alumni association.

Two members of the fraternity who were active on the campus last year and are now serving in the navy also attended the convention. Gerald Lokke came from the Great Lakes naval training station where he is stationed, and Walt Coughlin traveled from Memphis, Tennessee, to attend the affair.

Dr. Moseley was re-elected to serve another term as director of the fraternity's leadership school.

Nevada Places Third in Reno Hoop Tourney

(1) Utah, (2) California, (3) Nevada, (4) Stanford. That was the order of finish in the first annual Reno invitational basketball tournament held during the Christmas holidays.

Before capacity houses both evenings, local fans were treated to a quartet of games packed with excitement and drama. Only on the first night when a superior Utah five trounced Stanford by a 53-15 count, were the final outcomes of the game ever decided until in the last minutes of play.

After Stanford had bowed to Utah in the first game of the tourney, California and Nevada engaged in probably what will be termed the best game of the season in the local gymnasium. Trailing at one stage of the game by eight points after "blowing" an early five point lead, the Pack, led by Ebby Robertson, tied the score at 31 all with only a half a minute of play remaining when Jim Melarkey bucked a charity toss. California countered with two quick baskets to clinch the right to enter the finals.

In the consolation round, Nevada hung a 47-30 drubbing around the neck of a stubborn Stanford Indian. Robertson and Melarkey again led the scoring parade with the former getting 13 and the latter counting 12.

For 30 minutes the final game of the tourney for the championship between the Golden Bears and the Utes was a thriller with both five connecting from far out and matching goal for goal. In the end it was the classy superiority of the Salt Lake City lads that finally proved the difference. After being tied at 31 apiece, the Utah quintet poured in five quick field goals and a pair of free throws to drag down the title, 43-31.

Ebby Robertson, second high tournament scorer with 23 digits, was picked to the first string all-tournament team while Jim Melarkey was voted second string honors.

Jimmy Melarkey Nets 16 Points In Hoop Contest

Sparked by Jim Melarkey who meshed the mesh for 16 points, the University of Nevada Wolves turned back the Mather Field flyers on Wednesday by a score of 51-42. The Pack defeated the Sacramento army base team earlier in the season 45-36.

After trailing 25-15 at half time, the flyers put on a determined bid early in the third quarter to pull within three points of the locals, but a sustained scoring attack spearheaded by Melarkey and Orsie Graves lengthened the lead early in the final period.

By dumping in eight field goals, Melarkey continued his sensational scoring pace which has netted him 57 points in the last three games.

Wolves to Meet Navy Five Tonite

Sporting a seasonal record of 10 victories in 13 starts, Coach Jake Lawlor's basketball aggregation takes the court tonight to engage the strong Alameda naval air station scheduled to get underway at 8:15 in the new gymnasium.

Considered to be one of the nation's top ranking service teams and currently rated number one on the Pacific coast, the visiting sailors figure to offer plenty of competition both nights. Earlier in the season Alameda defeated the University of California which should be somewhat indicative of the strength of the visiting quintet in view of the fact that the Golden Bears edged the locals in the recent Reno tournament.

Lawlor indicated earlier in the week that he would open with the same combination that has started the last six games which will include Jim Melarkey and Ebby Robertson at forwards, Smokey Smoliniski at center, and Jim Mackey and Orsie Graves at guards.

The District of Columbia is a territory hounded on all sides by the United States of America.

Brush Reporter Lists Unusual Student Hobbies

By Betts Seddon
"If I were not so fat and big, I would not eat like a pig, I would not be so fat and big."

This is a poem entitled "Logic" by Betty Rae of Sparks, and is among the especially prized amateur poems in Tosca Masini's collection.

Tosca has been collecting this sort of poetry since the ninth grade because of an English poetry class she had to take. She had to wade through so much "long hair rhythm," that she decided amateur poetry, which was especially clever, should be given recognition.

Through the years she has collected this poetry from empty desks, and waste baskets, and has pasted them in a scrap book, which now contains approximately 75 poems.

Blotter Collection

George Prietti, freshman, started collecting blotters and pencils ten years ago. He started this collection because the other youngsters his age were doing the same thing. He has pencils and blotters from all over the world, which total up to about 1000.

Among his especially interesting pencils are one with a beer mug on the top, and another in the form of a pretzel both from Germany, and one shaped like a doll from Austria.

George has blotters from every state in the union and from several foreign countries.

Nevada Graduate Sends Records Of War Trials

Copies of the most important documents submitted by the United States as evidence in the German war criminals trial at Nuremberg are being received at the University of Nevada.

Graphically telling the story of how the Nazis planned and carried on aggressive war to conquer the world, the copies were sent to Professor A. L. Higginbotham by Robert C. Miller, U. of N. journalism graduate.

When all of the copies have been received and assembled, they will be made available for examination at the University of Nevada library.

Used in Classes
At present they are being used by the faculties of journalism and history and by students in those departments.

A United Press war correspondent, Miller has been covering the trials for that news association and has just been returned to this country for the treatment of a wound suffered in France.

Few Copies
The University of Nevada is believed to be one of the few American universities to have copies of the documents, which were seized by American troops as they poured into Germany before the officials could destroy the papers.

All in English translation, the copies are of notes at meetings of the high command, addresses by Hitler to his lieutenants, orders by Hitler and top generals, plans for conquering various countries by arms, transcriptions of telephone conversations, German reviews of the war, and similar records kept by the Nazis of their plans.

UN Skier in First Place in Event

Wearing university colors, Eddie Meaker of Reno traversed the downhill course at the Mount Rose Bowl in one minute and 17 seconds to win first place in an open ski meet held there December 30. Meaker, recently returned from the air force, plans to enter the university next semester.

Other university skiers competing and their track times were: Les Hawkins, 1:36.8; Jerry Brown, 1:38.6; Lois Post, 2:11.6; Dick Rowley, 2:22.4.

Competing in the meet were 17 skiers representing the University of Nevada, the Reno Ski Club, Dartmouth, Los Angeles Ski Club, Reno high school and Portola.

The affair was originally planned as a race between the university and Reno high school squads, but was changed to the open event because of top skiers missing from both teams. Since each skier was entered as an individual, no team honors were awarded.

Nevada Takes COP In Second Game

After dropping a 41-39 decision to College of Pacific last Friday night in Stockton, Coach Jake Lawlor's basketball aggregation gained a split in the two game series by turning back the Tigers on Saturday 43-32.

With College of Pacific holding a nine point margin at half time in the first encounter, Lawlor's lads spurred early in the final half to take the lead only to have the Pacific five come back to count a field goal and a brace of free throws in the final minute of action. With less than 30 seconds to play and the Pack trailing by the four point margin, Grant Davis, forward swished in a long field goal to pull within two points of the Stockton team. Jim Melarkey's long one-handed push shot just failed to connect as the final gun sounded.

Playing a vastly improved brand of ball on Saturday, the Nevada five jumped into a 11 point lead at half time and held it throughout the remainder of the game. Jim Melarkey, recent navy dischargee, with 17 field goals and seven free throws for his two nights' effort led the series scoring with 41 points followed by Ebby Robertson with 15 and Jim Mackey with 11.

Three Grid Stars Return to Campus

Max Dodge, Lloyd Rude and Buster McClure, U. of N.'s three representatives in the recent East-West New Year's Shrine classic, returned from San Francisco this week after what they unanimously termed "three weeks of continuous excitement."

The Nevada trio was feted at numerous bay area banquets both before and after the game and spent numerous hours visiting with children at the Shriner's hospital. All were awarded leather jackets and wrist watches as well as lifetime passes to the annual January 1 classic.

Concerning the playing of the game, which ended deadlocked at 7-7, sports scribes were lavish with their praise for the performance of the three Nevadans. For 56 minutes "Big Max" played his greatest game of the season. While not on the receiving end of any passes, the former Washington State athlete was a bulwark on defense recovering two fumbles, one of which led to the West's only score, and consistently tossed the East backs for numerous losses.

Fans were also greatly impressed with the straight ahead power of Rude, one of the few freshmen to participate this year. McClure was the west's only representative holder from last year.

The Bell System plans an extensive trial of two-way radio in providing telephone service to vehicles in a number of large cities.

Connections with other telephones will be made through the nearest of several receiving and transmitting stations operated by the telephone company. It is generally similar to the existing ship-shore radio telephone service for vessels in coastal and inland waters.

The main job right now is making more telephones available for those who have been waiting for regular service. But as soon as the new equipment can be built the Bell System will begin extending telephone service to vehicles.

Three Mining Students Discover Gold Ore Under Campus Building

By Jac Petersen

Mining students are beginning to take a new interest in their work because of recently discovered gold, silver and copper deposits on campus, Director Jay A. Carpenter of the Mackay School of Mines asserted today.

Three students employed during Christmas vacation by F. S. Markham in the interest of the O'Brien minerals collection were making excavations in the basement of the Mackay School of Mines building for steps to be built to connect the main floor of the museum with the basement for the installation of the O'Brien collection when the discovery was made.

Student Miners

The work, done by William Harrigan, chief miner; William Busey, assistant miner, and John Labonk, mucker, consisted of removing a four foot cube of solid concrete that had formerly been the base of the seismograph. Due to the dangers of blasting in such a restricted area a compressor and jack hammer were used to drill rows of holes in the concrete, which was then broken with a sledge and wedges. Broken material was then hauled up from the basement by the old "armstrong" method.

In drilling the concrete Harrigan became covered with red dust which was later found to be from a large block of iron ore. This block was probably thrown into the concrete by the late Dr. J. C. Jones, at one time head of the geology department. Later green copper ore and also gold and silver ore were found. These ores were carefully sorted by the students and kept as their bonus.

When this show of ore was in place the men put on a notice of a mining discovery claim location and named it the "Markham Claim" in honor of their employer. However, the legality of this claim was questioned as no ore was found below the boulder and therefore might better have been located as a placer claim, Carpenter stated.
