Nine-Game Schedule Includes Matches With Several Top Pacific Coast Teams

Featuring a 5000 mile airplane jaunt into the southeast to engage the Mississippi State eleven, Nevada's 1946 grid schedule was released yesterday by Coach Jim Aiken.

The Wolf Pack will open their nine game schedule on September 29 against the USF Dons in Kezar Stadium, San Francisco. First home appearance will pit the locals against Santa Clara on October 5 followed by the second home game of the year the following week against San Jose State.

On October 19 the Wolves will journey to San Diego to participate in the first annual San Diego Shrine game and seven days later will take on the St. Mary's Gaels in the Golden Gate City.

Homecoming

Homecoming will be celebrated with Montana State furnishing the opposition on November 2 and the next week the Pack will play host to the Santa Barbara Gauchos. Negotiations for a post season tilt with the University of Hawaii Rainbows are still under way.

Seventh Annual Winter Carnival Opens With Skiers Meet Tonight

Sorority, Fraternity Members Make Room For Visiting Teams at Eight UN Houses

By Marilyn Reynolds

"The University of Nevada's seventh annual Winter Carnival promises to open the way for bigger and better college functions for the university, and should establish a precedent to be followed for years to come on the hill," was the statement made today by Stan Brown, chairman of the three-day carnival which begins tonight.

Brown also stated that he had no idea how many collegiate guests would be here, but a large crowd will be on hand to root for their respective teams, according to present indications.

Revolving Trophy To Be Presented By Snow Queen

Presentation of the Winter Carnival revolving trophy by the reigning snow queen will be made to the ski team collecting the most points from wins in the individual events, according to Stan Brown, chairman of the ski carnival. Awards will also be made to individual winners in the races. Brown also stated that certificates will be given as cups are not available.

In addition to the revolving trophy, Herz and Co. are donating a cup for the winner of the men's slalom and Ernie and Rudy's Sport Shop are giving the winner of the snow bunny chase a pair of ski poles.

Officials Announced

Officials for the ski tournament have been announced by Mary Jean McCollister, tournament director, and were obtained from the Reno Ski Club, townspeople and students.

Judges will be Bill Morgan, head setting the slalom courses, while Walter Herz will chairmen the slalom and downhill timers, that include Bill Moran, Ed Rose, Ted Patrick, Milt Zimmerman and Marcelle Herz. Earl Edmunds, Ed Rose and Bill Berry are to be judges of the jumping.

Starters

Starters are Larry Jenkins, Ed Tieslan, Charlie Goeffath and Dodie Post, while Milt Zimmerman, Joel Hildebrand, Glen Jones make up the referees. In charge of properties is Joe McDonald, administering first aid are Betty and Jim Scruggham.

The gatekeepers, under Jay Ellis and Snuffy O'Neill, include the following university students: Bob Wilson, Shirley Platt, Lyle Minor, Mary Libby, Sinclair Melner, Sandy Peterson, Ty Short, Jo Miller, Marilyn Dugan, Don Turner, Toy Farrier, Janet DaCosta, Barbara Olesen, Pat Riley, Paul Seaborn, Rodney Boudwin, Mary Ann Wells and Eric Richards.

Trial Program Planned by Radio Committee

Monday at 8 pm in the ASUN building a dummy recording of the proposed radio program to be presented by University of Nevada students will be played for all those interested, said Jim Coleman, production manager.

The temporary name for the program is "We'll Take It From Here," and it will be heard over the radio each Saturday evening from 8 to 8:15.

In the dummy recording only those appointed to the original staff will take part, but it is hoped that more students will become interested.

At the meeting to be held in the ASUN building any complaints or helpful hints will be gladly accepted, added Coleman.

Greeks Make Room

Nevada's fraternities and sororities have made arrangements to house the ski teams and some spectators because of the limited number of accommodations to be had in Reno. Kappa Alpha Theta will quarter 15; Tri-Delt, Pi Phi, Lambda Chi and SAE, each ten; Theta Chi, six; Phi Sig, five, and Sigma Nu, four, Brown said.

Six western schools, Oregon State, University of California, Stanford, Placer Junior College, Fresno State and Nevada will be represented in the ski tourney Saturday and Sunday at Mount Rose Bowl.

The four man team of University of California is Harry E. Morgan, Donald E. Voorhies, John H. Buestad and Wilbur Halley. Morgan and Voorhies will participate in all events, with Buestad and Halley entering the downhill and slalom.

Skiiing with the blue and silver colors of the University of Nevada and coached by Warren Hart, are Eddie Meaker, Jerry Wetzel, team captain, Peter Lawlor, Les and John Hawkins, and Bernard Smith. Feminine entries will be Jerry Brown, Nevada state women's champion, and Lois Post, University Ski Club president.

COINS FLIPPED TO ELECT PRES. OF BLUE KEY

Three coins flipped high into the air provided the election of officers for Blue Key, national service fraternity, for the coming year.

Twice the coins spun through the air before Noel Willis, returned veteran and member of Phi Sigma Kappa, was odd man and therefore new president of the organization.

Second Flip

Another flip of a coin gave Ed Beaupre the vice-presidency and Borge became treasurer. Bernard Smith, who was absent from the meeting, was unanimously elected to the position of secretary. Scarcity of members caused the unique method of election.

Blue Key, the service fraternity composed of upperclass men who have been leaders in university activities, will first consider the issue of the Blue Key campus directory, and the revival of weekly "get-together" socials to promote friendship on the campus, according to Ed Beaupre.

Invitations

Formal invitation to membership in Blue Key, which formerly sponsored the Wolves Frolic, will be mailed out as soon as the registrar has last semester's grades available, Willis stated. Grade equal to the previous semester "all men's average" is one of the membership requirements.

MEN OUTNUMBER COEDS

Men out number women, 625 to 422, showing considerable increase over last year's enrollment of 190 men to 398 women. Pre-war enrollment of one thousand students has been topped for the first time since 1941.

WELCOME SKIERS!

Welcome to the University of Nevada, members of visiting ski teams. We hope that your visit here will be an enjoyable one. It seems feasible that we should point out that in the first attempt in several years to stage a ski carnival, we have met many problems—some new and some old. In spite of a number of drawbacks, Nevada will return much of the old spirit and gaiety which characterized ski meets of pre-war years.

Members of the entire student body extend to Stan Brown, chairman of the meet, hearty thanks for a job well planned. To members and heads of his various committees goes our gratitude for their efforts in connection with the task.

Particular mention for contributions to the carnival is due Mary Jean McCollister, chairman of the ski events; Virginia Olesen, publicity director; Jacquie Prescott, chairman of the snow ball; Lois Post, president of the University Ski Club; Paul Parraguire and members of the senate, and the board of athletic control.

But to all concerned—remember your job will not be completed until Sunday. Continue your good work. Good luck and good skiing!

Beesley, acting head of the department of mathematics, recently acted as chairman at a session of a symposium on mathematical statistics and probability held in Berkeley.

NOTICE TO VETERANS

Veterans make certain that your correct Reno mailing address is on file with the Veterans Administration. Failure to file this information will cause delay in your monthly benefit checks. Proper change of address forms are available at the Veterans Administration office in the new engineering building.

THETA CHI SOCIAL

Members of Delta Delta Delta were entertained by the members of the Theta Chi fraternity when a social was presented at their fraternity house Thursday night. Committee in charge of arranging the affair consisted of George Schwarz, Bob Mills, Don Johnson and Don Raker.

LECTURE ON BOOKS

"Rare Books" will be the subject of a talk by Charles Cutts for the campus club of the Federated church Sunday at 5 pm. Cutts, an authority on old and precious books, will show his collection to the attending members, according to Mary Hill, president.

Rules of Draft Board Told by Col. G. H. Parker

It is no longer necessary for University of Nevada men to leave school on reaching the age of 18 in order to get into the service desired, said Col. Gilbert Parker, head of the university military department.

Most of these students are unaware that it is the practice of the Reno draft board to defer the call until the expiration of the current semester.

This deferment does not hurt the students' chances of enlisting in the service of their choice. When the semester is completed, and before they are called they are free to enlist in any branch of the service.

Sometimes student deferment is approved beyond the current semester, if their courses, other than military, are of special military value.

The imminence of draft call is not considered a ground for exemption from basic military training by the university officials, Col. Parker added.

Books Hard to Get, Says Frank Erickson

According to Frank Erickson of the University Book Store, things right now are looking down instead of up. Just when business begins picking up, the paper shortage cuts national book supplies and he is unable to furnish his many new customers with the books they need.

For every book he is able to obtain, there is one he cannot. Everything possible is being done to obtain a sufficient number of texts needed to supply the enlarged student body. Students who have not received their books as yet, may have to wait several weeks for those which are more difficult to obtain, Erickson said.

Support student activities.

Nevada Veterans DeRUSHIA VOLTURNO VETERAN

"German artillery fire was so accurate it could drop a shell into your rear hip pocket," said Jerry DeRushia, former Nevada student, who has returned to the university to resume his college career, after an interruption of three years.

DeRushia's service career dates back to March, 1943, when the University of Nevada enlisted reserve corps reported to Fort Douglas, and from there to Little Rock, Arkansas, for their basic infantry training. Five months later the McCloud, California, soldier was on his way to North Africa as an infantry replacement.

At Volturno

Joining the third division in August, DeRushia went into action late in October, with the famed division at Volturno. The 24-year-old rifleman fought with the above mentioned division in all of their Italian campaigns, including the bloody Cassino battle. After Cassino, DeRushia went to the Anzio beachhead.

According to DeRushia, Anzio was worse than the toughest Pacific campaign. For a month and a half his outfit was pinned on a narrow strip of land unable to advance or to retreat, always under the watchful eye of Nazi artillery gunners, bombardiers and ground troops. Once, in trying to break out of a pocket, Jerry's battalion made an attack through a forest approximately 200 yards wide and long.

Nazi Ambush

Allowing the Americans to infiltrate into the woods, the Germans in ambush suddenly cut loose with machine gun fire pinning down the battalion, and forcing them to seek shelter in an irrigation ditch 200 yards long near the edge of the forest. For two hours the Germans rained shells into the ditch, and due to their accuracy the unit suffered many casualties as well as having some of their men captured. The battalion finally made their way back to the American lines, but not before DeRushia had suffered a leg injury inflicted by gun fire.

Evacuated by boat to Naples from Anzio, after the breakthrough, DeRushia was finally ordered back to the states, and arrived in June, 1944. After a 30-day furlough, the former Nevada basketball star was assigned to the army ground and service forces redistribution station in Santa Barbara, California.

He received his discharge the latter part of 1945 at Camp Beale.

A member of Jake Lawlor's 1942-43 basketball squad, DeRushia intends to try for the team again next season, and in the meantime will be a member of the baseball team which will start practice in a few weeks.

Vets Distributed Evenly in All Departments

To date 450 veterans have registered at the university with a few more expected before the close of registration on Saturday, according to Dr. Robert S. Griffin, acting dean of men.

The veterans are evenly distributed in all the departments on the campus, but a slight preference is shown by them for the engineering courses. The two-year business administration course is popular with ex-service men, but all classes have a fair representation of veterans.

Official Count

Official figures for classes will not be available until all applications have been processed in Dr. Griffin's office.

The housing situation has not improved, according to Dr. Griffin, and no relief is expected until approval is received on the trailer houses which will be available to married veterans. The Federal Housing project is purchasing the trailers which will be rented to the university. A site has been cleared on West Second Street across from Chism's Auto Court for the trailers.

Married Vets

Married veterans who are not from Reno are being forced to live in hotels and auto courts, while the Reno men who are married are living with families and friends. Single veterans are still being placed in the recreation hall of Lincoln Hall. Dr. Griffin said that any Reno people with rooms for veterans should contact his office.

Twenty-Seven Teachers on Staff For Nevada's Summer Sessions

Nineteen members of the university faculty will be on the staff for the 1946 summer sessions, according to Dr. Harold N. Brown, director. A list of instructors for summer school has been compiled by Dr. Brown and will be included in the catalog soon to be published.

Instructors from other universities and Reno schools are also included in the list.

Dr. J. Sullivan Gibson will come to the University of Nevada from the University of Wisconsin to teach three courses in geography. Miss Veda B. Kinder, of the commercial department at the Las Vegas high school will teach typing and stenography.

Sociology Instructor
A. L. Lincoln, professor of social work at the University of North Dakota, will instruct three courses in sociology at the summer session. Arts and crafts will be taught by Mrs. Hazel Durham McComas, who was last a member of summer sessions in 1943.

Miss Elsie Pond, professor of education at Santa Barbara State College and former summer school instructor at the University of Nevada, will teach education courses, as will Dr. W. J. B. Truitt, principal of schools in Norfolk, Virginia; Roger Corbett, principal of Reno high school, and Miss Marie Burgess, primary teacher in Oakland schools.

Nevada Teachers
Other members of the summer session faculty who are now on the campus are Dr. Philip G. Auchampaugh, associate professor of history and political science; Dr. Maurice E. Beesley, acting head of the department of mathematics; Dr. Harold N. Brown, professor of education; Joanna E. Chapman, assistant professor of education; Dr. Benjamin F. Chappelle, head of the department of foreign languages.

Dr. Meryl W. Deming, associate professor of chemistry; Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, assistant professor of English; John R. Gottardi, associate professor of foreign languages; Dr. Charles Roger Hicks, head of the department of history and political science; James J. Hill, director of libraries; Dr. Austin E. Mergen, instructor in journalism; Dr. Fred W. Trauer, dean of the school of education; James R. Van Dyke, acting head of the school of mechanical engineering, and Dr. Loring R. Williams, associate professor of chemistry.

Production Mgr. Lauds YWCA Sec.

"Success of the filming of 'Marge' on the university campus was largely due to Helen Rachie, YWCA secretary," said Robert Webb, 20th Century-Fox production manager, who appointed Miss Rachie casting director two weeks before the arrival of the motion picture company in Reno.

Miss Rachie was in charge of signing up the 370 students who wished to work as extras in the picture, and registering the 17 old cars and 30 bicycles which were used for atmosphere.

In addition to this, Miss Rachie made out pay vouchers every evening for those who were to work the next day, and this usually amounted to 170 students. She also called the extras every evening to inform them if they had been chosen for work the following morning. This was done in addition to regular working hours in her office in the basement of Stewart Hall, where the paymaster of the company was also located, every day from 7:30 am to 6:30 pm.

Tailoring Methods Studied by Class

"Tailoring, the ability to make and design one's clothes is a worthwhile knowledge, and my students are doing very well along that line," said Miss Jessie Pope, associate professor of home economics and instructor in the advanced tailoring course.

With the release by the armed forces of many heretofore hard to get fabrics, the girls in the advanced course are now designing suits and coats for their wardrobes. For a while, however, the aspiring Schiaparelli's were unable to obtain materials required to make a suit or coat.

With the approval of President John O. Moseley, the girls left last Thursday evening and returned late Monday night after a full program in which they and students from Whittier College, the University of Southern California, Pomona College and the University of California participated.

During the remainder of the evening, the guests enjoyed dancing to the music of Tony Pecetti.

History Honorary Selects Three

Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary, elected three new members to its ranks at their regular meeting Wednesday, February 13. The members passed on were Wilberta Flavin, Mary Lou Hovenden and Junerwanda McMichaels. The date for the initiation has not been set, but the ceremonies will probably be held sometime in March or April, according to Pauline Leveille, president of the organization.

Dr. C. R. Hicks, head of the history department, spoke on "Social Conditions in Japan" and passed snapshots which he had taken during his stay in Japan.

The group discussed plans for a spring picnic, but set no definite date for the affair.

Fashion Show To Take Place At Gym March 1

The fashion show annually staged by the Associated Women Students will be presented in the new gymnasium Friday, March 1. The hour of the presentation is to be arranged later. Models will display a selection of women's slacks, ski clothes, formals, fur coats and pedal pushers, according to Isabel Blythe, chairman.

Two members from each of the women's campus organizations have been selected to serve as models. They are Pat Crandall and Nancy Shedd, Kappa Alpha Theta; Alice Joudas and Bernadette Erter, Delta Delta Delta; Mary Lou McPherson and Winona Earl, Pi Beta Phi; Pat Hamilton and Jean Scott, Zeta Phi Zeta; Louis Wogan and Jean Walker, Gamma Phi Beta; Joanne Berg and Pat Ross, Independents.

Miss Blythe is in charge of arranging the show with Virginia Olesen arranging the clothes and Maie Nygren in charge of refreshments.

A commentator for the affair will be chosen at a meeting of the committee next week.

Sign Marks Hall To Offset Error

Among the campus improvements for this week was replacing the sign in front of Artemisia Hall, laying of a cement floor in the new gym and building a new stairway in the Mackay School of Mines building, according to Carl Horn, superintendent of grounds.

In the past, both Manzanita and Artemisia Halls have been mistaken for hotels. To offset any more mistakes, Horn's department placed a sign before each dorm. This week the sign in front of Artemisia Hall mysteriously disappeared. Horn requests that in the future any signs placed by his department remain unmolested.

In the construction department Horn reports that a new cement floor is being laid in the gymnasium for a boxing ring. In the mining building work was begun on a stairway which will lead to the exhibit room in the basement.

Frosh Sentenced At First Meeting

Two women were sentenced for cutting campus Wednesday at the first meeting of the women's upper-class committee, according to Virginia Olesen, chairman of the committee.

Frances Sumner, junior, has to wear a sign stating that she was caught cutting campus and is forbidden to wear any makeup for a week. Phillis Baker, freshman, was recalled by the committee for disciplinary action for the second time.

All first semester freshman women will be required to wear blue and white ribbons and carry a frosh bible while on campus, Miss Olesen added.

Prof. Higginbotham To Head Committee

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department, has recently been appointed chairman of the nominating committee of Kappa Tau Alpha, national society honoring scholarship in journalism.

The committee nominates those highest ranking in journalistic scholarship usually of senior class status. Chapters of the society number 18 and it has been represented on this campus for the past ten years.

Zeta Phi Zeta Plan Social for Freshmen

Members of Zeta Phi Zeta and their advisor, Mrs. P. J. Durkin, will receive all freshmen, new students and other women interested in joining the organization at a social to be held next Monday evening at 7:30 pm in the YWCA room of Artemisia Hall. Refreshments will be served and entertainment is planned.

Students on the entertainment committee are Jean Scott, chairman, Zella Leavitt and Ann Iriarte.

Students Object to Semester Cuts Reports, According to Poll Conducted by Sagebrush

By Marilyn Reynolds

In a student poll conducted this week by the Sagebrush, it was revealed that 33 students out of the 50 interviewed were against the new university system of sending the number of cuts home along with the grades at the end of the semester. Out of the remaining 17, 11 were for the system and six just don't care.

The university inaugurated this system when the last grade reports went out in order to give the parents an accurate idea of how their student sons and daughters were making use of the education given them.

Some of the opinions given when asked whether they were for or against such a system, the staff received these answers:

Pro and Con

Max Dodge, senior, said, "I'm against it, by the time a student comes to college he is mature enough to handle his own affairs. To many things enter into the reasons for cutting." Grant Davis, sophomore, said, "It's a good idea, because some students will run hog-wild when they get out from under their parents wing. Sending home the cuts is a step in discipline."

Ellen Turnquist, junior, said, "It's stupid. The cuts are purely a matter between the profs and the students." Robbie Whitney, sophomore, said, "Sounds like high school stuff to me, but if the cuts have to be sent home, why can't we see them first?"

Not Children

Bob Creveling, freshman, said, "Definitely against it. We're not little children anymore; we can watch ourselves." Theresa Caprio, freshman, said, "I'm against it definitely, it keeps me in hot water." Joan McInnis, freshman, said, "I'm against it, too. I'm a big girl now." Barbara Gould, freshman, said, "It really doesn't make any difference to me or my parents." Jimmie

Glynn, senior, "I approve. It tends to keep the kids who think a college is an overgrown high school in line. It also gives the parents of said youngsters a sound basis for argument when the final grades of their so-called 'prodigy' do not quite meet their expectations."

Elizabeth Benz, new freshman from Los Angeles, "I'm against it. I really don't think it's fair to the students who get good grades, but if they don't, it would be a good idea to keep sending them home." Dave Levison, sophomore, said, "I'm against it, since the majority of the students are going to school on their own money, their grades and cuts should be their own business. It has already been proved that the frats and the sororities handle this situation better than the parents."

Stan Kitchner, freshman, said, "Personally, I don't care—neither do my folks, just as long as my grades are good." Ernie Chickese, junior, said, "I don't approve. It is liable to cause a little conflict at home."

Marilyn Dugan, junior, said, "I'm against it. If you can't handle your cuts yourself, you have no business here in college." Jerry Roberts, freshman, said, "If my parents were sending me through college, they have a right to know, but as long as they're not, it's my affair. Owen Chaffee, freshman, "I'm against it. I like Nevada. If my parents saw my cuts, I'd be forced to leave."

Wolves Register 19th, 20th Victories Against San Francisco State Five

Taking freezing dressing rooms, poor officiating and fist fights in stride, the University of Nevada's high flying basketball team invaded San Francisco Kezar pavilion to register triumphs 19 and 20 against a fighting but undermanned San Francisco State College squad. Final score was 56-32.

Friday night saw the Pack take an early lead and hold it throughout the contest. Features of the game were the long range shooting of guards Jim Mackey and Bob "Shag" O'Shaughnessy and the familiar jump shots of forward Jimmy Melarkey. The crowd emitted exclamations of awe and approval as the "big three" combined to sink 36 points before being replaced by the reserves.

Game Climax

The games climax was reached when big easy going "Smokey" Smolinski came to blows with State's Grover Mohr. Mohr was designated as the aggressor and was ejected from the contest. The game had previously been halted to put down a squabble that had developed on the timers' bench.

Saturday night neither team could find the hoop at the start of the game. Nevada temporarily came to life and took a permanent lead. San Francisco State pulled up to near-even terms and the game stymied again. Both teams played sloppy ball with the Wolf Pack way off on shooting.

Slight Lead

Half time found the Wolves sporting a sick looking eight-point lead, 23 to 15. Opening the second half with a driving rally the State Gators came as near catching the Wolves as they were destined to all evening as they ran the score to 23 to 19.

At this point Grant "Skippy"

Davis began hitting from the pivot spot and Jim Mackey once more got the range of the elusive bucket. Jimmy Melarkey got back in stride and the Pack started to roll never to be threatened again. O'Shaughnessy's clever ball handling was instrumental in tearing apart the State zone defense that had caused trouble earlier in the contest.

Jack Byrne of San Francisco was high for the evening with 18 points. Melarkey and Davis each tallied 15 for Nevada.

Students to Sign Now For Summer Physics

Anyone desiring to take physics 3, 4, 5 or 6 during the 1946 summer session should make application to Dr. Frank Richardson, assistant professor of biology, before February 20.

This course is primarily for pre-medical students, engineers, and chemistry majors. By taking these courses a mid-semester student will be able to finish the courses that he would ordinarily have to take during the following fall semester.

It will be offered only if there are enough applicants.

CORDS BANNED!

Cords cannot be worn by underclass men regardless of the clothing shortage, according to Noel Willis, chairman of the men's upperclass committee. At a meeting of the committee Tuesday revival of the old tradition was discussed and enforcement will go into effect this week.

Jimmy Melarkey Leading Pack Scoring Record

Five-foot-nine-inch Jimmy Melarkey firmly entrenched himself as the Wolf Pack's leading scorer over the weekend by swishing 26 points against San Francisco State College, bringing his total for the season to 245 markers.

Although the diminutive jump shot artist arrived after Nevada had played several games he soon took the lead and has been out in front ever since. Second with 185 points is floor captain Jim Mackey. In the last four games Mackey has put on an exhibition of long range firing that would gain respect even from the field artillery.

Ebby Robertson, the hard driving Indiana freshman is third with 151 counters. Tied for fourth with 120 points each are Grant Davis and Max Dodge. A man to bear watching is Bob "Shag" O'Shaughnessy. He has tallied 67 points in just seven games and hasn't really gotten the feel of things after being out of uniform but a few weeks. Individual totals for the season follow.

Two Series Remain in Wolf Pack's Highly Successful Hoop Season

With but two series left in the regular playing schedule, University of Nevada's high scoring basketball team neared the end of one of the most successful seasons in the school's history. Getting off to a late start, the Wolf Pack played its first game after only seven practices and dropped a close decision, 34-29, to the Sacramento Senators, an aggregation of former college stars. They then made it six in a row until they were beaten by California, 35-31, in the closing seconds of the initial game of the invitational tournament held here during the Christmas holidays.

After winning the next night from Stanford the Wolves dropped the first game of 1946 to College of Pacific, 41-39. Nevada then won nine in a row before losing to the powerful Fleet City five in the first of a two game series. Out after revenge the next evening, the Pack played its best game of the season and won 62 to 48.

Last weekend Jake Lawlor's boys added two more victories to their credit defeating San Francisco State College.

Sporting a .833 percentage the Wolf Pack has totalled 1103 points, an average of 46 points a game while limiting opponents to 867 points or an average of 36 points per contest. Following are the scores for the season:

Car Registration Program Under Way

With regulations for parking the same as last semester, and fines for breaking these rules no less than $1, car registration was put into full effect this week, according to Noel Willis, chairman of the men's upperclass committee.

The following rules were enforced beginning Monday: upperclass men may park in the lot across from the education building; underclass men may park behind the infirmary and old gymnasium; faculty members may park in the driveways.

Students may still register their cars at the ASUN building, Willis said.

Wolves Invited To Hoop Meet At Kansas City

Coach Jake Lawlor's scrappy basketball team added another feather to its bonnet when Athletic Director Jim Aiken revealed that the Wolf Pack had been invited to play in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament to be held in Kansas City, March 11 to 16. Representing the Utah-Nevada district the Wolves will be one of 24 top flight teams from all over the United States to play in the single elimination tourney.

Aiken announced that the team would probably make the trip by plane, leaving Sunday March 11 and returning the following Sunday, providing the boys don't stub their toe a little early in the week.

Jake Lawlor stated that the team will be limited to a ten man squad so competition for a berth on the squad will be high.

On the hill it's "hi." Carry your frosh bibles.

National Guard To Organize Fighter Pilots

All former fighter pilots, AAF or Allied pilots with single engine ratings who want to get flight time in combat air craft, or who want to get flight pay while going to school, now have the opportunity. Word has been received from the ASUN president that Nevada can get a squadron for its National Guard if enough veteran pilots are interested.

Pilots wishing to organize this squadron should see Paul Parraguire in the student union building and submit their names. This will in no way commit them to join, but it will enable them to get together and make their desires known.

U of N to Sport First Official Baseball Team

For the first time in its history, the University of Nevada will field an "official" baseball team, playing an "official" schedule. According to Jim Aiken, director of athletics at Nevada, all equipment and uniforms are on the way, and a schedule is rapidly being rounded out, with a trip to the coast in the offing with St. Mary's, California and other coast schools offering the opposition. Said Aiken, "Most of the present baseball team and several football players are capable baseball men, and with many of the boys returning from the services, we'll have plenty of good material."

No Coach Yet

No coach has as yet been selected to guide the baseballers, but Jake Lawlor, colorful and popular mentor of Nevada's highly successful basketball squad, is being considered for the spot.

Coach Lawlor, himself a baseball player of no mean ability, having played with San Francisco and Sacramento in the Pacific Coast League, if selected, will divide his time between baseball and spring football practice.

Back in the roaring twenties, the Wolf Pack was represented on the diamond but their schedule consisted of games with local town teams and was not on an intercollegiate level. The team, too, was of a pick-up variety and was never officially recognized by the university.

The Reason

The addition of baseball to the Nevada athletic program was made possible by the lengthening of the school year. In the past, the second semester came to an end when good baseball weather had just begun.

This year, however, an additional month has been added to the semester, thus giving the national pastime its big chance on the University of Nevada's campus. Weather permitting, baseball will get underway around the first of April.

Wolf Pack Goes After Victories 21 And 22 Against California Aggies

Teams Tangle Tonight at 8:15 in New Gym; Saturday Night's Contest to Start at 7:30

Faced with the proposition of "everything to lose and nothing to gain," Coach Jake Lawlor's victory mad Wolves take on the Cal Aggies tonight in the new gymnasium with game time set for 8:15. A second contest will be played tomorrow evening with festivities starting at 7:30 in order not to conflict with the annual snow ball.

Still riding high after soundly thumping Fleet City Blue Jackets, the Pack nevertheless will be all-out to turn back the Davis agriculturalists.

Despite their lustreless season win and loss record of two victories against ten setbacks the Aggies boast of wins over Chico and San Francisco State Colleges and dropped two heart breaking one-point decisions to College of Pacific, one of the four teams to defeat the Wolves this year. Big Mike Schaeffer, six feet four inches, 210 pound center, will lead the Cal Aggies. Schaeffer has garnered 138 points in 12 games for a 14 point average.

Opening Lineup
Apparently content with the performance of his starting five which vanquished the Blue Jackets, Lawlor will open with Bob O'Shaughnessy and Jim Mackey at guards; Jim Melarkey and Orsie Graves at forward, and Grant Davis at center. Big Max Dodge turned in two creditable performances against San Francisco State last weekend and will see plenty of action during the weekend series.

Others counted on heavily to pull the Pack through to their 21 and 22 victories are Ebby Robertson, Jack Swendenborg, Smokey Smolinski and Harry Paille. Paille, regular center on the 1942 Pack five, returned to the campus this week and immediately reported to the squad.

Home Games
Remaining home games on the Nevada schedule include encounters with the University of San Francisco next Friday and Saturday and the Pack casaba aggregation will wind up their regular season schedule the following weekend against the vaunted Olympic Club of San Francisco.

The Olympic Club games will be the last local appearance of the year and will serve as a tune-up for the Kansas City tourney which will be staged between March 11 and 16.

Engineering College Enrollment More Than Doubles

With men still bringing up the registration figures, the college of engineering now has about 240 men registered in the various engineering branches, according to Dean Stanley Palmer, head of the college. More than 170 of the men are freshmen and veterans make up 75 per cent of the total.

The present enrollment of 240 is quite a jump from the 99 engineers on campus last year. All the departments have enlarged accordingly, and the mining engineers number 84, more than double last year's figure.

The electrical engineering department has 70 men, the civil engineers number 40 and the mechanical engineering department has approximately 50 men.

Hut Bunny Hunts Huts for Skiers

Ski carnival committeemen have been going through pandemonium in preparing for the visiting skiers and fans. With living conditions already crammed to the nth degree here at the university, sorority members and hall residents are doubling up to make room for the feminine visitors. (If only my rabbit hutch weren't so full.)

While fans have been decorating and preparing for the open houses, skiers have been setting-up slalom gates and making ready for other tournament events. (I even understand they've waxed the hardwood in the bar for skiing.) The recently erected ski jump at Mt. Rose Bowl will be used unless an additional amount of snow falls enabling the use of the Galena Creek jump.

Supplemented by several more inches of powdery precipitation early this week the snow conditions should remain ideal for the tourney. Midweek skiers and the ski team have been busy packing it down which will make for a fast track Saturday and Sunday.

For the first time since its organization, the Nevada ski team will be ready to perform as a complete group. Various injuries, late registration and other minor difficulties have kept the members from competing as a team in several recent ski meets.

Oregon State is the latest to accept a bid to the tournament and will send only a male team as will the University of California, Fresno State College and Placer Junior College. Stanford's feminine team will be led by Charlotte Townsend, ski club president, who took third place in the Cisco meet last Sunday. Nevada ran into bad luck at Cisco when Loie Post missed a gate and was disqualified. Jerry Brown finished seventh after taking a bad spill which slowed her up. Eddy Meaker finished eighth in a field of 65, composed of class A and B skiers.

The "Schuss Pusser" have gone daffy again on the big hill. Eddy Meaker schussed 2800 feet of mountain with a verticle drop of 1000 feet in 17 seconds, only three seconds over "Wilbur" Hart's record of 14. This detour to perdition is for fools only and those who are strictly tired of living. Some one of these days I fully expect to see the Schuss Sisters, Jerry and Loie, splattered all over the trees and tow house so it will leave a crimson tint to Mt. Rose Bowl "Till the End of Time."

Coaches Wanted For Rifle Team

Col. Gilbert Parker of the military department sent out a call this week for ex-officers who are competent riflemen to help him and M/Sgt. Michael McCormick coach the ROTC rifle team.

Col. Parker also stated that soon calls will be made for those who want to compete for places on the varsity team.

At a rifle team meeting this week Roger Olmstead was elected captain of the ROTC rifle team, according to Col. Parker, professor of military science and tactics.

The rifle team has been especially active on campus this year, and has recently been practicing for meets with other rifle teams.

At present they are engaged in a match with West Virginia University, and several other matches have been definitely arranged.

Reporter Views Accomplishments of UN Ski Teams—Past and Present

By Bill Gillis

The University of Nevada ski team, always a formidable contender for national skiing honors, will get their first post-war test tomorrow and Sunday when they will be host to the Universities of California, Stanford and Placer Junior College in the seventh Winter Carnival.

A three time winner of the revolving trophy awarded to the team champion, the Nevadans will be defending the title and trophy which they captured in 1942 when the carnival was last staged.

Lead Team

Led by Jerry Wetzel and Ashley Van Slyck who competed in the 1942 event, the Wolves will be expected to fight it out with California and Stanford for the team honors. The Bears and Indians were both represented at the Cisco outing last Sunday while Nevada, in finishing fourth at the recent Utah invitational, topped the Redskins in the final team point tabulations. Other members of the Pack squad include Pete Lawlor, Eddie Meaker and John and Les Hawkins.

Jerry Brown and Loie Post will enter the women's downhill and slalom events. Misses Post and Brown and Eddie Meaker were the only Nevada representatives in the Cisco meet.

First Meet

First recognized by the university board of regents in 1937, Nevada ski teams have attained national ranking since the inception of the sport on the hill. One year after recognition as a minor sport on the campus, the Pack skiers rewarded their backers with the Pacific coast intercollegiate championship topping the University of Washington Huskies from their four year reign. Winners of the carnival in 1938, the Pack team followed that victory up with a repeat performance the following year.

Bears Got It

In 1940 the California Golden Bear skiers wrested the championship trophy from the locals who had to be content with the runner-up laurels. Stanford trailed in third place. The order of finish was exactly the same in the fifth annual carnival in 1941.

The last time the two-day meet was held at Mt. Rose, a heavily favored Stanford Redskin team had to be content with fourth place as the underdog Nevadans registered heavily in the men's slalom event to gain the title trophy. Back of the Wolves in second and third place trailed California and Oregon State. Van Slyck and Wetzel, the only holdovers from that victory finished third and fourth respectively, in the slalom chase.

Saturday Events

Events to be contested on Saturday include the women's and men's slalom and the "snow bunny ski chase," while the men's and women's downhill and the jumping events will be run off on Sunday.

KAT, Sigma Nu Hold Joint Supper Party

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta and Sigma Nu held a joint supper meeting at the Theta house Monday evening. Both houses furnished refreshments for the affair.

Songs of both organizations were sung by the diners and as added entertainment Jo Miller and Jane Perkins sang a selection of songs.

As a token of appreciation the Sigma Nus presented several phonograph records to be added to the Theta's collection.

Freshman Shoots Top Rifle Score

Fred M. Bratmon, freshman student, has shot the best score on the rifle range this season, according to Col. Gilbert Parker.

In the Hearst trophy match Bratmon shot 190 out of a possible 200, which is the best score recorded either for practice or competition.

The end of the semester and drafting were responsible for the loss of one-half of the ROTC rifle team, which now consists of only five members.

For the rest of the season the team has been forced to forfeit all matches which required a team of more than five members. Wednesday, however, the team completed firing of the Hearst trophy match which required only five members.

Carnival Queen To Be Crowned At 'Snow Ball'

Crowning of the snow queen of Nevada's seventh annual ski carnival will take place at the snow ball tomorrow evening at 10:30 when coeds from Pacific coast colleges and universities will gather before the judges in hopes of capturing the honor of reigning over the carnival festivities.

The queen will be crowned and then presented with a bracelet by Paul Parraguirre, student body president. The bracelet will replace the cup that has been awarded in previous years, because cups and trophies are not available this year.

Judges for the contest will be Bill Moran, Warren Hart and Stanley Brown, chairman of the carnival.

As in preceding years, Nevada women will not participate in the queen contest, and a coed from a visiting school will receive the title.

Eleanor Watson, Pi Beta Phi from Stanford University holds the honor of being the first woman to be queen of a winter carnival, sponsored by the University of Nevada, when she was crowned by David Goldwater in 1939.

Past Queens
In 1940, Pinky Austin, a Gamma Phi Beta from the University of California, ruled over the skiers at the snow ball. Another University of California student, Catherine Henck, Delta Delta Delta, won the title of queen in 1942. Miss Henck was presented at the carnival the following year in 1942 and spoke at the celebration during which Ellen Uleery, of the University of California was crowned as queen by Sam Frankovich, chairman of that carnival.

Odd Occurrence... Bill Geraghty Taken for Actor

"Oooh, look! Alan Ladd, right here on the campus!" This statement was heard coming from a group of ten or 12-year-old girls who were watching the moving picture company work here last week. Object of their excitement—Bill Geraghty, Lambda Chi freshman, from White Pine.

Bill was working as an extra, and the young ladies who spotted him—already thrilled with the motion picture industry—believed him to be Hollywood's own Alan Ladd, no less. The mistake is understandable.

Dave Levison was another object of the girls' admiration. They didn't know which movie star he might be, but they were sure he must be one. They proceeded to bombard Mr. Levison with requests for his autograph. Dave very graciously consented to comply with his admirers' request, and filled a page in dozens of autograph books, with the signature, "Sam Jones."

Helen Rachie, YWCA secretary, was also asked for numerous autographs while sitting in 20th Century-Fox's station wagon.

Jimmie Glynn did not escape the little girls' notice, either. When they asked him who he was, he stated that he was "not a movie star, never would be, and didn't want to be"—but Jimmy consented to sign a few autograph books, anyway.

War Semesters U of C Abandons

Following a semester schedule similar to that of Nevada, all campuses of the University of California will abandon their wartime schedule of three semesters a year and turn to a new program.

Under the old system, the University of California was able to graduate students much faster, and it was adopted with the primary aim of meeting the wartime demand for a greater number of trained personnel for the armed services and industry.

20th Century-Fox Completes Shots On U of N Campus

Student extras in the 20th Century-Fox picture "Margie" turned in their 1928 costumes for the last time Tuesday afternoon when the film company packed up to leave Reno.

First scenes of "Margie" were made in Reno beginning January 31. During that time 300 university students were used as extras in scenes made on the campus, which will appear in the picture as a high school in Centerville, Ohio, and in shots made on Maple, Ridge and Ralston streets in Reno.

Continued Work
With the beginning of the second semester, it was difficult for the student extras to continue working in the picture, but Cecelia Shindler, Margaret Moseley, Gloria Mapes, Bill Morris, Dave Levison and Toni Cudinski managed to continue working most of the time.

Assistants Leave
Joseph Behm, Howard Koch and Stan Hough, director's assistants, left Reno the next morning, February 13, at 5 am with the complete crew and expected to arrive in Hollywood by 8 pm. Production of the film was resumed at the studio the next morning and work will continue for about 45 days, Behm said, but the release date of the film is still unknown.

Dance Program Set for Feb. 11

Coed members of the University Dancers will assist Miss Margery Turner, instructor in the women's physical education department, in a lecture and demonstration on contemporary dance, February 11 at 8 pm in the new gym. No admission will be charged.

Miss Turner continued that the program is planned to help the lay audience understand and appreciate dance as an art form. The dance compositions to be shown were created by the group and solo studies by the respective individuals who will present them.

The lecture will bring out the importance of dance as an expressive medium contributing toward a more completely developed personality and the place it should hold in education.

Miss Turner also stated that in addition to the demonstration there will be a photographic exhibition of Children's creative dance and art, from the Wisconsin Union Art Gallery. The photographs of the children, who are public school students of Virginia Johnson of Madison, Wisconsin, were taken by William Kelsey, also of Madison. Some samples of the children's art work will be on display.

Participating in the program will be Gloria Springer, Jean Worlock, Genevieve Sick, Wilburta Flavin, Mary Lu McPherson, Pat Crandall, Mavis Magleby, Harriett Lee, Marilyn Pruett and Jeanne Adrian Sutton.

Boxers Begin Work This Week for Golden Gloves Meet

In preparation for the forthcoming Golden Gloves tourney to be staged in Reno on March 5, 6 and 7, 19 potential pugilists answered Coach Dick Taylor's first call for workouts this week.

Leadership Study Designed by COP

Stockton, Calif. (IP)—To provide skilled community leadership, the College of the Pacific has introduced a course of study in Christian community administration.

The training pattern announced in a recent leaflet is two-fold: "A fully rounded college course in the liberal arts and continuous living laboratory experience in actual community projects."

In preparation for the week day religious instruction diploma, the course of study covers the junior and senior years and one graduate year. A course of study in preparation of YMCA, YWCA, Scout, Campfire and minority group leadership covers the last two years of undergraduate work.

Another plan offers special preparation for graduate work during the last two years with a major in religious education for persons who are looking toward the ministry, directorship in the local church, field work in christian education, or specialization in children's, youth or adult work.

Ballet Company To Present Play In New Gym Mon.

Edwin Strawbridge, noted ter-sichorean, and his ballet company will present a dance-play entitled "Christopher Columbus" in the new university gymnasium Monday, February 25, at 8 pm, a presentation which is especially recommended for high school and elementary school age groups.

Coming from New York, Strawbridge and his company have performed in the majority of the countries of the world. At one time Mr. Strawbridge danced to an orchestra conducted by Leopold Stokowski. Student theatergoers will probably remember "The Adventures of Johnny Applesseed" presented by the Strawbridge company at the gymnasium a year ago. The cosmopolitan dancer, himself, does the choreography for the company.

Tickets for "Christopher Columbus" will be available through the women's physical education department at the university or they may be purchased at the box office the evening of the performance.

Plan for a student directory to be issued soon after the beginning of next semester were made by the Sagens at a meeting on January 17, Pat Traner, president, announced.

This directory, which will be under the direction of Gloria Rosaschi, was formerly issued early in the fall semester, but is to be a second semester directory this year to include the expected increase in enrollment in the spring semester.

At the next meeting of the Sagens, scheduled to be held the first Thursday after rush week, election of officers will be held, Miss Traner said.

New Students to Pay Yearbook Fee

All new students who were not registered last semester but are now registered must pay an additional $1.50 if they wish to receive the 1946 Artemisia, according to an announcement made by Marlou Ferguson, business manager of the book.

This fee is to make up for the money the Artemisia would have received per person had these new students been in school last semester.

Orders are being taken now for the books and new students must turn in their money on or before next Wednesday, February 20. They may pay the fee to the comptroller in Morrill Hall any day before 4 pm or to Miss Ferguson in the Artemisia office in the ASUN building on Monday, Wednesday or Friday afternoon between 1:30 and 2:30.

This includes all veterans and all regular students who did not pay an ASUN fee in September. A portion of this fee paid each semester goes to pay for a copy of the Artemisia for each student.
