R. Nannini, R. Rowley
To Head Business
Staffs for Coming Year

Marking the official return of men to University of Nevada publications, Bill Henley, Sigma Rho Delta, and Max Dodge, Alpha Tau Omega, have been elected as Sagebrush editor and Artemisia editor, respectively, for the coming year. Rose Nannini, Delta Delta Delta, will act as business manager for the Artemisia, while Dick Rowley, Lambda Chi Alpha, was re-elected business manager for the Sagebrush. These elections were made by the publications board this week.

Replacing Madlen Maestretti as Brush editor, Henley is a journalism major from Virginia City. His activities include Coffin and Key, Press Club and ASUN senate. For the past semester he acted as assistant editor for the Sagebrush, and before entering the service, as sports editor. He served as a sergeant in the army.

Dodge is majoring in journalism and has been working on the Artemisia staff since he entered the university last fall. He replaces Alice Etchart, Kappa Alpha Theta, president of the ATOs, he is active in Coffin and Key, Block N, and Sundowners. He is from Seattle, Washington, and while attending Washington State College, he worked on the yearbook.

Miss Nannini has been a member of the Artemisia business staff since she was a freshman and is replacing Marilou Ferguson. Her major course is economics. President of AWS, she holds membership in Sagens, YWCA, Fine Arts, WAA, Press Club, and ASUN senate. Before graduating from Reno High School, she served as co-business chairman of Re-Wa-Ne, high school yearbook.

Dick Rowley replaced Marilyn Dugan, Theta president, as business manager early this semester.

Publications board is planning a dinner honoring these new heads to be held at Lake Tahoe. The date has been tentatively set for May 26, and Gordon Mills is the chairman for the affair.

Members of the publications board are Madlen Maestretti, Alice Etchart, Rickard Rowley, Marilou Ferguson, Gloria Springer, Lavina Ramelli, Gordon Mills, Paul Parraguirre, student body president; Dr. Ernest L. Inwood, head of the department of economics, business and sociology, and Dr. Albert Wiederhold, professor of philosophy and psychology.

Further details of the dinner will be announced later, according to Professor Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines.

Miss Thomas is president of the group and chairman of the committee. Winona Earl was not available when the picture was taken.

Annual Hunt Trip Off This Summer

Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, announced today that the annual Hunt trip, sponsored by the S. Frank Hunt Foundation, will not be conducted this summer as originally planned due to the fact that there is a lack of participants.

Once a year, during the summer months all graduating seniors of the Mackay School of Mines are taken on an expense free trip to different mining areas throughout the state, from which practical experience concerning mining operations, prospecting, and geological surveys is derived.

The S. Frank Hunt Foundation, which sponsors this trip and other mining affairs during the school year, was established in memory of Mr. S. Frank Hunt, discoverer and developer of the Rio Tinto mine located in the northeastern section of the state.

The trip, shelved during the war years because of the lack of manpower, will be continued next year, with a contemplated tour of mining camps as far east as Salt Lake City, Utah, and west as far as Grass Valley in California, stated Director Carpenter.

THIS IS OUR AFFAIR

An open senate meeting will be held Wednesday at 4 for the purpose of discussing the proposal which would turn $2400 from the central treasury to a downtown committee which arrange finances for the university's athletic program.

Two representatives from the committee are expected to be present to give their views on the transaction. Although many members of the student body have taken a stand favoring the grant, we contend that the so-called "generous gesture" to the fund-soliciting committee is unnecessary.

To begin with, the $2400 is asked for to pay for training tables. Such a move would not be in keeping with rules set forth by the Pacific coast conference. Although Nevada does not belong to the conference, they play several teams which do belong. Before playing these teams we sign a contract which states that we will observe conference rules. If the $2400 grant were made, we would be in danger of losing some of the matches which bring in our greatest gate receipts.

Some students believe that we do nothing towards supporting our athletic program and for this reason we should turn over $2400 gladly to a committee which brings in much to make a good sports season possible. It is untrue that we do not support athletics. Each student pays $7 per semester for this purpose. Over $1400 will be contributed to athletics by students next year. The charge that we are not doing our share is truly a fallacious one.

One student said that we owe the committee that amount just as a gesture of good will for all they have done to help us out. This seems a little ironical. Must we pay $2400 for good will? Inflation has influenced all things, but surely good will, even in these days, isn't so expensive.

My own personal belief is that this money could be directed into more useful channels. That committee got along without our aid before. We were and still are very grateful for their efforts. But must we feel that just because we came out on top financially for once we should turn around and sink Nevada's profit back into the machine that turned it out? That machine ran without our help or advice in days when our treasury was low. Does it really NEED our aid now or is it just cashing in because they know we have a fat bank roll now.

Perhaps these questions will be answered for us at Wednesday's meeting. If there is a true need for the $2400 grant, we can see no reason why they shouldn't have it. However, they must first show sufficient reason.

Students who are interested in the financial welfare of the student body should not fail to be present at the meeting on Wednesday. Regardless of your stand on the issue—plan to attend—both factions will need your assistance.

Two Nevada Journalism Graduates to Cover Bikini Atoll Atomic Bomb Tests About July 1

Two of the six United Press correspondents who will cover the Bikini atoll atomic bomb tests about July 1 are alumni of the department of journalism at the University of Nevada.

Robert Bennyhoff, head of the Reno United Press bureau, and Murray Moler, Intermountain manager for United Press in charge of an area comprising Utah, Idaho and Montana, are the two Nevada men selected by UP for the coverage.

Only six correspondents will go from each of the three leading U. S. news associations, while a total of only 165 representatives of all press services, newspapers, magazines, photo services, radio companies, and motion picture and television outfits are invited to observe the tests and report to the people of the world.

Stationed on Ship
Moler will be stationed aboard a ship and will cover observations and reports from that point, while Bennyhoff, who has had many hours air experience as a navigator with the Eighth army air force, may be on of three newspapermen to fly in an observation plane. If he does not make the flight, he will be assigned to the base at Kwajalein to cover the details of organization and observation from that spot.

The first test, an "air drop," is planned for the first favorable weather days in July. The surface or subsurface tests will follow the air drop in about three weeks. If weather conditions make it necessary to cancel the air drop, the subsurface test will be made late in the month.

Both Moler and Bennyhoff took the University of Nevada journalism four-year course, Moler finishing in 1938 and Bennyhoff in 1941. Both worked for the Nevada State Journal for brief intervals before joining the United Press staff.

At Salt Lake Bureau
Moler has been stationed at Salt Lake for several years, first as bureau chief, later being promoted to Intermountain manager.

During the war, Moler served as United Press correspondent with the Navy, covering action in the North Pacific and landing with invading forces from the north on Honshu.

Bennyhoff entered the war in its early stages after a short time with United Press at various bureaus. He served as navigator of a flying fortress during the bombing of Germany, and has been awarded the air medal with four clusters and four battle stars.

SOCIAL EVENTS ON THE HILL

By CAMILLE CUMMINGS

An epidemic has overrun the Nevada campus and there is no doubt that more than one person has fallen victim to it. The first stage makes its appearance with the ritual of pin hanging.

Latest list of those in this stage finds the names of Frances Cook and Jordan "Turk" Eliades. Fran finds that Turk's Lambda Chi pin makes an excellent guard for her Theta pin. But then Bernie Murphy can also vouch for the merits of a Lambda Chi pin for a guard. She has found that Johnny Baker's pin is just the thing.

These Lambda Chis really get around. Dick Gorman presented Helen Boner with a very nice pin this week. Over in the Tri-Delt house Tommy Thompson still carrying on for the Lambda Chis hung his pin on Virginia Goodner.

Jerry Parker accepted Lotis Pico's Sigma Rho pin last week. Gamma Phi had one of their members on the list with Roma Gardner wearing Sinclair Melner's Sigma Nu pin.

As the case advances, engagement rings take the place of the pins. Susie Evans announced her engagement to Glenn "Buck" White at her home in Woodland, California last week. In Manzanita hall Frances Burke made known her engagement to Leonard Anker, a 1942 graduate. They are planning to be married sometime after the close of school.

From down Carson way comes another engagement announcement. This time it's from Jackie Ross who recently announced her engagement to Paul Laxalt, also of Carson.

Gen Siri, Delta Delta Delta, announced plans to be married this June to George Yori of Reno.

Also announcing her engagement was Roberta Butler to Bob Weber, a Sigma Rho. Phyllis Snyder revealed wedding plans to her Tri-Delt sisters. She is to be married June 16 to Aurel Hanchett. Both are from Tule Lake where the wedding will take place.

Surprising a great many people, Grant "Skip" Davis and Billy Jean Stinson Casey were married in Carson City, April 27. Both Billy Jean and Skip live in Carson City. Another surprise marriage was that of Norma Smith and Bill Gregory. They were married in Virginia City on April 3, but the wedding was not officially announced until recently. Norma is a junior and a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

On April 14, Marilyn Pruett and Stanley Pockop were married. The wedding took place in the Federated Community church of Carson. Marilyn, a Pi Beta Phi, is a member of the freshman class. Mr. Pockop, whose home is in Gregory, South Dakota was recently discharged from the army air corps. Married in Fallon, April 28, were Maryevelyn Peck of Yerington, and Richard Cozad, also of Yerington. Maryevelyn is a member of the freshman class.

Not only the students were susceptible, but the comptrollers office and the military department were hit too. Phyllis Schumacher, employed in the comptrollers office and Sgt. Peter Duff of the military department were married in Reno on April 28.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Watne on April 30. Mrs. Watne is the former Neva Mae Gardner, Tri Delta.

More Than 300 Students Visit Snack Bar On Opening Day; Equipment Needed

By Sylvie Geraghty

With more than 300 student customers flocking to the snack bar last Tuesday, on opening day, the student center was declared a great success by Dorothy Thomas, new president of YWCA and ex-chairman of the YWCA project.

Throughout the day, a steady flow of students passed in and out of the doors of the basement of Stewart Hall in quest of refreshment, and to give their nods of approval to the long-awaited campus center. Tops on the menu were coffee and doughnuts, followed by popsicles. Other items to be served regularly include milk, coke, orange, pineapple grapefruit and tomato juices, cake and pie. Between 9 and 3, the regular hours of the snack bar, more than 12 dozen doughnuts and 200 popsicles were sold, while countless cups of java were served over the counter.

First mention of the snack bar was made January 11 by Dorothy Thomas, then chairman of the program, who announced that a student center would be attempted in the basement of Stewart Hall. President John O. Moseley originated the idea, the university board of regents financed the project, and the undertaking was adopted by the campus YWCA, now sponsoring the snack bar, not on a profit earning basis, but for the benefit of the students only.

Lacked Equipment

The long delay in setting up the student center was due to lack of the necessary equipment which could not be obtained until recently. Carl Horn, superintendent of grounds and buildings, and Bob Craig were responsible for the construction of the tiled counter, which was made and set up when one could not be purchased. Presumably by next fall, the bar will be complete with booths or tables in the counter room. As it is now, the students take their snacks to the tables in the play room.

A refrigerator, ice cream container, hot plate, cash register, and silex coffee set comprise the bar's present equipment. After Tuesday's grand opening, it was found that the coffee facilities were inadequate, and would have to be increased even for an ordinary day's service. Instrumental in obtaining most of the equipment was Dr. Charles H. Gorman, comptroller, who got the necessary operating facilities from Herlong and Las Vegas.

Chairman of the snack bar, Winona Earl, pointed out that the center was being operated solely with the volunteer services of campus coeds, and that their services have been both plentiful and cheerful. Others on the committee are Marianne Wells, food; Edo Moore, equipment; Beverly Moore, personnel, and Anita Hincelot, finance.

LAWTON SWIM PARTY

Members of the University of Nevada Newman club will hold their final meeting of the season at a swimming party and general outing Sunday, May 19 at Lawton's.

A program of social and religious activities for the next semester will be drawn up, according to Father John Smith. A meeting of the club was held last Sunday when only routine business was discussed.

Sigma Xi to Hear Scientific Address By Dr. McKinsey

Dr. John C. C. McKinsey acting assistant professor of mathematics, will speak on the "Theory of Possibilities" at the next meeting of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society, on May 21 at 7:30 pm. Meeting will be held at the home of Dr. E. Maurice Beesley.

Andrew C. Rice, president of the organization, has announced that an election of officers for the coming year will follow Dr. McKinsey's talk.

MINING SCHOOL SUCCESSFUL IN PLACING GRADS

Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, reported recently that all the returning veterans who are mining school alumni who have been in quest of employment have been placed through the mining school's efforts.

"There are still some alumni who don't want to go to work yet, but want to lie around and rest for awhile," said the director. "When they're ready to get down to the grind stone we feel sure that we can place them."

As has been the policy in the past, the Mackay School of Mines stands behind its graduate and, unless the grad desires otherwise, finds them a position. Graduates of the school have been placed in jobs the world over, with the Philippines and South America the most popular fields of employment.

Director Carpenter pointed out that conditions in this country are the determining factors in the number of foreign placements. "When times are hard here at home the grads all want to go to some place like Venezuela, or the Philippines, because the wages and cost of living are much more profitable. However, when times are good, you can't get them to leave the States," said Carpenter.

Dr. Deming Chosen

Dr. Meryl W. Deming, president, Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, vice president and Miss Jo Ann Chapman, secretary, are the newly elected 1946-1947 officers of the University of Nevada Faculty club.

At the monthly meeting held in the Home Economics room last Wednesday, Prof. Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines gave an address on early geological history of Nevada.

Baseball Race Enters Home Stretch As Taus Maintain Undefeated Status

By Smokey Smolinsky

Alpha Tau Omega still leads the field in the interfraternity baseball race as it enters the home stretch. With only one game remaining to be played, the Taus are undefeated and can drop their last contest and still be assured of top honors.

Friday afternoon Phi Sigma Kappa dropped a game to the Taus, by a 17 to 1 count. Phi Sigs were allowed two hits, while the opposition garnered 10. Jack Swendenborg was the winning pitcher and Bill Ebert the loser. Hagleen and McClure handled the catching chores.

The ATO added another scalp to their belt the next afternoon, by swamping Lambda Chi Alpha 12 to 0. Chub Drakulich was the winning pitcher, completely throttling the opposition, who at no time seriously threatened their foes.

Bob Knudsen twirled two-hit ball an dsmashed a home run, to lead the Sigma Nus to an 8 to 0 win over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Pat Francellini was the losing hurler.

Two Nevada Men to Enter Competition In 20th Annual West Coast Relays

Floyd Edsall to Enter High Jump Contest; Max Dodge to Participate in Discus Match

Two men will carry the University of Nevada's colors into the 20th annual running of the west coast relays to be held in Fresno, California, tomorrow afternoon. Both will find the competition stiffer than anything they have faced this year.

Floyd Edsall in the high jump will be faced by three men who have all cleared six feet four inches and better this year. Edsall has done six feet two in practice so far and last night might have cleared higher if the runway hadn't been soaked with water from a sprinkler.

Max Dodge who threw the discus 153 feet plus over a month ago will be opposed by such stalwarts as Pete Zagar who has hit nearly 155 this year and holds the relay record at 168 feet two inches. Tom Montgomery also of the Olympic Club has been over 150 feet consistently this year. Al Hershey of the Los Angeles Athletic Club has also hit 155 feet as has Wilbur "Moose" Thompson of the University of Southern California.

Dodge, who hasn't hit anything like that early season mark in recent weeks will have to really get a hold on one to end in the money Saturday evening.

Nation-wide Interest

This year's running of the relay will attract nation wide interest that in other years as it marks a big real beginning to an era of postwar sports. People will want to see how athletes who have been held down by the war fare in competition.

"Where World Records Are Broken" is the slogan of the west coast relays based on the fact that sixteen world records have been set there and four tied.

One of Greatest

The relays have been heralded as one of the greatest athletic carnivals in the country, with high schools, junior colleges and regular colleges all having meets beginning at 1:30 pm Saturday afternoon with the high school pole vault and ending at 9:55 that evening with the running of the open intercollegiate mile relay.

Edsall begins his high jumping at 7:20 Saturday evening and Dodge doesn't throw the discus until 8:30.
