

ATO, SIGMA NU WIN PRIMARY CONTESTS

Regents to Draft Building Program

Weekend Meet Scheduled To Coordinate Plans

Final plans for the new biology building and other long-range building activities for the university will be drafted during the two session board of regents' meetings which begin this evening.

"Representatives of the state planning commission will be present at tomorrow's meeting to coordinate the program drafted by the board with that of the state," Dr. John O. Moseley stated.

Buildings on the board's agenda, in addition to the "live sciences" buildings are: new student union building, home economics building, additions to the engineering building, and a metallurgical laboratory.

"We are expecting any day now, a telegram advising us of appropriations made by the Federal Works Administration to build temporary classrooms which are needed to relieve the present crowded conditions," Dr. Moseley concluded.

Publications Meet Held This Week

The first meeting of the University of Nevada publication board was held at the Golden Hotel Tuesday, according to Joe McDonnell, secretary. One of the topics of discussion was the production and distribution of last year's issue of the Artemisia. McDonnell said the copies of the publication are being sent to San Francisco for binding, and also said he expected them to be out in about four weeks. They will be mailed to those students who are not now on the campus.

Also taken up at the meeting was the discussion of the freshman handbook. It was decided that the editor and business manager of that publication should be Reno residents, since much of the work on the book is done during the summer.

To Be Submitted
At the next meeting, to be held in early November, lists of those who are eligible for positions of editor and business manager of the Sagebrush and Artemisia are to be submitted by Bill Henley and Max Dodge, respective editors of those publications.

Members of the board are Prof. E. L. Inwood, chairman; Hans Wolfe, ex-officio; Joe McDonnell, secretary, and Dorothy Thompson, Frank Bacigalupi and Pat Heber, voting members appointed from the senate.

Reception for Board of Regents

Honoring members of the board of regents, a reception will be held tomorrow evening from 8 to 10 pm at the home of President and Mrs. John O. Moseley.

Members of the university controlling board will greet faculty members and their families and following the reception refreshments will be served.

"This reception will give new faculty members and their families a chance to get acquainted with members of the board that plan all programs and policies for the management of the university," Dr. Moseley stated. He also expressed the hope that all faculty members and their families will attend.

Salary Amendment To Be Voted Upon By Student Body

In relatively light balloting ATO and Sigma Nu candidates won first and second places in the races for both frosh and sophomore class managers Thursday. Franklin Gardner led primary returns for soph manager, totalling 60 votes. Sigma Nu's Sinclair Melner recorded 31 to forge into the finals. Defeated candidates were Robert Steele, SAE, with 20, and Eppie Johnson, Theta Chi, who polled 13 votes.

Norman Olsen, ATO and Harry McKissick, Sigma Nu, survived the freshman race. Olsen secured 152 votes, McKissick 110. Others in the race included Robert Larsen, SAE, 96; Jac Francovich, Lambda Chi, 73; George Louis, Independent, 30; Arthur English, Theta Chi, 27, and Edgar Drennon, Phi Sigma Kappa, 19.

The race for sophomore class manager was made necessary because of the junior status of Bud Bradley, elected last term.

Finals Thursday
Next Thursday the finals will be held in room 103, Aggie building. Polls will be open from 9 am to 5 pm.

A constitutional amendment is also on Thursday's ballot. All students, regardless of class status, will ballot on the amendment, pertaining to the ASUN president's salary. Last year the student body head was given a salary, and this amendment was proposed. It reads: The president shall receive a salary; the amount shall be determined by the finance control committee at its first regular meeting of each university year.

ATO's freshman candidate, Norman Olsen, is a Reno high school graduate and a three-year man in the marines. He is an electrical engineering student. Gardner, sophomore aspirant, graduated from Lovelock high school and served three years in the army. He is an honor roll student.

Sigma Nu's Harry McKissick, freshman candidate, is a former navy man and Reno high grad. He is a pre-legal student, and won three letters in high school. Another Reno high grad is Sinclair Melner, Sigma Nu's sophomore candidate. A math major and Reno high grad, he was president of the Sagers and is vice-president of the Math Club.

Community Chest Drive to Begin

The annual University of Nevada Community Chest drive will begin Wednesday, October 9, and will continue for one week. The drive is expected to be very successful, announced Ty Short and Mary Ann Wells, co-chairmen for the project.

Last year's goal for the U. of N. was $2000, and because it was $508 short of that goal after a week's drive, the campaign was continued until the set amount was achieved.

To date, according to Short and Wells, the goal for the 1946 drive has not been set, but the committee meets Tuesday afternoon and arrangements will be made at that time for the carrying out of the campaign and for the selection of the various house and dormitory representatives.

Mr. Charles Gorman, comptroller, will handle the faculty contribution.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the Community Chest fund may do so by turning their money into the comptroller's office.

Blue Key Drive Set to Purchase Memorial Plaque

Blue Key will stage a drive next Thursday and Friday for funds for the memorial plaque and base honoring university students killed in World War II. Two booths will be open for contributions—one in front of the library and the other in front of the mining building.

Last semester the service group raised $143 in its drive. However, this is not nearly enough, members declare; the plaque alone will cost $295, without including the price of the base, another expensive item.

A nearly complete list has been compiled of Nevada's collegians who lost their lives in the German-Japanese struggle; 76 names are now included on the rolls. Much of the research credit should go to Dean Griffin's office for invaluable assistance. President Jim Borge declared.

Representative Speaks
Frank Griffin, representative of Balfour (the firm making the plaque), spoke briefly at a Blue Key meeting recently, outlining plans for the memorial.

At that session it was announced that Blue Key tryees are selling Wolves Frolic tickets. The service group is also active in assisting the upperclass committee enforce parking regulations.

JUMPIN'EST JOINT ON CAMPUS? IT'S THE LIBRARY

Have you tried to find a place to sit in the University library lately? If you have, you have an inkling of what the situation is there. The only time in the recent past when the "lib" was as full as it is right now, was right before midterm examination or semester finals and even then you had very little difficulty finding a place to sit down.

Another point is that the biggest demand is for text books—not fiction. There has been practically no rush on fiction or adventure books thus far.

The staff at the circulation desk has also increased in number. In the past, one person could handle the outgoing and incoming books, but now, there are two people on duty continually with the aid of a third person during the rush hours in the afternoon.

Students to Use Roped Off Section At Saturday Game

All university students are requested to sit in the roped off area between the two 40 yard markers this Saturday at Mackay stadium during the Nevada-Arizona State football game.

The reason for this request, said Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager, is to better organize the Nevada rooting section and to separate the students from other fans.

Seating will be in charge of the official ushers who will be wearing blue arm bands. All spectators are asked to follow the instructions of the ushers so as to simplify and hasten the seating of spectators.

The university band and the "knothole gang" will sit in the bleachers erected on the northeast side of the field, as will the disabled veterans from the Nevada veterans hospital. The ex-GI's are guests of the ASUN.

YWCA TO PUBLISH FIRST PAPER OCT. 22

The first issue of the new YWCA paper will make its first appearance on October 22. The paper will be published bi-monthly with Virginia Oleson as editor.

Anyone interested in news gathering, typing, mimeographing or distribution may see Miss Oleson or Miss Thompson.

Air Minded Pack Primed to Blast Arizona Bulldogs

Underdog Tempe Club Not Impressed by Wolves, To Shoot the Works

Nevada's aerial circus that exploded Santa Clara right out of Mackay stadium last weekend, is all set and primed for the Bulldogs of Arizona State (Tempe) tomorrow at 2:30 pm. The Wolves, boasting one of the top passing attacks in the west, are planning an overhead assault designed to make the Arizonans' eyes bulge.

Playing a familiar role of underdogs, the Arizona squad apparently is not the least bit daunted by the mighty Wolf Pack, according to work trickling in from Tempe country. Steve Couthie, coach of the Bulldogs, believing the age old maxim that a good offense is the best defense, has been steadily drilling his men on offensive tactics, after having heard "things" about the Nevada defense.

Whether or not Couthie's beliefs will work out remains to be seen, but if Jim Aiken, Pack coach, has anything to say about proceedings Saturday afternoon, (Continued on Page 5)

Thirteen Groups To Present Skits

Specialty Numbers Still Needed

Thirteen campus organizations will participate in the 1946 Wolves Frolic, Janice Swan, director, announced. Skits will be limited to five minutes and not more than $100 can be spent on any one act.

Groups represented are Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Gamma Phi Beta, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Rho Delta, Independents, and Sagers.

Formal rehearsals of the skits, which the director attends, are to be held at the end of the week. The Homecoming theme will be carried out through the entire Frolic.

Individual acts between curtains are being worked up now and anyone who is talented and interested should contact Miss Swan or Tosca Masini.

TWO YWCA DELEGATES TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Jeanne Adrian Sutton and Edith Moore will be the YWCA delegates to the WSSF conference at Stanford University on Saturday, October 12. On Sunday the girls will attend a regional council meeting at San Jose State College in San Jose.

Speakers at the Stanford conference will be Henrietta Roosenburg from Holland and Mary Anne Nicholson of Mills College.

The University of Nevada delegates will leave Reno on Friday by train and return on Monday.

CHOIR TO VOCALIZE AT WOLVES FROLIC

Combined men and women's university choir will sing at the Wolves Frolic during the Homecoming celebration, Professor T. H. Post announced this week. This combined group, now meeting every Wednesday at 4 pm, is working on several Fred Waring arrangements.

Each group will elect their officers soon. Professor Post said that they will function both as separate men and women's choirs and as a united university choir. The united choir will present the "Messiah" at the Christmas program.

Pep Band Parades Before Start of Student Assembly

Classes were interrupted yesterday morning by martial strains from the pep band as it marched through the campus from the Ninth street gate to the new gymnasium, heralding the second student assembly.

"We turned the assembly period over to the yell leaders who really did a bang-up job of instructing the student body in the new yells," Hans Wolfe, ASUN president, announced.

Master of ceremonies from the Cafe Colombo, "Danny" Voy, entertained the student body with his "babbling drunk" act and following this Tosca Masini and her crew of assistant yell leaders tried hard to raise the roof of the new gymnasium, in improving the yell-response of the Nevada cheering section.

"Town folks have complained that the students in the cheering section at last Saturday's game didn't demonstrate the teamwork that is necessary in a good yell squad. Well, I believe the students present in today's assembly proved they have it in them," Tosca revealed after the program.

Bill Cashill, Nevada alumni, gave a brief talk on behalf of the Community Chest membership drive.

Letter Winners Prohibited From Frat Contests

College lettermen are excluded from participation in interfraternity sports competition, following the new amendment to the bylaws of the interfraternity council. This rule applies to letters received at this or any other college, and is particularly designed to remove the threat to interfraternity baseball competition, Jimmy Glynn, president of the organization, explained.

The second article changed in the bylaws states that there will be absolutely no favors given at fraternity dances, and the price of programs shall not exceed 50 cents, or $1 for formal dances.

The minimum grade point average for fraternities on this campus has been raised to 1.8 by an amendment to the constitution of the council. The second amendment to the constitution provided for the elimination of the name of Kappa Sigma Lambda from the rolls of the interfraternity council, as that fraternity has been a defunct organization for the past 10 or 12 years.

The above amendments to the constitution and bylaws of interfraternity council were made at the meeting on Monday, October 7, in the Hall of English, Glynn said.

Underclass Cars Top Other Groups In Registration

A total of 525 cars have been registered on the campus this semester, declared Noel Willis, chairman of the Blue Key parking control committee. The breakdown includes 74 faculty vehicles, 185 upperclassmen cars and 273 underclass machines.

Any student violating the regulations will be fined $1, which must be paid to the comptroller before grades can be received. Most prominent taboos include parking in no parking areas, encroachment on staff or upperclass areas, blocking exits, and failure to register cars.

The Reno fire department will remove all cars that are not registered and consistently use the university parking areas.

Those who have not registered their automobiles can still do so at the student body president's office, ASUN building.

Greek Dances Set To Honor Pledges

Lambda Chi, Sigma Nu, Taus Holds Affairs This Evening

Several fraternities and sororities will honor their new pledges at fetes this weekend.

Tonight Lambda Chi Alpha is holding its pledge dance, which will be semi-formal, at the 20th Century Club, 335 West First Street. Rovetti is the chairman in charge of the dance.

With Bob Knudson in charge, Sigma Nu is presenting its dance tonight at the Nevada Game Farm on Gendale road.

President Ed Beaupert has announced that the scene of the Alpha Tau Omega pledge dance tonight is 205 University Terrace. Dick Elmore is the chairman of the committee on arrangements.

SAE Dance
Saturday night, from 9 to 12 pm, Sigma Alpha Epsilon will hold its semi-formal pledge dance at the Odd Fellows Hall. Chairman in charge of the affairs is Bob Brambilla.

The two sororities planning pledge dances Saturday night, October 12, are Gamma Phi Beta, whose dance will take place at its house with Bliz Patterson in charge, and Delta Delta Delta. The Tri-Delt affair will be held at the 20th Century Club with Elaine Van Meter as chairman of the arrangement committee.

Sigma Rho Delta will hold a social for the Tri-Delts on Sunday from 3 to 5 pm. Larry Paglia has been appointed as chairman.

MEMBERSHIP TEA TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY

Mrs. John O. Moseley will entertain old and new members and the advisory board of YWCA at a tea at her home on Tuesday, October 15, from 4 to 5:30 pm. Marjorie Menu, social chairman of YWCA, and Teddy Hicks, membership chairman, will act as co-chairmen of the membership tea.

The formal recognition service of YWCA will be held for new members on Friday, October 18.

PLENTY OF DOOG

Last Saturday at the Santa Clara-Nevada game YWCA girls sold 2600 hot dogs and 50 cases of coke in addition to 7up and ice cream. They will have more food available this weekend, according to Miss Barbara Thompson, YWCA secretary. There will be three stands instead of two.

FWA to Transport Steel Structures Early This Week

Two steel pre-fabricated buildings to be utilized temporarily for classroom purposes will be received next week, Dr. John O. Moseley declared. These structures will be secured instead of five smaller buildings which Senator Carville's Washington office had been informed were approved earlier this week. The two buildings were originally hospital units; they were released upon the university's application by the federal works agency.

Measuring 304 and 320 feet by 20 feet wide, the two structures will be able to handle eight or nine classes. It is probable that the English department, with 35 freshman classes, will receive first call upon the use of the new housing facilities, which will be set up near the new engineering building.

Conferring on the plans were John L. Lamb, FWA assistant division engineer, President Moseley, Comptroller Charles H. Gorman and Architect Russell Mills.

The buildings will be secured from Camp Shoemaker, California, and construction will start on them as soon as they arrive.

Six motor vehicles were also allotted to the university from surplus property. They will transport students to the air corps ROTC training ground. They will also be used in trips to the aggie department's experimental farms.

Sororities Name Homecoming Skit, Float Heads

All sororities on the campus have appointed the chairmen of their committees in charge of various activities related to Homecoming.

Kappa Alpha Theta has appointed Carol Riley chairman of the Wolves Frolic skit. Marilyn Reynolds and Mary Ellen Schwartz have been announced as co-chairmen of the float committee. Vivian Davis is in charge of the Pi Beta Phi skit with Bebe George and Ruth Metzger as co-chairmen of the float committee. Vivian Davis is in charge pointed Helen Brania chairman of the skit committee. The float committee chairman will be announced at a later date.

Delta Delta Delta has announced that Tosca Masini and Joyce Neilson will be in charge of the Wolves Frolic skit. Jean Clawson heads the float committee. Mary Clinton leads the committee planning the Homecoming open house, and Bonnie Molligoni is chairman of the committee for the annual luncheon given for the Tri-Delt alumni.

RUSH OF HEAVY COLDS NOTED AT DISPENSARY

The University of Nevada dispensary has been busier these past two school months treating sore throats and colds than ever before.

Mrs. Petra Phillips states that in her opinion illness is in part due to the large number of students enrolled here and also to the susceptibility of the out of state students to the climate of Nevada.

CLUB ELECTS

This week the Crucible Club elected officers for the current year. Stanley V. Wines was named president; William Hanna, vice-president; Tung S. Fong, secretary, and Pau Hoefling, treasurer.

IT'S ONE TO WATCH

This week's board of regents session should prove one of the most important in years. It is at this session that an "order of priority" will be determined for asking the legislature for construction funds.

The state legislature is the organization that controls the destiny of this university. Plans can be made by the millions, but they might just as well be thrown away if the funds aren't available.

Consequently, in asking for funds for a building program, two important considerations must be taken into account. How much is it really needed? How much does it cost? The answers to those questions will guide the board of regents (we hope) tomorrow.

Funds have already been appropriated for a classroom building. A heating plant is a prime necessity. What follows that? Here's a vote for the student union building.

Oldtimers like ourselves who have grown gray in the service of higher education can remember the days of brick-selling to buy a new ASUN structure. The net proceeds usually were about enough to buy one brick or two. Other ideas, including an assessment on the collegian at registration time, have been advanced, but none of them stand up. Yes, selling bricks might, just might, get the student body offices out of its present ramshackle hideout by 1987, but a legislative appropriation will do it now.

The current building is not only antiquated; it is completely inadequate. Campus groups stumble all over themselves when they have any business to transact in the one meeting room. The only recreational privileges opportunity visible is the rare privilege of gazing at a pile of newspapers.

Sometime a new building, a building that the student body can use and enjoy, must be built. Why not next year? Other facilities are badly needed, granted, but a choice must be made. Ours, we believe, is a splendid one.

HE'S WORTH IT

If there is any doubt in your mind about which way to vote in Thursday's election (on the special amendment, we mean), take a few hours off sometime and pay the ASUN president's office a visit. You'll leave with the conviction that not only should he get a salary, but that whatever the finance control board decides to pay, probably $10 a week or so, isn't enough.

Running a student body of some 1700 students is no picnic. There are countless headaches popping up day after day. There's the problem of administering student government, no small chore in itself. Then there's the direct and indirect responsibilities which accrue at every turn in student life. Something wrong with this club, or that one, or this rally, or that dance? It's the president who has to straighten it out. It's the president, too, who does most of the think-work behind a large share of student activities. It is also the president who lets his books lay dormant in a corner of the frat house while he goes on about some student business which will earn him no grades in any class.

Sure, it's a labor of love, at least in part. The guy who gets the job must want it (poor fellow, the sun probably got him) or he wouldn't run in the first place. But nevertheless it is work, and hard work. The only convincing necessary is to follow Hans Wolfe—or his successor, or his successor—around and see what he does during the course of a day.

Only an unusually light vote could beat this proposition, in our opinion. That's why we urge you to go to the polls and cast your ballot—however you want to, but cast it.

WRA DROPS VOLLEYBALL AS INTEREST SLIGHT

Volleyball was dropped as a WRA activity for the current six weeks because of the shortage of women interested, announced Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's PE department.

Record enrollment of 79 students in the four horseback riding classes was announced by Miss Ruth Russell, riding instructor.

ACT IN PLAY

Three University of Nevada students from Sparks took part in a play, "Pep Parade," which was held in Sparks last week. Students in the production were Anne Calkins, Charlotte Roseberry and Anita Coates. Sponsored by the 20-30 Club of Sparks, the profits were contributed to the recreation center in that city.

Support student activities.

Journalism Grad Wins High Award

Robert C. Miller, 1938 journalism graduate, recently received one of the most outstanding awards ever given a Nevada graduate. It is the Neiman scholarship given by Harvard University.

From the 130 newspapermen who applied for this award, Mr. Miller is one of the 15 who received this honor. Harvard will pay for the training of these newsmen throughout their year of study there. The courses are those which will further the individual in the particular field in which he is interested.

Upon his graduation from Nevada, Miller joined the staff of the United Press news service where he was employed in the Fresno, San Diego, and Los Angeles bureaus.

During World War II, he was a war correspondent for the United Press covering the fighting on both battlefronts. He was in the Normandy invasion, and was severely wounded in the left arm by shrapnel when with General George Patton in France. After the close of the war, he covered the trials of the Nazi war criminals in Nuernberg, Germany.

Miller, after his year at Harvard, expects to continue as foreign correspondent for the United Press.

Chorus Rehearses Frolic Routines

Two routines will compose this year's Wolves Frolic kick chorus, instead of the traditional three because of the limited time in which to develop them. However, Tosca Masini, Frolic committee member, reports that the chorus is going very well and promises to be a good one.

Costumes will be ordered this week. The members of the chorus, all upperclass women, rehearse every night, and sometimes twice a day.

Veteran Officials To Keep Close Tab

The veteran student at the University of Nevada is going to have a close check kept on him, scholastically and otherwise, by the Veterans Administration, according to Mr. Keith L. Lee, veterans training officer at the University of Nevada.

The scholastic requirements of the Veterans Administration are the same as those set up by the university. "If the school will have you and keep you, so will the Veterans Administration," Mr. Lee said.

Each instructor will turn in to the Veterans Administration a complete form on each veteran student every six weeks. This form will list the student's absences, times late, and the student's grade. Any veteran with three or more absences in any one class, or with a below C grade average, will be called in for a conference with the veterans training officer.

In addition to the student's grades, the Veterans Administration is most interested in his attendance. "The veteran student is being paid to go to school," Mr. Lee said, "and he had better have a very good reason for missing any classes." The students' attendance record is one of the best indications of a veteran's attitude toward his school work, Mr. Lee said.

STUDYING AT UCLA

Fred L. Humphrey, 1942 mining graduate, was employed by the bureau of mines in White Pine county this summer. He returned recently to the University of California at Los Angeles for graduate study in Geology. His assistant during the period, Tom Morris, 1937 mechanical engineering graduate, is taking further geological work at the University of Wisconsin.

908 Vets Enrolled For Fall Semester

The total number of veterans enrolled in the university has reached the 908 mark, it was announced by Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men. Twenty-five women are included in the group. There are 32 students registered under the vocational rehabilitation act, while 346 are attending under public law 346.

Dr. Griffin also announced that a large number of the veterans are reserving their veteran's rights for medical and law schools.

Sagers Form Plans For Skit, Float

Plans for the Homecoming Day celebration skit and float were discussed at the meeting Tuesday of the Sagers, campus service organization.

Bill Buck, president of the organization, announced that the Sagers would sell programs and wrap goal posts for the game as usual this coming Saturday. The Sagers also assist in keeping order at the games.

The next meeting of the Sagers is being planned for Tuesday, October 15, at 7:30 pm in the ASUN building.

Orchesis Session Outlines Program For Dance Group

25 Attend First Meet; Public Appearances Planned in State

Twenty-five students attended the first meeting of Junior Orchesis, women's dance club, Tuesday, according to Miss Jacqueline Van Gassbeek, faculty advisor for the group. Three meeting times were decided upon: Tuesday 6 to 7:30 pm, Wednesday 6 to 7:30 pm and Thursday 5 to 6 pm. Attendance at the next session is expected to reach about 35 or 40.

Orchesis requirements are very lenient, said Miss Van Gassbeek. "If a girl can walk or run she is welcome to become a member of the club. The members work out dance techniques and create new dances during the first semester.

Credit Given

Credit in Orchesis is given for four things at once: two WRA credits if the member works all semester; one activity for sorority requirements, and one Junior Orchesis to work toward Senior Orchesis, the national honorary society. For work toward Senior Orchesis, the member must attend 12 times in a semester, make one public performance and one solo privately.

Junior Orchesis gives all members a chance to appear publicly. This year a tour of the state is planned and the club will perform in many local towns. Trips are made to various dance meets, giving the girls chances to make new friends on other campuses. Last year Orchesis went to Mills College and UCLA. There is also a chance to see the best movie strips and various programs of dance from time to time. Miss Van Gassbeek is now looking for a student interested in photography who will take shots of the Junior Orchesis in action.

Crucible Group Holds First Meet

The Crucible Club held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday, at the Mackay School of Mines. Brief talks were made by Prof. Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, Prof. Vincent P. Gianella, head of the department of geology, and Prof. Harry E. Wheeler, sponsor of the club.

Plans are inaugurated to have prominent mining engineers and geologists of Nevada speak before the club during the semester. At the next meeting, a field trip to Steamboat Springs and Virginia City will be conducted by Prof. Vincent P. Gianella, and Dr. Don White of the U. S. Geological Survey.

All students attending the Mackay School of Mines are eligible for membership in the club. Students in mining, metallurgy and geology who can participate in these talks and trips will find them to be of practical value as well as lasting interest.

Yearbook Head Calls Meeting For Next Week

Anyone interested in joining the staff of this year's edition of the Artemisia should attend the meeting next Thursday, Max Dodge, editor of the publication, announced last Wednesday.

Dodge said that many positions on the publication are open, and he expressed the wish that there will be a large number of students interested. Positions in business management and editorial writing are available, and credit is to be given to journalism students in the way of "string inches," etc. Help is also needed in the art and photography sections, Dodge stated. Anyone unable to attend the meeting may call the Artemisia office (2-3642).

Western Theme

According to Dodge the theme for this year's Artemisia is to be entirely western. The cover motif is to be decided soon. Five sections are to be featured: administration, classes, activities, fraternities and sororities, and sports. Sports will be broken down into its various events. Special assignments will also be given out for annual events such as Homecoming and Mackay Day.

On a quiz given recently one of the questions was: "Name two ancient sports." A freshman wrote: "Anthony and Cleopatra."

Gillom, Bass Explain How It Feel When Whistle Blows

Bill Bass and Horace Gillom, Wolf Pack football naturals, will show the speed and nimbleness that ably aided the Wolf Pack's victory over Santa Clara 33-7, when U of N meets Arizona State in Mackay stadium October 12.

Under ten seconds for the hundred yard dash is fast running, but this fast time wasn't foremost in Bass' mind as he sat very relaxed at his study table and, tilting his head back with a slightly wrinkled forehead, answered the question about the thoughts that run through a half-back's mind while catching and running back a punt.

"For a part of a second you are dazed," said Bass, "then you realize you are running; the tricks of experience keep you in the clear as you subconsciously size up the onrushing opposition."

Kentucky Transfer

Bass, 24, from Monongahela, Pennsylvania, is a transfer from Kentucky State where he was one of the highest scoring "backs" of the nation.

Gillom's four-inch long fingers aren't the only reason for his seeming ease in snatching passes. The tall Wolf Pack end is unusually nimble. Gillom, in explaining how those high pass leaps are made, leaned back in his chair and putting his long fingers to his chin said: "First, you have to be at the right place at the right time, size up the play, then time your jump at the last second." Gillom, aside from being nimble, is fast. He has run the hundred yard dash in just a fraction over ten seconds.

Gillom, 25, is from Massillon, Ohio. Paul Brown, now coach of the Cleveland Browns, when coach of the Massillon high school, claimed Gillom to be the best all around athlete in the school's history.

The "King Cole Trio" is the favorite musical group of both Bass and Gillom. These men, army veterans of World War II, enjoy Nevada and the university very much. Gillom, a freshman, is majoring in physical education while Bass' major is social science and history. Bass is a junior. Both men plan future careers as coaches.

JUKE BOX, PIANO QUIET DURING SCHOOL HOURS

Because of classes held on the first floor of Stewart Hall, students will not be allowed to play the juke box or piano in the student center between the hours of 8 and 12 every day of the week, 1 to 2 on Tuesday and Thursday and 2 to 3 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The snack bar will be closed during assembly periods, it was announced. Last week the refreshment stand was unable to handle the rush.

Watch parking regulations.

Those examinations will be coming up any day now.

Aggies Consider Farm Reclamation

Availability of Funds Big Stumbling Block

Reclamation of the university agriculture farm, now being leased, is under consideration. Clarence Byrd, assistant to Dean Cecil Creel, of the agriculture department, stated that present plans hinge upon availability of funds.

The farm, one of two owned by the University of Nevada, is being operated by outside interests at present. However, expiration of the lease in April, and the fact that additional facilities are needed to accommodate the increased enrollment in agriculture, has led to the probability of retaking the land.

Purchased in 1917, the university farm is the original land used by the agriculture department for instructional purposes. Comprising more than 213 acres, the property is located two miles south of Reno along the South Virginia road.

Fleischmann Gift

Farm number two, the university experimental dairy farm, was a gift from Major Max C. Fleischmann in 1944. This layout is used by students interested in dairy procedures, with all of the finished products—milk, butter, etc.—going to the Crescent dairy. Located three miles south of Reno by way of the South Virginia road and one mile west on Huffaker lane, the property was formerly known as the Landino dairy.

Estimates of needs, essential for the proper functioning of both farms, are being made by a committee selected by Dean Creel. When these figures have been compiled, they will be submitted to the board of regents for approval. This information, if needed, will be used by the state legislature for determining the amount of funds to be granted for agricultural use.

A kodachrome study of a sand dune, taken by Dr. William D. Billings of the biology department, was used as the frontpiece and to decorate the jacket of a recent book, "Mammals of Nevada," by Professor E. Raymond Hall, director of the museum of natural history at the University of Kansas.

The picture, taken in the spring of 1942, is of a dune at Sand Springs, near Fallon. The dune is set between a green foreground of vegetation and a dark background of mountains and sky.

The book is the result of 20 years' study, and is an authoritative technical work on the mammals of Nevada, from rodents to big game. Dr. Billings said. Copies of the book are on the shelves of Washoe county library, but the university library has not yet received one of them.

Experienced Boxer Ready for Action In College Matches

Heckethorne, Swobe Among Highly-Rated Sluggers Who Will Compete

Plans for another inter-collegiate boxing team at the University are now under way, with Jim Bailey, football backfield coach, to handle the 1946-47 mitt team.

"A match in the latter part of December will start the season," Bailey said, "with four or five shows during the months of January and February."

Home matches will be held when the varsity basketball team is playing elsewhere. "We may possibly journey down to the Pacific coast inter-collegiate championship bouts in San Francisco," Bailey added.

There are enough battlers enrolled in the school to form a formidable squad, according to Bailey. Those returning from last year are Robert "Frenchy" Laxalt, Jack Swobe, Len Alloy and Pat Heher.

Vets Ready

Along with these are numerous other experienced ex-servicemen. Leading the parade is Howard Reckethorne, Reno welter, who "wowed" the fans at the golden gloves tournament a few years back. "Hecky" continued pushing leather during his hitch in the air corps—winning four and drawing once. Lightweight Jimmy Esola, notable stag night performer, has returned to the campus. Ex-golden glover Harry McKissick, along with light-heavy Bill Ebert and Al Barsanti, add more balance to the squad.

The training room is now occupied, but will be vacated soon for the convenience of those interested in working out before varsity boxing begins.

With the lone exception of the card with Lassen Junior College last year, the Wolf Pack beak-busters were unable to find college competition. A match with

Open House Staged By Lincoln Hall Men After SC Contest

The traditional open house after the first home football game was held Saturday afternoon at Lincoln hall. All university of Santa Clara and University of Nevada students were invited. Henry Stewart, chairman of the program committee, said he had no idea how many people attended but that "the place was packed from five till seven."

Music for dancing was furnished by Fred Wood, Jr.'s orchestra, and refreshments, consisting of punch and cookies, were donated by the dining hall.

Dr. John O. Moseley and various members of the faculty dropped in during the afternoon.

Open house at Lincoln Hall is sponsored annually by the residents of Lincoln Hall.

RIFLE SQUAD PLANS STATED BY PARKER

Candidates for the women's rifle team will meet at 4 or 5 pm. Monday at the range while the men's team will meet Tuesday at the same hours, announced Col. Gilbert A. Parker, ROTC head and director of the teams.

Stanford last season was cancelled when the Indians declared they lacked a sufficiently strong team for competition. This year, however, with boxing being revived up and down the coast, plenty of inter-collegiate rivals are available.

Wolf Pack Dumps Santa Clara Club By 33-7 Count

Horace Gillom Stars In SC's Worst Loss In Ten Years

Displaying an aerial attack that will threaten any club in the west, the Wolves of Nevada drubbed Santa Clara's Broncos 33-7 Saturday afternoon in Mackay stadium before 6000 jubilant fans. Many of the partisan spectators had gathered in the hope of witnessing a Nevada triumph, but few, if any, expected the local team to walk off with the game in such convincing fashion.

Once before in the history of the gridiron conflicts between the two schools, a Nevada eleven had won. Back in 1919, in the first encounter, the Wolf Pack trounced the Santa Clara team 41-7, but from then until Saturday, Nevada football clubs hit a snag when they played the Broncos. In the last meeting of the two squads, 1934, the Californians completely humbled Nevada's representative, 40-0.

Getting off to a fast start, the Pack pushed over a score early in the first period and took a lead they never relinquished. But the Broncos, a better ball club than the final score board reading indicated, gave the local rooters several bad moments during the second quarter. A sustained drive starting from the Santa Clara 26 was climaxed when Bill Prentice, Broco fullback, dived over from the 1. Gi-anelli place kicked the extra point and the ball game was all tied up, 7 to 7.

No Repeat

At this stage of the contest, spectators were recalling the San Francisco episode in Kezar two weeks ago, when Nevada went into an early 7-0 lead over the Dons, only to wind up on the short end of a 26-14 count at the finish. The gridders were probably conjuring up similar visions, for without any hesita-

THAT TRAIN TRIP DEFINITELY ON FOR GAEL GAME

This time it's definitely on—the train trip, we mean.

That's the word from Gene Mastroianni, who together with Jack Diehl and Doug Trail is making arrangements for a special rooster's train to San Francisco for the St. Mary's clash. There may even be pullmans aboard this time; students requesting sleeping accommodations may so specify when signing up.

Tickets will go on sale in front of the library next Monday. Mastroianni declared that three hotels are being contacted in San Francisco with the hope of getting students rooms in the bay city.

tion they went right back to work, and when the final gun sounded, evidence of their efficiency could be found in the score. Nevada 33, Santa Clara 7.

Coach Jim Aiken, after the game, explained that the fact that the Wolves were fighting strongly at the end of both contests they have been in to date is an encouraging sign. That might well be the telling factor in some future engagement, he added.

In a game where spectacular plays, and rough, tough defensive work is the keynote, there are bound to be many standouts. The Mackay stadium opener was no exception. Horace Gillom, who seems destined for big things in the future, was again Nevada's best all around man on the field. Saturday's game showed 6000 fans that the big end can pull 'em down with as many as three opponents hanging somewhere about his anatomy.

Lloyd Rude deserves a new title, "work horse." His terrific blocking was a highlight of the game. Bill Mackrides' passing was good—four touchdowns worth. Mike Mirabelli, sub for Mackrides, although in the game only a short while, threw a touchdown pass on his first effort—shades of the San Francisco fray. Mike proved he can hit them if given the chance.

Unsung Heroes

Linemen, the unsung heroes of the gridiron, such as Don Talcott, Buster Tilton, John Si-

ARIZONA STATE COACH PLAYED WITH GRANGE

Steve Couthie, head coach for the Arizona State Bulldogs, was the first string quarterback on the Illinois varsity during the days when Red Grange, "the Galloping Ghost," was running wild for the Illini.

Mr. Couthie went to Mesa City, Arizona, upon graduation from Illinois, and coached the high school there for some 18 years. He went from Mesa City to his present position with the Arizona State College at Tempe, Arizona.

mons and many others, bear watching in the coming weeks. Simons, reserve tackle, was the spark of the Wolf line that held the Broncos inches from pay dirt in the last period. This goal line stand, incidentally, was Nevada's first real show of defensive power.

Although defeated by the largest score a Santa Clara outfit has had the misfortune to have amassed against them in the last 10 years, the Broncos looked good in losing. Before the season is through, Coach Len Casanova's boys—Crowley, Prentice, Smith and company—will probably make it tough on several of their opponents.

LIGHTS INSTALLED

New lights were installed in the dean of women's office on Monday. Carl Horn, superintendent of grounds and buildings, employed electricians to put in metal conduits to carry an extra line. Two floor plugs were installed—one at the secretary's desk and one at the dean's desk.

Mrs. Elaine Mobley, dean of women, states that the new lighting is a definite improvement.

Air Minded Pack Faces Arizona

there will be an entirely different ending than Mr. Couthie plans. For instance, the Wolf passing game is well established. All the Bulldogs have to do is stop it—and just to give the Arizona boys something else to think about, Aiken has been polishing his running attack in the last practice sessions.

Although Nevada has scored only once via the ground route, Rude plowed over for a touchdown against Santa Clara, bigger and better things are expected of the Wolves in the very near future. Bill Bass, Tommy Kalmanir, Ted Kondel, Johnny Subda, Jess Standish and every back on the roster, for that matter, has shown a fair amount of ability when it comes to packing the porkhike.

With such an array of talent to send against the Bulldogs, there is little wonder that the Wolf Pack mentor has hopes of making the day a black one for Arizona State. The probable Nevada starting lineup will be:

Q. How long is a second?

A. Sometimes it's 3 2/3 YEARS

One second is not always one-sixtieth of a minute—not in telephone mathematics. Suppose, for example, you find a new method that clips just one second from the time it takes to process a toll ticket. Then apply that saving throughout the Bell System where some 115,000,000 toll tickets are handled a month. The time saved every thirty days equals 3 2/3 years!

Important? From seemingly minor changes or savings frequently come the major improvements which mean better working conditions for telephone men and women and better telephone service for everyone.

In this industry, even long established methods of operation are never considered beyond improvement. For men with ideas and ability, that viewpoint is a stimulating challenge.

Frat Houses Undergo Face Liftings To Accommodate Large Fall Influx

All of Nevada's six fraternity houses underwent modernization this summer. Study rooms are full, and four of the six dining halls are filled to capacity. Sigma Nu received a complete set of chrome steel, leather upholstered furniture, a gift from the Sigma Nu mothers' club. Inside decoration of the house consisted of repainting the downstairs walls a buff color. Future improvement plans include painting the outside of the house, and landscaping the grounds. Sigma Nu houses 22 men at present with the same number regularly using the dining room.

Zeon Sign
Sigma Alpha Epsilon has a new "Zeon" sign over its doorway. Decorations completed this summer include painting the outside portion of the house in white, and the inside in light cream. New construction consists of an upstairs study room, downstairs room for the cook, and outside rear stairway. A new roof is the building plan for the near future. Sigma Alpha Epsilon houses 30 men, while 50 eat regularly in the filled-to-capacity dining hall.

Phi Sig Fixtures
Phi Sigma Kappa has new modern fixtures in the downstairs hallway, and has secured new kitchen implements. The interior of the house was painted white this summer. The outside will be painted and more remodeling done. Phi Sigma Kappa has 24 men living and eating in the house. The frat can accommodate 35 in the dining room when necessary.

Tau Rug
Alpha Tau Omega has a new large green rug with three newly upholstered chairs for the living room. Summer interior improvements include a completely refurnished cook's room and a new cement floor in the kitchen. The downstairs walls were given a cream paint treatment. Plans for the future include sanding the living room floor, new linoleum for the bathroom, and painting the upstairs. Alpha Tau Omega has 45 men living in the house. Dining hall facilities, with the recently added downstairs annex, takes care of a capacity 60 men.

Memorial Present
Theta Chi was recently presented with two bookcases containing six dozen Harper's volumes by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Sawyer, in memory of their son E. O. Sawyer, Jr., who was killed in World War II. Inside decorations completed this summer are a cream painted kitchen, and the upstairs rooms painted the color chosen by the occupants. New equipment planned for the house includes a kitchen stove, upstairs showers, and a furnace. The house has 15 men, 200 regularly eating meals in the dining room. The dining room capacity is 28 men.

LXA Desk Lamps
Lambda Chi Alpha has seven desk lamps for the downstairs study. Two new chesterfields, and two new chairs are in the living room. The space once used for ping-pong now houses four men. The kitchen halls and sleeping quarters have all been painted this sum-

University of Nevada band will attend the St. Mary's game in San Francisco October 27. Mr. Felton Hickman, instructor of the band, reports that the organization will drill as well as play popular numbers.

Final tryouts are taking place this week for two additional majorettes. The names of these majorettes will be announced within the next week. After they are chosen they will receive their new uniforms before marching with the band.

At least 65 members were on hand at the game last Saturday. Several of these needed uniforms. Blue striping has been ordered and will be added to the white pants to make their appearance more complete. New hats have been ordered for the majorettes.

Professor T. H. Post reports that a bass horn player and a snare drummer are needed before the band will be complete.

Aneroid Barometer Records Changes

The recording aneroid barometer, displayed in the physics department showcase in Mackay Science hall, is constantly operating, day and night, for use in university physics laboratories and studies.

This intricate mechanism, which records all air moisture changes, is driven by a clock which runs about a week at a time before further winding is necessary. Sensitive metallic capsules, piled eight high, regulate a geometric expansion, which in turn actuates a lever directly connected to the recording pen. The pen then inscribes the moisture variations on the recording sheet which is fastened around the clock-driven drum. Consequently the intricate device records the changes for later use by the physics department.

"The many recordings are filed away for later use by the student physicists in the study of moisture conditions of the past," Mr. Frank Inman, physics department instructor, stated.

Diehl Sports Real Frat Pin; Four Inches Square

Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have been taxed beyond endurance, striving to give an explanation for the larger than man-sized SAE pin being supported by President Jack Diehl's suspenders.

A fraternity pin is not an extraordinary sight on campus but a fraternity pin four inches square is a rare distinction. Jack has requested that U of N student body understand that his four-inch square pin is the fraternity president's pin. He is not trying to demonstrate his strength, as is popularly believed on the campus.

Nevada is the friendly campus.
