

GARDNER, OLSEN WIN CLASS MANAGER RACES

President's Salary Approved 525-63

Franklin Gardner and Norman Olsen, both ATO men, were successful candidates for sophomore and freshman class manager last Thursday. Gardner won the soph managership by polling 71 votes, while Sinclair Melner, his Sigma Nu opponent, secured 49. Olsen had a narrower margin of victory, defeating Harry McKissick, Sigma Nu, 212 to 182.

The student body president was awarded a salary, the amount to be determined by the finance control committee, by an overwhelming margin. A total of 525 yes votes carried this constitutional amendment easily, only 63 opposing the salary.

The new sophomore and freshman heads will assume office immediately. The affirmative vote on the president's salary indicates approval of the temporary salary awarded during the last student administration.

Rhodes Scholarship Elections Begin For First Time Since 1939 Blitzkrieg

Election to Rhodes scholarships will be conducted in December throughout the United States for the first time since the blitzkriegs of England closed the doors of Oxford University in 1939.

"Formerly, 32 appointments have been allotted to the U. S., but for the years 1946 and 1947 an increase of 16 scholarships make it possible for a total of 48 candidates to further their education above the college-junior level at Oxford University in England," stated Professor S. W. Leifson, University of Nevada representative of Rhodes scholars.

University president, Dr. John O. Moseley, who is secretary of the Nevada selection committee, revealed several changes in eligibility requirements. Veteran applicants may be between the ages 19 and 32 by election closing date, October 1, 1947. This extension of the age limit from 25 to 32 allows students who

Building Annex Plans To Be Set Before January 1

Three New Buildings To Be Requested Of Legislature

The plans for the proposed wing on the new engineering building will be completed by January 1, and will then be submitted to the state legislature for approval in its next session. Russell Meal, the architect in charge, made the announcement this week.

Mr. Meal states that the wing will be extended eastward from the southeast corner of the present engineering building.

Three-Floor Building

The building will consist of a basement and a first and second floor. The machine shop, welding shop and the tool room will be located in the basement of the wing and will have a separate outside entrance.

Leads Into Lab

The first floor will lead into the present electrical engineering laboratory. All the electrical machinery will be transferred from the main building into the new building's first floor. This floor will also include a lecture room and an office.

The second floor will be laid out in the same manner as the first floor. One room will be devoted entirely to all electronic equipment and teaching techniques. There will be individual rooms for radio, communications, a storing room for precision instruments, and a room for storage batteries. There will also be a computation room and an office.

New Boiler

The space in the northern part of the wing will be used for a new high pressure boiler which will replace the old heating unit. This boiler will be accessible from the machine shop that is located in the basement. The estimated size of this room will be 30 feet by 35 feet.

The plans are being drawn up as a result of a joint session of the board of regents and the planning board. As a result of an increased student enrollment and to offer a more rounded curriculum the board is asking for three new buildings for the University of Nevada at a cost of between $1,100,000 and $1,250,000.

Wolf Pack Heads For Night Battle At Balboa Field

San Diego Hopes for Upset; Full House Already is Certain

Taking to the air in two special airliners, Nevada's Wolf Pack departed from United Airlines field shortly after noon today, on the first leg of their journey to San Diego to meet the Aztecs in Balboa stadium tomorrow evening.

Nineteen first stringers and substitutes of the Nevada squad, Coach Jim Aiken and Graduate Manager Joseph McDonnell, took off at 12:30 pm in the first flight and at 1:15 pm the second plane left the field with thirteen team members, Coaches Jake Lawlor and Dick Miller, Dr. W. Hall, team physician, Jack Furin, trainer and Eppy Johnson, manager.

Both flights will stop at San Francisco and finally at Burbank, where buses will take the team on to San Diego. Coach Aiken and the first flight plane to arrive in San Diego at 6:30 pm this evening and the second flight will arrive in the Southern California city at 8 pm.

Top Shape

"The Pack is in top condition and we expect to upset the Aztec eleven. However, our last practice sessions have not been lax. We want to be ready for any plans on the part of the Digegans in trying to reverse our anticipatory victory," Coach Aiken revealed as he studied reports that home-interest in the San Diego team, to the tune of a 24,000-fan-sellout in Balboa stadium, was growing daily. The feeling is reflected by an Associated Press report from the Mexican border town that observers in the area look for a San Diego upset in the Saturday evening game.

According to the Nevada coaching staff, the following players will be in the starting lineup: Sullivan, center; Beaseley, right end; Gillom, left end; Tilton, left guard; Talcott, right guard; Sharkey, left tackle; McClure, right tackle; Mackrides, quarter back; Rude, fullback; Bass, left half; and Kalmanir, right half.

Leading the opening attack for the Aztecs will probably be: Richards, center; Nelson and Curry, guards; R. Kaiser and Boles, tackles; Heaton and Brassey, ends; Radovitch, quarterback; Worden, fullback; Bryant, left half and J. Kaiser, right half.

Kickoff at 8:15
Kickoff will take place at 8:15 pm Saturday evening. This being the first night battle for Aiken's eleven there is speculation as to how well the Pack can detect the ball against the maroon jerseys of the Aztec handlers. San Diego officials voted to use a brown pig-skin without usual white stripes to facilitate night ball spotting. Under these conditions Coach Aiken hopes to get his first string and substitutes, who left on the first plane, into San Diego in time for a night practice session this evening.

Though the San Diegans are

Student Vets Quick To Grab Chance at Empty Dorm Rooms

Since the dean of men's office announced that there were vacant rooms at Highland Terrace men's dormitory, six student veterans have jumped at the chance of getting a room there. Dormitories 28 and 27 are filled to the limit now.

According to Dr. Griffin, the university has not secured control of dormitory 30 yet, but as soon as the dormitory gets its limit of students, the university will take it over. This would make accommodations for about 20 more men available.

Friday Assembly Eliminated Under Revised Program

Shortened Friday classes will no longer be the order of the day after October 18. This was the decision of the ASUN assembly committee at their meeting on Monday, October 14.

Only four hourly assemblies will be scheduled each semester with classes being dismissed so that students may attend. The assembly periods will be staged so that no one class period will be dismissed twice during the semester.

Two additional assemblies may be scheduled by the ASUN senate, the second only with the approval of the assembly committee.

'Adequate Budget' To Be Drawn Up By Engineer Dept.

Electronic Equipment Among Items Asked By College

For the first time in more than five years, the school of engineering has been able to draw up a "satisfactory budget" for new laboratory and classroom equipment, declared Prof. Stanley G. Palmer, dean of the college of engineering.

The 1946 budget, according to Dean Palmer, provides for electronic equipment for the electrical engineering building, hydraulic equipment for the laboratory in the civil engineering building, surveying equipment, and various other types of new equipment for engineers.

The new equipment, it was said, averaging $25,000 in cost for each department, will form an integral part of the general program of improvement and expansion to meet the post-war increases in engineering enrollment. It will be integrated with the plans for the proposed wing on the new engineering building.

'N' Painting Date Set for October 19

The date for the annual painting of the Nevada "N" on Peavine Mountain has been set for Saturday, October 19, announced Harry Paille, secretary of the Block N Society, at a meeting Tuesday evening.

Four hundred freshmen are expected to turn out for this annual freshman chore, Paille said. He also expressed the wish that all who can will bring their cars, since only one truck is at the disposal of the Block N Society. Peavine Mountain is about two miles northwest of the university, said Paille, and though the "N" is quite large the job is expected to be over by noon. Hot-dogs are to be served after the bucket brigade has finished its painting.

The meeting place for the attending freshmen has been designated as the parking lot by Mackay stadium. All who are going should be there by 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Paille added.

CANTERBURY CLUB HOLD SERVICES

At the meeting of Canterbury Club at St. Stephen's House Wednesday night, Gien Swick appointed Jim Davis, Pauline Davey and Marjory Kean as the program committee. Bishop Lewis gave some of the history of the Canterbury Club movement. He said that according to the registrar's office, there are 150 Episcopalians on campus.

Fourteen students attended the services held at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. These services will continue to be conducted at this time. All Episcopal students are urged to come to both the services and the meetings.

Chorus Routines Will Open, Close Wolves' Frolic

Kick Chorus routines, which traditionally open and close the Wolves' Frolic, were outlined by Tosca Masini, member of the Frolic committee, this week.

As an opening number, the chorus, dressed in military fashion, red, white, and blue, will dance to the accompaniment of the Men's Chorus, singing "Call Me Mister." The Frolic will be closed in the same way except that the girls will wear short tuxedo affairs, to suggest homecoming of veterans from all over the world, and their transition to civilian life.

During the Frolic, the chorus will perform a second number, a change of mood and rhythm, in which they will be dressed in frilly dresses.

Marian Booth, a member of the chorus, was forced to drop out after spraining her ankle during rehearsals. She is to be replaced by Elaine Van Meter. Other members of the chorus are Catherine Aldrich, Beryl Dickerson, Joyce Nielsen, Gloria Mapes, Mary Clinton, Madlen Maestretti, Alice Etchart, Helen Boner, Pat USSery, Virginia Casey, Jeanne Adrian Sutton, Beverly Minor, Irene Beck, Doris Mastroianni.

Six Weeks Grades Out October 28

From the registrar's office comes word that the first six weeks grade reports will be out Monday, October 28, and following this, the status of students having low grades will be determined by the administrative council.

Students with grades of D or lower will be notified and those having low grades in a third of their work may be put on probation.

INDEPENDENTS ELECT OFFICERS FOR SEMESTER

The Organized Independents held elections of officers at the Monday night meeting. Chosen president was Charlie Lockhart; vice-president, Jack Furin; secretary, Alice Williams; treasurer, Gerard Parker, and social chairman, Nona Lee Tuttle.

A dinner dance will be held Sunday at the Dutch Gardens to which all unaffiliated students are invited.

Six Women Named To Compete for Queen of Event

Jan Savitt's nationally known 16-piece orchestra will play at the Homecoming Day dance, it was announced by Doug Trail, chairman of the dance committee. Savitt was selected from among several well known orchestras.

Meanwhile six candidates for Homecoming queen have been announced. The list includes Norma Carruth, Delta Delta Delta; Ruth Montero, Pi Beta Phi; Connie Madsen, Independents; Gwen Byrd, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mary Lou Sewell, Gamma Phi Beta, and Mariellen Callahan, Zeta Phi Zeta.

This year's Homecoming dance will be held in the university gymnasium Saturday, November 2, starting at 8:30 pm. The Aggies are in charge of arrangements and decorations.

Cups for the best floats will be awarded to the winners during the evening.

Admission will be $240 a couple, and $1.50 for stags.

Plans are being made to present some of the Frolic skits at the dance, Trail said.

Invitations were mailed to Nevada alumni at all points to be present at the Homecoming fete, which shapes up as one of the greatest ever held.

SAE Leads Parade In Alumni Sale; New Buick Arrives

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, followed by Independents and Alpha Tau Omega, leads the fraternities in the sale of tickets for the alumni-sponsored contest featuring as prizes a 1946 Buick, Westinghouse console radio and a Westinghouse washing machine, announced Wayne Bradford, campus chairman.

With only one week remaining in the contest, tickets sales for both fraternities and sororities are coming along rapidly. The fraternities are out in front, with Kappa Alpha Theta apparently leading the sororities, although ticket returns are incomplete, Bradford said.

When October 23 rolls around the leading man and woman in ticket sales will be entitled to an airplane trip to the St. Marys-Nevada football game to be played at Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, on October 27. All expenses for the trip will be paid by the alumni association. Final deadline for all sales will be at halftime of the Homecoming Day football game, when the prizes will be awarded.

The 1946 Buick has arrived for display purposes. The four-door sedan of deep green color will be exhibited at a convenient location in downtown Reno. Sororities and fraternities will share in the privilege of using the automobile for selling tickets.

Home Ec Group To Again Send Gifts Overseas

The Home Economics Club at a special meeting this week voted to continue with their plan of sending Christmas gifts to needy children of Europe.

The gifts sent last year were appreciated, a letter written to Blanche Parker, a home economics graduate of 1946, indicated. The letter was written by a Norwegian girl.

The gifts consisted of cosmetics, plain writing paper, pens, ink, pencils, any kind of wearing apparel and toys.

The opinions expressed in the editorials of the Sagebrush are those of the editor and do not necessarily reflect the viewpoint of any other individual or of any campus organization.

THE EDITOR TALKS IT OVER

Next week heads of various campus organizations will meet to talk over the Sagebrush, and some of the problems that have come up. It is unfortunate that this move is necessary; but there seems to be no alternative.

Ever since this editor has been associated with the paper, the number of junior and senior students interested in burning the midnight oil has been very small. That takes into account not only this year, but previous semesters before and after the war. Other activities seem to hold more attraction. Currently, of course, scholastic requirements are also a stumbling block. In fact, very much of a stumbling-block. That is our trouble.

In addition to putting out a newspaper we are required to go to school. During this first six-week period we have asked several people, in whom we saw possibilities last semester, if they would like executive jobs on the 'Brush. Some have apparently been unable to handle the bookwork and the Sagebrush work. Most have been apathetic. A few have told us they would help out when needed; we appreciate this spirit, but we believe that the 'Brush should be primarily run by students with a real interest in this sheet for itself, and for the opportunities it has to offer.

We have advertised via these pages and via the campus bulletin board for interested upperclass students, but the response has not been calculated to bowl us over. Consequently most of the actual editorial supervision has fallen upon one head. Although the paper suffers because of this condition—the more experienced aid, the better chance for success—we have tried to hang on and attend classes too.

It's a greased toboggan ride though; and scholastically we have run into serious difficulties. It may be impossible to extricate ourselves from the educational red ink in which we have become mired, and still hold the job.

This editorial is written not in apology, but for general student information on one of the most important extra-curricular activities on the campus. Whoever is in charge at this desk has had to face this thing time and time again. Sometimes it's like heading your head against a stone wall. You do most of the work yourself, and sometimes you slip up here and there; whenever you do, bingo! Everybody tells you about the mistake in spelling the name, or the story that didn't get in.

We feel still that the publications board—independent editor setup is the best one possible. We'd like to see this sheet, whether in our hands or someone else's, run for and by the students.

It cannot, however, be operated properly by one student or two, unless somebody figures out a way to keep the key persons away from scholastic F's. As we'll probably discover soon, the faculty frowns upon that mark, whether it is made by the 'Brush editor or any other student.

Placement Test System Started In English Dept.

Two-Part Exam Indicates Student Grasp of Fundamentals

In keeping with the policy of the University of Nevada to provide individual guidance and assistance for each student, the English department under the direction of Dr. Charlton G. Laird has this year inaugurated a system of placement tests for freshman English students.

Long in use in leading colleges throughout the United States, the tests were given this year for the first time in an attempt at systematic classification of beginning English students at the University of Nevada.

Results of the tests were then used to indicate at which level the student should begin his study of composition and literature, and classes were arranged accordingly.

Two-Part Tests

The test consisted of two parts, one an objective test which could be scored rapidly and which indicated the student's grasp of fundamentals of construction, grammar, syntax and the like. Second part of the test consisted of a theme written in class on a topic chosen from a list of about 12 basic subjects for all entering students.

Individual cards were kept for each student showing his score in the tests and indicating his activities for three or four years past, so that the veteran who had been away from classrooms and English composition for a considerable length of time need not be judged on the same basis as a student fresh from four years of high school English instruction.

In cases where there was some doubt as to which section the student was qualified for, he was given the benefit of the doubt and moved to the higher rather than the lower section.

To Be Moved Up

Furthermore, Dr. Laird added, those who display superior ability in the first few weeks will be moved up to the next highest bracket, while those who fail to measure up to their indicated ability may be moved back.

After all of the individual cards had been checked and sorted into various classifications, sections were then formed in accordance with the needs of the students. Every effort was made to keep the sections small, with 25 set as the maximum number of students in each class.

About 800 students are enrolled in the freshman English classes, with English A, the section for those scoring lowest grades in the test, numbering about 125.

In classifying those in English 1 and 2 distinctions were also made with regard to ability, and superior sections of English 1 will be pushed in an effort to eliminate the necessity of taking English 2, Dr. Laird pointed out.

In each case, the emphasis has been placed on the individual ability of the student and every effort made to relieve him of English routines with which he is already familiar and to send him on to fresh fields which will challenge his abilities.

"I shall now illustrate what I have in mind," said the professor as he erased the board.

Harvard has put into effect a program to bring the 395 foreign students into close contact with the student body.

Summer Session Record Reached

655 Enrolled in Classes During Two Terms

With a total enrollment of 655 students, the 1946 summer session at the University of Nevada was the largest in the history of the institution, according to figures compiled by Dr. Harold N. Brown, director of summer sessions.

In 1945 attendance figures reached 206, which is 50 less than the 258 this year enrolled for the first six-week term alone. For the past several years the summer session has been divided into two terms of six weeks each, making it possible for a student to earn 12 to 14 university credits by attending both terms.

Courses Offered

With the return of more than 500 veterans to the campus, summer courses in beginning language, English 1 and first year mathematics and physics were offered to help students remove deficiencies and fulfill first year requirements as rapidly as possible, Dr. Brown said.

Teacher training and refresher courses were included for those who were satisfying Nevada school law requirements and validating war emergency certificates under which a large number of teachers have been employed in the last few years.

23 in Home Ec

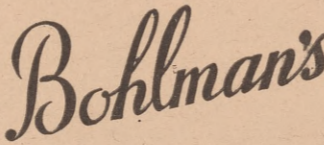

The intensive home economics course offered from August 19 to 30 enrolled 23 teachers for additional work in this field for which they received credit.

Plans for next summer session already being made include a still larger variety of subjects and a continuation of the first and second year required courses so that students may fulfill freshman and sophomore basic requirements and so advance their class standing for the regular term.

LIBRARY SECURES NEW REFERENCE BOOKS

The library has received several new reference books, reported Miss Johnson, the library's cataloger. The new books include "Blacks Law Dictionary," "Social Year Book," "American Nicknames," "American Mottos and Slogans," by Shankle, "Usage and Abuse," by Partridge, and "Current Biography—1945." There were also two books that were restricted during the war, "The Japan Year Book, 1943" and "The China Handbook 1937-43."

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:
Sagebrush September 27, page one column five reports that the Interfraternity Council is attempting to set a minimum grade standard for pledges at 1.8 or .2 point below the prewar "C" minimum (number of minimum courses not specified in the report).

Sagebrush October 4, page one column four—"Nominations from all sororities and fraternities of candidates for 'Who's Who in American Colleges' have been received in the office of Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, according to..."

Now we are in some doubt as to what should constitute a "Who's Who," or to put it less simply just who is to decide who's a who's who. Or as one candidate might ask another from a different frat "Whose Who's Who are you?" This word game has unlimited corny possibilities—but to get on with the story.

We should like to think of a who's who as one who has done some outstanding thing or things for the benefit of his fellow students, the school, or society in general. Not just a brain or an athletic whiz, although these would certainly be in his favor.

It is our understanding that fraternities and sororities are organized primarily for the social pleasure and benefit of those students who are members of fraternities and sororities. We find no fault with this and feel that we might be socially benefited if there were enough democratic social organizations so that every student could belong to at least one common-interest social organization. But since frats and sororities are expressly organized for the benefit of members and not for students as a whole, and since a majority of students on the campus are not members of these organizations; we question the right of frats and sororities to act as nominating agents for this position of "Who's Who in American Colleges." We believe this question is well put (1) on the basis of democracy (more students independent than in frats and sororities); (2) on the basis of lack of ability of purely social organizations to fairly judge qualifications of such an honor and (3) on the basis that if frats and sororities are entitled to nominate Who's Who candidates all campus organizations should have the same privilege.

This story is based almost entirely on the two articles in the Sagebrush referred to at the opening. We may have erred as to fact in some cases. Criticism and comment are invited.

Bill T. Foster.

Winnemucca Grad Attends Nevada On Scholarship

John W. Boynton, 17, a 1946 graduate of Winnemucca High, is now attending the University of Nevada after having been the recipient of one of the Smith scholarships.

Boynton was originally awarded the Fleischmann scholarship and was named as alternate for the Smith. However, the delegate for the latter was called into the service and Boynton accepted the more lucrative award. He is now majoring in mechanical engineering at the University of Nevada.

"A" Student

Boynton was an "A" average student in high school and also took part in many activities. He was captain of the football team in his senior year, and was also president of the Block W and Pep Clubs. During his high school days he was also president of the sophomore and senior classes and treasurer and vice-president of the student body. He was chosen as valedictorian of his graduation class.

Boynton is a pledge of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boynton of the Boynton ranch, box 446, Winnemucca, Nevada.

Sig pin of Bill Ebert; Esther Glick, a Gamma Phi, has Elmer Bacchini's SAE pin; Janet de Costa, Tri-Delt, now wears the Sigma Nu emblem belonging to Nick Jackson.

Susie Smith, Kappa Alpha Theta pledge, passed candy at the chapter house on Monday night. She is wearing the ATO pin of Bob Bay. Marilyn Hansen, KAT, is proudly displaying Bill Griswold's ATO emblem.

Phi Sigma Kappa entertained Pi Beta Phi at a social on Thursday night, and Alpha Tau Omega will hold a social for the girls of Artemisia Hall on next Wednesday.

Those examinations will be coming up any day now.

Frat, Sorority Pledge Affairs Held Last Week

Many Couples Attend Dances Given by Greek Houses

Commenting on the pledge dances given last weekend by the campus sororities and fraternities in honor of their new pledges, Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, said, "Social activities on the University of Nevada campus, including their dances, are well organized and attended."

Approximately 100 couples were present at the Sigma Rho social and at each of the six pledge dances.

Dean and Mrs. R. C. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Griffin, and Mrs. William Raggio were guests at the Alpha Tau Omega dance, given Friday at their fraternity house. With Dick Elmore and Warren Hursh in charge, punch was served during the dance and music was furnished by Carl Burns and his orchestra for the '62 pledges and their respective dates.

LXA Dance

Mel Rovetti took charge of the Lambda Chi Alpha dance, held Friday at the Twentieth Century Club, and punch was served to their many guests. Mr. and Mrs. Francovich and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Nichols were guests of honor present at the dance.

The music for the Sigma Nu dance, under the auspices of Bob Knudson, was supplied by Howard Lowinstein's orchestra. Chaperoning the dance were Bernard Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Elywn Freemonth.

SAE Ball

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance, held Saturday night at the Odd Fellows Hall, with Carl Bruhns six piece orchestra, was chaperoned by Mrs. Mabel Rapson, Mrs. J. C. Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Daniels.

A Halloween theme with black and orange masks for dance programs was presented for the Tri-Delt pledge dance given Saturday night at the Twentieth Century Club. Guests of the evening were Mrs. Starr and Mrs. Fulton. Refreshments for the event included cider and doughnuts.

Patrons and patronesses for the Gamma Phi Beta pledge dance were Mrs. Addie Reinkin, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Reynolds. Music was furnished by Ernest Piersall and his "Stardusters." Refreshments consisted of coffee, ginger bread and whipped cream.

Punch was served at the Sigma Rho Delta social given Sunday in honor of the Tri-Delts and music was furnished by the latest in swing records.

ORCHESTRAL FRESHMEN OUTNUMBER UPPERCLASS

Freshmen outnumbered upperclassmen at the first meeting of Junior Orchestral under the new schedule Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Meetings are from 6 to 7:30 pm on Tuesday and Wednesday and from 5 to 6 on Thursdays.

Sagens to Start Making Pom-Poms For Homecoming

Sagens, an honorary women's service and pep organization, announced last night that production of pom-poms to be used at the Homecoming game has begun. The pom-poms, blue and white streamers of crepe paper on a stick, will be sold at Mackay stadium the day of the game. "Their purpose," said Jo Ann Miller, president of the organization, "is to add a little more color to the event."

At a meeting October 10, the group of upperclass women selected from each sorority and from the Independents, discussed plans for the sale of corsages, and the possibility of helping the Sagens, male equivalent of the Sagens, sell programs at the Homecoming game.

Said Miss Miller, "The Sagens will have three rows in the cheering section reserved for them. These seats will be occupied by the group when the day's 'service' has ended and the 'pep' begins."

THE SPIANS DISCUSS PLANS FOR CAMPUS PRODUCTION

Campus Players at a regular meeting on Friday, October 11, discussed plans for their first production of the semester to be presented shortly after Homecoming with tryouts of interested students to be under the direction of Professor William Miller.

Revision of the constitution of the organization was also discussed, according to Helen Brania, president.

NEWMAN CLUB LAUNCHES MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Newman Club held its first meeting of the year last Sunday with President Pat Heher in charge. Members received communion and the meeting was held immediately after breakfast in the cathedral social hall.

Tentative plans for activities for the coming year were made and a membership drive will be launched on the campus with Pela Oyarbide as chairman of the committee. Members of the committee will try to contact personally each Catholic student on the campus.

The next meeting will be a dinner for all members, old and new, sometime next month.

Patronize the snack bar. Is your Frolic skit ready?

BLUE PEPPERS WILL ENTERTAIN DURING HOMECOMING GAME

Blue Peppers, women's pep organization, will participate in the Homecoming activities with military drills during the halves of the football game, Gloria Mapes, head of the organization, said this week.

The Peppers have been receiving instruction in their military drilling from Master Sergeant R.-L. Stull of the university military department.

College women wishing to join this organization may still apply for membership.

Time Extension Granted Women In Upper Classes

Half hour more time is now granted junior and senior women before evening deadline at sororities and halls from all scheduled social functions, said Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, recently. The following women's group presidents agreed on the time schedule: Ellen Turnquist, Artemisia - Manzanita; Evelyn Payne, Delta Delta Delta; Dorothy Sewell, Gamma Phi Beta; Marilyn Dugan, Kappa Alpha Theta. and Betty Waugh, Pi Beta Phi.

Schedule now in effect for women allows seniors until 2 am, juniors 1:30 am, sophomores and freshmen 1 am, to sign in after social events.

The scheduling of all campus group activities by a representative of each organized group took place in the meeting of the calendar committee held September 24 in Morrill Hall.

Only upperclassmen can be accommodated at Pennsylvania State College this year, because of overcrowded conditions.

Two Women Go To WSSF Conference

Jeanne Adrian Sutton and Edith Moore attended the WSSF conference at Stanford October 12 as representatives of the University of Nevada YWCA. Plans were formulated at this meeting for conducting the World Student Service Drive on campuses in the Pacific Southwest region.

Miss Sutton also represented Nevada as a member of the regional council in their meeting at San Jose State college on October 13. Here a joint meeting of YWCA and YMCA was held to decide future policies of these organizations.

PROGRAM FOR COURTESY CLINIC IS OUTLINED

Programs for the Courtesy Clinic and the Coordinating Committee were outlined at the meeting of the Student Service Board Wednesday in the YWCA rooms. Rachel McNeil presided over the business meeting. Billy Heath is chairman of the Courtesy Clinic, while Virginia Cole is in charge of the coordinating committee.

Those attending the meeting were Rachel McNeil, Virginia Cole, Billy Heath, Dean Elaine Mobley, and Ty Short.

Thirty-three southern colleges and universities have inaugurated a five-year program to "vitalize instruction," eliminating dull teaching.

Don't Wash the Dog in Laundry Tubs, Stern Edict in Campus Trailer Court

Washing dogs in the laundry tubs will be strictly prohibited. Baby boys will not enter the women's washroom unless they are accompanied by their mothers. Every dog owner is responsible for his own dog.

These are some of the rules and regulations adopted by a group of veterans and their wives, all residents of the university trailer court on West Second street, at a meeting held last week in the central laundry room.

Many problems and gripes arising from crowding 36 families into a space about as large as two residential lots, were aired and ironed out at the meeting, but among the most important had to do with misuse of the central laundry room. It seems that several dog owners have been bathing their furry charges in the tubs and failing to clean out the resulting hair. Naturally, the next person to use the tubs in this condition would object.

Next in importance was a related problem concerning coffee grounds left in the tubs after someone's dishwashing chore. The group of university students and their wives democratically handled the situations by voting to set aside one of the limited tubs as a "wash all" tub.

As a result of complaints registered by several of the women residing in the court the mothers were asked to keep boys out of the women's washroom. Henceforth, the boys will have to use the men's washroom, unless accompanied by mothers.

The abundance of dogs in the trailer area presented quite a problem since no one could establish definite evidence against an owner for his dog's natural habits. The majority present at the meeting decided that each dog owner would have to police the general area around his trailer. This being the estimated scope of a dog's natural activities.

Three semi-automatic washing machines will be installed as soon as they reach Reno, Major Gene Evans revealed to the group, along with university plans to install running water in each unit.

"Controlling such a diversified group in such a confined area calls for the cooperation of everyone concerned," Evans said as he concluded the meeting.

Members of the controlling body who communicate between the residents and Dean Robert Griffin, who is responsible for the trailer court and its maintenance, are Gene Evans, Robert Taylor and Robert Reeves.

Students Invited To Sagers Dance On November 23

The entire student body is invited to the Sagers semi-annual dance to be held Saturday, November 23, it was decided at a meeting held Tuesday, October 15.

Al Cecchi was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization. The Sagers Homecoming skit and floats for the Homecoming Oay parade were discussed. George Himes was placed in charge of the float committee.

Bil Buck, president of the organization, stated that it was decided to give students who are trying out for the Sagers full credit for rehearsal time put in on the skits.

Hale Tognoni, chairman of the rally committee, attended the meeting and thanked the Sagers for their cooperation in the torch parade held before the Santa Clara game.

Four Scholarships Awarded by Group

Four Jewett W. Adams scholarships have been awarded by the committee on scholarships and prizes, announced Dr. Harold N. Brown, professor of education.

Recipients of the awards are William D. Fugit, Patricia Ireland, Joyce Percy and Nora Saunders, each having a grade point average of better than three.

Each scholarship carries a value of $100, which is awarded in two installments, $50 this semester and $50 the next, Dr. Brown stated.

Dr. Brown also announced that any students who wish to make application for a scholarship may do so by obtaining one of the regular application blanks furnished by the committee on scholarships.

Members of the scholarship committee are Dr. Brown, Dr. Jay Arnold Carpenter and Dr. George Sears.

Directory Ready For Distribution

Students, Faculty To Be Listed in Book

The University of Nevada directory, with names, address and phone numbers of all students, faculty members and employees of the university, will be ready for distribution during the coming week.

All group houses will be contacted first, according to Jim Glynn, chairman of the directory committee of the Blue Key. The price per copy to students is yet to be determined.

(Alade, Kaare, soph., engr. Box 40, Sparks, phone 3876) is the first listing in the student section with (Zunino, Olga (grad) A&S, 635 Plumas street, phone 2-3138) as the last of the 1728 odd students listed in the 46 page directory. The faculty employee section lists an approximate total of 316 names.

Groups Responsible

The Blue Key and the university administration are responsible for the compact, neatly bound and informative campus directory. Aside from listing information of students, faculty members and employees, the directory also gives fingertip information about the following groups: officers of the university, officers of the student body, social organizations and Reno churches.

Clarence H. Mackay's statue, as it appears in front of the school of mines, is pictured on the front cover of the directory, while the back cover lists the colleges of the university, and carries the words: "University of Nevada—73rd year."

Money received from directory sales will go to the Blue Key and to the university administration to defray the cost of printing.

The directory was printed by Carlises of Reno.

Fresno State expects an enrollment of over 3000 students when all the late registrants complete their signing up.

Daniels Attends Alumni Reunion

Rex Daniels, University of Nevada Alumni Association executive secretary, traveled to Los Angeles this week for the 16th annual alumni's reunion of southern California, to present that organization with an official charter.

Silas Ross, chairman of the board of regents, and Mrs. Ross; President and Mrs. John O. Moseley; Coach Jim Aiken and Mrs. Aiken, and several members of the university football team are expected to attend, Daniels said.

On his trip down to Los Angeles, Mr. Daniels stopped off at Las Vegas to confer with the Las Vegas chapter and to solicit subscriptions for the "Alumnus," the annual alumni publication.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS TO INSTALL 150-HP. DIESEL ENGINE

The mechanical engineering school plans to start installation immediately of a new 150 horsepower Diesel engine. Blueprints have been drawn and present plans indicate that the engine will be ready for use by next Engineers Day.

SOPHOMORE VIGILANTE COMMITTEE WILL REPORT VIOLATIONS

The sophomore vigilante committee met for the first time Wednesday in the ASUN building. The main purpose of the meeting was to organize "vigilante force" whose duty it will be to report all violations by freshmen, announced Jack Walling, chairman.

Heretofore, Walling said, the upperclass committee will meet every Thursday at 3 pm to consider the cases of those freshmen who are "arrested" by the sophomore vigilantes.

Walling advised all freshmen to conform strictly with the rules put forth in the freshmen handbook.

Wolves Romp Over Arizona Bulldogs By Score of 74-2

Reserves Star in Battle After First-stringers Pile Up Early Lead

The Nevada Wolves added 74 more points to their total scores for the three games played last Saturday in the contest with the Arizona Bulldogs of Tempe, Arizona.

The 74 to 2 victory for the Wolves was largely due to the splendid work of the reserves. Talcott, Sullivan, Sharkey and other first stringers were pulled out of the game after the first few minutes of play. Mackrides and Mirabelli remained in the game alternating at quarterback.

The team was sparked along by the playing of Morley Bockman, quarterback, Wildcat Bill Morris, center, Turk Eliades, halfback, and Johnny Subda and Ted Kondel, halfbacks.

Take to Air

The Wolves took to the air and gained a total of 366 yards by the brilliant passing of Mackrides and Mirabelli. Rude led in yards gained on the ground with a total of 67. Bass accounted for 34 more, and Kondel contributed 30 yards.

Two of Nevada's touchdowns were made when Arizona State committed offside penalties. In both cases the blowing of the horn caused the Bulldogs to stop although the play had actually never ended. Heads up ball on the part of the Wolves accounted for the scores. Had the Wolves stopped when the horn blew, the plays would have ended there

Band to Perform At Gael Contest In San Francisco

Members of the band will be in full force at the St. Mary's game. Band members will be able to leave on the special train Saturday evening or on the earlier train Friday.

They will appear twice at the game. Before the contest, they will march onto the field for a brief appearance. During the half-time period, they will form the N, march in maneuvers and will play a jazz number as well as several military marches.

Membership in the organization has now reached 65. Band members are using uniforms from several years back, and some of the musicians are using make-shift uniforms. Thus far, only two new majorette hats and blue striping for the trousers have been ordered.

Felton Hickman, music instructor at Billingshurst junior high school, is director for the group. Tommy Thompson is drum major, while Teddy Hicks and Pat Ireland are the majorettes.

but instead they chose to continue goalward without interference. As the penalties were against the Arizonians and Nevada had the choice of refusing or accepting them, they naturally took the touchdowns.

Although most sports writers figured the game to be closer, the Bulldogs couldn't have been expected to do too well. They haven't played football at Tempe for the last four years and only one member of the team had had any previous football experience before this year.

Arizona's Steve Couchie, head coach, was a first string quarterback when the immortal Red Grange made his college freshman debut at the University of Illinois.

The greatest building boom of all time is approaching for American universities and colleges.

San Diego State Record Impresses

Aztecs Lose Close One To Strong Cal Poly

The San Diego State football team is a good college eleven in spite of the fact that there are not many "outstanding" players in the lineup, reports line coach Jake Lawlor. Coach Lawlor watched the Aztecs lose a close one to a rugged California Poly Tech eleven 20-13. In spite of this loss the San Diego Aztecs have set an impressive record in their other two starts this season.

Coach Bill "Gander" Terry's Aztecs measured Pomona College in their first encounter of the season 34-0.

Art Blaisdell, halfback; Jess Bryant, fullback, and halfback Bob Tomlinson were the big guns in the assault against the hapless Sagens.

Another Win

After the California Poly loss they bounced back into the win column by a decisive victory over the Whittier Poets. Again it was the stellar work of halfback Art Blaisdell and fullback Jess Bryant which vanquished the Poets 35-7.

The San Diego line will average about 200 pounds. The backfield is somewhat lighter.

The Nevada Wolf Pack gave the Aztecs a sound thrashing last year in Mackay stadium with a lopsided score of 44-6.

Nevada Jayvees Stop Lassen J.C. By 38-0 Count

In their opening football game of the season, the University of Nevada junior varsity team rolled over Lassen Junior college at Susanville Saturday by a 38-0 score.

The Nevada team started out slowly with one lone touchdown in the first half scored by Bobby Rude on a quarterback sneak. Bobby is the younger brother of Lloyd Rude, varsity fullback.

The second half found Nevada running wild when Lionel Leonard, after intercepting a pass, sprinted 40 yards for a score. Jacques Welin then cut loose with a 30-yard pass to Bill Smalles for the third score and a 20-yard pass to Gerald Wyness for the fourth. Leonard scored again on a 20-yard off tackle play. The final score was accomplished by the Welin to Wyness combination.

Coach Johnny Hatalla, wounded veteran and two letterman, was well pleased with his squad, Nevada's first junior varsity team. The jayvee's backfield coach is Darwin Farnsworth, one of the backfield stars of last year's varsity team. Farnsworth is ineligible to play ball this semester.

An oddity in the game occurred when Bill Smalles, halfback from Elko, entered his very first play of football with a touchdown.

Future junior varsity games include Lassen Junior college on October 26 and Martinez Athletic club on November 16, both to be played in Reno.

Taus, Sigma Nu Lead Fraternities In Kinnear Race

The inter-fraternity sports tournament this week found ATO and Sigma Nu running neck and neck for top honors in horseshoes and softball.

In horseshoes the Taus and Sigma Nu's won six and lost one each to tie for first place, while Lambda Chi compiled a record of five and two for a comfortable second place.

The horseshoe picture was repeated in the softball league with the ATO's and Sigma Nu's again vying for the lead and ending in a deadlock with six wins and one loss.

A play-off game was held between these two aggregations in both sports Friday afternoon on Clark field.

The only other inter-frat sports activity of the week was in tennis with SAE and Sigma Nu both winning via default over the Independents and Sigma Rho respectively.

Male students are enrolled at Vassar College along with the coeds this semester.

Wolf Pack Scores 121 Points Over Three Opponents

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack now has a total of 121 points for the three games played this season. This is nearly four times as many as the 35 total points which have been scored by the combined opposition on the Nevada team, which should place the Wolves pretty close to the top as one of the nation's highest scoring teams.

Tommy Kalmanir, left halfback, though he missed the touchdowns of the Arizona game, still leads all other members of the Pack with 24 points scored in the first two games. John Subda is second with a total of 19 points for three games.

Dodge to Head Block N Group

Max Dodge was elected president of the Block N society at a meeting held Tuesday night. He succeeds Bob McClure. Other officers elected for the coming year included Bill Gillis, vice president, and Harry Paille, secretary-treasurer.

Coach Jim Aiken was made an honorary member of the society and Bob O'Shaughnessy, Block N representative, will present Aiken with his numeral at a student body assembly at a later date.

Also at the meeting track letters were voted on and the following nine men will receive Block N sweaters for their efforts: Grant Davis, Max Dodge, Floyd Edsall, John Fagan, Bob O'Shaughnessy, Carl Robinson, Jack Swedenborg, Jim Melarkey and Jess Standish.

FIRST GYM CLASSES

The first gym classes were held on the newly finished floor of the old gym Wednesday, October 16, declared Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the department, who reported that the floor had been scrubbed and finished but that it is not yet dry enough to use extensively. The present plans are to use the old gym for dance classes and other gym classes that had previously been conducted outside on the girls' athletic field, near the tennis courts.

Cagers Prepare For Hoop Season

Eastern Tour, Tourney Slated in December

With the opening game against Chico State less than six weeks away, the University of Nevada basketball team is preparing for their tough schedule with four pre-season practices each week. Coach Jake Lawlor is putting his charges through several scrimmages in hopes of developing a team that will equal his nationally acclaimed squad of last year.

At the first unofficial practice of the year, more than 50 men turned out. This squad had to be reduced in order to have "working room," said Lawlor. At the present time there are around 25 players showing up on Tuesday and Thursday nights and Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

Returning Lettermen

Returning lettermen include Robert O'Shaughnessy, William Curless, Jimmy Melarkey, Orsie Graves, Bob Durham, Max Dodge and Grant Davis. In addition, new men showing up well are Hal Fisher, Dale Peck, Robert Larsen, Orrin Snyder and Roger Brander. With players like this, there is little doubt that Nevada's opponents will be in for a lot of trouble, Lawlor said.

Teams encountered before the regular season include St. John's, St. Joseph's, Georgetown, Duquesne. All these games will be played in the east during the first part of December. There will also be a tourney played in Reno on December 20 and 21 between Nevada, SFU, Colorado A & M, and Brigham Young.

New Pack Trainer Is Pitt Transfer

The Wolf Pack football team has a new trainer this year in Jack Furin of Uniontown, Pa. This is Jack's first year at Nevada, but he is classified as a junior, having transferred from the University of Pittsburgh. He is 21 years old and attended Pitt from 1944 to 1946. He succeeds Dick Taylor at this post.

At Pitt, he was assistant for two years to Howard Waite, one of the foremost athletic trainers of the nation. Waite is the co-inventor of the famous Smith-Waite knee brace, used extensively by college and professional football players. Furin used this brace with good results in his present position.

Arriving in Nevada late in June, he immediately set to work establishing a training room. He painted over the old training quarters and equipment to make Nevada's training room rate with the best in the country.

Sore Leg Specialist

Jack can usually be found in the training room between 1 and 6 in the afternoon, but it isn't unusual to see him working over a sore leg as late as 11 pm. He handles all Wolf Pack injuries personally. The boys on his squad certainly are glad to have him around after a rough workout. "Jock" as he is sometimes called is majoring in Spanish and when asked what he thought of Nevada said, "I like it very much and plan to finish my education here."

Executive Group Names Athletic Award Winners

At a meeting on October 16 the ASUN executive committee announced the names of students who will receive various athletic awards.

Basketball awards go to Grant Davis, Max Dodge, Bill Gillis, Orsie Graves, Jim Melarkey, Bob O'Shaughnessy, Carl Robinson and Jack Swedenborg.

Len Alloy, Robert Laxalt, and Jack Swobe were named to receive boxing awards.

Bill Gillis was appointed to represent the basketball squad on the managerial committee.

Senate Names Assistant Yell Leaders; Cole, Sweatt Appointed to Positions

Upon the recommendation of the head yell leader, Virginia Cole and John Sweatt were appointed assistant yell leaders by the ASUN senate. The status of Sinclair Melner, John Echeto and John Michael, members of last season's yell leading squad, was clarified and their official status last year was determined as assistant yell leaders.

Appointed Delegate

Elinor Jensen was appointed student delegate to the Youth Services, Incorporated, meeting which will be held on October 23 at the Reno Recreation Center.

The men's upperclass committee reported that old traditions which were in effect before the war will be strictly adhered to and violators punished. Constructive punishment will be dealt out rather than physical punishment. Those students persistently failing to cooperate will be punished by forfeiture of ASUN privileges.

The women's upperclass committee has decided that no distinction will be made between veterans and non-veterans and both will be subject to the same rules and punishments.

Road Suggestion

It was suggested that the main road running through the university grounds be closed to automobile traffic in the mornings as there has been a great deal of speeding.

The Independents had requested three representatives to the senate because of the large numbers of unaffiliated students on campus this year. Since attendance at the regular meetings of the Independents had not increased sufficiently to justify their having another senator, the number will remain at two.

$100 Limit Placed On Frolic Skits

Controversies over expense limits on the Frolic skits were definitely settled at the meeting of the Frolic committee Wednesday night. A $100 limit was placed on all acts.

A full rehearsal of skits will be held on Saturday, October 19, from 9 till 5 when the acts will be discussed and suggestions made.

Turnout for individual acts was very small, and more people are needed. Another tryout will be held in the future, Miss Masini said.

AGGIE CLUB ACTIVE IN HOMECOMING PLANS

The Aggie Club is faced with a very active schedule said Doug Trail, head of the group. The organization is working on a float for the Homecoming Day parade. On their schedule, also, is presentation of a skit for the Wolves' Frolic and the preparation for the Homecoming Dance which is under the direction of this group.

The club now has a total of 55 members. Next meeting will be held Wednesday, October 23.
