

WOLVES MEET SANTA BARBARA STATE

Moseley Reveals Building Status To Student Group

Five-Year Project Discussed in Full At Joint Meeting

"Release by the interim board of the $350,000 allotted by the state legislature two years ago, is the only matter delaying construction of the new classroom building on the lower campus," stated Dr. John O. Moseley, university president, in a meeting of the student improvement committee yesterday in his office.

President's Five-Year Plan

As a highlight of the meeting President Moseley outlined his five-year building and improvements plan for the university campus, with the aid of his miniature relief map and model buildings to represent the present structures and those to be added.

"First on the agenda is the new classroom building. Two years ago the $350,000, authorized by the legislature, would have constructed an elaborate three-story 20-classroom building. But now, all we can expect for that price is a building with simple classrooms and no equipment. More funds will be needed for equipment," stated Uresident Moseley.

New Heating Plant

The second building to be constructed as part of the five-year plan, approved in a recent meeting of the board of regents, is the badly needed heating plant. "Our present heating system is 40 per cent overtaxed," President Moseley declared, "and we certainly can't count on it to supply heat to any additional buildings."

As the third proposed structure the life science building is needed to add classroom and laboratories to the applied science schools. The agriculture department cannot expand to keep abreast of the developments in agronomy, soil experimentation, and range economic studies. President experimental laboratories for botany, horticulture and bacteriology studies are "on a par with some of our state high school laboratories and no better," emphasized President Moseley.

Engineering Wing

In order for the engineering department to handle the present over-grown lower classes as they advance into upper classes plus the additional burden of large freshman classes, the engineering building must have a wing added. If the university ever expects to have all its engineering courses accredited more adequate facilities must be provided.

University Must Expand

"This proposed $1,500,000 building program sounds too rich for the state's blood at present, but the meager income of $300,000 from the state for support of the university just won't cover the necessary improvements required to properly educate Nevada's growing population of young people. I believe the population of Nevada will double within 10 years, and if the releases of the Veterans Administration are at all accurate veteran enrollment, according to them, will not reach its peak until 1950. We must expand to meet that influx of students," stated President Moseley.

Student Backing Needed

In reply to the question, "What can the student body do to back up in putting this plan into effect?" asked by Henry Stewart, chairman of the student improvement committee, President Moseley asked them to use their

Hinckley Elected Alumni President

Wayne Hinckley of Reno was elected president of the University Alumni Association last Saturday evening at the annual banquet held at the Dutch Garden. He succeeds John Chism, also of Reno.

Mr. Hinckley, Associated Oil distributor in Reno, was a member of the class of 1926. He was president of his freshman class and also served as varsity football manager while on the campus.

Louis Weiner, president of the newly organized southern Nevada chapter of the association, was elected vice-president. Mr. Weiner, a 1937 graduate, is now a practicing attorney in Las Vegas. A head yell leader while at Nevada, Weiner was also active in Blue Key and served on numerous student committees.

Bruce Bowen May Be Nevada Choice For Rhodes Study

1946 Grad-Army Officer Is Only Applicant For Scholarship

Robert Bruce Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bowen of Reno, and a graduate of the university, will probably be selected as Nevada's representative for Rhodes Scholarship advanced study program at Oxford University in England, Doctor John O. Moseley, university president and secretary of the Nevada Rhodes Scholarship selection committee, said this week.

As Bowen's application was the only one received in Nevada the state selection committee will probably endorse his application at their meeting on December 12 and following this endorsement Bowen's application will be placed on the agenda of the district committee as a prospective representative from the seventh district.

Bowen was graduated from the University of Nevada in August of 1946 completing his requirements in the second summer session. His career at the university began in 1940 following his graduation from Reno high school. During his stay at Nevada he served as junior class president, president of Blue Key service organization, participated on the intercollegiate debate team and was active in Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

In 1943 Bowen left the university to accept an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Completing the three-year accelerated program he was graduated and appointed a second lieutenant in the field artillery in June of 1946. He is now stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Bowen majored in English and minored in history at the university. His ambition is to serve the United States in a foreign diplomatic capacity. For this reason he has long desired to go to England as a Rhodes scholar to learn more about the British Empire, its governmental policies and its philosophical attitude. If he is selected by the seventh district, composed of Nevada, California, Utah, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico, he plans to study philosophy, politics and economics at Oxford.

TRI-DELTA, LAMBDA CHI DANCES HOLD SPOTLIGHT

Delta Delta Delta will hold a carnival dance Saturday night for all chapter members and their dates.

The annual Lambda Chi Alpha baby dance will be held Saturday night at Lawton's.

YWCA Presents Assembly Program On November 13

Vivian Davis in Charge Of Entirely New Ski Program

Entertainment for the student body assembly to be held Wednesday, November 13, promises to be new and different. It will be something never before tried on the University of Nevada campus and will be given by the YWCA girls under the chairmanship of Vivian Davis. Miss Barbara Thompson, secretary of YWCA, states that the theme of the skits will not be disclosed in advance.

This assembly will take place at 10 am in the new gym, with classes dismissed. In the past, classes were not dismissed but shortened, and assemblies took place every Friday. In the future the meetings will be few and far between, but according to Hans Wolfe, student body president, they will be better assemblies with a full class hour time.

Business to be transacted at this student body gathering will be the award for the best attendance at the Homecoming dance last Saturday night.

Freshman and sophomore class managers will take their oath of office, and the award for the girls' scholarship will be presented.

Henry Stewart, chairman of the student improvement committee, will give a report on the activities of his group.

While the assembly is in session the library and snack bar will not be open for business, Wolfe said.

STEWART HALL BASEMENT CLOSED FOR ASSEMBLIES

A request from the student body council that the basement of Stewart Hall be closed during assemblies is to be granted, Barbara Thompson, secretary of YWCA, announced today.

In the future both the recreation room and the snack bar will be closed any time assemblies are being held. The student body council hopes to encourage a larger student attendance at assemblies by closing these popular meeting places of the delinquents.

SAGERS PROGRAM SALES ANNOUNCED

Two thousand football programs were sold at the Homecoming game Saturday by the Sagers, campus service organization, Bill Buck, Sager president, said today.

This organization, which has been instrumental in carrying out numerous services to aid both students and the campus in general, proudly displays the Wolves Frolic trophy which it won for having the best organizational skit. The title of their skit was "The Men in Her Life."

NEW GYMNASIUM IS ARRANGED FOR SIMULTANEOUS SPORTS

The new gym is now arranged so basketball, volley ball and badminton may be played at one time. This was made possible by installing four new portable basketball backboards, reports Professor John E. Martie, head of the PE department.

These backboards can be moved to any position, making various combinations of floor space available.

"Doc" Martie said that two basketball games will be played at one time when freshman ball starts.

Women Athletes To Be Decorated At WRA Dinner

A sports award dinner and initiation into Women's Recreational Association will be held November 14 at 5 pm, Billie Kennedy, president of the association, announced today.

Women students who have received participation credits in rifle, horseback riding and tennis, will be initiated into the association, and members who have been recognized as outstanding in these two sports will receive awards at that time. Names of those women who are to be initiated and to receive awards have not been announced as yet.

Dorothy Thompson heads the committee for initiation activities and Barbara Olesen is chairman of the food committee.

Two-Man Squads Represent Nevada In Debate Meet

Experience To Be Gained In Individual Events at Compton College

Five two-man squads will represent the University of Nevada at the debate tournament to be held Friday, November 15, at Compton College in Los Angeles, Mr. S. H. Vinocour, debate instructor, said today. The meet is sponsored by the Southern California Tournament Association.

Although they will not take part in the debates, Nevada representatives will perform in individual events. These include extemporaneous speaking, impromptu speaking, oratory and dramatic interpretation.

Attendance at the southern tournament will be primarily to give the debaters experience in tournament procedure and to serve as preparation for the contest to be held in San Francisco on November 25, 26 and 27. Sponsored by the Western Association of Teachers of Speech, all schools and colleges west of the Rocky Mountains may compete in this San Francisco tournament.

Those planning to enter extemporaneous and impromptu contests at the southern California tournament will be MacLin Sumners, Jack Millinger, Huling Ussery and Arthur Johnson. Rex Jemison, Bruce Anderson and Jack Diehl will speak extemporaneously, while Gordon Hawkins and Scott Whitney will take part in the impromptu speaking and oratory.

Nevada will be the only out-of-California school in attendance at the tournament. Other colleges will be Redlands, Pomona, College of Pacific, University of Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, Los Angeles City College, Occidental College, San Jose State Teachers' College, San Diego State, California Institute of Technology and Compton College.

MONDAY MORNING CLASSES OUT FOR ARMISTICE PARADE

Morning classes at the University of Nevada campus will be dismissed Monday, November 11, so that students and faculty members can participate in Armistice Day exercises. The decision was made at a meeting of the administration council Friday, November 1.

Afternoon classes will be scheduled as usual on Armistice Day.

Senators Plan New Official Bulletin Board

Students' Status To Be Clarified In Near Future

At the bi-annual joint meeting of the senate and administrative council of the University of Nevada on Wednesday night the suggestion was made that another bulletin board be erected for official notices only. Heretofore the posting of a notice on the bulletin board was considered sufficient for everyone on the campus, but the suggestion was made that notices coming from an official source be read in classes.

Clarification of the class status of certain students was discussed. It has been found that difficulty in classifying students exists all over the country. The problem is being worked on and students will be able to obtain their correct classification in the near future.

Parking regulations on campus were discussed and it was brought out that the administration is behind the regulations as they exist at the present time. Streamlining registration so that it can be completed in less time and more efficiently was a topic for discussion.

Dr. John O. Moseley addressed the joint meeting and spoke of the need for close cooperation among students, administration and faculty. He stressed the point that nothing can be accomplished without this cooperation.

Henry Stewart, student chairman of the improvement committee gave a report on what the students are anxious to have accomplished in the way of improvements on campus.

U of Hawaii Y's To Back Wolves

Cheers, yells and songs for the Wolf Pack at the University of Nevada-University of Hawaii game at Honolulu on December 7, will be given by YMCA and YWCA members of the University of Hawaii. This announcement was made by Barbara Thompson, YWCA secretary, for Arthur Wong, president of the YMCA at the University of Hawaii.

In a letter to Miss Thompson, Wong said, "In less than two months now, the University of Nevada football team will visit the islands to play the University of Hawaii in the annual Pineapple Bowl game. Due to the great distance between Nevada and Hawaii, it will be almost impossible for your team to be accompanied by any sizeable rooting section. It is our desire, however, to see that your team finds some encouragement and reminder that they are fighting hard to uphold the honor of Nevada.

"We are requesting, therefore, that you, Barbara, send us copies of some of your songs and yells so that we here at the YMWCA may form some sort of rooting section for your team."

SUBMIT CONSTITUTIONS

All organizations on the campus which were inactive during the war years, and which desire to be reinstated to their former status, must resubmit their constitutions at the office of the ASUN president. The announcement was made today by Hans Wolfe, student body president.

Blue Key Dance To Follow Rally

A pep rally is scheduled for Friday night starting at the Gamma Phi Beta house at 7 pm with a torch parade which leads to the new gymnasium where there will be a rally followed by a Blue Key dance.

The torches for the parade are being furnished by the Sagers. At the rally, the Sigma Nu fraternity will present a skit, according to Bob Durham, master of ceremonies. Immediately after the rally the Blue Key dance will begin.

Pack Trek South Cancelled; No Penalties Meted

Miss. State-Nevada Deadlocked Over Racial Problem

Controversy over the University of Nevada-Mississippi State football game that was to be played November 16 was brought to a close November 4 when a wire from C. R. Noble, Mississippi State athletic director, was received stating that, "it is satisfactory with Mississippi State for Nevada to cancel our game with no penalty to accrue to either school."

This was in reply to the University of Nevada's wire that was drawn up by the athletic board, and sent to the Mississippi State officials on November 4. The wire read as follows:

Wire Read

"At a meeting of the board of athletic control of the University of Nevada held on November 1, 1946, your wire of November 4, 1946, was read. After due consideration of your letter and lire and after receiving legal advice, our board of athletic control is of the opinion that it is impossible for us to reach any mutual agreement. Therefore, the board of athletics voted to cancel our game with no penalty to accrue to either school. We would appreciate your immediate telegraphic agreement to this arrangement."

The difference was initiated as a result of southern customs in athletic competition, and the reaction of the original wire that was sent by the Mississippi State officials. The wire read as follows:

Old Southern Custom

"I am sure that you are familiar with southern customs regarding Negroes, and you probably have in mind not to play them in our game; because if they were to attempt to play, it would cause considerable commotion."

Several universities have followed the University of Nevada's example in cancelling scheduled games with southern universities.

SUGAR WILL SOON AGAIN FLAVOR SNACK BAR COFFEE AGAIN

Fervent hallelujahs will soon be heard in the YWCA snack bar when sugar, which has been absent from coffee cups for several weeks, will reappear, Mrs. Winona Earl, snack bar chairman, stated this week that there will be sugar "any day now."

According to Mrs. Earl, snack bar volunteers are now serving approximately 300 students a day.

They consume the sugar allotment in short order. Plans are now being made to secure a cigarette machine for the basement recreation center.

One-Win Gauchos Battle Wolves On Mackay Turf

Visitors Hope to Stop Aerial Attack Of Nevada

By Gene Evans

Nevada's Wolf Pack will be after its fifth win of the year tomorrow when it goes up against a game, but luckless Santa Barbara State eleven on the Mackay stadium turf at 2:30 pm. The Wolves, passin'est in the country, coming off of the sloppy showing against Montana State last weekend, will be out to redeem themselves in the eyes of their followers.

Santa Barbara's Gauchos, on the other hand, having hit the win column but once this year, will be all out to join the "upset" bandwagon. Sporting as beefy a forward wall as any team to meet the Wolves to date, the Santa Barbarans hope to stop the Pack's ground game and then beat them at their trade—passing.

Iffy Question

However, if the Gauchos can muster an attack via the air to remotely resemble the Nevada aerial circus they will be doing SOMETHING. Last compilation of national standings of major football clubs, places the Wolves on top of the heap, and if the Santa Barbara team is to scale the lofty heights, their work is cut out for them.

Reports from scouts indicate that the Californians have appeared disorganized in their past encounters, but Coach Jim Aiken, Nevada guiding light, made known in a recent interview that Santa Barbara is just the type team to come alive against his Silver and Blue club. Stan Williamson, Gaucho mentor, is a smart man, and I'm looking for anything to happen where he is concerned. It's a known fact that Nevada has been put down as a 'special event' in his little black book," said Aiken. "But we are not going to let it be a red letter day for him, if we can help it."

Stress Defense

Concentrating on their own running game, the Wolves, nevertheless, found time the past week to stress defense, both ground and overhead. Remarked Aiken, "We have a strong group of running backs, but our passing game has been the mainstay of the team so far. It's conceivable that our passing attack will backfire one of these days and when it does I want something else to fall back on. I hope that Saturday won't be the day, but if it is, then our backs will be ready to take over."

Former Opponents

The Santa Barbara lineup when it takes the field tomorrow will have several men who previously had football experience at the University of Nevada. Foremost among this group is Frank Kirkland, 230 pound center. Kirkland turned out for spring football training last year before deciding to enroll at the California school.

The Gaucho lineup: Ends, Peters and Paulson; tackles, Bowman and Golsen; guards, Kirkland; quarterback, Billingler; halfbacks, Patton and Cathart; fullback, Miller.

The Wolfe Pack Probable lineup: Ends, Gillom and Beasley; tackles, McClure and Sharkey; guards, Tilton and Sinofsky; center, Sprague; quarterback, Mackrides; halfbacks, Bass and Kalmanir; fullback, Rude.

JUST MARK TWO

Along with the several other races on the ballot this week was for the low man on the totem pole—Mario Recanzone and regents. General campus sentiment, so far as we can determine, was for the low man on the totem pole—Mario Recanzone and Paul Sirkegian. Several frat and other organizations went on record as supporting the candidacy of these two men because of first-hand knowledge of their abilities. Sirkegian, an incumbent, had already achieved a creditable record as a regent.

Both men were soundly defeated, however. It doesn't take much master-minding to figure out why.

Several people whom we didn't see until after the elections—people who have no connection with the campus—were asked their choices in the race. They gave us the blank-stare treatment, and then replied, "Well, I voted for the first two names on the ballot. It's kind of an honorary job anyway, isn't it?"

Now, the campaigning is all over, and the might-have-been angle is dead. Mr. Cahlan and Mr. Hilliard very possibly will be highly competent regents—at least, there is no evidence to the contrary and in running for the job they have indicated an interest in campus affairs. They should be given every cooperation.

But that isn't the point. The business of voting for the first two men, and the additional comment about the "honorary position" are sad commentaries on the beclouded role of the job in the mind of the average voter.

Somehow the point must be gotten across that the board of regents are a big factor in running the university. The public should be enlightened about the responsibilities and duties of the positions. It is the board of regents, together with the president, who ask for legislative appropriations; that group has a lot to say about determining policy at this university.

They are administrators, administrators who hold tremendous power in shaping the university. It is high time they were regarded as such by the people who elect them, and not as sort of a board of visitors who are in the running for the prestige.

THE ONLY SOLUTION

An editorial on the Mississippi State cancellation now seems superfluous, as the story broke all over the country in the early part of the week and dozens of editors and sports writers have had their say.

The athletic board of control made the only move possible. There is no argument about that; indeed, any other decision would have been greeted with hoots and catcalls not only here, but throughout the country.

Gillom and Bass, in addition to being a very large share of the football team, are students—participating for the university in an extra-curricular activity. With football commercialized to its current degree that angle is easily forgotten. It's there, nevertheless; and to allow discrimination against them would be a black eye against Nevada.

Fresno State really blazed the trail this time; their unfortunate experience, in just barely having time to lodge a student body protest before the teams took the field, was a great teacher. The Staters had to play, sans their Negro performer; fortunately, Nevada didn't.

The athletic board of control acted promptly and properly. The lesson to be learned out of the whole mess is—don't schedule the deep south colleges.

The Mississippians can't really be blamed for their attitude; you don't change centuries of prejudice for one football game. But, so long as their racial views are incompatible with ours, there should be no further relations between this school and those with the southern "traditions" to uphold.

New Frat Pledges Named This Week By Dean's Office

The list of new fraternity pledges was announced by Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, today.

The Theta Chi's have pledged the most with 19 new men. Sigma Nu is next with six men; then Alpha Tau Omega with four; Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Alpha Epsilon have each claimed two new pledges; with Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Rho Delta pledging one each.

Theta Chi's list of pledges includes Robert R. Allen, Walter Case, Thomas M. Ekel, Manford Hardesty, Tom L. Jolly, Paul C. Lepori, Robert H. Lin- ka, Robert C. Martin, John F.

Milburn, Joe Moore, Elmer Prima, LaMar R. Smith, Earl Reimers, Harley R. Woodworth, Wallace D. Spencer, Alex V. Rassuchine, Philip E. Whitmer, Richard R. McDermid, Robert McCrae.

Sigma Nu pledged Jules Benbow, Floyd Gori, James L. Moell, James T. Smith, Eugene Sprout, David W. Towner.

Those pledged by Alpha Tau Omega were Alan Dondero, Earl C. Freemont, John Brice Leggett, Louis Steve Mendive.

Phi Sigma Kappa chose Robert W. Calvert and Leonard Marmor.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledged John W. Patterson and Robert Patrick.

Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Rho Delta pledged Morgan J. Sweeney, Jr., and Harold Nellis, respectively.

Former Students Score at Polls on November 5

Molly Malone, Russell Among Victors in GOP Landslide

Eleven former students and graduates of the University of Nevada won recognition in the November 5 election. Most of these men were running on the Republican ticket and came through with victories.

Former student, George W. (Molly) Malone, Republican, defeated Berkeley L. Bunker for the seat in the U. S. senate. "Molly" Malone was a student from 1913 to 1917, left school to enlist in the army as a private in World War I. He served overseas in the AEF as a lieutenant, after having worked his way up through the ranks.

After the war, Malone returned to the university to continue his course of engineering. During his college career Mr. Malone was captain of the football team and baseball squad and won the amateur middleweight boxing championship of the Pacific coast for the university. Senator-elect Malone is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

In the other federal government post the Republicans scored again when they elected Charles H. Russell, editor of the Ely Record to the U. S. house of representatives. Mr. Russell, a former student at the university, defeated Malcolm McEachin, Democrat, for the position.

'32 Grad Wins
On the local scene Republican Harold Taber, 1932 graduate and former assistant district attorney, won the post of district attorney over Gordon Rice, Democrat.

Six assemblymen were chosen for the Nevada state legislature from among former students. All are Republicans. Leading the parade are E. Frandsen, "Bud" Loomis, 1936 graduates;

University Singers To Present Program

The university singers will present a program at the Reno Repertoire Club Monday, November 11, at the home of F. B. Headley, 432 Court street.

The program, under the direction of Professor Theodore H. Post, will include "Sweet Promised Land of Nevada," sung by Alberto Barrios with entire group.

The words for this song are by Walter Van Tilberg Clark, son of former University of Nevada President Dr. Walter E. Clark, and are taken from his book, "The City of Trembling Leaves." The music setting is by Professor Post.

Other numbers on the program will include the "Bells of St. Mary's" by the men's group, "Waltzing in the Clouds" and "Carioca" by the women's group and "Waltzing Matilda" by both groups. Solos by Nona Lee Tuttle, Bud Hardesty, Leslie Harvey and Esther Gordon will also be presented.

Professor Post said that since the space in the home of Mr. Headley is limited, only half of the university group will take part.

William Beemer, 1934 graduate, former president of the University of Nevada Alumni Association; Louis Capurro, 1940 graduate; Carl Fuetsch, class of 1929; Marvin Humphries, 1931 graduate, and Francis "Tank" Smith, class of 1932.

Republican Harry J. Dunseath, graduate of 1933, won the justice of the peace.

Elected to the board of regents for the University of Nevada was John F. Cahlan, class of 1926.

The non-political position of hospital trustee was won by Dr. W. W. Hall, football team physician, for the short term.

CHINESE GRADS STUDY MINING AT UNIVERSITY

Sent by Government In Exchange Policy With Uncle Sam

Liang-Chiu Chow, Horner Lee and Ven-Chung Lee, mining engineer graduates from Chinese universities, are visiting the University of Nevada campus to study and practice for a year in the United States.

Sent here by the Chinese government as a result of a policy of student exchange with the Chinese and the United States governments, they left their families behind to accept this opportunity. All three men held jobs in a copper mine in China.

At present they are stationed at the United States Bureau of Mines Metallurgy building on the campus and can be seen spending most of their time in the library of the Mackay School of Mines.

Speak at Meet

Last Wednesday the three spoke at a meeting of Associated Engineering students. Thursday noon they lectured downtown at a luncheon of the American Institution of Mines. Horner Lee, 1935 graduate from the Tsing-Hua University at Peiping, is a special student in geology.

Liang-Chiu Chow and Ven-Chung Lee, graduates from the Chao-Tung University at Tang-San in 1937, are special students in their respective fields of metallurgy and ore dressing.

Jay A. Carpenter, professor and head of the department of mining engineering, said that the Mackay School of Mines has had several Chinese graduates. From time to time there have been several prominent engineers as is included in the present group.

"What a dear little boy! And what is his name?"
"His name is Joe, but we call him Flannel for short."
"Indeed?"
"Yep. He shrinks from washing."

Greeks Get Back In Social Swing Following 'H' Day

Social life is getting back to normal on the hill following the activity filled Homecoming weekend.

The ATOs and Phis will get together at a social next Wednesday at the Tau house. On Friday night the Taus will hold their annual coconuts dance. Last weekend they entertained alumni at an open house following the Wolves Frolic and on Saturday honored former ATO members at a luncheon. Approximately 60 alumni were present.

Gamma Phi Beta will be entertained by Sigma Rho on Sunday at Lincoln Hall. The Gamma Phis will also hold a "coed hour" from 3 to 5 every Friday, all Gamma Phis and their guests will attend.

The province director of Pi Beta Phi visited the Nevada chapter from Wednesday until Friday of this week. Pi Phi alumnae were entertained at a luncheon last Saturday at the Colombo. Some 85 alums were present.

Kappa Alpha Theta will be the guests of SAE at a social on Thursday night and next Thursday the Pi Phis will be honored by the fraternity. Open house for alums was held by Sigma Alpha Epsilon before and

YWCA Will Meet Monday for Future Activity Discussion

YWCA advisory board will meet Monday, November 11, at 4 pm in the office of Dean Elaine Mobley, to discuss all campus activities of YWCA.

Special reports on the membership drive, WSSF, football concession, worship committees, and the snack bar will be given by the respective chairman of each committee.

Tea will be served. Decorations are to be on a Thanksgiving theme. Co-chairmen are Marge Menu and Georgia Lee.

The advisory board, composed of 18 Reno women, advises the campus YWCA cabinet. Mrs. John D. Bibb, president, will preside over the meeting.

after the football game with approximately 45 alumni attending. The boys from Evans avenue serenaded the girls at each of the sorority houses and dormitories following their Monday night meeting.

Nearly 100 Theta alums were guests of the active chapter at a chapter house luncheon Saturday.

Theta Chi gave a social for Delta Delta Delta Thursday night and next Friday night a dance will be held at the fraternity house. Open house was held by the Theta Chis following the football game.

Stricter Behavior Asked in Library

Disorder in the university library on the part of students has been brought to the attention of the library staff who have threatened to put into effect strict regulations governing conduct in the library building.

Chief complaint from the staff is that students are neglecting to return books to the library. Workers in the library have even missed cumbersome volumes of encyclopedias, which are not permitted to be taken from the building.

Smoking Warned Against Smoking is also warned against by the staff. It wants to make clear that smoking is prohibited in all parts of the library building.

The staff also asked that students learn to use the revolving doors without spinning them too fast, jamming them, causing too much noise, or endangering others.

Tumbling Added To PE Curriculum

Tumbling has now been added to the men's PE courses, Professor John E. Martie, head of the PE department, announced today. This new class is held at 3 pm on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, under the direction of Irving Hackett, student tumbling coach.

Students who have signed up so far are Alfred Hansen, Melvin Winsor, Allyn Bremen and Bill Ryan.

"Doc" Martie said that anyone interested in tumbling was welcome to come to class, although the small room limits the number of participants.

Sigma Nu's Team, SAE Bob Coughlin Win Cross Country

Sigma Nu surged ahead in the race for Kinnear trophy points by placing men second, third and fourth to win the Homecoming cross country team title last Saturday. The race was won by Bob Coughlin, SAE, in 24-59.9.

Leading the Snakes to victory was Orsie Graves, second; Harvey Rose, third, and Gunther Bruechner fourth. Lambda Chi clinched second place with Dick Rowley finishing ninth, Eid Robinson, 11th, and Eric Richards, 12th. Sigma Alpha Epsilon took third, placing Coughlin first, John Boynton, sixth and Frank Rittenhouse 14th. With Bill Smales coming in seventh, Alpha Tau Omega was fourth in team competition.

Despite the icy wind which swept over the four mile course, Coughlin, paced by his older brother Jim, winner of last year's race, made good time.

The course record of 21-34.2, set in 1928 by Fred Lohse, Lambda Chi, remained intact following Saturday's race. The traditional "grind" began back in 1927 when Les Clover of Sigma Nu broke the tape and Lambda Chi won team honors.

Last year the race was won by Jim Coughlin, unattached, in 25:45 and Theta Chi took first place for the house teams.

SADDLE-SPURS RIDES

Sixteen members of Saddle and Spurs, women's riding club, rode horseback in the Homecoming Day parade Saturday. The girls rode in formation of four abreast, led by Joanne Hibbs, standard bearer.

Miss Ruth Russell, riding instructor, gave commands for formations which were executed as the parade progressed. Due to limited space only a few formations were presented.

'Tavern' Tryouts Now Being Held

Tryouts for the first major campus stage production, "The Tavern," are being held daily in room 106 in the hall of English. The tryouts, which began Wednesday and will be concluded next Tuesday, are open to all students.

Scheduled for December 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21, George M. Co-han's two-act play runs the entire evening. "The Tavern" is a farce and includes mystery, satire and romance. Director will be Professor William Miller. With a cast of 15 characters, the play calls for four women and 11 men.

The Reno Little Theater has been secured for all major productions and a new seating system has been adopted. All university students will be able to secure free reserved seats by presenting their student body cards. Seats which are left after students receive theirs will be sold to townspeople at $1 plus tax.

Capacity seating at the theater for the five nights will offer a total of 1,500 tickets for distribution.

Handel's 'Messiah' Set for December

Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," will be presented in December, after an interim of two years, under the direction of Professor Theodore H. Post, in the new University of Nevada gymnasium.

A number of students will combine their talents with singers from Reno, Sparks and Carson City. The chorus will include more than 100 people.

The Reno civic chorus and orchestra presented this famous work annually for ten years before the war. Rehearsals for the chorus will be held in the band room of the gymnasium on Tuesday nights at 7:30. Fifty singers attended the first chorus rehearsal.

JUNIOR VARSITY BALL DROPPED FOR SEASON

Junior varsity football has been dropped for the remainder of this season for lack of opposition in this region. The jayvee squad numbered around 35 men and the more likely looking prospects were absorbed by the varsity squad while the others quit for this year.

The jayvees, coached by Johnny Hatella and Darwin Farnsworth, played one game, beating Lassen Junior College of Susanville 38-0.

CAMPUS WOMEN PARTICIPATE IN MANY ACTIVITIES

Observing the number of Girl Scout, Campfire Girl and Girl Reserve handbooks about the campus, one might think that the average age of the college coed has lowered considerably, but such is not the case.

Through YWCA, campus women are taking active positions as advisors to Girl Scout, Campfire Girl and Girl Reserve groups. Students in charge of Campfire Girls are Rosa Campbell, Sue Pierson, Pat Furchner, Georgia Lee, Marge Kelley, Eve Biglieri and Jeanne Walker. Dorothy Brigman and Joylin Johnson are leading Girl Scout troops and Joylin Johnson also has charge of a Girl Reserve group.

Credit on YWCA memberships is given for this activity, Barbara Thompson, YWCA secretary, stated.

Upperclass men are still out for parking violators.

DONATES BOOKS

Elsa Sameth, head of the department of physical education for women, has donated a number of books to the University of Nevada library, announced Miss Clara Johnson, library cataloguer, today.

Among those donated are "Twelve Hours of Hygiene," "Organic Chemistry," "Dawn Over the Amazon," "The Fighting American," "Modern Ski Technique," and "Lincoln's Wife."

Pugilists, join the varsity.

Gauchos' Record Not Impressive; 1 Win, 4 Losses

200 Pound Line Plus Swift Backfield Fail to Pay Off

If the law of averages run true to form, the Santa Barbara Gauchos should win another ball game this season. So far the Gauchos eleven has made a sad showing, losing four and winning only one of its five starts. "In spite of the fact that the Santa Barbara lads have a 200 pound line and a swift backfield they have failed to show any of their potential power against the opposition," says Coach Jake Lawlor.

Head Coach Stan Williamson's gridiron warriors did what was expected of them the first game of this season and handed a rugged California Poly Tech eleven a 19-0 beating. This victory promised better things to come. The following week the Staters lost a close one to Loyola 7-0.

Smashed by COP

The Gauchos were smashed 20-0 in their third encounter by a wild running College of Pacific team which is coached by Alonzo A. Stagg, the venerable grid mentor who has shown his football wizardry many times before.

Independents Adopt 'Barb' Designation

Although organized independents have been known as Barbs for many years, there was nothing official about this title until last week's meeting when members of the organization decided to adopt Barbs as their legal name.

"Barbs is an abbreviation of the word barbarian to distinguish the group from the civilized Greeks on the hill," President Charles Lockart revealed.

Next on the Santa Barbara agenda was that powerhouse team from down southern California way, Fresno State. Fresno took the measure of the Gauchos and put them on ice, 20-7, before the day was over.

Last week the Staters tangled with the San Jose State grid team and again came out second best, 20-0. This defeat at the hands of San Jose ran the total losses to four.

Because the Gauchos have lost four of their five encounters does not mean that they don't have any outstanding players. The Green and White have some formidable looking men in their lineup and a few stars. Sam Cathart, 170 pound halfback is a big gun in the backfield along with big, 200 pound fullback Miller who was all conference at Santa Monica Junior College.

One member of the Santa Barbara squad who has been out of the lineup for sometime because of injuries, halfback Max Diamond, will be in shape to play this Saturday against the Wolf Pack.

Size of Campus Is Big Advantage, Mobley Declares

Dean of Women Recalls Small Town Days in Nevada City

There are unlimited opportunities for growth and development at the University of Nevada, both for individual students and for groups, in the opinion of Miss Elaine Mobley, who this fall was named dean of women.

Nevada's small size is a distinct advantage in this respect, Miss Mobley believes, and pointed out that each student can find a place in some activity in which he or she is interested, making for a full, well-adjusted social life important to any individual.

Born and reared in Nevada City, California, in the picturesque mother lode country, Miss Mobley recalls with keen appreciation the small town freedom of her school days.

Nevada City Grad

After being graduated from Nevada City high school, she attended the University of California at Berkeley, receiving her bachelor of science degree there.

With such a typically western background, Miss Mobley has a ready understanding of and sympathy for problems of the Nevada undergraduate. Her first teaching experience was as physical education instructor in Placer union high school, where she was also dean of girls and student counselor.

Placer's First Dean

When Placer Junior College was opened, Miss Mobley was made dean of women, a position she held for ten years. In addition to her bachelor's degree, Miss Mobley has done additional work at the University of Oregon and Mills College, and has completed a master of arts degree in educational psychology, counseling and guidance at California.

McGoogle Men Plan Steak Fry At Galena Creek

Student residents of McGoogle Hall and their guests will migrate to the picnic grounds at Galena creek lodge this evening for a steak fry.

"We estimate a crowd of approximately 80 men and women to invade the grounds and we are trucking a piano to the scene in order to provide entertainment to go with the steaks and liquid refreshments," said Charles Lockart, publicity director for the McGoogle barracks group.

At last Monday evening's meeting of the 40 university men who reside in McGoogle Hall on Highland Terrace, the picnic was planned along with other future social functions to provide entertainment for this group of veteran students.

"This is the first social event staged by the McGoogle gang for this year, but there are lots more coming," Lockart promised.

Mech. Engineers Elect Officers At Recent Meeting

At a recent American Society of Mechanical Engineers meeting, held in the Engineering building, election of officers took place, James Glynn, publicity director for the organization, disclosed today.

Newly elected officers for the student branch of ASME were: president, Charles Breese; vice-president, Bernard Brady; secretary, Charles McKenna; treasurer, Wallace Birdsall, and representative to the Associated Engineers, Walter Riggie.

During the meeting, student participation programs came in for lengthy, discussion said Director Glynn. After the business of the day was transacted, refreshments were served.

William Holmes Collection Given U of N Library

Autographed Novels, Plays, Poems Included in Valuable Gift

A rare collection of plays, poems and novels belonging to the late Professor William Olmstead Holmes of the English department at the University of Nevada, has been presented to the university library by Mrs. Holmes in his memory. The collection consists of writings which were the favorites of Professor Holmes.

Many of the rare copies now in the library are first editions and are autographed by the authors.

Among the most valuable editions donated by Mrs. Holmes are John Milton's "Paradise Regained," which was printed by the famous Dove Press at Hammersmith, England, in 1905, and is bound in vellum; and "Psalmi Penitenciales," which was written in Gloucester, England, in 1440 and printed at the Kelm-scott Press on November 15, 1894.

Other donations were "Public

Speech," poems by Archibald McLeish and "The King's Henchman," by Edna St. Vincent Millay.

"Public Speech" was one of Mr. Holmes' favorite poems. This edition is limited to 275 signed and numbered copies.

"The King's Henchman," a play in three acts, is an artist's edition printed from type on Tuscan handmade paper and is limited to 500 copies autographed by the author.

Other books donated by Mrs. Holmes are autographed copies of work by John Steinbeck, "The Conquistador," by McLeish; "Borchester Towers," by Anthony Trollope; "Green Mansions," by W. H. Hudson; "The Oxbow Incident," by Walter Van Tilberg Clark; "The League of Frightened Philistines," by James Farrell.

MATH CLUB TO MEET

A Math Club meeting will be held in room 222 of Mackay Science Hall November 14 at 7:30 pm. Students who will speak at this gathering are Leonard Katz and Sinclair Melner, stated Betty Tracy, president.

Refreshments will be served following the talks.

FRESNO STATE MEN PAY VISIT

Discuss Bulldog Status In Negro Question

Announcement of Fresno State College's student support of the stand the University of Nevada has taken toward the Nevada-Mississippi State game was made through a telegram from George Zenovich, student body president of Fresno State, to Hans Wolfe, ASUN president.

The telegram also notified Hans Wolfe of the arrival in Reno last Sunday of four students, Ed Owensby, Dos Dorfmeiere, Leland Scott and Mickey Wade, on a friendly visit as representatives of their student body.

In his telegram, George Zenovich reviewed the situation in which Fresno State found itself when the college student body voted unanimously to cancel its Oklahoma City University-Fresno State College football game because of Oklahoma City's refusal to accept their Negro athletes. Because of difficulties partly due to the lateness of action, the game was not cancelled.

The telegram continued: "We sincerely hope you will be success-

SANTA BARBARA ROOTERS WILL ARRIVE FOR GAME

A telegram from Dick Brines, Santa Barbara State College student body president, to Hans Wolfe, ASUN president, states that the majority of Santa Barbara State rooters will arrive Saturday morning, November 9, for the football game, and as many as possible can make it will attend the rally and dance on Friday night, November 8.

Dick Brines, in the telegram, thanked the university for the invitation extended to Santa Barbara State students to attend the rally and dance.

ful in your stand for equality and tolerance for all races. Your support of your Negro athletes' participation in the Nevada-Mississippi State game will be a step applauded by all Americans.

"To show our active interest in your stand, we are sending Ed Owensby, Don Dorfmeiere, Leland Scott and Mickey Wade to represent the student body of Fresno State and to help you in any way they are able. They will arrive by private chartered plane about 5 pm Sunday. Please keep us notified of your progress. We are all on your side."

Gene Mastroianni, assistant graduate manager, and Hans Wolfe met the plane and students. The Fresno State representatives were shown the university's hospitality in very way possible, Hans Wolfe said. As they left by plane on Monday afternoon, they expressed their appreciation for the way in which they had been received here and extended an invitation to all University of Nevada students to visit Fresno State College whenever they are in that vicinity.

Pack Takes 'Cats' In Homecoming Football Session

Statistics Show Montana Staters Outplayed Nevada

Nevada lost the Homecoming game Saturday.

If statistics had paid off and if the Montana Bobcats had won a little glue on their hands last Saturday, it wouldn't have been too improbable that Reno papers would have printed that statement. Nevada won by 24 points, 38-14, but the statistics show what could have happened.

	Nev.	MS
First downs, rushing.....	4	11
Total first downs.....	9	15
Net gains, rushing.....	126	234
Penalties.....	70	45

Here is what did happen.

The Wolf Pack's first half dozen points came after Buster McClure blocked a Bobcat punt, then Bill Bass drove over from the two yard line. Fullback Francellini's attempt for the extra point failed when the kick was blocked, but the level-headed Kalmanir scooped the ball up and ran it over for the conversion, 7-0.

Breaks again went against Montana when Brooks fumbled and Nevada's Sprague recovered on the Bobcat 40. Kalmanir caught another of Macrides' passes and scampered over from the 20 yard mark. Bass' conversion was good, 14-0.

Recovers Fumble

Big Buster Tilton recovered another Montana fumble on the Bobcat 12, setting up the third Nevada TD. Lloyd Rude did the honors, but Subda's try for extra point failed and the scoreboard read 20-0.

On a third break, Bass recovered Miles' fumble on the Bobcat 40, and after a successful pass to Subda for a first down, Macrides flipped another to Beasley on the three, who stepped over for the fourth Nevada tab. Bass failed again to convert and at the halfway mark the count was Nevada 26, Montana State 0.

Intercepts Pass

After a scoreless third period and a surprisingly sloppy showing by the Wolf Pack, MSU's Perrigo intercepted a Nevada pass and returned it to the Wolf Pack 41. From there it took three plays for the Bobcats to shove over their first score along with a good conversion, 26-7.

Immediately following that score came the thrill of the day when true-footed Tommy Kalmanir tucked the Montana kickoff into his tummy five yards behind his own goal line and took it upon himself to romp 105 yards to the most deserving six points of the game. This time it was McClure who missed the conversion and the scoreboard tallied Nevada 32, Montana 7.

Setting up the last Nevada touchdown, Subda returned a punt to the Wolf Pack 40, whence the Macrides-Hayes combination went to work for two long gains. Eliades later squirmed over the Bobcat line from the three. It was Rude's turn to miss the conversion, 38-7.

Finally, after a series of long gains by a still scrappy Bobcat squad, quarterback Bourdet sneaked over from the Nevada three for the last TD of the game. The conversion was good and the score at the sound of the gun was 38-14, Nevada.

ALUMNI SPURS STUDENT UNION BUILDING PLANS

Hope for a new Student Union building was renewed this week when alumni donations to the building fund spurred after last week's Homecoming festivities.

Dr. John O. Moseley, university president, spoke about the need for the building at the annual alumni dinner at the Dutch Gardens Saturday. He cited the great increases in enrollment this year and the consequent inadequacy of the present building. Three or four checks were written at the banquet and were contributed to the building fund. The amounts of money involved were not disclosed.

More than 400 attended this year's banquet, reported Rex Daniels, alumni association secretary, making it "the largest alumni banquet so far." Among those present was Governor Vail Pittman.

Mr. John Chism, retiring president of the alumni association, was master of ceremonies at the banquet and Mr. John Benson was in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

Fisticuffs Taught

Anyone on the campus who wants to box or learn to box will be interested to know that afternoon boxing classes will be held in the gymnasium, reported Jim Bailey, boxing coach, today. "We have a big varsity schedule this year and want everybody who can box to participate if possible," he continued.

All men who want to box will have to bring their own practice equipment until such time as more is available.

Learn boxing in gym sessions.

Students Back at Books This Week After Gala Homecoming Celebration

With students cracking their books again for the first time since festivities started, the 27th Homecoming ebbs into a memory.

Norma Carruth, who reigned as queen of the three-day celebration, made A. Millard one of the happiest students on the campus when she drew his winning ticket from the cement mixed to make him owner of the green Buick car. Presentation of the car and other prizes awarded by the alumni association was made during the half time period of the game between the Wolf Pack and Montana State in Mackay stadium.

Approximately 7000 cold but excited fans watched Tommy Kalmanir make his spectacular 105-yard run for a touchdown as a highlight of the 38-14 Pack trouncing of the Montana State eleven.

Top Prize

Pi Beta Phi sorority received the top prize for their Wolves Frolic skit which featured a Scottish theme; the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity carted off the men's trophy for the most original men's play depicting "swooning" Frankie Sinatra, and the Sagers were awarded the trophy for the best organization skit with "The Men in Her Life."

A packed house at the Granada theater more than compensated for the effort expended by the 16-girl kick chorus, university choir members, skit casts from sororities, fraternities and other organizations, and Frolic Director Miss Janice Swan and Assistant Director Miss Tosca Masini.

Float Honors

Top honors for floats in the Saturday parade were divided between the Delta Delta Delta sorority, the Lambda Chi fraternity and the Alpha Epsilon Deltas. All three groups received trophies for the most original floats.

On Friday evening the band and students wound their way through downtown Reno in the annual pajamboree which ended at the university stadium where a pep rally was held. Because of the high winds Friday evening the huge collection of scrap lumber slated for the bonfire was not ignited. Intentions were to save the mammoth bonfire for the rally this evening preceding the Santa Barbara football game tomorrow, but someone sneaked a light into the pile last Saturday evening. Nothing left but ashes now.

Blue Key to Hold Dance in New Gym After Game Rally

Jim Borge, president of Blue Key, has announced that the organization will sponsor a dance at the new gym immediately following the rally this evening. Jim Glynn and George Voss are in charge of arrangements.

Blue Key tryees who helped as ushers for the Wolves Frolic have been commended by Jim Borge and members of the Homecoming committee for their work on behalf of the Homecoming celebration.

Tryees assisting were Henry Stewart, Rex Ricketts, Gordon Hawkins, Lyman Schwartz, Harold Dale, Marion Itza, Robert Summer, Barnes Berry, Orsie Graves, Ben Lewis, Mario Isola, Gene Tidball, Hal Tognoni, Dan Rice, David Yparraguirre, Ray Early and Hans Wolfe. Members assisting were Lyle Roush and Ed Beauport.

COLDS PREVALENT, BUT NO ONE HOSPITALIZED

All was quiet in the infirmary last week.

Although colds were prevalent among students, and a constant stream of coughing and sniffing men and women went through Dr. George R. Magee's office, no one was sick enough to be hospitalized.

ORCHESTRA TO PAY DUES

Orchestra members will have to pay dues hereafter, it was decided at a business meeting of senior Orchestra today, announced Miss Jacqueline Van Baasbeek, advisor, for the Nevada chapter of the national dance club.

at Dutch Gardens Saturday evening, 400 alumni gathered to talk over old school days after they had toured fraternity and sorority rows where houses opened their doors for the grads.

An estimated 800 couples danced to Jan Savitt's Top Hatters in the new gymnasium as the finale to the exciting weekend. Awards were made during the evening to groups as prizes for their efforts in making Homecoming 1946 a success.

From Thursday evening at 9 o'clock when Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity was host at the traditional street dance until 1:00 Sunday morning, students and grads of the university participated in the most spectacular and spontaneous celebration in the 70-year history of the school.

Moseley Relates Building Status

(Continued from Page 1) most influential wiles on members of the Nevada legislature to open their eyes to the immediate needs of the university and to the present shocking inadequacies in most of the departments.

Following the discussion of the building program members of the improvements committee decided to hold a special meeting next Tuesday afternoon to map out a definite program to present to the student body in Wednesday morning's assembly. "This is a badly needed program and one that warrants the support of the entire student body. Make it a definite date on your calendar to be present at the assembly at 11:15 am this Wednesday," concluded Stewart, committee chairman.

PROFESSORS URGED TO ORDER BOOKS

Because of a growing scarcity of text books, University of Nevada professors and instructors are being urged to order now the books they will need for their classes during the spring semester, Ralph Jordon, proprietor of the University Book Store, said today.

Orders for spring semester texts have already been placed by Pacific coast schools. Because of their orders, the stocks at the west coast supply houses are depleted. If not ordered in the near future, the texts, which must be secured from the east, will not be available for spring semester classes, Jordon pointed out.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT CANTERBURY CLUB MEET

Alyn Brennen, freshman arts and science student, was elected president of the Canterbury Club at a meeting Wednesday evening.

Other officers of the group chosen were Marjorie Keen, vice-president; Alice Williams, secretary, and Norma Moody, treasurer.

Following the business meeting, Bishop Lewis gave an interesting talk on the new marriage canon recently passed at general convention.

GYM SPACE SHORTAGE SUSPENDS WRA SPORTS

Inadequate gym space will force the suspension of most WRA activities this year, reported Jacqueline Van Gaasbeek, women's PE advisor. Basketball and volley ball, for instance, have been taken off the schedule. Bowling, golf and swimming will go on as usual because they are played off the campus.

Tennis tournaments were completed last week with Fay Fryberger and Lois Hitchens winning.
