

Pack Seeks Win Over Cal Aggies Tonite at Davis

Bill Moylan, Defensive Star, Returns to Pack Fold For Cal Series

Max Dodge and Scott Beasley won't be in the Cal Aggie series this week. They have dropped basketball to concentrate on scholastic work for the rest of the semester.

By Gene Evans

Nevada's on again, off again cagers will be out for their eleventh and twelfth wins of the season this weekend, when they go up against a mediocre Cal Aggie aggregation. The games at Davis tonight and tomorrow night will mark the first appearance of the Pack in California for the 1947 season.

With Bill Moylan, defensive mainstay, returned to the fold, better performances are looked for from the Pack. Although the Wolves won their four home games during the recent holidays, they were strictly a hot and cold outfit.

Nevada Plays Poorly

In the Loyola series particularly, the Nevadans played anything but the spectacular brand of ball they occasionally show. Grant Davis, playing under the handicap of a twisted knee incurred during the tournament, gave one bright outlook to the situation, however, when he led Pack scoring with 17 for the second game against the Lions.

Davis, incidentally, has been recognized as one of the leading collegiate scorers in the nation, according to a recent United Press sports release.

The Mustangs boasting an only average record, have always been tough on their home court as past Nevada teams have found out. But the Wolves are at full strength for the tilts, and if they are on, should have little trouble with their opposition.

Shaffer Leads Aggies

Leading the Aggies will be Mike Shaffer, six foot four inch letterman center, who played several great games on the local court. Boyd Harold, and Gordon Young, the only other lettermen on the Mustang's squad, will start the game at the forward positions. Both are highly regarded for their point gathering ability. Jack O'Brien and Ken Harrison are starting guards.

Hal Fischer will start at center for Nevada, Grant Davis and Jimmy Melarkey at the forward spots, and Shag O'Shaughnessy will team with Bill Moylan at the guard positions.

Blue Key Initiates Four in Session

Four men were initiated into Blue Key, campus upperclass men service organization, at the club's regular meeting held Tuesday evening in the ASUN building, Jim Glynn, publicity chairman, said today.

Orsie Graves, Max Dodge, Dick O'Connell and Jim Welin are the new Blue Key members. Gordon Hawkins was appointed new parking control administrator at the meeting.

Hans Wolfe reported on the Blue Key convention held in St. Louis, which he is attending during Christmas vacation.

SUMMER CURRICULUM TO BE ANNOUNCED

A complete list of subjects offered for the next summer session will be ready for publication next week, Dr. Harold N. Brown, director of summer sessions, announced today.

Dr. Brown said that this information should help students who plan to enroll in the summer session to arrange their studies for the coming spring semester.

Coed Cuts Campus; Committee Compels Cowbell Clanging

When you hear the loud ringing of a cow bell coming from the outside of the library this week it won't be that the University of Nevada is being invaded by cattle, but just that Pat Ross is doing her daily duty.

Miss Ross, caught leisurely strolling across the campus lawn one sunny afternoon, soon found herself holding one of those little tickets indicating that she was to be present at the next upperclass committee meeting.

That sandwich billboard she's wearing doesn't mean that she's soliciting for "Eating at Joe's Place" or that she is picketing the place, but if you notice closely, you will find that it says, "I am a sophomore and I cut campus" on one side with "I violated a Nevada tradition" on the other side.

However, Pat isn't alone in this game. Several other Nevada students can be seen roaming the campus with either a huge plaid ribbon in their hair or a big box billboard.

Chow Cost Rises To $40 Per Month, Effective Feb. 1

Chief Reason for Increase Blamed on Rising Cost Of 'Edible Matter'

An increase of $7.50 per month for board at the university dining hall was authorized by the board of regents at their meeting on December 21, it was announced by Perry W. Hayden, assistant comptroller.

The increase will raise the original figure of $32.50 to $40 per month.

Reasons for the boost as given by Mr. Hayden were:

1. The university dining hall has been operating in the "red" for the past six months because of the increase in the prices of foodstuffs.

2. The dining hall operates on a strictly non-profit basis and expects only to break even financially. This has not been accomplished for six months.

3. Prices of foodstuffs have advanced very rapidly making an increase in board prices necessary.

Only Gow House Affected
Only students who eat at the university dining hall will be affected by this ruling, which becomes effective on February 1, 1947.

Representatives of the various fraternities say that there will be no immediate raise made in the price of their fraternity house board.

No comment was made by Keith Lee, veterans counselor, when asked how the new ruling would affect the veterans.

Comments came thick and fast from the 26 unmarried veterans who were picked at random and asked to comment on the ruling.

Opinions received from that particular group were almost identical in that most of the men in that category felt it would knock their economic status into a cocked hat in view of the fact their incomes are fixed.

After the room and board of the veteran is paid there is about $15 left for expenses for the month. Most feel that is not a sufficient amount to see them through.

This ruling will have no effect on the number of meals served or the times at which they will be served. Three meals a day will be served at the usual times.

GAMMA PHI COKE HOUR

Coke hour for all Gamma Phi and their friends was resumed this afternoon at the Gamma Phi Beta house from 3 to 5. Ida Kellough and Irene Beck were co-chairmen in charge of refreshments.

Student Building Dream Outlined By Pres. Moseley

Total ASUN Building Fund Wouldn't Pay Fees For Architect

A dance floor capable of accommodating 1000 couples, an up-to-date grill, student body officers' chambers and rooms for student committee meetings, are a few of the features which Dr. John O. Moseley, university president, hopes to see embodied in the Associated Students Union building of the future.

From the age-old campus tradition of selling bricks and personal contributions by alumni and friends of the university, a sum of $5039.65 has been accumulated over a period of 25 years for a badly needed new student union building, Perry Hayden, assistant to the comptroller, disclosed this week.

As a part of Dr. Moseley's pet project, his model campus of the future, there is a painted block to represent a beautiful student union building. When the model of the campus is arranged, the student recreation and administration building is located across the street in front of Lincoln Hall.

Shoud Rank With Best

"I am very interested in seeing such a building materialize. It should be as comfortable, beautiful and homey as any student union building on the nation's best college campus," Dr. Moseley intimated to members of the student improvement committee in a recent meeting.

With the fond hope that some day sufficient funds could be raised for a modern student union building, the late dean of women, Miss Margaret E. Mack, began a campaign to sell bricks for the proposed structure.

Through Dean Mack's efforts $2713.35 was accumulated since the campaign's inception in 1921. Since Dean Mack's death in 1943, the brick selling campaign has not been resumed to any elaborate degree and only $311.30 has been added to the fund.

This year, through the efforts of Dr. Moseley, contributions from individuals throughout the state have resulted in a building fund of $1815. Parents and close friends of former students, who lost their lives during the recent war, have started a memorial fund with which a bronze plaque, listing the university heroes, will be placed in the building. Subscriptions to this memorial total $200.

The total of $5039.65 from these various sources is far short of that needed for even the architect's fees on the proposed building. The problem confronting the student body is, "Where can we find a benevolent Nevada banker or millionaire who would be interested in sponsoring a $200,000 student union building?"

EE's Will Get New Electrical Devices

Electrical engineering equipment that will produce different wave lengths and also analyze the shape or frequency of the electrical waves will be installed in the electrical engineering laboratory soon, announced Irving J. Sandorf, professor of electrical engineering today.

Radio and high frequency material has arrived and now is being separated in the electrical engineering laboratory.

KAT TO HOLD FORMAL AT 20TH CENTURY CLUB

The Kappa Alpha Theta winter formal, the candy dance, will be held tonight at the Twentieth Century Club.

Jo Ann Erb and Carol Dundee are co-chairmen in charge of the dance. Decorations will carry out the theme with candy canes.

Bindle Stiffs Call Out Brotherhood For First Meeting

"Ye Royal Knights of the Open Road, gather for the first campfire."

This is the Sundowner's way of announcing their first meeting which is to be held Thursday, January 16, at 7 pm. The bindle stiffs will assemble in the ASUN building.

The Sundowners, headed by Gene Mastroianni, senior bum, plan this year to instill better fraternity relationships through a series of campfires and meetings.

Handful of Boxcars

The "good fellows of the road" have had stiff initiation requirements for membership. It used to be necessary to travel to some designated city by means common to those who enjoyed the call of the open road. This year, activity will be localized to the campus and city.

With coffee and doughnuts to be served, the first regular meeting of the year is for regular members.

Victory Heights Work Progress Slowed to Walk

Twenty Per Cent of Building Still To Be Completed By Skeleton Crew

By Lewis S. Barrett

With new year cheer still modeling their faces and bells still jingling in their hearts as they returned to the campus after the Christmas vacation, 70 veterans eagerly gazed over the stadium toward Victory Heights.

Their smiles froze and their hearts skipped, for only an echo of the former construction noises reached their anxious ears and the recently majestic crane hung its steel frame in shame. Fond hopes of moving into comfortable apartments from their present cellars, garages and other inadequate quarters by February were shattered.

The job had stopped with only half the units occupied and with only an estimated 20 per cent of the work yet to be accomplished. Federal Public Housing Administration officials in San Francisco had ordered the M & K Construction Company to cease work as part of a nationwide FPFA fold up. This project and others all over the country were costing more than had been anticipated.

42 Families Housed

Forty-two veteran students and their families are housed in the three units completed before the shut down, and 14 more moved into the fourth unit yesterday. The latter was completed by a skeleton crew. The fifth and sixth units lack inside finishing, painting and electrical wiring, while the last two units are merely patchily assembled shells.

Skeleton Crew

Finishing the fifth and sixth units is now the goal of the skeleton crew, comprised of three carpenters, two plumbers, two painters and two electricians. This crew was authorized to continue work in what Langdon W. Post, regional director of FPFA, announced in San Francisco as "a sincere effort to make homes available for needy veterans."

According to Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men and university administrator for the emergency housing project, "there are only 70 veterans left on the unaccommodated list of applicants for university housing facilities. The completed project plus the 36 trailers on West Second Street would take care of these distressed veterans and their families.

Behind Schedule

The first Victory Heights apartments, all 114 of which were promised by FPFA by

Wolfe Represents Blue Key Chapter At Missouri Meet

'All Boys Stop Move To Change Race Clause In Constitution'

Hans Wolfe, ASUN president, attended the Blue Key national honor fraternity convention held at St. Louis, Missouri, on December 27 and 28. Forty-five delegates from colleges throughout the United States attended the convention.

During the meeting the committee on constitution recommended that the clause in the Blue Key constitution stating that only Caucasians are eligible for membership in the organization should be removed.

After a vote was taken, the results were 27 to 18 in favor of removing the clause, but as a two-thirds majority was necessary, the clause remained in effect. Wolfe stated that the majority of the opposing vote was from southern college delegates.

Regional Conclave

The national convention approved a recommendation from a delegate from the University of Southern California that the western colleges hold a regional convention. Wolfe said that this convention will probably be held at Los Angeles during Easter vacation.

There are 75 active chapters of Blue Key on campuses in the United States. Members of the organization are chosen from upperclassmen with high scholastic standing who are active in student affairs.

Major Function on Campus

Wolfe outlined the major functions of Blue Key on the hill. The organization publishes the student director, is in charge of parking control on the campus, sponsors all dances held after rallies and sponsored the get-acquainted dance for freshmen held at the beginning of the fall semester.

The members also collected contributions for the memorial plaque to be dedicated to University of Nevada students killed during World War II.

'Alumnus' Appears In 44-Page Format

Copies of the new "Alumnus" are just off the press and are being mailed this week to alumni, advertisers, and friends, Rex Daniels, editor and director of the alumni association, said.

The 44-page magazine contains information concerning alumni doings, what is going on at the university now, and plans for the future. A section recounts the university's 1946 record in athletics, and a class records section tells what former students are doing.

Articles and features were written by graduates and students of the university.

SHEET LEAD ARRIVES FOR NEW X-RAY ROOM

One ton of sheet lead to protect engineering students from X-ray radiation arrived last week, Professor Irving J. Sandorf, professor of electrical engineering, revealed today.

The lead will be used to line the new X-ray room now being built in the electrical engineering laboratory.

EVANS, GARDELLA MOVE UP ON BRUSH STAFF

Two more changes were made this week in the staff of the U. of N. Sagebrush, according to Lloyd Rogers, editor.

Gene Evans, formerly sports editor, has moved up to the position of assistant editor, while Ray Gardella will take over Evans' job as sports editor.

Tougher Schedule For Grid Season Mapped at Meet

Head Nevada coach Jim Aiken and Joe McDonnell, graduate manager, journeyed to New York this week for the National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting.

According to reports received from Aiken by Harry Frost, head of the university board of athletic control, the University of Oregon is definitely on the Nevada slate for October 4, 1947. The game will probably be played in Eugene, Oregon.

"Aiken is working hard to schedule games with two of the strong independent teams on the Pacific coast," Frost stated. Possibles for these matches are St. Mary's and University of San Francisco. One of them will be the annual Kezar stadium game.

Effort is also being made to match the Pack with two or three middle west or eastern teams, with the hope of bringing one of them to Reno for the Homecoming classic in Mackay stadium on October 25.

Aiken and McDonnell hope to have at least seven games scheduled for the Nevada eleven before they return from the New York conference, Frost said.

Gas Adjustments Cause of Confusions On U of N Campus

No coffee! No bunson burners! No cooking! No nothing! This was the state of affairs at the university this week when the gas in Reno gas lines was changed and some circuits were turned off.

With gas stoves used in cooking classes in the home economics department, there was some difficulty preparing the usual good things to eat.

Experiments in chemistry met with problems when the bunson burners, their pilot lights included, would spark into a flame and then flicker and die.

Only addition made by the change of gas was in the sale of orange juice in the YWCA snack bar. Usually one gallon of this beverage is sold daily, but Wednesday, when there were no gas burners on which water could be heated for coffee, sale of orange juice brought the amount used up to 21 gallons.

Board of Regents OKs 1-Way Traffic

One-way traffic from south to north on the university campus through street has been approved by the board of regents and is to go into effect in the near future, Hans Wolfe, ASUN president, announced this week.

Dr. Silas E. Ross, chairman of the regents' building and grounds committee, notified Wolfe that the plan was approved at the December meeting of the board.

Wolfe stated that one-way traffic would go into effect as soon as arrangements can be made for the necessary traffic signs.

U. N. Women Hear Scouting Lecture

Miss Norma Northberg, member of the national field staff of the Girl Scouts of America, and Miss Jean Bryant, executive director of Washoe county, spoke to women students interested in professional scouting Wednesday in the English seminar room.

Attending with Misses Northberg and Bryant was Miss Pauline Leveille, university student, and also scout secretary to Miss Bryant.

Miss Northberg discussed the opportunity and interests which professional scouting provide for university graduates.

U. N. Awaits State Reply to Budget For Improvements

Nevada's Needs Publicized For Editors, Parents, State Solons

January 20 approaches and with it the state legislature's answer to "whether or not the university's vitally needed improvement and building budget can be granted."

Letters to editors of Nevada newspapers and state legislators as part of a statewide drive to publicize the university's needs have been sent out, Henry Stewart, chairman of the student improvement committee, stated today.

"We intend to leave no stone unturned in our effort to inform all Nevadans of the critical status of its university. We hope to have letters mailed to parents of students early next week," Stewart said as he scanned the directory for students to assist him and Eileen Kerr in typing letters.

Intensify Efforts
Stewart and the student improvement group are intensifying their efforts to influence legislators in their approval of the increased budget which the university administration will request of the state legislature in the coming session.

At the last meeting of the $1,700,000 was approved. This board of regents a budget of includes $75,000 annually to provide increases in present faculty members' salaries. Additional funds are needed to augment the existing instructional staff because of the university's growing student body.

New Equipment

New equipment for laboratories in every department is badly needed, but unless the engineering college receives necessary equipment in the civil engineering department it will lose permanently the chance of becoming accredited with the Engineer's Council for Professional Development. Practically every state in the union requires engineers to register, and in order to become a registered engineer a degree from a college approved by the ECPD is required.

ECPD Approval Needed

"It is of utmost importance to students of the civil engineering school and the university as a whole that this department meet the requirements of this national council of engineering institutions," stated Professor James R. Van Dyke, head of the department of mechanical engineering.

Many other items are incorporated in the university's increased budget and Stewart asks all students to acquaint themselves with the contents of the last improvement committee report so that they can talk intelligently to their parents and legislators about the university's immediate needs.

Assembly Schedule Ends for Semester

The assembly scheduled for 9 o'clock this morning was cancelled, and classes were held as usual.

Student members of the assembly committee asked that the assembly be called off because of inadequate preparation for the entertainment, Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, chairman of the committee on lectures and assemblies, announced.

No other assemblies are planned by the students for this semester, Gorrell said.

SOCIALS GIVEN

Three socials were given Wednesday night. Lambda Chi Alpha entertained Gamma Phi Beta, Phi Sigma Kappa entertained Delta Delta Delta and Theta Chi entertained Pi Beta Phi.

IT'S NOT CARSON CITY'S PROBLEM

A new student union building has been the goal of University of Nevada students for many years.

In 1921 the buy-a-brick campaign was instituted. To date, this campaign has netted $3,024.65. At such a rate of yearly increase, it will take approximately 1000 years to raise sufficient funds to build a completely equipped student union. Such a system is highly impractical.

A new student union building is high on the regents' list of buildings needed by the university, but a request is not to be made at the next meeting of the legislature. The reason for this is obvious. Dormitory space, particularly for veteran students, is urgently needed. Classrooms are filled to capacity, and some departments have turned away students because of lack of equipment and classroom space. Until these emergency needs have been met, it would be useless to request funds for a student union building.

How, then, are these funds to be acquired?
During the past two years $750 have been donated to the Student Union Building Fund by Reno residents. Melvin E. Jepson gave $500 to start an "appreciation fund" for the building and supplemented it by a promise of monthly donations of $5 for a "living endowment" until the building should be erected. Additional memorial gifts were made by Cecil W. Creel, Irving S. Slomka and Mrs. B. Srogren.

If a student union building is to be erected within a reasonable time, then the funds must be raised through similar gifts. But memorial funds, however, appreciated or needed, cannot be solicited. University students can only present the idea to the public, and the public must be depended upon to do the rest.

The buy-a-brick campaign is of little value as it is now conducted. It should be expanded. Every student should be required to sell 10 cent bricks. Every downtown merchant should be contacted. Every Nevada citizen should be made aware of the drive.

The 10 cent bricks can't build a student union, but the $100 donations can.—P.U.

TAVERN REVIEW

"The Tavern" gathered steam after a ponderous start in its recent Reno Little Theater run. On the stage, that is. At the box office it did only passably well. capacity audience.

A George M. Cohan oldie, it has all the earmarks of the real melodrama, and after a slow beginning—initiated by a slightly tinny imitation of a thundering, stormy night—did manage to jar forth numerous bursts of laughter.

With a cast of 15, the setting of the play is a roadside inn. The plot, featuring no less than three possible love matches, develops and thickens via the escape, discovery, and recapture of two mental hospital inmates, who continually alter the course of the lives of the other characters by displaying their lack of mental stability.

Jemison Takes Honors
In the acting department, Rex Jemison as the Vagabond takes the honors. His portrayal, through utilization of a Ronald Coleman-Douglas Fairbanks easiness, is interesting, though sometimes not comforting. He does a good job, but occasionally loses character by speaking too fast. He appears quite at ease, though sometimes unsteady.

As the tavern keeper Scott Whitney is convincing, but sometimes not entirely understood. He is big and bulky and makes a good appearance.

Rondel Shaw, portraying the tavern keeper's son, is not as convincing as he could be. Ronnie seems to be in a hurry to finish his lines. As the admirer of the tavern hired woman he appeared to have about as much affection as Plymouth Rock.

Jack Walling as the hired man is a great relief whenever he enters. It seems the audience grew fidgety and puzzled during many scenes, and Jack's entrances comforted them no end. Walling has a good interpretation of character.

Joy Butler Screams
Joy Butler as the hired girl does good work in two or three below-par scenes. Her screams are not in the least subdued.

Harriet Lee as the crazy woman who is discovered along a lonely road during the storm is impressive with her lines and stays in character well. However, this reviewer couldn't detect the expected insane gleam in her eyes.

Martin Risard as the governor appears and acts very governorish. He is a distinct change from the melodrama so prevalent during the show.

Helen Brania as the governor's wife, and Norma Carruth as Virginia, their daughter, are soothing in their realism. They appear to be at ease and natural with their parts.

Riley Does Well
Dale Riley, as the fiance of Virginia and the governor's aide, plays well as both. He did, however, give the audience the feeling of wanting to help him find a place for his hands.

Leslie Smith was well cast as the sheriff. He forgot just who he was for a moment, but generally looked at ease. His punch line for the night was "What's the sheriff doin' here?"

Robert Nelson as the sanitarium attendant who arrives during the closing moments of the play and discovers—to his surprise—the two escaped inmates, is very effective with his casual manner and pleasing tone of voice. He is typical in the sense that the

Senator Employs Edward Beaupeurt

Assumes Secretarial Duties In Washington, D. C.

Edward F. Beaupeurt, ATO and graduating senior, will leave next month for Washington, D. C., to assume his duties as executive secretary to Senator George W. Malone. The senator recently announced the appointment.

While in college Mr. Beaupeurt has been active in many organizations including president of ATO fraternity, president of Delta Delta Epsilon, president of the University Singers, vice-president of Scabbard and Blade; vice-president of Blue Key, president of Senior Lifesavings Corps, university song leader, active in Wolves Frolics, band, ROTC, rifle team, and interfraternity council. He was recently selected for inclusion in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

Infantry Captain

His other affiliations include membership in the First Baptist Church, Masonic Lodge No. 250, Reno consistory, 32-degree Masons, and Kerak Temple of the Shrine.

Mr. Beaupeurt was born at Yerington, Nevada, and received his grammar and high school education there. He attended the University of Nevada until 1940 when he joined the army.

He spent 67 months in the infantry, serving two years in the Aleutian Islands at Dutch Harbor and a year in France and Germany. He had charge of 79,000 German prisoners at Coblenz, Germany, at the close of the war. He was discharged with the rank of captain in November, 1945, and returned to the university to complete his education.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Beaupeurt, 435 Marsh Avenue, Reno.

audience receives the impression he is not the least bit perturbed in the presence of a pair of virtual maniacs.

Sheriff Helpers

John Sweatt, John Etcheto and Richard Miles as the sheriff's helpers are serious and typical. They take part in plenty of offstage gunfire, and Sweatt is more than somewhat ingenious in devising conspicuous methods of toting the victims of such.

"The Tavern" offers good entertainment and the small opening-night audience is difficult for your reviewer to understand. It is a show worth being seen by young and old alike, as there is a great variety of character in the cast.—Arbie.

'Tavern' Receipts Clear Play Costs

Professor William C. Miller, director of "The Tavern," announced today that the production, though no sensational success financially, did manage to break even.

"We did better by staging the play at the Reno Little Theater and admitting students with ASUN cards, than we would have if we had shown it at the education auditorium and charged students 50 cents," said Professor Miller. He went on to say that interest is gradually mounting on the University of Nevada campus.

Determines Reaction

Professor Miller stated that one purpose in producing "The Tavern" was to find out just what kind of an audience he could expect at future plays. Dramatic productions ceased on the campus in 1942, and the professor added it was necessary to know what the comeback would be like.

Engagement Is Announced

The engagement of Miss Odette Darrigrand to Jesse Standish was announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Darrigrand, at a dinner party given at the Commercial Hotel in Battle Mountain Sunday, December 22.

The table was decorated with a large cake from which streamers extended to each place setting. Heart shaped charms bearing the names of the engaged couple were attached to the streamers.

The bride-elect is a junior student and a member of Delta Delta Delta. Standish is the son of Mrs. Hortense Standish of Evansville, Indiana. He is an engineering student here at the university and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Gildone Engagement Recently Announced

The engagement of Miss Gloria A. Gildone, a former student, to Earl B. Phillips was announced Christmas eve while members of the family gathered around the family tree to open gifts.

Miss Gildone attended the University of Nevada in 1940-44 and was a member of Pi Beta Phi. Mr. Phillips is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Phillips of New Orleans, La. He was a student at Tulane before becoming a pilot in the marines. After receiving his discharge, Mr. Phillips was employed by United Airlines.

The wedding is planned for the latter part of February.

SOCKLESS COEDS INVITE INFLUENZA

Over half of the girls on the University of Nevada campus have been noticed to attend classes sockless. This can only lead to the development of more colds, stated Mrs. Petra Phillips, head nurse at the campus infirmary.

"Well, who wants to have a stocking ring," stated one girl. "Besides some shoes just don't look well with socks," added another. But a word to the wise should be sufficient.

Other ways of preventing colds, which could develop into influenza, are to get plenty of sleep and rest, to gargle for a sore throat, to stay away from students that already have colds, and to have a check-up at the infirmary, suggested Mrs. Phillips.

Rhizoctonia Solani Discussed by Club Interested in Fungi

Plant disease caused by rhizoctonia solani, a soil inhabiting fungus, and its relation to alfalfa production was discussed in the regular meeting of the Sigma Xi Club, composed of 28 members interested in scientific research, recently, announced Dr. M. W. Deming, secretary of the club and professor of chemistry at the university. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. O. F. Smith, 1275 Mark Train Street, Reno.

Mr. Smith, plant pathologist for the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who is doing research work on alfalfa diseases in Nevada and adjoining western states, gave an illustrated lecture on the subject.

Rhizoctonia root canker of alfalfa which occurs in southern California and southwestern Arizona, is pathogenic on several field crop plants in addition to alfalfa, he explained. It occurs only in the southern part of the United States since the causal fungus requires a warm soil temperature to grow and parasitize plants.

Committee Meets For Rule Violators

An executive committee meeting, with Ellen Turnquist in charge, was held Thursday night at 7:30 in Manzanita Hall for all those girls violating the Artemisia-Manzanita rules.

Members of the committee include Ellen Turnquist, president of the Artemisia-Manzanita Association, Genevieve Swick, Eileen Sweeny, Maida Lee, Muriel Smiley, Gedney Gallagher and Jean Brennan.

Faculty advisors are Mrs. Florence Peacocke, house mother at Artemisia Hall, Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, and Mrs. Mabel Fulton, house mother at Manzanita Hall.

ORCHESIS TO INITIATE

Candidates for Orchesis, women's dance club, will be initiated Wednesday evening, January 15, in the new gymnasium.

Those trying out for initiation are Delores Bena, Kay Brennan, Vilma Hokhold, Shirley McDonough, Marjorie Montrose, Alice Pettis, Cecelia Schindler, Louise Thompson, Lucille Thompson and Janeth Rowley.

Poe, Weaver Are United at Wedding

Bette Poe, class of 1945, became the bride of Paul E. Weaver, Jr., senior journalism major, at the Baptist Church Saturday, December 21. The bride is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. The groom's fraternity is Lambda Chi Alpha.

The new Mrs. Weaver was active in many campus organizations as a student of the University of Nevada and was business manager of the Artemisia in her senior year.

Mr. Weaver is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weaver of Santa Monica. Following his discharge from the army, he entered the university to complete his education in journalism.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are employed in Reno. She is a teacher in the business department of the university. Mr. Weaver is associate editor of the Nevada Labor News.

Hursh, Hancock Wed During Xmas Season

Warren Hursh, ATO, was married to Miss Susan Hancock, a former student on December 29. They were wed at the Hancock home on Lakeside Drive with Dr. R. C. Thompson, head of the philosophy department, officiating. Miss Hancock attended the university from 1944 to 1946.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in California and returned to Reno to make their home. Mr. Hursh has resumed his studies at the University of Nevada.

College Pair Wed On December 22

Miss Esther Golick, Gamma Phi Beta, and Elmer Vacchina, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, were married Sunday afternoon, December 22, at the St. Thomas Aquinas Cathedral in Reno. Both are seniors at the university.

They will live at the California apartments while completing their education.

Miss Eve Biglieri and Miss Phyllis Riley, sorority sisters, were attendants at the wedding.

Ushers at the wedding were Maurice Sullivan, Thomas Rice, Fred Heinen, Royden Beardoll and Leland Besso, fraternity brothers.

MOBLEY AWARDED MA DEGREE FROM UC

Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, was recently awarded a master of arts degree by the University of California at Berkeley for her studies in education.

Miss Mobley took her oral examination this Christmas vacation after finishing her thesis. Miss Mobley's thesis was on "the determination of the relation of student preference to the curriculum classes and appraisal of student abilities."

Nevada Student Married Dec. 29

Neal Sprague, University of Nevada senior pre-dental student, and Miss Florence Munoz, nurse at the Reno Veterans Hospital, were married Sunday, December 29, in San Carlos, California.

The couple became acquainted when the former Miss Munoz was a nurse for Mr. Sprague's father. She came to California recently and was a nurse in the Oakland Veterans Hospital. Her home is in Mt. Kisco, New York.

Mr. Sprague's home is in Aurora, Illinois. He played center on the varsity during the past football season. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Aiken, McDonnell Book Grid Games At Eastern Meet

Coach Jim Aiken and Graduate Manager Joe T. McDonnell took off by plane Friday, January 3, for the national collegiate meeting held this week in New York City.

The two officials were confident that noteworthy intersectional and Pacific coast conference football games can be scheduled for the University of Nevada this fall.

With the University of Oregon announcing this week that they will meet the Wolf Pack in Eugene on October 4, the coming football season takes on added interest. This will be the first meeting of the two universities.

Prospects Good

Jake Lawlor, assistant football coach, stated today that game prospects this fall are good, with strong possibilities that one game will be scheduled in the midwest, two in the east, and three on the Pacific coast.

The national collegiate meeting was held in the Hotel-New Yorker in New York City, where coaches and other representatives from universities and colleges all over the United States get together to make necessary changes in football rules, as well as to settle any differences between schools that might have arisen during the past season.

Following the technical discussion comes the social get-together of coaches and graduate managers. It is during this period that future game plans are settled.

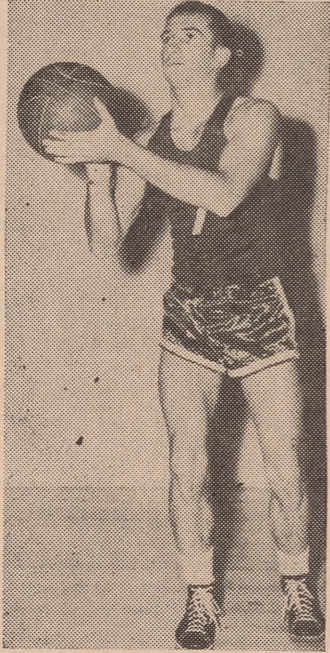

Aiken and McDonnell are scheduled to arrive back in Reno Friday evening, January 10.

MEET THE PACK

By Ray Gardella

One of the most consistent scorers and outstanding offensive threats on Nevada's "big time" basketball team is little, dynamic Jimmy Melarkey, who is playing his last season for the Wolf Pack.

Although diminutive in size, Jimmy makes up for it with speed and aggressiveness. He's been a "thorn in the side" of opposing teams. His one-handed jump shots in the inner court area hit the hoop with deadly accuracy and have helped spark the Pack through ten cage wins already this season.

Jimmy hails from the "Biggest Little City in the World," and played ball for Reno high school prior to enrolling at Nevada.

Naval Flyer

He served two and one-half years in the naval air corps as an ensign during the war and took his training at St. Mary's pre-flight naval air station at Norman, Oklahoma, Corpus Christi, Texas, and the Delano air station in Florida.

Besides lettering in track for three years, "Jim" is an outstanding softball player during the summer. In addition to specializing in other sports, his hobbies are hunting and fishing.

Ranked by some experts as an equal of "Hank" Lusetti and other cage greats, Jimmy has been outsmarting and outplaying opposing players time and again by making a majority of

Wolf Students Enjoy Ski Treks Over Holidays

Conditions Ideal as Skiers Flock to Favorite Local Slopes

While most of the university students were home over the holidays, a few left late, returned early, or stayed around to take in the skiing on the local slopes.

Mount Rose Bowl, Sky Tavern and Grass Lake, or whatever name you might call the ski spot just a few miles above the Christmas Tree, caught the bulk of the undergraduate ski enthusiasts. For the two weeks good snow was present with icy conditions taking over for the last few days.

Forms Polished

Some of the personalities seen trying their best at the sport included Stan Brown and Binney Arnold who were taking every possible opportunity to polish up their form.

Members of the ski team were all over the hill except the time spent at the meet in Utah.

Harold Hayes spent a little time using the tow until basketball mentor Jake grounded his extra athletic activities. The last weekend found most of the regular visitors to the ski spot back trying to pick up where they left off before vacation. Naturally, as per usual, the lodge, or to be more exact, the bar, had its many skiers that felt that the true spirit of skiing is brought out only with an overabundance of T and Js.

Nevada Ski Team Enters Alta Meet

Nevada's ski team went to Alta, Utah, 20 miles south of Salt Lake City, to enter in the open ski meet which was held for either collegiate or open field talent, reports Ashley Van Slyck, captain of the team. The team was in Alta for three days, December 21, 22 and 23.

The six members of the ski team were Les Hawkins, Mickey Munn, Cliff Banta and team captain Ashley Van Slyck. Each member of the team entered as individual contestants inasmuch as there was no team competition and finished their day with Les Hawkins 10, Barnes Berry 19, Mickey Munn 28, Ashley Van Slyck 30 and the other two members disqualified.

"This was the first ski meet for the university this year," reports Van Slyck. There is a possibility that the university will send a team to New Mexico on January 19 for collegiate competition.

seemingly impossible shots.

Won't Turn Pro

The lure of professional basketball does not figure in future plans, according to "Jim," whose ambition after graduating is to go into the contracting business.

With regards to Nevada's recent Eastern excursion, Jimmy expressed the belief that "Nevada can lick any of 'em should they venture out here."

A likeable disposition and pleasant, easy-going manner makes Jimmy a popular figure on the campus. In his four years as a mainstay on the team, he has compiled a cage record which might well be envied by any hardwood great.

"What brought me here?" asked the rose bud.

"The stalk," answered the rose.

Picture Taking Resumed This Week For Artemisia

Work on the 1947 Artemisia was resumed this week with fraternity members and pledges once more under the light of photographer Wes Bennett.

Scheduled to be "shot" this week were members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Nu.

Members of Sigma Rho Delta will be photographed on Monday, members of Theta Chi on Tuesday and Independents will be photographed on Wednesday and Thursday.

All fraternity members and pledges who have not yet been photographed will have their final opportunity on Friday, January 17.

Consultant From GE Will Address AIEE

"New Electrical Horizons," will be the subject of a talk to be given by Walter Smith, engineering consultant for the General Electric Company, at a meeting of the Associated Engineers. The meeting will be held on January 15 in room 101 of the electrical engineering building at 7:30 pm, Prof. Stanley G. Palmer, dean of the college of engineering, announced today.

The University of Nevada branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will sponsor the meeting.

People who are interested in the meeting are urged to be in room 101 of the Electrical Engineering building at 7:30 pm sharp as the meeting will close at 9 pm, according to Dean Palmer.

Gillom Puts His 'X' On Pro Contract

Nevada 'Farm' Sends Second Negro Star to Browns

The Cleveland Browns, champions of the junior pro football circuit, nabbed their second University of Nevada Negro football star last Friday when they signed Horace Gillom.

Gillom, a freshman on the hill-top, was all Pacific coast end this season and with three years college competition left, was an almost sure shot for All-American for a couple of years. He is also probably the greatest kicker in football, finishing second in punting average this year despite the fact that the Wolf Pack breezed through three entire games without punting.

Gillom had difficulty keeping up in his studies, however, and withdrew from school in December, but Coach Jim Aiken had hoped to have him petition for readmission for the summer school term and a chance to make up his grades.

Paul Brown, coach of the All-American conference champs, was Gillom's high school tutor and described the lanky end as the greatest high school athlete he had ever coached. Gillom was a four-letter man at Massillon high school in Ohio, winning all-state honors in football.

Marion Motley, another Nevada Negro great, had his trunks unpacked by the talent hungry Browns last September just before he caught a Reno bound train. Motley rated first string all-conference fullback and second team all-pro.

"Well, well. So it is. Wonder if it could be one of them vitamin bees we read so much about."

PRESS CLUB MEET TO BE HELD MONDAY

A Press Club meeting will be held Monday, January 13, at 8:15 pm at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, Dick Armstrong, president, announced today.

The Press Association plaque and the annual meeting of high school editors to be held on the campus in February will be discussed, Armstrong stated.

Wolf Cagers 'Feast' Well on Four Carcasses During Holiday Spree

By Harold Hayes

University of Nevada's basketball team made a clean sweep of the four games played here over the holidays. Boasting wins over Colorado Aggies and Brigham Young University, the Pack walked off with the second annual Reno invitational basketball tournament. A double win over Loyola of Los Angeles last weekend wound up the holiday festivities.

In the second game of the Reno tournament, Nevada edged Colorado A & M 42-32 after San Francisco University lost to Brigham Young 45-36 in the opener.

The Wolf Pack got off to a slow start and midway through the first period trailed Colorado 14-7. Then with Hal Fischer and Bob O'Shaughnessy connecting Nevada led at half time 22-16. Neither team showed too much spark in the second half, but Nevada maintained the lead and left the court with the score 42-32 in their favor.

O'Shaughnessy led the Wolf Pack in scoring with 15 points followed by Fischer and Jim Melarkey with 10 points each.

In the finals of the tourney, Nevada downed BYU 52-42 and SFU beat Colorado Aggies 45-22 in the consolation preliminary. Nevada dominated the play all the way and led 24-13 at half time. With cool determination and smooth floor work the Wolf Pack outplayed the strong BYU team throughout the whole game.

Fischer and O'Shaughnessy gathered 15 points apiece to lead in the scoring column. Melarkey was close behind with 14 points to his credit.

The Wolves placed three men on the all-tourney first team. Fischer, Melarkey and O'Shaughnessy were unanimous choices with Bill Moylan just missing by one vote. Others on the first team were Giudici, USF and Jensen, BYU.

In later games BYU beat Temple and lost by four points to Long Island U in Madison Square Garden. LIU is the only team in the country to boast a win over the great Oklahoma A & M.

In the two game series played here last weekend with Loyola, Nevada came out on top with a 51-39 score for the first game and a 57-47 for the second.

Although the Wolves didn't show the class of ball used against BYU, they still kept their home court record clean with nine victories in nine starts on the local floor.

Again getting off to a slow

Mine Safety Talk Given Crucible Club By Former Student

"Safety in Mines," a talk by Kenneth Butler, a former university mining student, was heard by the Crucible Club at the final meeting of this semester last Wednesday. Mr. Butler was introduced by Professor Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines.

Butler, formerly with the safety division of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, explained some of the commonest reasons for fatalities and injuries in mines, with poor lighting the direct cause of the high accident rate underground. He also emphasized the importance of adequate training of employees, accident investigation, and the provision of safety equipment as a preventative against these casualties.

Butler also discussed in detail some of the causes of mine fires and their preventions. He concluded by stating that there are practical methods available to reduce mine hazards at small cost to management.

"Better Light, Better Sight in Mining," a film by the Mine Safety Appliance Company, was shown.

start, the Nevada team only lead by one point at the end of the first half, the score being 21-20. Nevada came out fast at the start of the second period and built the score up to 29-20. The Lions staged a rally, but were unable to break into the lead and Nevada won on Melarkey's and O'Shaughnessy 16 and 13 points, respectively.

The second game of the series was practically a repeat of the first performance except Nevada dominated the play in the first half and Loyola had the edge in the second stanza by virtue of 16 points scored by Lion forward Joe Witek. However, Witek was not enough to outscore Grant Davis' 17 points, Melarkey's and O'Shaughnessy's 12 points each and Fischer's 10 points.

The score was 25-10 at the half when Witek started to hit his eight one-hand shots when the whistle sounded Nevada was again on the long end of the score, 57-47.

The Wolves have won 10 out of 13 games played so far this year. The next two games are to be played this weekend in Davis against Cal Aggies.

Taus Take Lead In Kinnear Race; Sigma Nu Second

Lambda Chi In Third Place After Volleyball Series Points Are Talled

Capturing first place in two event completed this week, Alpha Tau Omega by gaining 60 points in volleyball and 40 digits in tennis doubles, now dominates first place in the Kinnear trophy race. Basketball, high in point value, is the next event, as the inter-fraternity battle pass the two-thirds mark.

Alpha Tau Omega jumped from third place to the top spot, overtaking the large lead held by Sigma Nu, and pushed the Snakes, who placed second in tennis doubles, and third in volleyball, down to the second slot.

Lambda Chi Alpha, previously holding second place, tied for third in tennis doubles, was blanked in the volleyball tourney and slipped to third place in the Kinnear standings.

Second in Volleyball

Sigma Alpha Epsilon took second place in the volleyball playoff, and tied for third in the tennis doubles round to gain ground on the league leaders, but not enough to elevate them out of the four place position.

Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Rho and Theta Chi added points on to their totals, but remained fifth, sixth and seventh place respectively.

After getting off to a late start, Independents, although they thus far, are prepared for a more promising showing in basketball.

City League Boast 'N' Students

The 24 teams comprising the Reno City Basketball League are composed largely of students attending the university. The league got under way officially this week under the direction of Commissioner Jack Swobe, also a student.

Two of the teams which can be listed as favorites are the Nevada Turf Club, and the Sierra Sporting Goods teams. Both teams won their opening league games and both have unusually strong clubs.

The Nevada Turf Club is made up of such standouts as Bill Gillis, Jack Swedenborg and Darwin Farnsworth, all former Nevada basketballers, plus Jerry DeRushia, letterman of a few years back. The team is rounded out by Chub Drakulich of last year's junior varsity, and Turk Eliades.

The co-favorite, Sierra Sporting Goods team, is composed of the University of Nevada grid-ders who can also toss a basketball around. This team includes three Nevada basketball lettermen, Jim Clarkson, Ken Sinofsky and Bill Mackrides. The rest of the squad is made up of footballers Johnny Subda, Lenny Marmor, Jim Wilson and Johnny Hattala.

The teams play every night at Billingshurst and Northside Junior high schools. The games start at 7:30 and 8:45 pm.

WRA Players Meet College of Pacific

Eleven WRA basketball players and Miss Ruth Russell, advisor, left today for the basketball playday to be held tomorrow at the College of Pacific in Stockton, California.

Those representing Nevada in the basketball meet will be Carol Anderson, Marie Etchemendy, Lea Glaser, Lois Hitchens, Claudine Pepori, Joyce Longwell, Josie Mansuquina, Beverly Minor, Barbara Ray, Betty Ann Rice and Ida Bell Sanderson.

Tuesday evening the combined junior-senior team defeated the freshman team 25 to 15. They had previously beat the sophomores 16 to 11. Members of the junior-senior team plus several others who had been outstanding during the season made the trip to COP.

Tri Delts, Barbs Take Top Honors In Rifle Match

Helene Root, Tom Macauley Chalk Up Highest Score Cards

Final results for the intramural rifle match held recently for sorority and fraternity organizations have been compiled with Delta Delta Delta winning in the women's division and the Independents winning the men's.

Highest individual score among the women contestants was Helene Root, Delta Delta Delta, with 191 out of a possible 200. Betty Rice, Pi Beta Phi, scored 188 for second place and Hope Vassar, Gamma Phi Beta, was third with 184. Women fired only in the prone position.

Barbs Place Two

Tom Macauley, Independent, was highest scorer for the men with 185 out of the possible 200. Second for the men with 183 was Dick McDermitt, Theta Chi, and Kenneth Rice also of the Independents was third, scoring 180. Four positions were fired by the men in determining their totals: prone, sitting, kneeling and the standing positions.

Matches this year were held as an experiment and will not be counted as points towards the Kinnear trophy. At the beginning of next year the different organizations affected will vote as to whether the rifle competition will be entered on the regular intramural list.

SWIM CLUB PLANS SPRING AQUACADE, IRELAND ANNOUNCES

Preliminary plans for an aquacade to be presented sometime in April or May were discussed at the Tuesday night meeting of the Swimming Club, according to Pat Ireland, president of the group.

Members of the swimming Club will arrange, direct and present the event.

Plans for the following semester's activities were also discussed and a committee was appointed to present the constitution of the organization to the executive committee for approval.

COACH JIM RETURNS TO ROSE BOWL GAME WITH FORMER MATES

Jim Aiken, athletic director and head football coach, was a guest of honor at the Rose Bowl game, according to Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines.

Aiken's former teammates at Washington and Jefferson and the opposing California wonder team, which they held to a tie in the Rose Bowl game of 1922, were reunited after many years and treated to sideline seats.

A reunion dinner was held after the game, Carpenter said.

Church to Survey Himalaya Snowfall At India's Request

Nevada Expert to Establish Snow Survey System For Government

Dr. J. E. Church, university meteorologist, has been requested by the government of India to visit that country and establish a system for the study of snow in the Himalaya mountains and the potential water flow into several countries of Asia.

Doctor Church expects to leave by plane the early part of March and will be in India for about three months making tests of the snow and advising the Indian government on the amount of water from the mountains which could be controlled for irrigation and industrial purposes.

Doctor Church is well known for his snow surveys and has assisted the governments of Russia, Australia, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and Spain in instituting the surveys as an aid to farmers and industrialists.

Work at 10,000 Feet

Most of the actual survey work will be done at the 10,000-foot level in the Himalayas where the snow will be measured and estimates made of the amount of water this will give the territories fed by the melting snow. Doctor Church pointed out that most of the water coming from snows at a higher level would evaporate before it could be used.

The results of the survey will be used to determine the annual water runoff from the mountain ranges. With this information, a system of dams and irrigation will be set up to use the water for industrial and agricultural purposes.

According to Doctor Church, the Himalayas mass, the highest peaks in the world, supply most of the rivers in India, China, Iran and Persia with water. Information concerning the amount of water available would be very valuable to these countries.

Modern Equipment

Finding a means of travel to the snow basins is one of the major problems, according to Doctor Church. Snowmobiles and caterpillar trucks may be used to transport the party up and in the mountains. There is a possibility that helicopters may be used to land the party at certain points otherwise inaccessible.

The general secretary at the central commission on water, navigation and flood control for the government of India, S. K. Banerji, invited Doctor Church to go to India several months ago and is making all arrangements for his trip.

Second Semester Schedules Ready

Schedules for 1946-47 second semester classes are now obtainable at the registrar's office, according to Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar. She stated that all students who contemplate attending the second semester should read these schedules thoroughly before registration day, Monday, February 4, 1947.

Mrs. Rhodes said that many errors could be avoided and registration would be made materially easier for everyone concerned if these schedules are read and followed.

TONSILS REMOVED

Roma Garner, who was confined Monday night to the campus infirmary with tonsillitis, is now out and reported improved by her sorority sisters.

Miss Garner is a junior at the University of Nevada and a member of Gamma Phi Beta.

Textbook Exchange Begins Operations Second Semester

Plans for textbook exchange service were discussed at the regular business meeting of the YWCA executive board last Tuesday evening, with Genevieve Swick presiding.

Eileen Kerr presented the plans for the library which will be located in the office in Stewart Hall. The idea of this exchange will be to give all Nevada students a chance to obtain textbooks that are scarce.

By trading a history book that some freshman could use for a "hard-to-get" English book, the students will not face the difficulty in obtaining texts that they did at the beginning of this semester, she told the group.

The latter part of the meeting was devoted to talks by the women students who attended the Y convention at Asilomar.

Bailey Recruiting University Boxers

Anyone wishing to join the university boxing team should report at once to Jim Bailey, athletic office, new gymnasium. Bailey announced today that the squad is not yet chosen, and candidates in all weight divisions are welcome, but especially 125 pounders and heavyweights of 175 pounds.

Workouts are being held every afternoon in the boxing room of the new gymnasium, with training at present stressing exercises and bag punching. Road work on Mackay field has also started.

Meets Scheduled

Bailey said that meets have been scheduled in Reno with San Francisco State and San Jose State. More matches will be arranged later, and if any boxers of exceptional ability show up in the team, Bailey said he may send them to the Pacific coast intercollegiate tournament.

The men who have already turned out for practices are Robert Thomson, 160; Howard Heckethorn, 135; Sinclair Melner, 155; Robert Horton, 145; Dick Gilbert, 150; Robert Lawson, 145; Jack Swobe, 155; Dick Tilton, 220; Gene Miles, 150; Jess Standish, 178; Bill Horton, 125; Paul Morsberger, 145; Bob Laxalt, 145, and Joe Mirci, 125.

Campus Y Women Attend Conference

The "Y" convention recently held at Carmel, California, was attended by eight Nevada women, who arrived December 27 and left at the close of the conference on January 2.

Those attending were Jeanne Adrian Sutton, Joylin Johnson, Marilyn Lee, Joy Butler, Ann Marx, Ruth Baraket, Betty Kim and Marjorie Kelly.

Through the sale of cokes at football games, the Nevada YWCA was able to pay all the expenses of the women who attended. This included board, room and transportation.

Student Leaders Appear Before Washoe Delegates

Senator Ed Loomis Voices Support of University's Requests

"We're not asking the state legislature for funds to make a 'Harvard' or 'Yale' out of the University of Nevada. All we ask is that sufficient funds be granted to maintain an adequate faculty and a well equipped small state university," Henry Stewart, chairman of the ASUN student improvement committee, stated last Thursday evening before Senator Ed Loomis and members of the Washoe county delegation to the legislature.

Stewart and members of the improvement committee appeared before the delegation in an open meeting, held in the State building, along with various representatives of county and state agencies to present proposed legislative matters.

Loomis Speaks

"The state is desirous of helping the university all they can and have done so in the past. We intend to approve as much of the requested improvement budget as the state's income will permit," said Senator Loomis, "but I feel that the university is attempting to expand beyond its original purpose as established when it was founded." As Smith sees it, the university was never intended as an extensive educational institution.

Bennyhoff on Salaries

According to Robert Bennyhoff, Reno United Press representative and university alumni, "Most of the Washoe delegation's energies should be applied on getting higher salaries for the faculty." Bennyhoff further stated that the administration should investigate class scheduling so that a more efficient use of the existing faculty can be made.

Edward Pine, graduate of the university civil engineering school and registered Nevada engineer, bolstered Stewart's appeal for obtaining more instructors for the civil engineering school. "Some of the department's instructors are 20 years behind the times and an effort should be made to obtain younger and more practical instructors who are acquainted with the latest methods," Pine stated.

Present Needs

Stewart, with the aid of James Glynn, Franklin Gardner, Hans Wolfe and Prof. Irving Sandorf, of the electrical engineering faculty, presented the various needs of the university's departments. Glynn said, "If the civil engineering school expects to become accredited, funds must be granted to obtain new laboratory equipment."

"This problem of renovating the university is a problem the

THE ICE MAN COMETH IS 'BIG FLOP'

"Oh, my broken back" is the common expression uttered from cold, shivering lips of students diligently studying the process of glaciation on the smooth, but hard surface of Lake Manzanita.

Conscientious students find consolation in the excuse that ice skating is a good reason for doing today's school assignments tomorrow. Besides it is much easier to concentrate on school work after a few hours of cutting figure eights, and a few more hours spent warming one's numb and frozen torso in one of the local havens where radiating heat formulas are provided for a slight charge.

It is evident that if a few tables were removed from the library and half of the room turned into an ice skating rink, the attendance in the library would increase tremendously, but since it is likely that such a suggestion would meet with the disfavor of the board of regents, Lake Manzanita will have to suffice.

Pan Hellenic Plans Sorority Rushing

Mid-semester rushing will be one of the topics discussed at the next meeting of Pan Hellenic.

The group will meet Tuesday evening, January 14, at 7:30 at the Kappa Alpha Theta house, to discuss regular business and to consider the details of rushing, such as the number of parties to be given by sororities, and the schedule for rushing.

No estimate can be made, as yet, of the number of probable rushees, Jo Miller, Pan Hellenic head, said.

PANELS MUST BE SET, ARTEMISIA HEAD SAYS

"All organizations desiring to have a page or pages in the 1947 Artemisia should notify me immediately," Max Dodge, Artemisia editor, said today.

"Since final plans for the annual cannot be completed until the exact number of pages needed is known, work on outlining the book must stay at a standstill until organization heads inform me of their plans," Dodge concluded.

ENGAGED

Miss Nancy Robinson is wearing the diamond ring of Instructor Don Meixner of the mechanical engineering department. The couple became engaged on New Year's eve in Las Vegas, Miss Robinson said.

state legislature alone cannot solve," Delegate Frances Smith said. "You are expecting the state to correct defaults and depletions that have built up during the war years all in one program. The state budget won't stand the university's total budget." Smith added that the delegation realizes the vital needs and will do its best to get all it can for the university.

Work Progress Slowed to Walk

September of last year, were not available until December 5, 1946. The second unit was turned over to the university December 11; the third, New Year's eve, and the fourth, yesterday. Each unit houses 14 families and the first half of the emergency housing project now accommodates 56.

"Veterans and their families do not necessarily have to accept trailers, if they are offered them before their names come up on the apartment lists," Dean Griffin added, "but most of them much roomier than the trailers."

cases are so desperate that they appreciate even the dinky trailers with the hope that they will eventually be eligible to move to the hill."

Priorities Set

Priority for apartments is established on the basis of whether the veteran applicant is a former university student, graduate of a Nevada high school, combination of these or just a new student. Two lists were then made from this priority roster, one listing the families with children and the other, families without. The eight downstairs apartments of each completed unit are filled from the first list, and the six uppers, filled from the other.

"They are plenty cozy and is the general comment of Heights' apartment occupants, "but we sure would like to hear full-time construction commotion again, then maybe our buddies in Reno's various shanties and cellars might soon have a chance at decent living again."

SADDLE AND SPURS TO HOLD INITIATION

Candidates for Saddle and Spurs, women's riding club, will be initiated at a banquet at the Cedars Sunday evening, January 12, at six o'clock. Plans for the initiation were made in a meeting held at Artemisia Hall Monday, January 6.

Reservations for the banquet may be made through Pela Oyarbide or Phyllis Green. All members are invited to attend.
