43rd Legislature Listens to Needs Presented by UN

Helmick, Moseley, Pittman,
Bennyhoff, Ross List
Nevada's Needs

Nevada's 43rd legislature opened their ears this week to the cries of the university and other state institutions for increased appropriations for the coming biennium.

"As modern as tomorrow and as old-fashioned as the whiskers that adorned the faces of her early day governors," was Legislative Counsel W. F. Helmick's way of criticizing the one sound state in his opening day message.

Salary Increase Needed

"She spends over half her income on highways and 10 per cent of her income on education," Helmick stated as he outlined the need of readjusting the expenditures of the state's finances. He emphasized the need of supplementing salaries of instructors at the university and the other state schools.

"The University of Nevada is a $4,000,000 business and it is absurd that the state invests only $300,000 in it," Dr. John O. Moseley, university president, told members of the Washoe county delegation to the state legislature in a recent pre-session meeting, at which the proposed budget of the board of regents was presented.

Dr. Moseley and other representatives of the university administration told the delegation and Senator Ed Loomis that $381,934 is urgently needed to raise the present faculty scale, meet the expenses of obtaining additional instructors and to raise the salaries of instructors returning from the services.

Mining Engineering Equipment

Salaries for the present staff at the current scale will cost the university $906,936 for the coming biennium. New equipment needed in the Mackay School of Mines and the engineering school's laboratories will cost up to $412,085. Unless these two schools are improved their national standing will suffer as well as the students enrolled in them.

According to Robert Bennyhoff, United Press representative who is reporting the legis-

Veteran Allowance Bill To Be Heard

If the bill scheduled to be introduced before the assembly of the Nevada state legislature early next week is adopted, all veterans attending school will receive a monthly allowance of $20 from the state, Bob Bennyhoff, United Press representative who is reporting legislative proceedings in Carson City, stated today.

This proposed measure was instigated by Jack Higgins, representative from Clark county, and was designed to supplement veteran students' subsistence checks of $90 per month for married men and $65 per month for single vets from the federal government.

Bennyhoff stated that the same stipulations that are attached to the federal allotment will apply to the Nevada state subsistence allowance if it is adopted by the legislature.

Pi Phi Betty Tracy Elected AWS Head

Betty Tracy, junior Pi Beta Phi from Reno, has been chosen as 1947-48 president of Associated Women Students to succeed Rose Nannini of Reno, Delta Delta Delta.

The office of AWS president which rotates among campus women's groups, also involves automatic succession to vice-presidency of the student body.

Football Position Attracts Offers By Many Coaches

Board of Athletic Control
Dickering Over Many Grid Applications

With formal applications flowing in to the graduate managers office from many parts of the United States for the position of head football coach, the board of athletic control is still dickering over who will fill the job left vacant by Oregon-bound Jim Aiken.

Many names of popular grid mentors have been mentioned around the campus since Aiken announced his advancement to Oregon University, but the formal applications sent to the university are kept under lock and key for obvious reasons.

Among the names most frequently mentioned by the students are Babe Hollingberry, Washington State coach who tutors the West team in the annual East-West all-star classic; Red Strader, former St. Mary's star player and present talent scout and backfield coach of the All-American League's New York Yankees; Jack Danilovich, who is coach of the consistently strong Antioch, California, high school team; George Hobbs, an ex-Nevadan who is now coaching at a California high school.

'Rabbit' Discussed

Jimmy "Rabbit" Bradshaw, now head of athletic instruction of Fresno, California, schools, and who was generally considered one of the greatest football backs ever to come out of the University of Nevada, is also heard of quite frequently in the gab-session carried on by campus students. When Bradshaw coached Fresno State College a few years back, he was regarded as a clever mentor and his teams defeated Nevada year after year.

Although these men, many of whom are nationally known figures, are popular choices, the athletic board may appoint some other candidate. In view of the tough schedule lined up for the University of Nevada in 1947 the coach who gains the position must be prepared to face a busy grid picture.

Blue Key to Issue Campus Auto Rules

Campus map and parking instruction in mimeograph form will be given out at a special booth in the new gymnasium during second semester registration, February 3, by the Blue Key, said Jimmy Glynn, publicity chairman, today.

The upperclass men campus service group also decided in its meeting to have a second booth in the gymnasium for car registration and the sale of student directories.

Up to date student directory inserts listing new second semester students will be available in mid-February, Glynn stated.

MANZANITA'S ICE CRUST IS GETTING ROUGH

After a busy season of figures and falls, Manzanita's scarred skating surface still attracts campus blade artists. Above is a typical afternoon scene. The braver students eventually leave the ramp rail and don skates. That's why the lake's ice crust is so rough!

Nevada Cagers Meet San Jose In Tough Series

Nevada's Wolf Pack cagers travel to San Jose to meet the powerful San Jose Spartans in a two game series this weekend. With nine straight victories, the Pack will be slight favorites to annex their 15th and 16th wins of the season against a team that had their cage wins snapped at nine straight by a fighting bunch of St. Mary's Gaels, 44-42 and 37-35 last week.

Shag to Lead

Captain Bob O'Shaughnessy, leading Pack scorer, sparked the Wolf quintet during last week's series and scored a total of 30 points. His tricky floor game and looping long shots kept the Wave defense constantly bewildered.

Jim Melarkey, jump shot artist, was well scouted and partially bottled up in last week's tilt, but will be set for another brilliant performance against the Spartans.

Grant "Skipper" Davis, offensive threat and consistently good ball handler, will carry the burden of the other forward position.

Fischer Pivot Man

Hal Fischer, lanky center, has been turning in great performances in recent games and will be depended on to handle the pivot spot. His improved shooting accuracy will make him an offensive threat.

Big Bill Moylan, stellar guard and backboard artist, will handle the other guard position. Bill has shown an increasing consistency as a dynamic performer that makes him a valuable asset.

In order to keep their nine game winning streak intact, the Wolves will have to play a stellar brand of ball against the strong Spartans, who will be gunning for an upset against the favored Pack.

COFFIN AND KEYS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Following a recent Coffin and Keys election, Bob Hoyer, Sigma Rho Delta, took over as president of this campus honorary society.

Jim Borge, ATO, was elected secretary and Carl Digino, Lambda Chi, treasurer. Outgoing president for the group is Floyd Edsall, Sigma Nu, who graduates this term.

Wanna Ice Skate? Wanna Be a Sonja In Easy Lessons? Now I've a Book . . .

By Jeanne McBride

Anyone can ice skate. That's true because the book said so. The book is one of those in the set for $3.98 plus $1 handling charges and includes such helpful numbers as "Anyone Can Paint," "Anyone Can Cook" and "Anyone Can Write."

Fresh from the dry, hot sands of lower Nevada with a nostalgic memory of roller skating days, I was ready to take to the ice. My helpful little handbook described the smooth, slender, graceful figure that would be mine as I expertly skimmed over the ice. Ah! Even perhaps an ice born romance. Who knows?

Trial Run

Clutching "Anyone Can Skate" in my eager little palm, and putting on my new figure skates that the man said were the very best made and the very easiest to learn with, I stood up. I even moved a bit and still retained my balance. What a wonderful book. Right then I determined that tomorrow I would get out of the grass and try it on ice.

Doubts All Gone

Purging all fear and doubts from my mind, the next morning I walked nonchalantly down to the lake with my skates slung over my shoulder in a professional, devil-may-care attitude. The first chapter of the book I followed perfectly. This chapter was devoted to the putting on and lacing up of shoe skates.

When I stood up, I searched my mind for the instructions that followed the putting on and lacing up of shoe skates and all I could remember were diagrams and illustrations of turns, whirls and figure eights. Such was the second chapter.

Few Simple Rules

The third, and last chapter was devoted to describing the popularity and success that would be mine after I mastered the few simple rules of skating.

This was all very nice, but how was I to get from chapter one to chapter two? With my ankles dragging the ice and my would-be admirers looking skeptically at my form (skating form, that is) I frankly wasn't in the mood to burst out into a gay, frolicking, little twirl.

At this point I was about five feet from the edge of the lake with no possible means of returning or progressing. I had visions of standing there in that position for the rest of my life. These visions, however, were soon cast aside, for I was no longer standing.

Leap-Frog

"Ah, a human jump," some character yelled and the next thing all sorts of people were jumping over me. Finally I was helped to my feet and to the shore; not, alas, by a handsome male, but by my trusty roommate.

Next Sport, Skiing

That night as I reflected on my stupidity for purchasing the "Anyone Can" series, my eye landed on a thin volume hitherto unnoticed, "Anyone Can Ski." Leafing through the book, I came upon a full page color illustration of a young woman, attired in handsome ski togs, standing before the fireplace in a rustic mountain lodge with a hot drink in her hand and completely surrounded by tall, tanned males. . . .

Tomorrow I will return my skates and make a down payment on skis.

8500 Man Hours Per Month Spent By Social Groups

More than 8500 man hours a month are spent by university students at campus meetings, social and otherwise. Sorority and fraternity meetings and socials, service organizations and other meetings of campus groups consume a total of 8659 man hours in a school month.

Of this number 7955 hours are spent by the 885 students on campus who belong to fraternities, sororities and the organized independents. Seven thousand and eighty hours are spent at meetings of these groups and the other 875 hours at exchange socials.

Service groups and campus meetings total 196 man hours a month while honoraries and campus clubs consume 503 hours a month.

Artemisia Costs Rise, Income Static; ASUN Senate Approves Fee Increase

An additional dollar to pay for the 1947 Artemisia will be levied on each student if a proposal adopted and passed by the ASUN senate is accepted by a student vote. This decision was made following the special meeting of the senate held Tuesday.

Extreme increases in the cost of the production of the annual forced the dollar raise. Though costs have reached a peak, the income received from the students is the same as it was in 1922.

Election to Change Yearbook Charges Slated Wednesday

A student election will be held from 8 am to 5 pm, Wednesday, January 29, in the basement of Stewart Hall to vote on a proposed amendment to the ASUN constitution, Hans Wolfe, ASUN president, announced this week.

The amendment will raise the cost of membership in ASUN from $12.50 per semester to $13, with the exception of the spring semester of 1947 when the dues shall be $13.50. The additional amount will be used for publication of the Artemisia.

At present $3 of each student's yearly ASUN fees are earmarked for the Artemisia. Due to the increased cost of printing and engraving, the staff of the Artemisia reported that they could not produce a reputable yearbook unless the cost be increased to $4.

The proposed amendment was drawn up by the student senate at a special meeting Wednesday night. As the Artemisia must have an additional $1 from each student for this year, this amount is to be collected with the spring semester's fees.

After that time the additional $1 will be collected at the rate of 50 cents per semester, Wolfe said.

Under the GI bill of rights, veterans will be allowed the additional cost, Wolfe said.

University Skiers Win NMU Ski Meet

University of Nevada skiers added another laurel to their skiing reputation by winning the intercollegiate ski meet at Albuquerque, New Mexico, last weekend.

Nevada's outstanding ski team compiled 285 points. Western State of Colorado was second with 273.8; Colorado University third with 282, and New Mexico fourth with 248.4.

Representing the Wolf Pack were Barnes Berry, Les Hawkins, Dick Munn, Cliff Banta, Jerry Wetzel and Mickey Munley.

In the downhill, Banta took first for Nevada, with Berry, Wetzel and Hawkins, seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively. In the slalom event, complete individual returns have not as yet been announced.

Ski Club Announces Buffet Supper Plan

A buffet supper will be held February 1 for members of the University Ski Club, Barbara Olesen, club secretary, announced today.

As the place and time have not been definitely decided, Anna Lou Hansen, arrangement chairman, requests members to watch the bulletin board for announcements.

Membership cards must be presented for admission to the supper, and for those who haven't obtained cards by February 1 they can be purchased at the dinner.

Original plans made by Max Dodge, Artemisia editor, and Rose Nannini, busi- manager, called for a 300- page book. These pages were to be standard size used by most universities and colleges, 9 by 12 inches. Size of the Artemisia has heretofore been 7 3/4 by 10 1/2 inches.

At a recent meeting attended by Miss Nannini, Dodge, Dr. Ernest I. Inwood, faculty member of the publications board, Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager, and Harry J. Frost, head of the Reno Printing Company, publishers of the Artemisia, an estimate of the costs and income of the book was presented. It was discovered that the usual income would no longer cover the costs of publication.

In order to meet the increased costs, it was decided that the size of the pages would remain the same as in the past and the number of pages would be reduced to 250. In addition to this decrease, the cost of advertising and the charge for student organizations pages has gone up considerably. These increases still left a loss of more than $1400, it was pointed out.

One of the greatest cost increases, that of printing, has gone up approximately 75 per cent over the printing rate for the 1941 Artemisia, Frost said.

In the 1946 Artemisia, there were 186 pages including 43 pages of advertising. The 1947 book will include approximately 55 pages of ads.

Added Pages Needed

Many additional pages will be needed in the 1947 edition because the large increase in enrollment, which caused several fraternities and sororities to have four pages instead of the usual two, will need more space in order to get students' pictures in the memory book. Several organizations, inactive during the war years, have reorganized and desire pages.

YWCA Snack Bar Closed for Finals

The YWCA snack bar and student center will be closed during final exam week, Barbara Pinjuv, YW campus secretary, announced.

The three main reasons for this action are lack of YW girls to serve and help in the snack bar, lack of cooperation of students in keeping the student center clean and the necessity for studying for finals.

The YW girls regularly serving in the snack bar need the time to study, Mrs. Pinjuv said. Students have not been returning dishes to the snack bar. They drop cigarettes and trash on the floor, and leave the student center in general disorder. This requires more time on the part of workers to keep the room neat.

The student center will be open Wednesday, January 29, from 8 am to 5 pm, for election only, Mrs. Pinjuv added.

NUISANCE TAXES AND NUISANCES

The possibility of imposing a sales tax on Nevadans is being studied by legislators and officials in Carson City who are faced with the problem of bringing more money into the coffers of the state.

Perhaps such a tax would relieve spectators at University of Nevada basketball games of their small change—especially pennies. This vacuum in their pockets might save some player from injury since these coins would not be thrown upon the gymnasium floor for kids, some of them not so small, to scramble for.

One red penny or a thin dime overlooked by the small fry may well put one of the basketball players competing in the gym in the hospital with a severe injury.

Player safety cannot be postponed until legislative machinery can mesh its gears and create another use for pennies. It is up to the students of the university to take it upon themselves to halt the coin throwing practice. First, they must refrain from doing it, and then they must see that others follow suit.

If basketball spectators do not feel that they want to keep their money in their pockets, coaches of teams playing at Nevada would be justified in refusing to allow their men to play.

Do Nevadans want to see basketball games, or do they prefer to watch scrambles followed by injuries? Their actions will prove whether or not they are sportsmen.

ATTENDANCE LIMITED

The annual frosh hop came and went last Saturday.

At least, the gala yearly affair was scheduled on the social calendar, and as far as anyone knows, it was never called off. It was not given, either.

First year students are entitled to their dance each year, but for some reason they did not have it on the allotted date. The powers that are supposed to be in charge of the frosh hop should try to rectify this error of omission.

Another date can be arranged with the calendar committee. The frosh hop should be planned—and given.

Vet Study Changes Must Be Approved

Veterans contemplating a change in their educational objectives must have prior approval of the Veterans Administration before registration, Keith L. Lee, veterans training officer at the University of Nevada, said today.

This ruling applies to all veterans attending the university under public law 346, and to any change involving a transfer from one college within the university to another. In some cases the ruling will apply even to changes in a student's major within a college.

Application forms for permission to make a change are available now in the Veterans Administration's office on the campus, Mr. Lee added.

In any case where the contemplated change is to a more difficult objective, vocational counseling will be required before approval by the Veterans Administration.

Vocational counseling is available upon application, but at the present time appointments are being made five or six weeks in advance due to limited facilities.

Martin Appointed To Campus Police

Baxter Martin, No. 30 Highland Terrace, has been appointed to the upperclass committee, it was announced at a meeting of the Highlanders last week. Emmet Johnson is the alternate senator for the Highlanders, Art Hardison, McGoogle Hall, said.

The Highlanders discussed plans for a party early this coming semester, but plans are still tentative, Hardison said. A dance and social was held at the recreation hall by the Highlanders last Saturday, he added.

Noel Willis Honored At Farewell Party

A farewell party was given for Noel Willis by his Phi Sigma Kappa brothers at the fraternity house last Friday evening. Willis will graduate this February.

The house was decorated with headline signs telling of Noel's going away. Some signs read, "Byrnes Resigns, Willis Leaves College," "State Institution Releases Willis," "Willis Pardoned," "Baruch Burns, Willis We signs," and other similar phrases.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Shaw of Reno were guests as were Mr. and Mrs. George Ross. Mr. Ross is an alumnus of the University of Nevada and at present is sports editor of the Gazette.

Committee Named To Organize Choir

Marilyn Reynolds, Gloria Rosaschi and Pela Oyarbide were appointed as a committee to organize a choir of university students to sing at masses at the regular monthly meeting of the Newman Club held following 9:30 mass on January 19.

It was agreed that the club would have a group picture in the 1947 Artemisia. Brief addresses to the members were given by Miss Helen Dunn and a visiting missionary priest.

SKI PARTY

The Barbs tried tobogganing, skiing and snow fighting at Galena Creek recently, when an organization picnic was held. Approximately 30 Independents attended the snow party, Charles Lockhart said.

Youth must be served — and then carried out.

Art Classes Open To UN Students

Evening art classes sponsored by the Reno Recreation department are open to university students, Margot Voigt, art instructor for these classes, revealed today.

The six weeks course started Monday, January 20, and classes are being held from 7:30 pm to 10 pm Mondays and Wednesdays at the Reno art center, 303 South Center street. The cost of the course is five dollars. The student provides his own art materials.

Portrait Painting

Portrait painting is scheduled for Monday evening, said Mrs. Voigt, with Wednesday evening open for commercial or any other type of art the class decides on.

Margot Voigt, who teaches the classes, has studied at the California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco and at the Art Students League in New York City. Mrs. Voigt at present is advertising manager for Sears, Roebuck and Company in Reno.

SUMMER COURSES

Copies of the summer curriculum are available at the Sagebrush office for students wishing to make out their next semester courses in accordance with the summer schedule. The curriculum will be printed in the Brush as soon as space limitations permit.

Sororities Choose WRA Sportsmasters

Each sorority will have a representative on the WRA board hereafter, members decided at their last meeting.

Up to this time, WRA officers, the managers of different sports and the advisors have been members of the board. Ruth Russell is the advisor.

Those chosen as sportsmasters are Helene Root, Delta Delta Delta; Betty Ann Rice, Pi Beta Phi; Alberta Bruner, Gamma Phi Beta, and Barbara Humphrey, Kappa Alpha Theta.

The board members also decided to have a group picture taken for the Artemisia.

Roamin's Move In As Greeks Leave Houses, School

As some move out, others will move in the sorority and fraternity houses. As the houses have been full, it is necessary that some move out before the others can move in.

Gamma Phi Beta will add Sue Pierson, Nancy Sullivan, Irene Beck and Julia Baker to residents of the house at 710 Sierra Street. Nina Garner, sister of Roma Garner, Gamma Phi active, will move out of the house into one of the halls, as she graduates from high school and becomes a university freshman.

Moving Out of House
Kappa Alpha Thetas moving out of the house at 863 Sierra are Frances Ullom, Barbara Mills, Mary Ellen Schwarz, Roberta Whitney and Patricia Crummer. Those moving in are Eleanor Norris, Kay Sterling, Marilyn Hansen, Norma Hall and Pat Crandall.

Mary Clinton is moving out of the Tri-Delt house and Bernadette Ertter is moving in. Leslie Harvey is leaving the Pi Beta Phi house, 869 Sierra, and will commute from Carson City. The Pi Phi to move in the house has not yet been decided upon, pending scholarship reports.

The fraternity houses do not seem to be definite on who is and who is not going to move. The Phi Sigma Kappa house will lose Noel Willis and James Dunn.

Vivian Davis Named Pi Phi President

Vivian Davis was elected president of Pi Beta Phi replacing Betty Waugh at the annual election of the sorority on Monday night. The new president is a junior arts and science student from Las Vegas.

Miss Davis is a member of Sagens, YWCA cabinet, Press Club and Fine Arts. She served as Women's Student Service Foundation chairman during the present semester.

New officers serving with Miss Davis are Lois Hitchens, vice-president; Barbara Goul, corresponding secretary; Joylin Johnson, recording secretary; Dorothy Hooper, treasurer; Lola Mae Dunbar, senator; Marjorie Simon, alternate senator, and Barbara Burhans, house manager.

Gillis: Yeah, I tasted it.

Leave of Absence Given Miss Chapman

Joanna Chapman, assistant professor of education, has been granted a release from the University of Nevada to teach at Oklahoma A&M for the spring semester.

Miss Chapman will supervise student teachers and do research for teachers' education.

She will return to Nevada in June to instruct summer school courses in nutrition education and education for family and community living.

Mildred Huber, former university student, will take Miss Chapman's place on the teaching staff during the spring semester.

Spray Treatment Improves Skating

What appeared to be a leak in Lake Manzanita's ice crust last Saturday turned out to be a geyser of water from a helpful fireman's hose.

Two local firemen equipped with an engine and two hoses were utilizing a new mist technique of smoothing scarred lake surfaces for slicker skating.

By shooting the water into the air and allowing only a fine mist to shower the ice, a new smooth crust was formed almost as soon as the super-cooled rain hit the old one. Grooves and gouges were filled and finer skating on Manzanita was made available for Sunday's array of glide artists.

Sagers Announces Future Beer-Bust

Meeting To Be Scheduled To Consider Tryees

An inter-fraternity beer bust is on tap to better Greek relationships. The Sagers decided this at Tuesday's meeting and will stage the event some time after Mackay Day, according to President Bill Buck.

Action will soon be taken by the election committee of the group on the nine tryees up for membership status.

New members chosen will be guests at a welcome banquet which will follow the meeting of the election committee.

Fifteen hours of campus service are necessary for tryees to be considered for Sager membership.

Funeral services were held last Saturday for Mrs. Theresa Gottardi, mother of Prof. John R. Gottardi, of the foreign language department, and a resident of Sparks for many years. Internment was at Mountain View cemetery.

Pack Win Streak Soars at Expense Of Wave Cagers

Shag Leads Wolf Victories Over Classy Pepperdine 43 to 42 and 52 to 40

Led by Bob O'Shaughnessy, Nevada's basketballers stemmed the tide of Pepperdine's rolling Waves 43-42 Friday night and 52-40 Saturday evening. The twin victory over the highly rated Los Angeles quintet gave the Wolf Pack its 13th and 14th wins of the season, and boosted the Pack's consecutive victory streak to eight.

In what has been described as the best game played on the local court this season, Friday night's tussle saw the Wolves narrowly edge past the Waves to cop the win by one point. With the score standing at 43-42 in Nevada's favor, and one minute of playing time remaining, Pepperdine made a valiant effort to gain control of the ball. However, in their eagerness, they fouled Moylan, and then Melarkey.

Nevada, Out of Bounds

Rather than attempt the free throws and allow Pepperdine to get the ball, each time Nevada took the ball out of bounds. The lads from California, still in the ball game, forced a jump and took the tip-off. Martin, Wave forward, in his haste to get a shot before the final whistle, lost sight of the outside markings of the court and dribbled out of bounds down the sidelines. Referee Silva spotted the miscue exactly at the moment the final Saturday's Affair

It was a completely revamped Wolf Pack that took the court Saturday night. Before 10 minutes of play had gone by the board, the Wolves were out in front 18 to 5. O'Shaughnessy had accounted for 10 of the 18 markers.

With Joy Face, redheaded willow-the-wisp forward, hitting the bucket from all angles, Pepperdine closed the gap to 34-30 by the halfway mark of the final stanza. However, at this point, the officials, Scott and Silva, went completely berserk, ignored several flagrant Nevada fouls, and nailed Pepperdine for minor technicalities.

As the final moments rolled around, O'Shaughnessy, who drew the Nevadans further out in front with several converted free throw attempts interspersed with a field goal or two.

Hal Fischer, Pack center, turned in perhaps his best performance of the season. Moylan continued to dominate the backboard play, and Melarkey, although effective bottled up throughout the series, played a sparkling brand of basketball.

Pace Stands Out

For the Californians, Pace was the standout. His 35 point series total led both the teams for scoring honors. The redhead's only downfall was that he failed to shoot enough. His average was somewhere around four out of five baskets attempted. Joest, tow-headed center, was a thorn in the Wolves' side continually.

MEET THE PACK

By Robert Radovich
Tall, lanky Grant (Skippy) Davis, six foot one inch forward, has been one of the standout stars with the Wolf Pack quintet this season, having compiled 202 points in 15 games.

A junior this year, Davis was a member of last year's cage team and journeyed to the NAIB tournament in Kansas City. Besides excelling in basketball last year, "Skippy" ran the 440 yard dash in track and won his letter in that field.

Davis' athletic achievements started back in his high school days. Strangely enough, he did not enter into the field of athletic competition in a big way during his freshman and sophomore years. While attending Huntington Park high school in southern California, his only specialty was tennis and he won a junior city tourney in that event.

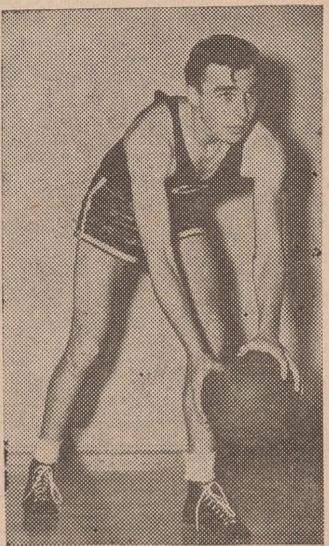

Grant's sport career took shape the following year when he entered Shorewood high school in Wisconsin. Basketball, football and track were his specialties and he showed his ability by winning letters in all three. Davis ran the 440 in track and played end for the varsity football team.

Three Letter Man

Moving to Whitehaven, Tennessee, the versatile athlete continued his athletic career by again winning his letter in track, football and basketball.

Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, gave "Skippy" his first taste of college competition. He played forward for the Vanderbilt basketball team for a year before coming to Carson City and then to the University of Nevada.

A mainstay on this year's outstanding cage team, his fast footwork and accurate goal tossing has helped carry Nevada's cagers from the threshold of national prominence to the inner circle of the nation's outstanding basketball teams. Although laid up for two games, an injured knee failed to hamper his play, and he is continuing to blaze a brilliant trail across the hardwood courts.

Davis married Billie Jean Stinson, former University of Nevada student, and is now living in Carson City. A big cog in the well oiled basketball machine, Grant will be instrumental in carrying the Pack's offensive burden throughout the remainder of the season.

LIBE CLOSED

The campus library will be closed on Sunday, February 2, between examinations and registration, stated James J. Hill, director of the libraries.

Shag Leads Pack In Scoring Points

Bob O'Shaughnessy leads the Wolf Pack in the scoring department with 205 points acquired in 16 of the 18 games played by the Pack. Grant (Skip) Davis is a close second with 202 points garnered in 15 contests.

Jimmy Melarkey is crowding the 200 mark with 180 points scored in 17 contests, and if he gets one of his good nights he will be up pressing for scoring honors at the end of this week.

Statistics up to and including the Pepperdine games are as follows:

Player	GP	FG	FT	Pts.
O'Shaughnessy	16	81	43	205
Davis	15	85	32	202
Melarkey	17	68	44	180
Fischer	17	55	30	140
Moylan	15	30	13	72

SKI CLUB MEMBERS RATE ON 'ROSE' TOW

Tickets at a reduced rate of $1 per day to ride the ski tow at Mount Rose are now available for Ski Club members, said David Moore, treasurer of the group.

The reduced rate tickets are good only on week days from 1 pm on, Moore said. The regular $2.50 per day will be paid on weekends, he continued.

Moore said that a new peak in membership, 180 in all, has been reached, and that more are expected to join.

Pack Hoopsters Outclass Portland In 65-41 Victory

Garner 9th Consecutive Win Against Weak Opponents After Slow Start

Completely outclassing their weaker opponents, Nevada's cagers ran roughshod over a hapless Portland quintet, 65-41, for their ninth consecutive win.

After a slow, lagging first half the Wolf basketekers came surging back in the second half to completely dominate play. With Bob "Shag" O'Shaughnessy and Jimmy Melarkey hitting the hoop from all angles, but somewhat outthrust by the Portland cagers during the early stages of the game, the Pack held a 23-20 halftime lead.

During the first half, the Wolves were unable to penetrate a strong Portland zone defense. Rapid-fire baskets by Bob Devich and Fred Owens gave the Portlanders an early 18-3 lead. Not to be denied, Hal Fischer's tip-ins and O'Shaughnessy's lay-up shots paved the way for a slight half-time bulge.

Clever Pass Attack

Jake Lawlor's rejuvenated hoopsters demonstrated a clever passing attack and dead-eye shooting ability in the second half. Led by dynamic Melarkey, who commenced hitting the hoop from all angles, the Pack cagers set a dizzy pattern of clever passing that completely bewildered the Portland defense.

Held to seven points, Grant "Skippy" Davis played an outstanding floor game as did guard Bill Moylan, whose clever ball handling and retrieving off the

Twelve Accepted Into Dance Group

Twelve new members were accepted into Senior Orchesis, women's modern dance organization, at tryouts on Wednesday, January 15, announced Miss Jacquelyn Van Gaasbeek, instructor in physical education for women.

The new dancers are Constance Burkholder, Dolores Bena, Vilma Hokhold, Lucille Thompson, Louise Thompson, Bonnie Taylor, Alice Pettis, Shirley McDonough, Kathryn Brennan, Jean Brennan, Marjorie Montrose and Cecilia Schindler.

Honors for dancing were given by the Women's Recreation Association to Cecilia Schindler, while Alice Pettis and Kathryn Brennan received honorable mentions.

backboard made him a potent defensive weapon for the Pack. Subs Often

After ringing up a 59-33 lead in the later stages of the game, Lawlor substituted freely. With Harold Hayes and Scott Beasley leading the onslaught, the Wolves continued to romp over the Portlanders. Plenty of action occurred even after Lawlor sent his first string quintet to the showers to give them a rest in preparation for tonight's encounter with San Jose.

Lanky Ed Reed sank a basket in the closing seconds closely followed by Jack Swedenborg's bucket just as the final gun sounded.

Quite in contrast to last week's series, officials drew the plaudits of the crowd with their weird antics and bellowing voices.

Back the building program.

Back the Wolf Pack.

PACK TRACKS

By Ray Gardella

TOUGH AND ROUGH

Pepperdine's colorful cagers won many plaudits during their hectic series with our victorious Wolves. Their super ball handling and deadeye shooting ability, provided the opposition to test the strength and calibre of the potent Pack "basketekers."

Not to be outdone, the Nevada quintet matched the Waves basket for basket, and roughed it up, when the going got tough. A moment's letup could have easily turned victory into defeat, but the Wolves were in there fighting constantly, and when the pressure was on, rose to great heights to cope a brilliant pair of victories.

WANT A JOB?

The officials, under a constant pressure of cheers and jeers, found the going plenty rough during the recent Pepperdine series. Just how many fans, who were so quickly to criticize, would have liked to trade places with the whistle-tooters? Yeah, we know 2500 eyes are better than one. But we're not putting in our application for the job. No suh!

In a picture with a different paint job, Nevada cage fans may well be proud of the remarkable sportsmanship they've been showing during home games. Many a blast was thrown in the direction of the referees and their decisions, but seldom were any of the players criticized for their playing tactics which at times may have appeared debatable. When an opposing player is taken, or fouled out of a game, he receives practically as big a hand as many of our team members when they leave the floor.

We can certainly appreciate this fact after our recent excursion to Davis for the Cal Aggies series. We saw Pack players continually harped at by the poorest bunch of sportsmen we have ever had the misfortune of listening to.

WAKE UP DUNKEL

It's time to revise your rating, Dunkel. Whatsay you up Nevada's cage team to among the first ten on the coast? Of course, if you want, we'll give a special performance just for you. Our boys will play standing on their heads, if necessary, any of your better rated teams—and beat them to boot!

Well done is better than well said.—Ben Franklin.

Interfraternity basketball got off to a flying start last week with Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Chi and Alpha Tau Omega winning opening games.

Sigma Nu opened the second week of play by trouncing the Lambda Chi's as center Bill Boko and forwards Orrin Snyder and Bob Knudson for the Snakes led the victors.

Theta Chi registered a mild upset by dumping Lambda Chi Alpha 30-21. McCray, spark of the Theta Chi's, rang up 15 digits to cope scoring honors.

Sigma Nu got off to a flying start by trimming Independents 48-20. Bob Knudson, totaling 18 points, was the main offensive punch of the winners.

Jerry Wyness led Sigma Alpha Epsilon to a 43-33 victory over Phi Sigma Kappa. The Phi Sig's threatened occasionally but could not overtake the rangy "violets."

Alpha Tau Omega, led by three of the freshman team, Harold Dale, Paul Richards and Lou Mendive, ran wild against Sigma Rho Delta to score a 39-8 triumph. The Taus, regarded as favorites, lived up to all pre-game expectations in the opening bracket of play.

Jake Contracts To Coach Pack For Five Years

After Jake Lawlor indicated that he would not be interested in applying for the job of head football coach of the University of Nevada, he was offered and accepted a five year contract to coach basketball, baseball and to assist in football, announced Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager.

During his first season with Nevada, Lawlor's record was 16 won, four lost. Lawlor then took a leave of absence for two years and again returned to pilot the Silver and Blue hoopsters. His 1946 aggregation, sparked by Davis, Melarkey and O'Shaughnessy, won 28 and dropped five, including the victories before being bumped out in the semi-finals of the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament in Kansas City, Kansas.

After graduating with the class of '30, Lawlor played professional baseball in the Pacific Coast League with Sacramento and the San Francisco Seals. He also taught high school athletics for several years at Virginia City, Nevada, and Delano, Calif.

Three Houses Elect Heads For Semester

Baker, Diehl, Elmore Named to Lead Campus Greeks

Three of the seven fraternities on the University of Nevada campus have elected officers for the coming semester. Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Tau Omega announced that their new officers would take office the first meeting after the opening of the second semester.

The following men were elected by Phi Sigma Kappa: president, Curtis Baker; secretary, Edward Drennon; vice-president, William Ebert (ex-president); inductive, William Mackrides, and sentinel, Morley Bockman.

Jack Diehl, John Etcheto and Floyd Yates were re-elected by the members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon as eminent archon, eminent treasurer and eminent recorder, respectively. Other new officers elected by the SAEs are Alexander Phillips, eminent deputy archon; William Kornmayer, eminent correspondent; Stanley Smith, eminent chronicler; Donald Talcott, eminent warden, and Charles Mayo, eminent herald.

Richard Elmore was elected as the president of Alpha Tau Omega. Other ATO officers are William Williams, exchequer; Frank Gardner, sentinel; Bruce Hill, usher; Kenneth Williams, scribe; George Gibson, keeper of the annals, and Robert Laxalt, reporter.

Sigma Nu announced that their officers are elected but once a year. Their next election will be next fall.

Theta Chi will not hold its election until after the week of final examinations. Lambda Chi Alpha also announced that their election will be held on the second Monday in February.

Sigma Rho Delta members will elect their officers at the end of this school year. The new officers will take office next fall.

Saddle and Spurs To Be Reorganized At Next Meeting

Reorganization of the Saddle and Spurs Club will highlight the business at the next regular meeting on Monday, February 3, announced Pela Oyarbide, head of the women's riding group.

She said this is made necessary by the dropping out of disinterested members.

Miss Oyarbide stated that ensuing meetings will be devoted mainly to club's plans for a horse show, the details of which were not disclosed.

COOPERATION GIVEN

Cooperation of members of the Associated Women Students with the ASUN improvement committee in the preparation of campaign letters sent to parents and legislators throughout the state has been announced by Rose Nannini, AWS president.

Campus sorority women have also assisted in addressing and mailing letters for the committee.

SCHOOL SPIRIT TOPIC AT SAGEN MEETING

Lack of school spirit at local basketball games was discussed by the Sagens, campus women service organization, at its regular meeting on January 16. The meeting was held in the ASUN building, President Jo Ann Miller said today.

To boost school spirit, the Sagens reserved a block of 25 seats in the student section of the new gymnasium to aid rooting in the Pepperdine-Nevada basketball game held Friday evening. Organized Sagen's rooting will continue for all home university basketball games, Miss Miller added.

43rd Legislature Hears UN Needs

lative proceedings in Carson City, the university's needs probably won't be discussed until Governor Vail Pittman presents his over-all bill on February 4. "Sentiment of the legislators seems to be in favor of procuring salary increases for the faculty, but the extensive building program is too much for the state's present financial structure," Bennyhoff stated yesterday.

The status of the "live science" building, funds for which were approved by the 1945 legislature but have not been released by the ways and means committee, looks precarious. Bennyhoff said that senators and representatives see no need of constructing a new building when the heating plant now in use is not adequate to heat the existing facilities. Their desires are to shift this grant of $350,000 to the construction of a heating plant.

"Once the governor's bill, of which the university's requests are a part, has been presented to the legislature, the ways and means committee will call upon representatives of the various state institutions to appear before it and vary their budget requests. At that time the university comptroller, Dr. Charles H. Gorman, will appear to make the board of regents report and present the proposed budget for the next two years' operation of the university," said Silas E. Ross, chairman of the board of regents.

Up from the Ranks

These are presidents of operating telephone companies of the Bell System. They all started at the bottom of the ladder . . . Nine years ago the Bell System first published an advertisement like this, except that there are now thirteen new faces in the pictures. These new presidents also started at the bottom.

The Bell System aims to keep the opportunity for advancement open to all.

One of its traditions is that its executives come up from the ranks. That has been true of the business for many years and nowhere is it better illustrated than in the careers of the men who now serve as presidents of Bell Telephone Companies.

As a group, they have put in 611 years of telephone service, an average of 36 years each.
