

Spring Rush Week To Start Tuesday

Sorority rushing will start officially February 11, announced Elaine Mobley, dean of women. All women interested in going through rushing should fill out the required forms in Miss Mobley's office.

All rushees are required to attend both meetings for rushees at the education auditorium February 11 at 8 pm and February 14 at 9 pm.

Rush parties will be held Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings and the preferential dinner will be held Friday evening from 6 to 7:30 pm.

Miss Mobley advises all girls being rushed to study the pamphlets and announcement sheets available at her office. Jo Ann Miller, president of the Pan-Hellenic Association, can be reached by phone at 2-2532 in the evenings to answer any questions a rushee may ask, Miss Mobley announced.

SAGEN NOTICE

Sagens, university pep organization, has set the date of its next meeting tentatively for February 28.

The exact date will be posted at a later time.

On the hill it's hello.

Parking Control Heads Discussions At Blue Key Meet

Parking control was the main topic discussed by Blue Key at its meeting February 4. The meeting was held in the seminar room of the library.

Jimmy Glynn, publicity chairman for the group, said that campus traditions and methods of carrying them out were discussed.

Cooperation with the upper-class men's committee in properly enforcing campus traditions will be discussed when Jim Borge, Blue Key president, meets with that group.

Rule Changes Face Interfrat Group

First semester meeting of the interfraternity council will be held February 10 at 5 pm.

The council, representing the various campus fraternities, will meet to discuss various rule changes and matters of policy affecting the fraternities as a group.

The regular meeting time was 4 pm, but because of laboratory conflict has been changed to 5.

Dancers to Attend Spring Semester Dance Symposium

Initiation for Twelve Will Be Scheduled In Near Future

Orchesis, student dance group, is planning to attend two dance symposiums this semester. The first is at San Jose Junior College on February 22. The second will be held at the University of Southern California on March 29. These symposiums are to be attended by dance groups from all the western colleges.

Charles Weidman, nationally known modern dancer, will give the master lesson and concert at the San Jose Junior College symposium.

Orchesis is also planning to initiate 12 new members in the near future, although the date has not been set.

Zeta Phi Schedule Sigma Rho Social, Formal Spring Prom

Zeta Phi Zeta, local sorority, plans a social for Sigma Rho Delta February 12. They will also hold a spring formal tentatively set for May 13. The final date will be announced later.

The social for Sigma Rho Delta will be held in the "Y" room at Artemisia Hall from 7 to 8 pm. Patty Babb and Muriel Smiley are the social chairmen in charge of all arrangements.

President Dace Ricketts stated that election of new officers for a two-semester term will be held in May.

CAROL DUNDEE WEDS BOB O'SHAUGHNESSY

Miss Carol Dundee, junior coed, and Bob O'Shaughnessy announced their October marriage at a luncheon held at the Riverside Hotel Sunday, January 26.

He is a star on the University of Nevada basketball team and is outstanding in baseball and track. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Miss Dundee is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

YWCA Snack Bar May Close Doors

Unless more girls volunteer for work in the YWCA snack bar it will be closed, Barbara Thompson Pinjuv, "Y" secretary, said this week.

Mrs. Winona Earl is in charge of snack bar personnel. Girls need not be members of YWCA to work in the snack bar and may volunteer to work for one hour one day a week.

The snack bar is open Monday through Friday from 8 am until 4 pm and as many girls as possible are needed to work on these days.

The duties of volunteers in the snack bar are serving coffee, doughnuts and sandwiches to students.

Dean Mobley Helps Secure Residences For Nevada Women

Dean of Women Elaine Mobley announced that a list of approved residences for women students may be secured in her office. Although the dormitories are filled almost to capacity, any new students in need of housing should consult Dean Mobley, who will help them to find suitable accommodations.

The change in plans for registration, by which it is no longer necessary for the dean of women to sign women students' "railroad tickets," is the result of a meeting following registration last September, Miss Mobley said.

Miss Mobley remained in her office during registration for the convenience of women students so that she would be available for their more important problems and would eliminate another line at registration.

Miss Mobley also announced that campus clerical positions are now available. Work applications are being received in her office this week, she said.

Leaking Propane Ignites Campus

The recent change to propane gas has caused considerable trouble on the campus. Gas leaks have been found in the library, Mackay Science Hall and in front of the English hall.

Mr. J. J. Hill, librarian, reports that gas has been leaking into the library basement during the weekend. The gas has been entering the library from the steam and gas line tunnel. Since propane is heavier than air, it accumulates in pockets instead of floating harmlessly away.

In the Mackay Science labs several gas cocks were blown loose when they were tested this morning. Compressed air was pumped into the gas lines, raising the pressure from about one pound to 100 pounds per square inch. To test valves, a soap solution is put on the valve opening. When the pressure is increased, a bubble will form if there is any leak.

Many students were surprised by the appearance of mysterious fires along the sidewalk in front of the English hall. They were not as shocked, however, as the girls in Dr. R. S. Griffin's office. The door was open, giving them a clear view of the walk outside when a passing student dropped a match, and the propane-soaked ground burst into flame. A break in the gas line was thought to have caused the leak. Nearly all of the gas on the campus has been shut off until repairs can be made, members of the grounds crew said.

BARB GET-TOGETHER IN STEWART HALL

The Barbs will hold a social get-together in the Stewart Hall basement Monday evening between 7:30 and 8:30. Dancing will be the principal recreation, and refreshments will be served. All new students are invited to attend.

This is the first of many activities the Barbs have planned for the coming semester, according to Charles Lockhart, Independent president.

Varied Opinions Of AVC Pay Drive Voiced by Vets

What do the veterans on campus think of the plan of the American veterans committee for raising the subsistence allowance? This question was asked of various students, and believe it or not, all of them are not in favor of it.

Maclin B. Summers, chairman of the local AVC, said that the national committee has not decided on the exact amount of increase it will propose, but he thought that it would be around $25 additional a month. The national committee will try to obtain the increase through congressional legislation.

Single Vets Pro and Con

Charles Lockhart, veteran and engineering student, said, "The veterans are in favor of anything to keep themselves and their kids out of uniform. However," he added, "I'm against it. The allowance is for subsistence—and for single men it covers all necessities all right. I don't see how the government can go on handing out more money indefinitely, for we'll just have to pay it all back some day."

"Why don't they just take the ceiling off what a man can earn, and then we won't need an increase," Harry Kane replied to the question.

Gerald E. (Whitey) Knowles said, "They're always blowing off about what big political things they are going to do. Why don't they start out right at home; there's a lot to be done. I don't care for the AVC myself."

More for Tribute

Jim Klens was all for the increase. "The veterans deserve more money," he said. "Millions for defense; not one cent for tribute," he turned the slogan around, "they spent a lot of money to defend, now pay the veterans a little tribute for doing the fighting."

Art Hardson, Highlander, reported that, "Naturally, all of the Highlanders are for the increase. We can't live on what we are getting now because all the prices are going up."

More for the Budget

"A majority of married vets in Victory Heights are eating out of meager savings, and unless some adjustment is made in the subsistence checks we'll have to sacrifice study time for budget balancing," stated Lewis Barrett, family veteran.

The American veterans committee is the only recognized veterans organization which accepts merchant marine members. The Veterans of Foreign Wars formerly refused to participate in any program in connection with the AVC because the latter was "not a veterans' organization"—referring to the AVC's acceptance of merchant marine members.

AVC Legal Vet Group

World War I organizations charged it as being a "political and economic lobby" and not a veterans' organization. General Bradley, however, recognized the AVC as an accredited veterans' organization for presentation of claims before the Veterans Administration—a legal status in veterans affairs equal to that of the VFW and the Legion.

Local Chairman Summers said, "In AVC, all veterans meet together, regardless of race, creed or color." Summers said that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is chairman of the national committee for housing, sponsored by AVC, but that the committee for the raise in subsistence allotment for veterans training and schooling has not yet been completely organized.

Three Aggie Grads Find Post-School Business Positions

Of the three students graduated at mid-semester from the college of agriculture, two have secured jobs and the third is attending business college.

Kenneth Stewart, who received his BS in agriculture, is now instructing at Churchill county high school in vocational agriculture.

Noel Willis, also a BS in agriculture, is associated with his brother, an agricultural contractor in Humboldt county, with headquarters at Paradise Valley.

Carol Smith, the only home economics graduate, is attending business college in Reno.

WINGROVE TO TALK BEFORE CAMPUS CLUB

Miss Bettie Wingrove, instructor in home economics, will lead a discussion on "The Case for Humanity" at the Campus Club meeting at 5:30 pm Sunday at the Federated Church. Vernon Meiser, president, will conduct the business meeting.

Nevada Favored To Beat Portland In Weekend Tilts

A weary band of Wolves struggled northward to tangle with Portland this weekend in an effort to gain back their winning stride.

In a previous encounter, the Pack quintet trounced the hapless Portlanders 54-41, and will be favorites to cope their 17th and 18th wins against the luckless Portland five.

Playing four games in five nights proved too much for the Wolves as they succumbed to Wyoming twice and split a two-game series with Pacific for their eighth loss of the season.

"Somewhat rested up from their recent gruelling games, the Pack will be in better shape for this series," coach Jake Lawlor stated. The Pack winged their way northward by plane yesterday.

First Five

Expected to carry the brunt of Nevada's offensive thrust are top west scorer Bob O'Shaughnessy and sharpshooters Grant Davis and Jim Melarkey. Handling the defensive chores will be Fischer, center stalwart, and big Bill Moylan, backboard artist.

A highlight in Nevada's somewhat deflated cage picture shows O'Shaughnessy leading the west in scoring closely followed by Grant Davis, deadeye scoring threat. Little Jimmy Melarkey lacks two points of coming within the select scoring circle. Should these stars find their shooting eye in this week's series with Portland, they will step up prominently on the nation's scoring ladder.

Coming to Reno next Wednesday, the San Francisco Olympic Club will provide competition for the Pack in a March of Dimes benefit contest. Next weekend the Wolves will be hosts to the strong University of San Francisco Dons in another outstanding home series.

Four UN Skiers In Tough Meet

Hawkins Outstanding Entry In Downhill, Slalom

"It was the toughest race I've ever run," was the comment of Barnes Berry when asked about the recent Sun Valley meet, in which he placed 24th in the downhill and was disqualified in the slalom. Les Hawkins was the outstanding Nevada entry, placing 21st in the slalom and 22nd in the downhill. Cliff Banta placed 21st in the slalom and 26th in the downhill, while Mickey Munley failed to finish the downhill as a result of a bad fall.

These men were representing University of Nevada in the Western Interstate ski meet and competition for the president's cup, held January 24, 25 and 26, at Sun Valley, Idaho.

The courses were set by Alf Engen, famous skier, who wanted them to be a good test, as most of the entrants were tryees for the Olympic team. In the 1400 foot long downhill, only five men out of 31 who started remained standing for the whole race.

Two other former U of N students at the meet were Jerry Wetzel and Dodie Post. Wetzel placed in the twenties, while Dodie was the outstanding woman skier in the meet, placing first in the downhill and second in the slalom.

CLAUDE HAMMOND ADDED TO STAFF

Starting next semester, Prof. William I. Smyth, department of mining, will give all of his time to teaching, and a new staff member, Claude W. Hammond, will take over some of his laboratory work.

Hammond was graduated from the Mackay School of Mines in 1931 and will assist Prof. Walter S. Palmer with the work for the state analytical laboratory and the laboratory courses.

On the hill it's hello.

MEET THE PACK

By Robert Radovich

Hal Fischer, lanky pivot threat, has been capably handling the center spot for the Wolf Pack quintet all season. Hailing from California, "Handsome" Hal began pounding the hardwoods while attending Commerce high school in San Francisco. Because Hal was not heavy enough for the strenuous work of varsity play, he played center for the lightweight squad and started off on his colorful career, which carried him across the far reaches of the Pacific.

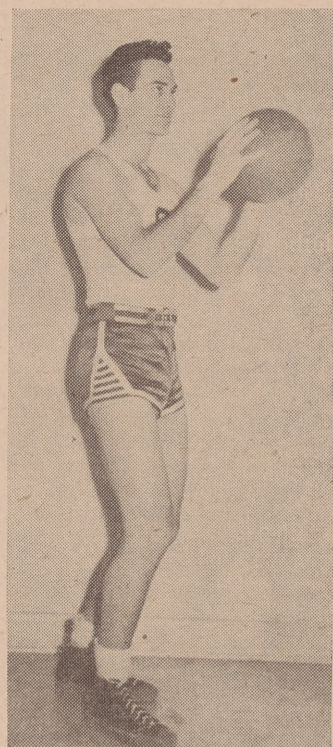

San Francisco Junior College was the whirlwind start. Under the able coaching of Dutch Conlan, former All-American football and basketball player, Hal became the nemesis of his opponents and ran off with all-state honors for two years.

Besides being a cage star, during his junior college days in the Golden Gate city he ran the 100-yard dash in track and was goalie for the soccer team the year they won the Pacific coast championship.

While playing center on the San Francisco Olympic Club team, Uncle Sam beckoned to Fischer with the customary greetings and he later became a sergeant in the army air forces.

Upon his return from overseas duty, he was stationed at the Tonopah army air base and helped his teammates win the Pacific coast basketball championship for army teams. Nevada cage fans should remember that team well.

Shortly after the cessation of hostilities, an all-star aggregation of cagers was picked from the Pacific theater of operations to compete in the army Olympics. Fischer was chosen for that team. They covered most of the islands in the Pacific where American service men and women were stationed, showing them the type of basketball they had forgotten existed. Saipan, Guam, Manila, and Okinawa became familiar names to these barnstorming cagers.

In his army cage career, Hal shared the spotlight with such outstanding performers as Hank Luisetti, legendary Stanford University hoopster, Jim Pollard of Stanford, and Frank Saul, Seton Hall stalwart.

"Handsome" Hal was married to Hollywood movie starlet, Margia Dean.

Playing his first year for the Wolves, the tall, agile center has been one of the big guns in the Wolf Pack offense. Fischer's 190 points are only part of the great game he has been playing this season. His spectacular play at the pivot spot against some of the toughest—and tallest—competition Nevada has ever faced, has shown that Fischer has the stuff it takes to play on an outstanding cage squad.

NEVADA LEGISLATORS DINE IN GOW HOUSE

Nevada legislators and their wives were the guests of the university and the alumni association recently.

Dinner was served at the gow house for 40 guests, and later the legislative delegation and their hosts attended the basketball game between the University of Wyoming and the Wolf Pack.

The University of Nevada was represented by President John O. Moseley and Dr. Charles H. Gorman, university comptroller. The alumni association was represented by Rex Daniels, director of the alumni association, and Bill Cashill, '37.

Dramatics Group Considers Plays On Spring Agenda

Three plays are being considered for the next production of the Campus Players, it was announced today by Professor William C. Miller, director of the University of Nevada dramatic group. Of the three possibilities two are comedies and one a drama, Professor Miller said.

"The Joyous Season," "The White Steed" and "In Time to Come," two comedies and a drama, respectively, may be presented. The drama is a biographical sketch of Woodrow Wilson. Definite tryout dates have not yet been decided upon, Professor Miller said, but readings might be held during the coming week.

Two Rifle Teams Pile Up Victories In College Meets

ROTC, Varsity Squads Both Score Three-for-Four In Season Matches

Winning three out of four matches each, the ROTC and varsity rifle teams are chalking up one of the best records ever scored on this campus, said Lt. Col. James C. Smece, assistant professor of military science and tactics.

Led by Emil Ott, who totaled 375 out of a possible 400 points, the varsity defeated the University of Chicago, 1851 to 1831; Iowa State, 1851 to 1847; Georgia Tech, 3667 to 3503, while suffering their lone defeat at the hands of the Coast Guard Academy from New London, Conn., in matches fired the last week in January, Smece said.

The ROTC team, too, is hitting the bullseyes, according to Smece. The scores compiled thus far show them holding the upper hand over the University of Wyoming by scoring 1833 points to 1831; they trounced Northwestern University, 1843 to 1759; defeated Georgia Tech by scoring 3585 to 3503, and lost to the Coast Guard Academy by 64 points.

Smece said that the scores for the matches were exchanged through the mail and four schools have not yet reported results.

Intercollegiate Matches

Last week the varsity fired the first stage of the army area intercollegiate matches, Smece continued. The scores are not yet compiled, but Nevada has a good chance of being among the leaders.

Badminton Finals Won by Sophomore

Bonnie Molignoni, sophomore, is new WRA badminton champion following the finals played recently, said Claudine Lepori, badminton manager.

In the semi-finals Miss Molignoni was paired against Cecilia Schindler, while Alice Mitcheo played Freda Kornmayer. Miss Kornmayer and Miss Molignoni were the finalists.

For their outstanding performances, Miss Molignoni will receive honor and Miss Kornmayer will receive honorable mention.

FACULTY AND JOURNAL DISAGREE ON REPRIEVE

The day after registration presented a peculiar problem to the students within the range of the morning paper. According to this source of information, "classes will commence on Wednesday." However, hopeful phone calls to the staffs of the registrar and comptroller's offices revealed that classes were scheduled to begin on Tuesday morning.

The official word proved to be more authentic than the reprieve from the press.

top six they will fire in the national intercollegiate matches, he said.

Ott, who is the leading scorer of both teams, was injured while skiing, but will nevertheless fire in coming matches. Last year Ott was the highest scorer in the sixth army area for Sacramento high school and won the gold medal for the Hearst trophy rifle team, Smece said.

Both rifle teams are coached by Col. Gilbert E. Parker, head of the military department. Master Sergeant Claude D. Morris is his enlisted assistant.

ALUMNI PUBLICATION GOES TO PRESSES

"Nevada Wolf Prints," monthly alumni news bulletin, is on the presses now, Rex Daniels, director of the Nevada Alumni Association, said today.

The bulletin will consist of four pages of condensed news of campus activities and news from the files of the alumni association telling of the activities of members.

A copy of "Nevada Wolf Prints" will be sent to all members of the Nevada Alumni Association.

Housing Project Building OK'd For Completion

Hopes for adequate housing of 56 campus veterans and their families soared as M & K Construction Company increased their skeleton crew, which is assembling the apartment units in Victory Heights, to 25 last week.

The "go ahead" has been given construction officials by Langdon W. Post, regional director of the federal public housing administration. Negotiations over the funds allowed to complete the project delayed resumption of work on the veterans emergency housing project, C. C. Taylor, project engineer for the FPHA here, said.

Although no definite time could be estimated for the completion of the unfinished four units, Mr. Taylor said that one of the units will probably be ready for occupancy by the end of next week.

Work on the project, located on the hill behind Mackay stadium, was stopped by FPHA last December because construction cost was running over the amount of funds available for all such emergency projects. Additional appropriations have been made and although the crew authorized is only one-fourth as big as it was before the shut-down, the job will be completed.

First Art Class In Campus History Given This Term

The first commercial art class ever given at the University of Nevada began Tuesday, February 4, under the direction of Mrs. Ray Root, new assistant instructor of art. Despite the limitations imposed by housing conditions, and the difficulty of obtaining materials, the class will attempt to do poster work, show card work and silk screen printing.

Thirteen students reported for the first day's instructions, which centered around supplies and potentialities of commercial art work.

The addition of Mrs. Root to the art staff represents expansion within the department. Mrs. Root specializes in commercial training, and will take over that type of teaching, while Mrs. Joslin will continue to instruct classes in oil painting, water-color work, space division and so forth. Mrs. Root received her training from her father and uncle, both commercial artists, and from many special instructors and art institutions.

Former Students Receive Positions In State Schools

Other Jobs Available, But No Graduates To Fill Them

Four students who were graduated from the school of education this semester have received positions as instructors in Nevada schools, stated Dean Fred W. Traner, head of the education department. These former students include Floyd Edsall, Lyle Roush, Herbert Chiara and Frances Ullom.

Edsall has been appointed to instruct in junior high grades in Lovelock, Nevada. He will also help on the coaching staff. A graduate of Sparks high school in 1940, he spent three years at Nevada before entering the service as a second lieutenant. Before he returned to the university last year he had achieved the rank of captain.

Herbert Chiara, who also spent three years in the army, was a graduate of Battle Mountain high and entered the university in 1939. He is teaching mechanical drawing and social subjects at Churchill county high in Fallon.

Lyle Roush of Boulder City and a transfer student from Riverside Junior College, has accepted a job as instructor in Northside junior high here in Reno. Roush was in the army for three years and formerly president of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Frances Ullom, a graduate of Las Vegas high school, has been offered a position on the teaching staff of the elementary school in her home town. Miss Ullom was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and active in student affairs.

Dean Traner said that there were other jobs available but no graduating students to fill them.

Three UN Groups Schedule Dances For This Weekend

A & M Association, Blue Key and Highlanders Groups Plan Shindigs

Three dances planned for this weekend by Artemisia-Manzanita Association, Highlanders and Blue Key, will start the new semester's social activities, the dean of women's office has announced.

The Artemisia-Manzanita Association will hold a dance at the university dining hall Saturday evening for residents of both Artemisia and Manzanita dormitories and their guests. Joyce Long will be in charge of all arrangements. Chaperones will be Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women; Mrs. Florence Peacock, social director of Artemisia Hall, and Mrs. Mabel Fulton, social director of Manzanita Hall.

A rally dance will be given by Blue Key, honor fraternity, Friday evening at Tony's El Patio ballroom. Eugene Tidball is chairman of the dance committee. Guests will be Dean Mobley and Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Beasley.

The Highlanders of Bourbon and McGoogle halls will hold a dance February 8, announced Art Hardison, chairman. The get-together will be held in the recreation rooms of Highland Terrace.

YWCA TO OBSERVE DAY OF PRAYER

New Student Song To Be Presented At First Assembly

Until the assembly committee decides on a date for the first student body meeting, "Nevada We Salute You," the song that may be substituted for "U of N So Gay," cannot be played for student approval.

A common misconception on the hill is that "Hail to Our Sturdy Men" is the college song, demonstrating the weakness of the current one. If the reaction of the students is favorable toward "Nevada We Salute You," it may become the official school song.

"Nevada We Salute You" was written by Milo Sweet of California for the Nevada music department, and Professor Theodore H. Bond, music head, has the band parts ready for the next assembly.

Civil Engineer To Assume Duties February Fifteenth

Professor H. B. Blodgett will arrive February 15 to take over his position as new head of the civil engineering department, stated Dean Stanley G. Palmer, head of the college of engineering.

Professor Blodgett has been a member of the teaching staff at South Dakota State since 1929 and for the past several years has been head of the civil engineering department. During the war he was acting dean of engineering at South Dakota State. He was also a registered engineer and secretary for the examining board of engineers in South Dakota.

Professor Blodgett is replacing Professor Warren Wagner who offered his resignation to finish a navy project at California Institute of Technology.

If it's news we file it for a week.

Democracy Topic Of Valentine Day Student Assembly

Dr. Henry Leach to Compare American Government With Scandinavian

Dr. Henry Goddard Leach of the American-Scandinavian Foundation will lecture in the education building auditorium on February 14 at 7:30 pm. The topic of his lecture is to be "Scandinavian versus American Democracy," Dr. Robert Gorrrell, chairman of the committee on lectures and assemblies, announced.

Dr. Leach is an authority on 1946 in the Scandinavian countries studying the revival of their democratic institutions after the war, a revival so much more rapid than that in America. Democracy in America is still in the blueprint stage, Leach has said, and Scandinavian institutions are not subject to such violent political changes.

Dr. Leach is an authority on Scandinavian literature and an exponent of international education, particularly between the Scandinavian countries and

Circulars Advertise Summer Semesters

Advertising circulars for the University of Nevada summer session have been received by Dr. Harold N. Brown, director of sessions. These circulars will be sent to all high schools in the state of Nevada and most of the western colleges and universities. Circulars will also be sent to all interested individuals upon request.

These circulars are intended primarily to acquaint interested persons with the Reno area and give them an idea of the courses offered in the summer session.

A university catalog giving a complete list of summer session courses will be out in approximately one month, Dr. Brown said.

America. He has lectured extensively and contributed to numerous periodicals. He has published three books, "Scandinavia and Scandinavians," "Angevin Britain and Scandinavia," and "A Pageant of Old Scandinavia."

Canterbury Club Changes Status

Canterbury Club of the University of Nevada has decided to drop its present independent status and affiliate with the National Canterbury Clubs of America, Alyn Brennen, president of the organization, stated
