

Miss Homecoming Gals Nominated

'U' Sweethearts Will Receive 'Xs' At Campus Polls

Six Cups To Be Awarded For Campus Floats During Parade

Seven freshman "lovelies," one of whom will be elected as Homecoming queen of the 28th annual Homecoming, were nominated this week by the organizations they will represent.

Candidates this year will be Kappa Alpha Theta's Pat Eddie, Gamma Phi Beta's Helen Burr, Delta Delta Delta's Frances Schopp and Pi Beta Phi's Ruthie Irwin. Artemisia-Manzanita will be represented by Jeanne Garland. Zeta Phi Zeta's nominee is Velma Chesley. The Independents have as their choice, Nilda Cox.

Homecoming publicity man, Bob Vaughn, announced that as yet a definite date for the election has not been set, but in all probability it will be on Thursday, October 23.

Cups To Be Awarded

Moving ahead with plans for the approaching Homecoming, Vaughn announced that six cups will be awarded. One each will be given the winning fraternity, sorority and other campus organization with the best float; one to the fraternity winning the annual cross country run, and one each to the fraternity and sorority having the best attendance at the Homecoming dance.

Attempts to secure Ray Hackett's band for the Homecoming dance have fallen through. Ray Hackett is a Nevada alumnus and a Phi Sigma Kappa. His band is now being featured at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco. Commitments there make it impossible for him to make the trip to Reno. Negotiations are under way to secure some other "name" band.

Barbecue Dropped

The possibility of inclement weather caused the committee to drop plans for a Homecoming barbecue.

A complete and revised list of committees was also released by Bob Vaughn. Rex Jemison and Sue Broadbent will handle the queen election. Roger Brander heads the band committee. Bill Ireland is in charge of securing trophies. Kwen Byrd, head of the Blue Peppers, will take charge of alumnae registration on the campus, and Norm Olsen will handle the arrangements for the football rally and bonfire.

Homecoming committee co-chairmen Winona Earl and Doug Trail will hold office hours Monday through Friday from 1 to 3 pm in the office of the ASUN president.

Picture Schedule Again Announced

To remind fraternity members and pledges, the picture schedule for the Artemisia is still as follows: Alpha Tau Omega, October 10, 13, 14; Lambda Chi Alpha, October 15, 16, 17; Phi Sigma Kappa, October 20, 21; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, October 22, 23, 24; Sigma Nu, October 27, 28, 29; Sigma Rho Delta, October 30, 31, and Theta Chi, November 3, 4. Pictures are being taken at The Camera located above Hilp's drug store in downtown Reno.

Miss Doris Hanssen, editor, hopes to have all portraits finished by November 15.

Committee Plans Pre-Game Rallies For Grid Contests

There will be a rally for every game from here on out announced a spokesman for the rally committee today. This will include both a sendoff and a greeting upon return when an out of town game is played.

At each rally there will be a torch parade down through the center of town. Yell leaders will be present to lead the march.

Scheduled also is a pajama-ree on the night before the St. Mary's game. Everyone is to wear pajamas and will parade down the streets to cheer.

The committee expressed its appreciation for the large turnout and wonderful spirit shown at the rally held upon the return of the football team after the Oregon game.

Trail Heads Aggies; Pacific Horse Show Scheduled for May

Doug Trail has been elected president of the Aggie Club. He will fill the vacancy left by Daryl McNeilly, now attending school in Davis, California.

Other new officers in the club are Mike Galli, vice-president, and George Potts, secretary-treasurer.

During the Aggie Club meeting a general discussion was held on the horse show slated for May 9, 1948. Mike Galli states the show is to be an official Pacific Association quarter horse show.

Galli also says that several meetings are to be held in November with local horse breeders to discuss entries in the show and how it will be conducted.

During the meeting Vernon E. Scott of the agricultural extension service gave a brief talk on educational improvements on the campus.

University Heads To Take in Confab

Dean Fredrick Wood of the college of arts and science will attend the annual meeting of the Land Grant College Association at Washington, D. C. this year for the first time, President John O. Moseley said yesterday.

The Land Grant College Association has added an arts and science section, which makes all heads of arts and science colleges eligible to attend.

The meeting will be from November 7 to 12, President Moseley said. In addition to Dean Wood, the delegates will be President Moseley, Dean Stanley E. Palmer of the college of engineering, Dean Cecil W. Creel of the agricultural college and Dr. Meryl W. Deming, director of correspondence study.

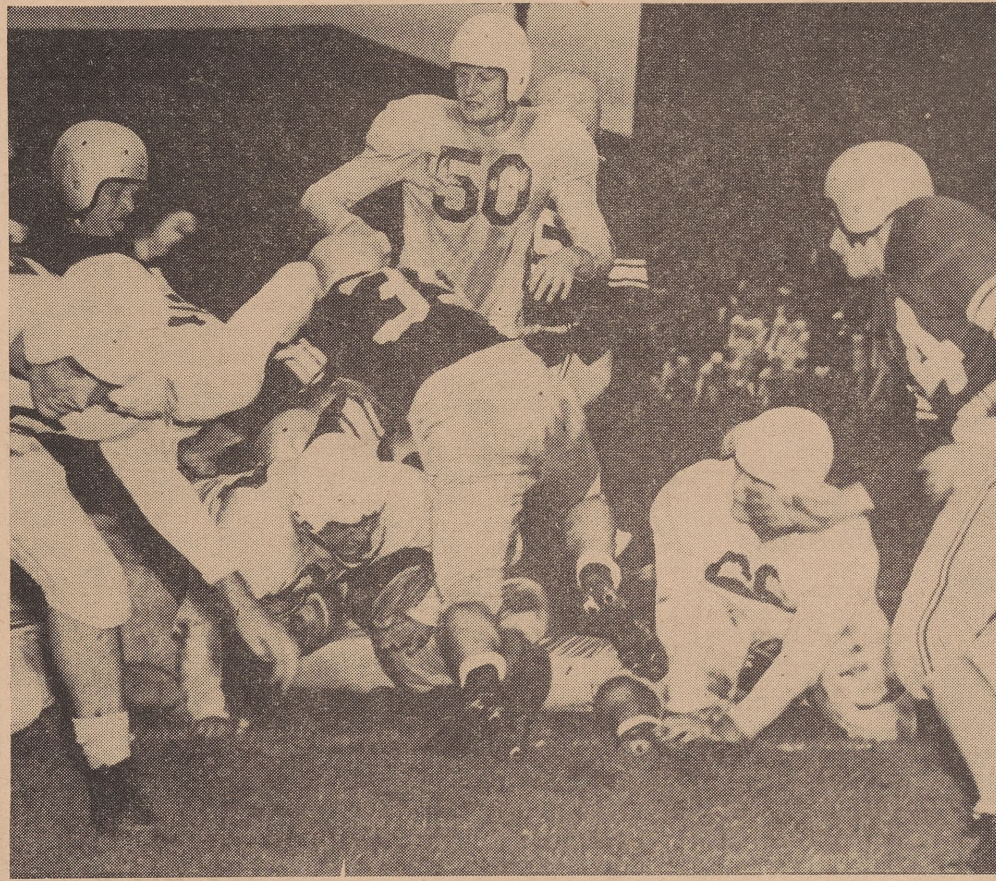

President Moseley said the meeting is important because it sets the policy for the schools established under the Morrill Act, which created the land grant colleges.

University of Nevada is also a member of the National Association of State Universities, President Moseley said, a distinction held by relatively few schools. The meeting of this body is held each spring.

CIGARS PASSED

Merry Jo Harp, Tri-Delt, now wears the pin of Marvin Peccolo, Lambda Chi.

THE PLAY THAT PUT THE "ACHE" IN AIKEN

Buried on the bottom of this pile-up are Frank Sanchez and Buster Tilton, Nevada linemen, responsible for stopping Oregon one foot short of pictured goal line. Oregon's Ecklund (50) looks on as Stan Heath (39) assists Sanchez and Tilton. Bill Morris and Tom Rheinhard are also in on the "crusher."

Peavine N Due for Frosh Coat of White

U.S. Naval Reserve Armory Base Nears Completion

Forms for the foundation of the Nevada U. S. naval reserve armory located east of Mackay Stadium are now being rapidly completed after a delay caused by a shortage of steel.

The one story navy type building will house the Nevada naval reserve as part of their program of training men in technical jobs for the navy.

The building will have three wings connected on the end facing Mackay Stadium by a brick front. Two wings will house equipment for training personnel in radio, radar, signal men and other specialized jobs for the navy. The middle wing will hold the offices of the naval officers.

L. C. Miles, general superintendent, said he expected the building to be finished around the first of January.

Cooperation between the navy and the university will make instructors available from the school in return for use of the building for a few military classes.

The building is being built on land leased from the university by the navy.

Engineers To Hear Aerial Photography Lecture Wednesday

Aerial photography will be subject of a talk by Weld Arnold, lecturer in civil engineering at the university, at the first meeting of the Associated Engineers next Wednesday night at 7:30.

Arnold was a colonel at the end of the war and had much experience with aerial photography. For three years he was in the air force and was stationed at Wright and Bolling fields, where, among other subjects, he taught field astronomy.

Senator George M. Malone, a former engineer on the campus, was scheduled to give the first talk to the engineers but is unable to do so, though he will definitely speak to the group at a later date.

The Nevada N on Peavine Mountain will receive its yearly whitewashing at the hands of the freshman class on Saturday morning, October 11, Bill Gillis, president of the Block N society, announced this week.

The freshmen will assemble at the ASUN building promptly at 8 am. A careful check will be made at that time and any freshman who does not make an appearance will make his, or her appearance later, before the upperclass committees, Gillis said.

Adequate refreshments will be served to the workers during the excursion. It was further announced that those who are suddenly overcome with sleeping sickness, or the wanderlust during the four hour sojourn will be properly cared for and escorted home under the supervision of competent Red Cross field nurses in the guise of big, hefty Block N members.

Although the N is quite large, the work will have to be completed by noon to allow the work party to attend the football game with Portland U in the afternoon.

The annual painting of the Nevada N by the freshman class is a tradition of many years standing. It is usually done each fall before Homecoming. Peavine Mountain, where the N is placed, is about two miles northwest of the campus.

LOCKE, PARKE SURVIVE FIRST FRESHMAN VOTE

Ted Locke and Jack Parke survived the preliminary round of the frosh class manager election and will meet in the finals Thursday, October 16.

Locke, affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity received 83 votes, while Parke, a Sigma Nu, had 67 votes cast in his favor.

Total number of votes cast in the freshman manager race was 328, three-fifths of the entire freshman class.

Final selection of the first year head will take place in the same manner as yesterday's election, with the ASUN building again serving as the polling place.

Committee Gives Assembly Schedule For First Term

Four assembly programs have been scheduled for this semester, Ty Short, head of the ASUN assembly committee, announced today. The dates are set for October 17 at 11 am, November 26 at 10 am, December 18 at 10 am and January 9 at 10 am.

The first assembly will be primarily a pep rally for the St. Mary's game. The band and the yell leaders will be there and will be ready to give the team a big send off.

The program will also include swearing in of the new freshman class manager and introduction of Homecoming queen candidates.

The November 26 and December 18 programs will be pre-vacation assemblies and will be built around respective themes of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The assembly scheduled for January 9 will be a rally for Nevada's first basketball game of the season. It is a home game with San Jose State, an old rival, on that date.

Provisions have been made for two other assemblies in case unforeseen developments warrant them.

Physical Education Department Offers Tumbling Classes

Men interested in tumbling are requested to contact Art Broden in the physical education department where a tumbling club is being organized.

A special class will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday between 4 and 5 pm. If these hours are not convenient it is possible other arrangements can be made.

Purpose of the club will be to promote tumbling and put on exhibitions between halves at basketball games and on similar occasions.

Work on vertical and parallel bars and springboards as well as tumbling will be done, Broder said.

Wolves Go After Third Grid Win

Former 'Hill' Man Returns to Campus As University Doc

New physician at the university infirmary is Doctor Robert Locke, former student at Nevada. Dr. Locke was raised in Nevada and attended Reno schools. He entered the university in 1936 and finished his pre-med work in 1939, entering McGill University in Montreal, Canada, where he later graduated.

Dr. Locke spent three and a half years in the navy and was attached to the marine corps for a year and a half in the South Pacific. His military status at present is regular navy retired.

The new infirmary head will be assisted in his work this year by a new nurse, Miss Mary Peck, who comes to the university from Washoe General Hospital, where she has been working for the past three years.

Dr. Locke replaces Dr. George McGee who this year returned to his private practice in Reno.

Sagers Starting Snappy Stuff In Seating System

A huge white N on a field of blue will be formed by the student cheering section at the Portland-Nevada football game tomorrow, Sager President Jerry Wyness announced this week. The letter will be fashioned by arranging students wearing their blue and white rooter caps.

The band is to be seated by the 40 yard line and the rooters will take the center section. There will be enough space for everyone this week, Wyness said, since 600 new bleacher seats are to be set up before game time tomorrow.

The Sagers will usher at the game, wrap the goal posts, sell programs and rope off the bleachers.

Mackay Statuettes Set for Casting

"Replicas in bronze of the John W. Mackay statue will in all probability be ready for distribution by Mackay Day," stated President John O. Moseley after receiving photographs of molds to be used in making the statuettes.

After long months of preparation, an eastern manufacturer will begin final castings of the molds in order to complete the small statuettes of the Nevada benefactor before the Mackay celebration.

Mrs. Robert Hawkins, granddaughter of John W. Mackay and daughter of Clarence H. Mackay, approved photographs of the replicas. "I am pleased with the workmanship," she said, "and believe these statuettes will be prized highly by the students and alumnus of the University of Nevada for their value as souvenirs and trophies of the days spent on the Nevada campus."

"I'm touched very deeply that this replica of the statue of my grandfather is to be added as one of the traditional symbols of the university."

The price of these statuettes is not known as estimates regarding cost have not been received. Dr. Moseley anticipated, however, that the cost will be reasonable. Sale of these miniatures will be handled by the YWCA.

Nevada Wolf Pack Set to Extinguish The Pilots' Lights

Large Line, Backfield Ace Expected to Trouble Sheeketski's Boys

After bouncing back into the win column with a 13-6 decision over Oregon last week, the Nevada Wolf Pack eleven will seek their third victory of the season tomorrow, when they meet the Portland, Oregon, team at 2:30 in Mackay Stadium.

Head coach Joe Sheeketski and line coach Jake Lawlor have scouted the Portland Pilots on two occasions. Speaking for coach Sheeketski, line coach Lawlor reports that the contest with the Pilots is not to be taken too lightly.

"In scouting the St. Mary's-Portland game," he said, "we were impressed by a large and hard charging forward wall, and paid particular attention to Dan Christianson, a triple threat backfield ace." St. Mary's won the game 26-13. Coach Lawlor related that it was a much closer game than the score indicates.

In regards to the Portland-Honolulu game the coach stated, "The Pilots were not the same smooth team we watched in the previous affair, rather they were sluggish and ran hot and cold." Explaining this, he said that the Pilot's scoring threat, Dan Christianson, was sent to the sidelines, midway in the second quarter, due to a knee injury.

Summarizing the situation, Lawlor asserted that the Pilots, with Christianson back in harness, will furnish plenty of competition for the Pack.

With Buster Tilton being forced to the sidelines due to a foot injury, and Beasley, although a probable starter, favored.

CAMPUS CALENDAR CHANGES ANNOUNCED

A few changes on the campus calendar have been made by several organizations, announces Dean Mobley today, October 8.

Functions which have changed dates are Lambda Chi, November 4 to 11, Sigma Rho Delta, November 1 to October 31, Kappa Alpha Theta, November 1 to November 8, and Alpha Tau Omega, December 12 to December 6.

Portland Prepared For Saturday Tilt

Smarting from three consecutive defeats, the University of Portland football squad will meet Nevada tomorrow, ready to shoot the works for a win.

The Pilots were supposed to be one of the west coast's leading Independents, but so far they have failed to live up to their pre-season expectations. They have tasted defeat from St. Mary's 26-13, University of Montana 21-0 and the Hawaiian All-Stars 14-6.

Coach Hal Moe, a former Oregon State player from 1930-32 and later with the Chicago Cardinals of the professional ranks, has an outstanding triple-threat halfback in 175 pounder Dan Christianson. Jim Connors, a 185 pound fullback, will see plenty of action against the Pack.

Moe employs both the single wing and the T formation, alternating his backfield to fit his formation.

DOES NEVADA HAVE IT?

Sunday night a winning ball club returned to Reno to be greeted by a strange sight. When the victorious Pack emerged from the big four-motored chartered plane, Lo and Behold there was actually a crowd on hand to meet them.

Strange you say? Strange we say! One of the biggest faults found with the student body here at Nevada in the past several years, has been the utter failure to support school activities.

Athletic teams have borne the brunt of the lack of school spirit, but practically every student body function on the "Hill" has at one time or another been the victim of poor participation.

Is it then so far fetched to say the turnout was a strange sight to the fellows peering out of their windows when the plane set down on the local field.

Don't misunderstand us! We're not belittling the fact that there was such a welcome reversal of student form Sunday night. We are merely attempting to bring the matter to the fore so that it will be fresh in the minds of those who were out to welcome the boys back.

Everyone likes a winner, and when the winning was at the expense of past Wolf Pack coach Jim Aiken, everybody and his brother likes a winner. So therefore the spirit shown by those who greeted the football squad cannot be taken as a real example of school spirit of 1947.

The true test of student support will come when that same team is returning from a game that saw them on the short end of the score at the final whistle. If there is any appreciable welcome accorded them under those circumstances, then Nevada has it—at long last.

Sportswriters Get Shock as Nevada Defeats Webfeet

At the weekly sportswriters meeting in San Francisco last weekend most of the bay area coaches expressed surprise at Nevada's win at Eugene, according to Alumni Director Rex Daniels who attended the meeting.

Among the coaches present were Jim Phalen of St. Mary's, Ed McKeever of San Francisco, Lynn Waldorf of California and Len Casanova of Santa Clara.

During a speech by Phalen it was revealed that Herman Wedemeyer, the Hawaii comet, had both feet injured throughout the St. Mary's-California game thus accounting for his less than spectacular performance.

Phalen added, however, that Herman and Spike Cordiero would both be ready for the Nevada game. Cordiero, outstanding pre-war St. Mary's halfback, has been sidelined by injuries most of this year.

Three Majorettes Will Lead Bandmen Throughout Season

Three majorettes will march regularly this year with the University of Nevada band, Pat Ireland, head majorette, announced this week.

The two girls who will assist Miss Ireland are Ida Bess Sanderson and Frances Batt. The three will march in triangular form, with Miss Ireland in front and the two junior majorettes on either side.

Miss Sanderson and Miss Batt tried out last year for the positions. Three more girls will be trying out this season to become next year's majorettes. These three may march behind the band, on occasions for experience.

The majorettes will perform with the band tomorrow. Miss Ireland's uniform will be blue and white, while the others will be all in white.

YW Donating Coke Sale Profit to WSSF

Proceeds from YWCA refreshment stand sales at this week's game will be donated to the World Students Service Fund. The sum is expected to reach an approximate total of $700, which will be a much larger gift than those obtained in previous years through the old system of soliciting fraternity and sorority houses.

This new method was given official approval of the regional executive officer of the WSSF. The money will be contributed to the national headquarters of this organization, whose function is to send money given by American students to universities in Europe to help students in various countries who could not afford to attend school under ordinary circumstances.

Frosh to Furnish Additional Members To Stewart's Group

New members for the improvement committee will be chosen from the freshman class, chairman Henry Stewart said this week.

The number of new members chosen will equal the number now on the committee. By this method, Stewart hopes to keep new ideas and improvements coming to that group in their activities on the campus.

The committee will limit its activities this year to the indoctrinating of the new members to insure needed improvements for the university when future appropriations are made.

GAMMA PHI INITIATES EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

Eight new members will be initiated tonight at the Gamma Phi Beta house. An overnight slumber party will be held for all members, with the actives in charge.

Initiates will be Lea Glaser, Shirley Van Meter, Barbara Pardee, Nina Garner, Julia Baker, Lucille Munroe, Arlene Sorenson and Edith Whitworth.

World Union Topic To Be Discussed By Campus Group

Round-Table Program To Hit Air Waves Sunday Night

"Whether or Not We Should Have a Federal World Union," will be the subject of the round-table discussion presented by the University Campus Players over station KXXL, Sunday evening at 8 pm, Bob Durham, club president, announced today.

Under the direction of Scott Whitney this program will be given in conjunction with the Nevada debate team.

Other Campus Player activities planned at a recent meeting are the production of two one-act plays, "The Valiant" and "Suppressed Desires" before Thanksgiving, and one three-act play before the end of this semester.

Programs Arranged

The presentation of "The Nativity" at Christmas time and several other radio programs of selected readings and light classics are also being arranged, Durham added.

At the meeting, Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, chairman of the group introduced the Reverend Gareth Hughes, the new drama coach.

Rev. Hughes is a well-known Shakespearian actor and has played several roles in the movie industry. He has many friends in the movie colony and hopes for their cooperation in his work at Nevada.

It was also announced that tryouts for the one-act plays will be held the early part of next week.

SORORITY COKE HOUR

70 Campus Women Initiated by YW At Recent Service

Candlelight recognition service for new YWCA members was held in the basement of Stewart Hall Tuesday night. Mrs. Barbara Pinjuv, YWCA secretary, stated that approximately 70 campus women were made members of the organization. About 120 women were present in all.

Madame Dione, well known designer of hats, bags and other accessories, appeared later as guest speaker. Mme. Dione talked of, and briefly demonstrated, methods of creating these articles with a minimum of time and material.

The designer has worked with MGM and Universal studios in Hollywood and with the Hattie Carnegie staff in New York.

Madame Dione will conduct classes for campus women in self-designed articles. Those interested may attend Tuesdays from 3 to 5:30 pm or Thursdays from 7 till 9:30 pm. Sign-ups for each class may be secured in the Y office in the Stewart Hall basement.

Ancient Orange Used To Explain Heavens

Twenty-five years ago, Prof. G. B. Blair, associate professor of physics and astronomy, used an orange in a class on map reading to illustrate the difference between flat, rectangular and globular maps of the heavens.

At the end of the lecture Prof. Blair shoved the orange in a drawer and forgot about it. That was in 1922. He found the orange years later. Instead of rotting, it had dried out completely and had become as hard and as hollow as a gourd. He uses the same orange in his classes today.

Five Months Late, 1946-47 Artemisia Reaches Printers

Copy for the 1946-47 Artemisia has finally reached the printers after a delay of more than five months. Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager, said today that proofs were to go out originally on April 19, but did not get to the printer's office until August 25.

Recalled by editor Max Dodge, the proofs were okayed again and sent back to the printers on September 25.

June 1, was to be the date of issue, but because of the heavy load the printers always have in the fall, and other reasons, delivery cannot be expected until late November or early December, the graduate manager said.

A-M Association Holds First Meet

Artemisia-Manzanita Association held its first compulsory meeting of the year September 30. Roberta Butler, president gave an opening speech of welcome.

Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, outlined briefly the background of the Artemisia-Manzanita Association, the oldest association for women on the Nevada campus.

Miss Butler then introduced Mrs. Florence Peacocke, social director of Artemisia Hall, and Mrs. Mabel Fulton of Manzanita Hall.

House managers were presented by Miss Butler, Harriet Lee, Manzanita, asked for constructive suggestions on house management. Gen Schwick of Artemisia mentioned that she hoped to learn all the girls' names shortly.

Miss Butler read aloud and elaborated on the set of dormitory rules, which had been distributed to each member. She announced the new system of sign out cards, to be filed and kept on the hall desk.

Executive committee members were announced. Lois Shaver and Anita Davidson were chosen to represent Artemisia Hall; Mary Barnum and Ruth Barakat for Manzanita.

Monthly teas will be held first at Artemisia and then Manzanita from 4 to 5 pm. Plans for a Halloween party for October 31 and a holiday dance December 5 were announced by Miss Butler.

As she adjourned, the president declared that future meetings will not exceed 20 minutes.

Paniwallis to Begin Swimming at Moana Thursday Evenings

Paniwallis, the campus swimming group, will soon begin work on the aquacade which is to take place in the spring. Last year's aquacade was the first ever to be held in Reno. But for the first few weeks swimmers will concentrate on reviewing all strokes.

Securing Transportation to and from Moana Hot Springs, indoor pool where the group swims every Thursday, was the main theme of Paniwallis' first business meeting, held Thursday evening at the Tri-Delt house, said Pat Ireland, president. Members having cars were urged to pick up passengers who will wait in front of Artemisia Hall every Thursday at seven.

New members were introduced at last week's meeting. Those swimmers who participated in the aquacade last spring are considered members, although they will not be initiated until spring.

Orchesis Officers Ordained; Outline October's Opening

Office vacancies in Orchesis were filled at an election on September 31. The vacancies were left by girls who failed to return to school this fall, Miss Jacquelyn Van Gaasbeek, group advisor, stated.

New officers elected who will serve with President Jo Ann Erb are: vice-president, Gwen Byrd; secretary - treasurer, Alice Pettis, and publicity co-chairman, Alice Arentz and Connie Burkholder.

Plans were completed for the initiation to be held Sunday at 9 am for junior members of Orchesis qualified to become senior Orchesis members.

Girls to be initiated into the senior Orchesis group at the new gymnasium are Alice Arentz, Nanette Brown, Gwen Byrd, Maida Lee, Laurie Lothrop and Eleanor Sweatt. A breakfast at the Riverside Hotel will follow the initiation.

HIKING ON THE HILL

By Muriel Smiley

"No letter today—" Ah, yes, songs have been sung about the Wal as a meeting place, the student center as a spot for rendezvous, but a seldom mentioned place where crowds congregate each morning as the ten to bell rings is the university post office. At 8:00 and 1:00 each day a sputtering little truck delivers the loaded bags and before long, Mr. Prescott is confronted with the eternal question, "Did you get one for me?"

With the feeling that perhaps my box might need dusting out one morning, I approached the door; made a dive through the swarms and aside from the guy who jabbed his elbow in my ear, mused my hair, knocked my books askew and slithered for the box exactly above mine, I was in alive.

Purchasing stamps at the window, I noticed Pat Ussery . . . known for her winning smile that reveals dimples . . . professes a love for ranch life . . . proud of her hometown Carlsbad, New Mexico . . . president of the peppy Sagens . . . will leave with a BA degree this spring . . . deserted campus life in '46 to investigate South American ways . . . is often found at the Gamma Phi house.

Dropping letters in the slot, I see Bill Ebert . . . president of the Phi Sigs . . . congenial, but quiet . . . Coffin and Keys member . . . creates havoc with the Sundowners . . . comes to Reno from Sutton, Nebraska . . . serves on the ASUN senate . . . hangs out at the Mackay

School of Mines.

Out by the steps chatting with friends as she waits for classes to convene is Gwen Byrd . . . full of vim, vigor and vitality . . . active in the Theta circle . . . unsurpassable friendliness . . . snaps out maneuver orders as lieutenant colonel of the Blue Peppers . . . an addict on creative dancing.

Glancing casually about and discussing the mail situation are the "touchdown twins" Johnny Subda and Teddy Kondel . . . call New Jersey their native state . . . halfbacks on the football squad . . . spending their second year at the university.

Moving to the window after a long wait in line is Myrna Ivy . . . typical cute frosh . . . reminded time and again of a nose that turns up . . . spends free hours on the second floor of Artemisia Hall . . . English claims the title of her major . . . latest discovered talent is singing.

Rushing off to class goes Orsie Graves . . . important senior at the U . . . is a leader in track and basketball . . . past ruler of the Sigma Nus.

Writing a post card over at the desk is Winona Earl . . . keeps house for her hubby who

It was about that time again so thought I'd leave the bedlam and of course not having a shoehorn or a pair of brass knuckles, I had to give up trying to squeeze the rest of the student body out of the way so I could make it to class on time. Guess the post office is the smallest but the most important room on campus which brings to mind: Say it with flowers, say it with sweets, Say it with jewelry, say it with cats, Say it with music, say it with drink, But never, no never, say it with ink.

Orchesis Credits WRA Dance Group

Modern dance classes are presented by the WRA Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 pm, Miss Jacquelyn Van Gaasbeek, instructor, announced today. After one semester of modern dance, any girl is eligible for Orchesis, national dance club, Miss Van Gaasbeek said. The first few meetings may be attended without obligation to become a member.

Constance Burkholder, publicity manager for Orchesis, repeats the slogan, "if you can walk, you can dance." She added that modern dance often helps to perfect a more graceful ballroom dancer.

Boogie woogie, impressions of ordinary scenes, waltzes and other varieties of modern dance will be studied.

INFIRMARY REPORTS NO SERIOUS ILLNESSES

Dr. Robert Locke, new physician at the university infirmary, said this week that there have been no serious illnesses reported to him since school started three weeks ago. He said, however, that the infirmary staff has cared for a great many colds and sore throats, but had no bed patients.

For the past week the majority of the male students have been in the infirmary only for a check up to prove themselves eligible to run the Homecoming cross country race, he stated.

Student Workers Set to Aid Chest Drive on Campus

Campus quota for the Community Chest drive this year has been set at $3000, announced Dr. Brown, head of the campus committee for the drive.

October 14-22 is the week scheduled for the drive. This year's campaign slogan is "fourteen gifts, one call." In other words, one donation to the Community Chest will cover 14 benefiting agencies, in one drive, instead of having 14 different drives, Dr. Brown said.

The University of Nevada YWCA will be one of the 14 benefiting agencies of the Reno Community Chest drive. The organization has put in an application for $2000, which will be used for salaries, said Barbara Pinjuv, YWCA director.

Last year the university YWCA received $1000 from the Community Chest. Some of the other agencies benefiting from the drive are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, recreation centers, Salvation Army, YMCA and YWCA.

Faculty representatives working on the drive are Dr. H. N. Brown, who will head the team, R. Guild Gray, Dean Elaine Mobley, Barbara Pinjuv and Miss Alice Terry, secretary to President Moseley.

Student workers appointed by Reno Community Chest to help in the drive are Elmo De Ricco, Jerry Wetzel, William Ebert, Edward Reed, Jordan Eliades, William Kornmayer, Orsie Graves, Artson Hardison and Tom Macaulay. Campus

Campus to Honor War Dead Arrival On October 10, 26

Flags on the campus will be lowered to half-mast on October 10 and 26, Dr. John O. Moseley, president of the University of Nevada, announced today.

The tribute will mark the arrival in San Francisco of the first ships carrying the bodies of those who died overseas in World War II.

Dr. Moseley stated that Colonel Gilbert E. Parker, professor of military science and tactics at the university, will be in charge of arrangements for ceremonies which will take place on the campus on the days the ships arrive.

The 3200 caskets aboard will be shipped from the bay region to 15 distribution centers throughout the country. Since notification of the arrival of the deceased was sent only to the next of kin, it is not known whether any former University of Nevada students or alumni are being brought back for burial on Nevada soil.

Rusty Blade Sends Easy Picking Tom

Thomas F. Clemens will represent Scabbard and Blade at the bi-annual national convention to be held in Cincinnati over October 16-17-18. Clemens will go as the regular representative from C company, 7th regiment, University of Nevada.

As only one man can represent this regiment, a drawing was held to choose among the three men who volunteered for the job. Clemens guessed the number nearest to that drawn.

Upon his return Clemens will make a report to the Nevada regiment about the outcome of the convention.

Following the first business meeting of the year, officers of Scabbard and Blade announced that pledging will be held up until the next meeting, October 16, to await the results of first grade reports.

workers on Barbara Pinjuv's committee are Dean Elaine Mobley, faculty advisor; Betty Tracy, secretary-treasurer; Marge Menu, representing Panhellenic, and Pat Lynn, representing Artemisia and Manzanita Halls.

Comstock Booklet Inked With Assist From J. Carpenter

"Early Engineering Works Contributory to the Comstock" is the title of a bulletin printed under the direction of Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines. The pamphlet is an interesting account of the engineering problems that faced the Comstock men in the latter part of the 19th century, said Carpenter.

The pamphlet, compiled by the late John Debo Galloway, once a top civil engineer of the country, is written in such a way that it appeals not only to those who have had engineering, but also to those who do not know what an engineer is, stated the director.

Along with the written material on the Comstock are some photographs, heretofore not published, of Virginia City and the surrounding area.

The beginning of the bulletin is composed of a diary written by Galloway's father, who died from a mine accident. It is a daily diary of the life of the mother lode country and is brief and to the point.

Any student interested in borrowing the bulletin may do so at the library in the Mackay School of Mines Building.

HUMANITIES GROUP WILL MEET OCT. 13

The Humanities Group, a discussion group for faculty members, holds its first meeting October 13, announced Dr. Charlton G. Laird, head of the department of English.

The first meeting convenes at 8 pm at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Christian F. Melz, 1340 Faland Way. Dr. Philip Auchampugh will discuss "Letter of the Polk-Dallas Campaign."

Any member of the faculty is welcome, Dr. Laird said. Papers and discussions are usually of a relatively specialized nature, added Dr. Laird.

Campus Queries

By Martin Risard

The votes are in and from where we sit it looks as if the long skirts are definitely taboo, as far as the men around the campus are concerned, anyway.

Typical of the reactions to the "new look" is the one expressed by Jack Brown who said, "I'm plumb agin 'em. Women who wear them are just exhibitionists."

Other opinions collected at random include the following: Chester Collins: They're not here to stay, I hope.

Norman Warren: They're too deceptive.

Harold Hayes: On shapely legs, I don't like 'em.

Glen Pridden: O. K. if blouses go down, too.

Buster Tilton: For some they are a gift.

Tom Cunniffe: Women should be progressive, not backward.

Dick Waite: Let's see those legs.

Glen Edsall: A welcome change. They give lots more girls a chance.

Bob Coughlin: I think they're awful.

Robert Morton: What's the use? They slit them up to the knee anyhow.

Roger Pederson: I like 'em short.

Dr. Robert Griffin: No sane man could see anything appealing in such feminine apparel.

Dr. Austin Hutchison: Terrible. They hurt the pocketbook and offend the eye.

Well, girls, there you are, nine out of ten men don't like to look at "the new look." The sanity of manhood is in your hands.

Prof.: Who can use the word buccaneer in a sentence, to show its meaning?

Student: A buccaneer is an awful price to pay for corn.

Fraternities Plan Weekend Activities

Beerbusts and dances will mark fraternity activities on the hill this weekend.

The ATOs are planning a beerbust at the house after the Portland U. game.

Western garb will be in order at the barn dance to be held at the Phi Sig house from 9 till 12 Saturday night.

Carl Bruhns' orchestra will provide the music at the SAE's pledge dance Friday night at the 20th Century Club. All fraternity presidents are invited to attend.

The Sigma Nus are holding their pledge dance Friday at the California Building in Idlewild Park.

A record dance for the Theta Chi pledges will be held Friday night from 9 till 12 at the house. Initiation is scheduled Saturday night at a closed meeting.

Pledge Ceremonies Slated for TAUs

Formal pledging ceremonies for new pledges and initiation ceremonies for old pledges of Alpha Tau Omega will be held Sunday at the chapter house. The ceremonies will begin at 9 am.

A banquet at the Trocadero has been arranged for the evening. Dean R. C. Thompson will be guest speaker.

Old pledges who will soon wear the official emblem of ATO are Edward John Bosler, John C. Henningsen, Frederick B. Hilts, John Horlacher, Louis S. Mendive, Glen C. Pridden, John P. Simons, Harry P. Spencer and John J. Sullivan.

Every man has his wife—but only the iceman has his pick.

Nevada Rifle Teams To Have Specially Trained Instructor

A new instructor for the Rifle Club, Sergeant Claude Payne, will arrive at the university next week, said Colonel Gilbert E. Parker. Colonel Parker has been seeking a specially trained man for the position for some time.

The range is now open from 1 to 5 pm on week days, and from 9 am to 12 noon on Saturdays, except for ROTC drill hours which are on Tuesdays at 4 pm and Fridays at 1 pm.

The beginners classes have exclusive use of the range at these hours: Women's classes, Mondays and Wednesdays at 3 pm and 4 pm, men's classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 pm and 3 pm.

This year Nevada's rifle team will have some shoulder to shoulder competition with other teams, and will still engage in "postal matches," matches which are fired at home with decisions given by mail.

On the hill it's "hello."

Inspired Wolf Pack Squelches Webfeet; Ducks Flounder on Muddy Terrain

Disgruntled Aiken Blames Mental Attitude

An alert Nevada eleven made its own "breaks" last Saturday when it downed a highly-touted Oregon team, coached by former Wolf Pack head, Jim Aiken, on the latter's home ground, 13-6.

A "keyed-up" Nevada Pack under the tutelage of new coach Joe Sheeketski could do little wrong as they capitalized on fumbles and pass interceptions to set themselves up with the winning tallies.

Coach Sheeketski put the new unlimited substitution rule into good practice as he kept his injury-riddled squad fresh and strong by using virtually every man at his command. Noticeably absent because of injuries suffered in previous contests were ace halfback Tommy Kalmanir and rangy halfback Ed Klosterman.

Potent Wolf Defenders

In addition to heads-up offensive strategy the Wolves proved they were just as potent at defending their end of the gridiron. With Oregon threatening consistently the Silver and Blue made a dramatic goal line stand at the one foot line late in the second quarter, a stand that many of the visiting sportscasters termed the turning point of the game.

From the opening kickoff it was obvious that Nevada was primed for a game that might well be marked the season's epic for them.

Nevada threatened early in the game with the ball all the way down to the Oregon 13 but on the next play the Wolves fumbled and the Ducks averted this scoring threat.

With both teams playing smart defensive ball and capitalizing on each other's fumbles and their own pass interceptions the first canto saw no tally on the scoreboard.

The second quarter provided more action than any other part of the contest with the Oregon crew scoring immediately and threatening to score again a few plays later. It was this second scoring attempt that saw the goal line stand with a scrapping Nevada line stopping the Ducks' quarterback inches short of the goal when he tried a quarterback sneak on fourth down with but a foot to go for a big six points.

Rejuvenated Pack

Rejuvenated by this success the Pack surged back and with time running less than a minute scored and went ahead when Quarterback Mike Mirabelli fired a pass to end Carl Robinson and Tackle Bob Corley converted to make the score 7-6 at half time.

Oregon strategy was apparent in the second half as they came out and proceeded to fill the air with passes. The only trouble being that many times a blue shirted Nevadan was on the receiving end. Coupled with frequent interceptions the steady rain which began midway in the third quarter served to muddy the ball and Oregon's chances of scoring via the aerial route.

Savage tackling on part of the Nevada defense accounted for many of the Oregon fumbles in this period.

With a little more than a minute remaining End Duke Lindeman intercepted one of Van Brocklin's desperation heaves and ran 80 yards for the touchdown that put the game on ice for the Nevadans.

A last minute Oregon threat was broken up when End Dan Orlich intercepted on the Nevada two and the gun sounded.

After the game a disgruntled Aiken claimed that his team was not "mentally right" for the contest while mild mannered Sheeketski of the Nevada eleven had nothing but praise for both his team and the Oregon squad especially passer Van Brocklin.

Rooters to Use Bleacher Stunt

Flashy Display To Feature Homecoming Game

John Michael, newly appointed head yell leader, announced that card stunts from the new student rooting section will definitely be a part of the Homecoming game.

Michael and his assistants, Johnny Etcheto, Sinclair Melner and three girls yet to be chosen, will cooperate with Blue Key to plan and direct these colorful demonstrations.

According to Michael, the center section of the new bleachers will be blocked off and only those students who wear a white shirt and rooters caps will be allowed to sit there.

New uniforms consisting of blue sweaters decorated with the yell leaders emblem, and white pants with a single blue stripe down the leg have been ordered for the yell leaders, Michael stated.

In connection with the annual pre-Homecoming game rally and pajamboree parade through town, Michael has requested that anyone with suggestions, or new ideas present them to his or his assistants.

JOB OPENING TOLD

Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin said today that any male student wanting part-time work will be advised at his off and will be given leads.

There are many jobs posted on the bulletin board in his office now, he said.

PACK TRACKS

By Bill McFarland

Humiliatin' it must be in Oregon these days. The boys from Sagebrushland pulled the thunder out of Eugene murky skies and turned it loose on the web-less Webfeet of the Pacific Coast Conference.

For lads who never see rain more than once a year, and the precipitation that does fall isn't enough to brush one's teeth, Nevada's Wolf Pack took to the mud and rubbed the Ducks' noses in it, but good, last Saturday.

Victory was never sweeter for the Wolves than the one over former coach Jim Aiken. Defeat was never more bitter for the man who put Nevada into big time football. The Oregon coach walked bewilderedly from Hayward Field, shaking his head in disbelief, thinking that over-confidence had beaten him this time.

Over-confidence didn't defeat the Ducks, however, who threw everything in the book at the Nevadans. The Pack of Wolves from Reno weren't in Oregon to be second best, especially in the eyes of Aiken.

Coach Joe Sheeketski praised his team for their fine heads-up play and their over-all performance as a team. Sheeketski's style of play revolves about the team as a whole, and not on individuals, which is a smart way of producing winning football.

Aiken Underestimates Nevadan

Here is a little news behind the news concerning last week's affair. Seems that at half time both teams had to walk side by side to the dressing rooms.

In the trek to the half time, it seems that Coach Aiken of Oregon commented to guard Ken Sinofsky of Nevada that he'd better be on his toes because Oregon was gonna' give him the works come the third quarter.

Well it seems that the burly Wolf answered, "Nuts" or something to that effect, which flushed big Jim's ears. Calling a tackle aside Aiken gave instructions to personally take care of the Nevada lineman.

Sinofsky was around at the finish and how the Oregonians knew it. Ken dealt nothing but misery to everything coming his way.

There will be plenty of confabs about the triumph over the Webfeet, but for now everything points to tomorrow's meeting with the Portland Pilots. The Wolves are feeling too frisky to drop one to Portland. Watch the Silver and Blue tailspin the Pilots.

BLEACHER CAPS GIVE ROOTERS DISTINCTIVE AIR

"When the bleachers face into an afternoon Nevada sun, bleacher caps are a necessity."

This is the spirit, if not the exact letter, of the replies received to the question, "How did you like the new bleacher caps?" Those who wore them and those who saw them being worn agreed upon one thing—The five inch visor is a necessity instead of a luxury.

Galen Hopkins, sophomore student majoring in speech, had this to say:

"Most schools under Pacific Coast Conference rules use the same type of hats for their rooting sections. I think it's a good thing for the school to adopt them—besides, they keep the sun out of your eyes."

Mrs. Mergen, of the journalism department, thinks they give the field "—that big game air."

"They're cute," was the opinion of Beverly Leheman, journalism student.

Elaine Mobley, dean of women, said, "They look colorful, snappy and functional."

"They look like ski caps or 'hot pilot hats,'" was the opinion of Carlyle Schaad, freshman arts and science student.

Among those who were merely grateful for the protection were Mrs. Flavia Harris, secretary to Dean Mobley, Walt Long, engineering student, and one student who preferred to remain anonymous.

Jack Brown, who served in the snack bar, said "too expensive for us peasants."

Varsity Basketball To Begin Practice For Coming Season

Varsity basketball practice begins at 7 pm Tuesday, October 14, Jake Lawlor, head basketball coach, announced this week.

All candidates for the basketball squad are advised to bring their own equipment for the first workouts, said Lawlor. Although the athletic department would like to suit up all prospects, Lawlor declared there just isn't enough to go around at this early date.

Due to the large number of new men on the campus this year Lawlor said he expects the turnout to be much larger than last year.

Experienced players who will return to the hardwood again this year are Bill Moylan, Hal Fischer, Grant Davis and Ed Reed. Back to play after an absence of two years are "Smoky" Smolinski, Ron DuPratt and Jim Mackey.

Later in the year, several football players are expected to don basketball suits again.

Lawlor says that the new basketball schedule will be released next week by Graduate Manager Joe McDonnell.

GOTHICS ALTER STYLE

Entries Complete In Annual Cross Country Classic

Inter-City Run Starts in Sparks; Finish Line in Mackay Stadium

All entries, about 80, are now in for the annual cross country race. Each fraternity house and independents organization will compete in this city to city race which will start in Sparks and conclude in Mackay Stadium. The affair will be run in conjunction with other Homecoming Day festivities on October 25.

Representing the Lambda Chi house will be Cundick, Sawyer, Bowman, Delanoy, Springer and Ward. Benson, athletic director for Lambda Chi, asserts that these entrants are in top shape and will furnish stiff competition to all participants.

Making ready a potent Phi Sig contingent is George Lindersmith who predicts that a stronger than last year's squad will be carrying Phi Sig colors.

Safety in Numbers
Believing in safety in numbers is the Taus athletic head, Bill Morris, who relates that all pledges will be required to make an effort to lead the pack. Buddie Hardy heads the list of ATO hopefuls.

Utilizing all pledges also, will be Sigma Nu. The Snakes will have last year's second place winner, Orsie Graves, supported by some 15 new pledges.

Reports from SAE, Sigma Rho, Theta Chi and the independents organization indicates that they all are pointing towards a speedy combo to capture top honors.

Intramural Race Tightens as SAE Nears 'Shoe Title

First Points Toward Kinnear Trophy for Violets Rest On Francellini's Arm

By Harry Spencer and Pete Pridden

With intramural competition moving into the second week of play SAE is leading in horseshoe singles with but one match to be played to clinch the title. A big 25 points toward the Kinnear trophy awaits the winner of the horseshoe singles and Pat Francellini, who tosses the irons for SAE, leads all competition with six consecutive wins.

Softball play witnessed every team except the hard hitting Sigma Nu nine suffering at least one setback. In a close contest last night the SAE squad handed ATO its first defeat of the season, 7-6. The Taus had previously come from behind to win over Phi Sig, 9-6, in a drawn out hitting duel.

The SAE contingent had recently lost another story book battle with Lambda Chi, 6-5, who then went on to eke out a win over Sigma Rho, 15-13. The luckless Sigma Rhoans also had to absorb a crushing 14-3 loss at the hands of Sigma Nu in an early contest.

Smarting from its bow to ATO, Phi Sig went on to splatter the Theta Chi hopes by pounding out 14 runs to Theta Chi's 3. The OX men bounced back with an impressive 9-8 win over Sigma Rho to prove that all was not yet lost for them.

Alpha Tau Omega picked up the only forfeiture of the week when the Independent diamondballers failed to show up for their game.

Apologies are in order to the Phi Sig house for a mistake appearing in last week's scores. Many a delegate from the Phi Sigs vociferously assured us that they had defeated SAE 17-1, and that the vice-versa was not true as we had so erroneously stated.

Temporary Buildings Better Conditions For English Profs

Located in front of the Engineering building, the English department now offers better facilities to English teachers as well as students, Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, chairman of the English department, said today.

Previously, members of the English staff operated with inadequate facilities consisting of but three classrooms and one office dedicated solely to English. The new fall semester finds ten classrooms and eight offices being used exclusively by the English department.

Besides being more convenient for the instructors, they are also more advantageous for the students, said Dr. Gorrell. Instead of being spread out all over the campus, the department now is a closely knit unit. Teachers have regular office hours for student-teacher conferences. Each office is provided with the usual desks, chairs, and bookcases but still presents an informal atmosphere.

Pastel green walls and fluorescent lights give the classrooms a modern touch. A heating system has been installed but as yet has not been tested.

Winning Salesmen To Get Free Trip

The fraternity and sorority leading in the sale of tickets for the 1947 Buick to be awarded by the alumni association on Homecoming Day will be allowed to send one member each to the St. Mary's game with all expenses paid.

Selection of winning houses will be based on the October 15 leaders. The house winners will have the alternative of accepting a $45 award for the house, Rex Daniels, alumni executive secretary said.

CAMPUS VA OFFICE MOVED TO LOCATION AT VETS HOSPITAL

Veterans administrative office, under the direction of Keith Lee, was moved to the new veterans hospital building this week.

All veterans problems now will be handled by the office of the dean of men, who will in turn contact Lee if necessary.

Lee's office in the quonset hut south of the journalism building, is now undergoing remodeling and when completed will be occupied by dean of women Elaine Mobley.

UN STUDENTS ASKED TO SAVE POTATO CROP

An appeal has been made to University of Nevada students to help in the potato harvest now under way. It is of the utmost importance that potato crops be harvested as soon as possible to prevent losses that will further hamper food shortages. All students interested in helping save the Washoe county potato crop are asked to contact the Farm Labor Office at 225 Lake Street. Workers should make at least a dollar an hour for their efforts.

Rooters Welcome Victorious Pack In Sunday Rally

Sheeketski Student Support for Team as Morale Builder

At 9:35 Sunday night, the Wolf Pack climbed from the plane at Hubbard Field to be greeted by some 500 cheering students, gleefully acclaiming their victory over Oregon at Eugene Saturday.

Amid songs, cheers, music by the band and streamers of blue and white crepe paper, the team boarded their bus and accompanied by a police escort and approximately 100 honking cars, traveled through town to the field house at Mackay Stadium. From the bleachers, songs and cheers continued, punctuated by short speeches by several of the team.

Coach Joe Sheeketski, who went to Portland following the Oregon game, said that he was sorry to have missed the fine reception that the boys received on their return home.

Encourage Team

He said that he has found that good student rallies give the team the needed encouragement, that is essential to a good season, regardless of wins or losses. "In each game every player is in to do his very best and the school can ask for no more," Sheeketski said.

The coaching staff sincerely hopes that the student body will continue with the enthusiasm shown Sunday night, Sheeketski added, because the players want to be considered a part of the student body and not a group set aside. "The feeling of 'Beat Oregon' that was noticeable about the campus all last week was an added push and a great help to the team at Eugene."

Coach Sheeketski declared, "At Notre Dame I have seen the student body put much more into rallies after a defeat than following a victory. Perhaps that is why Notre Dame enjoys the standing she has in college football today."

Many Wolf Fans To Support Team

Approximately one thousand seat applications for the St. Mary's game on October 19 were submitted before the five o'clock deadline this evening, announced Joe T. MacDonnell, graduate manager.

This figure represents about 60 per cent of the student body and roughly corresponds to the proportionate number attending the 1946 game, said MacDonnell. However, the graduate manager believes there will be many students attending the game who have failed to file applications. As previously warned, these students will probably be placed in the end zones.

With a total of 2400 seats available to Nevada students and residents, the Wolf Pack should receive the greatest cheering support ever given a Nevada team in Kezar Stadium, MacDonnell said.
