

Wolf Pack, Titans To Clash Tonight

Detroit Bettors Give Nevada Team Six Point Margin

Auto City Team's Weight May Decide Outcome Of Night Game

Nevada's Wolf Pack will culminate a 10 day trip into the midwest tonight when they move into Detroit stadium for what may be the toughest game of the season against the University of Detroit Titans.

Odds-makers in the auto city have installed the team from Reno as six point favorites to extend their winning streak to six straight games and their seventh victory in eight starts. The Wolves lost only to San Francisco in the second outing of the season.

Coach Joe Sheeketski of Nevada does not believe it is going to be easy. The Pack has been traveling since last Friday, he said, and the boys will be playing their second game in five days.

Night Game

Aside from continuous travel, the Wolf mentor stated that his boys will be playing under the lights for the first time this year, a factor that might be a stumbling block for the Wolves against the Titans, who have played five night games this season.

Sheeketski pointed out that Detroit has a very large team, possibly the biggest in the nation, with a line averaging 220 pounds and a backfield boasting an average of 200 pounds. This mass of football machinery looked very good against the St. Mary's team, and their guards were particularly effective.

Detroit has six or seven line men weighing over 230 pounds, but the top stalwart is John Conti, 275 pounds of hard charging tackle.

Ground Gainer

In the ball carrying department the Titans have Gene Malinowski, 218, at quarter, and Mike Kaysserian, 220, who is one of the nation's leading ground gainers and who is most likely to be in the Wolves' hair while running from the fullback spot.

Joe Wright at 175 is the lightest man on the starting lineup and will present the speed the heavy Detroiters will offer. He and John Kurowski, 190, will operate as halfbacks.

Nevada will rely on its own not too light line of 210 pound average, and on the scat backs in the backfield.

Starting Lineup

Scott Beasley and Harold Hayes will start at the terminals, Fred Leon and Timnas Carlson will open at tackles, Dick Tilton and Ken Sinozky will plug the guard holes and Carmel Carusso will do centering chores from his pivot position.

Stan Heath will toss passes and deliver handoffs to backs at his quarterback spot. Tommy Kalmanir and Dick Trachock will put the speed into the Wolf attack from halfback slots. John Subda will be at full.

The game will be broadcast at 6 pm over radio station KOH.

HODGKINS GETS HUNG

Bud Gianelli has hung his Phi Sigma Kappa pin on Gail Hodgkins, Kappa Alpha Theta pledge. Miss Hodgkins passed the traditional five pounds of chocolates at the Theta meeting Monday night to announce the pinning.

Wire 'Wishes' Sent By Pack Backers Before Titan Tilt

A lengthy telegram wishing the team well against Detroit and signed by scores of rooters will be delivered to the Pack in Detroit before the game this afternoon.

The Blue Key set a booth in front of the library yesterday morning where students plunked down dimes to have their names put on the message.

Knowing there will be few Nevadans rooting for the team in Detroit, the Blue Key hopes that the telegram will add that extra boost to its morale.

President of the Blue Key, John Witte, stated that his organization intends to follow this same procedure whenever one of our teams plays out of town.

Opening of Naval Armory Postponed

Opening date of the new naval armory will have to be postponed for about two weeks, announced Allen E. Plummer, navy inspector, today.

The armory was scheduled to be opened on February 12, but due to the delay in shipping the steel "bents," which support the overhead framework, work cannot go on as planned.

The Butler huts which comprise the three wings of the armory were not built to ward off heavy snows and thus added supports in the form of "bents" are needed.

Plummer went on to say that other work scheduled for later is now being completed instead, so that the delay will be as short as possible.

Buildings of the $170,000 navy project will be painted to blend with the buildings on the campus.

Bond 'Bait' Beckons Budding Berlins

Are there any budding composers hiding behind textbooks on the Nevada campus? If you have such ambitions here is your chance for fame and a hundred dollar savings bond.

In connection with an advertising campaign, the Association of Knitted Glove and Mitten Manufacturers is offering a $100 U. S. savings bond to the person composing the winning tune for one of a number of lyrics. The judging of the entries for the contest will take place during the National American Knit Glove Week, November 17 to 22.

The winning tune will be recorded by one of the big recording companies and will be sung by top performers of the radio and movie industries. The composer will get the fame while the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research will receive the proceeds from the sale of records.

The title of the contest is "Make Money With Music." Entry blanks can be secured from the promotion managers of the local department stores.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD APPROVES CONTRACT

The publications board in its meeting Tuesday night approved a three year contract with the S. K. Smith Co. of Chicago to furnish covers for the Artemisia. The 1948 photography bid of The Camera Shop was also approved by the board.

Dean to Get Mean; Traffic Fines Not Paid in Time

"Some people are going to get hurt," stated Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, referring to those individuals who have not yet paid traffic fines. "They have had every chance and opportunity to pay those fines," he added.

The comptroller's office has a substantial number of unpaid traffic tickets and a good number of these were issued for failure to register automobiles.

The license numbers of unregistered vehicles have been taken and are being traced through registration authorities of Nevada and other states.

One Becomes Two After November 5, all unpaid tickets will cost the violators two dollars instead of the original one dollar, said Dr. Griffin.

Letters are being sent to the recipients of all unpaid traffic tickets notifying them of the doubling of the fine and giving them five days from the date of the letter in which to pay the double penalty.

At the end of the five day period, added Dr. Griffin, all individuals who have unpaid tickets will be referred to the administrative council with the recommendation of suspension from the university.

Trouble for Pack Seen in Detroit's Cumbersome Line

Nevada's gridiron invasion of the midwest ends in Detroit tonight when the Pack engages the University of Detroit Titans.

Nevada is preparing for what may be the toughest opponent on the 1947 schedule, for the Titans have one of the heaviest lines in collegiate circles in John Conti, 275; Pat Kennedy, 240; Jack Simmons, 240; Pete Sullivan, 230; Al Ripple, 225, and Bill Welsh, 220. They also have one of the nation's top ground gainers in Mike Kaysserian, 220 pound fullback.

The Titan forward wall and charging backs will be the largest Nevada has encountered this season.

In the space of two years, Coach Chuck Bear has established himself as one of the best-titled grid coaches in University of Detroit history. By his knowledge of football and his ability to teach the game, has proved himself one of the ablest coaches in the profession.

Tonight's meeting will mark the first contest between the two schools.

TWO BECOME ONE;

Norma Hall and Howard Doyle were married Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

"MR. ANTHONY, WE HAVE A PROBLEM"

Rebelling against allegedly arbitrary rules by Mrs. Florence Peacocke, hostess, Artemisia Hall residents held a special meeting November 3.

Miss Roberta Butler, president of the Artemisia-Manzanita Association, said the informal meeting was necessary because of increasing complaints of unfairness and faulty interpretation of the rules regulating behavior of the hall women.

Mrs. Peacocke, for four years the Artemisia Hall housemother, declined to comment on specific charges made at the meeting.

"Things will be better when people learn not to listen to gossip," she said. "Go where you are to learn the truth of the matter."

"Your dormitory is your home," declared Miss Butler, as

RECEPTION RALLY IN STORE FOR RETURNING PACK

The Wolf Pack will be greeted by a "reception" rally when they return from their trip east Monday morning. A definite time cannot be set for the greeting because of uncertainty in air line schedules. The exact time will be announced later.

Cheer leaders and a "pep" band will be on hand to welcome the returning footballers. Chairman Durham asserted that a large crowd is expected to attend.

A "send off" rally was not given Friday to Nevada's eastward bound football squad, because many students were out of town, the chairman said.

"Spirit and cooperation has been splendid at recent rallies, and the early hours at which the team left was not the reason for cancelling the rally Friday," Durham concluded.

School of Mines Display Fake Gems

Ruby, topaz and sapphire stones whose value would easily run into four figures, if they were not synthetic, are on display in the Mackay School of Mines museum.

Walter S. Palmer, professor of metallurgy and curator of the museum, said that the synthetic gems are very difficult to distinguish from real stones. It took one of the local jewelers 15 minutes to determine whether or not one of the rubies on display was real, Professor Palmer added.

These stones, gifts of Charles W. Yetter and the Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation, are made in an electric furnace; aluminum oxide and various other substances produce the desired colors.

The red of the ruby is produced with chromium oxide. Gold coloring of the topaz and sapphire is produced with iron and magnesium oxide; blue cobalt oxide.

The stones, bullet-shaped as they emerge from the furnace, will shatter in time because of the terrific tension under which they are formed.

To relieve the tension Professor Palmer said that the "spinel" or rough stone is touched to a diamond saw and split down the center.

'NEAT CAMPUS,' SAYS WALL STREET MAGNET

"Of all the 35 campuses I visited this summer, the University of Nevada is the prettiest," stated J. Leroy Thompson, director of the Wall Street Journal educational bureau, in a letter to Professor Alfred L. Higginbotham, head of the department of journalism.

Twenty "Hill Operators" Get Listing In College Who's Who

Armistice Program Includes Campus Marching Units

Band, Blue Peppers, Cadet Company Represent U of N in Parade

With classes dismissed on Tuesday morning, November 11, the student body will be able to see one of Reno's largest Armistice Day parades. Representing the University of Nevada will be a company of ROTC cadets with their color guard, the university band and the Blue Peppers.

Celebrities to be included will be Governor Vail Pittman, Maj. Gen. Paul B. Malone, Mayor Francis Smith of Reno and Mayor Vern Hersh of Sparks. Col. Gilbert E. Parker, commanding officer of the university ROTC, will assume the duties of the grand marshal of the parade, accompanied by his staff.

Bands and veterans organizations from many towns in western Nevada are scheduled to participate in the march with the university units. As a grim reminder of what follows an armistice, patients from the VA hospital are to be included in the procession.

Starting time is 9:30 pm. The parade will end at the State building, where students and general public are invited to hear an address by Gen. Malone and to witness the "Return of the Colors" ceremony. At that time, local reserve units will be presented with the battle standards which were flown before their fighting men during World War II.

Dr. Hutcheson Has Two Works Published

Dr. Austin E. Hutcheson of the history department is the author of two history papers.

The American Historical Review published Dr. Hutcheson's book review on "Big Bonanza," which was edited by Oscar Wilde.

"Before the Comstock," a pamphlet containing the memoirs of William Hickman Dolman, covering the period 1857-1858, has been issued by the university with an introduction and footnotes by Dr. Hutcheson.

According to Dr. Hutcheson, the document supplies a missing link in events between 1957-1859 and throws new light on the discovery of the Comstock Lode.

"MR. ANTHONY, WE HAVE A PROBLEM"

she opened the meeting, "and as such as the basis of happy, useful college life." Each woman occupant of the halls has a copy of the rules, she continued. No departure from these stipulations may be authorized arbitrarily.

In the free discussion which ensued, Mrs. Peacocke was criticized for deviations from the rules.

Women told of specific incidents when they had been barred from the downstairs bathroom after 11:30 pm, had been declared "undressed" when they appeared in housecoats behind the hall curtain, and had been hindered from using the stairs freely.

Extreme unpleasantness was also charged to Mrs. Peacocke, and she was said to have em-barressed unnecessarily girls entertaining dates in the living room.

Let's Hope So

"You may use the plumbing at your discretion," Miss Butler answered to one question raised at the meeting.

The president, who lives in Manzanita, announced her intention to stay two weeks in Artemisia Hall to see the situation first hand. Miss Butler will return at least one night a week thereafter without disclosing the actual time.

The downstairs YWCA room is open to residents and friends, said Miss Butler. Also, those who wish to move beds, or other furniture in their rooms were told to notify the dean of women, Miss Elaine Mobley, who will see to the matter.

DISMISSAL SCHEDULED FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Classes will be dismissed Tuesday morning, November 11, in order that students and faculty may participate in the Armistice Day exercises, President John O. Moseley announced this week. However classes will be held in the afternoon as usual.

University organizations scheduled to march in the Armistice Day parade are the band, Blue Peppers and the ROTC.

Quityabelliakin! Annual on Way

The Artemisia has gone to press! The 1947 Artemisia, that is. Now all students who have been holding their breath for that event can exhale, and once again feel free to speak of that publication in other than hushed tones of anxiety.

Doris Hanssen, editor of the 1948 Artemisia, said yesterday that the 1947 edition will be finished in about six weeks.

"It will be ready as a Christmas present," Miss Hanssen stated.

Miss Hanssen also said that Wednesday will be the last day that pictures will be taken for this year's Artemisia. Pictures of the Sundowners and Scabbard and Blade will be taken Monday; all men students not previously photographed, Tuesday, and all women students still to be photographed, on Wednesday.

Pictures are being taken at the Camera Studio, above Hilp's Drug Store. The charge is $1 for the first sitting, and 50 cents for each sitting thereafter.

Foul Flakes Frost Few Females

A picnic supper in a blizzard! Twenty members of the three WRA riding classes rode out beyond Airport Road Tuesday evening for a picnic supper. A cove which was to have been their shelter, proved scant protection from unexpected rain and snow, said Doris Hanssen, publicity chairman for WRA.

The group met at the stables at 5:30 pm to begin, in high spirits, the five mile ride. "Spirits" would have been even more welcome at their destination, as the frozen picnickers huddled close to the bonfire.

After a rather mushy meal, the group added to their discomfort by trotting the entire way home. Their light sweaters and jackets were not much protection from the snowstorm, Miss Hanssen said.

Moseley and Deans On Way to Meet

John O. Moseley, president of the university; Fredrick Wood, dean of the college of arts and science; Cecil W. Creel, dean of agriculture, and Charles E. Fleming, director of agricultural extension service, will arrive in Washington, D. C., November 10, for the annual land grant college meeting.

Policies for the land grant colleges will be determined by the committees formed by men from the various colleges. ROTC staff officers meeting with the administrators.

Eleven Femmes, Nine Fellas Fill Nevada's Quota

Chosen From 44 Nominees After 'Many Counts' Consideration

By Roger Olmsted
Twenty University of Nevada students have been chosen to appear in this year's edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities." Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin announced today.

Picked from a field of 44 nominees after careful consideration of qualities of "scholarship, leadership, character, part in extra-curricular activities, and indication of future usefulness to business and society" were:

Virginia Cole, Bob Durham, Alice Etchart, Jordan Eliades, James Glynn, Gene Evans, Doris Hanssen, Pat Ireland, Marjorie Menu, Barbara Olesen, Nora Saunders, Edward Reed, Henry Stewart, Genevieve Swick, Dorothy Thomas, Douglas Trail, Elizabeth Tracy, Patricia Ussery, John Witte and Bonnie Yturbi.

Small Quota
"We're sorry that more men and women couldn't be included in this year's listing, but our quota is small," said Dean Griffin. "Next year we hope to have a much larger quota."

"However, we hope also to have a different system for selecting the nominees with more accent being placed on the student's campus leadership ability," he said.

Tri-Delt president Virginia Cole is an honor roll student, and was Homecoming sweetheart in 1945. Letterman Bob Durham is president of the Campus Players and is chairman of the rally committee.

Theta President
Alice Etchart is Theta president and former editor of the Artemisia. Jordan "Turk" Eliades is past president of Lambda Chi Alpha and Block N representative.

President of the ASUN, Jimmy Glynn, is also a member of Coffin and Keys and Blue Key. Gene Evans holds down the post of editor of the Sagebrush and is a member of Coffin and Keys.

Tri-Delt junior Doris Hanssen edits the Artemisia and is a member of Gothic N. Pat Ireland is head majorette and is an honor roll student.

Gals on Probation Warned by Mobley

Hapless gals now on probation had better burn the midnight oil this weekend. Dean of Women Elaine Mobley has reported that she intends to interview all women students on probation to check on their progress after November 15, when grades are turned into the registrar's office.

As a helpful reminder Dean Mobley added that all professors hold scheduled office hours at which time they expect to interview students. She advises anyone in doubt about their progress in a course consult with their professors.

The old problem of being short on grade points in their senior year is still catching up with many students. To avoid this catastrophe, Dean Mobley suggests that students check the U of N bulletin and with the dean of their college.

Visiting Student Gives Information On Native Country of El Salvador

Fidel A. Novoa, Jr., who is a student at the university this year, is a native of El Salvador. In his contact with the students on the campus, he has discovered that his country is not very well known in the United States.

To help correct this condition, and to inform the students about his native land, Novoa has prepared the following statement: "El Salvador, which means 'The Savior,' has an area of 32,000 square miles. It is the smallest republic in the western hemisphere. Despite its size, El Salvador has the densest population of all the Central American nations.

My Country
"My country has 2,500,000 people—more than Honduras, which is three times as large.

"El Salvador is the third largest coffee producing country among the Americas, exporting 3 per cent of the world's supply. Only Brazil and Colombia grow more coffee. About 60 per cent of her export is coffee.

"The coffee plantations can be spotted everywhere — along mountain slopes, atop plateaus and in valleys. The plantations present a lovely sight when the trees blossom into white flowers.

Grain of Gold
"The coffee bean, when picked from the tree, is a red berry. The picking season, November and December, is a busy season. Clerks, shop keepers, carpenters, people from towns, cities and farms, go out to the plantations and become coffee pickers. Obviously, coffee, our 'grain of gold,' looms large in the daily life of the people of El Salvador.

"Salvadorans do not quibble about their famous national product; postage stamps of the Republic bear the legend 'The coffee of El Salvador is the best in the world.'

"In the mountains near the coast lies San Salvador, the capital, at an elevation of 2250 feet. Its many storied buildings, cool climate and pine planted parks give it more an air of a northern city than one of the tropics.

Daughter of Fire
"The principal volcanoes of El Salvador, part of the Central American chain, lie in a line so straight that a ruler laid on the map passes through most of them. So many fiespooters, both active and quiescent, dot the republic that Salvadoranos have nicknamed their country 'Daughter of Fire.'

"Most famous of the active volcanoes is legendary Gzalco, long known to mariners as the 'Lighthouse of the Pacific.' This mountain erupts regularly every few minutes, and has been doing so, with occasional lapses, since 1770 when the volcano first broke through the side of the parent cone, Santa Ana."

Student Parkers Should Study Star; Best at Midnight

Star gazers take note, if it's knowledge of the stars you are seeking, step outside some night around midnight and take a look at Mira Ceti. It's a star worth observing in the opinion of Professor G. B. Blair, associate professor of physics and astronomy. At present the star is brighter than third magnitude which is pretty bright, but from week to week the brightness of the star will gradually diminish.

Uh Huh!
To locate Mira Stella Ceti, most easily seen at midnight or later, draw an imaginary line passing through the branch of the V in the constellation Taurus. Prolong this line through the angle of the V and it will pass a little to the north of two-third magnitude stars, Alpha and Gamma, in the constellation of Vetus.

A line drawn through Alpha and Delta, a faint star south of Gamma, will pass close to the star in question.

Some of the little things that break up marriage are little brunettes, little blondes, and little redheads.

Humanities Group To Hear Injun Talk

A talk on the habits and languages of the Washoe Indian tribe will be given by Dr. Gordon Marsh, foreign language professor, to members of the humanities group next Monday at 7:30 pm at the home of Dr. Charlton G. Laird of the department of English.

Dr. Marsh, who is a new member of the University of Nevada faculty, has spent much time studying ancient languages at Columbia, Oxford and the University of Paris.

The purpose of the humanities group, states Dr. Laird, is for serious study on any problem or subject that any member might wish to discuss. And only male members of the faculty are eligible for membership.

ARMISTICE DAY MEET PLANNED BY YWCA

Members of the YWCA will hold an Armistice Day meeting and social Tuesday at 7 pm. Marjorie Menu, president of the group, will conduct the meeting. Plans for future YWCA programs will be discussed, and a social period will follow.

School of Mines Rolls Total 150

With enrollment long since completed, the number of students entered in the Mackay School of Mines is about 150, approximately the same number as last year, announced Jay Carpenter, school director. The equality in number is due to the limitation on freshmen and new students, which means that there are more students in the upper divisions.

To take care of this large upper division class, Claude Hammond of the state analytical laboratory will allot half his time as an instructor's aid in metallurgy. In the geology department, Dr. Harry Wheeler, associate professor of geology, will give all his time to teaching and will be helped by two new members of the staff, Gordon E. Jacobson and John Henry Thompson, both assistant professors.

Red Cross Wants Students to Give Shows at Hospital

Mrs. Ramona Beetscher, chairman of the university unit of the Red Cross, proposed at the senate meeting on last Wednesday evening that the student body organize a volunteer group for the purpose of presenting monthly entertainment programs to the patients at the new veterans administration hospital.

This proposal suggested that the activities include men's smokers, indoor sports matches, movies, acting and singing programs and transporting ambulatory patients to local sporting events.

Dean Mobley has offered her services to act in the capacity as chief organizer of the group, which should consist of approximately 40 men and 40 women students. The entire senate favored this proposal and will act upon it following the conclusions decided upon by the individual members' social groups.

Ah, Boney Notches! No Spikka English

No English will be spoken at the dinner to be given by the Spanish Club, it was decided Tuesday evening at the club's first meeting.

Members are hastily reviewing Spanish words for their favorite condiments, said Josie Esther, president. The dinner, which is scheduled to take place before Thanksgiving will consist of Spanish dishes.

A membership campaign was begun at Tuesday's meeting, held at the Tri-Delt house. Kay Sterling, vice-president, is in charge of the campaign.

This year's officers, besides Miss Sterling and Miss Eather, are Carol Anderson, secretary; Dorothy Hooper, treasurer, and Gwen Byrd, publicity manager.

Debators Schedule Begins November 15, Announces Vinocour

S. M. Vinocour, debate coach, this week announced the debate squad's schedule for the year.

It consists of a demonstration before the high school state speech clinic-institute on November 15; Los Angeles City College tournament of the Southern California Tournament Association on November 21-22; the regional western states tournament at Santa Barbara College on December 5-6, and the western states finals at the University of Utah on December 29, 30 and 31.

The main event of the spring semester will be the Pacific Forensic League tournament to be held at the University of Nevada early next year.

Letter to the Editor

Editor of the Sagebrush, Dear Gene:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the students for the wonderful cooperation and support we have been receiving at the games and rallies this year.

We are particularly gratified with the way the card stunts went over. We also want to thank the Sagebrush, Col. Smece, Sgt. Stull, Joe McDonnell, graduate manager; Gene Mastrianni, Jerry Wyness and his Sagers, Blue Peppers and Bill Devlin, without whose help and cooperation the card stunts would have been impossible. As far as we are concerned, Homecoming was a success.

The spirit this year is higher than we have ever seen. We've lost only one on the gridiron, and we have always won in spirit. It is really a pleasure to lead a rooting section like ours. Thanks again, and we'll see you in a "bowl game."

Y Collects Food For Mercy Train

Food for the Friendship train has been collected during the past week on campus by the YWCA members under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Pinjuv, Y director, and Miss Bonny Mollignoni, food collection committee chairman.

The Friendship train, which is making a tour of the country to collect food for starving people of Italy and France, will arrive in Reno Sunday evening, November 9.

Mrs. Pinjuv has asked that any and all students or organizations that have not already given to do so this afternoon at the Y room in Stewart Hall, or at the downtown collection depots.

The collection centers in Reno are at Sewell's store on Fifth and Sierra streets and the fire station on Commercial Row and West streets.

General foods wanted are such items as dried peas, dried beans, macaroni, spaghetti, wheat, corn, barley, oats, rye, flour and dehydrated soup. No watery foods of any kind, canned or otherwise, are wanted.

On the hill it's "hello."

Unwary Femmes Kidnap Victims of Officer Initiates

The coed snatching in front of the library last night wasn't the work of an organized gang of mobsters—only the Scabbard and Blade initiates.

Dressed in green fatigues and armed to the teeth, the new members sallied forth to "guard" the campus. To entertain themselves during the lonely hours they abducted coeds straying abroad, and carried them to the student center.

Then they forced some of them to sing and play the piano. Fifteen men were party to the plot. Bert Hildebrand, head of Scabbard and Blade, admitted today.

They were Earl Freemont, Drake DeLanoy, Dale Hanna, L. M. O'Brien, Jr., Lorne S. Black, Robert Patrick, Bruno Coli, Giulio Panelli, Henry Berry Edward Therkelson, Donald Woodard, M. H. Brady, Jack Gough, C. P. Thompson and Larsson, Jr.

The formal initiation will be held tonight, Hildebrand said, in the Scabbard and Blade club-room.

Home Ec Course To Undergo Change

A complete revision of the general course in the home economics department is being drawn up by Miss Mildred Swift, head of the department and other members of her staff.

The new course will follow the trend of home economics departments in other schools, which calls for less required courses and more electives, Miss Swift said.

Although the course is still indefinite, Miss Swift plans to have it in effect by next fall.

George Washington married Martha Curtis and in due time became the father of his country.

Hiking on the Hill

By Muriel Smiley

Despite the fact that universities were founded as institutions of learning, it has become common practice to forget this as often as possible. Only one week ago Nevada's knowledge seekers joyfully left their classrooms in glorious anticipation of a three day vacation. Soon they were scattered to the far corners of the state with the vast majority off to join in the Admission Day celebration in the capitol city.

Meeting in St. Louis with the rest of the Wolf Pack was Tom Reinhardt . . . comes out west from Jasper, Minnesota . . . tall six foot, two inch tackle on the football squad . . . upperclass engineer major . . . answers to the call of "Punk" . . . reserved and bashful . . . advocate of moderation.

Traveling to Nevada's capitol with her "steady" went Nina Garner . . . cute frosh with a winning personality . . . identified by her captivating wink . . . exercises her vocal chords with the University Chorus . . . sociology major . . . loyal and true to Gamma Phi Beta . . . hails from Tungsten.

Keeping the Reno home fires burning was Bob Burke . . . lively frosh . . . packs a powerful line of chatter . . . grew to childhood in New York . . . operates with the Phi Sigs . . . ex-nayman who boasts a gal in every port . . . but has an eye for a Pi Phi . . . civil engineer major.

Headin' Carson City way to partake in the Admission Day parade went Ethel Pettis . . . energetic senior . . . potential Florence Nightingale . . . A E D Historian . . . past crack shot of the Rifle Club . . . one of the Pi Phi misses . . . pulls down "A" grades.

Driving to Gardnerville for the weekend went Mark Bray . . . pre-legal major . . . super piano player and Crosby imitator . . . defends convictions with debate squad . . . liked for his sense of humor . . . brainy sophomore . . . booster of Alpha Tau Omega.

Taking a sentimental journey home to Ely last Thursday was Jacqueline Wilson . . . known to buddies as "Jackie" . . . has a button nose sprinkled with freckles . . . PE major and devoted to all types of sports . . . hangs her blue and white ribbon on the second decker of Artemisia Hall, but spends spare hours performing pledge duties at 710 Sierra Street.

Came Monday once more, and we approached our class in what we tried to convince ourselves was a fine, fresh spirit until to our astonishment the species homo-professoricus announced mid-semester exams, which dampened our spirits slightly and back we went to studying at the dark of the moon to the familiar midnight oil. And now, get your nose out of my way so I can finish this test.

INFIRMARY REPORTS THREE CONFINEMENTS

Miss Mary Peck, day nurse at the university infirmary, announced that, although there are three students now confined to the hospital, no serious illness has been recently treated. Two of the three confined patients are suffering from neck infections while the third has a skin allergy.

Blue Pepper Head Will Attend Utah Aggie Homecoming

Gwen Byrd, head of the Blue Peppers marching unit, has been invited to attend the Homecoming weekend at the Utah State Agricultural College tomorrow, Lt. Col. James C. Smee, Blue Peppers advisor, announced.

The invitation was extended by the Corps of Sponsors, a Utah Aggie girls' drill team, a unit similar to the Blue Peppers of Nevada.

Miss Byrd will observe the Utah drill team and participate in the Homecoming festivities.

The Corps of Sponsors is considered one of the best coed drill teams in the nation. It was formed in 1893, under the auspices of the university ROTC unit, "to foster interest in the ROTC regiment."

Aside from marching, the girls usher at the football games, help at pep rallies and sponsor two military balls a year.

WATER COLOR DISPLAY PRESENTED BY PEN WOMEN OF AMERICA

Twenty-one water colors were displayed in the art building this week.

The paintings were by members of the Reno branch of the Pen Women of America, and were sponsored by the Fine Arts Club.

Miss Muriel Goodwin, Reno high school instructor, presented several pictures done with gouache, a type of paint different in texture from watercolor. A pastel portrait was done by Mrs. Emily Hilliard, wife of Albert Hilliard, local attorney and board of regents member.

CUTIES BRING STUNTS TO PANIWALLIS MEET

Original water stunts were performed by Paniwallis members at the Thursday night meeting of the campus swimming club, Pat Ireland stated today. Each member brought a water stunt plan which was executed by the group.

The best stunts may be used in the spring aquacade, the president said.

Next meeting of Paniwallis will be held November 13 at Moana Hot Springs.

SIGMA RHO HOLDS DANCE FOR PLEDGES

Sigma Rho Delta, local fraternity, had a dinner dance for its pledges October 31 at the Colombo from 8 pm until midnight. Dr. and Mrs. Robert S. Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Farrar were chaperones for the Sigma Rho function.

Gamma Phis Ready For Gala Weekend

Gamma Phi Betas expect an eventful weekend with the presentation tea, the Founders Day banquet and the usual Friday coke hour.

New pledges will be honored at the presentation tea to be held Sunday from 3 to 5 pm in the Gamma Phi house.

Invitations will be sent by Rita Mortara, Jody Teske, Shirley Bell, Shirley Van Meter and Eleanor McCrae.

Refreshments will be planned by Marion Gotberg, Jac Petersen, Donna Wittwer, Dorothy Linabary and Nina Garner.

Lea Glaser, Janeth Rowley, Pat Ussery, Ruth Cook and Ida Bess Sanderson will put the house in order. In charge of cleaning up are Carol Gundersen, Edith Whitworth, Betty Whitworth, Mary Lou Sewell and Betty Jo Rupp.

The Founder's Day banquet, formal for all actives, pledges and alums, will be held Tuesday at 8 pm at the 20th Century Club.

The entertainment committee includes Mary Lou Sewell, Eleanor McCrae, Edith Whitworth, Betty Whitworth and Mary Lou Gerrans. Place cards will be designed by Dorothy Linabary, Rae Ellen Tower, Donna Wittwer, Joyce Harris and Joan Hamblin.

Coke hour, the Gamma Phi Friday social hour, open to everyone, is being held this afternoon from 3 to 5 pm. Barbara Pardee and Mary Lou Sewell are in charge.

Joseph and Brethren Get the Air Sunday

The Reverend Gareth Hughes, of the dramatics department, announced this week that a reading of "Joseph and His Brethren" will be given Sunday at 8 pm over radio station KXXL.

The Reverend John Ledger, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, will make the introductory remarks. This reading is adapted from the King James version of the Bible.

The group has scheduled presentations of highlights from "King Henry VIII," "Richard II," "Macbeth," "Hamlet," and a 13th century miracle play. The latter will be produced at Christmas time, Reverend Hughes added.

Modern medical science has made it easier for man to survive all life's stages from infancy to adultery.

UN Tumblers Set For Exhibitions

The University of Nevada now has an eight man tumbling team which is ready to give exhibitions, G. A. (Art) Broten, instructor in the PE department, announced today.

Developed originally as an exhibition squad for the Tumbling Club, the team is now working up acts to be put on between basketball game halves. The eight men are Bob Lynch, Jack Parke, Al Galli, Bob Wengert, Fred Cochran, Gerald Wyness, Don Hackett and Don Thompson.

The acts will consist mostly of springboard and mat work. Nothing too advanced will be tried for the time being, said Broten.

He also said that most of the men out for the sport are now able to do front and back flips. Three have gone into advanced work and have developed their ability to do the back flip with a half twist.

The club is still open to any man who is interested, the instructor said. Some one will be at the gymnasium every Monday and Wednesday from 4 to 5 o'clock to give members a workout.

Attending the cow palace judging contest held at San Francisco November 3 and 4, were three University of Nevada agriculture students, Dean McNeilly, Don Ramelli and Calvin Fricke.

The contest was held to determine student ability in judging beef and milk producing qualities of various breeds of cattle. No prizes were awarded at the contest.

Intramural Volley Ball Play Scheduled For Monday Debut

Intramural volleyball games are slated to start Monday, November 10. ATO, last year's champs, and Theta Chi will meet in the first game.

Sixty points will be earned by the winner of the volley ball competition toward the Kinnear trophy.

Games must be played at the time designated, and a team appearing more than 10 minutes late will forfeit the game.

Team managers will be responsible for furnishing officials. No game may be postponed unless both managers and the intramural director agree to the postponement.

Volley ball schedule for next week is as follows:

November 10, 4 pm, ATO vs. Theta Chi. 4 pm, Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Independents.

November 12: 4 pm, Sigma Rho vs. SAE. 4 pm, Lambda Chi vs. Sigma Nu.

Nov. 13: 7 pm, ATO vs. Sigma Rho. 7 pm, Lambda Chi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa.

Nov. 14: 7 pm, Sigma Nu vs. Theta Chi. 4 pm, SAE vs. Independents.

Wolf Pack Downs St. Louis Billikins

Last Quarter Air Attack Subdues Midwest Team

Deserting its ground attack and moving to the airways in the final quarter, Nevada pulled out a close 27-21 victory over the St. Louis Billikins at St. Louis last Sunday. The winning margin being made on a touchdown pass from Stan Heath to Dick Trachock.

St. Louis, underdogs in last week's fray, tore into the Wolf Pack from Reno, dominating the first half with an effective barrage which produced a 14-13 half time edge for the Bills.

After attempts through the Wolf Pack line failed, Fred Broeg and Dee Alberts of the Bills combined a 47 yard pass play to put Nevada on the short end of a 7-0 score as the first quarter ended.

Nevada received the St. Louis kickoff and marched steadily to tie up the ball game at 7-7 four minutes after the second quarter opened.

Billikens Click
Billikens passes started to click again as Jack Rooney connected with Jack Wuestling on the Wolves one yard line. Rooney, on a quarterback sneak scored the six pointer and Nagel boot- ed the conversion.

Nevada bounced back immediately with Ernie Zeno's off- tackle jaunt from the 15 capping a 69 yard drive. Bob Corley missed the kick for extra point and St. Louis left the field at half time leading 14-13.

Zeno, once again sparked the Nevada offense when he buck- ed over from the one yard line in the third period. This lead was short lived as Jack Rooney once again uncorked his right arm with a touchdown pass to Harry Sortal, putting the Bills out in front 21-20 as the quarter ended.

After four minutes had elapsed in the final period, Stan Heath faded and tossed what turned out to be the game winning touchdown to Dick Trach- ok in the end zone.

Nevada held a big statistical edge, chalking up 23 first downs to the Bill's eight.

LEE COACHING CAERS

Preparing for their opening game on November 29, the bas- ketball squad is holding daily workouts.

In the absence of basketball coach, Jake Lawlor, who is away with the Wolf Pack foot- ball team, the hoopsters are working out under the guidance of Keith Lee, veterans repre- sentative on the campus.

PACK TRACKS

Motoring into Henry Ford's domain on the Great Lakes to- night, Nevada finds themselves facing one of the most crucial games of the season against the Titans of Detroit University.

Crucial will be tonight's affair for the Wolves as a bowl bid could be in the making if Neva- da gets by the Detroiters.

Far be it for me to put the "Kiss of Death" on our guys by predicting a bowl bid. Two games remain after the current midwestern junket and the Pack has to take them as they come.

It is possible, however, that should the Silver and Blue win their remaining games, a post season trip might be forthcom- ing.

All the Big Ones are practi- cally wired by teams possessing top-notch publicity. On the other hand, a bid to one of the smaller shindigs on New Year's Day would be a stepping stone for the Nevadans.

Getting back to the Detroit game, everything points to a whale of a ball game in the auto city. Nevada, one of the nation's highest-scoring teams (ranking fourth with 214 points), bumps head on with the country's third best offensive unit. Detroit rates that distinction with an average of 405 yards per game.

The men in the know, who make odds on encounters such as tonight's, favor the boys from Reno by six points.

I'll take the tip but boost the ante past the half dozen mark. Nevada to take a see-saw tilt by 28-19.

Statistical Stuff

Stan Heath, the Wolves' field general and passer, is close on the heels of Notre Dame's star quarterback Johnny Lujack, in the chase for top honors in pass- ing. Lujack is in 13th place just ahead of Heath who jumped from 20th to 14th over the week- end.

Stan's average is 42 comple- tions out of 90 heaves, just below 50 per cent. Nevada receiv- ed nationwide acclaim as a pass- ing team last year, but this year had been doing most of its dam- age on the ground until Heath started his march on the front- runners.

Sigma Nu Boosts Kinnear Cup Lead By Horseshoe Win

Sigma Nu upped its point lead in the Kinnear trophy race this week when they copped 25 digits by winning the horseshoe doubles play.

The Snakes won the doubles title when they defeated Sigma Rho and accepted a forfeit from the previously loop leading SAE's.

Clearing up the only threat to a perfect record in softball play the Snakes polished off the SAE nine in a make-up game, 8-1.

Chet Scanton of the PE de- partment has announced that schedules for intramural basket- ball have been made out and are in the mail.

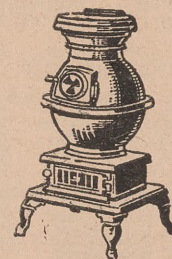

Other than the two contests in which Sigma Nu's partici- pated there was no activity on the intramural scene over the past week.

Frats Get Back Into Social Swing After Inactivity

When it rains—it pours. Following a week of quiet and inactivity, the fraternities will make up for lost time this weekend.

This evening the Sigma Nu's will be hosts to the Tri-Delta at a social to be held at Arthur Murray's dance studio. Charles Petrik, manager of the Murray studio in Reno, and a Sigma Nu from Northwestern University, has not only offered the use of the building for the event, but has also promised to furnish some excellent entertainment.

On Wednesday night the Phi Phi's were honored with a dinner followed by a social at the SAE house, and on Saturday night the SAE's and their dates will apply their warpaint and gather for the annual Indian costume dance at the Palomar.

Skull and Cross Bones
The shadow of the "Jolly Roger" will hover over the Theta Chi house tonight as the buccaners carry the maidens of their choice to the yearly pirate dance to be held at the house. Rumor has it that the dates must wear their skirts at least three inches above the knees.

The Lambda Chi Mothers Club is giving a harvest ball for the fraternity and dates on Saturday night at the California Building in Idlewild Park.

The Taus, who entertained members of Gamma Phi Beta at a social Wednesday evening, will in return be the guest of the Gamma Phi's at a coke social this afternoon.

Legislature's O. K. Delays Men's Dorm; Plans Drawn Up

From four to six years will pass before work on a new men's dormitory begins, stated Charles H. Gorman, comptroller.

Advancement of funds has been secured from the Federal Works Agency, and plans have been completed. But before construction can begin, the state legislature must pass on appropriations.

Mr. Gorman added that delay is furthered by the future classroom and "life-science" buildings which will be built first.

In the meantime, university men will continue to occupy Lincoln Hall and the old gymnasium.

ALL COFFEE NOT IN BRAZIL; SNACK BAR DOUBLES BUSINESS

Nearly 8000 people have been served by the YWCA snack bar since October 13.

Miss Shirley Bell, snack bar chairman, announced that cash register receipts indicated 7585 persons were served up to the last of October.

According to last year's receipts, business for the snack bar has doubled.

TONNING TO TELL OF WARTIME EXPERIENCES

Kristian Tønning, scholarship student from Norway and wartime member of the Norwegian underground, will be speaker at the Campus Club's regular Sunday evening meeting.

Tønning, sophomore engineering student, will speak to the group on his experiences and activities during the German occupation of his country.

The meeting will be held at the Federated Church, 5:30 pm, Sunday. Anyone wishing to attend this meeting is invited to do so, Prof. Irving J. Sandorf, head of the electrical engineering department, said today.

STUDENT MEMBERS ATTEND AIME MEET

Student members of the American Institute of Mining Engineers attended an AIME luncheon meeting held at noon yesterday in the Golden Hotel.

Milton Steinheimer, graduate of the school of mines, spoke on the operations of the Eagle Picher plant at the diatomaceous earth deposit at Clark Station. After the talk, members of the Reno branch, Nevada section, of the AIME asked questions and discussed the subject with Steinheimer.

News From Abroad

By Della Sorenson

Hello, all you wary wolves. And how does the middle of the semester find you? Well, if you are feeling sorry for yourselves, and you probably are, this week's efforts are dedicated to you. It only goes to show that the U of N isn't the only school with problems.

New Mexico Lobo: "Your Lobo has been moved into cramped quarters again. The one room that served as a Lobo office last year has once again become the home of every phase of the paper. These conditions may drag it down to the same level that such quarters made unavoidable at that time."

"It was admitted that the Lobo would be cramped, but a new door was recently added to make access possible to the Lobo office from the outside of the patio. It so happened that this door is now drilled into the wrong office. After the dining addition is completed, members of the paper staff may use any convenient window."

Every room with a door is a standing rule at Nevada.

The Tulsa Collegian: "Smoke, smoke, smoke that cigarette. But after you get out of class. So states Dr. C. I. Pontius, president of the university, in a directive issued September 12. The edit was posted conspicuously on all bulletin boards."

Wonder what the first aid book says about nicotine fits?

University of Toronto Varsity: "Now I've seen everything," was the comment of an amused spectator indicating two pretty young ladies sitting in a corner of the U. C. Rotunda, very diligently reading the Varsity and smoking pipes.

"The ladies, who preferred to remain unknown, . . . are old hands at the game. They have several pipes in their collection, they said, even a corn-cob—but it isn't smoked except in the confines of the home."

"Who knows, before long we may hear the female turn to her dancing companion, smile and say, 'Let's stop for a smoke. Would you like to try my Edgeworth?'"

Getting in gear for Sadie Hawkins Day, no doubt.

On the lighter side: From Cal State Polytech:

"He: Do you neck?
"She: That's my business.
"He: Ah, at last a professional."

Maneuver is what they put on the grass. We have maneuver on our grass.

Student Directory Hits Campus Monday

New U. of N. student directories are expected to arrive at President John O. Moseley's office Monday.

Miss Alice Terry, secretary to the president, stated that the new directories will have the same type of cover as last year's. A new section listing the fraternities and sororities and their members will be added.

The inclusion of this division and its preparations have caused the delay in printing, Miss Terry said.

Sale of the directories will be made in the YWCA and at the graduate manager's office at the ASUN building. The price is 25 cents a copy.

New Dining House Boilers Will Put Vitamins in Chow

A new $18,000 boiler room for the university dining hall will be in operation by November 15, said James Grayson, head of the dining hall, today.

The new structure will house three boilers which will operate equipment in the kitchen, including a three deck compartment steam vegetable cooker and two 60-gallon cooking kettles. A shoestring potato cutter, and a large toaster will also be installed.

The new equipment, using steam, will eliminate the loss of vitamins that old cooking methods caused, says Grayson.

Committees to Set Spring Term Dates For New Calendar

This week the campus calendar committee will start working on a new calendar for the spring semester, Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, said.

The first thing to be done in forming the committee is to appoint a new chairman to fill the vacancy left by Dorothy Thomas, who resigned, said Dean Mobley. James Glynn, student body president, will make the appointment.

Post cards will be sent to the various campus organizations requesting dates for their future meetings. The schedule of these dates will be the foundation for the calendar when it is organized and printed next semester.

On the hill it's "hello."

English Group Lacks Sponsor, V. President

Chi Delta Phi, national English honorary organization, met October 30. Miss Billy Heath, president, said the group discussed the lack of a sponsor, and a vice-president, Roma Garner, former vice-president, did not return to school this year. A social meeting with a guest speaker will be held the last week in November. To become a member of Chi Delta Phi, a student must major or minor in English and maintain a grade B average in English subjects.

Church Group Has Halloween Party

Members Create Improved Version of Big Apple

By Tom Cunniffe

When Wesley Foundation members and their guests met in front of the First Methodist Church this past Saturday for the hayride to the Halloween party, they were greeted with a hayless hayride caused by a strong wind.

Being the only transportation to the secret rendezvous, party goers boarded the "hay" wagon. The driver, Bud Hardesty, took a round about route that proved to be rough but exciting. Despite bumps and jolts the riders oohed and aahed, sang and laughed, and even enjoyed the cold wind.

At the secret rendezvous, Hardesty's house, the slightly shaken crowd was given miniature maps of Nevada with the individual's names on them.

Then all proceeded down to the cellar where they came to a door with the sign, "Whistle twice, knock three times." When the door opened a ghost presented a dead man's hand which members and guests had to shake. In the room other parts of the dead man were ceremoniously presented to the horrified participants.

This ordeal completed, Rev. Harold Broughton, Las Vegas, and his wife, who acted as chaperons, introduced some Halloween games frequently used in Las Vegas.

One such game was the Las Vegas method of necking. Two lines were formed with a boy and a girl alternately making up the line. Then the first person in each line placed an apple under his chin and attempted to pass it to the girl behind him. This was done until the last person in line had the apple. This was done without the use of hands.

A Bird? A Plane? Superman? No! It's Radar

Well, it's here and we're gonna keep it.

A whole boxcar of expensive radar equipment just dropped in on the threshold of the electrical engineering department.

Professor Irving J. Sanford, head of the department, disclaimed all knowledge of the mysterious affair when he reported today. "Who sent it or where it came from, I couldn't tell you."

At present there isn't room enough in the engineering lab to set up the new equipment, but in time some of it will be put into use. If, in the meantime, the whole thing turns out to be a horrible mistake — then it will be a horrible mistake!

Taus Get Plaque For Frat Float in Nevada Day Parade

The ATO fraternity added another plaque to its trophy case this week.

The Taus received a gold plated plaque from the Nevada Day committee at Carson City when their float won first place in the fraternity division of the Nevada Day parade.

The fraternity division was open to all organizations such as Elks, Rotarians and Lions Club.

Revamping the float they had used in the Homecoming Day parade, the Taus changed the theme from "Winners All" to "Nevada Saves the Union."

The float was the only entry from the university fraternities and sororities, and was pulled by an ancient Dodge, driven by George Groth. John Laxalt, Louis Creamer and Jeanne Garland completed the tableau.

Scientist Visits Veterinary Dept.

Dr. Carlos T. Rosenbusch, a distinguished South American scientist, made a surprise visit to the University of Nevada's department of Veterinary science Wednesday.

As a staff member of the Institute of Experimental Biology in Buenos Aires, Dr. Rosenbusch is gathering information on animal diseases.

Consultation was held with staff members of the department of veterinary science regarding laboratory procedures. Several dehydrated type cultures of bacteria were furnished to Dr. Rosenbusch for carrying on biological experiments and tests in Argentina.

DAN CUPID COPS KIDS

Forty-two students have withdrawn from school since registration, Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar, has announced. The total includes 28 men and 14 women.

Reasons set forth for the withdrawals, said Mrs. Rhodes, were matrimony, lack of money, and general disinterest in college work.

Record Collection Waxes Classic; You Name It, They've Got It

Disc jockeys would throw in the towel if they had to play 1400 phonograph records on file with the university music department.

Everything from "Adventures in a Perambulator" to "The Great Elopement" are in this collection. Considered strictly classical, some of the records are real collector's items.

Famous artists like Enrico Caruso are still heard on old transcriptions of yesterday. Other greats of the past are still treasured in original voice of Pablo Casals, Alma Gluck, Emma Calve, Louise Homer and Harry Lauder.

Recently added to the collection is a piano concerto by Khachaturian, a modern Soviet-Armenian. This man is considered by some music circles as being the most daring pianist of our time.

All of these records are used in musical appreciation classes instructed by Prof. Theodore H. Post and Prof. Robert Z. Tate of the music department. The classes are now studying "The Russian Five" consisting of Rimsky-Korsakoff and contemporaries, plus Hayden-Mozart.

Visitors interested in music are invited to attend these musical appreciation classes. The classes are held in the Education building at 1 pm Monday through Thursday.

"What do you do for a living," asked the judge. "I am a night orderly at the hospital," said the prisoner. "Thirty days for panhandling," said the judge.
