

Six Students Named To Phi Kappa Phi

National Honorary Scholastic Society Initiates Nevadans

Five Coeds, One Male Given Recognition at Tuesday Assembly

Six Nevada students were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary, at an assembly held Tuesday in the new gym.

The students, introduced by the heads of the departments in which they are majoring, were Virginia Cole, sociology major from Ely; Pat Ireland, education major from McGill; Zina Coe, education major from Boulder; Barbara Olesen, philosophy major from Lovelock; Jane Perkins, journalism major from Tonopah, and Ernest Wilson, electrical engineering major from Fallon.

Beesley Conducts

Dr. M. E. Beesley, president of Nevada's chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, conducted the formal initiation after which medals and plaques were awarded to Rifle Club members by Col. Gilbert E. Parker, professor of military science at the university.

Kenneth Rice was presented with a medal for winning first place with the service rifle in the state rifle shoot last summer, and Stanley Hill was awarded a medal for winning second place with the service rifle and third place in the rapid fire match.

Scabbard and Blade medal for the best second year cadet in ROTC was presented by Bert Hildebrand, captain of the organization, to Jerome Marks, whose name has also been engraved on a plaque in the military department.

Rifle Medals

National Rifle Association medals also given to members of the women's rifle team and Delta Delta Delta sorority received a bronze plaque for winning the sorority rifle shoot earlier in the year.

Following the awards, several members of the freshman class were introduced to the assembly by Ted Lokke, freshman class manager, who then presented a short entertaining program.

Participating in the program were Lou Eccles and his Moderners, Anita Davidson, songstress, Dee Spradling, Jeanne Rule and Joyce Fiscus, a singing trio, and Nello Gonfiantini and Will Herz, accordion players.

English Department To Be Represented At Stanford Meet

Dr. Robert Gorrell reported to be held at Stanford University department will attend a meeting of the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast to be held at Stanford University over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Dr. Gorrell will present a paper entitled, "Atolycus and the Drama." This paper is an explanation of broadside ballads and popular drama in the time of Shakespeare.

Professor Robert A. Hume will read his, "Mark Twain and the Virginia City Evening Bulletin."

Miss Rebecca Price will discuss "Problems and Methods of Criticism in the 18th Century," and Mr. Milton will present "A Critical Approach to the Poetry of John Milton."

Drivers Requested To Exercise Care During Vacation

Students going home for Thanksgiving are urged to drive carefully by Dean of Women Elaine Mobley and Dean of Men Robert Griffin in a joint announcement today.

The many students going home for the four-day Thanksgiving holiday are requested to be careful in their driving, for the roads apparently will probably be icy.

Students will be free to leave the university at 4 o'clock Wednesday. Those who are near enough to go home will do so by automobile. Others plan to go by plane and bus.

Dean Griffin emphasized that those students who drive carefully are the ones most apt to have a happy Thanksgiving.

Summer Sessions Only Five Weeks, Announces Brown

Sixty Minute Periods Used To Complete All Work For Term Credit

By John Long

Tired of school already? Try summer school. It may take a few years more, but look at the long vacations and short periods of school. To make matters better, Dr. Harold N. Brown, director of summer schools, has announced that sessions will be even shorter in 1948.

Following the lead of several western colleges, which include Utah, Washington, Colorado and Arizona, Nevada will shorten the two summer sessions to five weeks each instead of the customary six, Dr. Brown said.

Three Reasons Listed

Three reasons for the change were listed by Dr. Brown. The shorter sessions will give most teachers a short vacation before returning to their school. Most schools start the day after Labor Day and with summer sessions running until the last of August many teachers are badly rushed to return to their schools in time for the first classes, Dr. Brown stated.

A second reason is to give veterans who are attending summer and winter a longer vacation and allow them to rest before the fall semester begins.

The extra week at the end of the summer school will enable a better cleaning of the building and grounds of the university for the winter term is the third reason, he said.

Sixty Minute Periods

By registering on Saturday and using 60 minute periods instead of the usual 50, the same amount of work will be covered in the shorter period, Dr. Brown stated. To enable the continuance of the 10 minute break between classes, school will begin at 7:30 in the morning, he said.

DANCE PLANS MADE FOR PE FESTIVAL

Plans for a folk dance festival to be presented in January for the public have been revealed by Miss Elsa Sameth, head of the women's PE department. Miss Sameth wishes to bring national folk dance groups here, besides presenting campus dance groups in miscellaneous numbers.

Two of the regular folk dance classes are working on numbers for the festival.

Strictly All Reet Yearling Meeting Held Last Sunday

Assembly Program Practice Draws Big Audience At KAT House

The freshman class meeting Sunday turned into a jam session!

A lively band, two accordians and some singers arrested the attention of passersby who drifted into the Theta house to hear more.

Bridge games were willingly stopped and furniture was moved against the walls to make room for the large number of talented freshmen and their music.

Visiting upperclassmen from other residences on the hill drew up chairs to get a better view of the performers.

The freshmen were practicing for their part in the assembly which was held Tuesday at 11 am.

Rehearsing numbers for the program were Lou Eccles and his Moderners playing "There's a Shanty in the Town," "Near You" and "Honeysuckle Rose"; Dee Spradling, Jeanne Rule and Joyce Fiscus singing "Sentimental Journey" and "Ragtime Cowboy Joe"; Anita Davidson, accompanied by the Moderners, coming forth with "Blue Skies."

Ted Lokke, class president, announced after the rehearsal that he had chosen members for the freshman class committee. The choice was made at the Friday meeting of the class, held at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

On his committee are Barbara Carter, Marilyn Humphreys, Will Herz, Ruthie Irwin, Chester Swobbe, Anna Picchi, Rusty Mills, Dee Spradling, Bob Hempling, Richard Lenzo, Anita Davidson and Gene Torvinen. Lokke specified that the list is by no means complete, and that additional members will be picked at a future date.

Ty Short, assembly chairman, was also on hand at the Friday meeting.

Art Classes Draw Ads for Artemisia

Layouts for county advertisements for the Artemisia are being composed by J. Craig Sheppard's commercial art class.

Combinations of photographs and sketches are the central idea of this project. During Thanksgiving vacation Artemisia ad salesmen will try to induce county officials to advertise as represented in the sketches.

Roger "Bud" Bowers, yearbook business manager, advanced this new idea, said the instructor.

An extra fee to be given to the artist may be added to advertisements of this kind, stated Sheppard. This money will help the student to pay his art work expenses.

Advertisers may be assured of returns for their investments, if this trend is followed, rather than considering it a traditional donation, Sheppard concluded.

PROFS TO ATTEND SF JOURNALISM MEETING

Two members of the journalism staff, Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the department, and Mr. Keiste Janulis, instructor, will attend the annual meeting of the West Coast Association of Journalism Teachers in San Francisco, Friday and Saturday of this week.

As general chairman of the group, Prof. Higginbotham will preside over the meeting. Mr. Janulis will discuss radio news writing.

THANKSGIVING GREETINGS

Best wishes to the students and faculty of the University of Nevada for a happy Thanksgiving! We, here in America, have many things to be grateful for. Let us think on these things and ask God for strength and wisdom to help us be better citizens of the community, the nation, and the world. Before another Thanksgiving season may the peoples of all countries have enough to eat. And may your own blessings, humbly acknowledged, make your Thanksgiving a joyful one!

Sincerely yours,
John Moseley,
President.

Easterner Sought For Vacated YW Secretarial Post

Barbara Pinjuv Resignation Leaves Campus Opening After December 20

A new YWCA secretary to replace Mrs. Barbara Pinjuv, who retires December 20, is being sought by President John O. Moseley on his trip in the east.

Dr. Moseley will review applications at the YWCA national office in New York City. Miss Edith Lerrigo, regional YWCA secretary, will be here on campus from Los Angeles upon Dr. Moseley's return next week. Miss Alice Terry, the president's secretary, thought he would also consult Miss Lerrigo about the job.

Mrs. Pinjuv, for over a year campus YWCA secretary, announced her resignation recently. She stated that her home demanded more of her time.

Miss Lerrigo was regional YWCA secretary in New England from 1937 to 1943. From 1943 till last summer, she was a student secretary in China.

Any YWCA girl will be able to meet the regional secretary on Monday and Tuesday mornings next week. Monday afternoon, Miss Lerrigo will meet with the association's advisory board.

The Reno YWCA will honor Miss Lerrigo with a tea on Tuesday afternoon. Members of the campus YWCA cabinet will meet her at 5 pm Tuesday. The regional secretary will speak at an all-association meeting on Tuesday night.

SOCIAL CALENDAR TO MAKE LATE CAMPUS DEBUT

The social calendar for the fall semester will probably be issued in mimeograph form. The little time left in the year does not merit the usual printing of the calendar.

Norah Saunders was recently appointed head of the three-member social calendar committee by the student senate.

The committee has to verify the date of several club meetings before the calendar is released.

The social calendar committee is expected to start work on next semester's calendar soon.

VETS JOIN FORCES TO BEAT LIVING COSTS

Rachel Martin and Girdwood C. Pope, geological engineering student, have announced their marriage which took place in Reno September 2.

Both are sophomores at the university and both served in the armed forces of the United States during the war. Mrs. Pope in the WAC and Pope in the army.

History Professor Accepts Request To Present Work

Dr. Hutcheson to Address Historical Association During Holidays

Dr. Austin E. Hutcheson, associate professor of history and political science, has accepted a request by the American Historical Association to present a research paper to that association's annual convention during Christmas week.

The topic of his address will concern the letters and papers of John P. Jones, famous Nevada senator from 1873 to 1903. The convention is scheduled to meet at the University of California at Berkeley.

The work about which Dr. Hutcheson will speak was accomplished during the summers of 1945 and 1947 after receiving a research grant. He was sponsored by the Huntington Library of San Marino, California, and the Rockefeller Foundation to work on manuscripts of Nevada history.

The report on Senator Jones is only half of Dr. Hutcheson's accomplishment in summer research. The other is a similar investigation of the manuscripts of John W. North, a prominent public figure during the period of Nevada's admission into the Union.

Nevada's Commoner

According to Dr. Hutcheson, John P. Jones, known as "Nevada's Commoner," served as this state's senator from 1873 to 1903. During those years he became the champion of the silver coinage cause in the U. S. senate. He was the first one to break the monopolistic control which a California bank group had upon the fabulous Comstock Lode, thus paving the way for John W. Mackay and his partners to take similar action later.

John W. North, the other subject of research, was a unique statesman in that he was the chairman of the constitutional conventions of two states, Minnesota's in 1857 and Nevada's in 1863. In reward for his aiding Lincoln within the Republican party, North was appointed Nevada's territorial surveyor and later its territorial judge.

Both research papers are to be published in history journals and perhaps in book form later.

Thanksgiving Trip Planned by Miners

Prof. William I. Smyth, associate professor of metallurgy and mining, and a dozen mining students will take a Hunt Foundation trip to Gabbs and Eureka during the Thanksgiving vacation.

The group will start Friday morning and go to the brittle open pit mine at Gabbs and from there to Eureka to spend the night.

Saturday the students and Prof. Smyth will go to the big surface mining installation near Eureka and also watch the shaft sinking operations. They will return Saturday night.

Hunt trips are sponsored by the Hunt Foundation which was established in the memory of S. Frank Hunt discoverer and developer of the Rio Tinto mine. The foundation was established from successive gifts of cash, mining stocks, automobiles, and equipment that Mr. Hunt gave to the Mackay School of Mines.

The foundation provides for mining and geological trips for faculty and students and a free summer course of several weeks to enable a chosen number of students to study mines, prospecting and geological mapping.

Pack Wings South For Season Finale

Winter Olympics Entry Departing For Switzerland

Doris "Dodie" Post, former university student, leaves Tuesday for Switzerland where she will compete as a member of the women's division on the United States Olympic ski team.

Miss Post will train for the Olympics at Davos, Switzerland. She plans to enter the downhill and slalom contests in the winter Olympic games at St. Moritz on January 30.

Miss Post ranks as the first Nevada woman to make a position on Olympic teams. She is the daughter of Prof. Theodore H. Post who directs the university music department.

Wolf Pack Tossed Into Salad Bowl For Jan. 1 Mixing

Netvada's Wolf Pack has accepted an invitation to play in the Phoenix, Arizona, Salad Bowl on New Year's Day. This is the first time in university history that a Nevada team will play in a post-season bowl game.

The announcement was confirmed by Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager, who said the offer was phoned from Phoenix while the bowl game committee was conferring there, and was immediately accepted. After receiving a feeler from Phoenix a few days ago, the Wolf Pack voted to take an invitation if one was advanced.

No opponent has yet been named for the game, but feelers have been sent out to many top ranking teams and one of the following will probably be chosen: Idaho, Utah, Texas Christian, Oklahoma, Hardin-Simmons, Baylor, Texas Tech and San Francisco. Nevada will be considered by Phoenix football fans as the home team.

Nevada had also received feelers from the Cigar Bowl in Tampa, Florida, and the Harbor Bowl in San Diego, California, but McDonnell stated that the financial guarantee was much more satisfactory from the Salad Bowl committee. The Phoenix city stadium, where the game will be played, seats 19,000.

The Wolf Pack will probably be given a rest from practice after this weekend game against Arizona Tempe game and will resume workouts around December 22.

CHOW CARDS SAID NOT TRANSFERABLE

A notice has been posted on all bulletin boards stating that "chow" cards are non-transferable.

Men and women who formerly loaned their cards to friends when they left town for the weekend, now find that five meals a week will be left untouched at the gow house.

PHI ALPHA THETA INITIATES SEVEN

Seven men were initiated into Phi Alpha Theta, the national honor history fraternity, recently.

Joining the ranks of the fraternity were S. H. Vinocour, Gene Donaldson, Vivian Davis, John Miller, Bill Raggio, Carl Leisure and Kay Stirling.

Wolf-Bulldog Tilt Set for Saturday At Butcher Field

Broken Hand Keeps Hayes Out of Lineup For Game

Putting the cork in a highly successful season, the Nevada Wolf Pack enplanes Saturday morning for Las Vegas, where it will face the Arizona State Bulldogs on Butcher Field the next day.

Sporting an impressive record of seven wins against two defeats, the Wolves' season record includes a win over St. Mary's, and the stretching of their home game winning streak to two years.

When the Wolf Pack met the Bulldogs last year the latter went home with their tails definitely between their legs after absorbing a 7-2 drubbing.

Better Ball Game

This year's fray promises to be much more of a ball game, according to End Coach Dick Evans, who personally scouted the Tempe team when they played against the University of Arizona.

Most lethal offensive threat in the Arizona backfield is Whizzer White, a right halfback, who last year was voted the outstanding high school player in the state of Arizona.

Employing a fast backfield and tricky T formation plays, the Bulldogs alternate their two lines, using the heavier on defense and the lighter, faster line on offense.

Although they dropped the Arizona game 26-13, the Bulldogs led all the way until the fourth quarter, Evans pointed out.

Old Buddy

Sunday's game will hold a special personal interest for Nevada's new football tutor, Joe Sheeketski. Coach Doherty of the Arizona team is an old friend of Sheeketski's, having played ball at Boston College while Sheeketski was coaching at Holy Cross.

Doherty has a fine reputation as a coach and player and, as this is his first year as head coach at Arizona, Sheeketski stated that he is looking forward to a close football game this weekend.

"The team is in fine spirits after the Montana State game and have shown no interest other than in the game with Tempe this Sunday," he added.

Unable to see action this weekend will be Harold Hayes. The lanky Floridian broke his hand in the Montana State game and had to resign his starting berth at left end for the remainder of the season.

Tommy Kalmanir, hustling halfback, sustained a deep gash in his leg the same game, but is expected to be ready for action in Sunday's curtain-dropper.

Sophomore Student Dies Here Saturday

Orson W. Hyde, 27, sophomore arts and science student, died November 22 in Reno.

Hyde was a veteran of World War II and a native of Idaho. He has resided in Reno for over a year. Hyde is survived by his wife, Irene, and their baby daughter.

Funeral services were held at Ross-Burke Co. Tuesday. The body is being taken to Salt Lake City for burial.

Research as Faculty Member Activity Discussed at Recent AAUP Meeting

Research and its importance as an activity of the faculty member was discussed at the Wednesday night meeting of the Nevada chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Opening the discussion with a survey of research activities, as they have been conducted on the campus in recent years, Dr. E. M. Beasley, head of the department of mathematics, presented statistics which showed that research by faculty members had increased considerably in the past 10 or 15 years. He pointed out, however, that research activities had not increased in proportion to the increase in the size of the faculty.

Continuing in the same vein, Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, secretary to the association and chairman of the English department, emphasized three main points:

1. That the university had an obligation to society generally and to the state in carrying its share in scientific and cultural research.
2. That the quality of the student body and reputation of the university would be improved through increased research activity.

3. That research was important in promoting good teaching and in stimulating the quality of classroom discussion.

Dr. Gorrell concluded that the university might benefit directly and materially from federal funds which might be available for research projects.

The method by which research could be stimulated on the campus was discussed by the president of the group, Dr. W. D. Billings, associate professor of biology, who emphasized that the first requirement, if the faculty members were to do good research, would be to decrease the present heavy teaching loads.

He mentioned the advisability of continuing financial assistance for research projects and discussed the desirability of a "research atmosphere" at Nevada as an aid for both students and faculty.

Approximately 35 members attended the monthly meeting of the organization held at the home of Dr. Harry E. Wheeler, 609 Imperial Blvd.

Former Professor Now Surveying In South America

Argentine Congress Hires Church for Computing Andes Snow Depth

"The army, navy and congress of Argentina are eager to have our system of snow-water control employed in their country," said Dr. J. E. Church, meteorologist at the University of Nevada Experimental Station, in a letter sent to his friends at the station recently.

Dr. Church at the present is analyzing the Andes streams from Bolivia to Tierra del Fuego in Argentina to determine the amount of water the country will have by measuring the depth of snow on the mountains. Before his work in South America, Dr. Church finished a project of the same character in India.

In his letter Dr. Church says, "India has been waiting for the data and pictures to complete the publication of the Himalaya snow survey report."

Former Hobby
Dr. Church, who was a former professor of classics here at the university, became interested in the water runoff from snow in our own mountains many years ago. The project that started out as a hobby grew until it became a full time occupation. As his interest grew so did the interest of many prominent people who supported his theories. Today Dr. Church is internationally famous for his work, and has been the guest of honor of many foreign countries.

"The Argentinian marines will take us to Tierra del Fuego and Cape Horn in October, and later we will fly to Chile to plan an international snow survey system," Dr. Church said.

Dr. Church states that the Argentinian government has appropriated a sum of 35,000 pesos (four pesos to an American dollar) for his company to carry out their measurements.

A full winter of work for next year is expected to be carried out by Dr. Church in Manila. He expects to be back in Reno by July of this year.

Aggie Films Draw Large Crowds Over Statewide Area

Nearly 1300 university students have seen movies put out by the University of Nevada agricultural extension service, the group announced recently.

The films, loaned to the college film library by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and by various commercial and philanthropic organizations, cover farm topics, biology, economics, 4-H Club work, geographical subjects, nutrition and health, recreation and first aid, veterans and wild life.

In addition to the university students, 37,000 Nevadans throughout the state were able to see the films through various extension services and clubs.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS INSPECT VAUGHN MILL

Electrical and mechanical engineering students made tours of the Vaughn Mill works on North Valley Road, recently.

Prof. Irving J. Sandorf, head of the electrical engineering department, said that 1928 alumnus, Bernard C. Hartung, showed them through the mill.

Flyin' Furriners Flaunt 'Fine Feathers'

Among the alumni returning every year to the university are the wild Canadian honkers, which may be seen circling the campus in "V" formation and coming in for landings on Manzanita Lake.

Bruce C. Clogston, Washoe county game warden, estimates there are 2000 wild Canadian honkers in Reno at the present time. The present flock, he says, consists of 80 per cent local geese and 20 per cent from other areas.

"Canadian honkers that have been hatched here nearly always come back to Reno's refuge ponds. It is the only wild goose that nests in the United States," Mr. Clogston said.

Blades, Eyes Flash as Lake Freezes, But Joy's Short as Sun Only Teases

The recent freezing weather, which brings groans from countless frost-bitten lips, brings wild delight to at least one group of radicals on the campus.

Cheers are heard from the devotees of the dubious sport of ice skating.

Every day this sinister bunch may be seen leering in the direction of Lake Manzanita, watching the little kids slide about on the thinnish ice.

"It's Swell"

When questioned as to the condition of the ice, one mopper, answering to Tom, said, "It's swell at night, but it gets mushy when the sun shines on it."

He turned to glare at the sun and added, "It's wet where you sit down, too."
The ice seemed quick thick enough to support Tom's 100 pounds. The Sagebrush reporter's 200 pounds proved too much for it, however—entirely too much.

Early Ice

Dean R. S. Griffin said that the ice was early this year. It usually freezes around the end of December, he stated, and lasts until the next snow.

The fire department was happy about the weather. Last year they flooded the lake to allow a smooth surface to freeze. The skaters couldn't wait though, and ruined it before the water was well frozen. "We like to cooperate," firemen said, "but we don't like to feel that we are wasting our time."

The weather department doesn't even like to cooperate. "Oh that will all melt," was all they had to say about Lake Manzanita.

The geese wandering around on the ice looking for nicks, didn't have anything to say.

Experimental Plot Of Ecology Class Near Vet Houses

That small section of ground north of Victory Heights surrounded by stout posts and barbed wire is nothing more than an experimental plot of the plant ecology class in botany.

Dr. W. D. Billings, associate professor of biology, said that the new site was chosen after the navy announced its intention to construct a naval armory on the original experimental plot.

As soon as the fences are finished and the recording instruments reinstalled, work and study on the growth of range plants and grasses will be resumed.

Rigid Penalties Await Frosh Gals For Violations

The student body senate will be asked to deprive the ASUN privileges of freshman women who constantly violate university traditions.

Roberta Butler, chairman of the women's upperclass committee, announced today that the proposal would be brought before the first senate meeting in December.

Miss Butler said that the upperclass women's committee has decided that the cancellation of ASUN privileges is one of the best means to oppose constant tradition violations by freshman class women.

In order to have the student body cards withdrawn the senate must first approve such action by at least a three-fourths vote. Upperclass committee women will speak before the senate to support the motion.

Scheduled to appear before the next meeting of the women's upperclass committee are several freshman women who are charged with violation of university traditions. Should these women not be able to give satisfactory explanations for their behavior, they will be named before the senate for the action deemed necessary.

Future Rembrandts Sketch Landscapes

A series of field trips are being taken by J. Craig Sheppard's drawing classes.

The naval armory building and a local lumber mill was sketched by the classes.

Indoor charcoal drawings may be attempted by the class when weather no longer permits frequent work out of doors, said the instructor.

PEPPERS TO SPORT SNAPPY OUTFITS

Uniforms for the Blue Peppers, when they arrive, will consist of a white "Eisenhower" jacket, blue skirt, blue garrison cap with white piping, white socks and white saddle shoes with blue trimming, a spokesman for the Blue Peppers announced today.

The only change needed for formal dress will be substituting black shoes for the regular white.

Tea and cookies were served.

Tri-Delt Banquet Honor Founders

Tri-Delts held their annual Founders' Day banquet last night at the Trocadero. The sorority was founded on Thanksgiving eve, 1888, in Boston, Massachusetts, and each year local Tri-Delt members celebrate the occasion with a banquet.

Talks on different phases of Delta Delta Delta were presented by four members. Charlotte Bearss sang popular songs, accompanied by Gloria Mapes, who also played other selections on the piano.

Banquet Chairman Jane Ray was assisted in arrangements by a committee including Pat Royle, Darleen Jones, Barbara Carter, Lois Cobia, and Billie Kennedy.

Following the banquet, Alpha Tau Omega fraternity gave a social for the Tri-Delts. Each girl, as she entered the Tau house, drew a number from a box. The boy holding the corresponding number then danced the first and last dance with that girl. Refreshments were served.

SADDLE 'N SPURS ALTERING RULES

Three revisions to the Saddle and Spurs constitution are being drawn by a Saddle and Spurs committee, Miss Billie Kennedy, president, announced today. Proposed modification will concern requirements for entrance, status of provisional members and attendance.

If the revisions are approved by the riding club's members, the constitution will provide first, that a tryee must display good sportsmanship as well as the ability to handle horses; second, members whose riding ability is questioned will be required to take riding another semester and they will not be allowed to appear in parades or public shows; and third, members will be suspended from the club if they miss three consecutive meetings without valid excuses.

ANDERSON AND HUTTON

Carol Anderson, senior Pi Beta Phi, and Richard Hutton of Los Angeles are engaged. Miss Anderson accepted an engagement ring last weekend.

Social Code Discussed During Meeting Of Campus Organization Presidents

The social code of the University of Nevada was thoroughly discussed and some slight changes made at a meeting of the presidents of various campus social organizations held recently, according to Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men.

All sections of the code were thoroughly gone over, for two reasons: to see whether any changes in the code were needed, and to acquaint the new social group presidents with the code.

It was decided that socials which required complete membership attendance would not be scheduled on any weekend night. This decision was made to avoid interfering with any individual's private plans over the weekend.

Invitational Basis

Major social events such as the interfraternity dance, and the military ball, sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, may still be held on an invitational basis, despite the student senate's action last year in limiting the number of all school affairs to four; the junior prom, the Homecoming dance, the senior ball, and the Mackay Day dance.

However, the calendar committee is not compelled to schedule these social functions so as to avoid competition from other dances, as was the former practice. The calendar committee may, however, if it deems possible and advisable, undertake to secure a favorable date for such major social functions, Dean Griffin said.

The senate's reason for limiting the number of all school dances to four was an effort to assure the success of a few affairs by cutting down the number of such social events, Dean Griffin said.

The section prohibiting women students from visiting the living quarters of men students at any time other than luncheon or dinner engagements, or recognized and supervised social affairs such as dances, was emphasized, as was the section of the code concerning chaperoning of all mixed social events, Dean Griffin stated.

No Lone Wolves

It was decided that no individuals are to be permitted to organize and sponsor any social events on their own initiative. All social affairs are to be sponsored by a recognized group, Dean Griffin said.

Parking regulations and other traffic controls on the campus were discussed. All organization heads agreed their groups would attempt to secure more complete cooperation of their members in enforcing these regulations. Only a few on the campus have caused any difficulty, and it was urged by some of the people present, that if necessary, the administration resort to drastic means to bring these few violators into line, Dean Griffin said.

SADDLE AND SPURS INITIATES AND DINES

An initiation and dinner for eight successful Saddle and Spurs tryees was held Sunday, 6 pm, at the Deer Head Lodge, Billie Kennedy, president, announced today.

Women who qualified for Saddle and Spurs membership are Beverly Minor, Ruth Irwin, Ethel Miller, Fay Fryberger, Marjorie Friend, Jackie Wilson, Jackie Sirkegian and Vivian Arndell. Miss Marjorie Price, faculty advisor for the Women's Recreation Association of which Saddle and Spurs is a branch, will be initiated as an honorary member.

LARGE TURNOUT MARKS FROSH CAGE OPENING

Fifty-one ball players turned out for freshman basketball at the first practice last week. Among them are Don Fister and Galen Evans, all western conference stars from Fallon, Robert Collet, all state star from Hawthorne, Horace Smith, first string forward on the 1947 all state "B" team, and Buddy Hardy, all state first string forward from Las Vegas.

No cuts have been made in the squad as yet and only four practices have been held so far.

Only part of a schedule has been drawn up. It includes games with Chico State frosh on December 5 and 6, Lassen Junior College on January 16 and 17, Placer College on December 22, Sparks High School on January 3, Reno High School on February 25 and Carson City High School on an unspecified date. Challenges are sent out to all western Nevada high schools according to Coach Jake Lawlor.

More will be known about the schedule when more schools accept the challenges and make dates.

Macaulay Gets Bird For Sharpshooting At Rifle Shoot

Tom Macaulay was the only student who won a turkey in the Rifle Club's Thanksgiving turkey shoot Friday evening.

More than 60 students and townspeople entered the contest, said Betty Rice, president of the club. Invaders from the Reno Rifle Club took home seven of the eight turkeys, she added.

The winning shooters were Lee Darran, Cliff Webb, Milton Stearns, Sr., Milton Stearns, Jr., Ed Stauts, C. C. Bull and Macaulay.

Another turkey shoot will be held the week before Christmas, Miss Rice stated.

There's Snow Time Like the Present For Ski Schedule

First ski meet of the season in which the University of Nevada ski team will take part will be on January 4. The meet is being put on by the U of N Ski Club and is under the direction of Pete Galli.

Invitations will be sent to the following ski clubs to enter the meet: Reno, Carson, Truckee, Douglas and Tahoe. There will be four events, slalom, down hill, cross country, and jumping with each event to have both class A and B divisions and the same number of awards given in each class.

Warrent Hart, coach of the Nevada team, will set the courses and the meet is to be held at the White Hills ski area, on Spooners summit.

PACK TRACKS

By Bill McFarland

It will be salad time in Phoenix, Arizona, New Year's Day and Nevada's Wolf Pack will be having some of same come January 1.

The Wolves have accepted a bid to be home team in the latest of post-season games, the Salad Bowl.

At this writing, no opponent for the Silver and Blue has been named. However, the Phoenix Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the Salad Bowl, have several deals in the fire.

Still in the running to oppose the Renoites is Oklahoma, Hardin Simmons, Texas Tech, Texas Christian, and Idaho.

Any one of those would be a top-notch drawing card against Nevada. Although, it isn't one of the "biggest," the Salad Bowl has potentialities for a very auspicious debut.

Tempe Troublesome

Coach Joe Sheeketski and his boys are quite enthused over coming New Year's festivities, but the only bowl they have on their minds right now is bowling over Arizona State of Tempe in Las Vegas Sunday.

Tempe took a drubbing up here last year, but the same fate doesn't appear this time. I think the Wolves will win alright, however, it isn't gonna be easy.

The Grand Canyon Bulldogs are much improved over last fall and it would give them no end of pleasure to dump a bowl-bound Wolf Pack.

Incidentally, don't forget Nevada's first basketball game against the strong Sacramento Senators Saturday night, November 29, in the new gym.

Every year the California capitol sends up a very strong hoop squad to play the Wolves. This year will be no exception.

It's rumored that Jimmy Reese, the little guy who played plenty of basketball for Wyoming against the Wolves last season, is shootin' them for the Sacs.

Drop in and get Jake Lawlor's boys off to a good start with an abundance of vocal support.

On the hill it's "hello."

Coach Selected To Help Choose All-Americans

Coach Joe Sheeketski was recently named by the American Coaches Association, to help in the selection of an All-American football team to be published in a December issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

E. E. Wieman, president of the association, said that there are only two members of last year's All-American team still playing college football, George Connor and Johnny Lujack of Notre Dame, and there is no guarantee they'll make places on this year's team.

At present, each coach named to aid in the picking of the team, nominates each week from the players he sees, the two or three he considers likely All-American material. The information is assembled and distributed to members of the Football Coaches Association for their study.

At the season's end, the coaches vote for the 11 best players on the basis of the information thus assembled and what they have seen themselves. Being more analytical than sentimental, the coaches choose their All-Americans for their skill, team play, versatility and durability, just as they would pick their own starting lineup for the "big game," Wieman said.

Education by Mail Benefits Nevadans

Nevada taxpayers are getting more service from the University of Nevada than they might assume.

Dr. M. W. Deming, director of correspondence, revealed this week that of the total of 161 courses being given to correspondence students for the present six month period, only 15 of the students are not in the state of Nevada. Consequently, Dr. Deming added, Nevada residents are the principal beneficiaries of this type of education.

The correspondence program has been expanded recently to offer courses given by more departments. In addition to the courses already offered, the department of geology, journalism, botany, home economics, geography and the school of education are including new courses. A few subjects which are no longer applied for have been dropped.

Dr. Deming is now preparing the new correspondence catalogue and hopes to have it completed and approved in approximately one month.

Season Ticket Sale To Faculty Starts, Says McDonnell

Season tickets for reserved seat at the 1947-48 home basketball games have gone on sale to all faculty and staff members, announced graduate manager Joe T. McDonnell. The tickets will be sold at reduced rates of $10 apiece and each member is limited to the purchase of two tickets.

McDonnell made a point of stating that the tickets will not be valid until the Bittners game on December 17. Regular prices will be charged at the Sacramento game on November 29, he added.

Any faculty or staff members on the university payroll who have not received applications for the ticket sale are requested to pick them up at his office, stated McDonnell.

GROUPS CAN GET GYM ANNOUNCES PE HEAD

Beginning December 1, the gymnasium will be open for the use of any campus individuals, organizations or groups on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, J. E. Martie, PE department head, announced today.

Interested parties are advised to contact Martie now for reservations and arrangement of time. A man will be at the gym on these afternoons to keep order.

DANIELS SENDS CUTS TO SALES PERSONNEL

Rex Daniels, alumni director, announced recently that checks for commissions on the sale of tickets for the prizes at Homecoming were mailed to the fraternity and sorority houses this week.

Sigma Nu lead the fraternities in the number of tickets sold while Kappa Alpha Theta won the honors for the ladies, Daniels said.

Wolf Hoopsters Take to Court Saturday Night

Strong Sacramento Senators Oppose Pack in 8:15 Curtain Raiser

By Pete Pridden
Raising the curtain on Nevada's 1947-48 basketball season, the Wolf Pack quintet will meet the Sacramento Senators at the local gymnasium Saturday night at 8:15. A preliminary contest will precede the varsity game at 7:30.

Coach Jake Lawlor has guided his squad through daily workouts since the middle of October in an effort to ready his hoopsters for the invading Senators. Basketball fans will recall the narrow margin of victory that the Lawlormen held over the Sacramento club in last year's fracas.

While the Senators have virtually the same team they had last year, the Pack will enter the fray without the services of former All-American Bob O'Shaughnessy and their high-scoring forward Jim Melarkey. Coach Lawlor will pin his hopes on Lou Joseph, a newcomer to the U. of N., and Jim Mackay, former Nevada letterman, to replace the graduated first fivers. Bill Moylan, Hal Fisher, Grant Davis, who completed last year's first five, are back to hold down starting positions again.

Leading the "Politicians," attack, will be Gordon Geritsen, who was selected second string All-American at the national AAU basketball tournament in Denver, Colo., last year. At the other guard will be Tony Bragnitz, who was the top scorer in last year's game.

Additional seats have been

Nevada Grad Gets Journalism Award From Eisenhower

Robert Miller, Nevada journalism graduate in 1938, and now roving world correspondent for the United Press, will receive the "Medal of Freedom" award which Gen. Dwight Eisenhower will present at a National Press Club luncheon in Washington.

The medal will acknowledge the "exceptionally meritorious achievements of these correspondents in covering the invasion and liberation of European countries."

Mr. Miller served as a war correspondent during the invasion of Guadalcanal and was in on the invasion of Europe. He was wounded at Verdun. He recently returned to London from India where he reported the rioting of the Moslems and Hindus.

ASPHALT CONVENTION STYMIES ASCE MEET

A civil engineering asphalt convention in Reno last week stymied the ASCE's from having a speaker at a meeting of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

After the convention started, said President John Witte, the ASCE's were unable to obtain a speaker because most all the civil engineers were attending the asphalt meeting.

CHEM CLUB INITIATES TEN NEW MEMBERS

In a wild and informal ceremony, 10 students were initiated into the Chemistry Club last Wednesday night.

The 10 new members are Stanley Smith, Eli Evasovic, Lyman Linfesty, Guy Cardinali, Bob Campbell, Bert Tannenbaum, Jim McFarland, Don Lyman, Gen Swick and Frank Crescenzo.

acquired by university authorities, which will increase the gym capacity by several hundred. The preliminary contest will probably see the U. of N. frosh oppose a team selected from the city league.

Probable Starting Lineups
Wolf Pack: Grant Davis, F; Lou Joseph, F; Hal Fisher, C; Bill Moylan, G; Jim Mackay G.
Senators: Roy Tamm, F; Sam Alaimo, F; Don Delaney, C; Gordon Geritsen G; Tony Bragnitz, G.

Taus Take Over Number One Spot In Volleyball Race

Concentrating on fowls rather than fouts this week, intramural athletes saw action on only one afternoon, Monday.

ATO volleyballers turned back the men of Phi Sig 15-0 and 15-11 to go out in front in the win, loss column. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, idle this week, dropped to second place by virtue of the Tau win.

Theta Chi changed places with vanquished Phi Sig and Sigma Rho Delta by taking a forfeit win over the Sigma Rhos.

Play will get under way again next Wednesday when the Independents take on Lambda Chi and Sigma Nu meets SAE. Both games are scheduled to begin at 4 pm.

Thursday night at 7 pm, ATO meets Lambda Chi and Sigma Nu exchanges spikes with Sigma Rho Delta.

Reno Photographer Speaks to Artists

Ernie Mack, Reno sports photographer, spoke at a Fine Arts Club meeting Monday night. Mack, a U of N graduate, will display pictures of ski scenes in the exhibit room in the Fine Arts building next week.

Problems of snow and skiing photography were discussed by Mack before the meeting. Infra-red film and its advantages in this type of photography were mentioned.

The exhibit will be open Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 pm.

Lambda Chi Initiates Seven New Members

Lambda Chi Alpha population was increased recently when seven pledges were initiated into regular membership. Those receiving their active pins were John Foley, Drake Delaney, John Sawyer, Bob Drown, Nello Gonfiantini, Andrew Gialy and Harry Ward.

Following the initiation, a banquet was held at the Trocadero. Dr. Ernest Inwood presided as toastmaster and the alumni speakers were Lyle Roush, Roger Foley and John Gent.

A post-banquet party met at the Studio Bar on Third street to top off the festivities, as has been the custom for the past four years.

About the "new look." We think that there's too much cloth between the hem and her.

Former Student Appointed Coach Of Boxing Team

Collegiate boxing for the University of Nevada was insured continuance last week when the athletic board appointed Cliff Devine as boxing coach.

The sport was resumed after an interval of 15 years, last season under the coaching of Jim Bailey, who resigned from the university coaching staff early last summer and entered business in Salt Lake City.

Joe Sheeketski, athletic director, said that a schedule will be worked up and that some schools have already corresponded for dual meets when the season starts late in the winter.

Devine, who is federal probation officer for this district, is a former Nevada student from Sparks. He boxed on the outstanding varsity teams in 1930-31. In his senior year he was captain of the team.

"We'll win our share," he assured the board. "I'm very pleased with the opportunity. There are some promising boys around and we'll encourage a lot of others to try out."

The first call for candidates will be sounded after Thanksgiving vacation. The new coach plans a long period of conditioning and training in fundamentals of boxing, before launching the team into regular collegiate competition.

On the hill it's "hello."

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS SHOWN MOVIES OF RADAR AND SONAR

"Echos in War and Peace" was the name of the film to be shown at the November 25 meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Dan Rice, chairman of the group, announced today.

The film pictured and described the basic principles of radar and sonar.

Before the showing of the movie a regular business meeting was held at 4 pm in room 101 of the Electrical Engineering building, Rice added.

Scoop From Group Announced by Lee To Veterans Planning to Quit School

"Thirty veterans have dropped from the University of Nevada so far this semester," announced Keith Lee, veterans counselor, recently.

"Veterans who have dropped and those who think that they may drop, should consider the following notices posted by the veterans administration," Lee added.

Student veterans who drop out of school and colleges before completing their course are cautioned by the veterans administration that they will have to comply with more strict requirements to get a VA certificate to reenter training under the GI bill.

VA explained that veterans must have a supplemental certificate of eligibility when they change from one school or training establishment to another.

Establish Evidence
A veteran who of his own volition interrupts his training at a time other than at the end of a term, semester or training period, will not be issued such a certificate until he establishes satisfactory evidence that:

(a) His interruption resulted from good cause, i.e., illness, economic conditions, or other circumstances beyond his control.

(b) The institution or establishment in which he was training is willing to re-accept him as a student or trainee.

"Veterans who hope to complete their studies overseas should study the following bulletin issued by the VA," says Lee.

World War II veterans deciding to study overseas may be able to qualify for benefits under the Fulbright Act and the GI bill at the same time, veterans administration ruled this week.

As a result, World War II veterans qualifying for foreign study under both laws may receive benefits allowed them under the Fulbright Act as supplemental to the benefits provided by the GI bill, VA said.

Under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI bill), World War II veterans may study in a VA approved foreign educational institution under the same provisions that apply to study in a college or university in the United States. However, the veterans must arrange for their own passports, visas, transportation overseas, and admission fees to the institution they select.

Can Study Abroad
The Fulbright Act (Public Law 584, 79th Congress) provides for grants in aid to American students for study abroad or to foreign students for study in this country. It authorizes the Department of State to enter into agreements with foreign governments to use foreign currencies and credits, acquired through the sale of surplus property abroad, to defray the costs of the program.

The act also provides that veterans of World War I and II be given preference by the 10-man board of foreign scholar-

Chapel Chimes Dances Feature Weekend Whirl

By Tom Cunniffe

Thanksgiving Day, Wesley Foundation members will present a special musicale at 6 pm at the First Methodist Church. Robert Tate, violin, Nona Lee Tuttle, contralto, Robert L. Garrellson, baritone, and Louis Hilbert on the piano will be featured at this affair. Supper intermission will be at 7 pm. A movie "Child of Bethlehem," will follow at 7:30 pm. All students from other clubs are invited as are all other interested students and lovers of music.

The Newman Club held their discussion hour last Wednesday in the English seminar but will postpone today's with most members going home for the holidays. Jeri Lyons is in charge of this group which will resume next Wednesday at 4 pm.

Live Yers which include YWCA and YMCA members are holding a sports night on Friday. The club will feature a "splash" party and a dance later in the evening. The volleyball team also meets that evening. In the past the Live Yers have held discussions and expect to continue them in future gatherings.

Jerome Marks, president of the Roger Williams Club, reports that his club has been invited to the Wesley Foundation Thanksgiving affair and will be there en masse. The Roger Williams church group meets every Sunday night at 7 pm at the First Baptist Church.

The Canterbury Club will not hold its usual Thursday night meeting and discussion group. Recently the members held an open debate dwelling on topics of moral and social significance. The title of the topic was "Free Love." Members expect to continue discussion on this in future meetings.

Note of interest to religious club members and clergymen in this area, is an article that appeared in last week's American Weekly about Rev. Garreth Hughes who is a member of the English department at the university. In early life Rev. Hughes was a movie star.

The article stated that he left his profession for theological training and is now a pastor at a church in Wadsworth. The article went on to quote Rev. Hughes as saying, "I'm playing the biggest role in my life."

ENGINEER SPEAKS

Bartlett Dunn, regional planning engineer of the Reno area, spoke on "city planning" at a meeting of the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers recently.

ships which awards the study grants.

Persons desiring information on the program may obtain it from the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C.

Three school dances were held this past weekend with the junior prom, the Hoosier's farmers frolic and the Pi Phi's barn dance making up the social program.

Dancing to Larry Chapman's orchestra, a capacity crowd of 400 attended the junior prom, an annual affair. The dance was held Saturday night at the State building auditorium and a Thanksgiving harvest ball theme was used for decorations. Bill Gillis, junior class manager, was chairman of the affair.

Friday night the Hoosier barn dance featured a hayride to the California building at Idlewild park, the location of the dance. At the dance Arthur Murray provided a floor show and couples danced to Johnny Whitemire's music.

A similar affair was held by the Pi Phi's at their house on Friday night. The basement of the sorority house was covered with hay to give it that leave-the-door-open-you're-in-a-barn atmosphere.

INSPECTOR SPEAKS ON NEVADA MINING

Arthur E. Barnard, Nevada state mine inspector, gave a talk on "Present day mining activities in the state of Nevada" to a meeting of the Crucible Club recently.

The Crucible Club is an affiliated club of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, of which Barnard is a member. Prior to his appointment as state mining inspector, Barnard was assistant mine inspector for a number of years.

FINE ARTS MAJOR LOOMS, SAYS JOSLIN

A major in fine arts is likely to be offered next year, declared Mrs. Helen Joslin, art department head. Mrs. Joslin said that up to this year the fine arts department has lacked enough instructors to qualify for a major.

With this year's addition of associate professor John C. Sheppard, the staff should be complete.

Freehand drawing classes for engineers have been resumed this year under Sheppard. This course enables an engineer to draw impromptu sketches of machinery.

WRA SPORTS DINNER

A sports dinner was the theme of the recent WRA initiation. Women who have received credit for riding or volleyball became members, said Doris Hanssen, publicity manager for WRA.
