NEVADA READY FOR EAGLES OF NORTH TEXAS

New Policy In Making For Recreation Center

Steady Violators Will Have Names Publicly Disclosed

A new policy is in the making, and will probably greet those making use of the student center when they return to the campus January 5, 1948.

Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, and Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, said today a policy of publicity disclosing names of persistent violators of student center rules is before the student health committee for approval. The policy should be ready to go into effect the first school day of the new year.

At the same time an hourly policing plan will also be put into operation. Every day at the hours of 9, 10 and 11 in the morning, students will be asked to clean up about them.

Prices May Be Upped

If this plan doesn't, say the deans, extra janitors will have to be employed. This will mean that prices on all items will be raised, and probably will lead to closing the recreation area for good.

Once the clean-up movement is started, the students will fall into line, stated the deans. However, they said, there always seem to be a certain percentage of a group that just won't conform to any given regulations. These are the ones we're going to make it hard on.

The new policy calls for violators of the student center rules of cleanliness being warned once, twice and the third time having their names submitted to the student affairs committee for action.

Names To Be Published

The violators' names will also be placed on the bulletin board in the student center, and will be published in the student publication, the Sagebrush. Student opinion should do the rest.

In keeping with the clean-up program, declared the spokesmen, eight sand cans will be installed in the basement center over the vacation, and will be ready for use the first week in January.

They added that a dietician has been employed and will supervise the student center's snack bar from 9 to 12 noon every day it is open.

CLASS SCHEDULES OUT AFTER FIRST OF YEAR

Class schedules for the spring semester should be out shortly after the first of the year, Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar, said yesterday.

Artemisia Pleads For Senior Data

All senior histories should be in to the Artemisia office before Christmas vacation, Doris Hanssen, Artemisia editor, said today.

This applies to all seniors, whether or not their pictures are to appear in the 1948 publication, Miss Hanssen said.

Veteran Students Get Absence Leave Between Semesters

All veterans attending the university full time under the GI bill will be granted leave automatically at the end of this semester unless they notify the veterans administration that they do not desire this leave.

According to a recent veterans administration circular, this request must be made at least 30 days prior to the end of the semester.

The veterans administration adopted this new policy in order that veterans' subsistence payments will remain unbroken during the short period between semesters.

This leave, if taken, will be charged against the veteran's entitlement. If any veteran desires to forego this leave privilege in order to make full use of his entitlement for an actual study period, it is imperative that he file his request with veterans administration 30 days before the end of the current semester.

Three Fraternities Will Remain Open During Holidays

Three fraternity houses will remain open during the Christmas vacation. Closing for the holidays will be Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Nu and Phi Sigma Nu and Phi Sigma Kappa.

Skiers from the University of California will be housed at the Lambda Chi Alpha house for several days during vacation. Lambda Chi's who will remain on campus include Dale Riley, George Beaman, Tommy Thompson and Mike Galli.

House improvements are planned by Theta Chi's during the Yuletide season. Bob Tognoni, Jerry Wetzel and Norman Hoover of the house residents will take charge of improvement work, with the assistance of Reno members.

No meals will be served at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, but several members will remain there. Roger Brander, Bob Larsen, Bill Moylan, Pat O'Brien, Buzz Etchieto, Art Gory, Dick Korb, Tom Gaffey, and Johnny Holloway will keep the SAE house fires burning.

Regents Seeking Mess Hall Expert As Probe Result

Impressed by the ASUN improvement committee's testimony on results of the dining hall probe last Saturday, the board of regents decided to immediately seek the employment of an expert at dining hall management to make a thorough investigation of the university dining hall. Swift action will follow that expert's recommendations of changes, said President John O. Moseley.

The primary object of the improvement committee appearing before the regents was to appeal for such an investigation, stated chairman Henry Stewart. We consider that endeavor a complete success, he added.

The committee appeared before the regents last Saturday at 11 am, as scheduled. Stewart was the principal spokesman for the committee, other members testifying upon their individual findings.

Present at the hearing were the board of regents, President Moseley, the improvement committee, Comptroller Charles Gorman, James Grayson, head of the dining hall, Jeff Springmeyer, head of the legislative council, Dean of Men Robert Griffin, Dean of Women Elaine Mobley, Art Palmer, assistant to the administrative council, Alvin McGill and Bob Trego, reporters from the Reno newspapers.

Upperclass Women Punish Violators

Roberta Butler, chairman of the women's upperclass committee, has announced that the three women violators who continued to ignore posted notices to report to the committee have finally been punished.

Due to the continued boycotting of the committee meeting by one woman the committee voted to go before the senate to recommend taking away the student rights of the trio. However, further investigation by the committee revealed the three were Reno residents and had neglected to read the bulletin board, hence missing the posted notices.

YWCA Replacement Still Being Sought

A YWCA secretary to replace Barbara Pinjuv, whose resignation becomes official this week, has not been found, said Miss Alice Terry, secretary of the president.

Miss Edith Lerrigo, YWCA secretary located in Los Angeles, informed the president's office that applicants for the position may be hard to find until the end of the semester.

A temporary arrangement may be made till February 1, said Miss Terry.

MAD TURK

New Year's Day marks the last time Jordan Eliades will wear the Silver and Blue. Against the Eagles of North Texas State, the great defensive back, who has also had his moments packing the pigskin, closes out four years of spirited competition.

Campus 'Pitcher' May Star Jeanne

Miss Jeanne Crain, 20th Century Fox starlet, may again play the lead in a movie made on the campus, President John O. Moseley's office announced yesterday.

This would be the second time Miss Crain has starred in a picture made on the University of Nevada campus. The first movie featuring her was 20th Century's "Margarita," a technicolor portrayal of high school life, which was made during the fall semester of 1946.

The movie, tentatively entitled "An Apartment for Peggy," will deal with the problems of finding living quarters for college students.

Nearly 150 students will be employed for various reasons during the actual filming of the movie. Announcement of employment will be made at a later date by the president's office.

The rest of the cast has not been announced, Miss Alice Terry, secretary to the president, said.

BARBS SKATE TONIGHT; DANCE JANUARY FIFTH

The Independent organization is planning a social for all unaffiliated students to be held Monday evening January 5, President Macaulay announced today.

The social will be from 8 to 9 pm in the basement of Stewart hall.

There will be an ice skating party tonight for all Barbs who are still in Reno.

Money, Money! Who Lost the Money?

Did you lose your subsistence this month? Do you have holes in your pockets? Did you overtip the ground squirrel who carried away your empty bottles?

It all boils down to this: Someone found some money and turned it over to Mrs. Jeanette C. Rhodes, registrar, where it is waiting forlornly for someone to claim it.

Mrs. Rhodes said the owner may have same by stating the amount.

A last observation — the line was a block long.

Springfield Team To Meet Wolves Here On Monday

Springfield College of Springfield, Mass., moves into Reno Monday night to play Nevada in the first of five holiday basketball games scheduled for the Wolf Pack.

The Maroons from New England are expected to field a colorful quintet coached by John W. Brunn, who formerly coached the great Stanford teams of the 30's.

Hank Luisetti, one of college basketball's immortals, won fame under the guidance of Brunn at Stanford.

Brunn's success continued at Springfield where he turns out strong teams yearly. This year's squad is tabbed as a dark horse in the east. Four returning lettermen form the nucleus of this season's aggregation.

Scoring Punch

Sharpshooter Bob Hazen offers the scoring punch of the eastern visitors. The six foot forward is reputed to be deadly accurate from any angle.

Teaming with Hazen at the other forward position is Shig Murao, speedster and ball hawk.

Big Joe Kubachka, six foot four inch center is rebound and tip-in expert for the Maroons. Playmakers in the back court are guard John Burke and John Barker. Both are set shot specialists and particularly effective with their long range shots.

Following Monday night's encounter with the Wolves, Springfield travels to San Francisco for a game with Hank Luisetti's Borlo Athletic Club.

Theta Chi Throws Year's Last Social

Members and pledges of Theta Chi fraternity held an informal get-together at the fraternity house last night.

The affair was the last social function on the fraternity schedule until after the Christmas vacation.

The pledges who lost an inter-house softball game to the members, were furnished the refreshments as a forfeit.

Wolf Pack Takes to Gridiron Again Sharpening for Salad Bowl Contest

Class Dismissal Begins Saturday

Classes will be dismissed for Christmas vacation at noon, Saturday, December 20, it was announced today from President John O. Moseley's office.

Dormitories will be closed during the two week vacation, but will open Saturday morning, January 3.

Instruction will resume Monday at 8 am, January 5.

Don't Drop Dead! Get a Firm Grip! Artemisia Arrives

Flash! The 1947 Artemisia will be ready for distribution this afternoon!

Students may pick up their yearbooks will also be distributed at the ASUN building. The yearbooks will also be distributed January 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9.

Fall semester students of 1946 who did not return to school in the spring of 1947 will be required to pay $2.50 before receiving their yearbooks. Students who attended only the spring semester last year must pay $1.50.

After months of waiting, mixed with students' complaints, the 1947 Artemisia was finally finished and sent from San Francisco yesterday, Doris Hanssen, 1948 yearbook editor, announced today.

Graduate Manager Warns Bowl Fans, 'Get Tickets Now'

Students planning to root for Nevada at the Salad Bowl game in Phoenix on New Year's Day are advised to buy reserved seat tickets before going there, stated Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager.

From a late poll taken by the Sagebrush it was found that at least 30 fraternity and sorority members plan to attend the game.

McDonnell said that of the 104 tickets sold at his office thus far, only one was bought by a student. The game has been given much publicity and students who wait to buy tickets at the bowl will be sadly disappointed if all are sold out at Phoenix, which may happen, he added.

For those who aren't driving to the game, the Bonanza Air Lines will fly passengers to Phoenix on a chartered flight on the morning of Jan. 1 and will return that same night. The price is $64 for a round trip if all seats are taken.

SAE WINS TRI-DELT

Lois Soucek, Tri-Delt pledge, has announced her engagement to Bill Nugent, SAE member.

Running, formation drill and play calling were the order of the week for Nevada's pigskin stalwarts.

Keeping his team "sharp" and in condition for the coming New Year's Day tilt with North Texas State is the primary concern of football coach Joe Sheeketski these days.

Workouts were resumed last Thursday and will continue until Saturday for those members of the team remaining at the university.

Many of the players plan to go home for the holidays, said Sheeketski. They will all leave their respective homes in order to reach Phoenix by December 28.

No Workout Site

No definite site has been set for practice in Phoenix. Sheeketski said he presumed that his team would work out at the stadium.

The team will stay at the Jokake Inn, located in Phoenix.

When questioned about the Texas team, Sheeketski pointed out that the Texans had a very impressive record. They beat a good team in Florida, and outplayed in many instances the Arkansas eleven which handed them their only defeat of the season.

This will be Coach Sheeketski's first bowl trip.

Extending his thanks to the student body for its splendid support during the season, Sheeketski said he hoped that all those students who are unable to be with the team in person would be there in spirit on New Year's Day.

Probable starting lineup for the Wolf Pack:

LE, Orlich; LT, Carlson; LG, Sinofsky; C, Corley; RG, Tilton; RT, Leon; RE, Beasley; QB, Heath; LHB, Kalmanir; RHF, Trachok; FB, Zeno.

Students Informed Controversial Area Strictly for Staff

The parking zone north of the Electrical Engineering building and south of the parking sign has been causing a little controversy, stated John Witte, head of the campus parking commission. Witte made plain the area was strictly for the staff.

Witte continued stating, "students see a clear spot there and park. Actually," he said, "Dean Palmer, dean of the engineering college canvassed the staffs of the electrical engineering building and of the Mackay School of Mines and found that only 11 cars brought onto the campus by that section of the staff, park in that area."

Parking commissioner Witte added there is enough designated parking space for the staff and if they insist on parking in student areas they would be tagged just as though a student were parking in the staff area.

Regents Look Gift Horse in Mouth; Can't Decide About Racetrack Land

By Roger Olmsted

The only certainty in the proposal that the University of Nevada take over the Reno racetrack grounds is that the whole deal is uncertain.

The land, owned by the state board of agriculture, was offered the university for use as an experimental farm in September, stated Alice Terry, secretary to the president. Located on Alameda, avenue, the grounds encompass between 30 and 80 acres of grass and weeds.

After thinking it all over, the board of regents decided that they had better think it over some more. Nobody was quite sure of the acreage. The distance from the other university farms was thought excessive. It appeared that it might be some time before a paying crop could be produced.

The board of regents is still thinking it over.

When questioned about details of the proposal, Silas Ross, chairman of the board, said that Dr. Charles H. Gorman, controller, was the man to see. He has all of the figures, said the chairman.

Dr. Gorman said that the whole problem was very complicated and that he didn't know anything about it.

Presidential secretary Terry said that if the board of regents didn't know anything, she didn't either.

On the other hand, the Washoe County Memorial Association does know something. It wants to lease the grounds for an auditorium and rodeo plant.

Extension Meet Hears Aggie Talk About Department

Organization of the University of Nevada agricultural plant and services that can be rendered to ranchers and homemakers of Nevada by the agricultural department, was the topic of a speech given by V. E. Scott, director of residence teaching, at an extension conference held in the Education building December 8.

The organization of the University of Nevada agricultural plant is composed of four distinct agencies within the university and several agencies outside, said Scott.

On the campus these are the college of agriculture, experiment station, extension service and the food and drug laboratory. Agencies affiliated with, but not a part of the university are state department of agriculture, U. S. soil conservation service, Nevada state farm bureau, and several other whose names identify the type of service rendered and which are not duplicated.

Regents Accept Alum Association As Drive Backers

The recent offer of the Alumni Association to sponsor a drive to raise money for a student union building on the campus was accepted by the board of regents at a meeting of the two groups this week, announced Rex Daniels, alumni director.

The only reservation asked by the board of regents, said Daniels, was that the plans and specifications of the building and its location be left to their approval.

Measures approved by the regents were: (1) the board of regents accept the building, (2) allow the association to determine the name of the structure, (3) permit the Alumni Association to be the coordinating body of the program. They also asked that the regents allow the association to establish a student union fund.

Definite plans for the raising of funds for the new building will be formulated at a meeting of the Alumni Association in January, Daniels added.

Printing Equipment Set Up for 'News Editing' Class Use

To help teach journalism students to understand the mechanics of publishing, printing equipment has been set up in the Journalism building and will be used in journalism 52, news editing, next semester.

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, chairman of the journalism department, said today that the equipment, which has been stored during the war years, consists of three presses of various sizes, several other pieces of printing machinery and 150 assortments of type.

"The thing we will try to achieve in the course will be the understanding of printing processes, measurements, technical terms, type faces, headline construction and makeup," Professor Higginbotham stated.

"When I squeeze you, honey, in my arms like this, something seems to snap."

"Yes, pardon me while I fix it."

RAILROADS RAISE TICKET VALIDITY FOR CAMPUSITES

Effective December 25, 1947, it will be possible for students and faculty members, traveling from points west of the Mississippi River to purchase a round trip ticket which will remain valid during the school year, announced P. N. Orth, Reno ticket agent for the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Previously, it has been necessary for students and teachers to purchase one-way tickets because of the time limit set on round trip service. This new ruling will amount to a considerable saving of money for those concerned because of the reduced rates given on round trip fares.

For the present, these special student tickets will be limited to points west of the Mississippi and parts of Canada. This is due to the failure of eastern railroads to offer student service. However, it is probable that the service will eventually be extended to the east coast, stated Orth.

Curbings Colored By Highway Crew In Paint Program

Brilliant yellow paint was sprayed on the curbs and white on the crosswalks and parking limits by the maintenance division of the state highway department this week.

Upon the request of the Blue Key, which is conducting a campus improvement campaign, the highway department sent a crew of painters and spraying equipment to the university on Tuesday morning.

The foreman of the crew stated that the job consumed approximately 40 gallons of white and the same amount of yellow paint.

Barbs Sponsoring Christmas Gift Drive for Vets

Christmas gifts for local hospitalized veterans have to be in Stewart Hall by tomorrow night, Tom Maccauley, president of the Independents, announced today.

"The drive," emphasized Maccauley, "though sponsored by the Independents, is in the name of the whole campus, and should be treated as such."

A box for gifts is in the basement of Stewart Hall and small boxes for cash contributions are to be found at the Wolf Den and the Blue and Silver.

Tentative Approval Given Invitation To Bridge Tourney

Bridge fans at the University of Nevada have tentatively accepted the intercollegiate bridge tournament committee's challenge to compete in the 1948 contest, said Mrs. Barbara Pinjuv, YWCA secretary.

A bridge captain must be named if Nevada is to begin in the playoffs, February 9, continued Mrs. Pinjuv. All action is postponed until after Christmas.

Only undergraduate students are allowed to take part in the contest. Each competing team consists of eight players, who play a set of 18 prepared hands. The results are mailed to the committee.

The 16 highest ranking pairs are invited, with all expenses paid, to the face-to-face final round to be held at the Drake Hotel in Chicago.

FUTURE ART EXHIBITS DISCUSSED BY GROUP

The possibility of procuring paintings from outside the state for next year's exhibits was discussed at the Fine Arts meeting last Thursday afternoon. A membership drive was also planned.

The meeting was held in the office of J. Craig Sheppard, who is adviser for Fine Arts. Attending the meeting were Josie Eather, Charmaine Hubbard, Ida Mae Kellough and Barbara Olesen.

Musical Program Broadcast Sunday

Piano jazz and its relation to modern classical music was discussed by Barney Childs on radio station KXXL Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The half hour broadcast was his fifth musical program this semester.

Childs illustrated his lecture with compositions by Lemuel Fowler, Jimmy Yancey, Jellyroll Morton, Lead-Belly, Bix Beiderbecke, George Gershwin and others.

Childs may also have a regular Sunday evening program at the beginning of the year, sponsored by the Emporium of Music. Definite arrangements have not yet been made, but he has discussed the possibility with Mr. Woodward, head of the organization.

DEFICIT IS MET BY ASUN FUNDS

New deficits incurred in printing the new Artemisia will be absorbed by the ASUN fund, announced James Glynn, student body president. This decision was made by the board of finance control at its last meeting on Wednesday.

The board favored this move rather than deducting the money from the pay of the Artemisia staff, stated Glynn.

Corps of Sponsors Get Constitution From U President

Blue Peppers, girls' drill group, will be officially known as the Corps of Sponsors for the ROTC.

Approval of a new constitution was given by President John O. Moseley, after acceptance of the constitution by the future sponsors.

Provisions of the constitution will become effective next semester, Gwen Byrd, Corps of Sponsors president, announced today. At present, military instructors are preparing the future sponsors for leadership duties which they will soon assume.

The number of sponsors will be limited to 45 girls, corresponding with the number of ROTC officers, but additional girls will receive training so they may fill any vacancies.

Merit System

The rank to be awarded a girl will be determined by a strict merit system. A rise in the ranks will be given according to the number of merits earned, Miss Byrd continued.

Uniforms consisting of white battle jackets, royal blue skirts and royal blue overseas caps have been ordered and will probably be worn once a week when the Corps of Sponsors practices with the ROTC next semester.

Decision to reorganized Blue Peppers was initiated after Miss Byrd's return from a visit in October with the Corps of Sponsors group at the Utah State Agricultural College. The Utah group, rated one of the top drill groups in the United States, discussed its organization with Miss Byrd, who immediately enlisted the assistance of the military department form a similar group on the Nevada campus.

YW HEAD SURPRISED BY STORK SHOWER

Mrs. Barbara Pinjuv, whose resignation as YWCA secretary becomes official tomorrow, was surprised with a stork shower Tuesday night after a Y cabinet meeting.

Cabinet members presented Mrs. Pinjuv with a pale blue bed jacket and various pink and blue gifts.

Family Is Away! Find Key Under Door Mat

Keys may be hidden under flower pots, and door mats as the four campus sorority houses close for Christmas vacation. Although the houses close this weekend, some women students plan to stay until Monday or Tuesday.

At the Pi Phi house an alumna will stay until the end of the vacation. Pat Ussery and the housemother will stay at the Gamma Phi house. The Tri-Delt housemother will probably stay at the house during the holidays. At the Theta house, no one is scheduled to remain more than a few days.

Students from other schools who come up for skiing will be unable to stay at the Greek-letter houses as they have done previously, for they will be officially closed.

St. Nick Visits Sorority Houses

Christmas parties were given by all campus sororities this week. Tuesday night Pi Phi alumnae staged a "white elephant" sale proceeds from which are to go into the house fund. The sale was combined with a party for active members and alums.

A "muffin worry" was given by Gamma Phi Beta pledges for active members. Pledges took over control of the kitchen Tuesday afternoon to bake muffins of all sizes and shapes for the party that evening. A Christmas party with gifts for all was held last night for active members and pledges.

The Delta Delta Delta Christmas party for mothers and alumnae Tuesday evening included singing by Charlotte Bearss and Mary Ann Douglass. Wednesday evening a party for house girls and their dates was given by the Tri-Delt housemother. Dinner, dancing and games were on the schedule.

Kappa Alpha Theta pledges gave a Christmas party for active members, alumnae and mothers Tuesday evening. There were presents for everyone under the tree, and entertainment was given by the pledges. After the party, house girls exchanged gifts with their roommates.

Numerous Pairs Plan Marriages During Holidays

Five Student Couples Plan To Take Advantage Of Reprieve

Christmas vacation will find numerous students altar-bound to have the nuptial knot tied.

Marilyn Reynolds of Kappa Alpha Theta will marry ASUN president Jimmy Glynn, Sunday in Sacramento.

Virginia Casey, Miss Reynolds' roommate, will be the maid of honor at the wedding which will take place at the Immaculate Conception Church in the California city.

The newlyweds will attend the Salad Bowl game at Phoenix on New Year's Day.

Sandra Reaves, Gamma Phi Beta pledge, and Jim Bright, Lambda Chi Alpha, will be married in Bishop, California, December 28. Her attendant will be Mary Lou Sewell, sophomore Gamma Phi Beta, of Reno. Both students will return to their studies.

Trinity Episcopal Church in Reno will be the scene for the December 21 wedding of Bebe George and Dick Munn at 2 p.m. Miss George is a member of Pi Beta Phi. Her fiance, a Sigma Nu, is a former student. Bridesmaids will include Barbara Gould and Eleanor Sweatt, sorority sisters of the bride-elect.

One hour after the marriage of Miss George to Dick Munn, Helen Foster, former student affiliated with Pi Beta Phi, will marry Galen Hopkins, sophomore student from Reno. Scene of the wedding ceremony will also be the Trinity Episcopal Church.

Winifred Barlow of Hawthorne will be married December 28 to Dick Elmore, senior member of Alpha Tau Omega, at the Officers' Club on the marine base in Hawthorne. Dick, whose hobby is amateur photography, is a mechanical engineering student.

WRA Board Rejects Admission Request Of Sponsors Corps

Proposed admission of the newly organized Corps of Sponsors as a WRA activity was rejected by Women's Recreational Association board members at a meeting Tuesday afternoon. Board members decided against the admission since a WRA advisor must be present for every activity and WRA has only two advisors.

Schedules for basketball and Panwallis, campus swimming club, were tentatively set for next semester, Doris Hanssen, WRA publicity manager, announced.

Badminton and riflery will continue to the end of the present semester. Inter-sorority rifle competition will be finished this week, with a trophy to be awarded the winner.

New Group Plans Chamber Music Recitals in Spring

A new chamber music group has been formed for campus recitals, announced assistant Professor Robert Z. Tate of the university music department.

Planning to further augment campus musical presentations, the newly formed group "will become very prominent in the future, and plans to give recitals during the spring semester," Prof. Tate added.

Present members include: Francis Abernathy, Fred Antoniazzi, Frank Candee, Bob Coughlin, Irv Crawford, Anita Davidson, Fay Fryberger, Bob Hempfling, Joan Hamblin, David Savidge, Ruth Irwin, William Savidge, Bob Schumaker, Don Thompson, Louanna Tietje, Chris Tanning and Janice Yeakey.

Miss Elsa Sameth To Retire in July

Miss Elsa Sameth, professor and head of the department of physical education, will end her 35 years of service at the university on July 1.

The board of regents announced recently that Miss Sameth would be retired on pension effective at the end of next spring semester.

Miss Sameth joined the university as an instructor in women's physical education in 1913. She became an assistant professor in 1915, an associate professor in 1918, and in 1930 she headed the department as a professor.

Miss Sameth was graduated from Cornell University in 1911 with an AB degree. She earned her BS degree there in 1911, and in 1922 obtained her master's degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Riflettes Accept Thirteen 'Shoots'

Women's rifle teams of 13 colleges from Hawaii to Maine have accepted challenges from the Nevada team for matches which will begin after the Christmas vacation.

The Nevada team sent out 23 challenges. Seven challenges are still unacknowledged, and four have been rejected.

Scheduled for the matches to date are Colorado A & M, January 17; University of Idaho, January 24; Beaver College, January 24; Massachusetts State College and Pennsylvania State College, February 14; University of Kansas, University of Main and Ohio University, February 21; University of Michigan, Drexell Institute, University of New Hampshire and University of Wyoming, March 13.

The Nevada team, challenged by the University of Hawaii, will fire that match on March 13.

All matches will be fired on special targets and the scores will be sent by mail to the other schools.

Cleanup Program Getting Results, Says Mrs. Pinjuv

"Students have cooperated beautifully this week in our cleanup program," said Mrs. Barbara Pinjuv, YWCA secretary, in charge of the Stewart Hall recreation room.

Four dozen new ash trays have helped to keep the student center neater, added the secretary. Last weekend a thorough antiseptic scrubbing was given the basement room.

Students have been requested to return dirty dishes, to use the ash trays, and to observe general rules of sanitation. If the present cooperation continues, she said, it will not be necessary to close the student center.

Prep Publications Vie for Awards From Press Club

A great deal of interest has been shown in the spirited state-wide contest for high school annuals and newspapers that is being sponsored by the University of Nevada Press Club in conjunction with the journalism department, A. L. Higginbotham, professor of journalism, announced this week.

State championships will be determined in four classes of publications, and loving cups or similar prizes will be awarded in each class. Printed high school papers, mimeographed newspapers, printed annuals, mimeographed annuals comprise the four classes, said Paul Weaver, president of the Press Club.

The contest, which ended at midnight, December 15, will be judged by junior-senior members of the Press Club, nearly all of whom are journalism majors. Each person will judge a separate part of each publication, and in this way, no one judge can determine the total score of any entry. Sub-chairman for annuals will be Doris Hanssen, and Lloyd Rogers will have charge of newspaper.

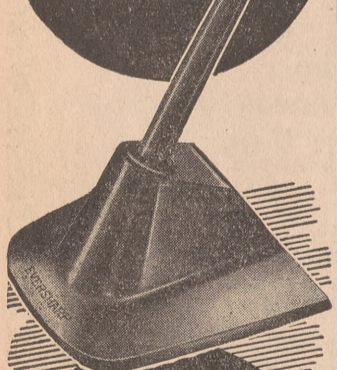

The contest is being held, Weaver said, in lieu of the annual high school press conference which has been suspended since the war years. Although transportation is again available, housing is so limited at the university this year that Press Club members decided against the conference until quarters can be secured for housing contestants.

By next year housing facilities may be more plentiful, Weaver said, and the conference and contests can again be resumed on their pre-war level when representatives of nearly every high school in the state gathered for the meet.

During the war years even the mail contest was suspended when membership dropped to a low ebb and there were few advanced students to carry on, but this year the club is again functioning at full strength and is ready to resume its pre-war role in offering encouragement and assistance to high school editors throughout the state.

Sightless Student, Bonnie Yturbide, Is Ace Scholar

By Martin Risard

Bonnie Yturbide, blind Nevada debater who recently won the western states oratory championship and who for the last four and one-half semesters has maintained a straight 4.0 scholastic average, spends only two to three hours a day with his reader. This amazing fact is due to an efficient system of braille that Yturbide has mastered. He takes very comprehensive notes in all of his classes through the use of his braille shorthand method.

Yturbide, who is attending school on the Pepsi-Cola scholarship, at the end of his sophomore year was awarded the annual prize for the highest ranking sophomore.

Blind since infancy, Yturbide has as his ultimate goal a law career and in preparation for his career he is active in the field of forensics and through this media he has become well known throughout the western states. He is also captain of the Nevada debate team.

Several people share in the responsibility of reading to him from the assigned textbooks and class reference material. His various readers are paid from a fund provided by Harold's Club through the State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Yturbide has lived in Reno for more than three years. He graduated from Reno High School in 1943 and has attend-

Purchase of Surplus Navy Barracks May Solve Campus Housing Problems

The board of regents has authorized the university comptroller, Charles Gorman, to investigate the possibility of buying former navy barracks from Hawthorne. The barracks would be used to help solve the housing shortage at the university.

The 140 foot barracks, each containing 26 rooms, would be bought out of the $31,000 university surplus, which was the tions throughout the state.

President Moseley suggested the barracks as a possible solution in reply to John Cahlan, a regent from Las Vegas, who result of increased land value urged that steps be taken to ban the use of the old gymnasium as living quarters.

Seventy-two students still live in the old gymnasium. Some of these prefer the accommodations, as the rent is only $22.50 a month, according to President Moseley's report. Dr. Moseley described the campus housing situation as follows:

Registration is now at 1755. The old gymnasium houses Of these, 1252 are men, and 503 are women. There are 856 veterans enrolled.

72 men, Lincoln Hall 127 and Mackay stadium field house 12.

There are 84 coeds in Manzanita and 98 in Artemisia; 138 single men students are in the Highland Terrace dormitories and 20 couples live in units there that are not supervised by the university.

Ninety-six students and 16 faculty members live in units on the campus, and 36 students and their families live in the university auto court on West Second Street.

Campus Play Goers Receive One Act Productions Mildly

The opening night of the Campus Players' productions of "The Valiant" and "Quare Medicine" brought forth neither a storm of criticism nor acclaim.

Robert M. Gorrell, head of the English department, said "I thought that "The Valiant" was well acted and well produced. "Quare Medicine," an amusing farce, suffered because members of the cast had not fulfilled one of the primary requirements of dramatics and had failed to learn their lines."

"Both plays did an interesting job of overcoming the handicaps of a small stage," he added.

Faculty Increases Membership; Adds Three to Staff

Dr. Lehenbauer Named Head of Horticulture Department

Appointment of three new faculty members was announced by the University of Nevada board of regents at their meeting last week on campus.

Weld Arnold, former owner and manager of Reno Sky Ranch, Francis Bagley, county welfare department head, and Thomas C. Wilson, of Wilson Advertising Agency, were the trio named to the faculty.

Arnold, Harvard graduate and holder of the Royal diploma from the Royal Geographical Society of London, has been appointed as lecturer in civil engineering.

Bagley, will replace Miss Grace Semenza in the sociology department. He has the AB degree from the University of Chicago.

Wilson, Nevada alumnus, will teach business administration.

Part Time Basis

The appointment of Bagley and Wilson are on a part time basis and become effective February 1. Arnold is employed for the full year.

Other personnel changes made by the regents at the recommendation of President John O. Moseley, were:

Dr. Philip A. Lehenbauer of the biology department will be chairman of the new department of horticulture, effective at the beginning of the spring semester.

Resignation of James W. Coleman as associate professor of physical education was accepted. Mr. Coleman plans an army career. He will be replaced by George A. Broten, graduate of Oregon State College.

Miss Elsa Sameth will be retired as professor of physical education for women effective July 1.

Campus Clubbers Get New Leader

The Campus Club held its last meeting of the year Sunday in the Federated Church at Fifth and Virginia Streets.

It was also the last meeting at which Prof. Irving J. Sandorf, head of the electrical engineering department, acted as faculty adviser to the group.

The Rev. Terrence Stoker, pastor for two years of the Cedarville Federated Church, will take over where Professor Sandorf left off at the next regular meeting on January 11, 1948.

Professor Sandorf organized the Campus Club in 1928 and has directed the group since that time.

Colored slides of Washoe valley scenes were shown and described to members of the club by William Metcalf of Reno's city engineer department.

Armory Building Nearly Completed

Estimated to be 65 per cent complete to date, the naval armory under construction at the northeastern edge of the campus should be completed by February 1, navy inspector Allen E. Plummer said today.

After a delay of several weeks, the wooden framework for the brick facade fronting the three-wing structure is rapidly being completed.

Twenty feet of concrete flooring remains to be poured in the middle building. The navy inspector explained that this will be done as soon as revised plans for the installation of a gun-pointer are received from the twelfth naval district office in San Francisco.

The $170,000 navy project was begun in September.

Chapel Chimes

By Tom Cunniffe

Displaying the traditional Christmas spirit, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Risard were hosts to the entire Canterbury Club in their tiny trailer home last evening. The occasion was a Christmas party for 12 members of the club with a Christmas tree and exchanges of presents and refreshments.

The Christmas spirit began early Thursday morning at St. Steven's chapel with members attending services and receiving communion. The club will be inactive during the vacation.

The Wesley Foundation will also be inactive during the Christmas vacation. Last night Wesleyites had their annual Christmas social at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 pm. Once again Christmas presents were exchanged via a grab bag. Refreshments were served and dancing followed.

Christmas vacation will not halt the activities of the Roger Williams Club. Sunday night there will be an open discussion on the speech, "Let's Declare Peace," given by Zenas L. Potter at a previous Wesley Foundation meeting. This begins at 7:30 pm and refreshments follow.

At 10 pm the First Baptist Church from which the Roger Williams Club originates, will send their singers around the town singing Christmas carols. Christmas services are scheduled for 11. Also, on New Year's Eve a watch night service will start at 11 pm and last until midnight.

On January 2, 3 and 4, Robert Bryant, a minister on the University of California at Berkeley campus, will instruct the Roger Williams Club on the procedure of organizing a college church group. This is the first year for this club on the campus.

Another Christmas party on the agenda is the one to be given by the Live Y'ers tonight at 8 pm in the YMCA building in town. Members will be greeted by St. Nick. Games and Christmas songs will follow. Next Friday night at 8 pm the weekly sports night is scheduled at 8 pm.

Newman Club members held their last Wednesday discussion hour of the year this week and will not meet until the first Wednesday of the new year. The Campus Club will not resume activities until January 11, 1948.

With most clubs promising bigger and better activities next year, more students are expected to join these groups. Most notable of these promises are the future Newman Club building near the campus, the Campus Club's Youth Center, and the Roger Williams group expansion plans. And along the promise line, things look promising for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Summer Class Set By Gareth Hughes

Gareth Hughes, famous movie star of the early twenties, will teach in summer school, according to Harold Brown, professor of education and director of summer sessions.

The Reverend Hughes of Wadsworth is the drama coach of the recently established campus radio guild. He is noted for his Shakespearian acting.

He will give one course, consisting of 10 lectures and demonstrations of acting. The course will be in the first session of the new five week courses.

Fluid Mechanics Lab To Be Supplied With Latest, Ultra Modern Equipment

By Pete Mygatt

After many years of inconvenience the fluid mechanics lab is installing modern equipment.

"This fluid mechanics lab will be one of the best on the entire Pacific coast," Robert C. Poolman, instructor of civil engineering stated.

He said that the new lab and equipment was designed for two main things. First, it has been constructed so that additional equipment may be installed, and second, there is a good possibility that it can be used for graduate research work. "Of course, the main use will be for undergraduate instruction," he added.

Equipment being installed now includes two complete model turbines that will be used to conduct tests one pump will develop 3000 pounds pressure per square inch and, another relatively low pressure pump that can deliver 3000 gallons per minute.

Also being installed is a weir channel which is a method of measuring the flow of water. The channel can have a closure put on the end to make a towing basin where students can observe the action of ship and submarine models.

On the catwalk in the basement there will be an arrangement to investigate the friction of water in pipes that can be rapidly changed from one-eighth inch to two inches. There will also be an arrangement to study air in pipes.

An orifice tank is being set up to measure jets of water at various pressures.

There are two large sumps below the basement floor to hold the supply of water, and the floor itself is built over a network of pipes. Poolman explained that the piping arrangement will be set up so that any piece of equipment may be run off any one of the three pumps.

Eventually there will be a tilting flume made out of lucite or some other clear plastic so that the students may actually see what is happening, added Poolman.

This is the first permanent fluid mechanics lab that the university has ever had, stated the instructor, and he added that it will be so flexible changes and improvements can be made at any time.

Poolman said it was his hope that when the lab is completed a wind, or water tunnel, can eventually be installed. Also, when the lab is completed they hope to have many electronic measuring devices.

"This will be a rather unique feature for an undergraduate fluid mechanics lab," stated Poolman.

SCABBARD AND BLADE MEET HELD THURSDAY

Scabbard and Blade, the University of Nevada military honorary, met last night in the ROTC reading room in the gym at 7 pm.

Mining Head Off On Extended Jaunt For Nevada Bureau

Director of the Mackay School of Mines, Jay A. Carpenter, left on a mission for the Bureau of Mines Tuesday. His trip will carry him through Nevada into Los Angeles, California. He does not plan to return until January 3.

Professor Carpenter plans to stay in the Tonopah, Beatty, Goldfield area for about three days where he will look over new mining developments in that district. From the mines, he will proceed to Los Angeles where he will give a talk to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and one to the Los Angeles section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

William I. Smyth, professor of metallurgy and mining, stated that Director Carpenter will stay in Los Angeles and spend the holidays with his children and grandchildren who live in that area.

More than meets the eye...

One look and you'd say that a great deal of work lies ahead before this new telephone central office is completed. That's true. But already, much of the job is done!

For months telephone men have been hard at work—in offices and in the field. One group has carefully studied business and population trends and has forecast the telephone needs of the community for years to come. Another has determined the amount and types of equipment that will best meet these needs. Still others have found ways to make this new equipment a part of our world-wide communications network.

At our Western Electric plants the telephone equipment—the switchboards, frames and switching mechanisms, the cable, wire and relays—has been scheduled and is already being manufactured.

All this and more before the ground was broken!

The telephone business is a constantly expanding business in which thousands of college men are finding interesting and rewarding careers. There's a future in telephony.

Aggie Conference Held on Campus

Agricultural extension agents from all parts of Nevada attended the annual state extension staff conference held at the university last week. Dr. Cecil W. Creel, director of the agricultural extension service, opened the conference on December 8 in the auditorium of the Education building.

The investigative program of the agricultural experiment station headed the agenda, followed by discussions of home economics, 4-H Club activities, and agricultural economics. The board of regents attended the last meeting on December 12.

Faculty members and students of the college of agriculture were also invited on the last day. The three divisions of the college, teaching, extension and research were dwelt upon by the heads of those departments.

President John O. Moseley held a reception at his home for all visiting members of the groups and their families following the adjournment of the conference on Friday afternoon.

Closing Minutes Rally Gives Bittners Win Over Pack Before Jammed Stands

Playing before the largest crowd to witness a basketball game in the new gymnasium, the Wolf Pack cagers won a moral if not actual victory over a highly favored Oakland Bittners quintet Wednesday night.

On the short end of a 55-47 score as the final horn sounded, a dog-tired but still game Nevada five left the court amid the cheers of an estimated 4500 hometown fans, who had seen the local team play on even terms up until the last few minutes of the game.

Superior Reserves

Superior reserves proved the deciding point in a tight contest which saw the lead change hands 11 times in the first half.

Nevada opened the game with center Hal Fischer dropping a hook shot from the foul line. A few seconds later Fischer tied on to guard Jim Mackey's pass and layed a crib shot in to put the Pack out in front 4-0.

Play under the backboards was rugged from start to finish and Bittners was awarded the first charity toss, which they made good.

Two more quick baskets put the Oakland Club out front and from then on the lead tipped back and forth.

Highlighting the first canto was the sharpshooting and excellent rebound of forward Grant Davis. The slender Nevada captain hit the net for three field goals and four free tosses.

Given the dubious honor of watching the celebrated Don Barksdale, the Bittners high-scoring ace, Fischer held the sepiu skyscraper to nine points, while dumping in eight for the Pack himself.

Unexpected Attraction

An unexpected attraction for the fans appeared in the form of guard Mushy Silver of the Bittners. The diminutive passer was all but lost among the taller players on the court, but his steady floor game and astounding passwork set up many of the visitor's tallies.

Trailing by three points with only seconds to go the Nevada club, in the person of guard Jimmy Mackey, tallied on a mid-court set shot and left the floor with 29 to the Bittners 30.

Until the last 10 minutes of play the Nevadans stayed toe to toe with the bay club, but the wealth of substitutes on the Oakland bench proved the deciding factor.

Orlich Gets Eight

Understudying Hal Fischer a center, Big Dan Orlich gave a good account of himself as he racked up eight points.

Barksdale, kept fresh by frequent substitutions warmed up and rang up 16 markers in the second half, seven of them via the free throw line.

Mackey left the game midway in the second half and from then on the Bittners jumped to a nine point lead and were never headed as they kept their margin for the rest of the contest.

Davis led the pack with 19 points, but Barksdale captured the evening's scoring crown with 25.

Dodie Post Named Ski Team Captain During Sea Trip

Dodie Post, former Nevada student and member of the United States Olympics ski team, was elected by her teammates to captain the women's squad. The election took place on board ship en route to their final destination, St. Moritz, Switzerland, site of the coming winter games.

The group landed in Cherbourg, France, last Monday. A United Press report says they are apparently unconcerned by the fact that the United States entries may be withdrawn from the winter games. United States withdrawal was suggested when a dispute arose over the Swiss organizing committee's acceptance of the Amateur Hockey Association rather than the Amateur Athletic Union, as the U. S. hockey team in the Olympics.

The team will probably arrive in Switzerland this weekend, and will begin workouts immediately in preparation for the coming winter games.

Debaters Compete During Holidays

The Nevada debate squad will leave Reno on December 28 for Salt Lake City where they will participate in a tournament which is being held in conjunction with the annual convention of six major speech organizations.

The tournament will extend from December 29 to 31. The squad will take part in all events, including debate, oratory, impromptu speaking and extemporaneous speech.

Debate coach S. M. Vinocour said that a miniature United Nations will be staged with all of the participating teams included. There will be a security council, general assembly, economic council, committee on atomic energy and an international court of justice.

Organizations participating in the convention are the Speech Association of America, the American Educational Theater Association, the American Speech Correction Association, the Western Speech Association, and the Committee on Debate Materials and Interstate Cooperation of the National University Extension Association.

ATO's Crowned '47 Volleyball Champs of 'Mural Ranks

Winners Take Over Second Place in Kinnear Trophy Race

After a hard fought game, with SAE Wednesday, the ATO's came through with a win to make them intramural volleyball champs for this season. Played before a large group of enthusiastic fraternity rooters, the game was the clincher and determined whether there would be a three-way tie for first place, or the Taus would come through the season undefeated.

The Taus gained 60 points as result of their win and consequently moved into third place in the Kinnear trophy race.

The last volleyball game of the season, played Friday night, was between the Lambda Chi and Theta Chi. The two teams were tied for fourth place honors and fought hard for the extra points. Theta Chi won to make the volleyball standings read:

	W	L

Rifle Team Made Circle N Sport

The rifle team is now eligible for a minor sport, Col. Gilbert E. Parker, head of the military department, said. After being recognized as such by the athletic board of control, 10 members of the university rifle team will receive sweaters and a circle N for competing in inter-collegiate competition.

A tentative schedule has been arranged for the rifle team, and one out of town trip planned, the colonel asserted.

Along with regular matches, the university sharpshooters will vie for honors in the sixth army's intra-collegiate rifle shooting contest, which will be held between January 1 and March 25.

The 15 eligible entries will fire once each week during this period, and the 10 men with the highest scores will represent the university.

Teams with the highest rating will be invited to compete in the nationals, Colonel Parker stated.

TWO TURKEYS WON BY TOM MACAULEY

Tom Macauley, president of the Independents, won two out of six turkeys in a turkey shoot sponsored by the campus Rifle-Pistol Club, last Sunday afternoon.

Macauley bagged his second bird while firing under a two point handicap, which is the custom when a shooter has already won a turkey.

Pack Hoopsters Plan Homework During Holiday

While other students travel near and far to make merry, create "hangovers," and forget studies, Jake Lawlor and his Wolf Pack cagers will have their hands full in combating hordes of invading inter-sectional basketball rivals, during the Christmas holidays.

The first Pack rival of the two-week home stand will be Springfield College, Massachusetts, on December 22. Springfield College is known for being the birthplace of basketball.

December 30 will see the Silver and Blue play hos to the Cornhuskers from the University of Nebraska. The University of Kansas, each year one of the top quintets in the nation, come to Reno to tangle with Lawlor's hoopsters on January 1.

The Pack will wind up its holiday stay with a two game session against Brigham Young University on January 2-3. Brigham Young recently lost an overtime game to a highly rated CCNY team at Madison Square Garden.

NO BOWL GAME FOR NEVADA BAND

"The university band will not attend the Salad Bowl football game," Assistant Prof. Robert Z. Tate of the music department, announced today.

As director of instrumental music on the campus, Prof. Tate said the band had no plans for being at the game. He pointed out that many band members would rather be home for the holiday season.

'Spirited' Rooting Forecast by Leader

"Spirited" organized rooting will liven up future basketball games, it was announced today by John Michael, head yell leader. Plans are being made by Michael and Bob Durham, rally chairman, to put "some life" into the rooting section.

Although the basketball bleachers make the rooting section a compact unit, Michael said, "there has been a lack of organized cheering." The tentative plans include using the girl song leaders and card stunts, which have not been tried before at Nevada basketball games.

Wolf Pack Drops Two Cage Games In San Francisco

UCLA Holds Nevadans To Eight Field Goals In First Tilt

Wolf Pack cagers flew to San Francisco last weekend and were ground-looped by UCLA, 51-38, and by Santa Clara, 64-60, in two successive nights.

In Friday night's game in Kezar pavilion, the Uclans outclassed the Silver and Blue basketekers and coasted in 51-32. In a brilliant display of defensive basketball, the UCLA machine held the Pack to eight field goals, five of them by Grant Davis, who was high scorer for the night with 18 points. The Bruin starters played only 10 minutes of the game.

Saturday night the Pack moved to the Cow Palace and lost a tough one to the Broncos of Santa Clara, 64-60. Fighting for revenge at the expense of the Broncs, Jake Lawlor's hoopsters were on the verge of upsetting Santa Clara when, with one minute to go, the Broncos scored four points to break a 60-60 tie and pull the game out of the fire.

The waning minutes saw Davis the only Wolf Pack starter in the game. Moylan, Fischer, Mackey and Joseph having fouled out.

Davis was again high scorer with 23 points. In this hard fought game a total of 45 fouls were called, 25 of them on the Pack. The Pack dropped in 24 points from the foul line to even matters up.

PACK TRACKS

By Bill McFarland

It is always interesting to look in on the other guy's backyard and see what's going on.

This week a copy of "The Campus Chat," student publication at North Texas State Teachers College, found its way to Reno.

Here are some interesting comments made by the Texans concerning Nevada and the Salad Bowl.

Burnie Kee in his column "Sportsripture," says, "The straw that broke the camel's back was the meek excuse they (Nevada) offered in refusing to play North Texas. We concede that the Eagles are not ranked along side of Notre Dame when it comes to football, but neither is Nevada."

Maybe not, but Nevada came a darn sight closer to the Irish in weekly ratings than did the Eagles.

Continues Kee, "It could be that the Nevada people do not get papers or maybe they can't read them, but other sections of the country are well acquainted with the nationally famous North Texas track teams.

Could be, but fans in Phoenix aren't going to the Salad Bowl to see a track meet, and yet they might get a glimpse of a future Wayne or Blayne Rideout headin' for Texas with a Wolf or two on his tail.

Other opinions in Denton went like this: stated Dee Walker, assistant coach, "The Eagle gridders are particularly anxious to get at Nevada since this has come up."

Mayor J. L. Yarbrough of Denton was quoted, "Nevada doesn't appear to have much reputation anyway."

NTSTC students expressed their opinions by hanging the Nevada team in effigy on a business district street corner.

Everything is really wound up for New Year's Day, and it's my guess that the Wolf Pack will start the '48 season with a romp over the big birds, those guys from Texas.

Holiday Basketball
Jake Lawlor's crew has some very interesting opposition lined up for local fans staying in town during the Christmas vacation.

Springfield, Nebraska, Kansas and Brigham Young University will be in town. There is talent galore with those clubs, and the Wolves will be plenty busy.

Nevada is due to win several games on the hardwoods, but they'll have to do it the hard way unless Coach Lawlor uncovers some capable reserves soon.

The first team has had to go nearly all the way in every outing and the pace is beginning to show. Wednesday night's game with the Bittners could

'Cheerless Day Set For Bowl Contest

Nevada's cheer leaders are not going to the Salad Bowl game in Phoenix on January 1, John Michael, head cheer leader, said today.

Being a post-season game handled by Phoenix sponsors, funds have not been allotted by the University of Nevada for have gone our way had reliable substitutions been on hand to give the regulars a rest.

With rough going, much of Nevada's talent has found itself on the bench via the five foul route. Jake will no doubt iron out the wrinkles as the season moves along. The big guy usually comes out on the long end in the win column.

Record Audience Hears 'Messiah' Monday Evening

By Bob Strang
An estimated 3000 persons attended the twelfth annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" in the University of Nevada gymnasium Monday evening.

Professor Theodore H. Post of the music department was met with a burst of applause when he mounted the stand to conduct what now seems a campus tradition. The university gymnasium was almost filled with students, faculty and townspeople.

Tapping his baton, Professor Post commanded the attention of the largest choral group ever assembled in Reno. There were 70 students taking part in the chorus and orchestra accompaniment. Other chorus and orchestra members were representatives of local civic groups.

When the "Halleluja Chorus" began, people rose from their seats in a gesture of respect. When the last "Halleluja" had faded, a thunder of applause filled the hall.

Professor Post has received many letters and telephone calls from grateful listeners.

President John O. Moseley said, "It was truly great and I know that it was enjoyed by a large number of our university population as well as many townspeople."

The Rev. Gareth Hughes, director of the university theater, said, "It was a credit to the community, and you are to be congratulated on a magnificent piece of work."

Red-haired Marjorie Kelley, junior A & S student, has announced her engagement to George Wilson, a resident of Carlin. Wedding plans are indefinite.

Miss Kelley, who resides at Artemisia Hall, is community service chairman of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Home Econ Club Holds Yule Party

The Home Economics Club entertained the Aggie Club Thursday evening at a Christmas party in the Aggie building. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Smith and Miss Mildred Swift.

At the base of one of the Christmas trees decorating the room were packages for a needy family of 10 in Reno. Aggie Club men and Home Ec Club women contributed gifts for the family. A basket of food was also purchased by the Home Ec Club members who contributed one dollar apiece.

G. H. Guinan of the Nevada Poultry Producers Association donated a 15 pound turkey which the Home Ec Club stuffed and cooked for the basket.

At last night's party about 550 students danced, played games and were served ice cream sundaes and coffee. The decorations featured a ski scene surrounded by Christmas trees.

Colored popcorn balls, punch, cookies and suckers were on a buffet within reach of guests. Refreshments were made by the Home Economics Club. In charge of committees were Alice Currie, decorations; Barbara Parker, refreshments; Meryde Brown, entertainment; Ramona Walker, clean up. Joanne Sanford headed the committee making up the basket.

Charles A. Gorman, controller, supplied photographers for the party.

News From Abroad

By Della Sorenson

Noel, y'all. This is the time of year when everyone makes plans. Big plans, usually, about what's going to happen during the holidays. Some are going to be married, some are going to be unmarried, some are going home, some are not, some are — well, you get the idea. But in looking around, we see that although plans may differ, everyone is making same.

The New Mexico Lobo: Faculty members will have an old-fashioned Christmas party next Saturday evening at the Kirkland Field Officers Club from 8 pm until midnight.

I always thought one drank Tom and Jerry on Christmas.

From the Idaho Argonaut: "Under the direction of Earl Hayes, director, the Beta Theta Pi fraternity is in the process of serenading all the women's houses on the campus with a chorus of 20 members."

That sounds like a plan that may lead to other plans.

The Daily Californian: "Candles will light the way to the Greek theater at 8:45 pm tomorrow when university students are led in procession by members of Glee Club to sing Christmas carols and gather for a Noel program."

The torch bearers march again.

The Rensselaer Polytechnic: "... in this issue can be found a note from the administration denying the rumor that the tuition is to be raised." In the note the statement is made that "we of the RPI student body should realize that we are no longer in the army and that scuttlebut and latrine rumors should be ignored."

Oh, by all means. All rumors should be ignored as long as possible.

And With That I Leave You Department: From The Daily Californian: A school for fertilizer salesmen was held on the Davis campus of the university on September 15 and 16.

Merry Christmas and a Happy Hangover.

GOthic N DISCUSSES GETTING NEW JACKETS

Gothic N, honorary athletic association of women students, discussed the acquiring of new jackets at their meeting in the new gym Thursday evening.

A sample jacket from an eastern company was on display for members' approval, but no decision has been made yet, said Merrie Jo Harp, president of Gothic N.

Also discussed at last night's meeting were qualifications of women students for future initiation.
