WEAK WOLVES MEET STRONG SPARTANS

PANTOMIMES GALORE AS STUDENTS CAVORT

Semester's Last Assembly Brings Down the House

By Tom Cunniff
Pantomime broke loose in the new gym today at the final student assembly of the semester. Under the able direction of Ty Short, students were presented the best show of the semester and went back to classes laughing and rehashing the many mirthful acts.

Bob Durham, the master of ceremonies, introduced 13 entertainers with Rex Jemison's "My Old Flame," topping the list. Jemison gave forth with his best Peter Lorre accent and ended up with setting his hand aflame.

Also outstanding was Pat O'Brien who made four appearances. Each time he appeared as a different character, and each time the audience enjoyed his pantomime.

The "attendant from Sparks" (Jerry Wyness) sat through the show before he found his knowledge-seeking lunatic in the person of Doris Maloney. But before Jerry could complete his mission, Miss Maloney rendered her pantomime of "Little Man in the White Coat."

Roger Brander and Bill Buck gave their versions of "Moo Juice Special." Joyce Nielsen and Meryl Dickerson rendered "Temptation," Kathy Hanley sang "Only Make Believe" and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," Jerry Tracy gave his version of Paul Robeson and the whole Victor Moore orchestra doing "Ole Man River." The Four Paupers, Mel Roveth, Jim Helmick, Clayton Hearst and Jac Franovich, sang "The Java Song," and Fay Fryberger played the xylophone.

Pinjuw Resignation Leaves Post Open

No replacement for the office of YWCA secretary has yet been appointed. The president's office said today that personal records must be sent from the YWCA regional office at Los Angeles before a replacement can be made.

Mrs. Barbara Pinjuw, who resigned the post December 20, has consented to remain in that office until January 31. Temporary arrangements will be carried out if no replacement is found at the end of this month.

VET GRADS ASKED TO SEE KEITH LEE

Mr. Keith Lee, Veterans Administration training officer, announced today that veterans who are graduating or discontinuing their education this semester should get in touch with him at once in order to straighten out their veterans affairs.

Mr. Lee will be in Dean Griffith's office between 11 am and 3 pm on Wednesday and Thursday of next week and Tuesday and Thursday thereafter until the end of the

Status Remains Quo In Peggy Pic

"Peggy" will have to wait for her apartment a bit longer than expected, indicated President John O. Moseley today. President Moseley revealed that no further word has been received about the proposed movie, "An Apartment for Peggy," the film probably flickering around the university campus and locality.

The picture "a la Hollywood" is supposed to have snow in several scenes. For a previous technicolor "Marge," the proper ice flakes were trucked from Mt. Rose. It is expected that the peak will have to be "milked" again for the new picture.

About 150 students will be employed as extras when the movie people arrive. These students will add local color to a film about a young married couple's search for suitable housing. President Moseley said there was a possibility of the university trailer camp and Victory Heights addition also being used for background.

Delta Sigma Rho Affiliation Sought By Debate Squad

At the regular Tuesday night meeting of the University of Nevada debate squad, applications for membership in Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic fraternity, were signed and submitted to the national organization.

If the applications are approved, the installation of the local chapter will take place on March 5, with Dr. Allen Nichols of the University of Southern California acting as installing officer and principal speaker. Huling Ussery is in charge of arrangements for the installation.

Debate coach, S. M. Vinocour this week announced that the University of Nevada will play host to the Pacific Forensic League during their annual tournament on March 31 and April 1 and 2. The Pacific Forensic League consists of all the major schools on the west coast.

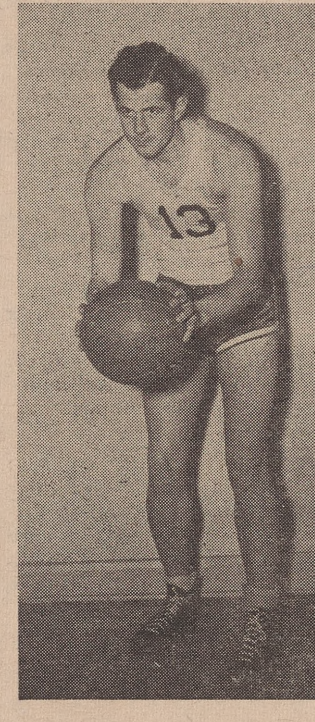

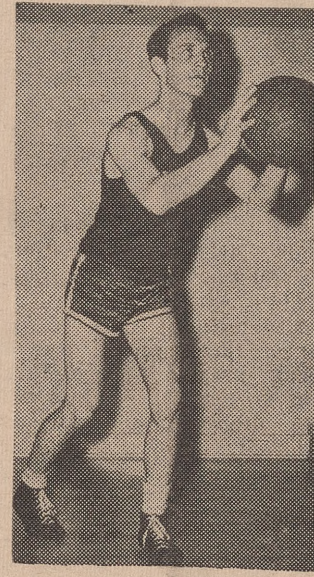

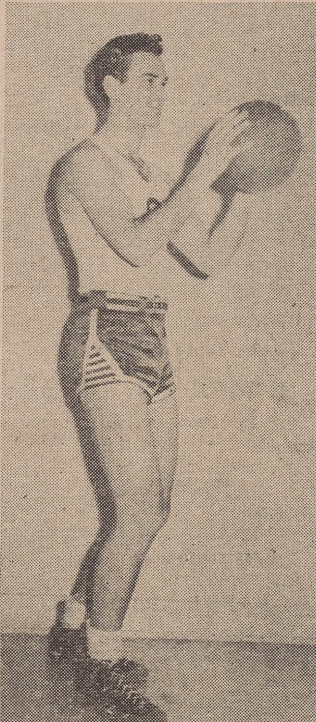

Dale Riley is in charge of arrangements and is assisted by Art Johnson, Pat Carmichael, and Fay Fryberger. Only top representatives of the various schools will participate in the more important events, Vinocour said.

The Nevada state high school tournament will be held concurrently with the league to enable high school students to observe a full fledged college debate tournament.

MONEY FOUND!

An undisclosed sum of money was found on the campus a week before Christmas and turned into the Registrar's office. No decision has been made on what to do with the money in the event it is not claimed, said Mrs. Jeanette Rhodes, registrar.

National Officers Honored by Taus

Members and pledges of ATO Tuesday played host to the national president of the fraternity, Worthy Grand Chief John M. MacGregor of New York City, and Province Chief Warren Danford of Berkeley, California. This marked the first time that a national president had visited the Nevada chapter.

Colonel MacGregor and Mr. Danford were met by a welcoming committee at the Reno airport early Tuesday morning and spent most of the day meeting university officials and becoming acquainted with Reno, the campus, and the Nevada Chapter.

A turkey banquet was held in Colonel MacGregor's honor by fraternity members and alumni at the Reno Recreation Center.

Ed Reed, Jr., president of the local chapter, presided over the banquet, attended by about 150 Taus. Speeches were given by Carlyle Pribbernow, president of the alumni association, Bud Bowers, ATO house manager who arranged the banquet, Dean Thompson, Nevada ATO advisor for the past 27 years, Mr. Danford, and Colonel MacGregor.

Calendar Committee Meets January 13

Representatives of all organizations on the campus are to meet with the social calendar committee on January 13. The announcement came from the Dean of Women Elaine Mobley and Dean of Men Robert Griffin in the form of a letter to the organizations.

The letter requests the heads and members of the organizations to get together and decide upon the dates for social functions next semester. Miss Mobley emphasized that it was necessary for those dates to be ready for the meeting Tuesday.

The meeting is to be held in the Journalism building at four, with Norah Saunders presiding.

CALLAHAN MARRIES

Maryellen Callahan, freshman student at the university last year, was married New Year's eve to Atilio Capurro of Sparks.

MOYLAN QUILTS; GIVES CAGERS ANOTHER JOLT

Nevada's basketball team received another jolt this week when Bill Moylan, regular guard, quit the Wolf Pack cage squad.

Difficulty in getting by on limited finances caused Moylan to drop basketball in order to put more time in outside employment. Moylan's decision to stop playing for Coach Jake Lawlor's quintet brought to three the number of first string players to quit the squad within a week.

Financial difficulties, conflicts of schedules in school work, a downtown job and basketball caused Fischer, the Wolves' most experienced player, to return to his home in San Francisco where he is now employed with one of the bay area newspapers.

Mackay, also faced with monetary problems, quite in order to seek full time employment.

Speculation about Reno has it that Nevada will definitely face plenty of trouble in the Pack's remaining cage games without the services of the trio.

Coach Lawlor expressed his regret in losing three of his top men. He added, however, that Nevada wasn't out of the basketball picture by any means.

The Nevada mentor stated that his reserves were coming along nicely and should nearly fill the gap left by the departed players.

COVERS FOR 1948 YEARBOOK ORDERED

Covers for the 1948 Artemisia were ordered this week, Miss Doris Hanssen, editor, announced today. The design of the cover was not revealed, but the editor stated that it will be of padded leather.

Activity pictures will be taken when weather conditions permit, the editor continued.

Considering the prevailing stormy weather, no definite schedule has been posted.

CHECKLESS VETS! SEE KEITH LEE!

Veteran students who haven't received their December subsistence checks are requested to contact Keith Lee, VA training officer. Lee stated this week that some checks may have been returned to San Francisco if veterans had their mail forwarded to another address during the Christmas recess.

The assistant postmaster of the main post office keeps a record of returned government checks, thus those concerned should consult him immediately to find whether this has occurred, Lee added.

Lee may be contacted either at his office in the quonset hut on Tuesdays or Thursdays or by calling Reno 23491, ext. 37 on the alternate school days.

San Jose State Spartans Sport Rejuvenated Five

San Jose State Spartans, formerly handicapped by the absence of several footballers, who are among the outstanding San Jose cage performers, are now rejuvenated and at full strength. They come to the Nevada series with a 5-4 won-lost record as to Nevada's 6-5.

In the past three weeks, Coach Walt McPherson has worked his footballers back into the cage lineup. Prominent among these are Chuck Hughes, 6 ft. 2 in. all-CCAA center last year; Junior Morgan, a 6 ft. 3 in. guard; George Keene, 5 ft. 11 in. forward; Art Allen, 6 ft. 6 in. center; and Pete Denevi, 6 ft. guard.

The tall men from the grid squad have taken over many of the starting positions by this time, though Stu Inman, a letterman guard last year who turned into a high scorer in the pivot post, seems certain to be found somewhere in the starting lineup.

The Spartans have lost to Stanford 54-50, USF 42-36, Borlo AC 45-41, and have split with Willamette University, winning 67-49 and losing 56-55. They have won from Seattle 52-33, 59-39; Nebraska 39-38; and SF State 62 to 41.

Jake's Boys Revamp For San Jose Fracas

Excuses No Good For Game Entrance

Students attending basketball games played on the home court will no longer be admitted without presentation of student body cards—their own—according to Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager.

Prior to this time some students who have said that their student body cards were lost or had other excuses were granted admission to games upon the presentation of other forms of student identification.

"Students and non-students have abused this privilege so it is being revoked," McDonnell stated.

Drastic Changes Set for Lineup Of Pack Cagers

A revised line-up of Wolf Pack basketballers will match talent with the fast moving San Jose State squad in the local gym tonight and tomorrow night with game time set for 8:15.

The invading Spartans retain four of last year's starting five that conquered the Pack 45-53 and 41-43. Walt McPherson, Spartan mentor, brings his quad to Reno with a won six lost four record.

Chuck Hughes and Junior Morgan have returned to the San Jose line-up after being released from the football squad to place the opponents in top form for the week-end games.

Pack coach Jake Lawlor has had but one week to ready his revised starting five for the tough week-end schedule.

"The Spartans are plenty tough and the loss of Jim Mackay, Bill Moylan and Hal Fischer adds to our woes, but reserves have been groomed to move into a starting berth," Lawlor stated.

Ronnie DuPratt, who has seen action in recent Pack victories, will work at one guard spot, while Lou Mendive, Johnny Subda, fresh from the gridiron, and Bud Garfinkle will vie for the other guard position, coach Lawlor stated. He added that, if necessary, Grant Davis, high scoring forward, might be moved back to the guard spot.

Fast breaking and quick plays are featured in the San Jose style of basketball, and fans should see a good brand of ball in these games, coach Lawlor concluded.

Alum Association To Start Work On Building Plans

Christmas Vacation Holds Up Program Outlining Of New ASUN Project

"We expect to start work on a planning program of the proposed new ASUN building immediately after the next Alumni Association meeting, January 21," said Rex Daniels, director of the organization, today.

Daniels added that an outlined plan for a program had not been made in December since the meeting had to be cancelled because of a basketball game and the Christmas vacation.

Immediate Need

President of the university John O. Moseley stated that a student union building is the greatest immediate need on the campus, and when such a building is constructed many student problems will be solved in one stroke.

President Moseley said he hoped the new ASUN building might include a cafeteria, a swimming pool, bowling alleys, a dance floor where university dances could be held under the supervision of the ASUN with all proceeds going back to that group, and finally a section for all the student offices.

Sees Need

"I saw the need of a new ASUN building when I first became president of Nevada," said Dr. Moseley.

Believing that something should be done, Dr. Moseley moved the military department from the basement of Stewart Hall where it had been since the first World War. Using available money and personal donations the present student center was decorated under the personal charge of Mrs. John O. Moseley.

Alums Join Campaign

"Many efforts have been made to contact wealthy citizens of the state," declared the president, "and the alumni are finally joining the campaign. It is now up to the faculty, students, alumni and all the good citizens of Nevada to place this proposed building upon the campus."

Red Hot Schedule May Be in Making

Joe Sheeketski will return Monday from his New York trip bringing with him (it is hoped) an impressive schedule for next fall's football season.

Games with an eastern, southern or midwestern team may be arranged during Sheeketski's sojourn in New York. USF, St. Mary's, Tulsa, and probably Arizona State at Tempe, which has a two game contract to complete are definite on the 1948 agenda.

Santa Clara will meet the Wolf Pack in Sacramento's 26,000 capacity Hughes stadium November 7. Both schools had been dicker for some time over the Sacramento site, and yesterday graduate manager Joe T. McDonnell announced the game was definitely on.

College of the Pacific and San Jose State are negotiating with the Nevada athletic board now, but nothing has been decided in the head coach's absence.

Sheeketski left last Tuesday to attend the National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting where he sought more liberalized substitutions rulings.

Violators Slated to Receive Notoriety For Infractions of Snack Bar Rules

Next week's Sagebrush may include a list of violators of student center health regulations.

The campus clean-up campaign, initiated in December by Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, and Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, should be in full swing next week, YWCA head Barbara Pinjuy announced yesterday.

The new policy calls for a group of vigilantes to be appointed to police the student center and report students not complying with the regulations.

The names of the guilty will be published on the bulletin board, in the student center, and in the Sagebrush. It is thought that such widespread notoriety should curb wrongdoers.

Should publicity not prove sufficiently repugnant to violators, and should they continue in their evil ways, they will be sent before the student affairs committee, in accordance with the new policy.

The plan was to have been put into effect on January 5, but it has been delayed, pending the choice of vigilantes.

So, until next week, the student center remains as ever, quite as dirty as ever. And it will remain dirty, Dr. Griffin pointed out, as long as students, patronizing the snack bar persist in an attitude of non-cooperation.

FREE INFLUENZA VACCINATIONS GO TO FIRST 500

Face finals free from flu! Free influenza vaccinations will be given to the first 500 students reaching the infirmary on week days from 8 am to 3 pm, announced Dr. Robert Locke, campus physician.

Students who are allergic to eggs may not be eligible for the shot, because the vaccine is evolved from egg embryos. If there is doubt of the allergy a skin test will be provided, said Dr. Locke.

Additional shots to the free 500 may be added at a charge of 60 cents a person, if the demand is as great as expected.

This new influenza vaccine, effective and without side-reactions, opens a new era in the control of virus infections, the doctor said.

BOARD MEETING

There will be a meeting of the publications board Monday, Professor Ernest L. Inwood, head of the board, announced yesterday. The meeting will be held in the A.S. U.N. building at 4 pm.

On the Hill It's Hello!

News From Abroad

By Della Sorenson

Good day, ladies. (Take a walk, fellas. This week's column has nothing of interest to you.)

Well, girls, it's leap year. Oh joy! A whole year to accomplish THINGS! As this is a very important year, we must approach the problem with a scientific attitude and a great deal of planning. After all, we won't have another chance for four years.

Let's look around for ideas, shall we, hmmm?

We must guard against things like these:

The Wildcat: Richard P. Frisbie, Sigma Chi treasurer, reported today that about $200 was stolen in small sums from members of the fraternity Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

Probably some coward collecting funds for his getaway.

New Mexico Lobo: From a health viewpoint, Dr. George H. Houck, director of the Stanford University Health Service, wishes he had more veterans on the campus.

Don't we all.

The Indiana Daily Student: As the "dames" drag their men to the Dame's Ball Friday night, they're making sure that if they are going to do the paying, good bands are going to do the playing.

Yes, music hath powers to soothe the savage, period.

You know what this leads to department: El Mustang: She: I'm perfect. He: I'm practice.

See you in church, I hope.

No doubt the first pin-up girl was the rural school teacher who tried to hop a barbed wire fence on her way to the school house.

Palmer Named '48 ASEE Chairman

Dean of the College of Engineering, Stanley G. Palmer was recently appointed 1948 chairman of the Pacific Southwest section of the American Society for Engineering Education.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the organization was held December 29 and 30, at Marin Junior College in Kentfield, California.

Three other members of Nevada's engineering faculty attended the meeting with Dean Palmer. They included Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, Irving J. Sandorf, professor of electrical engineering, and Howard B. Blodgett, professor of civil engineering.

All four Nevada men took active part in the meeting, which included luncheons, dinners, talks on engineering, discussions, and a trip to San Quentin Prison.

Also included in the meeting of the engineers was a ladies' program which took care of the wives while the men discussed the various technical aspects of engineering.

And then there's the one about a cook in a local fraternity house who was so lazy she puts popcorn in the pancakes to make them turn over by themselves.

Interfrat Group Investigates Hill Rushing Tactics

An investigation into procedures of rushing, pledging, and initiating by the various fraternities is being conducted by the interfraternity council in conjunction with the Western Region Interfraternity Conference.

Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, announced that as a result of the inquiry the University of Nevada will initiate any changes in its present system of rules that are deemed necessary.

The investigation was instigated at the last meeting of the council when a resolution was read to the effect that "a committee is formed to investigate various rushing, pledging, and initiating systems in the region. To be judged on soundness and workability, and to recommend a policy to be established by the constitution committee."

Nevada YW Sends Eight Delegates To Cal Pow-Wow

Asilomar Conference Held On Monterey Peninsula During Holidays

Eight Nevada delegates to Asilomar conference of the YMCA-YWCA returned to their homes January 2 after a week of platform addresses, informal discussions, seminars and worship on the Monterey Peninsula.

Asilomar is a conference grounds owned by the YWCA and it is located one mile from Pacific Grove, California, on Monterey Bay.

Nevadans included Delores Spradling, Jo Ann Barbash, Nilda Cox, Irene Waterman, Alice Pettis, Mary Lou Sewell, Ruth Barakat and Donna Garrett. Donald Pope also attended to gain information which may result in forming a Young Men's Christian Association on this campus.

Activities at the conference grounds began on Saturday, December 27, with registration and room assignment. Miss Spradling state today.

Each day, following breakfast, delegates assembled for a half hour of worship, followed by a quiet hour and the morning platform address. Dr. Arthur Casaday, veteran of several Asilomar Conferences, returned as leader for the morning worship experiences held in the Asilomar Chapel. Dr. Walter Muelder, dean of the Boston University School of Theology, was the morning platform speaker.

Before noon, the daily seminars were held. Each delegate selected one seminar group from the 12 offered and joined in a "community of search." Groups were offered in such areas as Atomic Implications, Russo-American Relations, Cooperatives, or In Search of Maturity.

Choir practice and the committee hour followed lunch. After two hours of recreation and free time, delegates gathered for spontaneous discussions. Fireside singing, the evening platform, and evening recreation followed dinner.

The 75th birthday of the associations was celebrated with all-association meetings of the two groups. Foreign delegates described the activities of the associations in their respective countries.

New Year's Eve, delegates assembled for a dance, later journeying to the chapel for worship at midnight, and returning to the dance afterwards. Activities at the Asilomar Conference concluded with breakfast on January 2.

A & M ENDS MEETINGS

There will be no more meetings of the Artemisia-Manzanita association this semester, Roberta Butler, president of the association, announced this week.

Nevada Riflettes Fire First Match Week of Jan. 17

The University Women's rifle team will fire its first match the week of January 17 with Colorado A & M, Sergeant Earl Grady, director of the range, said today.

A challenge sent to Montana State college has not been confirmed yet, but if it is accepted it will also be fired the same week.

Two more challenges for matches sent out by the women's team were accepted this week by Ohio State university, to be fired the week of February 21, and Cornell university to be fired the week of March 13.

Social Whirlpool Slows to Splash

Few social activities have been planned by sorority houses for these next pre-finals weeks.

According to Marilyn Hanson, social chairman of Kappa Alpha Theta, the sorority gave a dinner, Tuesday evening, for their departing house mother, Mrs. Margaret Minor. Mrs. Carr, who will take her place, was also at the dinner.

Wednesday evening, Miss Hanson added, Thetas had an exchange dinner with Pi Beta Phi. The dinner preceded a social given for the Thetas by Alpha Tau Omega.

There is nothing yet on the agenda for Delta Delta Delta, said Joyce Nielsen, social chairman. The only Gamma Phi Beta activity planned is the regular Friday afternoon "coke hour."

Pi Beta Phi, besides having the exchange dinner with the Thetas, has plans for a social Sunday afternoon with Sigma Rho Delta, to complete the social weekend for sororities.

Committee Named To Select Plays

A committee to select plays for production by the university was picked at a Campus Players meeting yesterday, Bob Durham, president, announced.

Members of this selection committee, which will work in conjunction with Gareth Hughes, are Lawrence Means, Joyce Nielsen, Bob Durham and Jac Petersen.

Plans were also made for the initiation of new members during the week before finals.

"I went out with a general last night."
"Major general?"
"Not yet."

Campus Big Guns Named by Parker For Marksmanship

Plaques for high team scores in the interfraternity, intersorority rifle matches went to Lambda Chi and Pi Phi, Col. Gilbert Parker, head of the military department, announced this week.

Fired just before Christmas reprieve, the match marks the first time trophies have been awarded for intramural rifle competition.

Pi Phi nosed out Tri Delt by a slim two points, to win the women's championship with a score of 283 out of a possible 300. Betty Ann Rice was high scorer, with 99 out of 100 possible points.

Gertrude Sanford and Wilma Gadda completed the three-girl team.

The Independents and Gamma Phi placed third and fourth, respectively, and Kappa Alpha Theta, who entered the match, failed to fire.

In the male division, the score was again close. Lambda Chi scored 477 out of a possible 600 points, while ATO trailed with 475. Kenneth M. Brown, James A. Atkinson and John E. Sawyer composed the winning team.

Brown was high man for the match, shooting 171 out of 200.

Both matches were fired with five-man teams, the three highest scores being counted. The men fired five shots in each of four positions. The women fired ten shots, but in the prone position only.

Independent and Sigma Rho took third and fourth in men's competition. SAE and Theta Chi did not complete the match.

Santa Plays Dan Cupid for Pi Phi's

Santa left quite a few gifts over at the Pi Phi house during Christmas vacation in the forms of engagement rings, wedding rings, and fraternity pins.

Tokens have been recently revealed by: Alice Tullock, now engaged to Roger Willett, Phi Sigma Kappa; Josephine Caprio, who wears the engagement ring of Chuck Saulisberry, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Pat Traner, Pi Phi alumna, who is engaged to Ted Sherman, Theta Chi; the former Helen Foster, now Mrs. Galen Hopkins; and the former Bebe George, who is now married to a Sigma Nu, Dick Munn.

Art Gallery Setup Readied for Display

All the conveniences of an art gallery will be found soon in the exhibit room in the temporary buildings, announced J. Craig Sheppard, art instructor.

Picture molding will change the practice of putting thumb-tacks in the celotex wall, and the necessity for mounting heavier pictures on easels. Temporary panels covering the windows will increase space.

The readjustments will be completed in time for the exhibition of Mr. Sheppard's own watercolors, oils and sculpture in February.

HIKING ON THE HILL

By Muriel Smiley

Dear Santa Claus:

The time has passed when your reindeer made click click on the uneven hills of Nevada's campus and you are doubtless in need of some thanks and information as to who received what.

Finding something of the feminine type in his stocking was Jim Bright. So pleased was this deserving Lambda Chi that he immediately rushed up to the altar with his package and presented a Mrs. degree to the former Sandra Reeves . . . called "Sandy" by most . . . attends the U for a general education but thinks cooking is more fascinating . . . claimed by matrimony just before Christmas . . . Bishop is the hometown . . . attends YWCA meetings . . . also contributes ideas when the improvement committee assembles . . . pledged faithfulness to Gamma Phi.

I hear tell one of the Phi Sigs described his wants as someone who looks like Pat Eddy, dresses like Gene Downey, is built like Pat Crandall. To be specific, I understand you sent nothing like this to Bill Horton . . . swears at Phi Sig pledges and attempts to make slaves of them . . . is in the spotlight with boxing team members . . . belongs in the sophomore category.

Pack Hoopsters Win Four of Five Games Against Intersectional Foes

By HARRY SPENCER
Taking no holiday from court chores over Christmas vacation, coach Jake Christlomas Nevada quintet won four out of five games from top intersectional opponents.

The Nevadans met and the back Springfield College (Mass.) 53-48, University of Nebraska, 63-58, and in a double header, Brigham Young University, 45-44 and 64-57.

The Pack's only loss was an extremely rough contest with the University of Kansas, which they dropped 52-45.

Opening the holiday series against the Springfield aggregation, the Nevada squad was temporarily stymied by the tight zone defense thrown at them by the New Englanders.

However, with Ron DuPratt, Jack Pringle and big Dan Orlich leading the way on fast breaks, the home club went ahead and stayed for the remainder of the contest.

In a see-saw game with the University of Nebraska the Wolf Pack was hard-pressed to come up with a 63-58 win. Nebraska got off to an early lead and with both teams hitting the hoop the score climbed to a 25-25 tie at half-time.

Bill Moylan, Jim Mackey and Lou Joseph paced the Pack in the second half and Nevada took over the lead. Bob Cerv, big Nebraska guard, was injured when he took a serious spill and had to be helped from the game.

Jayhawkers Win
Suffering their only defeat of the series at the hands of a "scrapping" Kansas five, the locals were unable to keep apace of the Jayhawkers' accurate shooting. Forty-one fouls were called in one of the roughest basketball games ever seen on the university.

Both team captains, Nevada's Davis and Myron Enns, Kansas, were ejected from the game after exchanging blows midway in the second quarter. Davis and Enns had been roughing each other quite a bit and the spark was touched off when Enns dumped Davis as the latter drove in for a lay in shot.

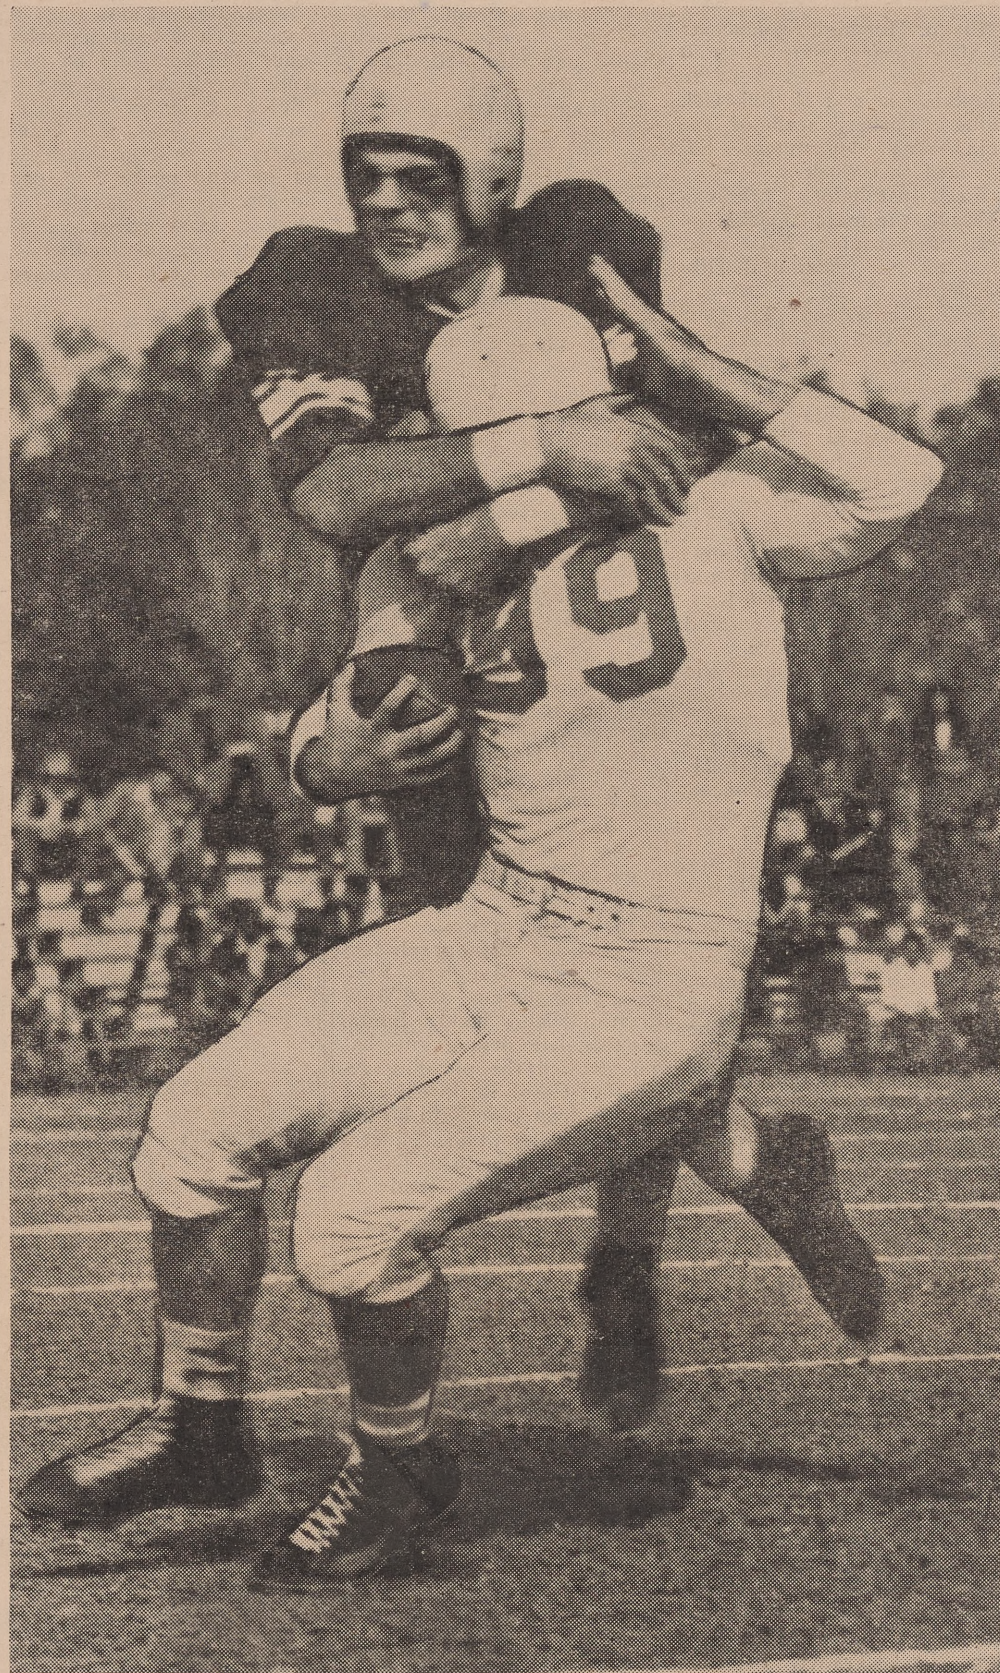

The Nevada crew kept the game close the first half but couldn't find the bucket in the second canto and fell behind to lose by seven points.

Facing a double-header with a hot and cold BYU quintet, the Nevadans went into both games without the services of Hal Fischer, veteran center who played his last game for Nevada against the University of Kansas.

Pack Off Fast
In the first game the Pack got off to a quick 26-16 lead at halftime and it appeared they would win with little trouble. The second half saw a reversal of form on the part of the Cougars as they pulled up and then forged ahead of a surprised Silver and Blue five. Trailing 44-43, with no more than a second of playing time remaining, Jim Mackey made a desperation bid for victory. As the timekeeper pressed the buzzer to end the game, Mackey let the ball fly. The ball travelled 45 feet through the air and banged off the backboard through the net for the game-winning score. A thunderous ovation and a mob of Nevada cagers and fans engulfed Mackey as he left the floor.

A determined BYU team greeted the Nevada club the following evening and in as close a ball game as can be played on a basketball court fought all the way before a last-minute, three-basket spurt by Grant Davis iced the contest for the Pack.

HEY! WHO TURNED OUT THE LIGHTS?

Duke Lindeman, using one of his "Waltz me around again, Willie" tackles, is shown here bringing down Dick Nutt of the North Texas State Eagles in the Salad Bowl. Although Lindeman's tactics weren't exactly crowd pleasing, there isn't anything in the books that says "No necktie tackling"—and they aided in the 13-6 Nevada victory.

Wolves Rally to Edge Tough Texans 13-6 in New Year's Salad Bowl Mix

By BILL MacFARLAND
Coming from behind when the chips were down, Nevada's Wolf Pack turned the tables on a stubborn North Texas State football team to win the first annual Salad Bowl game 13-6 in Phoenix, Arizona, New Year's day.

Stan Heath, Nevada quarterback, delivered the decisive blow late in the second quarter. With the Pack on the short end of a 6-0 score and apparently tied up on its own five yard line, Heath called one of the most daring plays of the new year.

Getting excellent protection as he faded to pass from his own end zone, the Wolf signal caller cut loose with a 55 yard throw to fleet-footed halfback Tommy Kalmanir.

The "Jerome Jaunter" eluded the safety man and turned on the steam to get under the long pass. Tommy's outstretched fingers grabbed the ball at the 50 and "Mr. Scatback" was on his way.

Heath's cool gambling play had covered 105 yards in all and 95 from scrimmage. It was one of the longest pass plays in any bowl game history.

Bob Corley place kicked one through the uprights, putting the Silver and Blue in front to stay.

Nevada scored again early in the fourth quarter on a sustained drive with Ernie Zeno pounding over the one yard line on fourth down. Corley missed on his try for conversion, ending the day's scoring.

Touchdown Pass Bobbled
North Texas threw a terrific scare into the Wolves with a desperate pass in the waning moments of the game. Eagle quarterback McCain rifled a sure touchdown pass to his right end Joe Abbey but the wingman bobbled it on the goal line.

Nevada took over and was driving toward another touchdown when the final gun stopped them on the Eagle 18 yard line.

North Texas opened the game with intent to run the Wolves back to Reno. Bill Cromer intercepted one of Heath's shots deep in his own territory. Dick Nutt and Bill Bartlett maneuvered the ball to mid-field. McCain tossed one 47 yards to Abbey on the three.

Cromer tried left tackle found a hole, but as he reached the goal line, Heath put a crushing tackle on the Eagle fullback, knocking him back to the three. Officials ruled, however, that Cromer's forward motion had carried him into scoring territory.

Eagle Fans in Uproar
The Eagles had drawn first blood and Lone Star Staters who made the trip to Phoenix with their team were in an uproar.

Both teams fought to a standstill until Dick Nutt punted dead on Nevada's five. It was then that Heath dug into Nevada's bag of tricks and completely caught the Texans flat-footed with his field length pass play to Kalmanir.

Wolf Pack players had high praise for North Texas, a supposedly "unknown" team. Many linemen commented on the aggressiveness of the Eagle forward wall. Opinions were that the Texans were tougher than Oregon, Tulsa, USA or Detroit.

Intramural Cage Season Underway

Fraternity hoopsters turned out Wednesday afternoon as intramural basketball got underway in part of the battle for the Kinnear Trophy. On one section of the gymnasium floor the ATOs walloped the Independents with a 59 to 19 victory, while near by, the Sigma Nus trounced the Sigma Rho team 51 to 20 in the first two games of the season.

This afternoon the men of Lambda Chi will meet the SAEs in the only other game of the week. No standings will be classified until next week when all teams have had an opportunity to show their ability on the court.

Nevada Seeks Rifle Nationals

If the University Rifle club can secure rooms for 25 men, an application will be sent to the National Rifle Association to consider the University of Nevada as a possible site for the National Intercollegiate rifle matches which are to be held March 20.

Last year Nevada won third place in the Intercollegiate rifle matches, competing against 16 schools, at Berkeley. The number of teams to compete in this year's match have not yet been revealed, said Tom Macaulay, spokesman for the Nevada rifle team.

Macaulay, who is in charge of housing for the out-of-state teams, stated today that Colonel Gilbert Parker of the military department will send in the application as soon as the rooms are secured.

Macaulay has asked that anyone with room, who is able to help out in this housing situation, call him at 4220.

Accident Injuries Still Hospitalize Fleet Pack Back

Willard Elder, fleet football halfback, is still receiving treatment at the Washoe General hospital for injuries sustained in an automobile accident December 19.

Elder's injuries include a fractured skull, a fractured jaw, and severe eye lacerations. His companion the night of the mishap, Betty Fox, received a fractured collarbone, but has been released from the hospital.

Two other occupants of the car in which Elder and Miss Fox were passengers, Tom Ross and Lucille Warren, were only slightly injured and required no hospitalization.

Jake and Joe Give Carsonites Word on Pack

"The University of Nevada basketball team is ready to play any team in or out of the United States," Coach Jake Lawlor told members of the Carson City Lions Club early this week.

Lawlor said that several of the teams best players have left this season, but went on to state that new men who recently turned out "are coming along in fine shape."

He told the assembled Lions that the Wolf Pack has won more games than they have lost and pointed out that the Pack has faced tough competition all season.

Graduate Manager Joe T. McDonnell, speaking before the Carson City 20-30 Club this week, stated that he had heard that the powerful University of Texas Longhorns football team wants to schedule the Wolf Pack.

Apparently the whole state of Texas wants to avenge the North Texas defeat of January 1, he said.

McDonnell named the North Texas Eagles as one of the strongest teams that the Pack had faced during the season.

In his Lion Club talk the coach expressed his confidence that the team would end the season with more wins than losses. He added that the team members were looking forward to their game in Hawaii later in the season.

Lawlor praised this year's referees, who, he explained, were appointed by the Pacific Coast Conference and were doing an excellent job.

Six Students Star In Little Theater

With six University of Nevada students in leading roles, the marital comedy, "Made in Heaven," will be presented by the Reno Little Theater starting January 12, and will run for one week.

Marion Gotberg, George Bennett, Leo O'Brien, Tom Salter, Paul Sullivan and Louis Hall, all students at the university, have parts in the play, which is the third major production of the season.

A special performance will be given for University of Nevada students on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, January 11. Price of student admission for the matinee will be 50 cents.

Campus Lecturer Says, 'Be Careful Where Snow Falls'

"You can make all the artificial snow or rain that you want, but be careful where it falls," said Attorney Louis V. Skinner, university lecturer in economics and business administration, when questioned on the legality of artificial rain-making recently.

Skinner said that according to law, the clouds in the sky exist as free water and can be handled as such. The damage that carbon dioxide-induced snow or rain can cause, if artificially induced, can be the subject of a lawsuit, he said.

Control of cloud-brought rain, he said, would have to be controlled by national law, if any state or region attempted to monopolize it.

The question was asked of Skinner when Paul Seaborn made an attempt at causing snow to fall on Mt. Rose.

Chamber Reports Poor Ski Weather

Reno Chamber of Commerce has bad news for campus skiers who have made plans for the Mt. Rose area this weekend. On Monday and Tuesday there was skiing in the Sand Dunes area with about a foot of snow reported. Wednesday rain was reported on Mt. Rose and the chamber was making no guarantees of snow for the weekend.

Paul Seaborn, pilot of the plane that has been attempting to produce a snow storm on Mt. Rose, stated that they were still trying and hoped to get results soon. He explained that it was necessary for the clouds to be at a certain temperature and containing a certain moisture content before the chain reaction could be started.

If these experiments are successful, he went on to say, it might be possible to bring the rainfall in Reno up to its normal level at least. This, he explained, might not be grounds for lawsuits for illegally diverting the water from Utah.

Mr. Seaborn is a graduate of the university and is a member of Sigma Nu.

Oral Masters Exam Given Chem Fellow

Abraham Ravve, fellow in chemistry, appeared before the examining board this afternoon to take an oral examination on a thesis for his master's degree in chemistry, announced Dean Fred W. Tranter, chairman of the graduate committee.

Ravve received his bachelor's degree in chemistry at the University of Southern California in 1943. He entered the University of Nevada in the spring of 1946 and has taught chemistry while working towards his master's degree here.

PACK TRACKS

By Bill McFarland

Years may come and go but 1947 will be remembered long as the most outstanding in the annals of Nevada sports. Thrills and surprises filled the past year for Wolf Pack followers.

A retrospect of 1947 shows Nevada's '46 football machine, then under the guidance of Jim Aiken, turn down bid to inaugurate Harbor Bowl in San Diego, New Year's.

One of Nevada's better basketball teams enjoyed good season . . . highlighted by selection of Bob O'Shaughnessy to all-coast team . . . "Shag" Jimmy McIarkey and Grant Davis among west's top scorers.

The intercollegiate ski meet was held at Mt. Rose . . . brilliant individual performances . . . highlighted by selection of UN skiers . . . lost meet by half-point to well balanced California team . . . Jerry Wetzel, Barnes Berry, and Mickey Munley outstanding.

Jim Aiken moved into Oregon as new head coach of Webfeet . . . Joe Sheeketski brought in from Iowa to take over athletic directorship on local scene.

In track, Max Dodge won national junior discus throw championship . . . also established new record for Nevada trackmen with heave of 154 feet . . . refused participation in NCAA meet at Salt Lake City because Nevada not a member of NCAA.

Baseball came into its own during spring . . . first class schedule against bay area teams . . . had fling against Reno Silver Sox of the professional Sunset baseball league.

Varsity tennis team led by Ed Reed and Leonard Stern edged Chico State in sports carnival at latter's home environment . . . track and baseball teams brought Nevada clean sweep of affair.

Under leadership of new coach Sheeketski, '47 football team had best season in school history . . . beat former coach Aiken and his Oregon team in Ducks' backyard . . . Aiken humiliated . . . gives out with report that Nevada gambling influenced Wolf Pack . . . later yelled misquote . . . Hal Wood, UP sports writer, said Jim needs book on how to win friends and influence people in Nevada . . . there is no such book for gravel voice.

Footballers beaten only by USF and Detroit . . . major scalps in Wolves' tepee include Tulsa, St. Mary's and St. Louis—accept Salad Bowl invite—refuse because North Texas State named opponent . . . Texans mad . . . Nevada re-accepts.

Skiing, for many moons a minor sport, finally attains major standing.

Basketball team record about even—seven against top opponents in early stages of new season.

Athletic withdrawals during old year . . . Lloyd Rude of football fame . . . reason for his departure is still unknown . . . Hal Fisher of the cage team for job in SF, and berth with Oakland Bitters.

Wolf Pack wins Salad Bowl game by 13-6 count to bring in new year . . . Texans still mad.

Jim Mackay and Bill Moylan, basketball regulars, leave Nevada fold because of financial difficulties.

Nineteen-forty-eight is in and what the picture will have to offer is yet to be seen. It'll have to go some to beat the year gone by.

New Tumbling Club To Exhibit Wares

The Olympics Club, a newly organized group of tumblers, soon will exhibit their prowess between halves of basketball games, declared John E. Martie, professor of men's physical education.

Exhibitions will be made in nearby high schools next spring, said Professor Martie. He added that Arthur Broten, part-time instructor, is coach of the team.

Nevada Debators Make Top Showing In Speech Tourney

Orators Compete Against 32 Western Colleges; Take Fourth Place

Competing against 32 western universities, the University of Nevada made its best showing in recent years at the speech tournament held in Salt Lake City December 29, 30, 31, according to S. M. Vinocour, director of forensics.

On a basis of over-all participation, the squad was given fourth place in the grand sweepstakes, third place in debate sweepstakes, and fourth place in individual sweepstakes.

Scott Whitney and Rex Jemison took first place in junior men's debate. Fay Fryberger and Barbara Martin were tops in junior women's debate.

Whitney also won second place in junior men's extemporaneous speaking. Miss Martin tied Barbara Joseph for third place in junior women's extemporaneous speaking. Bonnie Yturbide, captain of the debate team, won third place in senior men's oratory.

Permanent Secretariat

The Nevada speakers achieved a permanent secretariat in the National Student United Nations Congress, which was held in conjunction with the speech tournament. The University of Southern California was selected as the permanent headquarters of this commission.

Miss Martin was named first secretary of the organization.

Miss Fryberger, Maclin Summers, Huling Ussery, Dale Riley, and Miss Martin took part in the congress.

"... Had we had a greater representation, I feel confident that Nevada would have won first in all the sweepstakes awards," stated Mr. Vinocour.

History Professor Delivers Paper to Associates at UC

Austin E. Hutcheson, associate professor of history and political science, delivered a paper before the American Historical Associates at the University of California January 2.

Entitled "John W. North, and the Comstock courts under Lincoln," the paper was an attempt to disprove corruption charges which were filed by lawyers who lost cases before Judge North.

North was a territorial judge, a member of the Nevada Territorial Supreme Court, and chairman on the state constitutional convention in Nevada and Minnesota.

In addition to being surveyor-general, he built a water mill for ore at Washoe City.

Campus Club Head Feted by Dinner

A dinner honoring the Rev. Terrence Stoker, who recently arrived in Reno from Cedarville, California, will be held in the Federated church, Sunday at 5 pm.

Prof. Irving J. Sandorf, former faculty advisor to the Campus Club, announced today that the Reverend Stoker will coordinate youth activities of the Federated church here. Prior to his arrival in Reno he was minister for two years of the Cedarville Federated church.

He will take over the duties of Professor Sandorf, who was founder of the Campus Club and advisor to the group for 19 years, and those of Dr. M. W. Deming, chemistry professor and director of the Federated Sunday school, and Stan Smith, junior arts and science student in charge of the Hi-X Club, a Reno High School organization connected with the church. The Reverend Stoker's office will be located in the manse at 16 W. Fifth St., which will later be converted into a youth center.

STUDENTS ENTERTAIN VETS WITH SMOKER

Patients of the veterans hospital were entertained at a smoker given by the volunteer college unit of the Red Cross on Dec. 11, stated unit chairman James Welin. The program included films of the Nevada-Tulsa and St. Mary's games, modern songs and Christmas carols sung by the Lambda Chi Alpha song team, and magic tricks by Bob Doese. Welin acted as master of ceremonies.

Other members of the unit who helped with the smoker were Eddie Martin, Mel Rovetti, Bob Fuss, Bob le Goy, Wallace Rabenstine, Gene Grottegut, Jac Francovich and Dan Riley.

He: Thanks for the dance.
She: The pressure was all mine.

National Matches May Be Resumed At Camp Perry

The prewar national rifle and pistol matches may be completely resumed this August, Colonel Gilbert E. Parker, military department head, stated this week. The government, in the past, has sponsored two teams per state of national guardsmen and civilians, in this annual meeting at Camp Perry, Ohio.

All expenses paid on the three-week trip to Ohio should be something worth working for to rifle enthusiasts said the colonel.

Small bore and hand gun shooting has been carried on for the last two years, said the military department chief, and above .30 caliber shooting may be resumed.

A knowledge of use of the service rifle, which is encouraged by this competition is of military value to the United States.

Men from the university are eligible to try out for such teams, declared Colonel Parker. The prospect should especially appeal to veterans, he concluded.

Additional details may be secured from Sergeant Earl J. Grady at the rifle range.

Jay A. Carpenter To Attend Three January Meetings

Professor Jay A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, will attend three meetings this month. The Nevada section of the American Institute of Mining Engineers will meet on January 15 and Director Carpenter will attend as secretary. Clyde Williams, president of the AIME, will be the guest speaker.

On January 9, Professor Carpenter will attend a meeting of the State Planning Board at Carson City, and January 12 he will be present at a meeting of the Advisory Mining Board in Reno.

Because the second semester starts at the beginning of February, both President John O. Moseley and Director Carpenter will be unable to accept a personal invitation from Senator George W. Malone of Nevada to attend a Senate Committee Hearing meeting on mining affairs.

Director Carpenter said that the meeting will be held in Denver on Feb. 2, 3 and 4.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS TO GET PAMPHLETS

Pamphlets on the advantages and opportunities of a college education will be sent out during the spring semester by the Home Economics Club to graduating high school girls all over the state, President Althea Benedict stated this week.

These pamphlets, designed to encourage girls to continue their education, will also contain articles on what is needed for the college wardrobe, and information concerning the University of Nevada home economics department, Miss Benedict said.

Chapel Chimes

By Tom Cunniffe

Formal invitations to a party scheduled for January 31, will be extended to about 125 Baptist students by the Roger Williams club. Invitations will be sent out with the assistance of all members at the meeting this Sunday at 7 pm. Also at the meeting Mrs. Maude Taylor will speak on "Baptist History." Refreshments will be served and the meeting will end with singing.

Clarence Marshall, YMCA secretary, reports the first sports night of the new year for Live Y'ers this Friday night at the town YMCA building. At 8 pm members will participate in volley ball and table tennis games. Afterwards members will meet in the lounge where refreshments will be served and couples will dance until 12.

The Newman club resumes activities this Sunday with the first corporate communion of the year at the 9:30 am mass at St. Thomas Aquinas cathedral. Breakfast will be served after mass and plans for a coming dance will be completed. The Twentieth Century club is the site of the dance and the 17th is the date. Proceeds are for the future Newman club building.

"Effects of Psychology on Worship" is the topic of discussion at the Wesley Foundation meeting beginning at 6 pm Sunday. A discussion hour will follow and at 7:30 supper will be served.
