Artemisia Editor Does Impossible

Doing the impossible, or at least what has been stated as impossible by former Artemisia editors, Doris Hanssen proudly announced that the 1948 deadline for the yearbook has not only been met but the book is now being issued ahead of schedule.

For the first time in Artemisia history there is a student index. Located in the back of the book this index gives a student's name followed by the pages on which his picture and activities can be found.

Also for the first time the five main divisions, academics, activities, athletics, associations, and advertising are subdivided into 16 smaller listings for easier reading.

The 1948 yearbook has pictures of all the outstanding events during the past year. Due to early March and April deadlines later spring activities could not be added. There is, however, complete coverage of the fall, winter and early spring affairs.

The 288 page yearbook can be obtained in the senate room of the ASUN building from 9 until 5 today. All those who do not get their books at this time can obtain it in the graduate manager's office any time next week.

Any first semester student will receive his Artemisia when he pays the additional $2.50 required, said Miss Hanssen. This additional sum also applies to one semester veterans as the veterans administration will not pay it, she added.

Campus American Legion Has Outing

The new campus American Legion Memorial Post, No. 13 held its first annual beer bust and steak fry Sunday at Galena Creek.

Lee Delauer and Charles Cross were in charge of the event.

New officers were elected for 1948-49 at the meeting Thursday evening. They are Ed Drennon, re-elected as commander; Jim Werhle, vice-commander; Lee Delauer, adjutant and finance officer, and Kurt Baker, chaplain.

It was announced that the playground work is progressing nicely and that splendid cooperation has been received from the city of Reno and the university. The post has donated $200 toward building a playground at Victory Heights for the student veterans children.

TRACY AND PORTER ANNOUNCE BETROTHAL

Miss Betty Tracy, senior student and a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, recently announced her engagement to Keith Porter.

The announcement was made at a double birthday party given for Ethel Pettis and Miss Tracy. Miss Tracy is a physics major, and will graduate this June. Porter is a member of Sigma Rho Delta and is in the electrical engineering department.

No definite plans have been made for the wedding.

Fund Lack Slows Playground Work

Lack of sufficient funds is temporarily holding up the work on the Victory Heights playground, according to Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin.

Dean Griffin stated that work will probably be delayed until after board of regents meets on June 5. At this time, the contribution of the university will be decided upon, and work will probably recommence shortly after.

Protected Place

It is his hope to have the playground in operation shortly after school is out, he said, so that the Victory Heights children will have a protected place in which to play for the summer months.

At the present the closest park is four blocks away, and there have been several near mishaps with children playing in the street.

Although funds will not be available for a supervisor, it is hoped that the Victory Heights mothers will work out a plan whereby one of them will be on hand in the playground at all times during the day.

Petition Circulated For Greek Course On Nevada Campus

Students interested in studying Greek for university language credit should sign their names on a petition for the proposed course. This announcement was made today by Norma Carnel, freshman A&S student, who is instituting plans for the course next semester.

Permission Granted

Miss Carnel has received permission from President John O. Moseley to have the course, provided enough students sign the petition. This paper will be circulated around campus before the close of school.

Prerequisite for taking the course is two or more years of language credit.

Professor F. C. Murgotten, instructor with the foreign language department, will teach the course since he has previous experience in teaching this language.

SNACK BAR SCHEDULE

First session summer students will find the snack bar in operation. Miss Helen Brania, YWCA secretary, announced today that the Stewart Hall recreation center will be open until June 30, but added that it will be closed.

INFIRMARY CLOSSES

The infirmary will close on June 7 until the fall semester begins.

Robert Weber and William Geohagan were the only students in the university infirmary last week.

Awards Presented At Final Assembly Of School Year

More than 200 students received awards ranging from Gothic N's to gold cups yesterday morning during the final student assembly of the year.

New officers were given the oath of office by the outgoing officials, a short report was given by the improvement committee, and as a final act of the student body, Jimmy Glynn, student body president, gave resigning Joe T. McDonnell, graduate manager for the past nine years, a present of appreciation.

The first order of business was giving the oath of office to the new student body officers which proceeded with Coe Swobe, new sophomore class manager, taking the oath from John Foley, retiring manager. Bill Gillis, outgoing junior class manager, installed Tom Bell; Wallace Green, recently elected senior class manager, accepted the oath of office from Jimmy Goodin.

Betty Tracy, retiring AWS president, received an engraved gavel after giving the oath of office to her successor, Lorrain Houghton.

Carl Robinson, only candidate for Block N representative, received the oath of office from Jordon Eliades.

After Rex Jemison took the oath of office from Glynn, he expressed the appreciation of the student body for the work the retiring ASUN president has done the past year. He then presented Glynn with an engraved gavel.

Kenneth Rice, junior engineering student, was commended by Colonel G. E. Parker as he was awarded a circle N. Colonel Parker stated that Rice had the highest score in the entire state and was voted the most valuable member of the local chapter by the national rifle club.

Other students receiving the rifle team awards are: Paul Harris, Jack Hull, Wilber Jager, Jack Means, Thomas Macaulay, Donald Metzger, Robert Olmsted, Lee Scott, Richard Wright and Raymond Wunderlich.

During this year the ROTC rifle team has won 19 out of 23 matches, the varsity 23 out of 27 and the girls rifle team 19 out of 21 shoots, Colonel Parker said.

Bonnie Yturbide, Scott Whitney and Rex Jemison were awarded cups for expositions they attained in debate tournaments during the year by S. M. Vinocour, debate coach. Also awarded were many first, second and third places in extemporaneous speaking won by individual members of the debate squad.

Vinocour then presented gold keys to Arthur Johnson, Dale Riley and Huling Usery for two years activity with the debate squad. Silver keys for one year's work were awarded to: Mark Bray, Pa-

Invitations Mailed For Commencement

Over a thousand commencement invitations were mailed this week from the office of President Moseley, secretary Alice Terry announced today.

The invitations included the three day program beginning with Phi Kappa Phi's banquet and address on June 5, noted the baccalaureate address on June 6, and ended with commencement of June 7.

Miss Terry revealed the invitations were also mailed to executive members of the state.

Student Morals Question "Flows" Before Regents

EDS. NOTE: A proposal to "Clarify?" We are confused! Does Dean Griffin want student affairs to be handled by the students, or by the Board of Regents. He has said that it should be left in the students' charge and has taken the problem (?) to the Regents.

Four new campus organizations had their constitutions approved by the ASUN senate this week. In addition, the organized Independents submitted a new constitution to the senate which was approved, Bob Little, student senator, made known this week.

A few proposals concerning student behavior were presented to the senate by Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, Little said. It was agreed that the students should be able to control this situation without any action by the board of regents being necessary.

The new organizations which were approved were the Students for Wallace, Inter-Faith Council and the new Artemisia and Manzanita constitutions. The Artemisia-Manzanita Association was disbanded earlier this year by a majority vote of girls living in the dormitories. Each hall will now have an organization of its own.

There was a lengthy debate before the Students for Wallace constitution was approved, Little said. The opposition to the new group contended that all new organizations should submit a list of their charter members to the senate before its constitution could be ap-

It was further argued that the organization's name was misleading, since it gave the impression that all University of Nevada students were supporters of the "Wallace for President" movement, Little stated.

Information Given On Methods Used In Classifications

As a result of frequent inquiries concerning the method of tabulating the scholastic averages of members of the sororities and fraternities at the University of Nevada, joint statements were released today by the registrar's office and the dean of men.

"There are two distinct types of scholarship classifications for fraternities and sororities at the University of Nevada," announced Mrs. J. C. Rhodes, registrar, and Dr. R. S. Griffin, dean of men.

Scholarship Trophy

A scholarship trophy is annually awarded to the fraternity which attains the highest scholastic average, stated Dr. Griffin. The average in this case includes the grades of the pledges of the fraternities.

At the same time, Mrs. Rhodes pointed out, the registrar's office has always given the highest fraternity or sorority rating to the house with the highest scholastic average. The pledges of these houses, however, are not included in the tabulations.

At the present time the scholarship trophy is in the possession of Lambda Chi Alpha, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon tops the scholastic list at the registrar's office.

Two Hundred Students Will Receive Degrees

SPEAKER

Henry J. Kaiser, construction tycoon, has been selected to address the 1948 graduating class as a mark of recognition for the contribution he made to the state of Nevada. He has entitled his talk, "Imagine Your Future."

UN Phi Kappa Phi Banquet Is Opener Of Commencement

The 36th annual banquet of the University of Nevada chapter of Phi Kappa Phi will formally open the 1948 commencement ceremonies Saturday evening, June 5. The banquet will be held at 6:30 in the Twentieth Century Club.

Principal speaker of the evening will be Dr. Howard Robertson, cosmologist, who will talk on "Mount Palomar and the Expanding Universe." It is expected that he will also show appropriate slides.

The annual affair is primarily intended to honor the students newly elected to the society this year because of their high scholarship. Many University of Nevada alumni previously elected are expected to attend the dinner, as well as active members on the University staff and in the student body.

Anyone interested may attend the banquet, however, by making reservations with Miss Mildred Swift, Phi Kappa Phi historian.

As president of the society, Dr. E. Maurice Beesley will preside. Other officers this year include: Dr. Loring R. Williams, vice-president; Charlotte F. Carter, secretary; Dr. Everett W. Harris, treasurer; and Howard G. Mason, marshal.

Gorrell Releases New Course Numbers

A complete new system of numbering courses will be included in the 1948-49 catalogue soon to be released, Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, in charge of the catalogue, announced this week.

The new course numbers will run from 100 to 599 instead of 1 to 100 as now used.

Dr. Gorrell stated that the change was necessary because so many new courses have been added that the present numbering system is no longer adequate.

For the first time in its history the University of Nevada will have graduated more than 200 students in one year, when President John O. Moseley awards degrees to the class of 1948 in the new gymnasium at 10 am June 7.

The new record easily tops all previous high. Up to this year the graduating classes of 1934 and 1938 have shared the honor of being the largest classes graduated from Nevada. Each of those years saw a total of 156 graduates. Last year's number was 129, a large increase over the slim war years, but still not up to pre-war levels.

Chosen to give the commencement address to the record number of Nevada graduates is the famous ship and automobile builder, Henry J. Kaiser. Mr. Kaiser was selected as a mark of recognition for the contribution he has made to the state of Nevada. He has entitled his talk, "Imagine Your Future."

The other speaker for this year's exercises will be Rev. William J. Clawson, Jr., who will preach the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 6, at 11 am in the new gymnasium.

A native of Nevada and a graduate of the University of Nevada, the Rev. Mr. Clawson has been a prominent Presbyterian clergyman in northern California for the last 16 years. He is at present pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Livermore, California. He graduated from Nevada in 1928. His subject for the baccalaureate sermon is "The Dimensions of Life."

At the baccalaureate ceremonies the University Singers, campus choral group under the direction of Prof. Theodore H. Post, music department head, will sing "Glory to the Trinity," by Sergei Rachmaninoff. The inspiring religious hymn by the late composer is taken from Opus 31, and is considered among his best works.

A tentative list numbers a possible 164 graduates this spring. This figure combined with the 29 graduated last January and the 22 last summer gives a possible total of 225 students graduated this year.

It is expected that 83 students will receive bachelor of arts degrees; 11 will be given a bachelor of sciences degree from the school of arts and sciences. These are to be three two year normal teachers' certificates awarded. Ten students are expected to receive the bachelor of sciences degree in business administration, 43 in engineering, seven in agriculture, and one in home economics.

Masters degrees are to be given to six students. Four Masters of sciences degrees and two master of arts. In addition three professional degrees, Mining Engineering, will be awarded this year. One goes to Martin Hannifan, who earns his by actual mining work in Chile. Another will be presented to Fred Humphrey, professor at University of Stanford and formerly with the Nevada State Bureau of Mines on this campus. The third will be posthumously awarded to Theodore Overton, who died here last spring, but had already completed the prescribed work for the degree.

Jeanne DeMuth passed candy at the Gamma Phi house. She is pinned to Joe Dini, Phi Sigma Kappa.

NOW IS THE HOUR ...

To take the words of a popular song, and apply them to the present seems at this time to be appropriate. For now is the hour that we must say goodbye. All the old sayings—such as parting is such sweet sorrow, and that stuff—holds true today. However, before we write thirty on this year, and our college career, we feel that a bouquet, or two, is in order for several of our fellow students.

The order of naming the fellas and gals is unimportant, the fact that they are worthy of recognition is the thing. If we were connected in any way with the navy, we'd have to say "well done" to the Improvement Committee. Henry Stewart has served as chairman of that group, but it is to the entire committee that praise should go. Under Stewart's leadership, the Improvement Committee has materially aided the cause of the average student. Tangible evidence can be seen by comparing the dining hall conditions with those of just a semester ago.

If we had an orchid to give away for achievement beyond our fondest dreams, that orchid would have to go to Doris Hanssen, editor of the Artemisia. Doris has worked hard on the publication and the fruit of her labors can be seen by trotting down to the ASUN building today and picking up your 1947-48 yearbook. It has been sometime since the campus has been graced with as efficient a coed as this year's Artemisia chief. To you from us, Doris, "Good going!"

With the year fast drawing to a close, we feel it our duty to lay before each college man and woman here at Nevada a summer project. For some twenty-five or more years, there has been a movement to raise funds for the erection of a student union building. Each year the drive has lost momentum and then sputtered to a standstill. The time is ripe for another all-out drive and each student has the opportunity of playing salesman.

Both the Alumni Association and the school administration have indicated a desire to aid in this new campaign. With backing of that sort, the task of the student becomes relatively simple. It amounts to this: While home during the summer, talk up the need of a new ASUN building on the campus. Get parents behind the movement, and they in turn will get the legislators of the state behind it, too.

For the out-of-state student, the task becomes a little more difficult. Since there is a possibility that a bond issue could be floated by the state of Nevada, with the backing of the legislature, it stands to reason that the student in New York, or elsewhere is going to swing little weight out here. The thing to do then, is to work along the donation line. There are still some wealthy persons who are looking for a good cause on which to turn loose their money.

We don't believe there is a student on the Hill who would object to having the building named after the top donor. Some of the Regents might raise an eyebrow about it, but even they can be shown the light. So for a constructive summer, turn your hand to the selling of a new student union building. One is needed.

That's it! Nothing more to say, nothing more but that serving the Pack as editor has been our pleasure.

Crucible Club Elects Barrios President

Alberto Barrios, new president of the Crucible Club, was elected Friday morning, replacing Roy K. Dondero. Dondero's term in office was described by Barrios, as "one of the most successful in many years."

The undergraduate mining club's new vice-president is Robert Horton, replacing Barrios, who moved up to the top post. Hugh Ingle is stepping down from his secretary's office for William Williams, and Gerald Knowles takes over the treasury office just vacated by Glen Franklin.

Barrios, commenting on his plans for next year's Crucible Club, hopes to keep up Dondero's pace. Dondero instigated the directory of mining school graduates and the alumni questionnaire which is beginning to bring in replies. Its purpose is to bring closer the relationships of alumni and undergraduates.

Last Music Program Set for Sunday

The last of a series of musical radio programs conducted by Barney Childs, university student, will be given Sunday from 8 to 9 pm on station KXXL.

Featured will be the "Sonata for Flute and Piano," by Paul Hindemith, with Childs at the piano and Joann Hamblin, sophomore student, playing the flute. Miss Hamblin studied flute in Los Angeles under Arthur Brook, formerly with the Boston Symphony.

Childs has been giving his radio shows, usually one-half hour in length, each Sunday evening for almost a year. His custom has been to play records typifying the music of a period or of a particular composer, and informally discuss the chosen subject.

This last program, except for the "live" flute and piano duet, will follow the usual weekly procedure.

Dr. J. E. Church To Be Initiated In Honor Society

Dr. J. E. Church, professor emeritus at the university and originator of snow survey methods now in use all over the world, has been elected a full member of the society of Sigma Xi, national science organization, it was recently announced. Dr. Church is still in Argentina and will not be able to return to the campus for the initiation ceremonies this month. He has been absent a year laying out snow surveys in other countries.

As a hobby many years ago in connection with his love of mountain climbing, Dr. Church developed methods and techniques for determining the water content of snow packs at high levels, and later evolved methods of forecasting water run-off from his observations.

He was a pioneer in the field and is generally credited with having originated the basis for most of the systems now in use in measuring water content and run-off in snow areas.

As a result of his experiments in the Sierra Nevada and the Humboldt areas in Nevada he was invited in the 1930's to be a guest of honor of the Russian government at a convocation of internationally known scientists.

As there is no authorized chapter of Sigma Xi at the University of Nevada. The club sponsored his election at the University of Michigan, which has a chapter, and from which Dr. Church graduated in 1892.

Sigma Xi is the leading scientific society of the country, and is made up of scientists who have gained recognition in every field. The Nevada club sponsors a lecture of some nationally known authority annually.

The notice of Dr. Church's election to the organization was received by Dr. M. W. Deming, secretary of the local club and associate professor of chemistry. Dr. E. W. Lowrance, associate professor of biology is the Nevada president.

Luncheon Set for Graduating Seniors

Graduating seniors will be the guests at a commencement luncheon, to be jointly sponsored by the Alumni Association and the university, Rex Daniels, alumni secretary, announced recently. The luncheon will be in the university dining hall at 12:15 pm, June 7, right after commencement exercises.

Tickets may be picked up at the alumni office from May 27 to 4 pm June 4, Daniels added. Tickets for faculty members, alumni and parents and friends of students may be purchased in the comptroller's office during this same period. Cost for these latter tickets is $1.25 per person.

Veterans Advisor To Be on Campus

All veterans at the University of Nevada will have an opportunity to consult Keith Lee, training officer of the university, the first week in June.

Mr. Lee will be at the university for three days so that P. L. 16 trainees and P. L. 346 trainees may be able to give him their new address to receive their June subsistence check, to make application for supplemental certificates for summer training if they are planning to attend summer school anywhere, or to discuss any problems they may want to bring to him.

He announced this week that he will be in the office of the dean of men on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, June 1, 2, and 3, from 10 am to 3 pm.

Debate Coach To Resign Position Announces Gorrell

Seymour M. Vinocour, English instructor and debate coach, will not return to the university faculty next year, Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, chairman of the English department, announced today.

"While I have been most happy and content, personally, while serving the University of Nevada, it is now necessary that I go to a larger university in order to complete my graduate studies. I'm sure that the debate squad will continue ably to represent the university under the leadership of a new coach," Vinocour said.

Dr. Gorrell stated that the new instructor will coach the debate team and teach the lower division speech groups now taught by Vinocour.

A rule of the board of regents allows instructors to be hired only on a yearly basis.

Dr. Gorrell stated that three upper division courses in speech are not being offered next year. These courses are taught on alternate years. This has been the only year that pre-legal argumentation has ever been taught at the university and it will not be offered again until further demand.

Under the guidance of Vinocour, the debate squad just revived this year after war, took fifth place in the national meet at West Point.

"It has been proved that opposites attract each other." "Give us an example." "Tight men and loose women."

Artists Acclaim UN Art Exhibit Held Last Week

Three artists expressed satisfaction and enthusiasm at the type of art work being done at the university recently, after seeing the art show which was held on the campus during last week.

The displays in the art department buildings represent the best work that has been turned out during the school year. The exhibits were from the classes being taught by Mrs. Helen Joslin, instructor in art, and J. Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art.

The show includes commercial art, oil paintings, educational art, charcoal drawings, water colors, and engineering free hand drawings.

Bob Fetterly, art director for the Wilson Advertising Agency, gave the student work his approval by saying that he liked the tying of the commercial and esthetic parts of art together to promote understanding and appreciation in the various fields.

He said that the approach was good, that the work had style, and was varied and refreshing. It is a definite step in preparation for a future in commercial art, he continued.

"I would like to see it developed into a three or four year course which would make Reno proud of itself in output. For student work, it is outstanding imagination."

in its conception, execution and Mrs. Emily Hilliard, who is active in Reno art circles, said that the exhibit was a delightful experience, and wished that everyone who could attend the exhibit would do so. She believed that the exhibit was the most outstanding to be placed on view in the history of the art department.

Mrs. Marion Root, well known local artist, said that the work approximates that done in the best eastern art schools.

Dr. John O. Moseley stated that art is one of the cultural fields that we desire to see grow in the state of Nevada.

Maloney to Return Following Operation

Mr. Paul Maloney, member of the University of Nevada Agriculture Extension Department, will return to his home this weekend, after undergoing a serious operation in a local hospital.

Stricken in San Francisco where he was attending a meeting of the UNESCO as the Nevada representative, Mr. Maloney was rushed back to Reno where he underwent surgery.

According to members of the Agriculture Extension Department, Mr. Maloney will return to his position within the next three weeks.

Aquarium Society Seeks New Members, Announces Miller

The Nevada Aquarium Society, an organization for those interested in tropical fish and the preservation of native fish and other wildlife in Nevada, is now seeking charter members, Richard G. Miller, biology instructor, announced today.

As acting president of the group, Miller stated that the organization needed support "from persons interested in the propagation and care of natural culture beneficial to state interests."

"We are still open for charter memberships," Miller said. "The meetings are held here in the agriculture building at 8 p. m. on the last Thursday of every month."

The meeting on May 27 was devoted to discussion on permanent officers in the organization. A project for the eventual donation of an aquarium to patients at the Veterans Hospital drew favorable comment. The aquarium will be stocked with tropical fish and aquatic plants.

Newman Club Hall To Be Completed During Summer

Newman Club members were informed this week by Monsignor John T. Smith, club advisor and pastor of St. Albert the Great parish, that next semester a new modern structure will serve as their clubhouse.

The collegiate center, to be known as Newman Hall, will be constructed on North Virginia St. property directly opposite Artemisia Hall, women's dormitory.

Already architectural plans have been completed and the contractor expects to break ground next week. Ralph Casazza, civil engineering student here at the university is the architect.

Features of the proposed structure will be a library, conference room, chapel, social hall and chaplain's quarters. Plans call for Newman Hall to be open at all times with programs to be arranged for discussion groups, lectures and social functions.

Since the beginning of this semester members have been holding their meetings and discussion groups in the quonset hut which is temporarily serving as St. Albert the Great parish church.

Funds for the proposed structure will come from the drive being conducted by the Catholic diocese of Reno.

Woman Wanted For Rodeo Queen

Girls, here's your chance to be chosen queen for the 4th of July celebration and rodeo in Reno.

The queen will be picked on Sunday, June 20, in the Washoe Horseman's Park, by nine judges for the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Applications must be in not later than June 18.

The requirements for queen are: A Nevada girl, single, and must be able to show good horsemanship. About 30 per cent of the judging will be based on beauty. About 20 on personality and the remaining 50 per cent on horsemanship. The queen must supply her own horse, and be able to do figure eights, loop, back, and sit a horse gracefully.

Application should be sent in as early as possible. Send your application to Bino Grifantini, box 149, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Reno, Nevada, or write him for information.

The queen will ride in the Fourth of July parade, and a dance will be given for her that evening. She will also be queen of the "Jambo-reno" celebration, and the kangaroo court, early in the summer.

"It will be desirable if a University of Nevada girl will get the honor," said Grifantini, who is head of the queen judging. He said he would also like as many applicants from the university as possible. Last year the Junior Chamber of Commerce chose Lucile Monroe, Gamma Phi Beta, queen.

The room will have ping pong tables, a coke machine and a phonograph. The girls will be able to wear slacks and jeans in the rumpus room, and also will be able to entertain male guests in the room.

Boy Meets Girl

At the Cook County School of Nursing, attached to one of the world's largest hospitals, the romantic and recreational side of a busy life is never overlooked. The modern nurses' residence takes care of that; and perhaps its most popular innovation is the "date parlor". There are a dozen of these semi-private alcoves in the main lounge where a beau may be entertained or a student conference held. Anne Collins (Jackson, Michigan) pictured here is typical of the student nurse from the smaller town.

This school has students from all parts of the world. Edna S. Newman, director, has announced that several scholarships are available for the Spring course and for the Fall course opening in September. She states too, that in addition to the regular three-year course there is a five-year course now possible to the girl who wishes to combine a college diploma with a degree in nursing. All inquiries should be addressed to her at 1900 West Polk Street, Chicago.

The director welcomes the application of the girl from the smaller town or the farm as her background training and physical fitness make it easy to fulfill the qualifications now required by all first rate schools of nursing.

SUNDAY CEREMONY TO UNITE STUDENTS

Vivian Davis will change her name to Mrs. Huling Ussery at 3 pm Sunday in the Methodist Church.

Miss Davis and Huling plan to continue college in the fall at another campus.

New Costumes, Trips Planned by Orchesis As Program Profits

Orchesis made a $50 profit from the program they gave last Thursday night. The group is planning to send their officers to Dancing Institute next year and to buy new costumes for the club with the money they made, Gwen Byrd, president, said.

All of the dances which the girls did they composed themselves under the supervision of Miss Jacqueline Van Gaasbeek, physical education teachers at the university.

Orchesis members gave Miss Van Gaasbeek flowers in appreciation for the wonderful help she gave them. It is not definite who is going to sponsor the group next year. If Miss Van Gaasbeek leaves to attend school in the east as she plans the new dance teacher will probably take over the group, Miss Byrd said.

Orientation Dance Committees Named

Committee heads for the YWCA ice breaker dance, held during the freshman orientation week each September, were announced today by Barbara Smith, general chairman.

September's first social event for freshmen will also be sponsored by the newly organized YMCA this year. The dance offers new students the opportunity to get acquainted.

Chairmen n-a-med include Marilyn Tavenia, decorations; Joan Fregger, food; Dolores Spradling, name tags and invitations; Alice Pettis, program, and Mary Ann Douglass, cleanup.

YMCA members will assist the YWCA next fall, but were not named to specific committees.

Nevada Cindermen End '48 Season With Clean Slate

Competing in only three dual meets, the 1948 varsity track team ended up with the first undefeated season since 1942. The fourth meet with St. Mary's was postponed, but the Blue and Silver thinclads were favored to beat the Gael's by a bigger margin than the 86½ to 44½ count against Chico State.

Nevada's cindermen began their winning ways this season by nipping a favored Cal Aggie team 71-60 down at Davis. The feature of the meet was Elmer Green's record breaking 6 feet two and three-quarters inch high jump.

Bad weather and heavy winds hampered preparations for the San Francisco State contest. Once again Nevada, the underdog, emerged victorious. Only a difference of one and one-third points separated the two teams, the Wolf Pack winning 66.1-64.5-6. The meet was run on a wet high school track, two previous selections being too muddy.

Performing before the home crowd for the first time the Wolf Pack swamped Chico State. Carl Robinson clipped the 120 high hurdle record by .1 of a second beating a Chico State runner in 15.3. Dick Trachok ran his fastest quarter mile with a 50.8, second only to the 49.9 school record.

Next season many records should be broken. Those most likely to be under fire are the 440 record with Trachok favored to turn the trick; the 120 high hurdle mark since Robinson has another year of eligibility left; the high jump record that belongs to Green who also returns, and possibly the half mile mark of 2:00.1 with Bud Hardy and Ross Smith nipping at the record.

Nevada's first good representation in the distances may be found next year in the person of Al Richardson who showed improvement as the season progressed. In the Chico State meet he took second and was rated as having a good chance to take the two mile in the cancelled St. Mary's dual meet.

Trailers are being taken to the wilds by hunters. What's handier than chasing your dinner with the dining room?

Wolf Pack Golfers Down Chico State Four Out of Five

University of Nevada Golfers rounded out their season by downing Chico State four out of five individual matches and copping both team matches. Last week, Holloway, who won his match by eight holes, and Perez, Kosakowski and Swartz were winners in the individual matches.

A recap of the season's play shows that at the intercollegiate meet at Santa Cruz, although they did not win, the Nevada golfers carried home two cups. Joe Perez worked his way into the finals in the first flight only to lose out on the 18th hole. At Sacramento College they came through with three out of five wins in the individual matches, only to lose to College of Pacific in a later meet held in the wind and rain.

They dropped a meet with St. Marys, one of the top teams of the country, by a score of 16 to 5, but won a moral victory when Perez beat St. Mary's number one man. Nevada's number 1 and 2 men held St. Mary's even.

Joe Perez finished the season with a 73.1 average for nine matches, or one over par against the best college golfers on the west coast. Seven of these matches were held in wind or rain.

Stan Kosakowski was the leading scorer on the team for the season, followed by Joe Perez, Robert Swartz, who only played three matches, John Holloway and Charles Sancio.

AGGIE CLUB RECEIVES JACKETS THIS WEEK

Aggie Club members received their jackets this week, Lloyd Cooper, committee head, announced today.

The jackets, which have been on order for several months, are blue and white with the club's emblem and "Nevada Aggies" on the back, Cooper said.

The emblem of the club is the state of Nevada with a steer's head in the center.

On the Hill It's Hello!

PACK TRACKS

By Bill McFarland

Addition of Fresno State to Nevada's 1948 football schedule takes a good bit of heat off Coach Joe Sheeketski. The schedule now includes nine games and a very possible 10th, a home affair, is in the negotiation stage with the Texas College of Mines.

When Coach Joe announced an eight game schedule earlier this spring, many loud howls made the rounds. The biggest rhubarb were over a two game program on the home lot. Some of that tension has eased with the possibility of a game with the Texas school at Mackay Stadium.

Perhaps a bit of conjecture can clear the picture of why Sheeketski has had his troubles in lining up home games. The two home games deal hasn't been all his fault. There would be two more home games on the '48 menu if Sheeketski's predecessor (guess who) hadn't fouled up the works during his tenure on the hill.

Several home and home agreements went by the wayside when Nevada failed to show up in the other guy's backyard the following season. Several teams made the trip to Reno with the expectation that Nevada would return the favor. The man at the controls during that stretch didn't comply.

An attempt to draw up the '48 schedule, Sheeketski has run into teams with bitter feelings towards Nevada because of another man's fumbles. Sheeketski has had to pick up those fumbles and he is just beginning to make some yardage.

Sports Year in Review
This time of year final tabulations are in order to show how the Wolf Pack stacked up against their opponents.

Going 'way back to football, the Pack won nine and lost two . . . Salad Bowl victory over North Texas climaxed the most successful season in school's history . . . the basketball crew took somewhat of a drubbing when three aces (or so they tell me) withdrew from school . . . showing of sophomore talent gave hopes of banner year in '48-'49.

Track team wound up with first unbeaten season . . . Elmer Green set new school high jump mark and Carl Robinson lowered the Nevada standard for the hurdles. In minor sports, the tennis team copped six of seven intercollegiate matches . . . only loss to powerful USF. . . Golfers didn't set the world afire but neither were they drubbed by anyone . . . Joe Perez most consistent of the divot diggers with a season average of a little better than 73 strokes per match . . . that's shooting with the big boys.

On the fraternity front, Sigma Nu showed no apparent effort in stacking up points while other teams knocked each other off in the Kinnear trophy race . . . two straight years of the cup on the Snake mantel.

That just about winds up the year in sports on the hill. The big question is will 1948-49 prove to be as successful. Speculation points to even better performances.

Snake Gets Loose In Aggie Building; Students Warned

No reward was offered today by biology department members for the return of a snake that escaped its cage last week. The reptile is over a foot long, and was used for instructional purposes.

Speculation as to where the snake is now is still a problem. The laboratory where it was kept is on the second floor of the agriculture building. There is a possibility that the snake may still be somewhere in the halls or classrooms. If it managed to get out the back way, the snake may be around Manzanita Lake.

Students are advised to watch their step, although the reptile was a common garter snake, and is not dangerous.

'Cowboy Cassidy' Contest Competition Closed

In spite of extremely good chances of winning the limited Hopalong Cassidy contest, offering $300 and a two-day trip to Hollywood to the Nevada student submitting the best radio script, only two or three entries have been submitted, Dr. Robert Gorrell, head of the English department, said this morning.

Deadline for the contest, sponsored by Commodore Productions and Artists, Inc., is noon today. Gorrell said that he expects more entries to be rushed down to his office immediately before the deadline. Judges for the contest, which was announced more than a month ago, will be chosen by Commodore Productions.

Open only to students of the University of Nevada and recognized high schools of Nevada, the contest was given for the purpose of obtaining material for programs in the new Hopalong Cassidy radio series, starring Bill Boyd as Hopalong, "a law abiding, justice seeking citizen."

With his manuscript, the contestant offers Commodore Productions the right to purchase at regular rates and script submitted, whether the manuscript wins a prize or not, according to the announcement from the English department.

Seventy Smackers Show Snake's Sacrifice

It is the host who pays, and the Sigma Nus know it after their election celebration beer-bust a week ago Thursday night.

All of the campus joined in the celebration, which was held in McGoogle Hall, the veterans dorm, but the housing commission sent the bill for damages to the Sigma Nu house. Seventy-five dollars for breakage was added to the cost of the beer.

Orsie Graves, outgoing Snake president, had a crew ready to repair the damages, but the swift action of the housing commission precluded any action by the Sigma Nu cleanup crew.

Summer Sessions Offer New Courses And New Teachers

Do you want to learn how to teach high school students to drive? Are you troubled with juvenile delinquency? Does the relationship between teachers and the community bother you?

This may sound like an add for a patent medicine, but in this case the remedy is to attend one of the more than 130 courses offered this year by the university in its summer program.

Dr. Harold N. Brown, director of summer sessions, has announced that more than 30 new courses are being offered this year. Several of these are being taught by experts in the field who are coming to the university just for this purpose.

The summer sessions this year have been shortened from six weeks to five in order to afford teachers and veterans attending school the year round more time for vacations and to allow more time to the cleanup of the university for the fall semester. Dr. Brown has emphasized that the same amount of material will be covered in the shorter time.

Since no permission is required to attend summer school, Dr. Brown said there is no way of predicting the enrollment. However, he stated that the number of inquiries has been greater than in previous years.

UN Sagers Elect Mulert New Head For Coming Year

Highlighting last Wednesday night's University of Nevada Sager's meeting was the election of Scott Mulert as president for the coming school year.

Other officers elected were Gene Malson, vice-president, and Bill Jager, secretary-treasurer. Also discussed at the meeting were tentative plans for the coming year. Included in the schedule were distributing programs at home football games, ushering at university sporting events, wrapping goal posts, and keeping the Y room clean. Hello Week, held for the first time this year under the co-sponsorship of the university Sagers and Sagens, was also placed on next year's agenda.

For every ten members of a fraternity there is permitted one representative to Sagers. In the past year Lambda Chi, Theta Chi and Sigma Pi have been without representation. The new president urged the active representation of all fraternities in the coming year in Sagers, which has as its primary goals "pep" activities and service.

PE Students Attend Association Banquet

All physical education instructors in Reno and Sparks and 22 majors and minors in physical education at the University of Nevada attended a banquet given by the Nevada Health, Physical Education and Recreation Association Tuesday evening.

He also recounted the highlights of the association's national convention that he attended in April.

ExPrexy Attends Presidents' Meet At Arizona State

Jimmy Glynn, out-going president of the University of Nevada student body, attended the recent 23rd annual Pacific Student Presidents Association meet at Tempe, Arizona, May 7 and 8. Nevada was the only school at the two-day convention that did not send the incoming student body president to absorb the functions of the yearly confab, Glynn said.

Nearly 100 delegates swarmed to Arizona State at Tempe for the meeting.

Larger schools, institutions with greater amounts of money because of their size, urged that a National Student Presidents Association be formed in 1949. The new national association would merely be the expansion of the present system to include all colleges and universities of the United States, Glynn said.

Schools with limited financial support, such as the University of Nevada, were vigorously opposed to the formation of such a group, because it would cost each school around $1500 per year, Glynn emphasized.

Transportation, dues, two district meets prior to the national meet, and other added expenses practically eliminated the smaller schools, such as Nevada, from that type of an organization, Glynn said.

Three discussion periods were held each day, and one of the most vital topics was the changing of extra-curricular activities to co-curricular activities, Glynn asserted. He explained that the present day trend was not to consider campus activities "extra" activities. The campus activities are actually vital, and should be included in every student's school obligations.

Job Hunting Grads Urged to Contact Griffin or Daniels

Any graduating seniors without prospects of a job after graduation, and who are interested, should get in touch with Robert Griffin, dean of men, or Rex Daniels, executive alumni secretary.

Daniels said this week that two men from the United States employment service were on the campus recently with information about jobs for college graduates. He said that most jobs are in the field of engineering and specialized jobs in the field of chemistry and business administration. General arts and science graduates are the most difficult to place, he said.

Any students who are interested in what type of jobs will be open in the future, or what he is best suited for should contact Mr. James H. Cusick, manager of the Nevada state employment service at 255 South Virginia St., or Mr. John W. Ferguson at the Triune building, 10 State St., who is with the U. S. Veterans employment service.

More than 100 guests attended Phi Sigma Kappa's spring formal held at Camp Richardson, near Lake Tahoe, last Saturday evening.

Since the lake trip is something new in the way of formals at the U of N, their idea will probably be picked up and used by fraternities and sororities next year.

A chartered Greyhound bus furnished the transportation to Camp Richardson and return.

Chicken and turkey dinners were served to Phi Sigs and

ATO's Beat Snakes To Capture Trophy

After knocking in 12 runs in the fourth inning, the ATO's went on to beat the Sigma Nus 16-9 Thursday afternoon in a play off game designed to determine which fraternity would get the cup.

The regular baseball season ended last week in a two way first place tie between the Taus and the Snakes.

In Thursday afternoon's thriller Drakulich and Welin handled the battery for the winning Taus and Knudsen and Meffley did likewise for the Snakes. The only home run of the game was smashed out by Knudsen.

Alpha Tau Omera (6-1) and Sigma Nu (6-1) will split the first place points and will receive 80 apiece toward the Kinnear trophy. Lambda Chi's team (6-2) took second place honors and 40 points. Third place was also a tie between Theta Chi (4-3) and Phi Sigma Kappa (4-3). Each will receive 15 points. The other teams placed in the following order. Siga Rho Delta (1-6), Independents (1-6), Sigma Alpha Epsilon (1-6).

Chi Delta Phi Holds Initiation Tonight

Chi Delta Phi, honorary English society, will hold an initiation ceremony for nine new members this evening, stated Billy Heath, president of the organization, today.

Initiates to Chi Delta Phi are Norma Carruth, Fay Fryberger, Angela Naveran, Elaine Alldredge, Marilyn James, Doris Dyer, Patricia Fee, Julia Baker and Junewanda McMichael.

The organization is for women students either majoring or minoring in English, and who have received at least a "B" average in English.

Election of officers for next year will also be held at the meeting tonight.

Many Jobs Offered As Industry Eager For New Engineers

All Civils, Electricals Employed; Mechanicals, Miners Choosing

The question for Nevada's graduating engineers isn't where to find a job, but rather which one to take. The job potential is so great for the new engineers that professors are sorry they do not have bigger classes to graduate.

Nine electrical engineers are graduating and, according to Professor Irving J. Sandorf, chairman of that department, 50 more would have been swallowed up by industry.

These graduates alone have been spoken for two and three times over. Two men are starting with Westinghouse, three with the General Electric Corporation and two with the telephone company in Sacramento, California. Ernest Wilson is taking a teaching fellowship with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The miners, about 16 strong, are having a hard time choosing from their long list of job offers. Their offers have come from both South America and the United States.

There are seven men graduating as civil engineers. Two are taking work with the Bureau of Reclamation. Two are also going with the California Division of Highways. The last three are taking employment with the Kennecott Copper Corporation, Nevada State Highway Department and Montague Water Conservation of California.

Nine men will leave with degrees in mechanical engineering. Most of these are undecided among many possibilities. However, Charlie Coe, retiring president of mechanicals, is taking a position with the National Advisory Committee of Aeronautics at Moffett Field, California. The retiring president of the Associated Engineers, Charles Breeze, may go into the U. S. Navy.

Professor Sandorf attributes this shortage of engineers to the still key-up times of the world. The acceleration of defense measures and the European recovery program will keep the job potential high until the times have relaxed, said the professor.

BARBIERI ELECTED SIGMA NU CHIEF

Al Barbieri, arts and science student, was recently elected president of Sigma Nu fraternity. He replaces Orsie Graves, a graduating senior.

Other officers elected are Evert Curliss, vice-president; John Helstowski, secretary; George Vucanovich, treasurer; Ed Hill, chaplain, and Charles Marriage, recorder.

Everything may have a hidden meaning—even the little red school house may have something behind it.

Two gold medals were awarded to track stars that set new track records this year. Carl Robinson received his for setting a new high hurdles mark, while Elmer Green set a new mark for the high jump to earn his medal.

Italic N's for work on the school publications went to Coe Swobe, Nancy Sullivan and Pat Wilson, business staff of the Sagebrush; Lloyd Rogers, Jon Milburn, Jac Petersen and Marion Gottberg, editorial staff of the paper.

Doris Hanssen, Alice Hanssen (a graduate of last year), Margie Simon, Millard Bowers, Ray Gordella and Bob Kent received Italic N's for their work on the Artemisia.

Althea Benedict, Bonny Mollignoni and Doris Hanssen were announced as new members of the Cap and Scroll, an honorary girls' society, by Dorothy Thomas, president of the group.

Henry Stewart, outgoing president of the improvement committee, gave a short report on the conditions of the campus that the committee has found. He stated that we are losing many of the faculty due to low salaries and poor housing conditions. The library is in need of some 124,000 books to bring it up to average standards of a university of this size.

A woman, seeing a bald head in a barber's chair, walked up and planted a kiss upon it.

"Ma'am!" said the man in the chair.

"Oh, I'm sorry," said the lady, "your head looks just like my husbands, behind."

Snow Survey Chief May Soon Return

Dr. J. E. Church, called the "father of the snow survey," may soon return to the agricultural extension station.

Letters received from him this week by faculty members indicate that his work in the organization of a snow survey system for the Argentina republic is nearly completed.

He expects to leave Argentina soon and return to the U. S. by way of Chile. Dr. Church writes that he expects to spend a few days in Santiago as government engineers are anxious for him to establish a Chilean snow survey system.

Upon his return to the experiment station, he will assemble and organize the material for a paper on the methods of snow survey. Dr. Church will read the paper at the mid-summer conference of the International Society of Scientific Hydrology at Oslo, Sweden.

Dr. Church's letters indicate that he is anxious to return to Nevada to complete a series of experimental studies. Demands for services, however, may again call him away from America.

The Nevada chapter of Sigma Delta Chi was established on the campus May 12 of this year. The eleven charter members petitioned for a charter last year and it was granted on November 14. They were initiated in the Journalism building and later attended the installation dinner in their honor.

The new pledges will probably serve a pledgeship of about three months and be inducted sometime in November, Evans said.

Three of the five men physical education graduates are taking coaching positions in Nevada schools, according to J. E. (Doc) Martie, head of the department.

Mike Drakulich will teach in the Fallon grammar school and coach various sports. Foe Mentaberry has been hired by Fernley high school to be head of its athletic activities and to assist in teaching.
