

Nevada Students Mourn at Death Of Noted Agriculture Professor

Frederick Wilson Active in Nevada Thirty-Four Years

Funeral services for Professor Frederick W. Wilson, 66, head of the department of animal husbandry of the University of Nevada, who died suddenly last Tuesday, were conducted Thursday afternoon at the Ross-Burke funeral chapel by the Reno Lodge No. 13 of the Masonic order.

Professor Wilson's death came as a shock to the campus and particularly to students in the college of agriculture. Almost every student in that college was in a class taught by Professor Wilson. He was teaching four classes, all in animal husbandry, this semester. Paul L. Maloney and A. J. Reed will take over his classes for the remainder of the semester.

Professor Wilson came to the University of Nevada in 1914, and has been active in university life ever since. He was a member of honorary societies, served on the athletic committee, and belonged to Sigma Xi and Phi Kappa Phi organizations. It was Professor Wilson who took many agriculture students to livestock judging competitions at various livestock shows throughout the west.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, all of whom are University of Nevada graduates, Thomas C. Wilson, president of the Wilson Advertising Agency of Reno, Frederick W. Wilson Jr. of Los Angeles, and Samuel G. Wilson of San Francisco, and four grandchildren.

Born in Graham county, Kansas, August 4, 1882, Professor Wilson was graduated from Kansas State Agricultural College in 1905. For the next seven years he was a member of the faculty of the University of Arizona at Tucson, leaving there to receive his master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1913. The following year he came to Reno where he has lived ever since.

He has owned and operated several farms and accordingly was able to teach the practical side of farming as well as the theory. Intensely interested in the breeding of livestock, he was secretary of the Nevada Hereford Association; served as judge for livestock shows throughout the country, was president of the Nevada Livestock show several times, and has been a director of the Reno Rodeo Association ever since it was organized.

Professor Wilson was also active in the Masonic order, of which he was a past potentate of the Kerak Temple and was also a leading member of the Reno Rotary Club.

Library Receives New Film Service

The University of Nevada library has just received a new film reading machine. Mr. James J. Hill, library director, stated that the machine would be primarily for the use of faculty members and graduate students engaged in research work.

Those requiring special research material will now be able to obtain photographed copies from the Library of Congress, the Bibliofilm Service of the Department of Agriculture, or from other libraries which provide film service.

Mr. Hill explained that the library intends to build up a sizeable film library of its own and thus to save space, and have on hand valuable research material that could not be obtained in book form.

NOTICE

Editor Sinclair Melner announced today that all proofs for the Artemisia must be returned by December 17 or pictures will be omitted from the yearbook.

Dr. Moseley Gives Mackay Statuette To Joe McDonnell

Joe McDonnell, former graduate manager and student of the University of Nevada, was presented with a Mackay statuette by President John O. Moseley during the latter's recent trip to Washington, D. C., to attend the 62nd annual convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities.

Tribute

The statuette was inscribed with a tribute to Joe's loyalty to the university and his efficiency as graduate manager.

The occasion at which Joe was presented with the statuette of Mackay mounted on a black base, was a meeting of alumni and former students of the University of Nevada at the home of Colonel Alden Sibley.

Among the 20 or more attending were President Moseley and Dr. Stanley G. Palmer, dean of the college of engineering.

President Moseley said that Joe is attending George Washington University at the present time studying law, and that he also works in the office of Senator Pat McCarran.

Fraternity Man

After attending the sessions of the Land Grant College and University Association convention, President John O. Moseley went to New York City where he attended the National Interfraternity conference.

While at the conference, he addressed the undergraduate section on the subject of "Greek Week." President Moseley, as chairman of the standing committee on Greek Week and regional conferences, made an annual report to the conference.

Child Development Present Project Of Home Ec Club

Two new programs are being planned by the Home Economics Club of the university. Members of the club, women who have taken or are now taking a home economics course, will furnish toys to the child development class and will also set up a booth this month for the sale of homemade cookies and candies.

A room in the Agriculture building has been decorated like a nursery and is being used by the child development class in home economics for observation of small children. These children are mostly those of veteran students living at Victory Heights. Many toys are needed for the class. Home Economics Club members are to bring old or broken toys and fix them for use in the nursery.

This project will replace the usual one of giving a turkey dinner at Christmas to some needy family in Reno.

Sometime next week a booth will be set up on campus and Home Economics Club members will sell homemade cookies and candies. This sale will take the place of the cake raffle that has been given in former years.

Enrollment Report Released for Hill; 1774 Final Count

Information on enrollment and housing of students at the University of Nevada has just been released in an informal report from the office of President John O. Moseley.

A division of the 1774 students enrolled in the fall semester shows that of this number 1307 are men and 467 are women. There are 750 attending the university through the GI bill, and 38 veterans under the vocational rehabilitation program.

Included in the report is an announcement from the admissions committee stating that of the 820 applications for entrance which were considered, 265 were rejected either temporarily or permanently.

Distribution of students and faculty in university housing units is in the following numbers: Artemisia Hall, 88 students and one adult; Campus housing units, 97 students and 15 faculty members; field house, 12 students; Lincoln Hall, 127 students; Manzanita Hall, 81 students and one adult; old gymnasium, 70 students; trailer court, 36 student couples; and Highland Terrace project, 130 students.

In addition there are 21 university couples living outside and are not under university supervision.

World Relations Subject of Talk By James Emerson

James Emerson, theological student and graduate of Stanford University, spoke on relations between the East and the West at a dinner held by the Interfaith Council last Sunday night at the Federated Church.

The difficulty of a common ground between the East and the West, the deplorable conditions in Holland, the European idea of the Marshall Plan, and the different opinions of his foreign colleagues about religion all over the world were the major topics.

Taking a recess from Princeton for a semester, Emerson is a traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement on a lecture tour. He was an usher last summer at the world conference of churches in Amsterdam, where he gathered much of the material about which he spoke.

Student questions following the lecture were so numerous that Emerson supplemented the lecture period with a round table discussion period in the YWCA office in the basement of Stewart Hall on the campus Monday morning.

AED Planning New Additions To Honor Plaque

Names of between 10 and 20 doctors who took their pre-med work at Nevada are being considered for inclusion on the Alpha Epsilon Delta plaque. AED, the pre-med honorary, maintains the plaque which is dedicated to Peter Frandsen, former head of the university's pre-med department.

The plaque is housed on the second floor of the Agriculture building. It consists of a wood case on which is a large metal plate inscribed with the dedication and 71 smaller plates which carry the names, year of graduation and the school attended of the various doctors who have been honored.

The last person honored was Dr. Lyn Gerow, now practicing in Reno, who received his MD in 1940 from McGill University in Canada. The first name on the plaque is that of Dr. H. Lockett who received his degree in 1901.

Plans Being Laid For Active Year By Crucible Club

With a full calendar of events behind it, the Crucible Club is planning even more extensive activity for the new year. The organization of Nevada mining students will be busy with lectures, conventions, newspaper publication and constitution revision. Alberto Barrios, president of the club, outlined future activity of the mining group.

Wayne H. Denning of the United Geophysical Company, will speak January 3 on the activities of his company in Brazil.

The publication of the Mackay Miner, the alumni news letter, will also begin with the new year. Previously in letter form, the publication this year may be printed as a regular newspaper of four pages.

The executive committee of the Crucible Club plans to study the constitution of the group. Foremost among the changes to be considered is an amendment which states that elections shall be held prior to the final meeting of the school year so that new officers may become familiar with their duties.

Many Nevada mining students will attend the convention of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers in San Francisco in February. This is the first time in many years the convention will not be held in New York.

A tea in honor of the wives of Mackay students was given by Mrs. J. A. Carpenter, wife of the mining school director, in her home Tuesday, December 7.

Earlier this month, Dr. Don White, head of the U. S. Geological Survey section studying Steamboat Springs, lectured on "Volcanos, hot springs and Their Ore Deposits." The talk was illustrated with colored slides.

For the benefit of mining students, the Crucible Club now sponsors a movie once a month. Last one to be shown was on Block Caving at the Emma Nevada mine in Kimberley, Nevada.

Old Saint Nick Set For Premature Visit To Journalism Party

The "second annual" journalism department Christmas party will be held Wednesday at 8 pm in the news lab of the Journalism building.

Featured on the program for the evening will be dancing, refreshments, games, and, as the highlight, a visit from old St. Nick himself. Popular rumors notwithstanding, the identity of Santa Claus will remain a secret.

During the visit of the jolly gentleman, gifts will be distributed to all attending. These packages will be furnished by the members of the party, each of whom is requested to purchase for this purpose, a gift, value of which is not to exceed 25 cents.

According to Miss Marjorie Friend, general chairman for the affair, all journalism students and their friends are invited. The purpose of the party, Miss Friend stated, is to unite more closely the various parts of the journalism department. In keeping with this theme, brief speeches will be made by the heads of the organizations connected here with journalism.

The novel touch will be injected through the use of music for dancing, played from the tape recorder of Professor A. L. Higginbotham. Price of admission to the party will be 50 cents.

Phi Kappa Phi Names Seven Men To Honorary Society

Seismologist Head Lectures Tonight

The structure of the earth's interior will be discussed in a lecture at the University of Nevada's Mackay Hall of Science tonight at 8 pm.

Dr. Perry Byerly, director of the seismographic station of the University of California at Berkeley, will be the speaker.

Dr. Byerly and his assistants will be in Reno over the weekend to install the new seismograph in the sub-basement of the Hall of Science. The Astronomical Society of Nevada arranged to have him give the lecture.

Topic of the lecture will be "Seismological Problems and the New Reno Seismograph." The lecture will deal principally with the structure of the earth's interior as revealed by seismographic study, but will also include slides illustrating phenomena connected with earthquakes.

Theta Members Pay For Pledge Sneak

Pledges of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority pulled a "pledge sneak" Monday.

Pledges appeared at the Theta chapter house Monday afternoon and hid all the silverware. Beds were sprinkled with cracker crumbs and cereals. Fuses were taken from the main lighting switch. Shoes belonging to active members of the sorority were collected.

A telegram was sent them to the sorority house explaining that active missing scoes would find them at the various fraternity houses.

To recover their shoes, the actives were required to "hash" (serve, wash dishes, sweep floors, and empty garbage) for one meal at the fraternity house which had their shoes.

Having distributed all the shoes, 19 pledges went to dinner at the Cal Neva in downtown Reno. Mrs. Dita Duke, housemother at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house, was a guest of the pledges for the evening. Joan Melner is president of the pledge class.

Two Nevada Men Named Candidates For Coveted Rhodes Scholarships

John Chamberlain and Barney Childs Meet Cal Examining Board Tomorrow

Robert B. Childs and John L. Chamberlain are the two University of Nevada students elected as candidates for Rhodes scholarships, President John O. Moseley announced today.

The two students were selected by a Nevada state committee consisting of the following men: the Honorable Robert A. Allen of Carson City, chairman; Dr. Moseley, secretary; E. C. D. Marriage, state librarian; Dr. Fred Anderson, former Rhodes scholar from Nevada; and Dr. W. M. Spackman, professor of classics at the University of Colorado at Boulder.

President Moseley feels that competition has been keener this year than in the past.

The candidates from Nevada will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles to be further examined by the board in charge of western candidates. This committee is headed by Dr. Robert Gordon Sprout, president of the University of California.

PUBLIC INVITED TO INITIATION

For the first time in the history of the school, only men were named to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary society, announced Professor A. E. Hutchinson, president of the Nevada chapter. They are Warren Adams, John Chamberlain, Barney Childs, Abe Kaplan, Edward Reed, Wallace Schultz and Bonnie Yturbe.

Only the top 12 per cent of the graduating seniors are eligible for membership in the society. Selection is made on the basis of outstanding scholarship and high character and ability.

Due to a clerical error made last semester, Jean McBride was not listed as a member of the honorary society. She is receiving the honor with this semester's group, but will be listed among last year's membership. Miss McBride graduated in June, 1948, and is now working in the editorial department of the Reno Evening Gazette.

Warran Adams is a member of Alpha Tau Omega and active in Blue Key. A major in chemistry, he is a resident of Arnold, Nebraska.

John Chamberlain is a major in mathematics. He comes from Los Angeles, California, and has just been named a candidate for the Rhodes scholarship.

English major Barney Childs, also a Rhodes scholarship candidate, is a student senator. He is an active participant in the Independents, Circle of Seven, and the university singers. Palo Alto, California, is his home.

Abe Kaplan, chemistry major, served as president of Alpha Epsilon Delta, premedical honorary society. He is a member of the Chemistry Club and the student health committee and is a resident of Reno.

Also a Reno resident is Ed Reed, philosophy major. Last year's president of Alpha Tau Omega, Reed was selected for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Wallace Schultz of Westwood, California, is a major in chemistry.

Political science major Bonnie Yturbe, of Reno, is affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha. Active in college debate circles, he is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary. He is also one of the Circle of Seven.

Even though he was in the top eight of his class, Scott Whitney was not elected to the society because his graduation is not certain, said officials.

Initiation of new members will be held Tuesday at 4:10 in the Agriculture building, room 109. Miss Eva Adams, former member of the university faculty and secretary to Senator Pat McCarran, will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Washington as Seen by an Ex-Professor." The public is invited to attend.

Traveling Teacher Ends Speaking Visit

Doctor Edward Howard Griggs, traveling teacher, finished his second engagement on the University of Nevada campus after a five day stay in Reno as the guest of President and Mrs. John O. Moseley.

Dr. Griggs, who is celebrating his 50th anniversary as a lecturer, spoke on several topics throughout the week of his stay. Tuesday he addressed the student body with the subject "Youth Looks at the World Today"; Wednesday he spoke on "Hamlet"; and Thursday on "The Use of the Margin."

While in Reno, he also spoke at the Rotary Club on the subject "World Order and the Will of Law."

In order to win a Rhodes scholarship a candidate must be approved by three different committees. Applicants are first screened by their own universities and colleges, then by state committees and lastly by district committees, with which the final decision rests.

Final elections take place in eight districts tomorrow.

THE PROOF OF WHOSE PUDDING?

In the latest issue of "Sports-Week" a letter to the editor from a Reno resident was published. The writer stated that Marty Berg is confronted with three alternatives as a result of his "coup" story several weeks ago. These alternatives were listed as:

1. If you have proof of these charges, it is your duty to college football to print the proof and support your charges.
2. If you have no proof, and in view of developments in various games in the past few weeks, if you have any decency whatever, you will print a retraction, and an apology.
3. If you are honest and if you are serious, you will then investigate several other football games which have been played this month."

The letter goes on to point out various grid upsets this past season which were just as startling and, to the evil mind, just as doubtful as the Nevada-Santa Clara tilt.

It concluded with one of the most accurate statements to come out of this whole messy business, "The facts have made a monkey out of you. Why don't you admit you were merely trying to build circulation for a yellow sheet by rank sensationalism."

For an editor who apparently doesn't have too much trouble concocting stories, Berg miserably fell down in a weak attempt to protect himself through editorial comment which stated, "Were we seeking circulation build-up we'd have flooded the country with copies. We leave promotion 'stunts' to others. Statement by me last week covers situation. Proof of pudding is in eating. Some upsets make sense, others don't. Gambling, gamblers and sports pro or amateur—don't mix, nohow!"

Oh, Nooo! Berg wouldn't think of promoting his paper by devious methods—especially since they are forced to operate in a hand to mouth fashion and a few extra sales might mean the difference between fish and meat for the editor.

As to flooding the country with extra copies—that wasn't necessary. All they had to do was sell all the copies that would have ordinarily been returned to the distributor after gathering dust on the news stands.

Being as accurate as possible, the Sagebrush found that many news stands, after the publication of the "coup" edition, had their first calling for "Sports-Week." In our investigation we didn't limit ourselves to the Reno area or even to Nevada. We checked in California and as far east as Philadelphia. One news stand had copies dating back to September but had sold out the November 22 edition.

Berg was probably right about his leaving promotion stunts to others. We don't give him credit for being clever enough to pull a stunt. He merely used a worn out device based on the fact that the words "Reno" and "Nevada" invariably catch the eyes of Mr. and Mrs. America.—It's a funny thing about most people who have never been to Nevada, they know just what it is like here because they read their big city tabloids. It's a place where gamblers and criminals run the government, where loot from 47 states is accumulated and where sex is spelled with all capital letters. In fact, many of them would probably be disappointed to learn that the people here don't carry guns.

The all mighty dollar these people were willing to pay for a look into the kaleidoscope of yellow journalism is the proof of Berg's pudding.

LET'S PROVE THEM WRONG

The omnipotent "they" say that figures don't lie. In our own defense let's say that they may be misread but let's look at them anyway.

Drivers between 18 and 24 years of age were involved in 27 per cent of all fatal accidents last year. Young drivers—drivers who should have the sharpest eyesight, the keenest nerves, the most alert sense of danger and direction.

But, unfortunately, they don't always use them.

Perhaps you've only dented a fender—or had a small skirmish with another car. Anyway, you're a good driver and always give the other fellow an even break. Maybe that's enough. But pause a minute before you stop reading this.

The month of danger is upon us.

Yes—the month of joy and gladness and holiday festivities—December, is also the month of danger.

On Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, for instance, deaths from motor vehicle accidents are two to three times higher than the annual daily average.

Weather conditions have something to do with it, of course. So do holiday spirits. But these are not excuses, though they may be reasons. With more cars than ever out on the roads this winter, it is up to us who drive them to take the job seriously.

Even more, it is up to us with youth—intelligence—good sense—to lead the way—to "drive with care, every time, everywhere."

Let's prove the statistics wrong.

Professor Inwood Describes Burma In Recent Letter

Dr. Ernest I. Inwood, professor of economics at the University of Nevada, and now on leave of absence for a year, has arrived in Rangoon, Burma, where he will be an instructor of economics at the University of Rangoon.

In a letter to Graduate Manager Gene Mastrionni, Dr. Inwood relates of his trip across the Pacific, by way of the Hawaiian Islands, Guam, the Philippines, and South China, and of his impressions of Burma.

At a surprise reception arranged for the first "visiting professor," Dr. Inwood and his family were met at the Rangoon airport by a battery of newspaper cameramen and by dignitaries of the Burmese National government and the United States embassy.

Head of the department of economics at the University of Rangoon is Dr. Hla Myint, number one government economist, who was educated at the London School of Economics. Dr. Inwood concluded his letter with a remark that fortunately for him, all classes at the University of Rangoon are taught in English.

Highlight of a set of parties and governmental functions which he has attended since his arrival was said to be that held at the President's Palace, at the occasion of the presentation to the United States Library of Congress of several volumes on Burmese literature and Buddhist religious works.

This occasion was attended, aside from the embassy officials and a few other Americans, by many Burmese notables, including the cabinet, in full dress. The president of Burma, who is from one of the northern Shan states, had one of his four wives with him. Dr. Inwood expressed the opinion that the entire affair ap-

Hotel Man Speaks To Commerce Club

Dr. Harold Van Orman, president of the Van Orman Hotel chain of Indiana and past lieutenant governor of that state, told members of the Commerce Club that very few college men and women are engaged in hotel work and that the business is "starving for you."

Head of the department of economics at the University of Rangoon is Dr. Hla Myint, number one government economist, who was educated at the London School of Economics.

Dr. Inwood concluded his letter with a remark that fortunately for him, all classes at the University of Rangoon are taught in English.

VETERANS QUESTION BOX

Q. While living in Canada I converted my National Service Life Insurance to a permanent plan. Now I learn that because of Canadian currency controls, I cannot send enough money out of the country to cover my premiums. What can I do about this?

A. There have been a number of similar cases. You should contact the currency control office of the country in which you now reside, and if you cannot make a satisfactory arrangement, you should go to the nearest U. S. consulate and explain your problem.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if my wife is entitled to VA hospitalization?

A. If she is an ex-service woman she will be entitled to while you are in active service. Q. I have a service connected disability rated at 20 per cent. Am I entitled to an increase because of dependents? A. No. Your disability must be rated 60 per cent or more before additional compensation for dependents is payable.

Visitor: How many students are there in your class? Professor: About one in every five.

Coeds Intramural Activities Revived After 6-Year Lapse

The first women's intramural sports competition in six years will begin at the University of Nevada next week.

The new sports program will be extra-curricular and will be under the sponsorship of the Women's recreation Association. The association is composed of university women who participate in sports outside of regular physical education classes.

Until 1941, said Miss Ruth Russell, head of the women's physical education department, inter-sorority and inter-hall competition was held in all sports. However, many of the groups dropped out because they did not have enough members to enter in the larger competitive sports. Only two groups were then being represented. Intramural competition was abandoned at that time upon the vote of the WRA board.

A poll was taken in the sororities and halls this year, and it was reported that these organizations would be interested in entering sports that did not require too many members to participate.

Badminton will be the first competitive sport to be played as an experiment in the intramural program. No cups or awards will be given, said Miss Russell.

Marilyn MacDonald is manager of badminton. The elimination tournament, which will be played in singles and doubles, will begin next week.

Winners in the physical education class in badminton were announced this week at the conclusion of the round robin tournament. Mary Ellen Perdue and her two partners, Elspeth Watts and Doris Hansen, who she played with alternately, placed first with nine out of nine wins.

Tied for second place with seven games won out of nine were Betty Cassing and Jane Winternitz, and Betty Whitworth and Margery McKnight.

Frosh, Soph Women Hold Discussion On College Life

Discussion of problems connected with life on the University of Nevada campus highlights the program of the newly organized Freshman and Sophomore Clubs for women students. The groups also have guest speakers who discuss topics chosen by club members.

The clubs are sponsored by the YWCA and have their meetings in the YWCA office in the basement of Stewart Hall. Jean Howden, YWCA secretary, is advisor for the group.

The Freshman Club has a Tuesday group meeting regularly at 4 pm. Beth Miller is chairman and Ginger Price is secretary. This group serves tea and cookies at their meetings.

Another freshman group meets Wednesdays at 4 pm, and one also has a meeting every Thursday noon. The Thursday group has a rotating chairman, beginning alphabetically with Betty Harris. Alice Shelley is secretary. The noon meeting features a lunch prepared by Mrs. Mary Duke, supervisor of the YWCA snack bar. The lunches are served for a maximum of 35 cents, said Miss Howden.

The Sophomore Club has two groups. One meets Monday at noon, and another meets Thursday from 4:30 to 5:30 pm. The sophomore group prepares the women for leadership in more extensive YWCA activities, said Miss Howden.

Miss Howden said all freshman and sophomore women are invited to attend a meeting.

Poetry Association Accepts 3 Entries By Nevada Students

Three University of Nevada students will have original poems published in the fifth annual publication of the National College Poetry Association.

Poems for publication were selected from work sent in by college students throughout the United States. All students, regardless of class status or major, were eligible to submit poems.

"America Sings," this year's book, will include "The Builders," by Della Sorenson, junior journalism major from Great Falls, Mont.; "Paradox of the Bell," by John Lowden, senior English major from Walla Walla, Wash., and "Hiroshima," by Barney Childs, senior English major from Palo Alto, Calif.

Clothing Drive Set for Campus

An old clothing drive will be started soon on the campus, it was announced by Dr. R. Griffin, dean of men, and Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women. It is their desire to organize a campaign that will succeed in gathering old clothes for use by American charity organizations and for shipment overseas.

Dr. Griffin is inviting every campus-housed group to provide a receptacle in their respective fraternity houses, sorority houses, and dormitories where the discarded clothing may be collected. At a later date a volunteer group will make the round of organizations and gather the clothing.

Final disposal will depend upon the requests of charity organizations such as the American Friendly Service committee in San Francisco and local relief agencies. It is expected that this collection will be made before the Christmas holidays, said Dr. Griffin.

XMAS PARTY PLANNED BY MANZANITA GROUP

The women of Manzanita Hall will hold their annual Christmas party Tuesday evening. Beginning at 11 pm, the members of the hall will go to the living room clad in pajamas and receive a gift from Santa Claus. Refreshments will be served, and games and Christmas carols will furnish entertainment.

Preceding the party, women of the hall will go caroling in front of Lincoln Hall, the veterans barracks and fraternity houses.

"How are you getting along with your new job, Bill?" "Fine I've got five men under me already." "Really?" "Yes, I work upstairs."

Honeydrippers Hit Hard; Hold Hexed Heroes

The great American game received a major setback last Tuesday at Idlewild Park when the challenging Tri-Delt Honeydrippers suffered a defeat at the hands of the Phi Sigma Kappa Mousers.

The Tri-Delts, under the captaincy of Suzy Broadbent, felt that they would have little difficulty; however, "Muscles" Matti Klemaszewski's Phi Sigs, playing left handed, hopping the bases on one leg, and being subject to flying tackles deftly executed by the girls between third base and home plate, upset the Delt 18 to 7.

The Honeydrippers had a strong lead of 4 to 0 until the second half of the first inning. After that, trouble in the outfield (the three left fielders were lonely and wanted to stand with the right fielders) led to their dropping the game. Even using 13 players on the field didn't help.

The only major injury of the day occurred when Jack "Slugger" Fites and Angie "Queen of Swat" Navaran collided at second base and Queenie fell forward on Jack's face.

As the score got too unbalanced, the girls put in pinch hitters. "Lefty" Kabeary and "Blondie" Harris made two beautiful runs for the team.

Both Tri-Delt and Phi Sig rooting sections fired the play with yells. Card stunts followed at the Lil' Wal. Losers bought.

Kampus Klub Cooks Features Foreign Foods at Luncheon

International dishes are a feature of the new college student program at the Federated Church.

Last week's menu was of the Chinese variety, while Mexican dishes will grace the table this Sunday. Lunches are served at cost, and each week different members of the group have charge of the preparation of the food.

The program differs from the old in that luncheons are now served at each week's meeting. The time has been changed from the usual Sunday evening meeting to a get-together after Sunday morning religious service which ends at 12 noon.

7,200 years of college ... and still learning

THE Bell Telephone Laboratories is known as a leader in communications engineering. On its staff are 1,622 engineers and scientists with college degrees. Among them they have 7,200 years of college training ... and they are still learning.

They study many things. How to speed your voice across the street or around the world. How to keep your voice natural in tone and volume. How to make central office equipment capable of switching your call even faster. How to produce in laboratories the materials which are hard to get in their natural form—quartz, for instance. How to conserve the scarce metals which go into wire and cable, by making one circuit carry many conversations.

From such studies they learn how to make your service better and better, and keep its cost low.

Nevada to Meet Hawaii Rainbows In Mid-December Island Battle

Hawaii trip details were released by Joe Sheeketski this week as the Nevada Wolf Pack eleven began workouts for dates with the University of Hawaii on December 17 and Villanova College in the Harbor Bowl at San Diego on January 1.

Sheeketski said that the team would leave from Reno, instead of San Francisco, on December 15 via United Air Lines and would arrive in Hawaii sometime Thursday.

The entire squad will not be able to make the trip because of financial difficulties. Nevada's football party will consist of 28 or 29 men. This condition arose when the University of Hawaii refused financial terms of Nevada several weeks ago. Since then Nevada has agreed to the terms of Hawaii.

Nevada will make its headquarters at the Moana Hotel on Wakaki Beach in Honolulu. Players will get a chance to loosen up kinks on Hawaii turf before game time Friday.

Weather conditions are expected to be perfect for the game, which is good news for Stan Heath and Nevada's aerial circus. Texas Mines played Hawaii last weekend and the Texas coach lavished how the islands were "soaked with sunshine."

Not much is known about the Hawaiian eleven except that they are a scrappy team. In three games with mainland teams this year, they have defeated the University of Redlands, 55-0, and have fallen before Michigan State 58-21, and Texas Mines 49-6.

The Nevada team will leave Hawaii either the 18th or 19th of December and return to Reno for the Christmas vacation. December 26, the squad will leave for their January 1 engagement in San Diego.

Snakes Grab Honors In Rifle Shoot; Tie Taus in Volleyball

Barnes Berry, Jay Atwood and Bob DuPuy combined a total point score of 501 in intramural rifle competition during the past week to capture team honors for Sigma Nu fraternity.

In registering the win, the trio chalked up 40 Kinnear points and dusted off a spot in the Snake trophy case for the award to be made by Col. Parker in the near future.

The Independents took over the runnerup spot, with Ed Callahan as individual high scorer with 178.

This was the first year for the rifle matches as an official part of the intramural sports program.

Final standing of the teams is as follows:

Team	score
Sigma Nu	501
Independents	470
Phi Sigs	468
ATO	455
Highlanders	433
Sigma Rho	393
SAE	351

The race for volleyball supremacy is headed down the home stretch. At four o'clock this Friday afternoon Sigma Nu and ATO will go out onto the floor of Mackay gym with unblemished records.

These arch-rivals bearing the banners of their respective houses should provide plenty of action in what looms as the feature game of the week. The results will have vital bearing in the final standing which will be decided on the evening of December 14.

All games scheduled for 4 or 4:30 pm on Monday will be played at 7 and 7:30 pm on Tuesday. This change of schedule was due to their conflicting with the date for the performance of the "Messiah."

The present league standing is as follows:

Team	W	L
ATO	7	0
Sigma Nu	7	0
SAE	6	1
Sigma Rho	4	0
Phi Sig	4	3
Lambda Chi	3	4
Independents (Org.)	1	5
Theta Chi	1	5
Sigma Pi	0	6
Independents	0	6

Freshman Five Dump Chico State Frosh In Weekend Games

Not to be outdone by their big brothers, the Nevada freshman basketball team scored a double win last weekend over the Chico frosh. Not particularly hard pressed in either game, the frosh won 49-30 and 59-36.

The first half of Friday's game was hotly contested, but the young Wolves turned on the heat in the second half and went easily out in front.

Ed Hancock, a standout on last year's Reno High School team, connected for 14 points to lead the way in scoring. Earl Jarrett and Dick Nannini had 11 and 9 points, respectively.

Saturday night's encounter featured the same outcome. The game was nip and tuck for the entire first half, but the Chico frosh faded badly in the second half and Nevada pulled away.

Jim Melarkey, former Nevada basketball great and new frosh coach, used almost his whole squad in both games.

San Jose Spartans Name Six Nevadans To All-Opponent 11

San Jose, Calif. (Special) — Six Nevada players were placed on the all-opponent team of San Jose State, it was announced today after a poll of Spartan gridders.

The all-opponent team lists Scott Beasley of Nevada and Wilson Hann of Fresno, ends; R. V. Johnson of St. Mary's and Fred Leon, Nevada, tackles; A. Beasley, St. Mary's and Jack McKittrick, Stanford, guards; Bob Corley, Nevada, center; Stan Heath, Nevada, quarterback; Terry Bell, Pepperdine, and Tommy Kalmanir, Nevada, halfbacks, and Sherman Howard, Nevada, fullback.

Wolf Pack Cagers Cop Double Wins Over Chico Five

Nevada's basketball team got into the winning habit last weekend as they defeated Chico State, a perennial opponent, on both Friday and Saturday nights.

The Pack scored a win in the opening game of their season as they defeated Chico 48-35 on Friday night and came back by almost the same margin as they scored a 45-34 victory Saturday night.

Nevada went into an early lead in the Friday game and managed to hold the margin through most of the contest. Chico tied up the game at 21-21 with four minutes left in the first half, but Nevada again pulled away and led 27-22 at the intermission.

Starting fast in the second half the Pack ran up a 13 point lead after 12 minutes of play. The score was 42-29 when Nevada coach Jake Lawlor decided to let the regulars sit out the rest of the game.

Wolf Pack reserves took over for the remainder of the contest. Lawlor used every man on the Nevada bench at some time during the evening.

Nevada forwards Joseph and Libke led the scoring parade for the home club. Joseph had 18 points and Libke nine. Wustenburg, six foot eight inch center for Chico, had a total of 13 points.

The Saturday game followed much the same pattern as the one the night before. Chico, however, took an early lead, and held Nevada without a goal from the field for the first sev-

Nevada Pistol Team Slates 70 Matches

The University of Nevada has tentatively scheduled more than 70 pistol matches with colleges from all over the United States for the coming year.

These matches are shot on the college's own rifle range in accordance with previously set regulations, and the results are exchanged by mail. Of the matches proposed, more than 50 have been accepted.

Team members have not yet been chosen, as practice targets are still being shot. The team members may change from week to week as practice scores are calculated.

In accordance with a ruling passed by the university last year, members of the team may be either male or female.

en minutes. Finally, sparked by Les Ray, Nevada got rolling and led 23-19 at the half.

The game, slow in the first half, picked up in tempo in the final period. Nevada achieved a 10 point margin in the first 10 minutes of the second half, and Lawlor again emptied the bench. Les Ray, who added a scoring punch from the guard position, with 12 points and Louis Joseph with nine points, were top men for the Wolves.

Colorado Meet Opens Ski Season; Schedule Complete

The University of Nevada ski team will have an opportunity to display its prowess in four states and possibly Canada within the next few months.

Gene Mastroianni, graduate manager, said that, with the exception of the Canadian meet, the team schedule had been approved and funds set aside for it.

The first event will be the intercollegiate ski meet, December 29-30 in Aspen, Colorado.

The Reno jumping and giant slalom will be January 22 and 23, followed by the Nevada state jumping championship January 30, and Nevada's most picturesque meet, the Snowshoe Thompson Memorial at White Hills, February 12 and 13.

February 18, 19 and 20 the university will play host to western collegiate ski teams at the annual Winter Carnival.

The team will move to California for its next two meets, the FWSA jumping championship at Tahoe City February 26 and 27, and the PCISU championship at Yosemite on March 4, 5 and 6.

March 12 and 13 they will participate in the annual Silver Dollar Derby at Mount Rose, and April 2 and 3 in the Reno national giant slalom.

April 9, 10 and 11 will see the team on Donner Summit competing in the University of California's Vanderbilt Cup race.

The Sugar Bowl Silver Belt Race, April 23 and 24, and the University of Utah's Winter Carnival will wind up the season.

Pack Basketballers to Get Test In Weekend Series With Fresno

Fresh from a double victory over Chico State College, the University of Nevada basketballers take on Fresno State College in a two-game series in the Nevada gymnasium this weekend.

Judging from comparative scores, the games should be close. Nevada and Fresno have each won two games from Chico, the Wolf Pack 48-35 and 45-34 scores, and the Bulldogs by margins of 43-31 and 47-45. Fresno has had much stiffer competition since those wins, however, in Stanford University and the College All-Stars.

The Bulldogs lost to both those teams—two of the strongest quintets in the bay area—but should be a much improved squad from the experience. "Nevada will definitely have to play improved ball this week to win these games," head coach Jake Lawlor stated.

Fresno State has won three and lost three to date. They defeated the Alumni All-Stars 64-37, then won the two over Chico State. They lost to Stanford 46-26, and took two setbacks from the College All-Stars 70-42 and 57-43.

Fresno's head coach, Cornelius (Dutch) Warmerdam (the man who holds the world pole vault record, named his probable starting lineup as Al Cano, six feet, and Flip Darrow, five feet nine inches, at the forward spots; Len Sondergard, six feet three inches, at center; Jack Williamson, six feet one inch, and Wesley Slade, six feet one and a half inches, at guards.

Jake Lawlor said that he would start about the same five that opened against Chico State College last week. Louie Joseph and Joe Libke will be the forwards, Dan Orlich center. Ron DuPratt will be at one guard spot, but at the other guard Lou Mendive, Bob Larsen or Les Ray may begin. Ray was particularly impressive in the second game against the Wildcats last Saturday and may well be able to supply the added punch the Wolf Pack needs from the guard position.

Lawlor also announced that Buddy Hardy is out for the season. He has had a recurring shoulder injury, which the doctor now feels will require an operation before Hardy can play any more basketball.

This loss takes a big cut into Nevada's center strength. Ted Johnson was lost earlier because of ineligibility. Now with Hardy gone there are only Dan Orlich, Harold Hayes and Dick Truman left. Orlich and Hayes will both be gone for some time with the football team for the clashes with Hawaii and Villanova. Lawlor said that Bob Collett was working out with the squad now, however, and may fit in well at the center spot.

Women's PE Group Receives Jackets

Six members of the PEMs, women's physical education group, received their club blazers last week. The women are eligible to wear the blue and white jackets after being PEM members for one semester and having completed a basic course in physical education.

Those receiving the blazers are Shirley Hornbeck, Jackie Wilson, Gwen Byrd, Alice Pettis, Cecelia Schindler and Judy Wikstrom.

The PEMs is an organization which serves to unite majors and minors in women's physical education and to promote friendship, sportsmanship and scholarship in this field.

Five Tournaments Planned for Spring By Debate Squad

The University of Nevada debate squad will support a schedule of at least five tournaments next spring, Gale L. Richards, debate mentor, announced this week.

Already the team has participated in the Western Association tournament at Seattle where two, third place decisions were won in debate, and the College of Pacific practice tournament at Stockton. Local debaters making the Seattle trip were Rudy Gerken, Rex Jamison, Russell Maynard, and Bonnie Yturbe, while those who attended the Stockton tournament were Ralph Brown, Ray Free, Wayne Lewis and Lavonne Bingham.

Tournaments tentatively on the debate schedule for the spring semester are Linfield College, tournament, McMinnville, Oregon; Southwest Association tournament, Bakersfield, California; Province Pi Kappa Delta tournament, Redlands, California; Pacific Forensic League tournament, Walla Walla, Washington, and a series of platform debates with the University of Washington, Seattle, Washington.

Nevada teams may again receive an invitation to the West Point national tournament late in the spring, depending on the showing made in west coast tournaments.

Golden Glove Fights Slated for Spring; Legion to Sponsor

The annual Nevada Golden Gloves tournament, sponsored by the University of Nevada American Legion Memorial Post 13, will be held in the gymnasium early this coming spring, stated Ed Drennon, post commander.

During a regular meeting of the post last night, plans were made to investigate the possibility of showing Nevada football films at the next meeting scheduled for December 16. Also, plans for a post party to be held early in January were discussed.

The campus American Legion post is responsible for a new $1900 boxing ring being bought for the school from the proceeds of the boxing tournaments they sponsor.

Commander Drennon urges all campus veterans to attend the next meeting of the post in order that they may be aware of the constructive work being done in their interest.

Hello on the Hill

By Bob Palmer

Perhaps you have been wondering who is going to take Ken Sinoofsky's place in the Wolf Pack line next fall.

Yep! You guessed right. Gordon Surber, the boy with the four-wheel drive, is ready and willing to take over.

It's all a vicious circle as far as the Wolf Pack opponents are concerned because Gordon came to the University of Nevada through the urgings of Stan Heath. Then Gordon talked Wally Graf, a hard hitting halfback, into coming here. If these two newcomers follow through in the Heath tradition there is plenty of good football ahead for western fans.

While a high school football player in Illinois, Surber rubbed helmets with some of the best. His teammates on the Illinois all-state team have become the greats of many a college eleven. Gordon's career has been held up by transferring, but next year he gets his chance to make good.

During the interview, this reporter was surprised to see a football textbook on Gordon's desk. If there is such a thing as a scientific lineman—Gordon is it. We have heard rumors that other linemen have been asking his advice on how to charge, block, and tackle.

Gordon's ambition is to play against Santa Clara. We wonder why.

Surber likes the University of Nevada and points out the advantages of the small student body, such as closer contact with the professors and with other members of the student body, especially the coeds.

Harbor Attraction on NBC Twin Bill; Stern to Air Tilt

Bill Stern, one of the nation's top sports announcers, will announce the Nevada-Villanova New Year's game to be played at San Diego's Harbor Bowl. The decision was announced by the National Broadcasting Company last week.

Last Saturday, while announcing the Alabama-Auburn game, Stern plugged the Nevada game and praised Stan Heath when he called Heath one of the nation's greatest passers of all time.

Stern also said that the Harbor Bowl game is the only major bowl game in which an eastern team will play, and that it is the only bowl game in which a far east and a far west team will play against each

PROVE CAMEL MILDNESS FOR YOURSELF!

Prove for yourself what throat specialists reported when 30-day smoking test revealed

NO THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

MAKE YOUR OWN 30-DAY CAMEL MILDNESS TEST. Smoke Camels, and only Camels, for 30 days. Prove for yourself just how mild Camels are!

Hundreds of men and women, from coast to coast, recently made a similar test. They smoked an average of one to two packs of Camels a day for 30 days. Their throats were examined by noted throat specialists. After a total of 2470 examinations—these throat specialists reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

But prove it yourself... in your "T-Zone." Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about the rich, full flavor of Camel's choice tobaccos. Let YOUR OWN THROAT give the good news of Camel's cool, cool mildness.

Money-Back Guarantee!

Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage. (Signed) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

According to a Nationwide survey:
MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE

Doctors smoke for pleasure, too! And when three leading independent research organizations asked 113,597 doctors what cigarette they smoked, the brand named most was Camel!

YMCA and YWCA Have Full Slate Going on Campus

Student YMCA and YWCA activities on this campus are in full swing, according to R. J. Maynard, assistant chairman of the campus YMCA, and Jean Howden, YWCA executive secretary.

The newly formed YMCA group met recently at a smoker in the downtown YMCA where the various activities of the year were discussed. Among those present was Mr. A. B. Rule, commander USNR, who is to be one of the members on the board of sponsors. Other members of the board are Professors A. Jensen and J. Puffinbarger, and Clarence Marshall, executive director of the YMCA for this region.

Highlighting the YMCA campus program for the year will be a fireside forum series that will feature talks and discussions by prominent authorities on various subjects of interest. The forums are to be held in the private homes of the speakers, or, in the case of out-of-town men, in some other comparable atmosphere.

The first of these meetings is scheduled to take place directly following the Thanksgiving holidays.

The forums will feature such notables as Governor Vail Pittman, Senator Pat McCarran, Harold and Raymond I. Smith, and various prominent professors and educators. The talks are designed to help students, who are undecided about fields of endeavor, to make up their minds, it was explained.

YWCA Active
Meanwhile, the YWCA, under the direction of Jean Holden, is doing its bit toward campus service in an assortment of ways. The latest innovation of the YWCA campus cabinet is the newly instituted Skeptic's Hour. Other activities of the YWCA include the snack bar, football coke concessions, and a personal counseling service.

Elsewhere on the Y front is the downtown coed club, known as the Live Y'ers, meeting at the YMCA building on Friday nights for sports and dancing. The club is open to young people between the ages of 18 and 30 who enjoy sports and good fellowship.

Saudi, Arabia, Jobs Described at Meet

Careers in Saudi Arabia, were described to the engineers of the University of Nevada this week. H. C. Dildine, personnel representative of the Arabian American Oil Company (Aramco), talked to a group of more than 60 engineers, and then held individual interviews with those most interested.

Dildine said that opportunities for the man who would like to make a career with Aramco are unlimited. The need for qualified men is so great that the company expects to be hiring for the next five years.

At the end of a two-year tour of duty a 50-day leave in the United States, with full pay, is granted. This is in addition to a 14 day local leave to Lebanon or Eritrea.

Engineering problems in Arabia are far more diversified than on comparable jobs in the United States. Even the soil and weather conditions pose new problems. It is because of this that Aramco claims that its organization is a superior starting place for a young graduate engineer.

Model Initiation Given by Rovers

The Rovers, an organization of college men whose objective is service to scouting, held a model initiation ceremony for a new Boy Scout troop at the Elks Club in Reno on December 1.

The ceremony, developed by the Rover, is intended to give new tenderfoot Scouts an impressive initiation. The meeting at the Elks Club was the first trial for the new procedure and the Rovers will continue to show other Scout troops how to conduct the ceremony.

Women PE Majors Hold Winter Party At Local YMCA

A "winter wonderland" party was given by the women's physical education majors for the Live Y'ers coed group of the YMCA December 3.

Upon entering into the blue and white decorated lobby of the Reno YMCA, everyone received a snowball-designed name tag from Shirly Hodge, party committee member.

A "punch and judy" game was played to get everyone acquainted. Several games were on the program and they were succeeded by a treasure hunt.

After the games, refreshments were served from a table decorated in the winter wonderland theme. Partners for refreshments were chosen during the course of a "shoe" dance.

Concluding the evening's activities was a "whistle" dance followed by regular ballroom dancing.

PEM's in charge of the program were Shirley Hornbeck, Jack Wilson, Gwen Byrd, Joann Rich, Shirley Switzler, Shirly Hodge and Judy Wikstrom.

He: Won't you join me in a cup of coffee?

She: Well, you get in first and we'll see if there's any room for me.

Student Directory Sales Going Good, Says Editor Short

Sales of the student directory have gone over big and students wanting a copy are urged to purchase one immediately, said Ty Short, editor of the directory.

The directory sells for 35 cents a copy and contains information including students' names, their home addresses and class status, faculty and administration members' addresses, church listings, student body officers, office hours of faculty and officers, and lists of senate members and organizations.

Responsible for the blue and silver covers on this year's directory is John Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art. Ty Short was assisted in the publication of the directory by Blue Key members and President Moseley's staff.

Purchasing price of the directories is used to cover the cost of the publication.

Phoney Pink Slips Issued on Campus To Freshman Women

Someone on the campus is issuing false pink summons slips to freshman women, warns Kay Brennan of the women's upperclass committee.

Last week, a ticket book was lost. Since then, girls have been reporting to the committee with seemingly authentic tickets for breaking the traditional freshman rules. The false tickets have not been signed; they are merely initialed.

Miss Brennan suggests that freshman women have a right to ask the woman giving her the ticket for identification. There are 14 students who are in charge of issuing such tickets.

The following women are the only ones allowed to present tickets: Mary Zorzakis,

Manzanita; Rosalie Enke, Manzanita; Moray Black, Independents; Geneva Marker, Independents; Lois Charlesworth, Artemisia; Helen Mansfield, Artemisia; Patti Jones, Gamma Phi Beta; Rita Mortara, Gamma Phi Beta; Phillis Baker, Pi Beta Phi; Edith Moore, Pi Beta Phi; Bonnie Molognoni, Delta Delta Delta; Sue Broadbent, Delta Delta Delta; Alice Arentz, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Kay Brennan, Kappa Alpha Theta.
