SALARY ISSUE PROMPTS GOOD-WILL TOUR

Panel Discussions To Be Conducted By Professors

"The Professor's Platform," a panel discussion conducted by University of Nevada professors, has arranged its next broadcast for tomorrow, March 5, according to Gale Richards, asst. professor in the English department, who is in charge of the broadcasts.

These programs are broadcast every other Saturday from 1 to 1:30 p.m. over KOH, Reno.

"Was There a Distinctive Culture in Nevada During the Era of the Comstock?" will be the topic of discussion tomorrow. The speakers will be Dr. William C. Miller, assistant professor of English; Dr. Austin E. Hutcheson, associate professor of history and political science; and Dr. Robert Hume, associate professor of English.

The broadcast on April 2 will feature a panel lead by Dean Fred Troner of the school of education. The subject will be "Should Nevada Institute a Junior College System Throughout the State?"

The topic under discussion on April 16 will be "What Should be the Nature of a Guidance Program in the high schools of the State?" The panel of speakers will include Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men; Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women; and Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, professor of psychology.

As yet, Professor Richards has not released details of the broadcasts scheduled for March 19 and April 30.

The Alumni Association is now paying for the records to be sent to radio stations in Las Vegas and Elko.

Alumnus Magazine Ready by April 1

The 1949 issue of the Alumnus, the annual publication of the alumni association, will be off the press by April 1. The alumni association also plans to publish a directory of all University of Nevada graduates.

The directory will be the first of its kind since 1938, according to Rex Daniels, director of the alumni association on the campus. It will include the name, address, degree received, occupation, fraternity or sorority affiliations, and the name of the husband or wife of each alumnus.

The alumni association has not yet made arrangements for the printing of the directory, but expects to do so this spring.

The forthcoming issue of the Alumnus will be sent to about 1500 former students, and will feature the Mackay School of Mines.

Scholarship Seekers Advised to Apply

Students who feel they may be worthy of or who need a scholarship may bring their names before the committee of scholarships and prizes by making formal application for one. Dr. Harold N. Brown stated that blanks for this purpose may be secured at his office, room 108, in the Education building.

There are a number of scholarships available to students of the university and information about them can be found on pages 112-129 of the university catalogue.

School of Mines Installs Equipment For Ore processing

Students in the Mackay School of Mines are currently busy installing $9000 worth of new ore dressing equipment under the direction of W. I. Smyth, professor of metallurgy and mining.

The cost of construction work necessary before installation could begin was estimated by Professor Smyth to be about $1000.

Capable of handling 100 pounds of ore an hour, the new units are of about the size to be found in test or pilot plants, and will replace the machine presently being used which processes one ton an hour and is too big for the department's needs.

Gratitude Train Car To Be Sent Through State

France's gift to Nevada, a "merci" car from the gratitude train sent to the United States in appreciation for the Friendship train sent to France last year, arrived in Carson City last week and will be exhibited throughout the state.

Dr. John O. Moseley, president of the University of Nevada, Rex Jemison, president of the A.S.U.N., and Lorraine Houghton, president of the Associated Women Students, were present at the welcoming ceremony, which one spectator described as "the biggest thing Carson has seen in years."

The car, a freight car of the type used to transport American troops in France during World War I, was met at the Virginia and Truckee railroad's Carson City station by the Carson Indian school band, which played "La Marseillaise," the French national anthem.

After the initial greeting, the officials and spectators paraded to the state capitol, where the ceremony continued before a joint session of the state assembly and senate. The legislature unanimously passed a resolution thanking the French people for their gift.

UN PROF WILL TEACH AT OHIO

Dr. Austin Hutcheson, assistant professor in the history department at the University of Nevada, will teach two courses in American history at the Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, this summer.

The two courses offered by Dr. Hutcheson are entitled "The History of Political Parties to 1860" and "Civil War, Reconstruction, and the New South."

During part of summer Dr. Hutcheson will gather research material in St. Paul, Minn., Washington, D. C., and elsewhere, on territorial officials of Nevada appointed by President Abraham Lincoln from the mid-west and east.

Campus Cutters Given Warning

There are too many students "cutting campus," warns Carl M. Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds. Drastic measures will be taken to counteract this violation of university rules, unless students stop using the lawns for sidewalks.

"You're Darn Lucky To Be Getting This"

College Seniors Can Obtain Direct Commissions Here

Opportunity this time in the guise of Uncle Sam, is knocking on the door of all graduating male students this spring.

The Navy is offering a direct commission as ensign to anyone with 2 to 4 years of college and who is between 18 and 27 years of age. The program is in naval aviation and involves 18 months of flight training. Upon completion of this training the candidate receives a commission in the regular Navy. The pay rate for Ensign is now $291 per month for those without dependents and $372 for those with dependents.

The Army is offering a direct commission of Second Lieutenant to those with two to four years of college. The candidate, can choose in which branch of the army he wishes to serve. The program labeled 330-210 provides that the new officer goes on an active two year span of duty and then is released to reserve status, returning to civilian life. He has the alternative of staying on active status if he so chooses.

"Previous service is an important factor in determining his rate of pay. Those with no previous service, without dependents are paid $282 per month. Impending legislation will raise this to $390. Veterans will be paid according to this rate with their longevity bringing the total considerably higher.

EDITOR VISITS CAMPUS

Betty Claire Schmid, college reporter for Mademoiselle magazine, visited the campus Tuesday. During the day she spoke to two classes and held several individual interviews with women interested in the magazine.

FUND - RAISING AUCTION HELD BY WSSFERS

Everything from Loretta Young's handkerchief to Doak Walker's autographed football will be auctioned off to University of Nevada students March 15. The auction is tentatively scheduled to be held in the Gym, and will begin at 7:15 p.m.

A project of the World Student's Service Fund drive, the event will help raise funds to aid foreign students, said Jean Howden, Y.W.C.A. secretary. Will Rogers is student chairman of the auction.

Gifts donated by local merchants will be given as door prizes. Twenty-five holders of lucky tickets will receive prizes. Rudy Gerken, chairman in charge of city contacts, said the Reno city council granted WSSF workers permission to solicit merchants for donations at a meeting Monday night.

Articles already received from celebrities are: Loretta Young, a monogrammed handkerchief and the hat she wore in "Mother was a Freshman"; Perry Como, an autographed record, "Faraway Places"; Cole Porter, an autographed score of "So In Love," from "Kiss Me Kate"; Red Skelton, a monogrammed handkerchief Jane Wyman, an autographed photograph; "Ike" Eiesenhower, an autographed photograph; Doak Walker, Southern Methodist football star, an autographed football; Edith Head, a sketch of the gown she designed for Joan Fontaine in "The Emperor's Waltz"; Walter Van Tilden Clark, author of "The Ox Bow Incident," an original manuscript copy of a short story and a letter; Dale Carnegie, a copy of his latest book; Joe Louis, a copy of his autobiography, "Joe Louis, American"; Samuel Shellabarger, a copy of "The Prince of Foxes"; and Drew Pearson, a hat with a "Lee" trademark.

Phi Kappa Phi Alters Rules For Eligibility

As a result of eight replies from different western universities and colleges to a questionnaire sent out by Phi Kappa Phi, honor society, a vote on two proposals to alter eligibility rules will be taken up at the next meeting.

On the basis of the eight replies that were received, the committee wishes to make the following recommendations:

1. Inasmuch as none of the eight schools that replied recognized differences in hours required for graduation in the different colleges, we recommend the abolishment of the present ranking system as described in Section 3, Article 2 of the by-laws.

2. Inasmuch as most of the eight schools elected by colleges used a minimum grade point requirement for nomination, we propose the following amendment to the by-laws to replace Section 3, Article 2:

Proposal 1 is as follows: a. eligible nominees shall be selected from the different colleges (Arts and Science, Engineering and Agriculture), nominating only those students

'Y' Center Rifled For Seventh Time

For the seventh time in seven months the youth center was broken into and rifled Friday night, February 25.

The money in the cigarette machine was taken, but the cigarettes were not touched. The Reno police are investigating.

Jean Howden, executive director of the university chapter of the YWCA, said that at other times food, cokes and Community Chest funds were taken.

It is thought that the thief entered the center before it was locked for the night.

Improvement Committee Sponsors Speakers

Statewide Support Sought for Faculty Raises

Under the direction of the Student Improvement committee, a speakers' bureau has been formed for the purpose of presenting the problem of faculty salary increases to the people of the state.

Student speakers will travel to their home towns throughout the state on good-will tours. They will appear before service clubs, P.T.A. groups, Labor groups, veterans associations, ranchers and stockmen, high school assemblies and church groups.

Dwight Peterson, Improvement committee chairman, stated, "It is hoped that by this good-will tour the taxpayers of Nevada can be shown the grave importance of faculty salary increases in relationship to the welfare of the institution. The students in putting on this tour are merely working in conjunction with the faculty, administration, and Board of Regents."

Half-Track Joins Publicity Group For Military Ball

"Come to the Military Ball, Saturday night, Mapes Hotel," a voice booms out over a loud speaker as a half-track rolls by.

During the past week students have been reminded in this way of the annual Military Ball tomorrow night.

By this means, also, students have been urged to vote for one of the seven girls whose pictures are posted on the university bulletin board.

One of these girls will be crowned queen during intermission and will reign during the rest of the dance. Irene Fulton, representing the Corps of Sponsors; Marilyn Humphreys, Kappa Alpha Theta; Colleen Gilbert, Gamma Phi Beta; Beverly Jones, Manzanita hall; Edith McDonald, Artemisia hall; Odile Frost, Pi Beta Phi; and Helen Keddie, Delta Delta Delta.

A sabre arch will be staged by Scabbard and Blade and their dates, and Governor Vail Pittman will crown the queen. The ceremony will be broadcast over a local Reno radio station.

Persons desiring tickets can secure them at the ticket bureau established in the Arcade building where tickets for athletic events are generally sold.

Merle Snider and his Reno orchestra will provide the dance music. Formal clothes will be worn.

Officers Elected By Aggie Club

Election of an entire new slate of officers highlighted the Aggie club's first meeting of the new semester this past weekend.

Officers elected were: Eyer Boies, president; John Henningsen, vice president; Gary Hyde, secretary; and Charles Goff, historian.

Plans for the forthcoming horse show, which will be staged at the Reno fairgrounds on May 7 and 8, were disclosed by Lyle McCamey. He announced that there will be three new quarter horse classes introduced this year. They are the gelding, sire and get (two get) and the dam and foal class.

It was also reported that the Aggie club has a membership of 45 this year.

The Student Improvement committee went into action immediately following the announcement that the proposed budget for the university had been cut. This budget as presented to the legislature by the Board of Regents made allowances for what was considered a minimum increase in faculty salaries. In trimming the budget Governor Pittman deleted the $265,000 salary item.

Two hundred dollars was appropriated by the ASUN Senate to cover the expenses of the tour, during their regular session last Wednesday evening. An additional $100.00 was received from an unknown donor.

Arrangements for the tour and the scheduling of the talks are being handled by Professor John E. (Doc) Martie, P. E. department, and Dr. William C. Miller, professor of English, with the cooperation of community leaders.

Each student will be paid for his traveling expenses and will be granted a week's leave of absence from his studies. While speaking in his home town the student will live at home.

A printing committee composed of faculty members and students will conduct research in an effort to derive recommendations to alleviate the present financial stress of the state. Various forms of additional taxation and economy will be considered. This information together with data on the effects of the low salary scale at Nevada will be duplicated in the form of pamphlets which each speaker will distribute to the audience he addresses.

Members of the printing committee are: Michael Graban, Dwight Peterson, Jon Milburn, Barney Childs, Rex Daniels, J. Craig Sheppard, Maurice Beasley, Bonnie Yturvide, Scott Whitney, Robert Hume, Robert M. Gorrell, Edwin Semenza, Max Edwards, and Laurance Mascott.

Planning committee members: Gail Richards., Rex Jemison, Dwight Peterson, Mary Haslam.

Student speakers will consist of: Rex Jemison., Las Vegas; Sally Buol, Tonopah; Wayne Pearson, Ely; Michael Galli, Elko; Ralph Brown, Winnemucca; Charles Marriage, Carson City; Scott Whitney and Bonnie Yturvide, Reno; Myron Manley and Tom Hagar, Sparks; Pat De Walt, Hawthorne, David Kinneburg, Battle Mountain; Faye Fryberger, Lovelock; and E. Warren Hursh, Fallon.

Senior Ball Bids Ready, Says Green

Bids for the Senior ball to be held March 19 at the Twentieth Century club are now available at the graduate manager's office, according to Wally Green, senior class president.

Each senior is entitled to one bid and an extra one for his guest couple. Tickets to the dance and to the breakfast to be held directly after it go with the bid and will cost $2.

Wally asks that each senior planning to attend pick up his bid immediately so that any leftover invitations may be given out during the week before the dance to seniors who would like to invite more than one couple.

Co-chairmen of the Senior ball are Bill Kormmeyer and Althea Benedict.

Entertainment during the breakfast has been planned and is under the direction of Bob Creveling, Kay Brennan is in charge of decorations.

The dance will be formal for women; men may wear dark suits.

Women living in the hall or sorority houses will be granted a 3 a.m. late night privilege upon showing their bid to the housemother.

Library Gives Files To Art Department

Research material for art students has been given to the art department by the University library. The file contains clippings and pictures that will be used as slides for art history and art appreciation courses.

The material has been kept for a number of years by the staff of the library. This is the first step toward the building of an art "morgue" for the students of this and other departments, said Craig Shepard, head of the art department.

CHI DELTA PHI'S HEAR LECTURE

The Chi Delta Phi's gathered at the Tri-Delt house Wednesday evening to listen to an address by guest speaker Gordon Marsh, instructor of languages.

Chi Delta Phi is a national honorary literary sorority on the campus. It is headed by Norma Carruth, president, and Mrs. Harold Brown, advisor.

Marsh spoke on the people in the Aleutian chair, their habits and customs. He explored the Aleutian islands with an expeditionary group last summer, and made an intensive study of the inhabitants and their environment.

He exhibited a collection of souvenirs which included a pair of mocassins, harpoon heads, and waterproof sealskin boots.

Mackay Day Visit By Vaughn Monroe Off, Says Morris

Vaughn Monroe, nationally famous orchestra leader invited to play for the Mackay Day committee, according to committee co-chairman Joe Morris.

A telegram received from Monroe's business manager stated that the orchestra is already booked for that date, and will be appearing in Chicago.

Monroe, in a personal letter to Morris, expressed his regrets that he will not be able to attend, and thanked the Mackay Day committee for its consideration.

Province Director Visits Gamma Phi's

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority is hostess this week to Mrs. Richard Butcher province director, who arrived Reno Wednesday.

Mrs. Butcher, of Santa Paula, California, is paying her annual visit to the active and the alumnae groups of Alpha Gamma chapter.

Girl students at Central University in Nanking, China, are sleeping in the former physics laboratory of the University. Chinese students would not even have the minimum equipment seen here if it were not for WSSF.

Athletic Scholarship Fund to Benefit From Showing of "Glass Menagerie"

"The Glass Menagerie," winner of New York drama critics' circle award in 1946, will be presented to Reno play-goers on March 23, 24 and 25. Julie Haydon, who was in the original New York production will appear in the Reno Civic Auditorium performances.

Supporting Miss Haydon will be Joyce Nielsen, Nevada graduate, Larry Geraghty, KWRN announcer and "father" in the Reno Little Theater production of "Life With Father," and Charles A. Dun Leavay, well known producer. Nevada student Pat O'Brien is acting as stage manager.

Proceeds of the first night's run go into the University of Nevada's athletic fund. This was decided at a special meeting held last Tuesday night of organization heads on campus.

It was originally planned that the proceeds of the first run would be split with 90 per cent going to the athletic fund and 10 per cent going to the fraternities, sororities and hall associations. Coach Joe Sheeketski said that such a plan was unfair to the houses and that he thought the proceeds should be split 50-50. However, the organizations decided that the entire sum should go to the athletic fund.

"Glass Menagerie" was put on by Nevada students at the Reno Little Theater last year in an invitational performance. Joyce Nielsen, Jane Baty, Pat O'Brien, and Rex Jemison took part in the play.

In 1946, for the first time in its ten year history, the New York Drama Critics' Circle chose the season's best American play on the first ballot, which was "The Glass Menagerie." The play is written by Tennessee Williams, whose current production is "A Street Car Named Desire."

Curtain time is 8:30 for the play. Tickets are on sale at the Mapes, Riverside and Southworth's for $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00, tax included. Block tickets can be obtained, if desired, by contacting Pat O'Brien.

FACULTY SONG TEAM POSSIBLE

Song teams at the Mackay Day luncheon this year may be augmented by a new member of the group, according to Mackay Day Committee co-chairman Marge Simon.

The faculty of the university has been invited to enter a team in competition with those of the fraternities and sororities on the campus. Song themes must be submitted by all competing organizations no later than March 15.

Judges for the competition will be named just prior to the awarding of prizes. Points will be awarded on the basis of originality, appeal, musical ability, and continuity of theme.

This same date has been set as deadline for the submission by fraternities and sororities of skit scripts, and membership and pledge lists. One copy is required of each sorority, while three are needed from each fraternity. These lists are in connection with the annual work day program of campus beautification.

All new majors and minors in the women's physical education department were entertained February 21 by the PEM's organization at a spaghetti feed.

President Gwen Byrd explained the purpose of the group to the new members and reservations were made to the American Association Health, Physical Education, and Recreation district meeting which will be held in Phoenix, Arizona, some time in May.

English Professors Aid Chi Delta Phi In Contest Judging

Dr. Robert A. Hume and Dr. Maxwell Edwards, professors of English, will assist members of Chi Delta Phi, women's national literary honorary, when judging the high school poetry and short story contest which begins next week.

Angel Naveran, chairman of the contest, announced that 15 entries have been received from high schools throughout the state and the contest will close this weekend.

Awards will be given winners with a special award of an honorary membership in Chi Delta Phi going to the outstanding senior girl among the contestants. Winners in each division will receive cups, while ribbons will be given to second place entries. Carolyn Pickens is in charge of awards.

Final selection will take place at the March 16 meeting, and Norma Carruth, president, will be in charge.

Green Quonset Hut Mystery Is Solved

Our new freshmen have been asking for an explanation. The source of their bewilderment is the conspicuous light green quonset hut located to the right of the new Engineering building.

This building is the office of the Reno division of the Interior, Bureau of Mines. The mining branch conducts engineering examinations of mineral deposits, explores and samples deposits, and studies new mining and milling methods.

The branch conducts experimental work on methods of exploration and mining, investigates the mining possibilities of individual districts as they relate to the minerals industry, and demonstrates the most effective methods for extracting previously unused ores.

National Head Gives Speech To Hill YWCA

Guest speaker at the all-association meeting of the university YWCA Thursday evening was Dorothy Height, staff member of the national YWCA. Miss Height spoke to the students about inter-racial relations on which she is a recognized authority.

Group initiation and informal discussion with Miss Height were held at the meeting.

En route to the national YWCA convention which begins this weekend in San Francisco, Miss Height stopped in Reno for two days. While here she also met with the university YWCA advisory board and discussed national and local policies and problems. Miss Height specialized in YWCA activities that will promote understanding among the youth of all races. She is the inter-racial education secretary in the program subjects department of the national board of New York.

The university class in orientation to group work heard Miss Height speak Friday afternoon. This class is sponsored by the group work section of the Reno council of social agencies.

YWCA student cabinet members and the advisory board attended a buffet dinner given in honor of Miss Height at the Methodist Church by members of the Bronze Matrons Society of Reno.

Cagers Lauded By Lawlor For Play In 48-49 Race

Nevadans Face Toughest Schedule
Ever Undertaken by University

The 1948-1949 basketball season is over, but you can't tell Jake Lawlor, or seniors Ron DuPratt, Louis Joseph, Dan Orlich, Les Ray and Harold Hayes that it will be forgotten.

"Best squad as a whole I've ever coached," stated Lawlor. "Not in ability, but hard work, unselfishness, and spirit. This is the toughest schedule ever played by a Nevada basketball team and they never failed to make a good show of it."

Lawlor was high in praise for his five seniors, DuPratt, Joseph, Orlich, Ray and Hayes. He also commented on the good attitude of the players and pointed out Louis Mendive who he said started as a first string guard, was relegated to the bench for the greater part of the season by injuries, and then came back to help the team in the last few games.

Especially high in praise of Jack Fenkel, the team manager, Lawlor said, "Jack is tops as a manager and he deserves a lot of credit for his work."

"Nevada was handicapped throughout the season by teams that had more experience, height, and speed than we did," commented the Wolf Pack mentor.

To cite a few examples of the rough opposition that Nevada faced this year: North Carolina State won the Southern Conference race, Chico State won the Far West conference crown, San Jose State State was California Collegiate Association champs., Oakland Bittners won 51 games and copped the American Basketball League title, Hawaii was Hawaii territorial win-

Three Mural Fives Tied for Cage Lead

Three teams, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Nu and the unorganized Independents, are now contending for the university intramural basketball crown.

Other team standings are as follows: second place, Lambda Chi; third, A.T.O.; fourth, S.A.E.; fifth, Theta Chi. The organized Independents and Sigma Rho are tied for sixth place while the Highlanders occupy the last berth.

ners, and USF ranked eighth in the nation.

In 27 games this year the Wolf Pack won 11 and lost 16. They scored 1437 points or a bit better than 53 points a game while opposition scored 1496 points or slightly over 55 points a game.

The best offensive record for Nevada was the 74 point spree against West Virginia State while the best defensive mark was holding Chico to 34 points in the second game of the season.

Lawlor stated, that to the best of his memory, this was the first time that Nevada reached the 70's against college competition, at least since he has been coach.

Louis Joseph rang up the most points during the year. The high scoring forward from Compton, California, rolled up 301 points, followed by Ron DuPratt with 271, Joe Libke with 261, and Les Ray with 219. Orlich gathered 166 points Hayes 95, Dick Truman 35, Buddy Garfinkle 35, and Louis Mendive 26. These totals are unofficial.

Pack Basketballers Dump Hawaii 70-51 In Season Finale

Nevada's basketball team put a shining touch to a not-to-lustrous cage season Tuesday evening by outclassing a scrappy Hawaii Rainbow team 70-51.

The NAIB tournament bound islanders had a rough time finding their shooting eye in the first half against the Pack and 10 minutes passed before the visitors hit the net with a two-pointer.

Jake Lawlor started his five graduating seniors, Ron DuPratt, Harold Hayes, Dan Orlich, Les Rays, and Louie Joseph, and this combination made their last efforts memorable ones.

Nevada took an early lead on the work of Joseph and Hayes with Dan Orlich dominating the backboards.

Hawaii finally found the range halfway through the initial half began to pull up on the shooting of Louie and the free shot ability his teammates who were collecting a rash of them. Halftime score saw the Wolves leading 29-22.

U. of N. TRACK TEAM BEGINS WORKOUTS

Although winter isn't officially over as yet, and unmindful of the fact that basketball ended only this week, University of Nevada track coach Jake Lawlor announced that the cinder sport would make its 1949 debut next week.

A few men have already taken out track equipment and have been practicing daily at Mackay Field. For most, however, track will begin Monday with informal practices, with formal drills scheduled for the week after.

A tentative schedule calls for the first meet to be April 22 at Davis, where the Nevadans will compete against the Cal Aggies and San Francisco State. The Wolf Pack will also meet Chico State there on April 30, and San Francisco State travels here on May 7 (Mackay Day). More meets are being sought, Lawlor added, and it was hoped that an entire schedule would soon be straightened out.

The total number of men turning out for track will not be known for a week or so yet, but there are 19 veterans left who Lawlor hopes to convert into a formidable team. These include:

Weights: Tom Bell, Roger Brander, Art Wiggs, Paul Stimac and Hugo Giorgi.

Dashes: Willard Elder, Ted

Ensslin, Tom Kalmanir and Charles Springer.

Middle Distances: Dick Trachok Buddy Hardy and Ed Klosterman.

Distances: John Richardson and Hardy.

Hurdles: Carl Robinson, Bob Collett and Herman Fisher.

High Jump: Bill Jager.

Pole Vault: Bill Gillis.

Broad Jump: Kalmanir.

Javelin: Jack Sullivan.

A number of freshmen are also expected to turn out for track, and these candidates, even though first year students, will be eligible for competition.

Among the most outstanding are Lawrence "Punjob" Hairston, frosh footballer, weights; Marvin Byars, outstanding track man at Reno High last year, 440; Bill Higgins, former Elko and Las Vegas athlete, javelin; and Warren Novak, winner of the cross country race during Homecoming last fall.

Several standouts from last year's team are not returning this season, it was also disclosed. Main losses were Sherman Howard, fast dah man and anchor man on the 1948 relay team, who signed a pro football contract. Jack Fagan, middle distance man, graduated; and Elmer Green.

Nevada Boxers Deadlock Idaho Aggregation, 4-4

Pack Sharp in Final Bouts Here; Battle Idaho Southern Monday

The Wolf Pack boxers slugged to a 4-4 deadlock with the Bengals from the Idaho State College, 1948 Intermountain intercollegiate champs, winding up their Reno schedule Monday night.

The heavyweight bout went only two rounds as Murray Rudd of Idaho took a decision over Nevada's Gordon Surber, 220. Rudd's handlers stated that a dislocated shoulder was responsible for his inability to come out in the third round. Collegiate rules award a decision to the boxer having the most points, should an injury of this nature occur.

Frank Sanches of Nevada stopped Eddie Samira, Idaho

State light-heavyweight from Hawaii, in the 175-pound class, in the second round, although Sanches was handicapped by an injured arm.

A close decision was taken by Nevada's Jack Swobe as a fast volley of head punches proved too much for Max Thompson, Intermountain champion of the 165-pound division.

Rangy-redheaded Don Blackham of Nevada won the decision over veteran Don Nielson, 155 pound Intermountain champ, who was puzzled completely by Blackham's clever defense tactics.

Bob Thronson, Nevada team captain, stopped Idaho State's 145-pound Colin Drake in the fourth Nevada win of the series.

The action-packed fight of the night was that in which Stan Noble of Idaho State won a close decision from Nevada's Martin Roderiguez, a 135-pounder. The bout went three rounds with both of the fighters rallying in an amazing manner. The crowd cheered their appreciation with loud applause.

Inexperienced Bob Bandoni of Nevada was stopped by Idaho State's Intermountain champ, Eugene Hawkes, 130.

The 125-pound bout was forfeited by Nevada due to injuries received in training by Dean Gloster.

The Wolf Pack will meet Southern Idaho at Elko next Monday night.

Varsity Boxers Journey East; Meet Idaho So.

Cliff Devine and the Nevada boxing team move out to Elko next Monday night for a ring appearance against Idaho Southern, in what should be a fistie treat for eastern Nevada fight fans.

The Idaho team will enter two outstanding veterans and other contestants reputed to be just as tough. The two top Southern fighters are Gene Bledsoe, heavyweight, and Merle Hepworth, lightweight.

Undefeated

Bledsoe has not lost a battle in his last three years of dual competition. He is also the defending intermountain heavyweight champion. Nevada's rugged Gordon Surber will get the call to try and dethrone hard hitting Bledsoe.

Hepworth, was national runnerup in the lightweight class in 1941. He has been holding his own against all comers since.

Idaho Roster

Other Idaho boxers include Jack Olsen, 125; George Grackebury, 130; Bill Haycock, 145; Ralph Butler, 155; Slorin Hulse, 165; and Bob Cicle, 175.

Expected to represent Nevada are Dean Gloster, 125; Wayne Osborne 130; Martin Rodriquez, 135; Bob Thronson, 145; Don Blackham, 155; Jack Swobe, 165; Frank Sanches, 175; and Surber, heavyweight.

Nevada Rifle Teams Post Decisive Wins Over Opposition

The U. of N.'s four rifle teams have run up an impressive string of victories over some of the best schools in the country this semester.

According to the team coach, M-Sgt. Grady, the teams have scored "more and better wins over bigger and better universities than any other sport team sponsored by the school."

The Varsity team has won 14 of its 15 matches to date.

It has beaten, among others, Penn State, the University of Massachusetts, Northwestern, and Indiana university.

The ROTC team has a score of 14 wins in 19 matches so far completed. This includes a victory over the University of Alabama.

The sharpshooters in the freshman division have a perfect record of four top scores out of four matches entered. Among the defeated are the Plebe team from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, and a team from Cornell university.

The Girl's team has scored nine wins in ten tries, thus downing such big names as George Washington university, University of South Dakota, Ohio university,

HOW MUCH IS ONE RESCUE WORTH?

A tiny hand above the water. Then slowly, slowly it sinks. But there is time—still time—if only someone is near, someone who knows what to do. A twelve-year-old boy, a woman, an old man—anyone, if only he knows.

And the wonderful thing is that there are millions who do know what to do and how to do it. Last year alone, you—through your Red Cross—made it possible to train more than a half-million people in water safety. Another 55,000 were trained and qualified as instructors in water safety and first aid. It is estimated that 17,000,000 have had training in first aid and water safety through your Red Cross.

Many of these people are able to save human life—priceless human life. How much is this ability worth? It's hard to say—unless it is someone you love who has been rescued.

Your contributions to your Red Cross can help carry on this training program, help take it to new areas that need it. Give now—it may save a life sooner than you think.

SHEPPARD GIVES SPEECH TO AAUW

"Art is part of a community, and art students of the University of Nevada are being fully educated to take a place in community life." Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art, made this statement before a meeting of the art section of the American Association of University Women last week at the art department.

Arguing against the usual view that art schools stress techniques and nothing else, Sheppard explained how university art students are also given courses in the background of art and its usefulness in community life. With this background, he said, the average art student returns to his community more fit to become a working part of it.

Campus Car Copper Commends Cheering Conditions

More than 750 warnings were issued to campus traffic violators during February, according to W. M. Castle, special traffic policeman on the campus.

Castle declared that the conditions are improving constantly, but that many cars are still unregistered. All cars must display a 1948-49 parking permit, he said.

The Sundowners registered many cars last week, he said, and cars are still being registered in the comptroller's office.

Aggies Publish Pictorial Report Showing Progress

A pictorial report of the work and accomplishments of the college of agriculture was published recently by the university.

The booklet presents in story and picture the agricultural program of the University of Nevada. It shows the progress that has been made during the past two years in the college of agriculture, at the experimental station and in the agricultural extension service.

One thousand copies were printed, but the president's office has not yet announced who will receive copies.

Fully explained is the organization of the training program headed by Dr. Cecil W. Creel, dean of agriculture. Biographical sketches of all faculty members of the college of agriculture and instructors in associated fields are presented. Pictures of student groups, 4-H Club activity, home economics groups, Nevada cattlemen and prize livestock illustrate the text.

The material used was taken from the files of the college of agriculture with contributions made by Dr. Cecil W. Creel, V. E. Scott, director of residence teaching; Legrand Walker, superintendent of university farms, and C. E. Fleming, director of the agricultural experiment station.

In the foreword by President Moseley, it is stated that material is now being assembled by the college of engineering, the school of electrical engineering, the school of mechanical engineering and the school of civil engineering for a similar report on the progress being made in these engineering divisions. It stated that as soon as means permit, other divisions of the university will be similarly presented.

Instructor Uses New Wire Recorder In History Course

Harry Anderson, graduate student of political science, now instructing in the history department, has added something new to the usual routine of class lectures in the form of a wire-recorder.

The Edward R. Murrow album, of the last thirteen years, of recordings of famous people includes such men as F.D.R., Hitler, Wendell Wilkie, Mussolini, Winston Churchill, and even Joseph Stalin.

Another class hour featured a 30 minute recording of "You Are There", a CBS production. The recording was the "Impeachment of President Johnson."

A series of lectures are now being prepared by Anderson for the wire recorder. They are timed so that approximately 40 minutes are given to the lecture, and 10 minutes are left at the end of the hour for a discussion.

Anderson stated that if this method of teaching is successful he will broaden it in the future to cover most of the important points in his courses.

It is the first experiment of its kind so far to appear on the campus.

Mining Men Visit School of Mines En Route to Meet

The itinerary of many prominent mining men included the University of Nevada Mackay School of Mines in February, when they were en route to or from the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in San Francisco.

Directors of the Mackay School of Mines, Professor Jay A. Carpenter, attended the meeting, along with William I. Smyth, professor of metallurgy and mining, and Alberto Barrios, Nevada senior and president of the Crucible Club.

Honoring the California Centennial discovery of gold the AIME met in San Francisco this year instead of the usual site, New York.

Director of the United States Geological Survey, and president of the AIME William E. Wrather, stopped on his way to San Francisco to address the Nevada section as honor speaker. The meeting was presided over by Samuel S. Arentz, manager of the Combined Metals Company in Pioche, Nevada, and newly elected member of the university board of regents.

Wrather also spoke before the Crucible Club on February 11.

Three high officials of the Kennecott Copper Company returning from the San Francisco meeting, spent Friday, February 18, on the Nevada campus interviewing mining seniors and civil engineering students.

The Kennecott company awards a $750 scholarship each year to an outstanding senior in the Mackay School of Mines, and is held this year by Robert Horton.

The officials were the general superintendent of the Braden mine in Chile, Charles D. Michelson, the consulting engineer, William J. Turner, and Geologist, George Heikes.

The manager of vocational training for the National Coal Association, M. D. Cooper, examined Nevada's mining school February 21, and spoke to students on the coal industry.

James Boyd, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, addressed the senior engineering class. Speaking with him was E. D. Gardner, chief oil shale engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Ellis Gates, Mackay Mines graduate in 1938, and now assistant director of research for the Cerro de Pasco Copper Corporation of Peru, also spoke recently before the mining students.

Professor Carpenter reported that, due to the outstanding contacts made at the AIME meeting, letters and information have been pouring into his office concerning employment of graduates.

"How is it you aren't wearing your car muffs?"

"I haven't worn them since the accident."

"What accident?"

School to Students Program Training Given Aggie Agents

In an effort to take school to the people rather than bring the people to school, six home demonstration agents of the Agricultural Extension Service met on campus last week for a training period.

The five day program, including a nutrition workshop and lessons in visual teaching methods, was planned by Margaret Griffin, assistant director of the Agricultural Extension Service.

The group was greeted by Cecil Creel, dean of agriculture. Mrs. Andrew Rice, nutrition consultant, conducted the nutrition workshop which explained findings in the nutrition field.

Craig Sheppard of the art department showed the agents better methods of advertising their demonstrations through the use of slides and posters. Audio-visual teaching methods were also explained by Dr. Jensen of the education department.

Arthur Peck, photographer, demonstrated the use of photographs and films in visual education and taught the agents how to make slides for projection.

He presenting six counties, these agents will take these methods all over the state to people in rural communities.

that are eligible for graduation and who attain a grade point average of 3.2 or better. The general rules for nomination and election will apply to the number in the graduating class in each college. If and when a college does not have enough eligible students to fill its membership quota, additional members may be elected from other colleges to fill the university quota. c. No student having records for less than three semester's work at the University of Nevada shall be eligible. d. The nominees shall be presented by the undergraduate committee in the order of descending grade point averages.

Four of the five committee members favored the above amendment, but one member was not in favor of election by colleges because it was possible that a college, e.g. Engineering or Agriculture might have an outstanding senior class and not be entitled to elect all of the students without exceeding their quota.

To serve as a minority report, the committee suggests an alternate amendment in the form of Proposal II as follows: a. eligible nominees shall be selected from the university as a whole, nominating only those students that are eligible for graduation and have attained a grade point average of 3.2 or better; b. same as Proposal I; c. same as Proposal I.

The 3.2 average was based on the fact that 3.4 was the lowest the honor roll had gone for eight years and 3.26 is the lowest that the chapter has gone in electing members for several years. Some committee members thought that this might be too high, but all were in favor of a minimum.

Landlady: How do you like the room as a whole?
Student: As a hole it's fine, as a room not so good.

UN Rifle Club Meets Reno Teams On Nevada Range

The University Rifle Club will meet the Reno Rifle Club and the Sparks Eagle Rifle Club in a shoulder to shoulder match here Friday, March 11, at the university rifle range. Reno will enter an A and B team, Sparks will have only a B team, and the university will have both A and B outfits.

Trophies will be awarded to each winning team in its division and a medal will go to the individual with the highest score and also to each man with the best score in the two divisions.

The firing will begin at 7 pm, and all students are invited to attend.

Two weeks from this meet, March 26, the University Rifle Club plays host to the USF team in another shoulder to shoulder match. The time of this meet will be announced at a later date.

University Art Club New AFA Member

The Fine Arts Club of the University of Nevada recently became a member of the American Federation of Arts. This membership entitles the club to reduced costs for traveling exhibits and also offers students purchase discounts for art magazines and books.

Two new exhibitions have been scheduled from the AFA and tentative dates have been set for their showing.

The etchings of Gene Kloss of towns in New Mexico will be shown from March 9 through 20 in the art building. Kloss is a graphic artist known for his technical work the world over. Sale of these etchings at a student discount will be sponsored by the art club.

Progress Made In Audio-Visual Education Here

To extend the use of audio-visual aids at the University of Nevada, additional equipment is being put at the disposal of all departments, Dr. Paul H. Jensen, assistant professor of education, announced today.

Most of the equipment is the property of Dr. Jensen, who is making it available to other departments. The offered equipment includes a 16mm. sound projector, a 35 mm. filmstrip projector, and a wire recorder.

The university has ordered a new opaque 8x8x11 project for use in the education department and has also allotted $100 for the purchase of documentary film and other equipment.

During the war progress was made in education through film strips and other aids by both the army and navy. The audio-visual course became a regular part of the education department of the University of Nevada in 1947. During the first semester only two students took the course, while at present there are 41 students enrolled.

An evening course is now being offered to teachers of the Reno area. The purpose of the course is to train teachers in the use of audio-visual methods in

Reports Show UN Buildings Damaged by Snow-

Coming out of the worst winter in campus history, University of Nevada buildings and grounds show various damages, Carl Horn, superintendent of campus grounds, stated today. Not all the damage has been detected as yet, he added.

Pipes leading to the new gym are still frozen despite all efforts made to thaw them. An electrical thawing unit is now pouring 500 amperes into the frozen lines. The current, as it passes through the metal pipe, meets with enough resistance to create heat which in turn melts the ice. Results are expected soon.

Other damages besides broken and frozen water lines include deterioration of asphalt paving, frost damage to relatively new concrete paving and water-ice damage to brickwork paving. No estimate has yet been made as to the extend of the damage.

Horn pointed out that although pipes and other fixtures would ordinarily have been out of frost danger they are now undergoing the phenomena of receding frost. As the top of the ground gets warmer, the frost below retreats from the heat and as a result it penetrates deeper into the earth, freezing the water lines as it goes.
