REGISTRATION HITS NEW HIGH

Spring semester enrollment reached the highest figure in the history of the university with the 1949 spring enrollment totaling 1707.

There is only a difference of four between last year's total registration, 1974, and this college year's total registration, 1970. Yet last year had the highest fall registration for all time, while this year has the highest spring registration ever reported.

Fall enrollment in 1947 was 1820, the highest registration the university has ever had. Spring semester enrollment of 1949 was 1707, the highest spring semester enrollment ever recorded.

Further figures from the registrar's office show that 154 new students enrolled in the spring of 1948, while 196 new students enrolled this spring.

UN Budget Topic Of Open Forum During Assembly

An open forum on the fate in the legislature of the University of Nevada budget concluded the first student assembly of the semester. To provide time for the meeting without canceling any classes, a system of shortened periods was adopted.

ASUN President Rex Jemison presided at the forum. Pointing out that the budget asked for by the regents represented a minimum sum for maintenance during the next two years, President Jemison stated the issue as one of survival of the university.

During group discussion two students, R. L. "Pat" Patrick and Barney Childs, presented divergent views on the budget situation.

Patrick declared that any salary increases should be granted to lower-ranking faculty members, where he felt the need most urgent.

Childs pointed out that the proposed flat $400 pay raise will bring the pay scale to the national average, with the exception of full professors, who will still be some $700 short.

Jemison repeatedly stated that "there must be no compromise. The issue is whether or not we shall have a state university." Students were urged to write their representatives.

The university band, under the direction of Professor Robert Tate, played at the beginning and end of the assembly.

Miss Julie Hayden, who will appear in "The Glass Menagerie," was presented with a statue of John Mackay. Pat O'Brien presented the statue as a token of appreciation for the donation being made by the cast of the play to the University scholarship fund.

Trachok Named Reno Huskies Track Mentor

Taking over the duties of Reno high school track coach will be Dick Trachok, prominent University of Nevada athlete. Making the announcement of Trachok's appointment was Earl Wooster, superintendent of Reno schools, who said that the university track and football star will take over his coaching assignment immediately.

The coaching staff at Reno high school was shattered with the death of Herb Foster, long time instructor and athletic advisor at the school.

Trachok is a senior at the university, and has had some coaching experience at the Bishop Manogue Catholic high school during the past basketball season.

He has been an outstanding athlete on both football and track teams during the last three years of his university career. He was unbeaten in the 440, and played regular right halfback on Coach Joe Sheeketski's varsity squad.

He was on the scholarship honor roll last semester, and is president of Block N Society.

Initiation of new members will be held in the Agriculture building Tuesday, March 22, at 7:30 pm.

The initiation will be followed by the traditionally required address by the chapter president, Dr. Hutcheson, who said, "I assure you that the latter part of the ordeal will be mercifully shorter, louder, and less dry than my usual wont, though duly dignifying the occasion by a report of scholarly conclusions."

Students, faculty and the public are invited to attend the initiation as well as the morning lecture.

The national Phi Kappa Phi keys which are awarded to those who have been elected to the organization are sent through the mails and usually arrive in time for commencement. These keys contain the member's name, the date awarded, and the college attended engraved on the back.

The executive committee members of the local chapter are as follows: Dr. E. M. Beesley, president; Dr. E. M. Beesley, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Harris, treasurer; Professor Mildred Swift, historian; and Mr. Howard Mason, marshal.

WSSF Committee Sponsors Auction

By FRANK JOHNSON
Some University of Nevada students, who were overly shy, or who had too tight a grip on their pocketbooks, missed one of the best campus talent shows yet to be produced—the WSSF auction.
The show was good, and the price of admission, 25 cents, was more than reasonable. Yet, oddly enough, only 30 or 40 students found time to attend.
Entertainment included Joyce Fiscus' Irishers, a fine six-piece orchestra, several talented campus singers and dancers, and an excellent MC in the person of Sammy Dibitonto.
In addition, however, many valuable articles donated by famous people were auctioned for far less than their retail, or wholesale value. The actual auctioning was done by popular faculty members.

Items auctioned ranged all the way from the hat Loretta Young wore in the picture, "Mother Was a Freshman," to an autographed copy of Dale Carnegie's book, "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living."
Floyd Gori found himself in possession of a football autographed by the great Doak Walker and two tickets to the "Glass Menagerie," a Broadway hit soon to appear in Reno, for only $10. He also received them from the star of the play, Julie Hayden. This was the largest amount given for any one item sold during the auction, but was run a close second by a book autographed by Herbert Hoover and bought by Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, for $7.

Campus Queries

"Why do you think students do not attend their student body assemblies?" was the question put before ten Nevadans on campus this week. The varying opinions gathered are listed below.
Richard Gorman, Lambda Chi Alpha, junior: "I think they don't attend assemblies because they don't have to. They should be made compulsory."
Noanie Fregger, Delta-Delta, Delta, sophomore: "The acoustics in the gym are so bad that you can't hear what the speakers are saying. Why go?"
Ted Ensslin, A.T.O., senior: "I think the students would go if there was some obligation attached to the program concerning them. Students don't feel a part of it."
Marjory Kean, junior: "The students would rather use the opportunity to do other things."
Donald Dawson, junior: "The assemblies are not at all interesting. I would rather play bridge during that time."

Tom Gaffey, S.A.E., sophomore: "If they had an interesting program students might attend. The material they had last Monday could have been good but it wasn't presented right."
Anita Davidson, sophomore: "I think the new plan of shortened classes is too confusing. They should omit a class out of the morning schedule. I think an omitted class would be an incentive for students to attend."
Reginald Glahn, junior: "Nobody there that impresses me so why should I go?"
Marilyn Humphreys, Theta sophomore: "I don't think they've been planned well enough."
Chuck Charlton, junior, A.T.O.: "Nothing ever seems to be accomplished by the assemblies because the students have lost nearly all control of activities on the campus."
Society would be delighted were all women married and all men single.

VETERANS' QUESTION BOX

Q. Last year I got a GI loan on which Veterans Administration made a 4 per cent payment. I would like to know if I have to report the payment made by VA as income in my income tax report.
A. No. While this VA payment is not taxable as income of the veteran, the amount of interest thereby paid may be listed by him as a deduction for tax purposes.
Q. What is the deadline for starting a course of institutional on-farm training under the vocational rehabilitation act (public law 16)?
A. You may apply for institutional on-farm training under public law 16 at any time, after your discharge or separation from the armed services, but in time to complete your training by July 25, 1956.
Q. What benefits are available to veterans of World War

II living in U. S. territories?
A. Ordinarily, all VA benefits available to World War II veterans, their dependents and beneficiaries in the continental United States are also available to them in the U. S. possessions and territories.
Q. Can you tell me how Veterans Administration operates in foreign countries?
A. The VA administers benefits available to veterans, their dependents and beneficiaries in foreign areas through the United States Foreign Service.
Q. Is my aunt, the daughter of a Civil War veteran, eligible for pension? She and her mother were dependent on the veteran at the time of his death. The widow received a pension until her death, leaving her daughter, aged 75.

A. Unless your aunt was permanently helpless by reason of physical or mental disability prior to having reached the age of 16, she could not now qualify for pension based on her father's service.
Q. Is there any time limit to the duration of a business loan?
A. Yes. A non-real estate business loan must be repaid in 10 years or less; real estate loans may run up to 25 years.

HE HAS BUILT A BRAND NEW CITY

The "telephone man" is mighty busy these days!

Since the war, among many other things, he has built or enlarged 2,800 buildings... scores of them large enough to fit into the skyline of a modern metropolis.

These buildings are more than brick, mortar and telephone equipment. They are jobs for thousands of men and women... more and better telephone service for millions of people... more business for the towns and cities in which they are located.

But most important of all, they are an indication of the Bell System's earnest efforts to keep up with the nation's ever growing needs for communications service.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS TO PRESENT COMEDY ENTITLED 'PSYCHOSCOPE'

Daggett and Goodman's Famed Play Reproduced for Mackay Celebration

By Bob Hunt

A mirthquake will hit the campus during Mackay Day week, May 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, when the university thespians present their play, "The Psychoscope" written by Daggett and Goodman, who were early day editors of the Virginia City Territorial Enterprise.

The play was written in 1871 and the copy which the university has is believed to be the only remaining one in existence.

It was originally produced in the old Piper Opera House on D. Street between Union and Taylor streets in Virginia City, by the California theatre company from San Francisco, headed by John McCullough, great actor and successor of Edwin Forrest, another stage great.

The play will be presented in the manner of the 1870's, with the costumes, mannerisms, and the type of acting used in that period.

An accompaniment will be given by the university band and instrumentalists, under the direction of Professor Robert Z. Tate.

The art department, under the direction of J. Craig Shepard, will paint the scenery.

Dr. William Miller, of the English department, revealed that Governor Vail Pittman will attend during performance of the play. That day, unknown as yet, will be named Governor's Day.

The Governor will be met at the Mapes hotel by a vintage coach, pulled by men dressed as firemen of the 1870's. He will be taken to the university gates, followed by the university band, the university ROTC corps and a torchlight parade.

At the university gates, the governor's procession will be met by President John O. Moseley and the chairman of the board of regents, Silas Ross, who will enter the coach and proceed to the Education building to see the play.

Numerous events are planned to take place between the acts. One is a can-can routine under the direction of Ruth Ryan. Another is a slight-of-hand artist.

There will be a drawing on the stage each night, and a coke bar will be set up in the hallway of the Education building. The bartenders will be girls wearing Hurdy-Gurdy costumes, and the aisles will be filled with peanut and popcorn vendors, maintaining the style of the 1870's.

The student senate has waived the student body's right to obtain admittance with student body cards, because the play is a benefit to raise money for the Associated students.

The prices are: center section reserved; $1.20; seats to right and left of center section; 70 cents.

Dr. Miller stated that, with a vigorous ticket campaign,

PLAY PROCEEDS GIVEN TO HILL ATHLETIC FUND

Proceeds from University of Nevada night at the production of "The Glass Menagerie" are expected to be $1110, said Gene Young of Reno, chairman of the ticket committee. The play will run March 23, 24, and 25, and the first presentation is University of Nevada night.

Pat O'Brien, chairman of student ticket sales, said the campus sales are "coming nicely," and fraternities and sororities are buying as many as 50 in a block seating arrangement. A special late night will be provided by the dean of women for women students and the dormitories and sororities will be notified accordingly, said O'Brien.

Backed by the University of Nevada Boosters, the university's athletic scholarship fund the play should clear between $500 and $750 for the Associated students.

will receive all the proceeds from the first performance of the play, according to George Southworth, Jr., chairman of the Downtown Boosters committee. About 40 scholarships will be provided in football, basketball, and track, said Mr. Southworth.

Julie Haydon, a member of the original New York cast of the play, will play the lead. Supporting Miss Haydon will be Joyce Nielsen, Nevada graduate, and Larry Geraghty, KWRN announcer, both of whom have acted in other stage productions.

Charles A. DunLeavy, producer of the play, was enrolled here last semester as a graduate student. A Reno resident, Mr. DunLeavy has acted in plays in New York and Detroit. He has also written and produced stage productions. He is currently working on an outdoor panorama of the Virginia City Comstock Lode history.

"The Glass Menagerie" was chosen by the New York Drama Critics Circle as the season's best American play. Tennessee Williams is author of the play and his recent work is "A Street Car Named Desire."

The play will start at 8:30 pm in the Reno Civic Auditorium.

Tickets are $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. The wings have been cut off so "no one gets a bad seat," said Mr. Young.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Bill McFarland

A sports minded individual at San Jose State College sent along a letter this week with a column by Arnie Wechter, Spartan sports editor which read to the effect of forming a new football conference composed of the outstanding independent teams of the west coast.

Formation of a new conference isn't new stuff to Nevada fans. Ty Cobb, Nevada State Journal sports editor originated the idea more than a year ago. He got Bill Leiser, sports editor of the SF Chronicle hot for the idea and things were booming.

Students For It

The idea made the rounds and met with student approval at all institutions involved. Members of the proposed conference were named as Nevada, Santa Clara, COP, USF, St. Mary's and San Jose. In order to make it an eight team affair Utah and Loyola were also getting a big share of mentioning.

Then suddenly nothing more was heard and the proposed new league was back in the cocoon. News from the San Jose campus indicates that Vigero has been added and the idea is once again in full bloom.

Ideal Opportunity

An ideal opportunity to further promote the deal will present itself next week with the appearance of Len Casanova, Santa Clara, Joe Verducci, St. Mary's, and Joe Kuharich, USF, as featured speakers at the annual Nevada Booster's banquet.

These coaches, along with bay area scribes can get a lot done in regards to the conference proposal. Jack McDonald, Call-Bulletin sports ed., will be in town and further publicize the cause.

The league would offer strength to the schools mentioned and no longer would western teams, not in the Pacific Coast conference, have to buck the PCC. It would be more of a financial boom for each concerned, and scheduling difficulties, particularly at Nevada and some of the other small schools, would be at an end.

Major accident rate for the naval air reserve during 1948 was only 5.35 per 10,000 aircraft hours.

Varsity Debators Trek to Redlands For Phi Kappa Meet

Eight members of the University of Nevada debate squad will journey to Redlands, California, next Wednesday to compete in the Providence Phi Kappa Delta debate tournament.

The tournament is an annual affair, held last year at College of Pacific at Stockton, California.

Members of the squad making the trip will be Russell Maynard, Rudy Gerken, Wayne Lewis, Ray Free, Rex Jemison, Ralph Brown, Fay Fryberger and Mary Haslam.

Representing Nevada in upper division debate will be Russell Maynard and Rudy Gerken, while Wayne Lewis and Ray Free will compete in lower division. In one man debate, Rex Jemison will enter upper division while Ralph Brown will be the lower division entry.

Fay Fryberger and Mary Haslam are entered in women's debate.

In conjunction with the regular tournament, eliminations for the West Point finals will be held. Nevada has no team entered in the division because of lack of finances to make the West Point trip if the team should win.

The tournament, beginning Thursday, will be a four day affair, terminating Sunday.

During 1948 navy and marine corps air reservists flew a record 840,000 pilot hours.

Spring Football Gets Under Way Monday Afternoon

First call to spring football practice was issued by coach Joe Sheeketski this week. Monday afternoon some 45-50 players will report for their first drills.

Equipment was issued to players this week and a break from the weather man is all that is needed to get things going.

The roster will include most of the players who were with the squad last fall. Biggest job facing Sheeketski is filling the gaps left by graduation or professional offers, of last year's entire first string backfield, and a few spots in the line.

"Our purpose for spring practice is to drill the men in fundamentals and the system of football that is used here," Sheeketski said. "Drills will continue until sometime in May."

Several intersquad games will be played, he added, in order that new men will acquire experience in the use of the Nevada system, and old hands will stay familiar with it. Those games will in all probability be staged during the latter weeks of the training period.

Freshmen candidates expected to move into the varsity limelight are Gordon Surber, Wally Graf, James Michienzi, Ed Jesse, Lawrence "Punjab" Hairston, Myron Leavitt, John Gonda and several other boys new at Nevada.

Vegas Cats Grab State Hoop Title; Eureka 'B' Champ

In one of the most thrilling high school state tournaments in Nevada history, Las Vegas high school defeated Carson City 51-43 in the finals last Saturday night before an overflow crowd at the university gym.

The "B" division winner was Eureka high school, coached by former University of Nevada great Grant Davis in his first year as a coach. Davis' Vandals defeated Alamo by a score of 44-32, behind the 23 point scorefest of center Regie DePaoli.

The Wildcats from Las Vegas, coached by Pat Diskin, won the right to play the Senators from Carson in the finals by winning from Douglas County in the opener, then from the Buckroos of Winnemucca. Victims of the strong Carson attack were Boulder City and White Pine high schools.

In their first month of operation in the Berlin airlift, the two navy squadrons flew 5249 hours, carrying 14,101 tons of cargo.

Delectable Daisies Display Determined Drive

The girls in their daisy adorned jeans and the boys in their violet adorned shorts will meet in bitter scrimmage to determine the championship team of the year. The SAE's have challenged the Gamma Phi's to a basketball game to be held Sunday, March 27, in the university gymnasium.

Jackie Wilson, captain of the Daisies, refused to give out any information on their practice routines.

However, in answer to the numerous questions of why the Gamma Phi's have suddenly taken to running around the block twice a day, Captain Wilson replied, "The Daisies are in strict training."

A dark cloud of secrecy also hangs over any information on the practice routines of the SAE Violets. The only thing known about this team is that the boys are having quite a time learning girl's basketball.

Mural Baseball Play Next Phase In Kinnear Race

The battle for the Kinnear trophy will enter a new phase Monday as seven fraternities and three independent teams open the 1949 spring baseball season on the campus.

The ten teams will play one complete round robin. There will be 45 games. The season will end on May 26.

All the games will be played on Clark field. The teams will play on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of each week.

Teams competing in the league will be Alpha Tau Omega, last year's champions in baseball; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Chi, Lambda Chi, Pi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Rho Delta, Sigma Nu, Independents, unorganized Independents, and the Highlanders.
