

U. OF N. ENDOWED WITH 22 MILLION DOLLARS

An Editorial . . .

THIS IS NO FOOLING!

This week Mr. Gorman made a statement to the effect that the University of Nevada fared well during this past session of legislature. Such a statement, coming from one who is undoubtedly an authority on the administration of this institution, seems almost asinine. What is going to happen next fall when the university begins to feel the effects of the legislature? Perhaps then, Mr. Gorman will be of a different opinion.

It's true that the administration received the greatest part of its operating budget. Of course, the proposed faculty salary increase was slashed to less than half. Even if the standards of the school do degenerate, at least the landscaping will be preserved.

In the face of certain disparaging remarks that were made this week concerning the validity of Brush surveys, another has been completed. Forty profs and instructors were confronted with the simple question, "Are you planning to return to your teaching post next fall?" Sixteen answered, "Yes." Fourteen answered "Undecided." AND, ten answered "No."

It seems that intelligent planning with the available $125,000 for faculty salary increases is in order.

FACULTY WAGES DOUBLED; A. S. U. N. BUILDING PLANNED WITH BAR, SWIMMING POOL

FLASH

It was released just as the Brush was going to press that the unknown benefactor of the university is not a man but a woman. Her name is Miss April Fool.

Enstein, Oppenheimer and Smith Seek Nevada Applications

President John O. Moseley of the University of Nevada announced today that a prominent Nevadan had endowed the university with $22,000,000 in order to guarantee that high scholastic standards for Nevada will be maintained regardless of legislative budget cuts.

The university's benefactor, Dr. Moseley said, prefers to remain anonymous, but is a man who feels that Nevada is the last remaining American outpost for freedom of individual thought and action.

"He is a man who earned his wealth through his own diligence and wishes to help the university foster citizens who will be capable of maintaining American standards of free enterprise," Dr. Moseley said.

Because the endowment was completely unexpected, no plans have been announced for the use of the money, but members of the faculty, the ASUN and the university staff, were composing suggestions for submission to President Moseley and the board of regents.

Faculty Salaries

The local chapter of the American Association of University Professors suggested that a part of the endowment be used to double the salaries of the faculty. The AAUP's resolution is documented with facts about the prevailing wages of service station attendants, faro dealers, and bell boys, and asserts that faculty members' salaries should be comparable.

Due to the financial compensation that the University of Nevada is now in a position to offer, many prominent scholars are applying for teaching and research positions with this institution. Among those clamoring for acceptance are Dr. Albert Einstein, Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, and Dr. T. V. Smith. According to the board of regents, serious consideration will be given to these applications before any of them are rejected.

Appreciation

In line with a proposed new building program, Mr. Darryl F. Zanuck, head of Twentieth Century Fox Film Company, has notified Student Body President Rex Jemison that his company is donating $750,000 toward construction of a new student union building complete with rumpus rooms, two bars, fluorescent lighting throughout, and an escalator that Jemison said would make Harolds Club's motor stairs look like a ladder. Other features of the new building would be dormitories for independent students, a swimming pool, and a Coca-Cola waterfall.

Mr. Zanuck explained that this gift is in appreciation of the use of the University of Nevada campus and the close cooperation of the students in the filming of pictures here during the last three years.

Beer

In the wake of these surprising occurrences, it was announced from higher echelons that in the future the university will adopt a more liberal policy inasmuch as professors and instructors will be sole masters of their classrooms.

Jean Howden, secretary of the student YWCA has announced that in the future those wishing the service may purchase beer

Parking Fines Raised; Penalties Suggested For Reckless Driving

Parking tickets will have teeth after April 1. After that date parking rule violators will be fined $1 for a first offense, $3 for a second, and $5 for a third. Cars which are tagged more than three times will be barred from campus, and drivers may be suspended from the university if their cars are found parked on the university grounds.

In a letter to the university board of regents, Rex Jemison, ASUN president, recommended that reckless driving fines should

Bethlehem Steel Interviews EE's For Loop Course

Pacific coast representative of the Bethlehem Steel Company, Mr. E. C. English, will be in the Electrical Engineering building all day today to conduct personal interviews with members of this year's graduating class who are interested in Bethlehem's "loop course."

The "loop course" will be inaugurated early this summer, and is open only to members of college and university classes of this year who desire permanent employment with the Bethlehem Steel Company. The course is designed to provide the college graduate employee with a comprehensive, yet detailed picture of activities of the Bethlehem company.

The greatest demand for talent is with the operating divisions of the steel plants, ship-building yards, mines and quarries. However, graduates from technical courses are also desired in sales work. Men selected for accounting, purchasing, industrial relations, advertising and various other departments are chosen after careful consideration of the training, experience, aptitude and interest of the individual candidate.

be made a part of university traffic regulations. The letter suggests a fine of five dollars for a first offense and suspension upon conviction for a second. Further rules were left to the discretion of Mr. Gorman and the traffic officer.

Mr. Gorman said that the traffic situation was measurably improved during the first week of warnings, but that recent warnings have had no effect whatever. He expressed confidence in the student driver's willingness to cooperate with the traffic program, but said that most drivers were not aware of the seriousness of the problem.

"Students at the University of Nevada are capable of handling campus problems," Mr. Gorman said, "they have proven it before and I feel sure they will do it again."

Fulbright Grants Open for Teachers

Overseas professorships, research grants, and teaching opportunities are now available under the Fulbright act; Professor William C. Miller, chairman for Fulbright teaching grants, said this week.

Professor Miller distributed a notice listing the Philippines, Greece, Burma, New Zealand, Belgium, Luxembourg, the United Kingdom, and Italy, as areas having openings under the act.

Professorships and research grants range from professors of physics to research in literature, philology, and archeology.

Grading seniors, members of the faculty, and graduate students can obtain more information about the scholarships and grants from Professor Miller, in the department of English.

THETA CHI AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP CUP

Theta Chi fraternity has been awarded the Dean's scholarship cup for the highest average of all the fully established fraternities on the campus during the fall semester of this year, it was announced this week by the dean of men. With 29 members and 22 pledges listed for the fall semester, Theta Chi has boosted its scholarship from last place in the spring of 1948 to first place in the fall semester. "This is a remarkable achievement," said Dean R. S. Griffin, "and reflects the efforts that have been exerted by the fraternity during the past year to maintain a sound and vigorous program of improved scholarship."

The average Theta Chi was exceeded only by the Sigma Pi colony, which has been recently established at Nevada and which is working to achieve the formal granting of a chapter charter from Sigma Pi national fraternity. Sigma Pi was held ineligible for the scholarship cup award because of its current indefinite status, plus the fact that it numbers only 12 members and pledges combined. If their current scholarship average is any indication, according to the dean of men, Sigma Pi promises to give the established fraternities a real run for their money when they are finally fully established and accredited.

The following is the list of fraternities with their total number of members and pledges for the fall semester and their grade point averages. These averages were obtained by using the total number of grade points earned by the fraternity as a whole during the semester.

Sigma Pi Colony (12)	2.4033
Theta Chi (51)	2.250
Alpha Tau Omega (115)	2.2324
Lambda Chi Alpha (88)	2.2154
Sigma Rho Delta (46)	2.1883
Sigma Alpha Epsilon (70)	2.1534
Phi Sigma Kappa (55)	2.0055
Sigma Nu (101)	1.9228

According to the registrar's office, the all-men's average was 2.174, while the all-school average was 2.214.

"Committee Did More Harm Than Good"--Says Gorman

When asked what he thought about the legislature's actions Charles H. Gorman, comptroller, replied that it was about what he expected and he was quite satisfied. The university received most of what it requested, he said.

"The students from the improvement committee who visited the legislature were not well enough prepared," he said. "Perhaps, they did more harm than good."

During its session the 1949 legislature passed a number of bills directly affecting the university. Except for a cut of about

CAPACITY CROWD GATHERS TO HEAR DR. LOUGH TALK

A near-capacity crowd of 135 filled room 215 Mackay Science Hall Monday night to learn the present and possible future uses of radio-active elements in the fields of medicine, biology and industry.

Dr. S. A. Lough, chief of the Radio Isotopes branch of the Atomic Energy Laboratory at Oak Ridge, was sponsored as a guest lecturer here by the Chemical Club.

Slides and an experiment using radio-active phosphorus and a Geiger counter illustrated the uses of various radio-active elements.

Dr. Lough, formerly a chemistry professor at the university, carries a radio-active dime in his pocket and when people look amazed he laughs and explains that it is only very slightly radio-active.

$800 it approved the budget request and provided for nearly half of the salary increases requested.

Faculty and staff salary increases amounting to $125,000 were appropriated, as compared to about $265,000 requested by the board of regents.

Due to a bill by the legislature, resident students may now be charged as much as $50 a semester tuition if the board of regents desires.

Not including the $125,000 for salary increases, the legislature provided for $1,837,016.50 for the university budget.

In 1947 the legislature provided for $317,000 of the postwar reserve fund to be used by the university for a new heating plant. The 1949 legislature returned this $317,000 back to the reserve fund and construction of the new heating plant will be postponed until 1951. Members of both houses agreed that there was no use spending any money on a heating plant until the board of regents and the state planning board settle an

Horse Trough

Something new is in store for those beardless males who customarily look forward to icy Manzanita Lake dunkings.

The Mackay Day committee announced that punishment this year for those males who have strayed from the traditional Mackay Day outgrowth will result in a dunking in a horse trough.

Within a few days construction will begin on the remainder of hitchin' post days. A trough will be built in front of Morrill Hall.

The idea of a horse trough for the punishment was suggested because previous lake dunking has proved too hazardous, it was explained.

STUDENTS GIVEN SPECIAL PRICE TO MATINEE AT LITTLE THEATER

"The Little Foxes," a three-act play by Lillian Hellman, will play to a special student matinee at 2:30 pm Sunday, April 3, at the Reno Little Theater.

Little Theater costume production of the year, "The Little Foxes" is set at the turn of the century, and features Dr. William C. Miller of the University of Nevada, and Mrs. Evelyn Brussard in the leading roles, with university students Jane Baty, Pat O'Brien, and Alva Tabor in supporting roles. Director of the play is Edwin Semenza, university speech instructor.

Admission to this special matinee will be 50 cents. The regular performances will begin Monday, and will run through the following Sunday.

APRIL FOOL

The first of April some do say,
Is set apart for all fools day;
But why the people call it so
Nor I, nor they themselves do know.
—Poor Robin's Almanac (1760)

April Fools' day alludes to the custom of playing practical jokes on friends or of sending them on fools' errands. Whence this custom came is purely a matter of speculation.

In France the calendar year used to begin on April 1, and when this was changed to January 1, a custom was said to have originated of sending all those who had forgotten this on fruitless errands. The April fool was referred to as poisson D'Avril, i.e., fish of April.

Although the Jewish encyclopedia gives no reference to it, some sources attribute the April fool tradition to that people. It was said to be April 1, or what corresponds to it in the Jewish calendar, that Noah sent a dove from the ark to search for dry land. The effort was fruitless, and among the Jews, those who forgot that date were made the butt of jokes by sending them on fruitless errands.

Retired Dept. Head Honored by AED

Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary premedical fraternity, will honor Dr. Peter Fransden, former head of the department of biology at the University of Nevada, at their annual banquet April 22 at the Bonanza Club.

Reno doctors who graduated from the University of Nevada while Dr. Fransden was on the university staff are being invited to attend the banquet as a guest of the organization.

The honorary group hopes that Dr. Fransden will be the guest speaker for the occasion.

The doctor lives in Palo Alto, California, where he has been in retirement since 1938, when he was succeeded by Dr. E. W. Lowrance, assistant professor of biology.

U of N Graduates In Engineering Hold GE Posts

Former Engineering Student Reports Achievements Of Nevada Alums

Nevada's engineering graduates are achieving much success in their employment with the General Electric Company, according to information released by Stanley G. Palmer, dean of the college of engineering, this week.

The information was contained in a letter from Leslie Clover, electrical engineering graduate, class of 1928. Clover is assistant superintendent of General Electric's Lynn, Massachusetts, branch which employs approximately 22,000 men.

He said that Scott Hill, graduate of the school of electrical engineering of 1923, has been appointed as manager of engineering at the Locke Insulator Company, which is a wholly owned subsidiary of the General Electric Company. His father, Albert E. Hill, was a member of the English department for 37 years and was head of the department at the time of his retiring in 1944.

Alden K. McCollum, who received his B.S. degree in electrical engineering from the University of Nevada in 1929, has been appointed as manager of the General Electric Company's laminated plastics plant at Coshoton, Ohio.

McCollum goes to Coshoton after six years as head of the General Electric's Kokomo, Indiana, motor plant, which was established in 1942 to produce electrical equipment for navy

AWS NAMES SPEAKERS FOR BEAN FEED

The first all-association meeting of the university women students this year will be held at a bean feed Thursday. This informal get-together will be the first social event in three years given exclusively for all women students.

Tickets went on sale this week and can be obtained at the university dining hall, all sorority houses and the dean of women's office. Tickets are $1 but women eating at the dining hall or a sorority house will pay only 25 cents. The remainder of their ticket will be paid by the dining hall or house since they will not eat their regular evening meal there.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Ruth Lusch, publicity director of the Reno Chamber of Commerce. Others addressing the group will be Elaine Mobley, dean of women, and the six candidates for AWS president. Special entertainment features have also been planned.

NOTICE

Election for president of Associated Women Students of the University of Nevada will be held next Friday, April 8. All women students are eligible to vote and ballots are to be cast all day Friday in the YWCA office in the basement of Stewart Hall.

The woman student elected to this position also serves as vice-president of the university student body. Those nominated include Moray Black, Sue Broadbent, Norma Carruth, Jean Nash, Mary Lou Sewell, and Kay Sterling.

University Singers To Present Concert Of Choral Music

The University Singers will present a concert of all American choral music April 26 at 8:15 pm in the Education building auditorium. No admission will be charged.

Under the direction of Professor Theodore H. Post, the program will include numbers by Odile Frost, soprano; Mary Hanley, soprano; Lois Post, violinist; Dan Olguin, tenor; and the members of the university choir.

Selections will range from the serious "Holy Lord," by Dett, to the humorous "The Younger Generation," by Copeland. The program will end with popular selections from Jerome Kern's "Roberta."

Charmaine Hubbard Heads Fine Arts

Charmaine Hubbard, junior student from Virginia City, was elected president of the Fine Arts Club Monday night at a meeting held at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

Other officers elected were Elinore McCray, vice-president; Carol Pickens, secretary; Edith Moore, treasurer; Joyce Cliff, social chairman; Patti Jones, program director; and Jeanne Rule, publicity chairman.

Gamma Phi's Give 'Slumber' Party

Junior members of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority were hostesses at an all-chapter slumber party held at the house Saturday night.

Entertainment included a parody on an Andrew Sisters' song by Patti Jones, Shirley Bell and Jean Hagenbuch. A skit entitled "Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf" was given by Lea Glaser and Mary Lou Sewell. A dance was also performed by two unidentified members were disguised as a camel.

Outings Planned By Greek Houses

The spring social calendar is scheduled to fulfill some of its expectations this weekend as various fraternities and sororities plan outings and dances.

The annual Bowery dance given each year by the ATO's will take place at the Odd Fellows hall in Verdi tomorrow night. Costumes of the gay nineties will be the accepted mode of apparel. Ed Hollingsworth is chairman. Music will be provided by Art Harris. Chaperones have not yet been announced.

An informal hamburger bust is planned by Sigma Alpha Epsilon as its first spring outing and is slated for Galena Creek tomorrow night.

Gamma Phi Beta announced a coke hour for this afternoon from three to five. Everyone is invited.

Kappa Alpha Theta, topping off the weekend's entertainment, will play basketball against the SAE's on Sunday afternoon in the new gym.

Tri-Delts to Hold District Convention At Nevada Chapter

The Nevada chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority will be to the regional Tri-Delt district convention this year.

The convention, which is to be held April 9 and 10, will include Tri-Delt coeds from USC, California, UCLA and Arizona.

Mrs. Vernan Gustafson, district president, will be present at the meeting and a full program is set for the visiting students.

Saturday morning will open with registration followed by the opening session. A lunch has been planned after which another meeting will be held in the afternoon. A banquet is on the agenda for Saturday night and a tour of Reno will be worked in during the afternoon and evening.

Sunday morning there will be a breakfast for the visitors after which the convention will break up.

THETA CHI SOCIAL

Members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority were guests Wednesday night at the Theta Chi house for a social. Dancing was held and refreshments were served.

Trachok Is Named Reno High Track, Football Mentor

Dick Trachok, star football and track man at the University of Nevada for three seasons, was taken off a temporary coaching basis at Reno high school this week and named as permanent head-football and track coach of the Huskies.

In his position as head gridiron and track mentor, Trachok will receive $2820 per year for his duties.

The Jerome, Pennsylvania, athlete graduates from Nevada this spring. Trachok's first coaching assignment was at Bishop Manogue this winter as basketball head man. Reno hired him on a temporary basis as track coach for this spring and school board officials promoted him to the top job this week.

Bud Beasley will continue as Reno cage coach and will also handle baseball activities.

Campus Tumblers At YMCA, Stewart

University of Nevada tumbling team has bought trampoline and has announced two exhibitions for the near future.

According to G. A. Broten, coach of the tumbling team, the first team will perform for the YMCA on April 8, and for the Stewart Indians on a later date.

First team consists of eight men who take part in performances which usually include stunts on the spring board, pyramid building, hand balancing, and advanced tumbling.

Present members of the team include David Cochran, Irving Crawford, Jerry Schafer, Jack Parke, Gene Wait, Bob Wengert, Don Thompson and Bob Coughlin.

Freshmen mentioned as good prospects are James Etcheto, Earle Dempsey, Robert DeRuff. Sophomores who are improving rapidly are Glen Edsell and Mark Tett.

Rifle Club Faces Test Here Sunday

University of Nevada Rifle Club will be one of four teams participating in a shoulder to shoulder match on the campus Sunday at 11 am.

The other three teams competing will be the Reno Rifle Club, the Herlong Rifle Club, and the Susanville Rifle Club.

Tom Macauley, president of the university team, stated that trophies will be awarded to the five highest scoring men on the winning team.

Big bore (30 caliber) shooting will start at the end of the month on the 200 and 300-yard ranges.

Nevada Deadlocks With Two Teams For Team Cup

Nevada's fight squad, tired and bruised but happy, returned home from Idaho ring wars early this week sporting two intermountain champions and a pair of title runner-ups.

Martin Rodriguez, the hard socking Ripetown, Nev., product, and Bob Thronson, clever and hard-hitting stylist, are wearing crowns won in the 135 and 145 pound divisions of the intermountain tournament at Pocatello last weekend.

Jack Swobe and George Bedelich came close, but had to settle for second best in their 165 and heavyweight battles.

Nevada also got a share in team honors. Of 13 collegiate teams participating, Nevada, San Francisco State, and Idaho State deadlocked for the title.

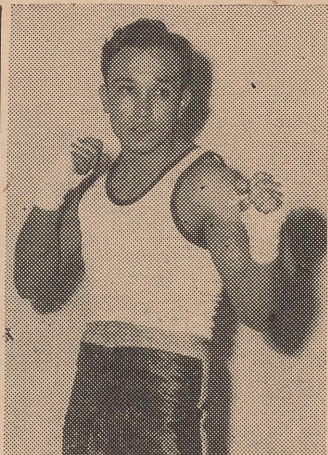

Rodriguez won his title in a bruising bout with Nelson Yee, fast moving San Francisco State entry. Yee took an early lead with his clever and swift attack. Rodriguez found the range in the second round, and unleashed a free swinging assault which rocked Yee. From there on, the Nevadan moved ahead to cop a unanimous decision.

Four stitches over one eye which resulted in semi-final action almost cost Thronson a shot at the 145 pound crown. A last minute okey was given and the Nevadan fought a smart fight to beat Ted Abbott of S. F. State. Abbott had copped a decision over Thronson at Reno in early season competition.

After being down for the automatic eight count in the first round, Jack Swobe rallied with a volley of one-two's into the face of Cris Jensen of Nebraska State, only to knock heads with his opponent. A gash on Swobe's eye stopped the bout and Jensen won on points gained from the early knock-down.

A furious third round rally by George Bedelich almost was enough to give the Nevadan a nod over Patty Walsh of Santa Clara. Walsh had a big lead in the first two rounds and as a result gained a close decision.

Thursday evening at Rupert, Idaho, Nevada lost a return engagement with Idaho Southern.

Varsity Golfers Lose at Frisco

Varsity golfers dropped their first matches of the season last weekend, losing to San Francisco State and St. Mary's in play at San Francisco.

Nevada lost to SF State 13½ to 7½. Wayne Adams and Stan Kosakowski won their matches to post Nevada points. Also competing were Charles Mayo, Charles Sansic and Earl Charleton.

St. Mary's hung a stinging defeat on the Wolves the following afternoon, winning 20½ to ½. Earl Charleton picked up the lone Nevada half-point.

Next meet slated for the locals is the northern California intercollegiate meeting at Santa Cruz. Spots on the team are still open to team prospects. A challenge system will make it possible for newcomers to secure a spot on the squad by challenging current members of the team and beating them.

Mural Track Meet On Tap Saturday

Intramural track teams go after the big stakes tomorrow in the annual cinder meet slated for 1:30 pm at Mackay Stadium. Seven teams will be gunning for the top spot.

One hundred Kinnear trophy points will be awarded to the winner, and the next four teams will receive 60, 40, 20, and 10 in that order.

Each group will be limited to three men for each event. The meet is scheduled to begin at 1:30 pm.

Teams expected to enter are Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Nu, ATO, Phi Sigma Kappa, Theta Chi, SAE and Highlanders.

Order of events:
Heats in 100 yard (if necessary).

- Mile run.
- 440 yard run.
- 100 yard dash.
- 120 yard high hurdles.
- 880 yard run.
- 220 yard dash.
- Two mile run.
- 220 yard low hurdles.
- 880 yard relay.
- 1:30 pm: Pole vault, shotput, javelin.
- 2:00 pm: High jump.
- 2:30 pm: Discus.
- 3:00 pm: Broad jump.

Nevada Gal Skier In Sun Valley Meet

Joan Metzger, University of Nevada freshman, left this week to attend a ski meet at Sun Valley, Idaho.

She will enter the women's events at the sixth annual western states American Legion junior ski championships at Sun Valley.

Also representing Nevada at the meet will be women from Elko and four Reno men.

Tommy Kalmanir to Do Rambling For Los Angeles Football Rams

Tommy Kalmanir, one of Nevada's greater football halfbacks and all-coast star on Colliers selection, has joined the ranks of play for pay football. The "Jerome Jaunter" has been signed by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

draft right to Kalmanir in a trade that sent Don Samuel, Oregon State halfback, to the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Kalmanir is the third member of last year's fine backfield to sign a pro contract. Stan Heath hooked up with the Green Bay Packers, and Sherman Howard is on the dotted line with the New York Yankees.

The speedy Kalmanir was one of the most feared runners on the west coast last year. His running feats were good for a healthy 6.4 yards per carry with the pigskin.

In the Harbor Bowl game at San Diego, it was Kalmanir's brilliant 63 yard sprint for Nevada's lone touchdown, that furnished the only Wolf Pack fireworks of that New Year's afternoon. Jordan Oliver, then coach of Villanova and now with Loyola of L. A., called Kalmanir the finest back they faced all year.

The swift Pennsylvanian was being counted on to carry part of the sprint load in Wolf Pack track fortunes this spring but his commitment to pro football makes him ineligible for further collegiate competition.

Flatterer: One who tells you right out what you think of yourself.

Tommy Kalmanir.

Honor Society For Engineers Is Reactivated

New Faculty and Student Members Elected; Plan For Initiation

Nu Eta Epsilon, University of Nevada engineering honor society, was recently reactivated after a dormant period caused by World War II.

Dr. E. W. Harris has been elected acting chairman, committees have been chosen for a planned banquet and initiation, and new faculty and student members of the society have been elected.

New faculty members are Howard B. Blodgett, professor and chairman of the department of civil engineering; Robert C. Poolman, assistant professor of the department of civil engineering; Charles R. Breese, instructor in the department of civil engineering; Harold J. Hendriks, assistant professor of the department of electrical engineering; Dale L. McLeod, instructor in the department of electrical engineering; Jay Schumacher, instructor in the department of mechanical engineering; Claude W. Hammond, instructor in metallurgy; and Maurice R. Demers, instructor in the department of mathematics and mechanics.

Although it is not customary to elect more than one new faculty member each year, the large group was chosen this time because of the long period of inactivity during the war, Dr. Harris explained. Names of the new student members will be released at a later date.

Nu Eta Epsilon was first organized on the campus in 1923 to encourage and recognize high standards of scholarship among students in the college of engineering. This, plus the fact that membership is limited to about one-eighth of the total number of junior and senior students, makes membership in the society a mark of the highest scholarship, and it is considered by engineers to be a high honor.

Cast Is Selected For 'Psychoscope'; Play Starts May 2

Twenty-one students and four townspeople have been selected to represent the characters in the play, "Psychoscope," to be presented May 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 by the university drama department, according to William C. Miller, associate professor of English.

Included in the cast will be Rex Jemison, George Bennett, Robert Hunt, Kenneth Stone, Barney Childs, Andrea Smart, Odile Frost, Norma Carnel, Carolyn Pickens, Robert Deady, Bob Burke, Harold Hayes, Jerry Wyness, Suzanne Wastun, Ted Short, Richard Vandenberg, Ted Lokke, Wally Green, Laurel Parker, Harry Spencer, and Stanley Pierce.

The four townspeople will be Blythe Bulmer, a faculty member of Reno high school; Mrs. Helen Brania Friel, a former YWCA secretary on campus; Tosca Masini, a faculty member of Sparks junior high school; and Mrs. Lucille Snyder Parks, a part time student.

Naval Reserve Women Must Be Active

All women on inactive duty with the U. S. Naval Reserve will be discharged not later than June 12, 1949, unless they make immediate arrangements to reenlist in class V6 (inactive), according to Commander J. P. Puffinbarger, assistant professor of education of the University of Nevada.

Reenlistments for a term of four years in the Naval Reserve in class V6 is available to all women now serving on inactive duty in classes V10, V1, V2, V3 and O-1.

Physical examinations are not required for reenlistment in this class. Anyone interested should contact Lt. Commander McClure at the Naval Reserve Armory, or Commander J. P. Puffinbarger in the University of Nevada Education building.

Phi Sigs Grab Lead in Early Season Mural Baseball League Competition

Baseball season started in low gear last week, and has since been hindered with several unplayed games due to bad weather. Of the first seven scheduled games, only three were played. Three were won by default and one was postponed.

Phi Sigma Kappa won two games in this period, one by default and one by downing the Lambda Chi nine. Bill Gillis, Phi Sig pitcher, hurled a shut-out as his teammates tallied four unearned runs.

Sigma Nu overcame an SAE two run lead to score a 9-2 victory.

In the only other game, the unorganized Independents set the Highlanders down by a score of 15-10. Al Nocolio of the Independents hit a long home run.

League standings as of March 30 are:

	W	L
Phi Sigma Kappa	2	0
Alpha Tau Omega	1	0
Sigma Nu	1	0
Theta Chi	1	0
Unorg. Independents	1	0
Highlanders	0	1
Lambda Chi	0	1
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	0	1
Sigma Rho Delta	0	1
Org. Independents	0	2

Schedule Next Week

April 4, Sigma Nu vs. Lambda Chi.

April 6, Theta Chi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa.

April 7, Organized Independents vs. Sigma Nu.

University Music Concerts Planned

Plans are currently underway for a series of campus music programs to be presented in the near future by instrumental groups under the direction of Prof. Robert Tate.

First of these "music hour" concerts, which were introduced to the university and community last year by Prof. Tate, will be a recital for violin and piano sometime in April or early May.

Other concerts to be given will include concerts by the university band and a massed-band concert which features the Reno and Sparks high school bands in conjunction with the university band this spring at Mackay Stadium. Exact dates for the concerts will be released in the near future.

Tradition Requires Freshmen to Serve

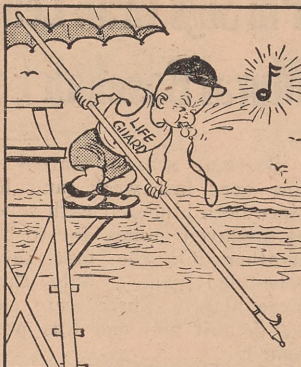

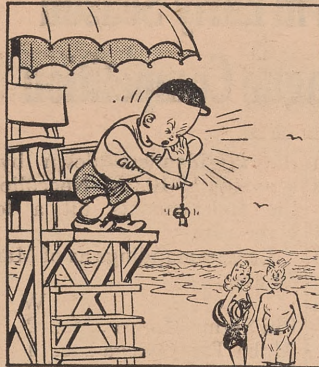

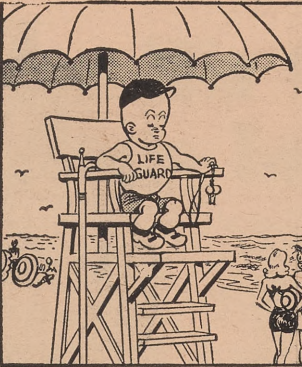

One of the traditions of Mackay Day is that all freshman women are required to help at the Mackay Day luncheon. Virginia Shaw, chairman of the luncheon this year, announced this week that a list of duties for each freshman woman is posted on the main bulletin board.

Those women who will be unable to participate at the luncheon must contact Kay Brennan, phone 2-2532, before April 15, according to Miss Shaw.

Redlands Defeated In Forensic Meet By U N Debators

For the first time in its history the Nevada debate squad beat Redlands University.

The victorious Nevada team returned Sunday from a three day forensic tournament in the California city where Russell Maynard and Rudy Gerken ranked highest in the upper divisions.

Those making the trip were Rex Jemison, Ralph Brown, Rudy Gerken, Russell Maynard, Wayne Lewis, Ray Free, Mary Haslam, Fay Fryberger, and Wallace Kurtz.

In the two preliminary rounds of oratory, Jemison placed first and fourth. In the semi-final round he was disqualified.

Other Nevada entries were Free and Gerken, impromptu; Maynard and Lewis, extemporaneous; and Fay Fryberger, women's extemporaneous speaking.

The Redlands tournament is an annual affair held each spring and is sponsored by the Providence Pi Kappa Delta Association.

Nevada debaters will soon challenge the speech teams of San Jose State and Stanford University.

Cadet Col. Parker To Receive Award At ROTC Review

First in a series of full-dress ROTC parades will take place Tuesday, April 5, at 4 pm in the university stadium when cadets of the Army and Air Force ROTC will pass in review before cadet Lieutenant Colonel James O. Parker.

High points in the colorful ceremony will be the presentation of two awards. Company B will receive the blue and silver guidon streamer as best drilled company of the unit, and Cadet Lt. Col. Parker will be giving the individual award as "distinguished military student."

Captain Daniel Illrich of Company B will be presented the streamer by a designated coed Sponsor, member of the Corps of Sponsors. This event will be repeated each parade for the best drilled company in the corps for the previous week.

The award given to Cadet Lt. Col. Parker is one based on exceptional proficiency in the miliargument over what kind of a plant is needed.

The legislature, however, did provide $50,000 for the university heating system. This appropriation is to be spent on purchasing and installing three or four steam boilers in the new engineering building and converting the Mackay Science building from steam to hot water heating.

The university building fund of $200,000 was also reverted to the post-war reserve fund. The funds had been provided on the conditions that they would be used only if federal matching funds were obtained. It is now being recalled because there seems to be little chance of getting the matching funds.

A $15,000 fund was provided by the legislature for salary increases for workers employed by the public service division of the university.

tary leadership and on general academic standing in the university, according to Colonel Gilbert E. Parker, PMS&T at the university. This award is a requirement for attaining a regular commission in the Army through the ROTC.

in place of coffee at the snack bar in the basement of Stewart Hall. However, because of the high moral standards of Nevada students, it is expected that few, save faculty members, will take advantage of this innovation.

Jay Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, said that if the School of Mines was given a few million dollars of the grant, he could almost guarantee that mining seniors would be able to discover mineral deposits that would be worth far more than the initial endowment.

"The man who gave this money is an advocate of free and independent enterprise," said Carpenter. "What could stimulate enterprise better than the discovery of uranium beneath the university library?"

When told of the plans being readied for submission to him, Dr. Moseley said that he had no comment, but pointed out that the president's house, at the north end of the campus, was built many years ago, and could use some minor repairs.
