

University Coed To Be Miss Nevada

Scholarship, Atlantic City, Awaits State Entry

The first Miss Nevada, a coed from the University of Nevada, may compete in Atlantic City for the title of Miss America on September 5.

A representative of the Atlantic City pageant, Mrs. Lenora Slaughter, flew to Reno the day after the Eastern vacation started to extend the invitation. She conferred with Dr. Moseley, president of the University of Nevada, and with Elaine Mobley, dean of women.

Dr. Moseley and Dean Mobley announced that they were in favor of sending a Miss Nevada to the competition, but that a final decision would have to come from the student body, and said that possibly the Associated Women Students or the Women's Recreation Association would sponsor a competition on campus.

Miss Nevada, according to the pageant plan, would be chosen from among the students at the university. To be eligible, a girl must be between 18 and 28, and unmarried.

A $500 scholarship will be awarded to the winner of the contest at the university, and prizes up to $500 will be awarded at Atlantic City.

Miss Slaughter emphasized that Miss America should have a well-rounded personality, and that beauty alone would not be enough. Points are awarded for poise, intelligence, personality, talent, beauty of face, and beauty of figure.

Each contestant will be required to appear in an evening gown, demonstrate her talents or hobbies, speak extemporaneously, appear in a bathing suit, and answer four questions about Nevada.

Sororities, fraternities, clubs, and independents could sponsor entries, Miss Slaughter said. Final choice of a winner would be by a board of judges.

Mrs. Lawlor Dies Before Easter

Mrs. Glenn R. Lawlor, wife of Jake Lawlor, Nevada's basketball and track coach, died suddenly April 11 at the Reno hospital.

Mrs. Lawlor was born in Virginia City Aug. 28, 1901, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Evans.

She resided in the Virginia City community most of her life, until her marriage to Mr. Lawlor, whom she met while he was the high school coach in that community.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, are a son, Glenn Lawlor, Jr., 8; a brother, Wyman Evans, Jr.; a sister, Ruth Evans, and her parents, all of Reno.

Before her marriage she was employed by the Virginia and Gold Hill Water company. She was secretary of the White Rose club, Sigma Nu fraternity auxiliary group, and was a member of the St. Thomas Aquinas Mothers club.

Interment was made in the Mater Dolorosa cemetery.

Two Independents May Gain Senate

Unorganized Students Sought to Meet With Next ASUN Session

Unaffiliated students will have two seats in the student senate if satisfactory plans for their seats can be arranged and nominations can commence as announced in the last meeting of the student senate.

Rex Jemison, student body president, welcomed a plan to have three or four unorganized independent students attend the next meeting of the senate to discuss their views on the matter.

Booklet Issued On Mail Courses

A new booklet entitled "Correspondence Studies at the University of Nevada," is now ready for distribution, it was announced this week.

The booklet carries announcement of all courses for the years 1949 and 1950.

Among new courses listed are: Guidance and counseling in secondary schools, in the education department; social ethics and philosophy of political problems, in the department of philosophy; citizenship, in political science; and algebra, in the department of mathematics.

Courses are available for the correspondence student in business administration, economics, education, English, modern languages, geography, history, home economics, mathematics, metallurgy, political science, music, physical education, physics, psychology and sociology.

Most of the courses listed are those offered by the university staff to regular students in residence and carry university credit. They may be used toward satisfying graduation requirements, obtaining or renewing teachers' certificates, or for general self-improvement.

Dr. Irwin Leaves On Testing Tour Of High Schools

Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, psychology department head, this week started on a 1500 mile tour of 25 high schools of the state. Dr. Irwin is giving college aptitude tests to graduating high school students in competition for the Josephine Beam and Major Fleischmann scholarships.

These scholarships give freshmen students an award of $400 paid in two installments during the first year of the student's stay at the University of Nevada. There are now 20 students receiving the scholarships and 70 students in the university who have received the awards.

Sue Broadbent Elected AWS Prexy By One Vote

Plans Released For Mackay Day Celebration

Mackay day co-chairman Joe Morris and Marge Simon released this week the complete schedule of events set for the 35th annual Mackay day celebration held on campus.

There will be a beard contest at the dance with awards for the best trimmed, reddest and heaviest beard.

At 11:00 a. m. Friday, May 6th, there will be an obstacle race. A seven man team will be in order. Names of contestants must be in to P. O. Riemer, Dale Littlejohn, or turned in at a regular meeting of the Mackay Day committee.

Following the obstacle race there will be an interfrat assembly in Mackay Stadium.

There will be beard checks on Saturday morning at 8:00. Offenders will be dunked in a hose through by the Mens Upperclass committee and the Block 'N' Society. All houses and mens groups must turn in three lists of pledges and members to Bill Gildner, John Gomes, Jerry Wyness, or Bill Wennhold or at any regular session of Mackay Day committee.

There will be an invocation to Mackay Statue by Father Maurice Welch at 9:00 Saturday morning.

The luncheon will be 12:00 Saturday, May 7. Tickets will be (prorated) among groups. Seating will be assigned after

Senate Appoints Lyman Schwartz Election Head

Lyman Schwartz, senior and ATO member, has been appointed chairman of the board which will conduct student body elections next month.

The ASUN senate made the choice, and the remainder of the committee will be chosen from the groups who place candidates on the ballot for office.

"There is little information to date concerning candidates," Schwartz said. Nominations will be made on Mackay Day, and the elections will be held about a week later.

Mary Lou Sewell Runner-up In Close Contest

Sue Broadbent, by a margin of one vote, was elected president of the Associated Women Students in an election held April 11.

With a total of 87 votes, Miss Broadbent beat out Mary Lou Sewell, who ran second with 86. Third candidate on the final ballot was Kay Sterling who had 81 votes to her credit.

Representing Delta Delta Delta sorority in the election, Miss Broadbent was chosen by the group for her campus work including Women's Recreational Association, Ski Club, Saddle and Spurs, and service on university committees such as Homecoming. She is also vice-president of her sorority.

Plaque Revived For Scholarship; Goes to Pi Phi's

During the AWS bean feed held April 7 in the university dining hall Dean Elaine Mobley made a surprise announcement when she stated that the scholarship plaque for women, which was instituted in 1933 by Dean Margaret Mack, will be awarded again. She said that during the war university women did not show sufficient improvement to earn the award.

The plaque goes to the house with the greatest improvement in scholarship from one spring semester to another, or from one fall semester to another.

Pi Beta Phi sorority was given recognition for their improvement of last spring semester, and they will retain the plaque for this semester. Gamma Phi Beta will be placed on the plaque for their improvement in the fall of '47.

Dean Mobley stated that the plaque will be a regular part of the scholarship awards, providing a women's group shows enough improvement to merit award.

She emphasized the importance of women in campus activities saying that many opportunities are open for women in all vocations and recreations.

Mrs. Ruth Lusch, publicity director for the Reno Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker. She seconded Miss Mobley's statement about opportunities for women and told of famous women who today are successful in a variety of vocations.

Seventy Tickets Issued Since 11th By Traffic Cop

More than 70 traffic tickets have been issued on the campus since April 11, according to Art Cox, special traffic policeman. Violators are now receiving fines instead of warnings for illegal driving and parking at the university.

Violators are given ten days to pay the fines. The comptroller's office announced that several fines have already been paid.

Drivers who disregard tickets may find their cars barred from the campus, said Dr. Charles H. Gorman, vice-president and comptroller.

The most frequent violation, declared Cox, is the absence of a parking permit. Students have been warned of this many times, he said. He urged that all car owners who park on the campus to be sure they have permits.

Cox and Gorman said they were pleased with the progress that has been made. Both commented on the improvement of parking and traffic conditions recently.

Singers to Offer American Concert

A program of choral music written completely by American composers will be offered by the University Singers on Tuesday evening, April 26, at the Education building auditorium.

This will be the twenty-second annual concert to be presented under the supervision of Professor Theodore H. Post. It will begin at 8:15 pm.

Highlights of the evening's entertainment will include a violin solo by Lois Post and vocals by Odile Frost, Mary Hanley and Dan Olguin.

Barney Childs, president of the University Singers, will be a part of the chorus which will sing his own composition, "Benedictus."

The University Singers, this year, have appeared in Handel's Messiah and the "Wolves Frolic." They will present "Pirates of Penance" sometime before final exams.

Book Store's Wall Asked by Insurance To Prevent Thefts

A complaint from insurance officials is responsible for the new wall between the University Book Store and the Wolf Den, according to Mrs. H. Jordan, proprietor of the book store.

Insurance officials threatened to cancel insurance on the book store if the two businesses were not separated.

One reason for the wall is that every time the building is broken into, it is through the Wolf Den side. There are windows on the east side of the building, but none on the west side.

The new wall is constructed of wood with large panes of glass near the ceiling. It was prefabricated and laced into position in two pieces. A sliding door located near the front of the store, will be kept locked after either the book store or the Wolf Den closes, and an attendant is no longer necessary to stay at the book store until the Wolf Den closes at night.

Psychoscope to Feature Gay Nineties Can-Can

By Eugene Morgan McKenna

One of the outstanding acts between the acts of the coming campus production of Daggett and Goodman's "Psychoscope," melodrama of Comstock vintage, is expected to be the "Can-Can."

Twelve coeds under the direction of Ruth Ryan will go through the "Gay Nineties" routine, and in all probability will add to an already fun packed program as scheduled by Dr. William C. (Can-Can) Miller, director of the show.

The play is being presented this year in conjunction with the annual Mackay Day celebration, and will be held in the Education auditorium, May 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

Plans are also being made to take the production to Virginia City, Carson City and possibly San Francisco.

Girls appearing in the Can-Can will be Connie Madsen, and Carol Diehl, Delta Delta Delta; Georgia Crystal, Greta Reuter, Jean Fullstone, Eleanor Fullstone, Jean Wilton and LaVonne Bingham, Kappa Alpha Theta; Berlien McCray and Pat Welty, Gamma Phi Beta; Anita Coates and Georgia Ames, Pi Beta Phi.

WHY, WHY AND WHY?

Under the proposed ASUN fee increase, fifty cents is earmarked "Artemisia." This would mean that the yearbook would receive approximately $1600 a year more. According to Bob Kent, Artemisia business manager, the book stands a better than even chance to show a profit this year. And since this publication is backed by the Board of Publications, which at present holds more than $800 reserve, why is an increase necessary?

Another fifty cents of the proposed increase is earmarked, "General Fund." However, if the responsibility of purchasing athletic awards is given to the Board of Athletic Control as planned, this fund, excluding any increase, would automatically become $2000 richer. This would represent at least a $1000 reserve over the total cost of activities during 1948-49. Again, why an increase?

The final fifty cents is earmarked "Athletic Fund" with the stipulation that the BAC will be responsible for athletic awards. However, under the new plan of awards, the cost per year should be less than $1000 as compared to the requested $1600. The BAC, which is already receiving the lion's share of the ASUN fee ($22,400 per year) could without strain absorb this cost.

Besides the reserves mentioned, the ASUN stands to gain approximately $1200 from the profits made on the Sagebrush this year. And, if the "Psychoscope" is a success—at present there seems to be no reasons why it couldn't be—there is the possibility of gaining another $1000.

ASUN President Rex Jemison is planning an inter-collegiate talent show with the possibility of a coast-to-coast broadcast. It's a good idea and one which could be an annual money maker.

The actually working balance as of September, 1948, held by the ASUN was about $90. Considering the above facts that the ASUN should end this semester with a working balance far in excess of what they started with.

Why increase the fee?

GOOD, BUT BAD

Motor vehicle fatalities dropped again in 1948. The decrease, even though it was less than one per cent, is all to the good.

Much emphasis is placed on the death rate in accident prevention work. This is natural because death always makes the headlines. But it is dangerous, too, because it is so easy to become complacent.

In their 1949 booklet of street and highway accident data, just released, The Travelers Insurance Companies urge that states, cities and communities look to the injury rate as a true measure of success or failure in their safety campaigns. The hundreds of persons saved from death are living tributes to the safety job that has been done, it is pointed out, but the injured millions should be constant reminders that the job is far from completed.

Only 3 WAVES Of 30 in Reno Join Naval Reserve

Out of a possible 30 discharged members of the Waves and women's coast-guard in this area who were formerly in the V-10 class, only three re-enlisted under the new program they would them in the new V6W class.

The Naval Reserve Army in Reno notified all inactive Waves that to be eligible for the new program they would have had to re-enlist by April 15, 1949. Those who did not make the deadline were automatically dropped from the reserve list.

Campus Queries

What is your biggest gripe concerning the Sagebrush?

Tahsin Karacabay, Turkish transfer, junior: "There is too much advertising. They could put in science articles and American students could learn about the foreign student's way of life. I am always reading about who got married and who got engaged."

Bev Lehman, Kappa Alpha Theta, junior: "The letters to the editor and editorials are lively, but the rest is not always timely and not too sparkling."

Jackie Wilson, Gamma Phi Beta, sophomore: "I think it should be more accurate about names and spelling, because they get mixed up all the time."

Paul King, transfer: "The distribution stinks . . . printed on Friday, it doesn't arrive at my home until late Monday afternoon, or later."

Gene Matteucci, Lambda Chi Alpha, freshman: "The business department is very inefficient. The papers don't get out on time."

Mary Zorazkis, senior: "They don't publish all the school news."

Valdemar Larson, sophomore: "As a matter of fact I never look at it."

Daniel Durham, Kappa Alpha Theta, sophomore: "The jokes are so old that they are no fun to read."

Pete Peyron, senior: "I think it should be disconnected with the journalism department. It is state controlled."

Dick Waite, Lambda Chi Alpha, senior: "The students don't have enough control of the actions, and because of that there is no student participation."

Jackie Sirkegian, Delta Delta Delta, sophomore: "I never get mine, so I wouldn't know."

Elaine Powell, Gamma Phi Beta, freshman: "I don't think I have any."

Gwen Byrd, Kappa Alpha Theta, junior: "I think it's swell."

Ken Sinoifsky: The Brush lacks size and pictures. The jokes aren't dirty; still they're pretty good. Planning could be somewhat improved.

Betty Sue: "Why didn't you shave before taking me to the prom?"

Jimmy: "I did."

Betty Sue: "When?"

It serves her right!

MARY JANE gives the telephone in her house a real work-out.

But we're not worried a bit. We know Mary Jane's telephone is going to keep right on delivering good service year after year. Because the Bell System puts a lot of time, thought, and testing into making telephone equipment as rugged and trouble-free as possible.

Tests are constantly under way at the Bell Telephone Laboratories. There, for example, new types of telephone instruments are put through a school of hard knocks. Dials and other parts are given strength and wear tests. Even the bottom of the telephone set has been designed and checked to make sure that it will not scratch or stain furniture.

Such tests—on little things as well as on big things—help give you the world's best telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

New WRA Officers To Attend 3 Day Wisconsin Meet

Jackie Wilson, newly elected president of the Women's Recreation Association on the campus, and Shirley Hornbeck, vice-president, will be among 300 college women meeting in Madison, Wisconsin, next week for the annual convention of the American Federation of College Women.

This federation is a national organization for college women interested in physical education. Representatives from almost every college in the nation will be present to discuss organization and financial problems of women's recreation organizations on the different campuses.

The convention will last three days, April 27, 28 and 29. The two University of Nevada representatives will leave for Wisconsin Sunday.

Feature of the convention will be speeches by famous women in professional sports.

NEVADA GRADS NAMED SUMMER SPORTS HEADS

Three recent University of Nevada graduates were appointed to head summer sports activities under the Reno recreation commission.

The three, John DuPratt, Ed Reed, Jr., and Buddy Garfinkle, are all experienced in organizing and leading athletic programs, and all are former university athletes.

DuPratt will be softball commissioner, Reed will again supervise the junior tennis program, and Garfinkle will handle the junior baseball program.

DuPratt had experience during the war in the Navy recreational program, and in the past years has been prominent in the local softball picture as a player, coach, and sponsor.

He will call organizational meetings, oversee regulations and games, name minor officials, and supervise all local

PACK DEBATE TEAM TAKES FIRST IN ANNUAL PACIFIC TOURNAMENT

Members of the University of Nevada's debate team won the annual tournament of the Pacific Forensic League by taking top honors in two events and placing third in another. The conference was held at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington, April 12 through 15.

The University of Southern California's debate team placed second, and the University of Washington was third.

Rex Jemison, Bonnie Yturvide, and Maclin Summers, Nevada's representatives, were accompanied by Gale L. Richards, assistant professor of English and coach of the debate team.

Bonnie Yturvide, senior student and a member of the debate team for four years, took first place in the oratory. He spoke 15 minutes on "I Am a Man Ashamed." Yturvide was second in oratory at the Western States Speech Conference last year.

Rex Jemison, also a senior and a member of the team for four years, won top honors in the after-dinner speeches with a five-minute talk on "Advertising and the Cinema."

Maclin Summers, junior student, placed third in discussions and debate, speaking on softball leagues under the city organization.

Reed, who is a recent graduate, is currently employed in the Reno school system. He will organize the summer play and tournaments for the juniors and will instruct them in regular periods.

Garfinkle will begin his second year in organizing the leagues and teams. He will supervise the play and give instruction, probably with the help of professional players.

"How Can We Best Handle Monopoly."

Nevada's team made no showing in the extemporaneous speaking. Last year Scott Whitney, now a graduate student, won the 24th Pacific extemporaneous speaking championship at the conference held here in the Education building. Whitney defeated eight other speakers with his speech "Union of Democracies in Western Europe."

Other members of the Pacific Forensic League are Stanford University, Whitman College, University of Southern California, Oregon State University, Willamette University, University of Idaho, University of Arizona, University of Utah, University of Washington, University of Nevada, University of Oregon, University of California, and University of California at Los Angeles.

The purpose of the league, which is open to all colleges and universities of the Pacific coast and adjacent states by unanimous vote of the members, is to promote forensics generally. It also provides an annual meeting place where faculty and student delegates may discuss their peculiar problems.

Picnic This Sunday

Members of the U. of N. Rifle Club will meet this coming Sunday for their annual picnic, Lowell Miller, picnic chairman, announced. The group will meet at the rifle range at 2 pm Sunday, and transportation will be furnished.

The picnic will feature games and food at Thomas Creek. All members of the Rifle Club and their guests are invited to attend.

The initiates were Elaine Abercrombie, Gloria Griffith, Norma Walsh, Bonnie Colton, Dorothy Halfacre, Shirley Laurie and Mona Perry.

SINGERS WANTED FOR CHOCOLATE SOLDIER

University of Nevada students were asked to participate in the stage production of "The Chocolate Soldier" which is being presented May 20 and 21 by the Reno Light Opera Association. It will be

Explosiveness Features Spring Grid Scrimmage

Passing Takes Back Seat to Running in Sheeketski Version of Missouri 'T'

(Note: With no issue of the Brush last week and the fact that first spring grid scrimmage was on a Friday, coverage of pigskin activities has been nil. To bring things up to date, here are results of the first head-knocking session.)

Explosive power featured the first football scrimmage session of the current spring training period for Nevada's Wolf Pack.

Using an entirely new system, Sheeketski's version of the Missouri "T," the Pack scrimmage featured a pile-driving attack on the part of backfield aces.

The 1948 system of getting the most yardage by the quickest method, passing, was something of the past as far as the '49 aggregation is concerned. Run, run, run, are the by-words of spring camp.

Osborne Shines

Biggest noise in this new offense is Bill Osborne, 220 pound tailback, who is rambling over, around, and through the defense with his slashing drive.

Johnny Subda continued to show improvement in his new post as quarterback. Although Johnny juggled a handoff now and then, his ball handling was better than average and should be of top quality when the season rolls around next fall.

Paul Stimac, another 200 pounder, displayed talent in the business of power football with his thrusts from the other tailback spot. Ed Klosterman, rangy veteran halfback, appears to be just the man to fill the bill at the flanker spot.

Alternating in the backfield with the above mentioned foursome were Ed Jesse, frosh quarterback last season; Ted Kondel, three-year veteran halfback and leading scorer in '47; Myron Leavitt and Wally Graf, up from the frosh.

Line Stars

Linemen looking good on defense were Tom Bell, guard, who has been transferred to end; Tony Aurelio, junior college transfer, and Floyd Hopper at tackles; Fred Temesc and John Gonda, guards; Louie Mendive, end; and Bill Zippman and Al Mateucci, linebackers.

Offensive linemen were Jock Michienzi and Jim Wilson, ends; "Punjab" Hairston, Tom Reinhardt, tackles; Jack Carmody, Gordon Surber, guards; and Carmel Caruso, center.

Bronco Netters Win From Pack

Alva Tabor and Wally Graff won singles matches for Nevada and Tabor teamed with Ron Brubaker in the doubles for the other Pack win.

Other Nevada performers were blanked by the Bronco netters. Results of the meet were as follows:

Tabor defeated Henry Yamate, 6-4, 6-1; Roy Oakes (SC) defeated Brubaker, 6-3, 6-3; Jack Nalty (SC) defeated Henderson, 6-2, 6-1; Paul Laitao (SC) defeated Delaney, 6-0, 6-1; Graff (N) defeated Vasco Laitao, 6-8, 6-2, 6-3; Al Cacho (SC) defeated Hancock, 6-4, 8-6.

Doubles matches were as follows: Tabor and Brubaker won from Nalty and Paul Laitos, 6-3, 8-6; Yamate and Casco (SC) edged Henderson, Delaney, 7-5, 6-4; Cacho and Charles Bartell (SC) beat Graff and Hancock, 8-6, 6-3.

Pre-Easter Trials Posted by Trackmen

In a pre-Easter intra-squad track meet Nevada cinder men posted some pretty fair trials in preparation for the coming three-meet season.

Charlie Springer posted one of his best times for the 100 yard dash, running the century in 9.9 seconds.

Other good performances were turned in by Art Wigg, who hurled the discus 137 feet 10 inches; Carl Robinson skipped over the high hurdles in 15.7; Tom Adams hit 11-3 in the pole vault.

Stan Jones, who with the absence of ineligible Tommy Kalmanir, seems to be the number one man in the broad jump. Jones leaped 20 feet 8 1/4 inches.

Myron Leavitt checked in with a 23-7 for the 220 and was closely followed by Mike

Tracksters Open 1949 Season Today In Triangle Meet

Tangle with Cal Aggies, SF State On Davis Track

Jake Lawlor and his Nevada track team journeyed to Davis, California, today to open their 1949 cinder season in a triangle meet with the Cal Aggies and San Francisco State team.

The Wolf Pack's chances lie in the scoring punch of the weight men. Lawlor is counting heavily on this group to pile up enough digits to bring the Pack, an outside choice, a victory.

Things look almost a near cinch for the javelin tossers in comparative performances. The best either of the other two schools have racked up is just over 160 feet. Red Higgins, Carl Robinson, Bob Collett and Lawrence "Punjab" Hairston have all bettered that distance.

Art Wigg, Hairston and Tom Bell also appear to have an edge in the discus department, and Hairston looks like a shoo-in in the shot-put. Best the Aggie and State men have done in previous outings is 127 feet 5 inches. The Nevada trio have been from five to ten feet better than that in trials.

Charley Springer, Willie Elder and Myron Leavitt appear to hold the key to what success Nevada may have in the springs. Springer's 9.9 for the century and 22.6 in the 220 should be enough to register a place in both events.

In the pole vault, high jump, and broad jump, the locals don't appear to have it. Both Aggie and State performers have posted better marks than shown by Nevada in trials.

Carl Robinson will have to run his best race to edge the Aggies Schlange, in the hurdles. Schlange skipped over the high sticks in 15.1 against the SFS team two weeks ago, and Robinson's best time to date is 15.5.

Carrying the relay burden for Nevada will be a team chosen from Marvin Byars, 440 ace, Buddy Hardy, Smith, Robinson, and Tate. Handling half-mile chores are Ross Smith, buddy Hardy, Tate and Phelps. Smith will go for mile honors and Richardson and Woodbury are entered in the two-mile jaunt.

NEVADA PICKS UP NINTH SPOT IN GOLF AT ANNUAL N. PACIFIC COAST MEET

Headed by Dick Evans, newly appointed coach, members of the University of Nevada golf team participated in the Northern Pacific Intercollegiate Tournament last week.

Nevada golfers who entered the tournament held at Pasatiempo golf course of Santa Cruz, California, were Wayne Adams, Stan Kosakowski, Earle Charleton and Charles Mayo.

Defending champion San Jose State repeated its victory of last year by edging out Stanford and St. Mary's for the title. Nevada placed ninth in a field representing 17 universities and junior colleges.

Adams turned in the low score for Nevada followed by Charleton, Mayo and Kosakowski.

Team standings were determined by the four lowest scores of each college and on this basis the Wolf Pack ranked above such colleges as Santa Clara, Vallejo Junior College, San Francisco State, Modesto Junior College, San Mateo Junior College, Menlo Junior College, and Sacramento College.

Al Nelson, defending champion, from St. Mary's defeated Warren McCarty of San Jose State 4 and 3 for the individual tournament championship. Adams of Nevada had previously lost to Nelson in a match with St. Mary's held two weeks ago at Richmond.

Three out of the four Nevada golfers advanced after the first day matches to go into the quarter finals of the tournament. Mayo, playing in the third flight defeated Thomas Lally of the University of California 1 up; Charleton defeated Jim Thompson of Armstrong College 1 up, in the same flight; and Kosakowski dropped James Chrystal of Modesto Junior College 3 and 2 in a fourth flight match.

Adams, playing in the first flight, was upset by Leonard Ross of Fresno State 2 and 1. Adams had to give Ross a total of nine strokes over the rough Pasatiempo course.

In the quarter finals Mayo defeated Ken Melrose of California 3 and 2 in the semi-finals.

Charleton dropped an 18th hole quarter final match to Loughery, 1 up and Kosakowski was beaten by Herb Lane of San Mateo Junior College 3 and 2.

Tournament officials commented on the exceptionally fast field this year and said that the tournament was one of the roughest collegiate tournaments in the United States. Proof of this lies in the fact that San Jose State is National Collegiate champions and Stanford is runner-up.

Varsity Golfers Face Competitive Weekend Action

Fresh from the Northern Pacific Coast Intercollegiate tournament at Santa Cruz, University of Nevada golfers left this morning for dual matches with Sacramento College and Cal Aggies over the weekend.

The Wolf Pack will tangle with Sacramento College at Sacramento municipal golf course this afternoon and will travel to Woodland to meet the Aggies tomorrow afternoon.

Wayne Adams, Earle Charleton, Stan Kosakowski and Charles Sancie were slated to make the trip along with Hugh Smithwick who is filling in for the golfers new coach, Dick Evans.

Charles Mayo, a regular member of the team, did not make the trip this week because of a conflicting engineering trip.

Not much is known either of the Wolf Pack's opponents except that Nevada golfers ranked above Sacramento College in the tournament last week.

High Schools Meet In Speech Contest On Nevada Campus

The Nevada state high school forensic tournament is being held on the University of Nevada campus Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Events in this tournament include debate, oratory, extempore speaking, interpretative reading, Shakespearean scenes, and one-act plays.

All high schools in the state are eligible to participate and by Wednesday afternoon word had been received that teams from Reno, Sparks, Winnemucca, Hawthorne and Lovelock high school would be present.

This tournament was not held during the war but was revived in the spring of 1947 by S. N. Vinocour, former professor of English. It is now an annual event at the University of Nevada and is under the direction of Gale L. Richards, assistant professor of English.

HILL'S BEAUTY IS NOT DOING THAT WHICH COMES NATURALLY

By Ed Slingland

Three days are required to turn all the sprinklers on the University of Nevada lawns either on or off. There are so many valves that expert knowledge is required to do the job.

Each spring the green lawns and the colorful flower beds beautify the University of Nevada campus, but they don't come naturally.

All that green stuff, and those flowers, that announce the new season take plenty of pampering. Keeping the lawns and flower beds in good condition is one of the big jobs of the year for Carl M. Horn, superintendent of maintenance for the university.

Four thousand feet of hose and eighty sprinklers are in constant use as soon as the grass begins to come up. Some of the sprinklers are the stationary type, that are fastened to metal pegs in the ground; others, for larger areas, are self propelled. The large sprinklers used to water the quadrangle, for instance, travel in a large circle, and have to be moved only occasionally.

Ten men are busy moving sprinklers all day long to insure that the grass is watered evenly. Three other men trim lawn edges, run mowers, and water flower beds, which require individual treatment.

University of Nevada lawns are no ordinary nondescript grass, but are planted with Kentucky blue grass, the kind that has been found to grow best in this area.

Horn says the campus may look good to the casual observer right now, but it reaches its peak just before commencement. Then, he says, people from California visit the campus just to admire the grounds.

Civil Engineers Leave on Four Day Field Trip

The senior students in the department of civil engineering are going on a four-day field trip today, as a means of showing the practical side of engineering, according to Professor H. B. Blodgett, head of the department.

The trip will cover Friday through Tuesday. Saturday, the group will inspect hydroelectric developments in the Feather River canyon, as developed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. This trip will be in conjunction with the Sacramento chapter of the A.S.C.E.

Monday, the students will take in points of engineering interest in the San Francisco Bay area, including one of the steel mills.

Tuesday will find the group in Sacramento, where they will attend the regular meeting of the Sacramento section of A.S.C.E. and inspect points of interest in the Sacramento area, including the state highway department testing laboratory.

About 19 students, plus Professor Blodgett, are expected to make the trip.
