

MOSELEY, GORMAN RESIGN POSITIONS

Shakeup Breaks Without Warning

Resignations to Become Effective At End of College Year

Dr. John O. Moseley, and Dr. Charles H. Gorman have resigned.

Dr. Moseley submitted his resignation as president of the university, while Dr. Gorman resigned his position as comptroller-treasurer vice-president.

Their resignations, which were tendered in last week's meeting of the executive committee of the board of regents, will take effect at the end of this college year.

No reasons for their leaving the university were given.

Dr. Moseley was inaugurated president of the university on July 1, 1944. Up to that time, following the death of Dr. Leon W. Hartman, Dr. Gorman had been acting president.

Dr. Moseley is the former dean of students at the University of Tennessee. When he took office at Nevada, he said, "I plan to follow the 'open-door' policy of Dr. Gorman."

He is a native of Meridian, Mississippi, and has had an extensive educational career. He is known all over the nation for his outstanding work in fraternity affairs.

Dr. Gorman joined the University of Nevada staff in 1911. He is a native of Gold Hill, Nevada, being graduated from high school there.

He was once featured in Believe It or Not for being the only college president not a college graduate.

Engineers Day Exhibits, Displays Open to Public

Geegaws, gimicks, and gadgets will prevail on the campus at the University of Nevada on Saturday, May 21. This was disclosed in the plans now being arranged by the general committee in charge of the 31st annual Engineers Day.

As for every special occasion, there is to be a queen for the day. This one will be selected by the associated engineering students from among the coeds entered by each sorority, the independents, Artemesia Hall and Manzanita Hall.

An extensive advertising campaign is being conducted to publicize the event with a sign across Virginia street, notices to be shown on the screens of Reno theaters, frequent announcements on the local radio stations, and much copy space reserved in the city newspapers.

Some of the unique exhibits and displays to be featured were mentioned by Jim Helmick, chairman of the general committee.

Engineers from the Bell Telephone Company will demonstrate micro-wave broadcasting—the high frequency used to transmit television. Along the quadrangle will be displayed all the latest model cars complete with representatives from the dealers to demonstrate them.

An exhibit of assorted construction equipment contributed by local contractors will also be on hand.

Even a diesel switch engine, lent by the Western Pacific, will be a part of the things to see.

There will be displays of hydraulics, electrical applications, mining operations, structural methods, mechanical processes, diversified surveying and many others—now being prepared for the occasion.

As usual, the many varied features of the program will be open for inspection of not only the student body but also the general public.

Calendar Released For Senior Week

The tentative calendar for senior week was recently disclosed by Wally Green, senior class manager.

Friday, May 27, the senior banquet will be held with Pat Wilson and Jack Smith as co-chairmen. Place for the affair has not yet been chosen.

Saturday, May 28, seniors will be honored at the junior-senior breakfast, which is an annual affair. Tom Bell, junior class manager, stated that the juniors will act as hosts and do most of the work.

Sunday, May 29, the senior-faculty get-together will probably feature an informal party or picnic, Green said.

If enough of the seniors are interested, Green explained that a senior class picnic may be held on the morning of Saturday, June 4.

Activities will close with commencement exercises to be conducted in the university gymnasium on Monday, June 6.

Seniors to Leave Portable Pole As Gift Project

The senior class of the University of Nevada has decided to leave with the university, as a gift from this year's graduates, a portable electric pole to be used in the annual Christmas tableaux scenes constructed on the campus.

William Ebert and Lorraine Houghton were appointed as co-chairmen for the gift project by Wallace Green, senior class president.

The co-chairmen explained that the pole constructed for holding the Christmas star disfigured the front lawns of the campus in that the pole had to remain up the whole year round.

Plans now call for a concrete foundation to be laid at the site of the Christmas scenes, from which a portable pole can be removed after being used.

ASSEMBLY TUESDAY

A student body assembly to discuss proposed amendments to the ASUN constitution and increased student body fees will be held Tuesday in the new gymnasium at 11:20 am.

Class periods will be shortened, and the beginning and ending of the periods will be signaled by the ringing of the bell in the tower of Morrill hall.

Service Veterans Eligible to Enter Advanced ROTC

Service veterans, according to Captain Stanton L. Fickel of the University of Nevada military department, are eligible to enter advanced ROTC classes without first taking two years of basic courses.

Veterans who wish to take advantage of this plan may register for training during their first or second year at the university, but they will not have to attend military classes until they reach their third year.

The advantage in registering immediately lies in the draft deferment afforded by ROTC status. According to the military department, this has the highest possible deferment priority.

All qualified students planning to go directly into ROTC advanced training next semester should contact Captain Lewis H. Gray in the new gym not later than Wednesday, May 18, in order to arrange for a physical examination and to establish their draft exemption.

BLOCK N

There will be an important meeting of the Block N society Tuesday at 7 pm in the ASUN building.

Osborne Elected Soph Class Manager; General Election Scheduled Thursday

Paul Reimer, Highlander, and Jon Milburn, Theta Chi, were voted into the general election as student body president candidates by the largest election turnout ever recorded.

Students went to the polls to give Reimer 456 votes and Milburn 231 votes.

Ty Short, Sigma Nu candidate, gathered 216 votes, John Foley, Lambda Chi Alpha, received 212 votes, and Wally Kurtz, Independent, got 50.

The 1179 votes cast beat the all-time record of 1069 of last year's election. A recount was taken to insure accuracy.

Buddy Garfinkle and Joe Libke, with 331 and 356 votes, respectively, will go to the ballot in the coming election as candidates for Block N representative to the board of athletic control. Tom Bell received 294 votes, and Jack Davis finished with 149.

Harry McKissick, with 51 votes, and Louis Mendive, with 56, will go into the finals for the office of senior class manager. Webb Brown netted 50, with 27 going to Al Richardson, and 24 to Walter Coughlin.

Ted Klimaszewski and Charles Pulsipher were carried into the general election with 90 and 78 votes respectively, while Ted Lokke gathered 69 and Tom Ross got 58. Wayne Osborne definitely won the office of sophomore class manager by receiving a plurality of 202 with only three candidates in the running. Al Matteuchi received 166, while Ed Hancock received 156.

The general election will be held Thursday, May 19, in room 105 of the Agriculture building. Medals of gold, silver, and bronze will be awarded, respectively, to first, second, and third place winners in the drill competition which will be completed next week. Similar awards will be presented to leading rifle marksmen.

The best air student will receive an "air medal" given by the Air Force Association.

The best drilled sophomore will receive the Scabbard and Blade medal and have his name engraved on the Reserve Officers Association plaque.

Harry Cantlion and Tate Williams, representing Karak Temple of the Mystic Shrine, will present three medals to the best drilled freshmen. The first place winner will have his name engraved on the Kerak Temple plaque.

A "president's trophy" will go to the cadet with the best individual record for the season in ROTC rifle competition.

The "club members' trophy," provided annually by the National Rifle Association, will be awarded to a cadet who has distinguished himself by his individual record in competition and by helping to promote and organize competitions.

Students Wanted For Summer Work; Must Contact Dean

Summer job openings for students are already being filled with the dean of men and dean of women.

Jobs open for men students are posted on the bulletin board in the dean of men's office. Students desiring to work this summer, part time or full time, can find jobs of various types listed there. Among the jobs listed are telegraph operators and dispatchers, salesmen, housecleaning, yard work, service station attendant, typing and running an electric dishwasher.

11 Vie for Title of "Miss Nevada"

Coed Winner Chosen at Fashion Show To Enter National Competition

University of Nevada coeds have been selected to represent their sororities, halls and organizations in a contest for choosing a "Miss Nevada" to vie in the annual "Miss America" contest at Atlantic City, New Jersey, next September.

The list of contestants chosen are Gwen Byrd, junior student from Reno, representing PEMs, the physical education majors state's entry into the beauty pageant. "Convention and Trade Shows," a trade magazine with a circulation of 15,000, plans to use a photograph of the girls for its cover. This picture was taken yesterday under a miniature Reno arch at the entrance to the office of the Reno Chamber of Commerce in the State building. The girls were posed to that they filled the entire area enclosed by the arch.

The executive director of the "Miss America" contest visited President John O. Moseley during April requesting that a candidate to represent Nevada be chosen from the university. A university woman is preferred, it was explained, inasmuch as part of the "Miss America" awards are scholarships.

Lorraine Houghton, outgoing president of the Associated Women Students, is in charge of the group directing the selection of a local winner for the national contest. Kay Brennan is chairman of the fashion show, assisted by Norma Carruth. On the planning committee for the fashion show and queen selection are Sue Broadbent, newly elected president of AWS, Mary Lou Sewell, newly elected vice-president, and Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women.

Because Nevada is the last state in the union to become a participant in the contest, nationwide publicity in such leading magazines as "Look" and possibly "Life" will be given the

MILITARY SHOW TO BE VIEWED BY GOVERNOR

Governor Vail Pittman will be on campus on Thursday, May 19, to participate in the annual "Governor's Day" military review to be held in Mackay Stadium at 4 pm.

The governor will review the cadets and award a medal for "Proficiency in military training, observance of the rules of military courtesy, and intelligent attention to duty." This medal is made of Nevada silver and is presented annually by enactment of the state legislature.

Medals of gold, silver, and bronze will be awarded, respectively, to first, second, and third place winners in the drill competition which will be completed next week. Similar awards will be presented to leading rifle marksmen.

The best air student will receive an "air medal" given by the Air Force Association.

Reference Desk Being Installed For Library Aid

A reference desk, consisting of seven filing cabinets and two double rows of book shelves and a counter 18 by 20 feet has been added to the library. It was set up Wednesday afternoon in the main reading room at the left of the entrance.

With the addition of this equipment the library will be able to give complete reference information. The filing cabinets will contain unbound material such as pamphlets that have been unavailable.

James J. Hill, head librarian, said the service is one that the university has never been able to give before.

With two assistants working at the desk, he said, more order will be kept so the library can be kept quiet at all times.

It is planned at the present time to continue the reserved book room service if possible and also the circulation desk and card file room will be kept open.

The desk will be ready for use by the first of this next week.

University Singers Postpone Musical

GRATIFYING

In this year's primary election, 1179 students went to the polls and marked their ballots. This is an all-time record vote for the campus.

It is gratifying to know that so many students are taking an active interest in the ASUN. Perhaps the days when student body officers were put in office by a few voters are over.

Letters to Editor

Dear Jon:
During the past four years, the ASUN has lost over $7000 in its operations. This is a result of several factors. Prices for such things as printing, awards, dance bands, transportation, food and housing have gone up anywhere from 30 to a 100 per cent over what they were in 1939 when the student body card was fixed at $12.50.

Since that time a raise was instituted for 50 cents. This has proved inadequate.

Some adjustment should have been made two or three years ago, but this raise has been postponed to a point where the ASUN is virtually bankrupt.

There are a great many facets of this problem that cannot be aired except by an open forum and discussion. During the week prior to the voting on this question, an open forum will be held where this matter will be thoroughly discussed. Reserve your decision until you have heard both sides. This is your student body and your money. Go to the assembly, hear the facts, and decide for yourself.

Sincerely,
Rex Jemison, President
Associated Students of the University of Nev.

Artemisia's Golden Anniversary Edition Will Be Biggest in University's History

312 Page Volume Will Commemorate Diamond Anniversary of U of N

The golden anniversary of the yearbook, Artemisia, will commemorate the diamond anniversary of the University of Nevada. The book has gone through two wars, depression, fire and earthquake but lives on in ever growing proportions. "The biggest issue ever published in the history of the university," was announced by Bob Kent, business manager of the Artemisia. He said it would be distributed the last week in May.

The big, red-bound, 312 page volume contains pictures ranging from dances to football games and skiing on Mt. Rose. The theme for the book is the 75th anniversary of the university.

The increase in size is due to the great increase in advertising. Despite this, Kent said, "the book will be lucky to break even." However, he said complete figures are not yet ready for publication.

The cost of publishing each book is $8.50 and the price will be $5. The first Artemisia came out in 1899. It was blue, cloth bound volume which was highlighted by photographs and bits of history about the university. The most outstanding feature, however, for the present day observer is the odd dress of those campus men and women of that day. The coeds looked like Gibson girls and neither smoked cigarettes or painted their fingernails.

Secret Publication

The yearbook was published by the Independent Association which was a slightly subversive organization that held secret meetings in the basement of the Congregational Church. This secrecy was necessary because the board of regents had refused the student body permission to publish a newspaper or school book. Thanks to the brave ingenuity of some daring Independents, the book was born.

In 1901 the publication of the Artemisia was accepted by the university as a yearly project and the junior and senior class took over the job of getting the book assembled and out.

McCarran Was Senior

In this 1901 yearbook Senator Pat McCarran was one of the notable seniors. The publication also included a quite humorous poem written in honor of the belle of the college (unfortunately not named). It also included articles and pictures about the wondrous defeat of the Stanford girls' basketball team by the University of Nevada gals. In the back of the book Miss A. Motely of Virginia street advertised a complete line of everything pertaining to human hair goods.

In 1902 there were panels for the two local fraternities and three local sororities. The dramatics club was reported as having presented "Down in Dixie," a melodrama, at the McKessick's opera house. There was a full page illustration devoted to the short course in cookery under home economics.

The book continued to enlarge and become a traditional yearly publication. The year 1906 was to become a year to be marked by the great increase in size and importance of the book, but disaster struck. The Nevada Artemisia editors had sent the manuscript and illustrations to the Sunset Publishing Company in San Francisco, just in time to have them completely destroyed in the disastrous earthquake and resulting fire. All was lost.

The year 1917 produced an issue that was a touch of the mature book of today. It was a dignified publication with informal pictures of campus activities, along with beautiful campus scenes so familiar in the book now. Advertisements in the back were on the merits of the Ford, Jewett and Hupmobile.

The Artemisia of 1923 made another great advance, with many more pictures and panels of the new national fraternities and sororities which had merged from the old locals.

Through these 50 years the university was proud to display a masterpiece equal to any other school's publication in the United States.

Concert Presented By Musical Team

Robert Tate, assistant professor of music, and Mary Alleta Gray, pianist, presented a violin-piano concert Monday night in the auditorium of the Education building.

Playing as a team, in the first part of the concert, they included the very fast, the quiet, and the moderately fast phases of Mozart's Sonata in E minor.

Mrs. Gray played piano solos for the second part of the program. Included in the series of Chopin's works played were his "Etude in A minor," "Berceuse," and "Scherzo in B Minor." As an encore, Debussy's "Ministrel," depicting the composer's conception of a minstrel show, was played.

For the concluding part of the program, Tate played as violin solos, "Alt Wien," by Heifitz, and "Berceuse," by Tatevosian. As an encore he played Dvorak's "Slavonic Dance in E Minor."

Applauded back to the stage by the audience, Professor Tate and Mrs. Gray concluded the concert by playing again the opening selection.

Walker Elected New Prexy of Home Ec

Romona Walker is the new president of the Home Economic Club. The other officers are La Verne Crossen, vice-president; Darlene Stucki, secretary, and Anna Bee Wallace, treasurer.

The installation meeting will be held on May 26 at 6:30 pm. It will be a candlelight ceremony.

Student Prexies Gather on Hill For Convention

More than 40 high school student leaders of the state will gather at the University of Nevada this weekend for their annual convention.

Each high school in the state has been invited to send the student body president and one other student to this affair, at which student government problems are discussed.

An important matter for decision to come before the group is whether or not Nevada high schools should join the National Association of Student Councils. This question was raised at last year's meeting; delegates to this year's convention are expected to be prepared to vote on this issue, it was explained by Bill Ebert of Las Vegas, convention chairman.

The high school delegates will have an opportunity to become acquainted with the university, the faculty, and the undergraduates during their stay.

The program includes an assembly at either the Reno or Sparks high school, a swimming party and barbeque, a banquet at a Reno hotel, two lunches at sorority houses, and special entertainment planned by some members of the University of Nevada student body.

Pat Jones of McGill and Jane Ray of Caliente were appointed secretaries for the affair. Both of them served as secretaries of their high school student bodies.

INTER-SQUAD GAME TO END SPRING FOOTBALL MAY 22

Sunday, May 22, was named this week by Joe Sheeketski as the final day of spring football, and he's planning an open house inter-squad game in order to get some line on what to expect in 1949.

Coach Joe hasn't squared off the two squads yet but several teams have been working. At any rate both squads, no matter who lands on which team, offer over-all balance.

Although there is actually no first string, second string or what-not in the spring practice, several contingents are going through their paces and labeled only first line, second line, etc.

Working in the first line right now are Bob Corley, last year's No. 1 in the nation point-after-TD kicker, at center; Tom Reinhardt and Buster Tilton are at the tackle spots; and four guards are spelling one another, they are Fred Hopper, Jack Carmody, Frank Sanches and Gordon Surber. Jim Wilson and Jock Michienzi are ends.

Alva Tabor is ramrodding the first line backs at quarterback with Bill Osborne, and Paul Stimac, power runners in the tailback slots and the rambling Wally Graf at flanker.

Other linemen showing well and giving Sheeketski experienced depth are Carmel Caruso and Bill Zippman, centers; Jack Davis, John Gonda and Walt Tomasock at guards; Lawrence Haiston, Tony Aurelio, Floyd Hopper and George Waltenspiel at tackles.

At the end spots, which seems to be the only position showing a lack of experienced men, are the veteran Wilson and Michienzi, up from the Backfield standouts are John Subda, Ted Kondel at tailbacks; Ed Klosterman, flanker; Al Matteucci, Al Barham and Willard Elder and Myron, currently on the injury list. Ed Jesse, promising, frosh QB is presently suspended from school but is expected to pick up his eligibility during the summer session.

Varsity Racquet Crew Trips Aggies

Playing in top-flight form, the University of Nevada tennis team won a 6-3 match over the Cal Aggies last Saturday.

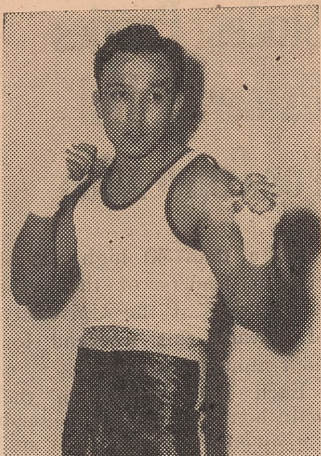

In the singles, Al Tabor (N) beat Jim Temple (Cal Aggies) 6-4, 6-2; Wally Graf (N) beat Jerry Strobridge (Cal Aggies) 4-6, 9-7, 6-4; Drake Delaney (N) beat Bill Rockwell (Cal) 7-5, 7-5; and Fred Nelson (N) beat Emil Schmidt (Cal) 8-6, 6-4.

Al Henderson (N) lost to Charles Hutchinson (Cal) 6-1, 6-0; and Ron Brubaker (N) lost to Paul Kustel (Cal Aggies) 3-6, 8-6, 6-2.

In the doubles matches, Henderson and Graf (N) beat Kustel and Strobridge (Cal Aggies) 6-4, 10-8; Delaney and Nelson (N) beat Rockwell and Schmidt (Cal Aggies) 6-1, 8-6; and Tabor and Brubaker (N) lost to Temple and Hutchinson (Cal Aggies) 7-9, 6-2, 6-2.

The games were played on the golf course courts.

Martin Rodriguez Wins Dick Taylor Annual Mitt Award

Martin Rodriguez, Nevada's outstanding varsity boxer, has been named winner of the annual Dick Taylor boxing award for 1949.

The 135 pound Rodriguez, who won the intermountain intercollegiate title this year, is the fourth Wolf Pack boxer to win the award.

Basis of the award are boxing ability, sportsmanship, courage and contribution to intercollegiate boxing.

Rodriguez's name will be inscribed on the Taylor plaque which is displayed in the gym trophy case.

PE Dept. Heads Elected Officers At Recent Meet

Prof. J. E. Martie, head of the physical education department at the University of Nevada, was elected president-elect of the southwest district conference, American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation last week in Phoenix, Ariz.

Professor Martie will begin his official duties in the spring of 1950 and will be ready to supervise the district conference when it is held in Reno in 1951.

Another University of Nevada faculty member, Miss Ruth Russell, head of the women's division of the physical education department, was named as the district vice-president-elect for physical education. She is one of three vice-presidents and will begin her duties this month.

Five states, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, California and Utah, are the members of the southwest district, and next year New Mexico will play host.

Last week's sessions featured speakers like Dudley DeGroot, well known football coach now with the University of West Virginia, and other members of the physical education, health and recreational field.

Sixteen, including students and teachers, attended from Nevada. In addition to Miss Russel and Dr. Martie they were Miss Margie Price, university instructor; Miss Mary G. Reese, Northside junior high school instructor; Miss Gloria Springer, Sparks, junior high school instructor;

Nevada Golfers Dump Favored California Aggies

Coming through with their third straight victory, the University of Nevada golf team downed the favored California Aggie stickmen by a team score of 6½ to 2½ last weekend.

After losing to the California team two weeks ago in the Woodland match, the Pack putters turned the tide into a runaway in last Saturday's duel meet here.

Low man for the meet was 1948 state amateur champion Wayne Adams with a 72, a par for the Washoe county course. He defeated the Aggies' No. 1 man, Ray Moos, 3-0.

Other results were Vilas (N) over McGillurary (C) 2½-½; Kosakowski (6) over McCune (C), 3-0; Sansic (N) over Lewis (A) 2½-½; Mayo (N) over Grave (A), 3-0, and Charleton (N) over Nevshutz (A), 2½-½.

Dorris Linsea, Shirley Hornbeck, Jackie Wilson, Nilda Cox, Irene Waterman, Carol Thomas, Cecilia Schindler, Jo Ann Barbash, Beth Miller and Terry Alauzet, women students, and Tom Collins and Ed Klosterman, representing the men's department.

TRACKSTERS WIND UP SEASON WITH 83-48 WIN OVER SF STATE

Robinson Ends Career With Double Win in Hurdles; Springer Clocked at 9.7 for Century; Wins 220

Taking points in every event and sweeping the discus, javelin, and high jump, the Nevada track team ended its 1949 campaign with an easy 83-48 win over San Francisco State at Mackay Stadium last Saturday afternoon.

Highlight of the meet was Charley Springer's 9.7 in the 100 yard dash. This was but one-tenth of a second off the Nevada record—Springer's best time of his career.

Hurdler Carl Robinson ending his track career, also did some fancy stepping in the high hurdles with a 15.4, which is only one-tenth of a second off his own record of 15.3. In the low hurdles it was Robinson again who broke the tape with a good time (considering the wind) of 25.3.

It was a clean sweep for the Pack in the high jump, with Jaeger, Gorman and Higgins finishing one, two, three. Jaeger's jump of six feet seven-eighth inch was good enough to take the event.

The big surprise of the day was Verne Woodbury's win in the two mile. His time of 12:59 was a minute slower than his practice laps. However, officials were mixed up as to whether he ran eight laps or nine.

Bigg Higgins missed his own record in the javelin by three feet when he won with a toss of 190 feet 10 1/2 inches.

"Punjab" Hairston came through in the shot put with a heave of 44 feet 8 inches, and Art Wigg, for the third straight meet, copped top honors in the discus with 137 feet 6 inches.

It was Marv Byars all the way in the quarter mile, turning in a good time of 50.8.

The only winners for San Francisco were Carroll in the pole vault with a neat 13 foot leap, Keropian in the broad jump with 21 feet 10 inches, Dale Sharp in the mile run in 4:54.5, and Roy Clappini with a 2:04.4 in the half mile.

The Nevada relay team of Hardy, Tate, Smith and Byars, took an early lead when the Stater's first lap man dropped the baton, and kept that lead to win with a time of 3 minutes 28.7 seconds.

Netters Avenge Early Season Loss Beating Sacramento

Mindful of an early season loss to Sacramento College at the California capitol, the University of Nevada tennis team went on the c-o-u-r-t Friday resolved to redeem itself. And that effort was successful; Nevada won, 6-3.

Setting the pace in the singles was Alva Tabor, No. 1 man for Nevada. He defeated Jerry McLaughlin of Sacramento in straight sets 6-1, 6-3, for an early lead in the contest. Next Wally Graf, number 2 man for Nevada, displayed top form in administering a sound drubbing to Sacramento's Elden Semas. Graf won easily with a score of 6-0, 6-0.

Not to be outdone by his teammates, Nevada's Fred Nelson won over Bill Bachman of Sacramento 6-0, 6-2.

Sacramento recovered to win the next three singles matches and tie the meet.

First Ron Brubaker of Nevada went down to defeat in a spirited three set match against Laverne Hobson, 8-6, 4-6, 6-2.

Alex Henderson took the first set of the fifth match for Nevada 8-6, and then he went on to close the next two sets and the match, 6-4, 6-4, to Clarence Wight of Sacramento.

In the last singles match, Nevada's Drake Delaney was beaten by Ray Roskelly of Sacramento, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Tabor and Brubaker teamed up in the doubles to beat McLaughlin and Wight of Sacramento, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

A determined Delaney-Nelson combination from Nevada dropped the first set to Sacramento's Roskelly-Bachman, 4-6, but finished strong, taking the last two sets, 6-1, 6-2, to win the meet for Nevada.

10 High Schools Send Delegates To PE Play Day

A play day with ten high schools participating was held at the university April 30, by PEM's and WRA.

Badminton and volley ball were played in the morning and Miss Ruth Russell and Gwen Byrd demonstrated the trampoline.

Lunch was served in the dining hall and entertainment was presented by Alice Arent who read a selection of poems, Georgia Ames and Natalie Curtis who sang a WRA sport song, Irene Fulton, Irene Waterman and Alice Arentz who demonstrated modern dance, and Cecelia Schindler who danced and was accompanied by Joyce Ficus on the drums. Pianist was Nelda Cox and Judy O'Shaughnessy was mistress of ceremonies.

An archery class under the direction of Miss Gloria Springer, Sparks high school physical education instructor, gave a demonstration following the luncheon and a golf demonstration was also given by Miss Marjorie Price's class.

Softball and tennis were played and a campus tour with refreshments served in the dance studio completed the afternoon.

It is planned by the majors and minors of physical education and the Women's Recrea-

Pack Registers 11-7 Link Wins

Wolf Pack golfers, showing improvement with each outing, turned the tables on visiting Sacramento College Friday afternoon winning a 11-7 decision.

Wayne Adams shot the individual best round of the day with a one over par 73 over the Washoe links. His opponent, Bill Davis, came in with a 75 for the second best round.

Results: Wayne Adams (N) def. Bill Davis (S) 2-1; Stan Kosakowski (N) def. Doc Cuffe (S) 2 1/2-1/2; Chas. Sanvic (N) and Dick Shaw (S) tied; Chas. Mayo (N) and Don Geiderger (S) tied; and Rocky Peralta (S) and Earl Charleston (N) also tied. The tie scores brought 1 1/2 points to each contestant.

University of Nevada Golfers seek another "revenge" victory Saturday morning when they meet the linksmen of San Francisco State at the Washoe county golf course.

The Wolf Pack met the Gators in their first match of the season at San Francisco and dropped a 13 1/2-7 1/2 decision.

Golf Team Meets SF State Here

University of Nevada golfers seek another "revenge" victory Saturday morning when they meet the linksmen of San Francisco State at the Washoe county golf course.

The Wolf Pack met the Gators in their first match of the season at San Francisco and dropped a 13 1/2-7 1/2 decision.

Dick Evans, Nevada's golf coach, stated that the bay area golfers would probably give the local three game winning streak a severe test as San Francisco State is the Far West conference champions.

Nevada has now won from Chico State 10-5, split with Sacramento College 7-11 and 13-8, divided another pair with Cal Aggies 6-12 and 20-7, and lost to St. Mary's 20 1/2-1/2 and San Francisco State 13 1/2-7 1/2.

Mackay Day, '49 Labeled 'Success'

Tri-Delts, ATO's SAE's, Theta Chi's Cop Honors During Two-Day Celebration

The 36th annual celebration of Mackay Day at the University of Nevada came to a successful close Saturday night at the Mackay Day ball held at the State building with Rita Mortara, the Esquire chosen queen of Mackay Day, presenting trophies to the Tri-Delt, ATO's, SAE's and Theta Chi's.

Mackay Day celebration activities began Friday morning on the university campus when the Theta Chi fraternity chalked up the winning lead of the annual interfraternity obstacle race. High point of the race was the beginning swim across Manzanita Lake led by a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The race was continued from the lake shore by competing sack racers with men of Theta Chi taking the lead.

Following the obstacle races, university students assembled in Mackay Stadium for the presentation of Mackay Day skits by the various fraternities. The winning skit was presented by Alpha Tau Omega. It depicted the types of characters assembled in the Nevada state assembly. News commentator Mark Bray interviewed a shepherd and his child, an Indian chief, and an intelligent plumber. Climax of the skit came when a curvaceous blond ATO led the men astray.

The Sigma Nus gave a life history of John Mackay's partner, Jim Farrar, portraying the rugged life of Virginia City. Members of Theta Chi showed how the typical freshman is welcomed to the university; the Lambda Chi's took the audience on a tour of deep and dark Africa; Phi Sigma Kappa entertained the audience with a seductive member of their fraternity, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, with the assistance of Jerry Wyness, entertained musically.

Open house at all the sororities highlighted Mackay Day activities Friday night. Dancing and refreshments were available at the houses to the holiday celebrators.

The traditional Mackay Day luncheon, held Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium, had as its attractions an introduction of the Mackay Day queen to the luncheon audience, a Mackay Day address given by Dr. William C. Miller, professor of English, and presentations of the different organizations' song teams.

Dr. Miller discussed the "American Way of Life," and pointed out the admirable democratic principles maintained at the University of Nevada. Members of the university upperclass committee were compared to the vigilantes of Vir-

The Delta Delta Delta song team won the cup for the best Mackay Day presentation. Songs carrying out a theme of various drinks were given. The medley began with "Cool Water" and concluded with "Cocktails for Two." Gamma Phi Beta presented songs with a smoke theme; Pi Beta Phi presented songs about the blues, and Kappa Alpha Theta sang star songs.

Final event of the Mackay Day celebration was the annual ball in which a square dance contest was held with groups from different campus organizations participating. The winning dance group was sponsored by the Aggie Club.

Mackay trophy for beards, work, and dance attendance was won by Theta Chi fraternity.
