'Get Acquainted' Celebration Features Assembly, Dance, Rally

By Bob Long

Hello on the Hill, the University of Nevada's traditional friendship festival, began yesterday with the distribution of name tags to students and continued this morning with an all student assembly in the gymnasium.

Colonel Gilbert E. Parker, president of the University of Nevada; Sue Broadbent, AWSUN president; Gene McKenna, Sagebrush editor; and Barbara Carter, Artemisia editor, were the speakers at this morning's program.

In addition, today's assembly featured several performances by talented students at the university. Leo O'Brien acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers.

To conclude the assembly, the new Nevada fight song, "Give 'em Hell," by Bill Buck, class of '49, was introduced to the student body. At eight o'clock this evening there will be a gigantic bonfire rally for the football team at Mackay Stadium before the Wolf Pack flies to Portland, Oregon, for their Sunday tilt with the Pilots of Portland University.

Paul "P. O." Reimer, ASUN president, said there will be a weiner roast at the rally with "cokes" selling at five cents apiece and hot dogs retailing at 15 cents apiece. "Hello on the Hill" will conclude tomorrow night with the annual Blue Key "get acquainted" dance at the university gymnasium from 9 pm 'til midnight. Art Harris and his orchestra will furnish the music, George Vuconovich, Blue Key dance chairman, said. Dance tickets will cost 60 cents per person.

This year marks the first time that "Hello on the Hill" and the Blue Key "get acquainted" dance have been held together, ASUN president Paul Reimer stated. On the Hello Week committee are Ted Lokke, chairman; Lou Eccles, Ted Short, Joan Rich, and Nilda Cox. George Vuconovich is in charge of the Blue Key "get acquainted" dance.

Debating Society Offers Busy Year To New Members

Students interested in debating or speech are urged to attend the first meeting of the debating group of the university which will meet Wednesday evening, September 28, at 7:45 pm at temporary building No. 22.

G. L. Richards, director of forensic activities, said that this year will be both a busy and profitable one with four major tournaments already planned.

The first major tournament will be the Western Speech meet at Stanford University November 21, 22 and 23. Special question to be discussed is: Resolved, that the United States should establish a Marshall plan for the Orient.

Plans for a practice tournament are still to be announced. In February a meet will be held at Linfield College, at McMinnville, Ore.

A Pi Kappa Delta province meet will be held in March at the College of Pacific at Stockton. The last major tournament planned is the Pacific Forensic League at the University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon, during the last week of March.

Calendar Committee To Decide Dates Of Social Functions

One of the most important campus events of the year takes place Tuesday, September 27, at 4 pm. The Calendar Committee, which decides the dates for all the semester's social events, will meet in the office of the dean of men.

Every fraternity, sorority, social organization, club and class that plans an all-campus social function will send representatives with predetermined dates for their events to the calendar group's meeting.

Dean of Women, Elaine Mobley, and Dean of Men, Dr. Robert S. Griffin, will send out the usual invitations to the long list of social chairmen. Both deans emphasized the importance of the meeting which will last about an hour.

Harold Hayes, who has been named to the post of assistant frosh football coach. Hayes played four years of varsity ball at Nevada as an end, but has used up his football eligibility. The appointment will last until Hayes completes his work at Nevada.

Hayes Appointed Assistant Frosh Football Coach

Harold Hayes, former four year letterman in both football and basketball at Nevada, was named assistant frosh football coach this week.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Joe Sheeketski, director of athletics.

Hayes, who will complete his work toward a degree in journalism this year, will assist head freshman coach Hugh Smithwick.

The new assistant will act as line coach for the frosh. A former end, Hayes is well versed in the Sheeketski system.

Well Versed

He has played two years in the Sheeketski system and prior to Sheeketski's arrival at Nevada two years ago, played two seasons under Jim Aiken, another master fundamentalist. Harold also learned a great deal about line play from Jake Lawlor, line coach of the Pack under both Aiken and Sheeketski.

Hayes completed his athletic eligibility at Nevada last year, winning Block N's in football and basketball. Hal, a rangy six-footer, was one of Stan Heath's favorite targets in the 1948 football campaign.

The new frosh coach calls his home Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. He is single.

Air ROTC Disbands Here June 30, 1950

The Air ROTC will be dropped from the military training program at the University of Nevada, June 30, 1950. Lt. Col. James C. Smece, professor of military science and tactics, announced this after a decision of the chiefs of staff, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force. They pronounced the maintenance of the Air and Infantry ROTC uneconomical.

Second year advanced aircraft maintenance engineering and second year advanced air force general administration will be open this school term for men who have successfully completed the prerequisite courses.

No basic students or beginning students desirous of getting a commission will be allowed to enter the last year of air ROTC.

Campus Newscast To Be New Feature

A weekly newscast, written, edited and produced by University of Nevada students will begin sometime this fall.

Broadcasting only the news of the University, the program will be the laboratory work of a Radio News Writing course under the direction of Keiste Janulis, assistant professor of journalism.

Degrees Given To Thirty-one Summer Students

Thirty-one students earned degrees during the 1949 summer session at the University of Nevada, the registrar's office announced this week.

Arts and science graduates were Julia Berna Baker, Woodrow W. Cook, Emery Jerome DeRushia, Robert Warren Gibson, Marilyn Hansen Griswold, Gordon Leslie Hawkins, Galen P. Hopkins, Noel William Johnson, Ida Leer, Alphonso Marie Liotard, Gerald Fred Lokke, John Jay Murphy, Samuel Maurice Osgood, Marvin E. Piccolo, Lois C. Post, William Richard Trahen.

Those earning bachelor of science degrees were Arthur James Bell, math; and Eli Evasovic, Raymond McGuire, Carl Maurice Robinson, Lola Hitchens Stewart, chemistry. Completing the course in business administration were Fred Alexander Joice and Robert Alfred Smith. Martha Trulove Goble finished the two-year normal course and Lyle O. McCartney, animal husbandry major in the college of agriculture, won his degree.

The engineering course was completed by Gordon Norris Boyer, Clark G. Dillon, William M. Geraghty, Kristian Tønning, civil engineering, and Robert Blanchard Jones, Tetsuo Nojimo, mining engineering.

Four Nevada Grads Enjoy Low Prices In LaOroya, Peru

While Nevada students worry about high prices and staggering rent, word comes from Joel Morris, 1949 graduate, that things are going very nicely for at least four Nevada graduates in La Oroya, Peru.

Morris and his wife have moved to Peru where he has been employed by the Cerro de Pasco Copper Corporation as a research metallurgical engineer. He is working under director of research, Ellis Gates, class of '37, and is also in contact with J. Miezener, class of '38, and Bob Steele, class of '49.

Butter, 8c

The Morris family seemed to be quite impressed by the low cost of living in their new community. Butter is selling at 8c a pound, steak can be obtained at 7c a pound, and oranges and bananas are bought for 1c each. Mixed drinks at the club are priced at 7c, haircuts cost 15c, and you can wear a tailored suit for $20. Houses rent for $10 a month, and servants can be employed for $5 a month. If you like to drive in your spare time, gasoline costs only 5c a gallon.

A wide variety of amusements are available, including bowling, pool, theater, golf, and as Joel puts it, "the best trout fishing in the world."

Campus to Honor Own 75th Birthday

First 7 Students Entered in 1874; Present Enrollment Estimated 1800

On October 12, the University of Nevada will be 75 years old as an operating institution.

On that day in 1874, the school opened its doors in Elko with seven students on hand to take up studies on a preparatory level under the direction of Principal D. R. Sessions.

Since that day three-quarters of a century ago, the only institution of higher learning in the state has grown in enrollment to nearly 1800 students.

A state university had been in the minds of the people long before actual operations began in 1874. The university was established by the state constitution which was adopted in 1864. At that time, only one other state provided for a university in its fundamental law.

The legislature of 1873 located the institution in Elko, but it was a year and a half before the school was ready to begin instruction. In 1885, the institution was moved to Reno, nearer the center of the state's population. In the spring of 1886, it was formally reopened on the Reno campus. In 1887 President LeRoy Brown, and a single faculty member, Miss Hannah K.

OOPS!

Scholarship averages for the sororities appearing in Monday's edition of the Brush were wrong. The story correctly said that the Tri-Deltas took first place again this year, with the Gamma Phi's second, Pi Phi's third, and Theta's in four place. However, the correct spring semester averages are: Delta Delta Delta, 2.651; Gamma Phi Beta, 2.501; Pi Beta Phi, 2.460; and Kappa Alpha Theta, 2.396.

Parking Regulations Are Now Enforced On Nevada Campus

Law enforcement for campus parking violations by car drivers are now in effect.

A plain-clothes traffic policeman employed by the university and deputized by State police will keep watch for violations by both students and faculty.

Regulations are in force weekdays from 7:30 am to 4:00 pm, and on Saturdays from 7:30 am to noon.

Student parking areas are definitely defined as: "Area north of sidewalk running east from Education building toward Mackay statue; area north of Hospital and the Old Gym; new parking area south of New Engineering building." All else is reserved for the staff and visitors to the campus.

At no time will there be parking in areas with red painted curbing, and no parking is allowed between the New Engineering building and the temporary classrooms on lower campus.

New students as well as any unregistered student with a car are advised to check in with the Comptroller's office at once to register their cars. After the car is registered, a decal-sticker will be provided the registrant for placement on the windshield of the car. Physically handicapped students will merit special consideration on decision of the Comptroller's office.

Punishment for violations by student drivers is listed as being one dollar for each citation. Possible suspension of a car from campus is the fine for too many violations.

American Legion Vice-Commandership Given to Martie

John Edward Martie, head of the physical education department, was honored recently by being elected first vice-commander of the American Legion for the western division.

"Doc" Martie won the nomination of the seat at the department convention held at Las Vegas August 10-13. From Las Vegas he went to Philadelphia and the national convention, where he was elected to his post. He will have jurisdiction over the western states, as well as Hawaii, Panama, Puerto Rico and Alaska.

Martie has been very prominent in Legion affairs having held many important offices in the state and the district.

Draft Exemptions Given to Members Of National Guard

Young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ will be exempt from the draft if they enlist and serve satisfactorily in the Reno unit of the Nevada National Guard, it was announced by Governor Vail Pittman.

Under the regulations of the selective service act of 1948, it is provided that the governor of any state may issue a proclamation to the effect that if the authorized strength of any organized unit of the National Guard cannot be maintained, then any person who enlists in the guard prior to attaining the age of 18½ shall be deferred from training and service under the Selective Service Act so long as that service is satisfactory.

Veterans are also eligible to enlist in the guard, even though the primary objective is to fill the vacancies and recruit the younger men. Veterans will be in demand, however, to help train the recruits and will have the opportunity to train with the latest equipment.

Both veterans and recruits receive a full day's pay at regular army rates for the two hours training period each week. In addition, the veteran will receive an additional five per cent for every three years of service, whether in the Army, Navy, or Marines.

Those men who are interested in joining may contact the Reno unit headquarters in the basement of the civic auditorium or attend one of the weekly meetings held there on Wednesday evening at 7 pm.

Artemisia Editor Reports Progress Despite Late Start

"This year's annual is coming along very well considering the handicap of the school's late start," stated Barbara Carter, editor of the Artemisia.

Although the dummy and cover are completed there is still a lot more work to be done on the book, she said. More ad chasers are needed, along with punctuality in getting pictures taken and proofs returned on time. There will be absolutely no opportunity to take pictures after the deadline.

Students Loans Referred to Deans

Applications for student loans must be submitted to the offices of Dean Mobley and Dean Griffin. Women wishing to obtain a loan must contact the Dean of Women's office where Miss Mobley has been appointed with the responsibility of preparing, investigating and making recommendations on all applications for loans.

Dean Griffin's office will handle loans to male students. Final approval will rest with the president's office.

Sagers President Asks for Tryees

Men interested in joining the Sagers, campus service organization, should contact Bill Jager, president, or Rod Smith, treasurer of the group.

Membership requirement is 15 hours work on campus which usually amounts to painting the goal posts on the football field, painting the yardline stripes, and putting up posters.

Sagers is a stepping stone to Blue Key.

Snack Bar Reopens; Hours Announced

Canasta addicts, bridge fans, and just plain hungry or thirsty students welcome the opening of the Snack Bar.

Open in the basement of Stewart Hall, the informal campus meeting place provides services from 7:30 am to 3:30 pm daily except Saturday and Sunday when it is closed.

Completely cleaned during the summer, the Snack Bar enters another semester undaunted.

Death Takes Nevada Physics Professor

Gilbert Bruce Blair passes Away On Eve of Thirty-first Year Here

The death of Gilbert Bruce Blair, associate professor of physics and astronomy, came suddenly Monday noon, on the eve of beginning of the fall semester at the University of Nevada.

Having just observed his 70th birthday the week before, September 13, Professor Blair had been a member of the university faculty for over 30 years.

Born in Blairsburg, Ia., he graduated from Tabor college in 1902 and attained a master's degree at Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas, in 1904. His beginning years of teaching were in several northern states and he joined the U. of N. faculty in 1919.

Closely associated with many of astronomy's recent discoveries and developments, Professor Blair related many of his own experiences in illustrating his lectures.

He was an authority on meteors and was leader and organizer of the Nevada Astronomical Society. He also edited an astronomical information service widely circulated in the United States and in foreign countries. In August, he took an active role in a meeting of 400 amateur astronomers in California. He was also active in church work and served as a choir leader.

Survivors include his widow, Rebecca T. Blair of Reno; a brother, J. Will Blair, Topeka, Kansas; two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Skeen, College Station, La., and Mrs. Marie Whitney, Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 pm at the Federated Church, the Rev. Arthur L. Rice officiating.

The body was accompanied to East Lawn in Sacramento for cremation, with arrangements by the Ross-Burke Company.

Saddle and Spurs Opens Memberhips

Opportunities for entering the University of Nevada Riding Club, Saddle and Spurs, will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday afternoon, 3:30 pm, in the women's division of the gym.

Girls interested in riding classes, which begin Wednesday, October 5, will attend this meeting. The course's fee is $12.50 and classes extend over a five week period. The Wednesday, Thursday, Friday classes require two days riding a week to complete the course.

Barsanti Announces Departure Times To St. Mary's Game

Al Barsanti, transportation manager for the chartered buses to the St. Mary's game, today announced the departure schedules.

Saturday, October 1, the buses leave at 10 am and 2 pm, and Sunday they leave at 7 am.

Arrangements were made by the Reno Boosters Club to provide cheaper transportation for the students and more and better support for the team.

Barsanti also announced that if any fraternity, sorority, or other campus organization, could provide a bus load, a special bus could be obtained for the group.

The bus will be manned by regular drivers and, as the buses are chartered, the drivers will stop for sandwiches and refreshments whenever the majority of their passengers request a stop.

A bus will be on the campus a week before the game, with a representative to arrange reservations for the game.

This transportation plan has the full approval of the dean of men and the dean of women, as the safest, most economical method to get to the game.

Four Scholarships Awarded U. of N.

Four $500 scholarships have been made available to the University of Nevada by the Standard Oil Company of California. The four, which are for the 1949-50 academic year, are designed to promote future American leadership in democracy.

The scholarships were presented this week, during a freshman assembly at the university, by O. B. Hays of Sacramento, assistant district manager of the oil company, to acting president, Col. Gilbert E. Parker, of the university.

The winners of the scholarships will be chosen by university officials, but the company has suggested that the prospective students be judged on the basis of potential future leadership. The only restriction made by the company was that the money be made available to both men and women in all courses of study, and without preference to race or creed.

Similar scholarships, 32 in all, have been presented to the university of Utah, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Idaho, California (two at Berkeley and two at Los Angeles), Alaska and Hawaii.

BLUE KEY MEN

One of the busiest organizations on campus this year is the Blue Key fraternity.

Even before classes began this semester, members were organizing their plans for assisting in the registration, putting over their annual get-together dance for students, and publishing the student directory.

And as if that weren't enough, just before Freshman orientation week Blue Key took on another big job, that of co-sponsoring the annual "Hello on the Hill" festival.

Blue Key, a national honorary, undergraduate service fraternity can well be proud of its Nevada chapter. Bob Vaughn, president of the local group, has done commendable work in all his undertakings. Vaughn has taken upon himself the additional task of homecoming chairman which about puts him in line for the title of "busiest man on campus".

Recently, Nevada's Blue Key chapter set up a new point system whereby every man on campus may acquire points toward membership in the service group from other campus positions, whether it be ASUN official or social office holder. The new system makes it possible for many men to take part in the organization's activities who previously did not have the time.

Blue Key men should be congratulated for their display of willingness to work for the betterment of the university. They are going far beyond their duties as a service organization.

Members of the service group should be set up as an example of what an "on the ball" outfit can accomplish if everyone cooperates and strives towards a goal.

REGISTRATION

Well, another R-day has come and gone.

Either we are finally getting accustomed to registration and its multitude of red tape (and we have been at it for over two years) or the administration has smoothed things out quite a bit. Maybe it's a combination of both, we are not sure.

At any rate, the general picture last Wednesday took on a brighter glow. Even though several complaints were still being heard about the R-day system, most of the students agreed that lines were shorter and dispositions were more pleasant.

One last comment concerning Wednesday's trek over the hardwood. Why can't something be done about the courses dropped by the administration at the last minute? Courses listed in the official class schedule should be retained unless there is good reason for last minute changes. Otherwise too much confusion and work for the already perplexed student results.

SNACK BAR

The snack bar, housed in the basement of Stewart Hall, is a NON-PROFIT student organization operating for the convenience of Nevadans.

It is NOT, contrary to rumors flying around, a "cut-throat" concession.

Every dollar of snack bar profit reverts back into materials and operating expenses.

Most of Nevada students do not realize that the snack bar is STUDENT-SPONSORED. It is entirely operated through the YMCA with their books audited by the Comptroller's office.

Just as you back your football team, you should also back your snack bar. The more business they do, the more facilities they can return.

AND IT MAY BE YOUR OWN!

After many attempts by student organizations to tackle the automobile situation on campus the towel was finally thrown in last Wednesday by the Administration.

In a bulletin issued by the President's office, we quote: "... although responsibility for regulating automobile traffic on campus has been delegated in the past to different student groups, it is still considered as resting primarily with the university administration. The enforcement of parking regulations will be the duty of the campus traffic policeman employed by the university and deputized by the State Police."

The bulletin went on to give credit to those student organizations that took a crack at the problem.

But why should it be necessary to employ a full-time campus policeman just to control parking?

The major share of the trouble on campus comes from the students, whether we like to admit it or not.

Restricted areas where the staff are allowed to park are NOT open to students. Yellow and red painted curbs mean space must be kept clear for use by fire equipment in case of an emergency or use by university trucks for pick ups and delivery.

Campusites must adhere to these regulations if we are to have any semblance of order on the "hill".

Parking, of course, isn't our only problem. Speeding over the narrow streets must be stopped immediately before we learn the hard way. The disaster of an accident with possible death involved is not so far removed that we must not think about the dangers.

Regulations set down have been devised for our own protection. Don't feel they were made for the "other fellow". Remember, an accident may cost a life, and it may be your OWN!

((Ed's note: A complete list of parking regulations appears elsewhere in this issue of the 'Brush))

Carol Lampe Returns to Campus To Resume Studies

"All the people wanted to know in Atlantic City was—WHERE'S YOUR COW?"

The speaker was Carol Lampe, Miss Nevada of 1949 who has just returned from the glamorous of all glamour events, the Miss America contest.

Obviously, Miss Lampe was referring to the numerous press releases that preceded her to the contest. Wire releases carried stories all over the country to the effect that Miss Lampe's prize steer would accompany her to the fabulous pulchritude event. One of the stories even had her feuding with Miss Montana over the particular merits of a horse and cow. It seems that Miss Montana did take a trick horse to the contest to display her equestrienne talents.

As a matter of fact, far from feuding with Miss Montana, Carol became very friendly with the lass from the grizzly country because they belonged to the same national sorority—Kappa Alpha Theta.

"Of all the contestants she was the only Theta," Miss Lampe said.

Same Age

Another interesting item turned up when it was discovered that Miss West Virginia and Carol were exactly the same age, born the same day and year.

Miss California who finished fifth in the contest was a next door neighbor to Carol in Santa Rosa and they were friends long before they ever met at the Boardwalk City.

As to the winner, Miss Arizona, Carol considered her to be a wonderful girl and one worthy of all the Miss America honors.

"I know that she'll live up to the title," the comely University of Nevada coed said.

Back to School

Now that the excitement is over and everything is pretty much back to normal again in her daily routine of life, Carol's going to concentrate on finishing her college education. She registered at the University of Nevada this week, where she is a junior.

Her social life has flown, so to speak, for during the contest, her "steady," Bill Morris, flew back to the contest to be with her for a few days prior to going to work in Long Island. Together they toured the Big Town being entertained at such famous night clubs as the El Morocco, the Copacabana, and the Pierre. They also took time out to see the new Broadway production, "Lend an Ear," and visited the Radio City Music Hall.

It's been a long, hectic summer for Carol, being feted at numerous luncheons, banquets, conventions, celebrations and finally the climactic Atlantic City beauty contest. But, in her own words:

"It's been fun and I'll never forget it!!"

WOMEN'S SWIMMING CLASS CANCELLED

The women's university swimming class will not be offered this year as there was an enrollment of only six women and the PE department asks for a minimum of 15. It will be offered again next semester.

With the beginning of the fall semester, Manzanita and Artemisia Halls have opened their doors to new and returning women students. Manzanita has reported a list of 91 residents, and Artemisia a list of 97.

Last Tuesday, a coke machine was installed in Manzanita, and plans are underway to get a new washing machine. Further improvements will be made in both halls when the associations hold their first meetings.

The waiting list for veteran apartments and trailers contains 128 names, it was announced by the office of the Dean of Men. Applications are still being accepted, however.

Seniority still makes the difference in priority, and is figured only by amount of time in the university. If two or more students are equal on this basis, then residents of Nevada are considered first. Applications are accepted only after the veteran has enrolled.

The housing units originally erected by the federal government, are now owned entirely by the University of Nevada. The trailers are the property of the government and are on land leased to the university by a private party.

Wolf Pack Varsity Travels To Meet Pilots Sunday

PACK TRACKS

By Len E. Crocker

With the first test of the 1949 Wolf Pack in the past, the Portland Pilots appear next on the scene. Only once before have the two teams met, with the Pilots having good cause to think they had run the ship onto a rock, coming out on the short end of a 51-6 score. That game was in 1947.

Sunday's game will be played in Multnomah Stadium, Portland. Multnomah Stadium has a seating capacity of 30,000. The Pilots wear the Purple and White to do battle with the Silver and Blue.

Battle it well may be, after the showing the Pack made in its 1949 ground attack debut against the Bearcats of Cincinnati. Forsaking the air route almost completely, the Pack ran up 548 yards from scrimmage on toe ground, compared with 119 yards for the Cats. By passing, the Pack added 100, while Cincy added 142.

Key to the powerful attack is the hard running of such backs as Bill Osborne, Johnny Subda and Ted Kondel. Osborne alone totalled 210 yards on the ground, carrying the ball 25 times for an average of just over eight yards per carry. He also scored three times. The "Touch-down Twins," Johnny Shbda and Ted Kondel, accounted for three more TD's.

Add the smooth ball handling of quarterback Ed Jesse, and the formula is pretty well all there, with one exception, the line play.

Linemen received practically no credit in the wire copy used for the game description. Since the radio broadcast and the story in the Sagebrush were both done from this same copy, it was necessary to credit only the backfield men who played. The Brush regrets this shortage of information, but can do nothing about it, except to promise better coverage when the team plays close enough to home so that a representative of the paper may witness the game.

Let's take a closer look at the Pilots. Last year they weathered a rough time, winning but two games on a schedule of eight. Falling prey to the Portland crew were Montana State (7-0), and Pepperdine (20-0). The Bulldogs of Fresno State battled to a 6-all tie.

Causes of sorrow in the Pilots' home port were Willamette (9-6), Oregon State (32-6), College of Pacific (61-15), St. Mary's (19-0), and the Vandals of Idaho (28-0).

Hopes for this season are based on the new head coach of the Oregon institution, Harry Wright. Wright, his backfield coach Floyd Simmons, and line coach Neil

Bill Osborne, hard-running halfback, who led the scoring for the Wolf Pack in the Cincinnati game last week. Osborne scored three of the Pack TD's, in addition to running up 210 yards from scrimmage in 25 times carrying the ball, for an average of eight yards per carry. "Ozzie" has been billed as the hardest running back to play at Nevada since the days of Marion Motley.

Sorority Silence Terminates Today

The period of silence for rushees and sorority members began last Friday, the sixteenth at midnight, and is scheduled to end today.

A compulsory meeting was held last evening, in the education auditorium, for all rushees. This afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:30, an "observation tea" was given, with all campus women invited to attend.

Darrel Durham, secretary to the Panhellenic association, announced that rushing would be officially underway today. Miss Durham explained that the Panhellenic group had decided to cut short the period of silence, due to the proximity of the St. Mary's-University of Nevada game in San Francisco and the beginning of rushing.

Who's "Willie the Wolf"?

Green, are all former gridders at Notre Dame. In three years as head coach of Aquinas Institute of Rochester, N. Y., Wright left a record of 18 wins, three losses, and two ties. That's the team we meet Sunday.

Pilots Preparing For Mighty UN Ground Attack

Storm warnings are flying in Portland as the University of Nevada Wolf Pack prepares to journey this weekend to that city to take on the Purple and White in Multnomah Civic Stadium.

Late news releases from the Pilots home port are warning of the hard running tactics of the Nevada eleven, Bill Osborne in particular. Head coach Harry Wright was pleased, reports say, with the 32-0 win over Central Washington in the Portland opener, but has warned his team that they will have to be in top form to stop the Nevada running attack.

The Pilots sustained but one loss in their first outing, that of fullback Jim Connors. Connors was bothered in spring practice by a bad knee, and was carried from the field last week after a particularly hard tackle. He is expected to be out for the season.

Nevada, meanwhile, has injuries of its own. Injured in last week's opener against the Cincinnati Bearcats were flanker Wally Graf and linemen Frank Sanches, Fred Leon, Buster Tilton, Jack Carmody and Bob Corley.

Graf will make the Portland trip, according to head coach Joe Sheeketski, but it is doubtful that he will play. Sanches, Leon, Tilton, Carmody and Corley are all expected to be ready for play in this week's game.

Nevada's new style of attack, and its advantages, were graphically demonstrated last week. Gone, apparently for some time, are the passes that filled the air last year from the arms of Stan Heath and Alva Tabor. In their places is a smooth-functioning ground game.

Outstanding was the hard running of backs Bill Osborne, Johnny Subda, Ted Kondel and several others. Central cog in this machine

BACK THE PACK

Here's your chance to show the team that you're behind them 100 per cent, by sending them away with your good wishes when they leave for the game at Portland.

The time is 8 am tomorrow. The place is Hubbard Field. The event is the departure of the football team for Portland for Sunday's game. Back the Pack.

is Quarterback Ed Jesse, whose smooth ball handling make possible the gains that added up to 548 yards from scrimmage on the ground. An additional 100 yards was added through passes, but this amount was small, indeed, in comparison to last year's game.

Coach Sheeketski has said that the team played a good game against Cincinnati, adding that perhaps "the most spectacular part of their play was the hard, vicious running of the backs."

Whatever the outcome, both the Wolf Pack and the Pilots are preparing for a rough contest, and only time will tell whose preparations are the most complete.

Watch for "Willie."

New GI Bill Plan Calls for Selection Of Course, School

Certificates of eligibility issued to World War II veterans planning to train under the GI bill from now on will include (1) the name of the course a veteran wants to take and (2) the name of the approved school at which he wants to pursue the course, Veterans Administration said today.

The additional information on certificates of eligibility, VA explained, will aid VA in its efforts to help veterans get training that will be of direct use to their readjustment to civilian life, rather than seek training that might serve no other than recreational or avocational purpose.

Also, VA added, a veteran asked to select a school and course before he even obtains a certificate would be more apt to give serious thought to his educational objectives and to the institution in which he wishes to pursue those objectives.

Public Law 266, passed August 24 of this year, prohibits veterans from taking GI bill courses for avocational or recreational purposes, or courses in institutions not in existence for at least one year. The new type certificates have become necessary in order to screen applications had to prevent veterans from taking courses at government expense which have been prohibited by law.

Veterans who had certificates of eligibility issued before September 1, 1948, have been urged repeatedly by VA to exchange them for certificates to bring identifying "C" or claims numbers. Those few veterans who still have the old certificates should surrender them for the new type before commencing a course of training.

Veterans who have never had a course of training and now have unused certificates of eligibility issued after September 1, 1948, may use them as they are until March 1, 1950. They need not be exchanged for new certificates, but after March 1, 1950, they will not be valid.

Supplemental certificates of eligibility issued before September 12, 1949, to veterans desiring to change courses or schools, may be used for enrollment in current fall terms only until November 1, VA said.

After November 1, and until March 1, 1950, the supplemental certificates no longer will be valid—with a single exception.

That exception is a supplemental certificate obtained by a veteran for the purpose of changing his school, but not his course, without loss of credit.

After March 1, 1950, all outstanding supplemental certificates of eligibility will be void.

To obtain for the first time a certificate of eligibility, a veteran applies at any VA office. He should bring with him a photostatic or certified true copy of his discharge papers.

After his application is processed and found to be in order, he will receive the new type certificate of eligibility which he may use only for the course and school listed.

SEAT RESERVATIONS

Only three days remain for making seat reservations for the Nevada-St. Mary's football game in San Francisco.

Monday, Sept. 26, has been set as the deadline for applications, and those not turned in by that date will not be honored.

Only those students whose names appear on the Graduate Manager's list will be allowed in the reserved section prior to game time. Students who do not apply for a reserved seat can still gain free admittance to the Kezar stadium but will not be able to sit in the reserved section.

Married students can purchase tickets for their wives or husbands at the regular $2.50 rate and they will be allowed to sit in the student section. Due to action by the Board of Athletic Control, no "special" student body cards will be issued to wives or husbands of students.

Important Meeting Set for Rifle Club

The University Rifle Club will hold its first meeting of the fall semester on next Wednesday afternoon, it has been announced by Tom Macaulay, Rifle Club president.

The meeting will be held at 4:00 pm on the rifle range in the basement of the old gym. It was pointed out that this meeting will be exceptionally important this year. The club will be operating under a new arrangement which must be explained to the members, and several of the officers have not returned to school and the vacancies must be filled.

In addition to the regular business of the club, the instruction schedules for the new members will be set up. For this reason it is important to have all new members attend the meeting. All current and past members are asked to attend, and any students desiring further information about the club are invited to the meeting.

NEW MEN'S DORMS NAMED HARTMAN HALLS

The new men's dormitories, north of the stadium and next to Clark Field, will be known as "Hartman Halls," it was learned from the president's office this week.
