McKissick Named For Trip to East

Howard Frank (Harry) McKissick, Jr., senior Nevada student from Reno, has been invited by the National Association of Manufacturers to attend the Congress of American Industry in New York City on December 7, 8, and 9. McKissick was recommended by the university to the association and was selected along with 48 others, one from each state and the District of Columbia, to attend the congress.

McKissick will go to New York, expenses free. Transportation to New York City and return, and all other expenses en route to and in New York, will be paid by the association.

Following the three-day meeting, each student will be given the opportunity of submitting an essay in appraisal of the convention, in order that he may express his reactions to the proceedings. These essays will be judged by a committee of educators and industrialists, and prizes of $1000, $500, $250, and two of $50 will be awarded for the six best essays submitted.

The congress, now in its 54th year, annually attracts some 3000 outstanding businessmen and industrialists and serves to focus attention on national and world problems.

Refrigerator Retires After Twenty Years; New One Installed

Finally, after 20 years of service, the run down, leaky refrigerator in the chemistry department has been replaced by a new one.

The new refrigerator, used in organic chemistry, is necessary for storing highly volatile chemicals and for ice-making.

The refrigerator was installed Saturday. The old one leaked water and chemicals constantly and was ready for the scrap pile, says Dr. Robert Morris, assistant professor of chemistry.

News Class 'Covers' Local Murder Trial

The murder trial of Mark J. Donnelly, alleged killer of Walter J. Hempel, Lake Tahoe real estate dealer, was covered in its opening session recently by 14 students of the University of Nevada. They were members of Professor A. L. Higginbotham's course in journalism, "Reporting of Public Affairs." This is one of a number of assignments of this type the class must cover in the course of the semester taking in most branches of civic, county and state government. Donnelly is accused of shooting

Hempel June 17, when he was supposed to have lured the latter to a remote spot on the pretext of being an interested buyer.

Learn how YOU can become an Officer in the U. S. Air Force

AN AIR FORCE INTERVIEWING TEAM WILL BE HERE TO GIVE YOU FULL DETAILS

NOVEMBER 9 & 10
9 to 4:30
Rm. 101, New Gymnasium

Here's your opportunity to qualify for Aviation Cadet training. To be eligible, you must be single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college and with high physical and moral qualifications.

Find out about the academic, military and flying training you'll get as an Aviation Cadet—either for pilot or navigator. If qualified, your papers will be processed so you can begin training after you finish college.

Learn about the important career opportunities open to you as an officer . . . after you have won your wings as pilot or navigator . . . and received a commission as second lieutenant in the Air Force!

...NON-FLYING CAREERS, TOO!

Never before in peacetime has there been such an opportunity for college-trained men and women to obtain commissions in the U. S. Air Force. If you are interested in a non-flying career in aviation, ask for information about Officer Candidate School.

Alpha Tau Omega Entry Wins Honors

University of Nevada floats were awarded prizes at Carson City during the annual Admission Day celebration Monday. First prize went to Alpha Tau Omega. Pi Beta won second, and honorable mentions were given to Sigma Nu and Lambda Chi Alpha.

The floats from the "hill" were the same ones that were shown in the Homecoming parade.

Air Force Team Interviews Men

Interviews will be given on the campus today to young men and women interested in a career as an officer in the United States Air Force.

An Air Force team composed of 1st Lts. D. E. Nelson and R. H. Hutchins, established headquarters at room 101 of the new gymnasium where they will explain career opportunities, assist those interested in filling out application forms, and give qualifying examinations to those seeking aviation cadet pilot or navigator training.

Students who meet the qualifications will have the opportunity to begin the processing procedure so they will be ready to start training as soon as they finish college, it was explained.

Qualified young men have opportunities to train as pilots, navigators, or non-flying duties to prepare them for non-flying junior executive duties in administrative and technical fields. They will go through officer's candidate school to prepare them for these various non-flying duties. This field is also open to qualified young women.

The aviation cadet pilot training program trains young men to fly the new postwar types of aircraft. Graduates of the one year course, which combines flying academic, and military training, receive reserve commissions as second lieutenants and will be assigned as cadet pilots to active duty with the Air Force.

The outstanding graduates will receive regular commissions while the rest that receive reserve commissions will be allowed to compete for a regular commission during their three year term of active duty.

Students who fail to complete any of the Air Force training programs will be returned to civilian life, it was explained.

HARRY FROST, Manager

Major Ed Wall, Harvard, '40 -Flying Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Newark, N. J., he moved to Boston at an early age, graduated from the public Latin high school in 1936, entered Harvard the same year, where he majored in economics and government.

"Active on the campus" — he played football, earned his letter on the boxing team. He worked part-time in a variety of jobs from bouncer to baby sitter, received his AB degree in 1940.

He enrolled in Harvard Law School, left at the beginning of the war to become an Aviation Cadet. In December, 1942, he won his pilot's wings, received a Reserve commission as Second Lieutenant.

Assigned to anti-sub patrol duty, he flew B-25's and B-17's before going overseas in 1944, where he flew 30 missions as a B-24 pilot. Shot down over Germany, he was a prisoner of war for 3 months,

Back in the States with his English wife, he earned his Regular commission. Then he returned to Harvard under the Air Force college training program, receiving his LLB degree in 1949.

Now, he is confident about his future and security. As a pilot and legal officer of Bolling Air Force Base, D. C., Major Ed Wall is a typical U. S. Air Force flying executive . . . with a challenging career.

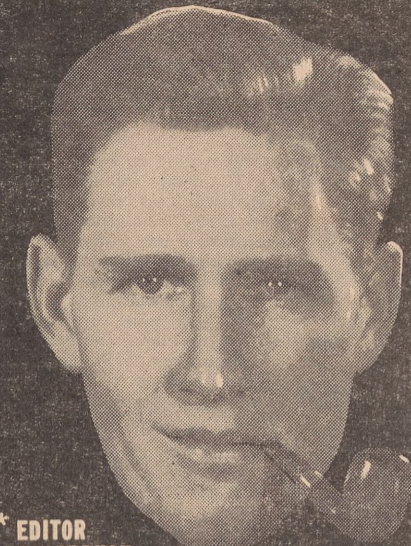

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 28½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training as an Aviation Cadet. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train at Officer Candidate School for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. DEAN GRIFFIN PRESENTS SUGGESTIONS TO STUDENT SENATE

Solons Discuss Wolves' Frolic; New Campus Organization Accepted

Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin presented some suggestions from the administration concerning the Wolves Frolic at the regular meeting of the senate this week.

Invited to speak to the senate, Dean Griffin said that all future

Wolves Frolics would be handled in a more organized way, and that the director would be someone locally connected with the students, instead of an outsider. He commented on a list of suggestions that he felt would remedy the situation.

The senate will add some of its own ideas, revise the list from the administration, and make it a law within the very near future. Though no penalties for violation of these rules has yet been considered, it is probable that any organization which infringes on them will automatically be dropped from the activity.

The proposed legislation suggested by freshman class manager Proctor Hug, concerning the tug-of-war, was not discussed in the senate. It has been referred to the executive committee, and will be considered in the next meeting.

The senate also accepted a new club on the campus, the Banyan Club, a religious organization. Paul Reimer, president of the student

Prof. Tate Recovers From Sudden Attack

After being confined to the Washoe County Medical Center for a week, Professor Robert Z. Tate, assistant professor of music, is again at work at the university.

Professor Tate said that he "didn't know exactly what happened, and that the doctors apparently didn't either."

"It is most likely that I threw a vertebra out of place," he added. The accident occurred Monday, October 24, while Professor Tate was working on some property on Hillcrest drive. He suddenly became paralyzed from the waist down and was confined to bed for more than a week.

"I guess it is just old age," he said. "I'm over the hill."

Other than missing a few practices, the band carried on in Tate's absence without a break in its scheduled activities.

RALLY TONIGHT

Rally chairman Jerry Wyness said today that there will be a meeting tonight of all the students at the new gymnasium to see the team off for the Dayton game.

Transportation will be provided and the rooters will accompany the team to the airport where a sendoff will be held. The band will provide music prior to take-off time.

All students who have cars are requested to bring them but there will be ample room for all rooters.

"Let's all get out Friday night and give the team a big sendoff," said Wyness.

Frost Is Honored By Finance Board

In recognition for his ten years of outstanding work as chairman of the Athletic Board of Control, Harry Frost was presented with a watch by Gene Mastroianni, graduate manager, at the Homecoming football game.

The watch symbolizes the appreciation of the ASUN, athletic board, and Nevada alumni for Mr. Frost's many years of service, not only on the board, but also to the school itself. Mr. Frost has done extensive work for the university through the Reno Printing Company, and contributed much of his time to school activities.

Mr. Frost has been the one alumni to be on the athletic board since its organization 10 years ago. He graduated from Nevada in the class of 1927 and has been active in university circles ever since.

body, read the by-laws and charter of the Banyan Club.

A special meeting of the senate will be called sometime next week, when it will meet with the administrative council to formulate some concrete action concern student body activities.

CHEMISTRY MEETING

Ted Lusebrink, president of the newly reorganized Chemistry Club, announced today that a short business meeting will be held Tuesday, November 8, at 7 pm, in room 104 of the Mackay Science Hall.

Refreshments will be served and a skit will be provided for entertainment.

Lusebrink also announced that new members will be initiated at the end of November, and that older members will assist the new members with their chemistry courses an hour each day.
