UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, RENO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1949

SUMMER TRIPS BY HILL FACULTY TOOK MEMBERS OVER COUNTRY

Members of the University of Nevada faculty attended many professional meetings in various parts of the country during the past summer.

At the Modern Language Association of America national meeting at Palo Alto, the university was represented by Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, Dr. Charlton G. Laird, Ferdinand Helm, Dr. Robert A. Hume, Maxwell D. Edwards and James Dickinson of the department of English; and John R. Gottardi, Dr. C. F. W. Melz, Lawton B. Kline and Dr. Francis C. Murgotten of the department of foreign languages.

Prof. Laird was elected national chairman for the Modern Language Association section of current English for the year 1949-50. He also is editor in chief of a cooperative bibliographical project, "A Guide to Comparative Literature."

Prof. Hume and Prof. Laird also represented the University of Nevada at a meeting of scholars from universities in the mountain area and discussed plans for cooperative search in the humanities.

Members of the Nevada English group participated in special meetings of the Modern Humanities Research Association, the Medieval Academy of America, and the National Council of the Teachers of English.

Dr. Ralph A. Irwin and Paul W. Brewer, of the department of psychology, attended the national meeting of the American Psychological Association in Denver from September 4 to 10.

At the general meeting of the American Institution of Electrical Engineers at Swampscott, Mass., in June was Irving J. Sandorf of the department of electrical engineering. He also presided at the Pacific meeting of counselors of that group in San Francisco in August. He is chairman of student activities for the Pacific coast.

Prof. Sandorf was guest of Dumont Corporation in New York City and Clifton, N. J., and of General Electric Company in Syracuse, N. Y., last summer.

W. D. Billings and Frank Richardson, of the department of biology, attended the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting in Vancouver in June.

Dr. Billings gave a paper on "Water as a Factor in Plant Distribution," while Dr. Richardson offered a paper on "Breeding Cycles in Hawaiian Birds." Two years ago Dr. Richardson taught at the University of Hawaii.

As guest of the Army Air Force, acting president Gilbert E. Parker and Dean Stanley G. Palmer inspected the Air ROTC units at Hamilton Field and at Lowry Field. Reviews, demonstrations, inspection tours, and conferences were included in the visits to these field bases.

E. Maurice Beesley, of the department of mathematics, attended the meeting of the American Mathematical Society at Stanford University.

Attending the annual gathering of the American Home Economics Association in San Francisco was Miss Alice B. Marsh, of the department of home economics. In October she attended the meeting of the American Dietetics Association in Denver. She was also a delegate to the western region Future Homemakers which met in Santa Barbara.

Francis E. Bagley, lecturer in economics, business, and sociology, attended meetings of the California Conference of Social Work, Nevada Welfare conference, Western Probation and Parole conference in Boise, and Western Conference of the American Public Welfare Association. He was elected regional chairman of the American Public Welfare Association.

Eldon Wittwer, of the college of agriculture, attended the annual meetings of the National Form of Industry, Agriculture, and Labor, of the American Farm Economics Association, and of the Western Farm Economics Association.

At Pullman, Washington, attending the Western States Extension Conference for directors and supervisors in July, were C. W. Creel, of the college of agriculture, and Thomas E. Buckman, assistant director for county agents of the Agricultural Extension division. Both were on the program.

Reno Skier Installs Tows at Sand Dunes

Warrent Hart, well-known skier from Reno, will install his rope tows on the Sand Dunes ski area this weekend if the Mt. Rose road is open to traffic.

At present the road is closed, but highway crews are expected to open it if possible.

Soloists Secured For 'Messiah' Production Here

"An unusually fine group of soloists" have been secured for the Reno presentation of the Handel oratorio, the "Messiah," according to Professor Theodore Post, director of the "Messiah." Heading the list is Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, soprano, who is already well-known in Reno, and who has had important roles in opera and on the concert stage in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Joe Battaglia, who sang the tenor recitatives and arias last year, will be heard again this year. He is a Reno favorite and has been invited to sing this year in the Salt Lake City tabernacle.

The baritone solos will be sung by Manfred Hardesty, who also sang them last year. He is a member of the Lions' quartet. Dr. Loring Williams will sing the bass aria, "The People That Walked in Darkness," and he is a soloist at the Methodist Church in Reno.

The contralto solos will be divided between Mrs. Dorothy McLeod, Reno soloist, and Miss Nona Lee Tuttle, formerly of Reno, now of San Francisco and a recent graduate of this university. Both have been heard in the Reno presentation in years past. Miss Tuttle is at present a member of the San Francisco Municipal Chorus with which she has done some solo work.

About 100 persons are now rehearsing the choruses, and indications are that there will be many more, including a group from Carson City and singers from several other nearby communities, said Professor Post.

Rehearsals are held in the Education building each Tuesday at 7:30 pm and each Sunday afternoon at 3.

Gamma Phi Beta Celebrates 75th Founder's Day

Elinore McCray, Margy McKnight, Jean Nash, Marlene Nyberg, Dawn Pershall, Elaine Powell, Ida Bess Sanderson, Laura Sauer, Mary Lou Sewell, Norma Walsh, Pat Welty, Jackie Wilson, Suzanne Winer, Barbara Young, Bobbie Barrot, Peggy Bell, Maud Kathryn Carl, Blanche Casazza, Katherine Claudianous, Betty Christahi, Joan Foster.

Carpenter Speaks To Ely Rotarians

J. A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines and the State Bureau of Mines, attended a mine hearing at Ely, Nevada, November 2.

The hearing was called by Congressman Baring to discuss mining conditions of the district.

While in Ely Professor Carpenter spoke at a Rotary Club meeting. He told the story of the last spike driven into the railroad which was built from Cobro to Ely. The original copper spike was exhibited by the professor.

Coach Joe Sheeketski points to tonight's game in Los Angeles with the Lions of Loyola, as he holds a conference with Nevada captain Fred Leon. The rugged tackle is expected to play a big part in the line work in tonight's scrap.

EE Students Make Bay Area Trip

Twenty senior electrical engineers were conducted on a grand tour of several points of interest in San Francisco and Oakland last Friday and Saturday.

Friday afternoon, 20 students were conducted through the General Electric plant in Oakland by Curtis Thomas, a graduate from the University of Nevada.

Following the inspection of the G.E. plant, they looked over station P, one of the largest and most modern steam electricity generating plants in the country.

Saturday morning, they inspected station KGO television in time to get in on the Santa Clara-San Francisco University football game. The station was covering the game by television at that time.

Chemistry Club Outlines Plans For School Year

Plans for activities were made at the first meeting of the University of Nevada Chemistry Club Tuesday in the Mackay Science building. Ted Lusebrink presided.

New professors in chemistry, Jack C. Henry, Jerome H. Seim, were introduced to the club members.

Club activities will include socials, lectures, tours, and participation in regional conventions of the national organization, the Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society. Free tutoring in lower division chemistry courses is planned by the higher division students.

A skit satirizing the chemistry instructors was presented by the program committee. Refreshments were served by Joe Moore and Ted Lusebrink.

Membership is open to chemistry majors as well as to other interested students. Advisor for the Club is Dr. R. J. Morrison.

REPRESENTING THE WEST

Representing 11 western states in the finals of the "All-American Twin" contest are Eleanor and Jeanne Fulstone, University of Nevada juniors. The girls, members of Kappa Alpha Theta, are planning teaching careers following their graduation. Sagebrush readers are urged to fill out the ballot found in this issue and forward the vote to either the Sagebrush office or the contest headquarters.

Tug-of-War Oked By ASUN Senate In Special Meet

By MARY LOU BURG

In a special senate meeting this week the freshman-sophomore tug of war amendment was approved. The senate stipulated that this event is to be held within two weeks of each mid-term of the fall semester. If the freshmen win the tug of war, all men and women of first semester standing will be excused from wearing dinks, ribbons and carrying the freshman bibles. Respective class managers will be responsible for the eligibility lists.

Tom Godby, Theta Chi representative, read a report from the investigating committee which stated that two organizations are not active on the campus anymore. The senate therefore revoked the charters of the Camera Club and Zeta Phi Zeta, a social organization. Several other organizations in question are being investigated.

A formal list of all infractions of future Wolves Frolics rules will be released from the ASUN president's office soon. A review panel, consisting of representatives of the student body, will be formed to review all skits before they will be allowed to be presented.

Nevada's Four Engineer Depts. Now Recognized

For the first time in the history of the University of Nevada, all four of the engineering departments have been fully recognized by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development. This announcement came today from the president's office.

As a result of this recognition, the graduating engineers from this university are eligible to take the Professional Engineers examination for classification of Engineers in Training, and insures the continuance of a branch of each of the National Engineering societies on the Nevada campus.

The mining and electrical departments were first accredited in 1937, and mechanical department in 1939. Due to staff depletion during the war years and the prolonged completion of the new engineering building, the civil engineering department was not recognized until the spring of this year.

The recognitions from this engineering society last for only two years when all the departments will once again be checked for equipment, facilities and teaching.

Wolves' Frolic Bond Cannot Be Required Says Finance Board

The finance control board, in its regular monthly meeting, voted not to require a bonding of the Wolves Frolic participants in any future performances. The idea had been advanced by the faculty as a means of preventing repetition of this year's accident.

The Blue Key profits on the Hello on the Hill dance were turned back to the ASUN in order that the dance may show a profit.

A debate team budget of $540 was approved unanimously by the board.

P. O. Reimer announced that the frosh bibles will show a profit this school year, due to forced sales by the upperclass committee. So far 360 have been sold.

Graduate Manager Gene Mastrianni stated that the ASUN should show a good bank balance by the first of the year.

Dr. Yeagle Named To Infirmary Post

The ailments of university students will be cared for by Dr. Rowland Yeagle who is temporarily taking the place of Dr. Q. E. Fortier, regular physician at the campus infirmary.

Dr. Fortier, who has been gone a month on personal business in Pioche, Nevada, is expected back on duty near the end of this month said Mary Rotter, head nurse at the infirmary.

Fulstone Girls In 'Twin' Contest

Student Body Urged to Cast Votes To Make Jeanne and Eleanor Winners

Eleanor and Jeanne Fulstone, 20-year-old University of Nevada students, have been selected as one of the six loveliest sets of identical twins in the United States. The selection was made by a panel of judges this week.

Readers of the Sagebrush are asked to cast their votes to elect them as the loveliest set in the nation by filling out the ballot in this issue immediately.

Dr. Paul H. Jensen, assistant professor of the school of education, who is heading the university sponsored trip to Europe next summer.

FACULTY TO HEAR NOTED WRITER

Erwin G. Morrison, prominent writer and public relations man, will speak to the Nevada chapter of the American Association of University Professors at 7:30 pm Wednesday in the basement of Artemisia Hall.

Topic of the speech will be "The Public Relations of the University."

During the Bikini atom bomb tests, Morrison was attached to Admiral Blandy's staff as a public relations man. He has also done public relations work for newspapers, movies, radio and magazines.

As an author for Doubleday and Company, Morrison has had several books published and more are under negotiations. The most recent of his books are "Here's How in Sports," "Here's How in Fishing," and "Here's How in Golf."

Morrison was a staff cartoonist and technical sports writer for 10 years on the San Francisco Chronicle. At present, he is a cartoonist for the Register and Tribune Syndicate.

AMERICAN LEGION 'OUT FOR BLOOD'

A drive for blood donations by the students of the University of Nevada will begin next week. The blood will go to the Veterans Hospital because of the immediate need of blood of all types to carry on its work of medical aid to veterans and their families. The drive is sponsored by the University of Nevada Memorial Post of the American Legion.

For further information concerning blood donations students should contact Lee DeLauer at the Sigma Nu house.

Prof. Scott Honored By Hill Aggie Club

Professor Verner E. Scott, retired director of the college of agriculture, was feted at a banquet Wednesday evening, presented by the Aggie Club to honor his 37 years of service to the university and state agriculture. The banquet was held at the Riviera Cafe.

Guests were Professor and Mrs. Scott, and Professors Louis Titus and Eldon Wittwer, both of whom were students under Professor Scott many years ago.

During the evening Professor Scott was presented with a gift by Aggie president, Eyer Boies, as a memento of his long service to the "Aggie boys."

The evening concluded with several comments by Professors Titus and Wittwer on their student days under Professor Scott.

The Nevada girls won a preliminary contest last spring conducted by the Toni Company, manufacturers of a nationally advertised beauty product and were chosen as regional finalists. The company is now sponsoring the final balloting which will select the set of twins to be known as the "All-American Toni Twins," and win an air trip to Europe with all expenses paid, individually styled fur coats by a famous manufacturer, five-piece travel wardrobes designed by a leading American coutourier, five-piece matched luggage and a modeling contract for the advertising department of the firm conducting the contest.

All that is necessary for a vote is a coupon or a postcard mailed to the Toni Twin Contest, Box 3505, Chicago 54, Illinois. The Sagebrush, anxious to see these Nevada girls acknowledged as the loveliest twins in the nation, is printing a coupon for your convenience. These may be mailed to the office of this newspaper (in care of University station, Reno), or sent direct to the Chicago address. But whether you send your vote to us or direct to the company, you are urged to vote for our university girls.

Eleanor and Jeanne are the daughters of Fred and Mary Fulstone, native Nevadans and residents of Smith Valley. Their father is a well-known rancher of the valley and their mother is a popular physician, practicing in Yerington and Smith Valley.

The girls, who are in their junior year at the university, are typical of the west they represent. They love the outdoors and are accomplished swimmers. They also participate in skiing, golfing and riding events.

On the hill, the girls are studying for a teaching career and are doing practice work this year. Jean is specializing in arithmetic for fifth graders and Eleanor is teaching geography and history to sixth graders. They are members of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

The twins were born on August 25 and the residents of the valley who know the family think this is a coincidence, since the girls have twin aunts who have the same birthday. Mrs. Juanita Wedertz, one of these twins, is also a Smith Valley resident.

The November 14 issue of Life magazine is carrying a full page ad for the contest with pictures of the 12 entries, and the Reno Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring Eleanor and Jeanne is planning a radio program in the future.

Votes may be cast up until midnight, December 5.

In addition to their native state, the Nevada twins are representing Arizona, California, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Barbara Carter, editor of the '49-50 Artemisia, is making plans for a completely new and different yearbook. Miss Carter, along with her business manager, Harry McKissick, and the Artemisia staff, have been working on the book since the start of school.

THE PEAVINE CAPER

Last Saturday, several freshmen reported to the infirmary suffering from burns received during what use to be the routine job of painting the Peavine "N". Some of these injuries could have been serious; three students suffered burns near the eyes.

An investigation made by the administration showed that the same slaked lime that has been used in previous years was used again this year—and yet this is the first time that such serious injuries have ever been called to the attention of the administration.

Some conclusion must therefore be made—and the obvious one judging from the "white-washed" appearance of the returning frosh is that more time was devoted to painting each other than was devoted to the "N".

Lime was never intended to improve personal appearance, and when rubbed in by heavy clothing it is possible for burns to result.

The responsibility of seeing that such an incident doesn't happen again is therefore up to the freshmen themselves. The possible dangers of lime should be brought to their attention by those in charge of the work—and then the frosh should see that improper use of it is avoided.

INTERNS WORK . . . FOR CREDITS

In one of its recent issues the "Shopping News" saw fit to take a swing (and a sly one at that) at the University of Nevada journalism department.

Seems as though Reno's "famous throw-away" decided that the internship setup between the journalism department and its cooperators is not what it supposed to be.

The claim was made that if the newspaper guild ever gets a firm hold in Reno then the journalism seniors would no longer be able to work at the local newspapers and radio stations.

The "Shopping News" indicated that the students are working for more than just "credits" and that one of the first things to go after the guild sets up would be the internship program.

First we would like to make clear that there is no financial arrangement between any student working under the university internship regulations and his cooperator. Maybe the fact that several journalism students have worked during the summer and some part time work during the semesters at various downtown papers and radio stations might have given the local "throw-away" the wrong idea.

Next thing to emphasize is that the journalism students are getting valuable experience at this real reporting. The program has been declared by some to be the best experience possible for students going into the field of journalism. Nevada incidentally has been way ahead of other universities along this line.

"EVERY MAN FOR HIMSELF"

Traffic on the campus is now the problem of the students themselves. The administration has threatened and fined until it has become apathetic. The campus police exactly one in number obviously can't ride herd on the great stampede of cars. So the slogan seems to be, "Every man for himself."

A little courtesy campaign is in order, starting now and lasting from here on out. Don't make the main thoroughfare a speedway. This is a campus and the pedestrian has the right of way.

And in parking, observe the boundaries. On the grounds between the stadium and campus proper keep some semblance of order. It has been a daily case lately that some unfortunate car owners find themselves blockaded from the front, rear and both sides.

And for the sake of goodwill, it wouldn't hurt to give a ride to the students you see walking on these cold mornings.

New Crucible Club Members Feted To Dancing, Dining

New members of the Crucible Club and their wives were feted to dinner and dancing last week at the home of Mrs. H. Foster Bain, wife of a famous mining engineer and geologist.

J. A. Carpenter, director of the Mackay School of Mines, Professor of metallurgy and mining William Smyth, and Fred Muller, president of the Crucible Club, accompanied the group of 24 on the excursion. The afternoon was spent in inspecting some old prospect holes. A turkey dinner and dancing followed.

Mrs. Bain, one time president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers Auxiliary, told of her experiences in traveling over the world with her husband. Mr. Bain was widely known in the mining world. He had served as president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and as head of the Bureau of Mines here and in the Philippines.

Frosh Women Told To Heed Traditions

By ALICE SHELLY
Freshman women, do you like to rake leaves?

If not, just continue to wear that ribbon and tote that bible, for the women's upperclass committee has decided that this will be one of the punishments for forgetting them.

Do you have a yen to fold the Sagebrush on Friday afternoons? If not, that bible and ribbon had better be permanent fixtures. The upperclass committee won't fool around.

If you see one of the following women coming after you, you'd better run, for as members of the women's upperclass committee, they catch all violators. They are Rose Oyerbide and Margaret Fairchild of Tri-Delta; Colleen Gilbert and Patti Jones of Gamma Phi Beta; Alice Arentz and Gedney Gallagher of Kappa Alpha Theta; Lois Bates and Rose Marie Faul of Pi Beta Phi; Sis Bliss and Frances Batt of Manzanita Hall; Pat Fox and Louanna Tietje of Artemisia and Darlene Stucki and Bebe Moore of the Independents.

Campus Queries

By BOB DEADY

Ten University of Nevada students unanimously said "Yes" when asked if they would like to have old-time movies shown on the campus.

A random selection of students in the snack bar was polled on the desirability of having slapstick comedies, old melodramas and "Shoot-'em up" westerns shown every week on the campus for the entertainment of the students.

Frank Sanches, football player, said, "Football players aren't supposed to think, but I like the idea very much."

"I think it's an excellent idea. Most of us have missed the old movies and I think it would be very educational to show them," stated Joanne Rovetti, sophomore and Delta Delta Delta member.

Nilda Cox: "It's darling, because there is not enough entertainment offered on the campus."

"Texas A&M has them and they go over very well," remarked George Walterspiel and Bob Boese when asked for their opinions.

Cecilia Schindler agreed to the idea, but she thought that it depended upon the mentality of the rest of the students and she added that the old movies were better than the modern ones.

"Terrific," commented Joey Miles, "I like them all, but Buster Keaton is my favorite."

Joan McCabe said that she thought the movies would be interesting.

Charlie Gardner and Terry Alauzet voiced the same opinion as Cecilia Schindler when they remarked that the old movies were better than the modern ones.

All agreed that such movies would be worth 25 cents per person.

Scholarship Open In the Argentine

United States citizens who desire to study in Latin America but lack the necessary pesos to do so may now have the opportunity, according to a letter recently received by President Gilbert Parker from the Argentine consul general in San Francisco.

Several scholarships of 5000 pesos each will be granted to natives of this country by the Argentine National Cultural Commission, information from the consulate revealed. The awards will cover a 10 month period of study in any branch of scientific research or artistic creation.

"Awards will not be made to students for the purpose of completing courses for graduation, but to professionals, artists, and researchers," the rules stipulate. A further requirement is that applicants must be between the ages of 25 and 45.

Selected candidates must present themselves before the Argentine National Cultural Commission during the month of March. Details concerning the scholarships may be obtained from the office of Dr. Harold Brown, chairman of the faculty committee on scholarships and prizes.

Bowling Tourney Backed by 'Brush

In the interest of promoting women's athletics on the campus, the Sagebrush is sponsoring a bowling tournament for university women.

Plans call for one team to be entered from each of the four sororities, and one each from Manzanita and Artemisia halls.

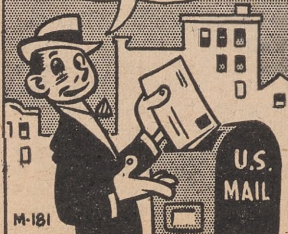

The proposed tournament is to be rolled at the Sparks Bolarium, with alleys donated by the house for actual tournament rolling.

In addition to the free alleys for tournament games, two trophies are to be awarded, one each for high team series, and for high individual series. The Sagebrush will present the trophies.

Sororities or women's halls interested in entering a team are asked to contact the Sports Editor of the Sagebrush.

Orchisis Elects Officers for Year

Nancy Hecker was elected vice-president of Orchisis at a meeting of the group last week. Election to the office will automatically entitle her to assume the office of president next year. President this year is Alice Arentz, who was chosen for that position last year.

Women elected to fill other offices for the coming year are Irene Waterman, publicity chairman; Cecilia Schindler, secretary; and Joanne Rich, treasurer. Miss Faye Briggs, dance instructor, will continue to be the group's advisor.

Plans are being made to present a program after Christmas in cooperation with the physical education department.

21 New Members Invited to Join Phi Alpha Theta

Moray Black, president of Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history society, announced recently that 21 students have attained the necessary qualifications, 10 hours of history with a "B" average or better, and have been invited to join the society.

The students are Hilmi Voskay, Roger Olmstead, Angela Naveran, George Umbenhaur, Gloria Griffin, Georgia Houghton Ward, Al Nocciolo, Paul Peyron, William Devlin, Howard Levinson, William Ash, Guy Cardinelli, Tad Porter, Lois Bates, Helen Montero, Patricia Fee, Jerry Davis, George Beaman, Melva Hand, Maclin Summers, and Mark Bray.

Goethe Celebration Planned for Campus By Language Dept.

The University of Nevada will celebrate the bicentennial of the birth of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe who was born August 28, 1749. The celebration here will be held Dec. 1

Recently, Acting President Gilbert E. Parker appointed a committee consisting of faculty members to prepare plans for the celebration. The committee is composed of Dr. C. F. Melz, chairman; Professor Robert A. Hume, Professor Theodore H. Post, Dr. William C. Miller, Professor J. Craig Sheppard, and Professor Alfred L. Higginbotham.

Goethe's "Faust," acclaimed as one of the greatest poems of the last 200 years, will be featured in the evening's program, according to present plans revealed by Dr. Melz. Students and faculty of the department of foreign languages will present a performance of four scenes from the work.

In addition, Mrs. Marjorie Dickenson, YWCA secretary on the campus, will sing several German

Women's Badminton To Start Tuesday

WRA badminton will start Tuesday, November 15, and will continue from 4 to 5 every Tuesday and Thursday, according to Margie McKnight, manager.

WRA credit will be given each woman who comes out for a minimum of nine hours practice, said McKnight.

songs; Professor Hume will recite poetry; and appropriate record music will be played. Dr. Melz announced. A short talk on appreciation of Goethe will be given by a faculty member to be announced later.

Goethe was born in Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, and was a poet, novelist, playwright, scientist, and critic of life.

Dr. Alfred Heidenreich in a recent article, said that Goethe's self discipline, his struggle toward an ideal, and his profound universality have much to teach men and women of lesser talents confronted with the problems of our age.

NINETEEN STUDENTS SELECTED FOR '49-50 COLLEGE WHO'S WHO

Nineteen students have been selected to represent the University of Nevada in the 1949-1950 yearbook, Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Names submitted by Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin to the national publication include:

Tom Bell, Moray Black, Sue Broadbent, Norma Carruth, Lee DeLauer, Pat DeWalt, Pat Fee, Fay Elaine Fryberger, Harold Hayes, Robert Kent, Wallace Kurtz, Gene McKenna, Howard McKissick, Louis Mendive, Jon Milburn, Jean Nash, Paul Reimer, Albert Richardson and Bob Vaughan.

Final selections were made by Dr. Griffin and Dean of Women Elaine Mobley on the basis of scholarship and participation in campus activities. Each activity is rated in points and those receiving the highest scores are chosen. The year in college also influences the choice, seniors being chosen first.

Three students selected this year are repeat performers from 1948. They are Jon Milburn, Fay Elaine Fryberger and Robert Vaughan.

Dean Griffin pointed out that the method of selection used this year was basically the same as in 1948. An effort was made to select the candidates on an objective basis. Scholarship, character, leadership in campus activities and promise of leadership in life after college were the criteria for qualification.

Approximately one student is selected for every 100 students enrolled at Nevada.

U. of N. Athletes Pass Rigid Tests For Honorary Frat

Athletic accomplishments have moved four university men nearer to membership in Sigma Delta Psi, it was announced this week. Nearly 70 men are currently competing for membership in the national honorary athletic fraternity on the campus.

Robert Arnesen, transfer arts and science student, has passed all but one of the rigid tests required for membership, and is expected to complete it in the near future.

Lionel Leonard, Bill Jager and Bill Siler have also finished most of the tests, according to Art Broten, physical education instructor and advisor for the fraternity.

The competitors have been meeting each Thursday afternoon at 4:00 pm. A great deal of interest has been shown this year, Broten said.

More than 300 students have participated in the last two years. Four men completed the requirements last year. All male students are eligible for the competition and it is not necessary to complete all the requirements at one time.

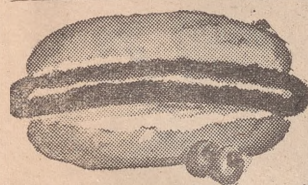

Each candidate must be able to run 150 yards in 11 3-5 seconds, one mile in six minutes, and 120 yards (with low hurdles) in 16 seconds.

The throwing requirements specify a 16 pound shotput toss of 30 feet and a baseball throw of 250 feet, or a javelin throw of 130 feet. The contestants must also kick a football 120 feet.

A broad jump of 17 feet and a high jump of five feet are required. The candidates must also vault a chin-high fence.

Other requirements are a 20 foot rope climb in 12 seconds, a 100 yard swim in one minute and 45 seconds, a hand stand for ten seconds in a three foot circle, and a front handspring landing on the feet.

The scholarship and posture of the individual are other factors considered in eligibility tests. The candidate must have any average high enough to entitle him to play varsity ball.

'Family Portrait' Will Be Presented By Campus Players

As a prelude to the Christmas season, the Campus Players will present their first production of the semester, "Family Portrait," on December 13, 14, 15. The play is under the direction of Prof. Wm. Miller of the English department, and will be held in the Education auditorium. Tickets will go on sale early in December.

First produced in New York City with Judith Anderson in the leading role, the play is the story of the last three years of Christ's life, and of his family's reactions to their brother during those years. The story takes Jesus through the beginnings of His life work, His growth of power and popularity, and lastly to after the crucifixion.

Included in the cast are Jane Tieslau as Mary, Robert Hunt as Joseph, Kieth Kerr as a shepherd, Odile Frost as Naomi, Wally Kurtz as Judah, Blanche McClure as Mary Cleophas, Andrea Smart as Reba, Clarence Brown as Simon, Loring Chapman as James, Jerry Wyness as Mordecai, Donna Spear as Selima, George Bennett as a disciple, Norma Carnel as Hepzibah, Suzanne Winer as Anna, Don Smart as Mendal, Pat Hanley as Mary of Magdala, Beverly Jones as Tether, Katherine Cladianos as Beulah, and Guy Cardinali as Mathias.

Students will be admitted on their student body cards.

Boxing Program Plans Underway For 1950 Season

Many colleges have contacted the University of Nevada about the 1950 boxing program, but as yet no definite dates have been set for the coming schedule, announced Gene Mastroianni, graduate manager.

Letters have been received from San Jose State and Eastern Oregon College of Education, asking if Nevada had any openings for them.

Colleges already accepted are California Aggies, San Francisco State, Idaho State, and Compton Junior College.

Dates for these fights will be announced at a later date.

Get-Together Held By Mining Faculty

Professor and Mrs. William I. Smyth, entertained the faculty of the Mackay School of Mines at dinner recently. The get-together was held for the purpose of giving the new staff an opportunity to become better acquainted with the older members.

Those attending were Prof. and Mrs. Walter S. Palmer, Prof. and Mrs. Vincent P. Gianella, Prof. and Mrs. Jay A. Carpenter, Prof. and Mrs. Ray Swift, Prof. and Mrs. Richard Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Skull, and Harold Classen.

Married Students Housing Situation Finally Brightens

For the first time in years, married university students and finding it easier to secure housing in Reno and vicinity—if they don't mind living in a trailer.

Dean of Men Robert S. Griffin announced that there are trailers available and there is no waiting list for them. However, there are about 150 names on the apartment waiting list at present.

For those interested in housing off campus, there are several vacancies in town. Among them are two-room apartment at $75; duplex at $100; two-bedroom basement apartment for $65 per month, plus light; another duplex for $100; a one-bedroom apartment for $85, plus electricity; a three-room apartment for $51.75 per month; an unfurnished one-room duplex, with exception of stove, refrigerator and Bendix, for $80, plus all utilities; and there is a furnished apartment available for $100, plus all electricity.

For further information of addresses, etc., see dean of men's office.

Greek Houses Still Supporting Orphans

A plan begun last year for the adoption and support of war orphans by the Greek letter houses is being continued by many again this year and is being considered by others as chapter projects.

Kappa Alpha Theta is sending food, clothing and gifts to a 12 year old Greek girl; Pi Beta Phi, to an 11 year old Belgian girl; Lambda Chi Alpha is contributing to the support of a boy; Phi Sigma Kappa, a Dutch boy; and Sigma Nu is sending contributions to an eight year old Belgian boy.

The inter-fraternity council also is considering a plan for the adoption of a child by all the fraternities collectively. This plan would arrange for contributions from each fraternal organization for the support of the child, and the council itself would handle all correspondence to and from the child.

This is the second year of the war orphan adoption program, which has, in its first year, proven successful and rewarding, according to reports from all those organizations now supporting children.

ROTC, Sponsors Receives Trophies For Performance

There are a couple of new trophies on the campus this week. The student cadet corps (ROTC) and Corps of Sponsors Friday were awarded first and second prizes, respectively, for their marching performances in the Nevada Day parade.

The awards were presented by acting President Gilbert Parker, former head of the military department, for the best drilled marching units at a ceremony in Mackay Stadium.

The university band, under the direction of Professor Tate, also received an award for participating in the parade.

Promotion to members of the Corps of Sponsors were also announced by President Parker at the ceremony. Twenty-four Sponsors were promoted.

FUTURE SOCIALS FOR OLD GYM

"The old gym is getting a new look, at least from the inside." The statement was made this week by Carl M. Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The building has been rewired. The floors are now in the process of being sanded. After the sanding has been completed, the cracks will be filled and the floor will then be revarnished. If there is sufficient funds left, the bottom half of the building may be painted.

Horne said that the job was supposed to be finished November 7, but that it will probably not be completed for another week.

The old gymnasium will be used for student assemblies, intermural athletic activities and faculty recreation programs.

University Regent On European Tour

The Honorable Albert Hilliard, member of the board of regents, has been touring Europe for the last two months, according to reports received here. Mr. Hilliard was re-elected to the board in the last election.

Upon his return, which is expected around the seventh of this month, the board will hold a meeting to discuss general university business.

Mr. Hilliard is from Reno.

Painting of "N" Causes Injuries

SEVERAL FRESHMEN SUFFER BURNS AS RESULT OF EXPOSURE TO LIME

By PRISCILLA CORBETT

Causes of freshman injuries received during the painting of the N last Saturday resulted in an investigation by the administration this week.

Eight freshmen have been treated in the infirmary for burns caused by bodily exposure to the lime used for painting, according to Dr. Rowland L. Yeagle, university physician.

Three of those reporting had burns in and near the eyes. "This is dangerous," Dr. Yeagle said. "A burn from lime in the eye can cause scar tissue and permanent impairment of the vision."

Many of the 285 frosh who participated were burned, but not severely enough to report to the infirmary for medical attention.

As a result of complaints by parents of students who were injured, an investigation was conducted by the administration to determine the cause of the burns, and to see what can be done to prevent it happening again.

Slaked lime was used. The rumor that unslaked lime had caused the burns is not true, according to the administration's report.

Eppie Johnson, Block N appointee in charge of the affair, is working on constructive suggestions for a better organization in the painting of the N for the future. These suggestions will be submitted to Elaine Mobley, dean of women, and R. S. Griffin, dean of men, for their approval.

"The skin burns were due largely to the fact that the lime wasn't washed off quick enough; it was rubbed in by the clothing," was the opinion of Proctor Hug, Jr., freshman class manager.

Dean Mobley feels that "since the women's upperclass committee is vested with the responsibility of securing the participation of all freshman women, I urge their complete cooperation in making the event not only a happy experience as a tradition of the university, but a safe and constructive project."

Dean Griffin expressed the view that, "If participation is going to be a compulsory obligation on the part of the freshmen, it should be a safe and constructive project."

of the students, then an atmosphere in which participation is safe for everyone concerned should be provided."

No certain individual or group should feel responsible for the injuries, according to the report.

Friday night someone spilled the five barrels of water that had been taken up on the hill so that the workers could get an early start. Eppie Johnson is investigating the action, and claims he has one or two good leads to the identity of the troublemakers.

Freshman men who did not participate and who were not excused will be given 25 swats by the men's upperclass committee—or will be required to do a day's work, according to Tom Ross, chairman.

Freshman women violators of tradition, numbering about 20, will be asked either to fold Sagebrushes, or rake the leaves on campus, weather permitting. They may also be required to wear large signs, according to Patti Jones, chairman of the women's upperclass committee.

Skiers Look to Sky; Lack of Snow Halts Plans Temporarily

By JOAN METZGER

In spite of the lack of snow on yon mountain tops, the followers of the slippery sport gathered together for their first meeting recently anyway. Glen Menu, now past president, called the meeting to order and the skiers voted in the new officers for this year.

Named as president of the Ski Club was Brent Aiken, local skier, and named as vice-president was Ted Locke, also a local man. Elected as treasurer was Alice Arentz, and as secretary the group elected Dabby Dunbar. With the election of officers completed, the new president took over the meeting and discussed plans for the coming season.

Several appointments were made in connection with the 1949-50 season. Don Thompson was designated to arrange a meet between the University Club and the Reno Ski Club, which would include beginners, intermediate, and expert divisions in downhill and slalom.

Appointed to serve as social chairman was John Cowley, who will arrange a ski club party to be held in November or early December. Amendments to the constitution were discussed also.

Seniors and Juniors Order Class Rings

Seniors and juniors began ordering class rings this week as Blue Key representatives contacted the Greek letter houses, according to Bob Vaughan, Blue Key president. The rings are available in gold or silver, with a red or blue stone. The stone may be either smooth or faceted.

The price of the gold ring will be $29.50 and the silver ring will cost $18. Greek letters or the Masonic emblem can be put on, also, at extra cost.

Students who do not live at the fraternity or sorority houses can order rings at the ASUN president's office, Vaughan said.

Imaginations Used As Many Miss Work Of Painting the 'N'

Last Saturday's painting excursion on Peavine mountain brought in a rash of excuses from freshmen with white-wash and paint brush allergies.

Many claimed exemption because of Saturday morning classes, but others had to stretch for alibis.

A naval reservist, for instance, insisted that he had been assigned a cruise to San Francisco on the day in question.

Several were afflicted with evils ranging from tonsils to work.

The prize excuse came in the form of a short novel which said in part: "On that day my wife has an appointment with a dentist which means that I'll have to be home to take care of our baby girl."

"Also, I promised my wife about two weeks ago that as soon as I received my substance check from the veterans administration I would buy material and seal up the cracks in the inside of our apartment (which was a garage) before the baby catches any more colds. I told her I would do this the first Saturday after the check came, which is November 5."

One person even claimed that he habitually spends all of Saturday morning in study.

McFarland Assumes Publicity Position

Rex Daniels, for three years the alumni director of the University of Nevada, resigned last month in order to accept a full-time teaching position at Reno high school.

Bill McFarland, publicity director under Rex Daniels, will continue to be in charge of publicity until the vacancy has been filled.

Daniels graduated from the university in June of 1946, and has held the position of alumni director since that time.

According to Walter States, president of the Alumni Association, the position has not yet been filled, and applications are still being accepted. There has been no indication as to who will fill the vacancy.

Best News Photos To Be Displayed

Prize winning news pictures of the year will be exhibited at the department of journalism next spring, according to Professor A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department. Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and the journalism department will sponsor the showing jointly.

The exhibit, furnished by the University of Missouri school of journalism and the Encyclopedia Britannica, will stay at Nevada for two weeks. There are 130 16x20 pictures.

The Missouri journalism school conducts a national news picture contest annually. The best of the photographs submitted are placed in the traveling exhibit.

YWCA May Serve Meals If Health Department Allows

Whether or not hot lunch will be served at the YWCA snack bar will depend upon regulations set down by the state health department, stated Barbara Smith, president of the organization.

"It was originally suggested that only hot soup would be served," she continued, "but some students have requested that full meals be made available also." Lack of adequate facilities, however, is one obstacle that must be overcome, according to the health authorities.

Further developments will be announced following the findings of the state health department when they reinspect the facilities in the snack bar.

Greeks Planning Weekend Dances

One sorority and six fraternities are listed on the social calendar for dances this month.

Tonight, the Pi Phi will hold their annual barn dance at the chapter house. Tomorrow night, the Twentieth Century Club will play host to the Lambda Chi and their "baby" dance.

Next weekend, on the 18th, the Sigma Nus plan a costume dance at the Nevada Game Farm, and the SAE's will hold their Indian dance at Lawton's.

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will hold its pledge dance at the Game Farm on the evening of the 19th. The ATO's will go to Lawton's for their cocoanut dance, and the Theta Chi's will hold the annual pirate dance at their chapter house, 518 University Ave.

Plans have not yet been completed by the Greek organizations, residence halls, and other groups, for their Christmas formals.

Blue Key Accepts 18 New Members

Eighteen out of 40 male students who applied for membership in the Blue Key, honorary service society, were accepted, according to their merits during the Blue Key meeting Thursday night.

Bob Vaughan, president of the group, said the members were chosen because of their participation in student activities and their work in the student service.

Philippine College Appeals to Nevada For Textbook Gifts

An appeal for textbooks has been received by Nevada from the Abraham Lincoln College in Ubay, Bohol, Philippines, says James Hill, librarian.

Donata G. Galia, president of the college, wrote that the school is badly in need of textbooks of 13 different types and that he is asking most of the colleges in the United States and Canada for help.

"We'll furnish the transportation if somebody else will furnish the books," said James Hill, head librarian, who will ship all the books that faculty members and students contribute.

Books are needed for the following courses: natural sciences, auto mechanics, business or commerce, industrial chemistry, fish culture and fish preservation, agriculture, education, animal husbandry, radio mechanics, electronics, English, and social sciences.

United Press Names Former Nevadans To All-Pro Team

Two former football players of the University of Nevada were chosen on the United Press All-Professional team for 1949.

Marion Motley, fullback for the Cleveland Browns, was chosen as second string fullback in the United Press poll. Motley was chosen for the first string position last year but has been sidelined most of this season due to a leg injury.

Sherman Howard, now playing for the New York Yankees of the All American Conference in his first year in pro-football, was picked for the halfback position because of his brilliant record to date with the Yanks.

Other former Nevada grid stars in the professional ranks include Stan Heath, quarterback of the Green Bay Packers, and collegiate record holder of yards gained passing; Tommy Kalmanir, former half-back of the Los Angeles Rams of the National League, and Ed Sharkey, former Nevada guard, now with the New York Yankees of the All-American Conference.

Frosh and Varsity Split; Win Here, Lose at Dayton

FROSH WIN BOUT WITH ALHAMBRA

By DAVE MATHIS
Flaring tempers and occasional flying fists added excitement to the game between the Nevada frosh eleven and the Alhambra Alumni at Mackay Stadium last Sunday. The frosh won, 38 to 7.

Both teams were supported by small but enthusiastic cheering sections. The Municipal band from Martinez, along with a delegation of rooters for Alhambra provided some lively entertainment as their team scored first but cooled down as the frosh score mounted.

Alhambra scored first when they recovered a fumble in the early minutes of the game. Costi Di-Monner, quarterback for the Alumni, crossed the goal line for the six points and Tex Tyner converted.

From this point on the game was all Nevada frosh. Doug Brooks, a 190 pound fullback, scored on jaunts of 66 yards and 69 yards to show his worth as a prospective varsity gridder. Andy Kalminir turned in a good performance until he was injured in the second period. Tom Massey, Howard Barber and Lee Schroder showed well.

After Brooks had rambled for the first score made by the frosh, it was not long before Schmutte found Barber on a long pass for six more points. The conversion attempt failed.

Massey plunged over to score as the frosh continued to crack up the points. This score came in the third period. Ed Brown took Toloka's pass to score again to give the Cubs a 25-7 lead as the third period ended.

In the last period Brooks plunged for one and ran another to complete the frosh scoring. This last run for Brooks covered 69 yards.

The general line play of the frosh was good, as was the down field blocking. Howard Hartsfield and Ron Einstoss turned in good line games, while Schmutte and Toloka ably handled the quarter post.

Shrunken Cashmere Only Battle Result In Tau-Theta Scrap

By TED COVINGTON
In a battle to the end or until someone went down for the third time, the Alpha Tau Omega men did battle with the outnumbered but not outought Kappa Alpha Theta women in a water fight last Monday.

It was decided between the two organizations that the Thetas would do battle with the Taus in order to more firmly cement sorority-fraternity relations. Then because of the cold, or because they had something else in the back of their minds, the Thetas decided to call off the whole thing.

As the men of the Tau house rested back for what promised to be a quiet evening, the crafty women silently approached the house and attempted to steal the water hoses, so as to make as dry an attack as possible.

The Taus, however, being veterans of many such campaigns, were not taken by surprise. They captured two of the advance, hose-stealing guard and put them in protective custody in the house. Then, connecting the hoses, they thoroughly drenched the flour-bearing women.

The women had purchased 25 pounds of flour gotten some water, and some paper cups, and had all intentions of making the gentle scuffle as messy as possible.

Possibly this fact raised the ire of the Taus, and caused them to pursue the women back to the KAT house. There the fight continued, until it had received its share of the destruction being wrought. After that, there was peace.

Total casualties were two prisoners who, as far as is known, have been released, a couple of messy guys, and one shrunken cashmere sweater.

NO CLASSES
Classes were dismissed this morning to enable the university band and ROTC units to participate in the Armistice Day parade in Reno.
Col. Gilbert E. Parker, acting president, who made the announcement, added that classes will be held as usual this afternoon.

Varsity Rally Comes Too Late

By MYRON LEAVITT
Despite a brilliant comeback in the last quarter during which they scored twice, the University of Nevada gridgers dropped their fourth tilt of the season to the University of Dayton Flyers, 16 to 14, in Dayton Sunday.

Trailing by 16 points in the last quarter, the Wolf Pack came to life and scored twice, due mostly to the passing arm of Pat Brady, who replaced the injured Ed Jesse.

The margin of victory was a field goal kicked by Otten of Dayton from Nevada's five yard line early in the third quarter. Otten attempted another field goal during the latter part of the second period, but it was wide.

Nevada failed to cash in on a fumble on Dayton's 20 yard stripe, when Subda was thrown for a four yard loss and Brady's passes fell incomplete. Early in the second period Nevada drove into Dayton territory only to have Brady's pass intercepted by Utermohlen on the 24. Dayton then drove from its own 40 yard line to score. A pass from Zaleski to Janaszek was the big play of this drive.

Dayton threatened again in the closing minutes of the half when it drove to the six yard line, here Otten attempted a field goal, but it went wide and the half ended 7-0, Dayton.

In the third quarter, after Brady's booming punt set them back on their own three, the Flyers began to drive toward the Nevada goal. Runs by Delp and Janaszek carried the ball to the five yard line. Then Otten kicked his game-winning field goal. Dayton 10, Nevada 0.

The second Dayton touchdown came when Zaleski passed to Delp in the end zone, after Janaszek and Delp had cracked the Nevada line for gains. Otten's attempt at the conversion was wide. Score, Flyers 16, Nevada 0.

Nevada then came to life, with Subda running the kickoff to the 26. Then line plunges carried to the Dayton 47. Here Brady faded back and hit Mert Baxter with one of his aerials that carried to the one yard line. Osborne plowed over for the score. Corley kicked the conversion. Dayton 16, Nevada 7.

Nevada's on-side kick was fumbled by Dayton and Nevada marched to the 19 yard line on Brady's pass to Lou Mendive. This drive was stopped when Brady's pass was intercepted in the end zone. But here the Nevada defensive line held, and Dayton was forced to kick. The pass from center was fumbled, and the alert Nevada forward wall pounded on the loose ball.

Brady hit Mendive on the five and Bill Osborne carried it over. Corley's kick was good, and the score was 16 to 14.

Desperation passes in the closing moments failed when Kilbane intercepted Brady's pass on the Dayton 42.

Campus Boasts 64 Different Varieties Of Planted Trees

By BOB HUNT
"Now hear this! Sweeper man your brooms and give the campus a clean sweep fore and aft."

This is probably the word that has gone out to members of the campus maintenance team.

They might finish late if they stop to classify the leaves they clean up, for they are standing among the largest collection of foreign trees, decorative and otherwise, in the state of Nevada.

There are approximately 64 varieties of trees on the University of Nevada campus today.

Of these, nearly half come from foreign countries, with China the largest contributor, having five native species planted here.

Other countries represented by their trees are Austria, Norway, Canada, Spain, Scotland, Russia, England, Africa and Japan.

Many of the trees are named for the country of their origin, such as: Himalayan Pine, Scotch Pine, Austrian Pine, Norway Spruce, Spanish Fir, European White Birch, Russian Elm, Scotch Elm, English Elm, Siberian Elm, English Hawthorne, Chinese Redbud, Russian Olive, Manchurian Ash, and Canadian Spruce.

Clarence Mackay, the university's great benefactor, donated a large percentage of these trees to the school, while others were planted here around the turn of the century, at the request of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose bureau of exploration and introduction had brought them to this country.

Donations of trees from Nevada alumni and interested persons throughout the state has slowly increased the collection which today helps make our campus one of the most beautiful in the United States.

Three Coaches Named by Board

Hal Codding, a Mount Rose professional and a member of the United States Olympic ski team several years ago, has been appointed new university ski coach by the board of athletic control.

Re-appointed by the board at the same time were Cliff Devine, boxing coach, and Bob Fairman, tennis coach.

A staff of three men will work under Mr. Codding, specializing in the slalom and various other events, according to Joe Sheeketski, director of athletics. Mr. Sheeketski believes this new feature "should improve the university ski team tremendously."

The other coaches have had much experience in their own fields, Mr. Sheeketski said. Devine has been coach for three years and boxed on the university team. Bob Fairman, tennis coach for two years, is a professional teacher, and a good player in his own right, Mr. Sheeketski said.

L.A. Get-Together Planned by Alumni

According to Rex Daniels, alumni director, there will be an alumni get-together before and after the Nevada-Loyola game, November 11, at Los Angeles.

A cocktail party is scheduled before game time and a dance afterwards. Both functions will be held at the Nickabob.

All alumni and students are invited to attend, said Daniels.

Blue Key Plans Gow House Social

"Live music" and nickel refreshments will be offered on November 16 when the Blue Key holds its first social in the dining hall from 7 to 9 p.m., according to Bob Vaughan, Blue Key president.

"This social is strictly come-as-you-are," said Vaughan, "and will become a regular school affair if enough students turn out." It is a no-date dance, and the regular 15 cents admission will be charged.

George Vucanovich is chairman of the dance. Socials will be held every two weeks if the turnout is satisfactory.

Kappa Alpha Theta Initiates Members

Beta Mu chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority initiated four new members in a ceremony Friday evening.

Those who received their pins were Beverly Harris, freshman; Beverly Poe, freshman; Vickie Tinsman, sophomore; and Joan Hanifan, sophomore.

Ed Klosterman was converted this season from his former backfield position, and has since won a berth as starting end. Klosterman teams up with Mert Baxter at the wing spots, and has proved a more than able pass receiver.

Band Ends Season With Fall Party

An informal party was held by the University Band Thursday evening to climax the end of the fall season. The affair, instigated by Professor Tate, band director, is held annually on an unofficial basis.

Hot dogs, doughnuts and various beverages were served as refreshments.

The musicians got a chance to hear music for a change, when Don Woods, trumpet player, temporarily converted the music department record player to change records automatically.

YWCA Secretary Leaves for Meeting

Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, executive secretary of the YWCA of the University of Nevada, left Thursday for a YWCA staff meeting in Berkeley.

A discussion of the problems of every day life and talks from two members on their experiences in Europe will be the main features of the meeting.

LIONS PREVIEWED FOR BRUSH BY 'LOYOLAN' SPORTS EDITOR

By TOM KELLY
Sports Editor, The Loyolan
Loyola University

The Loyola Lions, who play host to the Nevada Wolf Pack this Friday night at Gilmore Stadium in Los Angeles, are in the unique position of having surprised west coasters by doing exactly what has been predicted of them.

At the season's outset, they were told they had a murderous schedule and would be lucky to come up with four victories by the end of their last game. The prediction has followed true to form, for the Lions have dropped four out of seven tilts. College of Pacific, which Wolf Pack fans know well, trounced Loyola in the season opener 52-0. Highly touted San Francisco was scared by the Lions for one half, then turned on power to win 27-12. The Loyola club next had little trouble with Fresno State, winning by a 52-13 count. Two other powerful coast independents, St. Mary's and Santa Clara, had to fight hard to drop the Lions—both games being decided in the second half. In a rough contest waged in San Diego, the Lions out-fought San Diego State 34-20. But the biggest feather in the Lions' mane was their 39-35 upset win over Hardin-Simmons. Going into the Nevada game, then, the Lions' record stands at three wins and four losses.

No Depth
Lack of line depth has been advanced as the Lions' greatest weakness. The four tackles available for the first game have been bolstered by the addition of Jerry Lendi, a converted end. The end position is quite secure, with four experienced men, plus an outstanding sophomore star in Tom Evans. The guards have been the biggest surprise of all. To date they have been able to slug it out, toe to toe, with some of the best on the coast. The center position is the pride of the team, for here stands Guerin Alker. Santa Clara has named him the best center they have faced—and they have been up against Cal, UCLA and Stanford. Two weeks ago, Alker received honorable mention as the nation's outstanding center of the week. Alker, a six foot one inch, 200 pound senior, has made 60 per cent of the defensive tackles on his side of the line. Local fans believe that, playing with a bigger name club, he could be All-American.

The backfield, which operates from a "T," has great speed in Skip Giancanelli, Neil Ferris and Jack Dwyer. The surprise star of the season is quarterback Don Klosterman. Just a sophomore, Klosterman has opened the eyes of many local sports authorities with his fine passing arm and deceptive ball handling. The fullback spot is held down by George Musacco, who last season was mentioned by many as the best on the coast. He did, in fact, receive honorable mention in coast polls last season. George has been hampered by a sore groin, but appears fully recovered now. Much of the credit for the upset of Hardin-Simmons must go to his powerful line thrusts.

The boys from Reno will probably be favored by one or two touchdowns, but the Lions love to prove the oddsmakers wrong, so Friday night should bring a whale of a football game.

University Speakers Schedule Debate

Members of the University of Nevada debate squad will attend the western speech contest at Stanford University November 21, 22 and 23.

This is the first tournament of the season and most of the big universities on the west coast will send debaters.

Members comprising the University of Nevada debating squad are Fay Fryberger, Barbara Kemp, Maclin Summers, George Bennett, Ralph Brown, Bud Weiser, Bob Ballard and Clarence Brown.

Proposition for the debate is, Resolved: That the United States should establish a Marshall Plan for the Orient.

This year's debate squad is relatively inexperienced and the outcome of the debates is doubtful, said Gale Richards, debate coach.

RALLY SCHEDULED

"The cleanest jokes heard in many a day on the Nevada campus," said Jerry Wyness, rally chairman, "will be told at the Nevada-North Texas State rally November 22." As usual, the rally will be in the Education auditorium, and will feature much new talent from around the campus.

"This will be a grand rally of rallies," said Wyness, "to celebrate Thanksgiving and among other things my birthday on the 24th." There will be a band "of sorts," composed of an accordion, saw, ukelele, violin and base violin, the players coming from the SAE house.

Seniors on the football team will also be introduced that evening, and "Willie the Wolf" will make an appearance on the program. The trio of Pi Phi, Odile Frost, Patti Zahm, and Joan Metzger will sing.

This will be the last football rally of the season.

AAUP Schedules Five Speakers Here

Five speakers are scheduled to appear at coming meetings of the Nevada chapter of the American Association of University Professors, it was announced here recently by Professor Christian Melz, vice-president of the local group.

The speakers are Dean Fredrick Wood, Mr. E. G. Morrison of San Francisco, Professor Ralph Irwin, Colonel James C. Smee, and Mr. Earl Wooster, superintendent of Reno schools.

Meetings are to be held the third Wednesday of each month, at 7:30 pm in the basement room of Artemisia Hall.

WRA Horsewomen Take Supper Ride

Supper rides were taken last week by the horsewomen's group of the Women's Recreation Association.

Two such rides were attended by members of the regular riding classes on Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Riders departed from Shaska West's stables and proceeded to Horsmen's Park behind the Washoe county golf links. After the picnic they returned to the stables.

Faculty Members Hear Gianella Talk

"Up and Down the Pacific Coast With a Geologist in 1949," the latest information on "femors" and "the shakes," all this and refreshments besides were enjoyed by members of the faculty recently at a meeting of the University Faculty Club.

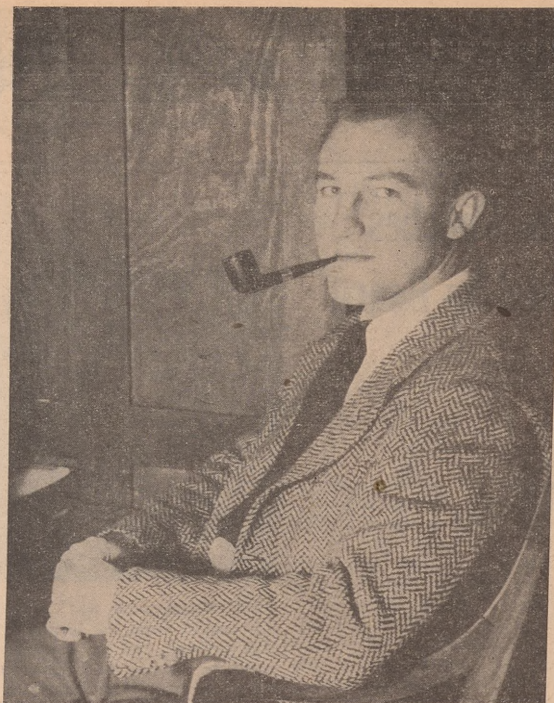

The meeting was held in the home economics room of the Agricultural building.

FULSTONE TWIN ACCEPTS GIANOTTI'S SAE PIN

GAMMA PHI ADDS TWO NAMES TO MEMBERSHIP

Gamma Phi Beta added two more names to its list of pledges Thursday night with the pledging of Robyn Forsyth and Joan Harding.

Rex Daniels recently resigned from his position as alumni secretary and publicity director for the University of Nevada. Bill McFarland has taken over the publicity department but the secretary job has not been filled as yet.

Turkey Shoot Set By Hill Rifle Club

The fourth annual Thanksgiving turkey shoot, sponsored by the University Rifle Club, will be held Friday, it was announced by Tom Macauly, Rifle Club president.

The shoot will be open to the public at 6:30 pm, and membership in the Rifle Club is not necessary. Competition for the first turkey will start at 7 pm.

Rifles and ammunition will be supplied for those not having their own equipment.

Humanities Group To Hear Reading

Dr. John Morrison, instructor in English will read from his projected volume on the history of modern Japanese literature at the next meeting of the Humanities group.

The meeting, which will take place Monday at 8 pm, will be held at the home of Dr. Christian F. Melz, associate professor of foreign languages, said Charlton G. Laird, professor of English.

Slides, Talk Given To Faculty Members

Professor Vincent P. Gianella gave an illustrated talk on "Up and Down the Pacific Coast With a Geologist in 1949" at the meeting of the Faculty Club Nov. 1.

Colored slides of different types of geological faults along the Pacific coast, including earthquakes, were shown.

On the committee of hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. William Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Smee, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Uiph, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Engel, Mrs. Jeannette C. Rhodes and R. C. Bernhardt.

Federal Man Speaks To Aggie Seminar

The first Agriculture Seminar of this year will be held on Monday day at 4 pm in room 109 in the Aggie building.

The speaker, Dr. Oliver Smith of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry, will talk on the subject "Breeding for bacterial wilt and stem nematode resistance in alfalfa."
