KING AND QUEEN TO BE CROWNED AT JUNIOR PROM SATURDAY NIGHT

Engineers Offered Highway Interning

Outstanding engineering students were offered a type of internship this week by the Bureau of Public Roads. A plan, announced in a letter to Dean Stanley Palmer of the college of engineering, provides a three year training period in highway engineering for students who have completed their college course. The program is established primarily for civil engineers with outstanding records. A bureau representative, Dr. William Howard Smith, will visit the university in the near future to interview prospective applicants. No more than two will be selected.

The date of the visit of Dr. Smith, Nevada district engineer, has not been definitely set, but will probably be within two weeks.

4 Coeds, 6 Men Vie for Honors At Twentieth Century Club

Two crowns are being polished today for the queen and king who will reign over the annual Junior Prom tomorrow evening at the Twentieth Century Club.

Candidates have been chosen by each of the Greek societies and voting will take place at the dance. The women will vote for the king, and the men will elect the queen.

Ted Klimaszewski, junior class manager, said that Francis "Tank" Smith, Mayor of Reno, and his wife have been invited to attend the dance. Mayor Smith will officially crown the royal pair.

Voting for the honor of queen are Mary Lou Burg, Tri Delta; Beverly Simon, Pi Beta Phi; Gloria Eddy, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Colleen Gilbert, Gamma Phi Beta.

King candidates are Herman Fisher, ATO; Pat O'Brien, SAE; Roger Bissett, Lambda Chi Alpha; John McEachern, Sigma Nu; Fred Purtil, Phi Sigma Kappa; and Tom Godbey, Theta Chi.

Chaperones and guests for the evening will be Elaine Mobley, dean of women; Robert Griffin, dean of men, and wife; acting President G. E. Parker and wife; Ernest Inwood, professor of economics, and wife; and Francis Smith, Mayor of Reno, and wife.

Decorations will present a royal theme with a huge crown in the center of the dance floor. Music will be furnished by Art Harris and his orchestra. The occasion calls for formal wear for women only, with men wearing suits.

Intra-mural Rifle Set for Dec. 12

The 1949 intra-mural rifle matches will be fired during the week of December 12-17, according to Captain Stanton Rickel, who is directing the matches.

Deadline for entry has been set at noon, Friday, December 9. Organizations submitting entries after that time will not be included in the matches.

Under rules the same as those used last year, teams will be comprised of three to five members. The scores of the three highest will be counted toward presentation of points for the Kinnear trophy, and the awarding of match trophies.

In addition to the Kinnear trophy points, a revolving trophy will be presented to the winning team, as well as a miniature permanent trophy. Previous winners include the Independents in 1946, Lambda Chi Alpha in 1947, and Sigma Nu in 1948.

Each of the organizations entering the matches will appoint a team captain, who need not be a firing member. No group will send more than five men to the range to compete, although more may try out, during the week before the matches.

Christmas Carols May Be Added To Nativity Scene

Christmas carols and singing may be added this year to the nativity scene that appears annually on the lower end of the campus for the Christmas holidays.

Prof. R. Z. Tate originally suggested that a musical background be added by various campus organizations forming carol singing groups.

"I think it's a shame, that some of the numerous student organizations don't get together and practice carols for presentation around the manger scene," he said.

Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art, said it was "a fine idea," and suggested that the electrical engineers rig up a speaker and turntable and broadcast the carols at the scene during certain hours.

The Nativity scene was painted and designed by last year's commercial art class. Charles Rickabaugh, campus carpenter, made the cut-outs and supports for the paintings. In addition, last year's senior class left $150 for permanent electrical outlets, an underground cable, and a detachable steel pole for the star.

Prof. Irving Sandorf of the electrical engineering department said the engineers could supply the necessary equipment for broadcasting the carols if records were made available.

Christmas Rush Expected by P. O.

With Christmas less than a month away, University of Nevada students have been warned to start seriously considering their holiday mailing schedules.

Raymond F. Briggs, in charge of the university post office, said today that all out-of-state Christmas mail should be sent no later than December 15 in order to insure arrival by the 25th. Mail to be sent to Reno addresses should be mailed by December 21.

Indications point to a heavy volume of packages and letters through the university post office, Mr. Briggs said. It is not known definitely whether or not additional help will be available to help with the expected rush, and Mr. Briggs has therefore urged the cooperation of all students.

Old Gym To Be New Skating Rink

Roller skating enthusiasts may soon use the floor of the old gym as a rink.

In cooperation with the Women's Recreation Association, the ASUN is planning to make the gymnasium available for skating on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Rink skates with wooden rollers have been purchased, and a fee of 35 cents per person will be charged to cover the cost of music and the use of the skates.

Both faculty and students will have the use of the gym for skating. Instruction will be provided for beginners, while the center of the floor will be for the use of advanced skaters.

Artemisia Finishes With Photography

Tuesday was the last day for having pictures taken for the Artemisia. There will be no more appointments at the Camera studio for those who have not as yet had their class or fraternity pictures taken, said Barbara Carter, Artemisia editor.

Special Assembly To Commemorate 75th Anniversary

A special assembly commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the University of Nevada will be held Friday, December 9, at 11:20 am in the new gymnasium.

The Hon. Chris H. Sheerin '24, regent of the university, has been chosen as guest speaker for the occasion. Mr. Sheerin, editor of the Elko Daily Free Press, will deliver an address on the early history of the university, when it was located in Elko. Other members of the board of regents have been invited as special guests of the university.

Alumni now living in the Reno area who graduated prior to 1900 have also been extended invitations to take seats of honor at the assembly.

Professor J. A. Carpenter, faculty chairman of the anniversary committee, has announced the following program: opening songs by the university singers, led by Professor Theodore H. Post, presentation of the colors, introduction of the board of regents, and the main address by Mr. Sheerin.

The committee also announced that anyone interested in the history of the university is invited to attend.

Members of the committee are Dr. J. E. Church, Dr. R. S. Griffin, Dr. W. C. Miller, Dr. Eldon Wittwer, Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, Prof. T. H. Post, Prof. W. S. Palmer, Lt. Col. Smee, Miss J. E. Wier, and Mrs. Margaret Griffin.

Following their special appearance Friday at the assembly, the board of regents will hold their regular meeting Saturday.

The first board of regents of the university was appointed almost immediately after Nevada's acceptance as a state, and through their efforts the doors first opened to seven students in 1874 in Elko.

During the early years of the school Elko county assumed a debt of more than $100,000 in order to keep the university going. Small attendance forced the removal of the school to Reno in 1886, thus ending one of the colorful eras of the university.

Nevada Students Are Asked to Buy Christmas Seals

For the first time in the history of the university a real honest-to-goodness Christmas Seal sale will be conducted on the campus under the sponsorship of the Washoe county committee of the Nevada Tuberculosis Association.

Letters containing one sheet of the colorful 1949 Christmas Seals have been mailed to each student enrolled on the campus, L. W. Waldon, president of the statewide tuberculosis organization said.

"To many of you this will be your first Christmas seal sale letter," Mr. Waldon wrote to the student body. "In years to come you will undoubtedly be asked regularly each year to help in the financial support of a tuberculosis association, the only volunteer health organization charged with the prevention of tuberculosis."

The tuberculosis association maintains a mobile X-ray service for residents of the state, the health leader said. During the past year, 18,761 persons were given free chest X-rays in an effort to find the previously undiscovered tuberculosis in apparently healthy people. The surveys were similar to those conducted on the campus by the association last February and a year previously.

Arrangements are being made to place self-selling seal units at the snack bar and the Wolf Den where extra seals may be purchased in envelopes of 50 each.

Members of Alpha Epsilon Delta will be asked to assist in the promotion of the campaign on the campus. The seal sale ends on Christmas Day.

Three Frats in Tie In Volleyball Race

Three teams are tied for first place in intramural volleyball, going into the last half of the schedule. The final games will be played on December 15, if there are no ties at the end of the regular season.

Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Nu, and Lambda Chi Alpha are all undefeated. The ATO's have taken five wins, Sigma Nu's four, and the Lambda Chi's three.

Here are the standings to November 30.

Fulstone Twins In Second Place In Twin Contest

A late report from contest headquarters shows the margin narrowing between the standings of the Fulstone twins and the McMillan twins of Texas. The report, dated November 29, gives the Texas twins a two to one lead over Nevada's entries. The Vaughan twins of Indiana are running in third place and are reported to be giving Jeanne and Eleanor close competition.

The Reno Chamber of Commerce reported that the last word they had from the contest headquarters showed the Fulstone twins about 20,000 votes behind the Texas representatives.

The deadline for votes to be in is midnight December 5.

Ballots can be sent to friends outside of Nevada as well as in the state. The Fulstone twins are representing Arizona, California, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, as well as Nevada.

Ballots can be picked up at the Reno Chamber of Commerce.

The Fulstone twins are one of six sets of twins throughout the country competing for an all-expense paid air trip to Europe, individually styled fur coats, five-piece travel wardrobes, five-piece matched luggage sets, and a modeling contract with the firm giving the contest.

Eleanor and Jeanne, are both arts and science majors at the University of Nevada. They are juniors, and both members of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Basketball League Gets Permission To Use Gymnasium

Permission has been granted the Interscholastic League of Nevada to hold this year's state basketball tournament in the university gymnasium, according to Dr. J. E. Martie, head of the men's physical education department.

Albert Lowry, president of the league, requested reservation of the gymnasium for one day prior to the tournament days to provide out-of-town teams time for practice.

The tournament will be held March 16, 17 and 18, and Neil Scott, Reno high school basketball coach, will be the director.

Inspired Pack Downs North Texas; A-P Names Five to All-Coast Team

By JAMES HULSE

Things were happening on the football front while most of the Nevada students were home working over the turkey.

The big news, of course, was the Nevada victory over the Eagles of North Texas State. The Wolf-Pack bettered their southwestern foes for the third straight time, this time by a score of 28-7.

The Nevada victory came as a surprise to some, who expected the North Texas eleven to spoil the final game of the season for Nevada. The Eagles went into the game with an 8-3 record, while the Nevada team had four and lost five.

A sophomore quarterback and a senior substitute halfback furnished an entirely different situation.

Eddie Jesse, the soph from Milwaukee hit his target 17 times in 32 aerial attempts and 262 yards. Willard Elder, the senior sub, substituted the North Texans with some brilliant running. Whizin' Willie got 149 yards in eight carries with the ball. One of his runs, an 86-yard touchdown romp in the second quarter, broke the game wide open.

Jesse's excellent passing display moved him to the honorable role of being the nation's seventh best passer for 1949. As for Elder, it was a job well done by a senior playing his last game.

Those two told the real story, but some other heroes went unused. Playing their last games for Nevada in addition to Elder were Bob Corley and Jack Davis, centers; Frank Sanches, Fred Hopper and Jack Carmody, guards; Tom Reinhardt, Buster Tilton and Floyd Hopper, tackles; Tom Bell and Jim Wilson, ends; and John Subda, Ted Kondel, backs.

Coach Joe Sheeketski summed up the season saying: "We were handicapped by injuries to key players. The boys did their utmost to win and that is the best a coach can ask for." He also noted that Nevada maintained its fourth straight year without a defeat in Mackay stadium.

Veteran Holders Of GI Insurance To Get Rebates

All veterans who hold or who have held National Service life insurance policies are entitled to the mortality rate dividend now being distributed by the Veterans Administration.

The payments are available whether the policy is in force or has elapsed, E. F. Reed, regional insurance manager, said, but an application must be filed with the Veterans Administration or payment cannot be made.

Veterans may obtain the application blanks at any post office.

Payment rates will not be the same for everyone, the regional office said, since the refund comes from a $2,800,000,000 dollar surplus on the mortality payments.

Veterans who were under the age of 40 upon entering service will receive 55c per $1000 of policy per month for the length of time the policy was in force, or until January 1, 1948.

For those over 40 at the time of entering service the rates will be judged according to the following table:

Age 40, 55c; 41, 52c; 42, 49c; 43, 46c; 44, 43c; 45, 40c; 46, 37c; 47, 34c; 48, 31c; 49, 28c; 50, 25c; 51, 24c; 52, 23c; 43, 22c; 54, 21c; 55, 20c; over 55, 20c.

How soon after application the veteran will receive his money is determined by the terminal digit of his service serial number. The Veterans Administration has set up ten groups of numbers—00-09, 10-19, 20-29, etc., and then take each month's applications, divide the number by ten and take that amount from each of the groups in succession.

So far, the regional office reports, 13,500,000 of the 18,000,000 eligible veterans have filed for their dividend.

Veterans wishing further information are urged by Mr. Palmer to contact him at 1000 Locust street, or telephone him and he will arrange an interview.

More Socials Soon, Blue Key Promises

The first Blue Key social was termed a success with Blue Key making a profit of $8 for the evening.

More 15c socials have been planned, according to Bob Vaughan, president of Blue Key. Vaughan said that another social will be held before Christmas but no date has been selected yet.

Vaughan also stated that Blue Key was still selling class rings and that they should be ordered before Christmas if possible. Blue Key members will call on fraternities and sororities for orders.

The Fulstone Twins are closing in on the twins from Texas. Latest count says less than two to one separates them. Lots of Fulstone votes haven't been counted yet . . . they took in 15,000 since Tuesday. It won't be North Texas State's fault if Jeanne and Eleanor don't make it. Somebody tricked the team into signing ballots while they were here for the Thanksgiving game.

LOOKING BACKWARD . . . Life, June 7, 1937, when this year's freshmen crop was having first grade finals, pictured seven sample college customs. Nevada was one of 'em, showing a bearded Mackay celebrant . . . Life, June 21, 1937, in a feature on Reno said "Nevada's school of mines is one of the country's best." This issue also said the university . . . "gives Reno a pleasant college town atmosphere." Imagine . . . in the days of the stockade and Dog House. Reno is SUCH a pleasant college town atmosphere, that the Ladies'

Home Journal this month, in a Reno article, really felt the pulse. It called the divorcees UNDERGRADUATES . . . those with a degree . . . GRADUATES.

Know how the Blue-Silver got its name? Bill Mackrides, now number two quarterback with the National League champs, the Philadelphia Eagles, named it. He was a top passer in the nation when he played for the Pack in '46. Used to be mascot for the Eagles as a boy.

Football betting cards left off the University of Nevada this year . . . perhaps for good . . . after last season's notoriety. . . The tasteless display in uppercase on the football field "Goodbye Joe" brings the new song to mind . . . "Don't Cry, Joe . . . let it go, let it go, let it go." . . . Sherman Howard, one of the reasons Nevada had such a successful '48 football show, is a bigger reason the Pro Yanks were clicking (until the '49ers last week). He's averaged 4.09 yards gained per 102 times he's carried the ball. Ranks eighth in AAFC in rushing. . . Jeff Cravath, USC coach, said "Football is typical of the American way of life. You'll find no Communism in it." When Pravda gets hold of this, it will say "Typically capitalistic and they'll be right for the first time."

7 Debaters Attend Speech Convention Held at Stanford

Seven members of the Nevada debate team, accompanied by Gale Richards, debate instructor and associate professor of English, attended the Western Speech Student conference at Stanford University on November 21, 22 and 23.

The seven attending the conference were Faye Fryberger, George Bennet, Barbara Kemp, Robert Ballard, Clarence Brown, Quay Weiser, and Ralph Brown.

Weiser was the outstanding member of the Nevada team. He participated in the final contest in after-dinner speaking, and was the only member of the team to enter the finals.

Miss Fryberger received special mention at the conference for her participation in the student congress, in which the topic of discussion was "Resolved: That the United States should establish a Marshall Plan for the Orient."

Mr. Richards said that despite their lack of experience and practice, the members of the team gave an outstanding performance and that he expects the team as a whole to progress and advance remarkably within the next few months.

Acting President Gilbert E. Parker appointed Stanley G. Palmer, dean of the college of engineering to be acting president from November 30 to December 4.

Colonel Parker went to Ely on Wednesday to attend a Farm Bureau convention and to meet with various groups of alumni.

Four Faculty Men And One Student In Cast of Play

Four faculty members and one student of the university are being featured in the Reno Little Theater production of "Command Decision."

Dr. Robert M. Gorrell, associate professor of English, is cast in one of the leading roles as Brigadier General Clifton Garnett; Dr. M. W. Deming, professor of chemistry, plays Elmer Brockerst, a war correspondent; Ira E. Gunn, instructor in economics and business administration, is cast as Senator Malcolm; Lieutenant Colonel Francis Pope, professor of air science and tactics, appears as Colonel Edward Martin; and Clarence Brown, junior student, plays Sergeant Evans.

The play is continuing this week and will play through Monday night. It involves the problems in commanding the military forces during the war.

NEVADA CAGERS OPEN SEASON; MEET CHICO STATE AND USF

Open Against Wildcats, at Chico; Play Dons at Kezar Next Thursday

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack basketball team begins its season with a rush this weekend.

Tonight and tomorrow night, the Pack tangles with the Chico State Wildcats, in Chico. Thursday it gets into the big time, but good, as it meets the defending champions of the National Invitational Tournament, the Dons of San Francisco. The USF game will be played in Kezar Pavilion, in San Francisco.

When asked about the opening series at Chico, coach Jake Lawlor said he anticipated a tight series. He gave as his reason the fine showing made by the 'Cats at the end of last season, and added that their team is changed but little.

"It should be a tough series, but we expect to be in there at the finish," Lawlor said.

Probable starting lineup for tonight's game, as listed by Coach Lawlor, includes Joe Libke and Hal Hayes at forwards, Ted Johnson at center, and Les Ray and Buddy Garfinkle at guards. Johnson played last year with the Nevada Juniors of the Reno City League. The other four are all varsity veterans, each with two letters at Nevada.

There is no dirth of material behind the starting team, either. Reserve forwards include Bill Higgins and Jerry Wyness from the Nevada Juniors, and Ed Hancock, Mert Baxter, and Earl Jarrett of the frosh.

In line for the guard spot will be Lou Mendive, another varsity man, transfer Bert Larkins, and Elmos Derrico of the Juniors. Johnson is not alone in the center position, either. Behind him are Dick Truman of the varsity and Ralph Morgali from the frosh.

Nothing on Chico
No word has been received from the apparently publicity-shy Wildcats, but let's take a look at the Dons.

USF, as most basketball fans recall, is the defending champion of the National Invitational tournament. The Dons pulled the surprise of the year, as far as east coast basketball is concerned, and upset a couple of good ball clubs to take the crown.

The Dons have ten lettermen returning from last year's team, plus another from the 1947-48 season. The only serious losses to the Invitational champs were those of John Benington and Hal DeJulio.

Top Tournament Player
Leading the list on the '49-50 crew is All-American forward Don Loifgran, voted the outstanding player of the NIBT last year. Other veterans include forwards Don Giesen and Frank Sobek, centers Joe McNamee and Walt Olson, and guards Rene Herrerias, Frank Kuzara, Ross Guidice, Milan Metikosh, and Jack Hanley.

New sophomore players are Willie (Woo Woo) Wong, Cappy Lavin and Bart O'Shea, at guards, forwards Walt Mehl and Bernie Esser, and center Norm McKenzie.

Happy Thanksgiving to all campuses... from Carlisle's and their campus representative — "Jimmie." We're putting on the "feedbag" ourselves tomorrow... And, while we don't have as long a holiday as you... we're all set to enjoy that day off, too. And remember, if you want "Jimmie" in a jiffy... just dial 4195, 2-3891 or 3891.

ANNUAL 'MESSIAH' TO BE GIVEN IN GYM ON DECEMBER 12

The 16th annual university presentation of the "Messiah" has been set for Monday, December 12, Professor Theodore H. Post, conductor, announced this week.

The presentation of Handel's great oratorio will include approximately fifteen arias and recitatives and more than a dozen choruses. The parts pertaining to the Easter version have been cut out so that the program will not be too long, Professor Post said. He expects it to last two hours.

There are 135 members of the chorus now and 28 in the orchestra, but a delegation of about 15 members from Carson City is expected, said Professor Post. Carson sent a delegation last year.

"I am expecting an attendance of more than 3000," Post said. "Last year 3000 came even though it was a very stormy night, so this year we should have an even larger attendance."

No admission is charged at the annual performance.

The musical program will be held in the new gymnasium at 8:15 and Professor Post believes that the singers and orchestra will benefit from the acoustical improvements that have been made in the building.

Three of the six soloists sang in the "Messiah" last year: Joe Battaglia, tenor; Manfred Hardesty, baritone; and Mrs. Dorothy McLeod, contralto.

Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, who has had important roles in opera and on the concert stage in California, will sing the soprano solos. Mrs. Dickinson, wife of the English instructor, James R. Dickinson, is university YWCA secretary.

Miss Nona Lee Tuttle, a recent graduate of this university, but now residing in California, will sing some of the contralto arias and recitatives. She is a member of the San Francisco Municipal Chorus at present.

Dr. Loring R. Williams, associate professor of chemistry and a soloist at the Methodist Church, will sing the bass aria "The People That Walk in Darkness."

Fred di Salvo, director of the Federated and Catholic choirs of Reno, will be the concertmaster, Professor Post announced, in place of Professor Robert Z. Tate, last year's concertmaster, who cannot hold the same position this year due to ill health.

Wilfred P. Smith, well known Reno citizen, will again be manager. Verlita Lee Johnson will be the pianist.

Thefts From Gym Prompt Precautions

New signs have been painted and are going to be placed over the doorways in the new gymnasium to keep everyone but students and faculty out of the gym.

It has been reported that a window was broken in the girls' equipment room and that two balls and other equipment were removed. Jake Lawlor has reported that three of the basketballs have turned up missing, and therefore the gym will be closed except to university members.

Grills have been put on all the storeroom windows following the recent losses.

The United States flag was hoisted over Wake Island on July 4, 1898.

University Student Turns Prospector

Thanksgiving vacation may prove to have been a profitable occasion for Bill Flangas, junior student. Prospecting near his hometown of Ely, he found what appeared to be workable gold ore. Flakes were visible to the naked eye in some of his samples. Positive proof of the ore quality hinges on the assay, Flangas said today.

American Indian land holdings in the United States total about 52 million acres.
