MAX DODGE TAKES OVER ALUMNI POSITION; MOVES IN DECEMBER 15

Newly appointed secretary of the University of Nevada Alumni Association is Max Dodge, 27 year old graduate and former three sport letterman at the institution. Dodge was the unanimous choice for the alumni executive committee to fill the vacancy left by Rex Daniels, who resigned to become head of the journalism department at Reno High School.

The new secretary, besides being co-captain of the football team, was selected on the West All-Star eleven in 1946. He was a member of the quarter-finalist NAIB tournament basketball team in 1946, and the holder of numerous Nevada and Pacific coast discus records, having competed for a berth in this event during final try-outs for the U. S. Olympic team in 1948.

He served as editor of the Artemisia in 1947, sports editor of the Sagebrush, and was business manager for the football program. The new alumni director was a member of Coffin and Keys, Blue Key, Press Club, Inter-Fraternity Council, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He was a charter member of Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary Police Science Fraternity, and served as president of the Block N and his fraternity. Prior to attending Nevada, Mr. Dodge lettered in football and track at Washington State College.

Since graduation, Dodge has been employed by the Thomas C. Wilson Advertising Agency in Reno, where he has worked in publicity, handled special campaigns, and all direct mail advertising. He is currently president of the Reno Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He is married to former student, Barbara Ray from Caliente, Nevada. They have one child, a boy.

Dodge will assume his new duties on December 15. One of his first acts will be organizing a Christmas holiday get-together between present and former students and grads in cities and counties throughout the state.

Governor Pittman Recommends Safety For the Holidays

Governor Vail Pittman this week called upon the people of Nevada to join the National Safety Council and 160 other cooperating organizations in their efforts to make this year's Christmas-New Year's celebration a safe holiday for everybody.

"This nationwide campaign to hold down holiday accidents," the governor said, "charts the course for all of us to follow—one of accepting individual responsibility for avoiding accident situations which might bring death or injury to ourselves or to others."

"Safety—just like freedom—is everybody's job. That is the American way of doing things. Each person must realize that an accident can happen to him and refuse to take the chance that may be its cause. He must meet the extra holiday hazards with extra caution, common sense and courtesy to overcome them."

Governor Pittman said drivers and pedestrians alike must exercise special care during the Christmas season, in order to prevent a repetition of Labor Day's record traffic fatality toll.

Fraternity Averages Improved, Griffin Reports at Bean Feed

By WALT MacKENZIE

A fitting climax to Wednesday evening's interfraternity bean feed was the announcement by Dr. Robert S. Griffin, dean of men, that the fraternity scholarship average was seven plus per cent above the all men's average last spring.

This compares favorably with the record of nine per cent set by University of Cincinnati fraternities as announced recently by the national interfraternity council.

The evening began with an introductory song by each fraternity, followed by community singing, led by Jim Morrison, rally commissioner.

During the meal members of Theta Chi and SAE entertained with various selections, interspersed with spontaneous singing by many of the fraternities.

The guest speaker, Dr. H. J. Wunderlich, dean of men at Montana State University, was then introduced by Dr. Griffin. Dean Wunderlich spoke on "The Fraternity System in the Postwar Era and Its Relation to Higher Education."

In the absence of Dr. J. E. Martie, Col. Gilbert E. Parker, acting president of the university, presented the many athletic awards. Sigma Nu won six individual trophies for rifle, skiing, softball, bas-

Max Dodge, Nevada graduate who was recently appointed alumni secretary, will take over his duties officially on December 15.

Dodge was an all-around athlete, and also was very active in many campus organizations while on the hill. His appointment was made early this week and announced by Walter States, president of the University of Nevada Alumni Association.

FINANCE CONTROL APPROVES BRUSH TABLOID SIZE

The Sagebrush will appear in tabloid form next week, it was decided at the regular meeting of the board of finance control last night.

Upon the recommendations of Gene McKenna, editor of the Sagebrush, the board authorized the change for the rest of the semester. The board of publications will decide at the end of this trial period whether to continue the use of tabloid form.

The board also decided that the university should be represented at the annual Livestock Show in Denver during the early part of January.

Two Men Confined With Chickenpox

Harold "Bud" Hodge and George Tarassa, two of the three students who now get their mail at the infirmary have "chickenpox." Both of these patients entered the infirmary December 1 and will be discharged next week.

Francis Schmalzing entered the infirmary Monday.

It has been announced by the infirmary that all ace bandages, bottles, crutches, medicine droppers, and all other equipment that has been issued by the infirmary should be returned immediately.

The infirmary also announced that no class excuses will be issued to students who are not interned at the infirmary.

One Hill Student Files Application For Foreign Study

The scholarship which offers a year of study in one of 12 foreign countries under the Fulbright act found one applicant at the University of Nevada. Loring Chapman, junior arts and science student, filed the only application.

The scholarship was announced more than a month ago by Dr. William Miller, associate professor of English, who has been handling the applications. The final date for application was December 1.

Chapman has received a great deal of literature recently, according to Dr. Miller.

The Fulbright act provides for travelling, tuition and living expenses for one year for 648 American students in one of a dozen countries.

Dr. Miller said that several scholarships are available for graduate students, but that at present there are few which could be used by the average university student. There should be several undergraduate scholarships open to students soon, he said.

Dr. Ernest Inwood, head of the department of economics, business and sociology, spent one year as instructor at the University of Rangoon, Burma, under the provision of the act.

Annual Journalism Christmas Party Slated December 15

Journalism students at the University of Nevada will hold their annual Christmas party Dec. 15 at 8 pm in the Journalism building, Barbara Smith, Press Club president and chairman of the event, said today that the party will be open to all Nevada journalism students. Price of admission will be 50 cents per person.

Each student attending will purchase a small gift, price of which is not to exceed 25 cents. These will be distributed later in the evening.

Dancing and various types of games will be the main entertainment, and refreshments will be served. "St. Nick" is also scheduled to be present.

Special invitations to the party will be sent the freshmen and sophomore journalism students, since many have not yet become acquainted with the annual party.

Families and friends of the journalism students are also invited to attend.

Charged with making arrangements for the party are Barbara Smith, chairman; Beverly Lehman and Terry Alouzet, co-chairmen; Len Crocker and June Holmes.

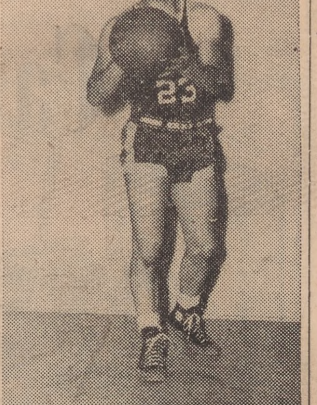

U. S. Jobs Available For Hill Engineers

Openings in the federal government for engineering and physical science students were announced this week by the Civil Service Commission. Aptitude examinations for interested students will be given early next year.

MATH CLUB PARTY

Members of the Math Club held their annual Christmas party last Friday at the home of Dean Frederick Wood.

President Joe Wirsching reports that the affair was well attended and highly successful. Card games furnished the evening's entertainment.

Here is the playmaker of the Wolf Pack hardwood quintet, guard Buddy Garfinkle. Although only five eight in height, Garfinkle makes up for his lack of skyscraper proportions through his constant hustle on the court.

Educators Will Hear Judge Badt Speak Tomorrow

The Alpha chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary of educators, will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the education auditorium. Justice Milton B. Badt, of the Supreme Court of Nevada, will be guest speaker. The subject of his address will be "Education as a Career."

Delta Kappa Gamma is a national organization whose members have taught for five years and who have been elected to the honorary. The major objective of the honorary is to find fine young men and women for education. This meeting to be held on Saturday is for the benefit of those who are practicing teaching this semester or who will practice next spring.

Formal invitations have been sent out; however, anyone who is interested in education is invited to attend. During refreshment hour, there will be a chance to meet Justice Badt and the members of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Violators Face Possible Expulsion

The efforts of the upperclass committee and the sophomore vigilantes are going to be redoubled to make the wearing of the dink a unanimous proposition within the freshman ranks next week, Tom Ross, head of the men's upperclass committee, reported.

Each of the members of the committee and the vigilantes have a quota of three tickets a week to turn in, and although there are few violators left, these quotas are usually met. There has been an average of 20 tickets a week given out in the last three weeks.

Ross reported that this is the first year since the war that the freshman rule has been really enforced, and until the next tug-of-war decides the problem, they will continue to wear them.

Freshmen who fail to show up at the appointed time for swats are to be given one last warning to appear. If they continue to miss the date, violators' names will be submitted to the student senate for vote. Failure to appear may mean possible expulsion and no student privileges.

Social Code Change Studied by Senate

Proposed revisions of the university social code received attention last night when the council of presidents met in a special session. A committee was appointed to collect all the suggestions for changes to present social methods.

Vague points of the code were open for discussion and ASUN President Paul Reimer said that more student participation in enforcing the code is essential for its effective administration.

The council of presidents consists of the heads of fraternities, sororities and other campus organizations. Paul Reimer presided over the meeting. The next meeting will be held January 7.

SAGEBRUSH GOES TABLOID

Official approval for the University of Nevada Sagebrush to go tabloid size was given yesterday by the finance control board.

The Brush will come out with its new "facelifting" next Friday.

DONS BEAT PACK

Sports Editor's note: The University of San Francisco Dons, defending champions of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament, took an early lead last night, and beat the Nevada Wolf Pack, 70-51.

Once again, it was sophomore forward Mert Baxter who led the scoring for the Nevada contingent, tanking 15 points, to run his three-game total to 38 points, Joe Libke placed second for Nevada, with 14 markers.

It was All-American forward Don Lofgran that kept the Dons out front with his accurate shooting. Lofgran totaled 19 points for the evening, with center Joe McNamee potting 12 more.

For a complete recap of the game, see next week's Sagebrush.

Faculty OK's Admission Change Resolution Goes to Regents

ASSEMBLY

Paul O. Reimer, student body president of the University of Nevada, announced recently that December 19 is the date tentatively set for the next assembly.

A brand new "Sam Schmoer" detective story will be introduced. The program also will include several skits and other student talent, assembly chairman Pat O'Brien revealed today.

The general theme of the meeting is Christmas.

P. O. Reimer has planned a pep talk to precede the frosh-soph tug-of-war which will take place the same afternoon.

Biology Fraternity Operating Hotel For Tropical Fish

Beta Beta Beta, recently installed biology fraternity at the University of Nevada, is now maintaining an aquarium which displays many species of tropical fish.

The aquarium, located in the basement of the Agricultural building, was built last spring by Donald Cooney, former botany instructor at the University of Nevada.

Glen Christenson, wildlife management major, who has charge of the aquarium, said that Catherine Wages, formerly a member of the Nevada Aquatic Society, gave the biology department aquatic plants and ten tropical fish valued at $50.

The colorful fish, measuring from one and one-half inches to four inches long, are of species originally imported from such places as India, Mexico, Sumatra, Borneo and the lower Amazon.

The aquarium now has 21 fish, plus a few catfish and snails to act as scavengers. Christenson stated that Beta Beta Beta would try to increase the number of fish to 35 or 40 sometime this year.

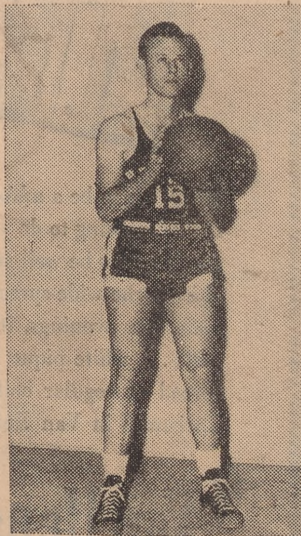

For the Birds Is This Fowl Story

Fried chicken will be part of the payoff for the eight students now taking Poultry Husbandry 101, when the first of their flock is slaughtered. Already several chickens have reached the weight to make a good meal.

The class raised the chickens from day-old size, taking turns feeding and caring for the birds. Of the original 104 chicks, 102 are still alive, a mortality rate seldom reached by commercial breeders. Accurate records of weight gains and food consumption were kept by the class.

Charles C. Adams, assistant professor of animal husbandry, who instructs the class, said that as soon as the class has eaten enough chicken the rest will be sold at the prevailing market price to help defray expenses.

The chickens are kept in the basement of the Agriculture building.

When Les Ray goes into action for the Nevada Wolf Pack next Wednesday, he will be playing against a crew from his home state of Indiana. The Pack meets the Sycamores from Indiana State College in the first home game of the season, with the Nevada frosh meeting Reno high school in the prelim.

Faculty Wants New Qualifications For Nevada High School Graduates

Certain grade standards may be required of Nevada high school graduates for admission to the university, beginning next fall, if the board of regents approves the resolution passed by the faculty Wednesday afternoon.

The board of regents will consider the resolution at their meeting tomorrow morning, Silas E. Ross, chairman, stated.

The resolution, which was recommended by the admission committee and the administrative council, provides that of the 15 accepted units presented for admission by any student, six units would have to carry grades of 80 per cent or better and four of the six would have to be acceptable academic subjects.

Any high school graduate who is a resident of this state but who cannot meet the requirement of six quality credits may qualify for admission by satisfying other conditions if he has no subject requirements deficiencies. These alternate conditions are:

1. Obtain a passing grade in such college entrance tests as may be prescribed by this university.
2. Obtain a satisfactory rating in the psychological tests given to all new students.
3. Satisfy the admission committee through a personal interview that he is qualified to do university work.

Thetas Will Give Children's Party

A party for underprivileged children given last year by the Kappa Alpha Theta's is to become an annual affair of the sorority, the group stated. This year's party will be held Wednesday and mothers of the children have been invited also.

The boys come from Gross Farm, a boarding home in Sparks, and range from three to 16 years in age. Three sorority girls have one boy for whom to buy presents, thus allowing each child at least three gifts. Santa Claus will be there to distribute the toys and there will be a gaily trimmed Christmas tree.

This party replaces the big and little sister parties given by the Theta's in previous years.

Chairman of the committee is Mary Micheo, with Dorothy Dunbar, Gloria Martelle and Joyce Cranor assisting.

Board of Regents To Meet Tomorrow

A tour is to be made tomorrow by the board of regents to examine all campus buildings, said Acting President Gilbert E. Parker. The tour will be made following the board of regents meeting which will begin at 9 am.

Paul H. Jensen, assistant professor of education, will present his plan for taking university students to Europe during summer vacation to the board for discussion. Tuition and other matters also will be brought forth.

The home economics department will hold a luncheon at noon tomorrow for the members of the board. The meeting is expected to last throughout the day.

Parker To Be Host To John O. Moseley

Dr. John O. Moseley, past president of the university, will be visiting in Reno on December 11 at the home of Acting President Gilbert E. Parker.

President Parker states that Dr. Moseley will remain in Reno for two or three days before continuing his trip to Palo Alto.

GILBERT, BISSETT CORONATED AT JUNIOR PROM CEREMONIES

By JAMES HULSE

It was their majesties Roger Bissett and Colleen Gilbert at the Junior Prom Saturday night.

Acting President Gilbert Parker officially presided over the coronation ceremonies, and the monarchs reigned over the 200 dancers at the Twentieth Century Club for the evening.

Their majesties were chosen by votes of the dancers. The results were close, Ted Klimaszewski, junior class president, announced.

Bissett won over five opponents for the throne. The queen was chosen from a field of four. The men selected the queen and their dates voted on the candidate for king.

A huge crown was suspended from the ceiling to offer the royalty atmosphere which was the theme of the dance. Art Harris and his orchestra furnished the music for the royal court.

The monarchs were presented with gift certificates of $10 each by local business firms.

Most of the fraternities had competitors in the field. Bissett was opposed by Herman Fisher, ATO; Fred Purtil, Phi Sigma Kappa;

Pat O'Brien, SAE; Tom Godbey, Theta Chi; and John McEachern, Sigma Nu.

The hopefuls for queen who contested with Miss Gilbert were Gloria Eddy, Kappa Alpha Theta; Beverly Simon, Pi Beta Phi; and Mary Lou Burg, Delta Delta Delta.

Chaperones for the evening were President and Mrs. Gilbert Parker, Dean of Women Elaine Mobley, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Griffin, and Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Inwood.

Arrangements were directed by Klimaszewski. His committee was Colleen Gilbert, Joan Powell, Rose Oyerbide, Irene Waterman, John Marvel, Joe Ward, Roger Bissett, Tom Godbey, Charles Pilsifer, Ted Locke and Fred Purtil.

BEAN FEED

The annual interfraternity bean feed last Wednesday night went off as expected—almost a complete success.

From the singing, speakers, and other talent exhibited during the affair, fraternities at Nevada need have no fear of being criticized for lack of spirit.

The only dissention noted during the whole evening was over—and it's to be expected—the FOOD.

It seems mighty strange to us that for one dollar the university dining hall can't put out a better meal. Sure, it's traditional to have beans—BUT HOW ABOUT THOSE UNCOOKED, SICK-LOOKING HOT DOGS dished out? The bean feed use to be much lower in price. Presumably the price increase was to help bring about better chow for the event. Unfortunately that wasn't the case.

If we want to stick to traditions and have the bean feed—and also have it at the dining hall—let's at least demand a dollar's worth of food. Gow house officials should be able to feed 400 men at one dollar a head a little better.

'BRUSH'S NEW LOOK

After many weeks of planning and much groundwork—sometimes in the face of stiff opposition—the SAGEBRUSH received permission to go tabloid. The new size is more modern and will afford opportunities for increased pages, better placement for advertisements, and neater makeup.

The Finance Control Board at its regular meeting yesterday gave tentative approval for the rest of the semester. The Publications Board must approve the change before the action is official, however.

We are anxious to hear from as many people as possible regarding the new size after publication next Friday. Comments, either good or bad, will be appreciated.

Scholarship Given To History Major

Richard C. Sieber, senior history major, has been chosen by the University of San Francisco Law School to receive a full year of tuition at that institution, it was reported this week by Harold N. Brown, chairman of the faculty committee on scholarships and prizes. He expects to begin his studies there in the fall of 1950.

The scholarship is awarded on the basis of fine scholastic achievements and excellent character, Dr. Brown said. Sieber has an overall average grade of 3.36.

Chem Club Initiates, Plans Xmas Party

Nineteen new members were initiated into the Chemistry Club in a ceremony held last week.

Those initiated were Robert Beamish, Moray Black, Owen Bunker, Joe Bugica, James Currie, James Dalbey, Stanley Johns, Anthony Kawerk, Robert Korb, William Lusebrink, George Maclean, Robert MacPhee, Lowell Miller, James Skinner, James Stubbins, Joseph Swift, and Louis Zorio.

The club members decided to hold a Christmas party December 13 in the basement of Stewart Hall.

Campus Queries

By MYRON LEAVITT

Should boxing become a major sport at the University of Nevada? From a cross-section of the university it was found that most students favored making boxing a major sport because of the competition the boxing team engages in, and the strenuous conditioning and training required to become a good pugilist.

Another view was presented, that since the other major colleges on the coast consider it a major sport, Nevada should keep in stride and also give it major status.

Lou Mendive, senior and member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, stated, "Boxing is bringing just as much recognition as the major sports to the school; therefore, it should have equal status with the other sports."

Roger Bissett, junior, thought, "Compared to other major sports the boxing team has done as well as, or better, in competition with other schools in spite of inadequate backing."

Ted Lokke, SAE, voiced his opinion by stating, "Most other schools have it on a major scale and there is no reason why we shouldn't have it here at the University of Nevada."

Robert Wileox, freshman of Sigma Rho, said, "I believe that it should become a major sport because the amount of time and work it requires to be a good boxer merits it."

Carmel Caruso, football player, "I believe it should be because of the strenuous and constant training necessary to be a good boxer, and because it is a good money-making scheme and can enrich the athletic department."

Wayne Osborne, a boxer on last year's team, believes that it should become a major sport because, "In no other sport do you have to train as hard to become good. In boxing you can't rest or depend on someone else to help you. Another reason I believe that it should is the fact that of all the schools we fought against last year not one had boxing on a minor scale."

Al Matteucci, sophomore, believes that it should become a major sport providing that the requirements to earn a letter are as difficult as they are in other major sports.

John Campbell, Phi Sigma Kappa, "Since it is accepted as a major sport in other universities on the west coast, it should be at the University of Nevada. Nevada should keep in step with other major colleges."

VARSIITY-FROSH OPEN HERE; MEET INDIANA STATE-RENO

Sycamores Travel; Play Five Games On Pacific Coast

The Nevada Wolf Pack will make its initial home appearance of the 1949-50 season next Wednesday evening, when it tangles with the Indiana State College Sycamores.

To date, the Pack has split its opening series, against Chico State, while the Sycamores, coached by John Longfellow, have won two of their three outings. They have beaten Concordia College, 55-33, and Huntington College, 84-52. Their loss was last Monday, to Louisville, by a count of 68-66.

Leading scorer for the Sycamores in their first two games was forward Don McDonald, who racked up 15 and 22 points, for an average of 18 per game. The number one man of the bucket brigade is also leading the free-throw averages, with eight for eight.

Veteran guard, Len Rzeszewski, is in second place among point-makers with a 22-point total. He is one of the finer rebound artists with the crew from the Hoosier state.

Note: The Sycamores played against DePauw University last Wednesday evening, and came out on the long, short end of a — count.

Nevada is the first of several west-teams on the list for the Hoosiers. After the game with the Silver and Blue, they move on to San Francisco where they meet St. Mary's on December 16. Then they meet Sacramento on the 19th, followed by a two-game series against Southern Oregon on December 20-21.

37 Home Wins
Before the game with DePauw, the Sycamores had stretched their home game winning streak to 37 straight, a mark not to be ignored.

On the over-all picture, here is the way Coach Longfellow's team looks. Last year, during his first season at State, Longfellow's men ran up a record of 24 wins and eight losses. His team this year is built around ten returning lettermen, plus eight men up from the '48-49 frosh. Rzeszewski, already named as number two scorer this year, is the playmaker of the crew. The six-two guard made the number two team at last year's NAIB tournament at Kansas City.

The aforementioned McDonald, who stands six-two, averaged 10.46 points per game last year, for 32 games. He won a starting spot as a freshman, and has been on the list as a starter for 91 consecutive games going into this season.

More Lettermen
Other lettermen include center Dan Dimich, a fourth-year man scales six-three and a half. He is being strongly pressed by sophomores John Scott, at six-eight, and Bob Gilbert, a slight lad, only six-five.

Jim Hans, a center who stands six-three and a half, may be switched to the guard post to get more height under the basket.

The other starting forward will be selected from the group of vets comprised of Jim Powers, Bill Jagodzinski, and Jerry Kunkel.

Standouts among the sophomores, other than Scott and Gilbert, are Rich Campbell, Ed Longfellow, Gene Lambdin, Max Hungerford, Dick Pattengale and Jack Reece.

What's This?
The novel twist will be introduced in this first home appearance of the Pack, for two of the Nevadans will be playing against home-staters.

Les Ray and Joe Libke, both starters for the Pack, hail from Sullivan, Indiana, not 30 miles from Terra Haute, where Indiana State is located.

Loaded Frosh Team Tangles With Reno In Opening Stand

Local frosh basketballers open their season Wednesday night against a tough Reno high crew in the university gym. The game is to be a preliminary to the varsity-Indiana State game, and will get under way at 6:45 pm.

Since the initial encounter is only a little more than two weeks after practice started, frosh coaches Dick Evans and Hugh Smithwick will probably give all their players a good workout in order to determine which will be the regular quintet.

As yet, not too much is known about the frosh yearlings, except that a large eager lot answered the call to practice. Included in the turnout were a trio of all-staters from Nevada, who will be sure to see much action. They are Ed Spoon, six-two center from Reno, George Mentaberry, six-foot guard from Winnemucca, and John Buccambuso, six-one forward from Ely.

Coaches Evans and Smithwick have been drilling the squad daily in the fast break offense, which assures an interesting type basketball to watch.

27 Men Now
At present the squad includes: forwards, Bill Hooper, John Buccambuso, Giles Altenburg, Joe Bugica, Dan Sullivan, Andy Kalmanir, Proc Hug, Morgan O'Brien, Larry Masini, and Ray Marks; guards, George Morrison, Lawrence Bangert, George Mentaberry, Joe Frade, Ronald Lemmon, Hardy Phillips, Bill Swackhammer, Arlen Neal, and Ray Hunter; centers, William Falvey, George Frazier, George Williams, John Wissner, Wayne Seacrist, Ed Spoon, Jay Reynolds, and Dallas Seavers.

The frosh coaches are expected to cut the squad to normal playing size by the early part of next week, prior to the game against the Huskies. Until then, no definite starting group can be named, but one possibility is listed below.

The Reno high school squad, working under Coach Bud Beasley, has held but three practice sessions to date, and will come into its initial game a little on the rusty side.

Five Varsity Vets
Five members of the 20-man squad are holdovers from last season, according to Coach Beasley, with some of the others up from the jayvees.

Here are the probable starting lineups:
Nevada frosh: Dan Sullivan (f), John Buccambuso (f), John Wissner or Ed Spoon (c), Ed Spoon or George Mentaberry (g), Lawrence Banbert (g).

Reno High: Jack Bream (f), Alie Thieme (f), Roy Larralde (c), Buddy Piazzo (g), Bill Gadda (g).

Chess Club Plans To Sponsor Meet

All chess players, amateurs as well as experts, are invited to join the chess club, which meets every Thursday night in the military lecture room of the gymnasium, with Sgt. Otis Carrick of the military department presiding.

The chess club is going to sponsor the city of Reno chess tournament this year.

One of the members of the club, Mr. William Taber of Reno, was last year's state chess champion, and also won interstate competition with the Idaho and Utah champions.

Boxing Schedule Set; First Match With Chico State

The University of Nevada boxers will face one of the toughest schedules ever tackled by a Nevada team when they open the current season against Chico State College January 19. This year the pugilists who are coached by Cliff Devine will meet the University of California, UCLA and Idaho State in matches before the completion of the season.

Last year the sport took a hold on the student body and became very popular with local sport fans. After the completion of the regular boxing season last year, the team was invited to attend the Intermountain boxing tournament, and the Pacific Coast Championship tourney. This year the dates for the two tourneys are March 17 and 18 for the Intermountain, while the Pacific Coast tournament will be held on March 23, 24 and 25.

Among the veterans who will help carry out the rugged schedule are: Bob Thronson, Martin Rodriguez, Jack Swobe, Wayne Osborne, Stanley Drakulich, Dean Glouster, Gordon Surber, Frank Sanchez, and Don Eccles.

Below is the schedule for this season as released by the graduate manager's office:

Thursday, January 19: Chico State College, at Chico.
Saturday, February 4: UCLA, at Reno.
Monday, February 6: San Francisco State, at Reno.
Tuesday, February 14: Chico State College, at Reno.
Saturday, February 18: California Aggies, at Reno.
Saturday, February 25: Idaho State College, at Pocatello.
Saturday, March 4: Idaho State College, at Elko.
Saturday, March 11: University of California, at Reno.

Fred Leon Named To Coast Eleven

When Collier's magazine released its Far-West team last week, the University of Nevada placed one man on the honorable mention list.

Fred Leon, Nevada tackle and co-captain of the 1949 team, was named with such as Ollie Matson of USF, Ken Carpenter of Oregon State, Hall Haynes of Santa Clara, and Packard Harrington of St. Mary's.

Named to the Collier's Far-West first team were: ends, Ken Rose, Stanford, and Bob Wilkinson, UCLA; tackles, Jim Turner, California, and Velney Peters, USC; guards, Rod Franz, California, and Vern Sterling, Santa Clara; center, Leon McLaughlin, UCLA.

Quarterback, Eddie LeBaron, College of Pacific; halfbacks, Ollie Matson, USF, and Bob Sanders, Oregon; fullback, Bill Martin, USC.

The national magazine will name its All-American team from the members of the Far-West and other sectional teams.

LIBRARY HOURS

Library hours for the two-week Christmas vacation period will follow a "holiday schedule," according to James J. Hill, university librarian.

The library will be open from Tuesday until Friday during the two holiday weeks and will observe the regular 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 hours.

Mr. Hill said that the library will observe a three-day weekend for both Christmas and New Year, being closed on Saturday, Sunday and Monday of the two weeks.

Rams Coach Praises Halfback Kalmanir

Tommy Kalmanir, outstanding halfback of last year's varsity, has lived up to the reputation he made at Nevada.

Coach Clark Shaughnessy of the Los Angeles Rams and his assistants, Joe Stydahar, Howard Hincekey, and George Trafton, have this to say for him in the Los Angeles Times: "Most dangerous runner—Left Halfback Cricket Kalmanir. He's a 24 karat Nevada nugget."

OSBORNE WINS SCORING RACE; SUBDA SECOND

The battle for first place in the scoring column for the Wolf Pack footballers boiled down to a two-man affair, with Bill Osborne holding onto a one touchdown lead to win, with eight TD's.

In second place was Johnny Subda, who scored seven times.

Bob Corley, Nevada place-kick specialist, made good 25 kicks in 34 attempts, to nudge Ted Kondel out of fourth place by one point.

Here are the final standings:

Name and No.	TD's	Pats	T
Bill Osborne (25)	8	42	48
Johnny Subda (16)	7	40	42
Herm Fisher (35)	5	30	30

University Tumblers Schedule Routine During Basketball

A three-ring circus will be one of the features of early University of Nevada basketball games, according to Art Broten, physical education instructor. The university tumbling team is preparing an act to be given at half time in one of the early games.

The act will include activities on the trampoline, highbar, parallel bars, mats, and springboard. The tumblers are attempting to prepare a performance which will move quickly and constantly. The date of the act has not been announced.

The entire tumbling team will participate in the activity. Members of the team are Dave Cochran, Irving Hackett, Bob Coughlin, Don Thompson, Jack Parke, Jerry Schaffer, Gene Wait, Russell Mills, Bill Luis, Earl Dempsey, and Bob Arnesen.

GYM OBTAINABLE

Students will be able to use the university gymnasium on Saturdays and Sundays from 2 to 6 pm, according to an announcement recently by Dr. Martie of the men's physical education department.

In order to obtain the gym's use, application must be made to Dr. Martie at least one week in advance of the day asked for.

He said that the new ruling applies for both men and women.

Heisman Trophy Awarded Hart Of Notre Dame

Leon Hart, star end at Notre Dame, wound up his collegiate football career in a blaze of glory, by winning the Heisman Memorial Trophy, awarded each year to the outstanding college football player.

The 245 pound giant takes his place with 14 other college greats, and makes Notre Dame the only college to place three winners of the award. In addition, he is the second lineman to win, all the other winners being backfield men.

Jay Berwanger of the University of Chicago was the first winner of the award, in 1935. Others are: 1936, Larry Kelley, Yale; 1937, Clint Frank, Yale; 1938, Davey O'Brien, TCU; 1939, Nile Kinnick, Iowa; 1940, Tom Harmon, Michigan.

1941, Bruce Smith, Minnesota; 1942, Frank Sinkwich, Georgia; 1943, Angelo Bertelli, Notre Dame; 1944, Les Horvath, Ohio State; 1945, Felix "Doc" Blanchard, USMA; 1946, Glenn Davis, USA; 1947, John Lujack, Notre Dame; 1948, Ewell Doak Walker, SMU.

Saddle and Spurs Holds Initiation

Saddle and Spurs, women's riding organization, held an initiation recently at the Villa Sierra.

Members and initiates, dressed in levis and plaid shirts, were served a chicken dinner after which the initiates were introduced formally into the club.

Newly accepted members were Jo Ann Foster, Barbara Kemp, June Holmes, Jean Hagenbuch, Darlene Lowry, Barbara Barrot, Lynn Laughery, Mary Irwin, Norma Walsh, Joyce Flournoy, Ruth Ingram, Nilda Cox, Martie Miller, and Arlene Freedman.

Officers of the organization are: president, Pat Fee; vice-president, Lea Glaser; and secretary-treasurer, Jackie Sirkegian.

What is known as the "Big Room" in Carlsbad caverns is over one and one-fourth miles long.

ROOTERS READY FOR HOOP SEASON

The rally committee is going "all out" in an effort to promote more spirit and interest at the basketball games this season.

There will be one big rally held before the first home game. This season there will be an organized rooting section at every home game. It is also hoped that at least a part of the university band will be present at the games to add to the spirit.

The hope was expressed by Jimmy Morrison, head yell leader, that this interest on the part of the students will lead to more interest on the part of the townspeople.

SAE Gridders Win, Seek More Foes

The SAE touch-tackle football team took on the electrical engineers at the Reno high school field Saturday morning and emerged victorious. The final score was 6-0.

SAE Coach Jack Oberholzer said that he is now looking for more teams to play in Saturday contests.

ASUN ACTION
The ASUN investigating committee announced this week that the questionnaires sent to all recognized organizations on campus should be returned to the office of the student president on or before December 12.

Failure to receive the questionnaire will be taken as an indication of the inactivity of the organization.

PLEDGE SNEAKS HIGHLIGHT BUSY UNIVERSITY WEEKEND

By ALICE SHELLY

If you see people walking about the campus with only one shoe or driving a car with the gas cap missing, they aren't gremlins — they're pledges.

The Phi Sigma Kappa pledges started the ball rolling Friday afternoon by taking all the personal belongings of the active members, letting air out of tires, taking fuses from the house, and retreating to Lake Tahoe. They were promptly followed by the members and, with the tables turned, lost their clothes and some necessary parts of their cars.

Not stopping with just a sneak day, the pledges then kidnapped two members Saturday afternoon and took the one that didn't escape to Lake Tahoe where he was eventually rescued by fellow members. Sunday, the feud ended in a general trade of all the things that had found their way into the wrong hands.

Sororities Too

Monday night Sierra street was an avenue of general confusion with both Tri-Delta and Theta pledges trying to confuse their active members.

The Tri-Delta pledges stole the meal, coats, and house mother and left in their place a note of instructions that led the members to the Lambda Chi house. The Lambda Chi's were to direct the girls on to the different fraternity houses where they would learn the address of the pledge's house that acted as a refuge. But contrary to orders, the Lambda Chi's decided to get in on it themselves and told one carload of girls to go to an establishment of business on Commercial Row. Finally it all worked out, and the actives found their much sought-after dinner.

The Kappa Alpha Theta pledges had already indulged in one sneak day, so this time they just stole everything in sight at the Theta house and took off for dinner and to plan their Christmas dance. The actives barricaded themselves in the house, and the pledges had to come back and invite them out by flashing spotlights, letting air out of tires, and generally causing disorder.

The actives finally captured several pledges with the aid of a few SAE's who had been serenading and dragged them upstairs for a shower bath.

Theta Chi's

The Theta Chi's all but took their chapter house with them when 17 pledges pulled their annual sneak day. Staying around Reno was just too tame for the 518 University avenue men, so off they went to San Jose, California, where, from all reports, they visited the Theta Chi chapter of that city.

Members of the Theta Chi house seemed somewhat dismayed at the "stunt" pulled on them, but soon recovered their senses enough to realize what had happened.

From the latest report at the OX house everything seemed back in order again, but it has been noted that a few of the pledges are rather tame about eating at the table — seems as though they like the mantle better.

Iron Markers Help Clear Bad Parking

The problem of enforcing parking regulations on the campus has been greatly reduced with the installation of markers on the lot behind the infirmary, according to Carl Horn, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The markers consist of two-by-fours anchored to the ground with strips of iron. Originally they were painted white, but this week they were given a coat of red to make them more visible.

Student cooperation has been excellent, Horn said. Violators still must pay one dollar fines, but these are all paid, it was reported.

Special Assembly Blows Out 75 Birthday Candles

The University of Nevada celebrated the 75th anniversary of its birth at a special assembly on the campus this morning.

The affair was part of a year-long program recalling the early days of the state's only institution of higher learning.

Speaker at the assembly was Chris H. Sheerin, editor of the Elko Daily Free Press, university alumnus, and member of the board of regents.

He told of the founding of the institution at Elko on October 12, 1874, its early problems, and its growth to its present stature.

The University Singers, campus choral group, sang old-time Nevada university songs.

Special guests at the event were members of the board of regents and alumni of the classes of 1891 through 1900 who live nearby.

Professor Jay A. Carpenter is chairman of the special 75th anniversary celebration committee.

Air Purifier Given To Student Center By EE Department

"Through the generous suggestions of Prof. Irving Sandorf of the electrical engineering department, the student center has been loaned a purifier to clean and purify the air," said Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, executive secretary of the YWCA of the University of Nevada.

Mr. Carl Horn, superintendent of grounds, and his crew installed the machine in the center Thursday afternoon.

Old air is drawn into the precipitron from the bottom. The air goes through a cleaning and purifying process and is then let out through the top of the machine. With this machine, windows will no longer have to be opened to air the room, said Mrs. Dickinson.

Songs by Students Sent to Waring

A recording of two popular songs written by a University of Nevada student and a University of Nevada graduate will be sent to Morton Downey and Fred Waring for their comments.

One of the songs, "Rock-A-Bye Island," was sung by the university chorus in the Wolves Frolic this year. Gloria Mapes wrote the music, and Fay Fryberger, a senior English student, wrote the words. The other song is named "Oh Golly Gee."

The recordings were made this weekend at a local radio station with the Tri-Delt trio, consisting of Mickey Whitehair, Shirley Williamson, and Grace Jeppesen. Background music was provided by Gloria Mapes, piano, Jerry Schafer, drums, and Art Harris, bass fiddle.

Carol Lampe, University of Nevada junior and candidate for the "Miss America" contest held this summer, looks on while Sagebrush editor Gene McKenna opens one of the first Christmas seal letters being sent to all Nevada students. The Washoe county committee of the Nevada Tuberculosis Association is sponsoring the drive for funds and have included the Nevada campus for the first time.

YWCA Secretary Advocates Campus Drive Unification

"Students of the University of Nevada could take a practical hint from the College of the Pacific," said Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, executive secretary of the YWCA of the University of Nevada. "COP has what they call GAB week—'Give a Buck,' when one large drive is conducted to collect money to be used for COP's contribution for welfare. The University of Nevada would do well to give this idea consideration."

Since the Community Chest drive is out of the way, there are three more that could be consolidated—the March of Dimes, WSSF, and the Red Cross. In the future, if this idea works out, the Community Chest drive will also be consolidated, it was stated. Consolidation, if given consideration and the cooperation of every organization on the campus would:

1. Have greater force as a more effective drive because of added interest from the entire campus.
2. Have more meaning to the individual student because he is approached through his own organization.
3. Eliminate many smaller drives which hit a few welfare minded campus citizens hardest and create unnecessary irritation. It has been suggested that a way be devised to allow each student donator to designate where his contribution will be apportioned. This is arranged by placing the names of the welfare organizations included in the drive on a card with space reserved for the allocation of the amount donated.

Rocket Expert Will Speak to Military

One of the Army's foremost authorities on rockets and guided missiles, Colonel Benjamin Mesick, will speak at the university Monday. Colonel Mesick, a graduate of West Point and holder of a Ph.D. degree, has been invited to the university by the military department. Colonel Mesick will lecture and show a film to two advanced military classes. The public is invited to attend these meetings, according to the military department.

The meetings will be held at 10 am and 11 am Monday in room 101 of the new gymnasium.

The discussion and films will be the same as those presented to the University of Washington Engineering College recently by Colonel Mesick.

Colonel Mesick was responsible for the coordination of the research work done on rockets and guided missiles at the California Institute of Technology from 1945 to 1949. He is currently head of the Sierra Ordnance Depot at Herlong, California.

After graduating from West

Point in 1924, Colonel Mesick served in various military posts. He became an instructor at the academy in 1934 and served until 1938. He earned a Doctor of Science degree in mechanical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1938.

Weekend Starts Christmas Season With 7 Formals

This weekend will find the university campus plunging headlong into the holiday spirit. There will be seven organization Christmas formals held Friday and Saturday. Delta Delta Delta will hold its annual Christmas formal in the Mapes ballroom on Friday night.

The Manzanita Association will present its annual Christmas dinner-dance for the women living in Manzanita Hall and their guests at the Cedars on Friday.

Saturday night will find the members of Gamma Phi Beta attending their Christmas formal at the Cedars.

The Highlanders are having a formal dance at Lawton's on Saturday night.

The Kappa Alpha Theta formal dance is to be held in the chapter house this Saturday. The newly formed Banyon Club will present a formal dance at the L. D. S. Church on Saturday also. Odile Frost, Moonlight Girl candidate, will be the honored guest at the Phi Sigma Kappa Christmas formal to be held in the Trocadero on Saturday.

FRESNO STATE CAGERS READY; SAYS BULLDOG SPORTS EDITOR

By DON CURLEE
Sports Editor, the Collegian
Fresno State College

It's a fifty-fifty deal for Coach Cornelius "Dutch" Warmerdam and his Fresno State College five tonight, as they play host to the University of Nevada.

With two wins over Chico State and two losses to Sacramento State, the Bulldog squad goes either way after the two game weekend series with the Wolf Pack, unless there is a split. But Friday night's game will run the win-loss record to a majority in one direction.

Of course, a little comparison can be drawn from the Chico series, in that both Nevada and Fresno have met the Wildcats. The Chico five, obviously rough edged, opened the cage season for the Bulldogs successfully in giving them two wins.

The same squad was not quite as gracious to the Wolf Pack and gave them only one win, but the team that traded even-up with the Wolf Pack was probably improved over the quintet that invaded the Raisin City November 25 and 26.

Fresno Better, Too

Improvement has seized the Bulldog crew too, with probably the greatest amount of polish coming in the ball handling department. As far as floor work is concerned, the FSC squad should be better than at any time previously this season.

The Bulldog offense, which hinges on ball handling, is a five man weave. "Set it up and press, break and shoot," Warmerdam generalizes. "It's the best system that we can use with this lack of height that confronts us."

The lack of height, while it hasn't slowed the squad down nor disheartened the members any, is quite evident. Only four Staters can claim anything noticeable above the six foot mark: Len Sondergard 6 foot 2 inches, John Havins, 6 foot 3 inches, Wes Slade, 6 foot 2 inches, and Len Bourdet, 6 foot 1 inch. Anding rebound man at 6 feet 3 inches, that's the ceiling. All except Havins are lettermen.

Of the 12 men that Warmerdam has kept from the pre-season cut, seven are lettermen, two are up from the jayvee's, one is from last year's frosh squad, and one is a transfer from USC and won't be eligible until the turn of the semester.

Here's Who's Who

The forward positions are handled by Chuck Girardi, Lou Papac, Len Bourdet and Flip Darrow. Girardi, a transfer last year from the midwest, played jayvee ball at Fresno.

Papac, is a ball hawking speedster returning from the '48 cagers, as is Bourdet, the lanky and oh-so-loose ball handler. Darrow, who's flip shot always seems to find it's way through the hoop has earned with the shot the nickname of "Flip" without quotes in campus publications.

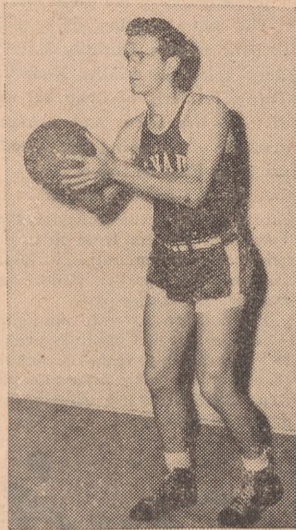

Guards include Galen Bowman, up from the jayvee's, Matt Garcia, high scorer for the four games played this year, Al Harper, a great defensive ball player, and Wes Slade, a driving, punching forward. All but Bowman are lettermen.

The center slot is handled by Len Sondergard, a three year veteran of FSC hoop wars, and an outstanding rebound man at 6 feet 3 inches, Leading scorer of the Nevada cage crew, going into last night's game with San Francisco, is forward Mert Baxter. In addition to winning a starting position on the basketball team in his first game with the varsity, Baxter was a starting end on the 1949 football team, and rated cheers as a fine pass-receiving wingman.

and John Havins, last year's jayvee pivotman.

Bob Mollring, up from the jayvee's, and a very much improved ball player, will probably see most of his action at the guard post. Bob Kloppenberg, a forward, and extremely steady ball handler, is from USC and will probably fit very snugly into Warmerdam's plans at the beginning of the second semester in early February.

Some Minor Injuries

But for the Nevada tilt, it may be a somewhat battered crew that will represent the Cardinal and Blue, with all of the following on the minor injuries list: Al Harper, Lou Papac, Wes Slade and Flip Darrow.

Most of the injuries resulted from the Sacramento fracas, and Warmerdam feels that most of them will be mended in time for the games Friday and Saturday.

At least, the two game series should see an improved Fresno ball club trying, principally to give itself something of a record to take east on Dec. 14 on a trip that will pit them against some of the best quintets in the nation.

PACK SPLITS FIRST SERIES; LOSES 38 TO 49; WINS 52 TO 40

Smarting from a 49-38 defeat by Chico State in the season's opener, the Nevada basketball club bounced back with a vengeance in the second game to split the series with a 52-40 win.

The opening encounter, played last Friday night at Chico, saw the Wolf Pack bow under the pot shots of the Chico cagers in a rough-house contest that featured 54 personal fouls against both teams.

It was a case of first-game nervousness for the Nevada players, and they were unable to show much until the second period. Chico pulled away from the start and led the Nevadans by 26-11 at intermission. The Wolves pepped up some in the second period, but the final gun sounded on a Chico victory, 49-38.

Nevada Evens Series

In the second contest, played the following night, the Nevada quintet evened the series in a smooth performance that employed a more aggressive style of ball.

The avenging Wolves led 25-17 at halftime, and on the accurate shooting of Ted Johnson, six foot six Nevada center, and Mert Baxter, agile Pack forward, the cagers from Reno rolled to a 52-40 win. The victory was aided by fine defensive work, and sharp shooting of Les Ray, veteran guard, Harold Hayes, forward, and Joe Libke.

Baxter, Hayes, and Libke were the most consistent point makers in the first game. Cowan and Olsen were high point men for the Chico State team.

In the final game, center Johnson of Nevada began hitting his hook shot and tanked six buckets. After sinking three foul shots, Johnson went out on fouls. He was high point man with 15. Mert Baxter was close behind with 13 points to his credit.

The scoring run-down for the twin bill is as follows:

Guileful Gossip Gags Gold Garble

Bill Flangas, who was reported by last week's Sagebrush to have found gold ore near Ely, today revealed that the ore was found on his father's desk, where the samples had lain untested for several years.

When Bill came back to school he mentioned that he had brought back the ore to be tested by him in his laboratory periods. He followed through on his discovery story by forming a fictitious "company" with several other residents of Highland Terrace.

The ore actually came from a mine that had been worked and been found unprofitable. Flangas' samples incidently checked out very high in the assay lab—$145 a ton.

Delta Sigma Phi Holds Social Event

Delta Sigma Phi, fraternal colony, held its first social event as a university group last Friday evening, a fall formal called the "Carnation Ball." The dance was held at the Cedars.

The Virginia Military Institute was founded at Lexington, Va., in 1839.

In 1944 the school enrollment in Alabama was 413,567 white and 228,468 Negroes.

Application Forms Sent to 92 For European Summer Tour

ABOUT 35 STUDENTS WILL MAKE TRIP; LEAVE JUNE 12, TO BE GONE 74 DAYS

By BOB HUNT

Application forms for next summer's European tour have been sent to 92 students and graduates by the education department this week. This accredited tour was arranged for by Dr. Paul H. Jensen, assistant professor of education at the university.

Approximately 35 of the applicants will be selected as members of the tour. All students going on the tour will be required to enroll for a course designated A&S 300, which will deal with certain aspects of the countries visited and which will be worth three credits to students, but not graduates.

As many as three additional credits may be earned by enrollment in courses designated by individual departments.

The three credits for A&S 300 may be used for application toward the 126 graduation credits; or two credits to apply toward the social subject requirement and one credit toward the humanities requirement; or toward majors and minors or field of concentration as the department concerned may permit.

Members of the tour who are veterans may possibly receive subsistence and fees from the Veterans Administration during their trip, according to Dr. Jensen, who stated today, "Since other universities have had no trouble in getting approval of similar courses by the Veterans Administration, it seems quite certain that we will encounter no difficulty in getting assistance, during their resident studies abroad, for members of the European tour who are veterans."

Cost of the trip will be $948, which includes travel tax, port tax, all transportation, all hotel lodging, meals on board ship, and meals during the three week stay at the University of Copenhagen.

Each student has been asked to take $200 for incidental expenses, such as souvenirs, meals in transit which will cost about $38, theater tickets, films, etc.

The tentative departure date is June 12, 1950, when the tour will travel across the United States by chartered bus or train to Niagara Falls, and from there to Canada, where they will pass through Montreal to Quebec.

From Quebec, members will sail up the St. Lawrence River and cross the Atlantic ocean on the S. S. Samaria to Le Havre, France, where they will be met by a bus, which will serve them during their trip through France, Luxembourg, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Denmark, and Sweden.

Departing from Esbjerg, Denmark, the tour will proceed to Harwich, England, by ship. There, it will spend as much time as possible.

After their stay in England, tour members will depart from Southampton on the S. S. Samaria to Quebec or New York, where they will again take a bus for the remainder of the trip through Washington,

ANNUAL 'MESSIAH' PRESENTATION TO HEIGHTEN CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Christmas spirit at the University of Nevada will be heightened by the sixteenth presentation of "The Messiah" and the showing of a large Christmas display.

Handel's oratorio will be sung in the university gymnasium at 8:15 Monday night, and will be under the direction of Prof. Theodore H. Post, chairman of the department of music at the university.

The display, consisting of a set 100 feet long with figurines more than 7 feet high, will be erected soon below Manzanita Lake.

Commercial art students, under the direction of J. Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art, will produce the exhibit as a part of their work for the term.

The setting was designed a year ago with the hope that it would become a permanent thing, Prof. Sheppard explained.

Three scenes form the set. The central figure is the stable in which Christ was born. Joseph and Mary stand near the manger, while a cow and a donkey crowd the stable. The east end of the scene shows the approach of the wise men, mounted on camels, who come to greet the new born king. West of the stables, an angel appears before shepherds guarding their flocks.

Twenty-seven figures and animals are in the set. Full color schemes were worked out, and gold and silver tinsel were used on halos and angel wings to make the scene more elaborate.

For the "Messiah" an unusually fine group of soloists has been secured this year, Prof. Post said.

The soprano role will be sung by Mrs. Marjorie Dickinson, YWCA head at the university, who has gained prominence as a singer in operatic and concert roles in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Baritones are Manfred Hardesty, of Reno, and Loring Williams, member of the university faculty. Joe Battaglia, who sang the tenor recitatives and arias last year, will be heard again this year. Hardesty, too, was in last December's presentation in the same role.

The contralto solos will be divided between Mrs. Dorothy McLeod, Reno soloist, and Miss Nona Lee Tuttle, formerly of Reno but now of San Francisco, and a recent graduate of the university. Concertmaster is Fred Di Salvo.

About 125 persons will be in the chorus and 25 in the orchestra, Prof. Post said. Singers from Reno and neighboring communities, including Carson City, Sparks, Fallon and Portola, are taking part.

The concert is free to the public. "It is a sort of Christmas present to the community from the combined university music forces and the Reno Civic Orchestra and Chorus," explained Prof. Post.

YMCA Announces Membership Drive

The Reno branch of the YMCA has started a drive for increased membership among university men.

University of Nevada students, Lionel Leonard, Edward Taczylowski, and Michael Mirabelli are working with the YMCA in their university membership drive.

The YMCA, located at 32 East First street, is offering guest cards to university men. The regular rates for a semester is six dollars, however Dick Taylor of the YMCA said that a pro-rate system is available for students entering during a semester so they will not have to pay the full fee.

YMCA facilities include a gym, swimming pool, handball court, boxnig room, weight room, special exercise gym, showers and locker rooms. A special program is offered for those interested in organized activities. The program includes volleyball, handball, badminton, health exercises, boxing, weight lifting, swimming, wrestling, and leagues and tournaments with varsity teams.
