WOLF PACK SKIERS CLOSE SEASON WITH VANDERBILT RACE TOMORROW

Nevada slat artists will complete the season at Sugar Bowl this weekend as defending champions of the Vanderbilt races. Sponsored by the University of California, the races will take place on Mt. Lincoln and at Cisco. Tough competition is promised for the varsity squad, with California, Stanford, Portland, Denver, UCLA, Lewis and Clark, San Jose, and Placer College sending teams to the meet. Jerry Hiatt of Sugar Bowl will set the courses for downhill and slalom. The jumping will be at Cisco ski area.

VOL. XXVII, No. 26

Skiers to beat will probably be Denver University's Don Johnson, and Keith Wigiman of the FIS team, along with John Lie, California's top four event man. Nevada's entry will consist of Les Hawkins, John Gianotti, Bob Ramsey, Harvey Rose, Norman Olsen, and Jack Parke. Hal Codding or Wally Young will accompany the team as coach. This will be the last meet that Hawkins and Rose will enter for Nevada. Both are seniors, and will graduate in June.

Blue Key Members To Attend Meet At Oregon State

Six Nevada Blue Keys will leave for Corvallis, Oregon, next Thursday to attend a western regional Blue Key convention on the Oregon State college campus on April 20, 21 and 22.

Discussions of chapter projects, finances, and membership, and students, adminiestration, alumni, community, and inter-chapter relations are planned. The 1949 Blue Key convention was held on the University of Nevada campus. It represents 12 chapters from five western states. Blue Key is a national honorary service organization.

YWCA Plans Coming Election

Election and announcement of apointive officers will highlight the YWCA all association meeting April 18, at 7:30 in Stewart Hall.

Members will be priviledged to run their own "dark horse" for any of the offices. All members who save paid their dues will be eligible to vote in the election. Refreshments will follow.

"Comstock Stomp" Is Something New

Starting for the first of what is to be an annual affair, the members of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity will present the gala "Comstock Stomp" April 22 at the Phi Sig house.

The dance is to be an all out affair with dancing girls, skits, song and dance routines, and a snake oil salesman. The house is to be almost entirely decorated inside and out, complete with plush lined walls and paper mache statues. Boardwalks will line the frot steps and walks. Stage coaches and buckboards will be in evidence. Guests from every house on the hill will be invited and a good represen-tation of Phi Sigma Kappa alumni is expected.

PE Instructors Attending Meet

Four members of the physical education department of the University of Nevada are attending the Southwest District convention for physical edu-Cation instructors, at Santa Fe, New Mexico, this week. They are Miss Ruth Russell, Miss Marjorie Price, Mr. Art Broten, and Professor J. E. Martie.

The topic of the convention is Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The annual event will probably be held in Reno next year.

Sheeketski Says Stiffening of Eligibility Would Force Cancellation of Schedule

By FRANK JOHNSON

On the recommendation of a University of Nevada faculty fact-finding committee "big time football" will continue in its present status on the campus for at least another year. After the completion of next year's' schedule, however, there may be some far-reaching changes made in university athletic policy con-cerning eligibility requirements for athletes, the source of outside funds designated for the athletic program, and more rigid adherence to either the Pacific Coast or Rocky Mountain conference rules. The fact finding committee, head-ed by Dr. Ernest Inwood, made "If the probation rule were en ed by Dr. Ernest Inwood, made the most exhaustive research possible into the university athletic policies and their effect on the ideals and standards of the university and morale of the students, and the university's reputation among other schools and the public in general!

The recommendations of the committee were adopted by the faculty Wednesday evening over strong opposition from Coach Joe Sheeketski and several other members of the faculty.

Dr. Inwood will present the rec-ommendations to the Board of Regents tomorrow morning at 10 a.m.

Colonel Gilbert E. Parker, acting president of the University of Nevada, said that the faculty is only one of several interested groups whose opinions will be heard at the meeting.

In the past the university's polhas been to follow the Pacific Conference code on athletics "inso-far as it applied." The committee believes that the "insofar as it applies" rule has been an important factor contributing to criti-cism and suspicion of Nevada by other universities, and that the university should adopt the rules set forth by some conference, or join, or form, a conference for its own protection.

In relation to this, the board listed five major deviations the University of Nevada has made from the Pacific Coast Conference rules.

The committee recommended that, in the future, the entrance re-quirements as listed in the University of Nevada catalogues apply to all students.

It also recommended the estab-lishment of a Faculty Eligibility committee, whose duties would be to certify the eligibility of all students participating in extra-curric-ular activities, including intercol-legiate athletics, to check and report to the academic deans those students the committee feels are endangering their academic records by participating in these activities, and to recommend periodically the changes and improvements necessary to the effective operation of the committee.

Furthermore it recommended that from July 1 no student on probation be allowed to represent the university in an extra-curricular activity, with the exception of students now enrolled in school. who will not be affected by the rule until July 1, 1951. Protest

At the faculty meeting Coach Sheeketski protested the probation rule, saying that its enforcement could force cancellation of the present football schedule.

"If the probation rule were enforced—we would be forced to cancel our present schedule, when we are facing our toughest season in history," Sheeketski said, estimating that at least one third of the present squad would be ruled ineligible.

Sheeketski said that he felt the report was railroaded through the faculty meeting, and was, in effect, rubber-stamped by the faculty.

The investigating committee also brought out the lack of coordination between the three organizations responsible for the athletic program.

Each of the three groups, the Board of Athletic Control, the Faculty Athletic Committee, and the Downtown Boosters, are con-cerned with just one phase of the program as a whole.

The committee suggested that these three bodies might be able to operate more successfully if they were represented in a coordinating council responsible to the Board of Regents through the president of the university.

Alumni Work

In view of the adverse publicity given the university through the $45,000 debt incurred by the Boosters Club, the committee felt that fund raising could be delegated more properly to the Alumni Association. This would also conform more specifically with Pacific Coast Conference regulations on the channeling of such funds through the university. The amount of financial support spined in this of financial support gained in this manner would determine the future scale of intercollegiate athletics.

Colonel Parker said, "If the Alumni Association takes over exclusive responsibility for raising funds for athletic support, the Alumni Association would absorb the Boosters. The booster members who are not alumni could become associate members of the association."

While the committee emphasized the importance of accepting Pacific Coast Conference rules until the university could join or form a conference, the board recommended two exceptions. They would reserve the right to play post sea-son games with member institutions, and the right to give a full time coach a bonus.

As soon as possible, the committee felt, the University of Nevada should join the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The faculty recommendations of the committee's report will be made to the Board of Regents when they meet tomorrow. This date is also the deadline for Boosters Club to make their first pay-ment, of at least $10,000, on the $48,000 debt they accrued for feeding and housing football players.

Letter to Editor

There has been quite a little discussion lately about the type of food served at the Student Center by the YMCA Snack Bar. The policies of the YWCA Snack is a service of commercial pre-Bar read: "The Young Women's Christian Association Snack Bar cooked foods. Since ample facilities are available in both town and college for those who wish to get regular meals, the Snack Bar is restricted to light lunches and ice cream and confections. This action appears to be justified owing to the light demand for regular meals, the high cost of equipment neces sary for complete food service, and the necessary and additional space that would be required." These articles were drawn up so that the Reno business organizations which support the activities of the University would not be infringed upon

We of the YWCA feel particularly fortunate to have an ener-getic, businesslike Snack Bar manager. Her sympathetic interest in the requests of her clientel has led to many changes and improve-ments in service. Without consid-eration of the demands of her own time, she has suggested other services for the convenience of the University.

It is our desire to substitute as well as possible for our badly needed student center. In the mean-time it would greatly add to the enjoyment of our present facilities enjoyment of our present facilities if all of us helped to keep the center clean. A full-time employee to keep the tables clear would mean the necessity of charging more for the food served. This is a non-profit venture, the pro-ceeds of which have group to the ceeds of which have gone to the YWCA to use for Snack Bar improvement.

It is your center for relaxation between classes. Please help us maintain standards of cleanliness.

Sincerely, Marjorie Dickinson, Executive Secretary, YWCA

Representatives of the United States government, in the form of census takers, began their work on the University of Nevada campus yesterday. The move marks the first time in history that university students have been counted in the census as such.

Former policy has been to include college students away from home in the count at their homes. Full information for the questionnaires has formerly been supplied by the parents of the students

Harry Fletcher, census director for the Reno area, has requested that all students make it a special point to be on the campus during the period set for the fact-taking, and reminded them also, that the law requires that all questions be answered fully and truthfully. All information, Fletcher pointed out, is treated as confidential, and will not be turned over to any other government agency.
