UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, RENO, NEVADA, FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1951

High School Day is next weekend

Song team rules set for Mackay Day

Plans for "High School Day" on March 16, and rules for Mackay Day were discussed by the senate at their meeting held Wednesday, March 7.

Classes will be open to all the high school students from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. There will be special laboratory experiments, demonstrations and exhibits for the visitors. At 1:00, the military department will stage a revue by the ROTC at which the candidates for Military Ball queen will be honored. Shortly following, Colonel James C. Smee will talk on the draft, and how it will affect high school and college students.

Colored movies of football games will be shown, some featuring Stan Heath and other U. of N. football stars. Basketball games will take place that afternoon, also.

Mackay Day Rules

A set of rules governing Mackay Day song teams were drawn up and approved by the senate. They are as follows:

1. The maximum number of people shall be eight; the minimum shall be six.
2. There shall be one accompanying instrument; records shall not constitute an instrument.
3. The time limit shall be eight minutes.
4. The theme is to be handed to the committee chairman on the date specified by the chairman, to avoid duplication.
5. The basis for judging: 70 per cent music, singing, harmony; 10 per cent presentation and showmanship; 10 per cent theme; 10 per cent costume.

A suggestion was approved to be sent to the Mackay Day committee chairman to the effect that six judges shall compose the board of judges; three to be alternates, and all six to be announced beforehand.

Besides looking better

Coeds use heads more than men

Once again the women of the University of Nevada have bettered the men students, according to scholastic reports released by the registrar's office.

The women's average for the past semester is 2.350; the men's average is 2.147. The overall student body average is 2.213.

Back records show that the women reached an all-time high during the fall semester when compared with '48 and '49 averages whereas the men's averages have fallen off. The women's averages were 2.184 and 2.325; the men's averages were 2.173 and 2.174.

Need a vice-prexy? Psi Chi has three

Do you need any vice presidents for your pet organization? If so, you may be able to borrow one from Psi Chi, national honorary psychology society; they have three right now.

Their surplus of veeps seems to have been caused by Jackie Sirkegian's graduation in February. Since she was the organization's president last semester and there was no vice president to take her place, the members held a special election to choose a new president and vice president.

When the ballots were mailed in and counted, secretary Taffy Rule discovered that Fred Barrett, a senior, had been elected president.

At first it looked as though Gene Wait would round out the officers' panel, but soon Jack Bastian was running a close second. As the ballots kept coming in, Joy Daniel threatened Wait's top position.

At the final count, the vote was split in a three-way tie and will have to be retaken at the next meeting. In the meantime, Psi Chi has two extras in office, and it seems to be anybody's race.

OPERATION MILITARY BALL READY TO MOVE

Queen will be crowned by Governor Russell

The University of Nevada Scabard and Blade society will present the 22nd annual Military Ball next Saturday, March 17, at the Hotel Mapes mezzanine ballroom. The dance will last from 9:00 p.m. and end at 1:00 a.m. Admission is $1.50 per couple and tickets are now on sale from any member of the Scabard and Blade.

Governor Charles Russell will crown one of these coed candidates queen of the Military Ball: Marcie Malcolm from Artemisia Hall, Martha Oviatt from Manzanita Hall, Barbara Carruth from Delta Delta Delta, Maud-Kathrin Carl from Gamma Phi Beta, Jean Wilton from Kappa Alpha Theta, and Sheila Murray from Pi Beta Phi.

A military review will take place on Friday, March 16, at 1:00 p.m. at the Mackay Stadium. The queen candidates will be presented to the ROTC corp cadets. The University of Nevada band will also participate in the ceremonies at which time one of the candidates will be selected by the cadets to reign as queen.

Governor Russell will crown the queen at coronation ceremonies that night. All of the queen candidates will receive an honorary rank of major. During the coronation ceremonies radio station KOH will broadcast the proceedings for those unable to attend the occasion. This broadcast will be sponsored by the Nevada Club.

AWS announces prexy candidates

Coed Capers March 14

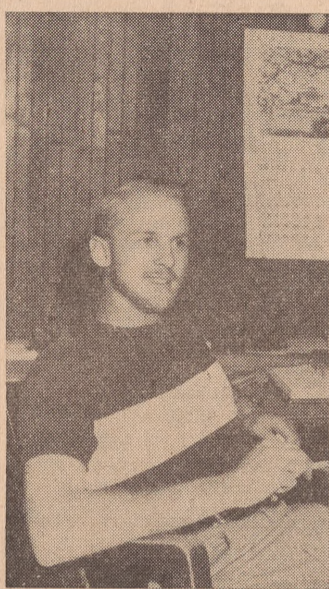

Five women have been selected as candidates for president of the Associated Women Students in the election to be held Thursday, March 15, Marnie Miller, AWS president, announced today.

The candidates are Mardelle Kornmayer from Tri-Delt; Connie Malcolm, representing Fine Arts Club; Joyce Cranor, Kappa Alpha Theta; Joan Peterman from Pi Beta Phi, and Norma Walsh, who is being sponsored by Gamma Phi Beta, Sagens, WRA, and PEMS.

The candidates will be introduced to the campus women at the Coed Capers, a semi-annual dinner held for all women students, at the university dining hall on March 14 at 6:30 p.m. Final elections will be held Friday, March 16.

The revolving Pan Hellenic scholarship cup will be awarded to the sorority with the highest average from last semester at the Capers, as will be the improvement plaque given by the dean of women's office to the organization that shows the greatest improvement in scholastic average over the preceding year.

Tickets for the Capers will be on sale at the YWCA, the dining hall, and from all women senators. The price this semester will be $1.25 instead of the usual $1.00. The extra twenty-five cents will be used for the $50 AWS scholarship awarded annually to a University of Nevada woman student.

Ted Scripps, Mackay Day chairman for 1951, sets an example on what he expects from all campus males, starting after Easter vacation—a beard. The only thing he expects coeds to grow is—tired of the foilage.

Things aren't bad; enrollment drop practically normal

Final figures as released by the University of Nevada registrar's office indicate that the drop in enrollment which was expected for the second semester did not occur.

When final figures were totaled it was found that 420 women and 852 men totaling 1272 were enrolled at the university for the second semester. There are still a few students yet to complete formal enrollment, according to the university registrar. The present enrollment compares with 1184 men and 469 women enrolled last spring semester at the University of Nevada.

All previously published figures for spring semester enrollment were obtained before final figures were tabulated.

In referring to the present trend for students to remain in school in spite of the war emergency, Malcolm A. Love, president of the University of Nevada, remarked: "The present number enrolled for the second semester is not greatly below the normal drop from first to second semester and would easily have been within that figure if we had not lost approximately fifty men to the National Air Guard."

The normal drop between semesters is approximately 140 students, according to the figures of Clarence E. Byrd, director of admissions. The total applications at the state university were down 7½ per cent in the spring semester of 1951 as compared to a year ago. According to Byrd's report the only significant decrease in new students admitted was in those from Nevada.

National Enrollment

For the nation as a whole, public controlled educational institutions accepted 77 per cent of all applications for admission, according to the American Council of Education. During the second semester of 1950 the University of Nevada rejected 15 per cent of all applicants for admission. In the spring of 1951 this figure dropped to a mere 6½ per cent.

Mackay beards will sprout after Easter

One consolation, fellows, you can sleep later

Spring again, and all young men will turn their thoughts to . . . the raising of beards. Mackay Day chairman, Ted Scripps, announced that beards will have to start growing right after Easter vacation, although some are sprouting now.

Scripps, a junior student and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, was chosen Mackay Day head by the student senate at their meeting of February 28.

Mackay Day is May 5 weekend this year. Traditionally, the male students of the university are required to grow beards in the spring to commemorate John W. Mackay and do honor to the Mackay family on Mackay Day. Mackay Day is for the purpose of paying respects to the Mackay family who endowed the university with many buildings and improvement funds.

"This Mackay Day will be bigger and better than ever before," said Scripps, and added that it would probably be the last big pre-Korean celebration for many.

The senate drew up a set of rules regarding the Mackay Day song teams, which the Mackay Day committee will adopt.

The Mackay Day committee met for the first time this week, but Scripps said no definite plans have been arranged. The committee will meet again the following week.

Members of the Mackay Day committee are: Sue Hyman, Nan Imperatrice, Shirley Hodge, Beverly Harris, Pat Welty, Thelma Gerrey, Eleanor Fulstone, Lois Lang, Maisie Gibson, Nancy Houghton, Donna McGowan, Joan Lang, Dave Mathis, Bob Petrini, Bill Deal, Frank Sala, Tom Grice, Jimmy Brooks, Elbert Gardner, Willard Esplin, Bill Jansen, Frank Schadrack, Kim Still, and Dick Dixon.

Any man taking military will not receive credit for the course if he starts growing his beard before Easter vacation.

Three men all saddled up

The cast and production staff for "Three Men on a Horse," a three-act comedy to be given some time after Easter vacation, have been chosen, according to Dr. William C. Miller, director of the play.

Jim Hulse, who appeared in the leading role of last semester's production, "An Inspector Calls," will take one of the leading male parts.

Robert Debold, Alto Glass and Vince Reagar appear as three small-time race track racketeers who "clean up" on Trowbridge's talents.

Joan Miller, as Mabel, the girl friend of one of the gang members, will take the feminine lead. Appearing as Trowbridge's wife Audrey is Bobbie Lee Conant.

Others in the cast include Morris Sanders, Guy Cardinali, Louis Beaupre, George Schwarz, Norma Carnel, Mary Anne Norlen, and Donnel Raker.

Larry Means will be the production manager of the campus performances. Malmo Johnson and Fred Davis will make up the stage crew.

Tracksters begin practice Monday; nine lettermen help strengthen team

Nine lettermen will greet Hugh Smithwick, track coach, when the tracksters begin practice Monday.

Two meets have been scheduled to date for the thinclads this season. Besides the inter-fraternity meet which takes place April 7, the track team will meet Chico State at Chico on April 14 and Sacramento State in Reno on April 28.

The possibility of having an inter-class meet, where all men may participate, including lettermen (lettermen are not permitted to take part in the inter-frat meet) is being discussed. The advantages of having the meet, which would take place a week before the inter-frat meet, would be that it would give the frats a chance to see how their competitors were coming along, and it would also give the varsity team another meet in which to prepare for the coming season.

Returning Lettermen

Smithwick will have returning lettermen in Giles Altenburg, pole vault; Marvin Byars, 440 and relay; Stan Drakulich, shot and discus; Jerry Etchegoyhen, pole vault; "Punjab" Hairston, school record holder of the shot; Proc Hug, hurdles; Wilbur Jager, high jump; Lee Schroeder, 100, 220 and broad jump; and Art Wigg, discus.

Lost to the team this year through graduation and transfers are: Robert Arnesin, pole vault; Chas. Higgins, holder of the school javelin record; Ross Smith, 880 and relay; and Bob Caughlin, distances.

Three members of the record-breaking mile relay team will be returning again this year. John Buccambuso, Howard Barber, and Byars. Andy Kalmanir will try out for the broad jump (while Earl Jarrett and Jerry Wyness are expected to high jump).

Dick Nightingale, transfer student should bolster Nevada's strength in the sprints. Nightingale has posted a 9.7 in the 100 yard dash.

Former Nevada high school stars, Buddy Plazzo, 440; Ken Baxter, hurdles; and Reggie De Paoli, shot; will be on hand this week to try out for the squad.

SENIORS!

Seniors have until Wednesday to order their announcements at the office of ASUN president.

Elements go wild; wind wrecks havoc on 'ashtray,' roof

One of the biggest and most valuable ashtrays on campus was destroyed, and half of a roof from a Victory Heights housing unit was lost this week to two of Mother Nature's most destructive vandals — wind and ice.

The king-size ashtray, one of two earthen vases which have adorned the steps of the Mackay Science hall for about seven years, was destroyed by a combination of water, which seeped into cracks and froze, and the wind storm, which blew over Reno and the vicinity Sunday night.

According to Superintendent Carl Horn, the destroyed vase and its twin were donated to the university about 1944, at which time they were valued at $1000 each. Imports from Italy, they have served their time as wastebaskets, ashtrays, and targets for the more energetic cigarette smokers.

Victory Heights, the university's married vets housing project, suffered the only other real damage, losing a few shingles from many of the buildings and half of the roof off of a building in the northeast corner of the project.

The usual number of broken windows resulted from the wind storm, and the only other damage reported was to the university's directional sign which hangs over the intersection of University Avenue and East Fourth Street. The sign, which was repaired and repainted last semester, was bent badly after being blown down.

Awards, banquets, talks keep press confab hopping

The University of Nevada was host Saturday to the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Nevada State Press Association.

During the sessions held in the Mackay Hall of Science almost everything relating to the newspaper trade was discussed by the assembled newsmen.

Dr. Malcolm Love welcomed the visitors, and Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, head of the journalism department and secretary of the association, gave the secretary's annual report.

More than 200 members and guests attended a banquet held Saturday evening at the Riverside hotel.

Community Service Plaque
The Gardnerville Record-Courier was awarded the annual Community Service Plaque for being the Nevada newspaper having rendered the greatest amount of service to the public and the community during the last year.

Merrill Inch, general manager of Reno Newspapers, Incorporated, was chairman of the awards selection committee.

Another award presented Saturday evening went to Jock Taylor of the Reese River Reveille. He received the Wilson Advertising Agency plaque for "awareness in advertising."

Hall of Fame
Elected to the Hall of Fame was Joseph T. Goodman, editor at Virginia City for many years. The award is made every year to an old time Nevada newspaperman.

Newly elected officers for the coming year were Charles Triplett, of the Wells Progress, president; A. E. Cahlan, of the Las Vegas Review-Journal, vice-president; and A. L. Higginbotham, secretary-treasurer. Professor Higginbotham has held that post for many years.

Briefly memorialized at the banquet were Clyde Terrell, former editor of the Tonopah Times-Bonanza and president of the Association in 1950, Dick Richie, former mining editor for the Nevada State Journal, and E. C. D. Marriage, former state librarian.

During the afternoon session, Elko was chosen as the site for next year's convention.

Walter Cox of the Mason Valley News spoke in the afternoon session on "Trials and Tribulations of a Country Editor." Robert Bennyhoff, an alumnus and now with the United Press, spoke on "Covering the Korean War."

Carl Shelly of the Sparks Tribune and Don W. Terrell of the Tonopah Times-Bonanza talked on "going Tabloid."

Kenneth Ingram of the Fallon Standard and Merrill Inch talked on developing classified advertisements, and Arnold Weld talked on civil defense and the newspapers.

Student, world problems on agenda for assembly featuring WSSF carnival

Student and world problems will be brought before the all student assembly for the World Student Service Fund carnival on March 14 by Dave Levering, head of the northern California division of the WSSF.

Dave Levering, former president of the student body of Redlands University, California, spoke to the University of Nevada students last year in behalf of the same event. He will arrive at the campus on March 14 and will stay until March 16.

Dave Levering is a member of the US delegation of the American Council of Education, which spent the last summer in India and Europe. His talk during the assembly which is held as initiation of the 1951 WSSF carnival, will give information about the condition in the countries in which the delegation traveled.

The WSSF speaker will deliver several speeches before various other organizations as well.

Sororities and frats in the news

Sororities elect

Four sororities elected new officers recently for the spring and coming fall semesters.

Barbara Carruth, who was recently elected senator-at-large by the student body, will head the Tri-Deltas; Berlien McCray, the Gamma Phi Betas; Bev Poe, the Kappa Alpha Thetas, and Donna Batt, the Pi Beta Phis.

Other officers in Delta Delta Delta are vice-president, Beverly Baalam; recording secretary, Peggy Schultz; corresponding secretary, Jean Pardi; treasurer, Jennilee Gibson; and rush chairman, Lida Bradshaw.

Gamma Phi officers are vice-president, Norma Walsh; recording secretary, Marlene Nyberg; corresponding secretary, Peggy Bell; treasurer, Dawn Pershall; and rush chairman, Joan Foster.

Officers of Kappa Alpha Theta are vice-president, Joyce Cranor; recording secretary, Greta Reuter; corresponding secretary, Gloria Martell; treasurer, Mimi Smith; and rush chairman, Marilyn Byrd.

Pi Phi vice-president is Natalie Curtis; recording secretary, Lorraine Goni; corresponding secretary, Peggy Bassett; treasurer, Joan Lundy; and rush chairman, Odile Frost.

Sigma Rho initiates

Sigma Rho Delta, local fraternity at Lincoln hall, initiated four new members on Monday, March 5.

David L. Cochran, president of the group, listed the new actives as Ralph E. Boardman, John B. Darling, Melvin J. Sharp and Val D. Smith.

With these men, the fraternity now has 18 members. Nine actives were drafted this semester.

Sorority pledgings

Ten University of Nevada women have been pledged as a result of informal rush week so far this semester.

Pi Beta Phi has claimed five of the women, while Tri-Delta has pledged three and Gamma Phi, two.

Those who have chosen to wear the Pi Phi arrow are Sharon Mulcahy of Beverly Hills, California; Jean Keddie of San Francisco, California; Nan Imperatrice of Fresno; Jo Ann Simpson, also from San Francisco, and Mary Louise Tancari of Reno.

The three new pledges in Delta

Delta Delta are Sally McKissick of San Francisco; Dorothy Bell from Boulder City, Nevada; and Ann Boero of Reno.

Lynn Marshall from San Francisco and Shirley Flagg of Tahoe City, California, are wearing the crescent of Gamma Phi.

So far Kappa Alpha Theta has not pledged any new women.

Theta Chi, SAEs hold Initiations

Eight men were initiated into Theta Chi fraternity Sunday, March 4, and thirteen men will be initiated into Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity Sunday, March 11. Both fraternities held their traditional "Work Week" last week.

Theta Chi's initiates are Don Showalter, Mickey Cuffe, Harold Jacobson, Roger Robinson, Elbert Gardner, Leland Vireg, Rex Larson, and Gerald Cardiff.

Those who will be initiated into

Plans afoot for another DP student at UN

Another DP student may come to the University of Nevada soon, Norma Carnel, head of the Displaced Person Students committee on the campus, disclosed this week.

Vija Bergs, a displaced person from Latvia, was brought to this campus last year through the efforts of the YWCA and the DP committee.

The committee plans to contact Dick Thomas, regional secretary of the World Students Service Fund, to make arrangements for a DP student to come to Nevada under "job assurance program." This program eases eventual language difficulties on the part of the student by providing him with a one year job, during which period the student can become used to the language and the customs of the country.

Mrs. R. C. Vittraro of Virginia City has already offered such a job for a DP student.

There were 201,367 American deaths in World War II. In the Civil War, Union battle deaths reached 110,070, and Confederate deaths were 74,524. In World War I 50,510 Americans were killed.

A new amendment to the AWS constitution was proposed at a recent AWS executive board meeting. The amendment will be voted on by the women students Thursday, March 15, at the same time they vote for presidential candidates for AWS.

The amendment to Article VII, Section 3, reads as follows:
"All moneys expended and earned from activities other than those budgeted for shall be placed in an AWS Special Fund. The disbursement of all moneys from this AWS Special Fund shall be at the discretion of the AWS executive board."

From this special fund the sum of $50 shall be paid annually to the woman student receiving the highest general average scholarship. This student shall be recommended by the scholarship committee of the University of Nevada Executive Board."

Students enrolled in the University of Nevada ROTC program may receive draft deferments if they sign an agreement to serve in the armed forces for two years after they leave school. Otherwise they are subject to the draft, even though they are in the university ROTC.

This was announced this week by Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey. The notice was given to clarify the confusion and misunderstanding that the many changes of draft regulations had brought about.

Limited Deferments

Only a limited number of ROTC students may be deferred even though they sign. This is because a quota of men who could be selected for enrollment and continuance in college ROTC programs was set up last December by Defense Secretary George C. Marshall. The quota is: Army, 114,200; Air Force, 69,800; and Navy, 18,700.

Even though a college has ROTC as mandatory, the excess men enrolled are not entitled to the statutory deferment, Hershey said.

Hershey pointed out that ROTC students can be chosen to fill the quotas at any time despite their draft status. He explained that an interservice agreement barring enlistment of selective service registrants after they have been ordered to report for pre-induction physical examinations does not apply in selection of students for ROTC quotas.

Safer on campus than it used to be

Students and staff members are becoming more careful in observance of the traffic code on the campus. The number of violations is rapidly decreasing as enforcement of the regulations become more positive, according to Art Cox, campus traffic officer, who is charged with enforcement.

Cox says it is merely a matter of making the procedure simple and positive. First, the citation is given. If that is ignored, a letter is sent to the student, and event a second letter, requesting him to report. Further disregard of the citation brings a direct request to report to Dean R. S. Griffin.

Cox says that practically all delinquent tickets are then promptly paid, since failure to do so may result in suspension from classes or expulsion.

GRID PRACTICE BEGINS APRIL

21 lettermen return

By Ron Einstoss

King football edges into the spring sporting agenda in April with the beginning of spring practice for the 1951 gridiron campaign. The pre-season workouts will be shorter this year because of a shortage of funds.

The war situation has not as yet taken too heavy a toll of the prospects for the coming year, but Head Coach Joe Sheeketski is keeping his fingers crossed. As of now, most of the members of the squad belong to the ROTC, and are therefore deferred. Only Buddy Brooks and Dean Westgaard, of the 1950 aggregation have been lost to the military services; Brooks to the army, and Westgaard to the marines.

Also missing are all-coast end Wally Graf, who left school to sign a pro-grid pact with the Los Angeles Rams, Don Jones, who has been dropped from school because of grades, and graduates Gordon Surber, Carmel Caruso, and Herm Fisher.

21 Lettermen Return

But 21 lettermen will return to action along with an assortment of promising freshmen, ineligible, and junior college transfers. Especially true in this case are Bill Afflis and Bill Charlesworth. Afflis, huge 260 pounder and former Purdue star is ready for action after a year of ineligibility. He has been drafted by the Green Bay Packers, but will wind up his college career before reporting to the pros. Charlesworth was one of the most sought-after backs in the nation after a brilliant season at Santa Rosa Junior College where he scored 24 touchdowns in one year to earn himself a berth on the All-American Junior College elevens.

Other new men to join the roster are a trio of standouts from Santa Rosa's northern California J. C. champs, Dan Logue, tackle; Georgie Graham, halfback; and Bill Wallace, guard. Joining them are Wes Kilgore, hefty center from Yuba Jaycee; Wes Ebell, Dick Nightengale, and Bill Smith, all ineligible transfers last year, and freshmen Buddy Piazza, Edward Hale, Stu Keller, Ken Baxter, and Rolan Melton.

Golf, tennis anyone?

All golf and tennis candidates have been urged to attend a meeting in the athletic office Monday at 4 p.m. by Dick Evans, coach of the two sports.

Practices will begin immediately, and it is hoped that more participants will show at this meeting than did the previous one.

A fine nucleus for Sheeketski should be provided in his returning Block N winners. These are: Ends Jerry Wyness, Joe Lash, Wally Barnard, Howard Hartsfield, and Mert Baxter; tackles, John Gonda, Ron Einstoss, and "Punjab" Hairston; guards, Don Morettini, Stan Drakulich, and Bob Martin; and centers, Al Matteucci and Denis Dunlop in the line. Backfielders are Pat Brady, Neil Garrett, and Ray Gonzales at quarterback; halfbacks Andy Kalmanir, Myron Leavitt, Al Barham, Lee Schroder, Tom Massey, and Howard Barber. Fullback is the only position where no experienced men are slated to return due to the loss of Fisher and Brooks.

The recent basketball scandal has been hashed about quite thoroughly now, and it looks as if there is the possibility that the players involved might have to stand trial and may be convicted.

A great number of people have been advocating that they "throw the book" at them and set an example for all other college athletes who might be tempted to do likewise.

But is this the answer? Will the players themselves be reformed by a jail sentence? To shove the athletes in jail, will only make criminals out of them and wreck even more (if possible) their futures.

Don't get us wrong. We have no sympathy for the players caught in the fix, but we can see no good in a jail sentence. If anyone should be punished, it should be the fixer and the boys behind the fixer.

It's ironic that in some sports (such as wrestling) we accept fixes as part of the game, but condemn it in others. We put up with the "dive" in boxing and allow bookies to flourish in racing making it into a million dollar racket, with little or no obstruction.

The punishment for any crime should be made on a basis of who or what it affects. If a man murders another man, society would be justifiable in taking his life. Who gets hurt in the fixes? The gamblers who bet on the event. In New York where the "dumps" took place, gambling is illegal.

It is punishment enough for the players involved to have to go through the disgrace and humiliation of the trial and the stories printed in the press. A few days before the fixes were discovered, these same men were the heroes of their respective colleges. The impact was sudden and hit hard.

There is no doubt that dishonesty was shown on the part of the players involved. But even so, it is hardly possible that the athletes will get jail terms. If precedent means anything, it might be recalled that the baseball players involved in the Black Sox scandal and the pro football players who accepted bribes to throw a pro-championship game a few years back didn't serve time.

The punishment has already been inflicted. The players have been banned for life from every playing basketball, thus many of them lost their chance to gain quick money in the pro ranks. In future years when they make application for jobs and positions, the basketball fixes will mar what might otherwise have been a perfect, unblemished record.

S. P. INTERVIEWS SOPHS

Sophomore engineering students were interviewed this week by W. J. Jones, assistant division engineer of the Southern Pacific railroad at Ogden, Utah, for a student training program. Jones interviewed those students who were interested in working for the Southern Pacific during the summer to gain experience in the engineering methods of the railroad.

The program is to train students, while they are still in college, for an engineering position with the railroad. When the student graduates from college he becomes an engineer for the company.

CIVILS TO HEAR TALK

The student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers will receive an official visit from Milton Wilson, regional director of the society. Wilson, who is also district engineer of the United States Geological Survey at Salt Lake City, will speak to the students at their meeting March 14, at 7:30 in the Engineering building.

Wilson will talk on the water resources in the Colorado river basin. He will discuss the irrigation and power developments that might be made in the Colorado river basin.

GE OFFERS 8 JOBS

Eight senior students in engineering have been offered employment by General Electric company.

As a result of interviews held by General Electric representatives, Robert Keen and Robert Brosemer, recently the following men were offered positions with the General Electric company: Glen H. Clark, David L. Cochran, Richard H. Gorman, David E. Hamilton, Pio W. Ianni, Louis K. Porter, Kenneth C. Stone Jr., and Robert E. Wengert.

MOVIES FOR MECHANICS

Movies will be shown at the next meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The meeting will be held Wednesday, March 14, in the Engineering building at 7:30 p.m.

R. N. Keen, representative from the San Francisco office of General Electric company, will show the films and give the accompanying talks. The titles of the two films will be "Power by Which We Live," and "Railroading on the Maybrook."

SIRKEGIAN-SPRINGER

Jacqueline Sirkegian, January graduate, will marry Charles E. Springer, a recent University of Nevada graduate, sometime this month. Miss Sirkegian was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority and Mr. Springer with Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Mr. Springer is currently attending law school in Washington, D. C., and the couple will reside there following their marriage.

If you're enlisting withdraw like this

The procedure for a student entering the armed forces during the semester has been outlined in the current faculty bulletin.

The student, upon request to the registrar, will be issued a form to take to each of his instructors. Each instructor will enter the grade in his course of that date and sign.

The student will, after approval by the dean of his college, file the card with the registrar.

The student is responsible for arranging for an official statement giving the date of induction or entering into active service. The registrar will then enter a statement on the student's permanent record reading "Entered armed forces" with the date and the statement of credit allowed, provided that the student was inducted before the official close of the semester, such credit to depend upon the standing in each class at the time of leaving.

In case no official notification of induction is received by the registrar, the card becomes simply a withdrawal card.

ARE YOU AN OPTOMIST?

All seniors who expect to graduate in June have been asked to see the registrar sometime next week.

"Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said — distinctly!"

75 YEARS OF TELEPHONE SERVICE

On the evening of March 10, 1876, on the top floor of a boarding house in Boston, the telephone carried its first intelligible sentence.

It seemed like a miracle to our grandparents and great-grandparents. Yet today, the telephone is a part of our everyday living. And that is the real miracle — the fact that the telephone has come to mean so much to so many people in so many ways.

The telephone is an indispensable tool of business and government — today's tremendous job of production and defense could not be carried on without it. It serves in minor emergencies and great ones. It helps maintain family and community ties. And it keeps right on growing and improving.

Never in the history of the telephone has it been so valuable to so many people as right now.

Six universities represented here for sorority meet

Guests and delegates are arriving this afternoon for the province convention of Gamma Phi Beta, which starts today and lasts until Sunday, March 11. One hundred fifty members of this sorority from six different universities are expected to attend. Registration and reception of the guests begins today at 6:30 p.m.

Universities represented are: San Diego State; Tempe, Ariz.; San Jose State; University of California (Berkeley, Los Angeles), and University of Southern California. All delegates will participate in a banquet at the Riverside hotel tomorrow. Round table discussions throughout the weekend will deal with sorority problems.

On Sunday, all sorority presidents, and representatives of the alumni and Pan Hellenic, the council regulating sorority activities, will have a Pan Hellenic breakfast. Dean Elaine Mobley, faculty advisor of Pan Hellenic, will be the guest speaker.
