Senate News Ruling May Come Under Review At Next Meeting

Several leading ASUN senators contacted last night assured the Sagebrush that a motion passed Wednesday night demanding that all new copy concerning the senate be submitted to the ASUN president before publication, will be reviewed at the next senate meeting. Passage of the motion has caused some speculation on the campus as to its intent.

President Jim Eliades said that the motion had been passed as a result of incorrect publicity concerning 1951 Homecoming plans, and was not intended as a censorship measure. The information in question had appeared in downtown newspapers.

"The motion," Eliades continued, "was not an implication against the Sagebrush, which did not incorrectly publish the information. Rather, it was passed as a protective measure to the senate, which suffered a great deal of criticism because of the reports made during the past several weeks."

Artemesia senator Sue Heyman indicated that, although the intent of the senate was merely to insure accuracy in the reports of its proceedings, future interpretations of the rule could be twisted from the original aim. If this happened, free student expression could be curbed.

Ted Covington, Phi Sigma Kappa senator, pointed out that, inasmuch as the ruling could not be made applicable to papers other than the Sagebrush, it might be stricken from the books as unusable.

In emphasizing that the Sagebrush was not a target of the senate ruling, President Eliades pointed out that the student newspaper

Frosh Elections Held Next Week

Student body elections for freshman class manager and associated Block N representative will be held next Thursday, Oct. 11, according to Beverley Harris, election committee chairman.

General elections for the two officers and for Homecoming Queen will be held the following Thursday. Only male students are eligible to vote for the queen.

Nominations for all three offices will close 6 p.m. Monday, Oct. 8. The campaign period extends from Monday until when the polls close on Oct. 18 for the finals.

All candidates must submit a list of their campaign expenses by 8:30 a.m. Oct. 10. The class manager candidates may spend $25.00, as may the queen nominees. Those running for the Block N position are allowed $30.00.

Both elections will be held in the lounge of the YWCA, according to Bev, and the polls will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Walt MacKenzie Yearbook Editor

Walt MacKenzie was appointed editor of the 1952 Artemesia at a publications board meeting held yesterday. MacKenzie is a senior student in the journalism department.

Active in university affairs, he is house manager of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and treasurer of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity. MacKenzie has worked as associate editor of the Tahoe News and as editor of the Nevada Veteran. His home is in San Mateo, Calif.

Replacing Mary Kay Irwin, who resigned as editor of the yearbook, MacKenzie will be assisted by Bill Engle as business manager. A tentative staff was appointed at a meeting held Wednesday.

Student-Alumni Game Assured

The Nevada football squad will definitely face an alumni team for the Homecoming game. The decision was made at a conference Tuesday with Pres. Malcolm A. Love and student leaders, faculty members and representatives from the athletic department.

Feeling on the campus that the players were none too eager to play against a strong alumni team were dispelled at the conference by Glenn Lawlor, athletic director, and Dr. John Martie, head of the physical education department. They stated that the players were

Brushes In Mail

Sagebrushes will be mailed to students next week. Final enrollment count has not been completed, so subsequently, students' names and addresses have not been released.

This issue of the Brush will be mailed from last year's mailing list, so some new students will not receive their copy until next week.

However, copies are delivered to all sorority and fraternity houses and the dorms. Students wanting other copies can come up to the Brush office and get them there.

ative staff was appointed at a meeting held Wednesday.

*completely behind the proposed game. Also present at the meeting were Frederick Wood, dean of the arts and science college, Stanley G. Palmer, dean of the engineering college; Robert S. Griffin, dean of men; Eldon E. Wittwer, director of resident teaching in agriculture; Jim Eliades, ASUN president; James McNabney, graduate manager; Al Matteucci, representing the players and Frank Johnson, editor of the Sagebrush.

Plans had been indefinite for some time as many students felt that the proposed alumni game would interfere with the intra-mural football program. It was also felt that many prospective players were not turning out because they felt that the alumni squad was too powerful.

Uniforms Issued

With plans now solidified, Coach "Jake" Lawlor issued uniforms yesterday to some fifty aspirants. All those who show up for practice will work out as one squad, according to Lawlor. After the homecoming game the squad will be broken up into class teams, and intra-mural competition will begin.

Since there has been little contact practice so far this year, Coach Lawlor has announced only tentative list of first team potentialities. He also plans to have everyone on the squad play at least a short time in the game. The squad will practice one hour on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

First Stringers

Activities Committee Plan Social Calendar

Organization presidents are asked to give a schedule of all their meetings by next week to Mary Ghetto or Harriet Parkes, members of the activities committee.

A comprehensive social calendar for all organization meetings is being compiled and will be published in the Sagebrush for the convenience of the student-body. Listing of such a schedule will also partially eliminate conflicts and confusion on meeting nights.

Some organizations have certain days of the months as meeting dates, but others who call their meetings on occasions should have their meeting date listed two weeks before the meeting.

All-School Dance Brings To Close "Hello" Activities

Winding up "Hello on the Hill" week activities tonight will be an all-school dance at the old gym from 9 p.m. to midnight, Jim Lee, committee chairman, announced today.

The dance will climax the activities which started with a "bang" Monday at a "Hello" assembly in the old gym. "Hello" cards bearing the inscription, "Hello. My name is....., what's yours?" were sold throughout the week by committee members.

The dance this evening promises to be a memorable occasion, with music being provided by the Nello Goniafintini orchestra.

The gym has had a face-lifting to further the spirit of the week and will be decorated with caricatures of familiar campus faces. Admission is fifty cents, "stag or drag."

The assembly Monday was spirited and well attended. Bill Jager and Marcia Malcolm sang the traditional "Hello" song to start things off. Janice Rosasco presented her own interpretation of two popular songs and a clever imitation of Jimmy Durante's version of one. Group singing led by the cheer leaders completed the program.

Members of the Hello committee who worked to make the week a success were: Chairman Lee, Joan Miller, Nancy Houghton, Elsie Shaver, Mardelle Leonasio, Mel Guerrero, Jim Paterson, Bill Brown, Elbert Gardner and Lloyd Skinner. Art work for the dance was done by John Harris, Gene Garriott and Vanna Grant.

Fees announced for the fall semester are $8, which includes four two-hour rides and a supper ride, and $13.50, which includes eight two-hour rides, a supper ride, and a breakfast ride.

AWS To Discuss Capers' Chances At First Meeting

Whether or not the annual Coed Capers will be held this year will be the main topic of discussion for the Associated Women Students council when they hold their first meeting this Tuesday night at the Student Union building.

The Coed Capers is a yearly get-together for all the registered women on the campus, at which Dean Elaine Mobley announces the academic averages of the sororities. Plaques are awarded to the houses having the highest pledge average and overall average.

At the request of Mardelle Kornmayer, president of the A. W. S., and Dean of Women Elaine Mobley, the registrar has withheld the averages of the sororities until the A. W. S. council has decided upon the issue. If the Coed Capers is not held this year, the averages will be announced either in an assembly or in the Sagebrush.

By ED SCRIPPS

I stopped by the Sagebrush office the other day and innocently asked Frank Johnson, our editor, who was going to write the column this year? One of these days I'll learn to keep my big mouth shut.

Column writing is something new for me. This, in fact, is my first . . . it may be my last. I feel especially humble taking up this small section of your newspaper, because of my predecessor, Mark Curtis. A potential threat to Herb Caen, Mark wrote Brusch Strokes for two years and proved himself an able writer.

Mark is now program director for KWRN and is starting a new weekly column for the Nevada State Labor News. I beg you not to start reading it too diligently as I'll probably be stealing a good deal of my stuff from it.

LATE TO CLASS DAY . . . Not many made Wednesday one o'clocks last week . . . the Dodgers and the Giants had an edge over the profs. When Thompson came through with his homer to win the ball game for the Giants, the parking lot outside the Ed. building sounded like the end of a Reno high football game.

LOST AND FOUND . . . Has anyone seen the Polkateers? The Artemisia is missing one group of Polkateers and one Corp of Sponsors. Speaking of the Artemisia, congrats and good luck to Walt Mackenzie, newly appointed editor. A tough job, but a good man.

Sighted heading Mt. Rose way after last week's two day storm, with skis, no less, was Buddy Adams, soon to be member of the U. S. Air Force. Hope you have some wax on those skis, Buddy.

Who's trying to act like a prominent ex-haberdasher . . . Couldn't be our student senate, could it? Seems all Sagebrush copy concerning senate meetings has to be o'kayed now. No hard feelings, but let's think about what such a control could mean!

WHO KIDNAPPED WHO AND WHAT? Pi Phi actives were in a dither last Monday night trying to figure out who swiped their pledges along with the front door and trophies. Well, it seems the pledges kidnapped themselves and the door. Some Greek opportunists, no ones to turn down a hospitable looking open door, walked in, and out again with the Pi Phi trophies. The SAE's had just finished serenading when the commotion started, so they seemed the likely suspects. However, a search there proved nothing. Nobody is accusing anybody, but some Pi Phi fingers are being pointed in the direction of the "Hairy Chested Men," who live in the region, and they in turn have reported hearing the patter of little footsteps in their domicile.

Incidentally, Greeks, watch out next Monday night. . . . Ominous stirrings are being heard around Sierra street, and no telling what's going to happen.

An interesting game was played in intercollegiate football last week. One of the downtown papers reported that "Michigan State polished off Michigan State 28 to 0." Quite a trick!

As if eight o'clocks aren't bad enough. Bev Harris, election board chairman called a board meeting for eight last Wednesday. Sue Heyman showed up promptly at eight—eight a.m. that is. "Eager Beaver."

NEW EYE TWISTERS ON CAMPUS . . . This year it's "Which twin has the Chevy?" DIANE AND DELORES BLACK, new Tri-Delta pledges, share the same Chevy. The Toni duo is now teaching school; one in Sparks, one in Reno.

Prof. Post of the music department is trying to find one Prince Ivan Igor Igottago who has been signing the roll sheet for his course in Russian Music. Somebody must be signing the roll for the prince. . . . Naughty, naughty.

I have been warned to pack out for a Texan gal who has been parading around campus packing a pair of 44's. . . . or are they 22's? Cr. J. W.

Jim Lee Elected To Take Command Of Pershing Rifles

Jim Lee is the new company commander for the Pershing Rifle squad. His assistants are: Platoon leader, Loyd Skinner; staff officers, Jim Skinner, Elwin Pulsipher, John Pulsipher and Jim Paterson. Members of the squad elect these officers from the advanced R.O.T.C. students. They are in charge of drilling.

Presiding officers for the meetings, also advanced R.O.T.C. students, are President Kim Choy and Vice President Ned Johnson.

There are 65 members signed up so far, but the number will probably be cut to around 40 of the best drilled members. Seventeen sophomores are back and 42 freshmen plus the officers.

Pershing Rifles was organized in 1894 by John J. Pershing when he was a second lieutenant at the University of Nebraska. It is now a national organization for freshmen and sophomore students interested in developing military training.

New Instructors Welcomed at Club

New faculty members and their families were introduced last Tuesday at a meeting of the Faculty Club held in the Home Economics rooms of the Agriculture building.

Guest speaker at the meeting was President Malcom A. Love, who spoke on his plans for the coming university year.

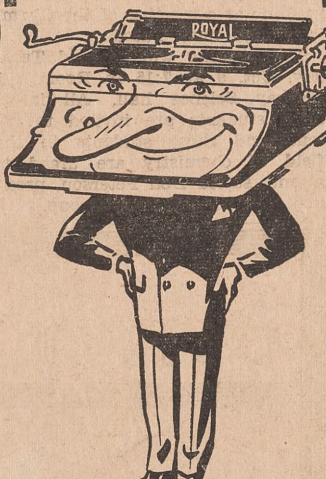

"Down the Christopher Columbus Highway to Mexico" will be the next featured speech of the club. The meeting will be held November 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Chairman of the party was Dr. Robert Hume of the department of English. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Hume, Dr. L. L. Jones, Professor and Mrs. Larson, Professor and Mrs. Craig Shepard, and Miss Jessie Pope.

Seven programs are planned for the coming year.

Reno was selected by the Far Western athletic conference to be the site of the 1927 conference track meet.

Gamma Phis Hold Initiation Tonight

The initiation ceremony will begin late this evening at the chapter house with all active members present. Berlien McCray, chapter president, will conduct the initiation.

Commission Given To Jim Morrison At UN Ceremony

James S. (Jim) Morrison of the graduating class of June 1951 was sworn in as a second-lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve Saturday, September 29.

Lieutenant-Colonel James D. Loewus, newly installed commanding officer of the military science and tactics department of the University of Nevada gave the oath to Lieutenant Morrison. The ceremony was performed on the university campus.

The new lieutenant is the son of Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. E. G. Morrison of Wright-Patterson Air Force base, Dayton, Ohio. He was active in student affairs while on the campus. Included in his interests were membership in Coffin and Keys, honorary society; Pershing Rifles, a national undergraduate organization for the stimulation of interest in R. O. T. C. marksmanship and in Sigma Nu fraternity.

In addition Lieutenant Morrison served as editor of the Artemesia, the university year-book.

Present at the commissioning ceremonies was Joan Metzger, also a student of journalism at the University and Lieutenant Morrison's fiancée. She completed the ceremony by pinning the gold bars on Morrison's uniform.

A DANGEROUS PRECEDENT

We'd like to put in a word for the ASUN senate, which is right now in an embarrassing position. When it passed a motion Wednesday night demanding that all newspaper copy concerning their meetings be submitted to the ASUN president for approval before publication, they found their action taken in a much different light than they intended.

Frankly, the senators were only seeking a means of protecting the university from the type of bad, and even inaccurate, publicity that it has received concerning Homecoming plans. They felt that the way to avoid future mixups would be through checking all news for accuracy.

Unfortunately, however, any legislation demanding the clearance of news copy before publication touches on the American heritage of a free press. While the senators did not intend to 'gag' news, they put down in black and white an edict which could later be used to do just that. Without the originators in office to match the intent, the action they took could become the opening wedge in press control.

Equally unfortunate was the fact that the legislation passed by the senate was not directed at the Sagebrush, yet could affect no other paper. Therefore, the well intended motion ended up hurting only the student paper, the "Sagebrush," without in any way serving the purpose for which it was intended.

Of course, the Sagebrush opposes the ruling. When a newspaper's heritage of free expression is endangered, there is little else it can do but fight. But, in making its stand, the Sagebrush wishes to make clear that it, in no way, accuses the senate of 'trying to put something over.' It is distinctly unfair to shower blame on a group of people who are honestly trying to do the job they have undertaken.

We feel that the senate, in reviewing the action they have taken, will realize their error and will make an honest attempt to rectify it. Certainly they will understand that a free press in a free society will VOLUNTARILY take responsibility for its errors, and will gladly pay the price of its mistakes.

And, realizing this, we feel that the senate will strike the motion it made from the books at its next meeting, thereby correcting a wrong innocently committed.

Dawn Pershall Newly Appointed College Historian

Dawn Pershall is the newly appointed historian for the University of Nevada for the coming year.

The nominating committee of the ASUN Senate named Miss Pershall to the office. The position is purely honorary and carries no remuneration. Miss Pershall replaces Mary Micheo, who graduated in June.

Miss Pershall, a member of Gamma Phi Beta, was a candidate in the recent "Miss Reno" contest, and is majoring in business administration. She is from Las Vegas and is attending the university under a Smith scholarship.

Duties of the historian are to keep the university scrapbooks up to date. The scrapbooks form a record of all news items that appear in print concerning the university.

Deadline Soon For Membership On Archery Team

Wednesday will be the last day new members will be accepted in the campus archery group, Ruth Russell, the organization's faculty advisor, announced last week. The group meets at 4:00 p.m. on the archery range.

Both men and women students are urged to compete. If the archery group shows enough enthusiasm, telegraphic inter-collegiate archery meets may be arranged in January and February.

Miss Russell explained that in the competitive telegraphic system, actual shooting is done at the local range, and scores are sent to some central point where they are compared with marks of other schools.

In 1943 the university team placed second nationally in class C competition. The "C" classification is determined by number of arrows shot and shooting distance rather than school enrollment, Miss Russell said.

Senate Discusses Traffic Problems, Student Elections

Discussing the current traffic problem, the A.S.U.N. senate in its last meeting has recommended the following:

1. That the present traffic rules be strictly enforced;
2. That the traffic rules and regulations be made fully known to the people on the campus;
3. That the campus policeman be given authority to write traffic tickets; and
4. That a board of appeals for traffic violations be established consisting of representatives from the men's and women's upper class committees.

Other business conducted by the senate at its weekly Wednesday night meeting included a ruling to have all news reports on senate meetings checked with ASUN President Jim Eliades. This ruling was adopted to avoid any unfortunate misrepresentations such as occurred in the "premature" announcement of a Homecoming undergraduate-alumni football game some time ago.

The Homecoming game, however, will be held as scheduled, according to a report by Al Matteucci, Block N representative. It is now up to the alumni to get together a team.

The senate then adopted the recommendations of the nominating committee. Lt. Col. James D. Loewus, head of the military department, was proposed as ASUN faculty advisor, a post held by his predecessor, Lt. Col. James C. Smee, while Sam Dibitonto was named assembly president to succeed Jerry Wyness.

Wyness, it was understood, is unable to continue his present functions because of other engagements.

The senate further approved the date of the coming school-wide elections. Nominations will close at 6 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 8, and the primaries held on Thursday, Oct. 11. The main election will take place on Thursday, Oct. 18, at which time the student body will also indicate their choice for a queen to reign over the Homecoming Day celebrations.

The polls will be open from 8:30 to 4:00 p.m.

Chem Club Talks On Atom Effects

Effects of atomic radiation will be described by Edward Randall of the State Hygienic laboratory in Reno at a meeting of the Chemistry club next Tuesday.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 9 at 7:15 in Room 215, Mackay Science hall. All interested students are invited to attend and those students in the field of chemistry are urged to attend, stated Don Peterson, president of the chemistry group.

Aggie Dean Spot Still Wide Open

No applications for the recently created post of Dean of the College of Agriculture are on file at the president's office. Although Mr. M. L. Buchanan from North Dakota Agricultural College was accepted for the position at a board of regents meeting in June, he turned down the offer when his present college offered him a raise in salary.

Decision to create the position of dean of the agricultural college was approved last January by the regents at the urging of President Malcolm A. Love.

With the opening of college this fall, the search for a dean has slackened, but all applications will be considered by the president.

The creation of the new post was in line with plans to consolidate all agricultural branches connected with the University. The new dean would head the agricultural college, the agricultural experiment station, and the agricultural extension service. Formerly, each department was independent of the other.

Rifle Club Plans Practice Courses For 1951 Meets

Three hour preliminary courses for members of the Rifle Club will be held at the rifle range Wednesday, 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Friday, 2:00 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Master Sergeant Ceaser Brunetti, faculty advisor of the club, announced last week that the course would include precautions, triangulation and position used in firing. He added that Friday would be the last day members can receive this instruction.

At a meeting last night at the old gym Mel Guerrero was re-elected president. Ken Austin won the vice-president's post; Jeannette Melendy, secretary; and Jim Etcheto, treasurer.

The Rifle Club has an attractive schedule lined up this year with a school-financed trip to Berkeley for annual inter-collegiate matches heading the list. That match will be held late in the college year. Also on the agenda are matches with Reno High school, the Reno Rifle Club, and a team composed of University downtown military personnel. And again this year members of the club will compete in two or three turkey and ham shoots.

The rifle range will be at the disposal of all club members on week days from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. This year, Sgt. Brunetti will keep progression charts on all individuals.

Ramsey Ski Prexy In Close Contest

Bob Ramsey, veteran skier, edged Jeff Lobaugh for the Ski club presidency in a very close contest Wednesday night. Lobaugh is the retiring executive.

Held at the Agriculture building, the club's first meeting was attended by 67 members. The group decided to hold meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of the month.

Other officers elected were John Cowley, vice-president; Sharon Mulcahy, secretary; and Mary Irwin, treasurer.

A committee composed of Bunny Widing, Ted Scripps, Hazel Johnson and Hank Gorrell, was appointed to make entertainment arrangements for future meetings.

New Ski Club emblems are being purchased this year.

Students Get Paid For Standing Still

Anyone interested in a career as a model? The art department is offering a fine start, with pay, to any men or women students with some free time on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

No special talents are needed, according to J. Craig Sheppard, assistant professor of art, but applicants must be able to hold a pose. Anyone interested should contact Mr. Sheppard.

Tennis Courts Open To Team Aspirants

The university tennis courts are open to any student who aspires to make the tennis team. Fall practice on the courts by those interested may mean a better chance of playing on the varsity in the spring.

More emphasis will be put on such sports as golf, tennis and rifle matches this year. Under the present athletic set-up these sports will be given more prominence than they have enjoyed in the last few years. Jake Lawlor, head of the department of athletics, stated that these sports will have an increased budget over last year and a better competitive program will be established for these sports.

Twenty New Men Insure Success Of UN Rifle Club

The Rifle Club turnout is exceptional this year, according to Sergeant C. Brunetti of the Military Department. About twenty new members are being added to the roster, which will contain most of the names from last year's group.

There will be enough material for four or more full teams and plenty of competition for the trophies and prizes which Sergeant Brunetti plans for each classification. The teams will probably be classified according to standing as Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior, or as may be found most expedient upon further survey.

Coed Rifle Team To Be Organized

Three university women have turned out for a proposed women's rifle team, and if a few more feminine candidates can be recruited, the university will field the first women's team in Nevada history.

Master Sergeant Ceaser Brunetti has announced that he needs at least seven more women to mold a regular team.

Brunetti pointed out that if a girls' team is organized, it would compete with other feminine teams of inter-collegiate caliber, through matches by mail each week.

If the women students qualify, they will be eligible for N. R. A. marksmanship and expert medals. Also they will receive minor sports awards.

Pack Tracks

By DAVE MATHIS

"We will field a team to play the Alumnae team on homecoming day," stated J. E. "Doc" Martie, head of the department of physical education at Nevada and the present interclass football program.

This statement clears up the existing clouds of doubt that both the students and townspeople had concerning the homecoming day celebration. Since we can dispense with any further mention of the once uncertain situation, we might consider the sports prospects after interclass football has been finished.

Up in the "Gym" those tall lanky lads are already unlimbering for the coming campaign on the basketball floors. After the absence of intercollegiate football, it seems natural to say that the student body may be a little starved for the color, the spirit and the pomp that intercollegiate competition affords. If this is true then there should be a lot of student body at the games.

Coach Jake Lawlor, head basketball mentor, has just about completed his schedule for the coming year. According to Jake, the teams on the schedule should prove good fare for the Wolf Pack rooters. In fact the schedule will be a little stepped up in comparison to last year's.

While browsing around the "Gym" this reporter noticed Roy Larralde lazily and smoothly hooking some shots into the hoop. Roy played some top basketball for Reno high school the season before last and was an all state choice. If the ease in which he handles himself is any indication of what can be expected it looks like Jake may have a 6 ft. 4-inch center.

As soon as interclass football is over another interclass program will begin. This will be in the form of a boxing tournament. Those who pound their way through the pugilistic warfare can go on and box on the varsity squad or can retire with their titles intact.

Five or six bouts will be definitely scheduled this year for the Varsity sluggers. As you may recall last year's squad fought only two bouts.

While Spring is still a lot of cold weather and long days off, it might be newsworthy for those Varsity thinclads to know that Coach Hugh Smithwick plans on at least five meets this year. An improvement over the two outings for the squad last year.

Even tennis and golf will be given more prominence than heretofore.

Interfraternity softball and horse-shoes will be given a complete resume after both of these sports have been completed next week.

MACKAY STADIUM FROLICS!

Sub-coaching for interclass football Ray Gonsalves, Neil Garrett and Jerry Wyness have been drilling football candidates in true coachlike manner. Eventually they will probably take a crack at the coaching game and they look as if they could handle the job.

Incidentally Gonsalves proved himself fleet of foot last Monday when he nipped Garrett by half a yard in a fifty-yard run. This was a hotly contested race and of interest to all of those out for ball. Garrett closed in the last few yards and in the opinion of many would have passed Gonsalves up had they ran another three feet.

Lawlor Foresees Full Inter-College Sports Program

Although the sports spotlight is now being held by the new interclass football program, Athletic Director Glenn "Jake" Lawlor is looking ahead to the return of intercollegiate athletics to the scene.

Boxing and basketball will be the big inter-campus shows during the fall semester. The boxing program will schedule five or six meets, and Coach Jim Olivass hopes for a representative turnout. Last year one meet was held in Las Vegas with a service team. Also last year, the sport was voted into major status by the student body.

The basketball schedule is nearing completion, with some of the same teams the Pack met last year as well as some new quintets showing on the list. Most prominent of the newcomers is a tentative date with the Blue 'n Gold team of Oakland which is loaded with great stars of western collegiate basketball. Other teams that were not scheduled last year but which will tangle with the Wolf Pack during the coming season are Utah State and Arizona State of Flagstaff.

There will be a schedule of 24 or 26 games. Lawlor said that both sports have good schedules considering the present athletic budget.

Band To Debut New Uniforms For Homecoming

The U. of N. band will make its debut in the Homecoming parade. The campus musicians will be outfitted in brand new blue and pearl gray uniforms. Drilling for the event will start next week.

Uniforms will have blue jackets with silver and gold wrist stripes and gold lyres on the lapels. The gray trousers will have blue and gold stripes on the seams. The drum major's outfit will be all white, and he will wear a black fur shako with a white plume.

Two Appearances

The only two definite dates set for the band's appearance are the Homecoming parade and the Admission Day parade in Carson City.

Felton Hickman, assistant professor of music, has tentative plans for an outdoor concert "sometime before the snow flies."

There will be two full dress concerts during the school year, one in December and one in May. Prof. Hickman expressed the hope that student attendance would be better this year than it was last year.

More trips to give concerts at the high schools in western Nevada and eastern California would benefit the university according to Prof. Hickman.

"This is the finest advertising the university could get," he said.

The band, 40 players strong, will be led in its marching by 12 majorettes and flag twirlers. The majorettes are getting instruction from a professional.

Chess Players To Match Wits At Friday Bouts

Students, faculty members, and anyone else interested in playing chess are invited to attend Friday chess sessions from 12:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A. The invitation is extended by Gerald Galletti, arts and science senior, who hopes there may be enough chess enthusiasts on the campus to warrant organization of a regular group.

The tentative competitive matches with the Reno Chess club will depend upon the amount of interest shown.

At the present time just two chess sets are available and interested persons are asked to bring along any equipment they may have.

Student YWCA To Emphasize Membership

An especially strong YWCA membership drive will be made on the campus this year, according to Miss Edith Lerrigo, Pacific Southwest director of the student YWCA, who visited here last week.

Following Miss Lerrigo's arrival for her annual visit on Monday morning, she conferred with Patricia Barrett, YWCA executive secretary, President Mae Gregory, and Vice President Joan Lundy.

The following day she met with the YWCA cabinet, composed of all YWCA officers, and discussed local problems with them. She urged them to attend a regional YWCA conference at Asilomar, which is scheduled for Christmas vacation.

"We are placing particular emphasis on membership this year," Miss Lerrigo stated. "The initial membership drive on this campus will get under way next week."

Following her meetings with the YWCA groups, Miss Lerrigo stated that the Nevada organization, one of the oldest YWCA organizations in the United States, had "excellent plans and programs for the coming year."

The 1912 eruption of Mt. Katmai, Alaska, could be heard for 750 miles.

Students Fail To Register Cars

Only one-third of the student body has registered its cars so far this year announced Ray Williams, newly appointed campus policeman.

Williams said that those who have not registered would receive the customary fine of one dollar for the first offense, three for the second, and five for the third.

Mr. Williams and Carl Horn, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, asked that the students cooperate with them by abiding by the ten general traffic rules:

No parking south of the crosswalk in front of the Education building.

No parking in back of the Mackay Science, Agriculture and Engineering buildings.

No parking of unregistered cars on campus.

No parking in staff zones.

No parking in front of fire plugs.

No parking in front of garages.

No parking in back of the hospital.

No parking for longer than five minutes by the post office.

No parking in the streets between 7:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

No improper parking in allowed areas.

The latter rule applies to those who take two parking spaces instead of the customary one.

P. E. Directors Attend Meeting

Dr. John E. Martie, director of physical education, men's department, and Miss Ruth I. Russell, director of women's physical education, attended an executive committee meeting of the southwest district of the American association of health, physical education and recreation in Las Vegas last weekend.

Dr. Martie is the past president of the association and Miss Russell is the representative from Nevada. Also at the convention were delegates from Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and California. Plans were made to hold the national convention at Los Angeles in April, 1952.

Last year the association's district convention was held in Reno, with banquets at local hotels.

Scabbard & Blade Officers Installed

Officers for Scabbard and Blade, organization for advanced R. O. T. C. students, were installed last May at a dinner at the Wishing Well restaurant. Marvin Byars is captain; Malcolm Short, first lieutenant; Jim Lee, second lieutenant; Lou Eccles, first sergeant; Bob Petrini, sergeant-at-arms.

Plans are being made for acceptance of pledges from all advanced R. O. T. C. classes. The organization chooses and votes on the outstanding military students and then holds a mock and formal initiation for them in the spring.

Mormon Institute To Be Completed By First of Year

The Latter-Day Saint Institute of Religion building will be finished on or about January 1. An estimated three months would be needed to complete construction of the brick structure, said Contractor A. L. Larson.

The building will be located one block from the campus, on Sierra street between 11th and 12th streets. It will furnish facilities for recreation as well as classroom and study space. The building will contain a chapel, library-lounge, play room, lunch room, snack counter, foyer and classrooms.

"All students are welcome at the Institute and are invited to use the facilities when construction is finished and participate in any or all of its functions," said Kenneth Stephens, the director of the institute.

The Institute at the University of Nevada was established two years ago, and is maintained by the board of education of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Classes offered this semester include: Religion of the Latter-Day Saints, at 9:00 and 11:00 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, and 4:00 p.m. Monday and Wednesday;

Courtship and Marriage, at 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday; Survey of Scripture at 3:00 p.m. Sunday; History of Christianity at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday. Classes will be held at Mr. Kenneth Stephens home, at 51 West 11th Street, until January.

Kenneth Stephens studied at the Divinity school of the University of Chicago. He taught two years at Brigham Young University before coming to the University of Nevada.

WELL O. K.!

Roller Skating Every Saturday

How about some pleasant exercise?

Every Saturday night, when it does not interfere with other campus activities, roller skating is being offered free of charge at the old gym. If you cannot bring your own skates, you may rent them.

Worried about the unusual size of your feet? Stop! They can equip, for 35c, girls with skates from size 3 up, and men with skates from size 13 down.

The roller skating is being sponsored by the PEMS, a club consisting of women majoring in physical education. It is supervised by the new P. E. instructors, Misses Jean McIntosh and Mary Rulifon. Instructions are not given, but beginners will be helped as necessary.

It is open to all college personnel, faculty, their wives, and the staff in the university offices.

Ruth Russell, department chairman, said Wednesday that profits obtained from the skating program, would be used to defray the traveling expenses of women P. E. majors to the Western Physical Education convention in Los Angeles, April 7-10.

UN Veterinarian Leaves Nevada For New Post

Dr. Lyman R. Vawter, associate veterinarian at the University of Nevada experiment station, will leave Nevada about October 15 for the Oregon state college experiment station, where he will direct a new animal diagnostic laboratory.

Dr. Vawter, who has been with the University of Nevada since 1920, has served as president of the Nevada Veterinary Medicine Association twice during his stay here.

He has been named professor of veterinary medicine and chief of the new laboratory at Corvallis. His most important work in the animal diagnostic line has been in the development of a vaccine for red water disease among cattle and work in white muscle disease and the effects of halogeton poisoning in cattle and sheep.

Campus Directory Under Preparation

The Campus Directory is again being compiled this year for the benefit of the students, faculty and staff. Although there has been no definite date set for its publication, it is expected to go to press within several weeks.

The actual compiling is being done in the president's office and the duplicating room. It's style will remain the same as in the past, soft cover, and the usual picture of John Mackay's statue.

Miss Alice Terry, secretary to President Love, recently announced that if all the officers of the various fraternities, sororities and other recognized organizations would submit a list of their members, it would speed the compilation of the directory. The Y. W. C. A. will again handle the sales of the directory.

Pledges Honored As Rushing Ends

Banquets and parties were planned for the new pledges by the active members of the local sororities last weekend and this weekend.

Delta Delta Delta held their pledge banquet at the Trocadero September 29. In charge of the banquet was Shirley Kershner. During the banquet the girls were entertained by a singing group. The trio include Jean Zelayeta, Barbara Fregger and Nancy West and they were accompanied by Helen Orr at the piano.

Concluding the banquet the Tri-Delta legend was presented by Lynn Horner and Mona Perry. After formal pledging last Friday there was a slumber party at the house for the twenty-seven new pledges. The Tri-deltas are giving a coke hour social this afternoon in honor of their pledges.

Also honoring their pledges this afternoon at a coke hour are the Gamma Phi Beta's. According to social chairman, Norma Walsh, they plan on making these Friday get-togethers a bi-weekly affair. The Gamma Phi's entertained the sixteen pledges after pledging with a slumber party at the house. On Saturday, September 29, they entertained the pledges in the Green Room of the El Cortez Hotel. A formal banquet was served at which time the girls sang many of the Gamma Phi songs.

The Kappa Alpha Theta house held formal pledging on Friday evening. The Theta's waited until Saturday night to have their sixteen pledges to the house for a slumber party. According to Donna Burton, banquet chairman, the Theta's will hold their pledge banquet October 6 at Echos'. On Saturday, October 5, the Theta Chi fraternity has challenged the Theta pledges to their annual football game. At this time the Theta Chis hope to win back the trophy they lost to the Thetas two years ago.

Members of Pi Beta Phi took their 20 pledges out Friday night after pledging and then entertained them at a slumber party later in the evening. The Pi Phi's have postponed their pledge banquet until Sunday, October 7, at Lawtons. This banquet will also honor the new initiates. After the banquet the Pi Phi's will entertain the fraternity houses and men's dorms at an open house which will begin at seven o'clock. Arrangements for the party, banquet and open house were under the direction of Dorothy Coates and Bobbie Lee Conant.

Regulation of interest rates is generally exercised by state legislatures.

Shipley Resigns As Range Chief

Mark A. Shipley, chief of range management with the University of Nevada experiment station, has submitted his resignation to Pres. Malcolm A. Love and the board of regents, effective Nov. 1.

In commenting on his resignation, the range management chief stated that he was resigning in order to take up private business. Mr. Shipley has been with the agricultural experiment station at the university for 13 years following his appointment in 1938.

Before graduating from Utah State Agricultural college, Logan, Utah, in 1938 with a B. S. in forestry, Mr. Shipley was assigned as junior forester in the U. S. forest service to the Ozark mountains of Missouri during 1935 and 1936.

In 1938 he came to Reno in charge of compiling range survey information at the University of Nevada. Completing this work the following year, Shipley was appointed an associate in range management with the experiment station. Nine years later he was promoted to chief of the range management department, a position he has held to the present.

From the Daily Barometer, Oregon State—"Veteran to Tell Views on Blood." Very thought provoking!

Brushfire Staff Gets Organized

Organization of the Brushfire staff was begun at a meeting Monday afternoon in the temporary buildings.

A board made up of faculty and students will be set up and will choose the editor and the staff of the Brushfire. The board will consist of two faculty members, one student elected by the creative writing classes, one student by the department of English and two students elected by the board. The board, as the governing power, will consist of a majority of students at all times. The officers have not been elected yet.

Discussion at a Wednesday meeting was concerned with a reorganization of the publication. The magazine needed to be made wider in appeal—especially to university groups, according to Professor Robert M. Gorrell. Prof. Gorrell also said that he hoped that the new staff would encourage participation in the publication of the Brushfire by all departments of the university.
